Meany Asserts Right to Strike Vital to Public

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today that if congress is going to deny rail workers the right to strike it might as well nationalize the railroads. He told the house commerce committee that if the railroad work rules dispute comes to a final showdown and the "paramount public interest" forces congress to deny workers the right to walk off their jobs, "we've come to the point where we've got to determine whether or not an industry in which you've got to compel people to work should be the medium for private profit."

"This would be a sad day for America," Meany said.

Meany urged approval of the AFL-CIO plan to send labor and management back to the bargaining table under congressional supervision.

He opposed as unwarranted compulsion President Kennedy's plan to have the interstate commerce commission set interim work rules for two years.

"There is no question that this is compulsory work legislation."

On the senate side of the capitol, that chamber's commerce committee was winding up its hearings by giving the unions another chance to testify on the carriers' plan to apply new manpower-cutting rules.

Wednesday night was the carriers' turn, and J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, took the occasion to blast a plan introduced earlier in the day by four democratic senators as an alternative to the President's proposal.

Wolfe also dampened what hopes remain that the two sides can get together and reach a settlement averting a nationwide tie-up by calling the differences between them "positive, deep-seated and pervading."

The senators' plan, introduced as a substitute for the Kennedy bill would require 60 days of bargaining under the eyes of a special congressional watchdog committee.

Wolfe said the proposal, first advanced by AFL-CIO President George Meany, "would merely give the final disposition of the issue."

He said it is "highly improbable that any agreement can be reached" unless congress approves the President's proposal submit the dispute to the commerce commission.

Acting Chairman John O. Pastore, D., R. I., said that after the sessions are heard this afternoon, committee records will be kept open until Monday for the submission of statements.

Next Thursday, he said, the senators will begin closed sessions to decide what action to take.

New Tremors Rock Ruins Of Skopje

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 1 (AP)—Fresh earth tremors rocked quake-shattered Skopje before dawn today, touching off widespread alarm among survivors.

Thousands sleeping in the open or in tents started up in panic and dashed for open areas among the ruins.

Many refused to lie down again after the tremors passed. They walked the streets until dawn.

The tremors toppled a few weakened walls but no serious new damage was reported.

Rescue officials said today ther is no more hope for life under the ruins of Skopje, smashed six days ago by the worst earthquake in Yugoslav history.

About 1,000 bodies have been recovered. The final toll will probably reach 2,000, authorities said.

Teachers at Buhl College Seek Posts

BUHL, Aug. 1—With the closing of the summer session today, southern Idaho junior college will cease to operate. Instructors are finding other professional positions, reports John M. Barker, chairman of the board of trustees.

The board and other interested citizens had hoped the private college would serve as a forerunner to a junior college district in Magic Valley, Barker said. He added he believed two managers spelled the doom of the project.

The first was the state board of education's statement which said a junior college district shall be formed in accordance with the board's rules involving large general areas or multiple county regions which will best serve the higher education segment of the population." The other factor was the negative vote of citizens in the county in the June 28 college district election.

Barker, speaking for the board of trustees, stated, "The tremendous financial burden imposed on the citizens of Buhl and the west end of Twin Falls county was a factor in making the board inactive at this time.

"It is most unfortunate that men on the higher education need are great and so many Magic Valley people."

Under Control

SHOSHONE, Aug. 1 — The Shoshone bureau of land management fire dispatcher reports that smoke and the odor of fire on the north side of Snake river canyon Wednesday was not from a range fire but a small fire burning under control begun by an area rancher.

The fire was located in the Sugar Loaf area near the KMVT television transmitter. The rancher obtained a fire permit and kept a close eye on the fire, it was reported.

Actors, Director To Join in March

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 1 (AP)—Seven actors and a director announced they will march in Washington Aug. 28 "to express our support for the civil rights legislation now before congress."

They are Charlton Heston, Marlon Brando, Tony Curtis, Mel Ferrer, Tony Franciosa, Peter Brown, Burt Lancaster and director Billy Wilder.

QUITE A SWITCH occurred Wednesday afternoon in the Roper's clothing store, 125 Main avenue west, when one of the 27 British air training corps cadets, similar to the civil air patrol cadets in the U.S., tried on his first pair of Levi western pants. Sandy Donald, 18, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, is shown being measured for the pants by John Roper, who, along with the manufacturers of the garments, furnished the pants and Western straw hats for each of the cadets. Donald's kilts are of Royal Stuart tartan, the plaid worn by Bonnie Prince Charlie. The cadets are in Twin Falls on a tour through the United States and are participating in an exchange program with the U.S. civil air patrol cadets. (Times-News photo)

"Buckaroos" From British Isles Get Taste of Western Life on Idaho Tour

"They really go for the West," said Ed Woods, manager of Joslin field and coordinator of the exchange program for the British air training corps cadets, who are visiting the Magic Valley area this week.

Twenty-five cadets and two escorts from all parts of the British Isles arrived in Twin Falls at the City park Wednesday afternoon to meet their hosts, who will furnish them with homes to live in during their stay in Twin Falls.

The cadets have been in America for three weeks after arriving in New York City and meeting with cadets from 27 other countries.

They all were taken on tours of New York City and, after four days of sight-seeing, they divided up and went to different states throughout the country.

The United Kingdom sent 25 cadets, the most any country can send.

They arrived in Lewiston July 22 and spent four days in that area. They were thrilled to be given the chance to meet an American Indian, and visited an Indian camp where the chief did dances for the cadets.

The cadet from Scotland performed a Scottish dance in return and the cadets from England performed their drills. They also visited a lumbering mill and a gold-mining operation while in the Lewiston area.

They went to Boise and spent four days there. They visited with Gov. Robert E. Smylie, appeared on a television program and took a ride down the Boise river on inner tubes.

Monday morning Woods picked the youths up at Boise and took them to Camp Lady Scout camp. On the way they observed airplanes being prepared for use in forest fire fighting, which, according to Woods, interested them greatly.

They spent Monday night at the camp and on Tuesday morning they were taken to Pettit lake for a day of water skiing and boating.

A typical American picnic lunch was served, including hamburgers and watermelon.

Then they went to Sun Valley to spend Tuesday night at Sun Valley lodge.

Ward's Condition Is Deteriorating

LONDON, Aug. 1 (UPI) — The condition of Dr. Stephen Ward, unconscious from an overdose of drugs, deteriorated sharply today when he developed bronchial pneumonia following an operation. Doctors placed him in an iron lung in a desperate battle to save his life. A bulletin issued by St. Stephen's hospital indicated the society osteopath, convicted on two vice charges hours after his apparent suicide attempt, was "sinking rapidly." "Dr. Ward's condition has deteriorated and he has had to be returned to mechanically controlled breathing," the bulletin issued at 4 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT) said.

Asked by newsmen about Ward's chances of living through the night, Hospital Secretary W. Mayne Butcher said: "I would not like to comment on that. His condition has really deteriorated."

Bloodmobile to Visit Jerome

JEROME, Aug. 1—The bloodmobile will be in Jerome from 2 to 6 p.m. Monday at the Jerome Moose hall.

Rusk to Extend Moscow Visit for Parley With Russ

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk will stay in Russia for three or four days beyond the signing of the test ban treaty and will meet with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. A state department spokesman said the signing is set for 4:30 p.m. Monday. Rusk is expected to sound out the Soviets on a NATO-Warsaw bloc nonaggression pact, exchanges of observers to guard against surprise attack and other issues which the Russians raised during the recent atomic test ban negotiations.

The subjects require further clarification of the Soviet Premier's views and consultation among the Western Allies before any agreement can be negotiated.

The state department, in announcing details of Rusk's plans to lead a U.S. delegation to Moscow for the treaty signing, said he "has accepted the invitation of Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to remain on in the Soviet Union as his guest for three or four days after the signature of the treaty."

The exact time and place of Rusk's meeting with Khrushchev has not yet been arranged.

Rusk and a planeload of official delegates are slated to take off from nearby Andrews air force base at 11 p.m. Friday night.

MOSCOW, Aug. 1 (AP) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev changed his vacation plans today to stay in Moscow for the signing of the big three nuclear test ban treaty and to take command of the high level talks with the United States and Britain, informed sources reported.

The premier had been scheduled to leave today for his Black sea retreat for at least two weeks of relaxation before his journey to Yugoslavia on Aug. 20.

Mrs. Williams' sister-in-law, Cecelia Williams, 21, was listed in fair condition. She received head lacerations, a broken right leg and cuts and bruises as well as a severe bruise on her left foot.

Sheriff Keith Anderson said officers still are unable to determine which woman was driving the 1953 Ford pickup truck which collided with a hay truck operated by Eusebio Cabiola, 26,

North Korea Hits U.S. "War Plots"

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 1 (AP)—Communist North Korea accused the United States today of "war provocation plots" in this divided peninsula. It ignored the Red suicide sound that slipped into South Korea this week and killed three U.S. soldiers. The North Korean foreign ministry accused the state department of trying to "cover up the criminal nature of U.S. imperialism in South Korea and to justify the long-term occupation of South Korea by the U.S. army."

"By playing up the nonexistent threat from the north," said a communist broadcast, "the U.S. imperialists are foolishly trying to camouflage the war provocation plots they are hatching in the South."

North Korea said the Americans are trying to justify "aggressive acts of their own." It said the United States has heightened tension by introducing atomic weapons and guided missiles and turning South Korea into an atomic base, scrapping and violating the Korea armistice agreement."

American commanders in Korea admit they possess weapons capable of firing nuclear warheads, they normally decline comment on whether nuclear warheads are stored in Korea.

South Korean Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun said Monday's ambush was a futile effort to force the American troops to withdraw from the Korean front.

Surly Crowd Faces Police In Chicago

By United Press International

Elected-up police units dispersed a surly crowd of hundreds of whites in Chicago before dawn today and several hours later racial violence broke out again at a hospital site in New York.

The University of South Carolina said today it has notified Robert G. Anderson, 20, a Greenville, S.C., Negro, that he will be admitted to the university in September. Anderson would be the first Negro student at the school.

At Farmville, Va., Negroes resumed demonstrations for the ninth consecutive day but there were no arrests as they marched through the downtown area.

It was the third straight night whites had rolled around the apartments of two Negro families in the all-white Chicago neighborhood.

Bricks and rocks were hurled while police, who sealed off the area and closed taverns, struggled to disperse the surly crowd.

Four policemen were injured

Orbits Sun

PASADENA, Calif., Aug. 1 (UPI) — The Mariner II spacecraft, which made a spectacularly successful fly-by exploration of the planet Venus, today completed its first orbit of the sun.

Caltech's Jet Propulsion laboratory (JPL) said the spacecraft, launched almost a year ago on Aug. 27, traveled about 540 million miles to complete the first solar orbit.

Mariner II swept into the endless orbit around the sun after flying to within 21,648 miles of the mysterious, cloud-shrouded Venus to return information to the earth.

Boy, 14, Hurt In Homemade Bomb Blast

RUPERT, Aug. 1—The 14-year-old son of a Rupert woman received serious facial burns in Pocatello Wednesday night when a homemade bomb exploded.

Mrs. Delores Sample, Rupert, reported her son, Steven Larsen, is spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerard, Pocatello, where the family lived until moving here last April.

She had planned to bring him home last Friday, but he was repairing his motor scooter and wanted to stay longer. Pocatello police said he and a companion apparently had constructed the bomb of black powder and crushed sparklers stuffed into a large fuse holder.

When the fuse failed to work, the Larson youth threw a match into the fuse box and the mixture exploded about 8:15 p.m. The boy is at St. Anthony hospital for treatment of burns and is under heavy sedation, his mother said.

She added her son's vision may be impaired but it is too soon to tell. Mrs. Sample, who is employed at Project Mutual Telephone company here, planned to leave for Pocatello today.

Area Woman Loses Money In Pocatello

POCATELLO, Aug. 1 (AP) — A Carey woman was burglarized of $30 in a Pocatello motel early today, making the ninth motel theft here this summer.

The latest victim is Mrs. Jacqueline Rudd, who was staying at the Hiawatha motel.

She told officers she awakened about 2:20 a.m. and saw two men standing at the foot of her bed. She said the two men ran out and drove off in a car.

A search disclosed that $30 was missing from her purse. The purse of a roommate, Mrs. Nellie Pyrah, also Carey, was not disturbed.

The string of motel robberies began here June 19, and between then and July 24, when the last theft prior to the one today was reported, some $333 in cash had been taken.

