EXPLOSION IN CHICAGO ROCKS CITY—KILLS 10

Little Girl Scene of Many Fatalities and Shakes Up Property Owners

CHICAGO, March 29.—Four buildings in the Will Paper company, which was established today, was blown up with a loss of sixteen lives, it was discovered in the ruins of the building, and another is still missing. The explosion was caused by a gas leak, it was discovered.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Ten were killed and hundreds were injured when a gas tank in the heart of Chicago's tenement district exploded this afternoon, fire department officials and authorities to whom the blast, starred in the paper warehouse of Joseph Will & Company, 1000 Ashland avenue, in a mile-square solid estimated. This increase the loss of several buildings and homes in the vicinity that were wrecked. One hundred families were made homeless.

The explosion was felt for miles in the city and was heard in the suburbs. Many of the dwellings in the vicinity of the explosion were shaken from their foundations and windows were shattered. Many persons were cut by flying glass.

Only a few of the mangled bodies found in the ruins have been identified. Many persons are reported missing and it is believed that the dead will be found among the debris.

The explosion became an alarm of fire and the entire fire department of the city was called to the scene. Ambulances and patrol wagons were sent to the scene from all parts of the city. The injured were taken to the hospitals in the city. Many persons were injured by the explosion and were taken to their homes in ambulances and patrol wagons. Many persons were forced to flee from their homes in the vicinity of the explosion, it was reported. Many persons were injured by the explosion.

Little Girl Among Dead

Among the dead is a little girl, who was standing in the vicinity of the explosion when it occurred. The girl was hurled against a wall and her body was found in the ruins of the building. The girl was taken to the morgue.

John Burroughs, Famous Naturalist, Dies Today

JOHN BURROUGHS

Passes Away While on Train En Route From California to Home in East.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The death of John Burroughs today was pointed to by the superstitious as bearing out the old belief that great men die at the end of a cycle of three. Champ Clark died recently, Mark Twain followed, and now John Burroughs, famous naturalist, dies today.

NEW YORK, March 29.—John Burroughs, famous naturalist, died at two o'clock today on a train on which he was en route from California to his home at West Park, N. Y., according to a telegram received by Dr. Walter Gray, from here.

The telegram was sent from Buffalo, N. Y., by Dr. Clara Barrus, the naturalist's secretary, and indicated that the famous naturalist died shortly before the train reached that city.

Dr. Crump said the body would be brought on to Poughkeepsie immediately, through here, where he lived for years, is on the opposite side of the Hudson, a short distance from Poughkeepsie. Friends and relatives will meet the body at Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Crump's information was that Burroughs, who spent the winter in Pasadena, Calif., became ill after his train left Chicago on the eastward journey. A telegram was sent to Dr. Crump by Dr. Barrus requesting him to meet Burroughs at Poughkeepsie.

When Dr. Crump was making preparations to start for Poughkeepsie, his second message arrived, advising him that the author had died. Burroughs had planned to celebrate his 84th birthday with Henry Ford, U. S. Thomas and Thomas A. Edison, who are his intimate friends, on the coast with his son, in May.

The event was to have taken place at his home in Riverside Park, near Poughkeepsie.

Burroughs, death removes from American life its last living naturalist and one of its most prominent poets, and critics.

Of all the naturalists in America, he was the unconventional in writing and, it is said, appealed to the general reader more than any other of his profession.

Burroughs, a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt and the two other men named, was known throughout the world for his nature writings. He was a law partner in the open air summers camping with Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford.

Burroughs was born April 3, 1837, near Roxbury, N. Y., on a farm. He was a farm boy, early fond of the fields and woods. At the age of fourteen he began writing essays and poems and began to contribute to the Atlantic Monthly. After graduating from Cooperstown Seminary he taught school for eight or nine years. In 1863 he married Ursula North, daughter of the young man, and he became an examination bureau in the Treasury department in 1864. He was a clerk in the department of the Interior in 1873. Concert Tour By Airplane

Mrs. Florence Parbury, author, singer and musician plans to fly from city to city to give her own compositions of "impromptu music." Bits came from London for the tour and to gather material for her next book, "Atmashpering in America."

