RAILWAY BOARD MODIFIES WAR AGREEMENTS

UNIONS WIN BIG VICTORY IN DECISION

Eight-Hour Day and Overtime Agreements Among Points Upheld by Board

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—The United States railroad board today upheld the principle of time and a half overtime for all railroad shopmen after an eight-hour day.

The board also granted time and a half to all shopmen on Sundays and holidays and "penalties" the railroads for Sunday work, except where such Sunday shop work is "absolutely essential."

The decision, however, modifies seven of the most important rules granted shopmen during federal control of railroads, contending the railroads' several important contentions. The board declared the contention of the roads that these rules were "unjust and unreasonable" is correct.

While the decision is considered a sweeping victory for the employes in regards overtime, the railroads won many points in the modifications of the rules and, A. O. Wharton, labor member of the board filed the first dissenting opinion in a decision of the body.

The decision holds that:

1. Work performed on Sundays and legal holidays by shopmen shall be paid for at the rate of time and a half overtime except for operation of power houses, milling plants, train yards, and other areas regularly assigned to Sunday work. They will be paid regular week day time.

2. After eight hours work on week days overtime will be paid at the rate of time and a half.

3. Employes required to work during any period of the lunch hour will be allowed one hour.

4. Employes called from regular work at shops for emergency work on the road, will be paid from the time they leave the shop.

5. Employes sent from shops to fill vacancies at any point will be paid hourly from time they leave the shops.

6. The eight hour day is given full recognition.

WHERE'S BILL BRYAN?

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 19—John G. Crossland, president of the Miami Fisheries company was under arrest here today in connection with investigation of a signatte liquor smuggling syndicate, said by officers to be working on the Pacific coast.

Crossland, it is said, is one of the principal owners of the steamer Henry L. Marshall, seized off the Jersey coast for alleged illegal transportation of liquor. Crossland's bond was fixed at $1,000.

SAYS BRUMFIELD SANE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 19—Dr. W. A. House, Portland alienist, who examined Dr. H. M. Brumfield for sanity here late today, announced early today that he had found the alleged murderer absolutely sane in every way.

Brumfield is accused of murdering Frank Russell, a laborer, and claiming he was Russell.

"Other Woman" Denies Part in Kennedy Case

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19—Implications that John Peter Kennedy lured and are absolutely without foundation or that I had anything to do with the murder, was emphatically said Mrs. Mildred Bulk today, commenting upon her appearance at the sheriff's office last night where with her husband, Henry Bulk, she was questioned in connection with the Kennedy murder case investigation.

"I was very much younger than Kennedy and only knew him as a little girl," she said. "I was only 15. I thought Kennedy, my husband, a girl who was visiting us from El Paso and I went to the theater.

"Afterward we joked him about his mysterious outings in Beverly Glen. He said he would drive us out there and he did. The place did not look as if it had been used much.

"When we were leaving after the lights had been blown out, he said, 'Look out for snakes, girls.' Naturally we screamed."

Returning coming from the Beverly Glen cottage about this date had been previously reported in the sheriff's office by Mrs. Beverly, a neighbor, and it was in this connection the deputies who questioned Mrs. Bulk admitted that she was called and asked concerning the events on the evening in question.

The woman who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bulk and Kennedy on the ride to the Beverly Glen cottage on July 19 was Miss Dorothy Parrott of Los Angeles, who now is visiting in El Paso, Tex., according to the district attorney's office.

"After my friend left Kennedy I spoke I call up my husband and ask him to come down to dinner. . . Kennedy was at our house on the evening of the murder. He came to see my husband. He would go to his office, as he had a little business to attend to. My mother was not home yet, and my husband suggested that I go to dinner with Kennedy, without waiting for him.

Officers Battle Mob of Tramps Who Grab Control of Freight

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Heavily armed posses from the police station and sheriff's office shortly after dawn today engaged in a pistol battle with 60 hobos who had commandeered a freight train in San Bernardino, overpowered the crew and pointed the Los Angeles. Police arrested 31 men. Twenty-six escaped.

Warned by telegraph that the "disloyal freight" was speeding toward Los Angeles, posses were hurriedly formed here. They halted the train at the Santa Fe tracks and Fourth street. A pitched battle ensued. The entire neighborhood was thrown into a panic.

Numerous minor injuries were sustained as authorities rounded up the "kidnapers."

BIG HOP CROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Home brewers, this is written for you:

Nearly 22,000,000 pounds of hops, enough to make 1,500,000 bottles of beer will be harvested in the United States this year, the department of agriculture estimated today.

Farmers predict hops will go to $1 a pound because of the demand.

LASKER WILL STICK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—Chairman Lasker of the United States shipping board today denied reports that he is to resign.

"I'll stick with the job until it is finished," he said. "I'm not a quitter."

Turns Against Father Who Slew Priest

REV. EDWIN R. STEPHENSON, MRS. DAGUITHA, MRS. PEDRO GUSSMAN, AND (BELOW) REV. JAMES E. COYLE.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 19.—"I do not want to see my father. It has done a terrible thing for which there was no excuse. I care nothing about seeing him since the dreadful thing he has committed."

This was the stand taken by Mrs. Pedro Gussman, a bride of 18, whose father, Rev. Timothy Daguitha, stepping is awaiting trial for the murder of Rev. James E. Coyle.

Rev. Stephenson is a Methodist clergyman. Rev. Coyle was a Catholic priest. Mrs. Gussman had joined the Catholic church even her father's protest and then had become the wife of a Catholic.

Within a short time after Rev. Coyle performed the marriage ceremony, Rev. Stevenson called on him, words followed, and Rev Stephenson shot and killed Rev. Coyle. In the plained self-defense, saying the priest made a motion as if to draw a revolver, but police have proved he priest was unarmed.

Stephenson has been known as the marrying parson, having supported himself largely by frequenting the marriage license office, where he performed hundreds of marriages, many for couples who were eloping.

"My father," says Mrs. Gussman, "not only wanted me to give up Mr. Gussman, but he wanted me to marry a divorced man. This I refused to do. He kept me a prisoner for days before my marriage, and brutally mistreated me."

The prosecution is expected to use Mrs. Gussman as a witness against her father at the coming murder trial.

CONGRESS HAS JAM AND FEAR LOSE RECESS

Senate Quarreling Over Measures Which May Obstruct Vacation Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Congress today was in a legislative jam that threatened to prevent the month's recess scheduled to begin Wednesday.

The chief obstacles in the way of a recess are:

1—The Longworth bill extending the dye embargo with the senate amendment extending the emergency tariff bill.

2—The Jones-Newlands bill carrying $48,500,000 for the shipping board and $200,000,000 for expenses of the disarmament conference to which Senator Harrison has offered an amendment to put the senate on record as favoring publicity at the conference.

3—The anti-medicinal beer bill.

The trouble over these three bills centers in the senate. The McNary bill to aid farmers through the war finance corporation seems likely to pass the house and be ready for the president's signature by next Wednesday and the tax bill has clear sailing.

Before the recess President Harding wants:

1—The tax revision bill passed by the house and sent to the senate finance committee for consideration during the recess.

2—The railroad bill passed by both houses.

3—The McNary farm bill passed by both houses.

HAVE GONE THE LIMIT TOWARD IRISH, CLAIMED

Lloyd George Tells Commons Every Possible Concession Put Forth

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Lloyd George in the house of commons and Premier Carson in the house of lords today told the British parliament that the government had gone the limit in its offers to Ireland.

"The government has gone to the extreme limit in its concessions to Ireland," Marquis Curzon declared.

"Separation would infallibly mean the complete ruin of Ireland.

"If the government is challenged it will not quail before its difficult task."

