Ruinous Fire in Philippines Still Uncontrolled

MANY DEAD AND PROPERTY WIPED OUT IN ISLANDS

Refugees Tell Plural Stories of Village Destruction; Homes Preparing to Aid the Cross in Stricken Zone

Manila, P. I., April 17. (UP)—Ruinous fire in the Philippines today told plural tales of how fire had destroyed the village and rendered 13,000 homeless, according to reports received from one of the worst disasters in the history of the Philippines.

The barrio of Fabrica, a village of only 25 families from 1910, apparently has been razed. Accurate details were still lacking. The parish priest, a Spaniard, said that about 100 houses there were destroyed, many were injured and property was damaged to the extent of at least $500,000—double the figure set last year.

It was feared that Cadiz, a town of 200 families from 1895, might also be destroyed. The fire in Fabrica was reported to have been started by a lightning bolt.

PUTNAM ACCEPTS HAVANA POSITION

W. M. Putnam of Twin Falls has resigned his position as division manager of the Idaho Power company and will leave with his family for Havana, Cuba, where he has accepted a new position. He will be affiliated to the commercial manager of the Havana Electric Co., which is being organized at Havana. Putnam received his appointment from the Havana Electric Co. and decided to accept the offer.

Democrat Expecting Party Committee to Oppose the Dry Law

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, April 17. (UP)—Predicting that the Idaho democratic state central committee will take a definite stand for the modification or possible repeal of the federal prohibition law, Ed M. Holden, chairman of the committee was today to travel to Twin Falls today to attend the annual democratic Jefferson Day dinner there tonight.

Holden, before leaving here, said that he personally favored repeal of the law, and sale of liquor through a government agency.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS TAKE UP QUESTION OF GETTING FUNDS

County Attorney Larson Favors Amicable Settlement of Matter Arising Due to the Wrong Money Apportioning

That school districts of the county should accept a wrong money apportionment by the county is the opinion of County Attorney Larson today. He said that the maximum millage for this year and pay the money back for re-apportionment on a per capita basis was the trend of opinion expressed at a meeting of the district trustees at the high school last evening.

About 100 trustees attended the meeting. C. E. McCalla of Twin Falls acting as chairman. Representatives from eight districts gave money under the apportionment and the balance from those totaling money were present. An amicable settlement was favored by E. V. Larson, county attorney, who was called upon for a talk after the chairman reported that the committee of nine had not as yet prepared a report on the money matters to be settled.

"Some of the districts got the money and spent it. Common decency and honesty demands that they return it," said Mr. Larson. "Forcing the districts to do it legally—that is, where we are in a quandary."

35 SENATORS UP FOR RE-ELECTION IN FALL OF 1930

Borah, Capper, Robinson, Norris and Walsh Among Those Who Will Go Before the Voters in Month of November

WASHINGTON, April 17. (UP)—Thirty-five seats to be filled in the senatorial elections next November include many of those now occupied by the most powerful of picturesque figures in American public life—among them William Borah of Idaho, Arthur Capper of Kansas, Carter Glass of Virginia, James C. McHugh of Michigan, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, Pat Harrison of Mississippi, George W. Norris of Nebraska, and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

Senator Borah's succession to himself seems to be taken for certain, as his home state backs in a "reflected national glory as the result of his powerful position at the capitol."

Senator Capper also is believed to be in a strongly entrenched position, being now recognized as one of the most effective national spokesmen for the middle western agricultural regions, and also a strong influence through the widely-circulated farm newsweeklies. Senator Glass is reported to have some political opposition ahead, but is generally thought likely to succeed himself, as one of the authors of the Federal Reserve Banking Act, he is recognized among the most authoritative Senate spokesmen on banking cases.

Senator Walsh of Montana comes from a state where a bitter party struggle is expected, and his political prospects now are thought to be uncertain. Walsh was the chief figure in developing the "Range Dome" oil disclosures, and was widely considered as a possible Democratic presidential candidate in 1928. His political fortune therefore have a national interest.

Senator Coughlin is unique in the Senate from the fact that he has been able to identify himself as a "progressive" notwithstanding the fact that he comes from the state of Michigan which has tremendous industrial interests.

