CITY WINS THE WATER METER CASE

SILESIA VOTE LANDSLIDE TO GERMAN RULE

Plebiscite Claimed by Berlin; Heavy Majorities Are Quoted Returns

LONDON, March 21—Germany carried the Upper Silesia plebiscite yesterday, according to press dispatches from Berlin this morning, the official returns from 11 of the 14 districts making this result known announced an "German majority" in the district, Poland said.

BERLIN, March 21—Germany today claimed great victories in the Upper Silesian plebiscite.

The result was announced yesterday in interesting table after weeks of turmoil and violence. German officials were ready to claim possession of the 3,000 square miles province which, they claimed, opposite will have an important bearing on her future commerce. The election figures announced from German sources included:

Bunkel 72 per cent, Tarnowitz 65 per cent; Kreusberg 62 per cent; Kattowitz 61 per cent; Oppeln, 57, Rybnik 55, Gleiwitz 52, Beuthen 51 per cent.

Poles claimed 22,000 German, 19,000 Polish. Germans claimed majorities in other cities.

BUILDING IS BOOMING NOW IN BIG TOWN

New York City Already Has One Of Best Seen

NEW YORK, March 21—A boom in building is now in full swing in New York City, according to Frank Lyon, president of the Borough of Manhattan.

Figures made public by Commissioner Lyon show that during the first two weeks of March plans were approved for homes for 1,014 families, compared with 410 during the corresponding period of 1920, or a gain of 47 per cent.

Census reports believed the architects examining new dwellings from January 1 to March 5 were responsible for the boom.

CHICAGO, March 21—A slight increase in home building in Chicago was reported today by Frank O. Wilson, secretary of the building commissioner. He said March building permits will number 1,000, as against 1,000 last February. Permits issued last March numbered 1,100.

Permits were for small homes.

No anticipation of building boom here.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21—San Francisco is aboard the "building boom wagon, according to board of public works officials today.

January building permits totaled $7,000 and February $8, an increase of approximately one-fourth. While the permits were not available a year ago, officials said they were favorable in comparison with previous years.

Building in the Mission districts is lively.

Pastors Differ in Views on Baptism of Clara S. Hamon

DENVER, March 21—Divergent views concerning the baptism of Clara Hamon of Ardmore, Okla., formerly of Denver, were expressed today.

Commenting on the statement that the church of the woman acquitted of the murder of Jake L. Hamon, the Right Rev. Henry Tuttle, Episcopal bishop of Denver, said:

"The Catholic church would have baptized Hamon on probation if she had asked for it, and would have waited 12 months before baptizing her, and would not be baptized without confession or publicity.

"The Methodist church, pastor of the Central Christian church, leader of the Ku Klux Klan, on the church in question, you are dreaming."

The Rev. H. H. Hay, Doyle, pastor of the Central Methodist church, said: "Baptism could be compared to a Roman Catholic funeral, so far as publicity is said."

Idaho's Density of Population 5 To Square Mile

WASHINGTON, March 21—The density of population in the United States in 1920 was 35.6 persons per square mile, the census bureau announced today.

The density of population of the various states include:

Arizona 2.5, California 22; Colorado 9.1, Idaho 5.2, Iowa 42.2, Montana 3.4, Nebraska 16.5, Nevada 0.7, Oregon 4.2, Utah 5.5, Wyoming 2.0, State of Washington 20.3.

NEW ATTACK ON DRY LAW PICKS HARDING CLAUSE

Supreme Court Asked to Declare Amendment Invalid Through Time Limit Set.

WASHINGTON, March 21—A provision of the prohibition amendment originally proposed by President Harding while a senator makes it invalid, it was claimed in a second big attack on the constitutionality of the dry law, in briefs filed with the supreme court today.

The new attack on the validity of the amendment will be urged in the court action next tomorrow or Wednesday.

The section of the constitutional amendment which it is claimed invalidates all the ratifications by state states provided that the amendment should be inoperative unless ratified by three-fourths of the states within seven years after being submitted to them.

The claim is that congress had no power to place such a time limitation on the ratifications by the states. The brief for the attorneys asserts that the supreme court is upholding the amendment and the National act in June did not raise to this phase of its attack on the validity of the law.

President Harding while in the senate proposed the time limitation in the ratifications, saying his approval of the resolution submitting the amendment to the states depended on such a provision being added. He originally proposed six years, but later agreed to increase the period.

The new attack was made in the case of J. J. Dillon, San Francisco, who sought writs to test the law in behalf of the California brewers, who refused to file vouchers.

He was employed by a brewery company to dispose of its property, which provided that vouchers, without permit, from prohibition officials.

"The law will be defended in court," Assistant Attorney General Frank L. Smith, Attorney General Daugherty's assistant, has been appointed to succeed Assistant Attorney General Frank L. Smith, who resigned to become a member of the firm of Smith, Bruce and Lamar, Washington, it was learned today.

CONVICTION OF FORTY I. W. W. IS SUSTAINED

WASHINGTON, March 21—Convictions of forty I. W. W. who were sentenced to terms in Northern California on charges of violating the espionage and sedition laws were sustained today by the supreme court, today, in a decision holding the constitutionality of the espionage and sedition laws. The trial of these I. W. W. was held in Sacramento, Calif.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 21—Alexander Howat, district president of the United Mine Workers, today appealed from the Kansas industrial court to the Kansas supreme court in the case of the lower court of which he was convicted of violating its injunction in the Crawford county district coal field in the May, 1919, mass protest, last February.

TWENTY-SIX CASUALTIES IN FIGHTING

Sinn Fein Launch Wide Attack on Crown Troops Who Are Sorely Harrassed.