Most of the crimes were similar, with someone apparently trying rooms at motels until one was found unlocked. Then entry was made and cash or other valuable items were stolen.

STRIKE HALTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 1 (UPI)—Spread of the Northwest lumber strike halted at least temporarily today after Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield offered the services of his office in helping settle the dispute which has idled about 29,000 workers.

SMASHED PICKUP TRUCK resulted from a collision at an intersection on highway 46 Wednesday morning, three miles north of Gooding, which claimed the life of Marcie Williams, 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams, Wendell. The mother, Mrs. Saundra Williams, 20, is reported in critical condition at Gooding Memorial hospital and her sister-in-law, Cecelia Williams, 21, is in fair condition. Sheriff's officers still are unable to determine which woman was driving the 1953 Ford pickup truck which went through a stop sign onto the highway and collided with a hay truck operated by Eusebio Cabiola, 26, Gooding. Hurricane Tamers Plan Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Scientists may find out in next three months whether they can hope to tame hurricanes.

Experiments two years ago suggested to navy and weather bureau experts that seeding clouds with silver iodide crystals could cool the destructive winds.

Plans now until Nov. 1 the navy will attempt to duplicate the 1961 experiments conducted while Hurricane Esther was raging.

The results of the experiment, duplicate those of 1961, they said, "an important step have been taken in the direction of ameliorate the destructive fury of hurricanes." The next step, the navy said, will be to seek ways of magnifying the scale of the experiment and thus the reduction of winds.

The experiment is called Storm-fury and got its start seven years ago after catastrophic hurricanes struck the U.S. east coast.

Eleven airplanes will be used in this year's operation, seven supplied by the navy and four by the weather bureau.

Silver iodide crystals are similar in structure to ice crystals. When silver iodide is ejected into clouds, moisture gathers on the crystals and freezes. In the process, energy is released in the form of latent heat.

In the 1961 test, visual and radar observations indicated that a relatively small "chimney" near the eye serves as the primary energy source of a hurricane.

These discoveries suggested that a balance of forces in the storm might be altered by seeding in this small area, no larger than 200 square miles, and causing conversion of water to ice crystals.

The pioneer experiments produced dramatic changes in wind velocity, although they lasted only a brief time.

The hurricane control experiments will be concentrated in the Caribbean and tropical waters of the Atlantic.

T. F. School Offices Are Relocated

All administrative offices of Twin Falls school district No. 411 are now relocated in the old U.S. postoffice building, 201 Main avenue west, according to Ernest Ragland, superintendent of schools.

Offices located in the building are superintendent of schools, assistant superintendent, director of guidance, school lunch supervisor and those of all clerical and secretarial staff of the school district.

The school district's maintenance department will move to the basement quarters of the building soon after school opens in September.

An open house will be held in early fall to permit the public to see how the administration building will be used.

The building was acquired through the department of health, education and welfare as surplus property after the new U.S. postoffice was built in 1961.

"We are finding the old postoffice building very useful and we will give us one of the better organized central district school offices in this region," Ragland states. "The administrative staff really appreciates the setup."

Buhl College

Valley youngsters are denied the opportunity for education beyond the high school level that we are forced to make the college inactive. Even though the college has been operative only during the 1962-63 school year it had an accumulative enrollment of 159 students."

Dr. James Taylor, who has been serving as president of the college, will assume a dean's position and become a full professor of education at North Dakota Teachers college, Mandan. Dr. Russell Matuska, instructor in business administration, has been named an assistant professor at Great Falls, Mont.

Jerry Crandall, instructor of English and speech, has been named assistant professor at Southwestern Oregon college, Coos Bay, Ore. Vernon Ackert, art instructor, will go to Kansas City, Kans., to work as commercial illustrator and assistant editor with the University of Kansas. Edward Chupa, instructor in physical education and health, plans to remain in this area to go into public school administration.

Barker said, "I'm convinced that this basic idea is right and that the approach was the only logical way to start a junior college district. I certainly hope the people of the Magic Valley area will continue to support the formation of a junior college district and do not wait hoping for favorable legislation which may never come."

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

Low pressure aloft is again causing some cooling over the valleys of Southwest Idaho. Also quite noticeable is the increase in wind speeds over most valley areas due to this movement of cooler air aloft. This cooler air has moved down from the Gulf of Alaska and is now moving steadily eastward rather than being delayed along the West Coast as has been the case in the last few low pressure centers aloft. As a result, the slight warming that occurred yesterday over most of the valleys will be reversed and give way to lower temperatures. Little moisture is associated with this system and, other than some limited cloudiness in the extreme southeastern valleys of Idaho where moisture is still present, skies will continue clear over the valleys of southern Idaho the next few days.

Temperatures today and Friday are expected to lower mostly into the 80s over all these agricultural valleys, with minimum temperatures tonight lowering into the 40s except in Camas Prairie, where minimums into the 30s can be expected.

Spraying and raking of alfalfa will be limited due to stronger winds although drying conditions will be ideal for cut alfalfa. Grain is ripening and in local areas being harvested in the southern central Idaho valleys. Use of irrigation water will remain high as soil moisture loss continues around 35 of an inch per day.

McDonald Is Now Chief of U. S. Navy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UPI)—Adm. George W. Anderson, Jr., hauled down his flag as chief of naval operations today and relinquished command of the world's largest navy to an old friend and fellow aviator, Adm. David L. McDonald.

Anderson now will become U.S. ambassador to Turkey, entering a diplomatic world with which he is familiar from international military assignments.

McDonald, a soft-voiced Georgian with essentially the same hard ideas as Anderson on the navy's future, became the navy's seventh chief of operations in a colorful change of command ceremony at the Washington navy yard.

Dr. Illia Is Argentina's 29th Leader

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 1 (UPI)—Dr. Arturo Illia, a reform-minded country doctor unknown in international politics, Wednesday night was elected 29th president of Argentina.

The 67-year-old son of an Italian immigrant picked up 261 electoral college votes, 22 more than were needed for victory. Only one electoral district remained to be counted.

His election to the presidency does not become official until a meeting of congress Aug. 12 when an official proclamation of the electoral vote will be made. Inauguration ceremonies will take place Oct. 12.

In Argentina, the people vote for members of the electoral college and the college then votes for president but the procedure is somewhat different from that of the electoral college system in the United States.

Illia is an anti-communist and an anti-Peronist moderate who campaigned mainly on four issues, including the freeing of political prisoners.

ADMIRING BABY HE helped save when he donated a pint of blood July 20 is Harold Rene, 354 Filer avenue west. The baby, Irma Olivas, is held by her mother, Mrs. Demingo Olivas, Burley. The baby was born July 20 and had to have her blood completely changed due to the RH factor. The mother's AB negative blood was needed to make the change. Rene was one of six donors with AB negative blood who was in Twin Falls at the time of the emergency. At present there are six persons with AB negative blood who are registered with the Red Cross. (Times-News photo)

Red Cross Cites Need for Type AB Negative Blood

Do you have AB negative blood? If so, the American Red Cross wants you to register at the nearest Red Cross office.

This type of blood is very rare and at present there are only six persons having this type of blood registered with the Twin Falls Red Cross.

If an emergency arises in which this type of blood is needed, Mrs. Elson Basom, executive secretary of the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter, tries to contact one of the six persons registered.

So far she has been lucky. One of these six persons always has been in Twin Falls when needed.

More donors with AB negative are needed, Mrs. Basom said, especially during the summer months when people are on vacation and more accidents are likely to happen.

Another reason more donors with AB negative should contact the Red Cross office is there is a very limited supply of AB negative in the blood bank.

If an accident happens and someone needs about four or five pints, there may be only one pint in the bank. So donors with AB negative will have to be called to provide the blood.

On July 20, Mrs. Basom was lucky in getting a donor to give a pint of AB negative to save a baby's life. The baby, Irma Olivas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Olivas, Burley, had AB positive blood—the mother has AB negative—and would die unless the blood was changed to AB negative.

Only fresh blood can be used to correct this condition, Dr. E. M. Wright, Twin Falls pediatrician, says.

The hospital officials called the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter and Mrs. Basom started calling the donors who are registered with the Red Cross.

Of the six registered, Harold Rene, 354 Filer avenue west, was the only one in Twin Falls at the time—11 p. m. July 20. Rene, 53, is a truckdriver for Garrett Freightlines, Inc.

The Red Cross prefers persons who have AB negative blood not to give the blood at the drawings, but to wait until they are called during an emergency. Names should be listed with the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter office.

BOISE, Aug. 1 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard has issued an order reducing from three to one the number of state-owned automobiles assigned to his office.

Warning Issued On Salespeople

A warning was issued Wednesday by William Grange, secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, that numerous complaints have been received about encyclopedia salespeople in the area who are using unethical approaches and lies to gain entrance to homes.

Grange warns that the people are posing as government agents who are taking a survey and citizens are urged to contact the city or county police authorities if any such sales people are seen in the area.

Buhl Awards Contract for Sewage Plant

BUHL, Aug. 1—With the approval of the state and federal health departments the Buhl city council officially awarded the contract for the construction of sewage treatment facilities here to S. Lloyd Merrill, Arco, for $159,908.72 during a special council meeting Tuesday night.

The plant will be installed on a 40-acre tract which the city is purchasing for $25,000 from Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Johnson northwest of Buhl just beyond the Mountain View addition. Toothman and Smith, Boise, are consulting engineers for the project with Wendell Smith to serve as resident engineer. A date to start work on the program has not yet been set.

In other business it was reported the Kimberly construction company will start work on local sewer improvement district No. 7 in the McCollum addition on Monday. Hoffman, Flake and Millar of Boise are consulting engineers for this project.

Alcohol and Society

Somewhat like mental illness, alcoholism was for long decades a problem consigned to the shadows.

The victims turned up in "drunk tanks" at the jails, in grim hospital wards, in "save a soul" missions in skid rows everywhere. It was a problem to hide, to keep secret, to attach heavy stigma to in "polite" society.

While this view of alcoholism lingers in some places, since World war II far more thoughtful attention and study is being given the problem by a host of interested parties.

Alcoholics today are generally regarded as sick people, needing medical, psychiatric and social help. Doctors, academicians and various kinds of social specialists are mounting an attack.

Comparative figures do not exist which would permit one to say whether alcoholism has increased proportionately in recent times. Certainly the awareness of it—and the fuller reporting—have risen.

So we can make a fairly accurate guess that there are more than five million alcoholics in the United States today—most of them not on skid row but in some aspect or other of respectable society.

The National Council on Alcoholism estimates that some 450 million dollars a year is lost in wages by alcoholics through absenteeism resulting from excessive drinking. Many highly valued persons who have climbed high on the business ladder are lost at a time when they could be most useful.

The causes of alcoholism are many, varied and complex. The sources of trouble often lie deep in the human personality, or in subtle physical differences.

But such experts as Dr. Seldon Bacon, director of the Center of Alcohol Studies at Rutgers university, lay particular emphasis on the argument that the affluent society in America today offers heavy encouragement to potential alcoholics.

Not only is there more money for what is an expensive habit, but, says Bacon, the "drinking custom" is steadily being built into more and more parts of our daily life.

The cocktail party, the great general prevalence of partying, the long business lunch with liquid trimmings, these and many more things contribute to a significantly "permissive" atmosphere.

Such rituals will not capture the person who is physically not susceptible and has his problems under control. They can get the potential alcoholic started on his perilous road—and later give him cover for a habit that has gone beyond mere "social drinking."

The specialists now suggest that unless a victim's friends and family realize this fact of the difficulty, "cures" given at the medical and psychiatric level may all too often fail short of permanence. Vital help can come if those in the victim's circle will relieve him of the social pressure to conform, which so many feel today.

DELUSION OF DE GAULLE

French President Charles de Gaulle's Western allies have gone through several cycles in their relationship with him. It is clear they have now entered another one.

In World war II he was first greatly admired for his foresighted military judgments and then nearly despised for his ramrod stiffness as a leader in exile who often hamstrung his more powerful confederates in America and Britain.

They gave him new regard when he became France's first postwar leader. They knew he alone could restore some semblance of order to a torn nation. But when the French cast him aside, statesmen in friendly countries took it as fresh proof de Gaulle was unsuited to politics. There were few regrets.

Out of retirement he came, in 1958, once more to lead a badly disrupted country. To Western men who feared for France's future as a free land, his coming was a marvel of resurrection.

All the qualities previously scorned were now hailed as just what France needed. There seems little reason to doubt the soundness of this view. De Gaulle pulled his people together, ended the draining Algerian strife, set his country on a highly prosperous course.

