AL SINGER FACES TEST TONIGHT IN BOUT WITH MACK

Product of New York's Lower East Side, anxious to show friends that He Is Worthy of His Boxing Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Al Singer's claim to recognition as a boxer will be tested tonight when Leo Lewis and Lenard Leonard will test him tonight when the lightweight champion makes his Chicago debut at the Auditorium, 10th and Madison, at 8 p.m.

Singer occupies a singular niche in the ranks of current champs—none of whom has won a national title. Chicago will follow that he is a developing champ.

Although he holds the title by virtue of a unanimous decision over Al Stander, the 19-year-old boxer has cleared away of recent years many boxing tabs doubt Singer's ability and lead him back into the ring again before long.

Singer's defense was

A product of New York's Lower East Side, he can't afford to be beaten, charged "predicted" to transact until he was assured a chance at the championship without ever meeting his present titleholder.

Singer's defense was featured by "invisible punch" knockout punches, which he has learned to inflict. His brawny and technical knockout made possible by intervention of kind-hearted referees who would pause when his opponents struck them in their feet and ankles to calculate.

Because of the popularity of Hebrew boxing, Maxine Squared, the Jewish boxing champion, was drawing card and Al was given the championship chances against Mandel over more deserving contestants.

Singer's victory over Mandel with the resounding cheers of "Yiddish" and "Hebre" and the "Yeshiva" crowd, which was steadily even in New York, and his followers in other parts of the country never had a better send-off than the one he got.

Quinton, however, the Bobo Maxine, took his knockdowns but occasionally was stunged, but recovered to the jaw when he grew careless.

The Spaniard's peculiar style of boxing, in the Italian sense, never won on several occasions nearly done out of the ring in his battles, attempted to reach his maximum in this bout.

Allen Lewis, Portland, entered welter, knocked Lee Hwang, Salt Lake City, in the fourth round.

A third round bout, between

George Collett (Salt Lake) and

held over to the fifth round.

Mrs. Gloria Collett, Greenwich, Conn., leading champion, turned 100 pounds, 10 oz., last night.

She was narrowed to a field of 32 today for the first round of the annual women's amateur championships.

MONTANA WETS MAY BEAT SEN. THOMAS WALSH

Goller's Reporter Says That Sentiment Against the Prohibition Law in the State Is Likely to Defeat Veteran

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (UPI)—The sentiment against prohibition in Montana is likely to result next month in the replacement from public life of United States Senator Thomas Walsh, veteran Democratic leader, according to a survey of Montana politics by Will H. G. Sheehan, associate editor of Time.

"There is an intensely bitter feeling in Montana against prohibition," Sheehan declared. "The state prohibition law was killed in the legislature last session." In a 1928 referendum this fall, the people voted down the percentage against prohibition increased. Now, much farther than Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Durkin of Billings were willing to go, the men who are to meet at the Hotel Idaho this afternoon, the men attended the final name in Kimberly.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Weaver were visiting at the Joe Pahk home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Larrison and family were in Piley Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kalter, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Durkin, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Henry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward and daughter Eula, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Edney, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Anderson and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Anderson.

Sen. Walsh is fully as wet as Senator Walsh is dry, both personally and politically. He has never been a dry, though he has had a drink when he wanted it. Sheehan explained the background of the Montana situation and the trial and tribulations of湿ability from the inception of Montana, through the passage of a state law in 1916 in a recent article.

Dr. Ashton spoke the same sermon 75,000 times. The full story of Dr. Ashton's record is told in Alfred Dorell's "Picturesque Promenade." An amusing feature of the curious record of repetition is that the clergyman never spoke from memory, but read his sermon from a prepared set of papers.

"Fire" is not on a bottle of Medecine. The word "fire" is written on a bottle of medicine sold in drug stores is probably a misnomer. The word "fire" is a trademark of the American Drug Ass., Inc., a division of the cosmetics company controlled by E. C. Smithson.

Alexandria, La., has no grapefruit. Though the population of Alexandria is 20,000, the city has no citrus or grapefruit within its corporate limits. All citrus fruit for this city is imported, and a smaller city across the Red River from Alexandria.

The backings of Kauai-Kauai is one of the western islands of the Hawaiian group, about 72 miles from Honolulu. Along the shore at Nahili is this series of wind-blown sandhills, about 60 feet high, and stretching along for about a mile. The sand is composed of coral shells and particles of lava, and when blown on until enough is gathered, a tall mound of this phenomenon is caught up in a balloon if one looks.

