Laying of Rails to Begin Late in June; Grade Contract Let Utah Construction Company Awarded the Contract for Grading by Short Line; Difficulties Ironed Out and Letting of Contract Makes Construction Sure.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 14.—Laying of track for the Rogerson-Wells branch of the Oregon Short Line railroad which will connect Wells, Nev., with Rogerson, Idaho, will probably start the last week of June, according to H. V. Platt, general manager of the road, who announced yesterday that the grading contract for the road had been awarded to the Utah Construction company.

"The grading of the road will be considerable of a problem, as there is a great amount of rock formation about twelve miles from Rogerson which the contractors will have to cut through. We don't want the engineering department to be delayed so they won't start too closely behind the grading outfit," Mr. Platt explained.

Right of way difficulties delayed the granting of the grading contract for some time, according to the road manager, these have been cleared up and it is expected that the line will be ready for operation by June 30, 1925.

The rails to be laid will be of the same type used on the main line of the Oregon Short Line railroad. Connecting with the Southern Pacific railroad at Wells, the line will furnish products raised in southern Idaho and the people of that section are much interested in the project. The Wells-Rogerson branch entered the embryonic stage about 1902, according to railroad officials, and the awarding of the grading contract makes the project a definite one.

TRAPPED MINERS GIVEN FREEDOM

Men at Last Released from Quarters in Depths of the Earth.

GILMAN, Colo., May 14—Seventy-eight hours of imprisonment on the 1000 foot level of the Empire Zinc company's Black Iron mine here came to an end for five miners at 9 o'clock last night when Elmer Anderson, 21, stuck a grimy, unshaven head through the opening by a final blast, grinned and almost exhausted member of the rescue party and said, "Hello, dad. Here we are."

An hour later, when it was thought the change in atmosphere would work no harm, the five men were taken to the surface to be met by a noisy reception from townspeople who had gathered at the mouth of the mine.

None of the five was injured and all reported that beyond some discomfort from cold they had not suffered in the least from their imprisonment.

BELGIUM WINS

TORQUAY, Eng., May 14—Washer of Belgium beat Kingscote of England in the singles of the Davis cup matches here today, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

PLANE GETS TO ALLAHABAD

ALLAHABAD, India, May 14—The British round the world amphibian plane arrived here today from Nasirbad, making the flight in six hours. The British flight now has covered a total of 6,060 miles since leaving Calshot aerodrome, Southampton, March 25.

TWO KILLED

ALBION, Mich., May 14—Mrs. John D. Murray and daughter, Doris, 15, were killed and Mrs. Murray's husband perhaps seriously injured when their car was demolished by a train at a grade crossing here last night.

WATER CUT IS DUE THURSDAY IN THE CANALS

Should the fall in the Snake river continue until tomorrow it will be necessary to make a cut of as much as perhaps 10 per cent in the volume delivered in the opinion of managers of the Twin Falls Canal company and this cut will continue until it will be down to perhaps 50 per cent next week unless the tendency should turn. On the northside water is already down to 60 per cent and by next week there will be some days with very little water, though it is hoped that a change will come before that time. No water has been withdrawn from the storage.

In the meantime considerable excitement was created among delegates of District No. 36 who are here today in regard to regulation of details of delivery by the report that the Idaho Power company was holding water at American Falls. As a quorum of the nine representatives were not present it was impossible to do more than discuss matters informally pending arrival of others on the afternoon train. Manager Charles Neely of the power company, when asked regarding the matter, denied the charge emphatically and said that during the week more water than the flow of the river had gone through.

CONDUCT OF IDAHO ROAD HOUSES TO BE INVESTIGATED

BOISE, Idaho, May 14—Investigation of the conduct of road-houses on the Idaho-Nevada border near the Contact mining region may disclose systematic violation of the white slave law, federal authorities believe. Assistant United States Attorney James F. Ailshie, Jr., is now looking into events which led to the arrest recently of Paul and Celia Dawson, proprietors of one such house, who are held at Twin Falls on liquor charges.

WILL ADMIT FRUITS

BOISE, Idaho, May 14—Citrus fruits from California will be admitted ino Idaho after June 1. The first modification of this state's hoof and mouth quarantine, by which all animal products, grains, fruits and vegetables are barred, having been issued by the department of agriculture. The effective date was set ahead to avoid hardships on dealers who have stocked up on fruits from other sections.

NINE NEW YORK CABARETS ARE ORDERED PADLOCKED

NEW YORK, May 14—Nine New York cabarets, including many of the leading night resorts of the city, were ordered padlocked for a year by Federal Judge Luce today.

The cabarets are:

Plantation, Palais Royale, Montina Rouge, Four Hundred Club, Montmarte, Club Royale, Bal Moral, Club Gallant, Barn Club.

The padlocking was under provisions of the Volstead law.

OFFER FOLEY IN PLACE OF BOSS MURPHY

Tammany to Get Answer to Request Sometime Today; Foley Well Qualified for Position, Leaders Declare; Has Many Points In His Favor.

NEW YORK, May 14—In a crucial year when the democratic national convention and outstanding candidate for nomination are right here in New York Tammany hall has offered its leadership to a modest, soft spoken, unassuming young man, not at all the customary type of political boss, Surrogate James A. Foley.

Foley gives the selection committee his answer late today on whether he will assume the mantle, relegated only in death by his wife's step-father, Charles F. Murphy.

Leadership of Tammany, a political organization that has no parallel in America has never been offered to a man of Surrogate Foley's type. Tammany's boss generally fights his way to the top by political acumen and wrests the sachemship of the wigwam from his fellow leaders by main force. Foley doesn't want it.

But Tammany wants Foley because he is a man outside the machine, although of it and risen from it. Tammany wants "Jim" Foley because as a state senator, lawyer and surrogate he has won an enviable reputation for honesty which is as much the boast of his political opponents as of friends.

"Jim" Foley is one man you could trust to the limit, no matter what side he was on," a prominent republican said today.

GOES TO HOSPITAL

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 14—Billy Sunday, evangelist, was en route to Rochester, Minn., today for treatment at the Mayo hospital for a general breakdown, brought on by ptomaine poisoning. A revival meeting being conducted here by Sunday will be continued by his aides. Mrs. Sunday, who has been in a hospital here suffering from injuries received in an auto accident, is accompanying her husband.

