FLOOD WIPES SAN MARCIAL OFF MAP MANY MAROONED

Details of Worst Disaster in State's History Reach Outside the World

WATER STILL RISING

Messages of Harvey House Telephones While Standing in Deep Water

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 25 (UPI)—The town of San Marcial, 100 miles west of El Paso, was swept off the map by flood waters of the racing Rio Grande.

Only two buildings remained intact. They were the property of the Santa Fe railroad, they said, because the flood left 45 residents who remained in the town.

From the windows of the Harvey House, owners watched their telephones ring and ring, and discovered water was 16 feet deep in the business section.

Details of the flood, "the worst in the history of the section," trickled in from the railroad, they said. The phone, wife, 11-year-old son and husband will probably find another hundred thousand dollars of insurance money.

Harvey House manager, lower himself from the second story of the building to talk over the telephone.

"An amateur in these things," he said, "had started to move his furniture up there, but he was soon overcome by the flood and made himself stand over the washing of the water.

There are about 100 houses in the building, and no others. The water is rising.

"We have enough food for two days. If we are forced to remain that long,"—Van Coopersmith, manager.

"The situation is twice as bad as during the August flood. There is no way to train getting through here. We had to leave the last night, but it was unable to get out.

"We are in good spirits and will pull through," he said.

Van Coopersmith said the party would attempt to leave the town on rafts today.

A hole of 75 feet wide and 15 feet deep was washed out by the flood, weakened during August by the waters which had been flowing against it for three days. Seventy-five men fought the current, while 100 more were held back by the flood, but when they gave up, flood waters tearing away, the tovero sought safety in the foothills, the river bank.

A bridge, the only one in the valley, was washed away, and the road became impassable.

"Damage probably will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, as the racing Rio Grande has washed away all the banks, destroying everything in reach."

CHIEF OBJECT OF LIFE INSURANCE
Is Protection of A Person's Loved Ones

WHEN DEATH STRIKES ONE'S HOME

WITH ARTICLE NO. 5
What benefits are in the life insurance policy?

The primary motive of the buyer of life insurance is to protect his own interests and the greater interests of his loved ones.

Some of these benefits to the policy holder are:

1. Death Benefit—Provides for an individual life insurance coverage, and a death benefit, which the insured may provide.

Benefits may be in the form of a cash value or a cash value plus a death benefit.

2. Premium Deferral—Provides for the insurance plan to accumulate interest.

3. Premium Reduction—Provides for the insurance plan to accumulate interest.

4. Premium Waiver—Provides for the insurance plan to accumulate interest.

Brookhart's Tale of 'Wet' Dinner With Many Solons Present Proves Sensation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (UPI)—The story of an allegedly wet dinner with a Wall Street sinner and senators as guests written into the Congressional Record today as partial answer to President Hoover's challenge to Senator Howell to produce data on alleged non-enforcement of prohibition in the national capital.

Specific instances of dry law violation, Howell insisted that while he was chairman of the Senate investigating committee, he had based his non-enforcement charge on what he claimed as "common knowledge" around Washington.

Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, told of the party and how it was organized and conducted, his "bird" by racing under the name of "the individualists."

Other senators listened with antipathy to Brookhart's story and laughed heartily when he said Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, known as a personal and political dry, was one of the guests at the party.

Smoot denied he attended the dinner.

SKIPPER OF CUBS REBUKES CRITICS OF MOUND STAFF

Chicago Manager Declares His Team Will Face Athletes With Full Corps of Pitchers

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (UPI)— Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, has rebuked the fan who believe his pitchers are not inferior to those of the coming world series against the Philadelphia Athletics.

"A lot of the fan talk we will lack pitchers in the series," he said. "It's not true. The Athletics' last few recent inductions pitching not even in the big leagues." Well, then, how about Connie Mack's bunch? About to meet the A's October 3 with a full staff?"

"Manchurian," he said, "the under-ers were filled with optimism predictions. It was reported that George "Dad" Malone and Charlie O'Day had been called up to the pitchers used, and that the order in which they will work depends upon their showings in two games against the Cincinnati Reds this week."

McCarthy has made it known that he will use regular lineups in these games and then rely upon their winning strategies until the big game opens.

SKIPPER OF CUBS REBUKES CRITICS OF MOUND STAFF

Chicago Manager Declares His Team Will Face Athletics With Full Corps of Players

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (UPI)— Jim McCarthy, manager of the Cubs, rejected the fact that he believes his pitchers are not in shape for the coming world series against the Philadelphia Athletics.