The Past Matrons club will hold a meeting with Mrs. H. C. Dickerson, 219 Walnut avenue, next Friday evening, April 1.

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion will meet at the home of Mrs. H. W. Wilson, 210 Eighth avenue north tonight to make flowers for the coming legion dance.

The Chautauqua Circle was delightfully entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. E. H. Gafes on four avenue north. A pleasant evening of pinochle followed the usual study lesson. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

The Episcopal Guild will meet on Thursday evening at Parish hall to complete arrangements for their bazaar which will be conducted Saturday. All persons having finished articles for this affair are requested to bring them to the meeting Thursday.

The Star social club met yesterday with the home of Mrs. Cora Johnson. Mrs. Tankins, Mrs. O. W. Wilburn and Mrs. Bess Reynolds were assistant hostesses. Plans were made for a cooked sale to be conducted next Saturday and a dance to be given in the near future. After a pleasant social afternoon refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned to meet next time at the home of Mrs. Homer Craven, April 14.

Buhl to Observe "Clean-up" Week

"Clean-up" week will be observed by Buhl from April 4 to 11, according to a movement on foot in which the city administration and the Buhl chamber of commerce are concerned.

An admonition to use "elbow grease" shovels, brooms and plenty of paint and whitewash has been sent to residents of the city in an effort to secure the cooperation of everyone in removing the waste accumulation of the winter months.

Second Hand Coffin For Sale.

"Now that I have been resurrected from the grave to which my stomach trouble was fast leading me and for which event I had made preparations, even to having bought my coffin, Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has made a new man of me and I feel as good as ever in my life, after having been at the point of death half a dozen times with acute indigestion and colitattacks." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Adv.

High School Notes

The Commercial club and the Agriculture club will hold a joint meeting at 8 o'clock this evening. Following the program a social entertainment will be given. The most attractive feature of the refreshments will be ice cream, manufactured by the Agriculture club, under the supervision of Mr. Cratirce.

The Junior class voted decisively to hold the Junior "prom," the big social event of the season given for the Seniors, outside of the high school building.

Yesterday the trackmen and all the baseball candidates had a practice period at Lincoln field.

PARISH GIVES RESIGNATION

To Become Effective April 11; A. J. Requa Appointed in Place of Alvord

The resignation of Chairman W. W. Parish from the board of the Twin Falls school board at its meeting last evening, accompanied by a statement that it was presented in the interests of harmony for the benefit of the approaching school fund election. The resignation, Parish's statement said, will take effect at the next regular meeting of the board, April 11th. The board last evening tabled the resignation without action.

The resignation of D. A. Alvord, appointed last week to fill a vacancy on the board was accepted last night and A. J. Requa was appointed to his place by a vote of 3 to 2 over W. H. Sager. Sager was supported by Dunlap and Mrs. Scott, Requa receiving the votes of Clark, Ilice and Parish. Requa was immediately sworn in.

In refusing a request by C. D. Thomas and C. A. Robinson, who appeared before the board to ask that Parish make his resignation effective at once, Parish declined on the ground that he would "see the election through," his resignation being before the board, to become effective April 11, three days following the school election. The election was changed from April 6 to April 9, because of delay in publishing election notices, which must appear for a specified time before the election is held.

Parish's resignation, as read to the board, follows:

To the Board of Trustees of Independent School District No. 1:

Knowing that there exists a feeling of unrest in the minds of those interested in our schools, relating to the financial situation, and believing that this feeling is being encouraged by some, through personal and selfish motives, to the detriment of the schools, on account of my position on the board, and being convinced that my resignation will stabilize matters to such an extent that our schools may be granted immediate relief, I respectfully submit my resignation as a member of the board of trustees of Independent School District No. 1. Same to take effect at the regular board meeting in April.