LONDON, March 21—Casualties in the Ulsterites' Sinn Fein attacks on crown forces last Saturday reached a total of twenty-six dead and one missing, it was announced today.

Attacks on Sinn Fein strongholds such a way as to prevent the effective use of reinforcements, the Sinn Feiners harrassed the troops for hours, fully supplied equipment of the soldiers, greatly reduced their losses.

Eleven soldiers were killed and fifteen were wounded, it was announced. Five civilians were killed and seven republicans were wounded.

While the fighting was at its height, a bomb exploded beside in Belfast and Londonderry. For the most part the demonstrations were confined to the stoning of trains but there was some shooting. Numerous minor injuries were reported.

Potlatch Flooded When Dam Breaks

POTLATCH, Idaho, March 21—The Potlatch mill and lumber yards are flooded today as the result of the collapse of the company's upper dam yesterday. The water covers the yard to a depth of five feet in some places. The flooding comes at a completely unexpected time.

Old Man Gloom Buried; Sunshine Week Follows

People need more courage and more faith in their ability to accomplish what they want, they must practice co-operation in every possible way and they must forget "sore spots" if the burial service that were held for Old Man Gloom Saturday afternoon are to prove of permanent benefit, according to speakers who assisted in the obsequies that were held by the chamber of commerce for the aged wiseacre.

A procession led by the Twin Falls high school band, accompanied by the official band of the Blue Triangle club, special speakers and music by the Camp club of the high school were scenes of the ceremonies that attended the burial of the venerable gentleman who has been banished from Twin Falls permanently after having made his presence felt during the last few months.

The procession, which formed at the high school, marched to the corner of Main and Shoshone where the solemn exercises were held. E. Wright, chairman of the civic bureau of the chamber of commerce, under whose direction the event was given, introduced the speakers, who were Rev. H. H. Young, Rev. F. L. White and J. A. Crom.

The need of co-operation between the business life of the city and the agricultural interests of the community was stressed by the speakers. The necessity of securing manufacturing institutions to make use of the products grown here was mentioned by Rev. White, and in this connection he called attention to the practice followed in Idaho where starch factories have sprung up in the manufacture of starch. The introduction of some such branches of industry here would assist materially in stabilizing conditions, the speaker declared.

Another means of cooperation was mentioned by Rev. Young who suggested to the big audience that it would be an excellent practice to substitute local merchants for "Roe Scarbuck" or "Monkey Ward" in buying merchandise.

A loss of our usual nerve and courage was the chief reason given by J. A. Crom why Mr. Gloom Gloom has been able to make inroads on our morale. Along with the PACIFISM the matter of prices that has followed the war, the speaker suggested that people have lost some of the courage that was such a noticeable characteristic during war-time periods when every effort was being bent toward a realization of victory.

"One time on the farm I had a cayuse that had a running sore on his jaw," said the speaker, and this cayuse wouldn't let any of us get near him. One day I told the boys that we would rope the horse and make an examination of that jaw.

"We did, and when we cut into the jaw, we found a big silver in the flesh. I cut it out, and the wound healed nicely. Now, something in my eye looking at things one reason why we won't let anybody but gloom near us is that we all of us have too many silvers in our jaws. Wouldn't it be an excellent idea for us to cut the silvers out, and let the old sores heal?"

Music that aided in the exercises was a parody sung by the high school students, "Farewell to Gloom."

After the burial of the gloomy gentleman, Sunshine Week was officially ushered in this morning, and it is probable that anyone caught discounting global or pessimism will run a risk of being mobbed by the officials.

SEE NEED TO REVISE RATE PROVISIONS

If Supreme Court Decision Is Unfavorable Each Law to Require Fixing.

WASHINGTON, March 21—A loss of the rate making provisions of the Esch-Cummins railroad law probably will be forced on the new congress, railroad experts here believed today.

Just what this revision is to be will depend upon the decision of the supreme court in a case brought by the state railroad commissions of Wisconsin and forty-two other states which attacks the constitutionality of the rate provisions of the present law.

The decision will determine whether congress can give the interstate commerce commission power to fix intrastate rates.

The commission claims such a power is valid while the states claim it infringes their sovereign rights.

The commission accordingly during the last nine months has increased intrastate rates over the protests of state commissions. In case this action is not upheld, rate commissions will be reduced in many states making radical changes necessary in the federal commission's plan of rate making.

Should the rates be upheld, railroad leaders in congress will propose that the state railroad commissions be made agencies of the federal commission. The state commissions would be empowered to initiate into strictly intrastate rate controversies and make recommendations to the federal commission. Unless some legislation along this line is passed after a decision favorable to the federal commission, state railroad commissions probably would die of nothing to do.

Spring Arrives Today And Finds Varying Weather Scenes In Ebbing Winter Wake

ST. LOUIS, March 21—Another harbinger of spring this morning was proof that the woman is usurping the male. Miss Spring made her debut today with a blustering wind and drifting rain.

Mr. Winter, evidently, reluctant to see a gay lady with a summer wardrobe in the offing, put on a cold, gloomy face.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 21—A dozen or more 1920 straw hats greeted official spring here today. But when the sun came out, official spring. Exactly 14,893 automobiles were picnickers into the country. Mercury reached 78 degrees. The state farmers failed to buy gas Saturday.

CHICAGO, March 21—Lady Spring has evidently got her dates mixed today when she showed into Chicago bringing the chilliest weather in several weeks.

Yesterday, the last day of winter, was the coldest March day, yesterday, reminded men and dainty diaphanous garb of women marked winter's exit.

KANSAS CITY, March 21—Official arrival of spring this morning was marked by the chilliest weather of a month. The birds sang long and loud in protest.

DALLAS, Tex., March 21—After Spring's return today was the first information Texas had that the thing had been away.

