GIANTS CREEP UP ON CHICAGOANS MACKS TRIUMPH

New York National Squander Chance to Win Double-Header With Braves As Champions Lose to Pirates

The New York Giants were half a game away from the National League today in the National League pennant race, but had another opportunity to gain still more ground on the filtering home-leaders.

A double victory over the Boston Braves yesterday would have elevated the Giants to within 2 1/2 games of the Cubs, instead the Giants squandered a 2 run lead in the second game, and divided a win with the New York Yankees, winning the first game, 5-2 and losing the second, 11-7.

The Cubs dropped their fourth game in the last five played when the Pirates put on a great rally in the sixth inning to score 4-2 victory. The Cubs lead over the Giants is now 2 1/2 games.

The Philadelphia American League team to the American League to the Boston Red Sox, 11-5, while the New York Yankees beat Washington, 10-7.

Lefty Grove hung on his 2nd victory of the season in pitching the A's to victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown and Mrs. Geo. Brown of Salt Lake City were in Rogers Monday night. C. A. Ross and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Winter and son Junior returned from a motor trip to Portland, Sunday on their way into they stopped over for the Portland Round-trip.

Clara Hurl and Mrs. George Hurl of Twin Falls visited Mrs. Mary Mathews Tuesday. Mrs. Mathews and son Ronald returned to Twin Falls last week and visited there and in Jerome for a few days.

Mrs. Jess Smith and George Smith returned from Twin Falls Sunday, where they have been for a few days.

John Hickey of Oregon, stopped in Rogers Thursday on his way to Jarbidge.

William Waters, Hollister, has been visiting at Harry Duncan's home for the past week.

Tom Thompson, former teacher at Rogers, was here last week visiting friends. He will teach at Montpelier, Idaho this year.

Alfred McMillan, Nevada, was in Rogers last week on business.

SCHOOL AGAIN

WITH the coming of September, comes also the reopening of the schools throughout the state.

Already numerous schools have started and next week will see the local schools under way again. Colleges and universities either have opened or will soon open.

It is back to the class room for nearly one-third of the population; an inspiring fact to all who recognize the advantages of education.

School trustees and school teachers, have responsibilities perhaps heavier than they know, for there is entrusted to the care of the school, the loved ones from the countless homes; lives and careers which are so dependent upon the guidance given in the school room.

There will be glistering tears in the eyes of that young mother who one day this month sends her baby off to school for the first time, anxious as she is to have him learn and grow and develop. He is perhaps commencing what will be from twelve to sixteen years of schooling, preparing himself to successfully live an additional forty or fifty years of life.

Schooling is important and vital, and in this age as in past ages, is necessary to a successful career in any line. The public in general is entirely sympathetic with the purpose of the schools and is proud of them as outstanding examples of the progress of civilization.

May the schools of this section eclipse all past records in enrollment and success this term of 1930-1931!

STATE PICNICS

THERE is an interesting human trait manifested in the desire of former residents of other states to assemble periodically at picnic reunions. Somehow their having lived in the confines of the same commonwealth "back east" draws them into a common bond which they love to perpetuate at these annual get-togethers.

On such occasions it is possible for natives and former residents of the same state to renew friendships, recount past experiences and be reminded of news and gossip concerning mutual acquaintances which more than compensates in pleasure the effort in attending.

Despite the fact that their lately-adopted state (Idaho-in this instance)-is praised-and extolled-as their choice for a home, through the talks and feelings of the participants at these affairs there comes fond memories of other days, and the conviction that after all, Old Kentucky or Nebraska, or South Dakota or Illinois, was a pretty good state; at least, that next to Idaho, the Gem of the Mountains, one's former state was positively the best!

There is never a desire at these state picnics to minimize the importance or the value or the qualities of Idaho; instead, just the opposite is true. If chambers of commerce or other promotional bodies would seek reasons why Idaho is the ideal place to live, many new facts could be found at these state picnic.

Reunions offer another outlet to that pent-up desire of human kind, and that is the urge for organization, for elections and officialdom, for presidents and secretaries and treasurers. And in addition they usually provide a legitimate forum for political speakers. Get a few score persons assembled and quieted down and there is "meat" for the campaign orator with something to say-and someone to say it to!

State picnics and the opportunities they offer for cementing friendships, for reflecting into the forgotten past, for pledging new allegiance to Idaho and its citizenry, are among the fine institutions of summer in the Gem State. All over Idaho and all over the West do these assemblies endure. In California the Iowa picnic has taken on gigantic proportions; former residents of other states similarly assemble.

Through state picnics there is evidenced fine pride in town and county and state, and above all there is generated that vital characteristic: loyalty. Of such is patriotism made.

McCoy Loses Job As Fire Chief at San Quentin Pen

SAN QUENTIN STATE PRISON, Calif., Sept. 4 (UP)—Like a ship without a rudder—like a ship without a captain—like a ship without a crew—the fire department at San Quentin State Prison, Calif., is in a state of confusion today after losing its much-prized job as chief of the San Quentin fire department.

The "fire" department at San Quentin, serving a long term for manslaughter and robbery in the state prison, was disbanded yesterday, the action being given out.

For many years McCoy has been considered a death was shock.

MINER FATALLY HURT