While Curzon was telling the lords that the government had "come to the extreme limit in its offers" Lloyd George reported to the commoners that "the government has already said all it has to say in its letter to De Valera."

Finds Three Bodies Pinned in Abandoned Car at Foot of Dump

SUMMIT, Ill., Aug. 19.—Bodies of three persons are imprisoned in a crumpled car at bottom of an eighty foot quarry's pool, Jack Blair, diver, said today.

Blair is "salvaging" automobiles from the "auto graveyard" where they were abandoned by persons who wished to conceal identities.

Blair, who came up from the bottom of the pool today said, "he saw the three bodies. On a second trip he could not locate the coupe but planned further efforts under instruction of police.

Nearly a hundred automobiles were in the abandoned pool.

PARKINSON IN TALK TELLS OF BANTA AFFAIR

Describes Work for Williams Who, It Is Said, Confesses; Has an Alibi.

JARBIDGE MERCHANT KNEW ARTHUR BANTA

George Stroble, a Jarbidge merchant, was in this city today on business. He says that he knew Arthur Banta, the Great Bend attorney, who was killed July 6, it is alleged by Curley Wallace, and for whose trial A. M. Parkinson was taken as a witness yesterday by R. T. Myers, a Burns detective, after Parkinson had wired this whereabouts back to Kansas, and volunteered to go. Stroble says that Banta was a lawyer of unusual ability and expresses regret at his death.

That Archie M. Parkinson, taken at Filer for witness in the murder case of Arthur Banta at Great Bend, Kansas, with which Curley Wallace is charged and of which it is said Wallace confessed, has a complete alibi indicating that he was not lying from anybody and that, although wanted to be arrested, he came to Sheriff D. R. Sherman and told his story that the sheriff here might wire to the sheriff at Great Bend. He farts which make people here who have come in contact with him believe him to be telling the truth. He freely confessed that he worked for Wallace and before going yesterday, reiterated the story he told when he first learned here that he was wanted in Kansas. It is said Wallace confessed, has a "ready excuse" for the crime and which is regretted, was corrected as soon as discovered, the press being stopped to make the correction. It was Wallace and not Parkinson who is said to have assaulted the victim.

What Parkinson Says

Parkinson talks freely relative to his experiences with Wallace. He says that he said a man named W. A. Scott came to Great Bend a short time before July 6, on which the killing occurred. On the night of the murder, he says that Wallace went out and said he would be back soon, if anyone should call. About eight o'clock he asserts, Wallace returned and ate supper with a waitress named Billie Bryan. He remained until o'clock next morning and then went out with Parkinson and another man, all of whom had left Great Bend in front of the hotel nearby until someone in a room asked them to go. Next day they heard of the murder.

The following evening Parkinson says that about 10:30 Wallace threw him (ye key and asked him to lock up. Wallace did not, however, go home until locking up time, when Wallace locked the money in the safe. Afterwards Wallace asked Parkinson to go home with him saying that he was carrying now no Parkinson says that he had seen Wallace lock up the money and did not believe him but went with him. Wallace then drew a revolver and held it in his hand, forcing another man whom he knew. Wallace called him to go home with him and those two parted with Parkinson. Next morning, Mrs. Parkinson told his roommate, Scott, what had occurred he says that Scott asked him if he intended to get out going with Wallace under those conditions, and suggested that Wallace knew something of the murder. He worked for Wallace at Great Bend and decided to quit. After quitting, he stopped at a number of cities before he arrived here. He tells circumstantially where he stopped and how long and describes checks he drew up to the time that he arrived at Filer. He kept no correspondence with his father in Wagoner, Okla., and he has received a letter saying that he was wanted.

GIRL SLAIN, MUTILATED BY EX-CONVICT; 3 OTHERS HURT

Brutal Murder Followed by Suicide at Petaluma; Man Accused of Assault Uses Hatchet in Wreaking Vengeance Upon Victim

PETALUMA, Calif. Aug. 19.—Evelyn Grant, aged 14, was murdered and her younger sister, her grandmother and her father probably fatally injured early today by a man who broke into the Grant home here during the night.

Later the body of Charles Hoffer, an ex-convict believed to have been the assailant, was found. He had killed himself.

The girl's body had been brutally mutilated. Feeling was running high this morning and threats to burn Hoffer's body were made.

Hoffer was to have been arraigned today on a charge of attempting to assault the same girl he murdered.

According to the account of the murder pieced together by authorities, a man believed to have been Hoffer broke into the Grant home last night and first choked and then cut the throat of Evelyn Grant, after which he "mutilated her body.

He then went to an adjoining room where Mrs. J. Grant, Evelyn's grandmother, aged 70, and Evelyn's younger sister, Leona, were sleeping. He struck them over the head with a hatchet.

Next he entered the room where his father, John Grant, was sleeping and struck him with the same weapon.

Mrs. Grant and John Grant are not expected to live.

Hoffer was a convict on parole from Folsom state penitentiary. He was sentenced five years ago from Sonoma county for a statutory crime.

A few months ago he was paroled and came to Petaluma, where he recently was arrested on a charge of having attempted to assault Evelyn Grant, the girl she killed last night.

CLAIMS HIRED TO SLAY MRS. FIFI STILLMAN

Kansas City Man Is Held After Making Startling Statement to Newspaper

KANSAS CITY, Aug 19.—Samuel H. Harris, 28, of New York, in a written statement published today in the Kansas City Post, declared he had been hired to assassinate Mrs. Fifi Potter Stillman.

He said he did not know who was back of the proposed murder.

Harris, who was arrested here today, said he with four companions was employed to do the killing.

Before making this statement, Harris said:

"I am hiding out here. My pals have double crossed me—I'll tell the truth.

"I do not know who was back of the proposed murder," the statement quotes Harris as saying. "All I know is that I was hired to take part in it and did my part perfectly and that I received my expenses and money to carry out my part, under promise of receiving more—$25,000 to split four ways."

WIRTH CLAIMS OVERTHROW IF TERMS SIGNED

German Chancellor Says No Support If He Accepts American Treaty

BERLIN, Aug. 19—The Wirth government will be overthrown if it signs the peace treaty proposed by the United States, according to authoritative information given the United Press today.

Negotiations over the treaty are in progress between Loring Dresel, the American chargé d'affaires and Chancellor Wirth with the latter taking the stand that no party in Germany will support his ministry if he agrees to the American terms as they stand.

Germany's position has been strengthened by recent interviews with Frank Vanderlip, American financier in the German press, in which he stated with reference to Germany's situation—that such aid cannot fulfill the treaty of Versailles in some quarters here, Vanderlip is considered the mouthpiece of President Harding's "Colonel House."

Leaders hint that claims relating to the Lusitania and others contained in the American treaty, constitutes excessive costs.

The question of German property holdings in the United States was apparently one of the issues of the controversy over the peace terms but the results are so far subdued.

SCOUT REPORT YELLOWSTONE TOURIST LOST

Pigeon Couldn't Fly That Far, Say Scientists—Rangers See Heller Daily.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Dan Albright apparently was the only man in New York today who still believed that Dr. Edmund Heller is lost in the Hoodoo mountains, Yellowstone National park.

Natural history experts deride the possibility of the carrier pigeon, purportedly to have borne a message hitherto from Heller, having made a thousand mile flight. They believe the bird was loosed in New York instead of in Sinpar. The latter is still urging authorities in Wyoming to search for Heller.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 19—The carrier pigeon that flew from Yellowstone park to New York City carrying a note written by Dr. Edmund Heller, to the effect that he had "lost his way" the long flight in vain. Horace M. Albright, park superintendent stated today that Dr. Heller has been in a frequented section of the park since Tuesday and he has chatted with rangers and park employes.