Yet the same de Gaulle is one of French grandeur which marred his wartime ties with Churchill and Roosevelt, showed themselves anew in this otherwise remarkable second de Gaulle regime.

Flouting reality, he talks of separate defense for France in a nuclear war. In truth, America's power is his only shield.

In the face of the strongest assurances of aid America has given any land in peacetime, he professes doubt that we could come swiftly to France's side in every conceivable future war emergency.

The basis for his doubt is false. He cites our "slowness" in entering each of the two world wars.

"Relax—They Agreed to Wait a While!"

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—While Americans are sinking into a national stupor with their daily doses of tranquilizing pills, it is nice to be reassured the food and drug administration that there will always be a France—filled with nice, excited Frenchmen.

The FDA long has been concerned with Americans' dependence on tranquilizers. Writing only in 1961, the FDA said capsule has become as much of a habit as smoking or being nagged by our wives. We try, it said, to keep Americans from taking Pill Tablets or Capsules in the form of being excited or tense. Now, by implication, the FDA suggests we take a tip from the volatile French.

Andrew Tully

As a sample, some charming historian has discovered that the French are snubbing American-type tranquilizing pills. In Paris and Nancy and Orleans, the pellet that soothes is a drug the market may well look at it. Faithful to their tradition, the French prefer to remain excited.

• • •

PATIENTS SHUN PILLS—French doctors report they have tried to introduce tranquilizers to certain of their patients whom they feel need calming down. Rather proudly, the docs say, these patients laugh in their faces—a classical, tradition, high-strung sort of laugh.

It is not that the French lack daring. Like the English, they are rather fond of staking medicine experimenting with various remedies for the stomach and the liver. After all, any Frenchman who is anybody has a fretful liver. And although the Frenchman may not discuss his insides with the enthusiasm of the Englishman, his intimates he can be most eloquent on the subject of the idiosyncracies of his digestive system.

• • •

OWN WAY OF QUIETING NERVES — But though the Frenchman may want to change the color of his liver, he does not want to change his way of life. A Frenchman enjoys being excited. It is in his normal condition. Albert Camus, quiet Frenchman and you have an unhappy Frenchman, an emotional pariah in a nation of blissfully overwrought citizens.

It would be ridiculous to say that a Frenchman comes home from his office tense. He arrives at his office tense, and all his job does is make him tired and leave him insufficient time to get really excited. He is glad when quitting time comes, not because his nerves are on edge, but because his work bores him and he wants to go home or to some bistro where a man's nerves can work up a really authentic jangle.

EVEN HANGOVERS APPRECIATED—In Chicago and Boston and Miami, doctors are always telling Americans they should quiet down their tempers. In France, losing one's temper is fun; the Frenchman who has had the narrowingly serene experience of going an entire day without losing his temper is likely to feel he no longer knows how to enjoy life. In the U. S. a hangover is dreaded, whereas in France it is sweet, nerve-wracking evidence that he had a good time the night before.

It cannot be proved, but there is the suspicion of an ulterior motive in those French doctors who seek to foist tranquilizing pills on their French patients. For the excited Frenchman is the happy Frenchman, and happy people don't get sick often enough to please the average pill-pusher.

TEACHING LANGUAGE IN GRADE SCHOOL

Seattle's public grade schools will be producing bilingual students in 1968, thanks to an imaginative program now underway. Spanish will become a required subject in all the Seattle school system's third grades in the fall of 1964, and the subject will be added to one more grade each year thereafter, so that the third graders will graduate the sixth. Thus, a Seattle student entering the seventh grade in the fall of 1968 will have had four full years of Spanish, and he will have had three years of instruction in Spanish by the time he enters the ninth grade.

This should give any normally receptive youngster a good, usable knowledge of Spanish.

Why Spanish? Why not other modern languages? Partly because it is one of the world's more widely spoken tongues; it is spoken by more people in this hemisphere than any other language including English. Partly also because it is a relatively easy language to learn, and because it is closer to such other widely spoken languages as Italian and French. If the program is to be limited to one language, and for practical reasons it must be, then Spanish seems to us the proper choice.

For years, our public schools have been teaching languages only in high school and above, even though it has been common knowledge that by that time most students have lost most of their capacity to learn. For years, experts in the field have been urging schools to begin giving language training to the very young, and for years the schools have been replying that it couldn't be done for a host of complex technical reasons.

Now the Seattle school system is going to attempt to do it, and the experiment deserves to be closely watched by other school boards, school administrators and parents. Lewiston, which is neither offering language training to its grade schools nor presently planning to do so, might well keep an eye on the Seattle experiment. It could change some minds that have remained closed for too long.—Lewiston Tribune.

NEW THEORY ON CHIGGERS

Dr. J. Earl Smith's views on chigger bites gave us quite a start. The city's director of health and hospitals asserted that contrary to popular belief it is not the bite of the adult chigger that causes the itch, but the digestive fluid of the chigger larvae. The larva does not burrow into the skin, Dr. Smith said, but is nourished through the skin.

Our belief heretofore has been the popular one, nourished, as it were, on intimate observation of many years' duration. In the view of the chigger drops from the grass, finds a place where clothing presses on the skin, sticks its head into the warmth and moisture and begins to feed. It then burrows beneath the surface of the skin for a short-distance, causing exquisite agony until it dies within a few days.

It is said this theory is wrong because we thought we had observed the above phenomena. We can recall a fourth of July outing in the Ozarks on which we took a little nap in the sun. We awoke with more than a count 84 chigger bites, each demanding attention. The remedy used was a small bottle of chloroform, the open mouth of which was pressed against the skin over each bite for a few seconds. We had the impression this asphyxiated the chiggers; now Dr. Smith would require us to believe there was no chigger there, merely a spot of digestive fluid.

We are bewildered by Dr. Smith's has not disillusioned us with regard to protective measures, however. He recommends dusting sulpher inside the socks; and we would add, around the waistline, too, we feel. There are certain definite, if harmless, consequences to this procedure, the nature of which may be learned from experience. We have solved the whole problem, for ourselves, by just sitting on the porch.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

POLITSER'S PARADISE

According to the United States information agency, the communists have started conducting their own public opinion polls. They were disturbed to find among some Yugoslav students serious doubts about the validity of Marxist ideology." They have nothing but success, however, in predicting the outcome of communist elections.—Montgomery Advertiser.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I can remember when a folk singer was a guy who wore sloppy clothes. He played the guitar "by ear," which probably sounded better than if he used his hands.

He could sing all 102 verses of "Lonesome Freight Train" and insisted on doing so. In some states, this was recognized as grounds for divorce.

Almost every community had a folk singer, along with a town drunk and a village idiot. In many communities, all three of them were the same fellow.

Folk singers performed mainly in talent shows staged in the high school gymnasium to raise money for the volunteer fire department.

They were paid for these appearances, but as a reward for their services they were allowed to start two fires.

All of this, as anyone who has looked out the window lately is aware, has drastically changed. Folk singer now travel in groups. Partly for harmony and partly for safety.

Clean-cut young men in Ivy League clothes, who studied business administration in college, are making fortunes by musically recounting the misfortunes of imminent coal miners.

Their link with the working class is authentic, however. They have callues on their strings plucking fingers and they wear union-made neckties. Which are real sincere.

As much as any group, and more than any, the Kingston Trio is responsible for the folk music transformation. Having been together for five years now, the Kingston now regarded as the elder statesmen of the new breed.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—After five years of effort a limited testban agreement has been reached. The world does move, even though at a snail's pace.

The keynote has been from the beginning a restraint. This was already stressed by the President in a very private discussion and it was the underlying theme of his address to the nation.

Marquis Childs

President Kennedy is thoroughly aware of the sequence of events following the last breakthrough—the signing of the Austrian treaty in 1955 ending the four-power occupation of that country.

In the enthusiasm of the moment President Eisenhower agreed to a summit meeting a few weeks later. Hastily convened and poorly prepared, it ended in vague atmospherics and the promise of a subsequent foreign ministers' meeting that continued all the old wangles.

The President and his advisers are combing over every piece of evidence to assess Premier Khrushchev's motives:

Economic trouble within the Soviet Union itself and the need to divert more resources to the consumer economy?

The military confrontation with Communist China following the split?

A conviction of Soviet nuclear superiority and the certainty that at any given moment Moscow can test again, treaty or no treaty?

Or a genuine and deep-seated fear of the spread of nuclear weapons to fifth and sixth and seventh powers and the growing odds for an all-out nuclear war? That last possibility has been the primary motive of the President. Khrushchev has several times expressed the same fear, detailed in his letter to Pelpinh charging the Chinese communists with seeking a nuclear war in the expectation of building Communism on the ruins of the capitalist world.

In the cycle they have been through the two Ks have gone from below zero to a tepid and tentative warming-up. At Vienna two years ago, Khrushchev thrust on Kennedy two stiff, almost insulting, memoranda on Berlin and Germany.

The President then began the buildup for a showdown in Europe. The change came after the Cuba crisis of last October when Khrushchev was convinced the President would go to the ultimate decision of a nuclear war rather than yield on fundamental security in Berlin or Cuba.

Tentative is still the appropriate word for this first step on the road toward disarmament. If the treaty were any broader—if it covered underground testing even with seven on-site inspections as proposed by the West—ratification by the senate would be in serious doubt.

The position of the senate subcommittee on preparedness of the armed services committee is the key. Sen. Stuart Symington, D. Mo., one of the members of that committee most concerned and concerned over possible risks of a test-ban agreement, has indicated he will vote for the treaty.

The other members are Chairman John Stennis, Sens. Henry M. Jackson and Strom Thurmond, Democrats, and Sens. Margaret Chase Smith, Leverett Saltonstall and Barry Goldwater, Republicans. The likelihood now is that a majority of the subcommittee will favor the agreement.

Lengthy hearings on the military impact of a test ban have been held with the joint chiefs of staff and witnesses strongly opposed, among them Edward Teller, the noted physicist, still to be heard.

But the administration has some big guns that can be extremely effective in the military debate. Two developments hitherto top secret put the test-ban issue in a new light.

One of the spectacular advance in techniques of monitoring to distinguish between a nuclear blast and an earthquake that could not require on-site inspection. These techniques, as revealed to the committee, are considered by administration spokesmen to answer many of the objectives raised by senators who sincerely want to reach an agreement that will not put the United States at a disadvantage.

The second development is the massive intelligence breakthrough, dating from September, 1961, that gives this country assurance of nuclear superiority over the Soviet Union. It is why Secretary of State Dean Rusk was able to say at the Ottawa conference of NATO foreign ministers that we know this because, by and large—although he could not disclose to them the techniques by which we know.

Up to the present the disuasion cow agreement (a good reminder to romantics that this accord does not quite mean a completely new era in East-West relations) the three signers left themselves some out.

They did not agree to stop testing underground. There all the nuclear test new have for improving weapons or fashioning entirely new ones.

The agreement to ban tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under the sea could have been reached some time ago since cheating in these regions can be detected without having inspectors in the cheating country.

Not so with underground tests. The United States has insisted it would not agree to ban tests underground unless Russia agreed to permit inspectors inside the Soviet Union while other inspectors checked inside the United States.

Russia called such inspection spying and refused to agree. In time, maybe a agreement can be reached on this, too. Perhaps the present agreement was just the first of many but don't bet on it until it happens.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — The nuclear test ban agreement looks like a leap forward in the history of mankind. And maybe it is. But it wasn't unselfish and there are reasons for keeping your fingers crossed.

James Marlow

This was the first accord between the West and Russia in this field after years of talking since World war II. It could be the beginning of more better relations and even more and far-reaching understandings.

But the motives were not all strictly humanitarian when the Americans, British and Russians agreed in Moscow to stop testing in the atmosphere, outer space and under the sea.

This country and Russia have about all the nuclear weapons they seem to think they need, and it takes anyone else years to catch up. Testing is highly expensive. So by not testing they save money.

Certainly in time more nations will develop nuclear weapons of their own. When more nations have them, the greater will become the danger of triggering a world war.

The Americans, British and Russians hope by their agreement to discourage other would-be nuclear powers from going on to create their own nuclear weapons and test them.

For this reason pact signers suggested other nations join their agreement. If there's no more testing by anyone, the world is spared radioactive fallout. That would be an improvement but it's far from a sure bet.

The French are known to be developing nuclear weapons and the Red Chinese are suspected of doing so. The French have already done some testing, will probably do more. The Chinese are expected to start theirs in a year or two.

