Death Sentences of Eight Soviet Enemies Commuted By Country's Parliament

Carnegie Public Library
Idaho State Chamber of Com
Bldg

MOSCOW, Dec. 8 (UP)—The death sentence imposed yesterday on five Russian technicians, accused of plotting with foreign powers for a war of intervention on Russia, were commuted today by the Zik (central executive committee of the Soviet Union—equivalent to the parliament in other countries).

The death sentences were commuted to ten years' imprisonment. The three other accused men, who had been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, were given a commutation to five years' imprisonment.

In extending clemency, the Zik said the proletarian state does not desire revenge on beaten and disarmed enemies.

The commutations brought to an end one of the strangest cases in modern political histroy, in which the eight defendants damned themselves unreservedly, confessing to an extensive plot to sabotage the industrial and economic progress of Soviet Russia and deliver her into the hands of foreign powers. England and France were accused by the defendants of having plotted to bring about an outside war against Russia.

The proceedings were broadcast by radio to millions of Russian listeners and were spreded in detail through the press. Mass meetings were held all over the country, and an insistent public clamor was created for the execution of the eight men.

BUSINESS MEN OF WESTERN STATES HOLD CONVENTION

Financial Leaders Gather With Government Experts to Discuss Various Problems Affecting Their Territory

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 8 (UP).—Men of finance and business and government statistical experts were to discuss railroad rates, lumber, wheat, grapes, mining, oil and shipping at the opening of the eighth western divisional meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States here today.

Leaders in commercial and business lines from California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming and Montana along with executive heads from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington, D. C., were present for the two-day sessions.

Oil will be one of the principal topics under discussion today, preceded by an address by Herbert M. MacMillan, Los Angeles, president of the California Gas and Oil association. MacMillan pointed out that the cost of a gallon of gasoline from the earth into the gasoline tank of an automobile is 19.48 cents in California, including a 3-cent state tax. He said the figure was sworn to him a short time ago and was a direct answer to motorists who contend that oil [illegible] midwest [illegible] fields. He said the California State Supreme court ruling prohibiting the wasting of natural gas was expected to curtail production in the Kettleman Hills field and generally aid the situation.

Major W. D. Brookings, manager of the natural resources department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington, D. C., said about 5,000,000 men in the United States are employed by the oil industries.

Speakers today included L. C. Newlands, president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce; Paul Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific railroad; Paul T. Carroll, president of the San Francisco Convention and Tourist Bureau, and Donald T. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists association.

Denies Motion for Dismissal of Suit

BOISE, Dec. 8 (UP).—Federal Judge Charles C. Cavanah has denied the motion of the defendant to dismiss in the suit of George N. Carter, commissioner of reclamation, against the Blaine County Investment company and water users and claims of water rights in the Little Lost River country.

Ex-Judge Lindsey Pleads Not Guilty

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (UP)—Former Judge Ben Lindsey pleaded not guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct today when he was arraigned in West Side court in connection with his eviction yesterday from the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

His hearing was set for 2 p. m. Friday, after Lindsey explained to Magistrate Dreyer that he had engagements—one in Reading, Pa., today and another in Hartford, Conn., on Thurday.

Lindsey's arraignment was made on a complaint filed by Detective William May. The charge was brought after the former judge, attending services in the cathedral interrupted Bishop William T. Manning and demanded an opportunity to reply to the charges the bishop had made in his sermon.

Manning's sermon was a criticism of Lindsey's advocacy of companionate marriage. The former judge was hurried from the cathedral by detectives after he mounted a table and demanded five minutes time in which to reply to Manning.

Money for Relief Of War Vets Will Be Exhausted Soon

BOISE, Dec. 8 (UP)—Funds for relief of needy veterans of the world war will be exhausted this biennium for the first time since the formation of the fund, according to Lester F. Albert, secretary of the Veterans' Welfare Bureau.

The fund now contains over $7000 but depression and the arrival of winter will result in heavy inroads into this balance in the near future. In the last biennium, about two-thirds of the $60,000 appropriation was spent, but the entire fund will be exhausted this biennium, Albert believed.

Hay Association Sends Contracts

CALDWELL Dec. 8 (UP)—Farm product contracts of the Southern Idaho, Eastern Oregon Hay Grower's association are being distributed all the way from Grandview to Weiser, W. T. Bales, secretary and treasurer has announced. The association in purpose and organization is similar to that of the turkey growers.

Activity at Mines Ceases In Honor of Mother Jones

MT. OLIVE, Ill., Dec. 8 (UP).—Coal mines of this section of Illinois were closed today as the miners trooped into Mt. Olive by hundreds to attend the funeral of Mary "Mother" Jones, who spent most of her long life battling for the rights of laboring men.

Several thousand persons, most of them miners, walked silently yesterday past the bier of Mother Jones, whose body was brought here from Washington.

Several hundred of them, all who could be packed into the I. O. O. F. hall at one time, heard the Rev. Father J. R. W. Maguire of St. Viator College, Bourbonnais, Ill., pay tribute to the memory of Mother Jones at a special service.

"Today, in the mahogany offices in every capital, wealthy owners of coal mines sigh with relief," said Rev. Father Maguire, a personal friend of Mother Jones and himself an ardent worker for labor unions.

"Today, the toil worn men and women of the mines in this state, in Colorado, in West Virginia, and Pennsylvania, weep tears of grief," he continued. "The cause of the relief and the grief is the same—Mother Jones is dead."

"She who has faced many courts has now appeared before the great tribunal and for the first time has received a verdict of untainted justice and love."

MORE WHEAT WILL BE FED TO STOCK THAN LAST YEAR

Surplus Greatly Reduced Because of Corn Shortage and Farm Board's Campaign to Feed Wheat to the Animals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—Wheat to be fed to livestock this year will total 236,000,000 bushels, the department of agriculture estimated in a special report today.

This compares with only 90,000,000 bushels of wheat fed to livestock last year and was attributed to the short corn crop, owing to the drought, and the federal farm board's campaign for feeding wheat to livestock.

Supply of wheat for the 1930-31 season was estimated to total 1,115,000,000 bushels. After allowance for the indicated amount to be fed to livestock for seed requirements, for 500,000,000 bushels to be made into flour and 70,000,000 bushels already exported, the wheat surplus is reduced to 230,000,000 bushels, the report said.

This was the first survey to include wheat fed by non-growers of the grain. It was based on answers obtained from 190,000 questionnaires sent to farmers and 63,000 questionnaires sent to mill and elevators, poultry men and other wheat users. Wheat growers intended to feed 182,400,000 bushels this year, compared with 57,800,000 bushels last year.

Other farmers, feed manufacturers, and commercial poultrymen, expect to use a total of 53,600,000 bushels this year, compared with 32,100,000 a year ago.

"The extent to which farmers and others will carry out their expressed intentions to use wheat for feed will be determined by the relationship of wheat prices to prices of feed grains, especially corn," the department said.

"The supply of corn, oats, barley, and grain sorghums this year is about 10 per cent or 10,000,000 tons below 1929, and the supply of hay is 10 per cent or 70,000,000 tons below 1929. The increased use of wheat for feed this year will amount to about 4,000,000 tons, if 236,000,000 bushels of wheat are fed.

Current low prices of wheat, feed grains and commercial feeds are resulting in unusually heavy feeding the department explained. It is said the proportion of hogs marketed to date has been less and live weights have been heavier than would be expected following the short corn crop.

In estimating a reduction in wheat surplus to 230,000,000 bushels, the department said a similar computation as of December 1, a year ago, would have indicated a surplus then of 303,000,000 bushels.

Injuries Fatal to Wealthy Newsboy

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (UP) — Tony May, an immigrant who became known as "The Millionaire Newsboy," died today of injuries received when a powerful bomb, concealed in a box which he believed contained a birthday present, exploded in his hands.

May, who would have been 64 tomorrow, was fatally injured and his son, Eugene, 16, was seriously hurt, when, urged by Eugene, the father decided to open his "birthday present," received by parcel post, ahead of time.

TOWN ENFORCES OLD BLUE LAWS

Paper Mill Only Business To Keep Open on Sunday At Bellows Falls, in Vermont

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt., Dec. 8 (UP).—Everyone observed Sunday blue laws here yesterday except a paper mill, State's Attorney Ernest H. Gibson said today.

The laws have just begun to be enforced after nine years on the statute books.

The law forbids business which involves the exchange of money but exempts church collections and railroad transportation. It has been interpreted to include busses and taxis under the head of "rail transportation."

Twenty-eight merchants were arrested a week ago yesterday on complaints that they broke the Sabbath by conducting business on

EXPLOSION SINKS SALVAGE VESSEL, FOURTEEN KILLED

Mysterious Blast Sends Artiglio to Bottom of Ocean; Survivor Unable to Say Just What Happened on Board

BELLE ISLE, France, Dec. 8 (UP).—The Italian salvage ship Artiglio, nearing success in an effort to retrieve some $6,000,000 gold treasure from the sunken liner Egypt, was sunk yesterday by a deep sea explosion during operations to remove wreckage of another ship, the steamer Florence.

Fourteen members of the crew of the Artiglio were lost and seven others injured.

Winter storms had forced the Artiglio to cease temporarily its efforts to salvage the gold treasure and it had contracted with the French government to remove wreckage of the Florence which was loaded with munitions, when sunk eight miles off Belle Isle in 1918.

Time Bomb Placed

The Florence was supposed to have 400 tons of munitions in its hold when it crossed the Atlantic ocean from America to France in 1918. It was charged that unknown persons had placed a time bomb aboard the ship, set to explode when the vessel reached L'Orient. As a result it was sunk off Belle Island.

"I don't know how it happened," the chief mechanic of the Artiglio, who was injured, told the United Press. "Three divers had gone down yesterday and placed four

Cabinet Men Have Expensive Autos

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—Secretary of Treasury Mellon provides his own official car, and is the only member of the cabinet to do so. The government provides cars for the others.

Secretary of Interior Wilbur is to get a new official automobile for which $5000 is provided in the interior department appropriation bill presented to the House today to be applied on exchange for a new car.

Secretary of State Stimson has the most expensive automobile. It cost $6,475.

Permits Cancelled

BOISE, Dec. 8 (UP)—Idaho's state board of examiners ordered all permits to use privately owned automobiles on state business cancelled, effective Jan. 5, the date on which the new administration takes office. All departments were ordered to turn revolving funds back into the funds from which they were taken.

GREAT SKI JUMP

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 8 (UP)—If the jump had been accomplished at an accredited tournament, there would be a new Utah ski jumping record on the books today and Sverre Engen would be the new state champion. Engen bested the existing record by 26 feet when he leaped 183 feet in perfect form on the Ecker slide in Parley's canyon.

ESCAPED MANIACS ARE RETURNED TO N. Y. INSTITUTION

Clever Work by Young Detective Ends Freedom for 4 of 7 Men Who Made Getaway From Hospital Thursday

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (UP).—Four of the seven maniacs who made a spectacular escape on Thursday from the state hospital for the criminal insane at Beacon, N. Y., were back in the hospital today through quick work of a young third-grade detective.

George E. Wobber, assigned to Brooklyn headquarters, held the four desperate men and a woman at bay for nearly half an hour in a bare, dimly lighted apartment before dawn yesterday until other detectives arrived to arrest them.

The four recaptured are William H. Nelson, 21, the insane burglar who escaped two weeks ago and returned to liberate six other inmates; Harry Gordon, known as the "mad butcher of Rochester"; John Diggins, 30, and Frank Cambill. The woman arrested with them, charged with harboring criminals, was Mrs. Marie Ockenfels, 30.

Wobber, with three other detectives, traced the maniacs to the Brooklyn apartment, which was rented by Mrs. Ockenfels, and found only the woman and her sister at home. Wobber went into the apartment and talked to the women for more than two hours, while his companions waited outside in the hallway.

While he was there the four maniacs returned. Nelson, upon seeing the detective, produced a pistol and covered him.

"Hold on there," said Wobber, who had not revealed his identity. "Be careful with that thing—you might hurt somebody. Put it away. I'm O. K."

Nelson, apparently convinced, put the gun in his pocket.

Wobber immediately pulled his own pistol and covered the men. He called to his companions, but discovered they had gone away on a false clue. They had followed a watchman in the building who had left shortly before.

Copies of Proposed Insurance Code are Mailed on Saturday

BOISE, Dec. 8 (UP)—Copies of the proposed Idaho insurance code, as recommended by the Idaho Insurance Commission, were being mailed out to the press and interested persons throughout the state Saturday by the staff of D. C. Neifert, state director of insurance and secretary of the commission.

