PLAN FOR CAMPAIGN MONOPOLIZES TIME OF HERBERT HOOVER

Commerce Secretary and Curtis to Meet With National Committee and Present Complete Slate of Officers of Party.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 20—The Republican presidential campaign organization monopolized Secretary Hoover's time today. It was indicated that a complete slate of the Republican national committee officials and a partial campaign program had been prepared for the committee meeting here tomorrow.

The campaign plans constituted the chief topic of discussion of Mr. Hoover with a score of callers, many of whom were members of the national committee. The secretary, and Senator Curtis, Kansas, vice presidential nominee, will meet the committee at noon tomorrow and are expected to address the group. Although the session will be behind closed doors, it is expected that definite decisions as to the committee and campaign organizations will be forthcoming.

The expectation that Secretary Work, of the interior department, would be named Republican national chairman was followed today by the suggestion that the national committee organization would be rather closely made up of pre-convention Hoover supporters.

Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, was authority for the statement that Representative Franklin Fort, New Jersey, and intimate friend of Mr. Hoover and his associate in war time food control and relief enterprise, would be named secretary of the national committee, and that Daniel E. Pomeroy, Englewood, New Jersey, would be made vice chairman.

For treasurer of the committee there was suggested Claudius Huston, a former assistant secretary of commerce, identified with the financing of the Hoover pre-convention campaign.

Senator Curtis remained in the senate office building today and conferred with Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, who headed the party platform drafting effort. Neither Curtis nor Smoot would disclose the subject of their discussion.

POLICE OF HOUSTON HUNTING LYNCHERS

Texas Officials, Stirred by First Crime of Kind in 50 Years, Begin Intensive Hunt.

HOUSTON, Texas, June 20 (AP)—Stirred by the first lynching here in 50 years, municipal, county and state officials joined today in an intensive search for eight unmasked white men who early this morning took Robert Powell, 24-year-old negro slayer, from a hospital cot and hanged him from a bridge outside Houston.

The fact that the lynching took place while the national political spotlight is turned on the city caused officials particular concern and quick steps were taken in an effort to fix responsibility.

An appropriation of $10,000 was voted by the city officials to be used in investigation by a committee of six, two members of which are negroes.

District Judge Langston King charged the grand jury to drop all other matters while it inquires into the lynching.

Governor Dan Moody, at Austin, offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of each participant in the lynching and sent a detail of Texas Rangers here to join others assigned to duty for the Democratic national convention.

Powell was charged with the killing of A. W. Davis, city detective, in a gun fight here Sunday morning. The negro was shot in the stomach and was in a serious condition when the lynchers entered the hospital early this morning with drawn revolvers, placed a rope around his neck and carried him to an automobile in which he was whisked away.

Policemen found the body swinging from the bridge several hours later.

Court Orders Thompson and Associates to Make Restitution of Sum of $1,593,367

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—More than $1,500,000 in "experts' fees," much of which was found to have been diverted into the campaign coffers of William Hale Thompson, was ordered repaired to the city treasury today by a decision of Judge Hugo Friend, in circuit court.

Holding Mayor Thompson and six political associates and real estate men accountable for the illegal payments, made during the Thompson regime in 1920 and 1921, Judge Friend rebuked the defendants for entering the conspiracy which he found was formed for the dual purpose of "financing the political activities of the Thompson organization and for the private benefit of the members of the conspiracy."

ODGEN INVENTOR'S GUN GETS APPROVAL

War Department Passes on New "Machine" Cannon; Extensive Tests Are Under Way.

BOISE, June 20 (AP)—A "machine" cannon which will fire 100 rounds a minute a distance of three miles into the air has won approval of the war department and is being given extensive tests in anti-aircraft work, John M. Browning, Ogden banker and son of the inventor of the gun, announced here today on his arrival by airplane from Ogden.

Mr. Browning, in company with E. O. Bennett, managing vice president of the First Security corporation, Ogden, flew from Ogden in two and one-half hours, arriving here shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. They flew from here to Nampa this afternoon to visit one of the Browning banks in that city and immediately took off again for Idaho Falls to visit another of the corporation's banks.

From Idaho Falls, Mr. Browning was to leave for Madison, Montana, for an extensive fishing trip.

Double Purpose

The machine cannon, according to Mr. Browning, was devised both for anti-aircraft and for anti-tank use and will be adopted as part of the armory of tanks. It fires a 37 millimeter shell, half the diameter of the

DAMAGE TOTALS MILLIONS; THREE MORE FATALITIES

Death Toll Reaches 12; Over Score of Names on Lists of Missing; Red Cross Reports 2200 Persons Are Homeless.

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, June 20—Three more deaths and millions of dollars of property damage were added today to the toll taken by storms in the Southwest since last Saturday.

Tornadoes again visited communities in Oklahoma, and high winds, floods and hail scattered destruction in sections of Kansas and Missouri.

The three deaths reported today brought the total dead to 12 and more than a score of names were added to the long list of injured.