Neither is bound by the Moscow agreement. And in Paris, the French foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, said that so long as the great nuclear powers do not disarm, then any ban on nuclear testing to which they agree is a device to try to freeze their monopoly.

The Red Chinese denounced the agreement before it was reached. Maybe they are breaking away from Russia, whom they distrust, they—will undoubtedly try to build their own nuclear arsenal so as to be a match for Russia and the West.

Whether Russia abandons the agreement if the French test, or the United States does likewise if the Chinese test, remains to be seen. Their agreement said any signer can ignore it if it thinks its interests are being jeopardized.

With the agreement only a few days old, no one, including the signers, can say confidently how long it will last.

Nevertheless, because this country and Russia are years ahead of anyone else, they may not feel it necessary for some time to abandon the no-test agreement no matter what the French or Red Chinese.

For Soviet Premier Khrushchev the agreement served several purposes besides those mentioned. For one thing, he can make propaganda out of it by waving it as an example of Russia's good intentions. Then there was his fight with the Red Chinese.

They had denounced his before the rest of the communist world for insisting communism could do business with the West. The agreement is tangible, evidence that it can. So the agreement supports his argument. There's more.

Testing takes a lot of money, time, energy and manpower. An end to testing enables Khrushchev to use some of these resources in his trouble with the Red Chinese who now look like his closest, and perhaps his worst, enemy.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (NEA) — Charles B. Shuman, American Farm Bureau president, ain't mad at anybody any more—not even secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Since the biggest farm organization first generally credited—or blamed — for defeat of the Kennedy administration wheat program in the May 21 referendum it has been assumed that Shuman is still again the government because it has done nothing to get some substitute wheat legislation through congress.

Peter Edson

In Washington to testify before a house agriculture subcommittee on the Kennedy farm bureau proposals for an interim wheat, feed grain and cotton bill, Shuman was completely relaxed.

He didn't have any particular criticism of Freeman for taking his trip to Russia although some critics have accused him of running away to block new farm legislation.

"After all," observed Shuman, "Secretary Benson (President Eisenhower's Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson)—took his family and friends on a tour of Russia just before he left office. So why shouldn't Secretary Freeman go?"

Shuman gives Freeman credit for being astute and a good administrator and he takes no stock in reports Freeman will resign or be fired.

"I'm more interested in seeing the department of agriculture change directions than change secretaries," says Shuman. But he sees no change coming in Freeman or Kennedy administration farm policies.

Shuman gets around the country a good bit so he was asked what farmers generally feel about Freeman.

"About the same as they feel about Mr. Benson," Shuman replied.

As for Republican presidential candidates now being mentioned, Shuman believes those with congressional experience in handling farm legislation would be best qualified. That would give the nod to Sens. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky.

Shuman gives Gov. Nelson Rockefeller credit for being knowledgeable on farm issues. New York state has a big dairy industry and Rockefeller has big peaches in Venezuela.

Shuman believes that "chances will not result if new farm legislation is not passed by congress this year."

He believes the average price of wheat next year won't be much lower if no new wheat bill is passed. Prices on feed quality wheat will be down, he admits, but some of the hard wheat prices will be up and farm income won't be far different from this year.

The Farm Bureau head believes the new wheat bill introduced by Sen. George McGovern, D., S.D., and the cotton bill introduced by house agriculture committee Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D., N.C., may stand in the road of the American Farm Bureau program.

The Farm Bureau is opposed to these measures. Shuman believes that if they are defeated and if new farm legislation is not enacted this year, production will begin to come down voluntarily next year.

Contrary opinion is that if no new controls are imposed this year, production will soon and prices will rise. Estimates on next year's farm income hinge on the outcome of the wheat referendum, run as high as 700 million dollars.

Total cost of the American Farm Bureau plan has been estimated at 2 billion dollars including a soil bank scheme to take 50 million acres out of production.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Has your doctor tested you to rule out diabetes lately? If not, it may be time you should have a checkup. You may be surprised when he tells you that although you may have a normal blood sugar and glucose tolerance test you will eventually become diabetic.

Dr. Brandstadt

The fact that these tests, important as they are, do not rule out a condition now known as prediabetes also exists. There is no sharpe cause for your doctor in recent months but it is true. If you do have prediabetes, however, much can be done to prevent the development further progress of the disease.

The new test that determines whether you have this condition differs from the old glucose tolerance test in that for three days before the test you must eat 300 grams of carbohydrate daily and before the test you must take a dose of cortisone. The tolerance test is then performed and may show an insulin deficiency that has not yet produced any abnormality in the standard test.

Since diabetes is an inherited disease that is present from birth but may not become manifest until late in adult life, not every one is a likely suspect. The new test should be reserved for persons with a history of diabetes in the family or other parent, mothers who have had repeated miscarriages, who have had stillbirths, who produce babies that weigh over 10 pounds, or who have mild diabetes during pregnancy that clears up after delivery.

Another group of suspects are persons who have a normal standard glucose tolerance test but who show early signs of retinitis, nephritis, neuritis or arteriosclerosis. These conditions have long been recognized as complications of diabetes but who not appreciated until recently that they might occur when sugar appears in the urine or a fasting blood sugar become elevated and yet be part of the same disease process.

Do you find yourself in one of these categories and if tests show that you have this condition, you must be especially careful to avoid overweight. You must also avoid the adrenal steroid hormones such as cortisone and you should be careful to avoid the use of either insulin or one of the new oral antidiabetic drugs.

Diabetes is one of those conditions that can't be cured but can be controlled. Because the diabetic will have the disease in his life, one of my professors used to tell his students, "When I treat a patient who has diabetes, I want the patient to know as much about this disease as I do."

To this end he saw that each diabetic bought a diabetic manual. He also held group discussions with his diabetic patients for an hour or two once a week. There is much for the diabetic patient to learn but no one is more interested in this kind of learning than the person who knows he has the disease. Many people say my old professor got results with his diabetic patients.

SOUTH WISELY REFUSES RUFF

West's four spades is known as a barricade bid. He wanted to make it as hard as possible for his opponents to find their best spot.

North doubled. He had good defense against spades and no desire to play for 11 tricks anywhere, but South took the double. Then North chose diamonds for trump.

East won the spade opening with the ace, not the king, and promptly returned a low spade. He had four trumps and high hopes of beating the contract if he could persuade South to trump that low spade.

He would have succeeded if his purpose—if South had trumped in but international Bobby Riis of Houston, who led the South cards, went into a long huddle and elected to discard a low club.

After West played a low spade South led in dummy for trumps and conceded a trick to the ace of clubs.

Bobby reasoned as follows: "West could not possibly have three trumps for his opening bid, so East has five spades only.

East would not overcall with five card suit headed by ace, nothing, therefore he must hold the king also. Of course, I can trump the spade and make the hand if diamonds break 3-2, but West did jump to four spades and may very well hold a single ton diamond. In that case I can't afford to use a trump."

Directors See Drawing Of Road Sign

BURLEY, Aug. 1—A proposed drawing of a highway sign to be erected at city entrance was presented at the board of directors breakfast meeting Wednesday at Nelson's cafe.

All civic groups and churches are urged to register their address, time of meeting or services. Each group will pay the expense and upkeep of their own sign.

The state highway department submitted the idea and Burley is the first town in the state to try the plan. Neil Anderson, city engineer, designed the sign. The state highway department will pay for building the sign. Anyone wishing more information is urged to phone the chamber office at once so the project can be completed.

Dell Holland was named chairman to work with the highway department on getting Burley's name on additional directional signs on the Interstate highway. Holland was to choose two for his committee, one from the motel association and one from the service station business.

A hearing redesignating the Sawtooth wilderness area is set for Sept. 4 in Boise. Dell Holland reported that he is going to attend the hearing and would like other chamber members to accompany him.

"If a wilderness area is created first it will ruin any chance of having a national park in Idaho," stated Holland.

George Scholer, a representative of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, said if a state convention will be held in Burley Oct. 15-16 with 700 members expected. The grand lodge has not met in Burley since 1936.

Scholer asked the chamber to taken an advertisement in the supplemental issue of their monthly magazine which is mailed to all members in the state of Idaho, welcoming them to Burley for the convention. Action was delayed until the regular meeting Monday and Scholer was asked to bring more information.

Mayor Leonard Salmon, City Attorney Herman Bedke, and Chief of Police George Warrell answered questions on the morals problem in Burley, and chamber members expressed their feelings on the matter.

Monday's regular meeting will be a round table discussion on a fulltime mayor, city manager or a part-time mayor, as Burley now has.

Future Activities Are Planned by Wendell Rangers

WENDELL, Aug. 1—Plans were made for coming activities of the Wendell Junior Rangers at a meeting Tuesday held at the Riding club arena in the southwest part of the city.

A work day was scheduled for 2 p. m. Sunday at which time club members, parents and all interested persons are asked to assist in putting the arena in condition for coming events. Practices are under way to participate in the Gooding county fair parade Aug. 15.

Arrangements are being made with the Buhl Riding club for a play day event to be held in Wendell late in August with date to be announced.

Reports of past activities were made. The Junior Rangers, composed of 30 members, participated in the July 4 parade at Wendell and the July 24 celebration at Hagerman.

Darrell Anderson, drill master, assisted the Rangers with drill practices for play day.

Other adults present for the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Wayne Fagg, Mrs. Joe Roe and Mrs. Carl Roland.

Tax Writers Okay Relief Measures

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UPI) — Congressional tax writers have unanimously approved legislation designed to make home ownership one of the best hedges that an American can take against inflation.

The house ways and means committee yesterday approved by a 22-0 vote an earlier decision to add special benefits for home owners to the across-the-board rate reductions in income taxes President Kennedy wants enacted this year.

The provision would grant a "once in a lifetime" tax break to taxpayers who sell their homes for a profit after reaching the age of 65. The treasury estimated that it would mean tax savings of 10-million-dollars-a-year to elderly homeowners.

Club Plans Swim Party, Picnic

A swimming party and potluck picnic at Nat-Soo-Pah was planned for Aug. 6 t the Tuesday meeting of the Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H club at the home of Mrs. Fred Britt.

Demonstrations that will be given at Achievement day were presented by Beth Britt, on nature's foods; Sharon Sterns, fabrics; Tracy Peterson, all-bran muffins and finishing the end of a tea towel.

The next meeting will be held Aug. 7at the home of Mrs. Britt, with Mrs. Agnes Hurst, home demonstration agent, as guest.

BACK TO WORK

KING HILL, Aug. 1 — Fred Crockett, who has been convalescing at his home the past two months from illness, went back to work at the Elmore county assessors office in Mountain Home Monday.

News Around Idaho

POCATELLO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Pocatello school board says it will ask district patrons to approve at an election Aug. 27 a 9.2 mill plant operation and maintenance levy which was defeated Tuesday.

BOISE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Idaho's general fund moved approximately $237,000 into the black today with the issuance by Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon of 7.75 million dollars worth of tax anticipation notes. The notes were issued Wednesday to cover a general fund overdraft which Miss Moon said was incurred July 11 by transfer of nearly 8 million dollars to the public school and public assistance funds. Under Idaho law the general fund can be overdrawn for 30 days but the overdraft must be paid or covered by tax anticipation notes after that time.

LEWISTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—A spokesman for the Woodworkers' union says a serious disagreement has developed between the union and Potlatch Forest, Inc., in negotiations for a new contract. The talks were recessed Wednesday but either side can call for a resumption of the bargaining session. The union's contract with Potlatch originally expired June 1, but was extended until July 1, then indefinitely until Wednesday's action. Union members are now working without a contract.

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 1 (AP)—Patrons of Idaho Falls school district 91 Wednesday turned down a proposed 8½ mill plant operation and maintenance levy increase. The proposal received a 2,233 to 1,544 favorable vote but was six per cent short of the two-thirds majority needed for passage.

BOISE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Charles E. Inman, 23, one of two inmates who walked away from a prison farm in Boise May 31, has been apprehended by authorities at Susanville, Calif., Warden L. E. Clapp reported today. Clapp said Susanville authorities were alerted after he received a tip that Indian was in that area. Still at-large is Walter Palkey, 20, who was serving a three-year term for forgery in Canyon county. Inman was serving a six-year sentence for escape and persistent violation of the law from Gem county.

