Fighting Flares Between Greek, Turkish Cypriots; U.S. Moves to Avoid War

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Feb. 11 (UPI)—New fighting flared between rival Greek and Turkish Cypriots today while the United States spearheaded diplomatic moves to prevent full-scale civil war. The U. S. embassy announced that Undersecretary of State George Ball will fly here tomorrow for talks with President Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots, and Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriots. President Johnson dispatched Ball on the trouble-shooting mission last week. He already has conferred with officials and diplomats in London, Athens and Ankara.

Informed sources said Ball is carrying a revised version of the Anglo-American plan to station 10,000 NATO troops on Cyprus to keep the peace. But Makarios was reported hardening in his attitude toward the proposed NATO force and leaning toward direct United Nations intervention in the country's crisis.

No casualties were reported in an exchange of fire between Greek and Turkish Cypriots on the outskirts of Nicosia. The shooting began when Turkish Cypriots began digging trenches to match similar construction by Greek Cypriots.

British troops, who have been keeping the peace since Christmas holiday violence in which at least 200 persons were killed, quickly moved in and ended the fighting.

But Kuchuk charged today that Greek Cypriots have killed 150 Turkish Cypriots since the cease-fire agreement on Dec. 26. He made the charge in telegrams sent to President Johnson, British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, Greek Prime Minister John Paraskevopoulos and Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu.

He urged them to take "immediate measures to rescue Turkish Cypriots from the merciless Greek hordes of murderers."

Kuchuk said 150 Turkish Cypriots had disappeared since Christmas and the Greek Cypriots admitted "they are not in their custody." He said an "extensive search failed to produce results. Therefore all must have been killed by the Greeks coldbloodedly."

Dog Defects

GREENVILLE, S. C., Feb. 11 (AP)—James Robert Wilson escaped Monday from O'Neal prison camp.

Officers put two bloodhounds on his track. An automobile hit one dog and got him out of the race.

A posse followed the tracks of the other dog. The track of the dog and Wilson met, then continued side-by-side.

The hunt was still on today for the convict and the lifesaving bloodhound.

Civil Rights Discussed at Police Class

Robert W. Evans, Butte, Mont., special agent in charge of the Idaho - Montana FBI district, spoke on civil rights during the opening session of the three-day police training school Tuesday morning in the Twin Falls city hall.

The three-day school is sponsored jointly by the FBI and M. Frank Barnett, Twin Falls police chief, who was graduated from the FBI national academy about three months ago. Forty-five police officers from throughout Magic Valley were present.

Evans discussed civil rights as they pertain to the job of law enforcement.

"Law enforcement," Evans said, "should be governed by the Golden Rule and should not only do right, it should appear to be right."

Evans stated this school is one of a number in the planning stages to be held in other parts of Idaho, as well as in Montana and is a forerunner to the Idaho Law Enforcement academy, which is held for two weeks in the spring at Idaho State university.

Staff instructors from the Butte, Mont., FBI office conducted talks on report writing, techniques and mechanics of arrests Tuesday afternoon, Evans said.

Subjects to be discussed Wednesday include interviews of subjects and witnesses, public relations and conduct of police officers, crime scene searches and collection and preservation of evidence. Two films will be shown Wednesday.

Thursday, the final day, topics will be on hit and run investigations, latent fingerprints, search and seizure methods, patrol methods and testifying and conduct in courts.

Elderly Care Plan Locked in House Unit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (UPI) — President Johnson's main health proposal, enactment of a care plan for the elderly under social security, appeared to be locked today in the house ways and means committee.

Its predecessors have been locked there for years.

The committee plans sessions on the measure, perhaps as early as the first week of March but there was no sign that more than 10 of the 25 members' votes could be gained to send it to the floor.

Friends and foes of the plan agreed its only chance—and a slim one—was that a compromise acceptable to Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D., Ark., can be worked out.

Matching Funds for Civic Center Asked

The current effort to bring a modern civic auditorium to Twin Falls, with a 1,200 person permanent seating capacity, reached a new high Monday, according to a report released from the campaign headquarters by Henry Wills, campaign chairman. In making the report of the 10th campaign executive committee meeting, Wills said, "I am amazed at the results—and in such a short time, too. Well, that's only half of it. What's really important is whether or not Twin Falls people will take up the challenge just offered to them.

"Today a firm offer of $247,500 was made to the people of Twin Falls to build a civic auditorium, free and clear of debt.

"A group of 225 people have made the offer with only one condition attached — that their account be matched dollar for dollar by any other group or number of Twin Falls area citizens.

"It's as easy as that," said Wills. "All we have to do is match their amount within the three-week time limit and Twin Falls gets an auditorium."

"If we fail to match the amount of their offer it will be withdrawn, and I personally believe that much will never be offered again. Wouldn't it be a shame to come so close, and yet so far? Opportunities such as this need simply because we did not recognize an opportunity in Twin Falls" he concluded.

Mrs. John Detweiler, women's division chairman of the general campaign organization, told the committee, "We have decided on a Jubilee kick-off dinner date, at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 19 at the American Legion hall, and the 12 teams in the women's section will have a complete roster of 85 members, ready and willing to go to work."

The 170 members of the general campaign organization will join forces with the 60-member executive committee at the free kick-off dinner and begin calling on some 5,000 prospects in the Twin Falls area.

"On that night each member will select as many or as few cards as he or she chooses, just as the executive committee has done for the past three weeks," explained Mrs. Detweiler.

This weekly report meetings are continuing this week for the campaign executive committee, with the next regular meeting at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday in the campaign headquarters.

Reclamation Group Vows Water Fight

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 11 (AP)—Idaho residents will take their fight against diversion of Snake river water to the U.S. supreme court if necessary, the president of the Idaho reclamation association has said.

Association President Tom Olmstead, Twin Falls, spoke yesterday at the organization's annual convention. He told delegates the association was founded to protect Idaho water rights and will make every effort to perform the function.

"If California gets any water out of the basin it will be after a long, hard fight clear up through the supreme court of the United States," Olmstead said.

R. P. Parry, a Twin Falls water attorney, told the group the only certain way to protect state water resources is to form a compact among all the Pacific northwest states prohibiting water removal from the region and having it ratified by congress.

Harold T. Nelson, Boise, regional bureau of reclamation director, said the water diversion plan is unnecessary.

Hamer Budge Won't Run For Congress

BOISE, Feb. 11 (UPI)—Third District Judge Hamer H. Budge today ended speculation about possibilities he might run for congress again by stating flatly he would not be a candidate.

Budge, a Republican congressman from Idaho's second congressional district from 1951-1961, said "you may quote me to the effect that I am not a candidate for election to the congress and do not plan to be."

Defeated in a reelection bid in 1960 by Democrat Ralph Harding, Budge had been considered a potential candidate for congress this year by many observers. At the time of his defeat by Harding, he was a member of the powerful house rules committee.

Harding Talks In Area Schools

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Rep. Ralph Harding, D., Idaho, arrived in Idaho today after a night flight from Washington.

The Idahoan spent the day addressing high school student bodies at Buhl, Filer, Valley and Jerome high schools. This afternoon he planned to meet with constituents at the Jerome county courthouse from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Harding told Buhl high school students they must appreciate the history of freedom in order to build a history of freedom.

Neutral Stand Maintained by County on Mental Health Clinic

W. W. Lowery, chairman of the Twin Falls county commission, reports the commission at present remaining neutral in the controversial issue of establishing a mental health clinic in Magic Valley. This issue has several people confused because of statements released both by people for and those against the issue, he said. Lowery said the commission is taking this neutral stand because it represents the taxpayers, and the commission has received as many petitions against the establishment of a clinic in Magic Valley as they have for the issue.

"In our way of thinking," Lowery said, "this should come to a referendum vote by the county taxpayers at the next general election."

Commissioner Maurice Klass said the South Central Idaho Mental Health council had misquoted him about three weeks ago. Klass said the council quoted him as estimating "up to 25 per cent of the approximately $257,000 spent by the indigent fund in 1962 might have been saved if the county had mental health services."

Klass said Tuesday morning the council "asked if I thought it would save 25 per cent of the indigent fund. I told them that it might be possible. By this statement I am not endorsing a mental health clinic, or am not saying if we had a mental health clinic it would have saved 25 per cent of the $257,000 spent in 1962, because I don't know. There is no way of knowing."

Mrs. E. M. Wright, chairman of the council, said Tuesday one of the main reasons people are for establishing a mental health clinic locally is so people would not have to be sent to a state institution, such as Blackfoot, but would be kept near their families, thus reducing the expense to the family and to taxpayers.

Mrs. Wright said people who are involved with mental health problems are constantly pointing out there is a need for a clinic here. She said a local mental health clinic can be the least expensive way for taxpayers to handle the problem.

According to petitions signed by county residents against the issue, one of the reasons they do not want a mental health clinic locally is they feel psychiatry and mental health are individual problems. Those against the establishment of a mental health clinic stated the tax burden already is too great and has increased to a point that school

Area Mental Clinic Explained at Meet

Need of a mental health center in this area was affirmed by a three-fourths majority of about 100 persons attending a meeting at the Bishop Rhea auditorium Monday night to hear staff members of the Ada county clinic explain the type of service offered by the center there. The primary questions at the meeting appeared to be financing and the misconception that a federal grant would be applied for to construct a center. Dr. Joseph W. Marshall, who moderated the question session, assured the group there are facilities presently available which could be used to house such a center.

Dr. James Kircher, Burley, joined Dr. Kolouch and the Ada county representatives, Dr. John Camberert, Fred Letz and Dr. Dale Cornell, in a plea to consider the human need first and the financial aspect second. Dr. Cornell is a private psychiatrist practicing in Boise, while Dr. Camberert and Letz are with the mental health center.

The meeting was sponsored by the Southcentral Idaho Mental Health association.

The most effective, as well as most economical, approach to mental health problems is by the staff approach, the professional men declared. The team work approach takes much of the load from the "psychiatrist," making it possible to work with a larger number of people, and for a shorter period of time.

Emerson Pugmire, Hagerman, chairman of the eight-county commission board, expressed sympathy with the program, stating that the only problem for his committee was that two of the counties in the present program could not provide funds for any additional program. Letz pointed out that the preventive treatment which a center could provide would be far less costly than the present system of referral to Blackfoot or St. Anthony.

Many of the juveniles presently committed to the state industrial school could be rehabilitated in the community through services of a mental health clinic, Dr. Camberert asserted, saving a great deal of money for the counties.

It now costs the tax payers $2,500 a year for each referral to the school, he said. Costs at State Hospital South are about $7 per day, and confinement is usually for much longer periods than would be necessary with a local center, where consultations could be held with the families.

The added educational benefits of the program were emphasized by the Ada county group. As the various referral agencies work with the center, they absorb much of the techniques of dealing with disturbed persons it was reported.

Farm Leaders Disagree on Agriculture

SPOKANE, Feb. 11 (AP) — The president of the American Farm Bureau federation and the master of the National Grange outlined sharply divergent paths to agricultural prosperity in talks Tuesday before the Pacific Northwest Farm Forum.

Grange Master Herschel D. Newsom advocates the so-called voluntary wheat certificate plan which President Johnson supported in his farm message to congress, although he did not refer to it specifically in his speech.

But Charles B. Shuman, of the Farm Bureau said it was "little short of incredible" that congress could even consider a plan which he said had already been rejected by a majority of the nation's wheat producers.

He labeled the so-called voluntary certificate plan a "repackaging of the same old scheme" that farmers turned down last May and added that penalties under the proposal would be so great as to almost make it mandatory.

Both speakers were assigned the topic "The Role of Government in Agriculture" for the 11th annual forum. Newsom approached it this way:

"Whatever economic answers are found to this present farm problem, they must be consistent

Commission Okays '64 County Budget; No Objections Voiced at Open Hearing

The Twin Falls county commission Monday afternoon approved the county's 1964 budget of $2,658,855 during the last in a series of open hearings.

Final action was taken during the regular commission meeting. No objections were voiced. This year's budget is $414,293 higher than the one approved for 1963.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster reports the budget includes $40,882 for the clerk of the district court, auditor and recorder; $103,036 for the sheriff's office; $52,708 for the assessor's office; $27,160 for the treasurer and tax collectors department; $20,274 for the prosecuting attorney's office; $26,280 for probate court; $2,500 for coroner; $76,460 for janitors, and $13,694 for the county agent's office.

Budget for the county commission is set at $21,300; justice of the peace, $16,700; district court, $17,650; general, $49,900; elections, $39,000 compared to $10,500 last year, and zoning, $10,000.

The budget for public health is $45,641; revaluation, $26,830; noxious weed eradication, $60,940; county poor fund, $227,400; county hospital, $1,688,850, compared to $1,324,940 last year, and agricultural fair, $91,300.

