FARM VOTE SOUGHT BY DEMOCRATS

Republican Says That Garner Amendment on Earned Income Is Plea for Suffrage of Husbandmen; Empire State Congressman Hints at Veto.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The danger of a treasury deficit was held up to President Coolidge today to get him to veto the Garner democratic tax plan if it should get through congress in the form in which it has already been presented.

President Coolidge must veto the tax reduction bill if the Garner income tax rates prevail, or leave a deficit of $300,000,000 in the treasury, said Representative Ogden Mills, New York, one of the hardest fighters for the Mellon tax plan.

"The tax bill as presented to the house has been amended in a number of minor particulars—mere political gestures, which though they mar a perfect plan of tax reduction, are not vital," said Mills.

"There are two amendments of real importance. The substitution of the Garner income tax rate for the Mellon rate is vital. The most serious effect of the Garner rates is that in connection with other tax reduction they will produce a treasury deficit of $300,000,000.

"This may well compel a presidential veto and we deprive the people of the country of immediate and expected cuts in taxes. The other amendment, has to do with the definition of earned income. Every expert on taxation has declared it impossible to administer. A breakdown of the income tax law is likely to result. For my part, I predict a brain storm when the already confused taxpayer is called upon to make a return under the Garner amendment on earned income by which he hopes to win the farmer vote."

MISSOURI U. STUDENTS ARE SUSPENDED

List of Silence Shuts Out Further Information on Causes of Closing of Institution; Drinking Party Basis of Action by Faculty.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 23.—The list of silence was clamped today by every Missouri university member of the faculty following dismissal of a dozen men and women following the formal dance of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority here.

The drinking party was held in the rooms of a mother of one of the students, it was made known. Bessie L. Priddy, dean of women, produced the evidence on which the dismissals were made. One student said to have been found intoxicated at the party, was enrolled; the others found by the dean in an all morning "hike" through Columbia not having gone home from the party were suspended for an undetermined period.

Dean Priddy refused to talk on the results of her sleuthing. Her opinion and policy in regard to the student auto rides, however, were expressed "shortly" after she came her from the University of Illinois last fall.

Riding is alright as long as the automobile continues to match, she said.

Baltimore Banker Shot by Burglars

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 23.—Fred L. Schmidt, 45, cashier of the St. Louis office of the Mutual Life Insurance company of Baltimore, was shot in the back today by a bandit, who escaped from his downtown office with a $1700 payroll.

The holdup was staged in the busy office of the company in the business district.

His wound is serious, doctors stated.

LOTS OF CLIMATE FOR GIANTS BUT NO ROOM

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 23.—Plenty of climate but no place to sleep and room to eat, the first impressions of the New York Giants found when they arrived to take charge of their new training camp.

Agents of John Ringling, circus millionaire, who made the hotel arrangements, assigned the bosses to the fashionable hotel of the town and sent the men to what they regarded as a boarding house where there was not enough room for them.

Huerta Rebellion Flaring Up Again in Mexican Land

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 23.—The dying flames of the De La Huerta rebellion flared up again today.

Unconfirmed reports received here from the interior told of the capture of Panuco by rebel troops under General Guzman after a three hour battle.

Rebel General Rumero is reported to have entered Tehuacan defiling past the federal garrison. General Sanchez's men are said to have defeated the federals of General Topete capturing 100 men at Los Hulas station.

BOOTLEG WAR RESULTS IN TWO DEATHS

Alleged Pantlike and Woman Partner Meet Death as Result of Feud Among Illicit Vendors of Intoxicants in Windy City.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Rivalry between bootleggers led to the murder of John Duffy, 25, and Leah Exley, 24, of Norfolk, Va., known as Mrs. Duffy, police said today after a preliminary investigation. The Exley woman also was known as Virginia James, and other aliases and for some time was a police character in Louisville, Ky., officers stated.

Duffy and the woman were shot to death in an apartment here. Duffy's body was carried by automobile to the outskirts of Chicago and "dumped into a snow bank sometime Thursday night while the woman's body, found on a davenport in the apartment, was not removed.

Search is being made for Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Horton. Horton is from Indianapolis. The Hortons shared the apartment with Duffy and the woman. Detroit police have been asked to watch for the pair, reported on the way to that city by automobile.

Relieved Fugitive.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 23.—John Duffy, who was murdered in Chicago is believed by police here to be John Dougherty, a fugitive wanted in Philadelphia for murder and a number of robberies.

Dougherty, according to the police, shot and killed a negro preacher here several years ago and was suspected of being involved in robberies.

POINCARE WINS HIS CONTEST

French Chamber Sustains Prime Minister After Fierce All Night Struggle; Premier Expresses Hope for Settlement with Germany Over Reparations.

PARIS, Feb. 23.—The chamber of deputies, after an unprecedented session which lasted through the night, at 7 a. m. today introduced the government financial program. The vote was 254 to 218.

The chamber voted on more than two hundred ballots during the night. Many were asleep in their chairs and attendants had to awaken them at the roll calls.

Despite exhaustion Premier Poincare kept his seat throughout the session and made a brief speech before the final vote.

There already are rumors of happy reports from the expert commission on Germany's reparation possibilities, Poincare said. The reports, he believed, will end the German's default.

"It is to cover that period of default, however, that I have asked the chamber to vote these new fiscal measures (the government financial program)." The program as adopted contains many important measures for bolstering French credit and stopping the downward rush of the franc.

ASHTON BOY IS WINNER OF THE GREAT DOG DERBY

ASHTON, Feb. 23—Olcott Zarn, 16 year old Ashton high school boy, won the American dog derby here yesterday in a field of seven entries, including some of the most experienced "mushers" of the snow country.