Santa Claus Need Not Worry About Steeds This Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—Santa Claus need not worry for lack of reindeer this Christmas.

There are between 900,000 and 1,000,000 in Alaska now, according to a report to the House appropriations committee by interior department officials. The committee provided $26,900 in the interior supply bill presented today for development of the reindeer industry, which up to date has not been very profitable. Only about 18,000 or 20,000 have been exported for meat so far.

BOMB THROWN BY STRIKING PUPILS FRIGHTENS GIRLS

Panic Results When Deadly Missle is Tossed From Auto At Normal School In Havana, Cuba; Classes Suspended

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 8 (UP)—A smoke bomb hurled among several hundred girl students assembling for classes at the girls normal school caused a panic today in which several girls were injured.

The bomb came from a passing automobile and apparently was thrown by striking male students who have refused to compromise with the government and return to classes at the university. Classes at the normal school were suspended for the day.

In another student disorder, a small riot at Matanzas broke up memorial services held in the theater there. Students in the balcony of the theater interrupted the services with shouts, and finally started running through the theater aisles. Spectators rushed into the street.

Many windows and street lights were broken before rural guards dispersed the crowd and arrested the student leaders.

MURDER OF MAN IN UTAH HOTEL BAFFLES POLICE

Underworld Characters Refuse to Talk About Slaying of Sam Frank, Memphis, Tennessee, last Friday Night

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 8 (UP).—That indefinite and ambiguous human classification, the underworld, continued to maintain a significant silence today as police tried futilely to clear up the murder of Sam Frank, Memphis, Tennessee, jewelry auctioneer, who was slain in his room at the Newhouse hotel, Friday night.

Usually talkative and often garrulous underworld characters refused to give police detectives the slightest lead.

In the meantime, authorities were seeking Jean Dayle, blond cabaret singer, and an unknown man, for questioning in connection with the crime.

A woman was believed to have been in Frank's apartment shortly before his death. Signs of her presence—including cigarette stubs with rouge stain on the ends, a compact and one silk stocking—were evident; also a friend of Frank's heard a woman's voice as he was passing Frank's room late Friday night.

The Memphis auctioneer was first doped, then gagged and bound and finally struck a crushing blow over the head with a beer bottle. Approximately $5000 in jewels, cash and negotiable securities were stolen.

As police view it, a man and woman were attracted to Frank by his 11-carat diamond ring [illegible] worth $5,000—and over a period of several days obtained [illegible] confidence and trust of the [illegible] man. The robbery was part of a well-thought-out scheme [illegible] it is believed the robbers had not intended to murder the man.

OVER 68 MILLION SOUGHT FOR USE IN COMING YEAR

Appropriation Needed in Indian Work Increases Greatly; $15,000,000 Set Aside For the Hoover Dam Project

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—Total new appropriations of $68,552,006.73 for the various agencies of the interior department, including $24,423,496.73 for Indians and $15,000,000 for the Hoover dam project, are provided in the annual department supply bill for the next fiscal year presented to the House today.

The appropriation for the Indians, which reflects the mounting cost of the red men wards of Uncle Sam, is the largest single item in the bill, the next largest being funds for continuing work on the Hoover dam at Boulder canyon.

Increases in appropriations for these two matters are responsible for a general increase in proposed appropriations for the next fiscal year, beginning next July 1, over those for the current year. New appropriations for next year compared with $62,911,623.74 for the 1931 fiscal year.

In addition, the bill carries reappropriations aggregating $16,952,500, making the total $85,340,211.73. As in the first supply bill passed by the House last week, the billion dollar treasury post-office measure, the House appropriations committee continued its economy by reducing the amount below estimates of the budget bureau, in this case by $940,[illegible]

The bill carries [illegible] the reclamation bureau to continue work on present projects; $9,498,250 for national parks, $1,241,100 for Alaska and Hawaii; $3,132,740 for the U. S. Geological Survey, and $22,237,300 for the general land office, among other agencies.

Appropriations for national park include $26,500 to restore George Washington's birthplace at Wakefield, Virginia.

The Hoover dam appropriation of $15,000,00 is $2,000,000 less than recommended by the budget bureau.

The committee rejected the Interior department recommendation for $50,000 for investigation to determine the lands in Arizona that should be embraced within the Gila reclamation project.

Among appropriations provided for reclamation projects were the following:

Yuma project, Arizona-California, $285,000; not to exceed $25,000 of power revenues for operation commercial system.

Boise project, Idaho—$65,000. Unexpended balance of $60,000 appropriation for Arrowrock division fiscal year 1931, remain available.

Minidoka project, Idaho—$329,000, including power revenues made available for construction.

Bitterroot project, Montana—$350,000.

Milk River project, Montana—$34,000.

Sun River project, Montana—Unexpended balance remain available.

North Platte project, [illegible] Wyoming, not to exceed [illegible] power revenues for [illegible] commercial system.

"FAITH, HOPE, AND—!"

DISTRICT QUINTS MAKE SCHEDULES FOR THIS SEASON

Twin Falls Basketeers Will Play First Game at Oakley; Take on Pocatello and American Falls in December

The abdication of King Football in favor of the people's choice Kid Basketball, was signalized Saturday by a meeting of coaches, principles, superintendents and officials, at the Twin Falls high school here, to work out hoop schedules for the 1930-'31 season, and to hold a school for aspiring officials.

If concerted action will have any effect, the 1931 state basketball tournament will be held in new Twin Falls high school gymnasium, said to be the finest high school gym in the state. All representatives from every school in the district who were present at the meeting, went on record as favoring the staging of the tourney here, in preference to Moscow. The date for this tourney has been announced as March 20.

Date for the district tourney for Class A boys' teams, to be held in Twin Falls, was set as March 5, 6 and 7. The girls' teams will hold their district tournament here on March 12, 13 and 14, unless the state tourney is played here, in which case the girls will play elsewhere in the district. Class B boys' teams will hold their tournament March 5, 6 and 7, with the place as yet undecided.

Means of determining the district championship will be the same as last year, with a playoff between winners in Class A and Class B elimination.

Under the tutelage of Homer Hudleson, former Vandal basketball luminary, officials of the district discussed and studied rules, particularly in their application to fouls. Coaches of the various schools were also present at this meeting, so that no misunderstanding of decisions by officials might arise.

Schedules worked out for all teams whose representatives attended the meeting here Saturday, follow. It is understood several more schools plan to enter the district competition, and will arrange their schedules at a later date. All games listed, unless otherwise specified, include both boys' and girls' teams.

GIRLS TANGLE ON FOOTBALL FIELD

PORTLAND, Dec. 6 (UP).—A dainty miss, clad colorfully, wended her way skillfully through a group of other dainty misses scattered about the frozen country day grounds recently and football's first touch of feminine influence ended with the girls of Pi Kappa winners over the girls of Epsilon Tau Sigma, 8 to 6, in a regulation size football game.

The costumes may not have been according to the rule book, for there were riding habits, golf knickers and even gymnasium suits worn, as the two teams trotted out onto the hard frozen gridiron. But the game that followed was anything but the powder-puff variety. It was a bitter struggle and victory came late in the fourth period when Orris Merrill, dainty captain of the Pi Kappas—outtalked her coach, braved a cut lip, and dashed down the field in two tries to bring victory to her side.

The weather was freezing and only 500 were on the sidelines as the two teams battled.

The Pi Kappa eleven made a sorry showing in the first half, which ended with that team on the wrong side of a 6-0 score.

But between halves, Head Coach Wallace Card of the Pi Kappas gave his line ladies and backfield girls a good talking to. It was an entirely different team which took the field at the opening of the second half. They promptly scored a safety and followed this with a brilliant winning touchdown that climaxed a 25-yard dash by Orris.

Orris was the heroine. Early in the play, a pile-up was untangled only to reveal her suffering from a badly split lip. Blood was flowing freely. Coach Card ruled that she must come out of the game. Orris had something to say about that. And what she said was that she was staying right on the field. Wherefter Coach Card retired to the bench, remarking about the futility of arguing with a woman.

NOVEL PILOT TRAINER

WASHINGTON.—The latest device used in training airplane pilots is mounted on the rear of an automobile and extends about three feet above the car's top. The front wings act as ailerons and the rear ones as elevators. The faster the car travels the more sensitive the controls. The pilot sits in the contrivance and endeavors to manouver the plane at different speeds of the car.

MORE THAN HALF MILLION PEOPLE SEE NOTRE DAME

Rockne's Football Eleven Draws Good Crowds Everywhere; Biggest Gathering At Army Game in Chicago

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (UP)—Notre Dame's undefeated football team drew a total attendance of approximately 539,000 and gate receipts of about $1,907,000 in ten games during the 1930 season, according to figures compiled today by the United Press.

The crowds at the three final games against Northwestern, Army and Southern California were restricted by the seating capacity of the stadiums. Tickets for the Northwestern and Southern California games were exhausted more than a week before the game.

Twice Notre Dame played to almost half million dollar galleries.

Approximately 11,000 tickets were sold at $1 to the Army game and 90,000 tickets were sold at $5 each to the Southern California game. The average price of tickets to the other eight games was $3. Tickets to the Navy game were $5 but some of the ducats to the Pittsburgh and other games were as low as $1.50.

The estimated attendance at each game follows:

Southern Methodist at South Bend	22,000
Navy at South Bend	45,000
Carnegie Tech at South Bend	32,000
Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh	75,000
Indiana at South Bend	15,000
Pennsylvania at Philadelphia	60,000
Drake at South Bend	20,000
Northwestern at Evanston	50,000
Army at Chicago	110,000
Southern California at Los Angeles	90,000
Total	539,000

The NUT CRACKER

O'Goofty says he has begun to wonder if football, after all, is strictly on the up and up. The way that Marchmont Schwartz goes through tackle in the last few minutes to play!

If they pulled such a trick in the prize ring as Notre Dame pulled on Northwestern and Army, the customers would howl and the boxing commission would investigate.

The trouble with a lot of football teams is that the alumni do all the kicking.

Wesley Fesler leaves Ohio State this year. Coach Sam Willaman is looking over the sophomore crop for three or four good men to take his place.

Ninety thousand people saw Carnera beat Paulino, but the gate was only $110,000, which is about $1.22 per person. Indicating those Spanish know their onions.

Bill Terry has been voted the most valuable player in the National League. Bill's job now is to convince John J. McGraw of that.

TROJANS CRUMBLE BEFORE TERRIFIC ATTACK OF IRISH

Notre Dame Wallops Southern California by Score of 27 to 0; 90,000 Fans Are Stunned by Scoring Orgy

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (UP).—Leaving a trail of destruction behind them, Notre Dame's rough riders have closed out the greatest two-year record in all gridiron history.

The Irish climaxed a winning streak of 19 straight victories without a defeat or tie by scoring a smashing 27-0 triumph over Southern California's widely heralded offensive eleven before 90,000 persons here Saturday.

Although Notre Dame won 20 straight games back in 1919, 1920 and 1921 before meeting defeat, the present streak is more formid*able because every victory was* over a major eleven without a real setup in the entire group during two seasons of play.

Thrown on the defensive at the outset of the game, Southern California had to fight with its back to the wall throughout a one-sided contest in which Notre Dame dominated in every department of play except punting.

Notre Dame took the opening kickoff and marched 80 yards down the field, lost the ball on downs, recovered it a moment later on the Trojans' 20-yard line and had a touchdown all in less than six minutes of play.

After Southern California had stopped Notre Dame's first assault, The Trojans lost the ball when a bad pass from center hit Jim Musick on the leg and Alvin Culver, big Notre Dame tackle, recovered on his opponents' 20-yard line. Set to stop Notre Dame's running attack, Frank Carideo, Napoleonic quarterback, caught the Trojans' defense napping with a flank pass from Marchy Schwartz to himself. The pass was for 10 yards, and Carideo ran the remaining 10 yards for Notre Dame's first touchdown.

At the end of the first period Notre Dame was ahead, 13-0. On the last play of the opening quarter, Bucky O'Connor, East Orange, N. J., Irishman, who unexpectedly started at fullback in place of Ex-Student Savoldi and the injured Mullins, slanted off tackle, and ran 80 yards down the sidelines for Notre Dame's second touchdown.

In the first five minutes of the third period Notre Dame marched 69 yards in seven swift plays for its third touchdown. Schwartz made runs of 12 and 42 yards in this march, and O'Connor, taking a lateral from Schwartz, circled Southern California's right end for eight yards and the score. Garrett Arbelbide, Trojan right end, was knocked unconscious on this play—that's the way the Irish were taking out their men all day.