Lancaster said the budget is higher this year because of considerable increases in the hospital budget and the election budget, and also the adding of a zoning budget, which is new this year.

There also are minor increases in the other areas the budget must cover.

House Okays Historic Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP) — The house has approved the civil rights bill in an overwhelming vote hailed by President Johnson as "an historic step forward for the cause of dignity in America." It now faces a tougher battle in the senate where Southerners hope to whittle it down with talk. As turned out by the house in a 290-130 roll call last night, the bill amounts to the most sweeping civil rights legislation in history.

Southern efforts to water it down were crushed at every turn by a coalition of Republicans and northern Democrats.

But in the senate with its different rules of debate, the Southerners hold the weapon of a filibuster and hope to weaken the measure by forcing a compromise.

Glittering for the battle ahead, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield outlined parliamentary moves Monday designed to delay senate action on civil rights until the tax cut bill clears congress, probably by the end of the month.

Johnson, in a statement, paid tribute to the bipartisan nature of the triumph in the house, declaring:

"It represents the culmination of months of hard work by men of good will in both parties.

"Now the task is before the senate. I hope the same spirit of nonpartisanship will prevail there to assure passage of this bill guaranteeing the fundamental rights of all Americans."

Voting for the bill in the house were 152 Democrats and 138 Republicans. Voting against it were 96 Democrats and 34 Republicans.

Fair Trial For Ruby Is Thought Slim

DALLAS, Feb. 11 (AP) — Two civic leaders testified today Jack Ruby would have a hard time getting a fair trial in Dallas on the charge that he murdered accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Stanley Marcus, president of the Nieman-Marcus store, said: "I have great reservations whether the defense or prosecution can get a fair trial in Dallas."

He said a fair trial would be "more likely some other place than here"—but he didn't know where.

Clayton Fowler, president of the Dallas County Criminal Bar association, told defense attorneys "it would be most difficult" to give Ruby a fair trial "while the nation is trying Dallas."

Ruby stepped out of a crowd of newsmen and shot Oswald to death on Nov. 24 as Oswald was being transferred from city jail to county jail. Oswald had been charged with murder in the assassination of President Kennedy and the killing of Dallas Patrolman J. D. Tippit two days earlier.

Marcus and Fowler testified in the second day of a hearing on a defense motion to move Ruby's trial to another city.

Ruby's murder trial is scheduled to begin here Monday. The defense is seeking a change of venue on grounds "there is a blueprint" in Dallas to deprive the 52-year-old Ruby of a fair trial.

Melvin Belli, chief defense attorney, told newsmen today that if a transfer is not granted, he will be ready to begin the trial Monday.

Red Can Give U. S. Vital Information

GENEVA, Feb. 11 (AP)—Authoritative sources at the disarmament conference said today Soviet Director Yuri Nosenko is in a position to give the United States vital top secret information on the production of Russian nuclear weapons.

They reported the 36-year-old member of the Soviet intelligence agency KBG used some of this information in bargaining for political asylum in the United States.

The U. S. state department said yesterday that Nosenko had defected and asked for American asylum. It is believed here that he is in the United States now.

Nosenko's defection was ignored today in the Soviet press, but it was known to many Russians who listen to broadcasts of the Voice of America.

Viet Cong Blast Officer's Home

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Feb. 11 (AP) — A grenade exploded in front of the home of a U.S. air force captain tonight blasting down the fence and smashing windows. No one was reported hurt.

U.S. sources said the incident was part of a communist guerrilla campaign of terror against Americans in Saigon.

Earlier, American sources reported that three unexploded mines were found under the softball stadium bleachers that were smashed by two communist terrorist bombs Sunday evening resulting in deaths of two Americans and injuries to 23 others.

79 Missing After Ocean Disaster

SYDNEY, Feb. 11 (AP)— Navy search and rescue teams today recovered the bodies of three men, including the captain, who perished when the "pushbutton" destroyer Voyager sank after it was sliced in two in collision with the aircraft carrier Melbourne.

The navy said an official check showed that 79 of the 321 man aboard the craft when it was struck last night could not be accounted for. Navy Minister Alexander J. Forbes said there was "only slight hope" of finding any of them alive. The search was called off tonight, but Forbes said it might be resumed in daylight tomorrow.

The collision occurred about 20 miles off Australia's eastern coast when the Voyager, blacked out except for mast lights, apparently cut across the carrier's path during night maneuvers. Both vessels were traveling at about 24 miles per hour.

U.S. Newsmen Barred at Guantanamo

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—The defense department said today "it is not believed in the national interest" to allow newsmen to travel to the Guantanamo naval base for on-the-spot reporting of the latest U. S.-Cuban crisis.

"We will continue to review the matter daily," the Pentagon told The Associated Press. But it added there was no change of view of the situation between the United States and Cuba, government-sponsored transport of newsmen to Guantanamo is not believed in the national interest at this particular time."

Officials declined to elaborate on why the U. S. government felt this way.

U.S. sources said the incident was part of a communist guerrilla campaign of terror against Americans in Saigon.

Earlier, American sources reported that three unexploded mines were found under the softball stadium bleachers that were smashed by two communist terrorist bombs Sunday evening resulting in deaths of two Americans and injuries to 23 others.

Hoffa's Lawyers Cast Spy Charge At Prosecution

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 11 (AP)—Defense attorneys contended in federal court today they have had to post armed guards at their hotel headquarters because of alleged "spying" by the prosecution in the jury tampering trial of Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa.

The defense lawyers, interrupting cross-examination of a key government witness, renewed charges that federal agents were keeping them under surveillance.

"They are stealing our evidence from us," defense lawyer Jacques Schiffer said. Schiffer said earlier that files were stolen from his hotel room.

The prosecution has repeatedly denied the "spying" charges, renewed by the defense at it continued cross-examination of Edward Partin.

Partin testified last week that Hoffa told him of alleged attempts to fix the conspiracy trial jury.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

A storm centering eastward across southern Canada trailed a weak cold front across the Pacific-Northwest and intermountain regions during the past 24 hours. This weak front moved over southern Idaho during the night producing overcast skies and very light amounts of snowfall. Precipitation storm totals were less than .05 of an inch over Magic Valley. The storm center currently is located over northern Manitoba with a trailing cold front extending southward through extreme western North Dakota, central Wyoming, northwest Utah into southern Nevada.

Decreasing cloudiness and clearing weather is working across our valley sections from the west. Strong gusty westerly winds today will give way to quieter wind conditions tonight and Wednesday. Colder air brought in behind this weak storm front coupled with clearing skies will permit temperatures down to below normal readings tonight and Wednesday. High temperatures today will reach the upper 20s to mid 30s and by tomorrow afternoon will stay from three to six degrees lower than the marks set today.

Nightime minimums will show the greatest effect of this cooler air with readings from -10 to -18 over Camas prairie and in the teens to sub-teens over Magic Valley tonight.

The outlook for Thursday indicates some temperature moderation with increasing high cloudiness heralding the approach of the next Pacific low pressure disturbance. However, the storm track is expected to remain well to the north of agricultural valley areas.

Beatles Guarded By Huge Force

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP) — Heavy details of policemen and detectives today gave the Beatles protection similar to the security accorded the President of the United States on his visits to New York.

Barricades were erected around the Hotel Plaza where the mop-haired British rock 'n' roll quartet spent the night following a frenzied reception from bobby soxers and local disc jockeys.

A heavy police guard mounted an overnight watch on the 19th floor of the hotel where the singers sought refuge in their suites.

One reporter said he had to go through three security checks before he was permitted to talk to one of the Beatles, who told him to leave.

PRINCE SCORES U. S.

SIEM REAP, Cambodia, Feb. 11 (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk launched a bitter tirade against the United States today, and accused the United States of aiding subversive elements in Cambodia and charged Americans "are responsible for South Vietnamese air attacks on Cambodians."

Dutch Royal Love Affair Stirs Talk

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Feb. 11 (AP) — The Dutch parliament today took up the controversial engagement of Princess Irene to Spanish Prince Hugo Carlos de Bourbon-Parma.

Vigorous debate was expected in parliament on Premier Victor Marijnen's letter formally notifying the lower house of the princess' plans to marry the 33-year-old Roman Catholic nobleman.

The blonde, 24-year-old princess has announced her decision to renounce all rights to the Dutch throne in order to marry Hugo. Irene is second in line behind her sister, Beatrix, 26, for the throne occupied by their mother, Queen Juliana.

Government handling of the romance has come under fire from members of parliament and large segments of the press.

Princess Irene precipitated a government crisis late last month when she announced her engagement to Catholic Hugo. The first such conversion in the royal family in more than 400 years, the crisis was heightened by the subsequent disclosure of her plans to marry Prince Carlos, whose family has aspirations to the vacant Spanish throne. Prince Carlos' chances of attaining the throne are regarded as slight but it would be considered improper for a prospective Dutch queen to be married to someone with political ambitions in another country.

personnel, probate judges and others, acquire more knowledge and understanding of these problems through association with the staff of the centers.

In response to repeated questions regarding federal controls which might be placed on the health units, Dr. Marshall pointed out that state local facilities are available, the only federal money involved would be those which are presently used by the health department for the public health, education and welfare programs.

The doctors present, as well as the Rev. Warren Howell and Boyd Lowe, guidance director of Twin Falls public schools, all urged those present to consider the human values which are presently often wasted due to the lack of any place for the social agencies to refer these people for help.

Dr. Cornell pointed out that those who oppose federal controls must take the necessary action themselves, to solve these problems, or a vacuum is created which has to be filled by other means.

The difficult problem of acceptance by the community following hospitalization at a mental hospital would be eliminated in many cases by local treatment, Mrs. Claude Detweiler pointed out. She also noted the considerable increase in mental disturbance in the United States and the increasing awareness of the need for local facilities.

Lewiston and Pocatello now have such services in addition to Ada county. Jack Gardner, director of the mental health division of the department of public health, stated that Bonneville, Valley and Latah counties expect to submit requests for aid in providing this type of service for their communities.

Dr. Jonathan Burley, declared that one out of every five people will have a crisis which will require treatment, sometime during their lifetime, and the fact that more than half the people seeing physicians have a real illness, while the other half need counseling services, was brought out.

Dr. Marshall outlined the makeup of the executive board which would be responsible for the clinic. It would be appointed, he said, by the county commissioners and the southcentral mental health director, and would be composed of people in the community interested in the problem.

In Ada county, the executive group included ministers, attorneys, physicians, county commissioners, school guidance personnel and lay people. They serve three-year terms and appointments of replacements are made by the council.

with the rest of the economic situation in which agriculture is placed and to which we have a relationship that is indivisible."

Newsom said that for years American industry has sold its products on the domestic market at higher prices than received in foreign trade. "The National Grange believes that most of American farm income should come from the primary American market, from those who use these products in America, and that the price received for these products should be reasonably related to the prices or wages now received by other segments of our economy for the same factors of production."

Shuman said the Farm Bureau supports legislation to:

1. Repeal existing wheat allotment, marketing, quota and certificate programs.

2. Set support price for wheat at about 50 per cent of parity (or $1.30 a bushel now) with premiums and discounts for market demands and quality.

3. Place wheat and feed grains on a comparable basis.

4. Prohibit the Commodity Credit corporation from offering its stocks less than 115 per cent of the applicable support price.

5. Authorize contracts for voluntary retirement of crop land.

Athena Shot Goes Awry, Falls Short

GREEN RIVER, Utah, Feb. 11 (AP) — The air force returned its Athena missile test program to the drawing boards today following an initial firing in which parts of the eight-ton rocket made non-scheduled landings in southwestern Colorado.

No one was hurt in the abortive flight and there was no property damage. There were some red faces and a public apology.

Unofficially, air force officials were confident the bugs could be ironed out of the slender Athena and the $6 million dollar test program would be successful.

They have 76 more planned firings to prove it. The next blastoff is expected to be held early in March.

The Athena, nicknamed the "flying junkpile," roared away from one of three launch pads set up near this central Utah community yesterday. The scheduled impact area for the instrumented payload was 450 miles away in New Mexico's White Sands missile range.

The first two stages of the rocket, the only one used in lifting the missile into the sky, dropped to Earth in the Moab area 45 miles south of the blastoff site as planned. The other two, including the payload cone, headed for the "four corners" of New Mexico, Colorado, Utah and Arizona.

An inflight malfunction occurred and pieces plummeted to Earth in the Durango area. That was 150 miles short of the impact goal at White Sands and an estimated 40 miles off course."

Cause of the malfunction was not disclosed.

BREAST SIZE AFTER CHILDBIRTH

Q. After my first child was born my breasts decreased in size and firmness. Is there any way to restore them to normal?

A. A reduction in breast size and firmness is not uncommon following childbirth. Why it occurs isn't known and there is no effective treatment. Although the breasts can not be permanently altered, certain exercises do help. For example, the chest muscles can be developed by performing push-ups, thus adding bulk to the chest. This gives an adequate brassiere, is responsible for the "bosomy" appearance of some women athletes such as circus performers, who actually may have very small breasts.