Zarn placed third last year.

OREGON AGGIES WIN FROM IDAHO FIVE

CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 23—With perfect team work the Oregon Aggies yesterday defeated Idaho at basketball 20 to 16.

Governor Hinkle Is Victor in Fight to Newspaper Editor

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 23.—The sensational fight of Carl C. Magee, editor of the New Mexico State Tribune, Albuquerque, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, has been finally settled with decision of the state supreme court that Governor Hinkle was within his rights in sentencing Magee. Magee was found guilty first of criminal libel and later of contempt of court, following his editorial battle to clean out the rotten political "machine" of New Mexico." He was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary and ordered to pay a fine of $1,000. Governor Hinkle immediately pardoned the editor, and the equally battle to declare the pardon illegal has just been settled.

VANDERLIP IS AFTER JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

Vanderlip Declares That the Courts Should Settle Questions on Which Assistants Have Failed to Perform Duties Imposed Upon Them by Law.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—"The department of justice itself must now be investigated," the Mason club was told in a speech at Ossining last night by Frank A. Vanderlip.

Vanderlip said that "no such statements as have been made in the senate can be allowed to go unchallenged."

The banker, who last week brought the name of the late president Harding into the oil lease scandal by urging an investigation of rumors that the Marion Star had been sold for far more than it is worth, revealed the whole series of investigations in Washington and declared the government is proceeding in the wrong way.

"The machinery of justice," he said, "not the courts but the machinery back of the courts has failed to bring forward for trial one whose guilt appears clear from prima facie evidence," he said.

Vanderlip charged his "failure" to bring to bear upon the scandals "as a moral war."

Klansmen Parade in Oklahoma Unhooded; Fewer Than Expected

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 23.—Four thousand klansmen accompanied by about 400 women paraded the streets of Oklahoma City that night following the initiation of 1,000 Klansmen were unmasked following a widespread demand they remove their hoods for the affair. Otherwise they were in full regalia. The parade was not marked by any disturbance and was witnessed by thousands. The Klan had predicted 25,000 would join in the procession.

Earlier it was widely reported that the klan would parade in full regalia and wear hoods, and there has been considerable discussion on this for several days, but the final procession was unhooded.

DAUGHERTY IS GIVEN APPROVAL

President Coolidge Endorses the Proposition to Have Him as One of the Administration Delegates from Buckeye State; Robinson Says It Is Death Warrant.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—President Coolidge today filed his declaration of candidacy with Secretary of State Brown. Arthur I. Garford, Elyria, announced his name to be presented as a member of the Coolidge delegation. The president approved of Attorney General Daugherty as one of the Coolidge delegates to the republican convention, the full slate of which will be presented to the April convention.

Is Courting Defeat.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—President Coolidge is courting political ruin by keeping Attorney General Daugherty in the cabinet, Senator Robinson, Arkansas, democratic floor leader, said today in a speech in the senate.

Robinson's speech was delivered just after it had been announced at the White House that Mr. Coolidge had endorsed Daugherty as a Coolidge delegate from Ohio to the next republican national convention. The step by the president followed within less than 24 hours a defense of Daugherty by John W. Adams, chairman of the republican national committee who said the assault on Daugherty was being conducted by "political black guards and scandal mongers."

"It must be clear to everybody," Robinson said, "that as long as the president retains as his intimate political adviser, a man who has lost his confidence and the confidence of the people, it is calculated to work out the political ruin of the executive."

Will Not Quit

Having made it plain that he will not resign voluntarily Daugherty let it be known today that he does not expect President Coolidge to ask him to resign until he has been given opportunity to clear his name.

He has won his support the aid of John T. Adams, chairman of the republican national committee, who in a statement declared only a few scandal mongers were behind the effort to oust Daugherty.

Action by Senator Wheeler, Montana, a democrat, the leading figures in the effort to get Daugherty to resign, are Senator Lodge, Massachusetts Pepper, Penn., a recognized administration spokesman.

Walsh, today notified Hasson Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge, to appear before the investigating committee at 10 a. m. Monday. Slemp was one of the first witnesses and strong indications were given that he would be questioned closely about certain oil transactions.

Suggests Impeachment.

Impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty were suggested by Senator Borah, Idaho, on the floor of the senate today.

Borah said that "the only way this investigation can go forward is by impeachment."

Borah asserted that present conditions in the government amounted above all else to a man at the head of the department of justice "who had the full confidence and respect of the people."

Admires Daugherty.

"If the attorney general remains in office, President Coolidge must accept full responsibility and he must answer to the people for that responsibility," said Borah. "The people have come to doubt the efficiency, competency and cleanness of the government at Washington. No official should hesitate to resign himself to restore the people's confidence in that government. I admire Mr. Daugherty's courage and his stand that he should not "be condemned without a hearing. But he must bear in mind that man must make sacrifices—personal sacrifices—for the common good, and in the common interest."

MORE CUCKOS JAILED IN MISSOURI CITY

Veterans Demand the Passage of Bonus in the Next Five Days

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.—World war veterans in the house at a meeting today decided in verse notice on administration leaders that the soldier bonus must be passed next week.

A committee of five former soldiers will tell republican leaders, Longworth, today and demand his support of immediate bonus action. Representatives Johnson, South Dakota, and Fish, New York, both of whom saw service on the firing line in France, are in the front rank in force action upon the bonus immediately after the tax bill is passed by the house.

