Ada Senator Urges Probe of Conditions At State Hospital

C. W. Larsen Wants Investigation Of Blackfoot Institution

BOISE, Jan. 6 (UP)—An investigation into alleged unsanitary conditions at the Blackfoot state hospital for the insane was asked in the senate today by Sen. C. W. Larsen of Ada county.

Rising on a point of personal privilege, Larsen charged that conditions at the institution are entirely due to neglect on part of the legislature in not providing sufficient financial aid for the hospital to operate.

Larsen, a contractor, has recently constructed new buildings at the hospital. "The old building was erected 45 years ago and the floor and foundation are now practically useless," he said.

Further, one man cannot take care of 535 patients, 2000 chickens, 125 cows and 600 acres of land and do justice to the inmates.

After lengthy discussion in Democratic caucus, a resolution was introduced on the floor of the house to hire Leo M. Bresnahan, (Halley, former assistant attorney-general at a fee of $750 for the session.

Questions Advisability Charles Leavitt, Benewah, questioned advisability of passing the resolution when a bill, amending existing statutes to permit payment of the attorney's salary had not yet been acted on.

It was expected the state would present several more witnesses during the afternoon, and it was understood several might be presented by the defense.

Charges Slugging The trio, McDowell charged, contrived to have the woman lured from a local night club and, as she went with her, the two men beat him and robbed him of $38 in currency he was carrying.

The three were taken into custody Saturday by local police officers. The attack, McDowell says, occurred Friday night.

At the time of the arrest Police Chief Howard Gifflette said the two men had criminal records. Recker is a former Idaho prison inmate, while Bradley is said to serve a term in the Illinois state prison and was only recently released.

HEAVY FIGHTING MARKS BATTLES AROUND MADRID

Loyalists Frustrate Rebels' Effort to Consolidate Positions

World War Tactics Used As Germans Assault Key Points

MADRID, Jan. 6 (UP)—Bitter fighting continued at Majadonda, 18 miles northwest of Madrid, today as insurgent forces tried to consolidate their positions only to be shelled out by government artillery as fast as they dug in.

Loyalists denied they had lost Las Rozas or that the insurgents had cut the Madrid-El Escorial line of communications as they had claimed.

The insurgent attack, launched against Las Rozas, had continued since Monday and thousands of German troops, using World war tactics, had hurled themselves against the key points of Madrid's communication with El Escorial and the Guadarrama mountains.

Desperate Fighting Wild, desperate fighting on two Madrid fronts was holding up the insurgent advance, as the battle went into its third day. The government militia stormed machine gun nests in Villavieja and captured two fortified houses.

The German assault on Majadonda forced the defending loyalists to retire to their second line of positions.

SIX MEN'S FATE UP TO GOVERNOR

Sextet Scheduled To Die For Murder Of New York Collector

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (UP)—Fate of six young men scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing tomorrow night rested today with Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

Latest recommendation to the governor was from District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan, of Brooklyn, who said the executions should be carried out as scheduled.

Geoghan visited the death house yesterday and talked with the prisoners, all of whom were convicted of killing a subway collector during a holdup in September, 1935.

If the men are put to death, it will be the second time since the electric chair was substituted for the gallows in this state that six have died at the same time.

The prisoners were said to be in varying moods, some resigned to their fate and others still hoping for a reprieve.

Although Lehman was in Albany, more than 200 sympathizers, including grandmothers who carried crucifixes, knelt on the pavement yesterday in front of his home on busy Park avenue and prayed that he "save" the condemned men.

The six prisoners are: Salvatore Scata, 18; Joseph Bologna, 23; Theodore Di Donna, 30; Dominick Lizza, 22; Eugene Brune 20, and Samuel Kimmel, 19.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6 (UP)—Brother Andre, 91, Montreal's "miracle man" and founder of St. Joseph's Oratory, the shrine where thousands believed they received divine cures, died early today in St. Laurent hospital.

Unaware of Parent's Death In Mystery Case, Oregonian Says In Interview

Arrival in Twin Falls last night of Lyman E. Taylor, 28, of Bend, Ore., son of W. E. Taylor, resident of a trailer house near Harmon park who died Tuesday morning at the county general hospital of what was apparently poisoning, surprised investigators in the case. Until his arrival here today it was not known the dead man had any children, or had been married previously.

In an exclusive interview with the Evening Times this morning young Taylor said he was informed of his father's illness by telegram from Hazel Crist, daughter of a sister of the deceased, living in Hoxie, Kansas.

Unaware of Death In the interview, Mr. Taylor said he did not know of his father's death until he called at the hospital early this morning.