JACK KEARNS AND SERVANT FACE CHARGE

Mrs. Frances Marie Emerson Says She Became Unconscious After Drinking Mineral Water and Found Filipino Trying to Make Love to Her.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 14—Both Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, and his Filipino servant were named today by Mrs. Frances Marie Emmerson in the charges she made originally against Kearns with the district attorney here. District Attorney Asa Keyes said he would examine numerous witnesses today before determining whether to issue a warrant for arrest of either of the men.

Mrs. Emmerson described how Kearns was alleged to have caressed her; said she became unconscious after drinking mineral water, and awakened with clothing disarranged and the Filipino making unwelcome advances.

She specified that Kearns was not in the room when she recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Emmerson said she met Kearns at Universal City while she was playing on a stage adjoining the one used by Jack Dempsey.

"Kearns invited me to ride into town with him and on the way I told him about my little boy, aged 5, I was trying to get into pictures," she said. "Kearns listened to me and then said he would help me. He asked me to stop at a friend's house, where he would introduce me to a man who could help me.

"After we had gone into the house, I learned there was no one at home. Kearns got some liquor but I wouldn't drink," Mrs. Emmerson went on. "He drank a lot of it, but I only took some mineral water.

"He tried to put his arms around me. I don't know whether the water was drugged or whether I hit my head on something, but I seemed to lose consciousness. Anyway, when I came to some hours later I was on a bed, almost unclothed. Kearns was gone, but the Filipino was trying to make

BANKER'S WIFE THROWN IN JAIL; HUSBAND ACCUSES HER OF FORGERY

NE WYORK, May 14—Marital difficulties of Beverly D. Harris, former vice president of the National City bank and Eleanor Elaine Lee, bade to equal the bitter quarrel betwen W. E. D. Stokes and Helen Elwood, following the latest turn in the action brought by the banker to annul his marriage.

Harris caused the arrest of his wife late last night for forgery in connection with a letter she recently filed in court in a move to re-open the case and she still was in jail today.

The arrest came unexpectedly.

Mrs. Harris was in her apartment in a big Broadway hotel dictating the story of her life to a newspaperwoman when Harris broke in with detectives and ordered her arrested. She pleaded with him in vain.

Attorneys for Mrs. Harris were unable to raise bail because of the late hour and the southern girl spent the night in jail. She expected to raise bail during the day.

A TROUBLESOME LAMB

Klan Becomes Vital Factor This Year in Political Campaigns

Republicans and Democrats Realize That Ku Klux Klan Issue Must Be Met and That the Organization Is Making Its Presence and Strength Known in Different Places.

WASHINGTON, May 14—The hope, long cherished by leaders of both republican and democratic parties that the Ku Klux Klan issue would not rise in this campaign to plague them has been dashed, and in its place has come the certainty that the question somehow must be met.

The republicans have been brought face to face with the issue by the klan victory in Indiana's primary.

Senator Underwood has raised it for the democrats and intends to use it in reviving a presidential candidacy that seemed about expiring of inanition.

Months ago, while the 1924 presidential election was in the dim future, certain republican politicians got behind the fight to oust Senator Earle B. Mayfield from the senate. It was known at that time that any investigation of Mayfield would involve alleged klan participation in his nomination and election and that this would lead to a general investigation of reported klan activities nationally. The Mayfield inquiry now going on shows every evidence of becoming a klan investigation unless present lines of questions are stopped summarily.

Therefore it would appear as though the klan issue had been made a certain factor in the campaign by those who saw in the Mayfield case an opportunity to get revenge for the ousting of Newberry.

Now all eyes are on President Coolidge, to see what position he will take with respect to Indiana's klan controlled republican organization.

Senator Watson, ostensibly one of the Coolidge lieutenants, has been quoted as supporting Ed Jackson, the klan nominee for governor. Will the president indicate his approval of this or of anti-klan branch of the republican branch of the republican party in the Hoosier state is the questin now being asked here. That he will be allowed to evade this choice no one here believes. Means will be found to place him on record and naturally what he says will be construed as reflecting his attitude on the klan not alone in Indiana but all over the country.

Thus it becomes a definite factor in the campaign.

Young Man Charged with Assisting in Colo. Mint Robbery

FRESNO, Calif., May 14—William Sehrey, 21, held by police here, is charged by Ray Crackle, his companion, with being implicated in the robbery of the Denver mint in 1922 and with having told of it with great gusto.

Crackle told police that Sehrey described drawing lots with his fellow bandits to determine who should kill one of their number wounded when shots were exchanged with the federal guards, and that $25,000 of the $50,000 Sehrey secured was deposited in a Kansas City bank under the name of John Adams.

COPS LOOK FOR JEWEL ROBBERS

Police Have Clue Which May Lead to Arrest of Notorious Gangsters.

NEW YORK, May 14—A definite lead to a gang of jewel robbers, who police believe, may have been implicated in the murder of Louise Lawson, was obtained today when Harry Lesser, accused by Mrs. Howard Johnson, wife of the co-author of "Tangerine," of having garroted and robbed her yesterday in a suite in a hotel, was picked out of a lineup at headquarters by other victims of similar atacks.

Mrs. Mildred Ford, her daughter, Mrs. Nettie Monroe, and Shirley Monroe, 7, identified Lesser as one of a gang which entered their West side apartment a few weks ago and held them up at the point of revolvers.

ARRAIGNMENT POSTPONED

PRYOR, Okla., May 14—Arraignment of Sloje Cochran and Eli Stick, held here in connection with the death of Ina Thompson, 9, whose mutilated body was found near here Sunday has been postponed indefinitely in the belief that the men will talk voluntarily if allowed time officers said today.

MONEY SENT TO SAVE BANKS

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 14—A million dollars in cash was rushed into Sioux Falls by the Federal Reserve bank today to save the city's three remaining banks, while the grand jury investigates the closing of five others within the past few months.

The Dakota Trust and Savings bank locked its doors yesterday.

TO SUPPRESS LIQUOR TRAFFIC

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 14—One hundred federal prohibition agents concentrated in Kansas City today in preparation for suppression of liquor traffic during the Shrine convention early in June. Fred O. Wood, chairman of the Shrine executive committee, asked federal officials to send the additional agents into this territory to open a campaign against liquor traffic. Large quantities of liquor reported to have been brought in for the convention will be sought.

EXONERATED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 14—All but three members of the millionaire Allis family were exonerated of the charges in connection with the $250,000 alienation of affections suit of Mrs. Amber Allis when Judge Gustav Gehrz today dismissed the charges against all but Lois and Louise Allis and Mrs. Margery Morris.