The Senate galleries, at least, will hope for the return of Senator "Fay" Harrison of Mississippi. (Please Turn to Page Five)

Girl Victim in Mystery Murder

Mystery shrouds the brutal murder of Mary Harker, victim, attractive 22-year-old clerk in the Navy Department's Bureau of Aeronautics at Washington, whose body was found in a culvert, above, near a lonely gateway to Arlington National Cemetery. The arrow indicates the spot where the body was found. Miss Baker's father is Dr. Thomas P. Baker, Episcopal pastor of Oak Grove, Va.

MEXICAN WORKERS KIDNAP AMERICAN

Leonard B. Cassidy, Boston, Abducted and Taken to the Hills—Following Argument

VERA CRUZ, Mex., April 17. (UP)—Leonard B. Cassidy, of Boston, Mass., was missing today, reportedly kidnaped by a band of discharged laborers.

Cassidy, employed by the United Fruit Co., at El Hule, Oaxaca state, has been missing since Tuesday, reports of the incident reaching here said.

Discarded workers were said to have hit the Bostonian over the head with a telephone after a heated argument. They fled with him into the mountains, reportedly, but details of the kidnaping were lacking.

The military authorities sent searching parties into the hills to locate Cassidy in vain.

The kidnaping of Cassidy followed the recent kidnaping of another American, J. E. Driscoll. Texas mining men, set free several days ago after a month in the hands of bandits in the Sierrita mountains.

Sculptor Replaces Doctor in Recent Parentage Test

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17. (UP)—Exit blood test—center again. That is the latest fashion in determining the parentage of children as decreed by a case now in progress in Superior Judge Graham's court.

KANSAS CONVICT WOULD BLOT OUT THE HUMAN RACE

Carl Panzram, Confessed Slayer of 23 Men, and Sentenced to Die, Expresses Hatred for Humanity; To Hang Sept. 5

TOPPEKA, Kans., April 17. (UP)—Only the possibility of presidential reprieve remained today to prevent the first execution of a life-term convict since the last 20 years.

Kansas abolished capital punishment more than 30 years ago, but Wednesday a Kansas federal jury recalled the fate of Carl Panzram, 46-year-old murderer and Leavenworth penitentiary convict, condemned to die on the gallows at the prison next September 5.

The jury, accompanied by the attorney general and the state attorney, returned a verdict of guilty of murdering 23 men, Panzram guilty of murdering 23 men, Panzram guilty of murdering 23 men, Panzram guilty of murdering 23 men.

CARAWAY CLASHES WITH CURRAN IN BITTER WRANGLE

Chairman of Committee Accuses Head of Anti-Dry Organization With Not Knowing Anything; Witness Answers

WASHINGTON, April 17. (UP)—A clash between Chairman Curran and Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, evidenced the Senate lobby committee hearing today when Caraway accused Curran of "not knowing anything" and the witness replied he would "compromise favorably" with the committee chairman on that.

Curran, on the stand for the second day in the committee's investigation of lobbying by wet and dry organizations, was being questioned as to whether his organization published all facts in regard to prohibition or only those favorable to its cause.

Senator Walsh, dem., Mont., asked if the Association published the number of liquor agencies killed as well as the number of citizens killed. Curran said he could not answer the question.

"You don't know much about what your organization does," Caraway remarked. "I don't think you know anything," he added.

"I guess I would compare favorably with you," Curran replied. "Glad yourself and all-day" the witness added as Caraway pressed the witness to answer.

COLLEGE YOUTH HELD PRISONER

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 17. (UP)—Barefoot and scantily clad, College student, held prisoner early today from a mountain cabin where he had been imprisoned after being kidnaped by rival student forces.

An all-night search of the Blue Mountain district had been made by fellow students when it was learned that Wilkerson had been kidnaped because of subpar of a "political" editorial in the college paper.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 17. (UP)—Flashlights flickered in and out of the tall timber on the lower reaches of Blue Mountain throughout the night as students of Whitman college searched for Vernon Wilkerson, senior from Oregon, Wash., who is believed to have been kidnaped and taken to a secluded spot in the mountainous region.