The pigeon fell exhausted in the downtown section of New York. It was reported and carried the message of help addressed to a friend.

Albright declared the story of Heller being lost was "absurd."

Ned Frost of the Hoodoo ranch, near the mountains where Heller was supposed to be wandering without food, declared he knew nothing of the lost explorer, although he had received a message to send out a relief party in search of Heller.

Park officials and rangers said they understand the report that Heller is lost as they see him each day, they said.

CARAVAN AT CEDAR RAPIDS

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 19—Scott's modern caravan, bound for New York families, living up to Sir Walter's dictum, "Young people love romance," left this city today en route to the golden west where they will seek new homes. Twenty-five acres of Twin Falls county, Idaho, are being transported in the caravan and three army trucks will carry the night in Riverside, Iowa, where they arrived in the city. Tomorrow they will be in Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia. They left Sioux City, Ia., for Omaha, Neb., where they will be in camp tonight. Sioux City is the last town through which the caravan will pass before reaching its destination.

The committee was said to have been among the first of the 48 state organizations which are to present an appeal to the public late in October.

Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain and (Left) Ralph Obenchain, her divorced husband, (right) Arthur C. Burch, held with Madalynne in connection with the murder of J. B. Kennedy.

"OTHER WOMAN" DENIES

here to defend his divorced wife, Madalynne, on charges of murdering the man for whom she left him, may be called before the county grand jury, Deputy District Attorney Asa Keyes indicated today.

If called, he will be required to tell the grand jury the story he gave police to the effect that Kennedy had once tried to induce Madalynne Obenchain and pointed to the red nailed party.

Obenchain, it was stated, will attempt to avoid being called on the ground that he is an attorney by the defense and cannot be forced to testify.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18—The district attorney's office today made an effort to consolidate its efforts to solve the Kennedy "midnight murder" mystery with those of Ralph E. Obenchain, divorced husband of the two defendants, it was said.

"If Obenchain, as his investigation will join and we will pool our interest, in a common effort to develop the true facts of what happened at Bayerly Glen when young Kennedy was killed," declared Malcolm McLaran, McLaran is chief investigator for District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18—Chief of police of Long Beach, Cal., in the district attorney's office to make an a special investigation in connection with Mr. Kennedy's death is both relatives and free-possible, declared Ralph E. Obenchain, to the United Press today when informed of the offer made by Malcolm McLaran, chief investigator for District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine.

Early in the afternoon, counsel for the defense and as such will gather information as to the true perpetrators of the crime and Leah says that they are not Madalynne and Burch," Obenchain continued. "It is ridiculous to think that I would turn any information gathered by my investigators over to the prosecution when they have already indicted Madalynne and Burch and are trying to make all the evidence they can rather fit into that theory."

EARLY SEPTEMBER HORN

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Fred Lawson wiped the morning mist from his glasses today and took another squint up the Kill-Von Kull. Fred had put in a long night as watchman at the Bayonne Dock and Nut factory and wasn't sure whether it was true or not. It certainly was.

A nude woman in a row boat, September Morn but a month ahead of time, the spit on the occasion over, Fred thought for Dan Tadol, a dock roustabout and Dan, like a good policeman, wrapped his raincoat around the shivering figure of Mrs. Emma Kurz, who told her harrowing story.

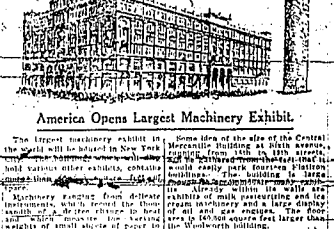
She had jumped overboard from a barge, whither she had been taken by her husband's best friend, Chas. Kloml, leaving her night gown in her husband's hands. She had swum around the nearly an hour before Dan and Kloml was arrested.

CLOUDBURSTS IN TEXAS.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 19.—Standing on the roof of the only remaining building in Hatch, N. M., F. N. Cobbinah telephones news of the cloudburst which struck that village late last night and made 500 persons homeless.

Hatch, which is 75 miles north of El Paso, was practically wiped out, was the village of Santa Teresa to the wall of water.

Would easily park fourteen Flatiron buildings!



America Opens Largest Machinery Exhibit.

The largest machinery exhibit in the world will be housed in New York this September when a vast array of bold various other exhibits, contains nearly a million square feet.

Machinery ranging from delicate instruments, which record the thousandth of an inch, down to heavy and which measure for carrying weights of small shots of paper up to heavy shears that cut steel bars per 5 inches in diameter, and tension machine that can pull a 500 ton load.

Great cranes strong enough to move a large mountain, will be a feature of this all American exhibition which will rival in size the famous exhibits of the Crystal Palace in London and the historic Centennial in Paris of the Greater Age.

Some idea of the size of the Central Mercantile Building at 30th avenue, running from 14th to 15th streets, and 5th to 6th avenues, may be had if it is stated that it would easily park fourteen Flatiron buildings. The building is large enough to accommodate many exhibits of milk pasteurizing and ice cream machinery and a large display of electrical engines. The floor area is 600,000 square feet larger than the Woolworth building.

The tallest building in the world, Eiffel Tower in Paris, has a floor area of 34,000 square feet, less than one-fifth the area of a single floor in this structure.

Alex H. Sheffield, president of the Exhibition Company which is behind the enterprise, recently called attention to the fact that New York sells more machinery than the combined markets of Europe.

JEROME TRIMS ALL STARS IN SLUGFEST 13 TO 11; MORLEY AND SUPPORT BADLY SHOWN UP

Visitors Pound Out Victory in Early Innings and Locale Come With Rush at Finish but Fall Short—Zienke Hits Two Home Runs in One Inning—Steele Good.

Although Murph Morley fanned 13 Jerome hitters in yesterday's tilt with the Inland league champions, they likewise marked him for 17 clouts. On top of that Murph contributed four passes, two wild pitches and a hit batter, while his mates swelled his total with six errors. This lump of statistics brings the figure 13 to the front again. Jerome made that many runs and copped the battle from the All Stars, who totalled only 11.

The visitors did all their meanness in the early innings. All of their 13 runs came in the first four innings. The Twin Falls club waited patiently until the visitors took all they wanted, then started helping themselves, but it wasn't enough.

That's always the way when you wait until the second table. By the time the Jerometes got through making a meal off Morley the platter was pretty clean.

However, Frank Zienke, who stands with his fork hand to the plate unnamed to get a couple of good bites. He opened the sixth round with a homer, the longest drive ever made at Lincoln park, after in the same inning he came up single and hit another one out of the park. Home runs are beginning to pawn at Hank Bath's feeble efforts.

In this canto, the first look the All Stars had at the platter, they spaced it nine times. This was pretty rapid work in closing the gap between themselves and Jerome, leaving only a four run lead in the next round the boys added two more, making the count 13 to 11. But at the fracas, they stopped there by previous agreement two innings before the usual time. What might have happened had the full nine innings been played—you can only be guessed at.

As already remarked the visitors got theirs early. They opened on Murph with a fusillade of hits in the first, scoring seven runs. One more in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth and they were through for the day. Morley tightened up and his support braced somewhat.

When the flood broke over Ansell in the sixth he hustled out to center and prodded Steele, the big Shoshone hurler, into the arena. Steele's smoke ball momentarily stopped the slaughter, but the horde popped back for a pair of runs in the last inning.

In and out baseball may be charged with responsibility for yesterday's defeat. The home lads tossed away a couple of runs by bonehead base running and their fielding, what there was of it, was distinctly an gratin. Most of it can be observed in the error column, inasmuch as not a single fielding assist was made by the team except the battery. Morley, one and Patton another. Pat also tossed out a base runner.

NOTES OF THE GAME

(By Bleacherite.)

Oi Yoi.