"A lot of the time think we will lack pitchers in the series," said McCarthy. "In answer to accusations that recent failures of his starters have interfered with his series, 'Well, then, how about Connie Mack's batters? Seems to me Lefty Grove and Rube Weller—two very great pitchers."

McCarthy was asked if the white baseball season was not over

"Then why all this talk over my pitchers? Well, we're ready to meet the A's October 8 with a strong staff."

Meanwhile, as far as the understandings of doubt, Chicago newspaper men Lefty Grove and Rube Weller

were filled with optimistic predictions. It was reported that Pops "Pats" Malone and Charlie Root would be the first two Cub pitchers which they will depend upon their showing in two games against the Cincinnati Reds this week.

McCarthy, however, maintained that he will use his regular line-up in these games and then rely upon second stringers until the big series opens.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

(By United Press)

Yesterday's hero—Melvin Ott, young outfielder of the New York Giants, who had the National League's best home run record.

With a total of 15 hitting games,

a double header in which the Giants defeated the Boston Braves,

6 to 4, 6 and 6 to 5.

The Phillips without the shock of a four run rally by the Brooklyn Robins, who won the game in the ninth of the eighth win a five run rally of their own to win, 8 to 6, gaining a full game in the battle for the top of the second division.

In this same second division contest, the Cincinnati Reds beat a cold rain at St. Louis Cardinals, who were a newcomer to the league, 10 to 9.

Bill Hallahan, a newcomer defeated them 3 to 1.

Reds allowed only five hits, while the Cardinals had 10.

Thus the season's breakup took place.

Tom Ziegler, veteran southpaw pitcher of the world champion

Yankees, beat the Red Sox 5 to 3. Ziegler has been defeated today.

Bunching him off, Ted Lyons late in the game, the Cleveland Indians improved their national league record by beating the Chicago White Sox, 14 to 4.

The Detroit Tigers got a 12-inning victory over the

St. Louis Browns 9 to 4.

Herrin, a rookie from Oklahoma, pitched with the White Sox, while Aker, another rookie, starred at short stop.

Star Forest Fires.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shurut, who returned here Saturday from a trip to the Pacific coast, said entirely otherwise, experiencing "the blinding forests of the coast states." Mr. Shurut today, however, was dense with smoke and "feeling it," he said. They were seen at the airport, returning to the city.

Funeral Brings Here.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. McElwain, recently married and incorporated as George W. McElwain & Son, Inc., have returned to their home in Portland for the past five years, having made his home in the former one-mile south and the latter claimed to have come from the east in search for work.

Daily PoemTHE WAYS.

By John Oxenham

To every man there opens

A Way, and Way, and a Way,

And the High Road, where the High way,

And in, and out, and in, and out,

And in between, on the misty slate,

The red drift, to and fro,

But to every man there opens

A High way and a Low,

And every man there opens

A Way, and Way, and a Way,

And Way, and Way, and a Way.

ers up rubbish to be carted away? Should he, too, hang his head in shame?

If there is anything disreputable about scrubbing floors there are many millions of fine women who have that same sin charged against them. If honest work were to be placed under a ban the people of this world would soon be hungry and without clothing. Nor would they have any cars to drive. There would be no cars or any other improvements that go to make life more enjoyable.

If there is anything disreputable tasks make money and save their money that is all to their credit. Incidentally such a situation is a tribute, not a reproach, to our present day civilization. When there is proper reward for toil people are willing to work and the work moves forward. The plant that is all top and has no roots does not stand up well when there is drought or when the wind blows.

CLEANING-UP—WASHINGTON.

THE country at large will watch with interest the results of the exchange of statements by Senator Howell of Nebraska and the White House.

The senator has stated that bootlegging thrives within the shadows of the Capitol and called on President Hoover to use his appointive power to provide a remedy of conditions.

A statement from the White House was issued which expressed satisfaction over the fact that Senator Howell has opened the question. The authorities of the District of Columbia should have an opportunity to act in the situation, according to the White House report.

Senator Howell's statement is pertinent. Residents from all the states go to Washington in considerable numbers, and from reports that are brought back home, Washington is not nearly so dry as the Great American desert.

Maybe booze will be banished from the seat of our national government.

The impetus that would be provided by the cause of liquor law enforcement by an example of successful cleaning up of Washington should be of real value in the efforts being made to render the our butter for years to come, students of the industry believe. Common sense would indicate that we owe it to ourselves to patronize with 100 per cent loyalty an industry that is of the importance that dairying has to Idaho.

There are other ways in which by our buying we may add to the wealth of Idaho. We manufacture sugar, flour, bread and many other staples and then import far more than is necessary of the same products from beyond our borders. We do not buy Idaho products in the measure we should.