The Red Cross reported 2200 persons homeless, many of them destitute, in the four counties around Altus, Oklahoma, where a tornado struck Saturday night. Damage in this section was placed at $1,500,000 and the Red Cross officials announced that $30,000 would be needed for emergency relief work.

Cots Supplied

Cots and tents were supplied to care for those without shelter. A survey showed 445 homes destroyed or damaged.

A terrific hail and wind storm, sweeping a path of 100 miles long and 15 miles wide through eight counties in southwestern Kansas last night did heavy damage to crops and buildings, estimates today were that the loss would total $3,000,000.

A tornado at South Coffeyville, Oklahoma, early today cost the life of the four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Ewing and injured 16

ICE-CLAD REACHES SWALLOW SEER OF NORTHLAND

General Nobile and Five Companions Receive 650 Pounds of Supplies; 10 Other Lost Men of Italia May Be Dead.

(Copyrigh, 1928, by The Associated Press)

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 20—Barren arctic vastness tonight had divulged the retreat of six men who had dared it, but its white ice-clad reaches had swallowed six more—one of them a seer in its lore—and had hidden them from view.

General Umberto Nobile, chief of the dirigible Italia, and five of his crew, were found on their ice-cake home today and given food and supplies, but the veteran Roald Amundsen and Rene Guilbaud, who left Tromsoe, Norway, Monday, for Spitzbergen and have been lost for two days with little or nothing to indicate where they might be.

Ten others, too, are lost—the three men who started on foot toward land after the Italia crashed, and the seven who remained on the scene of the crash.

Though trips through the air in search of Nobile have been under way for several days by the Norwegians, Captain Riiser-Larsen and Lieutenant Luetzow Holm, it remained for a fellow Italian, Major Maddalena, in the seaplane Savoia-55, finally to find General Nobile. Three times the stranded men had seen the planes of their would-be rescuers flying in the sky above them, and three times they had seen them pass by. The fourth time, as a result of carefully pre-arranged wireless signaling, Maddalena, who yesterday had been unable himself to see the marooned men, though

BLAST IN WEST VIRGINIA TAKES SIX MEN'S LIVES

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 20 (AP)—An explosion today claimed the lives of six miners in the National Fuel company coal mine, southeast of here, and injured six others so seriously that some of them may die.

The bodies of five of the dead were found in the workings after the blast. The other victim died in a hospital late today.

Twenty-two miners were in the workings when the blast occurred shortly before the night shift quit work. Ten of them walked from the mine unassisted, but all were painfully bruised.

SIX ARMED MEN GET $125,000 IN TORONTO

Sextet Quickly Executes Mail Robbery at Union Station in Canada; Escape in Automobile

TORONTO, Ontario, June 20 (AP)—Unarmed railway mail clerks were held up and robbed of $125,000 registered mail today at the union depot by six armed men who escaped. The robbers escaped with a 100-yard start and eluded a pursuing police automobile.

The carefully planned holdup was quickly executed. The robbers drove a big sedan up to a new truck entrance, opened at the depot during reconstruction, and backed up to the mail coach. Three clerks were inside checking mail bags, some of which contained heavy consignments for western Ontario banks.

Four of the robbers jumped out of the sedan and covered the clerks with revolvers and sawed-off shotguns. They carefully selected the bags they wanted, threw them to their two confederates, ran back to the automobile

POCATELLO MAN FALLS DOWN SHAFT TO DEATH

POCATELLO, June 20 (AP)—Dave Jackson, 38, was killed instantly when he fell down an elevator shaft from the third floor in the building of the Pocatello Cold Storage company here this morning.

Jackson and another employe of the company had unloaded a shipment of produce from the elevator and had closed the elevator doors. After storing the produce, he grasped the handles of the truck and walked backwards into the open shaft, failing to notice after he reopened the doors that the elevator had been lifted to the floor above by another employe.

GEORGE REMUS WINS FIGHT FOR RELEASE

Supreme Court Hands Down 4-3 Decision; Orders Confessed Slayer's Liberation at Once.

COLUMBUS, June 20 (AP)—Victorious in the state supreme court in his fight for release from the Ohio hospital for the criminal insane, George Remus, one time "bootleggers' king," tonight was returning to Cincinnati, where last December he was acquitted on the ground of insanity of slaying his wife, Imogene.

Declaring the decisive question in the case to be "one of fact rather than law," and that the real issue was whether under the evidence Remus was "sane or insane," the supreme court in a 4-to-3 decision this morning, upheld the third district court of appeals, ordering Remus' release.

Attorney General Edward C. Turner immediately announced he would not appeal the case to the United States supreme court.

Remus was jubilant over the verdict.

"It's wonderful, it's wonderful," he said, "I am going back to Cincinnati and make my home there." His release was delayed, however, pending receipt of official word from Columbus and it was not until afternoon that he stepped from the hospital doors, a free man.

MISS EARHART AND COMPANIONS DIRECT THOUGHTS TO HOME

Trio Will Fly to Continent for Week-End to Visit Amsterdam and Paris; Will Take Steamer for New York in Few Days.