The rugged mountain side echoed the call of Wilkerson's few students, mocking them in their seemingly vain task. Up to early hour today no sign of the student had been found, but the searchers were optimistic.

Wilkerson has been missing since the reported flashbang test that he was kidnaped by rival student forces. He is believed to be in the hands of the outlaws.

Wilkerson's disappearance in winding gullies and canyons in the Blue Mountains has attracted thousands of people at a critical time in the college term. The student body expected to hold its commencement today and it is believed that certain leaders were in fear of Wilkerson, who in an article in the college paper, had expressed his "underrand prejudices" that might occur during the election.

THE VILLAGE PASSES
 CENSUS REPORTS for the present nation-wide counting, now available at Chicago, disclose that the anticipated disappearance of American villages has been no pipe dream.
 The population is steadily drifting from farm and village to large town and city.
 Front eight states surrounding the 1920 centers of population on the Illinois and Indiana line come figures showing that 92, or nearly 60 percent of the 161 small towns counted, suffered reductions in population of from 5 to 100 percent.
 On the other hand, early figures reveal that the larger cities of the area are steadily increasing in size.

When the census is completed it will probably be found that most American towns of 1,000 and under population have lost at least a sizable percentage of their citizens. The small town faces obliteration unless there is a decided change in the living habits of the American people.
 Well, the rapid growth of the cities at the expense of the small communities, may have at least one excellent result. It would seem that it would tend to solve one of the most difficult of farming problems—overproduction or under consumption. After all, everybody must eat. The city worker is forced to buy his victuals directly or indirectly from the farmer. Hungry city mouths will mean better demand for farm products and resultant better prices. Thus, though the cities may continue to grow larger, the farming districts ought to grow proportionally more prosperous.

BRITAIN ACTS FOR DRYS
 FROM LONDON comes the news that the House of Commons has passed the first reading of a bill authorizing the board of trade to cancel or suspend the certificates of masters, mates or engineers who knowingly engage their ships in running rum into the United States.
 Likely the bill will become law.
 But its probable effectiveness will never be ascertainable. The whole thing can only be regarded as a friendly gesture without great significance either abroad or in this country; for in the final analysis but little liquor is being smuggled into this country from England or any other country. Most of our booze is home-manufactured or flows over the long, loosely-guarded Canadian boundary line.
 Of more immediate interest to Americans is the movement against a huge United States alcohol combine that has been launched at New York.
 According to a United Press dispatch, the alky barons associated in the single liquor corporation have so skillfully conducted their business that they have been profiting at the rate of $1,250,000 weekly. That is a huge profit and gives some indication of the vastness of the enterprise.
 The existence of this great liquor organization has been known for several months to prohibition officers. Arrests have been made; but the combine continues to function in spite of the fact that the names of the leaders are known. It is hard to put an immediate stop to a business earning more than a million dollars a week. Money talks—and buys.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING
 Newspaper advertisers and potential advertisers will be interested in the words of Truman A. DeWeese, advertising expert extraordinary.
 Says DeWeese:
 "Newspaper advertising is a silent salesman that meets on the threshold of the home the glad welcome of the family, eager for the news of the town and of the great world of workers and players. With noiseless step the salesman enters millions of homes, clad in raiment of white pulp, on which is imprinted the motion pictures of the world's doings.
 "He takes the merchant's message into the very heart of the household. With quick but irresistible intensiveness, he penetrates the heart's deepest desires, and ere the family is aware of his presence, he has made the name of a certain firm a household word, and has made an ineffaceable impression regarding the things he has to sell.
 "This silent salesman, Newspaper Advertising, is a repeater who does not give offense. He comes day after day with persistent regularity. The household does not tire of him, because he comes in new garb, new type, new illustrations, new line of appeal, new arguments, new bargains and new creations of factory and loom. When properly clothed in the language of simple salesmanship, without bombastic trimmings or pompous rhetoric, he easily gets a hearing because of his newness and freshness, because of his earnest sincerity, and because he radiates optimism in every word. He is a creative, constructive force. He does not preach penuriousness or pessimism. He gets the household exchequer into circulation.
 "This silent salesman becomes the greatest force in modern merchandising; a force that makes the luxuries of today the necessities of tomorrow; a force that gradually builds a good will asset for a firm or a commodity which the greatest conflagration can not destroy.