Very Respectfully,
W. W. PARISH.

Cope Will Lecture Here This Evening

Herbert Leon Cope, noted humorist, will speak tonight at the high school. His number is one of the offerings of the program that has been presented here during the season by the Eilson-White lyceum bureau under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club.

Cope delivered his lectures in many camps during the war period, and he won a reputation with the soldiers. The program he will give is dubbed "Kill the Blues Cope." The program will start at 8 o'clock.

IDAHO VULCANIZING WORKS HAS NOT GONE BANKRUPT

A few days ago a notice appeared in The Times to the effect that the Idaho Vulcanizing and Battery Works had gone into bankruptcy. The name being similar to the Idaho Vulcanizing Works located at 207 Shoshone south led many to believe that the latter concern was the one that had suffered reverses.

We wish to correct this impression by saying that the Idaho Vulcanizing Works is still in business and is likely to continue in business for a long time to come.

BUILD NOW

High costs of materials and labor caused almost a complete cessation of building during the last three years. Today conditions are different. Prices have come down considerably—money is a bit freer and the incentive to build is now greater.

If you're planning a factory, an apartment building, or your own home, now is the time to get busy, for Spring is here and we believe that this is the opportune time.

Let us talk it over with you. We can give you valuable information.

Home Lumber & Coal Co.

In collecting your figures for the building of your proposed new bungalow, consult us in regard to your electrical work. We will gladly give you figures covering your requirements and possibly we might be of some service to you in planning the electrical work. Such as convenient outlets, etc.

We employ only competent, skilled electricians and use only the best of approved materials.

Our display of electrical fixtures will show you an appropriate fixture or bracket for each room.

T. C. Bemiller Says:

It certainly is a fine feeling to be away from Twin Falls a few years and come back and have people say the following things:

One lady on Second avenue east said: "That was a good job of painting you did for us. It has stood over nine years and the floors in the house are fine. They have not been repainted in nine years."

One lady on Eighth avenue north said: "You certainly are clean about your kalsomining. You are the cleanest painter around the house I ever saw."

A man on Second avenue north said: "Your paper hanging is satisfactory and I shall hire you every time a painter I shall hire before."

A business man on Main avenue said: "If anybody thinks you are a slacker and you need a recommendation, send them to me."

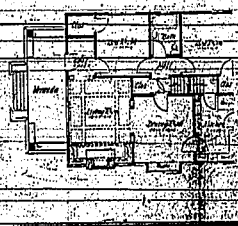
Art and Economy In Home Building

A Dear Little Cottage



Complete, convenient, artistic, and much more pretentious looking than it really is! The exterior is really one of the cleverest designs. The total size of the house is 32x40 not including the 7 foot porch.

It is a typical, up-to-date bungalow model in every respect.

Entrance leads directly into living room, 12x16 feet. Dining room is separated from living room by large arch so that the make practically one room. The bath room (which has nice linen closet) opens off living and bedroom.

A dear little four-room cottage.

A Hint from Mother Nature to Property Owners

Spring is the time to build and the time to dress up, for by building in the early spring you will be able to get moved into your new home in plenty of time to enjoy the new lawn and garden.

Now if you are already enlisted with the many happy property owners it is very likely that the firms represented on this page can be of service to you for they are experienced in their line, as the satisfactory results on other jobs they have done will prove.

YOU'VE BEEN INTENDING FOR SOME TIME TO INSTALL A MODERN HEATING PLANT IN YOUR HOME.

Now is the Time to do it.

THE FRONT RANK FURNACE

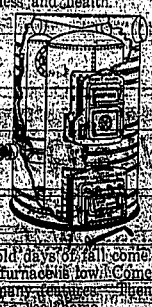
is the right furnace, if you want economy, ease of operation, comfort, cleanliness and health.

