Track Added To List of Sports At Eden School

EDEN, February 23, (Special) It has been definitely decided by school officials that track work will be taken up in the next school. This is the first year that it has been undertaken on a competitive scale and will mean a lot of strenuous training for the pupils. It is believed that the track ball will be abandoned although they would probably have a few trials in the fall. The track team has been organized and a track court will be built but it is in the roughest condition. In the past few days as well as some of the local business men are going to the state highway between Eden and Hazelton is exceptionally bad. The road is in the worst condition and from the standpoint of maintenance, cars would be in the half a mile unable to move along or way because of the deep ruts. Mrs. H. C. Handley has been confined to her bed for the past few days. Charles Sumner has been in bed for the past week due to sickness. The high school pep band furnished their own transportation for the tournament. It proved to be of value as it helped to entertain the students during the intermission.

Coaxing the Goose That Lays the Golden Egg

By Williams. In the days when raising poultry was less a business and more of a side line, most folks thought that the hen had to have her own sweet way about laying. The farmer accepted with equanimity the fact that hens normally quit laying when cold weather approaches, and that the price of eggs soars. Then along came poultry journals and articles in the papers and magazines and government bulletins suggesting ways and means to induce her majesty to lay out of season. And so today in the expert poultry business we find men employing all the factors which contribute to a disposition on the part of the hen to lay when eggs are high. Warm winter quarters won't do the work. Green food won't do the work. Exercise won't do the work. Poultry tonics won't do the work. But all of these things, and many others are contributing factors in the business of inducing the hen to lay when eggs are most needed. Many a business could glean a lesson from the poultry expert on how to coax the goose that lays the golden egg. If we were to say to you that stationery like we print for particular customers is the secret of success you'd be the Prince of Liars, but when we say that it can be a contributing factor in the success of any business we speak profound truth.