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 20—The airplane Friendship having carried through to success the mission implied by its name, Miss Earhart, Pilot Stultz and Mechanician Gordon today turned their thoughts to new efforts. The trio plan to fly to the continent for the week-end, visiting Amsterdam and Paris. They will come back to England probably on Tuesday, and take passage by steamer for America on Wednesday or Thursday.

The Dutch air line has put a plane at the Americans' service, and the three fliers wish to accept the offer if it is possible to arrange their crowded schedule. The big orange-colored plane, Friendship, remains at Southampton, where it will be crated and shipped back to the United States.

Miss Earhart Popular

Miss Earhart cannot leave her hotel without being nearly rushed off her feet by admiring crowds, mostly women and girls, although there are usually numerous men in the throng.

The crowd blocked the sidewalk this morning when the American girl in a borrowed dress, instead of flying kit, emerged to make calls and go shopping. A postman brought a big bundle of mail for the girl nearly every hour today.

Most of the letters were of a congratulatory nature and contained invitations of various kinds, but there was a sprinkling of queer requests, some from what are designated cranks and persons of curious temperament.

Proposal of Marriage

One was a proposal of marriage. The number of "crank" letters to the girl has begun to alarm her friends, and tomorrow a special agent from Scotland Yard, will, unknown to her, watch the persons who come to see her.

UTILITIES INDUSTRY OBJECT OF CRITICS

Editor of Magazine Bitterly Criticizes Practices; Documents Introduced in Record.

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Denouncement of the public utility industry by two men employed to disseminate publicity for utility companies was revealed today in the federal trade commission's investigation.

Testimony of J. B. Sheridan, St. Louis, director of the Missouri committee on public utility information, together with documents introduced into the record, showed that Sheridan and John W. Colton, New York, editor of a magazine published by the American Electric Railway association, bitterly criticized the companies for their practices.

Practices Disgusting

Colton wrote to Sheridan in 1927 that the "thing about the utility industry that disgusts me is the lying, trimming, faking and downright evasion of trust or violation of trust that mark the progress toward enormous wealth of some of the so-called big men in the industry.

In the letter, which was placed into the record, Colton added, that when he saw "these fellows waving the flag, I am filled with not only disgust but rage, for they are anything but patriots. I would enjoy fighting some of these faking patriots through the editorial pages of an influential newspaper."

Extends Congratulations

Sheridan testified that he wrote Colton in 1927 congratulating him on his protest against a proposed plan of the utility companies and organizations to "brand all advocates of government ownership as reds and bolshevists."

COOLIDGE SPENDS HOURS FISHING; CATCHES SIX

SUPERIOR, Wis., Jnue 20 (AP)—Able for the first time since his arrival here to spend several consecutive hours angling, President Coolidge started out early today on his first real fishing outing this summer.

The northwest gale which since last Friday had brought nothing but rain and an ever dropping thermometer, loosened its grip somewhat on Douglas county today. It was sufficient, at any rate, to allow the chief executive to gather what his vacation will be like when the weather shall have mended for good.

Luck was good and his catch consisted of six trout, the largest weighing one and three-quarter pounds.

Leaving Tromsoe their radio signals were heard, but shortly before the fliers conceivably might have spanned the 600 miles to the Svalbard archipelago, the signals were replaced by silence—silence which has continued unbroken since.

BASEBALL OBSERVATIONS

By A. RAILBIRD

Well here we are again, still alive. We slipped around among the fellows today and listened to the comments of the Rail Birds' views, some of which was not very flattering, so after listening to several groups express their views, we sheepishly slunk away.

We wonder if the white collared folks in the grand stands, and the peculiar looking individuals that infest the bleachers ever drove a truck for a living, and had a good kind boss, but he never said, "Well, Bill, how would you like to quit at 5:00 and go to a ball game?"2 And then, at 6:00 p. m. and the game is half over, and your dinner is waiting, and you drive by the ball park and stand on your old truck a minute in the hope that you might see one guy smack the ball and tear around the bases, and then if by chance Coley or Walters or Fritz did smack the ball over the fence, have Foul-Balls razz you because you didn't buy a ticket and come through the gate. Did you ever? Well, if not, you can't get the Rail Bird's view of a ball game.

Speaking of ball games, it is sometimes interesting to listen to the bleachers root. There is one rooter with a high-pitched nasal voice that can be heard above all the rest, who calls out the same thing to the pitcher every day, "Well, get him boy. You can do it. Get him. You can do it. Well, that's number one, let's get number two. You can do it boy. You can do it, boy." We wonder what part of Tennessee he is from.

We call to mind another game when some gentleman who rolls his r's stood up in the grand stand and called out to the Ump, "You're rotten," and called on the base runners to stretch their legs a little more. If you ask us, the gentleman was right, the Ump behind the plate was particularly bad that day on bats and strikes. And the gentleman should be joined by the balance of the white collar folks in the grand stand whenever the Ump calls a bad one.

We Rail Birds are forming an association, and expect to arrange with the Short Line to spot an extra number of box cars for the next series, which as we understand it will include two games on the Fourth of July.

Some of us will be in the benefit game next Sunday. Come out and watch us perform.

