AMERICAN PRISONERS FREE

TO ATTACK RAIL ROAD PROPOSALS

Senators Charge There's Effort to Unload Properties on the Government.

WASHINGTON, July 30—The administration railroad relief bill will be attacked in the senate as a scheme to unload properties on the government, it was learned today.

The proposed "dumping" plan, it is alleged by some senators, is to be worked out by getting the government "in so deep" that the only way it can get out will be by taking over the railroads permanently.

Warned of the coming onslaught, administration senators are organizing a counter attack to show that the Harding policy, as suggested in the recent message to congress, is the only way of preventing the most serious transportation troubles the country has ever known.

Senator LaFollette is organizing opposition to the administration bill. Considerable support is expected for him "west of Chicago" senators who are clamoring for reduced freight rates. Opponents of the measure will attack the following:

1—A charge that many of the railroad claims against the government are spurious.

2—A demand for repeal of the guaranteed income transportation act, as a means of forcing a rate reduction.

3—A demand that the power of the interstate commerce commission over rates and rate making be entirely restored.

4—A demand that the railroads left by the administration bill "in government is to float."

Secretary Hoover will be put under fire as he is credited by anti-railroad senators with having worked out the administration plan. It will be alleged that after the railroads appealed to Harding for $1,000,000,000 who were told they could have it, they became alarmed, fearing a great claim or in congress if any such sum were asked for. It was then, according to the story that will be recited to the senate, that Hoover was sent to New York and worked out with railroad heads the $300,000,000 plan now submitted to congress.

CASTLEFORD MEET SET FOR MONDAY NIGHT

The meeting of the people of Castleford to organize for a fight for lower and less discriminatory rates will take place Monday night and addressed by speakers who have met with so much success elsewhere along the Minidoka branch.

FINANCE PART OF QUIZZING R. R. HEARING

Ability to Build Part of Things Considered in Granting Certificate.

While not able in answer categorically to question whether it is necessary to prove to the interstate commerce commission that those behind the plan for a new line are able to fully build and equip it, directors of the Idaho-Nevada Holding company say that literally dozens of questions propounded to Charles L. Davis on the occasion of his appearance before the commission by Idaho and Nevada state commission at Wells, Contact, and Twin Falls related to that subject. It is therefore assumed that a very large amount of capital, enough to show evidence of good faith is necessary; and it is felt certain that should the total bonds be issued, enough capital will be on hand to build the road from Rogerson to Wells.

"Adventures Promised

In a pamphlet issued by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Boise Chamber of Commerce, the holding company co-operating the advantages to this part of the country are pointed out as follows:

"Cutting off 212 miles in rail distance between the Twin Falls tract and San Francisco harbor.

"Reducing present passenger time between the two points 24 hours and the freight time as much as two days with accompanying saving on passenger and freight charges.

"Placing the Twin Falls tract on a through rate basis with the state subject to interstate commerce commission regulations.

"Furnishing more freight cars and locomotives because of competitive rail service to the tract.

"Opening up the Nevada mining district and markets to the products and the business of our merchants. This district is larger in area than the Idaho mining district and waits only this railroad to cause active production to start.

"Opening up the San Francisco markets and the markets of the world to producers in Idaho products.

"Allowing the importation and home consumption of San Francisco manufactured goods on which the freight will be paid to Idaho points from San Francisco on distances less than one-half of those from which present supplies for Idaho are received from eastern manufacturing districts.

Local Advantages

The spending of at least $1,000,000 in this vicinity for labor, farm products and supplies which will naturally add the ranchers and merchants of this tract.

With the new railroad built the Twin Falls tract will have the combined efforts of the three states of Idaho, Nevada and California and the strong commercial interests of San Francisco and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to secure the best possible rail service; as well as having three railroad companies competing for our traffic.

Better rates to eastern markets and to Portland, will undoubtedly result when competition with San Francisco is established.

The shinkage on fruit, livestock and potatoes shipped to the distant points under present conditions often entirely consumes the profit that the shipper naturally should receive on his products.

Method of Raising Money

The raising of the money is entirely in the hands of the farmers and business men of the Twin Falls country, business men and mining interests of Nevada. Individual subscriptions from all parties who will be benefited by the railroad are necessary to assure the start and completion of this great project. A total bonus of $500,000 is promised to the builders.

Benefits to Salmon Tract

No part of the country will be more materially benefitted than the Salmon tract. The distance from the Salmon tract to San Francisco, and the time spent in the tract, will profit immensely by the new line.

AN ADVANCE PEEP AT THE NEXT WAR!

This "village" was constructed in England for a demonstration of the advance made in aerial warfare. Most of the buildings were made of spare airplane parts. The church steeple is 40 feet high. All of the pilots who took part in the bombing were veterans of the world war. When they finished—ashes!

SENATOR NORRIS NOT RECOVERING FROM SPELL

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Senator Norris, Nebraska, who suffered a brief prostration Thursday, was reported today by his physicians to be "not so well."

Norris appeared at first to rally from the attack. Later, however, the progress of his illness sapped his strength as rapidly as his doctors wished.

SOVIET WILL RELEASE ALL IS MESSAGE

The Demand That Russia Allow United States Citizens Freedom Is Met.

WASHINGTON, July 30—The state department was formally advised today of the release by the Russian soviet government of Mrs. Marguerite Harrison of Baltimore.

Mrs. Harrison has been in prison, in soviet Russia for more than a year, along with several other Americans.

The following statement was issued by the state department:

"The state department is officially informed that Mrs. Marguerite M. Harrison of Baltimore, Md., one of the Americans imprisoned in Russia, arrived in Riga this morning in company with Senator Joseph E. France of Maryland.

"Mrs. Harrison expected to leave for the United States on Monday, traveling via Berlin."

RIGA, July 30—The central soviet at Moscow has decided to release all American internees in Russia in accordance with the American demand that they must be freed before famine relief could be extended, it was reported here today.

"This action by the central soviet was taken against the advice of the extremists, who opposed release of the Americans, according to this report.

A formal communication is expected to be sent shortly to Washington, advising the United States government of the decision and requesting the immediate shipment of relief supplies to the famine swept areas.

NO CONFERENCE ON THE PACIFIC IS INFORMATION

London Idea Is Blocked by Canada and South African Premiers

LONDON, July 30—There will be no Pacific conference in London before the limitation disarmament meeting, the United Press was informed here today.