The Front rank furnaces are scientifically built, they give more warmth, comfort and economy with less time and attention.

If you are interested in a furnace, the springtime is a good time to have it done while you are doing your spring cleaning and then the fuss is over and it is then on the job when first cold days of fall come.

The cost of installing this furnace is low. Come in and let us show you its many features. Then prepare to make your home a real home.

BRIZEE METAL WORKS



Are You Going to Build

Well, here are a few little things that I would like to suggest:

Built in cabinets, buffets, French doors, window seats and colonnades go a long way toward giving the home a homey atmosphere.

An ice box is always needed in the summer. We are in a position to make you an ice box that will save you ice and keep your delicacies fresh and wholesome.

For screens, sash and door work, store fronts, Storage plants and meat counters, glass fronts or anything made from glass we feel that it will pay you to get our prices.

REAL STUFF.

Grows tired of all the modern books, in which sex stuff prevails; I want rod-bending and cassocks, I'll read some old Greek tales. The authors of a bygone time were that bit the spot, but modern authorship's a crime, and modern books are rot. I took a Cooper story then—a "Leather-stocking" yarn; the sign of it is some old ancestral barn; there I would sit, among the hay, when I was but a child, and roamed with Cooper far away, in forest dark and wild. But now I turned the pages o'er, and I declared it was weary stuff; I found each character a bore, a preacher or disguise. The paleface hero strove to teach a lesson worth our while; the noble red man paused to preach in every forest aisle. The lovely damsels rode around on palfreys black and white, and preached a while where'er they found an audience in sight. The productless captive didn't screech when burning at the stake; he merely saw a chance to preach, and windy maxims make. I read the book an hour or two, then threw it on the floor, and said, "Great, Scott! Can it be true that once it didn't bore? And was I ever young enough to think that story fine? And did I ever read such stuff, and thrill all up my spine?"

SOVIET BUTCHERY.

Stories of terrorism from Russia have long been so numerous and frequent as to make on the minds of the commonplace reader a belief that it always is impossible to suppress shudders at cold-blooded slaughter of human beings no less when it is done by "proletarian" orders to subdue an opposing faction of the people, than when reading of the ruthlessness of the police under the old czardom. The proletarian Trotsky, in dealing with the rebels at Kronstadt, showed himself an iron dictator capable of cold-bloodedness the equal of that exhibited by some of the notorious royal butchers. Of more than 3,000 taken prisoner, Trotsky had all the military and civil leaders "put out of the way." No mild, pacifying measures to be taken; death for all who stir up commotion against the soviet leaders.

From the standpoint of iron government the practice of killing off leaders of revolt may be best, but the point is that the Lenine-Trotsky "proletarian rule" promised to be different; it would deal so fairly and so gently with the people that they would recover from the hardships suffered under the czar. With the overthrow of the Romanoff dynasty, humanity everywhere hoped that the dream of a better day for Russia was to be realized. Let it be devoutly hoped that, although delayed, it still will come, and before long.

Meanwhile, it cannot be overlooked that in cold-bloodedness the new czars continue to emulate the old.

A WELCOME ADDITION.

It is a healthy sign to see the service men taking an active interest in politics. Though their own great organization has planted the lofty ideal of political neutrality, it of course does not and should not hinder the individual service man from functioning as a citizen.

Under these circumstances the young men's "city manager" ticket for the coming city election will guide-front the question of support, be welcomed in all circles as indicative of a new and highly inspired force in politics.

What we want is more—not less—politics.

The Woman He Married

By Jane Phelps

NAN TELLS DICK OF THE CONCERT AND TEA.

Chapter 38.

Dick came in shortly with Junior. "Hello—Nan! Glad you to 'n to-night, didn't it? I thought it would go Junior good to take him out. Mrs. Dooly said she hadn't had time."

"It was nice of you, Dick," I replied as I kissed him. "I did leave a good deal for her to do."

