Vital Problems Engrossing The New Administration

HARDING FACES TANGLED KNOTS OF STATECRAFT

Six Major Problems Wait—First Move Is Senate Sent—Office Active

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—The Harding administration, now in its first week, confronted by five big problems, [illegible]

[illegible] Congress, the tariff, the German reparations, and his advisers. Meanwhile, the new world disarmament conference at Washington, which Harding has called to convene next November, was proceeding with its preliminaries.

The tariff, which Congress is expected to take up first, Harding has promised to call with the result of a congress session. One calls for immediate consideration of the Oregon plan, without modification, which would leave the tariff rates of protection to American industry as a tonic for depression.

The tariff is sure to be the first bill Harding will sign. One calls for immediate consideration of the Oregon plan, without modification, which would leave the tariff rates of protection to American industry as a tonic for depression.

Harding fears passage of the measure, which would increase the revenue from the rich, and [illegible] the Senate finance committee.

Big Public Welfare Mass Meeting Set For Next Sunday Afternoon

"A public welfare" mass meeting of the citizens of Twin Falls has been called for next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the Presbyterian church, at which time plans for law enforcement and the welfare of the public will be discussed.

"Law is the most sacred thing in government, and lawlessness the greatest menace to civilization," says the call issued for the meeting. "An act of disobedience on the part of one citizen encourages disrespect for all law, and ultimately promotes criminality; thus the welfare of society is dependent upon obedience to lawfully constituted authority.

"There are three kinds of law, civil, criminal and moral. Civil laws deal with the rights of the individual; criminal laws deal with crimes against the state or community or the person; MORAL JURISPRUDENCE, MORAL LAWS DEAL WITH RELATIONSHIPS—questions such as child labor, Sabbath observance, gambling, pernicious habits, etc., and the laws prohibiting the manufacturing and sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes.

"The basis of all law is found in the ten commandments, which were given by God on Mt. Sinai to the Jewish people. They deal first with the duty of man toward God and second with the duty of man toward his fellow man.

"William Gladstone, the most famous British statesman, said: 'The purpose of all law is to make it easy for mankind to do right and exceedingly difficult to do wrong.' Moral legislation is enacted to carry out this idea, and no moral law that has ever been framed by any government has so perfectly carried out the thought expressed by Gladstone as the amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

"Enforcement of law depends upon three factors, namely, public sentiment, honest officials, impartial administration. Public sentiment is created through the press, the pulpit and the lecture platform, and another most effectual method is the personal talking on to other of the reasons why the law should be enforced.

"It is not difficult to visualize to others the need of child labor laws, and it ought not to be difficult to convince the vast majority of people of the need for the enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment when we can point to so much of blasting material prosperity, physical illness and economic benefit which has, and will inevitably result from the entire absence of the alcoholic liquor traffic.

"The need of honest administering officials to enforce the law is self-evident and all such should receive the support and commendation of the law abiding citizens, and when they fail to be such, they should be quickly replaced by others who are willing and able to fill the measure for public good, with trend toward the repeal of a law, more, surely than its partial enforcement. If a law is enforced against some and other groups are permitted to violate it with impunity, it will not last long, for the public resents anything that savors like injustice or class legislation.

"If our national prohibition law and our state moral codes are to be made secure, their enforcement must be impartial, affecting alike the rich and poor, the native and the alien, this alone will secure the largest measure of protection, freedom and justice for all.

"If you are a Christian citizen or desirous of becoming one, how long have you been the community than by attending this meeting next Sunday afternoon and aiding yourself with the backers of the Eighteenth amendment and other reform movements?

Judge Ault and others of the legal profession and a number of the ministers and leading church workers of the city will take part in the program, which will be announced in the newspapers in the near future.

An optimist is a ray of sunlight. In this world, a pessimist is cloud at gloom. Everytime an old pessimist admits that ninety per cent of the things he worried about never happened he justified the pleasure shedding, life enjoying optimist. In the close and cramping stand of a pessimist, there is no room for the optimist. We are in the most fertile section of the world. You cannot keep the Twin Falls country down. If we all take the optimistic side of things we will soon be back to the good old days.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

Oxford, Miss., John Hart Brinkle, nationally known, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were entirely dead and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth."

"Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown were taken from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brinkle certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Chaw-ka-ha Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and my hair now is as healthy as it ever was!"

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was astonished and happy in appraising my scale of wind Fate's when bald, actually. Obviously, the hair roots and hair bulbs had been dead, but there was still life in the scalp, enabling the feeding nutrient of the blood to reach the roots. I specialized for months into a study of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was soon assured, has been my proof."

It has been proved in very many cases that hair roots which are not dead even when the hair has fallen out through dandruff, fever, disease, measles, or certain other hair or scalp diseases.

CONFERENCE OF BAPTISTS BUSY SCENES

Regional Missionary Gathering Under Way Last Night, to Close This Evening

Round table discussions of missionary topics, pertinent talks on domestic and foreign field problems by informed speakers and a general air of fellowship made up a busy time for the Baptist Regional Conference delegates in session here yesterday and today.

The conference has been well attended, outside delegates registering from Filer, Gooding, Hupert, and Twin Falls, homes in the town were thrown open to the visitors who are billeted in like fashion.

Morning sessions during the conference have been devoted chiefly to addresses under Dr. Minaker, of Boise, district superintendent. The Twin Falls pastor, Dr. Young, led devotional services yesterday morning and Rev. W. A. Spanks, of Buhl, presided the morning. Rev. E. J. White of Hupert led the prayer service yesterday afternoon.

Business topics had found table discussions marked the afternoon programs. Mrs. Sturtevant, president of the Women's Missionary Union, in an address at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, gave a spirited talk, which was followed by a discussion of the Woman's Missionary Union work, conducted by Mrs. Sturtevant and Mrs. Minaker.

Rev. Lynch was the chief speaker last evening, Rev. Elder giving a short talk. Rev. Lynch delivered a forceful appeal for missionary work, supporting his argument with the challenge of personal contact, with problems he outlined.

Rev. Lynch will deliver the sermon this evening, sharing the platform with Mrs. Wadsworth. His address will be "The Power of God among the Heathen."

The song service under direction of Prof. W. Y. Arthur, which was so pleasing a part of last evening's program, will also be a feature of the closing session tonight.

NEW JERSEY TO STAGE DEMPSEY MILL WITH CARP

Newark or Jersey City Probable Site in Present Plan of Promoter Rickard

NEW YORK, Mar. 9—Jack Dempsey and George Carpentier will meet for the world's heavyweight championship "some place in New Jersey." Without disclosing the number of information, this time he said authoritatively.

Offers from Montreal, London, and other places are not being entertained by Tex Rickard and never have been.

New York was first considered as the only place and when objections came up the promoter decided to stay right and has selected the place nearer to New York.

Rickard said today he had decided on the ring and would make the official announcement to the principals and the public March 15.

The exact location of the site in New Jersey is a matter of conjecture but it is understood that Atlantic City is out of the running.

Either Newark or Jersey City, with the probability of a site between the two towns the most likely.

C. P. Graham and the four Governors who were so keen to have had the conference with Dempsey and Carpentier, in Kansas City last Friday afternoon, did not appear, it was understood they learned from Rickard that the Canadian contender did not have a chance.

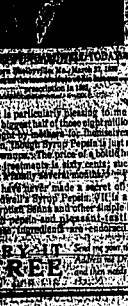
Lives to See the Prescription He Wrote in 1892 the Worlds Most Popular Laxative Remedy



WHEN I started to practice medicine, back in 1876, there were no pills or tablets or salt waters for the relief of constipation, and no artificial remedies made from coal tar.

The prescription for constipation that I used early in my practice, and which I put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy and I have never had occasion to change it. I recommended it for women, children and elderly people, and I have prescribed it for my family for 30 years. It is mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

I am grateful to say that under successful manufacture and promotion it has proven its worth and is now the largest selling high laxative liquid medicine. Its sale is still increasing, which I take to mean that it is giving satisfaction. Its success was not forced by gifts nor by premiums, but it has won its way on merit, and has proved itself a friend to the families and children of many thousands.