Plan for a preliminary London conference to thresh out Pacific problems informally, as demanded by President Hughes of Australia, have been abandoned, it was learned.

This action clears the path for the Washington conference and indicates a distinct victory for the American proponents.

The decision came as a result of a fortnight fight between British provincial premiers. It was reliably stated the premiers were deadlocked because premiers Hughes, Lloyd George and Massey insisted that some sort of conference should be held in London prior to the Washington conference.

Premiers Meighen, of Canada and Smut of South Africa, fought the suggestion. They took the attitude that such a conference would prejudice the Washington meeting and encroach on the plan of the United States.

It was understood Meighen and Smuts did not oppose a preliminary conference in Canada as they regarded the the equivalent of a Washington meeting. It was evident they were entirely victorious in view of the fact that the premiers' conference is over and Meighen sailed for Canada today.

NORTHCLIFFE AND PREMIER STILL ARGUE

Rival Newspapers Take up the Attacks Against the London Publisher

LONDON, July 30—The Northcliffe-Lloyd George war of words continued briskly today.

The anti-Northcliffe press took up the battle again, charging Northcliffe with "the unpardonable crime of dragging the king's name into politics." Lord Northcliffe's denial of the interview in which he was reported to have given the conversation between Lloyd George and the king on the Irish question.

While accepting the denial, the press generally insisted that an explanation was needed as to why the interview was published in "lying editions of the Mail and not in the London editions. It was said to be evident that one of the editors, seeing the possible effects of the interview and believing that his "chief" had been misquoted suppressed the story in later editions of the Northcliffe papers.

The Chronicle, a Lloyd George paper, declared that Northcliffe "appears to have gone to the United States with the intention of doing the utmost to make Lloyd George unpopular there and spoil the pitch for the British government in the coming Washington conference."

Policeman Shot by Crazed Maniac When Capture Attempted

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., July 30.—Frank Wilson, member of the police force since 1909 is dead and Officers William Milby and James Dalley are in a hospital as the result of a battle with John Brookmiller, electrician, who became a violent maniac last night and when captured whipped out a gun, fired three bullets through the head of Wilson and one through his abdomen. Dalley and Milby were shot through the thighs and are not in a serious condition.

Brookmiller, who has been considered more or less of a "nut," was watching some boys play ball with a soft leather baseball. The ball struck him in the head and he pulled the gun on them. The boys ran and the insane man jumped on a street car and headed for the business district of the city, with a squad of policemen in pursuit. Brookmiller was cornered in an alley when the shooting occurred. Thousands of people gathered and officers battled the crowd to keep them from lynching Brookmiller after he had killed Officer Wilson on the steps of the public library where he took refuge. The maniac was lodged in the city jail where he gave an incoherent story of the affair. He was charged with first degree murder in court this morning.

HONOLULU, T. H., July 30.—Count Shaka, has left Tokio for Peking where he will open negotiations for the return of Shantung to China, according to a Tokio dispatch to the Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper published here.

Shaka has been in attendance at the Tokio conference of Japanese ministers, civil colonial officials for the past month.

The dispatch expressed the belief that the proposed restoral of Japanese troops from Siberia will be prolonged because of the recent anti-Japanese activities of Bolshevist elements.

Salmon Tract Alfalfa Shows Big Seed Yield

This is a banner alfalfa seed year on the Salmon, according to showing being made in various fields on the tract.

A fair sample of what the Salmon is doing in this line was brought to Twin Falls today by H. C. Ericson, farmer residing near Hagerman. It was a spray of alfalfa, that was heavily podding.

Ericson states that the sample he brought was common throughout the tract where many of the farmers are going to run the seed this year. The soil and climate of the Salmon, being better adapted for seed growing than any other section in this part of the country, is expected to produce an immense crop this year.

Erie Mullicane Case Will Go Before Jury

Despite a dramatic plea by the prosecuting attorney, attempting to keep the court alone the murder charge against the girl, who is accused of strangling her own born baby with a handkerchief, Superior Judge Hunsaker ruled that the case must go to the jury for decision.

Erie herself, will be spared the ordeal of testifying on the witness stand, unless unforseen circumstances develop, her attorney announced at the opening of today's court session.

ILLINOIS HAS AN AUTOMOBILE AS ITS CAPITAL

Gov. Small Says Road Inspection Most Important and He's Doing It.

JOLIET, Ill., July 30.—Gov. Len Small, Illinois, "politician-governor," is going to Springfield next week.

The executive, who arrived here today on his tour of Illinois' roads, stated he would be in the capital as soon as he finished touring three more county seats.

The governor was still silent on what plans he had made to fight the indictments, hanging him with embezzlement of state funds.

AURORA, Ill., July 30—The Illinois state capital was "wherever Len Small hangs up his hat."

Reaching here on a long automobile tour of state road inspection, he indicted executive had set up a "capital on wheels." "Present plans, will kill me if I stay in the saddle," he said, "so I'm going to Springfield next week."

The executive, who arrived here today on his tour of Illinois' roads, stated he would be in the capital as soon as he finished touring three more county seats.

The governor was still silent on what plans he had made to fight the indictments, hanging him with embezzlement of state funds.

The itinerary is being mapped but, it was said, so that the governor could travel all summer, if necessary without setting foot in Sangamon county. Small insists he would be "massacred" by political enemies should his case come to trial there.

A few other "unfriendly counties" may also be avoided, it was intimated for fear of possible arrest and court proceedings there.

Small has some 55,000 miles of state road in 101 counties, excluding Sangamon—to inspect, if he wishes to do so. It could easily be made an all summer's job.

"The good roads question is the most important problem in Illinois today and I am going to devote all the time possible to it," the governor told newspaper men.

Asked whether he contemplated returning to Springfield within the next few days, the executive said:

"I cannot say, as my itinerary has not been completed."

While on the road tour, it was said, Governor Small will transact his executive duties from his auto and from hotel rooms in various county seats. A corps of traveling secretaries, it is expected, will fill back and forth between the traveling "capitol" and the state house at Springfield.

The belief in political circles today was that Small will stick to his tour too early until the next Republican, headed by Albert Fink of Chicago, have decided upon some definite line of action in their efforts to gain arrest and trial outside Sangamon county. When they hit upon their plan, it was believed the governor will return to Springfield, submit to arrest, give bond and immediately start a fight for a change of venue. Friends and enemies of the governor agree that the executive and his "capitol on wheels" would become the "laughing stock" of Illinois should the same procedure start again.