As a ball game it was a real track meet.

Morley was wild, and when he did hit the platter he put it right in the center, and then—seven runs in the first.

The team perked slightly, and tacked their usual pep.

The first three innings consumed one hour and five minutes.

The Jerome lads scored in the first four innings, for a total of thirteen runs.

With the bases drunk in the first inning, Steele of the opposition, lifted the ball over the center field fence.

Not much to be said about the local boys until the sixth when they pounded out nine runs.

It was in this inning that Frank Zienke broke all records for this ball park and a good many other ball lots, when he slammed out two home runs in one inning. Both of them were real hits, and cleared the fence easily.

Ansell started out for Jerome, and his underhand delivery fooled our boys for five innings.

In the sixth Zienke opened the inning with a hit over the center field fence, and then Bloody. When the storm had subsided nine runs had crossed the plate, and Mr. Ansell went to center field.

Steele, formerly of Shoshone, took his place, and stopped the rally.

Steele thought that the umpire should have called every ball a strike, but the umps didn't see it that way.

The game was called by agreement in the seventh.

It was a good move as it was getting pretty dark, and playing ball in the dark is dangerous.

The umps received his usual "raking," and he seemed to enjoy it.

Steele's throw from center in the fourth, catching Patton at the plate, was a beautiful piece of work. I think that it was the prettiest peg ever made in Lincoln field.

Ansell also made a beautiful throw to third in the seventh, catching Bill Kleffner.

Well, if the game would have gone nine innings we might have won, but it didn't, and anyhow I said "if."

LIKE A SCENE ON PARNASSUS

Marriage Feast in the South Seas Moved Poet to Comparison—That Was Poetic.

There is a charming account in Frederick O'Brien's book, "Mystic Isles of the South Seas," of a marriage feast that O'Brien attended in company with Robert Brooke. Roast pig, shrimps, prawns, lobsters, papayas, pomegranates, were among the dainties served. Bride, bridegroom and ushers sat under a great flower. Piles of broad-fruit leaves were spread before each guest. At each place were coconut shells containing drinking water, coconut-milk, grated ripe coconut and sea-water. Barrels of wine were decanted.

After the repast, bachelors sang the ancient yoyo song of Tahiti and young girls sang amorous songs with irreverence. Brooke, as he lay and moved with O'Brien, made the following comment: "We are on Mount Parnassus. The column is faint and white with dew in a moment, swinging the thyrsus and beating the cymbals. Pan pipes from behind that palm. Those are his pipes, as sure as Linus went to the dogs."

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, former world's woman champion, who came out of a long retirement for the present national tournament. She lost in the semi-finals today to Mrs. Molla Mallory, national champion, after a terrific match.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, champion of 1905, went down to defeat here this afternoon in the semi-final round for the national tennis women's title when she lost to Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, 8—6 and 6—2.

It was a question of a skilled, active, young player against an older, slower opponent. Mrs. Mallory outsperded the California woman.

The first bitterly fought match, which went 14 games under a blistering hot sun, slowed up Mrs. Bundy until she was fairly swept away in the second set, which the champion started with four straight games.

Mrs. Mallory will meet Miss K. Browne, Santa Monica, Calif., tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock for the title.

Bleacher Bleats

"Guess that I will have to start in again now if I can help the boys out of the run.

These bleats are for the good of all those playing ball, and for those wanting to see good ball, and anytime that any of the fans have any suggestions we will be more than glad to put them in print.

I want to talk a few minutes about the Jerome-All-Star game of yesterday.

First, we fined the boys without any reason. Why? Shall I answer the question? Well, you can't play a good game of ball on Thursday if you stay up half of Wednesday night. Then, again, it is hard to play your best if you work up to the time of going to the field. These two items are the REAL reasons why the boys have been playing such boneheaded ball.

One game they could beat Cleveland and the next game they fail by the way side. It is the steady wins that bring fame the on-lookers.

When the writer played ball, we had to be in bed every night at 10 o'clock, and report on the grounds the next morning at 9 for practice. Of course it was a business proposition for the ball players, and meant our bread and butter, and I freely admit that the All Stars are merely a bunch of good ball players that are trying to give the fans some real baseball, but even at that, for their own benefit, they should be in bed at ten o'clock the night before a game. I have the welfare of the Twin Falls team at heart, and I would rather see them win a game than anything else. But I know of, and that is the reason that I speak as I do. You all know that we are subject to mistakes, and the best way to rectify them is to have someone show them to us.

Personally, I think that Thursday ball is asking too much of the boys that have to work hard all day. Of course if the boys are willing to play on Thursday, that settles me, as I am with them 100 in ball game every days a week. But I really think that the team would play much better ball if they confined themselves to Sunday ball only.

Let us look at it this way, for the time, so that the people can see some of the outside forces, and he is doing the best that he can. I told the writer that he was on to all sorts for suggestions that will benefit the team, so don't be backward, go right over to the Model Cafe and tell him what you would do. The main object of this article is to see if we can locate the trouble with the team, and after last night's game we will all admit that there is trouble somewhere.

The All Stars can play better than they did last night, because we have seen them do it, and yet, we are at a loss as to the reason for their showing against the Jerome team.

We can beat Jerome, and a week from Sunday the team is going over to Jerome to prove it.

One game of a team never did prove anything to me. If Jerome does beat us on the 28th, then I may change my opinion, but I still think at time I still think that we have the best club.

A word at this time about the team from across the river. They have a snappy bunch of ball players, and quite a few of them are salaried men. They hit the ball hard, but I think that they would break their necks with a curve ball pitcher chucked against them. We are anxious to see what "Smiling Slim" Cooper will do to them at Ball Sunday.

He is also remembered that the All Stars are 100 per cent home boys, and that there is not one paid player on the team.

Steele was a tower of strength to Jerome yesterday, with his heavy hitting, his wonderful fielding and his clever pitching, but Steele is a Shoshone man.

But that has nothing to do with this article. What I want to know is: What can we do to get the team out of the rut I am unwilling to do my share what will you do?

The Kimberly team is working hard for their game Sunday with the All Stars and I look for a real battle. Lots of the fans think that it will be a runaway, but once more I have to be shown. The Bizes showed us that they can lose a game, and I sincerely hope that Thursday's game was the last game they will lose this season. Arrangements are being made to handle a large crowd of fans at Kimberly, and there will be lots of space for autos.

Fill up the jit with gas and rosters and go over to Kimberly Sunday and see whether our team was lucky in winning that 3 to 0 game, or whether we are really the best club.

To date we haven't heard anything more concerning our proposed trip but it's a little early yet, and as soon as we do we will tell you all about it.

Orwig will take his youngsters over to Jerome on the 28th, and I'll bet a cookie that two-thirds of Twin Falls will make the trip with the team.

Guess that I had better quit for today or I won't have anything to write about tomorrow. Before I forget it, remember that we are anxious to see the still alone business at the old stand. Tonight the I. D. and the Elks play, and Monday we have another real headliner when the Legion and Bath get together. Both these games should be snappy.

By trailing a thread behind him a spider is able to drop from any height to the ground or any solid substance, and retrace his steps with a certainty to a particular rock. Having once traced his steps in can drop in another direction, returning along the thread span on the second trip. This will combine "adhesiveness" during which operation the spider is suddenly spanning a space with his web.

SUZANNE AND MOLLA AGREE TO PLAY OFF

Will Stage Match for Cup to Represent World Title, Is Announcement

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French starlet and Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American champion, will play for a cup emblematic of the world's tennis championship here during the first week in September.

Official announcement of the match is expected today. The Westside Tennis club which is offering the cup, secure the services of both prima donnas.

The match, which will mean a lower Bites Sacks and will be always a feature of the tennis round for the Davis cup.