SHALL WOMEN BE ORDAINED AS MINISTERS

Baptist Convention Wrestles with Knotty Problem at Nampa; Women Surprise Men's Session and March in to Hear Discussion.

NAMPA, May 14—The Idaho Baptist state convention got under way yesterday with a large number of delegates from practically every church present. The most exciting discussion of the three day session came over the subject, "Shall we approve the Ordination of Women?" This address was given by Rev. W. F. B. Hartley, pastor of the Rupert church, and one of the pioneer preachers of Idaho. Just as Rev. Hartley was about to begin his address the women who were convening in a separate session marched into the men's meeting in a body and created quite a sensation.

This question has been before the Baptists of Idaho for several months and the discussion yesterday was the culmination of this pent-up feeling. Rev. Hartley opened his address by stating that he favored the ordination of women on the ground of necessity but on the other hand he did not believe in advocating their ordination. In speaking of ordaining the gentler sex he said, "I have no convictions as to sex when it comes to ordaining persons qualified for the ministry, provided qualifications are equal." He stated that he had been converted under a woman's preaching and felt that they had their place in the church as well as men.

Rev. W. J. Agee of Meridian was the second speaker and quoted from the Apostle Paul several passages against women speaking in the church. He stated that any one who altered the literal meaning of this scripture was using the penknife on the Word of God and should be classed as a higher critic. Rev. Agee stated that

FLOOD WATERS ARE RECEDING

Enormous Property Loss Caused by Raging Waters in Eastern State.

PITTSBURGH, May 14—The swollen waters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers today were slowly receding, leaving in their wake property damage estimated in the millions.

As the turbulent streams returned toward their normal depth river front residents who were forced to evacuate their homes yesterday for the third time this year began returning to their dwellings.

The Allegheny and Monongahela, where they form the Ohio at Point bridge, reached a crest of 26.4 feet. Flood stage at this point is 25 feet.

NEW ENGLAND CAUSE FOR WORRY IN COOLIDGE CAMP; MID-WEST MAINTAINS AMERICAN IDEALS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14—Rock-ribbed New England, stronghold of republican regularity for two generations, is giving Coolidge campaign leaders sleepless nights and days of worry.

For, despite the fact that Cautious Cal is an embodiment of those staid virtues that should win the backing and the ballot of every loyal New Englander, republican headquarters privately concedes an element of uncertainty in the result in three of the six New England states.

This is due to conditions in industrial New England—Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island—where the native New Englander has become submerged under the tide of immigration. In these states the foreign-born hold enough ballots to blast rock-ribbed republicans to smithereens, if they make up their minds to do it. And reports from republican scouts in the industrial centers of these states indicate that they may choose this year to touch off the dynamite.

Hence the apprehension.

"Heretofore," explains a republican national committeeman discussing the chance that Coolidge and the republican ticket may be knifed in the very section where it is generally thought their hold would be most secure, "we have managed to hold the bulk of this foreign vote on our side. But there is no question today but that it is slipping.

"This defection is due to two direct causes, Prohibition and restricted immigration.

"That an unassimilated foreign population can thus overrule and endanger the voice and the ideals of native America is, of course, the best proof that immigration should be restricted.

"If these three New England states should swing democratic this fall it will be nothing for democrats to boast about. It will simply be the result of the un-American votes of an un-Americanized electorate. They will not vote democratic because they believe in democracy. They will simply vote against the republicans as the party enforcing prohibition and immigration."

This spokesman declares that the hope of America and—for the purposes of this campaign—the republican party, is the middle west found the pure American stock. There, alone, he maintains is to be maintaining fundamental American ideals.

With Indiana, however, probably passed over to the democrats as the result of the conviction of Governor McCray, a republican, with Wisconsin, under LaFollette, [illegible] [illegible] will not [illegible] and with Illinois in the [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] doubtful [illegible] found [illegible]

In fact, [illegible] promises [illegible] part of the [illegible] G. O. P.

SOUTHERN GIRL DIES IN NEW YORK FROM LONELINESS, SAYS NOBODY CARES IN GREAT CITY

NEW YORK, May 14—Police read from a worn little red notebook today the story of how lonesomeness killed a southern girl who came to New York to seek her fortune.

The girl was Renee Harris, who died in the room of Mario Giminez, a Cuban hair dresser.

"She died of lonesomeness," Giminez said. "Nobody knew her and nobody cared for her. She was just tired out from being alone, when I found her."

And the book in which the girl had set down the bitter fight she made against the overpowering hurry and bustle of New York bore out the Cuban's statements.

"Oh, God, I'm so lonesome," Renee wrote day after day.

"It's so hard for me and oh, so bitterly lonely. No one cares. Some day it will happen and I'll end the struggle."

There was also a childish verse or two—all about the brusque hurry of New York, the "city where nobody cares."

The notebook mentioned Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harris of Helm's Run, W. Va., presumably relatives of the dead girl.

Giminez was held as a material witness while police investigate the cause.

Police said Miss Harris lived in Charleston, W. Va., and came here a week ago.

Giminez denied intimacy with the girl and said he was attempting only to aid her when he took her to his room.

Banquet for P. T. A. Convention—The delegates to the state P. T. A. convention and visitors enjoyed a beautiful banquet in the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. While the crowd was gathering, Miss Ford's glee club of the junior high school entertained with several numbers. The tables were very attractive with pink tulips and spirea, and further carrying out the color scheme were pink tapers in crystal holders. Covers were laid for 110. The invocation was given by Mr. M. C. Mitchell. Mrs. H. E. Dilts acted as toastmaster and introduced first Miss Russum of Boise the state superintendent of public instruction, who gave a splendid short talk. Mrs. J. E. Joslyn was next introduced and gave a most interesting talk on "Idaho's Greatest Reclamation Service," and told of our fine institution at St. Anthony, and the splendid way in which our boys and girls were being cared for. She also displayed some of the work done by the children. Mrs. H. O. Maguire rendered a beautiful vocal solo. Mrs. A. H. Reeve, national president of the P. T. A., was then introduced and brought a most inspiring message from the national convention which was held last week in St. Paul, Minn. She laid stress on the fact that when the children start to school, a parent's duties do not cease, but they must work with the teachers and child throughout the school years, and the most efficient way in which this can be done is through a well organized P. T. A. A song called "My Tribute," the words written by Miss Higgins of Boston and dedicated to the P. T. A. was beautifully sung by Mrs. Maguire and Mrs. Sturdivant. Mrs. R. J. Ewen of Boise, president of the state P. T. A., on behalf of the executive board, presented Mrs. Reeve with a beautiful picture of Twin Falls. Throughout the meal music was furnished by the high school orchestra.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

BRUINS READY FOR TWO GAMES WITH CALDWELL

Thursday and Friday Afternoons of this week the Caldwell high school baseball team will be the Bruins' guest at Lincoln field in a two game series. Caldwell has made a wonderful record this year beating both Nampa and Boise. Twin Falls defeated Caldwell in the game recently while on the trip to that part of the state and the Bruins hope to take both the games from the visitors here.