Pilot Goofs, Plane Lands Wrong Port

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 11 (UPI)—Passengers of the small, private airport stood in astonishment as the pilot of an airliner gracefully taxied to a halt then screeched to a halt with a frantic grinding of brakes.

They knew what the copilot of the Delta airlines Convair 880, en route from Dallas to New Orleans with 58 persons aboard, had realized the second he saw the narrow runway—somebody had blundered.

It also became embarrassingly clear to copilot J. W. Woeber as his surroundings came into focus that he was the culprit.

While Pilot B. B. Barclay, 46, was busily engaged in monitoring instruments, Woeber had landed at Hawkins field, eight miles away from the new municipal airport. Hawkins field had served as the Jackson airport until it was closed last year to small jet traffic.

Woeber was able to stop the airliner 150 feet from the end of the runway.

It was just one of those things, explained an official of Delta, which happen sometimes with such situations. Last year, a four-engine Delta jet landed at Yazoo City by mistake, skidded off the runway and got stuck in the mud. The pilot said he thought he was landing at Hawkins field, still a commercial use at the time.

The passengers on the Delta jet yesterday were taken by bus to the new airport. The airliner, at the end of its cargo and passengers, met passengers there and the flight was continued.

"I was supposed to make a speech in New York," said one passenger, "but now I guess somebody else will have to make it."

"I'm going to demand some answers," said businessman John Alverson, Dallas. "Are they up there flying blind?"

Who? Me?

DALLAS, Feb. 11 (UPI)—Melvin Belli, chief defense attorney for Jack Ruby, accused killer of Lee Harvey Oswald, stood on the curb outside the Dallas courthouse and held out his lunch—sandwich, boiled egg and milk—on the top of a white automobile.

Then, turning to a crowd of newsmen, he said: "I don't know what makes you think I'm flamboyant."

U.S. Faults Are Domestic, Not Foreign

CORVALLIS, Feb. 11 (UPI)—This country's worst problems are not foreign but domestic issues, news commentator Howard K. Smith said Monday.

He told 4,000 students at an Oregon State university convocation that crime, unemployment, poverty and equal rights are problems that must be solved before they drag the nation down.

Smith said the United States and other nations feel safe from global war. That explains the recent breakdown of coalitions throughout the world, he said.

He blamed congress for allowing domestic problems to grow.

"Congress not only is doing nothing, but is not doing what the American people want," he said.

Smith also said President Johnson was strong in an area where inexperience hurt President Kennedy. That is in dealing with congress. Smith called Johnson "the greatest manipulator of congress ever."

Twin Falls Supplies Silver Dollars for Missouri Stunt

The Warrensburg, Mo., Chamber of Commerce has arranged with the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company and the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce for shipment of 400 silver dollars to them to be used for a publicity scheme they have planned.

Ivan B. Skinner, vice-president of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company, said there are not too many silver dollars in circulation in the Missouri area, so it was necessary for them to get the silver dollars from some place they are in abundance, which happened to be Twin Falls.

Watusis Are Moved to Prevent Clash

KAMPALA, Uganda, Feb. 11 (UPI)—The government of Uganda is moving 10,000 Watusi refugees away from its border with Rwanda to a valley in the interior to prevent new outbreaks of violence along the border, according to informed sources.

Refugee Watusi warriors in Uganda were believed preparing a desperate attempt to invade their former homeland at the prompting of Watusi King Kigeri and regain the feudal power they held for centuries over the Bahutu tribe. Some Bahutu tribesmen opposed to Rwanda's Bahutu - dominated republican government were said to be helping them.

An estimated 19,000 of the tall, majestic Watusis and some Bahutus fled Rwanda when Bahutu leaders ousted the Watusi monarchy between 1959 and 1962, the year Rwanda became independent from Belgium. Some of the refugees went north to Uganda and others fled south into Burundi.

According to reports pieced together in Uganda, the Watusi refugees made two unsuccessful invasion attempts in late December which touched off savage reprisals by Rwanda authorities.

Steel Firms Indicted for Rigging Bids

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 11 (UPI)—U.S. Steel corporation and five other steel firms have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of rigging bids in violation of anti-trust laws.

The indictments, returned here yesterday, charged the steel fabricating firms with conspiring from 1949 to 1961 to divide the structural steel market among themselves to set prices and exclude other competition. The five other firms are located in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The firms, the indictment said, do the major part of the structural steel business in Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The companies did a total of 14 million dollars per year in sales in the four states.

The firms named were United States Steel corporation, Paper, Calmenson and company, St. Paul Foundry and Manufacturing company, St. Paul Structural Steel company, Crown Iron Works company, and the Hustad company.

FOR THE MAN WHO HAS EVERYTHING (well, almost)

Ever feel like getting away from it all and heading for the back country? It's the easiest thing in the world in a "Jeep" Gladiator with a camper unit. Just pack up your gear for hunting, fishing, skiing, birdwatching, rock hunting or whatever your pleasure may be.

No need to worry about sleeping accommodations, either. They're right with you wherever you go to keep you snug, warm, dry and comfortable regardless of the weather.

And because it's attached to a "Jeep" Gladiator, you can go wherever you like . . . places which might previously have been accessible only on foot or on horseback. The unit is removable, too. Whenever you require a workhorse of a pickup truck with a large bed and extra load carrying capacity, you have it.

Sound exciting? It is! It's available in either 2- or 4-wheel drive; in 7- or 8-foot length. Deluxe or standard. Why not see your "Jeep" dealer today and have a look at the Gladiator with attached camper unit. Maybe you can become the man who has everything. (Well, almost.)

It's true, and has been since we started in 1908. And since it's true, we have become pretty good experts on the subject. Because good earth is what makes things grow around here, and this economy of Magic Valley is based on agriculture, we have to know quite a bit about the earth out of which we all derive our existence, whether it grows spuds, beets, livestock, or seeds. Money Well Spent

Many organizations go through the motions of electing a treasurer because that office is specified in the bylaws. An exception is the Twentieth Century club, reputed to be the oldest club for women in Idaho. Members of the club called attention to their unusual financial status last week when they approved two donations, one of $10,000 to the civic auditorium-convention center fund and the other of $5,000 to the YWCA-YMCA.

That's a lot of money for a social organization to contribute to community projects, but the Twentieth Century club didn't exhaust its treasury. Actually, the big contributions came from the club's building fund, which started years ago when members thought it would be nice to have their own building. If the club decides again to pursue the original goal, it won't have to start all over again for $8,000 remains in the building fund.

The Twentieth Century club has not tapped its building fund before, but it hasn't been unresponsive to community needs or wants, either. Every year, club members approve donations to all the usual campaigns and fund drives. These contributions normally come from the club's treasury, maintained by some 200 dues-paying members.

In addition, the Twentieth Century club has been generous in its aid to community services and establishments. When shelves were needed in the public library, the Twentieth Century club provided them. And down through the years, the club has had its own projects which have resulted in drinking fountains and fireplaces in local parks, for example. One of the latest was to provide needed foot bridges at the apartment development on Addison avenue east for senior citizens.

Although the club has shown no hesitancy in undertaking such work, it has had to contend for years with various plans advanced for tapping the building fund. Some have been almost outright raids, but members steadfastly have rejected all proposals.

It remained for what members thought were worthwhile projects to induce the donation of $15,000 from the building fund. Perhaps other suggestions will be made for spending the remaining $8,000, but club members can be expected to withhold their approval unless the project is clearly worthwhile and of general benefit to the entire community.

It was significant that the Twentieth Century club directed its donations to the civic auditorium fund and the new YMCA-YWCA building. These are projects designed to improve and strengthen the community.

In its action, the Twentieth Century club set a standard that will serve as an example for other organizations, both men's and women's, for years to come. Perhaps the club has flashed the spark that will induce other social organizations to take a greater interest in the welfare of the community.

HE GOT ACTION

Sometimes there's just no substitute for the direct approach. It got action for Edward Streigel, president of Gem State Utilities company, which also operates the Richfield phone company. Mr. Streigel fed up with red tape and air force delays in paying for communications installed at the Titan missile base, merely pulled the plug on communications for an hour. He got action a-plenty, and fast.

Within a week, the air force announced it was paying $41,373.03. Here's a major victory achieved by directness after months of requests and letters brought no results. Anyone who has ever bumped his head against bureaucratic red tape will cheer for Mr. Streigel. But perhaps it might be best to hold off on the cheers for awhile.

In choking up his $41,000 victory, Mr. Streigel ran afoul of regulations. It remains to be seen if he will become ensnarled even more in red tape as a result.

In cutting off communications to the missile complex, Mr. Streigel broke the rules which apply to utilities. If you provide utility service, you just can't go around pulling plugs willy-nilly over something as simple as a mere bill for $41,373.03. The courts are provided for such course, you know. It's to be hoped Mr. Streigel sticks to the direct approach in the report requested by the public utilities commission. He should leave out all the fancy words, merely report that the air force has refused payment for months and he took the most direct action to collect. Period.

It's not as if his action endangered the nation. It didn't, because the missile complex had a standby system of communications that took over as soon as he pulled the plugs. Undoubtedly it should up an assortment of air force types and bureaucrats, but the public welfare wasn't at stake.

Perhaps other government creditors can benefit from the example.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 — Although public opinion polls are always suspect, I should like to believe in the authenticity of that Gallup job which says 87 per cent of Americans favor a law requiring a police permit for buying a gun. If Gallup is right, the country just might be growing up at last.

In this house, there is something particularly refreshing about the poll's breakdown. It shows that this 78-per-cent figure includes 71 per cent of the country's males and 85 per cent of the women. Guns, of course, are biased by men and it is gratifying to know that those who would be most concerned are willing to submit to licencing.

• • •

DO NOT MAKE A MAN—This is in contradiction to some of the mail. I've been getting which somehow implies that no man with hair on his chest would suggest any regulation of the sale of firearms. I demur. Owning a gun does not automatically confer masculinity upon a male, any more than wearing pants does. In any event, it is hard to understand why any citizen of responsibility could oppose a law that might keep a gun out of a killer's hands — a lunatic's.

People keep harping on the second amendment to the Constitution in arguing against the bill now in congress to regulate the mail order business. It is true the amendment states that "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed," but the present bill suggests not infringement but merely regulation of that right. And, after all, the citizen is not permitted to own even the smallest nuclear weapon.

• • •

FIGURES PROVE CASE—To be sure, the federal government cannot ban sales of guns over-the-counter—and that perhaps is too bad. The states must grapple with that problem. But there is nothing in the Constitution which says congress may not invoke its power over interstate commerce to regulate the flow of firearms across state lines. Congress still has the right to impose taxes in connection with the registration of guns. We register automobiles and, in some cases, even bicycles—why not lethal weapons?

There are those who say no firearms law would be effective, and they point to the homicide rates in cities which do regulate the purchase of guns in an attempt to prove their negative response. All right. During 1962 Chicago had a homicide rate of 7.6 per 100,000 general population, and New York's was 5.4. Dallas, which has no regulations, had a rate of 17.4.

• • •

NO OTHER PURPOSE—Clearly, then, something can be done at least to reduce the probability of a lunatic's obtaining a gun that is designed to kill; it has no other purpose. Surely it makes sense to control the sale and purchase of such a single-purpose weapon.

No one subscribes to a law which would require registration of every firearm sold in the United States, nor to the prohibition of interstate gun sales, nor to restrictions of the importation of guns from abroad. Such a law would only protect the responsible citizen; hopefully it would confound or at least seriously inconvenience the criminal, the lunatic and the showoff.

Views of Others

FOR THE FARMER . . .

The recurring struggle over the years between various farm organizations theoretically concerned with the farmers welfare should once again point up our dependency over the economic condition of rural Wisconsin.

It is not our purpose to evaluate here the merits of the programs proferred by the various farm groups, for the farm segment of our population has been a troublesome spot for years. And more educated, more experienced and better heads than ours have applied themselves to no avail to this problem.

However, we do take strong issue with those who protect the farmers right to organize and his right to use whatever legal and moral means are at hand to gain what he believes to be his just deserts.

Labor is organized; medicine is organized; law is organized; journalism is organized; education is organized; manufacturing is organized; tavern keeping is organized. By what stretch of the imagination can we object to the farmer being organized!

And why are these various other groups organized? Oh, for professional reasons and for the raising of standards, to be sure, but basically for individual understandably and justifiably selfish purpose of receiving more for service or commodity. Why not the farmer?

You say organizing is alright, but not to the point of withholding milk, beef, corn, etc. This is the only real weapon in the farmers' arsenal! Everyone else can withhold their labor or service, but an exception should be made in the case of the farmer. It appears.