WALSH MOVES TO MAKE CASE IN OIL ROW

Montana Senator Outlines Extensive Program for Next Week; Slemp, Beaty and Others Will Be Put on Stand Unless Pleading Exemption.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.—Get facts that will make legal cases for prosecution.

This is the purpose of Senator Walsh, leading crusader in the naval oil reserve investigation as he completed today his program for next week's probe of the Teapot Dome committee.

No aid is being contributed by any of the government agencies which might well be expected to be functioning in co-operation with the committee—the department of justice, the navy department and the interior department. All these are leaving the whole probe to the senators.

Here is the schedule for next week if desired by Senator Walsh:

1. Call Edward McLean, Washington newspaper publisher, who is a personal friend of President Harding and other leaders in the administration to learn what he knows or is willing to tell about the inception of the scheme to lease the naval oil reserves and who was in on the play.

2. Call Hasson Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge for questioning about information he has of McLean and certain government officials.

3. Call Harry F. Sinclair for questioning about the "gifts" of the lease of Teapot Dome, naval reserve in the hope that indirect evidence now before the committee may be obtained to form permissible inferences in commercial possessions.

The committee admittedly ran into a stone wall when former secretary of interior Fall refused to take the stand and tell his story. It is feared Sinclair and ex-Senator La Follette, who, the lessees of the naval reserves—may now decline to testify further and that the only hope left testing the full story is in obtaining the inside story from the source already mentioned.

Investigation of Railroad Requested

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.—The condition of equipment and rolling stock of railroads on which complaints of shippers and inadequance of way men have been on strike since July, 1922, would be investigated by a committee of seven members of the house under a resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Herrick, Wisconsin. Under the resolution, the committee also will be directed to ascertain the amount of money spent by the roads involved in "breaking the strike."

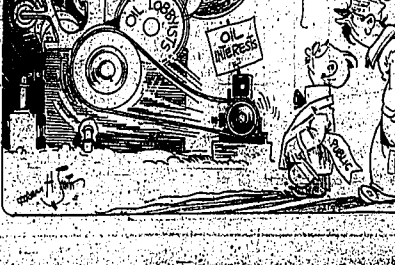
WHEELS WITHIN WHEELS



MAY DEFEAT THE GARNER TAX PLAN

Representative Longworth Says That Progressives Are Divided and He Hopes to Get Enough Voter for His Compromise to Put It Over.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23—Republican leaders in the house today claimed they had divided the progressives on the tax reduction bill and as a result had a good chance of overturning the Garner plan on a show down vote next week.

Representative Longworth claimed eight or nine progressives were pledged to his compromise for the Garner plan which he will offer early in the week. The Longworth program is for a two per cent normal tax on incomes up to $4,000; six per cent above that and a surtax maximum of 37½ per cent.

The Garner plan of two and four per cent normal taxes and a surtax maximum of 44 per cent has been adopted, in committee of the whole. Next week it will be voted on again when the house ratifies or rejects the action taken in committee of the whole.

Longworth needs 14 votes to overturn the Garner plan.

Interesting Will of Grandmother of Geo. Washington

The following is a copy of the will written by Mrs. Mary Washington, mother of the first president of the United States, 127 years ago, and which has been in the possession of Mrs. Fannie Henry, aged 84, of Montgomery county for 70 years, and which was secured from David H. Joseph, of the R. F. Walsh Clothing company:

"In the name of God, Amen. I, Mary Washington, of Fredericksburg, in the county of Spotsylvania, being in good health, but recalling to mind the uncertainty of this life and willing to dispose of what remains of my worldly estate, do make and publish this, my last will, recommending my soul into the hands of my Creator, hoping for a remission of all my sins, through the merits and mediations of Jesus Christ, the Saviour of mankind. I dispose of all my worldly estate as follows:

Imprimis I give to my son, General George Washington, my land on Accokeek run, in the county of Stafford; also my negro boy, George, to him and his heirs forever; also my best bedstead and Virginia cloth curtains, (the same that stands in my best room), my quilted blue and white quilt and my best dressing glass.

Item—I give and devise to my son, Charles Washington, my colored man, Tom, to him and his assigns forever.

Item—I give and bequeath to my daughter Betty Lewis, my plantation and hay mare.

Item—I give and devise to my daughter-in-law, Hannah Washington, my purple cloak lined with shag.

Item—I give and devise to my grandson, Corbin Washington, my negro wench, old Bet, my riding chair and two black horses to him and his assigns forever.

Item—I give and devise to my grandson Fielding Lewis, my negro man, Frederick; to him and his assigns forever; also eight silver table spoons, half my crockery ware and the blue and white china, walnut bookcase, oval table, one bed, one bedspread, one pair of sheets, one pair of blankets, one white counterpane, two tablecloths, six red leather chairs, half of my pewter and half of my iron kitchen furniture.

Item—I give and devise to my grandson, Lawrence Lewis, my negro wench, Lydia, to him and his assigns forever.

Item—I give and devise to my granddaughter, Betty Carter, my negro woman, little Bet, and her future increase to her and her assigns forever; also my largest looking glass, my best writing desk and drawers, a square dining table, one bed, bedstead, bolster, one pillow, one blanket and pair of sheets, white Virginia cloth counterpane and purple curtains, my red and white tea china, tea spoons and the other half of my kitchen furniture.

Item—I give to my grandson, George Washington, my best bed, dressing glass, one bedstead, bed, bolster, one pillow, one pair of sheets on blanket and counterpane.

Item—I devise all my wearing apparel to be equally divided among my granddaughters Betty Carter, Fannie Hall and Milly Washington, but should my daughter, Betty Lewis, fancy any one, two or three articles thereof, she is to have them before any division is made thereof.