The two games here, which will be the culmination of the athletic season are expected to be marvels of distance and persistent effort. The locals are looking better each game and this fair to be the favorites in the coming series, strong as Caldwell is known to be.

Not one whit downhearted by the trio of defeats while on the road, the Evans men are supremely confident of winning both games this week. Jarman, Hodgin, Martin and Gately are doing to get at their old rivals and the whole team is showing real pepper, despite the enervating weather.

Local athletic authorities are looking for the largest crowds of the year when the two teams mix. The single game admission price for adults will be fifty cents with twenty-five cents being the fee to students. No series tickets will be sold.

Cool Laws in Switzerland.

In Switzerland if a child does not attend school on a particular day the parent gets notice from the public authority that he is fined so many francs; the second day the fine is increased, and by the third day the amount becomes a serious one. In case of sickness the pupil is excused, but if there is any suspicion of shamming a doctor is sent to the house.

BUHL WILL PLAY POCATELLO SUNDAY

Manager Cal Griswold of the Buhl Grays states that he will have one of the fastest teams in southern Idaho this season. They will meet the Pocatello Indians Sunday afternoon at 3:30 on the Buhl diamond. This will be the opening game for the Buhl sluggers, and arrangements are being made to close the town for light during the hours of the game. All drug stores, pool halls and soft drink establishments have agreed to close so that everybody can go to the big opening game.

The Pocatello Indians will work Aldred and Phillips in the box and Brashears will be the backstop. For the Buhl Grays Faux and Faux will be the battery.

SHALL WOMEN BE ORDAINED

there were many people in the world who are so broad minded that they cannot tolerate narrow mindedness.

Rev. J. H. Wakem of the Eagle church spoke in favor of the ordination of women.

State Convention Board Meets

The Baptist state convention board met last evening and went over the budget for the coming year and heard reports from practically all of the churches in Idaho. Rev. W. S. Shanks of Boise gave a report of the needs and presented a tentative budget for the coming year. W. A. Bolz, chairman of the laymen's Council for Idaho, and a prominent business man of Boise, pushed the large amount of work which was being accomplished on such a limited budget.

Rev. Shanks stated that the growth of the Baptist denomination was shown in the following figures: In 1901, there was one Baptist to every 91 inhabitants but this had grown until today one out of every 19 is a Baptist.

Rev. Wm. M. English reported a new church at Castleford and considerable growth for the Baptist work in that community. He stated that he had not organized this church but that same had been organized following a revival conducted by himself. Rev. Isaac Todd, a former subdued Baptist minister, was the real organizer of the church. Mr. Todd is a resident farmer of Castleford.

Silver Map of World.

A silver map of the world, exhibited by the Royal Geographical society, is said to be the best of four such maps in existence. It is a thin circular plate of silver, about three inches in diameter, and commemorates Drake's voyage around the world, 1577-1580.

TWIN FALLS HAS COAST LEAGUE PITCHER COMING

Manager C. P. Cogriff issued a call this morning for all players to appear on the baseball field tonight at 6 p. m. for practice. The plan is to work out tonight and play the Sugar Factory team some other semi-professional team tomorrow evening at the same hour.

Manager Cogriff accepted a proposition from a Seattle Coast League pitcher to play for the Magicians this summer. He worked with Vernon last year and is coaxed by the Seattle team but they are fanning him out for the summer with the understanding that he is to report back to their training camp early next year.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's luck—Bill Falk, White Sox outfielder, hit two homers and led the attack which dumped the Yanks, 7 to 6.

Four hits crowded into the fourth inning off Decatur gave the Cubs all their runs and they beat the Robins 3 to 1.

Bentley blew up in the fifth inning when the Cards scored five runs that beat the Giants 8 to 3, and gave the champions their fourth straight smack.

Wild base running got the runs for Shantz and the Indians beat the Athletics 3 to 2. It was the twelfth straight defeat of the Athletics.

Three runs scored on two passes, Jacobson's triple and Wanny's error gave the Browns a 5 to 3 victory over the Red Sox.

Hard hitting by Traynor and Grimm enabled the Pirates to beat the Braves 5 to 1.

With one down in the ninth inning the Reds pushed over the run that beat the Phils, 4 to 3.

Three pinch hitters singled off Mogridge in the seventh inning but he escaped with his hide and the Senators beat the Tigers, 6 to 3.

Finest First Baseman

Critics are saying that Hauser, first baser for the Athletics, is the finest in the game. That is, some critics. If he is, he is the finest of an idea of the tall Mr. McGillicuddy of the Athletics, for he saw the possibilities of that man as a first baseman when Hauser was playing the outfield. Hauser is fast and strong, has a fine left-handed arm, and can lift the ball. The first requisite of the great first baseman is the wallop.

City Briefs

Get Out Papers—Frank Meyers was granted citizenship papers last evening in the district court.

At Dollar Home—The meeting of the Shamrock club tomorrow afternoon will be at the A. M. Dollar home, it is announced.

For Sandwich Islands—Charlie Wintle of Filer has started for Honolulu from the local recruiting office, to join the coast artillery, to which he enlisted yesterday.

Special Communication Tonight—The Twin Falls Masonic Lodge announces special communication p. m. the entered apprentice degree at the temple tonight.

Field Day Tomorrow—Tomorrow will be junior high field day with games in the city park and crowning of the May queen by the ninth grade.

Free Illustrated Talk—There will be a free illustrated lecture to which all are invited at the Lutheran church tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock on the subject, "History of the Missouri Synod." Rev. J. Gilking, the pastor, states that the lecture will be interesting and educational.

Will Visit Coast—Dr. and Mrs. Harry Davis left this morning for coast points to be gone until July when Dr. Davis will reopen in quarters opposite to the old stand of the Davis Optical company. They will visit in Portland, Seattle, and Vancouver, B. C. after which they will go to Los Angeles to spend the rest of their vacation.

Case Is Adjusted—The case against L. Fonley, charged with resisting the city marshal of Kimberly when the latter sought to take him up for alleged violation of the traffic ordinance was dismissed today in the probate court through agreement. It is said that Fonley pays the cost and agrees to plead guilty of traffic violation in Kimberly.

