LLOYD GEORGE IS IMPRESSED WITH AMERICA

Departing Englishman Pays Tribute to United States; Trip Here Much Enjoyed; a Better Understanding With Americans Result.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—"I am sure the American democracy will decide right."

With this confident prediction on his lips, David Lloyd George today turned his face homeward. In an exclusive interview with the United Press he spoke of the future and what it will bring to the United States and to the world. America, he said, holds in its hands not only its own future, but the future of the rest of the world. America's record is one of decisions on the right side—on the side of human liberty, of fair play and of justice, he said.

"History tells that I had experience myself, not so many years ago," he said. "Now I have added to history's story and to experience of your character gained when you came in with the friends of liberty in 1917, personal contact with your people. I know they will decide right."

And then he repeated a thought which he expressed last night in his farewell speech at the Metropolitan Opera house.

"Your government has taken a great step, which I acclaim from the bottom of my heart. Like a good golfer, just do things now, and your plan I am sure will come to success—follow through and keep your eye on the ball."

America must insist, Lloyd George said, it is not enough for the United States to suggest. If others will accept the suggestions they must come to know that the United States is in dead earnest about getting the European situation settled on a basis of justice and righteousness.

"It has been a great trip, a most wonderful trip," he said. "It is impossible to express my appreciation of all the kindnesses shown me and my family ever here. Your welcome was so spontaneous, and so warm-hearted. Believe me, an old campaigner like myself learns to know sincerity. I have been touched in the heart; I would like very much to come again."

What impressed Lloyd George most?

"Power—your tremendous, almost unsuspected power; your virility and your zest."

"We are just beginning over here, he believes, our era of greatness. He looks ahead to a time when Canada will have 300,000,000 inhabitants and the United States, many, many times its present population; when America shall come into full flower—and that time will come the sooner if America now finishes the work of justice and democracy unselfishlessly begun in 1917, he believes.

Mulatto Taken from Jail and Hanged by Angry Masked Mob

EUFAULA, Okla., Nov. 3.—Dallas Sewell, mulatto, charged with assaulting a white woman near here several weeks ago, was taken from jail by a masked mob today and hanged.

The mob formed the jail overpowered Sheriff Tom Lyree and Deputy Dill Carreck forcing them at the point of revolvers to liberate the prisoner.

Pursuit of the lynchers was delayed due to all telephone wires leading from the city being cut.

About 30 minutes after Sewell was seized, his body was found hanging from the rafters of a barn.

At the time Sewell was arrested, feeling ran high here and he was removed to Muskogee for safekeeping. He was brought back last night for trial.

Officers said they were unable to recognize any members of the mob.

Denver Man Found Out Women Can Not Be Trusted

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 3.—Frank Barnes 24, didn't have much faith in women.

He decided to test the little he had.

Barnes confided in the proprietress of his lodging house that he was a bold, bad man. He asserted he had committed a robbery at Oak Creek, stabbed a man then shot the sheriff when a posse pursued—just like that.

The landlady told the police.

Police got in touch with the sheriff at Oak Creek. He was positive he hadn't been shot.

"I just told her that to see if a woman could keep a secret," Barnes said.

A charge of drunkenness probably will be filed against him.

WILL DETERMINE MAN'S EVOLUTION

Wilds of Mongolia to Furnish Clue to Origin of Mankind.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 3.—Out of the wilds of the Gobi Desert, a barren waste in the interior of Mongolia, will come the scientific proof or disproof of the world's theories on the evolution of man.

Together with this information will come the verification of the history of the world from the age of the earliest dinosaur and other priceless scientific data that will "surpass even the wildest dreams of the scientist," according to Roy Chapman Andrews, world-famous archeologist, who last night returned from a two years expedition in China.

Andrews, together with Professor Henry Fairfield Osborne, head of the American Museum of Natural History and the man, who 24 years ago predicted that in China would be found the "paleontological garden of Eden," have returned to America to finance five more years of work in the field which he has opened up.

With him, carefully packed and under bond, Andrews brought the 25 dinosaur eggs that he found in a rock formation in the desert—the first and only dinosaur eggs ever discovered by modern man—and the bones and skulls of prehistoric animals that were found in the vicinity of the rock eggs nest.

ROYALTY WED AMID SCENES OF SPLENDOR

Crown Prince of Sweden Is Married to Lady Louise Mountbatten; Notable Figures in English Society in Attendance.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—At the Chapel Royal, St. James Palace today, Crown Prince Gustav Adolph of Sweden was married today to Lady Louise Mountbatten, daughter of the late admiral, the Marquis of Milford-haven (better known perhaps by his former title of Prince Louis of Battenburg) and cousine of King George of England.

The King of Sweden and King George, with Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York and practically the whole of the British and Swedish royal families were present as well as many Swedish and Scandinavian notables. The wedding was a full state affair, despite the only semi-royal birth of the bride, about which there has been some discussion in Sweden in connection with the succession to the throne.