Lastly, I nominate and appoint my son, George Washington, executor of this, my will, as I owe no debts. I direct my executor to give no security, nor to appraise my estate, but desire the same may be allotted to my devisees with as little trouble and delay as may be; desiring their acceptance thereof, as all the token I now have to give them. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this twentieth day of May, 1788.

VETS IN "THE HUMMING BIRD"

World War veterans of four armies—American, French, English and Canadian, appear on the screen in the Armistice day scenes in Gloria Swanson's latest Paramount picture, "The Humming Bird," which will be the feature at the Idaho Theatre all next week.

Every one of the soldiers used in these scenes were bonafide war veterans, many of them sent to the Paramount studio by the Veterans Service bureau in New York City. Although it was the first time many of the men had appeared in motion pictures they had little trouble in getting the spirit of Armistice day for Director Sidney Olcott, who, through their spirited acting, was able to get some highly dramatic scenes.

"LITTLE OLD NEW YORK" VERY ATTRACTIVE PLAY

"Little Old New York" is quite unusual in its setting and is of very great historical interest, showing up the costumes, manners and customs of the pre-steam period in America. The plot is tense enough at times and the mob scene, while thrilling has none of the deep, wild fierceness manifested in the portrayal of the French revolution; being rather the spontaneous outburst, which often does so much damage in a limited area as more deep-seated violence does in a larger field of operation. The play indicates that if the old time American would be shocked at theiliapper, he had ways at which we would hesitate. As a whole, the respectable characters are high class folks, with correct ideas of the duty of man to man, which has always characterized true Americans.—Times Critic.

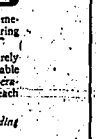
Watch your radiator solution carefully



USE an anti-freezing solution in your radiator throughout the winter season, particularly if your garage is not heated or if your car is likely to stand idle out-of-doors for any length of time. Watch this solution carefully, as evaporation weakens its resistance to freezing. The hydrometer is the surest mechanical means of testing it, and this should be used frequently during any period of severe cold weather.

A plain solution of denatured alcohol and water will prove entirely efficient, inexpensive and harmless to the car. The following table indicates the proportions to be used for protection at the temperatures listed and shows the corresponding hydrometer reading for each solution:

Temperature	Alcohol	Water	Hydrometer Reading
10° above zero	30%	70%	14.6
Zero	40%	60%	16.3
10° below zero	45%	55%	17.4
20° below zero	50%	50%	18.4

If you are not certain as to the water capacity of your cooling system, refer to your instruction book or consult the nearest dealer handling your make of car.

Why balanced gasoline is the ideal motor fuel

Old style gasoline, an extremely light and volatile product was absolutely necessary in the early, experimental stages of the automobile engine's development—not only to start the motor but to keep it running. In those days, gasoline was judged by only one test—its gravity.

How different now! The modern motor, a marvel of engineering skill and efficiency, has revolutionized the requirements for gasoline. "Gravity" indicates nothing, so far as the value of gasoline for fuel is concerned. Today, only a comparatively small proportion of volatile, low boiling point fractions are needed to insure prompt ignition. The remainder should consist of an orderly series of intermediate and higher boiling point fractions—so proportioned as to afford complete vaporization and continuous combustion. These are the real source of full, sustained power and greater mileage.

Such a fuel is properly called balanced gasoline. A safe, easy-to-remember name for it is CONOCO.

U. S. WINTER SPORT TEAM PROVES BUST

Americans Finish Fourth in Competition; Slap Taken at Judges in Ruling on Events; Some Dissatisfaction With Methods.

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—America's winter sports team, if there is any disposition on the part of the public to consider nothing worth while unless won, was a bust in the opening of the 1924 Olympic games.

Our American team finished behind Norway, Finland and Great Britain, and America's total of 29 points against Norway's 134½ looked like a few runs in the ninth innings off a rookie pitcher.

Accepting the principle of the American Olympic committee, which is also being urged upon the public by the leaders of other sport bodies, that victory in competition, while desirable, is not essential to uphold our national prestige, the Americans lost with no disgrace.

From a broad viewpoint and with little thought as to what the American team went up against in aspiring to compete against champions of sports in which they might be classed as second raters, the Americans made a very fine showing at Chamonix.

Asking an American team to compete against Norwegians in ski-jumping contests imposes the same handicap that Norway would have to carry in playing a game of baseball even against a champion baseball team of Class B rating.

Even at that, Anders Haugen, one of the American jumpers, made the best distance in the long jump, but he was ruled out because his style of jumping wasn't as graceful and artistic as that of the Norwegians.

The method of accomplishment means more, according to the rules quoted, than the actual accomplishment. The rule rendering form, which placed Haugen fourth instead of first, exists no doubt but perhaps is considered as just fair in the northern countries of Europe, but it seems foolish on this country.

There is no penalty attached to awkwardness in the American code of sports. Charley Paddock doesn't follow perfect form in sprinting, but he never would lose a championship because, Bobbie or Murchison or McAllister might be judged to run more beautifully.

The best arm in baseball is judged by the distance a ball is made to travel, by the accuracy with which it finds its target and not by the grace of the pitch-movement.

It must be admitted that we would tell the Norwegians to take up a residence in a warmer climate if they attempted to point out defects in the rules that govern our national sports, and if we attempt to find flaws in the method by which they arrive at championships in ski events, we should be prepared for the same kind of a reply.

It is a bet, however, that no American umpire would declare out a Norwegian batter who stepped over the boundary line in the batter's box in the ninth innings with two out and the score 12 to 2 in favor of the Americans.