We hope the old guy in charge of the drive will be successful, because without base ball we Rail Birds would have to go fishing for diversion, and that takes gasoline and tires.

New Salon Bodies

"The three new Nash Series, which are being introduced everywhere today, achieve the ambition of my manufacturing career.

"They represent an entirely new type of motor car, priced moderately, but offering you all the beauty and quality and performance heretofore exclusive to very expensive automobiles.

"To create such a car we had to develop an entirely new type of design and invest over $[illegible],500,000 in dies and machinery alone.

"Both the Salon bodies and the high compression motors which power these new models exemplify the most radically modern advancement in body craftsmanship and engineering.

"Naturally space precludes the full listing of all features but I do want to draw your attention to a number of the outstanding attractions such as:—

"—Twin ignition, high compression, Bohnalite aluminum alloy pistons with Invar-struts, 7-bearing crankshaft with hollowed crankpins, Bijur centralized chassis lubrication, Houdaille and Lovejoy shock absorbers, Biflex-Nash bumpers and bumperettes, chrome plating over nickel for all exterior metal ware, double-drop frame, one-piece Salon fenders and longer wheelbase lengths.

"This new-type engineering of the '400' motors makes them by far the best performing cars I have ever built.

"I don't think anyone will ever want to use all the speed and power they deliver.

"Equipment is absolutely complete at the factory list price and you need buy no extras except a spare tire.

GENERAL COXEY AGAIN

"General Coxey," who marched an army of ragamuffins to Washington thirty-four years ago demanding employment relief from the government, appears from his obscurity in Massillon, Ohio, proposing to run for the Senate. His platform consists of a single plank. He would "take the government out of the hands of the invisible rulers and restore it to the people."

That is less picturesque than Coxey's original gesture. He will attract less attention than he did when he was arrested, away back there in 1894, for walking on the White House grass.

To tell the truth, too, there is less occasion for Coxey coups now. The government has become considerably more visible than it used to be. Important things are still done, men are nominated and legislation is shaped, by a few men behind closed doors. But usually the entire public knows pretty well, or can find out if it wants to, who the shapers are, and what personal stake they have in the game, and can foil them if it chooses. Political progress in this century has placed in the hands of the voters instruments of freedom that were lacking when Coxey was in his prime. And there are means of information enormously greater than those of thirty years past.

This is not an age dominated by political bosses. It is an age of sophisticated and rather cynical voters, who know just about what is going on, and know they could stop it, and don't deserve any sympathy if they fail to take the trouble.

S-4 AND SUBMARINE SAFETY

The Navy Department has decided upon a very suitable use for the ill-fated submarine, S-4, which sank off Provincetown, Massachusetts, last December, taking the lives of forty men. At first it was reported that the S-4 would be repaired and put back into regular service. It was not an attractive idea, even to the general public. One can imagine it would not be attractive to navy men assigned to duty on the unfortunate boat.

The present plan is to tow the S-4 to the Portsmouth, New Hampshire, navy yard and use it there as a test hulk for trying out new safety devices.

If submarines are to continue in use there must be greater provision for their safety both in the prevention of accidents and in making prompt rescue possible.

The S-4, used for this purpose, may compensate in some slight measure for the lives of the gallant men who were lost last winter by saving other men from a similar fate.

CONVENTIONS

The New York Times, philosophizing about the Republican convention admits that there is a great deal in the procedure of these quadrennial American functions which must amaze and puzzle outsiders.

The Toronto Globe courteously replies that, however that may be, it is entirely the domestic business of the American people. Also that the final test of any machine or procedure is whether it works, and "it is indisputable that the American method has produced outstanding leaders and some presidents who will be classed among the great men of all time; while it has on the other hand elevated only a few obviously unfitted for their tasks."

Admitting the defects and absurdities of many of our political institutions and practices, any fair-minded person must recognize that on the whole they have served their purpose well. Our democracy does muddle through; and if it blunders, it mostly blunders ahead.

The RED LAMP

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

"He's coming," he said. "Quiet!" The boy was raising his window screen, with all possible caution. Even when it was accomplished he stood so long, probably listening and watching, that I began to think he had changed his mind and gone back to bed, but as events showed, he had done nothing of the sort.

Up to this moment I had not suspected the use of the rope, although I believe Halliday had. The darkness was extreme. But now I heard a faint scraping against the wall of the house itself and realized that Gordon was coming down by means of the rope.

His coming was as stealthy as the preliminaries had been. He was probably half-way down, coming hand over hand, before I had interpreted the sound.

I was not even aware that he had reached the ground, when I saw him, a blacker shadow among other shadows, near at hand. But he did not come directly toward the garage; he walked along under the walls of the west wing to the gun-room window and stood there. Then, with extreme caution, he raised it, an inch or two, as if to reassure himself that it had been unlocked from within, and closed it again.

From there, with somewhat less caution, he moved to the corner of the house and seemed to be surveying the waterfront and the boathouse. We had our only real view of him then, as he stood silhouetted on the top of the rise. But suddenly something alarmed him. Neither Halliday nor I saw or heard anything, but evidently he did and realized the danger of his exposed position.