Funeral Held Today—The funeral of little Robert J. Mort, the 11 months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Mort of Hollister, who died yesterday as a result of swallowing poison tablets, which he took from the top of the dresser of his home, is being held at the DeWitt parlors this afternoon and conducted by Rev. O. D. Harris. The child died yesterday before medical aid could be obtained after the accident had been discovered.

Says Arrest Surprise—Charles King, arrested last night near Castleford by Federal officers for alleged possession of a still and a quantity of moonshine on his farm, during his absence denied all knowledge of the alleged crime on his part today. He entered a plea of not guilty before U. S. Commissioner H. C. Powers and was placed under $500 bond. He said that he had leased the farm to Boyd Jordan and was working for Frank Kinney thereon. He however, made no effort to implicate Jordan, who was absent when King was arrested and who is said to have offered his telephone to come in into will if wanted by officers.

FIVE PRISONERS FREE

McALESTER, Okla., May 14—Five of the four prisoners who broke away from the state penitentiary brick yard here yesterday were still at liberty today, according to Warden W. S. Key. The missing prisoners were serving lengthy sentences. The prison officials and guards who had charge of the brick plant workers have been suspended from service.

Hollywood police records show that officers went to the Highland avenue house on May 3 and heard Mrs. Emerson's story, but refused to act, refusing to believe her.

Reards will not talk.

"I can only say that I deny every charge this woman makes," he declared. "I have told my story to District Attorney Keyes and have told him the truth."

Attorney Benjamin Lewis, Mrs. Emerson's counsel, said that he could file action against Reards regardless of the outcome of the investigation.

MRS. BEEDIE GAINED 35 LBS. TAKING TANLAC

Tanlac Relieved Her of Stomach Trouble and Built Her Up to Normal Weight.

"To be relieved of every stomach trouble and have your weight increased from 115 to 150 pounds is indeed something to be thankful for and that is my reason for praising Tanlac so enthusiastically," recently said Mrs. D. L. Beedie, 963 Seventh Ave., San Francisco.

"Five years ago, I was in a wretched condition, entirely without appetite and suffering such agony from stomach trouble that I could hardly endure it. Finally my condition grew so bad that all I ate would cause a little mish and I became alarmingly weak and thin.

"An operation was suggested but I was hopeless and I shall always be grateful that I tried Tanlac first. In just a few weeks, my appetite returned I was eating everything and enjoying the best of health, and my stomach has never troubled me a particle since. My husband is using Tanlac for stomach trouble now.

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

WHAT IS A RADICAL?

The use of the same word in different senses in different countries is often confusing. In America to call a man a radical socialist would be to brand him with belonging to the extreme wing of the socialist party. On the other hand in France, a radical socialist is really not a socialist at all, but a person who goes to the limit in some forms of state interference and who adopts a number of socialistic planks without adopting the Marxian formulas. In Germany in old monarchial days the radical party, so called, was pretty similar to the national liberal party and in no way identified with the large social democratic party of real socialists. There was what was called a radical party in England in the days of Gladstone, with whom, however, it generally acted. This party was extremely anti-socialistic, and carried the opposition to governmental interference and tinkering far beyond the point held by the regular liberals.

THE DAM AND RAILROAD TO GO

Neither the ruling of the supreme court yesterday upholding all the essential points of the ruling of the district court in connection with the American Falls bond issue, nor the statement of General Manager H. V. Platte that the contract for the construction of the railroad south was unexpected. Lawyers generally were of the opinion that the decision of the lower court in this matter was based on sound principles, and that the objections raised were not well grounded. Practically everybody felt that the Utah Construction company would get the contract to build the road and that interpretation of the conditions in the call for bids would show them to be the lowest and best bidders. The reported relations between this company and the O. S. L. is such that it was natural for the work to go that way.

In both cases, however, there is general popular satisfaction. It is felt that since the U. C. company has large interests in this part of the state and in northern Nevada, the fact that it got the contract will mean much toward building up the country, and it is also felt that there will be less tendency to cavil over conditions by that company, since it has the contract to construct the line.

The upholding of the decision in regard to American Falls is also a cause for congratulation. It means that the best price will be obtained for the bonds and that a larger amount of money will be available for work at an earlier period than would otherwise be possible. Nor is this fact, pleasing as it is, the chief reason for congratulation. The supreme court allowed anyone who had any legal opinion that would possibly shed light on any phase of the subject from any angle, to intervene. The decision should tend to satisfy many who have had misgivings in regard to possible vital defects in the contract, which it is admitted is not as good as it might be in some respects. Since the alleged defects were set forth in briefs filed in opposition to upholding the lower court, it is evident that the highest tribunal in Idaho does not consider them to be very serious.

There is no question that the Union Pacific railroad has figured out that it is to its great profit to run a main line connecting with San Francisco and it is going to build that line. It is well to remember this in case of any apparent hesitation later on this year in pushing construction. And it means a great deal for this community, which is a logical shopping and week-end center, to be on the main line.

The Sick Pearl

By Berta Ruck

Blue Ribbon Series

INSTALLMENT IV.
THE PINK PEARL.

"Love you to. Besides, as it happens, some people at school always did call me Bill."

"Did they?" Margaret had a sudden twinge of jealousy of those friends who had dared to first propose for him before ever she, who so loved him, had heard his name at all. "Did they? I shall always call you Dick."

Mount's hand sought and found the stolen sea burrs hard that was also seeking his. He whispered, "This is the second time I have held your hand in a boat."

"I know."

"And Margaret! I wanted to ask you something."

"What?"

"About last night. In that cave."

"Last night! Could it possibly only have been last night? I was frightened of the storm? What were you going to ask me?"

"Just before you dropped off to sleep. Were you dreaming? You said something about Cleopatra's pearl."

"Did I? Yes, I remember now. I was wondering, That pearl she dropped into her glass—to drink to Anthony."

"Well, darling?"

"If the wine were not strong enough to kill her, how was it strong enough to melt the pearl?"

Mount only said: "Perhaps soon you'll know. You know my name for you?"

Not time for answer then. For here was the wharf below a plantation of slender masts, sailors were unloading the mail boat, beyond were the streets of sleep houses, the waving of palms, the reelling of oranges in dull green foliage against pale stucco; the door steps of tiny crowded houses, all split over with parrot red babies; the clustered people of somber half Italian beauty; the color and the struggle and the give and take of squalid, romantic, every day life.