The rule is there, of course, but an American official certainly would use some sportsmanship in its execution!

MEET MR. TIN LUKE, HE'S STAR SPRINTER

Natives of Hawaii can do more than merely strum the ukulele and sing those songs about hanging around the beach at Waikiki. They produce some real athletes over there. As evidence, attention is called to Tin Luke Wongwai.

The name suggests a classy Chink Laundryman. On the contrary Tin Luke is the champion sprinter of Hawaii.

Tin Luke Wongwai hails from Honolulu, but his present address is the University of Kansas. He is a freshman at that institution.

Aside from the many liberal advantages of a college education, Tin Luke is taking a course in track athletics, featuring the sprint distances.

Not being eligible to represent Kansas this year because the freshman rule is in vogue there he intends to enter some of the big western indoor meets unattached.

Coach Karl Scholdeman of the Kansas track team believes that Tin Luke Wongwai will be a sensation in his sophomore year, provided he continues to improve as he has within the last six months.

Tin Luke won his change sprinting under the colors of the University of Hawaii. He did the century in 10 seconds flat and the 220 in 22.3 seconds.

The Kansas coach, who has corrected several flaws in the form of the Hawaiian, is positive that he will be able to cut down the time in both events.

Wongwai is an American citizen of Chinese parentage and born in Hawaii.

BUHL TO ACT AS HOST TO TEAMS

BUHL, Feb. 23—The local basketball fans will have the opportunity of seeing an unusually fine demonstration of basketball here in our city next Thursday and Friday, February 28 and 29. The five teams of this subdistrict will meet here to determine what two teams will represent this section in the district tournament to be held at the Albion State Normal March 6, 7 and 8.

The final two games of the series will be played Thursday afternoon at 2:30, in the new high school auditorium, the next two games will be played Thursday evening and the last two games Friday evening. There is a possibility that two games will be played Friday afternoon but it will be impossible to tell until after the games Thursday whether there will be any games Friday afternoon.

The games at night will commence at 8 o'clock.

The teams which will enter the tournament are Twin Falls, Kimberly, Filer, Hollister and Buhl. Those who have watched the record of these teams will realize that the tournament promises to be a very interesting and thrilling struggle. The teams which did not show up strong at the opening of the season have been making consistent improvement. Our local quintet promises that they will have many new stunts which will be hard to break up and of course we may expect the same from all the other teams.

Homer Huddleson of Boise, considered one of the best basketball officials in the northwest will officiate at all games, thus insuring the fans that it will be an exhibition of basketball as it should be played.

The price of admission will be 50 cents for each series of two games and 25 cents for school children.

M. M. Van Patten, vice president of the district is manager of the event.

Drawing for places in the tournament will be held Monday evening, February 26, at Hotel Buhl at 7:30. H. J. Barker, A. W. McCoskey and J. G. Adams will have charge of the drawing.

Legal Fiction.

A fiction in law is an assumption made for the purpose of justice, though the same fact could not be proved and may be literally untrue, and it is a rule that a fiction of law shall work no wrong. The fictitious characters of John Doe and Richard Roe for the purposes of various actions are well known.

BOWLING TEAMS DISPLAY CLASS

Mark Murtaugh's bowling team lost out by a single pin last night in the match with the Rogerson cafe men. Murtaugh's team won the match by the league counting system, the number of games, but was nosed out in the pin total.

High class bowling was the order of the evening, the 500 mark being reached twice by each team. Bill Towan, with 605, was high for the three games with Vogel leading for an individual contest, 218.

HOLLISTER FIVES EASILY DEFEATED

BUHL, Feb. 23—The Hollister high school teams fell down badly before the Buhl hoopsters here last night, the Buhl boys capturing the game, 61 to 19 and the girls triumphing even more decisively, 59 to 3.

The boys' game was rather weak, with the locals shooting almost at will. Mullins and Layne were the big stars for Buhl, scoring forty points together. Lowe and Tidcock made all but one of the Hollister baskets.

Stadsvold Was Great Player on Weak Team

Francis H. Stadsvold, coach of the University of West Virginia basketball squad, stood out in his western conference career at Minnesota as a player far greater than his team.

The Gophers were weak in Stadsvold's day, but were saved from rout after rout by the ability of this one man to stroll or the opposition or to keep down scores by his dribbling and defensive skill. He was greater on a tall red team than he would have been with a championship outfit. Usually, a player is no better than his team.

GOLF BALLS SHOULD BE WELL SEASONED

When Pellets Are Green They Are Easily Cut.

Experiments in laboratories and on the links have shown that golf balls need to be aged for several months to be durable, it was said by the manager of a sporting goods house which turns out most of the golf balls used in America. The annual consumption of the rubber pellets amounts to 24,000,000, worth $18,000,000 at retail.

In order to have the thin cover recanited to the right degree for obtaining distance, it must not be made too hard. As a result, when the balls are "green" they are easily cut by the edge of the clubs when the golfer taps the ball. The cover with the exact amount of vulcanizing to make it lively will toughen with a few months' aging and yet it will retain its elasticity to the utmost degree so far as delicate testing machines can show, he said.

During the last few years the manufacturers have been unable to keep up with the demand for golf balls and the insistent golfer grabs the green ones during the summer, not knowing that if he had purchased his supply during the fall and winter he would not cut up so many the next season, according to the sporting goods seller.

Scaffold Pole Is Latest Device in Playing Golf

A scaffold-pole-tee-is-what English critics term the most fantastic invention which they have ever seen on the links, a stratagem that has been used recently by a golfer who wishes to be known under the pseudonym of M. P. Auckland, a New Zealand player who has been a resident of England for some time.

