MOTHER GIVES HER VIEWS OF TRAGIC AFFRAY

Mrs. M. E. Russell Tells of Early Relationship of Leading Figures in Murtaugh Shooting —Came Here from Ohio

Mrs. M. E. Russell, mother of Chester Allen Russell, who lies dead at an undertaker's chapel here, and of the wife of Harry J. Dunlap, who faces trial on a charge of first-degree murder of the dead man, today disclosed facts as to the relationships between the two families beginning years ago in a little town on the banks of the Ohio river and culminating Sunday in the tragedy.

Mrs. Russell, at the home of a friend here, told the story with visible emotion. Her granddaughter and adopted daughter, Hazel, stepdaughter of the man who is charged with murder, sat beside here and prompted her occasionally as to details.

The bereaved mother took up the story at its beginning almost a score of years ago back in the vicinity of East Liverpool, O. Dunlap, then a worker in a tin plate mill, was a suitor for the hand of her daughter, then a widow with her baby daughter, Hazel. Chester Russell was a teacher of penmanship and art at a Columbus, O., college. The mother, a widow, was conducting a hotel near East Liverpool.

Twelve Years in Idaho.

Dunlap was a successful suitor and within a few years after the wedding, the Dunlap family moved to Idaho taking up land which has been their home for 12 years, just east of Murtaugh. Two years later Chester Russell's health failed, and he followed his brother-in-law to Idaho, and bought from Dunlap half of the 80-acre farm which Dunlap had taken up.

Relationship between the families was cordial, the bereaved mother said, until a dispute arose between her son and son-in-law over terms of the sale of the land by Dunlap to Russell. Russell had not made certain payments for the land and Dunlap had taken steps to foreclose. It was her son's intention, Mrs. Russell said, to return to his former work as a teacher to earn the money to pay for the land.

The difficulties were aggravated in occasional instances when Dunlap's cattle broke through fences and trespassed on the Russell place. In one or two instances Russell demanded and received from Dunlap $5 for damage done by the straying cattle.

On the day of the fatal shooting, Russell's cattle were taken up by Dunlap. Russell sent his 15-year-old stepdaughter, Madelyn, to the Dunlap place for the cattle. Dunlap did not release the cattle but told the girl, it was reported, to send her father for the cattle, promising that he would "settle reasonably."

Claims Threat Was Made.

Three weeks before, Russell told his mother, Dunlap had threatened him, saying, "Come up to the house, and I'll fix you." Mrs. Russell at that time expressed fear for her son's safety and advised him to leave the farm. Russell replied in effect that Dunlap had a dangerous temperbut that it was unbelievable that he would actually commit any harm.

Concerning the conversation or dispute that took place Sunday between the two men prior to the shooting, Mrs. Russell had no information. She said, however, that Russell's cattle had not been turned out when he turned to leave. Quoting Russell's words to his wife after the shooting, the mother said that her son declared he did not know that he had been shot until he found that he could not lift his arm to mount his horse. The shooting, according to Russell's statement to his wife, occurred as he turned to untie his horse.

Didn't Own a Gun.

The manner in which Dunlap came into possession of the shotgun with which the shooting was done is unexplained so far as Mrs. Russell is concerned. She has made her home during recent years with both families and her statement corroborated by that of her adopted daughter, is that Dunlap never owned a shotgun, and their opinion is that the loaded gun was borrowed.

Chester A. Russell was 41 years of age. He leaves besides his mother and swallow, four children, a stepdaughter, Madelyn, aged 15 years; a son, Allen, 10; and two daughters Hilda and Mabel aged 9 and 5 years.

Dunlap's family is composed of his wife and four children, one daughter, Lola, aged 15 years, and three sons, Robert 13, Thomas 10, and Richard 7.

TEXAS WOMAN ENTERS RACE FOR CONGRESS

MISS ANNIE WEBB BLANTON of Denton, Texas, first woman in the "Lone Star State" to be elected to a state office, now is seeking a seat in congress. For two terms state superintendent of public instruction, Miss Blanton is endeavoring to be elected to the congressional seat left vacant by the death of Congressman Lucien W. Parrish.

Gambler Cheats for First Time in Life Devoted to Chance

Man Who Made Thousands Shaking Dice Suicides Rather Than Await Natural Death

SAN BERNARDINO, (AP)—Lew Friedman, said to be one of the cleverest dice experts in the country, is dead by his own hand—the hand that rolled "sevens" and "elevens" for nearly half a million dollars in the last twenty years. Friedman cheated for the first time in his life, his friends say, when yesterday he beat the spectre of tuberculosis by shooting himself as fate was shaking the dice. He could have lived but a few days longer.

Friedman died penniless. A year ago he came back from Cuba with $20,000 he won in a few weeks, but he gave it away in a short time to youngsters in the streets from New York to San Francisco. Friends provided him with a tent near Victorville. There he died.

Starvation Rules in Fiji Islands Due to Big Strike

Sixty Thousand Workers Idle as Result of Proposed Wage Cut of 20 Cents per Day

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Thousands of Indian laborers in the Fiji islands are starving and a total loss of the sugar and coconut crops is threatened as a result of the strike of sixty thousand workers protesting against a cut of 20 cents a day in wages, according to an account of conditions given today by B. Vankalapak Rajuu, head of the British mission sent from India to investigate the situation.

Mr. Vankalapak arrived here yesterday on the steamer Tahiti.

FACTS IN HANNAH CASE STILL UNSOLVED PUZZLE

Mystery Surrounding Finding of Body of Young Woman Remains as Deep as Ever

HOOPESTON, Ill., (AP)—Authorities who have been investigating the death of Miss Gertrude Hannah, whose body was found nearly a week ago in an unoccupied parsonage here, today still were without a clew as to the method of her death and the case was virtually relegated to the realm of unsolved mysteries.

After exclusive interrogations of members of the Hanna family and a former fiance of Miss Hanna, John C. Wyman, who confessed he had been intimate with the young woman, Sheriff Knox and State's Attorney Lowman admitted their investigation divulged nothing.

Possibility of a clew remained, however, with the report expected today from the University of Illinois as to a chemical analysis of the young woman's vital organs.

LAST CHANCE IS OFFERED RUSSIA IN MEMORANDUM

No Concessions of Any Kind Will Be Made Beyond Terms Set Forth in Final Allied Answer to Soviet Delegates

GENOA, (AP) — It was announced by the British representatives here this afternoon that the memorandum to be handed to the Russians embodies the maximum the powers are willing to give the Russian government and the minimum which the powers will accept from Russia.

"If the soviet delegates do not accept the general lines of this document," *it was added, then it is cer*tain all negotiations with Russia will be suspended for some time, probably until another form of government arises in Russia."

Premier Poincare of France may come to Genoa for the closing session of the economic conference, President Millerand's return from Africa will make it possible for the premier to leave the capitol. M. Barthou, head of the French delegation left today for several days conferences in Paris.

Important Matters Scheduled.

The most important question to be talked over by M. Barthou and his chief, it is understood, is that of France's attitude on the non-aggression pact proposed by the British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George.

Whether M. Poincare will consent to a meeting of the signatories of the treaty of Versailles to discuss German reparations before May 31, is another subject for the parley in Paris. Frenchmen here believe it unlikely that M. Poincare will agree to talk reparations at Genoa.

The sub-commission on Russian affairs was to meet this afternoon for final approval of the memorandum to the Russians, the details of which were completed last night. The memoran*dum probably will be sent to the Rus*sians today.

The document provides for establishment of a mixed arbitration commission for controlling the debts owed to holders of Russian government bonds, the chairman of which would be named by Chief Justice Taft of the United States. Mixed tribunals would be set up to deal with the question of the property of foreigners in Russia which has been nationalized.

Belgium alone was against the latter feature, France abandoning her objections to Great Britain's protest. The Belgians insisted on restitution of nationalized property to its former owners.

AGREE ON NAVY STRENGTH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — An agreement upon a navy enlisted personnel for next year of 86,000 men, the number voted by the house, was said to have been reached unanimously at an executive meeting today of the senate appropriations sub-committee considering the house measure.

Today's Games

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (AP)—In the fourth inning of today's Philadelphia-Washington game, the Athletics made three home runs in a row, the circuit swatters being Tillie Walker, Perkins and Miller. It was Walker's second home run of the game. Mogridge was pitching and was relieved by Francis.

Amateur Hypnotist Gains An Overwhelming Success

New Hampshire College Man Tries Out Powers on Fellow Student But Is Forced to Seek Extraordinary Assistance to Bring Subject Back to Earth—Further Demonstrations Called Off

DURHAM, N. H., (AP)—After taking a correspondence course in hypnotism, Ralph H. Seamon of Yorkville, Me., a freshman at New Hampshire college, tried out his powers on his roommate and fellow townsman, W. Briant Hobson, before an admiring student audience. The spell worked. The subject fell limp, and the amateur was satisfied he had acquired the knack. But when he tried to bring back his subject to consciousness, Seamon discovered that all passes, snapping of fingers, shaking, pinching and shouting were of no avail.

A druggist was summoned and brought stimulants; a physician was called and gave medicine; two members of the faculty were sent for and considered the case.

In the end Hobson was brought out of the comma by a combination of all known antidotes for hypnotism and fainting. Professor Charles E. Summers, head of the college department of zoology, believed it a case of hypnosis and Seamon said he was through trying to demonstrate hypnotism.

SECOND FLOOD IS EXPECTED IN A FEW DAYS

Relief Organizations Working Hard in Preparation for Another Deluge of Waters—Committee on Ground

NEW ORLEANS, (AP) — Another flood crest in the Mississippi is expected within the next few days and all hands are working to strengthen the levees wherever possible.

Relief organizations, meanwhile, continued work among the thousands of flood sufferers. Still others are being forced to abandon their homes, especially in the Black river section, where the water continues to deepen at outlying points. Shortage of food and shelter at the Harrisonburg, La., relief camp prevented an even more serious problem today with 1000 refugees reported en route through.