Nick Lukats, a third-string back, made the last touchdown for Notre Dame on a 15-yard run in the last two minutes of play. The Irish had four other scoring opportunities, penalties several times stopping them.

Lions and Christians

The practice of feeding Christians to the lions has been discontinued but we haven't rid ourselves of the idea. The football "setup" or "breather" carries out the plan perfectly, according to George Trevor, in a recent "Outlook and Independent."

"Yarmouth University," he writes, "has a man-killing schedule, calling for four or five games against top-notch rivals. Naturally it wants two or three 'breathers.'

Avoid Tough Guys

"It knows that many so-called little teams are little only in name and student enrollment; that they are loaded for bear with tramp athletes and semi-pros. Naturally Yarmouth steers clear of these power-packed trouble makers when searching for easy marks. It avoids the rough little urchins and dates up Marmaduke College, away up-state.

"'I've got you a swell breather,' says Yarmouth's graduate man*ager to Coach 'Pop' Brawler.* 'You can take these guinea pigs in a stride, give your five elevens a brisk workout, and point for Princevard the week after.' This suits Pop fine. An 80-point walkover won't hurt his reputation.

For a Coat of Paint

How does the proposition appeal to little Marmaduke? It sounds like money in the bank. The Marmaduke manager's vanity is flattered by the fact that mighty Yarmouth has deigned to notice his tiny school.

"'We'll be steam-rollered, of course,' he muses, 'but the publicity will be worth a good shellacking. Our kids will get a kick out of playing in the Yarmouth bowl, and think of the sports page advertising for little Marmaduke. Then there's the money angle. Our rickety wooden stands need a coat of paint and Yarmouth guarantees us a nice cut of the gate. Besides, the experience of meeting a top-ranking eleven will give our fellows lots of seasoning.'"

Vermont is cited as an example in the flesh. Last year Vermont played New York U. and Yale on successive Saturdays. They learned football to the tune of 77 to 0 in the first game and 89 to 0 in the second.

"On the Monday after the Yale game," Trevor writes, "the Vermont coach, a United States army officer, sent me his casualty list. It began, 'one concussion of the brain—serious; one concussion—slight'; and continued for two typewritten pages, listing such relatively minor hurts as dislocated knees, pulled tendons, cracked ribs, sprained ankles, muscle strains and broken collar bones."

Trevor has struck upon one of the worst evils in intercollegiate football. There is this difference between the modern butcheries and those of Nero's day, however. The Christians of modern college football go out of their way to be eaten by the lions.

DEBATE ON DRY LAW UNDER WAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—The first prohibition debate in this session of congress began as the house considered the annual treasury postoffice appropriation bill.

Wets under the leadership of Representative Sirovich, Democrat, New York, and Representative Linthicum, Democrat, Maryland, were making an effort to bar the use of poisons in denatured industrial alcohol. Industrial alcohol is still under treasury supervision, although prohibition enforcement has been transferred to the justice department.

The House appropriations committee speeded work on President Hoover's $150,000,000 unemployment relief program, hearing testimony of Director of the Budget Roop on how the money should be spent. In both the House and Senate committees on agriculture plans were made for a drought relief sum of at least $60,000,000 and the Senate committee tentatively agreed to vote for that amount instead of the administration's bill, calling for only $25,000,000.

The special House committee investigating communist activities held its final hearing, with William Z. Foster as a leading witness. Foster said there are about 10,000 dues-paying members of the Communist party in the United States.

Australia's population of sheep is about 100,000,000. This is more than ten times the number of human inhabitants.

Trojans, Cougars Lead All Coast Selections

Here is the cream of players in the Pacific Coast Conference season just finished—the All-Pacific Coast Conference team selected by scores of sports writers on newspapers who are clients of NEA Service, Inc., as is The Idaho Evening Times. Left to right, top row, Arbelbide, Southern California, end; Duffield, Southern California, quarterback; Hein, Washington State, center and captain; Beckett, California, guard; Baker, Southern California, guard. Action left to right, Pinckert, Southern California, halfback; Kitzmiller, Oregon, halfback; McKalip, Oregon State, end; bottom row head, left to right, Edwards Washington State, tackle; Schwartz, Washington State, fullback; Schwegler, Washington, tackle.

Four stalwart sons of Troy; three battling Cougars, and one player each from Oregon, Oregon State, Washington and California—These comprise the 1930 All-Pacific Coast Conference team, selected by scores of sports writers whose newspapers are clients of NEA service, as is The Idaho Evening Times.

The team selected by NEA newspaper sports writers all over the Pacific Conference territory follows:

Center and captain—Mel Hein, Washington State.

Guards—Ted Beckett, California, and John Baker, Southern California.

Tackles—Paul Schwegler, Washington, and Glen Edwards, Washington State.

Ends—Garrett Arbelbide, Southern California, and Bill McKalip, Oregon State.

Quarterback—Marshall Duffield, Southern California.

Halfbacks — Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon, and Gray Pinckert, Southern California.

Fullback — Elmer Schwartz, Washington State.

Hein is designated captain as he was the unanimous choice for center.

Because of the coastwide range of the selectors, selection is limited to players on teams in the Pacific Coast Conference. This eliminates St. Mary's College, Whitman, Nevada, Occidental and other schools in smaller conferences.

Team Has Everything

The resulting combination forms a football team that rates A1 from the standpoints of weight, speed, kicking, varied offensive and strong defensive play.

The team's weight averages 189 pounds. The backfield's weight averages 182. The line's weight averages 193; from tackle to tackle, it's 199 pounds.

Hein, 195, everybody's choice for center, is one of those six footers who snaps faultlessly and plays a strong defense, his roving center also including ability to spoil passing attempts.

The guard combination brings a marvelous defensive guard in Beckett, who was California's most potent lineman, and Baker, a great running guard whose interference had much to do with Trojan ball toters' success. Beckett weighs 190, Baker, 180.

Powerful line smashers on offensive and ultra-smart on defensive work are the tackles, Edwards (235) and Schwegler (195).

These Northerners stood far above the rest of the field, Corbett, Oregon, and Hall, U. S. C., being their only rivals in the all-coast balloting.

Tall and rangy are the ends, effective in snaring or smearing passes. Arbelbide, while good on offensive is particularly dazzling in intercepting passes and running down punts. McKalip's forte is pass receiving, although his defensive work is above the average 1930 wingman's.

Duffield, Mohler Favored

Duffield, 175, received the call for quarterback, with his teammate, Orv Mohler, as runner-up. Duffield is more experienced than the sensational sophomore. Also he is a proven field general, a quick kicker, fine passer, superlative safety and a sensational runner—either on punts, passes or orthodox ball carrying.

"Kitzmiller, Oregon's 163-pound "Flying Dutchman," does everything Duffield does—and a whale of a defensive job as well. Injuries and a poor support kept Kitzmiller's work shadowed heretofore, but this year, his playing put him forward as a strong All-American candidate halfback, quarter or full.

Pinckert, 183, long has been famous as an interfering back, a blocker essential in the Howard Jones' system so Duffields and Mohlers and Musicks get away to their sensational runs. This year he proved an effective ball carrier, while his defensive work leaves little to be desired.

Phil Moffatt, Stanford will-o-the-wisp, who passes, receives, punts and runs wild, and Merle Hufford, Washington star, were runners-up for halfback.

Power for this backfield is given by Schwartz, 200-pound Cougar, whose line smashing is a potent part of the Hollingbery offensive,

LABOR SUGGESTS SHORTER HOURS, WAGE INCREASES

Federation Believes Working Man Should Be Given More Money and More Time in Which to Spend or Enjoy It

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6 (UP).—Labor's program for the solution of unemployment was presented Friday by Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, at the opening of the national conference on "security in industry," under the auspices of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Labor's solution, as presented by Woll, is to increase the purchasing power of the masses. That would be mainly accomplished by increased wages and shorter working hours.

"The policy labor proposes would affect all industries and all employment," Woll said. "It would greatly increase the amount of employment during so-called periods of prosperity and would automatically reduce unemployment to a minimum during less favorable periods.

"Labor's policy can be stated in a few words: "Mass consumption must be enabled to keep pace with mass production; the purchasing power of the masses must be advanced in direct and equal proportion to the economies of labor, made possible by improvements in industrial processes and the organization of industry.

"Purchasing power may be advanced either by an increase in the income of the masses, or by a lowering of prices or by a combination of the two movements."

A higher standard of living, Woll said, is the increase of prosperity in a democracy. He commented that even in the midst of our "alleged prosperity", only a very small percentage of American workers obtained anything like a satisfactory standard. Therefore, he said the first need of the nation is a higher standard of living. In advocating shorter working hours, Woll argued that the increasing efficiency of industry by machine methods, which might otherwise increase unemployment would be used to increase the leisure time of the American people. Greater leisure, he contended, would lead to greater expenditure and a consequent further increase of purchasing power.

Club Plays Santa To Children's Home

RUPERT, Dec. 8 (Special).—Rupert Woman's club met at the club rooms Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Ross Wolfard in the chair, Mrs. Mina Burnside, president, being absent. The club played the role of advance Santa Claus in a very splendid fashion during its business period. An abundant supply of jam and jelly had been collected for the Children's Home at Boise and will be packed under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Cully, and $12.50 was given to the home in money. A health bond was purchased from the anti-tuberculosis committee, and plans were made to send gifts to the children from this county who might be detained in the school at St. Anthony.

The Rebekah lodge met in regular session at its lodge rooms Thursday evening, and the business period was given over to the election of officers, the following being named to assume the reins of power the coming year. Noble grand, Mrs. William Hunter; vice grand, Mrs. Grace Pinson; recording secretary, Mrs. Butteane; financial secretary, Mrs. Margaret Butteane; treasurer, Mrs. Ruby Hayes. The social part of the evening was spent with cards, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Arthur P. Stembridge, wife of the rector of the Episcopal church, arrived Wednesday after having spent some time with relatives in Sac City, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Stembridge have the oversight of both the Rupert and Burley churches, but will make their home in Rupert.

DANCING GIRLS IN CHINA HAVE GONE WESTERN

PEIPING (UP).—While the government at Nanking has issued a mandate forbidding western-style dancing in the capital, Peiping's "night life" has been stimulated by the addition of a number of Chinese cabarets, in which Chinese girl partners are available at fixed fees for each dance.

At the same time, Chinese politicians who flocked to Peiping hunting for jobs in the new government are finding recreation in the foreign-style hotels.

For a number of years Peiping (then Peking) was satisfied with two "night clubs," in which Russian girls acted as partners. These cabarets had their ups and downs, but managed to keep going. Today they are profiting by the renewed activity.

But the latest novelties are the purely Chinese night clubs, of which there are now several. They are owned and operated by Chinese, with Chinese dancing partners and their patrons are mostly Chinese. Managers who learned the business in Shanghai are in charge.

Sing-song girls in Peiping, who have had two years before the city again became a sort of capital, are determined to learn western dancing and qualifying as dancing partners. Several of them already have abandoned the old-style methods for the western innovation.

Legion Auxiliary Assists Veterans

KIMBERLY, Dec. 8 (Special).—The ladies of the Kimberly Auxiliary of the American Legion met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Butler at Hansen Friday afternoon. There were 12 members present. The afternoon was spent in tearing carpet rags for rugs for the Veterans' hospital at Boise. Several interesting games were played and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis returned Thursday from a trip of several weeks spent visiting relatives in Springfield, Missouri. Mr. and Mrs. Davis returned via Gulf of Mexico route, southern California and Salt Lake City.

Ben Potter left for Boise Friday morning to spend several days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Potter. Mr. Potter, Sr., who has been in ill health for some time, is reported to be not so well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pierce arrived from Ogden, Utah, Saturday. Mr. Pierce, who has been in the employ of the Mountain States company at Ogden for the past year, has accepted a position as bookkeeper at the Breckenridge mill. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will reside in Kimberly.

IT'S FEEDING THAT MAKES A FOOTBALL TEAM "FIGHT"

> EDITOR'S NOTE
> In his eleven years at Notre Dame University, prior to 1930, Knute Rockne has turned out four national championship teams and has seen 101 victories chalked up by the elevens under his guidance. Naturally, these men have been most carefully conditioned—for no sport is more exacting in its demands upon stamina than is the particular brand of football played by Coach Rockne's "Fighting Irish". We feel that Mr. Rockne's views on correct eating may be copied profitably by all who must face the struggle of modern life—and surely no man is better able to speak authoritatively on this matter of outstanding importance.

> EDITOR.