The contrivance concerns the driving part of the game. As Mr. Auckland steps onto the teeing ground the caddie produces from his pocket a small stick, about five inches in height, with a two-inch spike at the end. This he thrusts into the ground. Then Mr. Auckland produces from his own hip pocket a piece of rubber tubing like a hose pipe, which is clapped on the end of the stick. And on this sequence, a total of nine inches from the ground, is placed the ball.

Then the New Zealand player wages a specially made club, with the face fully two inches deep, over the ball before hitting it for a drive that he says goes much further than the accepted way. And the critics seem to agree with him.

Capacity of Schoolkopf Field Will Be Enlarged

Cornell university has closed a contract for the enlarging of Schoolkopf field. The seating capacity of the present field, 9,000, is proposed by this construction work to be increased to 21,000.

The contract calls for the completion of the work before the beginning of the 1924 football season and will not interfere with spring sports.

Twice within recent years football games at Cornell have attracted crowds in excess of 18,000.

It is over to this number that the Cornell Athletic association based its plans for greater seating capacity.

POOR HEALTH SPOILS PLAY

JIMMY O'CONNELL

The "big bust" of the 1923 season in the National League was Outfielder Jimmy O'Connell, highly touted recruit of the New York Giants. O'Connell cost McGraw $75,000 in real money, but last year wasn't worth six bits to the New Cork club.

Despite his poor showing McGraw hasn't entirely lost faith in the big fellow. He is of the opinion that too much publicity was O'Connell's great handicap. Now that the press agent stuff has died down, he believes O'Connell will work natural, rather than strained, and show much better results.

Neither has O'Connell lost faith in himself. He blames his poor showing to ill health, the result of an attack of typhoid fever.

The fine financial showing made by the play "Little Women" is not merely a tribute to the talent in the cast and to the Parent-Teacher association, but to the people who manifest so much interest in the worthy enterprise for which it was organized.

—o—

In deciding to make the farmers' institute at Hansen an annual affair the people of that community are to be complimented. It will mean enhanced interest in the theory and practice of scientific farming.

—o—

Everybody should attend the mass meeting at the high school auditorium Monday evening, where the facts regarding the financial conditions of the district will all be presented. The people of this district want the schools maintained at the high degree of efficiency which has always characterized them, and vague insinuations reflecting on them and the honesty of expenditures will not beat a levy demanded by conditions.

—o—

The determination of the board of county commissioners to enter into a drive against tuberculosis, as evidenced by the agreement reached last evening with veterinarians is a wise one. The statistics collected by the city inspector shows that the number of reactors all told amount to something like two-thirds of one per cent among stock killed in the slaughter houses here. Under such circumstances, the cost of the campaign will be low all around. On the other hand, since the demand for all sorts of stock from certified counties is much greater and the prices much better than from other counties and since all dairy products sell better from clean counties, it would appear that the cleaning of the county of the disease, which would give us absolutely the reputation to which we are approximately entitled and would not otherwise get, should be regarded as wise.

BOOSTING KNOCKERS

This (McAdoo platform) is a somewhat of an ambitious program. By it McAdoo arrays sympathy in his behalf from those against corruption in Washington, those in favor of strict enforcement of the Volstead law, veterans of the world war and the farmers. Against him he arrays that powerful influence known as Wall street, the supporters of a protective tariff and last but by no means least a great army of voters in this country who are against the league of nations and interference in international political affairs. And the issues seems to be clear cut.

McAdoo will, of course, be a formidable candidate. Even those opposed to him politically and who are against his platform will admit that. It will take the best man that the republicans can nominate to defeat him in the presidential election. Events are moving rapidly politically in this country. The people are standing on the side lines watching and waiting for the national political controversy to start. With McAdoo in the field and the moral certainty that President Coolidge will be the nominee of the republican party a real fight for presidential honors may be expected. Both are strong men.—Capital News (Rep.).

Whether two-thirds of the delegates to the democratic national convention will be convinced that McAdoo is the best available timber for nomination, or not, it is certain that some criticisms levelled at him now give very strong confirmation to the theory that there are times when every knock is a boost. A few papers, like the Pocatello Tribune claim to fail to see the difference between the acts of Fall who betrayed his trust and betrayed the people as a public servant, and McAdoo who acted in the capacity of an honorable lawyer for a client who had dealings with Fall, in which McAdoo was in no way connected. However much voters may pity the moral opaqueness of vision of the Tribune, its opposition on this theory will do him no harm with fair-minded folks.

Another class that is doing more by its knocking than the above to put McAdoo over comprise that sort of newspaper or sort of politician that says McAdoo is a splendid example of honorable lawyer, who, in fact, acted entirely within the bounds of the highest political ethics, but adds that he cannot be nominated or elected because the people will never be able to discriminate between his actions as an honorable lawyer and the acts of a crook.

For instance, the Springfield Republican says that all McAdoo did was to help carry out the same policy with reference to Mexico that was urged by the Harding and Wilson administrations, and that he earned his salary which was reasonable. But adds that the Reno State Journal editorial, which says:

Another sample of the same sort of reasoning is contained in the Reno State journal editorial, which says:

William Gibbs McAdoo, splendid public servant and honest exponent of the right, might demand his right to run in a better, sooner age but he owes it to the principles which he gallantly espouses to clear the decks for another about whom the smoke screens of political warfare cannot be thrown by scheming partisans to obfuscate the unsophisticated voter who measures his hope for the realization of the principle for which he stands in terms of individual history of his candidate."