Continuing their first hand investigation of the flood damage, the congressional party of 11 representatives and three senators who arrived at Memphis yesterday from Washington, were expected to resume their river trip today from Helena to Arkansas City, Ark. The members of congress are guests of the Mississippi Levee association which is showing them the extent of the flood ravages and the need of an adequate appropriation for the completion of the levee and revetment system.

DEATH FOLLOWS AUTO'S PLUNGE

Well Known Lumber Operator Instantly Killed when Car Goes Over Cliff

GOLDEN DALE, Wash., (AP)—Nineyear-old Mabel Lindberg walked into the settlement of Wahkiacus station yesterday with her three-year-old brother Clarence in her arms and informed residents that her father, Elias P. Lindberg, widely known Washington timber operator, had been hurt in an automobile accident.

Investigators found Lindberg dead beneath his car at the bottom of Big Klickeita river canyon. Apparently the brakes failed to hold when the car got off the road and rolled over down the steep canyon wall. Lindberg had put the children out of the car for safety when he started up an unusually difficult pitch of road. Lindberg leaves a widow and five children.

STILL ANOTHER SECRET TREATY ENTERED INTO

Italy and Turkish Nationalist Government Are Declared to Have Consummated Political Pact Behind England's Back

LONDON, (AP)—The Pall Mall Gazette and Globe today says it has just learned that Italy, following France's example, has made a secret political pact with the Turkish Nationalist government at Angora, "behind Great Britain's back."

"Full disclosure of this has just been made," says the newspaper, "though it has been suspected for some time. The consequences are likely to be serious."

The newspaper says Italy's withdrawal of her troops from Scala Nova and the Meander Valley in Asia Minor, as was reported in a Constantinople dispatch of April 18, was effected by an agreement with the Turks. Turks were informed beforehand of this movement, it says, similar knowledge being denied to the Greeks, whose flank was left dangerously exposed. The newspaper says the Italians in return received consideration in the shape of a concession in the Meander valley and the eastern villages of Van, Bitlis and Erzerum.

Asks Further Favors

Italy has also undertaken, it continues, to press for further favors from the enemies to Turkey relating to Thrace, some allied commissions of control at Constantinople and settlement of capitalization. Turkey also consented to the extension of local self-government and other provisions for most of her dependencies. The Angora government in return pledged to refrain from anti-Italian propaganda.

BREAD A LA AIRPLANE.

RIGA, Latvia, (AP) — The crews of four German steamers which for weeks were ice bound in the gulf of Riga were supplied regularly with fresh bread by Latvian military aviators. Fishermen reported the vessels running short of provisions and airmen from Riga made trips every few days carrying food for the sailors, the bread being dropped in sacks on the ice near the hemmed-in steamers.

SUSPENDERS TO REPLACE BELTS AND NIGHTSHIRTS PAJAMAS, EDICT SAYS

CHICAGO, (AP) — Grand-dad, by refusing to discard his suspenders years ago, will be right in style this year, according to the United National Clothiers, now holding the sixteenth semi-annual convention here. Yes, and his night shirts, and in wet weather rubbers, will be quite the thing.

But these are not all the clothiers have on display.

The suspenders, finished in silver buckles and twisted strands of colored silk, are displayed in fancy boxes. The arrival of the suspenders is closely associated with the departure of cuffed trousers, according to exhibitors.

The old fashioned night shirts, brought up to date by the addition of a splash of red at the throat, are displayed more conspicuously than pajamas, reversing the recent order.

Blue and pink are the predominating colors in the sleeve supporters being shown and talked about.

Silk is the most popular fabric for the scarf, the exhibitors declare, stripes taking precedence over figures. All colors, they say, are good at present.

ENTIRE OUTPUT OF RUSSIAN OIL IN CONCESSION

Shell Group with Allied Interests Sign a Far Reaching Agreement with Soviets on Fifty-Fifty Basis

LONDON, (AP)—A gigantic industrial agreement was signed on Sunday at Genoa by representatives of the Russian government and the Shell Oil group of companies, telegraphs the Genoa correspondent of the Evening News.

Under the agreement the Shell group will control all sales, and under certain conditions, all production of oil in every part of Russia for an agreed period. The concession may be renewed by mutual consent.

Fifty per cent of the net profits will be allotted to the soviet government, and the other 50 per cent to the Shell group. The working of the oil fields will be administered by the companies under the provisions of the Russian juridical code and the proviso that not more than 50 per cent of the workers employed shall be foreigners.

Start Work at Once.

The correspondent understands that the Shell combine has arranged to apply the agreement almost immediately to the Caspian fields, taking charge of the pipe line from Baku to Batum, and also to develop the vast potential fields in Uralsk province.

Leonod Krassin, the soviet minister of trade signed the agreement, says the dispatch, only after several decisions he had played the various groups against one another to obtain better offers for the privileges. The fields involved, next to those of the United States, are the most prolific in the world.

It is more than possible, adds the correspondent that difficult complications may result over the working of important areas in which the Standard Oil company had concessions prior to the soviet nationalization of the fields.

Leonod Krassin, the Russian soviet trade expert, admitted, however, that the Shell interests, the Royal Dutch and Anglo-Persian companies had been negotiating with the soviet authorities which, he said, opposed any kind of concession and who certainly would not agree to one of general character. The soviet government, he said, might agree to a local concession but a grant even of that character would be made only when the soviet government had been recognized.

M. Krassin added that the Standard Oil company had not made any offer.

GENOA (AP)—The Genoa correspondent of the London Evening News, in a dispatch to his paper this afternoon quotes Colonel Boyle, representing the Shell group of British oil companies and Royal Dutch interests here as denying that an industrial agreement was signed Sunday between those interests and the Russian soviet government as reported.

Reuter's correspondent here says the Russian delegation to the economic conference also flatly denied having made any concession to the Shell interests.

Depended on France.

PARIS, (AP)—The contract between the Russian soviet government and the Shell group of British oil companies, by which the latter obtains a monopoly of the transportation and sale of Russian petroleum says a dispatch to Lox "information" from Genoa, was drawn up in London in February. It was signed and made public he adds, as soon as the attitude of M. Barthou of the French Genoa delegation on the question of the recognition of private property rights in Russia became known.

BOMB WAS NOT DANGEROUS

May Day Calm in New York Broken Only by Discovery of Which Investigation Hastily Disposes

NEW YORK, (AP)—The calm of May day without any sign of demonstration was broken late last night when attendants at St. Patrick's cathedral reported they had discovered in the edifice what they thought might be a "bomb." The police soaked the "bomb" in water for one hour and then opened the cylinder.

It proved to be a mailing tube containing several advertisements, some pencils, pens and brass clips. It was May day's only "bomb."

GROWTH OF RADIO CAN'T KEEP PACE WITH THE DEMAND

Increase in Use of Wireless Finds Manufacturers Unable to Supply the Market

CHICAGO, (AP) — A new infant industry, the manufacture of radio equipment, has sprung up with an amazing growth within a year and much of it within a few recent weeks. From a few manufacturing shops a year ago to thousands now, an increase of 60,000 per cent in demand in two years; a business in which both boys and great manufacturers are taking profits; all this is the romance of the new industry.

The demand which called it into existence is at present as tremendous as it has been sudden. The new, small concerns manufacturing radio supplies are estimated by the Radio Corporation of America as numbering thousands. Figures of the same corporation show that whereas two years ago 4000 tubes a year were in demand, this year probably 200,000 tubes a month will be called for.

Many Boys Interested.

Reports gathered from a number of states by the Associated Press show that many boys and other amateurs are constructing and selling outfits.

Three years ago three boys in Chicago, 16 and 17 years old, began to make radio outfits. They are now incorporated and carrying on a large business. Their success indicates the alluring possibilities in this new industry of adventure. Its alleged hazards were pointed out in the prediction of an official of one of the older and larger electrical supply houses that if all the concerns now engaged in making radio equipment should remain in the enterprise, before long parts would become a drug on the market and that by October 1 the makers of complete sets would natively be soliciting business.

That such a situation would be a reversal of present conditions is indicated in the report of another large supply house that it is two months behind in filling its orders and word from all parts of the country of a great shortage in apparatus. The huge demand is ascribed to the practice of free broadcasting.

There are now 800,000 receiving sets in the United States, according to the estimates of several companies. Of these 100,000 were sold in the in the middle west, and 15,000 to 25,000, according to varying estimates, in Chicago.

Dealers declared that the suddenness of growth of this infant industry and the fact that the number of plants varies from day to day made it impossible accurately to gauge its proportions. One dealer said that it was impossible to estimate with any certainty the extent of the demand, inasmuch as buyers in their eagerness to get equipment as soon as possible are placing orders with dozens of dealers at once, and purchasing from the first dealer who is ready to deliver. For that reason, it was stated, what might seem to be a demand involving $30,000,000 might resolve itself into a demand involving $2,000,000.

"There are more bootleggers in the radio business than in the whisky business," one dealer asserted. "People get hold of parts and sell them for exorbitant prices; I have known a single tube which is regularly sold for $5 to bring $15. Some of these spurious dealers come in and try to bribe our clerks to get them parts."

Toledo Will Have Big Plant.

An electrical supply house at Toledo, O., has begun to install that it has announced will be one of the most complete radio manufacturing plants in the world. It proposes to employ 100 workers at the outset and more as the department is enlarged, and plans for a daily capacity of 300 complete radio receiving and transmitting sets. In Toledo and Lucas county, it was estimated, several thousand sets are receiving daily weather, market and other reports broadcast from various cities throughout the country. Six concerns are manufacturing radio equipment in Cincinnati, O.

There are 18 regularly established concerns in Chicago manufacturing radio equipment, aside from many boys who assemble parts and distribute the sets this constructed among their friends.

There are 204 companies in Missouri manufacturing radio supplies. Of these 11 are in St. Louis. In St. Louis a 12-year-old boy, 25 business men, several automobile mechanics, one plumber, one butcher and several high school pupils, are making and selling radio supplies during their spare time.

Department Stores Sell Outfits.

About 25 boys are constructing and selling radio equipment in Milwaukee, Wis. They sometimes receive $50 or higher for their outfits, it was said. The large department stores of Milwaukee are handling sets, and one of them has a large window trimmed to represent a family sitting around a room listening to a radio concert.