"You've come back to me."

Young Mount sprang out on to the stone steps.

"Here we are, Margaret."

Margaret, her whole soul going out in that last look back across the bay in the direction of their beach—goodbye to a place where I was happy, dearest place that gave him to me—Margaret actually did not hear his voice.

Another voice, soft, flurried, called her again. "Margaret!"

"Mother!" called Margaret in the tone of a little girl. "Mama!"

Had this been an English quay it is possible that the surrounding and assembled groups might have stared to see that rush forward of a well dressed, well bred, English lady who, without shame, fairly flung herself on to the neck of the girl who stepped forward out of the boat, a tall, handsome scarecrow she looked with hair like a bird's nest, a face of pale apricot sunburn, the poise, the carriage, the wholesome outdoor fitness of Atalanta herself.

"Margaret! You've come back to me. My baby, you look as happy as you had never gone away. I don't mean not gone away from Nice," west Violet Verity—unreasonably she wept for joy before all the clustered Latin peasants, interested and indulging their unfailing habit of rejoicing with those that do rejoice. "I mean, you look as if you had never, never left me, never left home."

Margaret said, "I have come back."

It meant everything.

Then there was another greeting.

Margaret, disentangled from her mother's arms, was enveloped in a bear like hug from her mother's escort, Mr. Lloyd.

"How are you, my dear child?" her Uncle Tom hailed her complacently. "How was it on the desert island? Better than the flats, eh?"

"Much, thank you, Uncle Tom," retorted Margaret with a perfect outward display of heartiness.

Because the girl kept it up, I must say. Affectionately she laughed with the old man, asking him for all the details of where he had stayed in Corsica all this time, asking for the whole story of being caught in that thunderstorm the night before; that night when Margaret had had her first glimpse of him, then on his way to pay a surprise visit to their creek and to join his castaways at breakfast time. She sympathized with his drenching and her manner in the circumstances was another testimonial to the change of heart which had been wrought in her by the adventure. Not by word or sign would Margaret ever betray her regrettable feeling on this subject.

But she would never forgive her Uncle Tom.

Is that a surprise to you? It is not fair, one would like to think that in the end of her days the girl would be grateful to the benevolent schemer without knowing. She'd have resented it as he had found her, the handful of human refuse living on wrong lines of no use to herself or to any one around her, one of the spoiled, undervitalized, and overweathy girls who are the Sick Pearls of our civilization.

Uncle Tom had cured her of all that. She would never forgive him. Unfair, unjust, illogical as nature, the fact, sharper than a serpent's tooth, the fact remained. She could not overlook what he had done in spite of her owing to him renewed vigor, fresh outlook on life, happiness, love, and Dick Mount, himself. The years would make no difference. For even to this yet were added the items of an ideal marriage, a deeply happy mating, a lovely home, flowers by the sea, where all the downs would be as playgrounds for her twin sons, the fine sturdy Eric and Charles; even those treasures were to make no difference. Such is feminine psychology that Margaret, however much she tried to do the right thing, Margaret would never, never forgive her Uncle Tom.

Her mother, of course, had in one flash realized what other change beside those of physical regeneration, of mental poise, of the unclouding of youth, beauty had been wrought in her child.

She might as well have printed on the front of her jersey the words "I am in love." Violet turned to the girl's compliments, the handsome male scarecrow who towered beside her. Violet, who had never been quick at knowing what to say to young men, was not quick now.

Only her gentle face mirrored with appeal for the treasure that she had just regained and whom she must now hand over.

"Mr. Mount, your brother would have been pleased. As a little girl—he was asked to her! You will take care of her?"

"Rather," he said simply in a voice that was his guarantee. "It will be all right, Mrs. Verity." He gave her that smile which weals win friends for Archie Mount whether he was on a cannibal island or at an international conference.

Then he turned it upon Margaret, who bloomed afresh.

He slipped his hand into the soft curve of her arm as, finally, the cortege moved off the steep, cobbled, palm bordered, dirty, picturesque, illumed and decidedly charming Corsican street toward our hotel.

No one but Margaret caught his whisper.

"Come along, marginal pearl."

THE END.

Missouri River Longest.

The Missouri river is not only the longest river in the United States, but it is the longest river in the world. Its actual length in miles is 4,104, and the Amazon, the next longest, which traverses Brazil in South America, is 3,964 miles. The Hoang-Ho in China and the Murray in Australia rank next, with 3,000 miles each. The Mississippi, often thought of as the greatest of all rivers, is in reality only 2,616 miles long.

...AT THE... THEATRES

WOMEN HAVE NO MONOPOLY ON THE BEAUTY PARLORS

Now it's the ladies' turn to sit back and have a laugh on the men. Oh, such vanity! What with haircuts, shaves, shampoos, massages, manicures and what-not, the proverbial bust now seems to be more or less on the other foot. Who said that the fair sex had a monopoly on the beauty parlors?

Cecil B. DeMille in his newest production for Paramount, "Triumph," now showing at the Idaho theatre, shows us the very latest thing in ultra-modern beauty parlor type immortal parlors where for half a week's salary they turn any self-made man out a "tailor-made" man.

AT ORPHEUM

He gave himself a life term of hond-aged, hard labor and turmoil

That short statement covers just one dramatic "punch" of "Judgment of the Storm," the first Fulmer Photoplay Corporation screen play, which is coming to the Orpheum theatre. And, ah, boy! How many other punches there are, all fitting into a wonderful dramatic, wonderfully realistic and wonderfully human bit of photodramatic craftsmanship with the weight and harmony of the phases of a great master's musical symphony! And this story is from the pen of a hitherto unrecognized author, Mrs. Ethel Styles Middleton, of Pittsburgh!

BURLEY NEWS

BURLEY, Idaho, May 14—The men of the Christian church entertained the ladies at an elaborate banquet Monday evening in the church basement. Spring flowers were arranged attractively about the hall, forming pretty decorations. Pastor Reynolds acted as toastmaster and responses were made by Duke Panzera, Mrs. T. N. Boner, and Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Smedley. Following the dinner several musical selections were given by the Feuts orchestra. A large crowd was present and each one declared the entertainment was a very delightful one.

Banker's Friends Elated

"Twelve years ago I became afflicted with stomach trouble which steadily became worse. I frequently became prostrated with colic attacks and bloating. My doctors wanted to operate for gall-stones. I wished to avoid an operation and on advice of a friend tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy with excellent results as since taking it about two years ago my trouble has entirely disappeared." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all good drug stores.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, May 14.—The close in grains was uneven on the board of trade today.