This does not strike us as consistent thinking and we suspect that in many quarters it is pursued knowing that it results in inexpensive dairy products so that the big money can be spent on frills and luxuries.

We are for the farmer in this and we are for anything that is legal and moral by which he can obtain greater prosperity. The trend away from the farm and away from rural Wisconsin should arouse the most complacent—if not for the farmer, then for himself!—Marion (Wis.) Advertiser.

CONSIDER THE NONSMOKER

No fair-minded person would deny the individual his right to smoke if he chooses.

But while the smoker's freedom to puff is protected, what about the non-smoker who finds himself suffocated by other peoples' pipe, cigar and cigarette fumes?

In the old, gracious days when ladies didn't smoke at all and no gentleman would kindle tobacco without asking leave are gone forever. So are most of the restrictions on smoking in public places.

Many a restaurant meal has been ruined because some thoughtless person at a nearby table lighted up a foul-smelling stogie.

Smoking is permitted on buses, trains and planes, in motion pictures, hotel lobbies, bars, many meeting places and auditoriums, in offices and clubs.

Most public facilities now cater to the smoker. The poor fellow who dislikes the smell of tobacco fumes or is trying to break the habit has no refuge.

Yet the air in a smoky room is not only unpleasant and annoying to the nonsmoker—it is polluted.

The only way to safeguard the freedom of both smokers and nonsmokers is to set aside, by law, special areas for smokers.

Where separate quarters are not feasible it would seem only fair to ask the puffers to desist, smoke in a washroom or stick their heads out a window.

Smoking is not permitted in movie theaters (fire regulations) and even the most rabid tobacco addicts seem to be able to adjust to that.—The Province (Vancouver, B.C.)

PAYING AS YOU GO

Mayor S. Eddie Pedersen's announcement that the city of Twin Falls will redeem $425,000 in tax anticipated notes reflects a commendable determination to get the city back on a pay-as-you-go basis.

It will not be easy. Some scrimping the next two years will be necessary. But Pocatello did it when the new commission-manager form of government took over to set a precedent.

ANY PRESCRIBED WAY?

Dear Sir:

After I'd taken pains to remove the old license plate from my car and then put the new one on, I started noticing all sorts of car owners who weren't that fussy. I've seen pickup trucks with the new plates wired over the top of the old ones. I've seen passenger cars with the new license plate just dangling with most of the old plate visible.

Pots, is there any prescribed way to affix a new license plate to a car? Or does anything go just so long as the car and plate don't part company?

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: If you're looking for a new status symbol, why not be the first in your neighborhood to own a live buffalo? You can buy one from the U.S. department of interior for 3.300 buffalo nickels — $165.

St. Valentine's day originally was for the birds. It is celebrated on Feb. 14, because that is the time when doves begin to pair. Americans this year are expected to send some 480 million valentines.

Fire, man's greatest friend against the cold, is also one of his most tragic foes. Fires last year cost nearly 12,000 U. S. lives.

America has more stockholders than union members. Women outnumber men among the 17 million who own shares in industry—and housewives make up the biggest single occupational group.

A government bureau reports that the average man's poster covers 179.4 square inches and exerts an average pressure of .92 pounds for each square inch.

Sound advice: "The education of teen-agers would be insure if parents would pull a few wires: television, telephone and ignition"—Catholic Digest.

The high cost of living has caught up with cats and dogs. Some of the nation's 22,000 veterinarians charge $5 for an office visit and $10 for a home call. A major operation plus convalescent care for a pet can cost $1,000 or more.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 — I'll be were able and willing to speak frankly, a figure still on the world stage could utter some home truths about the de Gaulle neutrality ploy.

Failing in health, his hold on his country weakened. Prime Minister Nehru saw his own dream for neutrality for India mocked. More than a decade ago he was saying the same things about Red China that President de Gaulle said in his recent press conference.

You had to recognize that the communists were in control of the mainland. They had their own internal problems which would preoccupy them for a long time to come. To bring them into the world family through diplomatic recognition, trade and admission to the United Nations would temper their hostility.

That was India's line expounded by Nehru and his one-time adjunct, V. K. Krishna Menon. It was Nehru's reason, the rivalry with Pakistan and personal antipathy to one side, for indignantly rejecting John Foster Dulles' appeals to join up with the West.

India's reward for repeatedly championing China was soon foreshadowed. The Red Chinese took over Tibet and the harried Dali Lama narrowly missed capture by escaping over the Indian border. With this ruthless extension the military power of Red China was an ominous cloud suspended over the Indian subcontinent.

The reward proper came when the Chinese attacked in October, 1962. The attack had been prepared thoroughly. A network of roads had been built, almost certainly with extensive use of slave labor, through high mountain passes considered almost impenetrable.

These no longer could be any illusion about Peking's intention. The Indian people rallied in patriotic fury. Britain and America sent military aid with promises of more to come and so did the Soviet Union. The assault was blunted before it spilled out onto the plains of Assam.

But this was not the end of the story, as reports from India now make clear. The Chinese still hold from 12,000 to 14,000 square miles of Indian territory in the area of Ladakh. That is not, however, the real menace. In the northeast, an estimated 150,000 Chinese troops are stationed on the Indian frontier. They have ample supplies for an invasion. Many more roads have been built through what was impassable terrain and transport is greatly improved. This is, in short, a dagger pointed at the vulnerable population centers to the south in the tiny two little states of Sikkim and Bhutan—a pawns.

The Indian government is divided between those who believe another Chinese attack is coming in the near future and the contrary view that sees no invasion attempt in the foreseeable future. The latter have a strong logic on their side—why should the Chinese attack when the threat alone achieves results?

In India there is deep discontent over stiff new taxes to pay military costs that had been comparatively minor under the neutrality policy. Inflationary price rises feed the unrest and the deep disillusion over the consequences of past errors in judgment.

What better way to undermine the Indian effort to develop a modern industrialized state by democratic means? The success of the Indian experiment, as opposed to the ruthless dictatorship of Red China, has always been held in the West as vital to the future of Asia. China's strategy is to disrupt and destroy that experiment. A final irony is that Peking is now playing up to Pakistan which spurned friendship and joined the ill-fated Southeast Asia Treaty organization to receive substantial American military help.

After all the grevious errors the West has committed since the Indo-China settlement of 1954 it may be that a face-saving "neutralization" is the only way out of the war in Viet Nam on which the United States has staked so much. But there should be no delusion about how high the cost will be.

When he came into the presidency in 1953, General Eisenhower inherited a war in Korea the United States could not win and could not afford to seem to lose. Eisenhower finally accepted the expedient of partition and militarized dividing line. Unfortunately in the war President Johnson has inherited that and expedient has been tried in vain.

Interpreting the News

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP) — The sh ar embarrassment of power from which this country suffers was reflected best, perhaps, in congress as Fidel Castro cut off most of the water supply of the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo in Cuba.

One member after another got up to say this country must do something, while being vague on what. Not Sen. Barry Goldwater, top in New Hampshire campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

He had a very simple solution: Send in the marines to turn on the water. But the answer isn't quite that simple, as President Johnson decided later.

While this country has the power to crush Cuba in a minute, it first has to worry about a couple of other things, either of which, if it happened, might do more damage than Castro:

1. It must be careful how it throws its power around at a time when it is preaching reasonable settlements, trying to influence small and backward nations and defending their right to self-determination.

2. It doesn't know what Russia would do if this country took military action against Castro and Russia hoped to his defense, what started out as a minor foray would be a world war.

Russia, the other big master power, has exactly the same embarrassment with its client Castro, never knowing what to expect from this country if it gets aggressive.

Thus the two giants, clothed in more power than any nations in history, are in a dreadful kind of stand-off. A war between them would destroy both, and aggression by either would unhinge the world.

Nobody understands this embarrassed immobility of the giants better than French President Charles de Gaulle. He feels free to butt in on all over talking of French prestige while looking for business for French traders.

And certainly Castro and others, like Panama, understand it. Both Cuba and Panama have defied the United States but in such a way—by arguing legality—as to have some plausibility and win sympathy.

Panama protests the American-Panama treaty of 1903 which gave this country a right to stay in Panama's Canal zone forever, a treaty arranged when Panama was even weaker and more helpless than it is now.

Castro is irked by another 1903 treaty, this one American-Cuban, arranged when Cuba was far weaker than now. It gives the United States the right to the Guantanamo naval base as long as it wants to stay there.

Castro, instead of banging head-on into this country over the base, has tackled it obliquely, since Russia undoubtedly wouldn't help him try to run the United States out.

That 1903 treaty doesn't give Americans at the base the right to Cuban water. But long ago a private company contracted to supply the base with water from a Cuban river:

When Castro took over Cuba, he took over the company and has kept on selling the base the water for $14,000 a month.

The U. S. coast guard seized four Cuban fishing vessels off the Florida coast, charged they were operating within American territorial waters and turned them and their crews over to Florida authorities.

Nine crewmen were released for various reasons, 29 were held. Castro argued they had not been seized in American waters but in intercontinental waters.

So he announced:

The Guantanamo water supply from Cuba would be shut off until the rest of the crewmen were released.

The United States can supply water to the base by its own devices without any water taken inside Cuba. But this means military

Q—Do changes of the moon adversely affect a person's mental state?

A—It has long been thought that phases of the moon affected people in some mysterious way just as it was long thought that the world was flat. This belief about the moon is seen in the derivation of the word "lunatic" from the Latin luna, moon. Although some people still believe in such a relationship, there is no evidence for it.

Q—Can the frequent use of a sun lamp cause permanent damage to the skin?

A—The sun lamp gives off ultraviolet irradiation and can produce the same damage to the skin as direct sunlight. Whether damage is permanent (causes scarring) depends on the intensity and duration of the exposure.

MORE CHANGES IN ACARD BIDS

The first break-through from the early rule of opening the higher of two four card suits was well illustrated in yesterday's article. It is just silly to open anything but a club with four clubs and three spades. The next step came when players found that it usually paid to open a club with four clubs and four hearts or a diamond with diamonds and four spades.

My 1935 book, "The Four Aces System" brought this out for the first time and today 90 per cent of top players will always open the lower four card suit, provided the suits are not touching.

North can open a diamond or a spade or anything his little heart desires with today's hand. The final contract will be three no-trump and there will be no trouble making it. Anyone who has ever tried to solve something other than the spade opening declarer probably would find a way to make nine tricks.

West's seven of clubs opening really set things up for South. East took the ace and returned a club to his partner's king. West continued with the ten of clubs and South overtook dummy's jack with his queen.

The ten of diamonds was covered by the jack, queen and king and East returned the seven of diamonds to West's ace and the nine of hearts discarded by declarer.

He entered his hand with the king of spades and played his last club. West had to let a heart go and dummy and East also. East still had a high diamond and a heart stopper. When the ace and king of spades were cashed East had to unguard his queen of hearts and South wound up making an overtrick.

Guman Leads Boise Area Lawmen on Wild Chase

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—A 20-year-old gunman who seized a hostage, eluded a massive police dragnet in north Boise Monday night, then stole a souped-up automobile and fled into Oregon was captured an hour later near Huntington, Ore., police said.

The man, identified as Don Cantrell, was captured near the Huntington village limits after police shot out his tires and ridded his gas tank.

Authorities said Cantrell jumped from the stolen auto and ran after he was forced off interstate 80N but police officers ran him down.

During the pursuit, which involved law enforcement officers throughout southwestern Idaho and eastern Oregon, Cantrell ran several roadblocks and was shot at several times.

Boise police began looking for Cantrell Monday morning when an apartment house owner in the north end of town called asking assistance in evicting him.

She told detectives she thought Cantrell had a pistol.

Officers spotted Cantrell in the Grand Central store Monday night but he grabbed 16-year-old Duane Duncan, Ontario, Ore., a Boise junior college student, and fled before they could take him into custody.

Police said Cantrell trained a pistol on Duncan and left the store.

They walked through the north end of town for a distance estimated by Duncan at more than five miles.

During this time, the pair was spotted by several motorists, and police officers, but nothing could be done to apprehend Cantrell, because he kept the pistol trained on Duncan.

The two finally were picked up by two young Emmett motorists on highway 44 near the state highway department building.

After Cantrell and Duncan were in the car, Cantrell ordered the two Emmett youths and Duncan out, then headed west on highway 44 at high speed.

The Emmett youths were identified by police as Charlie Mark Edwards and Raymond Shelby Carpenter, both in their early 20s.

Duncan was questioned at the Boise police station and then returned to the BJC campus.

Police said Duncan appeared to be in good shape and was unharmed.

Witnesses at Ontario said Cantrell sped through a roadblock at about 110 miles an hour. Police said they fired at the car with a submachinegun and a shotgun.

Police counted 41 bullet strikes on the left side of the 1955 automobile, one in the gas tank, two in the trunk, one in the left rear tire, four in the rear window, two in the windshield, and one in the dashboard. They said no bullets struck Cantrell.