STARVING ARE FOUGHT BACK BY RUSSIANS

Attempts to Rush Towns and Seize Food Results in Bloody Massacre.

RIGA, July 30—Fighting has begun between starving hordes in Russia and inhabitants of districts uncursed by famine, according to unofficial dispatches received here today.

A party of Lunary refugees was massacred at Chasiefyrsc, when it tried to rush the town and seize food, one report said.

Twenty thousand men, women and children are dying daily in the famine zone, soviet newspapers admit. Scurvy and other epidemics have broken out.

As the long column of ravenous, plague ridden victims swoop down on towns where there is plenty of food, the inhabitants retaliate them and try to turn them aside by force. They claim they are acting in defense of their homes.

LONDON, July 30—Sixty-three Russians of all classes have been appointed a famine relief committee with wide powers, according to a wireless dispatch from Moscow today. M. Kamenetf is presiding officer of the new body.

The committee is confronted with the staggering task of getting supplies to ten provinces where 1,000,000 tons of food is needed.

Hundreds of sufferers died in Russian today of hunger, according to unofficial reports. The famine committee started work by systematizing transportation, moving food into the stricken districts by rail, and moving thousands of persons out of those areas on the same trains on their return journeys. The committee is empowered to seize foodstuffs wherever found and divert trains in any direction.

Famine reports are exaggerated, according to the newspaper Pravda. An article, in this paper sent broadcast from Moscow by wireless said:

"There is no such catastrophe as the anti-soviet press in foreign countries would wish to see. The poor harvest in the Volga district is compensated for by the splendid one in the Ukraine. The situation is difficult but there is no panic. There have been no pogroms. There are no Jews in the famine districts."

DENVER, July 30—One gram of radium, value $77,000, will be sent by registered mail today to Philadelphia for use in the municipal hospitals there. This shipment soon will be followed by another of like size from the Radium company of Colorado.

BOISE, July 30.—Howard Robinson of Twin Falls and Ed Stuart of Boise are slated to play this afternoon for the Idaho tennis championship, their respective names are the semi-final round yesterday.

Fordson Makes 30 Day Non-Stop Run

The following is a letter received by Geo. Easley, manager of the Western Auto:

At Wichita, Kansas, a thirty-day, non-stop test of the Fordson tractor was conducted to demonstrate its power of endurance and to prove the practicability of its working both day and night during rush seasons. From June 16 to July 17, 1919, the Fordson was in operation continuously, except only the necessary time used in cleaning up, replenishing fuel, oil etc.

During the 30 day run, the Fordson cut 315 acres of wheat and 71 acres of oats; plowed 157 acres; dragged 61 miles of road, besides doing some disking and seeding. The machine which ran for a total of 721½ hours consumed 567 gallons of kerosene, 21 gallons of oil and 247 gallons of water in radiator and air-washer.

Probably no more strenuous endurance test has ever been imposed on a tractor of any make, than that which brought the Fordson victory at the National Tractor show.

BURLEY ALIVE ON MATTER OF LOWER RATES

Story of Visit of Twin Falls Men From Burley Viewpoint Shows Interest

An organization is under way in Cassia, Twin Falls and Minidoka counties to bring added pressure to bear upon the Oregon Short Line, to afford this territory lower freight rates on farm products, and especially to protest against the discrimination in the freight rates against shippers on the Minidoka branch, says the Burley Bulletin.

The matter of a more effective organization was first taken up at a meeting of the Burley Rotary club Tuesday evening. H. E. Powers, C. E. Skinner and John Graham of Twin Falls were present and presented a plan whereby the three counties join forces in the fight for lower rates, and especially against the excessive charges on the Minidoka branch. The matter was turned over to the Burley Commercial club, and Mayor Griswold, William Roper and J. H. Fowler were appointed to take care of the business of the organization movement.

Health Tires Mostly Depend Upon Driver

By C. A. Pohl,
Manager of the Idaho Tyle Work

Tires are all healthy, when they leave the factory. It is true some tires are much better in some respects than others, but the average tire on the touring cars nowadays would give a great deal more service if the car owner if he would, not rob the carriers so fast that his wheels skid. Probably he does not know he is robbing himself of driving that takes hundred of miles from his tires every time he turns a corner fast enough to make his car skid. It is true he is not as mortally sin in a terrible hurry as we drive fast and come to an abrupt halt, slamming brakes. This is another thing that knocks the mileage from your tires. Fast driving over rough roads is still another mistake. If you want healthy tires drive a healthy car, keep it in healthy tune and start your car slow and smooth, with no jerking of the rear wheels.

Owner Now Knows Difference Between Salesman and Dealer

Now is when the car owner finds out the difference between an automobile salesman and an automobile dealer," says C. E. Lind, of the Lind Automobile company.

"Car performance is emphasized during those months when the automobile figures heavily in the recreations of humanity. Many a car does a double day's work every day and more than ever the community depends entirely upon the ability of the man who sold it to service it promptly and satisfactorily.

"Now is when the buyer realizes the importance of a capable local responsibility for his car.

"The salesman sells a car. The dealer sells also his complaint readjuster to serve as long as the car is in existence."

APPLES-FOR-FORD

PORTLAND, Ore., July 30.—Here's a poser. Mr. Ford.

Invest an auto, which will absorb hay.

If it can be done—and northwest hay growers, who are about to harvest the biggest crop in the history of this section, see no reason why it can not—they have documents which they claim will induce the quiet of Ford, Edison, Firestone and President Harding can figure out a way to do it—there'll be a bumper sale for the hay burning chariot in the region north of Crater Lake and west of the Cascades.

"Goodness knows what we're going to do with this hay," a big rancher here bitterly mobbed. "The automobiles are running the horses out of business, the pick comedian on the ten-twenty-thirty stages, aren't as plentiful as they used to be and hay has gone out of fashion as a mattress stuffing. We're out of luck."

Which is the answer to the hay question all through this section. There is scarcely any market for the product.

ELKS TAKE PROTESTED GAME FROM ELECTRICS—SCORE 5-3

Bailey Pitches Three-Hit Game—Use of Banks' Catcher by Elks Results in Complaint From Bankers and I. D.—Play Is Ragged.