Dallas, Texas, reported 14 dealers in radio equipment, one of them which sold such supplies exclusively, having built up its trade within the last few months. Madison, Wis., reported that a new radio store has just been opened there and is already widely patronized.

A few centers reported that no manufacturers had established themselves in their vicinity so far, but that dealers were anxious to handle equipment "when they could get it." In Louisville, Ky., equipment is sold by dealers in parts and experts are required to assemble it. One automobile concern there has undertaken to assemble parts, as a side line.

Two new factories have just been organized in Kansas, one at Wichita and one at Topeka.

AUTO ACCIDENT LEADS TO SERIOUS SITUATION

American Army Officer in Germany Wounded when Car Runs Into Parade

MAYENCE, Germany, (AP) — A column of demonstrators was marching through the Rheinstrasse when by a mistake in steering an American captain's automobile ran into the procession. The march was stopped immediately but it was surrounded and attack by a shrieking furious crowd, which began to mount the car.

The captain, believing his life to be in danger, drew his revolver. One man in the crowd tried to disarm him, but the revolver was discharged and the officer sank back, wounded in the shoulder.

The chauffeur tried to aid the captain, but the crowd turned on him covering him with blows.

French gendarmes extricated the American car and made several arrests.

EQUALITY OF THE SEXES IS FAVORED IN SWEDEN

Government Submits Bill to Admit Women to Many Public Offices After Next January

STOCKHOLM, (AP) — Admission of women to nearly all public offices on an equal footing with men is provided in a bill soon to be submitted to the Riksdag by the government. The principal of equality of the sexes in public service was virtually accepted by the Riksdag last year and the purpose of the present bill is to put it into practice from January 1, 1923.

The measure provides that women shall be admitted to all governmental posts except in the army and navy, diplomatic and consular service, which it is felt cannot be filled by women. They are also disqualified from occupying positions as officials of prisons and asylums for inebriates and of the customs and forestry service, involving work which men can perform better than women. Women will not be called upon to perform guard duty nor teach gymnastics to classes of men.

There will be nothing to bar women from other high executive offices in public life heretofore regarded as reserved from men alone.

The minister of justice in discussing the bill favors admitting women to judicial offices. No distinction is made in the bill between married and unmarried women. But the minister stated that no special discrimination would be shown to married women in public offices as regards her hours of work or fulfilling her duties.

Altogether Too Frank.

When I was 14, a new scholar came to our school. He was a boy, one year my junior, and he and I fell deeply in love with each other. We exchanged love letters, and he thought that I was the sweetest girl that he ever saw. Everything was lovely until one morning I came to school with one of my eyes all red and swollen and a big sty on it. He looked at me for awhile, and suddenly exclaimed: "You homely beast!" That ended our love affair.—Chicago Journal.

Tangled in His Adjectives.

At the close of a suburban political meeting the other evening the customary votes of thanks were being given, when one of the speakers electrified the gathering by asking those present to accord "a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. X—— for the able manner in which he has discharged the erroneous duties of chairman of this meeting."

Sleeps 6,000 Days.

A French statistician estimates that at the age of fifty years the average man has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500, walked 800, amused himself 4,000, spent 1,500 eating, and has been ill 500 days.

INFORMATION IN THE AIR FOR THOSE WITH RADIO

Government Will Broadcast Suggestions for Co-operation to Make Postal Service More Efficient

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Radio telephone owners throughout the United States who "listen in" each day when the government and other agencies broadcast information will during the first week in May, receive a lot of information concerning postal conditions, if a plan evolved by Postmaster General Work for the utilization of radio telephones is carried out faithfully by postmasters.

The postmaster general has directed that during "Postal improvement week," May 1-7, postmasters, railway mail officials, and inspectors disseminate all possible information by radio telephone so that "the proper viewpoint of the public may be obtained in connection with your appeal for cooperation."

Dr. Work cautioned the postal workers to remember "that school boys and girls are 'listening in' on your message and they are a potential aid in postal improvement."

The first message to be sent out will be on "The Travel of a Letter," and will describe all ramifications attending the mailing and delivery of mail matter.

FILM INDUSTRY IN BRITAIN APPARENTLY ON THE MEND

Pictures Made in America Still Popular, but British are Pushing Their Goods Rapidly Forward

LONDON, (AP) — General improvement in talent Britain's film industry is claimed by moving picture makers, referred to in England as cinema producers.

Four year ago 90 per cent of the films shown in the United Kingdom were of American manufacture. The figure now has dropped to approximately 75 per cent and British producers are confident home-made films will come into their own with the general revival of British industries.

While film making in England still is in its industrial infancy, compared to America's great moving picture industry, investments in the work are increasing. It is estimated that 6,000,000 pounds is invested in the cinema industry, with between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 pounds in production.

Progress has been slow but sure in British scenario writing, according to the head of one English producing firm and good British films now attract as large audiences as do good American films. The happiest sign that the British producer notes is that where the merits of American and British films are equal the British public prefers British films.

URGE SCIENTIFIC TARIFF.

NEW YORK, (AP) — Organization of a preliminary committee to urge the passage of a permanent non-partisan scientific tariff with headquarters here was announced Monday. The committee, which includes J. R. Howard of the American farm bureau federation and F. J. Hagebarth, president of the National Wool Growers' association, has announced its support of the tariff bill introduced in the senate by Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet, and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

Hundreds of Muscles.

The human body has been estimated to contain some 460 muscles. The actions of all these muscles are fully understood and described, but there are probably many other muscles and compound actions of muscles which have not yet been tabulated.

MANTLE OF SNOW COVERED MANY A SIGN OF DECAY

Torn and Battered Pavements In Moscow Revealed when Spring Removes the Kindly Covering of Winter

MOSCOW, (AP)—The shielding blanket of snow has left Moscow and revealed a city of mud and slush and unrepaired, cratered pavements like a battlefield pock-marked by shell holes; and the city stands out in all its revolution-torn ugliness.

Droshkies, or Russian cabs, drawn by disconsolate looking horses, careen from melting ice hillock to slush crater, jogging their passengers like a bumping device in an amusement park. Here and there is a sleigh, a hopeless relic from the more charitable days of winter, drags painfully from bare pavement to slush oasis with a load of wood.

Automobiles, which seem recklessly driven by hard-faced chauffeurs, splutter, chug and whir past, throwing the muddy water over pedestrian and droshky passenger alike.

Moscow Full of Old Cars.

To the stranger, Moscow seems to be the place designed as the Hades where all bad automobiles go when they die. There are a few good, new models but, for the most part, the touring cars, runabouts and lorries which speed through Moscow's streets, generally laden with roughly dressed soviet officials or Red army officers, are of a pre-1914 vintage, one lunged ghosts from the scrapheap, coughing bad gasoline and pouring out smoke barrages of oil fumes.

The sanitary condition of the city is almost unimaginable to western strangers. A report of the Moscow soviet recently said there were millions of barrels of refuse and sewage in the dump yards, unable to be moved because of the transport shortage.

Less than 30 per cent of Moscow's houses have complete sewage and running water facilities and many drain pipes are so blocked with the refuse of years that they are useless.

Some efforts are to be made this coming summer toward sewage repair and, here and there, the city's dilapidation is going relieved by a bit of paint as private shopkeepers touch up their new establishments.

MYERS BESTS COAST MAN

Walter Rooney of San Francisco Loses to Pocatello Lad —Takes Count in Fifth

POCATELLO, Idaho, (AP)—Spug Myers, Pocatello junior lightweight champion, stopped Walter Rooney of San Francisco in the fifth round of their scheduled 12-round bout staged here last evening. Rooney was sent to the canvas in the fifth round for the count of nine and had hardly gotten up when Spug shot over a fast right to the head and the coast youngster was counted out.

Rooney gave Myers one of the hardest battles of his career and had Spug worried for the first three rounds in which honors were about even. Rooney scored a knockdown in the first half of the fourth round while Spug came back strongly in the latter half of this period and rushed Walter to all corners of the ring.

John Hanna knocked out Kid Johns in the second round. Albert Eggan and Marion Christensen fought a four round draw. Pat Vassalo decisioned Young Cottrel in four rounds.

Difference in Greetings.

About a hundred years ago there was an English duke who used to return home at daybreak after a night's gambling at his club. There were only two persons stirring in that part of London at that hour—the duke and a cobbler commencing his day's work. They always greeted each other. "Good night, friend," said the duke. "Good morning, sir," said the cobbler.

Actresses Depict Evolution of Period Styles

WANTS A SECOND VISIT

Expects to Appear in America Matched Against Winner of Pending Contest

NEW YORK, (AP) — Prospects of Georges Carpentier's return to the United States this summer to defend his light-heavyweight title have enlivened interest in the contest May 23 between Harry Greb and Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion, which will decide the Frenchman's challenger.

Indications that Carpentier is anxious to meet the winners of the Greb-Tunney encounter here are contained in a cablegram received from Georges by Matchmaker Flournoy of Madison Square Garden. Carpentier's request for a proposition by cable was responded to by Flournoy, but the garden promoter did not reveal its details.

Carpentier is now in training for a match at London May 11 with Ted "Kid" Lewis, English champion in several classes, and if victorious is expected to plan a return to America shortly afterwards. Both Greb and Tunney, Flournoy said, were ready to sign to meet Carpentier.

The date for the Greb-Tunney contest has been advanced from May 26 to May 23, Matchmaker Flournoy explaining it was done to give the garden additional time to prepare for its swimming season.

ANOTHER UNIQUE RECORD

Brooklyn Player Puts Up Performance Equalled Only Once in 46 Years

NEW YORK, (AP) — Baseball history yesterday was again adorned by the work of a rookie pitcher—this time Harry Shriver in his debut for Brooklyn—who played a leading role in the proceedings.

Shriver's performance in blanking the Phillies, 2-to 0, with three lonely bingles, excelled the debuts of Johnson, Mathewson and other pitching stars. The unique feature of the game, however, was the fact that Post, Dodger first-sacker, had only one put-out, a catch of a line drive in the ninth, and no assists.