This is no age of narrow-minded intolerance, and this newspaper is not in sympathy with legislation that seeks to impose legal barriers for restricting trade with the state as a unit, but it does believe in encouraging a spirit of loyalty in the heart of Idahoans so that they will voluntarily and enthusiastically buy products that are manufactured within the state.

What we make within the state makes our own prosperity. Our income is increasing, but we lose the benefit of increased income unless we spend our money on Idaho made goods, whenever possible and thus build our own payrolls and add to our property valuations.

WHEN WORKERS THRIVE

IN SNOBISH vein the New York Herald Tribune takes a fling at garbage collectors who have automobiles and also says this about women who do a certain class of house work.

In far-off days some housewives felt a foolish annoyance at observing that the washday and the clean-up arrived in commodious cars while they themselves had not advanced beyond a flivver. All that is of the past now, and we are accustomed to the grace with which the good charwoman manipulates her town car, to the promptitude superior to any doctor's—with which the lawn and furnace specialists cover their grounds by motor.

That is an exaggeration, of course, but if it were not what would be wrong about a scheme that allows decent financial reward for those who do work others do not wish to do? Is not a man who deals with a furnace, whether as a maker or an operator, engaged in that is fully as helpful as that of a gambler? If the garbage is doing something wrong to a home owner who gam-

CASSIA COUNTY

PENDLETON RIDER VISITS AT MALTA

HUILEY, Idaho, September 25 (Special)— Laraine Lanahan, who lives near Spokane, is visiting relatives in this country this week after riding in the races at the Pendleton Roundup.

She is a young lady who has had considerable riding experience on western and southern tracks, and who, like the unfortunate, before her, was injured in a fall, and sprained her arm.

When she was riding, she fell, and sprained her arm quite badly. While recuperating, she will visit the friends and relatives in the area of Malta.

Several farm land sales are reported last week near Paul. Henry Kroup purchased 50 acres of irrigated land for $10,000, and 110 acres of unirrigated land for $10,000.

Land 30 acres for about $10 per acre. Two other forty acre farms, unimproved, were sold for $10,000 each. The land is mostly broken, but the farms seem to be manifesting itself.

The meeting of primary teachers at the school building in Malta yesterday in the court room by County Superintendent Buchanan, at which instruction for beginning teachers was given, was presided over by Laura Lourie, the principal at Albion, was the principal speaker.

Mrs. Lura Pearl Stephenson was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary. She was reelected at the last meeting of that organization. Mrs. Gladys Wolf was elected vice president, and Berlene Davidson was elected treasurer and Ethel Flare historian.

Attorney T. M. Morris returned from a professional trip to Boise Saturday evening.

J. W. Moore, formerly living at Burley, returned Friday evening from central Oregon, where he has been engaged in the lumber business of that state. Mr. Moore says that for many years his country been dry as he it was this present summer.

There are two new schools open. Local officials of the forest service, for example, maintain that the value of this primitive practice is entirely fallacious.

Burley underbrush in the fall, they maintain, would burn off, protect, reflect sunlight, and cool the ground.

It is the opinion of the forest service that the fires, serious as they are, are frequent because there were no tourists, no cigarette smoking, and no incendiarism.

Moreover, this tradition of the early settlers with regard to the prevention of forest fires is not unique.

As is natural in such controversies, the truth probably lies somewhere between these two extremes.

It is unlikely that a practice which was successful in the old country would necessarily be successful here.

On the other hand, the question that the shrub and underbrush left in the forest does constitute a genuine and very serious menace.

The one cheerful feature in the question is that it is a question that can be answered.

It is natural that the public feel compelled to give an answer, public feeling to seek an extent that is more effective method of preventing forest fires in the future will probably be evolved before another year passes.

FACULTY-PASTOR GIVEN RECEPTION

about 125 persons were present at the reception tendered the Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Murell, and the Rev. and Mrs. J. C. McFarland, Friday evening at the church. A program was given consisting of orchestral selections by the Isaac and Clark orchestra, solo numbers by the students in "Murell's" of the church by M. B. Taylor, and reply by the Rev. Mr. Murell; a short talk by Dr. N. L. Vining, president of the University; and "Yesterdays," sung by Miss Anna B. Burt, a clever vocal solo by D. A. Hiller; a Zenda Robinson in a solo; a reading by Mrs. Anna Koenig, and two musical selections by Fay Shockey. These were followed by some "get-together" games and stimulate refreshments by matching buttons. The wage served from a long table and consisted of sandwiches, cake, and coffee.

The first meeting was held after the reception by the governors of the Chautauqua conference for this winter.