"Did you have a nice time?"

"Wonderful! . . . And Dick, Mildred is getting up a party to go down to Greenwich Village some night next week. She wants you and me and Clare and Jim to join them. I told her we would."

"Alright, but I am a little leary of Mildred's parties. They usually mean extravagance we can't afford. Dell's or some smart hotel which is beyond us."

"No wonder she thinks we can go you used to." A flash of jealousy passed over me.

"I told you that was when I was a gay, old bachelor, bachelor. Now that I have you and Junior, those are past performances, aren't they, kiddo?" He swung Junior up until the baby screamed with glee.

During dinner I told him of the concert, adding that "if he had heard Alma Lawson and was rather amused at my description.

"As for it is done for effect," he observed, his mouth full of hot apple pie.

"No—I don't know! . . . Mildred said some of the artists and writers were poor. I guess a good many of them are. But if they can't paint or write, I imagine the poverty is their own fault. They wait for inspiration, calling themselves artists instead of getting down and plugging away like people do in other professions and like the successful ones in our profession.

"You don't say they have to have inspiration to write, don't they?"

"Natural aptitude, perhaps. But I remember the man who said genius was two-thirds inspiration, was a man who had to be practical, practical, practical, practical, practical."

Dick, I returned laughing.

"One of the faults he has to be. The first thing I know you will be bobbing your hair and wearing smocks."

"Don't worry about that!" I thought of the wonderful gowns at Madame Felice's, how becoming they were, and how I would like to be able to wear her gowns all the time. Smocks, nonsense! Men had no idea of clothes anyway—not many of them.

After dinner Clara and Jim came up and we played bridge. I hustled Clara into the bedroom and told her to be very careful and in another my dress that Dick knew nothing about it.

"How did you avoid him?"

"He was out with Junior, you know. I was all undressed when he came in."

"You lucky thing!"

Was I lucky to be able to deceive Dick so easily? At the time I thought with Clara, that I was. Later, I knew that I was very unlucky. Had Dick known of the little beginnings—perhaps neither he nor I would have experienced the heartbreaking years that followed.

"Come on, you two! What are you discussing? Clothes, I'll bet! Jim promised to 'up and we went out to the living room to find the table ready, and the boys waiting impatiently to deal.

We had a very pleasant evening. I made a rarebit when we had finished playing. After they left Dick said:

"I enjoy such an evening, Nan. It doesn't leave a bad taste in my mouth and worries me, my brain, like an evening when we spend more than we should."

I enjoy them too, but I like other things occasionally. It gets pretty poky for a woman who is at home all day if she never goes anywhere at night.

"I know, dear, and some day we'll have opera seats for the season and all the plays. I don't, I don't die soon." Dick always managed to joke when I got serious.

Tomorrow—Nan urges Dick to Take a Chance.

WOMAN GAINS 25 POUNDS

"I have actually gained twenty-five pounds and I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world," said Mrs. Robert O. Reynolds, 127 North Denver Ste. Kansas City, Mo.

"For an long years I suffered from a very bad form of rheumatism, stomach and nervous troubles. My appetite was very poor. What little I did eat soured on my stomach and I suffered the most severe pains in my back, hips and shoulders. My rheumatism was so bad that I could not raise my hands to comb my hair and my arms hurt me to my finger tips. I became so weak and run down that I lost all my energy and life had become almost a burden. I tried many things but nothing helped me.

"I had only taken my first bottle of Tanlac when I noticed my appetite was improving and I could sleep better at night. I have taken three bottles and the way it has helped me—and built me up is really—astonishing. I can eat anything and everything without the slightest disagreeable after-effects. I sleep just fine at night and am in better health than I have been for years. I am glad to give this statement, hoping that any who are suffering as I did may experience the same wonderful results, which I believe they will if they give Tanlac a fair trial.

VIVIANI GIVES MESSAGE

great help to us in time of distress.