About ten more days will see many back yard gardens well matured and leaves in northern Texas, fully half was declared. The winter has been unusually mild.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 21—Buds and grass forced out by warm days shriveled today when a cold, storm came. The thermometer dropped to freezing. A high wind followed, however, followed rain and snow in the last two days.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21—Have no unofficially celebrated the arrival of spring with perfect weather month ago, San Francisco was in ATLANTA, March 21—As the delinquent calendar announced today that spring is here Georgians scoffed. The thermometer hovering around 70 degrees, the peach blooms and robin announced the very same thing more than a month ago.

"Spring, nothing!" said a Georgian overcoat today and said, "Suppose it, that's a cold wind."

AMARILLO, Tex., March 21—A howling wind from the north accompanied by a blinding snow and sleet storm and with the thermometer hovering around 22, ushered in the first day of spring over the Texas panhandle today.

Serious loss to livestock is feared by cattle men.

DENVER, March 21—Mild, temperate weather has prevailed here for three weeks and it greeted the first day of spring for Denver. Spring-like weather has brought out the mountain every Sunday.

COLO SPRINGS, Colo., March 21—Colorado Springs shivered today in the first day of spring according to the weather bureau here.

Yesterday, the last day of winter, Pueblo registered 70 degrees and yesterday 68 degrees, and today it was 32 degrees.

COURT DENIES RESTRAINING ORDER ASKED

Judge Ensign Defines Meter, Also City's Legal Position and Defends Statute

Legal controversy over the installation of water meters in the city of Twin Falls resulted in a victory for the city here yesterday when in written statement by District Judge Henry E. Ensign, who announced his decision, for attorneys in the case, which was argued January 14th before the Hailey jury, sitting on the bench here in place of Judge Dailey.

Judge Ensign declined to make permanent the temporary order restraining the city from installing water meters, as requested by applicants in the suit of Milford et al, vs. the City of Twin Falls. In passing on the case the court recognizes the authority of the city to install the meters at the expense of the consumer rather than at the expense of the city, over rules the property owners' contention of discrimination in the method of installing, and upholds the constitutionality of the state statute concerned, section 1, which is attacked by the plaintiffs for exempting municipal corporations from jurisdiction of the public utilities commission and retaining to cities power to fix rates.

Grounds for Refusal

In a brief opinion the court distinguishes between municipal corporations and other corporations, the former being created by the state for purposes of government, and private corporations, the latter being created by the state for purposes of profit. The city, under the court holding, has a property right in water system, created for its profit and only for public benefit, as an incident to municipal government. The cost to the consumer, when metered, is a necessary improvement, as the court judges, to be that case in Twin Falls, from the testimony presented.

Upheld Statute

The statute makes no specific reference to such an instance, the court notes, but it is clear that it covers the case in question. The constitutionality of the statute, which obligates the municipal corporation the power to fix rates, is upheld, the court says, in the case of Boise City vs. Boise City Irrigation and Water Co., 19 Idaho 602, and without question, the court says, the municipal corporation, in the case of Twin Falls, is a "public utility."

Charges that discrimination has been attempted by the city in proceeding to install meters in certain districts of the city, while leaving others without meters, the court says, is the comment that it doubtless takes time, in installing a complete system of meters and that under the provisions of the ordinance it is provided that "a general installation of meters shall be made."

Defines Meter Option

The primary object of the water, according to the court, is to secure a fair and proportionate charge for distribution of water, the court further broadly speaking, in statutes governing authority to install meters in water systems. Holding such provision of the Twin Falls ordinance constitutional, the court, in passing, says the ordinance does not make it mandatory on the consumer that meters be installed, but gives the option to the consumer, if he desires, to have the water supplied by the city without meters.

Concerning the contention of the corporation, that the ordinance is invalid because it does not provide for the installation of meters in all districts at the same time, the court says, the ordinance does not provide that meters shall be installed in all districts at the same time, in fact, it provides for the installation of meters in certain districts only, and that under the provisions of the ordinance it is provided that "a general installation of meters shall be made."

MARCH

In March the weather runs amick and springs compliments, great and small—the poorest month I ever struck, and I've been up against them all. It is a month of sudden whims: one day the grass starts from the soil, and then a blizzard comes and trims the whiskers from a stone megatyle. What he should wear no man can know, for he may shiver or perspire; there's sure to be three feet of snow if he puts on his spring attire. If he puts on his heavy fur, divided by the safest bet, a summer sephyr round him whirs, and he's reduced to grease and sweat. March seems to keep on with its jokes, so we go doddering along, and then, no matter what we do, he shows us that we did was wrong. I've seen all kinds of months go by, I've seen their characters unfold; and some were cool and some were dry, and some were hot, and others cold. I didn't know what we would expect, they were consistent in their ways, and so their conduct was correct, and drew from me a song of praise. But March in summer, winter, fall, and springtime, badly mixed, and blent; her lightning changes bore us all, and fill our hearts with discontent.

TO MAKE FACTORIES HUM:

The steady dwindling of our foreign trade is one reason why so many men are out of work. Other countries want our goods—billions of dollars' worth—just as much as we want their orders.

But they can't pay.

Bankers have wrestled with the problem. They've formed a $100,000,000 company to finance exports, but this will be slow in functioning and its possibilities are overestimated, according to big operators.

As a result of this situation, says John McHugh, New York banker, is that our foreign trade is going on a primitive barter basis.

The latter works like this: Cotton growers formed the Mississippi Delta Export and Trading company. Their first shipment is 50,000 bales of cotton. It is sent to an American agent in Hamburg. He distributes it to textile mills in Germany and Czecho-Slovakia. These mills turn the raw cotton into finished goods, a sat ifactory portion of which is sent back to Mississippi to pay for the cotton they received.