Pharmacopoeia. I consider Syrup Pepsin today the best laxative for the average case, in the serious kind for my kind of practice, and I believe it is the best laxative for children and the aged. Syrup Pepsin is not a cure-all, but it is a good laxative for constipation and its accompanying ills, such as headaches, biliousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, coated tongue, bad breath, dizziness, nervousness and sleepy and tired feelings, when due to constipation.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and I believe it will give you satisfaction and relief. Give it a fair trial. Get a 50c bottle at any drug store, and see how much good a dose will do you. Then, if you want more, and to know more about this remedy, write me and I will send you a trial bottle, free. Address: Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 459 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

TESTIMONY ON THE RAILROAD

Recent passage in the Nevada legislature of the bill authorizing the Elko-county bonds for the proposed railroad between Wells and Rogerson is the occasion of favorable comment from other sections of the state, commending Elko county's wisdom in working for the railroad line.

Although not individually concerned with the project the Tonopah Times sees much benefit for the territory it will serve. Its impersonal observations on the subject are interesting to note. Among other things it declares that the object is worthy of unanimous support because:

"It will add substantially to the assessable valuation of the territory served.

"Primarily it will aid in the expansion of industries by presenting opportunities that would not appeal to any individual company, thereby bringing about an industrial development of vast importance.

"The connection between Wells and Rogerson will exercise a stabilizing influence on rates, through a northwest connection. (It may be said that the southwestern connection for Twin Falls will exercise the same stabilizing effect on rates from here.)

"Opening of the vast and fertile area which would feed the new railroad would mean more than the discovery of a dozen gold mines, for it will establish permanent development and prosperous community growth of a lasting order. The only reasonable criticism is that the step was not taken many years ago.

Continuing the Times says:

"The northern end of Elko county is a comparatively unexplored land teeming with mineral and agricultural wealth with vast valleys close to the mountains where there is an abundance of surface and underflow waters to be utilized for large extensions. The Mormons were first to recognize the resources of the northern end of Elko county, where they entered and made lavish investments in promoting material prosperity. Up in that region they measure their farms by ten of thousands acres and count their herds and flocks in the same prodigal fashion. North of the Southern Pacific lies a principality teeming with wealth of which little is heard. Transcontinental travel seldom reaches that end of the state and the dominant corporation is not eager to cultivate close relations as it is self supporting and backed by unlimited capital. Over a million dollars has been invested in promoting reclamation enterprises and constructing ditches, some of which rank with the best in the state. Some years ago when best sugar investments in Utah were attracting capital to that section it was proposed to extend the chain of factories over into the eastern end of Nevada by building up a connection with the Idaho system controlled by the same interests. To carry out this plan transportation was required. Several railroad connections were suggested, but the hostile railroad influence sufficed to throt-tle these enterprises almost at their inception.

Detailed Report of Twin Falls Highway District

Twin Falls, Idaho, February 10, 1921

Board of Commissioners,
Twin Falls Highway District,
Twin Falls, Idaho

Gentlemen:—

Enclosed, herewith, find statement of receipts and disbursements on the TAX ACCOUNT FUNDS of the Twin Falls Highway District for the period beginning February 1st, 1919, and ending February 1st, 1921, together with balances on hand February 1st, 1921, and the banks in which funds are deposited.

By way of explanation as to why this report covers two years, would advise that in my report made you for period ending February 1st, 1920, I find several credits for interest on daily balances by banks which were made just as my report was closed, and, while the credit was passed during the term of the report, I was not advised as to the credit being passed. Also I find in the disbursements report of that time, several transfers of funds were not included, and it seemed advisable to make a report for the two years combining these matters, instead of trying to correct same in a one year report.

Balance on hand as reported February 1st, 1919	$ 10,123.49
RECEIPTS
Current year's taxes as reported by county auditor	$109,746.00

DICK EXTOLS HIS FIRM

Chapter 21.

"Dick never would tell me any a word against the firm which employed him. He would say:

"They are a mighty good firm, Nan. Fellows are a dis. If one of us can show we are worth more than we are getting, they raise us, pronto. You must not sneer at them, or at my position. I have a hunch that the day isn't so awfully far away when these profiteering fellows will commence to get theirs and then we'll be glad to be with such substantial people. They are not the kind to turn a man off because business slackens. And one reason is that they haven't paid us more than the business warranted now."

"But they pay you hardly enough to live on! If I spend a few dollars you act and look abused." I hotly retorted.

