HAWLEY'S APPOINTMENT APPROVED

When former Gov. James H. Hawley accepted the position of trustee of the options held by Fred Gooding, Homer Fenn and J. E. Clinton, which are involved in the controversy over House Bill No. 77, as fair a disposition of the matter as possible was made. President Harding is to be commended for his veto of the measure as it stands but it may be passed in a modified form later.

The real issues, whether there was juggling with legislation of an unfair sort and whether government lands within the state should be disposed of at all under such circumstances, are not determined by this appointment, but a square deal within the limits possible, if there is to be division, is insured.

Governor Hawley is recognized by all the people of Idaho as a man of the highest character and ability, and as a distinguished lawyer thoroughly familiar with conditions in every line of development. Twice urged by both parties in the Gem state for secretary of interior, he was Idaho's candidate for Democratic nomination for vice president at San Francisco last year. No better choice could have been made to secure just as fair a disposition of the lands as could be permitted under house bill No. 77, or under any other law that may be passed later, as a compromise measure now that the bill itself has been very properly killed, pending ascertainment of facts.

But this does not alter the suspicious circumstances surrounding the passage of the bill which should be cleared up and which can only be cleared up by congressional investigation. Since the measure passed both houses of congress a joint committee should look into the matter. Should it be impossible to secure concurrence of both, then at least one should investigate the whole affair. If everything is all right, then it should be made known. If everything is not all right that should be made known.

But even if investigation should prove that there was nothing wrong intended by anyone, the wisdom of that sort of legislation, disposing of the public domain, already valuable and becoming more so continually, may well be questioned. The people of Idaho, in whose state vast tracts of public lands lie, have not been consulted in regard to their summary disposition. No bill disposing of these lands should pass until they are consulted in the matter, even though all the parties to the present controversy should be [illegible]

Word's Meaning Changed.

Going "downstairs" etymologically means ascending. The Saxon "dun" meant an upland or hill, and "a-dun" meant a descent. But in the course of time the preposition was omitted and the word "dun" came to mean down.

Lost Continent of Atlantis.

Atlantis, an ancient mythological island, was supposed to lie in the Atlantic Ocean west of the straits of Gibraltar, and was known as "the lost continent." Plato represents it as having been engulfed in the sea 9,000 years previous as a punishment for the impiety shown by the inhabitants in waging war against Athens.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

AUTO SHOWS BRING OUT MANY NEW MOTOR CAR FEATURES

It is hardly possible to pick up a newspaper these days without noting a reference to something new in the motor car industry. Improvements in springs, bodies, carburetors, motors, and other important working parts of the car are seemingly every day affairs.

The most notable exception to the general tendency to cut manufacturing costs by substituting new materials, new designs, and new methods of production, is the automobile storage battery.

Contrary to the general demand for lower priced materials and parts to be put into cars, one of the largest battery manufacturers, the Willard Storage Battery company of Cleveland, reports that there is more general use than ever before of their Threaded Rubber Battery. This is a higher priced product than the other types of automobile batteries which it manufactures, but notwithstanding that fact, there are 191 builders of motor cars and trucks furnishing this battery as standard equipment.

THE THOUSAND ISLANDS

THE River St. Lawrence "As grand as the Rhine", was discovered by a French explorer in 1535. In 1615, Champlain explored the upper reaches of this majestic stream and discovered these islands.

The origin of the name is evident to the beholder. Below Lake Ontario for a distance of some forty miles the river broadens to a width ranging from four to seven miles. Here begins this world-famous archipelago. These islands—sometimes in a string like links in a chain—again in just pell-mell confusion, appear to block the channel. Apparently there are a thousand of them. Some authorities assert there are as many as 1,700.

Composed mainly of rock or granite, their surfaces are not high. Some are no larger than to provide a foundation for a house, the largest contains about 10,000 acres. Many are privately owned and here men and his money have created castles which look as wondrous as fairy tales sound.

The Thousand Islands were the scene of some hot conflicts between nations—Indian wars (when this region was known as Manitoana—Garden of the Great Spirit), contests between the French and the English and battles of Revolutionary fame.

To this generation, however, they are more prominently known for their singularly picturesque beauty and unquestioned charm.

Don't make the mistake of going without fruit in the morning. Most of us don't have fruit enough and there is no time when it is more beneficial than as the first course of breakfast. Eating fruit for breakfast is largely a matter of habit. If you get out of the habit of it you soon find no breakfast complete without some sort of fruit.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Rate Ruling

not presented evidence to support its petition.

President George E. Erb of the Idaho commission is now in Washington participating in the general freight rate hearing conducted by the interstate commerce commission. In a recent report to his colleagues and to Governor Davis Mr. Erb mentioned that he was to take part in a hearing before a congressional committee on a bill to curtail the powers of the interstate commerce commission over intrastate matters. This contemplated legislation might, it is conceded, be of such nature as to repeal that section of the Esch-Cummins act which has just been upheld by the supreme court.