IDAHO CITY, Aug. 1 (AP)—The body of a 23-year-old Aberdeen, S.D., man who drowned in the Deadwood river was found Wednesday two miles downstream from the spot where he disappeared while fishing. Two companions said Harvey Heupel was swept off his feet by the swift current and disappeared. Boise County Sheriff Jack Williams said Heupel, who could not swim, apparently was swept into a deep hole.

BOISE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Louise Shadduck, executive secretary of the Idaho department of commerce and development, says a comprehensive study being undertaken by her department may be a possible means of expanding Idaho's industry. The survey, a joint venture of the department, the University of Idaho and the Idaho employment security agency, will seek information on a confidential basis from all of Idaho's manufacturing and industrial concerns. The information will be assembled for use in contacting industries which might be interested in establishing plants and offices in Idaho. She said a report on the results of the study should be available before the end of the year.

Letters Seem To Favor Proposed Ban

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Messages to President Kennedy in reaction to his speech last week on the test ban agreement range from "We are proud to share the Earth with you" to "Another give-in to the Reds."

The White House made public Wednesday a sampling of letters and telegrams favoring and opposing the test ban agreement.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said he picked at random a handful of letters and telegrams without reading them. He said 100 of the letters and telegrams favored the President's position and that eight opposed.

Over-all, Salinger reported, the White House has received more than 2,000 telegrams and letters and they are running about 12 to 1 in the President's favor.

Take Honors

HAGERMAN, Aug. 1—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hulme and Jeanette Hulme took honors at the Montana state open water ski tournament at Great Falls last week-end.

Hulme took first place in slalom, thereby renewing his master's rating in slalom. He also placed second in the men's trick division and the men's jump events.

Mrs. Hulme placed third in women's slalom and Jeanette Hulme placed third in girls' slalom.

RAYMOND HERZINGER

... son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herzinger, Buhl, has received a $600 scholarship from the George Washington university medical school, Washington, D. C., for his junior year this fall. He also was in the top 25 per cent over the nation in his grades in national board medical tests taken by some 4,000 medical students. Herzinger is a graduate of Buhl high school and received his BS degree from Brigham Young university, Provo.

More than 50 youngsters are taking advantage of the swim lessons. Parents of the students are providing transportation to and from Gooding for the instruction from 10 to 11 a. m. each day.

Freightline Manager Is Club Speaker

FILER, Aug. 1—Oren C. Fisher, general manager of Garrett Freightlines, Twin Falls, told the history of the company at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club.

Fisher stated that the Garrett Freightlines company is celebrating 50 years of operation this year and showed the film "Cargos Unlimited," which deals with the growth of truck transportation.

Fisher challenged the Filer club to have a higher percentage of Kiwanis members and wives present at the Aug. 14 fish fry which will be held for members from the Buhl, Twin Falls and Filer clubs.

Filer Kiwanis members will host local sheepmen at their luncheon meeting at 7 p.m. Aug. 6. Jack Mullowney, publisher of the Times-News, Twin Falls, will be guest speaker. There will be no noon meeting that day.

Because of the fish fry, the date of the father and son luncheon has been changed to Aug. 20. The teachers will also be guests at that meeting.

Stan Berg was inducted as a new member by Cecil Macaw, induction officer. Robert Blickstock, jr. reported on a highway 30 meeting he had attended in Boise.

Guests were Stan Snow, Twin Falls; Ron Wills, Lincoln, Nebr., and Howard Strandley, Pocatello.

Hillside Burns At Carson Ranch

HAGERMAN, Aug. 1—About 10 acres of hillside above the V. W. Carson ranch was burned Tuesday afternoon and evening, when burning trash blew into the dry grass nearby.

Douglas Wood and O. S. Smith were passing by and were able to shovel sand onto the area near the Carson orchard, and saved all but 20 peach trees. The Hagerman volunteer fire department reached the blaze from the highway, and worked into the night trying to extinguish all sparks in the sagebrush and the rocky hillside.

Progress

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Aug. 1 (AP)—Cripple Creek, an old gold mining town in the Rockies, gets its first new public building today since the Telle county courthouse was built in 1896.

The new structure is a U.S. postoffice.

But the big occasion won't be marked by much fanfare. Said Leslie Wilkinson, Cripple Creek postmaster:

"We'll just open up."

Freeman Sees Polish Countryside

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 1 (UPI) —Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman toured the Polish countryside today to inspect the least Sovietized—and generally most efficient—farms in the Soviet bloc.

Poland has resisted the general trend of establishing communist-run collective farms, and it usually leads the satellite world in production, acre for acre. Only one per cent of its farms are collectivized and only 12 per cent are state farms. The rest remain privately-owned.

Freeman's schedule took him to a number of farms and agricultural stations west of Warsaw. He flew here yesterday from the Soviet Union, where he also toured the countryside. All but a tiny percentage of Russia's farmland is in state of collective farms.

Buhl Banker To Graduate From School

BUHL, Aug. 1.—Louis Mennin, vice president of Farmers National bank of Buhl, will be graduated from NABAC school of bank audit and control this summer.

Mennin will go to the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Sunday through Aug. 17 to complete the school, a three-year course. Graduation exercises will be held Aug. 16 with Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona scheduled as commencement speaker.

The school sponsored by NABAC, association for bank audit, control and operation, is a three-year program with limited attendance. The school faculty consists of 50 national leaders in the banking field.

Mennin has been associated with the local bank for 12 years. He and his family reside at 416 Eighth avenue north, Buhl.

Plant to Close

FAIRFIELD, Aug. 1.—Fairfield will be without a locker plant after Sept. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Koonce, who have operated the locker and cold storage plant since 1952, have announced that they will close it on that date.

They state their volume of business does not warrant the expense of replacing the compressor that is needed to continue the operation of the business.

AMENDMENT OKAYED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Congress has approved and sent to President Kennedy an anti-spying amendment to the 72-million dollar Philippine war claims bill enacted last year. It bars payments in excess of $25,000 ceiling on each claim.

UNSPOKEN COMMENT is expressed by Mandy Rice-Davies, 18-year-old prosecution witness in the vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward in London, as she sticks out her tongue in apparent appraisal of decorative chandelier at opening night party for film, "Cleopatra," in London Wednesday night. Mandy, her hair piled high, gave cameramen the same treatment. Three guests at party walked out when they found themselves seated at Mandy's table. (AP wirephoto).

Haggerty Says Criticism of Group Unfair

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—C. J. Haggerty, president of the AFL-CIO building and construction trades department, today branded as "plain nonsense" the notion that job discrimination against Negroes is far more prevalent in construction than in other industries.

Employment figures presented recently to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz showed a completely opposite picture," Haggerty said.

For comparison with the construction industry, Haggerty cited a study of employment practices of 65 firms representing a cross-section of U.S. industries. The 65 firms are participating in the "plans for progress" program—a drive for voluntary adoption of a nondiscriminatory hiring policy.

Haggerty said the study, made by the President's committee on equal employment opportunity, showed last December that only 12,110 or 2.6 per cent of the 65 companies' 2.5 million employes were nonwhites.

A month ago, Haggerty said, the labor department made a similar survey of federal construction jobs in 4 selected cities and found a ratio of 5.3 per cent of Negro journeymen and apprentices to total men employed.

"The survey showed Negro employment on these jobs, including lesser skilled labor, came to 17 per cent of the total," said Haggerty.

The President's committee study included huge automobile, aircraft, telephone and electrical manufacturing companies which "have blatantly advertised their nondiscriminatory policies with regard to hiring and employment," Haggerty said. "Yet, the record clearly shows that the building trades offer employment opportunities to a much higher percentage of Negro craftsmen."

Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP) — Stocks finished mixed as the sprinkle of selling which cut an earlier gain dried up near the close.

Going into the final 30 minutes Dow-Jones industrials were off 1.11. An hour earlier, the blue chip indicator was off 1.80. Standard and Poor's 500 stock index was down 0.14.

Youngstown made good progress in a narrow steel section. Chrysler, trading ex-dividend today, and Ford backtracked in the motors. Union Carbide, also trading ex dividend, advanced modestly in the chemicals where Du Pont also turned in a good performance.

Texaco backed off in the oils where Amerada went ahead smartly. Foxboro, Beckman, Cutler-Hammer and Texas Instruments were among the losers in the electronics.

Drugs were firm. Norfolk and Western scored a modest gain in the rails. Kellogg and Quaker Oats eased on profit-taking. National airlines went ahead on news of record earnings for fiscal 1960. Other airline shares improved also.

PMC Corporation and American Viscose declined after the justice department announced it would go to the supreme court to block a planned merger of the two companies.

In the metals, Newmont Mining showed a fair sized gain but U.S. Smelting backed off from an earlier advance. Carter products and Baxter Labs advanced in the drugs. Among the miscellaneous gainers were Household Finance, Great Northern Paper, Colgate, Dubois Chemical, American Potash and Polaroid.

Grains

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The old crop corn crop moved higher in active trading while other grain futures were steady to fairly lower today on the grain board of trade.

At the close, wheat was off 1¼ to up 1 cent, up ⅛ to ¼ cent, oats unchanged to up ¼ cent, soybeans unchanged to off ¼ cent.

Most wheat futures felt the pressure of heavy selling at the start, buying by flour mill, liquidation by large futures and 1962 prices as much as a cent a bushel. Early scattered buying was based on a less competitive than expected government wheat offer of certificate wheat. Distant contracts ended higher.

Corn derived strength from firm spot prices, scattered buying. Most offered to sell, prompted by continued good export sales, were absorbed by active demand. Britain and Holland reportedly bought a total of 600,000 bushels of corn. Trade estimated 1962 prices at around 1 cent a bushel. Early scattered buying was based on a less competitive than expected government wheat offer of certificate wheat. Distant contracts ended higher.

Oats followed the lead of other grains, but were steady to slightly lower.

Soybeans fell under heavy selling by local and Northwest selling.

Rye headed in featureless trade.

Outside markets were steady to lower.

NEEDS NICE DONKEY

LONDON, Aug. 1 (UPI)—A woman advertised today in the Times of London for a "gentle donkey required to hire for one month: lavish loving care assured."

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I own stocks of two natural gas pipeline companies and would like to know how the new "get tough" policy of the federal power commission will affect stock in this industry. What is your opinion?

A. A great deal has been said and written during the ten about the "tougher" regulatory attitude of the FPC in the past year or two. But we should remind people that individual companies and entire industries have learned to live with government regulations in the past and have done well.

There is no getting around the obvious fact that the present FPC is more unfriendly than previous commissions. However, there is strong feeling that new FPC policies and regulations have had one most important result.

They seem to have cleared away a lot of red tape and previously-established regulatory bottlenecks. Many observers feel that, as a result, some potent factors in the business now know where they stand and can make firm plans for the future.

And the future does look promising. Of course, it's always wrong and downright dangerous to say that all companies in any industry have a similar potential. This is certainly true of various gas pipeline firms at this stage of the game.

So, suppose we look at the 10 really big companies in this field and their stocks.

Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line and Northern Natural Gas are counted as truly high-quality investments, with good outlooks. But their recent market prices cannot be called low—in relation to earnings and dividends.

Southern Natural Gas, Colorado Interstate Gas, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line and Texas Gas Transmission are considered slightly lower investment quality, with reasonable outlooks. At their present market prices, their dividends provide good income.

Down a bit on the quality scale we find Mississippi River Fuel, Tennessee Gas Transmission and Texas Eastern Transmission, whose dividends provide quite high current yields.

That leaves El Paso Natural Gas, the one big company in the industry which still has big problems to be cleared up—mostly traceable to the FPC. It must be called a speculation.

Q. I've explained that the internal revenue service has never come out with a clear statement on exactly what it means to people who have not reported their interest and dividend income, when the IRS catches all these stocks through the new "taxpayer numbering system."

Now, I think it would be nice to find out what the "revenooers" (I love it when you call them that) are going to do to all the honest taxpayers, like me, who have always reported these things and paid taxes on them.

Wouldn't it be nice if the revenooers gave us a little bonus (by reducing our tax bill) for being so honest?

A. Nice? It would be delightful. But I wouldn't look forward to it.

About the best we can hope for is that the new system will turn up enough tax money to possibly reduce the tax load on all of us. And, as honest taxpayers, we should expect the revenooers to go after and get every dime in back taxes uncovered by the new system.

Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in this column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Didn't Help

HEYBURN, Aug. 1 — Two heads may be better than one during certain circumstances.

But when Jeffrey Hmelevsky, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hmelevsky, and Verdon Jenks, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jenks, unexpectedly bumped heads Friday afternoon, no intelligent result came from it.