Team Standing

	W.	L.	Pct.
Legion	7	2	.778
I. D. Store	6	2	.750
Elks	5	3	.625
Banks	5	4	.556
Electrics	3	7	.300
Moose	2	6	.250
A. O. P.	1	6	.143

Another one of those protested things was pulled off last night in the Twilight league, the Elks losing out the Electrics 5-3 in an exhibition that was at times ragged, but which produced a mighty interesting finish with a real thrilly by the Electrics.

Dynamo Patton stands accused of sandbagging by the I. D. team and the Bankers. It is further said that Dynamo pulled a bank robbery. He robbed Tex Banks of Danville and enticed Carlos Iglio the Elk lineup as a catcher; Dynamo himself being borrowed with a jammed finger. The Electrics themselves didn't protest, being happily below the pennant zone, but contenders registered their roar in official quarters.

Bill Bailey threw a three hit game and a lot of wild shoots, that gave the Electrics seven walks. The Electrics had no difficulty in leading the bags but displayed their usual generous spirit of giving their chances away. They handed the game to the Elks by left handed base running but then nearly scored overtime to again lay by giving over some runs and threatening to take it all back in the last inning.

This is how it happened: In the first Whitsel started sharply in local scoring, Neumann walked, then Lindville hit in second, Lewis bouncing the ball, Whitsel leaving and "Hopley" letting up a third, from which he "scored a minute later on Evans' sacrifice fly to right center. Hanak then smashed the ball over the right field fence for a homer.

In the fifth they scored two more. After Cree had fanned, and Lavender had grounded out—Whitsel singled and got to second on Joslyn's error. Neumann flew to Joslyn, who erred again, Whitsel scoring and Otis going to second. Lindville singled through short, Neumann scoring and "Hopley" going to second when Jarvis juggled the ball. Hanak grounded out, ending the scoring for the Purple and White Club.

The Electrics did their scoring something on this order: Bailey walked the first three men that faced him in the sixth.—Then Jarvis flew to short. At this stage of the game, Krengel who was on second dubbed what Miller had been on third too long, and decided to crowd him off, which he did, Miller being run down between third and home. Joslyn then stung a timely single to right center scoring Krengel for the first Electric run.

In the seventh they grew real dangerous. Lewis was granted a life on Cree's error, then "Chet" Evans decided to get into the last column of the box score, and juggled Dingle's grounder. Lewis went out, Bailey to Neumann, Miller fanned, and Evans kicked Krengel's grounder, and to make things real exciting, he threw wild to first. Lewis and Dingle scoring, and Krengel stopping at second. Bigney then hit a hot one at Whitsel who fumbled, allowing "Flip" to reach first, but again Krengel tried to score from second, and was nipped down between third and home.

NOTES ON THE GAME

Joslyn (Electrics) 1.

There seems to be quite a bit of trouble brewing lately, and I should think that all those concerned would realize that quarreling is detrimental to base ball in Twin Falls. Let's cut it out.

The game last night was played under protest.

The protest resulted from Lindville catching for the Elks in place of Patton who is out of the game on account of a split finger from Thursday's game. The Bankers and I. D. store sent in the protest. I don't want to get mixed up with any arguments, one way or the other, but if the by-laws of the league say that issue CANNOT lend players to other teams in the same league, without notifying the board of directors of such a move I think that the by-laws should be adhered to.

"Bill" Bailey pitched for the Elks, and although he allowed but three hits, he was very wild, walking seven men. (Enough to win an average ball game.)

Dingle pitched a good game, and with the proper support should have won the game.

Poor base running by the wire men kept their score down. Krengel being the chief offender. Twice he spoiled their chances by stupid base running.

Hanak poled the pill out of the lot in the first inning.

Monday we have the Bankers and the I. D. Store. It should be a real game.

WANT BLACK SOX JAILED

CHICAGO, July 30.—Jail sentences were demanded for the "black sox" by the prosecution today as the penalty for betting in the national game. Edward Prindeville, special prosecutor, in opening the state's arguments to the jury, urged the jurors to find the players guilty of conspiracy and recommended that they be given prison sentences.

WATCHING THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's hero: Harry Heilman. The Detroit slugger got his 34th homer in two days and helped beat the Athletics, 18 to 6. Veach also got one. Joey Dugan is a w. w. 0. from the Athletics.

Three runs in the tenth on singles by Smith, Burns and Bancroft and a double by Frisch gave the Giants the lead, and the Reds were beaten, 10 to 7.

Guy Morton let the Red Sox down with two hits and the Indians won 2 to 0. After the sixth the Red Sox failed to get a batter on first.

Jeff Pfeffer held his old team mates to four hits and the Cards beat the Braves 5 to 0. McInnis's homer did it.

Goldie Rapp's homer, making it the twenty-fourth consecutive game in which he has hit safely, helped the Phillies set back the Cubs, 6 to 2.

Washington had the White Sox 5 to 1 in the second inning, when rain stopped the game.

FARMER'S GLASS ARM

ST. POPLAR, July 30.—"Now, Larsen, you take your pitcher out of your mouth first then why carry the ball?" yelled Charley Hickman, playing first, to Nels Larsen, once the peerless of them all at second base. This was when the Cleveland old-timers were having a fielding practice just before their game yesterday with the aspirants of Cleveland. Larsen had just scooped up a grounder and made a rather poor throw to first.

Perhaps Nels Toothpick.

WILLIAMS AND BARRYMORE TO SCRAP IN T. F.

Salt Lake Man and Local Boxer Promote Hard Battle for the Home Fans

Twin Falls has been picked as the place for staging the battle between Cyclone Jack Williams and Dan Barrymore, the Salt Lake boxer.

Fight fans here are already promoting interest over the scheduled clash. Barrymore has beaten some of the best boxers on the coast while Williams holds the title of the Northwest in that division.

The fight will go twelve rounds to a decision, it is announced. If no decision is given at the end of that time they will travel another three rounds.

Exact date for the bout has not yet been settled. Both promoters are preparing to establish training quarters.

Black Sox Consider Barnstorming Trip

CHICAGO, July 30.—A barnstorming tour of the country by the "black sox" was in prospect today. The former White Sox stars, on trial for alleged throwing of the 1919 world series, mapped out their plans as Edward Prindeville prosecutor harangued the jury.

Eddie Cicotte, pitching ace, was elected captain of the team.

This tip, of course, dependent upon vindication by the jury now hearing the case.

