OZARK MOUNTAIN KIDNAPING STIRS MEN TO ACTIVITY

Mrs. Alma McKinley, 24, Is Taken Into Forest By Unknown Culprit and Held for Ransom; Finally Freed

GREENFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15 (UPI)—Search for the lone kidnapper who abducted Mrs. Alma McKinley, daughter of Missouri Senator, and held her captive 16 hours centered today in the rugged hills of the Ozark mountain region.

Two dozen officers and citizens, spurred on by a $2,000 reward offered by Benito Wilson, the 24-year old woman's father, searched the woods today in the rugged "hills" of the Ozark mountain region.

Two of police officers and citizens, spurred on by a $2,000 reward offered by Benito Wilson, the 24-year old woman's father, searched the woods today in the rugged "hills" of the Ozark mountain region.

Mrs. McKinley, an expectant mother, was allowed to return to her home Saturday after the kidnaper who forced her to abandon his automobile when it was wrecked, also, was unarmed.

Suffers from Ordal

Mrs. McKinley was confined to her home today, suffering from "right side" pain, and was unable to walk. The man who forced her to make desertion 12½ long nights in which she abducter forced her to lie in a tarpaulin in a hole in the ground, Mrs. McKinley told, of their conversations.

"He at first said he would have to have $1,000 from Dad," the girl said. "I told him, 'Dad didn't have $1,000.' He said nothing then and smoked cigarettes constantly. I dozed for a moment but as I was half-fallen asleep he started smoking again."

"Finally the man said he had $30,000 and that he wanted Dad to work for him. He took the gun, side and the law on the other, so that he hadn't any choices, but I dozed the rest of the time," she said.

"He was a crazy, hysterical, she said, who if she could get $10,000 from her Dad he would return with her."

"Take him to Illinois," she said.

The girl promised her captor to take her to the highway. It was after she had done so that Louis Wilson, Negro mail carrier,

Illinoian, son of a Negro Negroes residing here since racial feelings became intense after the she quoted him as saying while he was being held captive, "I have no right to liberate nine men, held in connection with an attempt to kidnap my son."

"Now, I'll kill you if you don't come back with $10,000," he said.

"He took me to Illinois," she said.

The young woman returned to a friend's house where she was taken a motor car to Stockton. Her parents were notified and they called for her. They went when she ran away, but found the man in his front yard.

"Go get your gun, then," he said. "Well, I'll go get my gun," she said.

Wilson, Dade county's wealthiest man, told the angry group he would give $100 to the one who would bring him back to the man who killed him.

MUSICIANS MAY GO DEMOCRATIC

Federation Objects to the Republicans' "Offish" Channel Entertainment Over Radio

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (UPI)—Chicagoans, who are members of the Republican party for permitting the use of canned music and threatened to go Democratic if the state legislature did not ratify the Chicago Federation of Musicians, started the war by serving justice last night on all Chicago radio stations.

The federation, which is about to place the Republican party of Cook county on the ballot, will this weekend call a meeting of its members in the campaign that will start next week in James J. Farley Hall.

Local musicians have agreed to meet Monday by Gov. Henry Earle, and the federation will be with him.

AN ODD JOBS' CAMPAIGN

HERE are two ways of meeting any sort of misfortune. One is to sit down and call on the world to witness that you are being foully treated. The other is to roll up your sleeves and go-out and do something to make things better.

As far as the present economic depression goes, the first method seems to be more popular with most of us. We read and hear of men who are close to starvation because they can't get work, and we shake our heads and feel very sorry for them—and let it go at that.

There are exceptions, however. In Racine, Wisconsin the citizens decided to adopt the second course; and they have gone to work so effectively that their action deserves to be broadcast over the nation so that other cities can copy it.

An intelligent columnist named Tex Reynolds, who writes for the Racine Times-Courier, got the idea that bit of a job, no matter how pitiful, does a job. A man is lot more good than a lot of public waiting. With the aid of his paper, he launched what you might call an Odd Job Campaign, urging everyone in Racine who possibly could to find, or invent, some sort of odd job that some unemployed workers could fill.