He dropped to the ground. So unexpected was his sudden disappearance, that I gasped; it was not until I heard him creeping along the ground that I understood his maneuver. He lost no time in his retreat, nor did he attempt to use the rope again. He raised the unlocked window, crept over the sill, and closed it again, all with surprising rapidity and silence, and sooner than we could have expected we heard him drawing up the rope from his room overhead. . . .

No interpretation of this is possible without taking into consideration the really horrible stealth of the boy's manner. He was engaged on some nefarious business of his own, whether we can connect that with the crimes or not.

As to the extremely dramatic manner in which he chose to escape from the house, when he had already unlocked the gun-room window, Halliday is divided between two theories, of which he himself favors the second.

"He may be merely dramatizing himself; you'll find a certain type of degenerate mind which is always acting for its own benefit. Or—and this is more likely—our old friend Bethel is suspicious and is watching him. The old man's door commands his. He locks his door from the inside, uses his rope, and is free to go where he pleases.

THE FORUM

WHAT PRICE RAZZING?

Editor Twin Falls News:

Dear Sir: The letter from M. H. Z. in The News this morning is a good one. His scoring of the razzers at the baseball games is well justified. There can be chiding and raillery without insult and insult there has been many a time by some of the loud-mouthed and inconsistent spectators. I say inconsistent because they are so, and unreasonably too. Not all, but only some of them are referred to, of course, when I mention that according to these spectatorial judges the only difference between a good umpire and a bad one is whether he favors the home team or not.

But that is not quite the argument, although umpires are also human and it is reasonable to think that they would appreciate some encouragement in place of so much bitter criticism. Do not umpires have off days occasionally as well as players—and spectators in their business affairs?

One visitor was heard to say at one game: "There sure is a hard-boiled bunch of rooters in this town." There is.

Another time when the Bearded Beauties were here one of them was the victim of outrageous treatment verbally, and for no cause whatever, other than that the players had suffered motor accidents on the road and were a little late in arriving. This player stood by the inside gate in view of the fans for some time. All sorts of discourteous statements were flung at him as to whether his teammates would arrive at all or not. He took this good-naturedly, assuring the fans that the Beauties would surely be there and give them a good ball game.

Even when the banterings became personal this Bearded Beauty player did not get angry. When one of these crusty fans growled: "Come on over here and let me get my fingers in that beard-of-yours," the man just smiled and answered: "You ought to be around some time and see my wife get her fingers in it."

It was of no avail, however. The taunting got worse. Finally one of these fellows threw an insult that would affect even a calloused man. The Bearded Beauty ball player said nothing. He just glanced at the crowd with a queer expression, then walked back out of sight and stood alone for a while near the outer gate where he could not be seen from the grandstand or the bleachers. He did not appear again until his teammates arrived and he wore the disguise of a baseball suit.

Those players had been on the road constantly. They traveled 1000 miles in three days before arriving here, playing every day and with little comforts between times. Then they get insults for a welcome to Twin Falls.

Our own baseball team, the Bruins, have been treated almost as bad sometimes. Would it be any wonder if they were discouraged? Ball players must get used to a certain amount of that sort of thing, of course. In the excitement of the fans it becomes a part of the game. But it should not be insults just because errors occur now and then, as they inevitably do. The Bruin ball players no doubt would be the last to apologize for having lost more games so far than they have won. Quite likely they would prefer no apologies be made for them, nor any alibis at all, though they have had hard luck. But why not give them encouraging cheers and watch the difference in the way they try to please the home town fans?

CAMPAIGN TO KEEP BRUINS IN LEAGUE SEES OPENING DAY

Drive for Funds in Hands of 15 Solicitors; Former Contributors Will Not Be Visited; Volunteers Form Staff.

Directors of the Twin Falls baseball club, under the leadership of Shad L. Hodgin, will launch a drive this morning to raise necessary funds to enable the Bruins to complete the season in the Utah-Idaho league. Five committees of three members each, will take the field this morning in behalf of the local club.

Only those persons who have not contributed to the fund will be solicited at this time, Mr. Hodgin said. If all persons in Twin Falls who are interested in baseball will contribute something to its support, there will be no need to solicit former contributors, the committee believes.

Workers Volunteer Services

Call for volunteer workers in the drive which begins today have met with good response, although two additional solicitors will be welcomed by the committee in charge.

Small sums have been sent in to the directors during the last two days from persons interested in keeping Twin Falls in the league.

Dr. D. L. Alexander received a message from Idaho Falls yesterday inquiring how the drive in Twin Falls is being conducted, which apparently indicates that Idaho Falls is contemplating a similar drive.

Mrs. E. E. Crabtree and Mrs. Ralph Alexander entertained Tuesday at one-thirty with a three-course luncheon at the home of Mrs. Crabtree, honoring Miss Leota Morgan who is home for two weeks following winter teaching in Kansas City Missouri. Miss Morgan is to be married in the early summer to Harry Clifford Newkirk of Kansas City. Covers were laid for ten at a table centered with roses, the same flowers being used in profusion to decorate the rooms.