"By going to offer my homage to President Harding and also by entering into contact with eminent American leaders, I have only one plan, one aim, one intention.

"It is to show France as it is attached, to peace, to justice, having before it one interest and that is to obtain satisfaction for wounds made to her flesh and injuries done her economic life by unjustifiable aggression.

"Relying upon her right, France asks nothing but what is her due. Holding hard at work today as yesterday she was earnestly at war, she is faithful to all her generous pride to face obligations of her destiny."

Viviani said he expected to remain in America about three weeks. He has selected no places to visit outside of New York and Washington, but will probably go elsewhere after consulting Ambassador Jusserand.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Rene Viviani, ex-premier of France will leave here today for Washington without having disclosed the object of his mission further than stating that he comes to pay the respects of France to President Harding.

While speculation generally credits him with coming to sound out the Harding administration on how much of the Versailles treaty the United States is willing to accept, there is a report that he seeks American aid in averting a rumored national financial crisis that threatens to engulf France in bankruptcy.

GIRL WITH TWO HUSBANDS

Tony Boiter were arrested together in Wheeling, W. Va. Boiter, who is a mechanic, was arrested in Pittsburg and police are still searching for a third man, Al Smith.

Puzzles Police

The girl has been a mystery to police ever since her arrest. She has laughed and chatted gaily with her jailers.

At Wheeling she told officers her name was Mrs. Norman West. Later she and Treadway admitted the West name was fictitious. At Philadelphia, after Boiter's appearance, the girl said her name was Mrs. Marie Rogers.

Rogers says her real name is Susie Evangelinik. Her "with the girls' mother and brother, took to pursuit "Hoots" to turn state's evidence against the men.

"I don't want her to be in jail forever, I want her freedom, but I want her to tell the whole truth and shield no one," says Rose. "I believe she has been a tool in the hands of others who know more about the murder. She is not a vampire.

Still Loves Her

"I love Boiter and I have forgiven her indiscretions with Treadway and I will stick to her throughout the trial and take her home when she is free."

From Breaker Boy to Prince of Church Is Cardinal's Rise

Archbishop Dennis J. Dougherty of Philadelphia, made a cardinal, his church, St. Peter and Paul's in Philadelphia.

(J. V. Fox, Staff Special.)

PHILADELPHIA, March 29—America's new Cardinal-designate, Archbishop Dennis J. Dougherty of Philadelphia, now on his way to Europe to receive the red hat, will be one of the youngest of the 70 members of the College.

He is the fifth priest in the American hierarchy to be awarded this honor by Rome, the others being Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and the late Cardinal McCloskey and Farley.

Apparently not yet older than the age of man the cardinal designate is, current in 1903 when he was assigned to the Philippines. When the late Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia notified him of his selection as bishop of Jaro, he replied:

"Your Grace, I cannot find the words in my mind, but wherever I am sent I will go."

Breaker Boy

The archbishop was born midnight of 1866 in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania. His parents were Irish immigrants. He spent his summer vacations as a breaker boy in a colliery. At 16 he was ready to enter seminary, but because of his youth was sent for two years to a Jesuit school in Canada. When he returned he entered the St. Charles de Barromeo Seminary in Overbrook, a Philadelphia suburb.

Later he finished his studies for the priesthood at the American College in Rome, carrying off the class honors in 1890.

On his way back to America, he stopped at the Irish town where his parents had lived and there read Newman's "Apologia."

Friend of Taft

In America he served on the faculty of the seminary in which he had studied. In 1903 he was assigned to the Philippines and spent 10 years there rebuilding much ecclesiastical machinery. He was a friend of William Howard Taft, then governor general of the islands.

He returned to America in 1916 and was made bishop of Buffalo. In 1918 he was appointed archbishop and assigned to Philadelphia to succeed Archbishop Prendergast.