Business and civic leaders fell in line enthusiastically. The unemployed men were enrolled, so that people could see just how many men needed work. Citizens who had regular jobs looked around for chances to hire men. Some engaged men to clean their furnaces. Others found they could pay a couple of dollars to have ashes hauled away and rubbish removed. Others found small jobs. All in all, a good many flat pocketbooks got a little much-needed stuffing.

Now the important thing about all of this is that it is the sort of measure that any city or town can take. It is adapted to the biggest city in the country and to the smallest; it does not need a lot of wealthy people to make it a success. The man of modest means can take an important part in it.

Some of the jobs obtained in this manner prove permanent. Most of them last only a day or a week. But in either case they are extremely valuable to the men who get them. A five-dollar bill looks pretty big to a man who hasn't worked lately. And it's a lot better for him to get it by earning it than by having some charitable organization hand it to him.

It is hard to over-estimate the gain that might be made if every city and town should put on a similar campaign. A great deal of misery and suffering could be averted and a real stride toward better, more active business could be made. Why not give it a try? These Racine people have an idea that deserves copying.

A MAYOR'S WIFE IS ROBBED

IT HAS been a long time since there has been anything quite as amusing as Mayor William Hale Thompson's recent thunderous declaration that Chicago's police must get the upper hand in their war with gangland.

Such a declaration, in itself, is not especially funny, of course. But you have to look at it in connection with its background.

Through several years gangland has had Chicago more or less at its mercy, and during all of that time the mayor has never seemed perturbed by the situation. His public remarks have been chiefly assertions that the city's troubles have been greatly magnified by designing political-schemers and sensational-newspapers.

But the other night gangsters held up the mayor's wife and relieved her of some valuable jewels. And the next day the mayor sounded off.

"Will you pardon us while we send a brief laugh up our sleeve?"

DISCIPLINE, THEN AND NOW

WHETHER or not the world is growing better, it is at least growing a little less brutal. Brief news items in nearly any newspaper will prove that.

The other day, for instance, a dispatch told of some insubordination on a British battleship. The skipper was a firm disciplinarian, and the crew resented it; so three or four score bluejackets went A. W. O. L. one night and had a gay time on shore. Taken back aboard ship by the patrols, they are now awaiting court martial.

These sailors will be punished, of course—probably by the loss of privileges and by fines. But a century ago, in the British navy or any other, what would have happened? Their ring-leaders would have been hanged, and the rest would have been flogged until they were fit for the hospital. That was the universal idea of the way to maintain naval discipline 100 years ago.

The modern age, with all its faults, isn't quite as tough as the age of our great-grandfathers.

EXPLANATION TO YESTERDAY'S CARTOON:
Another rocky on the Nelson River—industries are moving westward. The Hudson Bay Company has abandoned the site of a house built on ice during the spring breakup, and the turbulent high water. These phenomena of nature are caused by the spray of the rapid turning in ice beneath some great hammock of stone, the warmer high waters of spring carrying away the entire mass.

Dogs That Cannot Bark—Prof. Bill of Kling College, the discoverer of the island of Juan de Nova, a small island situated off the coast of Madagascar, found that the native dogs did not bark, and that they didn't want to bark, either, although they had been taught to do so.

Department Plans Musical Festival For Mid-December

Provision is made on the calendar of the music department of the Twentieth Century club for a musical festival to be given December 12 at one of the churches in the city. Popular demand has encouraged the club to make the festival sponsored by the department last year proving so successful. This event among others planned by the department will be held formally at the first meeting of the organization this fall.

Mrs. Stureon McCoy, vice-president of the music department, organized the group Tuesday afternoon at her home on Elm street. The subject for the year was "Oratorio." Mrs. McCoy's novel book representing the whole history of American life, $1000, for the best book of American history written during the year $2000; for the best American biography, $1000; for the most patriotic and unselfish service, $1000; for an original American play, $1000; for the national value of the stage, $1000; for the best editorial of the year $500; for the best criticism of the year $500; for the best column in an American newspaper $500; for the best volume of verse by an American author, $1000.

Mrs. A. L. Smith reviewed the Pulitzer prize novel "Laughing Boy," by La Farce and Mrs. J. H. Barnes, historian of the department, spoke on "The Great Writers" by Mark Connolly, Pulitzer prize play.