Cantrell was held in the Ontario city jail Monday night. No charge had been filed early Tuesday.

Solons Favor Gem Special Session Plan

BY KEN ROBISON

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—A sampling of the opinion of Idaho legislators shows that a majority of three to one would favor a special session to consider a proposal for state water development—if a feasible plan is offered.

Only eight of 33 answering a questionnaire, however, were ready to commit themselves to support of the proposal itself.

Another 15 said they need more information, would want to study the proposal further, believe it shows promise, or are interested.

Nearly one-third, ten of the lawmakers—six Democrats and four Republicans—said they are opposed to the idea or consider it unnecessary.

Approval by two-thirds of the members of both houses would be necessary to approve constitutional changes proposed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie — one to give the state authority to issue revenue bonds for dam-building, and the other to create a new constitutional agency.

Smylie said he will soon name a special committee of engineering and legal talent to draft a plan. He said if a strong majority of legislators indicate approval, he would call a one or two-day special session.

Constitutional changes, after action by the legislature, must be approved by voters at the regular election. Thus with a special session it could be voted on this fall. Otherwise a decision would wait until 1966.

Smylie maintains speed is essential to harness Idaho water and protect it from danger of diversion to water-short areas.

Twenty-four of the lawmakers (15 Republicans and nine Democrats) said they would favor a special session if a feasible plan is offered. Four Republicans and four Democrats said they wouldn't and one Democrat said he would favor it if it is necessary.

Some of the lawmakers indicated that they thought that under a bond proposal the state would have to assume an obligation to pay off the bonds.

But Smylie said he is thinking of revenue bonds rather than general obligation bonds. He said they would be paid off over a period of years with returns from the projects, including irrigation use and power, and the state would incur no obligation.

Some of the comments on the proposal:

Sen. Don C. Loveland, R., Cassia: "The right type of plan I would support. Our people have a real interest in water."

Rep. T. F. Terrell, D., Bannock: "I have an open mind and am still waiting to consider a firm proposal."

Rep. William Lanting, R., Twin Falls: "It suggests promise. Let's take a good look at it."

Rep. Fred Glenn, D., Adams: "I do not believe the state should be in the dam building business. The bureau of reclamation is doing a good job also of protecting our water."

Rep. Mark Hart, D., Franklin: "I would favor immediate action."

Rep. Ernest Permann, D., Power: "If the Snake river is a navigable river it will be under federal law. So the only place we can build dams would be on the smaller streams."

Rep. Max Rogers, R., Gem: "I don't think it will work."

Sen. J. Cecil Goodhue, D., Bingham: "No plan has been presented. Information I have from state and federal reclamation and water and power interests indicate that all available water is or in the planning stage of being utilized."

Rep. Fred Walton, D., Camas: "I do not think the proposal practical."

Sandberg said it might take most of the year to draft a suitable plan, and by that time the 1965 legislature would be in session. But he was among those who said he would favor a special session if a feasible plan is presented.

Rep. A. L. Willie, D., Clearwater, said if a special session is not called by the end of May, the proposal should wait until the regular session.

Rep. Harold Snow, R., Latah, assistant house floor leader in 1963, said he would have to be shown the urgency of a special session.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Authority to sell the lights and poles at Bravee field has been granted the state fish and game department by the Idaho board of examiners. Director John E. Woodworth said the lights will be sold to the highest bidder. He said the sale would be the first step in converting the ball park property to a fish and game department headquarters. Directors of the ball club sold the park to the state after the Pioneer league Boise Braves folded. Woodworth said a number of school districts have indicated an interest in the lights and it was considered better to sell them separately from the grandstand. He said there are 150 lights and eight poles, along with the wiring.

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—An 11-member subcommittee of the Idaho legislative council will meet in Boise Friday to determine the approach of a study of the sparsity factor of the school aid formula. The sparsity factor provides more funds per pupil to smaller districts. Myram Schlechte, council director, said considerable preliminary work on the study has already been done by his office. Rep. William Lanting, R., Twin Falls, house floor leader, heads the subcommittee. The other 10 lawmakers are members of the house and senate education committees.

CALDWELL, Feb. 11 (AP)—Authorities have stepped up their search for a young man and woman who took $750 from a Caldwell market Sunday night after determining that a couple picked up at Juntura, Ore., on Monday had nothing to do with the robbery. The man and woman were questioned by Malheur officers, but Caldwell police said they had talked to the same party and concluded they weren't involved. The man was being held at Vale on an Oregon charge of unlawful possession of firearms. The woman was released. The Mountain View market in Caldwell was robbed Sunday night by a man and woman wearing nylon stocking masks. A clerk, Joe Bulder, 17, said it appeared they carried guns concealed under their sweatshirts. He said he complied when ordered to put money from the cash registers into a bag. The bandits were last seen heading west toward Oregon in a green Chevrolet coupe.

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—A 63-year-old Boise man, E. M. Johnson, died Monday night in a local hospital after being struck by an auto in downtown Boise. Coroner E. D. Paris said, however, that doctors who examined Johnson said they did not believe he died of injuries received in the accident. He said an autopsy is planned to determine the exact cause of death. The driver of the car was identified as Steven W. Sunquist, 20, Boise.

CALDWELL, Feb. 11 (AP)—A defense motion seeking disqualification of a jury panel on grounds that persons of Mexican descent had been "systematically excluded" was denied Monday by a district court judge. Judge Edward J. Aschenbrenner ruled after a hearing that Wayne Fuller, court appointed attorney for Faustino Lopez, 29, had not presented prima facie evidence that persons of Mexican descent were "a class apart and are discriminated against in Canyon county." Fuller contended that no citizen of Mexican descent had served on a Canyon county jury for 10 years. He said that his client would therefore be denied the equal protection of the laws guarantee of the 14th amendment. Lopez is scheduled for trial Wednesday on a forgery charge, and Fuller said he might renew his motion at that time. Judge Aschenbrenner said he would grant the "benefit of a doubt" in selection of jurors for Lopez' trial.

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—The director of the Northwest Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service says farmers can get better prices for their crops if they adopt a "supply-management program." James B. Dyes, Washington, D. C., spoke at opening sessions of the annual meeting of the Idaho ASCS meeting in Boise Monday. The conference continues through Wednesday. Dyes told the 300 ACS workers attending that the farm market can go one of two ways. "Prices can decline further," he said, "or through cooperation farmers can get higher returns. But all this depends upon farmers themselves."

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—The petroleum retailers of greater Idaho wants member service station operators to stop giving trading stamps with gasoline purchases, E. Jerry Byington, Boise, president of the 200-member organization, said he has contacted dealers in Boise, Pocatello and Lewiston, suggesting that they consider the possibility of dropping trading stamps. He said most Boise area dealers have indicated they favor such action. "Trading stamps are just an expensive nuisance to service station operators and really don't draw any additional trade," Byington said. "Last year stamps cost me $1,200 so I stopped giving them and haven't noticed any drop in trade, just an increase in my net profit."

POCATELLO, Feb. 11 (AP)—A two-headed heifer calf born on the Gerald Hendricks ranch near Fort Hall died Sunday after surviving more than three days. The calf was given little chance to live when it was born Thursday. Although able to drink some milk, it was never able to stand. Its two heads were joined near the base of the skull.

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Directors of the Idaho Licensed Beverage association Monday approved proposed by-laws for a merger of their organization and the Idaho restaurant association. Goldwater Goes to Oregon, Nixon Busy Not Running

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater makes a campaign foray into Oregon today, and his supporters hope he'll draw larger crowds than those which greeted New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller there last week.

The Arizona senator, like Rockefeller an announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, speaks at a Lincoln day dinner in Portland's Memorial coliseum.

His backers say all 2,200 dinner seats have been sold out, with 9,000 free places in the hall to be opened when Goldwater speaks.

Rockefeller's largest crowds in Oregon last Thursday and Friday were an estimated 1,000 person each at Portland, Medford and Salem.

Rockefeller has conceded Goldwater holds an edge for Oregon May 15 Oregon primary.

Before coming to Oregon for the first leg of a threestate Far West swing—including California on Wednesday and Washington on Thursday—Goldwater criticized the civil rights bill passed by the house Monday.

Answering a question by a Negro college student in Thatcher, Ariz., Goldwater praised sections granting the attorney general new powers to deal with defiance to school integration, but added: "I don't think the rest of the package is going to accomplish much in fact it may cause more harm than good."

Goldwater said he hoped the controversial section banning discrimination in public accommodations "will be modified to the point where it can be enforced or dropped altogether."

A Republican presidential possibility, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, urged President Johnson to make a television address to the American people and "lay the facts on the line about what our Cuban policy is."

But Nixon, speaking at a news conference in Philadelphia, disagreed with Sen. Goldwater that said the present Cuban crisis "is not one that would justify the sending of the marines in and the using of that degree of force."

Nixon says he would accept a draft but is not campaigning actively for the nomination.

Meanwhile, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith continued her campaign for New Hampshire's March 10 GOP presidential primary.

Working her way south through the Granite state, Mrs. Smith said that as president she would be able to stand up to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. She called on him to show his peaceful intentions "by tearing down the Berlin wall."

Chamber at Burley Hears Two Speakers

BURLEY, Feb. 11—Chamber of Commerce members heard Lucio Arcenico, exchange student from Venezuela, South America, and Earl Haroldsen, southern district manager of Idaho Power company, Monday at the National hotel.

Arcenico compared school in the United States to those in his own country. He is making his home in Burley with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Heiner. Arriving in Burley last August unable to speak English, he spoke to members in English which he has learned in six months at the Burley high school.

Haroldsen spoke on the electrical industry. The first power plant was used for lighting street lights, only, he said. In 1887 the first power plant was built in Idaho at Hailey. The cost to the customer was $5 per month per lamp just during the hours from dusk to about 10 or 11 p.m. only, Haroldsen said.

The Idaho Power company was formed in 1916. The power use has grown in southern Idaho in the last few years with four Idaho Power industrial users in the Burley area.

Mrs. Fred Anderson, secretary, announced the reception preceding the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday will be held in the pro-shop at the west end of the new addition at the Ponderosa Inn and not in the executive suite 170.

Utah Bishop Talks at LDS Stake Parley

MALTA, Feb. 11—Bishop John H. Vandenburg, Salt Lake City, presided at the quarterly conference of the Raft River LDS stake Sunday at the Malta stakehouse.

Speaking on the importance of Relief society work, Bishop Vandenburg explained the purpose of the society is to purge out iniquity.

"The greatest sin in the world today is selfishness," he stated. "Covetousness, pride, lust, anger, gluttony, envy, sloth, stealing, carelessness, gossiping and other vices are all associated with and are by-products of selfishness."

Greed is transmitted into hate in the hearts of individuals, he added. Benefits of the fast day observance also were discussed by Bishop Vandenburg who stated the purpose is to increase faith in the Lord and a deep and abiding testimony in His work.

Money received from the fast observance is used for the poor.

"Our objective," he added, "is to make the members of the church honest and to help build up the kingdom of God on Earth and to try to bring into activity the inactive members of the church."

Mrs. Pingree, representing the Relief society general board, expressed appreciation for the growth of the organization and gratitude to all workers.

"We must set our goals and put first—things—first," she stated. "We are trapped in trivia. We must learn to weed out those things which are unimportant."

"Eternal progression should be the goal of every LDS member. Seek ye first the kingdom of God and all else will be added unto you," she stated.

She pointed out new members to the Relief society have great enthusiasm for the gospel as do new converts to the church.

Edwin H. Paskett, stake president, reported on progress and welfare of the stake. He said the home teaching program is moving forward successfully.

He urged members to pay their tithe and fast offering, attend sacrament meeting and men to attend priesthood quorum meetings.

Other speakers were Mrs. Grant Beyler, Orville Beecher, Harvey Wight, Orville Sears and Wallace Tracy.

The Raft River stake singing Mothers furnished special numbers with Mrs. H. E. King directing and Mrs. Brent Udy accompanying. Prayers were given by Jay Harper and Juan Tracy.

Mrs. Merlia Hamilton of the Primary association general board spoke during the afternoon session.

"Primary is an ally to the parents," she stated. "Never in the history of mankind has there been such a need to teach children of the Lord. With sin and evil rampant in the world, children need to be protected and given hearts of."

Bishop Vandenburg urged parents to show their love to their children by disciplining them.

Other afternoon speakers were Donald Chesley, Charles Warr, Mrs. Ivan Darrington, Francis Gunnel, Douglas Lind, Bert Tracy and Hilton Emery.

Children of the Raft River stake sang an original song composed by Mrs. Wells Hepworth. Marcine Nye was accompanist.

Special music was furnished by the stake Primary chorus with Mrs. Elbert Durfee directing and Mrs. Arley Chadon as organist.