 Thus Truman A. DeWeese—and so, too, hundreds of other advertising experts who know whereof they speak.

Mark Sullivan in one of his syndicated articles says Borah is a party in himself. Really, no, don't his perennial republican supporters count for anything? When a man gets bigger than his party there is something wrong somewhere.

President Hoover has indicated he has a mind of his own almost for the first time since assuming the presidency. In the face of Mrs. McCormick's nomination for the senate on an anti-league and anti-world court platform, the president has publicly urged that the United States join the court. Democrats will join in the applause.

GLOBAL CATEGORY PROPOSAL IS NOT INCLUDED IN PACT

Delegates at Naval Conference Speed Work in Order to Sail For Home at Time Planned; No Italian-French Party

LONDON, April 17. (AP)—The global category transactions proposed which would reduce the method of limitation of naval arms to a rigid draft of the naval conference treaty distributed among American delegates today.

The transactional proposal, having made it clear of ships and permitting limited shifting of tonnage from one category to another, was supported by France, an announcement on an issue that had been a standing block for naval conferences for years. An Italian reservation, made after it appeared certain France would not grant Italy parity was said to have blocked inclusion of the proposal in the treaty.

The American delegation's headquarters were the scene of great activity today as stenographers and others prepared to depart. Many of the members of the delegation are planning trips on the continent.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Several angles, he said. The county might bring suit as trustee for the funds and demand the return of the money; or the districts might make the matter up at their annual meeting Saturday and vote a mill levy that would permit a return of the money without suit or need of the courts. One trustee suggested that the superintendent cut off state and county funds appropriate to the district what had been given wrongfully in answer to this Mr. Lars stated the law required that the money be returned through the courts.

Several trustees were of the opinion that they could not levy enough to pay back the money without increasing the rate of taxation. It was also suggested that one or two years might be required to pay back the total money on a levy for the amount levied.

No definite decision as to what the schools would do, other than to talk the problem over at their annual meeting, was made. Charles Davis, auditor for Byron, Denchbar and Bona and Associates, who audited the school districts, announced that he would prepare a summary of his findings at the start of the meeting. PARK CITY GIRL SPELLING CHAMP

SALT LAKE CITY, April 17. (AP)—Vera Peterson, 12-year-old Park City grammar school student, outdistanced her 13 opponents, also girls, spelling champions of Utah and western Wyoming, and was crowned champion here last night. She will meet Myrtle Liljequist of Meridian, Idaho, this time this month for the inter-mountain championship.

Both contestants will be given a trip to Washington for the national finals, but only the winner will be permitted to compete in the capital contest.

Mrs. Isaacson's closest competitor, on last night was Len Bonner, 16, Price. She finally defeated him on the word "concessions" and established her title by failing to define over "condemned."

FAR NORTH GETS GOOD RECEPTION

OTTAWA, April 17.—Radio reception in the Arctic has been good, say reports from various detachments of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the far north. Only a few years ago receivers were sent in to try out reception in the northland, but now every post of the R. C. M. P. is equipped.

At Itac, on Great Slave Lake in the Huron lands, the thanksgiving service for King George was picked up direct from Edmonton. Many distant stations were heard here regularly, the announcers speaking in foreign languages and thus making reception of call letters difficult.

GGT at Honolulu, R.H. at Seattle and KSPJ at Anchorage, Alaska, are a few remote points heard at this post.

The station at Herschel Island, in the Arctic near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, picked up 70 American and Canadian stations in Africa and England, four German and a number of others from foreign countries including Japan.

At Cambridge Bay, Victoria Island, Arctic ocean, the best reception was from W.V., Vancouver, and WENR, Chicago, while KOKA, Pittsburgh, KYW, Chicago, were also picked up.

Bernard Harboer on Coronation Gulf picked up the radio as the chief source of entertainment during the winter. Altogether by the California, Florida, central North western Arctic the police posts America and England.