Commissioner D. M. Sweeley of the Idaho commission is also out of town, attending a valuation hearing with the public service commission at Ontario. Commissioner J. M. Thompson declared he preferred to make no comment upon the supreme court decision based upon what he had read of it in the newspapers.

Map just issued showing newly determined boundaries of Poland

Dr. Wladyslaw Sokolowski, Emigration Attache of the Republic of Poland

Polish frontiers, recently fixed by Silesian settlement, are at last in final form. Only minor details remain to be determined in Upper Silesia and along the Polish-Soviet border. Dr. Wladyslaw Sokolowski, emigration attaché of the Republic of Poland, who has just returned to this country, recently stated that the new boundary lines, giving Poland the bulk of coal lands in Central Europe, have greatly increased her natural resources. Poland today has the lowest national per capita indebtedness of any nation in the world, and her timber lands alone would pay off this debt.

Prominent industrial officials in the United States this week announced their belief that Poland will be the first mid-European country to adopt a gold currency. It is expected that 1922 will see the stabilization of the Polish mark. The material foundation of such stabilization is the collection of a special levy as well as the curtailment of state expenditures.

The levy recently authorized will be collected during a period of ten weeks beginning the end of January. It is estimated that this levy will result in the collection of eighty billion marks. According to a statement issued this week by the Minister of Finance Michalski, it is far more important to Poland that the value of the mark be stabilized, than that there be a further rise in exchange rate.

GOOD CROP TO RAISE

Do you know that five acres of onions taken on an average price for the last 5 years would net you at least $25,000?

The first and most important thing is the selection of seed. I have a limited amount of fancy home grown seed of three different varieties which will yield from 75 to 100 sacks more than the common seed which you can't afford to take a chance with; also have instructions on onion culture free with each order. Price $2.00 per pound. Clyde Dudley, Filer, Idaho.

THE LARGEST BRICK BUILDING

THE Pension Office Building, Washington, D. C., is often referred to as the largest brick building in the world. That statement is easy to believe when one learns that 15,500,000 bricks were used in its construction. It is four stories high, exclusive of the basement, 400 feet long, 200 feet wide and contains 175 rooms.

The court contains eight columns each eight feet in diameter at the base and 75 feet high. Each column contains more than 55,000 bricks and 1,440 square feet of plaster, all beautifully colored in representation of many historical scenes.

First occupied during the year 1885, this building was constructed as a memorial to the brave soldiers and sailors who had so well served their country during the Civil War, as well as to house the employees and records of the Pension Bureau.

The corridor accommodates 18,000 people and it is here that the presidential inaugural balls have been held.

Precious indeed are the records which are filed away in this great structure. In passing, it is interesting to note that the report of the commissioner in charge for a recent year, shows 748,147 pensioners on Uncle Sam's pay roll and the total disbursement as more than $165,000,000.

Not So Funny, Then.

When you smoke a cigar you are smoking more labor than tobacco. It seems a funny thing to think of—except in some cases, when you perform most of the labor yourself.—Boston Transcript.

BOOZE RAIDS BY OFFICERS IN WEST END

Plenty of Mash, Some Liquor and One Still Found in Roundup of Three Places Near Buhl

Three raids in the Buhl neighborhood were made by the booze sleuth hounds late yesterday and results obtained in every instance, according to Deputy Sheriff V. H. Ormsby, who with Deputy Sheriff H. S. Van Ausdale, Marshal Andy Wilson of Buhl city and Constable Charles Coker, of Buhl precinct, who made the drive.

Maker Had Disappeared

The first raid was made on the home of O. D. Sanford, two and a half miles northwest of Buhl. The officers say that they found a still in the house, some liquid that looked like liquor and found a lot of mash snugly situated in the barn, in a nice warm spot. Sanford said that the operations were carried on by another man and that he was not connected with the business.

"I suppose he was a tall man, whose name you did not know and who has gone to Nevada," said Mr. Ormsby. "Yes, I know his name, but will not tell," replied Mr. Sanford. Mr. Ormsby says that he was joking as those arrested on charges of illegal possession or manufacture usually have some tale about as probable as that which he suggested. Very few seem to be in the business themselves, according to their own stories.

Peach and Grain Mash

The officers then raided the premises of H. French, near the Sanford place and in a warm cave, in the hills found several barrels of mash kept warm by a stove. They also found liquid refreshment in a jug. The mash was of the peach and grain mixture variety.

Later the officers visited the premises of an old man named Welch in Buhl. They found a pressure cooker, several barrels that looked as if they had contained mash and something having the appearance of mash on the ground. They found no mash in any vessel, however, and found no still, but did find a small amount of alleged whiskey.

New Animal for Far North

The "yak" or woolly ox of Tibet is soon to be transplanted into Alaska and the Canadian Northwest by Dawson men, says an exchange. For centuries the yak has been domesticated by man and its haunts are the snowy highlands of Tibet, 20,000 feet above the sea. Its native food is a coarse wiry grass, but it will eat anything that cattle will. In size it compares favorably with range cattle—1,000 to 1,200 pounds. The meat is as delicious as beef and the wool and hide are valuable.