By Knute Rockne

TOO much emphasis cannot be placed upon the importance of proper diet in the moulding of a football team. A coach is faced with the task not only of bringing his men to a fine fighting edge for any particular game, but also of being able to hold them at their physical best throughout an entire season. And I find that watching carefully over what my men put into their stomachs is even more important to assure a team's continued fitness than is the usual required abstinence from smoking and other undermining habits.

Mental alertness—so necessary in the Notre Dame system, where speed and the ability to think quickly are stressed more than sheer weight—is directly dependent upon a healthy body. And a healthy physique, as we all know, is one that is kept free at all times from those accumulations of residual poisons that might have been eliminated through a carefully balanced diet.

Unfortunately, very few persons seem to "have time" to study their diet. They must be educated and guided in what to eat and what not to eat. This is particularly true of those just entering upon college life; and thus we find the conscientious coach faced with many duties other than teaching embryo stars the fundamentals of the game. Early in his experience he learns that he must emphasize the principles of hygiene and balanced diet along with his instruction in football lore—and see to it, personally, that every player has real appreciation of the needs of his body to endure the strain of competition on the gridiron.

Notre Dame football teams have been called the "eleven halfbacks", because we do not stress weight in the line so much as we insist upon speed and the ability to think quickly. This physical stamina and mental alertness are promoted through strict adherence to fundamental dietary laws—and just as much stress is placed upon this building of bodily energy as is given to playing instructions in our workouts on the field.

At Notre Dame, both the scrubs and members of the varsity football team are held to a strict diet throughout the playing season. While this is not at all an unusual practice in collegiate athletics, we do believe that our system of conditioning is largely responsible for the success of the "Fighting Irish". In those special dishes which we prepare for our training table are included generous quantities of fruits, fibrous vegetables and those cereals that give a bulky "vegetable effect". Thus the normal secretional activities of the athlete's body are promoted, and his system kept free from accumulated residues that induce both mental and physical inertia.

Such a careful and rigorous schedule of diet brings real results. And it is imperative for the success of our teams that it should, for one physically weak or mentally sluggish man in the line creates a gap that may render the rest of his team mates impotent to win. The chain and its weakest link—the team and its weakest player! The analogy is absolute.

All other things being equal, the healthy football team is the winning football team. And at Notre Dame we know it's food that puts the "fight" into a squad.

LET THE PEOPLE RULE

IT HAS been well said that every Democratic member of the next house and senate in Idaho is pledged for direct legislation, including the statewide direct primary law. It is a Democratic principle and it was a part of the state platform as well as of county platforms. The Democratic party is therefore pledged to put the law into effect, if possible.

All sorts of propaganda is being used by the opponents of the measure to discount the advantage of this sort of legislation as well as the strong sentiment in the state to secure its enactment. It is said for instance, that Senator Thomas cannot be nominated on the Republican ticket two years hence, over his prospective opponent, Byron Defenbach, if the primary is in vogue instead of the present convention system, which is less than no reason at all in view of the fact that Idaho's present senatorial delegation practically checkmates itself in voting on progressive legislation. And there is being proposed a hydra-headed plan involving a semi-convention-primary, if you can imagine such a thing. It takes the "best elements of both" or it might be called a fifty-fifty proposition, a compromise measure to satisfy all elements!

Idaho has seen the evils which have been permitted to grow under the present convention plan; specifically the evil of machine control of nominations as well as of the government itself. Against this sort of thing the people have finally and rightfully rebelled.

The statewide direct primary will put the power of nomination in the hands of the people; unless it can be seriously contended that there is danger in the people having too much power, then, no convincing argument has been advanced to date in this state against giving to the people the rights to which they are entitled, and which, let it be known, are now provided for in the constitution, but which have been withheld from enactment by "the powers that were!" in the state government.

Well may it be said: "Let the people rule!"

Direct primaries help, they do not hinder that demand, which is the cry of free government itself.

PROHIBITION

ASIDE from all the other big national questions which are brewing, there is one which threatens to come to a head soon, and that with a vengeance. Reference is made to the Eighteenth amendment.

Several authoritative spokesman assert that a national referendum is almost sure to come. Mark Sullivan says it; Collier's weekly says it, as do others. We here in Idaho with a state law which put this state definitely on the dry side long before the nation at large thought of an amendment, are in the habit of viewing this national prohibition question from the sidelines with an air of indifference as it were.

Sentiment is asserted to be growing stronger daily over the nation for the referendum vote by states on repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. A number of eastern states have already given expressions of sentiment against the present prohibition situation. Arguments are used which are not duly appreciated in Idaho. For instance prohibition is blamed for the growth of gangs; it is claimed that great liquor rings have grown up with consequent graft and corruption; and that the bootlegger is now a national menace.

Frankly, Idaho has its liquor problems, but this state, dryer much longer than the eastern part of the United States, certainly cannot be said to be the victim of all these ills claimed for the East. It will perhaps be said in reply that we do not have the great centers of population which the east has, to which we can claim that we do not even have a proportionate amount of social disturbances such as exist elsewhere, and above all, we do not claim that ALL our difficulties, social or moral, are entirely due to prohibition.

Prohibition may or may not be on its last legs, as we are variously told, but taking Idaho as an example this state appears to be faring very well under the present regime, which, while far from dry, is certainly far from wet.

Idaho is not interesting itself much in a question which is fairly rocking other parts of the country.

That was a mean trick Knute Rockne and his Rough Riders played on his hosts, the University of Southern California football team at Los Angeles, Saturday, not letting Herb Jones' men make a single point. It is just a renewal of that old fight between the East and the West, with the East humiliating the West. If we were Jones we wouldn't play Rockne anymore!

The pessimist says: a long hard winter is just commencing, while the optimist asserts that two weeks from today will come the shortest day of the year and the longest night and that gradually the days will lengthen, all of which is evidence that Spring is on the way!

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

In old Gibralter all the bunch soon found a place to have some lunch. It was a real quaint looking place and just one story high. The Tinies sat up near the front and Scouty said, "It's quite a stunt to sit here in the window, watching people passing by."

Soon Clowny cried, "Look 'cross the street. There are some men I'd like to meet. I guess they all are soldiers from the uniforms they wear. As soon as we have had a bite, I wonder if 'twould be all right to walk right up and talk to them. I do not think they'd care."

"Well, son, that's just what we will do," replied the Travel Man, "and you will find those men are very nice. They're British navy men. A British warship's right near by. To see it we will shortly try. I understand they let folks board their warships now and then."

Of course this thrilled the Tinymites, all anxious to see thrilling sights. They finished with their lunch real quick and shortly ran outdoors. Wee Clowny reached a sailor who smiled broadly and said, "Howdy do! Come out and visit on our ship." This brought forth merry roars.

The sailor took them all around and, my, what wondrous things they found upon the great big battleship. Cried Coppy, "This is grand." The next thing that the Tinies knew, some sailors sang a song or two. The Tinymites did likewise. Then they all went back to land.

The Travel Man brought forth some cheers by saying, "We'll go to Algiers. A worthy tug will take us there and you'll enjoy the ride." They soon were safely on the tug which started with a chug, chug, chug! It was an interesting boat, with paddles on each side.

SCHOOL NEWS

A debate was the main feature of a program held in the high school Thursday night by the Forum club. The subject was: "Resolved, that gum chewing should be permitted in the Twin Falls high school, constitutionality waived." Kathryn Thompson and Mary Ellen Brown took the affirmative and Peter Johnston and Wyland Lind the negative. The latter, who are challengers, have never been defeated in comic debate in the local high school. The Girls' Glee club gave several selections under the direction of Miss Clarice Saunders. Tryout talks were given by Mark Fell, Mary Ellen Brown, Kathryn Thompson, Jack Lattin and Robert Dawson. A parliamentary drill was directed by the club parliamentarian, Claude Wiseman, and the program came to a close with a tumbling stunt performed by Jack Lattin.

The regular assembly program which was held Friday morning began with the assembly singing several selections. The honor-roll was read for the second six weeks and Juliet Hayden gave a solo. The next thing on the program was a reading by Frances White and the program came to a close with a trumpet solo by Elbourne Pierce.

Readings by Miss Dorothy Call, Gaylord Olers and Dorothy Rees were featured in the special freshman assembly held Friday morning. John Estes gave a talk on the "Technique of Debate," and plans concerning the Christmas holiday were discussed.

"The Bruin," high school newspaper, is planning one of the biggest issues of the year in the holiday special. It will have six pages and will run several special holiday features.

Four class B football teams clashed Thursday night with close games, surprises and reverses featured. The first game between the Basketeers and the Eagles resulted in a 24 to 17 victory for the Basketeers. In the second game the Greasers slipped ahead of the Wolves in the last minutes of play to win by an eight to seven score. An extra session of play was necessary for the Flaming Arrows to win over the Panthers. Newman, Flaming Arrow forward, dropped a field goal in the last seconds of play to bring victory to his team, the final score being ten to nine. The Lions tasted defeat in the last game of the evening when the Indians took an easy game from them by a score of 12 to 5.

Gasoline Thieves Receive Sentence

JEROME, Dec. 8 (Special)—Archie Hietman and Murel Heath pleaded guilty in the probate court this week to a misdemeanor and were each sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and assessed a fine of $25 and the costs by Judge Clark T. Stanton.

The complaint was made by C. W. Ferbeach, an employe of L. R. Goodrich who alleged the defendants stole 15 gallons of gasoline and an automobile tire about December 2. Hietman and Heath were stopped in King Hill and brought back to Jerome.

FILES APPLICATION

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 8 (UP)—The city of Idaho Falls has filed formal application with the Federal Power commission for the development of municipal power project at Mesa falls on the north fork of the Snake river.

The L. D. S. people have not reported their solicitors but will do so. For Troop 2, Glen Weinberg, A. Schouweiler, O. D. MacQuivey and Jacob D. Stuart are the committee.

A. Boysen, Arthur MacQuivey and Dr. Nichols are the committee on community chest from the Commercial club.

Tuesday the Methodist Ladies' Aid society held their monthly business meeting at the country home of John Laurentzen. Twenty were present and Mrs. Miller, a daughter, assisted her mother, the hostess. Two new members were added to the Aid.

At the O. E. S. election Mrs. Matthewson was made worthy matron replacing Mrs. F. W. Eaton who presided during the past year. F. W. Eaton becomes worthy patron.

The Rebekahs elected Mrs. Dorothy Gates, noble grand, with Miss Myrtle Tool as vice grand.

The retiring president of the local grange, Master Gova Hoskins is succeeded in office by Lewis A. Adams. The other essential officers are H. M. Carson, overseer; Mrs. M. Porter, lecturer, Mrs. Gova Hoskins, secretary; L. D. Yates, steward; E. A. Collins, doorkeeper; J. J. Stickle, assistant steward; Mrs. S. H. Larson, chaplain; J. B. Hartwell, treasurer; W. F. Swearingen was chosen director for three years and L. M. Holbrook for one.

The Swift company has moved from its late location on "A" Avenue to their old stand on South Idaho. Fred. Santschi who owns the cheese factory where the Swifts have been doing business, has resumed the manufacture of cheese.

Gova Hoskins of the Motor Service company, has been incapacitated for a couple of weeks on account of ulcers of the stomach. He is improving.

Montana Journal Strikes at Reds

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 8 (UP)—The Montana Standard today characterized Soviet operations as "international brigandage" and expressed the hope that the government would remove the "Morphia" of "this hideous Russian Communism" by adoption of a proposed embargo on Soviet products.

"The machinations of the Soviet, thus far unopposed, have closed our manganese mines and they are distressing our farmers and crippling our lumbermen," the Standard said editorially.

ROSE QUEEN

Eighteen and a brunet, Mary Lou Waddell, above, has been chosen queen of the annual Tournament of Roses which will be held at Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day. Featured by an intersectional football game, it is one of the nation's outstanding floral spectacles each year.

Fails in Attempt To Loot His Own Relative's Store

PROVO, Utah, Dec. 8 (UP)—An attempt to loot his own relative's store at Salem failed for J. Lester Miller, 30, early today when he fell critically wounded from a bullet fired by his brother-in-law, George D. Hatch, 30.

Miller is not expected to live. He confessed to deputy sheriffs that he was trying to rob the Hatch & Sons store at Salem, Utah, when his brother-in-law intervened.

North Side C. E. Societies Meet

JEROME, Dec. 8 (Special)—The six Christian Endeavor societies of the north side held a one-day institute in Jerome Friday, December 5. The sessions included: 5:30, banquet at the Christian church, 7:30 to 9:00 sectional conference and addresses conducted by out of town leaders and state workers.