The bride's mother was a granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England while her father was a threoless German princeling who relinquished the German titles in favor of an English Marquisate during the great war, in order to remain an English admiral—he having served with the British navy, all his life and at the outbreak of hostilities he was actually first sea lord of the British admiralty.

Swedish naval and military uniforms were largely in evidence the king of Sweden and the bridegroom wearing the dark blue jackets with massive gold epaulettes and the enormous yellow plumed hats of Swedish generals, while King George wore a new addition to his wardrobe, having been specially promoted a Swedish admiral for the occasion.

The Prince of Wales wore his usual scarlet tunic as colonel of the Welsh guards, crossed, however for the occasion with the broad ribbon of a Swedish order instead of the customary British garter. The Duke of York wore a British air force uniform.

The bride, radiant in white, with priceless lace flowing from her head dress and corsage, was given away by her father, the Marquis of Milford-Haven (in British uniform, humble lieutenant among admirals and generals) with King George standing by as sponsor. Naval officers of all ranks lined the aisle and blue jackets formed the guard of honor, in honor of the bride's father and brothers distinguished service with the British navy. A detachment of Swedish sailors ranked alongside the British.

Queen Olga and Prince and Princess Andrew of Greece were among the royal personages present. Prince Andrew's four daughters acted as bridesmaids.

WIDENING OF HUGHES PLAN SCOPE ASKED

Would Give More Rein to Conference for Study of Reparations Payment; Allied Powers Anxious to Bring About Discussion.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Efforts are now being made to broaden the Hughes plan for a conference of experts to study Germany's capacity to pay reparations, it was understood here today.

The allied powers are greatly desirous of bringing about a discussion of their war debts to the United States in the proposed reparations conference. They have sought to bring this question to the fore for years.

In the secret conversations now going on an attempt is being made to affect a "trade" of the French insistence upon limiting the scope of the reparations conference to secure the consent of the United States to a discussion of allied debts in the parley, observers here think.

The United States government, it is understood from high authority would never agree to any arrangement making the payment of the allied war debts of this country dependent in any way on the securing of reparations from Germany.

This government holds that the debts to the United States and German reparations are two distinct and separate questions.

However, France takes the attitude that the proposed conference of experts would have no more right to consider a change in the total German reparations figure than the question of some revision of the total of the different allied debts to America. What the exact attitude of the answer of Secretary of State Hughes will be to these supposed efforts to broaden the reparations conference to include the debt question or whether this scheme will ever be revealed to the world, is still in doubt.

The White House has reiterated the view of Secretary Hughes that it might be found useless to proceed with the conference if Poincare maintains his insistence upon limiting the scope of the parley and that such an attitude on the part of the French would certainly lessen the value of the proposed conference.

BELGIAN GUNS CHECK REBELS

Separatists Repelled by Bayonets of the Belgian Army.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—German separatists in Aix La Chapelle were being kept down today by the menace of Belgian bayonets.

The Belgians intervened after the separatists had seized the city hall yesterday, suppressed the uprising and drove many of the rebels out of town.

The separatists were disarmed and their leaders conveyed to some place unknown. It is reported there was sharp fighting before some of the rebels were disarmed.

Two of the separatists were literally cut to bits in the hand-to-hand struggle. Several Germans on both sides were wounded. The populace, which opposed the revolt, gathered before the British consulate, giving the British credit for delivering them from the rebels. The British colonel was raised to the shoulders of the crowd and borne in triumph through the streets.

Now a Belgian high commissioner, however, who ordered the rebellion put down. He commanded that all the rioters should be disarmed and expelled from the town by 3 p. m. and the Belgian troops went to work with a will to carry out his order.

BLACKMAIL RING BELIEVED BROKEN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Federal authorities collaborating with local police announced today they were of the opinion that a national blackmailing ring had been broken up with the arrest of Patricia Palmer, 25, alias Margaret Gibson, pretty actress who is at liberty under $2500 bond pending her arraignment on a charge of extortion.

The blackmailers have secured more than $3,000,000 from wealthy men here and elsewhere, declare federal agents. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of several others besides Patricia Palmer, but the names of the accused are being kept secret until arrested.

Federal agents declare the girl's arrest, which was caused by George W. Lasher, wealthy electrical contractor of Burbank, Calif., who claims he was mulched of $1,100 through a clever swindle perpetrated by the girl and her alleged confederate, Dan Osborne, is an aftermath of the recent exposure of a Hollywood blackmailing ring.

STOCKMAN HELD ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Edward Hortsman, 50, president of the Stockmen's Live Stock Commission company, was held today on a charge of bigamy although both of the women who claim him as their husband refuse to prosecute.

Mrs. Ethel Hortsman, who says she was married to Hortsman in May of this year, started activities which led to his arrest. Claiming she found his name, giving another address in a telephone directory. He had always refused to have a phone in their home so she went to investigate.