"No, Nan, you mustn't talk or feel that way. Don't you suppose I know how it feels to count every penny? There are times when I have gone around the corner and hidden to avoid meeting some man whom I would have liked to ask to lunch, but, confiding, I don't ask you to economize any more than I am willing to—and you have been such a little brick always."

"If you knew how I hate to accept small before such people as the Stowells, you wouldn't wonder! I am hurt because you find fault. They knew you when you entertained nicely, and if they had things different, they never will think of blowing you, but we are always made to feel that they don't know better." Then I added: "Do get yourself a suit, Dick! That one is disgraceful. Let that old tailor make a month or two for his pay. I won't hurt him."

"In a day or two Dick came home with a new suit on—it looked very well—at least, it wasn't baggy but I had to confess when he asked me that it didn't look like the clothes he had made before he left Stowell's. I wish I could afford a custom suit nowadays."

"Why! If you make them 'Ready' or 'Made-to-measure' for mine until clothes get cheaper. I don't suppose he will keep his shape for very long and it will SAVE to do."

"Oh! I don't want to go to church one big dry spot to please him. I honestly felt I owed him something because of that money I had spent for my lunch-eon party. But I enjoyed the services fairly well, and the walk home, it was a lovely day, and we commenced to plan for our visit to Mrs. Stowell's as soon as we reached home. We were in no hurry for a 2 o'clock dinner. It seemed their cook refused to cook a late dinner on Sunday.

Junior had had a nice nap while we were at church, Mrs. Dooly told us, and I dressed him in all his best clothes, then rearranged my hair, and we started out. We were going down the other way, and Dick carried the baby the two blocks to where we took it. I wanted to have Mrs. Dooly stay and wheel the carriage over, then take it back, but that would have taken nearly an hour, and Dick said he did not know he could earn 50 cents an hour. He often made such remarks to me, and I disliked them immensely. It was as though he begrudged every cent he spent.

We arrived about 10 minutes of 2, and both Mr. and Mrs. Stowell seemed so glad to see us that I almost forgot to worry over my clothes, or to be envious of her wonderful gown.

The dinner was delicious, and beautifully served by the butler. I noticed that Dick didn't eat very much, and I knew he was having a bad attack of gout. Then it was so nice to eat something I hadn't cooked, and to be waited on so off-footly.

I was thankful I had told Dick of my luncheon, for Mrs. Stowell gave everything away, even telling every particular about my luncheon.

"It was a very well balanced lunch, you, indeed, Dick," Mrs. Williams is to be congratulated. When I was first married I would have probably ordered a steak and onions. She together electrically, but Dick never smiled as he replied:

"And your guests would probably have ordered Hungry Hank."

Dick could be so literal at times.

We remained an hour after dinner and all Mr. Stowell held forth—he and Dick chatted. Mrs. Stowell took me up to her room, and then at my request showed me the house, it was wonderful, and so beautifully furnished. I felt sick with envy, and sorry Dick had ever met me, never to enjoy such things in our little, cheap apartment.

Tomorrow—Mrs. Crawford Advertises.

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

IT is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow her Baby to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, require almost a new state of being for a woman.

Explanation of Above Statement

The item of $759.14 referred to above is for check No. 46 of the Tax Account on the First National Bank of Twin Falls, issued August 23, 1920. At the time this check was issued, no warrant was made, and this amount has to be added to the warrants issued in order to show correct amount of disbursement on this fund. The issuance of this check was corrected on January 29, 1921, by the making of warrant No. 5290.

Regarding item of $656.36, Warrant No. 3426, in amount $76.65, was issued in favor of C. E. Perkins. This was posted in the books. The warrant was lost and a duplicate was issued, which was also posted. In order to correct this error, this item should be deducted from the amount of warrants issued.

Regarding the item of one cent, in one of the bunches of warrants taken up in March, 1919, an error of one cent was made in that the check for the warrant was one cent less than the warrant amounted to.

The last page of this report contains a list of warrants outstanding at this date.

Respectfully submitted,

STUART H. TAYLOR,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Twin Falls, Idaho, February 28, 1921.

Board of Commissioners,
Twin Falls Highway District,
Twin Falls, Idaho.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed herewith find report of receipts and disbursements on the BOND ACCOUNT FUNDS of the District for the period beginning April 22, 1919, and ending February 1, 1921, with a list of checks outstanding at this time and the bank balances.