Adoption of the trip demonstrates the confidence of the "Black Sox" of acquittal.

Lefty Williams, who has already been cleared, is the only player on trial who will not go in on the proposed tour.

Buck Weaver, who has always been cleared, is the only player on trial who will not go in on the proposed tour.

Buck, who has protested his innocence from the start of the scandal, has steadfastly refused to play baseball since the indictment.

Prindeville, yesterday, rested the evidence against the defendants.

AUSTIN, Minn., July 30.—"Cy" Thomson and his friends are now cutting a swath in the nation with phoney stock in the Oakdale farms and the Normal Leasing company.

Hundreds of tourists, unable to find "Cy" in his last visit, are seeking out the city on his holdings. There were more people in the park Wednesday than on the Fourth of July when a big celebration was staged.

"Practically all progress comes as the result of organized effort on the part of a community. If Twin Falls county was a unit on a number of things they would go over much better."

Kimberly believes in doing things and the folks down that way are showing a fine spirit of co-operation. After an enthusiastic meeting held there night before last they went out the next day and raised their one thousand dollars to help fight for proper adjustment of railroad rates. Who will be the next town to go over the top?

A young fellow, in commenting on the federal census and the unfair representation given Twin Falls, expressed it about this way the other day: "The only way the census taker could have counted all the Twin Falls people would have been to go to California and finish the enumerating. This is too true and it drives home a great lesson. Too many people who are not able are celebrating in California.

The voice of sixty thousand residents of the Twin Falls tract shouting into the ears of the railroad companies and the interstate commerce commission will help get an adjustment of rates quicker than any other method. Someone has said, "United we stand, divided we fall." This is verily true of our condition and has been true for the past ten years on this tract. Let's get together and fight as a unit and if we organize and fight hard we will win. A thorough organization backed by our cash will throw the fear of God into the railroads quicker than anything else.

BUHL'S SCHOOL SITUATION

If reports that Buhl is facing the prospect of being without schools next term are true, and there seems to be no reason to doubt the reliability of such reports in view of the recent school election there, it would appear to be no more than doing a friendly turn to suggest the calling of a special election there to approve an additional school levy. In fact it seems most unlikely that Buhl will neglect taking that step to protect the educational interests of her children and the reputation of the community.

Reports, regarded as reliable, say that the Buhl district is without funds, that warrants for fuel and other items are being "shied at," and that no teachers can be secured for next term. An extra levy of 10 mills is said to be necessary to meet the expense for next term. The earliest date which a special election can be called is August 12, thirty days following the last school election held there.

It seems, to repeat, no more than a friendly turn to suggest that somebody petition the Buhl school board to call a special election.

OUR NEW RAILROAD

Granting of the interstate commerce certificate authorizing construction of the proposed new railroad between Wells and Rogerson is rightfully regarded as the successful achievement of the project. This is because the way has now been cleared, it appears, for the people at home, who, while still faced with the big task of raising the sum pledged to the railroad, will waste little time in securing a benefit so vital to all.

It is believed that the question of whether or not the railway promoters are capable of financing the line was answered by the interstate commerce commission itself, in granting the certificate. This would not have been granted, it is thought, unless assurances were shown that the line was a feasible, practical proposition, waiting only upon official permission.

The tremendous advantages of the new line have been so thoroughly explained before that it is hardly necessary to review them. Suffice it to say that the recent problems of freight rates and service have impressed the need of relief so clearly upon the residents of the Twin Falls country that there will be no hesitation nor delay in cinching the way out, as offered in the Wells-Rogerson outlet.

THE FAMILY WASHING

One of the vanishing landmarks of American home life is the "family washing."

It is a landmark, however, that passes without mourning or regret. It has fallen, naturally and sensibly, before the march of progress, education and service. In its demise the modern laundry has dealt a powerful blow at household drudgery.

The evolution of the family washing into the family laundry bag did not come all at once. The housewife was from Missouri and to the new idea in a day. The housewife was from Missouri and had to be shown. It was quite a job and required some time and a good deal of inventive genius before she could be shown.

Time was when the laundry "mangle" was more than merely the name of a machine. In those days, too, the laundry bill was a thing to shudder at. The housewife took one horrified look at the bill and her once intact clothing and decided she'd stick to the washtub.

But the washtub was a wearing proposition and pretty expensive after all, considering money spent on equipment, on soap, on fuel, on doctor bills, etc. Not much economy about it, she thought, if only the laundry would do the work well and reasonably.

Meanwhile the laundry kept plugging along, innovating new machinery and new ideas of economy and service, not to mention sanitation. There came the steam heated irons that didn't scorch, the mangles that didn't mangle, the individual wash method where each family's clothing is handled by itself, and, by no means least of all, the reasonable laundry bill, which was an outgrowth of the time and labor-saving machinery.

The housewife straightened her aching back from the washtub one morning and saw the modern laundry standing just across the street. Little Willie, turning the washer in sullen silence in the thought about the gang playing ball over in the next block, also took a look. Both of them longed for relief.

That laundry didn't look the same, somehow, the housewife thought. "I wonder, now, if they could do any better than they used to?" she reflected.

Willie urged her to try once more and she did. The result was the scrapping of the family washtub and the passing of the "family washing."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

ANOTHER HOSPITALITY STORY.

"Of course," said the night-watchman of the Hospitality hotel, "you knew you were coming here." He spoke to the boy and girl adventurers who were on their way to the House of Secrets. There they would learn that all the Secrets, piled one on other and that the great one of all was the Secret of Brotherhood. Without playing fair with everyone else no one could be a success, and no one who thought only of himself or herself could be a success—whether that person was old or young or middle-aged.

"You were told about this place before you came here with Master Thoughtfulness, but the people from outside I made come in did not know about us. They were passing and were tired and weary. They had been a long journey, but they didn't want to bother us.

"They looked at the many lights, but they said they were feeling tired, and only wanted to know where they could have their supper and their night's rest.

"I had a hard time telling them that the Hospitality hotel wasn't only for those who were not weary. Gracious, Sir Hearty Cordiality, as big keeper or hotel keeper, and myself as the night-watchman, could never endure having a place where only those who felt entertaining and bright could come. That would be selfish of us, and we don't like selfishness. We really, really don't."

He shook his head hard as he said this.