It is planned to make the tennis championship an annual fixture here and to place the new cup as a rolling with the Davis cup.

Mlle. Lenglen says she is willing to compete for the cup and that she will contact an opportunity to play for it. Mrs. Mallory's acceptance of the challenge is expected.

Semi-finals in the women's national championship tournament will be reached this afternoon with two contests in the feature match.

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy is to play Mrs. Mallory in one match and the other will be played between Miss Mary K. Browne and Mrs. F. V. Hillyard.

Mrs. Mallory is expected to win over Mrs. Bundy although it is since she will be forced to her best game if she will have to be in top shape to do it.

Miss Browne and Mrs. Hillyard should make the final round without much trouble, making the final round between the champion, the English girl and the Norse maiden.

Dispatch from Riga says that Keeley has been released but didn't say whether it was the Red Guard or the White Ribbon that let him go. Anyway lots of people will be interested to learn where he went after being put out of business in this country.

If all business men advertised what an awful confusion would be heaped upon the publishing business. Because the vast majority of business men do not advertise, those who the secure results which soon enable them to distance competitors, industrial records show that there is a much larger percentage of failures among non-advertisers than advertisers.

NEED OF PUBLICITY

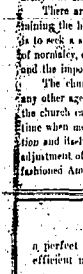
At the same time that motion picture advertising of Idaho is being put out a more earnest effort should be made to broaden the field of publicity. This is the opportune moment, and unless the state is to lag behind, all the available forces should be concentrated on the work of making Idaho the most talked of section in the West. More reels should be made, and this fall and winter the circulation of Idaho's pictures should cover the whole country. Let us not forget that we are not without strong competition. Canada is utilizing pictures and lectures all over the United States. California has invested many hundreds of thousands of dollars in similar propaganda. Oregon, Washington, Montana, and several other states are in the field. We of Idaho may justly be charged with failure to measure up to the golden chance which is open for us if we are not quick to get into the game.

For every dollar invested in motion pictures and their proper circulation, ten will be returned to the state. We need more people with money and muscle to develop the natural resources of our state, which are more abundant and varied than anywhere else in the West. This is not the time to cry poverty. We have an unusual opportunity right at hand to bring prosperity to every line of business in the state. We are indebted to the reclamation service for its co-operation, but we must not forget that the real success of any plan to develop Idaho is dependent in a large degree upon ourselves.

Let us all get together and make Idaho so well known that it shall forever cease to be merely a thoroughfare for hundreds of thousands journeying westward. Let us make the state the mecca for the majority of these travelers.

Church and the Re-establishment of Old-Fashioned American Home

By JOHN W. WEEKS, Secretary of War



The nation is gradually putting its house into order, but neither the President by executive decree nor the congress by the enactment of legislation can wholly return the country to a normal state.

The solution of our problems, both social and industrial, will not be very difficult when the citizen himself decides to return to a state of normalcy; and it is in this connection that the church, I think, has a duty to perform, the importance of which cannot be over-emphasized.

The first line of defense of the republic from the enemy without and the enemy within is not the navy nor the army, but the home. This great nation was founded on the little group of simple Christian homes that constituted the Plymouth colony, and it is to the American home that America owes its greatness and power, not to its commerce, its mighty fleets, or its victorious armies. It is the source of our strength and we cannot lessen its influence or importance without dangerously weakening the very foundation of the republic.

Keep the homes fires burning and bolshevism and I. W. W. and anarchy will die of malnutrition.

There are abroad in the land influences which are steadily undermining the home life of America, and the tendency of our modern life is to seek a substitute for the home. In returning the nation to a state of normalcy, our first duty is the re-doration of the sanctity, the integrity and the importance of the American home.

The church is in more intimate relationship with the home than any other agency in the body politic, and in these days of reconstruction the church can, if it will, exert a steadying and sobering influence in a time when men are not inclined to think clearly, and can render the nation and itself no greater service than to undertake, as its part in the readjustment of the affairs of the country, the re-establishment of the old-fashioned American home.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A large volume of selling in the stock exchange during the first half hour today exerted considerable pressure on the whole industrial list.
New lows on the movement were recorded in Westinghouse Electric at 40¼ and Cuba Cane Sugar preferred at 18¾. Even stocks which generally have displayed bitter resistance in recent sessions, showed immediate signs of the pressure.
American Car and Foundry and Pullman sagged some. Steel common was depressed below 74, while Studebaker got into fresh low ground at 67¼. Famous Players was one of the few strong points in the list advancing two points to 52½.

SCREW POST MADE IT

ALIAS SUMMONS

In the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of Idaho, in and for the County of Twin Falls.

John W. Lentz,
Plaintiff,
vs.
Harlow H. Parker, Elma H. Parker, his wife, Charlotte Herr, Joseph A. Bailey, Ella Bailey, his wife, Hoyd Corporation, a corporation, Twin Falls Canal Company, a corporation, Elizabeth C. Sierer, Executrix of the last will and testament of Gilbert Sierer, deceased, Defendants.

The State of Idaho sends Greetings to Harlow H. Parker, Elma H. Parker, his wife; Charlotte Herr, Joseph A. Bailey, Ella Bailey, his wife, Hoyd Corporation, Twin Falls Canal Company, and Elizabeth C. Sierer, Executrix of the last will and testament of Gilbert Sierer, deceased, the above named defendants:

You are hereby notified that a complaint has been filed against you in the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of Idaho, in and for the County of Twin Falls, by the above named plaintiff, and you are hereby directed to appear and answer said complaint within twenty days of the service of this summons if served within said judicial district, and within forty days if served elsewhere; and you are further notified that unless you so appear and answer said complaint within the time specified, the plaintiff will take judgment against you as prayed, in said complaint.

In this action the plaintiff is seeking to foreclose a certain mortgage executed and delivered by the above named defendants, Harlow H. Parker and Ella H. Parker, his wife, to the plaintiff for the purpose of securing the payment of a promissory note executed by the same defendants for the sum of $2000.00 to the plaintiff, which note bears date of December 8th, 1920 and said mortgage bears of the same date, said mortgage being a lien upon that certain piece of real property situate in Twin Falls County, State of Idaho, and more particularly described as follows: The North Half of the North Half of the Northwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section Twenty-five, Township Nine South, Range Fourteen East of the Boise Meridian.

Witness my hand and the seal of the said District Court this 29th day of July, 1921.

DAIRY

MILK DELIVERED TO CITIES

Figures Announced by Department of Agriculture—to Total Cost to Ultimate Consumer.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The total cost of milk delivered to the consumer's door in Columbus, O., during the first six months of 1920, ranged from 11.2 cents up to 15.3 cents per quart, if the costs of one company which does business in "certified" milk are omitted, according to the figures recently announced by the United States Department of Agriculture. The cost of the raw milk delivered at the dairy ranged from 8.7 cents to 10 cents per quart. The total cost of operating the dairy plant, including the pasteurizing and bottling of the milk, ranged from 2 cent to 2.4 cents per quart, and the cost of delivering the milk from the dairy to the consumer ranged from 1.01 cents to 2.9 cents per quart.

The item of administrative expense varies widely, being as low as two-tenths of a cent per quart for one small company and as high as 1 cent per quart for a large concern.

Two of the seven companies covered were small concerns which produced their own milk supply. The cost of producing the milk for these companies in 1920 was 8.0 cents per quart, which is very similar to the price paid for milk by the larger concerns.

One of the items of cost which has attracted most attention among students of the milk business is the so-called "bottle loss." The department's study indicates that for the companies covered in Columbus this item ranges from one-tenth to two-tenths of a cent per quart.