Calling at the address given, she was greeted by a woman who said she had been married to Hortsman for eight years. They had married the woman is said to have admitted, but were never divorced." Hortsman had not been living with them but had been supporting her, she said.

Returning to her home, Mrs. Ethel Hortsman called police who took Hortsman into custody when he returned.

On the way to the station, however, the woman who said she was his wife, appeared, relented and argued for his release. It was not granted.

Later the first woman was called to police headquarters but she too refused to prosecute.

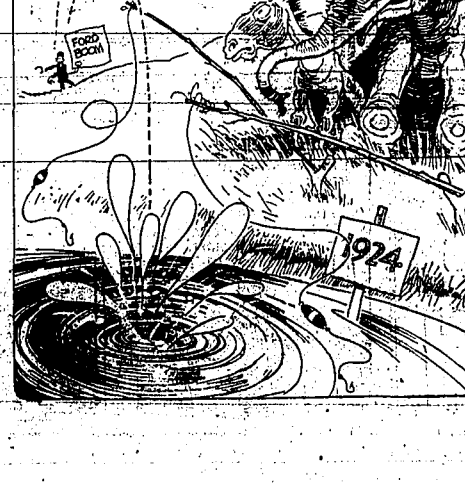
ANOTHER FISHIN' TRIP JUST ABOUT SHOT



German Discontent Keenly Watched by Soviet Government

MOSCOW, Nov. 3.—Russia today is watching the growing disruption of Germany for the promise she thinks it contains of a world wide revolution. The whole country is watching the spectacle and Germany forms the subject of numerous newspaper articles and platform speeches.

Opinion appeared to differ today as to what Russia might do if the workers revolution came. The old and the new bourgeois of Russia hope that Germany will remain quiet, fearing that if a revolution came, it may change Russia's attitude. This, however, Leon Trotsky, army commander, has denied.

The vast majority of Russia, on the other hand, hopes that the revolution will be victorious, but even they agree that it will be up to the German workers alone to defeat the German bourgeoisie.

Russia, in their opinion, would not interfere unless Poland attacked Germany either during or after the struggle. All indications show that neither Russia nor Poland believed there will be war, but Russia has left no doubt that any attack by imperialistic neighbors on Germany after the workers had staged a successful revolution would be regarded as sufficient justification for declaring war.

Russia, therefore, keeps her army prepared.

Newspapers as well as the public are here taking a keen interest in the developments in Germany. Russia could supply the raw material Germany needs in return.

Now is the time to guard against winter lubrication troubles

THESE November nights and chill mornings give warning that winter is just around the corner. With the first temperature drop below the freezing point, check up on the oil in your crankcase.

Most of the popular makes of cars require a lighter bodied oil for efficient cold-weather lubrication. They need an oil that won't congeal to the point of sluggishness in a cold motor and thus fail to reach many of the vital, moving parts before deadly friction gets in its work.

It is easy to guard against this needless wear and tear. You are safe and sure if you consult the Polarine Chart—NOW—get the grade of Polarine recommended for winter use in your car and then stick to that grade throughout the cold-weather season.

COACH OF EAST HIGH PRAISES EVANS TEAM

Visiting Team Had Some Misgivings Before State Board of Control Gave Twin Falls a Clean Bill of Health; Coach Wartham Says Evans Has Clean Bunch of Players and Hopes Best Team Wins; Statements Given Before Game.

BY COACH L. E. WARTHMAN, East High.

East High is mighty pleased to come to Twin Falls again, but naturally there was some misgivings. However, I congratulate Coach Evans and his clean bill of health, and also the Twin Falls high school, because East High athletics have a deeper purpose than merely the winning of a game.

We play the game fair and square, both on the field and in the manager's office.

To be vindicated surely must make the Twin Falls high school feel bully.

According to dope we are about even in weight, with Twin Falls a little better off in experience, as I have but two regulars, Smith and Dern, both of whom have a wholesome respect for Evans' peppy methods.

If we win today, we will be playing a superior brand of football than any we have shown so far this season. I know that Evans is a real coach, and has a retinue of real football assistants and advisors, besides having the whole-hearted and undivided backing of the town folk.

As to condition of my team, I have nothing to say, or as to the style of play we will follow, because we have no style.

Granite High school knocked all of that out of us, but, I have confidence that there is still a little of 'ole East High fight left.

I hope my boys play a good game, as I know Evans' crew will do so. But I want the better team to win.

East High of two years ago had a splendid impression of Twin Falls, and to date my gang is well pleased with the treatment accorded them.

We will leave wanting to return. Win or lose, we are going to have a peach of a time at the dance tonight, if we have to borrow crutches and wheelchairs.

BY COACH EVANS of Twin-Falls.

"You know how I are about giving out a statement before a game. "What do you want me to say?"

The boys have been working hard for this game and all I can say is that I hope we win.