The boy and the girl looked at the night-watchman's—night-stick—which had accompanied them out. They had an idea that the night-stick would be anything but a stout stick to beat burglars with! And instead they had read, upon it these words written in large letters:

"Hospitality we love to show;
We stop and eat, we're glad to see."

The night-watchman had explained that the letters even stood but as he waved it about in the night for the lights from the hotel knew just how to shine upon it.

They finished a very fine banquet when Sir Hearty Cordiality said to the newcomers, "Now you may rest, for you surely want that more than anything. It is a pleasure to have you here. Good-night."

Then he turned to the boy and girl. "As you have no luggage and as neither of you look tired or sleepy, though I suppose you should, would you care to accept the brownie's invitation to see over the hotel?"

Of course the boy and the girl did want to see all over and they went off with a brownie after they had wished Sir Hearty Cordiality, a good night's rest and had thanked him for his kindness. He had given them each a hand shake which had been quite wonderful. The boy and the girl spoke to each other about it as they were waiting for the brownie to get the keys.

"He just shook hands as if he really and truly were so glad to see us," said the girl. "It made me feel so happy!"

Just then the little brownie came along with many keys.

"It's not," she said, "that we keep anything locked up here. Everything is open for all of us and everyone who really wants the keys can have them. But I wanted to explain to you how in the first place all the stepping stones to the Hospitality hotel and those who wish to take away a photograph of Sir Hearty Cordiality can do so."

"Oh," said the boy, as he forgot all about thanking him for the keys when were sent to us from here when we were on our journey.—Adv.

"I'll tell him about it and all the rest too," said the brownie.

"But come, we must look around for really to be late, very late, and you must go journeying again tomorrow."

The brownie took them through many rooms and through great halls. She showed them views from high towers and she showed them the great kitchens. She showed them the wonderful vegetable garden with the aid of a little light she carried with which she flashed from time to time where they were walking out of doors and they saw the many twinkling lights that shone from the Hospitality hotel.

"Good to Get Rid of."

What is that which every one likes to have and still enjoys getting rid of? A good appetite.

A concerted effort is being made by the U. S. Public Health Service to make the National Park service to make the United States safe and sanitary for the vast numbers of Americans who have recently taken to touring than. Before the war, when tourists were fewer and most of them traveled on stage lines and stayed at park hotels, the sanitary problem was simple. Since the war, however, the great majority travel in automobiles and camp out, enormously complicating all health matters.

Since early in January the U. S. public health service in the employ of and in co-operation with the National park service, has been preparing for the work, and on May 15 it sent to the first sanitary engineers to Yellowstone, Mount Ranier, Yosemite, and Grand Canyon Parks. These engineers, or engineers who have finished work on their assignments, will go to the other parks by the largest and most popular of the National Park service to parks, such as the Yellowstone, will make the necessary for the sanitarian to remain all summer.

The work consists in examination and protection of water supplies, disposal of garbage and sewage, inspection of milk and food, and the proper sanitary handling, providing for camp policing and sanitation; and prevention of malaria. Malaria carrying mosquitos have been found in Yosemite park, and especial efforts will be made to eradicate them there and prevent them from occupying a residence in other parks.

NEED OF BULL ASSOCIATION

County Agent Obliged to Hustle Around and Arrange for Exchange of Purebred Sire.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"I was in Mecklenburg county, North Carolina, some weeks ago," says a field man of the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture, "and had an opportunity of witnessing an incident which throws new light on the usefulness of the bull association organization. There is an association in that county, and I was invited to sit in at a meeting of the board of directors. The meeting consisted of holding a sale came up, and the county agent read a letter he had received from some farmers in another community who wanted to buy stock, and were coming to Mecklenburg county to see what they could get. The directors appointed a committee to receive them and show them around.

"Now, this piece of business was provided for, and placed in the hands of the right persons. Otherwise the county agent would have had to give up other work he had on hand, and search for some one to whom he could refer the visitors, and go with them. Even then he would not have had the information so readily available as these breeders themselves had it.

"In another county I saw a different thing, which shows how the county agent is loaded down with work where there is no such organization. He had succeeded in getting a number of farmers in different parts of the county to take up pure breeding, and had placed some good bulls with them. These sires had cost quite high for two years, and a change had to be made. So the county agent found it necessary to hustle around and arrange exchanges among these farmers to keep the good sires at work, otherwise the owners would have sold them, and might have neglected to buy new ones, and might have lost the use of a good bull. If there had been a bull association in the county it would have attended to the business of exchanging, as one of its regular functions, and left the county agent free to take up other important work."

FEEDING VALUE OF POTATOES

Rank Below Good Corn Silage on Account of Higher Percentage of Moisture in Former.

From the standpoint of feeding value for dairy cows, it may be said that potatoes rank below good corn silage. The latter contains about 20 per cent dry matter and the former, about 21 per cent. The chemical composition of raw potatoes and corn silage is very similar, both contain about 1 per cent of digestible protein and between 16 and 17 per cent of digestible carbohydrates and fats, but potatoes contain somewhat more moisture than the preserved corn silage. Potatoes at 50 cents a bushel would cost $12 a ton, whereas silage is worth less than one-half that price under present conditions.

PROVIDING SALT FOR COWS

Best Plan is to Give Animals Constant Supply—Ounce Each Day Is About Right.

The best way to provide salt for the cows is to give them a constant supply so they have easy access to it. The average cow will use about half a pound a week. If salt is provided daily an ounce each day will be about right, giving more or less according to the demands of the individual animals. Cows giving milk require more than those not in lactation.

INCREASING YIELD OF COWS

Foreign Competition Can Be Eliminated by Better Breeding, Right Feed and Care.

Better breeding, the right kind and amount of feed and good care are the only ways the production of our dairy cows can be increased. When this is done, foreign countries flooding our markets with their butter will have to look elsewhere for customers.

Number of Eggs to Set

Fifteen eggs are enough for any hen to cover, and during very cold weather or with very small hens, better results will often be secured if no more than 11 or 12 eggs are allowed to each one.

The Dairy

The dairy barn will be lot of expensive fixtures to be thrown down easily.

AMERICA'S MOST FAMOUS CAMPING PARTY

May Stop Work Upon Big U. S. Battleships

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Work on three or four big battleships the United States is building may be stopped shortly before the Washington disarmament conference meets and held up until after its results are known.