An American manufacturer of electrical equipment is shipping his wares to Europe and getting bristles and eggs in return. Another manufacturer swaps American pottery for Japanese silk.

This system of barter, or swapping, is taking us back a good many thousand years, to the days before money was invented as a medium of exchange.

It's very primitive, but export trade is an ultimate loss unless we eventually balance our books by getting back an equivalent amount of commodities in the form of imports.

Gold received in foreign trade is merely a note calling for reciprocal shipments of imports in the future.

You can't eat gold.

IS YOURS A "DUSTY" BIBLE?

In a recent motion picture occurs a trivial incident the significance of which is quickly grasped by everyone in the audience. The villain of the play reaches into his hook case for a Bible. Before opening it, he blows the dust from its edges. A mere gesture, but it is one of the best touches in the play. The audience understands and smiles appreciation. The incident holds the mirror up to a faithful thing in many homes—the dusty Bible.

Lying unnoticed on many shelves it offers in vain its wisdom, its consolation and, its romance, while the unaided hearts of the owners seek in vain for new thrills in the best sellers.

Who knows a greater story than the book of Ruth? And tragedy more sublime than the story of the crucifixion? And philosophy more wholesome than that of Ecclesiastes or of the Proverbs? Or poetry finer than the Song of Solomon?

The Bible has the wonderful quality of being always new, presenting unexplored depths of light at every reading. It is like one of those wonderful old attics of our childhood days where at every visit we would discover hidden away, something we had missed on our last visit.

"An active mind," said President John Quincy Adams, "cannot peruse a single chapter and lay the book aside to think, and take it up again tomorrow, without finding in it advice for her own conduct, which we may turn to useful account in the progress of our daily pilgrimage on earth."

The Woman He Married

By Jane Phelps

MOVING DAY

Chapter 21.

"Well, dear, did you have a good time today?" Dick greeted. Mildred Stowell had asked me to lunch at the Vanderbilt with her, and although we were to move the following day and I was jarribly busy, I had not been able to refuse her invitation.

"I surely did! She wanted me to go to her dressmaker's with her tomorrow—that smart place where they have manikins parade around to show the clothes. I never have been in such a place. She thought it strange.

"Gosh, you say, why. Those places make you pay for all that nonsense."

"It isn't nonsense, Dick. A woman just sees how a dress is going to look on her. And I was crazy to go, but of course I told her I couldn't on account of moving.

"Well, my allowance will be spoiled, but I love to have people like you realize how sweet you are, and I wish you could know you as you should be, but as I know you would like to be, so I stole unconsciously adding to my desire for pretty things by saying he would like to dress me as I should be dressed.

"The luncheon was a success," he added.

"Indeed it was!" I gave him an animated account of what we had done and who I saw while I prepared a simple dinner in the flat.

After we had cleared away and Junior was in bed, I again spoke of Mildred Stowell and her desire to have me with her.

"I feel ashamed because she is so stylish," I said.

"Ashamed of her? Queer reason," Dick teased.

"No, you know what I mean, ashamed of myself. Out in last at all necessary, Dick. If you would open accounts for me, and let me get things when I need them I could look nicely too.

"I am afraid—Nan, that you never can hope to compete with Mildred in dress. She is a very rich man's wife."

"I never expect to! All I ask is to be able to look so I won't be ashamed."

"Very well, dear. I shall have that raise soon, and then you can have more to spend."

"And in the meantime, what about giving me a charge account at Good-man's?"

"After we get moved, I'll think about it."

I said no more, delighted with the progress I had made. In time Dick would come to my way of thinking, he would see I was right, and that, as Clara said, there was no use going without things when the shops were so willing to give one time in which to pay for them.

"Dick looked very tired. I hadn't believed until my arrival equipped taking. I spoke of it and asked him if he felt ill.

"No—I am trying to make my work worth a good raise, dear. It's been hard plugging. But I'll get there—I've got to."

"Of course you will! I encouraged. "Now go to bed, and get a good night's sleep."

He followed my advice, while claiming—what I would buy for the new flat; wondering if I ever would be able to dress as Mrs. Stowell did; wishing Dick another vacation—more so we might have a motor car, and a lot of other foolish and seemingly impossible things.

The next morning the van was at the door at 8 o'clock. Dick was to remain home until noon and he hurried over to the new apartment while I took Junior over in his carriage. Clara Watson was to meet us there, for the baby had kept him all day. I was so happy that nothing mattered, although—Dick worried—for fear I would make myself ill trying to get straightened out with no help.

"If the working woman asked what they need, we'd shriek—have some one." I said. "But we want too many things for the apartment to pay them the wages they ask, you'd see," I said.

"What do you mean, dear? We can't buy any new furniture."

"Oh, I didn't mean furniture, but in another three days some things to do. Curtains won't fit the windows; and things like that." (Dick looked a little sobered; I don't worry about me. I'll take my time settling. I shan't get sick."

I had not intended mentioning that we needed anything, it had slipped out. Dick had a worried look on his face when he left, due, I was afraid, to my saying we would need to spend money for things to fix up the apartment. But I was so happy that I had succeeded in making him move that nothing worried me.

PITTSBURG MAN MAKES WONDERFUL STATEMENT

Declares Tanlac Enabled Him to Eat Better and Work Better. Has Gained Thirty Pounds.

HARRY M. ALLEN
Of Pittsburg, Pa.

"I consider Tanlac the grandest medicine in the world, for I have actually gained 30 pounds in weight since I began taking it. It has just simply filled me with new life and energy and for the first time in years I can sit down to the table and eat when the same well as any other people. In fact Tanlac has made me eat better, feel better, sleep better and work better—and I guess that's all a man can expect of a medicine.