I have all the respect in the world for Coach Wartham and his gang of warriors, and I want the best team to take the long end of the score.

If East High beats us this afternoon I will stand convinced that a better team whipped us.

Twin Falls Football Team and Coach are Vindicated by Board

Complete vindication was the verdict of the state athletic board of control in session at the probate court rooms here Friday afternoon on charges brought by the South Central District against Twin Falls high school and Coach Clinton W. Evans.

The decision followed a hearing that lasted over three hours in which evidence for both sides was submitted and with Judge J. R. Bothwell cross-examining witnesses for the South Central District.

Affidavits purporting to show that Evans had made trips to the west end for the purpose of enticing players to join the Twin Falls high school for athletic purposes, were knocked in the head when Evans showed conclusively that he was in another part of the county working every day when the alleged approach was made.

Superintendent J. J. Bay of Caldwell, acting as chairman of the board of control; Professor Underwood of Boise, substituting for Superintendent C. F. Dienst who had been asked to take the place of E. L. Cherry of St. Maries who was unable to attend, and Superintendent Wallis of American Falls, who substituted for Superintendent M. C. Mitchell, composed the tribunal before which the hearing was heard.

The following message received by M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of the Twin Falls high school, tells the story in a nut shell:

M. C. Mitchell, Twin Falls:

Board finds complaint not supported by evidence.

Twin Falls contender for state championship.

J. J. RAY,
Chairman, State Board of Control.

FILER WALLOPS GOODING ELEVEN

Filer's football squad practically eliminated the north side for the district championship when they took a hard fought game from Gooding 22 to 0 on the Filer gridiron Friday afternoon.

Filer scored a touchback in the early part of the first quarter but failed to do any more scoring in the first period.

In the second quarter, both teams failed to cross the goal line, although Gooding got within three yrds of the Filer goal line.

The third quarter was fruitful for the Filerites, the home team scoring 20 points while they held their opponents safe at all times.

In this period Filer, hit the Gooding line for repeated gains, until the coveted mark was reached. After Lapp kicked off and Gooding had lost the ball on yardage, Filer again started a march down the field, this time Love taking the ball over.

The third touchdown of this period came when Lapp tore around right end for a 50-yard run and touchdown.

Gooding opened up with some overhead stuff and although they made a few substantial gains they couldn't gain consistently, and the game ended, 22 to 0.

Testimony offered by Troy Moore and Chester Ambrom of Buhl failed to convince the board that they had been approached by Evans, and on cross-examination, Ambrose admitted that "maybe it wasn't Evans whom he had talked to."

A conversation last summer between Evans and Urban Tracy, formerly of Twin Falls, but now a resident of Burley, in which Evans was supposed to have told Tracy that he (Evans) was rounding up players in the hope that Twin Falls would have an unbeatable team, received a severe jolt when Evans proved that he was in California during the summer, having left as soon as school was out, and not returning until Sept. 3.

Supt. M. C. Mitchell on the stand told the board that in all his dealings with Evans he had found him "a square shooter," always willing to do the right thing, and always a gentleman.

The verdict coming as it did, clearly exonerating Evans and the Twin Falls high school, brines the blue and white in line for the championship, as contenders they must play the winner of this section, which in this case will no doubt be Burley.

FLOYD JOHNSON IS KNOCKED OUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—With a defense against a right hand upper cut as helpful and ineffective as the "patty cakes" of an infant, young Floyd Johnson passed clear out of the heavy weight reckoning last night.

Jess Willard started Johnson on the downgrade last summer when he stood back and smeared the game youngster with right upper cuts as he charged furiously into him.

Jack Renault, heavyweight champion of Canada, did the same thing in Madison Square Garden last night and he knocked him out with only thirty seconds to go in the 15th and last round.

Johnson's seconds tossed in a towel after their charge had come up twice from the floor but as the token of surrender was clearing the top strand of the ropes, Renault crashed over another uppercut and Johnson went cold.

He was out in his corner for ten minutes and was in such bad shape that the doctors of the New York commission were rushed to bring him around.

The bout was designed and promoted with the idea of finding a new opponent for Jack Dempsey and if Renault is to be the next one to meet the champion it is to be hoped for, the sake of Renault that the meeting is purely a social one.

SOUTHERN INFLUENCE IN G. O. P. WOULD BE CUT BY CALIFORNIAN'S PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3—Albert E. Boynton, chairman of the republican state committee of California launched a campaign today designed to reduce the strength of the southern states in the republican national convention and give California, and perhaps other northern states a greater representation.

Politicians here attached much importance to the move and it was understood that similar campaigns may be launched elsewhere.

Burley Wins from Buhl, Score 27-9

BUHL, Nov. 3.—Burley's heavy foot ball machine took a 27 to 9 game from the Buhl team here Friday afternoon.

Burley's powerful backs failed to live up to expectations, many being of the opinion that the game would be a landslide.