Because of increased costs of construction due to the war, four dreadnaughts cannot be completed within the money previously granted by congress. A group of members of the house, has determined to fight any bill increasing the appropriation until it is determined whether an agreement on armament reduction can be reached by the conference.

A test of the strength of the new movement probably will come in the house Monday or Tuesday when a vote is expected on the question of increasing the limit of cost on two battleships—the Maryland and California—which are virtually complete.

WANDERER WANDERS

CHICAGO, July 30.—Carl Wanderer, convicted of the murder of his wife and a "ragged stranger," was seeing spirits in his cell today.

"Chase those spirits out will you?" he yelled to jail attaches.

Physicians believed his sanity questionable yesterday when he asked that the murders granted him be postponed. He was scheduled to step on the gallows. Governor Small agreed to respite him until September on petition of American Legion officials who asked that a full investigation be made into Wanderer's sanity.

STANDARD TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUMS

From data collected from every available source, the U. S. Public Health service has preserved and published plans and specifications for a model sanitarium for tuberculosis patients, especially those from the world war. Where possible these plans will be followed in future service hospital construction, and where conditions will not allow exact adherence they will be used so far as possible.

The plans group the administrative buildings in the center around three sides of an open court. Facing from fourth side, from across a roadway, stands the infirmary, its wards radiating away in wheel spoke fashion. On the opposite side of the administration building, close up, is an auditorium and an open air theatre. A short distance beyond this the wards for semi-ambulant patients are disposed along a concave arc, and a little farther away are the wards for the ambulant patients. The officers, nurses and attendants' quarters are centrally grouped here and there on the right, and the industrial buildings (power house, etc.) are grouped on the left. Provision is made for occupational therapy and for vocational training for selected patients.

BURGLARS AT THREE RULES BREAK KNIFE

Fail to Cut Door Open but Enter Through Window; Get Small Booty.

A broken blade of a pen knife stuck in the panel of the rear door of the Three Rules Store is the only clue on which the sheriff's office and the police of Twin Falls have to work this morning in searching for burglars who broke into the store last night shortly after midnight and stole $10.35 in pennies, nickels and dimes from the cash drawer. The thieves used a broken knife spring to pry the back door of the warehouse in the rear open far enough to draw out the wire which fastened on the inside. They then tried to cut a panel out but failed when the knife broke. After this an effort was made to pry open the door into the main room, but this failed also. Then the rear window was pried open, the catch inside broken during the process, and entrance was made.

Police on the Job

Just before midnight Policeman Shipman and Patton walked down the rear of the store and saw that the door was closed. A little while later they met Policeman Austin and the three went around back. The rear door was then ajar and they made an investigation and found conditions as stated. It is thought that the thieves having gained an entrance and closed the door of the warehouse behind them, became confused at the fact that the police were in the neighborhood and made a get-away, after getting the cash without waiting to take anything else. The police telephoned at once to H. J. Falen, the proprietor of the store, who came down at once and looked over the stock of goods, finding it undisturbed.

UNITED STORES BURGLAR STILL IS AT LIBERTY

So anxious was a part of the public to get into the United Stores before the opening of their big anniversary sale and sell out on Saturday morning that the store was broken into some time Friday night, says the Filer Record.

Entrance to the building was made through the sidewalk doors to the cellar. As far as is known, the only goods taken were several dozen packages of vanilla extract. News of the robbery was kept silent for several days with the hopes that the imbibers of the nightmare cocktail would be discovered, but so far all attempts to identify the miscreants have been without avail.

Contract is Let

The contract for paving the six blocks of Filer's main street was last night awarded to Polger and Salmon of Burley on their bid of $46,316 for concrete paving six inches thick, and of a 1-2-4 mixture.

The decision to accept the concrete paving in preference to the bitulithic type, which was quoted at approximately $700 cheaper for the entire job, was made by the board in a three to two vote.

To Start Soon

It is expected that the contractors will commence initial work on construction next week, but the actual laying of the paving is dependent upon the ability of the municipality to ship in and to install the new water mains under the street to be paved. This pipe was ordered today, the delay in purchase being necessitated by the time involved in negotiating the bonds voted some time ago for the pipe's purchase.

Work on Pig Clubs

A HARDING EXPLAINS PLEASURE

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Publishing in the administration's mind is to exaggerate the seriousness of the peijaara situation in the south, President Harding today stated in a letter to representative Dyrnes, South Carolina.

"The effort is merely to develop the facts in order that the proper course may be determined in investigating them," the president wrote.

Dyrnes has introduced a resolution calling upon the president to state upon what facts he urged the United States public health service and the Red Cross to meet the alleged situation in the southern states.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts, or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back aches sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Instead of your kidneys clean themselves your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

CURRAN'S LECTURE

HOONAH, Iar July 30.—"The state of Iowa is in the hands of an American Legion mob of kids," indignantly declared Mrs. Ida Crouch Hazlett, New York socialist orator, here today after her fourth unsuccessful attempt at speech making.

"The chambers of commerce have been backing up the American Legion, and the local government has fallen down at every point," Mrs. Hazlett declared.

"The police admit that they cannot enforce the law to protect political meetings.

"It is not a question of chivalry that is at stake, but one of law and civilization.

"I shall continue my route in Iowa as arranged by the national socialist *party and see if we have any constitu*tional right in Iowa. We are employing able lawyers on this case.

The legion composed mostly of harpsters boys is inflamed by agitation and will be repudiated in disgust by the law abiding citizens of the state.

"I have been speaking constantly for the socialist party since the war began, and this is the first disturbance I have encountered. I shall make a tour of Iowa, addressing large audiences and never had a bit of trouble."

WHY THE EXPENSE

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Inquiry as to why American troops are being kept in Germany at a cost of virtually $1,000,000 a month will be made in the senate within the next few days.

The inquiry will be along these lines.

Why are the troops not brought back home, now that the peace with Germany has been established.

When will they be brought home.

What steps are being taken, or will be taken to obtain from Germany the $240,000,000 now overdue for the support of the American army of occupation.

Senator Borah said today he will seize his earliest opportunity to discuss the question in a speech. Senator Johnson, California, is expected to follow Borah's lead.

YOUR GOOD WILL COUNTS MORE THAN OUR PROFIT

"Consider the good will of the man you sell first" are our instructions to our salesmen selling used cars.