He said he spoke briefly with his step-mother, Mrs. Martha Taylor, who was taken to the hospital Sunday at the time she and her husband were found unconscious by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kenner, neighbors. He had never seen his step-mother before, Mr. Taylor said, and merely told her who he was.

Taylor had not seen his father since 1925, he disclosed during the interview. He believed his parent was "about 50" years old but could not be sure.

Sees No Vital Need of NRA Amendment COURT'S AID SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—There is no vital need for a constitutional amendment to legalize NRA, President Roosevelt informed congress today in a message in which he asked for authority to embargo shipments of munitions to Spain.

The President said circumstances compelled him at this time to ask for:

1—Legislation to extend the life of certain expiring authorizations and powers previously voted.

2—Further neutrality legislation to meet conditions created by the Spanish civil war.

3—A deficiency appropriation for the current fiscal year. The President delivered his message in person, speaking from the rostrum of the house chamber where were assembled both house and senate, members of his cabinet, distinguished visitors, diplomats and plain citizens.

A few moments before he addressed the packed chamber, congress completed its formal task of counting the electoral votes and certifying Roosevelt and Garner winners in November's election. It made ready, too, for quick action as soon as the President's message was delivered to pass the emergency Spanish neutrality resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—Congressional leaders raced a gang of busy New York steelworkers today in an effort to ram emergency legislation through the house and senate in time to halt a cargo of arms now loading for Spain in New York harbor.

Directs Strategy President Roosevelt, himself, directed strategy of the campaign to whip the emergency legislation through congress with unprecedented speed—possibly today.

Only by spurring congress to such a race did it appear possible that the joint resolution forbidding shipment of arms to either Spanish faction could be made effective to embargo a New York cargo being loaded under state department license granted Robert Cuse, Jersey City arms dealer.

House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn discussed the situation at the White House and announced passage of the resolution would be sought by unanimous consent in the house immediately after President Roosevelt presents his state-of-the-nation address to a joint session of both houses at 2 p. m.

President Roosevelt presents his state-of-the-nation address to a joint session of both houses at 2 p. m.

Mr. Roosevelt called on the judiciary to "do its part in making democracy successful," pointing to close cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of government as a pattern which might well be followed.

"The process of our democracy," he said, "must not be imperiled by the denial of essential powers of free government."

Objectives Sound The President reiterated his belief that the "broad objectives of the outlawed national industrial recovery act were sound." But he said it tried to do too much and he proposed federal laws supplementing state laws to solve the social and economic problems flowing from modern invention in an industrial nation where business operates "with scant regard to state lines."

MRS. MATTSOON NEAR COLLAPSE

Mother of Kidnaped Boy Keeps Telephones Vigil for Abductor's Word

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 6 (UP)—Mrs. William W. Mattsson was reported near collapse today as kidnapers gave no indication they were ready to return her 10-year-old son, Charles, whom they abducted nine days ago.

She kept vigil with her husband, Dr. Mattsson, beside the five special telephones in their home awaiting some word from the bearded, swarthy man who left a worn and crumpled note demanding $28,000 for the youth's safe return.

Still Confident Frantic from days of anxiety, the mother's nerves were reported near the breaking point and she was believed to have taken sedatives prescribed by her husband. Although confident that their son still lives, despite police belief that the kidnaper is a marine, the distraught parents are alarmed over the boy's physical condition. They fear that nine days in the bitter cold of a northwest winter may have brought serious illness to the scantily clad boy.

WORLD'S ARMS EXPENSES SOAR

Nations Spending Far More For War Preparation Than Ever Before

BERLIN, Jan. 6 (UP)—A picture in cold statistics of the world armaments race, and a preview of the prospect for the next few years, was provided today by a quarterly report of the bureau for business research.

World armaments expenditure in 1936 was estimated at $14,000,000,000 compared with $4,000,000,000 in 1913 and an average of from $6,000,000,000 to $6,400,000,000 in 1928 and 1929.

Armaments expenditures until the World War had averaged only 4 percent of total industrial production, the survey estimated, against 11 percent in 1936.

Heavy Percentage The bureau estimated that within the next three years the mass of arms production would constitute as much as 15 to 20 percent of the total production of capital goods.

The armaments cost in ratio to national income is now two to three times as much as it was in 1928, it was estimated.

Soviet Russia, the bureau estimated, is spending 12 1/2 percent of its national income on armaments compared to only 2 percent in 1928.

Of all the nations cited, the United States has the lowest ratio—1 1/2 percent, compared to 1 percent in 1928.