Curtis Nelson, stake genealogical chairman, and his counselor, Elmo Ellison, and secretary, Mrs. Melbourne Barker, were released. Bishop Harold Tracy and Leslie Paskett were advanced to the office of elders in the Melchizedek priesthood. Prayers were given by Edward Holtman and Leonard Hall.

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Feb. 11 (AP)—Antara news agency said today a communist-ed union has defied hands-off orders by President Sukarno and seized six British-owned plantations covering 2 million acres in East Java.

The official agency said the Sarbupri plantation Workers union ran up the Red flag last week at the plantations, which produce rubber, coffee and cocoa.

Pope Saved Pius XII From Hitler

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Pope Paul VI saved Pope Pius XII from being kidnaped by Adolf Hitler during World war II, a nephew of the present Pope says.

Giovanni Battista Montini, the nephew, told of the incident in an article in Look magazine. Pope Paul then was serving the Vatican as substitute secretary of state.

Telling how the Pope used his "magnetic gifts of persuasion," Montini wrote:

"Hitler—increasingly angry at the Vatican's opposition to him decided to carry off the Pope to an unspecified place in Germany, where he would be unable to effectively continue his pontificate.

"Informed of this scheme, my uncle immediately summoned Baron Ernst von Weizsacker, the German envoy to the Holy See.

"Only the two men knew exactly what was said during the tense and crucial confrontation, but Hitler abandoned his plan to abduct the pontiff.

"Msgr. Antonio Travia, then my uncle's secretary, told me about this dramatic confrontation."

Many Have Silent Heart Troubles

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Several million American men are walking around with silent coronary artery disease, two heart specialists said today.

This means arteries carrying blood to the heart muscle have narrowed to narrow to a significant degree. This sets the stage for easy heart attacks, which occur when the blood flow becomes blocked.

Some men have even had fatal heart attacks with no pain or any other signs, said Dr. Master, New-York City, and Dr. Arthur Beller, Englewood, N. J.

They urged all men over age 40 to have annual checkups, including X rays, to detect signs of the artery disease.

The checkup also should include electrocardiograms taken after electrocardiograms taken during or immediately after exercise, such as two-step test or treadmill workout, the physicians told the New York State Medical society.

An electrocardiogram taken when a person is lying down can fail to show signs of the underlying artery disease, they said.

They cited reports that 40 to 50 per cent of electrocardiograms taken during rest of persons with angina pectoris—caused by narrowed arteries—looks quite normal. The angina patient gets pain on exertion or under emotional stress.

If silent disease is found, men can greatly improve their chances of escaping heart attacks by moderate changes in living habits, Dr. Master said.

EAGLE SCOUT AWARD was presented to Jerry Ruth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ruth, 1968 Falls avenue east. Sunday at special Scout service at the Twin Falls First Baptist church. Ethiopia and Somalia Fight On Borders

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Feb. 11 (AP) — Ethiopia and Somalia blamed each other for fierce weekend border crisis today and turned to the Organization for African Unity (OAU) and the United Nations for help.

Fighting between the two African neighbors has resulted in hundreds of casualties since Friday. Ethiopia said yesterday its troops had killed 207 Somalis and injured 492 others. Somalia claimed 25 Ethiopian dead.

The crisis showed no signs of easing despite appeals for calm from the OAU and U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

The dispute between the two countries stems from Somalia's claim to frontier lands inside the Ethiopian border. Somalia has made similar claims along its border with Kenya, causing deterioration of relations with the new Kenyan government.

Firemen's Ball Planned at Buhl

BUHL, Feb. 11—The 56th annual Buhl firemen's benefit ball will be held Friday at the American Legion hall in the Buhl public invited to attend.

Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. with the music to be furnished by the Teasley orchestra. Proceeds from the annual Valentine dance are used to build up a reserve of the Firemen's Relief association which provides financial assistance to firemen who become ill or disabled, according to Buhl Fire Chief Tony Kirkland.

The local department is comprised of the fire chief, two full-time firemen and 15 volunteer members. Newest members of the department are Steven Harp, a full-time employee, and Dean Baumont, volunteer fireman.

Here Are Main Provisions of House Civil Rights Bill, Passed on Monday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP) — Here are the main provisions of the house civil rights bill:

TITLE I
Voting

The attorney general would be empowered to request a three-judge court to hear cases charging denial of voting rights. An argument made for this provision was that cases are now heard by a single judge and delays of more than three years have resulted from their failure to act.

Registrars would be required to apply uniform qualification standards to white and Negro voters, and no voter could be disqualified for immaterial errors in qualification procedure.

A person with at least a sixth-grade education would be presumed to possess sufficient literacy to vote in any federal election.

All provisions apply only to federal elections.

TITLE II
Public Accommodations

All races would be entitled to equal services and facilities at certain places specifically mentioned, such as hotels, motels, restaurants, gasoline stations, theaters, and retail establishments that include eating facilities. In addition, coverage also would be extended to all public accommodations in which discrimination or segregation is supported by state action.

The attorney general would be authorized to bring a civil action seeking an injunction to halt any violations. No criminal penalties are provided, but a person continuing to violate a court order would be liable to contempt proceedings.

Public Facilities

The attorney general could bring suit to desegregate any public facilities owned, operated or managed by a state or local government. It is designed to cover such things as parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries.

In addition, the attorney general could intervene in any suit brought by a private party seeking equal protection under the law, as guaranteed by the 14th amendment to the constitution.

TITLE IV
Schools

The attorney general would be authorized to sue to compel school desegregation. Both under this and under the previous title, many conditions must be met for the filing of suits, including receipt of a written complaint and a determination that the individual is unable to bring the suit himself.

The commissioner of education would be authorized to grant funds to help school districts carry out desegregation plans. The help would have to be requested by the local school officials.

TITLE V
Commission

Extend the life of the civil rights commission four more years to Sept. 30, 1968, and grant it new powers to serve as a national clearing house for information on matters involving discrimination.

TITLE VI
Federal Funds

This would authorize federal agencies to take affirmative action to end segregation and other discriminatory practices in federally assisted programs. The action would be left to each agency to determine for itself and includes the power to cut off the funds. The course of action taken by each agency would have to be approved by the president.

TITLE VII
Employment

A federal employment opportunity commission would be created to investigate complaints because of race, religion, national origin or sex, by businesses or labor unions with 25 or more employes or members.

The commission would be empowered to seek voluntary compliance in cases in which it found discrimination but, voluntary compliance failing, could go into court and ask an enforceable order.

TITLE VIII
Statistics

The secretary of commerce would be directed to conduct a survey to compile registration and voting statistics by race, color and national origin, in areas specified by the civil rights commission.

TITLE IX
Courts

This would provide for an appeal from a federal court order returning a civil rights case to a state court.

TITLE X
Miscellaneous

Several technical details are wrapped up in this section, including authorization for funds to carry out the act and prevent any conflict between the act and existing laws.

Russia Is Plagued by Dust Bowls

MOSCOW, Feb. 11 (AP) — The dust bowls that plagued the United States in the 1930's have come to the Soviet Union, already beset by grain and meat shortages.

Agriculture Minister Ivan Volorchenko told the communist party central committee Monday that about three million acres of arable land are abandoned each year in the Soviet Union.

"Wind and water erosion are inflicting tremendous damage on agriculture," he told a committee meeting in the Kremlin. "We must take all measures for the restoration and preservation of the fertility of eroded soil.

"In our opinion, it is necessary to adopt a special law which would provide for the strict accountability of all departments, organizations, collective and state farms for preserving soil riches and for the sensible use of agricultural land."

Not all the three million acres abandoned annually are dust bowls.

"Huge areas are subjected to erosion, become overgrown with brush, are turned into swamps and are taken out of agricultural use," Volovchenko said.

While he did not say so, wind damage is high in the arid virgin lands of Kazakhstan and Siberia that Premier Khrushchev ordered plowed up to boost grain production.

There is not enough rainfall in these areas to provide a crop cover against the winds. This was the case in the dust bowls of the U. S. Southwest and High Plains three decades ago.

Thugess

DECATUR, Ga., Feb. 11 (AP) — A six-foot, 215-pound housewife who needed money to pay an overdue house note disguised herself with a dark cap, overcoat and black gloves and held up a finance company for $276 yesterday, police said.

Authorities said Mrs. Kate Whitlock, 32, paid the note shortly after the robbery and was arrested as she arrived at her home in this Atlanta suburb.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

4 STELLA

TUESDAY, Feb. 11—Born today, there is a certain duality in your nature that tends to make you a difficult person to know. You are positive, and inclined toward egocentricity in your work; yet you often seem to take the negative approach toward problems, and will usually go out of your way to give another in the same field of endeavor a helping hand along the road to success. These are aspects which are not generally seen in the same person, and, though they do not necessarily cause trouble, they may cause misunderstanding.

Determined to achieve your goal, whatever it may be, you are not one to listen to the advice of those who would see you at work in a different direction from the one you have chosen. Since you have good judgment and generally make right decisions, your insistence on your own way should not often mislead you.

Although you are not one to make an outward show of affection, you are loyal and true toward those you love, and you love deeply. It can only be hoped that you will choose a mate who does not need an open display of that love to be happy, for it is quite unlikely that you would be able to change in this regard.

Among those born on this date are: Thomas A. Edison, famed American inventor; William J. Levitt, real estate tycoon; Kim Stanley, actress.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Wednesday, Feb. 12

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) —You'll want a clear head to tackle this day's problems. If you handle things right, the road ahead leads to success.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) —Remember, a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. Don't exchange what you've got for something you know nothing about.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Guard your health. Use moderation in all things right now. Slow and steady wins the race.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Your own efforts may not pay off today as you anticipated, but if you are cooperative with others you can recoup your losses.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Better for Gemini to make no important changes at this time. Hold to routine for best results, especially on the domestic scene.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Take care that you don't give away trade secrets in your dealings with others. The competition has sharp ears!

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) —Routine is best for Leo today. Avoid over-exertion. Be patient and wait for the tide to turn in your favor.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Don't get your hopes on anything spectacular just now. Progress should continue to be steady and at a normal pace.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—No banner day for Libra, but a good, solid measure of progress should accrue by evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Past performances will count now. If you have been conscientious, you have nothing but good in store for the next few days.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Your advise may well be sought by those in difficulty just now. Avoid suggesting any measures you would not take yourself!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) —Where mechanical ability comes into play, Capricorn should move ahead at a rapid pace. Otherwise, all is normal.

Lower Teton Tentative Hearing Set

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., says a tentative date of March 4 has been set by the senate subcommittee on irrigation and reclamation for hearings on the Lower Teton project.

Church said he was assured by the chairman, Sen. Frank Moss, D., Utah, that the hearings could proceed, barring such factors as a prolonged debate on the civil rights bill.

"I have also been in touch with the bureau of reclamation and other agencies requesting they have final reports and witnesses available for that date," said Church.

A study urging authorization of the 52 million dollar project was submitted to congress 10 days ago by the bureau. It proposed development in two stages, the first to provide supplemental water on 114,000 acres of presently irrigated lands. The second stage would provide water for 37,000 acres of dry lands.

The initial construction plan calls for Fremont dam and reservoir and powerplant on the Teton river, a conveyance system and 40 ground water wells to supplement the reservoir capacity.

Area Newlyweds Feted at Open House Reception

SHOSHONE, Feb. 11 — The Women's Baptist Mission society was hostess for an open house reception in honor of the Rev. Paul Winkler and bride at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Adkins. The couple was married in the hometown of the bride's parents, Keyser, W. V., Dec. 31.

AFL Doing Well In Signing Grid "Future" Picks

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—The American Football League's "future book" is doing a brisk business, according to an AFL proclamation issued Monday. The league announced that 19 future draft picks have signed a year ago—have helped double the number signed a year ago—have agreed to terms with AFL clubs. The red shirts—AFL officials drafted in advance of the 1962 when they had a year of college eligibility left after their original classes were graduated—include Baylor quarterback Don Trull, Penn State center-linebacker Pete Liske, New Mexico halfback Preacher Pilot and Texas pass-catcher J. D. Roberson, all first-round selections.

Trull accepted the Houston Oilers' $50,000, three-year package over a bid by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National league.

Pilot and Simmons, all three NFL picks, signed with New York, Kansas City and Buffalo of the AFL.

The AFL's increasing preference for the American league by outbidding players who had considerable time to weigh the merits of various offers is another indication of our growing position of our growing strength and stability," commented AFL commissioner Joe Foss.

Foss Cliff came up with a larger crop of red shirts in Jim Pilot, Pittsburgh quarterback Ernie Borgheti and Bob Maznick, Georgia Tech quarterback Joe Auer, Mississippi halfback and Bill Freeman and Southwest Louisiana tackle Lowell Tuggle signed with the Oilers.