In going over this report, as well as the report of the Tax Account submitted herewith, several items appear which may not be thoroughly understood by the receiving public.

In the receipts on the Bond Accounts, the two items of $22,824.56 and $27,000.00 appear as receipts to the accounts. These are for loans made to the Bond Account and appear both as a receipt and disbursement on both accounts.

The last two items of $10,000.00 each shown as receipts on the Tax Account are merely transfer of bonds, and also show as disbursements in the last item of the Tax Account report. This would, of course, swell both the receipts and disbursements, whereas really no business transaction took place, but merely a transfer of funds involved.

On the book, however, there is an item under receipts of $71,691.41 as a repayment of Bond Account to Tax Account. This may be explained in the same way that bonds were purchased with Tax money and afterwards reimbursed with Bond money, when the money came in. Consequently, the original payments show as a disbursement on the Bond Account, implying properly that bonds were purchased, whereas, of course, only one item of bonds was really purchased and ultimately show as a disbursement on the Tax Account, where it properly belongs. Numerous refunds are shown throughout the report, all explained in the same way.

The Twin Falls Highway District has all of its workmen and employees covered by the State Insurance Fund, which is compulsory insurance under the State law. Settlement of this account is made annually and the insurance premium is segregated to the different classifications of work conforming to the insurance classifications. Thus, where the items of insurance shown on the road account, for example, $1,200.00 of the total premium for workmen's compensation, is for men employed by the District.

Other insurance is carried on the property of the District as follows:

Office Furniture ..... $ 1,200.00 W. H. Graves, Agent
Office Fixtures ..... 1,000.00 Stuart H. Taylor, Agent
Rock Crusher Insurance 12,000.00

Distributed as follows:

Insurance Co. of North America
Storage bins and conveyer belts	2,000.00	W. H. Graves, Agent
Phoenix Insurance Co.
Crusher machinery	3,000.00
Warehouse	1,500.00	J. S. Keel, Agent
American Insurance Co.
Conveyor belts and screen	2,500.00	W. F. Hopkins, Agent
Hartford Insurance Co.
Crushing plant machinery	4,000.00	Abstract Co.
Sun Insurance Office
Contents of warehouse	3,000.00	Stuart H. Taylor, Agent
Sterling Insurance Co.

Svea Insurance Co.
Crusher house	$ 500.00
Warehouse	1,000.00	J. E. White, Agent

The above policies all expire on February 16, 1922, and are renewals of similar policies carried for the previous years except in a decreased amount, which last year totalled $27,500.00.

The funds of the District deposited in the banks are protected by surety bonds for the amount of the deposit in all cases except one, where notes and warrants for considerably more than the amount of the deposit have been put up as collateral.

Attached to the financial report of the District is a statement of the accounts payable and receivable and an inventory of the material, supplies and equipment on hand, together with a statement of the income of the coming fiscal year.

Respectfully submitted,

STUART H. TAYLOR,
Secretary-Treasurer.

MOTHERS! DO THIS—
When the Children Cough
Rub Musterole on Throat and Chest
No stinking soft soap plaster that blisters the skin, but a clean, healthy ointment that will relieve the pain at once and stop the cough quickly. Mustard plasters are old-fashioned and unnecessary. Mustard and oil of mustard are still good, but Mustarole is better than mustard in every way. It does not blister like mustard. Mothers prefer Mustarole because it is a clean, safe, reliable, powerful, but not harsh, remedy for the tender skin of children. Mustarole is also a fine remedy for adults. Mothers should always have it in the house for use when the children cough, catch cold, have croup, sore throat, tonsilitis, earache, pain in the chest, or any other ailment for which a mild, safe, powerful, but not harsh, remedy is needed. Mothers should also know that Mustarole is a fine remedy for adults for lumbago, rheumatism, neuralgia, pleurisy, sore muscles, stiff joints, bruises, sprains, colds,

CHARGES MEN GUILTY OF BEING SLACKERS OF RESPONSIBILITIES

Rev. E. L. White Holds Close Attention of Audience at Bible Class Gathering Held at Presbyterian Church; Musical Program Enjoyed and Dinner Served by Mere Men

"Declaring that slackerism is the cause of most of our troubles, and calling on to face the duties and responsibilities of life, Rev. E. L. White held the close attention of more than fifty hundred and fifty men in the principal address of the evening, delivered last night at the social and get-together meeting of the United Men's Bible Classes of Twin Falls at the Presbyterian church.