Twin Falls chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained at the annual party for children of members at the city park from two to four on Wednesday afternoon. Games and contests were enjoyed and refreshments served at three-thirty. The children were especially delighted with a fish pond from which each child drew a favor.

A charivari and shower was given Tuesday evening at the Barga country home by friends, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bert Halloran who were married Monday morning at St. Edward's Catholic church. Mrs. Halloran was formerly Miss Frances Barga. Bits of advice to the bride and groom were written and later read aloud by the newlyweds. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served at a late hour by the sisters of the bride. Each guest was presented with a piece of the wedding cake at the conclusion of the party.

Announcemenths have been issued of the marriage of Miss Beatrice J. Brown of Buhl to Mr. Laried W. Jenkins of Twin Falls. The ceremony was performed at Moscow, Idaho, by the Rev. Mr. Jones of the Methodist church, on June 12th, at eight o'clock in the evening. The bride is a graduate of the Buhl high school and a student at the University of Idaho. Mr. Jenkins graduated from the Twin Falls high school and was a prominent athlete in that institution and also in college. He is a junior at the University of Idaho and a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. The bride and groom, immediately after the wedding, left for San Francisco, from whence they sailed for Honolulu on an extended honeymoon.

New Mix Picture Abounds in Thrills

Never before has Tom done such stunt riding or taken so many chances as in this story of a grim struggle between two rival companies to complete the first telephone line between Cheyenne and Rawhide.

Caryl Lincoln plays the leading feminine role and lends much charm to her portrayal of a prairie girl who learns to love Tom for his courage and manliness.

Aside from the beautiful scenic effects. The picture carries a punch in every scene and the climax is breath-taking in its intensity. A charming love story runs through the picture and gives both Mix and Caryl Lincoln an opportunity for romantic love making.

Dane and Arthur Set New Mark in Comedy

Twins, triplets and a blueberry pie—a midget masquerading as a baby and two college boys in love—with trimmings—these are among the queer and heterogeneous elements that blend into one of the laughs of the season—"Baby Mine," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's second Karl Dane-George K. Arthur co-starring play, now being shown at the Idaho theatre last times today.

"Rookies" was a classic in comedy—but "Baby Mine" goes a few steps further in the gentle art of rib-tickling. For one thing, the team of Dane and Arthur—the "Big Bertha of Laughland" is augmented by a hilarious howitzer, so to speak in the person of Charlotte Greenwood—she of the scissors-like nether appendages and the semaphore arms. It is the first appearance in pictures of the famous stage star of "So Long Letty," "Canary Cottage" and others. The lanky comedienne is a veritable riot of laughs.

The "clinic" is one of the high lights in the comedy scenes, and the chase for the stolen babies and the complications that come in wholesale lots add to the hilarity.

HANSEN, June 20—Hansen's Community baseball team defeated the Idaho Department store team of Twin Falls by a score of 7 to 6 on Lincoln field in Twin Falls last night. This adds another victory to the church team's record.

A pleasant surprise party was given last evening at the home of E. O. Montgomery on the north side. The Sunday school class of Mr. Montgomery motored to his ranch about sundown and, armed with good things to eat, they marched in informing him they had come to help him celebrate his birthday. A book of Hubbard's notes was presented to him as a birthday gift. After games and lunch, the party returned to their homes in Hansen.

Max Durk and Buhl Vanderpool, two Hansen Boy Scouts, are in Shoshone basin at the scout camp this week. Some members of the Hansen troop will go to the camp Sunday for the court of honor reception.

Miss Earhart rebelled today and declared she did not want hero worship, and that Stultz should bear the full burden of his fame, instead of unloading it on a girl who had done nothing to deserve it.

The Chicago Tribune instituted the suit in 1921, seeking as a taxpayer to recover money which it charged was diverted into Thompson funds at a time when an important campaign required financing. It was alleged that the real estate men were hired on the municipal payroll, regardless of their fitness, to make expert appraisals of real property.

A high wind swept Pittsburgh and Scammon, Kansas, and other mining communities early today, uprooting trees, smashing windows, and tearing down wires. Sam Kennedy, Pittsburgh, was electrocuted when he drove his motorcar into an electric power wire which had been borne down by uprooted trees.

Oil Town Razed

The oil town of Webb City, in northern Oklahoma, was virtually raised by a tornado today in which four persons were injured. Property damage was estimated at $65,000. Mrs. Ed Harris was found dangerously injured in a field a quarter of a mile from her demolished home. Four brick buildings were the only undamaged structures in the town.

A rich farming community around Frederick, Oklahoma, was laid waste late yesterday by a tornado which demolished some 20 houses and wrought much damage in Hollister, 11 miles southeast of Frederick. An area 8 or 10 miles long and four miles wide was swept by the storm.