(Archbishop Dougherty is a linguist of extraordinary scope. He speaks fluently English, Latin, Italian, French, Spanish, Italian and several Slavic tongues. When he left Philadelphia for the Philippines, he knew no Spanish. During the trip he studied diligently and when the boat docked at Manila he could speak the language with absolute fluency.

He has a remarkable memory. He can write a sermon or speech and from the mere outline draw out in thoughts and words that can consist the entire discourse, to memory and deliver it verbatim. He rarely forgets a face or a name of a person—he never does.

In addition to his pastoral and administrative duties Archbishop Dougherty is a member of the board of managers of the Catholic church of the Church Extension Society, the Negro and Indian missions, chairman of a building committee of the National Catholic Welfare Council that will erect in Washington a national shrine in honor of Americans who died in the war, and recently served on a committee appointed by the mayor of Philadelphia to study the city's transit problem.

As cardinal Archbishop Dougherty will wear the red hat, the hat of a prince of the church, in recognition of the "National Catholic Welfare Council that will erect in Washington a national shrine in honor of Americans who died in the war, and recently served on a committee appointed by the mayor of Philadelphia to study the city's transit problem.

His full title will be "His Eminence, Dennis, Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia." A correct form in addressing him will be "Your Eminence."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All daintiness and convenience, product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, bottled, "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and the delighted ladies say Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is the best, because besides darkening the hair after a few applications it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which only vigorous, dark hair possesses.

Mother Refuses to Believe Son Lost

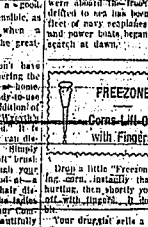
HOUSTON, Tex.—Mrs. J. W. Williamson was on her knees today praying for a miracle to save her son.

She is the mother of George E. Williamson, pilot of the navy hydroplane believed lost at sea.

Mrs. Williamson still believes her son is safe.

"A gray ago George was blown beyond to sea, but a favorable wind brought him back to me," she said. "I am praying for that wind again."

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 28.—Although practically all hope of rescuing the five navy hydroplanes who were aloft in the first seaplane attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean, the effort of navy seaplanes and dirigibles and power boats began another day's search at dawn.



Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly the pain corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. It doesn't hurt a bit.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard, soft, corn or corn between the toes, and the callouses, without a particle of pain.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 29.—The New York stock market which for the most part was under heavy pressure at the opening today, showed signs of a rally, during early transactions. Studebaker was off 1¼ at 76½ at the first sale, a decline of 5½ from Monday's high. The stock rallied immediately, however, and within a few moments regained a full point. U. S. Steel was ½ off at the opening, but recovered.

Other issues that had suffered heavily since Monday's decline, such as the Reo Motor Car, which rallied yesterday, and Studebaker, which had led the recent advance, was pounded down to 76½ and Jewel Tea was off 2 points at 64½.

An explanation for the recent decline in United States steel was seen in the following statement of the Dow Jones financial agency:

"It is believed U. S. Steel will announce a new schedule of prices shortly after the return of Chairman Gary. The annual meeting will be held April 12 and Chairman Gary may have an important announcement to make.

"The inventories of the U. S. Steel corporation are simpler than they were before the war, if increased capacity is taken into consideration and a reduction in prices will not be a great hardship.

Troy Laundry Pinsmiths Win Bowling League Flag

	Won	Lost	Pins Played	Games Won	Ave.
Troy Laundry	30	24	5	55½
Marquette's	30	24	6	50
Alex's	30	15	15	45½
Model Cafe	30	14	16	41
Warr Co.	30	8	22	26½
O. Store	30	4	26	13½

The Troy Laundry bowling team won the pennant in the Twin Falls Commercial Bowling league, which closed last night after 30 scheduled games. The accompanying table, showing the standings of the teams, tells the story. Not only did the pinsmiths win the flag but carried high honors in point play standings for the 30-game schedule, also for high team average and for the highest single game and for one match, 3000.