Wheat fluctuated within a narrow margin during an erratic session and closed showing no great change from the lower opening.

A better undertone prevailed in corn. Better cash business and light receipts strengthened the spot month.

Oats stepped away from other grains and registered a small advance at the finish.

Not enough business went on in provisions to create a market. The close was slightly lower.

New Ford Truck Is Equipped with All-Steel Body

DETROIT, Mich., May 14.—Screen sides and canopy top are now being supplied by the Ford Motor company as additional equipment for the new Ford one-ton truck equipped with an all-steel body and cab.

Since its introduction a few months ago, the new Ford haulage unit has steadily gained in popularity among truck users throughout the country. With the addition of screen sides and canopy top its utility is greatly extended and the uses to which it may be adapted become wider than ever, including most every delivery service demand.

The screen sides, which are of heavy mesh in strong frames, are securely bolted to the cab and body. The top is covered with weatherproof material, similar material being used for side and end curtains which are rolled up and held in place by straps when not in use.

With the screen sides and top the truck has a loading space of approximately 114 cubic feet. The body is four feet wide, seven feet two inches long, and has a loading height of four feet.

PERKINS' WAIVES EXAMINATION IN MEREDITH CASE

Plea of Not Guilty Entered In Behalf of Defendant Whose Bond of $1,000 is Continued; Trouble Continued Since Dispute Arose Over Difference at Roseworth.

The preliminary hearing of the United States against Fred M. Perkins for alleged mailing of threatening letters to P. C. Meredith, set for this morning before U. S. Commissioner R. E. Powers has been waived as a result of an agreement reached last evening between R. C. Mills, lawyer for Perkins, and James P. Ailshie, Jr., assistant district attorney. The bond of $1000 was continued and it is stated that arrangements will be made to take care of the bail as soon as the Lechleiter and Peters case here in which the defense attorney is interested, has been finished. Perkins, who was formerly imprisoned here following trouble with Meredith, was released after some imprisonment.

Letters which Perkins is charged with writing to Meredith declared that he had been damaged to the extent of $500,000 as result of his imprisonment and the filing of the insanity charges against him and it is charged that Perkins in the letters threatened to give the government information whereby a prosecution for using the mails to defraud and for land fraud might be brought against the heads of the developers of the Roseworth tract if a large sum of money, stated to be $250,000, was not paid over to him. The letters are alleged to have been written between October and April of this year.

According to Assistant United States Attorney Ailshie, the case comes under section 10,315 of the federal criminal code, which is headed, "extortion by informer." The section is as follows: "Whoever shall, under threat of informing, or as a consideration for not informing, against any violation of any law of the United States, demand or receive any money or other valuable thing, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both."

The letters which Perkins is alleged to have written were turned over to the United States attorney's office by Mr. Meredith some time ago, it is reported.

Although a former land holder in the Roseworth tract, the report is that Perkins disposed of his holdings some time ago and it is said that the trouble between him and Mr. Meredith first arose over Perkins' dissatisfaction of conditions as he found them on the tract.

There is no civil suit now pending. Perkins' first arrest was the result of a complaint said to have been made by Mr. Meredith that Perkins had threatened to do him bodily harm and he was found guilty of the charge, which was filed against him later was dismissed because of lack of evidence showing him to be in a demented state of mind.

In the letters Perkins is bitter in his denunciation against Mr. Meredith, whom he holds responsible for ill-health resulting in his imprisonment and humility resulting from filing of the insanity charges.

TWIN FALLS LAD WINS NUMERALS

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, May 14—By taking two seconds, Frank Powers, Twin Falls, won his numerals in the dual track meet held recently with Washington State college, the first freshman meet of the season.

Powers, considered the veteran hurdler of the frosh on the basis of his showing on the Twin Falls high school team in the state meet last year, was barely nosed out of first place in the 120 yard high hurdles, won in 16.8 seconds and easily lodged his secondary berth in the 220 low hurdles.

Powers qualified for his first numerals last fall as quarterback for the Vandal frosh.

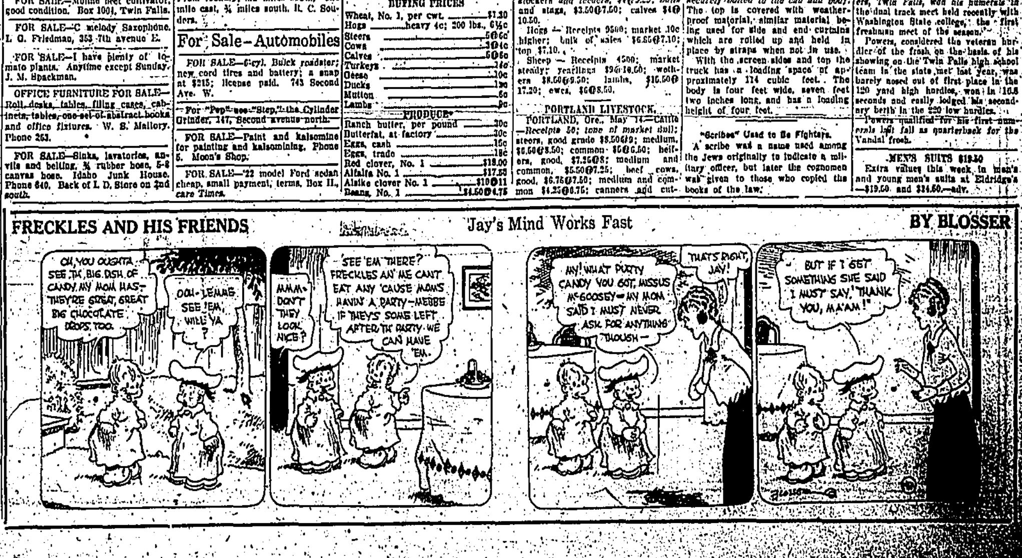
FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — Jay's Mind Works Fast — BY BLOSSER



Nominating Booths Open at the State P.T.A. Convention

Delegates Use Direct Primary Method of Selecting Candidates; Methods for Keeping Children and Parents Interested Are Considered; Tubercular Nutrition Efforts Get Praise; Excursion to Best Spots Late Today.

While delegates to the state Parent-Teacher's association here discussed issues raised by the program, the work of preparing nominating booths for state positions was carried out and at noon the polls were open and ready for their reception. The report of the committee on nominations will be made at 3:15 this afternoon, after which the resolutions will e reported and acted on. This will be followed by election which continues from 4 o'clock this afternoon until 10 o'clock tomorrow. The convention is conducted on the most democratic plan possible and the primary system is in vogue.