Only once before in the 46 years old National league pastiming has this record been equalled. This was August 30, 1910, when Bill Hinchman of the Pirates had but one put-out, and that on the last man in the ninth, in the second game of a double-header with Boston.

Jiggs Donahue, formerly of the White Sox, holds the American league record with no put-outs and only one assist back in 1906.

COAST LEAGUE HAS FIND IN SAN FRANCISCO YOUNGSTER

Recruit is Fast Player in Infield, Wallops the Ball, and is Speedy Sprinter

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (AP)—Gene Valla, a quiet, smiling 19-year-old San Francisco boy, slipped into the lineup of the Pacific Coast league baseball team here a month ago without much noise but today he is being talked about by all the fans and is described by some as the greatest prospect in the Coast league in years. And generally San Francisco fans need to be shown before they praise a recruit.

In the opening game against Seattle Valla fanned three times. Not discouraged he was given another chance and by the first part of this week his hitting ability and his marvelous speed have given him a batting percentage of .396.

Jack Miller, manager of the Seals, says Valla is one of the smartest boys in baseball and Jack McCarthy, former American league umpire, thinks Valla looks better than Ty Cobb did when he broke into the American league in 1905. Arnold Statz, the fast Los Angeles player, was the league sensation last year, but this year local people think Valla will prove the sensation.

Valla can play the infield and can hit and can run. In nearly every game he has beaten out one or more hits, for if the ball takes a couple of hops before it reaches an infielder the boy is sure to beat it to first.

Valla was born in Santa Cruz, Cal., but was raised in San Francisco where he learned his baseball on the Golden Gate park diamonds. Last year he was with semi professional teams. This year he is playing his first professional base ball.

MIDGET SMITH WINS.

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP) — Midget Smith, Salt Lake featherweight boxer won the decision over Leonard Melody of Laramie, Wyo., in six fast rounds here last night. Kid Sparks, Pocatello lightweight, drew with Jay Solomon of Salt Lake in four rounds.

DAVE SHADE VICTORIOUS.

KENOSHA, Wis., (AP) — "Dave" Shade, San Francisco welterweight, defeated "Dennis" O'Keefe of Chicago in a ten-round boxing bout here last night. Shade floored O'Keefe in the tenth round and knocked him into the ropes repeatedly in the last three rounds.

BUHL BALL TEAM PLAYS HERE THIS AFTERNOON

Twin Falls High School Athletes Will Endeavor to Take Measure of Admittedly Strong Team

The baseball team of Twin Falls high school will entertain the Buhl clan of ball tossers this afternoon at four o'clock. That it will be one of the hardest fought games of the season, is the opinion of most of the experts. Buhl has a good team this season, and reports have it that they are much stronger this season. Be that as it may Coach Evans is taking every precaution to guard against any unknown element sneaking in and breaking his perfect record.

In all probabilities Cliff Fix will be on the slab for the home boys, with Bob Putzier on the receiving end.

The battery for Buhl will be Hodgin and Krall.

TURNS DOWN CASH OFFER

Dempsey Says He Is Not Interested in Any Sum Amounting to Less Than $5,000

PARIS, (AP)—Jack Dempsey, prior to his departure for Berlin, refused an offer of $3000 for a three-round exhibition match in a Paris ring, it has become known. While the offer far exceeded any made previously for such a brief appearance, the heavyweight champion's answer was that it is useless to speak of any amount less than $5000.

A municipal councillor who later asked Dempsey to give an exhibition for charity says he has received no answer to his communication.

BASEBALL MEN TO TRAVEL.

The local high school baseball team will take its first trip of the season, when they leave on Wednesday evening for Idaho Falls. One game will be played with the Idaho Falls high school team on Thursday, and Friday and Saturday they will clash with Pocatello high. On Pocatello's visit to this city, the locals gathered both games, but in the last one Pocatello showed such wonderful improvement, that the possibilities are that two real games are in store for Pocatello fans. The return game with Buhl will be played at Buhl on the following Tuesday.

AMERICAN MOTORIST

NEW OIL IS WONDER WORKER

Close to perfection as the modern gasoline engine is it nevertheless finds itself saddled with a number of shortcomings that are appreciated in their full importance only by the tried engineer who takes into account not merely rough and ready performances but questions matters that are fairly treated by the average motorist.

The circumstance is not generally appreciated by the automobile owner that much of the piston wear comes from the fact that the upper end of the piston reach is very difficult to lubricate. There is mechanical difficulty to apply lubricant at the point where the exploding gases and the piston head meet. The heat generated at this point, with its tendency to burn up ordinary oil, does much in adding to the difficulties.

It is for this reason that the upper portions of pistons are very generally machined several thousandths of an inch smaller than the remainder of the piston, so that the greater heat existing at the upper end does not expand the metal sufficiently to cause seizing.

It is interesting in this connection to contemplate the claims made for a new product which has just made its appearance upon the market and is manufactured by the R. C. Desmond Mfg. Co., 210 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. The product, an advertisement of which is found elsewhere in this number, is called Miracle oil. The new lubricant—if it may be called such—is added to the gasoline in the proportion two ounces to every ten gallons of fuel; it is perfectly soluble in gasoline, with which it is drawn into the combustion chamber. Here it is converted into an extremely fine mist which does not burn, but rives through the heat and performs the two-fold function of supplying lubrication at a point where ordinarily it cannot be applied, and where it incidentally softens the carbon in the combustion space, which latter is blown out through the muffler instead of being permitted to take root in the combustion chamber walls and piston heads.

Miracle oil is said not to affect the existing carburetor adjustments in the least; it contains neither acids or chemicals but is so harmless in its composition that it may be taken internally by man, without harmful results. Prolonged trials with motors of all kinds have established a fact that more efficient lubrication results from the use of Miracle oil, with a considerable cutting down of gasoline consumption, for which reason alone it is worthy of the attention of every motorist who is possessed of a streak of economy, and incidentally wants to assist in the countrywide movement toward a more careful use of motor fuel.

CRIMES OF TURKS CAUSE COMPLAINT

Governor of Silicia Resigns Because of Persecution of the Christians

ADANA, Turkey, (AP)—Hamid Bey, who has been governor of Silicia, the southern Turkish province since its evacuation by the French troops, has just resigned his post as a protest against the manner in which the soldiers of Kemal Pasha has treated the Christian population.

It has been charged that officers of the Turkish nationalist army and Turks who have no respect for law have been roaming the Armenian quarters in the cities and towns of Silicia molesting women and children and committing various crimes.

They are alleged to have extorted loans from the frightened Christians without intention of ever repaying them.

When Governor Hamid protested, Kemal Pasha is reported to have replied only: "This is war."

Plays Military Authorities.

Before leaving Adana, Hamid Bey declared in an interview that he was disgusted with the attitude and behavior of the military authorities who, he said, considered the promises given to France to protect the Armenians as a scrap of paper. After recalling the heavy sacrifices of the Turkish territory as a consequence of the war, he added:

"We Turks must first learn to respect the rights of minorities if we are to win the good will of nations. France and England would never be willing to restore to us Asia Minor unless we prove to them our capacity for good and just government."

Leading Armenians here assert that despite signed pledges and proclamations, Kemal Pasha ordered that all Greek Christians and Armenians be dismissed from all administrative posts. This threw hundreds of Christians out of employment and left their families without means of support, so that they must look to charity for subsistence.

Armenians charged also that, in the last few months, thousands of Turks have invaded Cilicia and helped themselves to any vacant or unprotected property belonging to Christians without compensation.

LAST OF HIS TRIBE ENTERS HAPPY HUNTING GROUNDS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., (AP)—Peter Waiska, the last of the Waiskas, proudest branch of the Chippewa tribe, is dead.

Waiska, who was 78, carried with him to his grave the pride of race that made his forefathers outstanding among the various Indians bands native to the Great Lakes district. His death was caused by exposure to the cold, an element at which he scoffed in former years.

Peter Waiska, born an Indian, reared an Indian and an Indian at heart until the last, except that he had adopted the white man's religion, went to his last resting place, not in the forests through which he had roamed throughout his life, but in a white man's cemetery. A simple cross marks the grave.

PRINCE OF WALES RESTS.

KYOTO, (AP) — Free from the maze of brilliant ceremonies which have marked his visit to Tokio and other large cities of the north, the Prince of Wales will spend five or six days resting here before resuming his journey to the southern extremity of the empire. Word has gone out that aside from the brief welcoming ceremonies, the prince is to be treated as an ordinary tourist.

During his stay here the royal visitor will occupy the Omiya Gosho palace, situated in an extensive park. The building is noted throughout Japan for the beauty of its decorations and furnishings, contributed by the greatest masters of painting and carving in the empire.

FOREIGN TRADE IS FALLING OFF

Value of American Exports to Europe in March Shows Sharp Decline

WASHINGTON, (AP)—American exports to Europe fell off by approximately $20,000,000 during March as compared with the same month a year ago, while imports from Europe increased by about $10,000,000 and both exports to and imports from South America decreased by about $10,000,000 each, according to foreign trade reports issued today by the commerce department.

During March exports to Europe aggregated $180,000,000 compared with $199,000,000 in March a year ago, while imports from Europe aggregated $86,000,000 against $77,000,000 in March, 1921.

Decline Is Apparent

For the nine months ended with March exports to Europe amounted to $1,520,000,000 compared with $2,870,000,000 during the corresponding months of 1921, while imports aggregated $615,000,000 against $753,000,000 during the same period a year ago.

Exports to South America for March totalled $17,000,000 compared with $29,000,000 in March, 1921, while imports aggregated $24,000,000 against $33,000,000 in March, 1921.

During the nine months ended with March exports to South America aggregated $133,000,000 compared with $167,000,000, while imports aggregated $204,000,000 against $412,000,000 during the corresponding months of 1921.

ARIZONA IS PLANNING TO CUT DOWN EXPENDITURES

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—A saving of millions of dollars to the state of Arizona is expected to be one of the benefits resulting from a special session of the state legislature which closed recently. Governor Thomas E. Campbell had called the extraordinary session for the purpose of affording consideration of amendments to the constitution designed to increase efficiency and economy in the state government.