Russia is placed in the lead. It is asserted that between 1927 and 1936 it increased its military expenditures 10-fold, then doubled this increased ratio.

Other increases are: France 50 percent, Great Britain 30 percent, United States 38 percent.

Health Leader Finds Disease Low in County

Communicable Case Status Is Highly Satisfactory, Says Dr. Hawkins

The communicable disease situation in Twin Falls county is highly satisfactory at the present time, Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the county health unit, said today.

The regular report of existing cases of communicable disease in the county for the week ending Dec. 31, and compiled by Dr. Hawkins, shows two cases of scarlet fever; five cases of chicken pox; two cases of whooping cough; and two of mumps (epidemic parotitis).

Dr. Hawkins is of the opinion there are considerably more cases of mumps in the county than have been reported.

"MUTINY" VOTED BEST 1936 FILM

Poll by Critics Puts Drama Of "Bounty" At Top Of Ten Best Pictures

"Mutiny on the Bounty" has finally emerged as the No. 1 motion picture of 1936, according to the 15th Annual "Ten Best Pictures" canvass conducted by The Film Daily and participated in by the Evening Times film editor.

The other nine "best" as determined by cinema critics and reviewers of the United States were named in the following order:

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "The Great Ziegfeld," "San Francisco," "Dodsworth," "The Story of Louis Pasteur," "A Tale of Two Cities," "Anthony Adverse," "The Green Pastures" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

It is significant that while "Mutiny on the Bounty" held a substantial lead of 44 votes, two other pictures polled more than 300, five received more than 200, and that seven were favored by more than 100 of the participating critics and reviewers.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Warner Brothers are each represented on the "ten best" list by four productions, and Columbia and United Artists by one apiece.

Kansans End Visit To Hansen Family

HANSEN, Jan. 6 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dall and three small daughters and son, Burlington, Kan., have left Hansen after spending the holidays visiting Mrs. Dall's uncle, Frank Trunkley, and family.

More than just a visit was their stay at Hansen at the Trunkley home as it meant a reunion of Mr. Trunkley and his niece, who had been lost to each other 52 years, since Mrs. Dall was an infant of 23 days at which time her mother died and the child was placed in an orphanage in Iowa. After several months she was adopted by a childless couple. Only within the most recent past was Mrs. Dall able to contact her relatives through correspondence. Her tour of the present time extended through Utah, Idaho and Oregon for a visit with three other uncles and an aunt and their families. Later Mrs. Dall hopes to meet the other aunt living in Canton, S. D.

4-H CLUB

By EARL R. STANSELL District Club Agent

NORTH SHOSHONE

According to a report from Mrs. D. G. Mitchell, local 4-H club leader, Shoshone, six of the older girls of the Magic Stitches clothing club, in North Shoshone, have organized a leader training club with Miss Margaret Hill, district home demonstration agent, as instructor.

Meetings are held during the evening of the first Thursday of each month. The girls reach the leader's home at 5 o'clock on the school bus and are able to accomplish a great deal during a long evening.

Has Demonstration

At the December meeting the club had demonstrations on table service, table etiquette, hostess duties, and other similar subject matter. Miss Hill demonstrated the making of two kinds of Christmas cookies and showed the girls how to make bright colored wrapping paper out of ordinary tissue paper. The group discussed the making of simple Christmas gifts and started the making of bunches of wood fibre flowers. These flowers were planned as gifts for the girls' mothers, but the work went so fast that it developed into a money making project and a good many bunches were sold to friends.

The following Wednesday evening the girls gave a formal dinner party at the Mitchell home, each girl inviting a boy friend. The girls planned and served the meal, each one bringing her share of the food. The table and house were decorated in holiday trimmings, green glassware and tall red candles furnished the color scheme at the table. Later, the group attended a leap year party in the neighborhood.

The group plans to have a party during vacation, to which every girl in the community will be invited.

VALUE OF IDAHO SPUD CROP GAINS

Over $20,000,000 Worth of Potatoes Were Produced During 1936

BOISE, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Gem state produced in 1936 $20,000,000 worth of potatoes, its principal crop, the United States department of agriculture reported in its annual crop summary for Idaho. The crop was nearly double a value that of 1935 although the total yield was slightly smaller.

Next four leading crops, based on value, were wheat, worth $18,433,000; tame hay, $17,381,000; dry beans, $4,778,000; and apples, $3,677,000.