Great difficulty was experienced in getting any satisfactory information concerning the shrinkage which takes place in the handling and delivery of milk, but according to the best data available this item amounts to between 2.3 per cent and 3.2 per cent of the total volume of milk.

Columbus is a city of 237,031 population, which is reported to consume about 27,000,000 quarts of milk per annum. This milk is supplied by over 2,000 producers, from 15 different counties, and is transported to Columbus from a territory having a radius of 35 miles. Conditions appear to be fairly representative of many middle Western cities.

Keeping Account of Feed Given to Cows Is Necessary to Determine Cost of Producing Milk.

The investigation covered seven companies, which sold about 10,500,000 quarts of milk and cream in 1920, or approximately 65 per cent of the total quantity consumed. The companies ranged in size from a very small one-wagon concern up to the largest, which operated 40 milk routes.

From the point of view of the farmer and the consumer, the important question is, What does it cost to handle milk from the farm to the consumer? The cost of raw milk was between 65 per cent and 75 per cent of the total cost of the milk as it reaches the consumer.

During the period under study the retail price of Grade A milk in Columbus, as quoted by the dealers investigated, ranged from 15 cents to 14.5 cents per quart, though during 1920 the two small dealers sold their milk, which comes from tuberculin-tested cows, for 16 cents per quart. At the same time the wholesale price of milk ranged from 11 cents to 12.5 cents.

The average number of customers per route in 1920 ranged from 180 to 297, and the number of quarts per wagon ranged from 178 to 378, the average being 324. It is noteworthy that the most profitable company was the one having the largest average wagonload.

TEACH YOUNG BULL TO LEAD

Calf Can Be Halter Broken With Little Effort If Taken in Hand at Right Time.

A bull that is to be kept for service should be taught to lead while he is a small calf. He can be halter broken at this time with a few minutes' effort. He should not only be taught to lead without a tight rope, but also should be taught to stand. If given this lesson while young, in after life, when he is led out for display, to look over or to be photographed, he makes a much better appearance.

BRAND GETS WARM PRAISE FROM CHURCH

Presbyterian Committee Gives Unqualified Endorsement to Pastor Who Goes to San Antonio

With the warmest words of appreciation for his wise Christian work among the people of the congregation, young and old, the committee of the Presbyterian church last night unanimously extended best wishes for success to the retiring pastor, Rev. A. H. Brand, who is now on his way to San Antonio, Texas, to take charge of the largest Presbyterian church there. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, Rev. Asher H. Brand, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Twin Falls, Idaho, has resigned his pastorate and accepted a call to the Mulberry Square Presbyterian church of San Antonio, Texas.

"It is desired, on behalf of the members of his church and congregation in Twin Falls, to express sincere and cordial appreciation of the efficient and faithful years of long and faithful service he and Mrs. Brand have given to this church and community; to bear witness to their consistent Christlike life among us; to the marked success of their work in all departments of the church, especially in the religious education and co-operation of the young people of the church, as evidenced by the growth in membership and attendance of both Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor societies, and the fine spirit of loyalty and service shown by the young people therein; to recognize the wise labor and success of Mr. Brand in matters of church organization, in Presbyterial and state work, and especially in the establishment of the Bellevue conference, which it is trusted, may, under God, be maintained as a permanent institution and a monument to his Christian foresight and persistent energy; and, finally, to wish both Mr. and Mrs. Brand Godspeed in their new home and field of labor, to which they are commended in love and good faith.

COMMITTEE.

MUST SHOW ALICE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma, the only woman in congress today challenged leaders of various womens organizations to name a woman qualified to become one of the American delegates to the disarmament conference.

Recently she expressed opposition to the plan of putting a woman on the delegation and her statement today was in reply to charges criticism by the National League of Women Voters.

"I think these critics should show the woman qualified for the important work before they attack my views," she said.

Is Holding His Own

"Ten years ago I received such wonderful help from your medicine for my stomach trouble that I have recommended it to hundreds of other sufferers. Recently a friend of mine whose brother in a distant city was stricken with acute indigestion and was not expected to live, got his brother to take a bottle on my advice. I have just received word that his brother was holding his own, and I am confident that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy will entirely restore him." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE CUPBOARD

A brownie was showing the boy and girl adventurers some of the interesting things about the Hospitality Inn at where lived Sir Hearty Cordiality.

The boy and girl were on their way to the House of Secrets where they were going to find out that the greatest secret in the world was that of knowing how to play fair and to be real pals, each with one another, and that all other secrets led to that one.

"We have keys to the doors," said the brownie, "but we don't like to use them. We have them because you know folks mustn't abuse this fine Hospitality hotel. We want to show hospitality and we want to be liked in return. But we don't want to be made use of—and not cared for at all.

"But you must use the key to open this cupboard. Every one who wants to see within the cupboard must use it. It opens once and that is usually enough for those who want something that is within."

"It sounds very mysterious," said the girl.

"Open the door," said the brownie. "Turn this key."

The girl put the key in the lock. It was a very large key. She thought the door would stick and that the lock wouldn't work at once, but to her surprise it opened so suddenly and so easily that she was almost frightened.

"But there is nothing inside," said the boy. There were shelves and shelves and shelves and there were books and books and books.

"If you look a little further along at the end of the top shelf, which you can reach if you stand on your tiptoes, you will see some photographs. You must take one."

The boy and the girl looked as the brownie directed when all at once the shelves began to fall and the books began to go about, catching the girl's hair and giving it little pulls and catching the boy's ear and giving it little twigs.

"This is awful," shouted the boy "Oh, I can't get out. The door is closed and we're in the cupboard."

But no sooner had he said that than the door opened again, the shelves all appeared as shelves should appear even and quiet and orderly and the books were quiet and in their places.

Master Thoughtfulness had now joined them. "Were the books and shelves trying to teach you a lesson? Well we couldn't stand for that."

"What did they behave like that for?" asked the girl, still a little frightened.

"Don't be frightened," said the brownie, "for I promise nothing like this will happen again. I couldn't help it, I really couldn't. If you have been only guests it would have been different, but as you're adventurers and are on your way to the House of Secrets you can't miss things by the way.

"The shelves and the books are upon creatures and pull at their hair and their ears when they get the blame both here and through their workers through the world to make folks feel little guilty twinges when they remember that there was a time that they went off by themselves to eat some cake or had a larger piece of pie than some one else at the table where they were doing the cutting. They do that so that creatures will keep away from doing any of these things. They won't go around if they're not needed. They're not so fond of work as all that.

"They merely love the Hospitality hotel people so much that they try to make Inhospitality and anyone who doesn't like the word 'Share'

"Hot get your photographs! It's red-hot." The boy and the girl rushed to the top shelf and found a row of photographs. They were very small. And yet they could tell quite plainly when they looked at the two they had taken that they were of Sir Hearty Cordiality standing outside the hospitality hotel.

"If you will sleep tonight with the photographs close to your hearts the likeness of Sir Hearty Cordiality will appear in your dreams. You can't get the more secret you're learning tonight.

WORLD TRAVELER NEVER SAW EQUAL

San Francisco Woman, Past 70 Does All Her Own Housework Since Taking Tanlac.

Mrs. Lizzie Tracy, of 555 Hickory St., San Francisco, Cal., a resident of that city since 1850, is now an ardent champion of Tanlac. Mrs. Tracy has travelled widely in Europe, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. Besides all over America. Her statement will be read with interest throughout California.

"I am now past seventy years of age, and I never expected to feel as well any more as I do since taking Tanlac.

"For the past four or five years I had been in failing health. My stomach became so upset that every thing I ate gave me terrible pain. I would nelle something awfuer and at times it just seemed that my whole frame was ready to fall apart. Then I had rheumatism in my arms and knees, and I could hardly move with out being in pain. I slept poorly, too.