Ross Thoreson and Bill Beasley have secured the Victory theater and will open a roller skating rink in the building on December 6. The floor of this building was laid especially for a rink when built and is still in good condition.

Mrs. O. S. Logsdon was operated upon at the Wendell hospital Wednesday morning and is getting along nicely.

GOVERNOR GIVES HUNTERS ADVICE

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP).—Governor Dan Moody, who besides being head of the state government, is one of Texas' best shots, gives this advice for successful duck hunting:

"Choose a cloudy day with little wind. Remember that the duck is a fast flyer. The teal goes at the rate of 120 miles an hour. When you shoot allow for that fast flying."

Governor Moody's advice to choose a hunting day with what aviators would term a "low ceiling" and little wind is approved by other successful gulf hunters.

In clear weather ducks fly high, which makes bid shooting. When there is little wind the surface of the water on which they light to feed is smooth. Flying overhead they can see the edible grasses, wild rice or other morsels. As they swoop down to land on this feeding spot, the hunter has his chance.

Musical Tea Is Announced

The Music Department of the Twentieth Century club will give a tea at the home of Mrs. D. L. Alexander on Eighth avenue north Tuesday afternoon. Each member is expected to give a report on a musical item. The program will be followed with chorus practice.

Wool Growers Plan Meet At Boise Next Month

From the Idaho Wool Growers association office it has been announced that the thirty-eighth annual gathering of the sheepmen will be held at Boise, January 8, 9 and 10. Plans for the session include discussions of wool marketing methods and growers' cooperative associations.

Future Farmers Plan To Judge Stock

Twin Falls Future Farmers, under the direction of C. L. Mink, began training Monday for the annual livestock show to be held in Ogden, Utah, January 10 to 15. The Twin Falls boys will enter judging teams for two classes of dairy cows, one class of beef cattle, two classes of sheep and one of hogs.

Forger Draws Term In State Prison

J. B. Hinkley was sentenced by Judge W. A. Babcock Saturday afternoon to serve 1 to 14 years in the state penitentiary for forging a $9 check here in November. He had previously admitted the charge. Leonard St. John was arraigned on the charge of forging a $7 check in February and pleaded guilty. He will receive sentence Tuesday.

Officers Arrest Man For Theft of Groceries

William Maxwell was arrested by police Sunday night for the theft of groceries from Al Tucker, with whom he had been living at a local tourist park. Officers said the groceries were found in Maxwell's possession. He was lodged in the city jail and will probably face petty larceny charges, it was said.

Leather Case Stolen From Parked Auto

Theft of a black leather case containing machinery catalogs from a car belonging to L. W. Gardner, a machinery salesman, was reported to police Sunday by John Sinema, engineer of the Twin Falls highway district.

Two Cars Stolen, Owners Recover Both

Theft of two cars, both later recovered by the owners, was reported to police here Saturday night. The car of J. E. Casey was stolen from Second street south, and found soon after, and that of Mrs. John M. Wright was also recovered, after being stolen from Main avenue south.

Jockey Returns To Coast

Will Johns, 18, another Idaho jockey who is ambitious of stepping into Earl Sandy's stirrups some day, recently visited his mother, Mrs. Lucy Howard, in Twin Falls. He has returned to San Francisco for the winter. Last summer at Agua Caliente he made an enviable record for himself, winning a majority of the races.

Schools To Get Seals Wednesday

Distribution of Christmas seals to the schools will be made Wednesday according to announcement made Monday afternoon by Mrs. T. Clyde Bacon, chairman of the Anti-Tuberculosis Christmas seal sale in this county. School children will then be given the opportunity to purchase the seals which will "do their bit" toward making the McClusky summer health camp a reality.

"The work of the Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis association, which is affiliated with the National Tuberculosis association, is financed entirely by the sale of these seals. Ninety-five percent of the money raised is expended in Idaho, five per cent going to a nation-wide campaign and research work being conducted to find a cure or preventive for tuberculosis. This alone, it would seem, would be a great incentive to everyone to buy the little seals which have resulted in lowering the death rate from this disease so that today it is only one-third of what it was 25 years ago," Mrs. Bacon commented.

CONFERENCE IS CLOSED SUNDAY

GOODING, December 8 (Special)—The annual older boys' conference for South Central Idaho, closed a most successful three day's meeting in Gooding Sunday evening. The meetings were held at the high school auditorium, except the banquet on Friday evening which was held at the Methodist church, in charge of the ladies' aid of that church, sponsored by the Gooding Rotarians. Mayor A. F. James being out of the city his place as toastmaster was filled by C. J. Settles of the state school. Group singing was led by Prof. L. I. Chrysler, of Gooding College not only at the banquet but during the entire conference. Music by the state school orchestra was furnished during the banquet, and also by the Ukulele Girls' club of the Gooding high school.

Addresses of welcome by Mr. Settles for the city and by Lamar Proctor for the boys with response by Oliver Kuykendall.

The program at the banquet was in the nature of a "Dad's and Lad's," meeting, with about 200 in attendance. The feature of the evening was an address by Dr. Raymond B. Culver of Portland, Oregon, which was a very impressive talk and one that the boys will long remember.

The presentation of awards to the "Ag" club boys of Gooding was made by J. W. Williams, in a very appropriate talk. Awards in the crop division were made to John Cooper, first and Aldrich Bowler, second; poultry, Cliff Mink, first and George Hulbert, second; dairy Harvey Graves, first and Glenn Hudson second; hogs, Wade Wells, first and Blaine Mink, second; sheep, Frank Varin, first and Joe Silman, second.

BOY SEEKS AID FROM CAPONE

Harold Green, 15-year-old Clevelander, decided to leave home and go out to see the world the other day. He got as far as Chicago when his funds ran out. There he remembered about Al Capone, whose name he had often seen in the newspapers; so he went to Capone's home on Prairie avenue and was royally entertained by Matthew Capone, younger brother of Al, who phoned the boy's parents in Cleveland and then took the youngster to a movie. Harold's family, startled, called the Chicago police, to whose care Capone gave the youngster. Harold is shown here telling his story to an officer in the Chicago detective bureau.

MEMORIAL RITES ARE IMPRESSIVE

Members of the local Elks' lodges and interested individuals assembled at the Elks hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to honor the memory of the 86 members of the order who have died since the inception of the lodge.

Walter H. Cleare, Pocatello, gave the highly impressive memorial address, commenting on the significance of the 11 o'clock toast of the order, and discussing the principles of the lodge, founded upon charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity.

Music was especially delightful. Mrs. O. P. Duvall, Mrs. Nellie Ostrom, Kenneth Henderson and James Reynolds, accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Alexander, supplied appropriate selections.

Among those who have died since the last memorial service were V. H. Ormsby, Frank C. Smith, G. E. Douglass, James P. McClure and C. L. Langley.

Officers of the lodge, of which Asher B. Wilson is exalted ruler, conducted the ritualistic services.

HOSPITAL ISSUES MONTHLY REPORT

Earnings of the Twin Falls county general hospital for the month of November totaled $6,577.50, according to the monthly report of Mrs. Margaret Austin, superintendent, submitted to the county commissioners Monday afternoon. Cash received during the month amounted to $6,109.15, $1,192.05 was claimed for care of county cases, and $565.20 for county indigents.

The average number of patients in the hospital during the month was 43, with 36 employees and an average of 12 indigents. There were 129 patients admitted for treatment between November 1 and November 30, and 121 were discharged during the same period. There were also 20 county patients admitted in November.

Deaths totaled 11 for the month, two being surgical, eight medical, and one stillborn. Fifty-nine operations were performed at the hospital during the month.

Charities Group To Sponsor Play

In order to meet the growing demand of charity, the Associated Charities, an organization composed of the many local organizations, at their regular meeting Sunday afternoon adopted a resolution to sponsor a Community play of mass production, written and arranged by H. C. Howell and Merle Huntley. The play is called "Southern Belle and Dark Nights."

Mr. Howell said that it would be a play within a play, comprised of a depicting of Uncle Tom's Cabin in 1930 with a big plantation scene which will call for nearly 100 local people. Special lighting will be arranged by J. R. Seaton. Special musical numbers will be given by local talent.

All of the proceeds will go to allay the suffering in the immediate community, the dates of production being December 22, 23 and 24. December 22 will be "Can Night" for children and those not able to afford full admission.

U. S. NAVY MAY BE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP)—Secretary of Navy, Adams presented to the House naval affairs committee the administration program for next year to build the navy up to London treaty limits and calling for authorization at this session of appropriations totaling $134,635,000. This would provide 11 vessels.

The program Adams requested provides for one six inch 10,000 ton cruiser with flying deck to cost $20,080,000; one six-inch 7,500 ton cruiser for experimental purposes to cost $16,605,000; 11 destroyers already authorized to cost $47,000,000; four submarines to cost $17,800,000; and one airplane carrier to cost $27,650,000.

DIEGEL SCORES OVER ESPINOSA

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8 (UP).—Success of the first national match play open golf tournament, which Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente won in spectacular manner yesterday, encouraged decision today that the mid-winter feature will become an annual event for San Francisco. Diegel defeated Al Espinosa of Chicago, six up and four to play.

Diegel was nearly perfect with his approach shots and as a result had four birdies and was over par on only three holes of 32 contested. The Agua Caliente professional only encountered trouble on two holes, the fifth and the thirteenth, purposely taking one over par on the thirty-second because he saw he had a stroke to spare and still win the hole that decided the match.

Play for Charity Gets Sponsorship Of Kiwanis Club

The Trimon Players, formerly known as the Little Theater group, will present a play December 19 and 20 at the Twin Falls high school auditorium, for the benefit of local charity, all proceeds to be presented to the Associated Charities to assist in the alleviation of the needs of the community's less fortunate individuals. The Twin Falls Kiwanis club is sponsoring the players.

Lew Haibertson, formerly with the Salt Lake Little Theater players, is directing the comedy, "Laff That Off," a Samuel French royalty play. The story concerns three young bachelors in New York who "adopt" an actress, for the moment hopelessly stranded without funds. Numerous trying situations are the result of this "family" arrangement. Tom White is business manager. The cast includes Regna Harbertson, Fred Sanger, Bob Warner, Lois McKinney, Harold Hoover, Elaine Wiseman and Pat Branin.

DIRECTORS ARE UP FOR RE-ELECTION

Voting will be carried on in parts of seven counties in southern Idaho Tuesday to elect two members of the board of directors of the American Falls Reservoir district. The counties in which the district lies include portions of Bonneville, Bingham, Power, Jerome, Gooding, Elmore and Twin Falls.

The terms of J. H. Barker, secretary, Buhl, and A. J. Wiley, Springfield, are about to expire and both are candidates for re-election. Balloting is scheduled to open in each of seven precincts at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and the polls will close at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Judges of election and polling places in each of the precincts are as follows:

No. 1—Springfield, Blackburn store; judges, H. V. Chandler, A. J. Snyder and George W. Thurston.

No. 2—Jerome, North Side Canal office; judges, C. H. Welteroth, M. W. McCauley and E. C. Gleason.

O'LOUGHLIN CASE NEAR CONCLUSION

DENVER, Dec. 8 (UP).—The case of Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin this afternoon neared submission to a jury for decision whether she killed her step-daughter, Leona, 10.

Only two verdicts are possible, Judge Henley A. Calvert instructed the jury. One is acquittal. The other is guilty of first degree murder with life imprisonment as the penalty.

Death as a penalty was eliminated by the state's failure to put before the jury Mrs. O'Loughlin's alleged confession, which was ruled out because it was obtained under duress, and by the lack of testimony of an eye-witness to the murder.

About 107,000 miles of wire will go into the cables spanning 3500 feet of space holding up the new Hudson river bridge at New York.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY GIVEN MEMORIAL

With fellow classmates acting as pall bearers, final tribute to the memory of Earl Esllnger, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Esllnger, member of the freshman class at the local high school, took place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Christian church. Earl died Saturday from appendicitis with which he was stricken last Tuesday.

Rev. Glen Hutton was in charge of the services. Music for the occasion was furnished by James Reynolds. A profusion of floral tributes evidenced the esteem in which Earl Esllnger was held by his many friends.

Reed Souders, Elden Patrick, Paul Brewer, Monroe Haynes, Ronald Pierce and Charles Allen bore the body to its resting place in Twin Falls cemetery.

He is survived by his parents, his brother, Chester, and his sister, Wilma. He is also survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bland, and his uncle, Willis Bland, all of Twin Falls.

TRIBUTE PAID TO LOCAL EDUCATOR

Members of Twin Falls Masonic lodge, students of the Gregg Business college and members of the Methodist Episcopal church congregation assembled at the Methodist Episcopal church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, joining with the sorrowing family in paying final tribute to the memory of M. S. Hoover, who died Friday night at the county general hospital following an emergency operation.