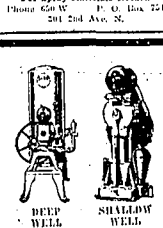

Mexican Air Ace To Dare Atlantic

The Mexican government has approved plans of Colonel Rojas to fly across the Atlantic Ocean in May. From Washington he will fly to Cuba and Brazil, then pick up a flight across the Atlantic to Africa and Spain. Rojas is chief of Mexico's civil aeronautic bureau.

He has picked up four of the six continents from W.V., Vancouver, and WENR, Chicago, while KOKA, Pittsburgh, KYW, Chicago, were also picked up. Bernard Harboer on Coronation Gulf picked up the radio as the chief source of entertainment during the winter. Altogether by the California, Florida, central North western Arctic the police posts America and England.

CHECKS MAILED BEAN GROWERS

Checks totaling $100,000 were mailed in the mail today by C. F. Deweller, manager of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers association, as payment for another half cent on beans marketed and handled through the company this year. The checks went to all members of the association and brought the payment for the season up to four cents per pound. So far this season the association has made payments totaling $277,000 to members.

Mr. Deweller estimated that the cooperative body has on hands about 20 carloads of beans. These will probably be marketed before the 1930 harvest, unless in and does not include the beans held over for next year.

Mr. Deweller requested that members of the association please do not phone if they do not get their checks within the next day or so as the checks are sometimes delayed in reaching the outlying districts.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH BALL GAMES IN BIG CIRCUITS

American League Opening At Chicago Rained Out For Second Time; Only Three Contests Played Wednesday

By United Press
Major league baseball clubs will complete their opening series of the 1930 season today, although opponents tomorrow for four game series before the clubs which opened on the road return to their native haunts for home contests, April 22.

Rain interfered with yesterday's schedule, only three contests being played.

The American league opening at Chicago was rained out for the second time and unless favorable weather is encountered today the White Sox and Indians will upset precedent by opening play against opponents other than those scheduled for the first game.

George Fister, rookie outfielder, starred in the St. Louis Cardinals 13 to 3 win over the Chicago Cubs. Fister had a grand slam home run in the first inning and a double for eight hits in nine times at bat. In the first two major league games, he averaged .333.

Pete Donohue, miled by "flop" defense play and timely hitting, hurried the Cincinnati Reds to a 3 to 1 victory to even the series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Home runs gave the Washington Senators four of their runs in a 5 to 4 win over the Boston Red Sox. West opened the game with a home run and threw hit one in the second with two men on base.

Utah Bowlers To Roll In Tourney

SALT LAKE CITY, April 17. (UP)—Utah pin topplers will meet some outside competition during their state bowling tournament at Idaho Falls when five Utah touring teams will participate in the contests. Included among the bowlers will be Jack Quinn, Utah all-around champion, and W. C. Perry, slinger champion.

Schools To Meet On Kimberly Track

EDEN, April 17. (Special)—A track meet has been arranged between the teams of Eden, Hansen, Kimberly, Marsden and Hazelton for next Friday. The present plan is to hold the meet at Kimberly, though all coaches have not yet agreed to the arrangement.

GRIMES HOPES TO END CAREER WITH BRAVES, HE SAYS

NEW YORK, April 17 (UP)—Undaunted by his transfer from the pennant contending Pittsburgh Pirates to the lowly Boston Braves, Grimes hopes to end his career with the Braves, he says today.

Judge Pucka says he has no intention of trading me and I hope to complete my baseball career with the Braves," Grimes told the United Press today.

Grimes appears destined to retire like his ambition of becoming the first major league pitcher to be named MVP in the league, an exemption from the rule during the balance of his career.

Pitchers so exempted were Grimes, Bill Hawk, Phil Donnell, Dana Fillingim, Ray Fisher, Marvin Goodish, Clarence Mitchell, and Dick Rudolph in the National League and Jack Quinn, Red Faber, Hal Leonard, A. W. Ayers, Ray Caldwell, Stan Cornelius, Alton Hunsell, Urban Shocker and Alton Solloway in the American League.

Of the 17, only three—Grimes, Quinn and Fisher—remain in service.