Houston also landed Mississippi guard Ken Dill and Texas A&M's Bailey Faulkner. The Oilers traded Pittsburgh for Scott Appleton, Faulkner's illustrious team mate, in the 1963 grab-bag.

Nick Pietrosante, Illinois' quarterback, and Bert Wilder, a tackle from North Carolina State, joined Liske in the New York Jets. Buffalo also signed Ohio State tackle Harrison Rosenthal. Oakland got Arizona State end Rex Mirich.

Thirteen other 1962 futures on the AFL's list of 59 still are unsatisfied, the league said.

The National league signed 12 of its 14 first round selectees in its 1963 draft while the AFL got only three of eight. Texas State back Tony Lorick of Iowa claimed by both Baltimore of the NFL and Oakland.

Lightweight Title Bout Is Approved

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP)—A title fight between lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz of Puerto Rico and Flash Elorde of the Philippines Feb. 15 at Manila was approved Monday by the World Boxing association.

The WBA last month refused to approve the fight as a "tune up" bout on grounds Ortiz had previously agreed to fight Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., April 1 in Puerto Rico.

"In deference to a request of the Philippine government, WBA approval has been granted to the fight," said Ed Lassman, WBA president.

Lassman said the fight is to be a charity performance for the United Nations fund in the Philippines.

"The promoters agreed to post a $12,500 bond with the WBA and to withhold $10,000 of the winner's purse to guarantee his fighting the No. 1 challenger, Lane," Lassman said. The bond has already been posted.

Elorde is the current junior lightweight champion.

Drake Drops Wichita, Cops League Lead

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 11 (AP) — Billy Foster's 20-foot jump shot at the final gun gave Drake a 64-63 victory over Wichita and the lead in the race for the Missouri Valley conference basketball title Monday night.

The triumph gave the Bulldogs a 5-1 conference record. The loss was the second straight for Wichita, the nation's sixth-ranked team which dropped a two-point decision to Bradley with two seconds left Saturday.

Drake, the conference cellar team last year, took a three-point first half lead over the Shockers but had to battle from behind in the final seconds for their first victory over Wichita since 1961.

Dave Stallworth, who scored 23 points for Wichita, led the Shockers to a 63-60 advantage with 40 seconds left.

Then Dave West scored two free throws for Drake to cut the margin to one point and the Bulldogs called time out.

When play was resumed Foster took the pass, dribbled for six seconds, and then fired. The ball swished through the nets as the buzzer sounded off a hilarious Drake celebration.

Ironically, West should not have been in the game, according to statistics kept by newsmen and Drake officials. They had Foster drawing his fifth foul with five minutes left, but the official box score had Foster with only four fouls. He was allowed to remain in the game over the protests of Wichita coach Ralph Miller.

After the game, Foster said he was not sure how many fouls he had, and added that he never leaves the floor until he hears a buzzer signalling a fifth foul.

He said, however, that he did think he had three fouls. He said first half, although the official box score only charged him with two.

Drake coach Maurice John said he thought Foster had only four fouls.

Miller said he did not want to make an issue of the matter, and added: "I don't know what I could do anyway.

"Let's just say that I don't think it had anything to do with the outcome of the ball game."

Kentucky Wins In Last Minutes

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 11 (AP) —Kentucky, completely outplayed for the first 36 minutes of play, took advantage of the breaks in the closing minutes to defeat Mississippi State 65-59 Monday night.

State outclassed the Wildcats in every department and was in control until substitute Randy Embry came off the bench to put the Wildcats ahead for good at 55-54. Embry hit five straight points.

The Bulldogs wrecked Kentucky's zone defense and forced the Wildcats to go back to a man-to-man late in the first half.

State found that Kentucky always double-teamed the guard with the ball and used this weakness in the first half for numerous easy baskets.

Nebraska Tips Oklahoma State

LINCOLN, Nebr., Feb. 11 (AP)—Nebraska threw the Big Eight Conference race into a tie between Oklahoma State and Kansas State Monday night by defeating the Oklahoma club 54-53.

Oklahoma State hit a cold first half, hitting only 29 per cent of its shots while Nebraska netted 52 per cent ofhits field tries for a 33-30 halftime lead.

Nebraska roared out at the start of the second half to gain 39-31 advantage and never trailed.

PGA-Sponsor Feud Puzzles Arnold Palmer

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 11 (AP)—Arnold Palmer declared Monday he's not sure who is right in the recent dispute between the Professional Golfers association and the Phoenix Open sponsors.

"It's questionable what is going to happen in this thing," he said in response to a news conference question. "I'm not sure either side is right."

His comments came prior to a speech to the annual Albuquerque Athletic club banquet. The PGA and Phoenix sponsors got into a hassle over television money.

The PGA is a nonprofit organization, Palmer stated.

"Thus, they can't set up any retirement plan for members. If they do, it would mean they would have to change the rules they go by. And then who would they retire. There are many PGA members who never play on the tour and others who make one or two tourneys a year.

"I hope they settle this thing. That was a bad situation at Phoenix."

Palmer mentioned several things the PGA and tournament sponsors could do.

"They could build up a number of the purses. And, then there's the question of crowds. Most of the times the crowds are fine, but at some tourneys there are no marshals to speak of. Some of these things are problems for many of the golfers."

The 34-year-old golfing star said he didn't have any complaints.

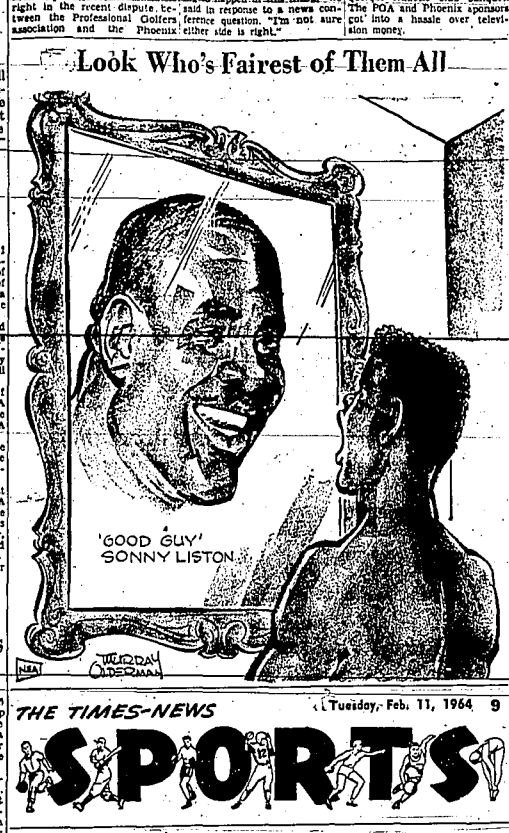
"I don't have those problems. But I know other golfers do. I believe that some kind of grandstands are needed at tourneys."

Palmer, who said he hopes to play at least 10 more years, said he is in fine physical condition, no one really dominates golf, there are a lot of good young players coming up, he will work on his golf game for the next five or six weeks in preparation for the Masters tournament in Augusta, Ga., and that television has given the average man a new interest in golf.

Look Who's Fairest of Them All



Record Holder Sets Goal for 2-Mile Run

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11 (AP)—Ron Clarke, Australia's double world record distance runner, isn't too keen on indoor racing but still hopes to break 8:40 for two miles Saturday. The 26-year-old accountant from Melbourne had a disappointing first experience with board running last Saturday but hopes to improve in Saturday's golden gate invitational meet. "I'd never seen a board track before," Clarke said Monday after an outdoor workout in San Francisco.

"I didn't run very well and I was dead from the first lap. I found those turns awfully hard. I'm a rhythm runner. Every time I got in rhythm I hit a bend.

"Then," he said, gesturing with slanted hand, "I felt like I was falling into the infield."

As a result, Clarke never made a finishing move and wound up second to Bob Schul of Miami, Ohio, in 8:42.6 — a good time, but not what was expected from the man who set world records at six miles and 10,000 meters less than two months ago.

"It will be very disappointed if I don't break 8:40 here," he said.

"I don't mind running in front. I don't like a race where everybody sits around and doesn't run until the last lap." The indoor two-mile record is 8:30.8.

His principal opposition is expected to come from Gerry Lindgren, a Spokane, Wash., high schooler who ran 8:46.0 last month, astounding the track world.

Clarke will run in New York Thursday night, return here for the golden gate meet, then race twice more in New York before his vacation runs out.

"I'd like to come back here in the spring," he said, "but I need to save my next vacation for Tokyo."

At Tokyo in the 1964 Olympics, Clarke plans an ambitious program in the 10,000 meters, 5,000 meters and marathon.

"The 10,000 is the first day and the marathon is a week later, with the 5,000 heat and final spaced in between, so I don't think it's too much," he said.

One thing Clarke won't do in the United States is alter his running style for the boards.

"I've got a few other important races outdoors coming up," he laughed. "I think what I would like to do indoors is watch the race."

Eagles Want Van Brocklin As New Coach

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 11 (AP)—President E. W. Boyer, Minnesota Vikings, was reported Monday ready to advise Coach Norm Van Brocklin formally that the Philadelphia Eagles want him as coach-general manager.

Boyer, who could not be reached, was quoted earlier as saying he had rejected an Eagles request to sound out Van Brocklin directly and added he would resist any new attempt.

Boyer said Van Brocklin is coach of the Minnesota team in the National Football league "and we see no reason to allow another club to negotiate for him" under league rules.

Van Brocklin has indicated "he is happy in Minnesota and we indicated our feelings by giving him a four-year contract last year," Boyer said.

Van Brocklin, former Eagles quarterback, said Monday he had not talked to anyone on the matter.

Boyer indicated he had been approached by Jerry Wolman, new Eagles owner before the NFL meeting in Miami Beach two weeks ago.

Snider Says Mets' Salary Cut too Big

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11 (AP) — Outfielder Duke Snider said Monday that the New York Mets are trying to give him a bigger salary cut than he deserves.

Snider said the asking for "a couple of thousand" more than they offered. He said he doesn't expect the matter to develop into a serious dispute.

"I figured I'd get a cut," he said, "but I didn't think it would be quite so much."

Snider didn't say what the offer was. One report is that the Mets offered him $27,000, about $8,000 less than he made in 1963.

Snider, reached at his bowling alley in Fallbrook, about 100 miles south of Los Angeles, said John Murphy of the Mets' front office sent him a contract about two weeks ago.

"I wrote back and asked for a couple of thousand more," he said, "and last Saturday Murphy sent me a wire saying he would be in touch with me this week.

"I don't think there will be any problems. We'll work it out. I'm just trying to negotiate."

Snider, 37, batted .243, hit 14 homers and drove in 45 runs in 354 at-bats last season.

RETAINS UMPIRES

CINCINNATI, Feb. 11 (AP) — National league President Warren Giles announced Monday that umpires Bill Williams and John Kibler, brought into the loop late last season, will be retained for 1964.

Tennessee Belts Ole Miss 92-54

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 11 (AP) — Tennessee ran up its highest score of the season Monday night in walloping Mississippi 92-54.

Howard Bayne and A. W. Davis paced Tennessee with 20 points, respectively. Danny Schultz, who went into the game with an 18.1 scoring average, connected for 13.

Donnie Kessinger, who two years ago set a Tennessee fieldhouse record with 46 points, took high scoring honors for Ole Miss with 17.

The tournament will continue Tuesday night with Gooding and Stuart meeting in the first game to wind up the first round. At 6:45, Valley will take on Buhl while O'Leary and Jerome will meet at 8 p.m. in the championship semi-finals. The event is single elimination with consolation.

Iowa State Wins Big Eight Tilt

AMES, Ia., Feb. 11 (AP) — Bob Vander Wilt, a junior guard playing his first starting role, scored 20 points for Iowa State and led the Cyclones to an 83-79 Big Eight victory over Missouri Monday night.

Wilt only a two-point margin Iowa State started a delaying game in the last four minutes but got Vander Wilt and Steve Harmon through with a pair of easy layups.

Deer Show Increase, Elk Herd Low in Trend Count

The deer population showed an upward inclination while the elk herd count was down slightly in the annual aerial big game trend counts conducted by the Idaho fish and game department in the wintering areas fringing Magic Valley.

Dale Tanner, game biologist for the Idaho fish and game department, reports the soldier mountain unit showed an increase from 260 in 1962 to 358 in 1964 for deer and a decrease in elk from 868 to 708, the Big Wood river unit showed a decrease from 1,073 to 1,051 for deer and an increase in elk of 426 to 446, the Little Wood river 232 to 586 for deer and 114 to 149 for elk, the Picabo - Gooding unit 1,108 to 1,121 for deer and the Cassia unit 1,489 to 1,624 for deer. The total count for deer was 4,740 for 1964 and 4,162 for 1962 and the total for elk was 1,303 for 1964 and 1,408 for 1962.

Practically all game department personnel in the region who are concerned with big game participated in the counts. Counting conditions were similar to 1962. Only parts of selected herds on the units are counted, so the number has nothing to do with the total number of animals on the entire game management unit other than to show a trend in population.