Many former students of Mr. Hoover, founder and owner of the Gregg Business college here, also attended the services. Mr. Hoover, well-known in commercial educational circles of the west, was at one time a member of the Twin Falls high school faculty, commercial department.

Rev. Cecil F. Ristow, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mr. Hoover was a devoted member, having held responsible positions of various sorts during his residence in Twin Falls, was in charge of the impressive funeral service.

Members of Twin Falls Masonic lodge, with which Mr. Hoover was affiliated, who served as pall bearers were Lester Walker, H. L. Dinkelacker, M. J. Newman, J. W. Boughton, E. J. Finch and F. E. Drake.

The ritualistic burial service of Masonry was conducted at the graveside by C. B. Lindsey, worshipful master, and officers of the lodge.

Mr. Hoover is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nellie Hoover, and two young daughters.

SPEARS DENIES DISLIKING JOB AT U. OF OREGON

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (UP)—Reports that Dr. Clarence Spears was not satisfied with his berth as Oregon University football coach and that he was considering an offer to go to the University of California at Berkeley were denied by Spears today.

"My contract with Oregon has a long time to run," Spears said, "and so far as I know I'll be back there.

"However, if Oregon was not satisfied with me I'd allow the contract to be broken and if I was not satisfied I believe Oregon would permit me to break it.

"I'm satisfied and I expect to be back at Oregon. I know nothing about any offer to me from California."

Spears is here attending the Pacific Coast conference annual schedule making session.

Idaho Vandaleers Appearing Locally

With repeated successes behind them, The Vandaleers, musical organization of the University of Idaho, arrived in Twin Falls following an engagement at Buhl Sunday, and are ready to present their concert and entertainment numbers at the Twin Falls high school auditorium Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The Future Farmer organization is sponsoring the appearance here.

Miss Helen Parrott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Parrott, will be featured in the program. Erwin Tomlinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson of Buhl, also represents this section in the organization.

The personnel includes: Louis Morely, Hazel Haynes, Idaho Falls; Elizabeth Gillmore, Moscow, Lois Thompson, Post Falls; Virginia Steward, Spokane, sopranos. ~~Miss Helen Parrot, Twin Falls; Dorothy~~ Frederickson, Malad; Pauline Paterka, Spokane; Agnes Ramstedt, Moscow, contraltos. Ronald Smith, Kenneth Hensley, Moscow; Clifford Millikan, Troy; Martin Rossell, Elk River, tenors. William Shenberger, Payette; Paule Rice, Parma; Erwin Tomlinson, Buhl; John Jenny, Cottonwood, basses.

Committee Favors Farm Aid Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (UP)—Chairman McNary of the Senate agriculture committee today favorably reported to the Senate a bill to provide $60,000,000 for drought and storm distressed farmers. President Hoover had tried to limit the appropriation to $25,000,000.

At the Theatres

Historical Drama Is 'Big Trail' at Idaho

(A Review)

"The Big Trail," the talking picture of the winning of the west by the pioneers who treked to the Northwest by wagon-train, now being shown at the Idaho theater here, is bigger and better than "The Covered Wagon."

Idaho, which played its important part in the early day struggle, also plays its part in the filming and recording of Raoul Walsh's great picture. The Indians from Blackfoot are among the actors and Idaho scenery, taken in the Teton mountains is impressive. These features add a local color which ordinarily is lacking in movies the settings of which seem to be laid in California or some other seaport.

A novelty is presented in "Movie Memories," which is the reshowing of films taken from 25 to 30 years ago. The yellowish flickers will bring back quaint memories to adults and should give the younger generation a higher (or lower) appreciation of just what the cinema was in the previous generation.

Old-fashioned as the Idaho program is, it is highly up-to-date as smacking entertainment and will leave historical impressions that perhaps will never be erased from the memories of those who view it.

The estimated retail value of liquor consumed annually in the United States prior to 1918 was from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000.

They Dry Soft After Soaking—Due to Wolverine Shell Cordovan Horsehide

Think of tramping through rain, snow, and mud all day—yet next morning you slip into work shoes as plump and soft as the day you bought them. Think of wearing shoes that never rip or tear. And that wear long after ordinary work shoes are thrown away.

That's what you can now buy in Wolverines—due to a special kind of horsehide called Shell Cordovan Horsehide, tanned for work shoes only by Wolverine. It is taken from the horsehide and includes the shell which reinforces the outside hide. That's why Wolverines show no signs of wear for months and months. Charity Ball Will Assure Christmas For All Children

Dependent upon the support given the Elks' Charity Ball will be success and scope of the annual Christmas party for the children of Twin Falls community, according to R. E. Bobier, chairman of the committee. The annual charity ball this year is scheduled for Wednesday evening, December 10, in the ball room of the Elks' club, tickets for which have been on sale for several days by members of the club.

The proceeds will be used to provide a mammoth Christmas tree, glittering with silver trappings and numberless electric bulbs, for the children. Each child attending the party will be presented with candy, nuts and oranges.

Dancing will take place between 9:30 o'clock and 12:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

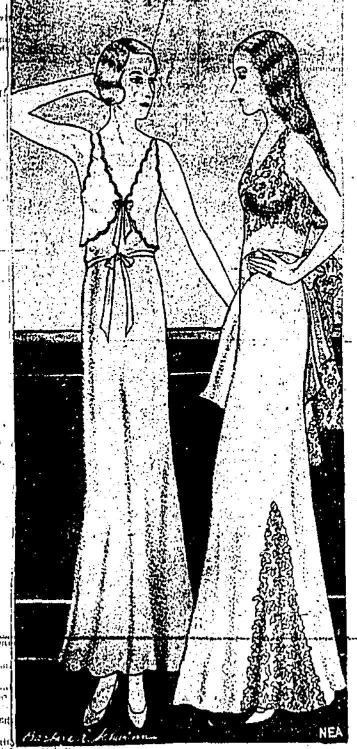
WITH BOLEROS, PRINCESS LINES AND NEW LENGTHS NIGHTGOWNS ARE MODISH



By JOAN SAVOY

It practically takes a knowing eye to distinguish the new nightgowns from hostess costumes, they are so charmingly designed.

They specialize in putting into practice all the high-lights of fashion. The princess line, sashed in soft ribbons or little belts, the bolero, the lace yoke, often with drop shoulders or puff sleeves, and the full sweeping lengths of hostess costumes all are incorporated in this winter's nighties.

There are two different general types. There are the beautifully tailored ones that make use of a hand-work but rely upon the fine fabric and exquisite line for their loveliness. And there are the sheer, fluffy ones that go in for lace here and there.

If you are the svelt, sportswoman type, you may prefer the former. If you are the ultra-feminine, are letting your hair grow and developing clinging traits, you will revel in the latter. Both are chic and absolutely stunning in their colors and textures.

For the former type, there is a peach flat crepe nightie that fits the figure and flares gracefully to ankle length that has a lovely little bolero of white crepe, with the edges all scalloped in peach. This bolero ties shut with a bow of peach flat crepe and the nightie has a little sash of the material. Peach mules are made of the same material.

For the feminine type there is a gracious, full length nightgown of white Alencon lace appliqued to form a deep, fitted yoke and ceinture and bow at the middle of the back. There are deep side godets of the Alencon appliqued into the skirt. Mules of white, with gold and silver trim, are a pleasing accessory.

EXPLOSION SINKS

mines under the Florence, which lay in the traffic channel between Quiberon and the Island of Houat.

"When they reappeared on the surface the signal was given. Then the surface of the sea seemed to spurt into the air. The Artiglio sank with rocket-like swiftness. I was thrown clear into the water and picked up by the crew of the police boat Rostro, which was working about three miles away and heard the explosion."

The injured members of the crew, several gravely hurt, were brought here.

Dead Includes Captain

The dead included Captain Jacques Bertelotti of the Artiglio, Chief Diver Alberto Gianni, one of the men who located the treasure ship Egypt after months of search on the bottom on the ocean, and Second Diver Franceschi.

Authorities here were not sure from the story of the survivors as to the exact cause of the sinking of the Artiglio. They expressed the opinion, however, that a premature blast of explosives used in removing the wreckage of the Florence had occurred.

Hollywood Bank Ordered Closed

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 8 (UP) — The Bank of Hollywood, which handles the accounts of scores of film stars, was ordered closed today by Will C. Wood, state banking commissioner.

An angry crowd gathered in front of the bank, situated at Hollywood and Vine streets, in the heart of Hollywood, as the notice of the closing was posted.

It was learned that a run started on the bank several days ago. A number of prominent film figures withdrew accounts Saturday.

According to American Motorists' Association, the average life of automobiles is six years and nine months.

WOMEN MOBILIZE AGAINST TOBACCO

BOSTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—A national crusade to save women from the alleged social, moral and physiological perils latent in tobacco was launched today. Aghast at the growing popularity of the cigarette, a group here has organized the "Anti-smoking League for Women."

Incorporators of the league include the wives, respectively, of a lumber merchant, a carpenter and a linotype operator.

"Moral suasion" will be the first weapon of the league, according to Mrs. Robert P. Williams, president, but when and if that fails, laws will be sought to prevent women from smoking cigarettes. Pipes and cigars were not mentioned in the league's platform.

Men will be invited to join, Mrs. Williams announced. She admitted that there was slight chance of an immediate ban on cigarette smoking, but she had hopes.

"We aim to reform the minds of these young girls and young women, especially young mothers, who are smoking cigarettes," she explained.

"There are a great many people all over the country, we believe, who feel as we do—that smoking by girls and young women tends to bring them into disrespect, tends to have a bad influence on the unborn child. We feel that these people will welcome an organization through which they may find expression, and unite in a strong campaign to stop this evil."

MURDER CHARGES DISMISSED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (UP).—Murder charges against Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, accused of slaying her husband, Fred, eight years ago, were dismissed today. The action was taken on the recommendation of the district attorney's office which admitted it had not uncovered any new evidence since the widow's trial two months ago when a jury was not able to agree on a verdict.

Today's Markets and Financial News

WHEAT IS FIRM IN DAY'S TRADE

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (UP).—Corn rallied strongly toward the close on the Board of Trade today and advanced steadily, showing more than 2c above the early low at one time. Heavy short covering and reinstating of sold out lines ran the market up. Wheat, with the Stabilization Corporation buying, was firm most of the day and advanced slightly when corn rallied. Oats were weak with corn early but more than recovered the loss on the final rally.

At the close wheat was unchanged to ⅛c higher, corn was ½c to ⅞c higher and oats were ⅝c higher but July was ⅛c off. Provisions were firm to higher.

COPPER MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (UP)—Custom smelters are offering and selling copper in the domestic market at 11 cents a pound delivered to the end of March, a reduction of ½ cent a pound from their level last week. Producers are still holding to the 12 cent level, while Copper Exporters, Inc., are quoting 12.30 cents a pound for export, although sales reported at that level have been almost negligible.

Buying of the red metal in both the domestic and foreign market is slow. Sentiment is rather confused, but it is believed that issuance of the November statistics this week will show a reduction in surplus stocks and bring about a better tone.

Lead buying is moderate at 5.10 cents a pound at New York and 4.95 cents a pound at East St. Louis.

The American Federation of Labor was organized in 1886, and only three men, Samuel Gompers, John McBride and William Green have held the office of president.

RAILS SUFFER BREAK TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (UP).—With the rails continuing to meet heavy selling pressure, the stock market went to lower levels today; bonds, especially rails and convertibles, sold off; cotton dipped after a mid-day rally; wheat and other grains held steady on farm board activities in wheat.

Trading in stocks was more active than Friday or last week, sales totalling around 2,000,000 shares, against 1,589,265 shares Friday.

The heavy rails and industrials on the board suffered the brunt of the break.

SECRET OF LIFE BELIEVED FOUND

Electrical Treatment of the Brain Tissues Produces Vastly Interesting Results

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (UP)—The Chicago Tribune in a special dispatch from Cleveland said today that "the secret of life, for which science has been searching for years, may be in a test tube in the biological laboratory of the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, over which the noted scientist, Dr. G. W. Crile is the guiding genius."

"Penetrating to a slight degree the wall that has been erected about what may be one of the most startling of scientific discoveries," the Tribune said, "a reporter was able to catch a glimpse of the unnamed thing that may verify certain radical scientific theories concerning the nature of the force called life.

"This promise might be fulfilled," the Tribune said, "if the creature that is said to live and breathe in the biologist's test tube, a thing without parents and reputably born in defiance of all ac*cepted and recognized processes* of procreation, does not disappoint its human creators."