Buhl offered stubborn resistance throughout the game while Burley's play was ragged.

IN MEMORIUM BEATS ZEV IN LATONIA RACE

Western Champion Flashes in Ahead of Winner of Recent Interpinion; Contest Amid Cheers of 45,000 Excited Spectators; Fifty Thousand Dollars in Purse.

LATONIA RACE TRACK, Ky., Nov. 3—In Memorium, western champion, flashed home a winner in the Latonia Championship stakes today, defeating bith Zev and My Own. Zev finished second, six lengths ahead of the tiring My Own, while Rialto, the Whitney entry, was pulled up.

The victory of In Memorium was hailed by cheers by a throng of 45,000. It was a local victory, the colt belonging to Carl Widemann, Kentucky brewer. Zev took the lead at the start of the race and looked every bit a winner as they came around the track for the first time.

Earl Sande was holding the Hanover cat well out in front. Zev liked the track which had been made somewhat heavy by steady rain this afternoon.

My Own was running second for the first three-quarters of a mile and then In Memorium moved up. As they came into the stretch Mack Garner sent In Memorium out in front.

Zev could not meet the challenge nor could My Own, which was beaten before they reached the stretch.

Sande did his best to keep Zev, whose championship of the three year old class was flying away on the drumming hoofs of in Memorium. The Sinclair colt had given all he had, in Memorium flashed past the judge's stand, winning the race of a mile and six furlongs in 3 minutes and 4-5 of a second.

Zev was four lengths behind, with My Own six lengths behind the son of The Finn.

THE LOVE PIKER COMING TO THE IDAHO

Anita Stewart, who is featured in the Cosmopolitan production, "The Love Piker," coming to the Idaho theatre next week, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. She made her first screen appearance, while still a very young girl, with Vitagraph, which later starred her. For a time she headed her own motion picture production company, scoring heavily in "Old Kentucky." Other notable pictures in which she appeared were "The Kingdom of Dreams," "The "Fighting Shepherdess," "The Goddess" and "The Yellow Typhoon." Miss Stewart has an exceptionally fine role in "The Love Piker."

AT THE ORPHEUM.

(Times Critic.)

"The Girl of the Golden West" a drama picturized in the heart of nature's grandeur. A love story of the days of '49 when a man's life and a woman's reputation were gambled for with a deck of cards.

Beautiful Sylvia Bremer impersonates the role of "The Girl" portraying the true tenderness and courage that seems characteristic of the women who have gone before to share *the fortune and misfortune that be*fall those who settle and civilize the wild and barren country.

The lives of the men, young and old—who face the trials of loneliness, desolation and frequently starvation to satisfy the heart hunger for yellow gold is depicted by picturesque characters which indeed make the picture realistic.

The comedy of "Our Gang" in "Dogs of War," showing a few glimpses of the great comedy specialist—Harold Lloyd—will be enjoyed by all and is a sure cure for downtast and depressed spirits. Comedies of this kind make everyone from grandson to grandfather call for more of its kind, and also proves that Freckles Barry has an imitator that almost outshines the original.

CINEMA GIRLS' REVUE

Bob Fidlay of Mack Sennett comedy fame is coming to the Orpheum theatre Monday with his Cinema Girls' Revue, an aggregation of movie players from Los Angeles, making a personal appearance tour of the leading motion picture theatres.

This appearance will be in addition to a wonderful photoplay, by Thomas H. Ince, entitled "Wanting Daughters." And the latest News weekly.

Bob Finlay and the Cinema Girls' Revue is accompanied by the Del Monte orchestra, their own jazz band of five musicians.

Telegrams received by the Orpheum management at Boise, Caldwell, Nampa and other cities praise this show *very highly. All concede it's the fin*est, classiest, cleanest and best show on the road at the present time playing at popular bargain prices.

PROCLAMATION

The following statement of the Twin Falls executive committee, Chamber of Commerce, to the citizens of Twin Falls:

We believe Twin Falls needs a strong, unselfish, civic-commercial organization which can be a clearing house for the best thought of its citizens in matters that affect the civic, commercial and agricultural welfare of the community.

We believe that a time is at hand when our Chamber of Commerce should have a numerical and financial strength to enable it to properly assist in solving many vital problems confronting Twin Falls.

You are proud of Twin Falls. You have reason to be proud because it strong morally, intellectually, commercially and agriculturally.

Our city has all the elements of potential power. To utilize these elements to the fullest extent, all of the controlling factors must be fused into a non-political, non-sectarian and unselfish modern Chamber of Commerce.

Broader vision and unselfish service have thrust aside former narrow, selfish, commercial purposes and developed organizations along lines which have rebuilt cities and justified expenditure of time, talent and financial backing by men and women in various walks of life, all seeking to serve the welfare of their communities.

Four hundred Twin Falls men working together can do practically anything they attempt for our city.