Of course, it is just possible if those superior people keep insisting that the people are unable to see what they can see, the people might demonstrate the fact that they can see it.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Grains closed generally lower on the board of trade today.

Wheat rallied from a sharp dip following a strong opening when favorable news from Europe acted as a stimulant among buyers. The result of this late upturn progressed through to the end of the session. Scarcity of grain continues to be felt over the middle western territory.

Oats lacked any interest. The close was lower because other grains dipped.

Heeding hammed prices to divide figures to date.

Merely a Stone.

The supposed skull of the Tertiary period found in Patagonia some time ago is merely a curiously shaped stone and of no scientific value, according to a committee of eminent scientists of the Buenos Aires and Lagdan museums of natural history, which has carefully examined it. At the time of its discovery great interest was excited because it was supposed to be the oldest trace of mankind in existence.

W. O. VICTORY FOUND DEAD EARLY TODAY

Prominent Farmer of Twin Falls Tract Dies Today From Gunshot Wound, Thought to Have Been Self-Inflicted.

The body of W. O. Victory, aged 49, was found about two-thirty this morning lying on the kitchen floor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Victory, of Fourth avenue east. A pistol lay nearby.

Hearing a shot, Mrs. Victory, his wife, rushed into the kitchen and discovered her husband's body, a bullet hole through his right temple and a weapon close at hand. A son, Randall Victory, was called from his sleeping quarters in another part of the house and P. J. Troxelman, undertaker, was summoned at once. Death was believed to have been instantaneous. Whether or not an inquest will be held has not been decided.

Mr. Victory was in ill health at the time death took place. The sad story of his troubles was confirmed in a series of touching notes he left to members of his family.

The deceased came to southern Idaho a number of years ago, settling on a splendid farm near the Hansen bridge. This said he moved to town, residing on Fourth avenue east. His son, Randall, arrived home Monday from the Idaho Technical Institute, which he had been attending.

Leath to Retire

After the other members of the family had retired for the night Mr. Victory remained up, but shortly after two o'clock informed his wife that he was coming to bed, expressing the belief that he was at last growing sleepy enough to get some real rest. It was not long after he announced his intention of retiring that a shot was heard in the kitchen, followed immediately by Mrs. Victory's hurried trip to the place from where the sound came.

Was Once a Banker

The decedent came to Idaho from the middle west where he had been engaged in the banking business. At one time he was employed at the local Skaggs store. Last fall he rented his ranch and moved to Twin Falls.

Mr. Victory leaves besides his parents and widow, three children, Randall, 19, Virginia, 18, and James, 10. Funeral arrangements have not been completed but the services may be held Monday, a private funeral being the wish of Mrs. Victory. Rev. A. S. Pearson, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, will officiate. At present word is being awaited from eastern relatives.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS HAS BEEN AGREED ON

Commissioners and State and Federal Veterinarians Come to Understanding After Long Session Friday—Will Help Stock Raisers.

After an all-day session yesterday an agreement was reached between the county commissioners, Dr. W. A. Sullivan, representing the government of the United States and Dr. Wendell R. Smith, Idaho State veterinarian, whereby an area drive will be conducted in the campaign against beef and dairy cattle tubercular affection in this county at a cost of not to exceed $1500. Beef cattle will likely be driven to the most convenient location, while dairy cattle will be trailed on the farms.

A schedule will be worked out by County Agent R. E. Brossard. Cattle and dairy products, as well as hogs, are enhanced in value in counties where the test is made. The tests will cost the owners nothing, and the owner will receive an indemnity from the state and federal funds for animals found affected. Hogs will not be tested, but it is known that swine get tubercular affection mainly from affected cattle so that elimination among the latter eradicates the disease from the former. There will be seven veterinarians engaged in the work.

The veterinary surgeons discussed the matter with the commissioners yesterday morning but had not thoroughly canvassed the situation when they adjourned at noon until 2 o'clock. After about two hours further consideration and terms the agreement was signed.

The $1500 represents the maximum possible cash to this county.

Woodmen of World Hold Interesting Meet Last Evening

A special meeting of the Woodmen of the World was held last night. Phil Fitz was elected clerk. Deputy Head Consul Hoover of Denver, Colo., and District Manager Gollian of Blackfoot, were present and gave interesting talks.

A 30-day membership campaign was decided upon and this will be carried on with great vigor. Mr. Hoover is expected to return to Twin Falls about March 10.

Sentence Postponed — Sentence of L. M. Van Eaton, convicted recently of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, was today postponed by mutual agreement of both attorneys until Monday. Attorney Larsen is handling the case for the defendant, with Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor acting for the state.

MILLINERY CLASSES ARE SCHEDULED FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY

A three-day millinery class for project leaders will be held in Twin Falls beginning March 17. Owing to the great demand for instruction in the class and the fact that only one class will be held in the county, only women who are representatives of an organization and who will conduct classes in their respective organizations, will be admitted.

Mrs. H. E. Broaard of Twin Falls and Mrs. W. P. Alworth are in charge of the organization of the work and those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity are requested to apply to them. Early application is desirable as those coming first will be given preference.

OREGON TRAIL SIGN SUBJECT BEFORE GOV.

Highway Department Will Be Requested to Put Up Posts with Covered Wagon Picture Designed by Oregon University Sculptor; Governor Shows Interest.

The roads bureau of the chamber of commerce last evening presented to Governor C. C. Moore, during his visit to this city, the proposition to have the highway department of the state put up along the Oregon Trail in this state the silhouette of signs which the Wisdom commonwealth is erecting along the famous thoroughfare within its borders. The sign is said to have been designed by the sculptor of the University of Oregon and to have among other things a representation of the covered wagon. Governor Moore evinced much interest and promised to give it his immediate and earnest consideration.