The first act of the legislature was to pass an appropriation bill providing funds to operate the state government for the year beginning next July 1. This supply bill calls for the expenditure of more than half a million dollars less than was provided by a previous appropriation measure covering the same period.

The legislature also passed a financial code repealing 179 continuing appropriations and diverting all money into one general fund, providing that all money for state use shall come from that fund only as appropriated to the various state departments by the legislature in the general appropriation bill.

Expenses of the special session, which lasted 60 days, amounted to $70,000, most of which went toward salaries of members and attaches.

FRANCE CONFERS ORDER ON AMERICAN HORSEMAN

LEESBURG, Va., (AP)—The French government has conferred upon an American, E. B. White of Leesburg, the order of Officer du Merite Agricole, a decoration in recognition of signal service to agriculture, but in this instance awarded for "service rendered in the improvement of horses."

Mr. White began to breed horses 20 years ago after returning on the advice of physicians to his native home in Virginia from St. Louis, where he had been active on the grain exchange. The physicians had given up hope for his recovery, but the outdoor work incident to his interest in horse breeding aided in his recovery.

The particular animal which led to the award of the decoration is the stallion Last, bred by Mr. White and exhibited in Chicago at the last International Live Stock Show. Last was declared grand champion Percheron stallion and one of his sons reserve grand champion, giving Mr. White a record said to be unprecedented in the history of the show. Mr. White is a member of the advisory board of the Horse Association of America.

Prominent Figures in Trial of Mine Leaders Charged With Treason

In historic old Charles Town, West Virginia, where John Brown and his followers were convicted and hanged for treason, many union miners now are facing trial on charges of alleged conspiracy to incite riots and insurrection. Here are three of the prominent figures at the trial. Fred Mooney and Frank Keeney, officials of District 17, United Mine Workers, are among the defendants. Duncan C. Kennedy, secretary-commissioner of the Kanawha Coal Operators' Association, will appear as a witness.

MURDER CHARGE WILL BE FILED

Nineteen Year Old Chicago Divorcee to Be Tried for Causing Death of Baby

CHICAGO, (AP)—Miss Violet Black Duncan, a pretty 19-year-old divorcee was arrested today charged with the murder of her nephew, Hollis Beard, two and a half years old.

The child was found dead in Miss Duncan's apartment last Sunday night. Miss Duncan lay on the floor beside the boy, with three gas range jets turned on full force. Miss Duncan was revived by a physician.

The attempted suicide of the young woman was believed by police to have resulted from a quarrel with R. C. Dubay, said to be a wealthy businessman of Atlanta, Ga. It was said Dubay saw the young woman riding in a motor bus with another man, as a result of which he was said to have killed her.

PIONEER OF UTAH AND IDAHO CALLED BY DEATH

Lewis W. Shurtliff, Resident of Ogden, Answers Last Summons After Eventful Life

OGDEN, (AP)—L. W. Shurtliff, a pioneer of Utah and Idaho, died at his home here today at the age of 87 years. For 39 years he had been president of Weber stake, Mormon church. He was a former probate judge and was postmaster during Taft's administration.

Mr. Shurtliff arrived in Utah in 1851, having walked from Council Bluffs. He was sent to the Salmon river district in Idaho and had many a brush with the Indians there. Later he made three trips between Salt Lake and Council Bluffs prior to the building of the railroad to bring freight and immigrants to Utah.

He leaves seven children, 40 grandchildren and 60 great-grandchildren. High officials of the Mormon church, including Heber J. Grant, are expected to attend the funeral services to be held in the Ogden tabernacle Sunday.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Chicago Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat tended upward in price today during the early trading, no pressure to sell being apparent. Export demand was said to be active and there was talk current that the French crop promised to be short in quantity. On the other hand, receipts in Chicago were liberal, 200 cars, and there were some further deliveries this morning on May contracts. The opening, which varied from 5-8c decline to 1-4c advance, with May $1.41 3-4 and July $1.24 1-8 to $1.23 1-4, was followed by upturns to well above yesterday's finish all around.

Subsequently price changes were somewhat irregular. There was persistent buying of May and selling of July. Outside trade was light. The close was unsettled, at the same as yesterday's finish to 2 1-4c higher, with May $1.43 5-8 to $1.43 3-4 and July $1.28 3-8 to $1.28 1-2.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening 1-8c off to 1-4c up, July 65 5-8 to 65 3-4c, the corn market scored slight general gains.

In the later dealings something of a downturn in prices took place, domestic shipping demand for corn being light, and export bids being out of line. The finish was unsettled, 1-8c not lower to a shade advance, with July 65 5-8c.

Oats started unchanged to 1-4c higher, July 40 to 40 1-8c, and later hardened a little more.

Continued demand for ribs rallied the provision market from early declines due to a setback in hog values.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Dutch Oil shares were especially active and strong at the opening of today's stock market on cables announcing that they were to receive concessions in Russia's oil fields. Shell transport rose 1 1-4 points and Royal Dutch gained 1 point, the domestic group also displaying firmness. Independent stocks derived further strength from another advance of pig iron prices, Lackawanna and Crucible being in especial demand. Studebaker added 1 point to yesterday's spirited rally, and shipping rose on buying of Mercantile Marine preferred and Atlantic Gulf. Initial quotations for rails, equipments, coppers and specialties were fractionally higher.

New groups of stocks were bid up, speculative sentiment ignoring indications of realizing and distribution in special issues. Buying embraced a wide variety of shares with the demand for popular issues like the shippings, Studebaker, Chandler and Baldwin giving tone to the entire market. Numerous specialties registered advances of 2 to 4 points, while many of the recognized leaders fared equally as well.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bonds closed: 3 1-2s, $99.20; first 4s, $99.56 bid; second 4s, $99.50 bid; first 4 1-4s, $99.70; second 4 1-4s, $99.40; third 4 1-4s, $99.80; fourth 4 1-4s, $99.80; Victory 3 3-4s, $100.50; Victory 4 3-4s, $100.02.

TOO MUCH EXPERIENCE IS HIS WIFE'S ONLY FAILING

Charging Hawk, Sioux Indian, Declares His Responsibility of Better Half Must End

CHICAGO, (AP)—Charging Hawk, a full blooded Sioux Indian, told Judge Adams of the court of domestic relations he had been in the army for years and served as a policeman on the Sioux reservation for three years, but he had never had so much excitement in his life as during the time since he got married.

"My wife liked variety too much for me," he told the judge. "She had been married four times—to a German, a Mexican, a Chinaman and then me. I can't keep up with her. She had too much experience."

Mrs. Ethel Charging Hawk declared she had not received a dollar for the support of herself or her two children—both by former marriage—since she married the Sioux. Judge Adams took their domestic differences under advisement.

REPORT IS INCOMPLETE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — The report of the military board at Fort Sill, Okla., which investigated the death of Lieutenant Colonel Paul W. Beck was found "incomplete in some respects" by the judge advocate general and has been returned to the post commander. Brigadier General Ernest Hinds, for such action as he may deem proper, Secretary Weeks announced today.

NATIONAL ADVERTISERS WILL VIE IN DISPLAY

Chicago to Entertain Men Who Believe in Blowing Their Own Horn

CHICAGO, (AP)—Extensive displays of advertising material will mark the semi-annual meeting of the Association of National Advertisers here May 3-6. The membership includes 315 large manufacturers who are large advertisers.

At the gathering, the motive of which is announced under three distinct heads—the market, the method and the machine — will be exhibited copies furnished by national advertisers of the most productive advertisements used during the last year in general periodicals, newspapers, class, technical, trade and farm papers specimens of the most potential direct mail advertising pieces; copies of unique issues of house organs; sketches made for striking and effective posters and outdoor bulletins; and samples of effective street car cards. The foregoing will come under the head of the "method."

In dealing with the "market," market analyses investigations and surveys carrying information on marketing conditions will be shown.

Under the head of "machine," sales promotion department organization charts and advertising department system forms of all kinds will be displayed.

Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded by three judges who will pass on the relative merit of the exhibits.

A series of talks by prominent advertisers will be given.

Subject: Demonstration test of Over Head Lubrication of Miracle Oil, P. E. Taylor.

1. March 3, 1919. Left Brooklyn Navy Yard with Packard Touring Car No. 572, with R. Robinson, chauffeur in charge of said car and test. Left Navy Yard with speedometer reading 17,150.7 miles and went past Babylon, L. I., and returned to Babylon with speedometer reading 17,196.7 miles, which is a distance covering 45 miles, which took five (5) gallons of gasoline with plain lubrication and being a mileage of 9 1-5 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

2. Left Babylon with speedometer reading of 17,196.7 miles and reached Brooklyn Navy Yard with speedometer reading 17,235.8 miles, which was treated with Over Head Lubrication of Miracle Oil, starting from Babylon and returning to Brooklyn, which is a distance of thirty-nine (39) miles by the speedometer reading. This was covered with three (3) gallons of gasoline, which is a mileage of thirteen (13) miles per gallon with Over Head Lubrication of MIRACLE OIL.

3. The comparison of the plain with the improved Over Head Lubrication of Miracle Oil on said trip shows an accurate report of a gain of 42.64% with the use of Over Head Lubrication of Miracle Oil against the old style of Crank Case Lubrication alone.

(Signed) R. ROBINSON.

4. Approximately fifteen (15) other cars and trucks were treated at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and all the drivers of said motors were well pleased with the efficient and improved conditions obtained through the use of Miracle Oil Over Head Lubrication.

(Signed) CHAS. H. LITTMANN, (Q. M. Chauffeur.)

HAS RAISED A NEW STANDARD FOR BAKING POWDER

Because it's made in the most careful and scientific manner from absolutely pure materials that remain pure in the baking and insure wholesome, healthful food.

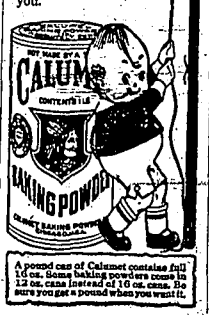
Because it possesses the greatest leavening power.

Because it is not affected by time or weather—it never loses its strength and never fails.

Because it is more economical—you save when you buy it and you save when you use it.