Sugar Beets As Part Of Diversified Farming

It seems to be conceded by all that diversified farming must be resorted to if we are able to survive at all and maintain the value of our land. Sugar beets should have a permanent place in the rotation if best results are to be obtained.

Suppose we start in this year on a plan like this, on an 80-acre farm: Say you have fifteen acres in alfalfa, ten acres to potatoes, twenty acres to sugar beets, four acres to beans, five acres to alsike, five acres to red clover, two acres to orchard, farmstead and truck, four acres to oats and fifteen acres to wheat. Keep a few cows to help market the hay, eat up beet tops and pulp, a few hogs to clean up ruffness after harvest and use up skim milk. A nice bunch of chickens. Commence by building a suitable chicken house for them, a comfortable pen for hogs and a place to keep milk cows comfortable. How about a comfortable place for beet help? Should we not have at least as comfortable a place for them as we have for our hogs? The Sugar company can get the help on time if the farmers are prepared to take care of them. In the past such has not been the case. It is not possible to get the best results from beet workers or to secure the best workers unless the farmer provides comfortable quarters for them to live in. Make a beet workers' shack part of your permanent rotation, then the labor question will solve itself, as the labor you have this year will want to return next year. The question of poor seed can also be solved if instead of planting seed deep enough to reach moisture, beet seed should never be planted more than one and one-half inches deep and moisture applied if necessary. Seed planted three or four inches deep will always be disappointing as the plants have not vitality enough to push through that much earth.

HIKE TO CAVE DESCRIBED BY A BOY SCOUT

Our Scout troop under our Scoutmaster, Mr. McClean, took a hike to the stalagmites cave on the other side of Hansen bridge recently. We left Twin Falls at about noon, and arrived about two miles the other side of the bridge at nearly two o'clock. We ate lunch and drank some cider, after which we started about two miles, but it was well worth the while. We got to the cave and waited for the rest of the troop to arrive at the cave.

After they arrived at the mouth of the cave, we all lit our candles and lamps and started in the cave. There are two passages to the back room, which is about half a mile from the entrance. Part of the troop went one way, and the rest of us went the other. The passage is a good one, but in some places you must squeeze through to go on. It is covered with all kinds and colors of stalagmite formations, which have been formed by the dripping of water. The top of the passage is very round, and the floor is pretty level, altho in some places it dips, and rocks are scattered around on the floor. We walked through this, and after a time of about half an hour, we came to the back end, or the big room. Here we found a fire—someone had probably left it burning. This made it very hot in the room. We also wrote our names on the wall, after staying here about fifteen minutes, we started back the other way, and the other fellows went the way we came. This was about the same as the other one, but at the entrance there were a number of bones. We got some of these and went out of the cave. When we got out of the cave it seemed very light, after being in the cave where you cannot see at all without a candle. We started back to the cars, and on our hike back, we came across Lava Lake, a large lake which was frozen over with a foot of ice. We skated and slid on the lake for awhile, after which four of us started back to town on foot. We left them at about four o'clock, going by twos.

We walked from the lake to the automobile, had some coffee for a stimulant, and started for town. We crossed the bridge and took the Kimberly road for town. The road seemed almost deserted, as only a few cars passed. On our way home, we talked of many things to pass away the time. We arrived in Twin Falls about 7:45 in the evening, and went home to have a good dinner and go to bed.—Carl Hahn.

Declamatory Contest At High School Attracts Many

At the final local declamatory contest held at the high school auditorium last evening in which a total of nine, three in each class, who were chosen at the preliminary tryout held recently, the three members were selected who will represent Twin Falls high school in the subdistrict contest to be held on March 17, which will be followed by the district contest March 31.

In the oratorical division, Forrest Finney, giving "Toussaint L'Overture" was chosen; Octavia Williamson who gave "Columbine" was selected in the dramatic; and John Amsbary, who's selection was "The Old Siwash", won first place in the humorous.

The judges were Mrs. Burton H. Morse, Reverend Charles Glenn Baird, and G. A. North, deputy prosecuting attorney. Miss Josephine Jackson, high school public speaking instructor, will coach the declamatory team.

Decks Cleared For Battle Over Tolls in Debate Tonight

The scenes are all set for the debate on the Panama canal tolls question between the teams of the Albion high school and the Twin Falls high school at the high school auditorium here and at the normal school town.

Dudley Swim and Morgan Heckman defend the affirmative on the proposition that coastwise American vessels should be exempt from tolls, and will remain here to meet the Albion negative. John Owen and John Noh who have the Twin Falls negative, have gone to Albion to show the people there why there should be no exemption.

Shad L. Hodgin, James H. Rothwell and A. J. O'Deilly will be judges of the debate.