WHEAT QUOTATIONS ADVANCE ON MARKET

Closing Prices on Bread Cereal Unsettled; Corn Swings Up; Oats Gain; Provisions Rise

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Export sales of wheat from North America today jumped to a big total, 4,000,000 bushels, and prices made a corresponding quick advance. Despite heavy profit-taking on the bulge, most of the upturns were held at the finish. Persistent rains in the Southwest and fears of black rust in the Northwest did much to stimulate demand.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1⅛c to 2⅛c net higher, with corn ⅜c to 1⅛c up, oats showing ½c to 1c gain, and provisions varying from 5c decline to 5c advance.

Unexpected upturns of 3⅜ to 3½ pence in the Liverpool wheat market today helped to accelerate the rise of wheat values here. Meanwhile, estimates of new export business kept increasing, and dispatches poured in telling of unfavorable crop developments in Kansas and elsewhere Southwest, including damage from excessive moisture and from severe hail storms as well. Moreover a leading crop authority telegraphing from Redfield, South Dakota, said that if temperatures become hot before surface soil is dried out, a prospect of black rust was threatening, as the period for the appearance of rust is at hand.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—The raw sugar market was quiet today and in absence of business prices were nominally unchanged at 4.33, delivered.

An easier undertone developed in raw futures. Prices were lower the entire session, closing at net losses of 2 to 6 points. The decline was due principally to July liquidation, which had an unsettling effect throughout the remainder of the list, although there was also considerable European selling of later positions. Shorts covered on the decline and houses with Cuban connections also bought, but demand was not aggressive enough to cause any rally. Final prices were at about the low of the season. Selling seemed to be influenced by the disappointing London cables, and the continued slow demand in the spot market. Approximate sales were 53,700 tons. July closed 2.48; September 2.50; December 2.70; January 2.67; March 2.66; May 2.72.

The refined sugar market was unchanged at 6.05 to 6.10 for fine granulated.

STOCKS RALLY BRISKLY ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP) — The stock market, having developed a temporary over-sold position, rallied briskly today despite a marked stiffening in money rates. Prices of standard industrial and rails ran up 1 to 5 points at the opening, with even larger gains in some of the specialties, sold off sharply in a midday reaction, and then moved forward to a new highs for the day. Several of the specialties closed 5 to 20 points net higher.

Trading in the stock market was again on a relatively small scale. The recent drastic decline in prices apparently has kept many small traders away from the market altogether. Today's sales did not run much over 2,000,000 shares, as contrasted with the string of 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 share sessions when the "bull" movement was at its height last month.

Radio was the spectacular performer today. The stock opened at 163, ran up a few points above that figure, broke to 159¼ and then ran up to 175¾, closing just below that level for a net gain of 15 points. United States Cast Iron Pipe jumped 20 points on a small turnover. General Motors closed nearly 3 points higher at 74⅞ after fluctuating between 171 and 175¾, and United States Steel common showed a net gain of 2 points at 136.

Selling pressure was quite effective against the railroad equipment shares on reports of poor current business. American Locomotive, American Car and Foundry, Pressed Steel Car, and Lima Locomotive sold at their lowest prices in a year or more. Among the score or so other issues to break into new low ground were American Type Founders, American Writing Paper, Bayuk Cigars, Bush Terminal, International Silver, Ligget and Myers and United States Rubber.

Despite denials of Postum company officials that they were negotiating for the purchase of the food properties of the American Linseed company, common and preferred stocks of the latter moved into new high ground. International Harvester, Adams Express, Case Threshing, Midland Steel Products preferred, Wright Aero-nautical, Rossia Insurance and National Tea also recorded large gains.

CAPTORS OF SLAYER OF BURLEY MAN REWARDED

BURLEY, June 20—Rewards for the apprehension of "Blackie" Miller, who confessed to the murder of John J. Terry and is now serving a life sentence, have been sent to Eugene, Oregon, to those responsible for his capture.

Miller was seen near Eugene by Robert Boyd, an acquaintance. It is said that Miller borrowed a gun from Boyd and refused to return it. This act, it is claimed, incensed Boyd who gave him up to Elmer A. Geiger and Leo Sims, Eugene police officers. These men claimed the reward, and the money has been sent to the three. Cassia county paid $500, the city of Burley the same amount, and the local lodge of Odd Fellows contributed $250.

oh where is my wandering boy tonight?

If he's like millions of others, he's probably out telling the boys all about Buckeye Malt Syrup, the nation's leading brand. Buckeye, you know, is the one malt without a fault—made by master maltsters, the Burger Brothers Company (master maltsters since 1874). It's wonderful stuff—and we don't mean maybe, either.

Kill the Codling Moth Egg Before it Hatches

An egg killed, is a "sting" prevented. That's why oil-lead combination has so rapidly displaced the use of lead alone.

The oil kills the eggs before they can hatch. The lead kills the few worms that may hatch from eggs missed by the oil spray.

CROP IMPROVEMENT DEPRESSES MARKET

Weather Conditions Generally Favorable to Wheat Production Reflect in Trading.

SALT LAKE, June 20—Generally satisfactory progress of the northern hemisphere wheat crop and favorable weather for spring sown grains in the United States and Canada were principally responsible for the weaker tone which prevailed in the domestic grain market during the week ending June 16, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics.