"I never will get through praising Tanlac for the wonderful good it has done me. I honestly feel a strong rejuvenation now for my time, and I sleep just like a child. My stomach is in such good condition I can eat most anything I want and enjoy it. My back scarcely ever hurts me, and I have added to weight and been built up so wonderfully that I am doing all the housework myself."

CARPENTIER DISABLED

PARIS, Aug. 18—Internal injuries which resulted from the fully blows of Jack Dempsey, may cause Georges Carpentier to retire from the ring without another battle.

The European champion admits that he is going to undergo a general physical examination to determine the exact nature of the injury to his thumb and to ascertain the condition of his abdomen and internal organs.

While Carpentier did not admit it, it was learned from his friends that he has been having trouble with his heart since he was defeated by Dempsey.

GRAVE ERROR IN VALUATION IS SET FORTH

Local Men Show Up Unfortunate Mistakes in Method of Robertson For Board.

That the figures produced by John D. Robertson on which equalization for Twin Falls was made were incorrect in their inferences and that this was made clear before the state board of equalization, was the statement made by those present at the hearing in Boise from Twin Falls county.

It is said that Robertson in selecting his 100 transfers was guilty of glaring, though perhaps unintentional discriminations. For instance, it is said that he put down the lots in Blue Lakes addition, at the nominal sale price of $1500, ignoring the fact that this was for lots sold during the boom times, and that no improvements, walks, water, lighting, etc., none of which things have been installed. The lots are assessed at $250 each and the conclusion was drawn that they were assessed at one-sixth of their actual value.

While the railroads in trying to make their case appear as good as possible claimed that Twin Falls property was assessed at 38.55 per cent of its value, the Robertson report indicated that the assessment was only 28 per cent of its value. The railroad report showed only two per cent difference between the assessment in this and the average county in the state. Another sample of unfortunate selection was made at Castleford. A 40 acre piece of land at that town was nominally sold at $250 an acre and, assessed at $37.50 an acre. A quarter section across the road, belonging to Carl J. Miller was assessed at $12 an acre. Robertson took the first and not the second.

The Twin Falls delegation urged all these things strongly, the principal talks being made by John W. Graham and the board took the matter under advisement until Monday.

Eight counties where it is necessary to raise valuations and get by locally, have high valuations, which seems to account for the two per cent difference between Twin Falls and the average as shown by the railroad report.

COMMITTEES SOLICIT FOR BOYS' CABIN

Small Deficit for Fine Edifice Which People Are Asked to Wipe Out

Two committees are at work today for the local Boy Scouts council to secure $600 deficit necessary to pay for the balance due on the splendid cabin now completed at Shoshone Basin.

The council meeting last night received reports on the completion of the cabin from the executive committee and a statement of the condition of finances. The cabin is a splendid edifice and will last for years. A great algo will be put up indicating the grounds.

Two committees consisting of Professor M. C. Mitchell, J. E. White and Ray McClellan on one and Arthur J. Pouvey, Roy A. Head and O. J. Overander on the other were appointed and are now at work.

All are invited to donate a share to the splendid work and those who are missed in the roundup can give the same to D. D. Alvord, president; J. E. White, secretary or Ray McClellan, treasurer.

Auto Manager Home—J. R. Taylor, manager of the Browning Automobile Co., has recently returned from Oregon and Salt Lake City, where he went to confer with his company on future business in this section of Idaho. He also made a hurried visit yesterday to Rupert and Burley.

Moving Garage—John A. Barrett, manager of the Barrett Automobile Co., is moving the line of Studebakers into the building formerly occupied by the Merrill Auto Co. Mr. Barrett feels that this new location will be much better for the display of the Studebaker line which he carries.

Father of W. A. Minnick Dies—A telegram from W. A. Minnick to his family here today from Dalton, Ore., stated that his father, J. W. Minnick, aged 88, had passed away. The funeral will be held Tuesday or Wednesday, after which Mr. Minnick will return to this city. The deceased left a wife and seven sons.

Idaho Potatoes—Pete Welch has recently returned from Pittsburgh and other eastern points and states that while in the Smelter city took occasion to look up the prospects for potatoes for the coming winter. He found that the people of that city are figuring on paying not less than five dollars per bushel for our splendid Idaho potatoes.

Utah Farm For Lease—J. A. Crom has been receiving many answers to an advertisement he placed in the Times and the Salt Lake Tribune regarding his farm in Millard county, for lease. Mr. Crom states that the opportunities in that section of Utah are wonderful for the farmer with small means.

Greatest Camp on Earth—That the Jarbidge camp is the greatest on earth, or will be when developed, is the opinion of J. T. McCormick who is here today. Mr. McCormick is a pioneer merchant of Jarbidge, where he has large holdings. He also owns property in this county and in Owyhee county. He now lives in Wichita Falls, Texas, by the way of Texas. He says that the oil district is quiet now but there is plenty of money in the banks.

Tire Blows Out Hurting Hand—Frank Bronnigh, proprietor of the Alco Clothes shop, is in the hospital with a severely lacerated right hand, resulting from the blowing out of a tire on his car in his garage early last evening. A severe cut was inflicted between the thumb and index finger. The attending surgeon says that no permanent result will follow the accident.

KIMBERLY MEN STRIKE GREAT LEDGE OF ORE

Fine Assay on Thick Vein; Jarbidge Has Dairy; Mexico Miner on Ground

(Special to The Times.)

R. S. Howell, formerly of Burley, has just started a dairy with 13 choice cows to furnish milk to the camp. He says that he is sorry that he did not start sooner.

The Jarbidge-Kimberly Mining company made up mostly of Kimberly and Twin Falls men has just completed a tunnel 175 feet in depth, and has found another ledge of ore, one and a half feet in thickness, which will assay $42 a ton, the pinching through, this company found two other ledges, one of which is eight and a half feet thick.

Abe Hauteld, manager of the Arizona mines at Hermosillo, Mexico, is now in Jarbidge looking over the camp, and surrounding territory.

W. J. De Bush had a thrilling adventure last evening. He was running his Hudson proper fighting on Main street, going toward the mat. Police officers Sigman and Patton saw him speeding along a side street in the city flivver. They called on him to halt, whereat he again, suspecting a holdup, turned her on full speed and the cops followed suit. Finding that they could not otherwise catch him Sigman shot out his tire near the Nat. When the Spade saw it was officers, he felt much relieved and today gladly paid $5 fine and bought a new tire.

BIND OVER VAN TOY LOW

Van Toy Low was bound over to the district court today by Probate Judge O. P. Harvall for alleged illegal appropriation of water, under $500 bond, which he furnished.

PAGE PRINTS; HE'S GONE

Reports that Governor Press of Minnesota would visit this city this week proved incorrect, according to a telephone message received by Secretary Newell S. Wight, of the chamber of commerce today. The governor has started for home after a visit to the Hailey country with H. E. Shepherd of the Northside Canal company.

TOOK POLICE FOR ROBBERS AND FLED

SPLINTERS

Half of patience is don't care.

A great blower cools friendship.

Even the deaf can hear money talk.

Goodly mourners a multitude of sins.

Many are at odds trying to get even.

The no-account virtues make life endurable.

Science will some day know all; and it never brags.

Every pitcher makes one too many trips to the well.

Lazy men are always harping on the luck of fools.

Opportunities are far more profitable than prophets.

Natives of Greenland are a cold and distant people.

Radium is about as familiar to the masses as relativity.

Reticence will spare one from a too ostentatious sympathy.

Sometimes genius fools people by wearing good clothes.

Babies are the stepstones in the watches of the night.

Ignorance that says looks like wisdom to some people.

It is much easier to be critical than to be correct.—Disraeli.