All units except the Cassia were counted with a fixed wing plane. The Cassia unit utilized a helicopter for the counts of 1957, 1960, 1962 and again in 1964. Deer were concentrated on canyon walls and stream bottoms. Spotty snow cover background with very little solid bare ground made observations generally more difficult than on past counts.

Duke Takes 28th Conference Win

Hank Tyson had 13 points to give Mullins his principal scoring support as the Blue Devils upped their season record to 16-3 with their ninth straight victory. It was the man-to-man defense that sent Virginia down to defeat.

Chip Conner, Virginia's top scorer, managed only seven points before falling to the floor with 8:12 remaining and suffering a head injury. He collided with Duke's Jay Buckley under the basket.

Park Lease Still Is in Hot Dispute

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 11 (AP)—There is not going to be any ground day at Municipal stadium unless I have a four or five-year signed lease on my desk, says Ewe W. Davis said Monday in discussing this city's major league baseball situation. The city and Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, have been deadlocked for weeks over a lease for use of Municipal stadium. The American league has given Finley until next Saturday night to come to an agreement with the city or face possible loss of franchise.

At the last session between the two last week, the city offered a lease for one or five years, with a years rent-free, while Finley stuck with his proposal for a two-year lease.

Mayor Davis disclosed Monday George Trapp, president of the American league, had called him to inquire whether the city would agree to impartial arbitration.

Davis said he told Cronin he didn't think the city had authority under Missouri law to turn the matter over to arbitration.

Asked last Thursday's meeting over a lease, Finley said he would seek to get the parties together for a meeting "during them up to date" on the dispute.

Finley had made efforts to move the club to Louisville and Dallas-Fort Worth.

The only issue with Finley came down to this," the mayor said. "Are we going to be a spring off point for a couple of seasons while other cities and stadiums? Is this going to be our only reward for an attendance of approximately one million persons over a nine-year period?"

Bradds Dumps in 49 for Ohio Win

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 11 (AP)—Larry Bradds poured in 49 points Monday night and set two Ohio State records as the Buckeyes clubbed Illinois 110-92 in a Big Ten basketball game.

The 6 foot, 8-inch All-American scored his own record for most points scored at St. John Arena and also topped the individual game high for a Buckeye, 48, set recently by Bradds and Jerry Lucas.

A partisan crowd of 11,351 roared approval as Bradds flipped in his final six points on the floor before retiring with 2:30 left to play.

This was the fifth consecutive game that Bradds tallied 40 or more points and gave him 226 in the last five starts.

UCLA Survives Scramble, Holds Top Spot in Poll

By The Associated Press

The UCLA Bruins survived a shake-up in the Associated Press major college basketball poll Monday when losses last week by Wichita, Villanova and Loyola of Chicago were reflected in their standing among the ranking teams. The Bruins, unbeaten in 19 games, remained in first place followed by Michigan and Kentucky. However, six other teams switched positions with Oregon State climbing into the top ten, replacing Loyola of Chicago. Davidson, Duke and Vanderbilt also gained ground.

In the balloting by a panel of 35 writers and broadcasters, UCLA collected 33 first place votes and 347 points. The Bruins beat California twice last week, 87-67 and 58-56.

Michigan remained in second place with 298 points, including one first place vote, despite an 86-85 setback by Ohio State last Monday night. The Wolverines recovered to beat Illinois 93-82 for a 16-2 record.

Kentucky is a close third with 282 points. The Wildcats downed Georgia and Mississippi and lifted their mark to 17-2.

Davidson moved up one place to fourth after beating William and Mary and Georgia Southern. Duke advanced two notches to fifth. The Blue Devils, who garnered the only other first place vote, beat North Carolina State and Maryland for a 15-3 slate.

Wichita, which lost to Bradley 76-74, fell two places to sixth while Villanova, upset by La Salle, also dropped two rungs to eighth. Vanderbilt moved up one place to seventh following victories over Alabama, Tulane and Louisiana State.

Oregon State, and also-ran last week, slipped into ninth place followed by DePaul. Oregon State is 20-3 after back-to-back triumphs over the University of Portland.

DePaul lost its second game of the campaign, 98-97, to Memphis State after whipping Notre Dame earlier in the week for its 14th victory.

Loyola of Chicago, last year's NCAA champion, dropped a pair last week, 65-60 to Wichita and 71-69 to St. John's of New York.

Griffith KO's Dupas in Third Round

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 11 (AP)—Emile Griffith, New York, the world welterweight champion, ripped Ralph Dupas, New Orleans, former junior middleweight titleholder, three times in the second round Monday night and then knocked him out in the third.

The end came after two minutes of the third round when Dupas was almost helpless before Griffith's furious attack. The crowd was shouting for the referee to stop the one-sided bout when Griffith crashed over a right to the jaw and ended it.

Griffith's title was not at stake in the scheduled 12-round bout. Griffith weighed 149½, Dupas 150½.

Dupas lost the junior-middleweight title to Sandro Mazzinghi of Italy last September when he was knocked out in the ninth round at Milan, Italy. He recently was stopped by Mazzinghi here.

Dupas was downed twice for mandatory eight counts in the second round then was floored a third time seven seconds before the bell. He tried feebly to hold off Griffith in the third, but the Virgin Islands native crowded him into a corner and pounded him heavily.

Dupas hit his head as he went down and as soon as referee Vic Patrick counted him out, ambulance men came into the ring to wipe the blood from his face and apply ice packs to the back of his neck. It was five minutes before he was able to make his way to the dressing room.

Griffith, whose knockout caused the death of Cuban Benny Paret in 1962, showed obvious concern as he stood beside Dupas until he recovered.

Iowa Shatters Losing Streak

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 11 (AP)—Iowa snapped a five-game losing streak and kept out of the Big Ten cellar Monday night by defeating Indiana for the second time this season 92-75.

The Hawkeyes, led by Dave Rosch's 23 points, checked the efforts of the Van Arsdale twins, Tom and Dick, who accounted for 50 Indiana points. Tom pumped in 26 points and Dick 22.

Iowa had a 49-38 lead at intermission.

Indiana fought back after Iowa increased its margin to eight points but never came closer than 46-45 with 14:36 minutes remaining.

Liston Batters Sparring Mate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP)—Sonny Liston sparred three rounds Monday with Leotis Martin, but the former Toledo, O., light heavyweight couldn't give the champion much opposition.

At one point Liston, who meets Cassius Clay for the title here Feb. 25, peppered Martin with rights and the sparmate yelled "no more."

Clay conferred with Bill Faversham, Louisville, Ky., one of his managers of record, and worked out with the Creighton university basketball team briefly. Creighton was here for a game with the University of Miami.

Houston Bows to Cats in Overtime

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 11 (AP)—Dave Cosby's desperate pivot shot with two seconds to go gave Cincinnati's Bearcats one last lift Monday night and the Ohioans responded with a 56-59 overtime victory over Houston.

Cosby's heroic overshadowed even a fire-point outburst by Ron Bonham in the extra five minutes which assured Cincinnati of its 13th straight victory over the Cougars.

Cosby made his only field and lone shot count. Houston 56-54 with 11 seconds to go. Then Cincy's George Wilson tempted a desperate Houston with six seconds to go. The rocketed at an angle off the boards and Cosby quickly grieved it.

He whirled and fired with seconds left. The field goal the game at 56-56.

STATE MAT TOURNEY OPENS THURSDAY

Boise Favored in Class A; Teton Is B Pick in Meet Set for Minico Gym

RUPERT, Feb. 11—Boise in the class A and Teton in class B are odds-on favorites in the annual Idaho high school wrestling tournament which will open at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Minidoka county high school gymnasium. Not only do both these teams have the quantity, they also have quality. Boise leads all class A schools with 11 entries while Teton, although nearly equalled in numbers by Valley high school of the Eden-Hazelton consolidated districts, looks like the class B shoo-in, having competitors in every weight class.

The tournament, sponsored by the Idaho Interscholastic Activities association, will run in five sessions Thursday through Saturday night, when the champions will be crowned. Some 70 matches will be held Thursday and Friday night, begining at 7:30 p.m. while the two day matches, beginning at 2 p.m., should have about 60.

Both Boise and Teton bring impressive credentials into the match. Teton was runner-up in the state team race last year when wrestling was in open competition. Now divided into A and B classifications, the sixth district class B champion looks that much stronger. Teton had won five straight sixth district titles in previous years although battling schools eight to 10 times larger.

Teton had nine district champions and three runners-up. Only Valley is close. The Vikings had seven champions and four runners-up in the fourth district. However, Valley is the only school in the division to have more than two year's experience. The Vikings are rated highly only in quantity. Runner-up Declo, with eight men, is in the same boat.

In the A division, Boise's 11 entries give the Braves a big edge. Only Minico, which dominated the class A fourth district with six champions and two runners-up, can come close in number and the homestanding Spartans have only eight.

Borhs, Snake River and Buhl each have six men and Twin Falls and South Fremont, five each. All of Snake River's competitors were district second places.

For championships, Boise had eight, Minico six and Bonneville had four—the only ones the Bees put into the state playoffs.

Entries and numbers from the two northern Idaho districts were unavailable Monday night. But the four southern districts will have 19 class A and 24 class B schools represented.

Florida A-M Reimbursed For Gate Loss

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP)—Florida A and M university will be reimbursed because the University of Miami switched its football game with Alabama last December and cut into attendance at the Orange Blossom classic.

President Henry King Stanford of the University of Miami conferred over the week-end with Dr. George W. Gore, A and M president, and coach Jake Gaither.

Dr. Stanford announced Monday that Florida A and M will receive from Miami "a sum equal to the net difference in gate receipts between the Orange Blossom classic of 1962 and 1963."

The amount was not revealed, but attendance at the 1962 game was 43,080 and that of 1963 was 29,761.

The issue arose from the switch of Miami's homecoming Alabama game from Dec. 7 to Dec. 14 at 1:30 p.m. The Orange Blossom Classic was played at 8 p.m. the same day, both in the Orange bowl.

The shift was made when the Army-Navy game was changed due to the death of President John F. Kennedy, forcing Miami to change its game to the following Saturday, CBS televised the game.

Liston and Clay To Appear on TV

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay will appear in a special closed circuit television news conference Thursday from Miami Beach to New York but Clay will have to do his shouting from the street outside Liston's training camp.

Nick Halpern, president of Theater Network Television, Inc., said Liston would not let Clay have his training quarters even for a brief interview. He has arranged for an outdoor pickup, ostensibly with palm trees in the background.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Premium performance doesn't cost a nickle extra in a '64 Dodge. Because under that handsome hood lurks the largest standard engine in the low-price field (318 cu. in. V8). It doesn't cost you extra at the gas pump, either! Regular grade fuel suits it just fine.

Dodge is as luxurious as it is lively. The Polara 2-door hardtop above, for instance, features a rich saddle-grain vinyl interior, a comfort-providing flip-down center armrest, foam seat padding, and thick wall-to-wall carpeting—all standard equipment. Yet it's priced right with comparable models of Ford and Chevrolet.

In all, there are twenty-two Dodge models to choose from. In three series. Each is a low-priced car. And each is backed by a long, strong 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.* You could easily pay more for such a fine automobile, but why should you? See your Dependable Dodge Dealer instead!

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts for the first five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. During which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. Scheduled Maintenance Services are required under this warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; lubricate as specified in owner's manual; and change filter every 2 years or 24,000 miles. Keep all receipts and present them to a Chrysler Corporation Authorized Dealer and request that he certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Negro Boycott Is Peaceful

CINCINNATI, Feb. 11 (UPI) — A one-day Negro boycott of Cincinnati public schools in protest of alleged de facto segregation apparently got away to a peaceful start today.

The Congress of Racial Equality is sponsoring the boycott.

Japanese Group To Tour Idaho

BOISE, Feb. 11 (UPI)—A group of Japanese governors will pay a visit to Idaho in late April.

At least 11 Japanese governors will tour the state during the period April 22-24, a spokesman for the Idaho governor's office said.

The Japanese will be returning a trip made by a group of American governors to Japan last fall. Gov. Robert E. Smylie took part in the tour.

Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 11 (UPI)—Soybeans ended steady to firm, wheat and rye mixed and other grains fairly weak today on the Chicago board of trade.

At the final bell wheat was off ¼ to up ⅛; corn off ⅛ to ¼; oats unchanged to up ⅛; rye off 1¼ to up ⅛; and soybeans off ¼ to up ¼.

Mid-morning buying by local commission houses and exporters firmed soybeans and pulled futures definitely ahead of the seasonal lows established in early trade. Favorable weather over the Southwest winter wheat area held the new crop down in the weak range. Farm organization leaders in Washington today gave widely divergent recommendations on a new wheat bill.