The Tribune story said that the reported discovery might reveal that the force of life is closely allied to electricity "if indeed it is not electricity as man knows it."

The story said the one unnamed person connected with the experiment admitted reluctantly that "something approximating life" has been produced and "that something amazing and revolutionary has taken place there."

The experiment was described as follows:

"Brain tissues taken from a freshly killed animal were reduced to ashes electrically. From the resulting substances certain salts and other elements were obtained. To this substance was added protein and perhaps some other elements and chemicals. The whole was treated electrically.

"Before the eyes of the astonished scientists there appeared a 'thing' with characteristics of a living cell or protozoa.

"The 'thing' possessed the power of locomotion. It also possessed *and utilized the power of procre*ation by fission or cell division. It fed on the protein in the test tube, consuming it as other unicellular animals do their nourishment.

"In addition it was found that the 'thing' was susceptible to narcotics, becoming dormant when subjected to certain drugs and later recovering.

"It was declared that owing to the care taken in the experiment no living thing could possibly have entered the ingredients of the concoction."

The Tribune quoted Dr. William E. Lower, an associate of Dr. Crile as expressing the opinion that the latter would lay his facts before the meeting of the American Society for the Advancement of Science which meets in Cleveland Christmas week.

BOISE BOY HAS LUCKY ESCAPE

BOISE, Dec. 8 (UP) — Melvin Stoddard, local high school student, was flung into the "Valley of Death" Sunday evening about five o'clock but returned with only a broken thumb.

His car plunged over the edge of the bench between Boise and Ustick and hurtled 75 feet into the dry bottom of the settlers' canal. The machine landed right side up.

RABBIT SHOT FROM TREE

MONTICELLO, N. Y., (UP)—Kenneth Somerville is pondering over the possibility of rabbits as tree climbers. While hunting with some friends near here he saw what he believed to be a large gray squirrel in a tree. He fired and down came the animal. It was a gray rabbit.

"Keep [illegible]" advised Qua[illegible] slip over to [illegible] it. We can ride [illegible] pick up another horse. [illegible] been in a lot tighter holes [illegible] one. Sure have."

A voice from outside hailed the house.

Deever started. His sunken eyes went wildly to those of the other outlaw. "It's the posse."

"I reckon you're right. Old Amen Owen's voice, I'd say. We better sneak outa the window an' try a run for the bronc. We'll make it fine through the big rocks more'n likely."

"With one horse for the two of us we can't make a getaway. I got a good mind to surrender."

"An' you with a gun in each hand. Fellow, you're yellow. Slide outa that window an' do like I say. If you've got any sand in yore craw I'll pull you through."

"Tell you I'm sick," Deever protested. "I been through hell these last two-three days an' nights."

Yet he did as Quantrell told him. The two crept from rock to rock. Not till they were close to the pines did one of the posse catch sight of Deever and fire. Other shots sound*ed, but the outlaws had reached the* timber.

Deever caught his foot in a projecting rock and fell. As Quantrell ran past him to the horse Bob called, "Keep a-comin', Deever."

The bandy-legged man had fallen into a panic of fear. Either he thought that Quantrell was about to desert him or else he feared both of them could not escape on one horse.

As the younger man pulled the rein from the slip knot he heard the rapid pounding of feet of his companion.

Quantrell turned. "All set, oldtimer, for—"

Deever's six-shooter roared twice. Bob Quantrell staggered, fired once blindly into the ground, lurched against the trunk of a tree, and slid along it to the snow.

A moment, and Deever was in the saddle galloping for safety.

Twenty minutes later, still riding hard, he swung around a curve in the trail. He dragged the horse to its haunches. For he was face to face with the sheriff and Jack Phillips.

He followed his first instinctive reaction and fired at O'Hara. Be*fore the echo of the shot came* back from the canyon wall the guns of O'Hara and Phillips were in action.

Deever dropped his weapon and clutched at the saddle horn. He slid to the ground.

"Don't shoot again," he gasped. "You've got me."

Almost before they reached him he was dead.

The officers looked at each other.

"Something drivin' him in a hurry," Phillips said. "Do you reckon he met yore boys?"

"He's riding the same horse Bob Quantrell was two hours ago. That is, he was a minute ago."

"Then we better go slow. Bob is liable to be around somewhere."

In a little while they met O'Hara's posse and learned the *news of Deever's treachery to Quan*trell.

"Scared they couldn't both make it. So he plugged Bob twice through the heart," Owen explained.

They carried the bodies of the outlaws to the Circle S O ranch where they were to spend the night.

O'Hara did not wait for supper. He ate a couple of sandwiches and drank a cup of coffee. On a fresh horse he struck across to the Diamond Tail.

It was dark long before he reached the ranch.

When he knocked on the door Barbara opened it for him. At sight of her lover she caught her breath sharply.

"Is it—is everything all right?"

He caught a glimpse of the outline of her bosom beneath the wrap she had caught up and thrown on.

"My job is finished," he told her.

From her throat came a little sobbing sound of joy.

Charity Ball Will Assure Christmas For All Children

Dependent upon the support given the Elks' Charity Ball will be success and scope of the annual Christmas party for the children of Twin Falls community, according to R. E. Bobier, chairman of the committee. The annual charity ball this year is scheduled for Wednesday evening, December 10, in the ball room of the Elks' club, tickets for which have been on sale for several days by members of the club.

The proceeds will be used to provide a mammoth Christmas tree, glittering with silver trappings and numberless electric bulbs, for the children. Each child attending the party will be presented with candy, nuts and oranges.

Dancing will take place between 9:30 o'clock and 12:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

WITH BOLEROS, PRINCESS LINES AND NEW LENGTHS NIGHTGOWNS ARE MODISH

By JOAN SAVOY

It practically takes a knowing eye to distinguish the new nightgowns from hostess costumes, they are so charmingly designed.

They specialize in putting into practice all the high-lights of fashion. The princess line, sashed in soft ribbons or little belts, the bolero, the lace yoke, often with drop shoulders or puff sleeves, and the full sweeping lengths of hostess costumes all are incorporated in this winter's nighties.

There are two different general types. There are the beautifully tailored ones that make use of a hand-work but rely upon the fine fabric and exquisite line for their loveliness. And there are the sheer, fluffy ones that go in for lace here and there.

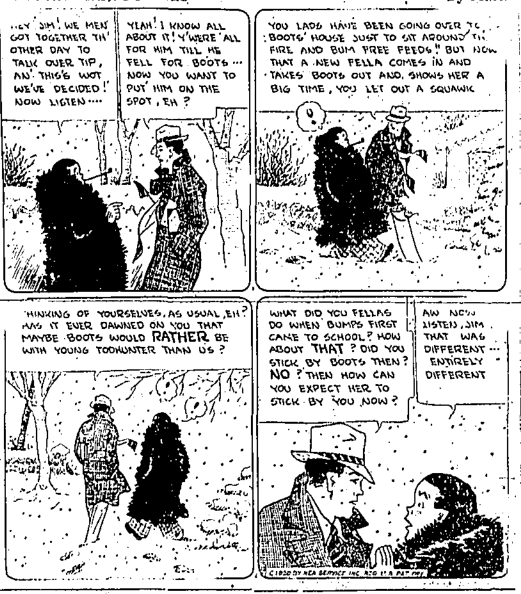
If you are the svelt, sportswoman type, you may prefer the former. If you are the ultra-feminine, are letting your hair grow and developing clinging traits, you will revel in the latter. Both are chic and absolutely stunning in their colors and textures.

For the former type, there is a peach flat crepe nightie that fits the figure and flares gracefully to ankle length that has a lovely little bolero of white crepe, with the edges all scalloped in peach. This bolero ties shut with a bow of peach flat crepe and the nightie has a little sash of the material. Peach mules are made of the same material.

For the feminine type there is a gracious, full length nightgown of white Alencon lace appliqued to form a deep, fitted yoke and cienture and bow at the middle of the back. There are deep side godets of the Alencon appliqued into the skirt. Mules of white, with gold and silver trim, are a pleasing accessory.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

By Martin



HEY SIM! WE MEN GOT TOGETHER TH' OTHER DAY TO TALK OVER TIP, AN' THIS'S WOT WE'VE DECIDED! NOW LISTEN....
YEAH! I KNOW ALL ABOUT IT! Y'WERE ALL FOR HIM TILL HE FELL FOR BOOTS... NOW YOU WANT TO PUT HIM ON THE SPOT, EH?
YOU LADS HAVE BEEN GOING OVER TO BOOTS' HOUSE JUST TO SIT AROUND TH' FIRE AND BUM FREE FEEDS! BUT NOW THAT A NEW FELLA COMES IN AND TAKES BOOTS OUT AND SHOWS HER A BIG TIME, YOU LET OUT A SQUAWK
THINKING OF YOURSELVES, AS USUAL, EH? HAS IT EVER DAWNED ON YOU THAT MAYBE BOOTS WOULD RATHER BE WITH YOUNG TOOHUNTER THAN US?
WHAT DID YOU FELLAS DO WHEN BUMPS FIRST CAME TO SCHOOL? HOW ABOUT THAT? DID YOU STICK BY BOOTS THEN? NO? THEN HOW CAN YOU EXPECT HER TO STICK BY YOU NOW?
AW NOW LISTEN, SIM THAT WAS DIFFERENT... ENTIRELY DIFFERENT

that day. Their arrest followed a petition of 110 townspeople who demanded that the law be enforced.

Although taxis were free to operate, the town's three taxi drivers decided to stand with those who want the law taken from the books. As a result taxi service was lacking.

Sunday newspapers were sold just across the bridge in North Walpole, N. H. Residents managed to do without everything else.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to thank our many friends and neighbors for the kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings extended to us at this time in our sorrow at the loss of our dear husband and father.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Distch.
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walker, and family.

EXPLOSION SINKS

mines under the Florence, which lay in the traffic channel between Quiberon and the island of Houat.

"When they reappeared on the surface the signal was given. Then the surface of the sea seemed to spurt into the air. The Artiglio sank with rocket-like swiftness. I was thrown clear into the water and picked up by the crew of the police boat Rostro, which was working about three miles away and heard the explosion."

The injured members of the crew, several gravely hurt, were brought here.

Dead Includes Captain

The dead included Captain Jacques Bertelotti of the Artiglio, Chief Diver Alberto Gianni, one of the men who located the treasure ship Egypt after months of search on the bottom on the ocean, and Second Diver Franceschi.

Authorities here were not sure from the story of the survivors as to the exact cause of the sinking of the Artiglio. They expressed the opinion, however, that a premature blast of explosives used in removing the wreckage of the Florence had occurred.

Hollywood Bank Ordered Closed

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 8 (UP) — The Bank of Hollywood, which handles the accounts of scores of film stars, was ordered closed today by Will C. Wood, state banking commissioner.

An angry crowd gathered in front of the bank, situated at Hollywood and Vine streets, in the heart of Hollywood, as the notice of the closing was posted.

It was learned that a run started on the bank several days ago. A number of prominent film figures withdrew accounts Saturday.

According to American Motorists' Association, the average life of automobiles is six years and nine months.

WOMEN MOBILIZE AGAINST TOBACCO

BOSTON, Dec. 8 (UP).—A national crusade to save women from the alleged social, moral and physiological perils latent in tobacco was launched today. Aghast at the growing popularity of the cigarette, a group here has organized the "anti-smoking League for Women."

The sponsors of the league include the wives, respectively, of a lumber merchant, a carpenter and a linotype operator.

"Moral suasion" will be the first weapon of the league, according to Mrs. Robert P. Williams, president, but when and if that fails, laws will be sought to prevent women from smoking cigarettes. Pipes and cigars were not mentioned in the league's platform.

Men will be invited to join, Mrs. Williams announced. She admitted that there was slight chance of an immediate ban on cigarette smoking, but she had hopes.

"We aim to reform the minds of these young girls and young women, especially young mothers, who are smoking cigarettes," she explained.

"There are a great many people all over the country, we believe, who feel as we do—that smoking by girls and young women tends to bring them into disrespect, tends to have a bad influence on the unborn child. We feel that these people will welcome an organization through which they may find expression, and unite in a strong campaign to stop this evil."

MURDER CHARGES DISMISSED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (UP).—Murder charges against Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, accused of slaying her husband, Fred, eight years ago, were dismissed today. The action was taken on the recommendation of the district attorney's office which admitted it had not uncovered any new evidence since the widow's trial two months ago when a jury was not able to agree on a verdict.