"Before I took Tanlac, I was off 30 pounds in weight and was so badly run down I was hardly able to do my work. Nothing seemed to agree with me and my food invariably soured on my stomach. I would always have an uncomfortable bloated up feeling in my stomach, and although I tried many kinds of medicines I never got relief until I took Tanlac.

"I also suffered considerably at times from rheumatism, but this has all disappeared. In fact, this wonderful medicine has made a new man out of me in every way. I feel younger and can do as much work as in any days of my life.

"Of course, I am only too glad to give you my testimonial because I want other people who are suffering as I did to take this medicine and get relief."

The above remarkable statement was made by Harry M. Allen, residing at 1969 Saint Martin Street, Pittsburg, Pa., a well known employee of the Oliver Iron & Steel Company of that city. Mr. Allen is a well known member of the United Presbyterian church and is highly respected by all who know him.

Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy and Schramm-Hinkle Drug Co., in Hansen by O. J. Hallwood, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

HEART TROUBLE CAUSES DEATH

Mrs. Minnie Eggersglüss Died Sunday Afternoon, One Year After Husband's Death

Heart trouble, which came without warning, caused the death, yesterday afternoon at 3:45 of Mrs. Minnie Eggersglüss, widow of Fred Eggersglüss, at the family home 6 miles northwest of Twin Falls.

The death of Mrs. Eggersglüss followed almost exactly a year after the death of her husband, which claimed the attention of the public last March.

Mrs. Eggersglüss had been ailing for some time, the physician in charge of her husband's case, Dr. Fred Lee Sparks, being called to her home about a month ago. Her condition was not considered critical, however, and she was able to be up and around the house.

Yesterday afternoon she was sitting in the parlor, when she suddenly complained of a pain in her side and in her heart. She was dead in a few minutes before the attack came which proved fatal. She attended the services at the Lutheran church of which she was a member, during the morning.

Mrs. Eggersglüss was about 60 years of age. She was born in Germany and came to America when a young girl. She married Fred Eggersglüss in this country and they lived for many years in Wisconsin, where they owned a farm. They came to Twin Falls from Wisconsin about 15 years ago, and have been residents of this county since that time.

Mrs. Eggersglüss is survived by her husband, who is 70 years of age, and by the following children: Mrs. Minnie Ziemer, Twin Falls county; Mrs. Charles Hueneger, 561 Fourth avenue west, in charge of the undertaker P. J. Grossman; Hugo Eggersglüss, who is also in Twin Falls county; Fred Eggersglüss, who is in the Twin Falls county, and Mrs. Ernest Ziemer, who is also in Twin Falls county.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lutheran church, Rev. Mr. Ziemer officiating, and the remains will be taken to the Twin Falls cemetery.

WEDNESDAY SET FOR HEARINGS

Taxpayers Issue Orders Against School Board and City Council

Reports Contributed Generously to Fund

Cases in which the school board of Independent School District No. 1 and the City of Twin Falls are defendants were given hearings this morning in district court before Judge W. A. Babcock. The hearings were brought by taxpayers, on the ground that the committee of taxpayers in charge of the fund collected for the purpose of fighting these cases had not given the public a full accounting of the manner in which the money was spent. The school district board and the city attorney, to publish reports of their financial transactions, the school board letting the report of the school district clerk stand, and the city attorney having filed a report showing the expenditure of the fund, which was contributed by the taxpayers.

The cases were dismissed, the city attorney and the school board having filed motions to dismiss, the court sustaining the motions.

The taxpayers' committee had contributed generously to the fund, it was stated, and the cases were dismissed without prejudice to the taxpayers' committee to bring the cases in the future if they desire.

The cases were brought by Mrs. Ella Lanphere, Mrs. Ella McKibron and Mrs. Ella Hayes.

T. F. COUNTY SECOND CLASS

Information Received by Auditor Siggins From Boise Shows a Reduction

Information from Boise has been received by C. G. Siggins, county auditor, notifying him of the reclassification of counties in the state whereby Twin Falls county is reduced from a first to a second class county.

The change results from legislation at the recent session of the legislature and it will have the effect of cutting the salaries of county commissioners from $1,500 a year to $900. Bills will be paid monthly as at present, when the new ruling goes into effect, but in part will be allowed only once every three months.

In the changes made Ada and Bonner counties are made first class. The former county has a valuation of $10,000,000 and Bonner county is credited with a valuation of about $16,000,000. Bannock county which ties with Twin Falls for the second highest valuation in the state, at about $31,000,000, is placed in fourth place.

The information received from Boise by the Times-News was to the effect that the reclassification of counties in Idaho, which is thought to have caused the reclassification.

Two bills are said to have been introduced to make the change. The first one was introduced by Senator J. H. Sweet which was withdrawn. Then a bill was introduced by Senator Calistine Carl Miller in the house, and this measure passed.

A total saving of $1800 a year will be effected for the county in the matter of commissioners' salaries by reducing the county to the second class. The change will also reduce the salaries of commissioners from the necessity of being on the job every day in their office at the court house. There will be a loss, however, Chairman W. W. Parish said this morning, to the county, inasmuch as the county will be unable to get advantage of discounts on bills paid within thirty days under the new procedure which will make it legal to allow bills only at quarterly intervals instead of every thirty days.

The change will go into effect May 1.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1912 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered so only those who have it know, for more than three years. I tried nearly every remedy I had heard of, received but only temporary relief. Finally I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, and it never failed to bring them relief. I feel it my duty to make this statement that some suffering soul may benefit by it. Let me know if you want more information, or enclosing $1 in stamps or cash you may send the price of it, which is my last endeavor, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. I no longer need relief as this cured me. Address, Mrs. M. Summers, Box 342, Marshfield, Mo.