"Just one word describes the cause of the prevalent idea that we are racing," the speaker declared, "and that word is slacker."

Rev. White considered the attitude of men toward the three basic institutions of our civilization, the home, the school and the church, and his comments, interspersed with witty remarks, indicated changes that might assist in maintaining them on a plane helpful to society.

Attitude Toward Schools

Let us consider the attitude of the ordinary citizen toward his school system. About all that we hear is criticism, and more criticism. Yet, when election day comes to make a selection of the members of the board of education we are too busy to go and vote, and it requires a big effort to get out a corporal's guard to the polls. What we need is more men and women who will help in constructive work. It requires no brains to criticize."

In speaking of the home, Rev. White dwelt on the responsibility of parents in surrounding their children with the correct influences to mold character.

"I used to think when I was a boy that boys and girls who went wrong were the offspring of the wicked one," he said. "But degeneration during many years, has led me to the conclusion that children who go wrong are nearly reflecting the influences of their homes. I wonder if the question plainly put out of the mouths juveniles by the probation officers, the juvenile court are directly due to conditions in the home?"

Slackers in Churches

That men and women are slackers when it comes to assuming responsibility in the church, was a statement of the speaker. He declared that the disrepute into which the church has fallen is due to the lack of thought and support given to it. In speaking of the lack of young men in the church, he quoted the words of a Bible school worker who declared that the way to keep your boys in the church is to surround them with a living wall of men."

"The failure of the church is not due to a lack of power in Jesus Christ, but to the slackerism shown by his followers disciples."

Proposed Day School

Following the address of Rev. White, E. L. Ashton was introduced by J. W. Jessee who acted as chairman of the meeting, and he talked briefly on the problems of juvenile delinquency. "Taking a cob from the pipe, we read the inscription 'In God We Trust,' and declared that if this statement really expressed the sentiments of the community a greater effort would be made to see that boys and girls have an opportunity to study the Bible."

Mr. Ashton brought a few of the children to study the Bible for thirty minutes a week, and by far the greater number to nervous that at times I just wanted to scream and would behave in a manner for hours. My heart would flutter and race like a windmill, and my sleep was so restless I got up morning feeling as if I hadn't rolled at all. Mind was just almost a complete wreck.

"My husband sent me to try Tanlac, and it's simply wonderful what that medicine has done for me. I don't eat anything I want now without it bothering me and I have actually gained thirteen pounds in weight. I can certainly speak in different words of me find my friends and neighbors all notice my big improvement. Yes, I found a real medicine when I got Tanlac for nothing but a real medicine could help me like it has done."

Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy and Schramm-Johnson Drug Co., in Hansell by C. J. Hollweg, and the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

MRS. PENDRY SAYS IT'S WORTH $20 A BOTTLE

Salt Lake Woman Says Friends All Notice Her Wonderful Improvement Since Taking Tanlac—Gains 13 Pounds

"My first bottle of Tanlac helped me so much I would have paid twenty dollars for it if I had known what it was going to do for me," declared Mrs. Sarah William H. and Mrs. Ellen Pendry, at 1352 S. 2nd St. E. Salt Lake City, Utah.

"I have always been subject to bad spells of biliousness and about four years ago I began to feel sometimes terrible and kept getting worse all the time. My food seemed to lie in my stomach undigested, and gas would form and press up into my throat and choke me until it nearly cut off my breathing. I had to sleep with my head up, and my appetite became so poor I like little more than enough to keep me going. I was so nervous that at times I just wanted to scream and would behave in a manner for hours. My heart would flutter and race like a windmill, and my sleep was so restless I got up morning feeling as if I hadn't rolled at all. Mind was just almost a complete wreck.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, over and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys are able to filter and eliminating then the blood goes the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which are very annoying and over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any druggist about four ounces of Saxo and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for a few weeks. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity thus causing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Saxo Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the salts of Saxony and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a simple, effervescent drink which usually makes simple ailments disappear quickly and is excellent for the kidneys as well.—Adv.