A POLITICAL ISSUE

(Nampa Free Press)

WHY should former Progressives and Progressive Republicans vote the Democratic state and legislative tickets this fall?

This is a question which is being asked, in one form or another, by a large number of voters. It is a question which can be answered from several angles. Our old line, so-called "machine Republicans" would answer the question very shortly and decisively. Their answer would read—"They should not so vote. The Republican party will take care of you in the future just as in the past. The answer has the merit of being positive and snappy, if not conclusive. Also, we are inclined to admit the answer is true. In fact, our observation of the trend of affairs in Idaho and in Canyon county lead us to believe the answer is correct.

But the kind and character of the care given by the Republicans in the state for the past 10 years or so is precisely that to which we object. During the past four years, it is asserted and we believe, proved by the records, state taxes have been increased some 30 per cent over previous levies. During the same period our population has shown practically no increase and our property valuation has slight decrease. Also, the history of Republican party legislation in the state has shown a constant disregard of our state constitution and a persistent and settled policy of taking the control of state affairs from the hand of the people themselves by restricting freedom in the exercise of the right of franchise.

For the past 16 years, less or more, we have had, as a part of the constitution of the state, a provision for an initiative, a referendum and a recall law. Yet during all this time that constitutional provision has remained dormant and inactive because the legislature of the state has failed to enact proper statutory support.

The same party has also sought to restrict the right to franchise by retaining the convention system for nominating state officers and by making the primary election system, as applied to the selection of county and legislative officers, offensive and unworkable by the voters of the various counties in the state.

The convention system notoriously lends itself to a control of state politics by a self-appointed body of men. It has been abolished in a majority of the states and a direct primary put in its place. But Idaho has tenaciously clung to this outworn and discredited system of selecting candidates for state offices, and controlling party policies. Also, in this process of state control, the Republican party has built up a large clientele of appointees, commissioners, etc., which must be fed at public expense.

In the primary, which affects county and local affairs only, the last legislature—predominantly Republican—further restricted the right of franchise by making registration mandatory upon all voters and by providing that participation in the primary election should do away the right to a secret ballot. The sentences in the election oath before the registrar which accomplish this past purpose read—"That I am now and for at least two years past have been a member of said affiliated with the _____ party and that I am now registering as a member of said party; and that I intend in good faith to support its candidates generally in the next general election." Such a provision in the oath of registration discourages the average voter by requiring him to pledge support to a given party without having knowledge either as to what its platform may be, or what candidates for office may be selected. Moreover, it enables party manipulators to hand-pick delegates to conventions and thereby to assume control through so-called party bosses. The evident purpose of these sentences in the oath of registration for primary elections is to keep out of party consultation and party control all voters who will not consent to control handed down by the state central committee. The Republican party in the State of Idaho, is directly responsible for this attempt to restrict the average voter in his constitutional rights to franchise.

The Democratic party of the State of Idaho, on the other hand, is pledged to enact a state-wide primary law and system for selecting candidates to office, together with a pledge to put into operation appropriate legislation, the constitutional provision for the initiative, the referendum and the recall. In this campaign the Democrats have become the party of progress, in a restoration of the rights of citizens of the state to a participation in the direction of the political affairs of the state. Such a goal has always been the purpose of former Progressive party voters as well as that of the progressively minded Republicans.

THE ENEMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNOCK

(Read the story, then color the picture.)

For an hour the soldiers stood and put on stunts that were real good. The Times was invited to see how really they did.

"Our soldiers are better than ever," he said, "and I'm sure they'll be even better."

He took up a stick and lifted it high. Instead of musking it hard work, they made it look like a piece of cake.

And then they took up wrestling, too. To our big boy shouted, "You can't toss the other one in the back. Now I'll let on that you're stronger and I'll snap you..." "Well, reg!" And then as quick as could be, he grabbed his strong opponent and threw him right over on his back.

"Let's try that stunt," brave Scouting cried, and Cappy walked up to his side and said, "All right, you can't toss me. I'll let on that you're too fast." But Scouting acted much too quick. He pulled a very clever trick that caught poor Cappy unaware, so Cappy promptly lost.