Old Licenses Cause Arrests

POCATELLO.—Thirteen of twenty-two auto drivers arrested Wednesday by police officers on the charge of operating cars with 1920 license plates, were dismissed last night by Police Judge M. H. Lockhart when it was proved that the individuals applied for licenses on March 15th. Three drivers paid fines of $5, one forfeited a $5 bond and five will appear in court this evening. The case against the Northwestern Investment company for operating one of the jitneys with license plates that belonged to another party, will come before Judge Lockhart this evening.

They Had Tair Stillons

HURLEY.—Russell Bullock of Arequia, and Sam Shaffer of Paul, were arrested Friday night about $30 three miles east of Hurley on the highway. Ten gallons of whisky were found in their possession. The men were in Shaffer's car, but Bullock said the whiskey was his. Both gave bonds and their preliminary was set for Monday. Shaffer asked for a continuance of his, but Bullock waived his and is ready to plead guilty.

Actor Dies on Tour.

ELKO, Nev.—Albert Rudolph Phyle, the violinist, who was traveling with a vaudeville show touring the country which played at this place on the evening of February 18th, was stricken with a strange malady in the nature of a growth in his throat, which was gradually choking him. He finished his engagement for the evening, with much difficulty, and at the conclusion of the evening's performance, was taken to the Shaw hospital, where temporary relief was given, and the next day was operated on for the removal of the unnatural growth. The operation was successful, and Mr. Phyle was fast recovering his usual health, but was still very weak. He was advised by his physician to be moderate in his eating, and not to be too active as to exercise, but disregarding the advice given, he over-exerted himself, which caused acute dilation of the heart, resulting in sudden death on February 28th. His remains were taken in charge by the local undertaker, and his friends notified. He was a member of the Actors Guild of America, having an office in New York City. This fund contributed an amount sufficient to give his remains a decent burial and the funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. yesterday from the Keyser funeral chapel and the burial was in the city cemetery on the hill.

Organize to Protect Game

WALLACE.—Considerable interest is being manifested in the meeting of sportsmen Monday, March 7, to form a sportsmen's organization for the county. The sporting enthusiasts of the district are beginning to realize that both fishing and hunting are gradually getting poorer in Shoshone county. At the initial meeting called by President E. R. Denny and Secretary Clarke of the Shoshone Hotel and Club, a large representation was present from both the Wallace Gun club and the Wallace Rifle club.

Discussion revealed a wholesale slaughter of beaver and deer both in and out of season. The sportsmen realize that Shoshone county should be a game paradise and are determined to do all in their power to build up both fish and game preserves.

E. C. Pulaski, forest ranger, will be in attendance Monday night and will explain the co-operation of the forestry service in the matter. Interested persons from all over the county are urged to be present.

WASHINGTON—The buyers' strike, the nation wides business depression, and reduced earnings of workers and professional men in 1920 will cost the government approximately $1,000,000,000 in reduced tax payments this year it was indicated here today in early reports to the treasury from the first installments of the income and excess profits tax payment of March 15.

The reports indicate that the total collections this year from income and excess profits tax will total about $2,500,000,000 when the last installment is paid December 15. Last year the four installments yielded approximately $3,500,000,000.

Payments of the income and excess profits tax this month probably will not run higher than $700,000,000. In March last year the total was $918,000,000.

The yield from practically all sources is falling off.

In the face of these falling returns Secretary of the Treasury Mellon must find means to pay rapidly increasing obligations of the government. Billions of the floating debt is maturing this year. In addition, the spring of 1922 will bring to maturity approximately $1,000,000,000 worth of Victory notes and the war saving securities.

Mellon is believed certain to recommend abolition of the excess profits tax.

OH YES, JOKE

OAKLAND, Calif., March 21—The joke seemed today to be on the April moon.

For Juanita Miller, late daughter of Joaquin Miller, last poet of the Sierras, has let it leak out that although she announced she was going to be married to Jack Miller, her pick of love, in the full pf the April moon, the real truth is that the December moon has claimed the honor. Juanita and Jack were married, she said, about Christmas time.

But instead of a highly romantic affair with an altar and a "surprise secretive" and all of that, it was about prosaic—a "trial marriage bond," a justice of the peace and that's about all.

But Juanita promises the April moon isn't to be entirely overlooked, and there is to be real marriage ceremony one at the Miller house on "the Heights," April 22.

MORRIS HANGING APPEALED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 21—William Henry Norris, 17, will not hang at San Quentin "Good Friday" for the killing of City Marshal Hieres of Redding, Calif.

Martin A. Walsh, Sacramento attorney, is on his way to the prison today with a court order, signed by Superior Judge C. C. Bunker, granting a stay of execution until the appeal can be made to the supreme court.

Judge Bunker granted the stay following his refusal to grant a new trial to the youth whose friends allege he was intimidated into entering a plea of guilty and deprived of his rights.

Blood-Iron Phosphate Helps Thin Folks to Get Strong and Fat

People who have tried it say that one of the quickest and surest ways to which those who are weak, thin, nervous and run down can grow strong and put on pounds of solid flesh, have flesh like iron, is to take a tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal. This is doubtless due to the fact that Nature first builds Blood-Iron Phosphate quickly builds up depleted nervous energy and at the same time supplies the iron necessary to make rich, red, strength-building blood. If you are weak, thin, nervous or lacking in energy or suffer from nervousness and depression, go to Schramm-Johnson Drug Store, or any other good druggist and get enough Blood-Iron Phosphate to last two weeks and take as directed. If at the end of two weeks you don't feel a hundred per cent better and stronger in every way satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Fair isn't it? Better try it today.

Youngest Cabinet Hostess.

MISS ALISA MELLON

The youngest of the new cabinet hostesses is Miss Alisa Mellon. She is 18 years old and will not only be a cabinet debutante during her first season in Washington, but will act as hostess for her father, Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury.

