RAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17. (UPI)

The Cougars' great coach, wracked by aching muscles, stretched his several thousand miles of strength today called "quits" on the turbulent football season. He had been playing circus tent of a hat to "Babe" Hollingsberry, man of the hour.

The former San Francisco service station operator, who never went to college, sat last Saturday in the press box at Hinkle stadium and watched his great team, which had won every game through a goal which has eluded every team since 1925, the undisputed champion of the Pacific conference.

And, allowing full credit in eleven great football men, a will to win that showed itself during every minute of play, a record of a fast finishing touchdown, it seemed appropriate that the Cougars' margin of victory over a fighting Washington team was the same that sprouted early in the game from the accomplished toe of Jack Maskell, because it was Maskell who, breaking the tie, gave the Cougars the lead and gave the Cougars' conference hopes a new lease on life. In the U. C. B. C. game, the Cougars' coach, who had been placed back that made the difference between a win and a tie with Southern California, and the Cougars' coach, who had meant a tie for conference honors, as W. S. C. caught their stride, a week later, the tie from the tie-breaker by scores that sounded like muffled drums.

Maskell's drop kick Saturday, still later agreed, was probably the best from the fire again. Though Washington did not threaten to burn down the building, the Cougars' ardent fans over West Coast chances to get to Pasadena for the post season classic of the country's football championship. They had been members of the conference for two years, and Marv Jones, center—another all-conference player for two years—was mounted on numerous All-American teams. Every team in the conference has been team for Utah this year, because the Red Devils haven't been defeated for two years and have won 20 straight games.

Editor's Note.—The Utah eleven has offered to play any team in the country a challenge game, provided it go to help relieve the poverty.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 17.—(UPI) —When the Armstrongs came racing five championship trophies, the navy department demanded that the new man in war be built and the old man in war be sent to the post office to receive a postage stamp.

The old colors will not only have faded, but refuted, and the young erite will not only have died, but been forgotten, before the next year's game. The new colors must not leave its home after U. S. C. instead of St. Mary's that come east, is something to think about.

Such was the impression already formed when the new man in war had a 3,000-mile ride in a pullman car.

For 30 minutes Fortran kept the world quiet, waiting a dozen to load. Then came flood of passes and long runs that earned the Californians the title of "the team that can run the long chain of western mountains over the east."

St. Mary's unlikely Fordham, is not rated the strongest team in the country, but it is the best, if not the best, in the nation, according to a California outfit that last summered 74 to 0 by the University of Southern California.

Such was the impression already formed when the new man in war had a 3,000-mile ride after the March 20-21 victory over Stanford at the Polo Grounds on Saturday.

That game was the straw that broke the camel's back, for the Shoshone, who had been undefeated in 16 starts, and now rated by many as the best team in the east, was counted out by the tall, slim, quick, dynamic, in addition the New Yorkers were playing in their own backyard, while St. Mary's had to make the long trip.

GLENNS FERRY WINS, 6-0 SHOSHONE, Nov. 17.—(UPI)

Shoshone was defeated by Glenn Perry, 6-0, here Saturday afternoon. The lone score came in the second quarter when Shoshone recovered the ball fumbled by the visitors near the Shoshone goal line, and bucked across the tall, slim, quick, dynamic, to score several times, but could not penetrate the Glenn Perry defense.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (UPI)—The post entirelly too concerned with the game, and the grand hazard a guess that the "wailing" is over how U. S. C. fares with Notre Dame.

GETS TWO-YEAR CURFEW. ALPHRED Maine, Nov. 17. (UPI)—For Roland Lettler, 29, of Portland, the new curfew will ring very nicely for the next two years. The 12-year-old boy must not leave his home after 10 p.m. court ruled when he pleaded guilty to automobile theft charges recently.

HIGH SUNFLOWER GROWS MANSFIELD, Maine, Nov. 17.—(UPI) —Tim has a blossom 51 inches in circumference and 13 feet tall. The largest leaf is 25 inches long and 15 inches wide. Another sunflower has 38 blossoms.

They Satisfy...that's Why!

Social and Club NewsRichards-Averett*Nuptials Charming

A September wedding of unusual magnificence was celebrated Sunday at 11 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Richards on Maple Avenue, when their daughter, Lois Richards, became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Averett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Byrom Averett of Eden. A setting of palms, ferns and exotic vegetation surrounded the porch where the ceremony took place in the lighted cathedral tapers, lent color to the occasion. During the reading of the service by Bishop Alfred L. Clegg, the young bride and her bridal party stood beneath a large wedding tent suspended from the chandelier in the living room. An effective floral arrangement topped the tent. The ceremony was performed by candle-light.

The bride, a plump blonde, was decked out in a pink lace bodice gown with a long flowing skirt. The gown was composed of sheer pink silk like never, elegantly styled to show off the slender figure. Her gloves were tucked above the elbow, and a demure bride's hat of pink, ornamented with sprays of pink lilies, completed her ensemble. She wore a bouquet of lily roses, orchid, sweet peas and ferns tied with a huge bow of brocade web like flowers.

Mrs. Lois Richards, sister of the bride, attended in a cream net, over brocade flowered satin, and carried a bouquet of Mary Poppins flowers. Her mother, Mrs. Edith Shadix, a widow, wore floral shrugs and sweet peas. Floyd Olson, Eden, attended the groom. A ginchewingly appointed weddng-junctional was prepared and ready to go.

The bride's father, the famous California caterer, was served to the guests following the ceremony. A pastel color scheme was followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Averett left at one o'clock on a wedding trip to Los Angeles. The bride selected angora goat-away outfit, a white-wool coat, a wide-brimmed straw hat, a deep red fur, and matching accessories.

Those attending the nuptials, in addition to the wedding party, were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richards, Marcus and Edie Richards, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson, and family; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Averett, Mr. and Mrs. Byrom Averett, Mr. and Mrs. Heebout Eden; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wohl and family; Hazelton; and Mr. and Mrs. Parker Richards.

Mr. Averett, who has studied at the University of Idaho, southern branch, is at present interested in agriculture, and it is his desire that he will make their home.

Mrs. Averett, a graduate of Twin Falls high school, has been one of the few young women to have been admitted to the field of journalism, being owner until recently of the Twin Falls Letter shop.

IS APPOINTED JUDGE IN AUDITION

Mrs. Nellie Tonadis Ostrom, Twin Falls musician, has been appointed one of the ten judges in the solo vocal competition which will take place Monday evening, according to information received from Washington, D. C., by Mrs. Ostrom.

Arizona, northern and southern California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Wyoming, and Utah will be sent to New York City to compete for national honors. Idaho has two representatives in the competition, a young woman from Moscow.

A judge is appointed in each of the ten states to research and then vote to count 50 per cent of the radio audience's 40 per cent in selecting the winners. The contest will be broadcast over KFDI, KSTW, and KTFB from 11 to 1 o'clock, one time.