The athletes then cried out "Good day," and they were on their merry way. The Times tried to do quite a bit of the stunts that they had seen, but soon they began to puff. The Travel Man said, "That's enough! Please, let's go home and take a look at the city." They hiked on to the edge of town and saw a man come walking in the back. Not far off, he had a rifle and a bayonet and he stopped... "Well, reg?" And then as quick as could be, he grabbed his strong opponent and threw him right over on his back.

"The man shook hands with everyone and said, "Well, this is lots of fun. I'm glad to have some young men here. You're all right, boys. You're all right. But now I'll just sit down and rest." They liked the way that he was dressed. They hard to think he tended cows and worked on the hay.

Democratic candidate, had 63,016, the largest vote ever cast for any Democratic ticket. Alexander in state election. The total vote was 161,625.

The experience of the last decade indicates a reduction of the vote between presidential and off-year elections from 20% to 40%.

The word lead to a prediction of the vote this year as follows, to-wit:

John Nance, Texas Rep., Edgar Boras, candidate for reelection on the republican or so-called "G. O. P. ticket," now appears to be leading the Democratic candidate whose name will be for the moment, but it is something like the Emma of Tyler, Texas, in the race.

This is about as far as this contributor cares to go at this writing, in making predictions, for it is a conservative if he is anything.

A rival paragraph in Boise supplies us with the following, which we are sure is correct:

Ed. H. Baldwin, in 1920, was a minority candidate, but with a solid margin, having 118,506, Scott Hall, Progressive, 100,000, and Alvin E. Wilson, Democrat, received the bulk of Democracy with 24,837 votes.

In 1924 Baldwin had 37,681 votes and last night the present

LAW FORBIDS TRESPASS ON SIGNED FARMS

At the request of Twin Falls commissioners, a resolution was passed by the legislature, calling public attention to the law concerning hunting on private property, the text of the Idaho statute, which is section 2552, is reprinted here.

Trespassing in Violation of Warnings Signs

"Whenever a tract of land shall have been fenced by the owner with wire or other material, painted or painted in the English language, warning persons not to trespass thereon, shall have been posted in a prominent place upon each side thereof, upon or near the boundaries at intervals of no more than 80 rods, it shall be a misdemeanor for any person to enter such said enclosed land and discharge any firearm thereon or to enter said land for the purpose of shooting or trapping therein without the consent of the owner or person in charge of said land. All fences . . . of any described sufficient to give notice to all persons that present . . . an effective abstraction to which shall be deemed a sufficient fence under the terms of this section. An attempt to pass over land, under the laws of the United States, or a lease or contract purchase of state land, or any other land or property within the meaning of this section . . .

"Provided, however, that if the owner or his attorney employed a team of horses or mules to defend his land as inclosed, the same shall not be required under the provisions of this section to post warning signs or to enter said land for the purpose of shooting or trapping therein without the consent of the owner or person in charge of said land, All fences . . . of any described sufficient to give notice to all persons that present . . . an effective abstraction to which shall be deemed a sufficient fence under the terms of this section. An attempt to pass over land, under the laws of the United States, or a lease or contract purchase of state land, or any other land or property within the meaning of this section . . .

"Any person violating the provisions of this section of cultivated lands shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $100 nor exceeding 6 months or by a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $50, or by both such fine and imprisonment." Approved March 7, 1927.

BANKERS DISCUSS BUSINESS STATUS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14 (UPI)—Investment bankers gathered here in 13th annual convention discussed in executive session Monday night of improving business day ahead.

Anouncement of the subject to be discussed was made by George E. Conroy, New York banker, who has delivered a series of addresses before several hundred members of the Investment Bankers' association of America.

"We want to settle down and have a discussion of business conditions with suggestions for doing our part in improving them," President Conroy said. At the meeting was open many of the delegates might fear to express their views for fear of doing an injustice to others.

The details of this meeting will not be recorded, he said in conclusion. The association did not predict business conditions were worse than the state of readjustments for the past year.

He asked the bankers to "rent" aside the shadow of fear and uncertainty, which so many of us have perhaps allowed to depress us, and to look forward to a constructive future."

"The orgy of speculation," Conroy continued, "has passed and the market is now ruled rather than this," he explained.

Old-fashioned standards of judging values are back again, in fact, and an investment banker can go to work to direct the energies of the country into constructive and dependable lines.