Verdon backed away with a black and blue "egg," while Jeffrey, according to the attending physician, had his forehead above the right eye "open up like a dropped watermelon."

The boys are recuperating nicely at their homes, where they're taking time out to think over the situation.

House Tax Group Eyes Deductions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — The house ways and means committee is considering ways to permit taxpayers no longer be permitted to deduct state gasoline, cigarette and liquor taxes.

State income, real estate, personal property and general sales taxes would still be deductible.

The tax-writing committee's action on this and several other sections of the administration's big tax measure marked the beginning of a new phase in the group's consideration of the bill.

Goldwater Opens Fire On Pentagon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has opened fire on a Pentagon directive that could put segregated communities off limits for servicemen.

The Arizona Republican, regarded as a leading contender for his party's presidential nomination, rocketed a "police state" charge Wednesday at Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

There was no immediate comment from Kennedy, who has been a favorite target for Southerners who oppose the administration's civil rights program.

Goldwater told the senate that a directive authorizing commanders to bar servicemen's visits to segregated areas near military bases "started in the attorney general's office."

He said teams headed by Alfred B. Fitt, assistant secretary of defense for civil rights, had visited base areas "completely armed with dossiers on the businessmen in the community. Complete with every figure the committee can get out of income tax returns."

A defense department spokesman promptly denied that Fitt or any member of his group have or had information on businessmen taken from income tax records or the files of any government agency.

Goldwater proposed an investigation into "the directive and those people who have pushed it and the full use of power of the police state by the attorney general."

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 1 (UPI)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D., Ore., praised the Peace Corps yesterday when he visited Lima's slum where 30 young Americans are working to help an estimated 120,000 Peruvians improve their lot.

"I wish I were sure that I am making as great a contribution as the members of the Peace Corps," Morse told a group of American businessmen after his visit to the slums.

The slum was one of the final events of the senator's stay in Lima, where he came to represent the United States at the inauguration Sunday of President Fernando Belaunde Terry.

Food for Americans

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Garden vegetables are one of summer's blessings. Their crispness and flavor add wonderfully to summer salad.

Salads that combine vegetables with canned fish and other protein foods make easy to prepare main courses. Served with a hot or cold soup, heated rolls and a light dessert, they are the hot and bothered homemaker's answer to "Oh dear, what shall I give them for dinner tonight?"

TUNA GARDEN SALAD WITH DRESSING PIQUANT
(servings)

1 head romaine
1 head lettuce
2 green peppers, cut in thin rings
1 box cherry tomatoes (about 18)
3 cans 6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil

Dressing Piquant—

Line salad bowl with large outer leaves of romaine; break inner leaves into small pieces. Cut lettuce into bite-size chunks. Combine with green pepper rings, cherry tomatoes and tuna in salad bowl. Serve dressing separately.

DRESSING PIQUANT
(1 pint)

1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup dairy sour cream
3 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup minced parsley
3 tablespoons minced onion
1 garlic clove, minced
1 tablespoon finely cut chives

Kennedy Is Opposed to Wearing Hat

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UPI)—The millinery industry, both here and abroad, keeps trying to put hats on important people—from President Kennedy on down.

But the President is not about to bow to their campaign. The best he'll do is carry a hat. Reporters can count the times they've actually seen him wear a hat. But it is obvious he is never happy in headgear.

Tailor and Cutter, a British fashion magazine and sartorial arbiter, wants Kennedy to wear a hat. It asks how the bare-headed President can properly greet a lady without tipping his hat.

So far the ladies over here haven't complained. One wag said a hatless president expresses a feeling of informality and friendliness—in other words, the American way.

It is not only a question of hats, however. The chief executive looks equally uncomfortable in academic robes with a mortar board on his head when he is accepting honorary degrees. He whips it off as soon as he can properly do so. During the campaign, he sidestepped colorful Indian headdress and Texas ten-gallon hats — even when it counted out west. First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy is like her husband when it comes to hats, much to the distress of the industry. If she has to wear a hat, it's usually a pill box or beret. Most of the time hat boxes lie up on a shelf unopened in her closet, however. The first lady has set a style for Spanish mantillas for churchgoing and spending so much time out of doors she prefers a colorful chiffon scarf tied around her head.

Speaking of hats, Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, wife of the state department's chief of protocol was recently tagged the best "hatted" by the industry and she wonders why. So do the women who see her on the social circuit. She never wears a hat.

U.S. Men Take Big Lead Over West Germany in First Day of Track Meet

HANOVER, Germany, Aug. 1 (AP)—The United States track and field team catapulted by an astounding relay anchor run by Robert Hayes, rolled to a 64-42 margin over the West German national team Wednesday in the opener of their two-day meet. The Yankees won eight of the 10 events on the program, including five one-two sweeps. The Germans won only the 5,000 meters and the hammer throw, sweeping both one-two. Eleven events will be run Thursday. There were no women's events. The American girls were beaten 71-45 by the German lasses Tuesday in nearby Brunswick.

Hayes, from Jacksonville, Fla., brought to victory in the 100 meters in 10.2 seconds before he uncorked his relay leg.

In the 400-meter relay he took the baton five yards behind German anchor man Alfred Hebauff, who ran 10.3 in the 100 for a second, and steamrollered past him to win by a head.

The American team was timed in 39.7 seconds. Hayes Jones and John Moon on the first two legs opened a narrow lead on the German team. But Paul Drayton lost the lead and then made a poor pass to Hayes.

Tom Stokes, Chicago, stole a strategy-filled race in the 800 meters from teammate Jim Dupree and Germany's Arndt Kruger.

While Krueger and Dupree traded the lead O'Hara ran quietly in last place. Dupree burst past Krueger for the last time and in the final turn appeared to have won. That's when O'Hara shot past both of themsand won by four yards in 1:45.3. Dupree was second in 1:49.7.

The United States got a surprise one-two in the discus when Bob Humphreys, from Long Beach, Calif., spun the plate 186-5½ to win. Dave Weill edged Germany's 6-foot, 8-inch giant Jens Reimers by five inches for second place with a heave of 181-9.

Germany's 10-year-old Harald Norpoth was much too good in the 5,00 meters and led a one-two German sweep in 14:04.2.

Hans Fahal led the other German sweep in the hammer throw with a toss of 195 feet. George Frenn of North Hollywood, Calif., was third and Humphreys, who only entered the event to pick up the one point for fourth place, finished last with a throw of 119-6½.

Humphreys obviously knew nothing about throwing the hammer. But the German crowd enjoyed his efforts and cheered him loudly. He waved back happily each time.

Harold Connolly, the world record holder, left the team after winning the event in Moscow.

Jones, a Detroit school teacher, burst off the starting blocks in the 110-meter high hurdles and stretched out to a four-yard victory over American teammate Blaine Lindgren, Pasadena. Jones was timed in 13.6.

John Pennel and John Uelses added a one-two in the pole vault. Pennel, from Miami, Fla., went 16-4¾. Berlin-born Uelses jumped 15 for second place.

Henry Carr, the Arizona State sprinter who holds the world record for 200 meters, stepped up to the 400 meters and won in 45.4. It was announced as the best time in the world this year and only one-half a second off the world mark.

Ralph Boston, who went 25-11¾ and Darrell Horn, who went 25-9 added a one-two in the broad jump.

Twins Post 5-Run Inning, Whip Sox 9-5

BOSTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Minnesota backed up a fine relief effort by Bill Pleis with a five-run outburst in the seventh inning and grabbed a 9-5 decision over Boston Wednesday.

Pleis took over for Bob Stange in the fourth after the Red Sox had gone ahead 4-3. The 24-year-old left-hander held Boston to three hits the rest of the way, running his record up to 3-1.

The Twins pretty much followed Tuesday night's script, scoring five runs in one-inning for the second straight game.

Phillies Top Giants 7-3 in 14th Inning

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Johnny Callison crashed a two-run homer in the 14th inning after pitcher Bob Bolin let in two runs on a throwing error as Philadelphia stopped San Francisco's nine-game winning streak with a 7-3 victory.

The Phils had fought from behind with two runs in the first against 17-game winner Juan Marichal and rode through extra innings on the strong relief of Jack Baldschun.

Bob Oldis led off the 14th with a single and Don Hoak was safe on catcher Ed Bailey's interference when he bunted. Oldis made it to second when Bolin's throw was late.

Earl Averill bounced to the pitcher, but Bolin threw the ball 10 feet over third base. Oldis and Hoak scoring. With two out, Callison hammered over the right field fence. All the runs were unearned.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, hit seven homeruns Wednesday night, setting an American league record and tying a major league mark with four in a row, as they pounded Los Angeles 10 and 9-5 in a twi-night doubleheader.

The four homers in succession came in the sixth inning by Woodie Held, Pete Ramos, Tito Francona and Larry Brown. The victim was Paul Foytack, the third Angels pitcher.

After Browns first major league homer sailed over the left field fence, Los Angeles Manager Bill Rigney walked out to the mound shaking his head and sent Foytack to the showers.

Senior Golf Tournament Slated For Gooding Course Aug. 9, 10

GOODING, Aug. 1 — A senior golf tournament, the first offered in Magic Valley for some time, will be conducted Aug. 9 and 10 at the Gooding golf course, announces Bob Lyon, chairman. The event, open to golfers 55 years of age or over, will be a trophy affair for the first three places in each flight. Gooding hopes to make it an annual tournament. "So far we've found quite a bit of enthusiasm," reports course professional Jim Wallace. "The committee is hoping for 70 and it appears we might hit that within Magic Valley. We've contacted the other clubs around southern Idaho and expect an entry or two from most of these."

The tournament will begin with practice round Aug. 8 and the medal play competition opens Aug. 9. The final 18 holes of the 36-hole test will be Aug. 10.

Lyon said the social highlight of the event will be a catered dinner Aug. 9.

Regular handicaps will be used and the field will be flighted according to handicap and qualifying. A medalist trophy is offered.

If the entry allows, merchandise prizes will be offered fourth through sixth places in all events after the top three receive trophies.

Lyon urged all interested in playing to enter immediately to facilitate reservations at the banquet and tee-off time scheduling.

Lewiston Legion Cops State Title

LEWISTON, Aug. 1—Lewiston jumped on Idaho Falls for six runs in the first inning and roared into the Idaho state American Legion baseball championship with an 11-2 victory Wednesday night.

Lewiston, repeating as champion, will advance to the regionals later this week.

Two Idaho Falls errors opened the flood gates in the game-deciding first frame and Dennis Leffler and Ron Tierney homered and tripled to provide the damaging blows.

Idaho Falls gained the finals by bouncing Caldwell 12-2 in the first game Wednesday. Caldwell made it easy for the runner-up squad by committing eight errors in the first inning and that staked Idaho Falls to a 7-0 lead through

Hole-in-One

Bob Latham, who wasn't going to play golf, scored the third hole-in-one of his career Wednesday night on the 10th hole of the municipal golf course.

Latham used a three iron to get the ace on the 200-yard, par three hole. It was the first time he had scored a hole-in-one on a day other than his birthday.

Witnessing the feat were Duane Serpa, Bob Palen (who also saw Latham's second ace) and Glenn Mickels.

Win Pulls Locals Into Half-Game Of League Lead

BOISE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Al Raffo slashed out four timely hits and struck out 10 to practically win his own game for Magic Valley 7-2 over Boise Wednesday night. Raffo's hits—three singles and a double—figured in most of the Magic Valley scoring. The Cowboys got one run in the first inning, two in the second and one in the fourth, sixth and seventh innings to sail on to victory. The win pulled the Cowboys to within a half game of league-leading Great Falls.

Magic Valley racked up 12 hits off three Boise pitchers, but the Cowboys scored their first run on four walks in the first inning.

They added two more in the second on a single by Raffo, Gene Kerns' double and Alex Johnson's double deep into centerfield.

Boise came to life with one run in the fourth and one more in the sixth on two singles and Glen Clark's double.

The Braves threatened again in the ninth when Don Newman and Bob St. John singled, but died at first and second as Raffo continued his superiority over Boise batsmen by retiring the side.

Defeated

Two Twin Falls teenagers, representing Idaho in the USGA national junior tournament, were defeated Wednesday at Florence, S. C.

Bill Cook dropped a 5 and a 4 decision to Denny Robinson, Coronado, Calif., while Dave Nore was nipped 2 and 1 by John Cowan, Urbana, O.

A 40-foot putt polished off Nore just as he appeared on the way to forcing the match into the last hole.