Value High
The total value of production of field, fruit and vegetable crops in the state last year was $74,980,000, increased from $67,198,000 in 1935. The figures do not include sugar beets, since the 1936 price of that crop was not yet available. The department credited higher prices for most of the increased "crops," although prices for lower "crops" averaged lower than in 1935. The actual volume of production changed little, with all crops except tame hay, clover seed, sugar beets and corn reporting smaller yields than the previous year.

Spud Prices Leap
Potato prices jumped from 48 to 90 cents, raising the total value from $10,733,000 in 1935 to $20,000,000 in 1936, with the two years' crops approximately the same size. The wheat crop was slightly smaller, heavy spring wheat production being offset by a light yield of winter wheat, but farmers were favored by a raise in price from 70 to 85 cents a bushel. Production of oats and barley was materially higher than in 1935, but with prices of both advancing substantially.

Tame Hay Crops
The tame hay crop was 13 per cent over that of 1935 due to increased acreage and higher average yield and its price advanced from $6.60 to $7.10 per ton. The alfalfa seed yield dropped from 59,000 to 21,000 bushels but prices averaged better than for several years. Clover seed had both an increased yield and a price advance from $8.20 to $13.20 per bushel. Bean production dropped slightly but the 1936 price was $3.52 a bag, up from $2.30. Corn advanced from 73 cents to $1.10, with production also up. The increase in peas was less marked, from $1.35 to $1.45.

The season was generally unfavorable for fruit crop production, but prices were generally higher. Apples advanced from 13 cents to 15 cents a bushel; peaches 85 cents to 51. Grapes averaged $4.44 a ton up from $3.71. The price of prunes and plums raised from $25.03 to $31.07, and of cherries, $34.89 to $35.08. Pears remained stationary at $1 a bushel.

Among truck crops celery dropped from $1.20 to 85 cents a crate; early lettuce $1 to 80 cents; late lettuce 85 to 55c; and onions, 60 to 50 cents per sack. Green peas advanced, from 60 to 85 cents a bushel.

RUPERT

Schools over Minidoka county resumed study again Monday morning after holiday vacations of from 10 days to two weeks in length.

W. E. Hunter, local rancher, ill for some time but much better for several weeks, suffered a relapse shortly after Christmas and is again confined to his home. He is reported to be improving gradually.

Mayor and Mrs. R. B. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Beymer, all of Rupert, are at this time in the midst of a two week's visit in Los Angeles and southern California.

Plans are still going ahead for the staging of the annual Gold and Green ball in the first ward L. D. S. recreation hall Thursday evening, Jan. 21. Spencer N. Broadhead, president of the state young men's M. I. A., is cooperating with committees in charge to make this an outstanding function.

Miss Ruth Bagnall, employee at the J. C. Penney store here, who was in the Rupert general hospital more than a week following an appendix operation, was discharged from the hospital.

Miss Mildred Marsh, student at Gooding college, who was injured here Friday when an automobile drawn toboggan and a stock trailer collided, was admitted to the hospital Friday evening to be treated for leg injuries.

Miss LaVere Loveland, student at the Brigham Young university in Provo, left Rupert to return to school Monday evening after spending the holiday vacation here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Loveland.

Miss Dean Bateman, student of Rupert high school and a sister of Mrs. Bill Markland, returned here in time for school Monday morning after spending the holidays with her parents in Salt Lake City.