We have heartily endorsed the plans for the organization campaign of the Chamber of Commerce as proposed, and we will do all in our power to bring it to a successful conclusion.

Let us all get together on those things which will make Twin Falls a better city in which to live and do work.

The decision to expand the Chamber of Commerce was made only after careful consideration. Other cities have adopted these plans very successfully and we feel confident of success in this undertaking, of "getting together for Twin Falls."

We call upon all citizens to give these plans thoughtful consideration and let your action be thoughtful, broad-minded, hearty and ambitious.

Twin Falls is your home as it is ours. Jointly we can make this modern Chamber of Commerce an incalculable power in the city's upbuilding.

With your help Twin Falls can be placed in the forefront of intermountain cities—in modern attainment and community thought—an ideal city in which to live and make a living.

CAMPAIGN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

ARE YOU "SITTING IN?"

Some people have complained that we have "too much organization." Well—that depends! It depends upon what we consider organization and what is the purpose of the particular organization under consideration.

One thing is certain; and that is that the constructive things do not "just happen." They are brought about and made effective by organized effort under the guidance of men who are capable of taking the lead—men who are so full of the thought of the general welfare that they are willing to devote their time and talents to put in operation forces that usually lie dormant.

And this is where organization comes in. No matter how capable—no matter how enthusiastic, no matter how devoted a man, or a few men, may be, the only effect which they can produce by their own efforts is to point out and agitate until such time as they are able to gather unto themselves a sufficient number of other people to constitute an effective working force with sufficient power to handle the work in hand.

And this is where organization comes in. No matter how capable, no matter how enthusiastic, no matter how devoted a man, or a few men, may be, the only effect which they can produce by their own efforts is to point out and agitate until such time as they are able to gather unto themselves a sufficient number to constitute an effective working force with sufficient power to handle the work in hand.

The very aid is full of good ideas. Every community is full of good men. But leadership plus organization is the thing that made the world today a better place in which to live than was the world of yesterday. It is the thing that will make the world of today.

We all desire a better Twin Falls than we have ever had before. Some want this particular thing, others want something else—all to be desired, all good. The sum total of these things spells the improvement which we as a community desire to have.

We cannot have them all—if we will. But there are certain things that must guide us if we are ever to reach the goal of our ambitions.

We must look beyond the petty personal ambitions of today to the general good which the future holds in store. We must find common ground on which all may stand.

Having found this, we must then move forward in solid column towards the accomplishment of those things which make for betterment. Lasting good can come to the individual only to the degree in which good comes to all.

No one man can build a sewer system—but leadership plus organized effort will make the job easy. No one individual can do much for the general appearance of the city by beautifying his own premises—but all acting in unison will make roses grow in a desert.

"Let George do it," has too great a hold upon us all. We must all be Georges.

This is the thought behind the expansion of the Chamber of Commerce.

Leadership, plus organization—which means co-operation—will transform that thought into reality.

Are you "sitting in" at the game?

Christian Science Lecture Was Given Here Last Evening

A good sized crowd attended the lecture given last evening in the high school auditorium by William W. Porter, C. S. B., of New York City, on the subject, "Salvation for Humanity." Mrs. Elizabeth D. Ketchum introduced the speaker of the evening.

by

William W. Porter, C. S. B.
of New York, N. Y.
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

THE LAW OF LOVE

The presentation of Christian Science today, as throughout its history, is strengthened by the promise that no person is expected to accept any part of this Science of salvation otherwise than as it appeals to thought through the unimpeachable logic of reason and revelation; and let it here be recognized that revelation itself is that orderly process of understanding in which thought is led by Christ, the true idea of Love, out of the dim chambers of physical existence into the mount of transfiguration where the nature of true being appears.

We read in the Scriptures; "He sent his word, and healed them."

The solution for every problem exists in the divine Mind. Because of this the nature of the divine Mind must be recognized to be identical with infinite Love. That is reasonable, is it not? Hence the activity of the divine Mind exists, as the law of Love, alike for every person. On page 17 of the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, one of the most concise statements of this law is found in these words, "Love is reflected in love." Here is a definite statement of unimpeachable law. Let it control your thinking for a moment, and God is Love. When the true idea of Love is present in your thinking you will find that your health, your business, your home, your sense of life are controlled by the law of infinite Love or God.

Any one may begin at this moment to experience the fulfillment of God's promises. Regardless of what mortal consciousness may argue about you for sin, sickness, failure, sorrow, you may at once begin to experience freedom from these evils by holding your thought rightly related to God.

On page 465 of Science and Health is to be found the following definition of God: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love. When you think of God in the light of this definition, and you will be surprised and gratified to learn how constantly and helpful this definition will be present with you, you will find that your understanding of God is growing in wonder and joy as Christ, the true idea of God, unfolds the grandeur of God's nature to your eager, hungry thought. When you think of God as the Love which has tenderly mothered man and the universe throughout the ages—aye—without end," when you realize that Love's government is related just as much to you and to your affairs as to the worlds in space or to the orderly progress of the seasons, you will find that your day is much brighter, that discordant conditions are disappearing, that confidence is growing where fear held sway, that evil habits are leaving you, that good is becoming distinctly attractive, and that your influence and usefulness are finding expression in ever-widening activities of good.