On the three-par-11th hole, Nore hit his green, about 30 feet from the cup, while his opponent's drive fell in a sandtrap. After Cowan had blasted out some 40 feet from the cup, Nore lagged his ball to within inches of the hole and a cinch par.

But Cowan hit his 40-foot-or-so putt to the cup to hold the hole and end the match.

Santo Drives In All Runs For Cub Win

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Ron Santo belted a two-run homer in the third and contributed a long sacrifice fly in the ninth to a 3-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night.

With one out in the final inning, Ellis Burton walked, sped to third on Williams' fourth hit, a single to right center, and scored on Santo's high drive to left fielder Gene Oliver.

L. A. Hangs 17th Loss on Met's Craig

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1 (AP)—The first-place Los Angeles Dodgers got only six hits off Roger Craig but handed the New York righthander his 17th consecutive loss by defeating the Mets 5-3 Wednesday night.

Craig, who hasn't won a game since he beat the Dodgers April 29, is only one defeat short of tying the league record for consecutive losses by a pitcher in one season. The record was established in 1910 by Clifton Curtis of Boston.

John Roseboro drove in two runs in Los Angeles' three-run second inning and scored the other. Lefthander Pete Richert went five innings for the victory giving up five of the seven New York hits.

Ninth-Inning Homer Lifts Yanks by A's

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP) — Tommy Tresh smashed a home-run with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory Wednesday and the rubber of their three game series with the Kansas City Athletics.

Ted Bowsfield, a left-hander, was on the mound for the Athletics. He had replaced starter Diego Segui in the sixth inning and had held the Yankees scoreless until Tresh's game-winning blow.

Bowsfield retired the first two Yankees in the ninth easily enough and got over two quick strikes—to the switch-hitting Tresh, who was batting right-handed. Tommy slammed the next pitch into the upper deck in left field for his 18th home-run.

SWIMS CHANNEL

FOLKESTONE, England, Aug. 1 (AP)—Claudia McPherson, a 17-year-old Canadian, became the youngest girl ever to swim the English channel Wednesday. Claudia, Manitoba, swam from Cape Gris Nez, France, to Sandgate, two miles west of here, in 17 hours and 7 minutes.

Idaho Falls Drubs Elects By 7-1 Score

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 1 (AP) — George Bechtold struck out 16 batters in a return and Idaho Falls beat Great Falls 7-1 Wednesday night.

Tip Lefebvre's leadoff homer in the third was the only score by the Electrics.

But Lefebvre's glory was dampened a bit. The Great Falls catcher let the ball get by him three times and runs scored twice, in the first inning and the sixth.

Taylor Trying to Get Into Shape

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 1 (AP) —Green Bay Packer fullback Jim Taylor tried his own method Wednesday of getting in shape for the National Football league season.

The big fullback, who led the league in ground gaining and scoring last year, ran up and down the steps of the City Stadium to make sure he would have no trouble with a knee he injured in the Packers' intra-squad game last Saturday.

After several trips, Taylor said he was ready for the Packers' game with the college all-stars at Chicago's Soldier field Friday night.

FLANKER HURT

DETROIT, Aug. 1 (AP)—Detroit Lions flanker back Terry Barr was injured Wednesday as the National Football league club held a short passing scrimmage.

Odds on Packers Fall as All-Star Grid Game Nears

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP) — While favoritism of the National Football league champion Green Bay Packers shrank, the brawny college all-star squad had a dress rehearsal drill Wednesday night under the lights of Soldier field, scene of Friday night's 30th all-star game.

Undoubtedly affected by Packer camp injuries suffered by star fullback Jim Taylor and brilliant middle linebacker Ray Nitschke, Green Bay's margin among bettors reportedly slumped from 17½ to 14½ points.

All-Star coach Otto Graham isn't impressed with dispatches from Green Bay's West DePere, Wis., training site concerning Taylor's knee injury and Nitschke's twisted back, but it appeared fairly definite both may see only limited services Friday night.

Green Bay also figures to be less formidable than in last year's 42-20 spanking of the all-stars going without rugged halfback Paul Hornung, who was suspended for betting.

"I don't know how much we'll see of Taylor or Nitschke," said Graham, former Cleveland Browns quarterback, "but pro teams improvise surprisingly well.

"In fact, the big problem in this all-star game is the experience differential. You can't teach in three weeks what it takes three or four years of tough pro competition to acquire.

"It isn't a question of comparative ability or brains or willingness. It simply is a matter of time and adjustment. Last year, for instance, we didn't get pulled around by the Packers.

"They didn't even beat us on the ground, but on long, easy passes on which they knew what they were doing and we didn't. We were caught in such mental errors as going the wrong way.

"But we have a fighting chance and an all-out effort can make us dangerous."

The collegiate secondary will include 6-foot, 4-inch Tommy Janik of Texas A and I and 6-foot, 2-inch Larry Gluck of Villanova at defensive backs and Lonnie Sanders, a Michigan State end, and swift Kermit Alexander, UCLA halfback, at the safeties.

As the all-stars moved in from their Northwestern university base in Evanston, Ill., for the Soldier field workout, it was guessed the starting collegiate offensive backfield might include Rose Bowl star Ron Vanderkelen of Wisconsin at quarterback; Larry Ferguson of Iowa at running halfback; Northwestern's great pass receiver, Paul Flatley at fullback and Notre Dame's 212-pound Bill (Thunder) Thornton at fullback.

RECALLS HUBLER

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Minnesota Twins placed pitcher Jim Roland on the disabled list Wednesday night and purchased the contract of relief pitcher Don Williams from the Twins' Dallas-Fort Worth farm club.

Resigns

JONESBORO, Ark., Aug. 1 (AP)—King Block, head football coach at Arkansas State college for three years and former Twin Falls high school football star, has resigned, it was learned Wednesday night.

Block based his resignation on a personal disagreement with the administration. He compiled a 13-14 record and 6-3 last season.

Block starred in football and baseball at Twin Falls high school in 1945-47 and later was starting fullback at the University of Idaho.

Pennsylvania Won't License Sonny Liston

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 1 (AP) —The Pennsylvania athletic commission rejected Wednesday an application by a heavyweight champion Sonny Liston's Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., for a promoter's license.

The commission acted after receiving an opinion from the state attorney general that granting such an application would be improper.

The rejection followed a two-hour meeting by Commissioners Alfred M. Klein and Paul C. Sullivan in the office of George I. Bloom, secretary of the commonwealth and a member ex-officio of the commission.

Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni, asked for an opinion by the commission, said Wednesday a 1955 law prohibits promoter's from having any direct or indirect financial interest in any boxer.

Liston is listed as a 47½ per cent stockholder of Intercontinental Promotions, a Pennsylvania corporation.

"Since the term 'promoter' has been defined to include, in the case of a corporation, any officer, director or stockholder thereof, and since Liston is not only a stockholder, but an officer and director as well, the granting of a license to Intercontinental Promotions is interdicted by law," Alessandroni said.

The commission said it requested the opinion last Friday after a hearing on Intercontinental's application for a promoter's license.

The corporation said at the hearing it wanted the license to promote a heavyweight championship fight in Philadelphia Sept. 30 between Liston and Cassius Clay.

TEST YOURSELF—9

Are You Really Happy?

By WILLIAM BERNARD and JULES LEOPOLD

The chain of stimulus-response, conditioned by circumstances, stretches from cradle to the grave, making the normal person a creature of constant dissatisfactions. Therefore when we speak of happiness, we speak of relative happiness. Indeed, the too complete absence of desire and irritation (as in sleep) is akin to death.

Here a clue is sought not only to whether your desires are withheld from fulfillment by psychological barriers, but also to whether you have eligible desires at all—desires which lend themselves to your fulfillment, and so are the stuff of happiness. A high score would suggest that you are really happy in comparison with most others, whether you know it or not.

DIRECTIONS—Check YES if on the whole you agree with a statement. Check NO if you are inclined to disagree. Try to answer every question. Work at slowly as you like.

NO TIME LIMIT

1. On the whole, crowds are depressing and should be avoided on that account. YES____ NO____

2. People who are meticulous, painstaking and neat are usually preferable to less orderly people. YES____ NO____

3. A person should always count on the fact that his schemes are likely to fall. YES____ NO____

4. A person should always count on the fact that his schemes will succeed. YES____ NO____

5. Despite the universal acceptance of sleeping in darkness, it is really more pleasant to sleep in a place where there is a little light. YES____ NO____

6. It's usually nicer to lie awake in bed in the morning rather than get up soon after awaking. YES____ NO____

7. A person should often indulge in idle day-dreams in which he imagines himself achieving marvelous deeds. YES____ NO____

8. A person is the master of his fate, and the sole factor in determining his own success or failure. YES____ NO____

9. It's all right for a person to spend so much time at a hobby that at times it interferes with his social life or business. YES____ NO____

10. Women generally are difficult to be at ease with. YES____ NO____

11. On the whole, women are considerably superior to men. YES____ NO____

12. People in most fields get paid too much. YES____ NO____

13. Are you shrewd enough to notice often that people are apparently talking about one, perhaps smiling secretly at the things you do? YES____ NO____

14. Women in general are more unfair and scheming than men. YES____ NO____

15. To avoid the trouble which mars happiness, a person should only get after he has so thoroughly weighed pros and cons that there is no doubt in his mind about which course to take. YES____ NO____

16. Are you sensitive enough to nearly always know when you are criticized more than you deserve? YES____ NO____

17. (a) People require a certain amount of money to be happy. YES____ NO____

(b) Unhealthy people are rarely happy. YES____ NO____

(c) Generally speaking, people should not marry persons they do not love. YES____ NO____

18. (a) Do you believe prayer can alter destiny? YES____ NO____

(b) Do you believe in Marxism? YES____ NO____

(c) Do you believe in Science? YES____ NO____

(d) Do you believe the West, because of its superior institutions, will triumph over communism? YES____ NO____

19. Do you believe in any philosophy—religion—any system of human thought or organization? YES____ NO____

20. Assume there are people you deeply trust and rely on. In that case:

(a) You are foolish, because in the end practically every person lets others down. TRUE____ FALSE____

(b) You are not foolish, because your feelings tell you that you can trust these people, and you want to do so. TRUE____ FALSE____

(c) You are not foolish, because you know you can place full reliance and trust in most people you run across. TRUE____ FALSE____

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

by STELLA

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1 — Born today, you are impulsive and have a spontaneous joy for living that makes you a happy companion at all times. Your interests are many and your friends are varied and for you life should never be a bore. Both men and women born on this day show artistic ability in combination with business acumen. Men, however, tend to lean more strongly toward the latter, while women find the former the dominant trait.

Something of a dreamer in youth, by adulthood you will most likely have outgrown this characteristic and have settled on a practical approach to life and living. This practical approach in 20 way should take away from your gift for spontaneity; indeed it only heightens it, for it brings direction and a challenge to it.

One who draws inspiration from the presence of other people, you would never be completely happy alone. Marriage is definitely in the cards for you and, according to all the signs, the sooner it is better. Only take care to select a marriage partner who can add to your life some of the caution which you may very well lack. A mate who will allow you to "run free," with no check on the rein whatever, may very well do you harm.

Among those born on this date are: Jack Kramer, champion tennis star; Herman Melville, author; Francis Scott Key, poet, author of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, August 2

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Minor changes in plans will not necessarily detract from the progressive but favorable aspects of today's efforts on account of policy.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Get into the swing of things early in the day. Afternoon promises to bring a slowdown.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Continue to make progress—but make very sure that your actions are based on sound, honest policy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Exercise tact in dealing with the public. Your channel to antagonize run high today!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — A good day for seeing that new plans and projects are properly published.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Delay decisions in real estate projects until you can give time to additional deliberation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Wind up business begun yesterday during morning hours. Afternoon calls for more caution than usual.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Morning delays should not cause the collapse of afternoon projects. Move freely among various enterprises.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — Clarify your ideas and then stick to it. Go after exactly what you want and avoid vacillation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Be prepared to act speedily and efficiently. An emergency situation may bring you opportunity you need.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Avoid allowing your emotions the upper hand today. Progress and restraint go together now.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Protect your personal and business interests from the competition. Keep plans to yourself.

Rope Halter Is Shown at Meet

MURTAUGH, Aug. 1 — Mike Bourn demonstrated the making of a rope halter for a beef animal when the Twin Falls county Better Feeders and Pitters 4-H livestock club met at his home Sunday afternoon. F. V. Morrison, leader, and Farnum Warr demonstrated how to fit a lamb for showing.