Invitations were issued today by the American Legion for a brilliant dancing party announced for the evening of all Fools' day. From all evidence to be observed it will be among the season's social offerings, and "no fooling." The legion and its auxiliary will collaborate in the affair, which will be of the utmost informality. Mrs. Merlin Dailey, chairman of the legion entertainment committee has pursued it, everything in the way of dress will be permissable, "from civies down to dress suits." It will be a program dance, opening with a grand march at nine o'clock. At completion of the program dances there will be a special feature dance, alone worth the price of admission, Mr. Dailey says. Something good in the way of decorations is in view with Mrs. Milton Peck in charge of the committee. Ralph Dirk is chairman of the invitation committee and Jack Thorpe is head of the program committee. Mrs. Carl DeLong is chairman of the women's auxiliary committee which will have charge of the refreshments and assist in other details. Tickets for the affair will be on sale at the Majestic later in the present week, the invitations issued today to be presented in purchasing the tickets.

The United Verde and the Daisy mines, the two richest copper producers in the world, were used as locations.

Eugene Manlove Rhodes, author of the story, is not only famous as a writer, but was for 20 years a cowboy and range rider.

NEW YORK, March 21—Stocks were generally higher today in a fairly bullish feeling rather trading at the opening of the New York stock exchange today.

Many notes showed a feeling that the selling movement had gone as far as practicable, a highly favorable report from the government was a factor in the opening. There was some belief also that call money would continue available.

One stock which failed to go up with the others was McKeen Petroleum, which opened 3 off at 13¾ and quickly dropped to 12¾, other oils were firm, California Petroleum holding above 42.

Pacific Steel was higher. General Asphalt in which a pool is now active, opened with a block of 7000 shares from 62¾ to 62, against Saturday's close of 62½.

Motors continued to lead the market during the afternoon session and Mexican Petroleum, a new high for the year above 70. Pierce Arrow made 3½, against its low of 15 in December. Tire stocks went up with motors. The renewed rate on call January 1920.

Iowa Town Stirred Over Mail Robbery

CENTERVILLE, Ia., March 21—Postal authorities and police today were searching for unknown persons who late Saturday stole a registered mail sack, estimated by reliable sources to contain $45,000 in cash, bonds and securities from a Des Moines bank here. Postoffice officials refused to confirm the figure, but admitted the possibility that the loot might total that amount.

George Richey, a taxi driver, delivered the sack to the postoffice at 5:15 p. m. Saturday, leaving it near the postoffice. When Hugh Watchman O'Hara came on duty at 10 o'clock the bag was gone.

Authorities said today they possessed no clues to the identity of the robbers.

Farmers Form A Giant Wheat Pool

Elimination of Middleman Is the Object of Kansas Man Who Leads Move.

HUTCHINSON, Kas., March 21.—The quotas fixed by the National Wheat Growers' association for the various wheat states to pledge to the producers' pool are:

	Bushels
Kansas	51,000,000
North Dakota	20,000,000
Nebraska	11,000,000
Oklahoma	7,000,000
Texas	7,000,000
Colorado	4,000,000

This minimums for other states will be determined later.

A. C. BAILEY, LEADER OF WHEAT POOL, HIS HOPE AND AN ILLUSTRATION OF WHAT HE EXPECTS TO ACCOMPLISH

North Dakota and South Dakota, Minnesota, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado—and the marketing of it through a central agency is the goal of the National Wheat Growers' Association.

Kansas will lead the way with a pool of 51,000,000 bushels said A. C. Bailey of Kinsley, chairman of the committee of twenty-one, in the main in charge.

The novel scheme of co-operative farming and marketing is only the start of a world movement, Bailey says for Canada is to be invited to the initial meeting of the growers in Harrisburg in May; after that Argentina will be asked to get in.

"There will be committees similar to the one in Kansas in each of the wheat states and in the soft wheat belt, in Missouri to put on a drive for the wheat pooling contract.

"After that a national board will be organized, with power to establish marketing agencies for the crop.

"With the control of the supply, we hope through the national central marketing agency, to supply the market on a basis which will stabilize the price for the year round and give the farmer a chance to realize a return which will justify him in producing wheat," says Bailey.

"In Kansas, where we will pool 51,000,000 bushels, he continued, "we have divided the state into 20 districts and assigned a committeeman to each of them. They take in an area of from ten to five counties. Altogether, 300 men are at work for us in the state.

"Our educational end of the drive is being conducted through the office of the National Wheat Growers' Association.

"Leaders just returned from an association meeting at Denver, Colo. The growers there assured me that they would pool 17,000,000 bushels of wheat, in spite of the fact that Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas, and have been assured that the pool can be accomplished.

"Farmers, business men and bankers are enthusiastic about the scheme. Only one man opposed it. He was a banker, who, it afterwards learned owned stock in a company having 16 line elevators."

Bailey was selected as chairman of the committee of Twenty-one because, he said, of the success of the million or more bushels which drew up the constitution of the wheat growers' association, because of his work in the association, and because he was one of the men who originally organized the Kansas Co-operative Grain Dealers' Association.

"The reason Farmer co-operative movements heretofore have failed," says Bailey, "is that they have not gone beyond the local shipping point in their marketing plans.

"The co-operative grain associations now in operation of terminal markets, through which some farmers are satisfied their grain are subject to the humiliation of speculation.

"The national Wheat Growers' Association proposes to take wheat from the local shipper and put it in the hands of the miller and exporter over the entire world, just as they need it.

"The success of this movement depends entirely on the farmer giving the movement hearty support.

"Our plan of marketing will eliminate speculation, minimize fluctuations in price, and tend to stabilize the price of wheat throughout the year. It should have the same effect on flour."