These are a few of the reasons why Calumet is the standard baking powder—the choice of millions—more being sold than of any other brand.

Try it—always buy it. Your grocer can supply you.



A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

HARMONY MAY COME OUT OF LATEST MOVE

Army Officers in Each Contending Faction Sign Agreement of Unification of Military Strength

DUBLIN, (AP) — Southern Ireland today awaited the first results of the definite move to unite the contending military factions, taken at an unheralded conference here yesterday.

Ten army officers, five of them members of the dissenting section of the Irish republican army, signed a statement agreeing to "army unification on the basis of holding elections "with a view to forming a government which will have the confidence of the whole country," and recognition of "the fact admitted on all sides, that a majority of the people of Ireland are willing to accept the peace treaty."

Those signing for the regular army included Michael Collins, head of the provisional free state government, and Richard Mulcahy, minister of defense in the Dail cabinet. All five dissentors have been against the treaty, it was stated.

Identity Uncertain.

Roy O'Connor, head of the revolting section of the army, declared that the signers from his forces were minor officers, but he other quarters it was stated that everyone held the rank of general.

O'Connor's forces last night occupied the Kildare street club and the building housing the port authority in West Moreland street, but regular troops later surrounded the buildings and ordered the raiders to leave. A long discussion followed, the raiders eventually promising to leave today.

MANY MURDERS ARE SUSPECTED

Investigation Ordered in Case Which May Lead to Uncovering of Series of Crimes

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Acting on orders of County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton, Coroner A. P. Hammond was expected today to exhume the body of a man buried here and to examine it for traces of poison, which, if found, is expected to result in the prosecution of a woman for a series of murders committed for $11,000 insurance.

The post mortem examination was ordered following the questioning of the woman, who is being held on charges which have no connection with the murders.

The woman under suspicion is known to have been married five times and recently is said to have acquired her sixth husband. Three of her husbands, Prosecutor Stanton said, died under mysterious circumstances. In addition he said two children by her first marriage died from what was claimed at the time to be accidental poisoning. The woman was divorced from her first two husbands. Her third husband died in Pittsburgh in March, 1917, and her fourth in the same city in 1919, Stanton said. The children also died in that city. The third husband, Stanton said, carried $1,000 insurance, while the fourth was insured for $5,000.

Pittsburgh Interested

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—County authorities and officials of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Red Cross were highly interested today in the report from Cleveland that a woman arrested there was being investigated in connection with the deaths of three of her six husbands. Investigators of the Red Cross here and at Cleveland have been working on the case for three years, it was said.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Appropriation of $1,000,000 for the relief of sufferers in flooded areas of the Mississippi valley is provided in a bill reported favorably to the house today by its agricultural committee. The measure, introduced by Representative Dennison, republican, Illinois, will be rushed through the house and senate leaders also have promised to give it immediate consideration.

LAW TAKES HAND IN CHURCH ROW

Identity of Man Who Abducted Pastor of Lawton, Okla., to Be Subject of Inquiry

LAWTON, Okla., (AP)—The Lawton Presbyterian controversy got outside the confines of the church today. The county authorities took a hand.

A civil court of inquiry was under way, directed by County Attorney Ritchey, who has undertaken to determine the identity of three men who last Sunday night abducted the pastor, the Rev. Thomas Irwin and threw him in a ditch outside of Lawton, half conscious and tied and gagged.

Filing of committee charges, the county attorney said, would depend on the outcome of the investigation.

Many Members Expelled.

The county attorney today prepared subpoenas for about 30 persons who had been ousted from Pastor Irwin's church by the church session or executive board, with the sanction of Mr. Irwin and who have joined the movement to have him expelled from the Lawton pulpit.

Mr. Riley said all the suspended members or anti-Irwin factionists would be interrogated about the abduction and asked to explain his whereabouts on the night the alleged slugging and kidnaping took place.

Pastor Irwin and three members of the church session were called in last night and questioned at length when the county attorney decided to convene the inquiry court.

Their testimony was kept secret.

OLD CHARGE IS BEFORE SENATE

Attorney General Daugherty Said to Have Accepted Big Fee from Chas. W. Morse

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Reports that Harry M. Daugherty, now attorney general, has received a fee of $25,000 from Chas. W. Morse, New York shipbuilder, for obtaining Morse's release in 1912 from the Atlanta federal penitentiary, were repeated in the senate today by Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, and denied by friends of the present attorney general.

The Arkansas senator said the report was based "upon public information." Senator Watson, republican, of Indiana, said he had talked with Mr. Daugherty about the report and it was untrue. Senator Thomas, republican, of New Hampshire, broke into the discussion to say that William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, had received "large fees" from Mr. Morse in connection with shipping contracts recently made the basis of indictments in federal courts here.

Severe Penalty Is Meted Out to Man Accused of Bigamy

Must Memorize 276 Sections of Penal Code and Pass Examination on Them in a Year

LOS ANELES, Cal., (AP)—Memorizing 276 sections of the California penal code is one of the conditions of the probation granted Walroth Oliver, who pleaded guilty to bigamy but declared he had committed that felony through ignorance of the law.

Instead of waiting a year before remarrying after obtaining an interlocutory decree of divorce, Oliver waited only 14 days.

In granting probation, the court specified 276 sections of the code, all referring to bigamy and told Oliver he must pass an examination on them within a year.

SPECIAL ARMY FOR SCOFIELD

Fifty Deputy Sheriffs Imported to Assist in Keeping Order in Utah Mining Town

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (AP)—Scofield, a mining camp about 100 miles from here, awoke today to find 50 men, specially imported from Salt Lake City ready to meet any emergency. They reached Scofield at 4 a. m., and remained on the cars until they were sworn in as deputy sheriff's by Sheriff T. F. Keiter of Carbon county.

The importation of the men from Salt Lake City follows the shooting of three men at the camp last Thursday and the stopping of seven alleged strikebreakers at Scofield Saturday, while they were on their way to the mine at Winterquarters.

Governor Charles R. Mabey has refused to order out the state troops until the county authorities had taken every effort to cope with the situation.

TRIED TO JOIN INDIAN TRIBE

Testimony in Stillman Divorce Hearing Brings Out Further Details of Marital Tangle

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., (AP)—Testimony that Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and Fred Beauvais made application for admittance to an Indian tribe on the Canawagua reservation near Montreal, and were refused, was understood to have been given here today at hearings in the divorce suit instituted by James A. Stillman, New York banker.

This testimony was attributed to Pete DeLille, an Indian living on the reservation. He said no one with Caucasian blood could be admitted to the tribe, it was reported. This barred both Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais, the port indian guide, alleged by the banker to be the father of baby Guy Stillman.

Beauvais' father, Delille declared, belonged to the Bear clan, divided into "black bears" and "white bears."

In this connection, the plaintiff's lawyers were reported to have referred to previous testimony that when Guy Stillman was born in November, 1918, Mrs. Stillman had a telegram sent to Beauvais reading:

"Little Black bear has arrived."

PROPOSES UNIQUE PLAN TO HOUSE AUTOMOBILES

San Francisco Man Would Build "Hotel" Several Stories Deep in Business Section

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (AP)—An automobile hotel, several stories deep, under Union square, a plaza in the heart of the downtown district, is proposed by A. R. Rhine, owner of an automobile parking station, to the board of supervisors. Rhine yesterday asked the board to submit the question to the voters in November.

Rhine advocates removing the statue in the center of the park, the trees and the sod while excavation is being done. He would make the automobile hotel of cement then replace the statue, grass and trees. Entrances, he said, could be inclined from the streets around the park. He said John McLaren, superintendent of parks, believed in his idea.

DISPLEASED EITHER WAY

Canadians have felt aggrieved because their dollar has been at a discount in the United States for a year or more. Now a Canadian newspaper views with alarm the report that many business houses in the United States are accepting Canadian currency at its face value. It seems to regard this as evidence that American business men are engaged in promoting a deeply laid plot against interests of Canada.

It is difficult to fathom the line of argument. If declining to accept Canadian dollars on a parity with our own were a well-founded cause of complaint, and it brought forth many protests, it would seem that a return to former conditions should be welcomed as evidence of the restoration of normal relations. But it is averred that it "signifies, not that traders making it are moved by kindlier feelings toward us, but that business has become dull with them and they find it to their interest to cut prices in order to make sales on this market. They are not showing respect to the Canadian dollar, but they are resorting to a new shift to capture the Canadian market."

From this it appears that Canadians were displeased when their money was discounted and they are not more pleased when that practice is abandoned. What would satisfy them? The real gist of the complaint seems to lie in that it is feared that Canadians will buy American goods. But they are in no way compelled to do so. Unless the price is satisfactory, it is presumed, they would not care to buy. No bargain can be made unless both buyer and seller agree.

A STAND FOR THE FLAG

American public opinion will assuredly be behind the shipping board in the rate war in which, through no fault or desire of its own, it is now engaged in the South American passenger trade. There are four splendid ships carrying the American flag on this route, and everything was going on serenely until suddenly, like a bolt from the blue, without warning or consultation, the competing British line, announced a heavy cut in passenger rates. Taken aback at first by this act, the shipping board was nevertheless not long in arriving at a decision in the emergency thus precipitated, and it has now directed a rate lower by from $10 to $50 than its rival's lowest cut.

The shipping board in a statement makes it clear that cutthroat competition is not of its seeking, but it takes the view that the present may be a test fight on all the oceans as to whether the United States is to continue the maintenance and expansion of its merchant marine, and it declares its determination to meet the issue at every point for any length of time. "Our hat is in the ring," says Chairman Lasker, "and we are going to stick as long as necessary to insure the position of American-flag ships between North and South America."

SERVICE MEN PREFERRED

The 5 per cent preference to former service men in civil service examinations for the eligible list for appointment as postmasters appears to have operated, as it was designed, to the advantage of the world war veterans. President Harding's executive order on May 10, 1921, created the opportunity and Postmaster General Work now announces that 600 former service men have been commissioned as postmasters since the order carrying the preference clause was issued. The point is also made that these young men were not only without previous post office experience, but that a large number of them were without business experience whatever.