The 4-H pledge was led by Sheryl Bowen and Mike Bourn led the pledge of allegiance.

Members and their leader discussed achievement day activities to be held at Kimberly grade school, Thursday and a group picnic for that day.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Bourn. The Aug. 11 meeting will be held at the home of F. V. Morrison.

Pool Means Trouble in L. A. Land

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1 (UPI)—A 50-year-old service station attendant who was arrested earlier this year for making a 25-cent bet in a pool hall Wednesday sought to have Mayor Samuel Yorty arrested for violating gambling laws by winning a $5 bet from San Francisco Mayor George Christopher.

Robert T. Gibson offered a newspaper-article-as-proof the two mayors made a bet on whether the San Francisco Giants or Los Angeles Dodgers would be on top of the National league on July 4. On that date the Dodgers were leading by 2½ games and Christopher sent the $5 by mail to Yorty—who in turn contributed it to the Los Angeles Times summer camp fund.

Gibson, who also thought Police Chief William H. Parker should be arrested for not enforcing the law, said "they're no better than I am."

He said last April he was arrested after winning one pool game, losing two and then contributing a dollar to buy some beer for the winner. He forfeited $19 bail after his daughter bailed him out of jail.

Businessmen Say Inflation Won't Occur

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—New government statistics invite fears that inflation may be straining at the leash again.

But businessmen agree that it probably won't get loose. Yet they concede there has been more price raising in recent months than there has been in a long time.

The government cost of living index for June took its biggest spurt in months, reaching a record high of 106.6 per cent.

This specific figure, strongly influenced by an unusual increase in sugar prices, can't be taken too seriously by itself. But businessmen are studying the index for what it reveals about the over-all pattern.

For years that pattern has been deflationary, many businessmen say. There has been a buyers' market, with stiff price competition, since about 1958.

During this period, wholesale price indices slipped downward and retail averages held about steady. The cost-of-living index inched upward, but this was almost exclusively because of higher charges for services (haircuts up 12 per cent, hospital care up 32 per cent, etc.) shelter and taxes. Food prices have been almost steady for several years.

Real estate prices kept rising longer, partly because of property taxes, but by last year, they too had about flattened out.

U. S. Steel tried unsuccessfully to boost its prices bringing the historic clash with President Kennedy in the spring of 1962.

This spring, the steel industry tried again but on a smaller scale. This time it worked.

Shortly afterward, aluminum producers gingerly raised some prices. Some brass and copper makers followed suit. Then came more aluminum boosts.

At about the same time, sugar prices soomed from near-record depths to near-record heights.

Some see a new inflationary climate emerging from these developments. Many economists say this is illusionary, however.

"It's certainly a lot easier to raise prices now than it was," said one, "but this is not any trend. At best, it's a very moderate drift."

The sugar and cocoa rises, these economists say, are highly individual things, having little to do with the general economy. And both, especially sugar, appear to be headed downward again.

Many business economists sum up the price-level situation this way:

Competition, both foreign and domestic, will make it hard for producers to push their prices very high last.

The high level of unemployment will discourage labor unions from pushing their demands too vigorously and forcing prices up.

The administration, faced with a continuing balance of payments problem, will continue to discourage any general price increases.

4-H, FFA Event Slated for Hailey

HAILEY, Aug. 1 — Old-fashioned homemade ice cream, with cream from Big and Little Wood river valley ranches and farms, will be served at the 4-H and FFA family picnic Sunday at the Sawtooth forest campgrounds on the east fork of Big Wood river.

Games will begin at 11 a.m. and the potluck dinner will be served at 2 p.m.

A baseball game, foot races and horseshoe pitching are planned by Mrs. David Baird and Mrs. Eugene Sweat, Carey, recreation committee co-chairmen.

Mrs. Leslie Broadie is general chairman for the picnic, assisted by Norman Warren, Blaine county agriculture agent.

ANNUAL PICNIC HELD

HAILEY, Aug. 1—Members of the Upper Big Wood River Grange and their families held their annual picnic on the banks of Big Wood river on the Josephine Price ranch, about four miles north of Hailey Sunday afternoon.

ANSWERS to "Are You Really Happy?"

1. NO: Crowds are exhilarating, if anything, to the well adjusted.

2. NO: An affirmative answer shows departure from normal; may indicate fears or anxieties.

3. NO: This may be wise, but unrelieved pessimism disallows the hope and expectation essential to happiness.

4. NO: Unrelieved optimism is abnormal, and will lead to more than a normal share of disappointments.

5. NO: If you feel this way, you may be over-sensitive to trivialities or lose larger values for the sake of gaining smaller ones; and neither attitude is conducive to happiness.

6. NO: A person truly enjoying life is usually anxious to "act, act in the living present."

7. NO: (If you are 16 years old or younger, give yourself credit even if you answer "Yes.") Such daydreams in a mature person may indicate inadequate adjustment to reality, or repressed ambitions, wants impossible to achieve, dissatisfaction with self, etc.

8. NO: If you admit that other elements play a part in success or failure, you save yourself much anguish, self-reproach, frustration.

9. YES: Strong enthusiasms and interests, though occasionally interfering with business or social life, make for a wholesome, healthy attitude—with adequate escape and relief from tension.

10. NO: An affirmative answer hints at least mild social or biological maladjustment, self-consciousness.

11. NO: Whether or not this is true, if you think it is then you show poor adjustment to half the people in the world—a condition not conducive to happiness.

12. NO: Envy, jealousy, destroy happiness. Your attitude should be: No one gets paid too much—it's just that the rest get paid too little.

13. NO: A "yes" here might show a mild form of what is popularly called a "persecution complex."

14. NO: For the reason mentioned in 11.

15. NO: A reasonable conclusion is generally enough to justify action. Exhaustively weighing all questions is an impossible task; attempting it shows lack of proportion, is a symptom of worry and poor confidence.

16. NO: If you consider yourself sensitive in this regard, it is probably because you are often hurt.

17. (a) YES, (b) YES, (c) YES: Whether or not these statements are correct, a large majority of people think they are (in the U. S.) If you depart frequently from the mores and beliefs of your times—though you may be correct and courageous in doing so—you run the risk of unhappiness.

If you answered at least one of the three right, credit yourself with one point for the entire question.

18. Faith and its corollary, hope, are essential to happiness. NO to all four queries would indicate lack of capacity for faith. YES to conflicting queries shows confusion and lack of any real faith.

If you answered YES to only one query, give yourself two points for the entire question.

If you answered YES to (a) and (d), give yourself two points for the entire question.

If you answered YES to either (b) and (c) or (c) and (d), give yourself two points for the entire question.

Other answers get no credit.

19. YES: For the reason mentioned in 18.

20. If you answered FALSE to (a), TRUE to (b) and FALSE to (c), credit yourself with two points.

If you answered TRUE to (a), TRUE to (b) and FALSE to (c), credit yourself with one point.

Other answers get no credit.

TO GET YOUR SCORE—Credit yourself with 1 point for each correct answer, except as indicated in Answers 17, 18 and 20.

Declo Hears Report on Alcoholism

DECLO, Aug. 1—The seriousness of alcoholism as a public responsibility was cited by Burley Police Judge John Bowen at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Declo Kiwanis club at Min's cafe.

Judge Bowen was introduced by Elmer Mackie who was in charge of the program. The judge recently completed a course on alcoholism at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, where he heard authorities from throughout the United States and Canada emphasize the hazards of excessive drinking.

He reported that more than 500 students studying social studies and welfare work as a college major were enrolled in the course.

Bowen explained that the drinking of alcoholic beverages is one of the oldest customs of mankind and the Oriental nations once pronounced the death penalty on drunkards while Greece lowered them into snake pits as a shock treatment.

Today, according to the judge, alcoholism is regarded as a disease that brings disorder in the functioning of the body. It brings total sickness to the individual, mentally, physically, socially and spiritually.

"Sixty-five million adults in the United States drink for pleasure," he said.

For one-out-of-16 it threatens danger, trouble and regret and for one out of 40 it brings tragedy, remorse, severe illness and progressive deterioration.

He advised his listeners not to belittle the alcoholic but to recognize his problem and offer advice and assistance in helping him to want to help himself.

Clifford Sutton called the meeting to order. Prayer was given by Carl Osterhout and the pledge by Jack Jordan.

Guests were Cline Preston, William Henschild, Robert Cameron, Bruce Young and Pat Novasel.

Ike Approves Of Proper Discontent

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (UPI)—Former President Eisenhower said Wednesday that Negro civil rights demonstrations throughout the nation emphasize "the discontent—the rightful discontent of a minority."

"If they call attention to their discontent by proper demonstrations, I feel it is all right," said Eisenhower before sailing to Europe to revisit the beaches of D-day.

"I understand their purposes," said Eisenhower. "I agree with those who say they are entitled to their just rights.

"Every individual in the United States has a legal and moral obligation to see others enjoy the same rights. We must eliminate every possibility of differentiating between political and economical rights on the basis of color."

Acting drill master for the group is Oriel Bench. Doug Bailey is the assistant drill master and Bud Bailey will serve as junior drill master.

The Mavericks, who are planning to ride at the Twin Falls county fair, will meet at 6:30 p.m. each Saturday and hold a weiner roast following each meeting. All newcomers are welcome.

FBI Head Calls For Ethics Code

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UPI) — J. Edgar Hoover has told the nation's law enforcement officers there is no place in the profession for those who violate civil rights or who condone such tactics.

Hoover, director of the FBI, said a code of ethics is needed in the profession because civil rights violations by law enforcement officers "seldom stem from evil intent, but rather from officers improperly trained and untutored in the ethics of the profession."

East Germany to Sign Test Treaty

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (UPI) — East German Chief of State Walter Ulbricht announced Wednesday his communist regime will sign the Moscow treaty to limit nuclear tests. He invited West Germany to do the same.

Ulbricht told a meeting of his parliament that East Germany will sign the pact after it has been formally signed by United States, Britain and Russia.

Committee Restores Cut In Aid Funds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UPI)—The senate foreign relations committee voted today to restore 75 million dollars of a 100 million dollar cut in funds for the alliance for progress program for Latin America.

The committee also voted to reconsider another action which would have put tighter limits on development loans by requiring a minimum two-per-cent-interest rate and a maximum 30-year repayment provision.

Both the alliance fund slash and the loan limits actions were strongly opposed by the administration.

Sens. Frank J. Lausche, D., O., and Karl E. Mundt, R., S.D., cosponsors of the tighter development loan proposal, will submit a revised version of their amendment at the committee's next meeting Friday.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., said he hoped the committee could complete action on the bill Friday.

Sheepmen Hit Government Eradication

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UPI) — Sheepmen testified Wednesday in support of a bill to pay full indemnity to owners of sheep which are slaughtered under a program for the eradication of scrapie, a fatal sheep disease.

John Canestraight, attorney for the National Suffolk Sheep association, Columbia, Mo., said the witnesses were not here to make a raid on the federal treasury.

All they want, Canestraight said, is to secure a fair indemnity. The owners of infected animals that are slaughtered are paid by the federal government from a third to a half of the appraisal value of the animals. Some states also pay partial indemnities.

Alvin L. Helms of Belleville, Ill., said that in August, 1958, he sold a ram off his farm to an Oregon breeder and in 1959 it was alleged that ram died of scrapie. He said the agriculture department quarantined his herd of 273 sheep but no sign of scrapie showed up during the 2 year quarantine period.

"Yet," Helms said, "the federal government slaughtered the entire flock and wiped me out of the sheep business. It had taken me a lifetime to build this flock and I had to start all over again at the age of 56 years. I sustained a $36,000 cash loss."

Fred B. Hutt, professor of animal genetics at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., testified there is no shred of evidence to show that scrapie is spread from one sheep to another.

Hutt said attempts to eradicate the disease by slaughter are unwarranted and futile.

VISAS TO BE USED

Hazelton Driver Cited for Crash

BURLEY, Aug. 1 — Lee J. Caulson, 39, Hazelton, was cited at 5 p.m. Monday for not having a drivers license by Clarence Wright, Burley patrolman, after being in a collisoon with a car driven by Sandra Tucker, 16, Rupert.

Caulson, driving a 1961 Ford Falcon, backed into the right rear door of a 1959 Buick, owned by Harry W. Tucker and driven by Miss Tucker, Wright said. The Buick made a left hand turn into Mayo's Drive inn from U.S. highway 27 and north Overland avenue as the Ford was backing out of the drive in parking lot.

Total damage to the Buick was estimated at $50. There was no damage to the Falcon.