Asked for his opinion of the Chicago Board of Trade, Bailey said:

"I am not convinced that the exchange should cease to exist, but I am opposed to its present method of operation. The buying and selling of futures should cease. A simple exchange would give good service. The practice of selling on margins is an evil one."

Bailey, is a farmer, tall, deeply tanned, with a sharp cut face. His gray eyes and squinting nose give him an air of keenness which is verified by his clarity of speech.

He has farmed in four states—Pennsylvania, where he was born on a farm near Middleburg, 43 years ago; Iowa, where he was in a bank; Colorado, in the irrigation district, where he grew to manhood, and western Kansas, where he has grown from a renter to a prosperous rancher and big farmer.

He is a college graduate—holding a diploma from the normal department of the Central Normal College in Great Bend. He also took a business course there and taught in the school after graduating.

Bailey is married and the father of three boys; all of whom plan to be farmers. He advocates good roads and good schools as necessary for rural life.

He farmed 23 years and now owns and operates a cattle ranch near Syracuse, Kan., of 2,000 acres and a half-section of irrigated land near Kinsley. He has farmed for the past 10 years an average of 1500 acres annually, though leading 10,000 acres in 1920 acres of wheat and the remainder in alfalfa and feed crops.

He was named by the federal land bank of Wichita to handle the wheat loans in his district, and was a member of the International Farm Congress when the war-price of wheat was fixed.

GARDNER IS TICKED

WASHINGTON, March 21—President Harding has decided to appoint ex-Congressman Washington Gardner of Michigan commissioner of navigation, according to information he is understood to have given some of his visitors today.

TILLING THE SOIL

Competition for individual prestige and advancement is less keen in agriculture than in other industries.

High wages paid in the city are never supplemented, with a statement concerning the liability side of the worker's personal ledger.

The net balance is the only fair way to compare the wage of the city and the agriculture employe.

No activity offers the opportunity for personal development as does agriculture.

The successful farmer is independent versatile, self-reliant, adaptable; he must be a naturalist and a business man.

Agriculture offers opportunities for the soils expert, the plant doctor, health expert and specialists in pruning, spraying, forestry farm machinery, recreation and markets.

Among Pig Club Members

The months of March and April are very anxious and interesting months for the boys who are in the Swine club work as nearly all of the sows owned by the members will farrow during these months.

Alfred Strenk is the owner of Queen, which is a pure bred registered Poltimier gilt secured from among the best individuals in Mr. Hambo's tamworth herd, farrowed March 5th. She has eleven fine young pigs. This litter is sired by Orion Joe who won fame on the show circuit last fall and bids fair to be one of the greatest Duroc boards that the Northwest has ever seen. Needless to say, Alfred is happy.

Lester Hiller is the owner of Queen of Aces 2nd, which is one of the top Duroc sows in the herd of Mr. Felton of Filer. This sow farrowed on March 9, and has a litter of nine fine pigs. These pigs are sired by Mr. Norman, which carries the most number of lines of breeding. Lester is also the owner of a pure Scotch Shorthorn cow and pure Scotch Shorthorn colt.

Clifford Caldwell, who won national fame with his Duroc pigs last fall is the owner of Valley Lady which is one of the finest type gilts in the Northwest. Her litter is sired by King which is a Big Bone Giant boar. This gilt is from the famous herd of L. S. Otto of Filer.

Wm. Clay Smith Jr. is the owner of Sensation Model, a Sensation Giantess gilt. She will farrow on March 20th. Her litter is sired by King, a Big Bone Giant boar.

STUDY SUPPLY OF SODA ASH

Denver Engineers Will Make Tests of Alkali Lake Bed in Oregon This Summer.

In addition to the engineering work that will be done by H. T. Henderson and Son, Denver engineers, on the system of the Murtaugh Irrigating district this summer, another project of different character will be investigated in Oregon.

The Oregon work will consist of the making of estimates as to the amount of soda—sodium carbonate—contained in the lake bed of Alkali Lake in Lake county, Oregon.

The property is controlled by the Harriman group of interests in whose possession it has been since about 1912 when the old lake site was transferred by a big corporation. It was thought at this time that the Harriman interests would soon put a pathway through near the lake bed which suffer for a sufficient time, has been made, and during this summer, the Henderson engineers will make tests to ascertain the approximate amount of soda contained in the bed. If their estimates show that soda is present in sufficient quantity to make the investment a paying one, the railroad will build a spur plant for the handling of the soda will be constructed.

Rumors estimates made by New York and San Francisco engineers, working in conjunction are that the lake contains the equivalent of approximately 20,000,000 tons of soda, and between 500 and 600 acres of land is included in the bed, and a plant of the size which the corporation expects to install would require about three hundred years to exhaust the supply.

The soda ash is used extensively in manufacturing processes, and it can be converted into bicarbonate of soda and used for cooking purposes. This branch of the industry does not offer as many inducements to the investor as the use of the product for manufacturing purposes, according to the engineer.

Harding Appoints Democrat to High Commission Post

RECOMMEND MARTIN

WASHINGTON, March 21—Appointment of William Wilson, former secretary of labor, from the international high commission, has reached President Harding and will be accepted, it was announced at the White House today.

Obadiah Gardner, democrat, who resigned from the commission to make room for Wilson probably will be reappointed because of his familiarity with the work of the commission.

It was explained Wilson's resignation was not requested but Harding called him to the White House and explained the situation which brought the offer to resign.

WASHINGTON, March 21—Adjutant General C. C. Martin of Kansas, who has been recommended by 35 governors for appointment as head of the militia bureau held a brief conference with President Harding today. The appointment has been under consideration by Secretary of War Weeks, but no decision has been reached, it was said.