Program of Today.

The program opened this morning with a vocal solo by Mrs. W. Dwight and was followed by a prayer by Rev. A. G. Pearson. The round table conference on organization and efficiency led by Mrs. C. H. Dood of Pocatello, brought out many suggestions in regard to ways and means of keeping children and parents interested during the summer months in order that much of the work of one winter season should not be dissipated during vacation. Organization of pig clubs for boys and numerous useful societies for girls were suggested. The home service discussion led by Mrs. H. H. Rankin of Ashton, and the education discussion by Mrs. J. E. Browning of Idaho Falls were both very interesting.

Among the reports received was a very interesting one showing the result of the work of the anti-tubercular society. In the Bickel school in this city the lunches furnished through the milk diet tests, produced wonderful results, as shown in the report of Mrs. Robert Rogerson. The local receipts of the P. T. A. have been applied to this work in the schools. Some 25 banners won by the Idaho Parent-Teacher's anti-tubercular society in the tri-state contest were shown in the high school auditorium, where they were brought by Mrs. D. L. Alexander. Mrs. Stringfellow of the state anti-tubercular association was present and spoke this afternoon.

Musical numbers this afternoon were by Mesdames J. A. Dygert and Merlin G. Batley. Health discussion was resumed under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Duke and consideration of public welfare under the leadership of Mrs. E. J. Payne of Boise.

The play, "Milk Fairies," by Twin Falls pupils, music by a ladies quartette composed of Miss Graham, Mesdames Wiley, Westcott and Nunemaker, with Mrs. Henson as accompanist, a vocal solo by Mrs. W. Zenas Smith with her husband as accompanist and addresses by Mrs. M. J. Sweeley and Miss Elizabeth Russum, state superintendent of schools, constitute the evening program. P. T. A. reports and election results will wind up the session in the morning.

Take in Beauty Spots

Under the auspices of the chamber of commerce 20 autos with delegates are leaving at 4 o'clock to show the delegates the spots which have made Twin Falls famous.

NATIONAL HEAD OF P. T. A. TELLS OF ST. PAUL MEET

President Reeve Explains Extension of Activities of Society at National Gathering; Will Co-operate in Several Meetings.

Details of the work of the National Parent-Teacher's association in St. Paul were given late Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. M. W. Reeve, president of the organization, the name of which was changed at the close of the national meeting to National Congress of Parent-Teachers. New committees were created on illiteracy, musical home education, art and child development, she stated. The national organization had been asked to meet with the National Education association, where a much more extended place will be given to them on the program. A council of peace is planned including the P. T. A., the General Federation and the Women Voters. Extension plans are being formulated for work among the colored people who are planning to co-operate through an organization of their own to be formed later.

The national president declared that the organization was not political, but said that it was committed by resolutions adopted at the national meeting to the child labor amendment, to some form of world court, law enforcement and the Sterling Towner educational bill.

BY-LAW RULING ARGUED IN PETERS-LICHLEITER CASE

The question whether the by-laws of the Mutual Building & Loan association were legally adopted was fiercely debated by attorneys this morning in the district court when an effort was made to introduce them in evidence in the case of the State against Frank G. Lechleiter and K. S. Peters who are on trial for alleged embezzlement of $18,442. The defense argued that the by-laws were adopted by the board of directors instead of by the stockholders and that this being the case, they could not be used in evidence. The contention of the defendants is that the by-laws are part of the contract with the defendants and that they are illegal and therefore not binding and that this cuts the ground from under the case of the prosecution.

NURSES IN STATE MEET HERE TODAY

Representatives From Twin Falls County Points, Boise and Cascade, Gather for First Time Under New Constitution; Senator Pike is Speaker of the Session; Banquet at Rogerson This Evening.

An address by Dr. W. F. Pike, a vocal solo by Mrs. I. B. Masters with the transaction of routine business made up the program of the Idaho State Graduate Nurses association which was called to order at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Business & Professional Woman's hall in this city, and which was attended by practically all local graduate nurses and by a number from the outside. This is the first meeting held under the new constitution which was adopted at Boise in March and which provides for semi-annual gatherings. Tea will be served by Mrs. H. J. Youngs, a trip to Shoshone falls is due this evening.

Plans are being worked out regarding the sending of Mrs. Reichert, of Boise, who represents the state, and Mrs. Heller of this city, representing the first district, to the national convention in Detroit.

Miss Worth of Cascade, one of the six Delano nurses in the United States, is present and will be one of the speakers at the banquet at the Rogerson this evening. They are supported by the Delano fund for isolated communities. The meeting is presided over by Miss Barbara Williams, the state president. Miss Helen Smith is secretary.

POPE ILL

ROME, May 14—The pope is suffering from an attack of uraemia and his audiences have been suspended the newspaper Tribuna said today.

McADOO TO ATTEND

FLINT, Mich., May 14—William G. McAdoo, one of the leaders in the democratic presidential race, will be here tonight in an effort to win the support of Michigan's 30 delegates in the national convention. The state convention opens tomorrow.

Pneumonia Is "Catching."

Few people realize that pneumonia is one of the most prevalent of communicable diseases. Last year the reported incidence was greater than for any other diseases except influenza, measles and tuberculosis. For the first ten months of this year only measles exceeded pneumonia in prevalence.

Blake Advises the Spraying of Trees Within Next Week

The following statement regarding spraying was given out last evening by H. T. Blake, deputy horticultural inspector:

A survey of the orchards surrounding Twin Falls shows that the blossoms of the earlier varieties of apples are ready for the calyx spray and that the Jonathans must have their first codling moth spray within the next eight days. Rome Beauty blossoms will not be ready for another week, and, where it is possible to do so those varieties of which the blossoms are now ready should be sprayed at this time and the Rome Beauties sprayed later. This is especially important in those sections where the freeze caught the early Rome Beauty blossoms.

As the calyx of most varieties of apples close within a few days after the petals drop it is very important that this spray be not delayed. One pound of dry arsenate to fifty gallons of water, or four pounds to a 200 gallon tank is the proper strength to use and one or two pounds of spreader should be added to each 200 gallons of spray. With rods 200 to 250 pounds pressure is sufficient but if the spray guns are used, 300 pounds pressure must be carried for best results. In orchards not sprayed with oil or lime sulphur two gallons of oil emulsion should be added to each 100 gallons of spray to kill the San Jose scale and red spider.