Troy's average on the five individual spots was led by Bill Lundy, the Troy Laundry's big Warren Chestnut team company one-man bowling alley, who rolled a total of 2,000 pins for an average of 166 for the 12 games he played.

Other prize awards for the season were 125 in merchandise from the L. Do-More to Marquette's team for second place—five silk shirts from the Alex Clothing shop for third place, which they finished ahead of the Model Cafe team by the close of the season.

Individual awards were captured by Van Meter of the Troys for high average during the season, the prize being a miscellaneous ball from the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. F. Bailey, who won a $10 box of stationery; Cobb, third high man, a box of candy from the Model Candy Co. Weight, a box of candy from the Hagerson Pharmacy for fourth high average.

Tracy won a gold medal for high score for three games; Bailey also gained a gold medal for second high score and Wright received a silver medal for third high score. Van Meter won a silver medal for highest percentage of games bowled and Cobb received a silver medal for lowest per centage of error.

In addition to the above awards is one which will make three of the individual high scorers happy. It is a bonus to every member of the league to be given by the Model Candy Co. date to be later settled and announced.

Team and individual averages will be published later.

Speaker Standing Pat On Last Year's Outfit

By HORS TENNEY.
(Sports Editor Cleveland Press.)
(Written for the United Press.)

DALLAS, Tex., March 29—This Speaker is living up to his announced plan of standing pat on the lineup with which the Indians went through the American league last summer and mopped up the Brooklyn Dodgers in the world's title.

Except to move little Joe Sewell up into the fifth place in the batting order, Speaker hasn't varied his lineup in the spring season.

This figures on starting the season with five regular harlers ready to take turns in the box which he has carefully three-hat up ring—Coveleskie, Bagby and Caldwell. The added hurlers are Walter Mails and George Uhle both of whom showed great form last fall.

Another place where Tris figures he'll start stronger this year than last is in that left field combination of Jamieson and Evans. Against right handers Jamieson hit .18 last season and Evans smashed southpaws for .342. Speaker also figures that the other right and left handed shifts with Johnston and Harris splitting the first base job and Elmer Smith and Chick Gandil alternating in right field will help mightily.

In fact the only question mark in the lineup when the team started south was the ability of Sewell to smooth out some of the rough spots in his fielding. However, he has followed instructions to be natural instead of always trying to set himself before throwing. He was the hitting sensation of the tribe in the early games.

In addition to their big five pitchers, the Indians will retain Morton and Clark for utility duty and two southpaw recruits will also start with the tribe. They are Sam Rice, with Ind'napolis last year, and Ted Odenwald, a little fellow from Joplin.

The Indians also will have a promising young outfield recruit in Ernie Jeanes, a young Texas semi-professional whose Speaker will keep if he continues the form he showed early games.

WANT EXPLORATION RIGHTS

NEW YORK, March 29—American oil interests do not want the right to buy Irak the Mesopotamia oil fields, but they do want the right to conduct exploration there and develop that field the same as in any other independent country," an official of a big American petroleum company declared today when informed of the British offer to sell concessions to American.

He said the reported offer had not yet been officially conveyed to American oil interests.

Go After Rheumatism Right

First of all, rheumatism must be treated internally. The blood should be purified and the stomach and kidneys made to do their work properly.

Massage the sore and swollen parts at least twice daily with an oil that will not irritate or inflame the skin.

Keep the bowels open to help the treatment.

You can get everything necessary in the complete Anti-Uric outfit. Your urine is discolored or has a bad odor—the effect of Anti-Uric Tonic will give you an early confidence in the treatment. The jar of Anti-Uric oil will help proper massage of the painful surfaces. A supply of the famous Pullman Pills will normal the correct laxative.

These three preparations contain only vegetable ingredients. All are in one generous complete package. The price, complete, is $1.25 and there is a money back guarantee with every package. Get the Anti-Uric outfit today from Schmidt's Pullman Drug Co.—Adv.