President Harding has made perfectly plain in his public utterances and in less guarded moments when he knew he was not talking for publication the views he holds as to the validity of the obligation of the country to those who responded to the call to arms in 1917 and thereafter until the close of the war. The civil service preference definitely recognized that obligation. The manner in which, in the larger aspect, the obligation is to be met—it can never be wholly cancelled—is the problem Congress is now seeking to solve.

The danger, of course, lies in the enactment of a compensation law that will carry financial commitments which the country is not ready at the moment to assume. Even the most ardent advocates of bonus legislation will probably subscribe to the general principle that in all matters of far-reaching effect and transcendent importance Congress can afford to make haste slowly.

GROUPING OF WHITE WHEAT WOULD BENEFIT FARMER

Unjust Penalties Imposed for Mixtures Will Be Abolished by Department of Agriculture

SPOKANE, Wash., (AP)—Placing of all varieties of wheat into one class to be known as "white wheat" by the United States department of agriculture, will save several thousand dollars for white wheat growers in Pacific states, according to Walter J. Robinson, secretary of the Washington-Idaho Wheat Growers' association.

The consolidation will become effective June 17, in time for the 1922 crop. Alterations have also been made in the standards of Red Walla wheat, which will hereafter be called "western red."

"Consolidation of white wheat into one class is an important action for the western farmer," said Mr. Robinson. "It means thousands of dollars more to the producer of white wheat who heretofore has been penalized for mixtures greatly beyond the actual loss in the value of the grain. This change leads to the elimination of unjust and exorbitant penalties levied against the mixtures of common white and white club varieties which obtained under the old plan of dividing white wheats into two classes."

DES MOINES TO ENTERTAIN DWINDLING GRAND ARMY

DES MOINES, Ia., (AP)—Iowa is beginning preparations for entertaining what may be one of the few remaining gatherings of the Grand Army of the Republic, the national encampment of the Civil war veterans to be held here, September 24 to 28.

State officials here announced that the resources of all Iowa would be mustered at Des Moines to care for the thousands of Grand Army men expected to come from all parts of America for the reunion.

Because of the central location of the encampment this year nearly every G. A. R. post in America is expected to have representation at Des Moines next fall.

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

Neither Alive Nor Dead.

Researches made abroad have shown that many micro-organisms can be exposed to the temperature of liquid air for a period of six months without any appreciable loss of vitality, although, at such a temperature, the ordinary chemical processes of the living cell must cease. The organisms in the state just mentioned cannot be said to be either alive or dead, in the ordinary acceptation of those terms. It is hitherto undetermined condition of living matter—a third state.

"That's all right. I've lost my pal. I wantin see—"

The superintendent of complaints cut into his parrot-like repetition. "Yes, you mentioned that. But the postmaster doesn't know where he is does he?"

"He might tell me where his mail goes, as the old sayin' is."

"When did you lose your friend?"

"I ain't heard from him since he come to New York. So bein' as I got a chance to go from Tucson with a jackpot trainload of cows to Denver, I kinda made up my mind to come on here the rest of the way and look him up. I'm afraid some one's done him dirt."

"Do you know where he's staying?"

"No, suh, I don't."

The superintendent of complaints tapped with his fingers on the desk. Then he smiled. The postmaster was fond of a joke. Why not let this odd little fresh from the West have an interview with him?

Twenty minutes later Johnnie was telling his story to the postmaster of the city of New York. He had written three times to Clay Lindsay and had received no answer. So he had come to look for him.

"Is your friend like you?" asked the postmaster, interested in spite of himself.

"No suh." Johnnie, alias the Runt, began to beam. "He's a sure-enough go-getter, Clay is, every jump of the road. I'd follow his dust any day of the week. He's the livest proposition that ever come out of Graham county. You can ce'tainly gamble on that."

The postmaster touched a button. A clerk appeared, received orders, and disappeared.

The clerk presently returned with three letters addressed to Clay Lindsay, General Delivery, New York. The postmaster handed them to the little cow puncher.

"Evidently he never called for them," he said.

Johnnie's chin fell. He looked a picture of helpless woe. "They're the letters I set down an' wrote him my own se'f. Something has sure happened to that boy, looks like," he bemoaned.

"We'll try police headquarters. Maybe we can get a line on your friend," the postmaster said, reaching for the telephone. "But you must remember New York is a big place. It's not like your Arizona ranch. The city has nearly eight million inhabitants. You'll understand that when one man gets lost it isn't always possible to find him."

"Why not? We got some steers down in my country—about as many as you got men in this here town of yourn. Tha's what we ride the range for, so's not to lose 'em. We've traced a B-in-a-Box steer clear from Tucson to Denver, done it more'n onct or twice too. I notice you got a big bunch of manpunchers in uniform here. Ain't it their business to rustle up strays?"

"The police," said the postmaster, amused. "That is part of their business. We'll pass the buck to them, anyhow."

After some delay and repeated explanations of who he was, the postmaster got at the other end of the wire his friend the commissioner. Their conversation was brief. When the postmaster hung up he rang for a stenographer and dictated a letter of introduction. This he handed to Johnnie, with explicit instructions.

"Go to police headquarters, Center street, and take this note to Capt. Luke Byrne. He'll see that the matter is investigated for you. Do you know the way to police headquarters?"

"I reckon I can find it. Is it fur?" The man from Arizona looked down at the high-heeled boots in which his tortured feet had clumped over the pavements of the metropolis all morning.

"I'll send you in a taxi." The postmaster was thinking that this babe-in the woods of civilization never would be able to find his way alone.

As the driver swept the car in and out among the traffic of the narrow streets Johnnie clung to the top of the door fearfully. Every moment he expected a smash. His heart was in his throat. The hurricane deck of a bronco had no terrors for him, but this wild charge through the humming trenches shook his nerve.

"I come mighty nigh askin' you would you just as lief drive slower," he said with a grin to the chauffeur as he descended to the safety of the sidewalk. "I ain't awful hardy, an' I sure was plumb scared."

A sergeant took Johnnie in tow and delivered him at length to the office waiting-room of Captain Anderson, head of the bureau of missing persons. The Runt, surveying the numbers in the waiting-room and those passing in and out, was ready to revise his opinion about the possible difficulty of the job. He judged that half the population of New York must be missing.

After a time the captain's secretary notified Johnny that it was his turn. As soon as he was admitted the puncher began his little piece without waiting for any preliminaries.

"Say, captain, I want you to find my friend Clay Lindsay. He— "

"Just a moment," interrupted the captain. "Who are you? Don't think I got your name."

Johnnie remembered the note of introduction and his name at the same time. He gave both to the big man who spent his busy days and often part of the nights looking for the lost, strayed, and stolen among New York's millions.

The captain's eyes swept over the note. "Sit down, Mr. Green, and let's get at your trouble. This note says that you're looking for a man named Clay Lindsay who came to New York several months ago. Have you or has anybody else heard from him in that time?"

"We got a letter right after he got here. He ain't writ since."

"Perhaps he's dead. We'd better look up the morgue records."

"Morgue!" The Runt grew excited instantly. "That place where you keep folks that get' drowned or bumped off? Say, captain, I'm here to tell you Clay was the livest man in Arizona, which is the same as sayin' anywheres. Cowpunchers don't take naturally to morgues. No, sir, Clay ain't in no morgue. Like as not he's helped fill this' yere morgue if any crooks tried their rough stuff on him. Don't get me wrong, Cap. Clay is the squarest he-man ever God made. All I'm sayin' is—"

The captain interrupted. He asked sharp, incisive questions and got busy. Presently he reached for a 'phone, got in touch with a sergeant at the police desk in the upper corridor, and sent an attendant with Johnnie to the police department.

The Irish sympathies of the sergeant were aroused by the naive honesty of the little man. He sent for another sergeant, had card records brought, consulted a couple of patrolmen, and then turned to Johnnie.

"We've met your friend all right," he said with a grin. "He's wan helluva lad. Fits the description to a T. There can't be but one like him here." And he went on to tell the story of the adventure of the janitor and the hose.

The washed-out eyes of the puncher lit up. "That's him—That's sure him. Tell me where he's at?"

"We don't know. We can show you the place where he tied the janitor, but that's the best we can do." The captain hesitated. "If you find him, give him a straight tip from me. Tell him to buy a ticket for Arizona and take the train for home. This town is no healthy place for him. Your friend has made an enemy—a powerful one. He'll understand if you tell him."

"Who is this here enemy?"

"Never mind. He hit up too fast a pace."

"You can't tell me a thing against Clay—not a thing," protested Johnnie hotly. "He'll sure do to take along. Clay will. There can't any guy knock him to me, if he does wear a uniform."

"I'm not saying a thing against him," replied the officer impatiently. "I'm giving him a friendly tip to beat it, if you see him. Now I'm going to send you uptown with a plain-clothes man. He'll show you where your friend made his New York debut. That's all we can do for you."

An hour later the little cowpuncher was gazing wistfully at the hitching-post. His face was twisted pathetically to a question mark. It was as though he thought he could conjure from the post the secret of Clay's disappearance. Where had he gone from here? And where was he now?

In the course of the next two days the Runt came back to that post many times as the starting-point for weary, high-heeled tramps through streets within a circuit of a mile. He could not have explained why he did so. Perhaps it was because this was the only spot in the city that held for him any tangible relationship to Clay. Some one claimed to have seen him vanish into one of these houses. Perhaps he might come back again. It was a very tenuous hope, but it was the only one Johnnie had. He clumped over the pavements till his feet ached in protest.

His patience was rewarded. On the second day, while he was gazing blankly at the post a groom brought two horses to the curb in front of the house opposite. One of the horses had a real cowboy's saddle. Johnnie's eyes gleamed. This was like a breath of honest-to-God Arizona. The door opened, and out of it came a man and a slim young woman. Both of them were dressed for riding, she in the latest togs of the town, he in a well-cut sack suit and high tan boots.

Johnnie threw up his hat and gave a yell. "You blamed old horn-toad! Might 'a' knowed you was all right! Might 'a' knowed you wouldn't bite off more'n you could chew! Oh, you Arizona!"

Clay gave one surprised look—and met him in the middle of the street. The little cowpuncher did a war dance of joy while he clung to his friend's hand. Tears brimmed into his faded eyes.