THE DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER

The healing of Mrs. Eddy in the year 1866 from a so-called incurable illness was to her the evidence of a present salvation, or the fulfilment of promise. This incident revealed to Mrs. Eddy the all-important fact that a healing and regenerative influence is associated with a radical or scientific reliance upon God. With this great revelation, there came to Mrs. Eddy a strong desire to learn how her healing had been wrought in order that she might bring this understanding to those who suffered.

To present here a recital of the life and works of Mrs. Eddy would take more time than we have at our disposal. Such a recital would naturally include the details of how Mrs. Eddy founded and developed Christian Science in the face of what seemed to be overwhelming odds and opposition. It would include the history of how Science and Health was written and published,—an incident filled with startling unfoldment as well as the proof of marvelous protection. It would tell of how a church was organized, and later reorganized into The First Church of Christ, Scientist, The Mother Church, in Boston, Massachusetts, with its branches extending into all parts of the civilized globe. It would set forth the organization of various church activities and related interests; the editing and publishing of weekly and monthly periodicals; the founding of a College and a Board of Education to perpetuate the correct teachings of Christian Science; the establishment of a daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor, which has been pronounced by representative men and women to be the ideal of ascendant journalism; the formation of a system of church government, the Manual of The Mother Church, which has won the admiration and the commendation of the brightest judicial thinkers of the times. To carry out any one of these activities is a task which might well represent the life-work of any highly trained industrial captain. No thought is removed from her immediate day, the divine idea which molded and shaped Mrs. Eddy's name becomes more and more apparent. Mrs. Eddy did not become the Leader of Christian Science because she desired to be a leader. The power which impelled her progress was irresistible and final, and she became a leader because of her love for God and for humanity. Mrs. Eddy's life work will stand as an enduring monument depicting fearlessness and faith, and pointing human thought with infinite tenderness to the compassionate and sheltering nature of God.

GOD

The inarticulate cry of humanity today is: Tell us about God!

"Truly, if men are to believe in God, then must God be revealed to men as something other than a mystery. God must be revealed to the understanding. The Scriptures says, "No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him." (John 1:18). God, the divine Principle of man, cannot be known through the physical senses. In Christian Science God is known through the spiritual ideal, or Christ, which reveals the eternal Principle of the universe and man.

Whether a man follow the leading of revealed truth, or what he is pleased to call his reason, the conclusion is inevitable that a governing power, or what we call God, exists. This power, by reason of its goodly operation, evidenced by "the early and latter rain," and by fruitful harvest, meeting the needs of mankind as a mother meets the needs of her children,—this goodly power must be recognized to be infinite Love.

Many term Christian Science by Mrs. Eddy as a synonym for God is sometimes objected to on the ground that it is cold and lifeless and lowbred. This is a wrong impression, however, which is due to a misconception of the term. Mrs. Eddy over and over associates the names divine Principle and Love; and in doing this she has introduced into human thought the term for Love which voices the longing and hope of mankind to know that which is forever dependable, the eternal motherhood of God.

SALVATION

Human experience shows that every person is seeking salvation or freedom from some form of discord—physical sickness, idleness, disappointment, grief, failure, poverty, evil habits, weakness.

Salvation, health, success, are things of consciousness or states of thought. These states of consciousness are produced not by the human mind, but by the divine Mind or God; and this spiritual development as demonstrated by Christian Science is the effect of law—the law of God which is set in motion with respect to any specific need by pure desire or prayer.

The prayer of Christian Science removes expectancy from the realm of conjecture; it is based upon the conviction that man's true being is in spiritual understanding.

In Christian Science, as one turns his thought intelligently and in the prayer of pure desire toward God, he closes out of his consciousness the life about his business, about his health, or about anything else, and when this is done the law of God begins to operate in his behalf, and Christ, the true idea of God, governs his business, his health, and all things that are to him related.

CHRIST JESUS

In Christian Science Christ Jesus is the Way-shower; that is, he shows the way by revealing what is the nature of the real man.

Jesus said that those who followed his way, or his nature, should do the works which he did. He indicated that there is no way to gain freedom except by following in the way of his nature. At no point in his teachings does he say that this nature is such that it cannot become the nature of every God-knowing and God-loving man, woman and child. On the contrary he has said, "If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him"; that is, if any man understand my nature—what I am will come in to him. The doctrines of men based upon material misconceptions of his nature have enveloped the life of Jesus and his teachings with mysticism. The result of this has been that his true character or nature which alone—as he pointed out—can save and succor mankind, has become a mere tradition. By elevating the true teachings of Christ Jesus as being unrelated to matter and the physical senses, Christian Science will check the misrepresentation of Christianity.