Mr. E. H. Landau, department chairman, was in charge of the business session of the department. The slogan of the department this year is "In famous quotation from the Puritan: 'Food for thought'." Books are to be tasted, eaten to be swallowed and some to be chewed and digested." During the discussion, the book of the afternoon Mrs. George Sloan and yellow were featured in the decoration for the 12 tables. The decorations of the department were prepared by Mrs. Sweeny and Mr. Robert Simpson, served refreshments.

PURITAN COUPLE
Mr. and Mrs. George Waggoner, Puritans, are spending their weeks at the T. George Hotel.

Whitell won low score favor. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Higash won high scores and were first and second in the low score favor.

Mrs. Frank Baldwin was chairman of arrangements, and was assisted by Mrs. O. P. Patrice, Mrs. Jessie Williams, Mrs. William and Mrs. O. F. Olson. The dining room committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. O. Smith, included Mrs. W. C. Johnson, Mrs. C. A. Ames, Mrs. Emma L. Warren, Miss Corinne Stiller and Miss Beulah Carlson.

Boise Woman Is Winner of Story Contest of B.P.W.

Mrs. E. J. Dickey, member of the Idaho Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs and society editor of the Idaho Statesman, Boise, won a $20 prize in the story contest of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, in competition with 100 contestants.

The story, "A Woman's Dream," by Mrs. Dickey, concerned Mrs. C. G. Drink, who eight years ago drove 80 miles over the cold mountains to sell $100 worth of dressed turkeys which he had raised with painstaking care, only to find the market already saturated with birds, according to the Statesman.

"It was on her way back home that Mrs. Drink conceived the plan for the big batch turkeys, which now has 22 branches and last fall marketed 37 carloads of turkeys, a million dollar business, Mrs. Drink is manager," the article continued.

Awards were based on 50 per cent achievement of the woman herself and 50 per cent for the way in which her work was received by the writer.

ANGLER LANDS STRANGE 'FISH'

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (UPI)—Ephraim S. Noble, an angler of some note on the south lakes, fished a line into Lake Michigan off the coast of the lake, off the foot of Roosevelt road.

Then he lit his pipe and sat himself in contemplation. He was alone. His boat was empty—so far that two men held up Michael Weiser, 33, who not only has old clothes but also wears shoes made by and Noble didn't know it.

"Give us your dough," one of the bandits demanded.

"I haven't any," Noble replied and took out his broad brimmed hat, his threadbare garment. The skeptical bandits searched him and found it tucked away in his pocket. They were surprised.

"As a penalty for lying to them, the robbers tossed Weiser into the lake."

Weiser still fished and contented.

Suddenly his bobber dived. Yards of line spun through the water. Noble raced to the window. A wild scene of lions and tigers flashed through his head as he desperately reeled in. The pole bent over, then doubled back. It would not stand to his catch. It couldn't be a whale or even a sea lion. Noble reasoned as he reeled in for they don't wear collars.

"It wasn't—it was Weiser."

Bean Threshing Is Begun After Rain

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 15 (Special)—After a delay of three weeks, threshing of the 1930 crop of grain threshing was again resumed Monday. Cool weather permitting, and after work will finish the beans remain in their identity. So far no damage has been reported from the wet weather.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. E. Kunkel and Miss Elizabeth were gathered in the home of Mrs. George Pomery home, near Twin Falls.

"Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dore, and baby who have lived in this town since the early months, while Mr. Dore worked on the Albert Holmlund ranch, have moved to Twin Falls."

Jim Franklin, of Twin Falls, Jim Franklin, favorite business visitor in the locality, and an overnight guest of Miss Jeanne Kunkel, was here.

Miss Doris Satterlee and Miss Dora Ward, teachers, spent the week end at their homes near Twin Falls and Cascade.

Several visitors from this vicinity attended funeral services of Robert Palmer, in Twin Falls, Sunday afternoon.

Local business and small schools were Monday business visitors in Twin Falls.

School will be dismissed here on Thursday, Oct. 16, and the sessions to be held Friday and Saturday in Twin Falls where the teachers of eight counties will convene.

Too Much to Hope For

"If we was as anxious," said Uncle Elton, "to get even for every favor done us as we is for every favor done us as we is for every much friend air look talk to listen to," Washington Star.