Today's Markets and Financial News

WHEAT IS FIRM IN DAY'S TRADE

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (UP).—Corn rallied strongly toward the close on the Board of Trade today and advanced steadily, showing more than 2c above the early low at one time. Heavy short covering and reinstating of sold out lines ran the market up. Wheat, with the Stabilization Corporation buying, was firm most of the day and advanced slightly when corn rallied. Oats were weak with corn early but more than recovered the loss on the final rally.

At the close wheat was unchanged to ¼c higher, corn was ½c to ⅞c higher and oats were ⅜c higher but July was ⅛c off. Provisions were firm to higher.

COPPER MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (UP)—Custom smelters are offering and selling copper in the domestic market at 11 cents a pound delivered to the end of March, a reduction of ¼ cent a pound from their level last week. Producers are still holding to the 12 cent level, while Copper Exporters, Inc., are quoting 12.30 cents a pound for export, although sales recently at that level have been almost negligible.

Buying of the red metal in both the domestic and foreign market is slow. Sentiment is rather confused, but it is believed that issuance of the November statistics this week, will show a reduction in surplus stocks and bring about a better tone.

Lead buying is moderate at 5.10 cents a pound at New York and 4.95 cents a pound at East St. Louis.

The American Federation of Labor was organized in 1886, and only three men, Samuel Gompers, John McBride and William Green have held the office of president.

RAILS SUFFER BREAK TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (UP).—With the rails continuing to meet heavy selling pressure, the stock market went to lower levels today; bonds, especially rails and convertibles, sold off; cotton dipped after a mid-day rally; wheat and other grains held steady on farm board activities in wheat.

Trading in stocks was more active than Friday or last week, sales totaling around 2,000,000 shares, against 1,589,265 shares Friday.

The heavy rails and industrials on the board suffered the brunt of the break.

SECRET OF LIFE BELIEVED FOUND

Electrical Treatment of the Brain Tissues Produces Vastly Interesting Results

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (UP)—The Chicago Tribune in a special dispatch from Cleveland said today that "the secret of life, for which science has been searching for years, may be in a test tube in the biological laboratory of the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, over which the noted scientist, Dr. G. W. Crile is the guiding genius."

"Penetrating to a slight degree the wall that has been erected about what may be one of the most startling of scientific discoveries," the Tribune said, "a reporter was able to catch a glimpse of the unnamed thing that may verify certain radical scientific theories concerning the nature of the force called life.

"This promise might be fulfilled," the Tribune said, "if the creature that is said to live and breathe in the biologist's test tube a thing without parents and reputably born in defiance of all accepted and recognized processes of procreation, does not disappoint its human creatures."

The Tribune story said that the reported discovery might reveal that the force of life is closely allied to electricity "if indeed it is not electricity as man knows it."

The story said that one unnamed person connected with the experiment admitted reluctantly that "something approximating life" has been produced and "that something amazing and revolutionary has taken place there."

The experiment was described as follows:

"Brain tissues taken from a freshly killed animal were reduced to ashes electrically. From the resulting substances certain salts and other elements were obtained. To this substance was added protein and perhaps some other elements and chemicals. The whole was treated electrically.

"Before the eyes of the astonished scientists there appeared a 'thing' with characteristics of a living cell or protozoa.

"The 'thing' possessed the power of locomotion. It also possessed and utilized the power of procreation by fission or cell division. It fed on the protein in the test tube, consuming it as other unicellular animals do their nourishment.

"In addition it was found that the 'thing' was susceptible to narcotics, becoming dormant when subjected to certain drugs and later recovering.

"It was declared that owing to the care taken in the experiment no living thing could possibly have entered the ingredients of the concoction."

The Tribune quoted Dr. William E. Lower, an associate of Dr. Crile as expressing the opinion that the latter would lay his facts before the meeting of the American Society for the Advancement of Science which meets in Cleveland Christmas week.

BOISE BOY HAS LUCKY ESCAPE

BOISE, Dec. 8 (UP) — Melvin Stoddard, local high school student, was flung into the "Valley of Death" Sunday evening about five o'clock but returned with only a broken thumb.

His car plunged over the edge of the bench between Boise and Ustick and hurtled 75 feet into the dry bottom of the settlers' canal. The machine landed right side up.

RABBIT SHOT FROM TREE

MONTICELLO, N. Y., (UP)—Kenneth Somerville is pondering over the possibility of rabbits as tree climbers. While hunting with some friends near here he saw, what he believed to be a large gray squirrel in a tree. He fired and down came the animal. It was a gray rabbit.

"Keep [illegible] advised Qu[illegible] slip over to [illegible] it. We can ride [illegible] pick up another horse. [illegible] been in a lot tighter holes [illegible] one. Sure have."

A voice from outside hailed [illegible] house.

Deever started. His sunken eyes went wildly to those of the other outlaw. "It's the posse."

"I reckon you're right. Old Amen Owen's voice, I'd say. We better sneak outa the window an' try a run for the bronc. We'll make it fine through the big rocks more'n likely."

"With one horse for the two of us we can't make a getaway. I got a good mind to surrender."

"An' you with a gun in each hand. Feller, you're yellow. Slide outa that window an' do like I say. If you've got any sand in yore craw I'll pull you through."

"Tell you I'm sick," Deever protested. "I been through hell these last two-three days an' nights."

Yet he did as Quantrell told him. The two crept from rock to rock. Not till they were close to the pines did one of the posse catch sight of Deever and fire. Other shots sounded, but the outlaws had reached the timber.

Deever caught his foot in a projecting rock and fell. As Quantrell ran past him to the horse Bob called, "Keep a-comin', Deever."

The bandy-legged man had fallen into a panic of fear. Either he thought that Quantrell was about to desert him or else he feared both of them could not escape on one horse.

As the younger man pulled the rein from the slip knot he heard the rapid pounding of feet of his companion.

Quantrell turned. "All set, old-timer, for—"

Deever's six-shooter roared twice.

Bob Quantrell staggered, fired once blindly into the ground, lurched against the trunk of a tree, and slid along it to the snow.

A moment, and Deever was in the saddle galloping for safety.

Twenty minutes later, still riding hard, he swung around a curve in the trail. He dragged the horse to its haunches. For he was face to face with the sheriff and Jack Phillips.

He followed his first instinctive reaction and fired at O'Hara. Before the echo of the shot came back from the canyon wall the guns of O'Hara and Phillips were in action.

Deever dropped his weapon and clutched at the saddle horn. He slid to the ground.

"Don't shoot again," he gasped. "You've got me."

Almost before they reached him he was dead.

The officers looked at each other.

"Something drivin' him in a hurry," Phillips said. "Do you reckon he met yore boys?"

"He's riding the same horse Bob Quantrell was two hours ago. That is, he was a minute ago."

"Then we better go slow. Bob is liable to be around somewhere."

In a little while they met O'Hara's posse and learned the news of Deever's treachery to Quantrell.

"Scared they couldn't both make it. So he plugged Bob twice through the heart," Owen explained.

They carried the bodies of the outlaws to the Circle S O ranch where they were to spend the night.

O'Hara did not wait for supper. He ate a couple of sandwiches and drank a cup of coffee. On a fresh horse he struck across to the Diamond Tail.

It was dark long before he reached the ranch.

When he knocked on the door Barbara opened it for him. At sight of her lover she caught her breath sharply.

"Is it—is everything all right?"

He caught a glimpse of the outline of her bosom beneath the wrap she had caught up and thrown on.

"My job is finished," he told her.

From her throat came a little sobbing sound of joy.

Hansen grange met Thursday evening, about 60 persons being in attendance. The applications of several were received and one former application was voted upon favorably. The newly elected officers were installed and other business transacted. Refreshments were served by Meddames Merritt Zuck, Peter Mulder, A. R. Scott and M. A. Robison.

Byrinka camp, R. N. A., will meet Tuesday evening in Woodman hall, for election of officers. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Frahm returned Sunday from a three weeks trip to Klamath Indian Agency, Oregon, where they were guests of Mr. Frahm's sister and family, Mrs. S. Davis.

Mrs. M. B. Taylor and Mrs. Fay Shirley were hostesses Tuesday afternoon to the Latawah club members at the home of the latter. Miss Helen Jensen, district home demonstration leader was present, the subject for discussion being "The Home and the Community at Christmas Time." Roll call was answered by suggestions for gifts to be supplied for a dollar, Miss Jensen exhibiting a number of inexpensive articles which could be made for that sum or less. Singing of Christmas carols enhanced the Christmas spirit of the occasion. Twenty members were present, the business session being conducted by the president, Mrs. A. T. Colner. Refreshments featuring the season were served at the conclusion of the program by the hostesses.

Sherman Circle To Select Officers

HANSEN, Dec. 8 (Special) — Sherman circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will meet in an all day session Tuesday, December 9, at the home of Mrs. T. E. Galley. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon and the annual election of officers will be held in the afternoon.

LATE DISCOVERY LURES SCIENTISTS TO REMOTE AREA

Dean of Archaeology Hopes to Find One-Time Existence of Super Men at Lonely Spot in the Wilds of Old Mexico

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 8 (UP)—Quest for remains of a long dead race of super men began today when a little band of scientists from the University of Arizona left for a remote region in the Mexican state of Sonora, where it was believed the giants once roamed.

Carrying new reports indicating the supposedly mythical race actually existed, the party, led by Mr. Byron H. Cummings, dean of archaeology at the university, entertained hopes the expedition would result in an outstanding scientific discovery.

Guiding the party was J. L. Coker, pioneer Sonora mining man who found three giant skeletons in the Mexican state and who believed many others could be found in the vicinity. Another report by C. H. Smith, Sonora miner, said he had found seven huge skeletons buried in a cave several miles from the place described by Coker.

One large bone was removed from a skeleton and presented by Smith to an American physician who identified the fossil as that of a human thigh bone. He said if the remainder of the skeleton was in proportion it must have been more than eight feet in height. The three skeletons found by Coker, those of a man and two women, were of this size.

Dr. Cummings was heartened by the Smith report. The savant regarded the find as important owing to the necessity of locating numerous skeletons—preferably in different localities—in order to establish scientifically the existence of a "Cyclops" race.

Legends handed down from generation to generation by the natives of the region were related by Smith. All dealt with a race of huge men and women who lived 3000 years ago. Scientists were familiar with these legends and on several occasions have found large skulls of humans, but no skeletons were found in related groups.

WHEW!

We certainly are glad that our dog team and Santa Claus reception is over, but we are even if tired at the successful outcome of the venture. We desire publicly to acknowledge our indebtedness to Mayor Bobier and the City Council and to Twin Falls' splendid Police department, and the Twin Falls Fire department for their cooperation, without which we could have done nothing. Also we wish to thank Joe-K for his megaphone announcing; and Mr. Schwartz for his car with the siren.

AN APOLOGY

We feel that our program was marred by one unfortunate circumstance. Before Mr. Groom arrived with his dog team, we had snow on the streets. We took it for granted that it would remain and advertised the route that the dogs would run, as follows: from the Five Points to the Kimberly road, then on Second avenue back to Five Points, thence down Main to our store. When the snow suddenly disappeared, Mr. Groom had wheels put on the runners of his sled and owing to a muddy spot at the Kimberly Road turn, decided to do all of his dog team traveling on Main Avenue. We are afraid that some of our Twin Falls people followed the route advertised, and stood on Second avenue expecting to see the dogs run, and were disappointed. If this is correct, to those who were disappointed, we offer our sincere apologies. The route was changed so suddenly we had no opportunity to advertise it.

And Now the Chevrolet Voting Contest

When we were expecting to give away the fine Chevrolet by a drawing, so many customers seemed indifferent to the tickets, saying "there will be so many tickets that I am not interested." But in the voting contest, between the different organizations, we find many organizations doing systematic work in the collecting of votes, and the interest in the competition is becoming very keen indeed as the time for awarding the car approaches.

To the Organizations Contesting

It is not necessary to have a ballot box in our store for the collection of ballots, they may be accumulated in any way you think best, but to accommodate, we will place ballot boxes for any organization that re*quests us to, in the front end of the store.* Each organization must furnish their own padlock and keep the key. We now have ballot boxes in the store for the following organizations:

Salvation Army — United Brethern Church
Hansen Community Church
Women's Council of the Christian Church
Methodist Episcopal Ladies Aid
Kimberly Methodist Episcopal Ladies Aid
L. D. S. Church — American Legion

Any other organization desiring ballot boxes to be placed please notify us, and we will attend to it at once.

REMEMBER!

Each organization must elect some one of their members to be on the committee when the votes are counted. This store cannot enter in the counting in any way, shape, or manner.