STRANGE MAY BE IN HEAD LINDER

Matchmaker Plans Next Fight Here on April 20; Walker May Be Strange's Opponent

"If the fight fans here insist on seeing liped and agree around the ring, they and get it to me," stated the American Legion matchmaker today. "The next fight will probably be here April 20. Jess Strange and Roy Walker of Dodge, have tentatively agreed on a main six."

And if the fans really want blood and give their cash, let the matchmaker on such a selection. "Strange and Walker would stage a scrap to satisfy the demand and vicious mind of fans in seven nations. They fought recently at Boise in a semi-window, knocking each other out of the ring several times and once staging a fight among the ring-side seats, unmindful of surroundings. Strange would have a spot several pounds in weight at he says he is game."

"Am I afraid of Walker? Not on your life. I'll use to fight him again and his main event," stated Jess, who appears anxious to resign the lost decision. Walker has a reputation for being such a fighter. Strange bears in Twin Falls, Idaho. For a tentative semi-windup on April 20, the matchmaker is considering a scrap between Kid Berger of Preston, Idaho, and Ernie Woolley of Twin Falls. There also remains the possibility of making a scrap between the two winners with the Strange-Walker eight rounds and the Barker-Woolley fight eight rounds.

The Nut Cracker

This planning of fistfight parties so that all taxpayers will be satisfied seems to be a tough job. The candidates have to act, but Feral really won the decision over Buddy Washington Tuesday night.

Some of the more morbid mind fans started to leave in the ninth frame.

It was just like staging a Broadway grand opera before, but the crowd was so much smaller later. "The hero didn't kill the villain in the last act and they couldn't understand it."

"Good grief, what do the people want? saved Feral's life by handling at the close of the eighth round. "Don't say any attention to 'em" was the reply.

"I'd gladly change places with some of them boozers in the last rounds" was all Buddy felt like saying after the fight. His left eye was almost entirely closed and several stitches were required to close three long cuts in his cheek.

Washington's face was lopsided after the battle but his skin was the wrong color to accommodate the fans who wanted to see blond. He is a clerical boy and it took a good man to beat him. Most of the fans realized that.

O'Grady, the cupious minded man about town, asked Jess Strange what blow he used to lower Red Ball's "I don't know," says Strang. "I worked hard on his stomach for two rounds and hit him three times in the third. The first two blows started him on the downward way and the third sent him through the ropes."

And another teakin bit the dust.

Which might mean the high school track boys will have a nice windy day in their dual meet at Boise Saturday.

Why not match Bill Bush, the mammoth cop of Twin Falls, against Primo Carnera and hope for the best? The home Tugboat club was a 14000—largest in history. That and about $10,000 more would bring Primo here.

What Alls Grimes? That Good Year He did have that year winning in and losing eight in 1927. At the end of 1927 Mr. Braucher figured that the good year was over and done with, and how about this Vic Aldridge, nitty Pittsburgh pitcher? Mr. Braucher called Mr. Dreyfus and offered him Burleigh Grimes for the services of Mr. Grimes. At least Ed McGraw remembers and joyously McGraw had acquired Grimes from Brooklyn in a three-year deal in 1927. The mentor of the giants figured that Burleigh had one more good year in him, and that John McGraw might as well have that year as anybody else.

Mr. Braucher—241 The Glenn Wright Case Barney Dreyfus hasn't always done so well on trades as he did in the Grimes-Aldridge deal, but they are a couple of managers in both leagues who wouldn't trade their hat tops to Barney for the money. He would be too likely to show up with both arms and legs in plaster casts. It is still to remember that Judge Hubbard sent Mr. Dreyfus Jess Petty in a trade for Glenn Wright. And last spring, Wright turned up with his classical circus shoulder, being of no service in the 30-days all year. Meanwhile, Dreyfus was winning 11 and losing 10 for the Pirates. Wright seemed to be hit old self this year, however, and while he may not yet enjoy the last cookie.

Barney did "trade" a classical pitcher in Hazen Carter, however, who McGraw has one day and never the outfielder he sent to the base asked him what he thought of the deal. "Ah ain't much," said Stoney. "But it ain't no a Shit the 'out."

Old Sam Lanford was watching Chief McQuinn box one day and he asked him what he thought of the deal. "Ah ain't much," said Stoney. "But it ain't no a Shit the 'out."