"Hi yi yi! Doggone yore old hide, if it ain't you big as coffee, Clay. Thinks I to myse'f, who is that pilgrim? And, by gum, it's old h—l-a-mile jes' a-hittin' his heels. Where you been at, you old skeezicks?"

"How are you, Johnnie? And what are you doin' here?"

"You didn't answer my letters, so I come to see if you was all right."

"You old scalawag. You came to paint the town red."

Johnnie, highly delighted at this charge, protested. "Honest I didn't, Clay. I wasn't feelin' so tur'ble peart. Seemed like the boys picked on me after you left. So I jes' up and come."

If Clay was not delighted to have his little Fidus Achates on his hands he gave no sign of it. He led him across the road and introduced him to Miss Whitford.

Clay blessed her for her kindness to this squat, snub-nosed adherent of his whose lonely heart had driven him two thousand miles to find his friend. Her hand went out instantly. A smile softened her eyes and dimpled her cheeks.

"I'm very glad to meet any friend of Mr. Lindsay. Father and I will want to hear all about Arizona after you two have had your visit out. We'll postpone the ride till this afternoon. That will be better, I think."

Clay agreed. With a cool little nod that included them both, she turned and ran lightly up the steps into the house.

"Some sure-enough queen," murmured Johnnie in naive admiration, staring after her with open mouth.

Clay smiled. He had an opinion of his own on that point.

REDUCTION OF ACCIDENTS IS PURPOSE OF CAMPAIGN

TOPEKA, Kan., (AP)—A safety first campaign of national scope will be conducted for four months beginning June 1, and continuing until October 1, by all class one railroads in the United States through the American Railway association, it has been announced here by Isaiah Hale safety superintendent of the Santa Fe and chairman of the information committee of the campaign.

The safety first drive will be known as the "Careful Crossing campaign" and will have for its chief purpose the reduction of accidents at railroad crossings. Posters bearing the slogan, "Cross Crossings Cautiously" will play an important part in the campaign according to Mr. Hale. It is proposed to furnish each railroad with ten posters for every mile of track in the system.

Invincible Allurements.

"Heartbreakers" was the name given to artificial ringlets, a century or more ago, worn by ladies to enhance their beauty. It was claimed at the time that the most inveterate woman hater was not proof against the alluring attraction of the heartbreakers.

The "Elephant and Castle."

The Elephant and Castle was a famous landmark in South London, England; deriving its sign from the arms of the Cutlers' company. A tavern in St. Pancras parish, London, took its sign from the skeleton of an elephant, beside which was a flint-headed spear, excavated in the neighborhood. The connection between these two relics and the battle fought by the followers of Queen Boadicea against the Roman invaders was unmistakable.

PAVING REPAIR IS ANTICIPATED BY COUNCILMEN

City Administration to Gather Information on Conditions to Deal Advisedly with Contractors Expected Soon

Pavement repair, garbage removal and a new system of house numbering, together with further consideration of the 1922 budget, occupied the attention of the city council at its meeting Monday evening at which it rounded out its first year's administration.

Members of the council were in accord in the opinion that city officials should obtain all possible information as to the condition of pavement before the contractors entered upon the work of repairing it. The subject was brought up by J. J. Pilgerim, street commissioner, who said that in his opinion the contractors would be here in a few days to begin the repair work. He suggested that the council might deem it advisable to make tests to determine what may be required in this regard. Such tests he suggested, might determine the penetration, composition and graduation of material entering into the pavement construction.

Would Check Report.

Mayor F. W. Mellotherts proposed that the councilmen and street commissioner should make a thorough check of defects in pavement pointed out in the Spencer-Lambenheim report to the former administration, and general agreement with this suggestion was expressed by other members of the council.

It would not be the purpose of the council to attempt to dictate to the contractors what should not be done in repairing of pavement, expressions of councilmen indicated, although Councilman C. H. Krengel's remark that necessity for employment of a paving engineer was becoming increasingly evident met with general approval.

Would Quit Hauling Garbage.

After considerable preliminary discussion, the question of garbage removal was brought to a focus by Councilman Krengel's motion that "the city discontinue the hauling of garbage for the time being," and that Twin Falls residents be instructed to haul their own garbage. There was no second and the motion was lost. Decision on the question was postponed by agreement until next Monday.

In discussion of Councilman Krengel's motion, Councilman W. E. Sanger suggested that cost of hauling garbage to individuals probably would be greater than accomplishment of the same work at community expense. Taylor Cummins, city attorney, expressed the opinion that discontinuation of municipal hauling of garbage, which has been in effect here for three years, would greatly increase the work of the sanitary inspector.

Year's Contract Expires.

Discussion of the question followed statement of the street commissioner that last year's contract for hauling garbage expired that night. He suggested that municipal garbage hauling be suspended for 60 days, and subsequently advised that if the council decided to provide in the future for municipal garbage hauling, he was certain that the work could be done on a new basis with greater economy of expense.

A. W. Murray, sanitary inspector, was instructed to survey existing conditions as to removal of garbage and make recommendations as to release of the contractors from their bond.

New House Numbering Plan.

The new system of house numbering, which has been under consideration by the council for some weeks, was embodied in an ordinance presented by Councilman Krengel and placed on its first reading. Under the system outline blocks on avenues would be numbered by 100s from Shoshone street, and blocks on streets would be numbered 100s from Main avenue, one number being allotted to each 12 1-2 feet frontage. Even numbers would be given to blocks on the right and odd numbers to blocks on the left from the point of beginning. Numbering on avenues east from Blue Lakes boulevard would begin with 1000.

Provides Sinking Fund.

Under provisions of a resolution presented by Councilman Krengel seconded by Councilman Bowles and adopted by unanimous vote, $4000 will be credited to the waterworks purchase sinking fund "out of any funds derived from operation of the waterworks." The council was assured that sufficient funds for this purpose were available.

The city clerk also was authorized to transfer from unexpended balances remaining in the general expense fund to departments provided for from this fund where deficiency existed. The council considered the proposal of Dr. J. W. Visher of the Twin Falls clinic, offering to furnish the city with chemical and bacteriological analyses of milk and water.

Stray Dogs Numerous.

Chief of Police Ben J. Brown was authorized by the council to make arrangements for impounding of dogs without license tags after May 1. In this connection, the police chief told the council that the town is overrun with stray dogs and that from 10 to 15 complaints daily on this account are received at police headquarters.

Issuance of warrants was authorized in payment of claims against the street sprinkling fund in the sum of $1220.0", against the waterworks fund in the sum of $1,086.82 and against the general obligations fund in the sum of $4,035.01.

TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATORS LEAD LIST OF ARRESTS

Police Chief's Report Shows 20 Taken Up for Infraction of Rules

Out of a total of 46 arrests made during April by Twin Falls police, according to report made by Chief of Police Ben J. Brown to the city council, 20 involved violation of traffic ordinances and 13 violation of state laws, two of the offenders being charged with felonies. Eleven arrests for drunkenness were reported.

The police court imposed as fines during the month a total of $401.25. Six meals were served in the city jail.

Only one person was arrested for violation of city ordinance other than traffic regulations, but 40 others were warned of minor violations. A total of 236 minor offenders against the traffic ordinance were warned by the police. Twenty-seven persons were warned of minor violations of sanitary ordinances, and 24 complaints of various kinds were investigated.

Violation of the curfew ordinance was charged against eight boys and four girls.

Thirteen visits of inspection were made to dance halls and three to a skating rink.

High temperature yesterday was 64 degrees above zero and low was only one degree below the freezing point at 31 above.

COURT CLEARS WAY TO HOLDING CITY ELECTION

Judge Babcock Sustains Objection to Issuance of Writ of Prohibition Against Balloting

Holding that determination by the mayor and council as to the sufficiency of the petition for the commission form election of March 28 was final, Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here this afternoon rendered his decision sustaining the general demurrer against issuance of a writ of prohibition against the election June 6 of councilmen for Twin Falls under the commission form.

Judge J. R. Bothwell of Bothwell and Chapman, attorneys for John Kosharek, who applied for the writ of prohibition in this case, said, after the decision had been announced, that the supreme court would be asked to review the case, and that direct application to the higher tribunal probably would be made.

Clears Way for Vote

Effect of Judge Babcock's decision is to clear the way for holding of the election of June 6, unless the supreme court interferes.

In announcing his decision Judge Babcock said: "The general demurrer in this case, in the opinion of the court, overshadows all other questions involved. As I regard it, the question presented is whether this court will review the action of the mayor and council in the determination as to the sufficiency of the petition in question. The court will presume that their determination was thorough. There seems to be no provision in the statute for appeal from the determination of the mayor and council and I take it that their determination is final, unless there were some showing of fraud committed by the mayor and council in their determination. This conclusion practically disposes of the questions raised in the case."

Judge Babcock said further that the questions raised were perplexing and that there was considerable conflict of authorities.

Irregularities Charged.

In this case, which was instituted by John Kosharek against P. W. McRoberts as mayor, charges were made that the petition for the commission form election of March 28 contained the signatures of more than 100 persons whose names were signed by persons other than those whose names appeared; that it contains the names of 110 persons who were not registered voters at the time of signing and that it contains the names of 134 persons who neither registered nor voted at the election in question.

It was charged also that the mayor was without jurisdiction to call the commission form election in view of the fact that a petition for submission of the city manager plan had been filed previously.

Argument for and against the motion for dismissal of the application for the writ of prohibition was completed by attorneys late yesterday afternoon, having continued throughout the entire day.

Stress was laid by M. J. Sweeley, as attorney for the city, upon the contention that the court would not be justified in interfering with the election proceedings at this time, adoption of the commission form of government having been voted by a majority of electors at the election of March 28.

Authorities Divided

Citations to a number of cases in which courts had intervened in cases of elections where irregularities in the matter of petitions calling for such elections were shown, were presented by James R. Bothwell of Bothwell and Chapman, attorneys for Mr. Kosharek, in this action.

The opinion seemed general among attorneys who attended the proceedings as spectators that authorities were pretty evenly divided on the question presented.