He who runs may read—if he succeeds in catching his train.

The wife of a lazy man thinks other people misunderstand him.

There is plenty of room at the top of the greased pole of success.

It is a desirable thing to know when your presence is not desired.

Give some men bread today and they will expect pie tomorrow.

The bigger the work, the greater the joy in doing it.—Stanley.

The ravens fed Elijah, and possibly Elijah wasn't very particular.

One can't always look "sweet-tempered" and intelligent, too.

Nothing costs more than the things we try to get for nothing.

The homesick man isn't always the one who is away from home.

Wise is the lawyer who doesn't attempt to break his wife's will.

STEALS RED CLOTHES FROM HOOP-SKIRTS

Walking calmly into the office of the Sheldt rooms about 4:30 last evening, carrying a large suitcase and registering in the residence column as Frank Day, an well dressed man of medium size, about 40 years of age, paid for his room and then left in about an hour carrying with him in the suitcase the pillow slips and comforters, all of the value of $12.

According to Mrs. Rogers, the landlady, with whom he registered, the man seemed normal but other wise acted quite naturally. He left she room within an hour, leaving the key behind on the desk. Nothing was thought of this as the proceedings are usual. About 9:30 o'clock two men came in looking for "Frank" by the week. Manager Rogers thought that he would show them this room, which he did, and in so doing missed the articles for the first time.

The police were notified, but the man evidently had too great a start, having been some "between four and five hours, so that his whereabouts could not be ascertained." Inquiries made by the officers made a thorough search of the town.

Mrs. Rogers says that he has been in the hotel and rooming business for a number of years and this is the first time he lost anything by theft in all his experience.

The Aid society of the First Baptist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martha Johnson on Addison avenue. The afternoon was pleasantly occupied with social pastimes and sewing. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. A large attendance turned out.

The Twin Falls high school class of 1920 held its first reunion last evening. Meeting at the school building the members journeyed to Shoshone Falls for a picnic outing and dancing party.

RESOURCES OF LINE TO WELLS SET FORTH

rives as to the probable volume of passenger traffic. With respect to the shipment of livestock and agricultural products, a comparison is made of the distances from Twin Falls to eastern markets with the shorter route to San Francisco, the inference being that the latter point would receive most shipments which now move to the East.

There is in Twin Falls county a large body of irrigated land, lying to the north of Rogerson, the chief business center being Twin Falls. The county and city have populations of 24,394 and 5,324, respectively, according to the census of 1920. Twin Falls county contains a compact area of 655,000 acres under irrigation, comprising six separate projects. Irrigation was first undertaken about 1904, and the Oregon Short Line was extended to Twin Falls and built about a year later. To the south of Rogerson, however, agriculture is carried on only along narrow strips of land bordering the Salmon river. It appears that the irrigated lands are nearly all under cultivation at present, but whether they are capable of increased production is a matter of speculation. There is, in addition, a tract known as the Brimeau project, with an arable area of about 600,000 acres, which, it is expected, will be irrigated as soon as the American Falls dam is completed. The records of the United States reclamation service show that the dam in question is located about 150 miles from Brimeau, a small settlement within the area of the project that the line will cost about $30,000,000 and will probably irrigate about 400,000 acres, although the tracts to be supplied have not been selected; and that the money has already been spent on the dam, American Falls, on the Snake river, is on the main line of the Oregon Short Line, 92 miles by rail east of Twin Falls and 26 miles west of Pocatello.

Applicant submit no very definite information as to the volume of traffic which may be handled by the new line from the irrigated region in question, nor as to what part of the traffic it expects to handle will be diverted from the Oregon Short Line. The proof is for the most part devoted to the total crops and livestock produced in and shipped from this territory in years past. On the Twin Falls South Side tract, containing 72,000 acres, there was produced in 1919 approximately 140,000 tons of farm products and about 100,000 head of livestock of all kinds. Total shipments of livestock from Twin Falls in 1919 were 1367 cars, a part of which were shipped for winter feeding. The record shows, further, that the tonnage handled in 1919 by the Shoshone branch of the Oregon Short Line aggregated 220,000 tons outbound and 20,000 inbound. Service was offered dealing with the inability of the Oregon Short Line to supply sufficient cars for the transportation of this branch, dealing chiefly with the period following January 1, 1919. The record is to the effect that, under the circumstances, much more could be contributed in the main, to the general conditions respecting car supply during that period. Taken as a whole, the evidence hardly establishes that the Oregon Short Line is unable to handle the traffic which now moves from Twin Falls and vicinity.

A more important consideration is found in the apparent advantages offered to a line such as is here proposed, to connect Southern Idaho and Southern Nevada for the handling of cattle and feed for livestock. In this territory surrounding Wells is a large number of cattle are grazed during the summer, and in the fall it is desirable that this stock be moved to Southern Idaho and fed there, or feed must be shipped in from the territory where it is produced. It is but practicable to drive stock overland the required distance. The region around Twin Falls produces a large amount of alfalfa, which can be fed in the stock shipped in, or moved into Nevada over the new line. Either method is feasible. Wells is an important shipping point for that part of Elko county extending for 20 miles east and west, and 100 miles north and south, and only for beef cattle and sheep, but for shipments of stock for winter feeding, cattle now being transported to points 200 to 300 miles away, and even as far as Las Vegas, N. Mex., 500 miles from Wells. The applicant estimates that about 1,500,000 sheep and cattle graze in the valley of the Salmon river south of Rogerson.

The remaining inducement for the building of the line is in the fact that about half way between Rogerson and Wells, in Elko county, is located the so-called Contact mining district. Development of copper mining in that district was first undertaken about the year 1916, but little work accomplished there until a comparatively recent date. Beginning in 1917, there has been an increase of activity at three mines, and some of them, it is claimed, have now passed the experimental stage of their development, so that only rail transportation is needed to bring now ore. The ore is of a high grade which cannot be handled by truck over long distances, particularly in view of the bad condition of the highways during the winter and spring. Such movement by truck has been attempted but cost about $30 per ton of ore. It is estimated there are not less than 20,000,000 tons of ore that can be mined in this field, although only a small percentage of that amount is now tentatively in sight. The testimony as to existing bodies of ore is to some extent conflicting, and is, at best, rather indefinite. The district lies on both sides of the route selected by the applicant, the center about 20 square miles of mineralized land.

There is another mining camp at Jarbidge, located about 35 miles west of the proposed line. This is a gold mine which is in successful operation, so far as the testimony indicates. The ore is now hauled by truck to Rogerson, 66 miles, or to Elko, 79 miles. The amount of available ore is not definitely estimated.

To sum up the advantages, which it is claimed the proposed line will supply, are: (1) An additional outlet for the products of the region served by the Oregon Short Line; (2) a more direct route to San Francisco for such products and for passenger traffic; (3) a connection between Northern Nevada and Southern Idaho; and (4) a route for the movement of mine products in the Contact district.

No definite estimate of the probable tonnage available for the first year is submitted, but a prediction is made that the net operating income will amount to about $7440 per mile, or $310,000. This figure is arrived at by considering the results attained by existing lines very recently built to be comparable with the one in question. Cost of road, and equipment is estimated at $4,000,000.

The state commissions have submitted their joint recommendation that the application be granted. Their intimate knowledge of the needs and wants of the state's needs entitles such recommendation to great weight. All things considered, we are of the opinion that the proposed line will supply a definite need for transportation facilities.

Upon the facts presented, we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity require or will require the construction of the proposed line of railroad by the applicant. A certificate to that effect will accordingly be issued.

(The copy of the certificate and reasons for its issue from which the above extracts are made, was received this week from the commission by T. K. Harkman, who visited members thereof in the interest of the road while in Washington recently.)