Those instructions are unnecessary in the sale of Buick, Cadillac and Dodge Bros. car, as we know they will give satisfaction and build good will, but with a used car it's different. On the surface a used car may look alright, but the real test of service may show up things you never even thought of looking for.

It is our duty to look for these things before we offer a used car for sale. We have the finest mechanics and they carefully check up every machine for defects.

The result of this policy is satisfied customers which pays us handsome dividends in good will. Which after all is more to be desired than the single profit on a used car sale, and which is essential if a business is to endure and prosper. We urge you to look over the list of used cars offered today.

FILER JOINS CAMPAIGN ON LOWER RATES

Twin Falls Citizens Bring a Message of Unfairness and Win Support.

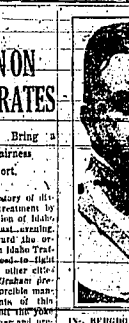
After listening to the story of discrimination and unfair treatment by the railroads in this section of Idaho for an hour or more last evening, Filer pledged $1000 toward the organization of the Southern Idaho Traffic Association and agreed to fight for their rights with the other cities of this tract. John W. Graham presented the subject in a forcible manner and urged the residents of this part of Idaho to throw off the yoke of tyranny and get together and prepare for battle. It was shown that practically everything that was shipped into this tract and the products of the farm and field that were shipped out paid an unfair and exorbitant rate to the railroad company.

The purpose of this meeting was to plan a campaign to fight these unfair and unjust rates, not only now but in the future. Other cities are carrying on the same fight and Salt Lake City has raised more than $100,000 to get equitable freight rates and other cities throughout the intermountain region are following suit. The inflitrative are coming to the residents of this tract more than half a million dollars annually, according to some of the speakers last evening.

W. A. Shaw of Filer acted as chairman and introduced John W. Graham as the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Graham spoke of the discrimination in rates on all products shipped into and out of this tract and urged the bearers to perfect an organization of the 60,000 people of this tract into a fighting unit. He urged the organization of the Southern Idaho Traffic Association and the raising of about $10,000 with which to start a campaign to combat these exorbitant rates.

At the close of his address a number of citizens from Filer and Twin Falls were called upon to express themselves. J. M. Maxwell spoke among others and, as a property owner in the neighborhood of Filer, pledged fifty dollars as his share in this organization plan. The following committee was named from Filer to carry on this work of soliciting funds: H. M. Smith, chairman, Leonard Wood and Guy Shearer and several others from Filer and announced themselves as being in favor of the plan and pledged their moral and financial support to the movement.

Some of those who went from Twin Falls and spoke were President Ashton B. Wilson of the Chamber of Commerce, Geo. P. Sprague, H. J. Weaver, H. H. Stevenson, Newell Wright, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, J. R. Keel, J. A. Barrett, I. H. Masters and T. J. Woods.



W. A. BERGDOLL CASE—This is Major Brave R. Campbell, who emphatically denies all charges made against him by Mrs. Emma Bergdoll before a congressional committee. Mrs. Bergdoll claimed that Campbell received $5000 to be used in securing the release of her son, Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader who escaped to Germany. Campbell's father and other witnesses corroborated his statements to the committee.

SUGAR BEET JOURNAL IS TO BE ISSUED

Company Incorporates to Conduct It and Do General Printing Business.

Sugar Beet Journal is the name announced for a new monthly publication which is expected to appear in a couple of weeks, devoted mainly to the subject of sugar beet culture and owned by the Sugar Beet Journal Publishing Company, which was incorporated last evening by Oswald Wilson, J. Harlod Wilson, C. G. Dovery and J. E. Saul. It will be printed in the old office of the Chronicle under the First National Bank.

The operating company is capitalized for $1500. There are 500 shares of $1 each owned by the incorporators and 1000 shares of cumulative preferred stock for which is guaranteed 8 per cent interest before the common stock begins to draw interest.

The articles cover a wide range of possible purposes, including the publication of magazines and newspapers and doing a general printing business. It is assumed that it will absorb the Dotery Printery when it gets under way.

Mrs. George E. Hart, Society Editor, Telephone 202-J.

The engagement of Miss Doris Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Cox, to Ralph Wynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wilkins of this city, was a delightful surprise announcement made at a luncheon given this afternoon by Miss Patricia Wynn in honor of Miss Beatrix Cox and Miss Marjorie Crow who will leave tomorrow for California. The wedding will take place September 17.

The luncheon was charming, of course affair given at the home of Mrs. George Wallace on Sixth avenue east. It was preceded by a jolly swimming party at the pool.

Those present were the Misses Beatrice Cox, Marjorie Crow, Doris Cox, Truthe Milner, Gladys Chanuel, Irene Page, Annette Wood and Patricia Wynn.

Mrs. C. E. Adams and Miss Blanche Adams entertained last evening at the home of the former in the lived apartments, complimentary to Miss Hasham of Des Moines, Iowa, and Miss Catherine Ford of Cody, Wyo.

Decorations of garden flowers lent added charm to the event. A delightful evening was passed with dancing and cards, punch being served during the evening as refreshments at the close.

Those present besides the hostesses and guests of honor were: Messrs. and Mesdames Byron Edwards, Roy Leedom, Willett Hanes, Jr., Wisewater, Litvin, J. N. Williams, J. E. De Witt; Misses Jennie Larsen, Faith and Cleo DeWitt, Doris Masters, Walter Weaver, Walter Larsen, Kenneth Moore, Louis Leonard and Russell Hunted.

The Shamrock club met Thursday with Mrs. W. H. Neer, a large attendance marking the gathering. The business session was followed by a social hour and refreshments were served.

A party of girls motored to Blue Lakes yesterday on a picnic outing. They spent the day pleasantly and enjoyed a picnic lunch. In the party were Dorothy, Mildred and Marjory Bun, Eula and Jessie Duke, Clara Kall, Martha Porter and Thelma Heartfield.

The Henry V. Walling Circle No. 16, Ladies of the G. A. R., met at the home of the president, Mrs. J. H. Wise, in the Colonial apartments Friday evening. Mrs. D. B. Alsop was elected and installed treasurer of the circle. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. The hostess served refreshments.

serving this district has announced a one-half per cent reduction in its rediscount rate. A reduction in rates always precedes a general improvement in the money situation. The effects of this move will not be felt locally for some time, until bank deposits start upward again. This adjustment period is drawing to a close although there are many needed changes to take place before stability can be assured. The change in rate will tend to hasten this improvement.