"Trail Is Famous

Speaking of the matter today Chairman C. L. Lind of the roads bureau said that the committee has been working on the plan for some time, and will take it up with President Walter Meacham, of the Old Oregon Trail association, who will visit this city in a short time. The recent meeting of the association in La Grande, at which this city was represented by Newell S. Wight, was a very successful affair.

"The Old Oregon Trail," said Mr. Lind, "is not only the most important transcontinental highway for us, and the most interesting historically, but it was of the most vital importance of any for the expansion of our nation, as it was the means of security for us the great northwest. It is therefore, fitting that we should see that it receives proper signs so that those passing may know of its importance in our national life; an importance much greater than many who live near it fully understand."

LITTLE WOMEN SCORES BIG HIT AS PRESENTED

One of the best home talent plays ever staged in this city was witnessed by an immense crowd Friday afternoon and last evening when "Little Women" was put on at the high school auditorium before immense crowds, under the direction of Mrs. D. F. Riggs in behalf of the high school Parent-Teachers' association. The proceeds will net about $250 and will be applied to buy equipment for the junior high playground. The music was under the direction of J. T. Bainbridge; the business management under Mrs. L. L. Joslyn; the scenic parts under the direction of J. T. Krivanek; and the properties under W. H. Price.

The cast of characters, all of whom acted up to their parts consisted of O. W. Witham as "Mr. March"; Mrs. C. H. Krengel as "Mrs. March"; Faith DeWitt Moore, as "Meg"; Helen Fisher as "Jo"; Dorothy Barger as "Beth"; Vilate Harmon as "Amy"; Viola Edwards, as "Aunt March"; Carl Edwards as "Mr. Laurie"; John F. Estes as "Professor Frederick Bhaer"; Joseph Seaver, Jr., as "John Brooke; Lee Roy Harmon as "Hannah Mullett," and O. P. Duvall as "Mr. Laurence."

THREE REASONS AND A CONCLUSION

—To create a friendly atmosphere that will make every customer feel at home.

—To greet every customer with a cheerful countenance, and attend to his wants in such a way as to leave no doubt of our appreciation of his patronage.

—To render just a little better service than is expected or can be secured elsewhere.

This constitutes the Twin Falls National Bank's attitude toward the public.

Is it not natural that such an attitude gains and retains friends?

Will it not be to your advantage to bank here? We think so. Don't YOU?

In "maintenance of school plant," repair of buildings and replacement of heating equipment are main items. "In fixed charges," insurance on buildings is the main item. In "debt service," interest on bonds and principle to sinking fund are main items. In "auxiliary agencies," transportation of pupils is the main item. In "capital outlays," paying tax is the main item except in 1920-21, when the junior high school building was being built.

GOV. C. C. MOORE MAKES ADDRESS

Eloquent Tribute Paid to Father of This Country.

Gov. C. C. Moore of Idaho, paid tribute to America's first president, George Washington, in an address here last night before the members of Twin Falls lodge A. F. and A. M. Washington was a leading Mason of his early day.

Governor Moore left immediately after his talk last night to speak before Buhl Masons. The governor was at the west-end city Thursday, attending a "father and son" banquet and being a guest at the Buhl Rotary club.

With the executive on his southern Idaho trip were W. H. Yager, state insurance manager, Dr. Wendell Smith, state veterinarian and Thomas Kenough, of the insurance department.

Wished on Him.

FRED GRENZ IS HELD IN JAIL

Application for Release Under Habeas Corpus Is Denied.

Application for release under a writ of habeas corpus was denied Fred Grenz this morning by District Judge W. A. Babcock. The proceedings occupied a considerable part of the morning, with G. A. North acting for the defendant and Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor handling the case for the state. Grenz is accused of violating parole following his conviction some time ago.

Attorney North stated this morning that Grenz had been arrested wrongfully and sought his release on that account. The request for release was denied and Grenz was turned over to the custody of the sheriff with bond fixed at $1000, an amount which the defendant was not expected to raise.

Preliminary trial was set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock before Judge O. P. Duval. Hearing is awaiting the arrival of a witness.

BURTON SMITH IS SELECTED TO FILL WHEELON'S PLACE

Californian Man Chosen at Meeting of Canal Board Yesterday Afternoon; Salary to Be $3000—Comes—Were Recommended by City.

At a special meeting of the Twin Falls canal company directors held at 4 o'clock yesterday Burton Smith, formerly of California, and for some months a resident of this city, was elected to succeed J. C. Wheelon, who has for six years been manager of the company. The salary of the new manager will be $250 a month instead of $7,000 a year which was the sum received by his predecessor. William B. Cunningham moved to retain Mr. Wheelon at his present salary but the motion was lost for lack of a second. President Carl J. Miller, or in event he cannot attend, Thomas M. Baird, will represent the company at the water users' meeting at Idaho Falls March 3.

Mr. Smith was engineer for the irrigation district at Turlock, Cal., for seven years, putting in a fine system there, where the system served approximately 100,000 acres of irrigation lands, and the Oakdale district of about 72,000 acres and was, prior to coming here engaged in work for the engineering department of the state of California. He takes his place March 1. Mr. Wheelon will remain with him for a time before going to his ranch at Garfield, Utah. Mr. Wheelon has many friends in the city and throughout the tract. He has made many modern changes during his term of office, but there was a feeling among a large percentage of the people that his salary was higher than it was necessary to pay to a competent manager at this stage of the development of the tract.