One favorite diversion of mortal mind is the birthday habit,—the attempt to measure man in terms of years. Feeling somewhat after a child born he is said to be one year old; and he then begins to have birthdays upon which, with certain festivities, he celebrates the belief that he grows old. Following the age-mark of birthdays he becomes a young man, a middle-aged man, and finally he is said to be an old man, bent, weak, and decrepit—tottering on. Not an attractive picture by any means, but it is the picture which mortal consciousness impresses upon the thought of mankind until men reproduce the picture in their own experience. The birthday habit helps amazingly to paint the picture.

The demand of Christian Science at all times is Scriptural: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." Under the heading of "Love's endowment" Mrs. Eddy writes on page 248 of Science and Health as follows: "Men and women of riper years and larger lessons ought to ripen into health and immortality, instead of lapsing into darkness or gloom. Immortal Mind feeds the body with supernal freshness and fairness, supplying it with beautiful images of thought and destroying the woes of sense which each day brings to a nearer tomb."

RECONCILIATION

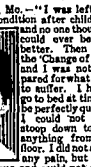
The antagonism which obtains among human personalities, the conflicts which arise between classes, will cease only when men learn, as taught in Christian Science, that there is a supreme governing Principle which controls harmoniously all existence, and that the nature of this Principle is found to be the nature of unchanging Love.

One may say that if this be true then Christian Science has solved an age-old problem—that of antagonism or conflict between men and classes. And this is the exact fact.

Christian Science imparts the true idea of man and creation in the midst of imperfection; and this true idea unfolds unity of thought and agreement, together with the consciousness of health, confidence and success.

MRS. LINDQUIST TELLS WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her



Kansas City, Mo.—"I was left in a very serious condition after childbirth and no one thought I could ever be any better. Then came the 'Change of Life' and I was not prepared for what I had to suffer. I had to go to bed at times to be perfectly quiet as I could not even stoop down to pick anything from the floor. I did not suffer any pain, but I was decidedly nervous and could not sleep. For nearly two years I was this way, and the doctor was frank enough to tell me that he could do no more for me. Shortly after this I happened to see in a newspaper an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a few days the medicine was in the house and I had begun its use and I took it regularly until I was well. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others when I have the opportunity."—Mrs. MAY LINDQUIST, 2814 Independence Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Grain prices closed irregular on the Chicago Board of Trade today. Wheat scored moderate advances with good buying induced by the fair export business worked overnight.

Corn was strong with good buying, the result of scattered rains and predictions of further precipitation tomorrow. Poor cash demand brought weakness in oats. Elevator and cash interests sold in December and replaced in May.

ECHO MEETING OF BAPTISTS HEARS GOOD PROGRAM

Guilty but commended to mercy was the verdict in the stirring prosecution at the Baptist church of Miss Scott, representing herself and the Twin Falls church, wherein the accusation was that the congregation had failed to comply with the terms of the New World movement of the Northern Convention of the Baptists. The setting for the "trial" closely approximated that of a court room and the actors carried out their parts in commendable way.

Rev. W. H. Tolliver was judge; Everett DeWitt, clerk of the court; A. Huntsman, foreman of a jury of 12; Police Officer Del Reinhart acted in the capacity during the trial and arrested Miss Scott. Roy Mahafee was prosecuting attorney and Roy Weaver attorney for the defense. Witnesses were Miss Orviette, the Italian girl (Mrs. I. H. Masters); Orato San, the Japanese girl (Alma Sherlock); Miss Neomian, the Assamese girl (Miss Veronas Murray); the negro man, Gurney Wilcox; Miss China Lang Lu, the Chinese girl, Mrs. Frank Boughton; Rev. Jonathan Trueheart, Mr. Hannock; college president, I. H. Masters; Miss Old Fashioned Notion, Ruth Snowhill; Mr. Heart Not Right, Linnel Dean; Miss Where There's a Will, Mrs. Henry Nunemaker; Mrs. Loyal, Mary E. Dean; and Mr. True Blue, Hubert Kuhlman.

The substance of the case for the prosecution consisted of failure to meet the pledges made and the requirements of missions. The defense was that much had been done, and that an effort was being made to do the whole duty. The jury found that the defendant was guilty but, that there were many extenuating circumstances and asked the court to be lenient. Judge Tolliver granted this request but ordered an intensive study of the financial condition of the Northern convention and its needs between this time and April 30, 1924, that demands might be met.

Mrs. I. H. Masters directed the play.

Report of Delegates

Reports of the Boise convention last week were made by Mrs. W. H. Tolliver, Misses Alice Gibbs, Veronas Murray and Alma Sherlock, and Rev. Mr. Breakney of Knoll. The tenor was hopeful, but voiced a sentiment for action in all lines of missionary endeavor.