Prices of all grains declined in the Chicago futures market but an active demand for the rather limited offerings of seed grains held cash prices generally steady for corn, oats and barley. Poor prospects for rye held the market firm for that grain. Flax was only slightly lower than a week ago. The first cars of new crop wheat arrived at Wichita, Kansas, and Fort Worth, Texas, during the week and the first car was expected at Kansas City June 18. Crop conditions in the American northwest improved materially during the past few days, according to trade reports. Considerable areas in central North Dakota and South Dakota, however, have suffered from drought and the grain is thin and uneven and has made but little growth. Prospects are favorable in Montana, the northern half of North Dakota, the southern half of South Dakota and in most of Minnesota, according to the report.

Crop conditions in western Canada at the first of June were generally good and better than at the same time last year, according to the dominion bureau of statistics. The condition of the wheat crop was reported at 100 per cent of the average yield for the past 10 years which was officially reported at 15.8 bushels per acre. The trade has interpreted this official report to indicate a crop of aronud 400,000,000 bushels based upon an estimated increase of about 8 per cent in acreage. European crop conditions continue to show improvement although grain crops in northwestern Europe are still a little backward. Harvesting is now in progress in Italy and a crop of about 257,000,000 bushels or about 20,000,000 bushels larger than any other crop ever harvested in that country, is in prospect according to the Italian department of agriculture. The first preliminary estimate of the 1928 wheat production in Tunis is 12,860,000 bushels which is more than 50 per cent above last year's production and within a little over 1 per cent of the record crop in 1926. During the past three years about 80 per cent of the total crop has been durum wheat. These favorable prospects, together with the larger Italian crop will materially affect the demand for American durum and bread wheats in Italy during the coming year. Fair crops are now expected in Germany but dry farm weather is needed. Warm showery weather improved the outlook in France during the week and prospects in Russia were also improved, particularly in south, according to grade reports.

Little Change in Premiums

The decline in future prices was mostly reflected in the cash wheat markets but premiums held practically unchanged with demand sufficient to absorb the current receipts. Mills, however, were taking only sufficient grain for their immediate needs and were awaiting new crop grain, particularly in the southern and southwestern markets. Soft red winter was relatively weaker than other classes, especially at St. Louis, where prices were lowered about 15 cents per bushel and where increased country offerings were in excess of current requirements, except for best quality milling wheat.

OGDEN INVITES LOCAL GIRL FOR PLANE RIDE

Invitation suggesting that a young woman be designated to represent Twin Falls at the dedication of Ogden's municipal airport next June 30 was received yesterday by R. E. Bobier, Twin Falls mayor. The young woman designated, the communication stated, is to be a passenger on one of the first airplane flights from the Ogden airport.

The invitation was issued generally to Twin Falls citizens, in the expressed hope that Ogden's development in this direction might stimulate and encourage advancement of aviation throughout this region.

In reply, the mayor stated that the city of Twin Falls is not now in position financially to build a municipal airport, but that Twin Falls already has one private airport, and that indications point to rapid development in that direction here.

Fly-Tox is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Simple instructions for killing ALL household insects on blue labeled bottles. TRIPLE A TO OPEN OFFICES IN WELLS AND YELLOWSTONE Tourist Travel to Be Heavy on "Short" Route to California; Speedy Construction on Road South Is Promised.

"The Idaho department of the American Automobile association, in cooperation with the departments of Oregon and Washington is opening a Triple A office in West Yellowstone today, and the Idaho department alone, with consent of Manager W. M. David, of the Nevada Triple A, will open an office in Wells about June 25, to divert travel this way." Lynn C. Beauchamp, district manager of the Idaho association here, stated last evening.

"The importance of these office openings, taken in connection with the promise of Joe D. Wood, commissioner of public works, that the contract for the grading and graveling of the five-mile gap on the highway to the Nevada line will be let about July 1 and hurried to completion, is clear," continued Mr. Beauchamp. "The Nevada highway commission has promised to grade and gravel the highway on that side of the line, and is now keeping the dirt road graded, pending the final work of improvement.

Makes Fine Road

"The opening of these offices will enable people to get information regarding a shorter route to California or from California to the Yellowstone, over the Yellowstone to Yosemite route, which in official government language is known as route No. 93. This route runs clear to the Canadian line. Maps and routings, with detailed information will be given at the Triple A stations. There will be a conference shortly between J. B. Noble, Idaho-Nevada manager and Manager David of Nevada in regard to detailed plans of operation.

"The far east tourists are beginning to arrive. One car from Massachusetts went through today. Heretofore the travel has been mostly local. In all our efforts toward securing a greater amount of travel over route No. 93, we have had the effective cooperation of C. E. Lind of Twin Falls, both through his activities in the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Y. to Y. association."

BURLEY, June 20—Removing dirt and silt from canals filled with water at the rate of approximately 300 yards an hour, the big Ruth dredger recently bought by the Minidoka irrigation district seems to be successful as a canal cleaner. The first 40 horse power engine proving too small, it was replaced by a 60 horse power engine, which is apparently satisfactory.