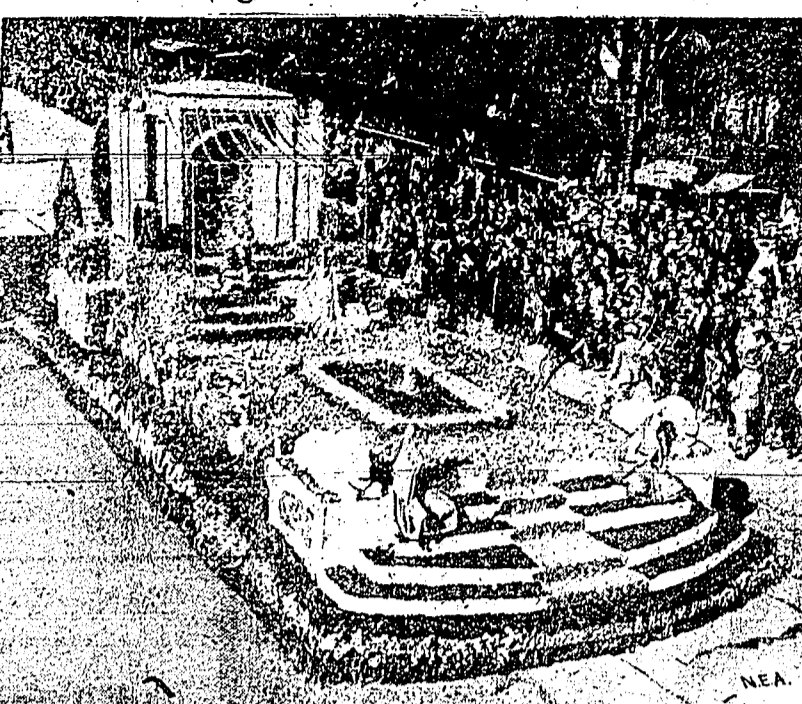

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kennedy and son Jimmie left last week for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Albert H. Lee and son Richard left Rupert Friday for Los Angeles where Richard was scheduled to enroll in Page's military academy. Mrs. Lee expected to remain in southern California for several weeks.

Rev. Harman Will Preach In Wendell

Winning Float in Tournament of Roses

One million spectators watched Pasadena's forty-eighth Tournament of Roses, world-famed flower parade, on New Year's day. Fifty-five breath-taking floats, representing as many California cities, expressed the theme, "Romance in Flowers." Grand sweepstakes prize went to the city of Santa Barbara for its float, shown above, which depicts the immortal love story of Omar Khayyam.

ODD CITY-LOTS ANNOY ST. LOUIS

Quirky Shaped Plots Prove Bugaboo to Missouri Metropolis

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Real estate triangles, rectangles, strips and irregular lots, has assumed proportions of a bugaboo to city officials. Over a period of years this city has engaged in a campaign to straighten and broaden its streets, many of which were laid out in the days of its founding and never resurveyed. Elimination of sharp and blind corners and the broadening of main thoroughfares made necessary the purchase of bits of ground from private owners.

The program of street widening was followed strenuously in the last dozen years. Officials speeded up traffic but not without criticism. The city became the unwilling owner of more than 200 parcels of property, 130 of which have outlines unusual enough to be nightmarish to Mayor Bernard F. Dickmann and others of his administration.

Strip 112 By 2 Feet
One of the "white elephants" is in the shape of a triangle, 11 feet at the base—and 4 inches across at the apex. Another, suggested as an exercise ground for a dog is 112 feet long—and 2 feet wide. It would sell for $70 if anyone would buy it.

A few sections were acquired by St. Louis long before the city needed streets broader than the width of two horse-drawn buggies. Some were acquired as far back as 1870, when St. Louis absorbed Carondelet. They still go begging.

Laments Tax Loss
From a financial viewpoint, Mayor Dickmann said: "The city gets no taxes from them, whereas if they were sold the city would be paid a considerable amount in real estate taxes."

Current problem for the mayor and his aides, however is to find a purchaser who would ignore the fact that his property might be star- or diamond-shaped and surrounded on all sides by pavement.

While the plots constitute the most troublesome aspect of the city's real estate holdings, they represent only a fraction of the total evaluation of lands owned by St. Louis.

Your Baby's Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHER, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

What we call fear is a reaction depending on experience and discrimination. It is one of the most important forces in our lives. It is not for fear, we would expose ourselves to dangers which would be fatal to the human race. Children must learn what to fear and what not to fear. A cowardly child is one who has learned to fear when it should not fear.

When the children were studied carefully, definite bases were found for each of these mental habits. The conditions were relieved by getting these children to play with others, sometimes by sending them away to visit relatives at a distance, or by sending them to a distant school. In other words, in the majority of cases, most of the trouble was due to a wrong relationship between parent and child. In this period habits of speech are established. In this period, too, the child may develop control of its surroundings by tantrums or fits, or it may learn to adjust itself to living with other people in comparative comfort and calm.

In helping a child to overcome fear, a parent first should determine definitely the nature of the object that is feared. Parents are likely to threaten a child who develops wrong sex habits with mutilation of the body.

This fear of mutilation may mark not only the entire youth of the child, but may affect its life as a whole. The modern parent will learn to be frank with children and not to threaten them with punishments or dangers which are wholly fantastic.

One child psychologist talked with parents who complained that their children were constantly cross and irritable, had nightmares, made up fantastic stories, were shy, diffident, sensitive, or exceedingly rude. This does not mean that all the children had all these symptoms. Some had only one bad habit; the others had several.

When the children were studied carefully, definite bases were found for each of these mental habits. The conditions were relieved by getting these children to play with others, sometimes by sending them away to visit relatives at a distance, or by sending them to a distant school.

In this period habits of speech are established. In this period, too, the child may develop control of its surroundings by tantrums or fits, or it may learn to adjust itself to living with other people in comparative comfort and calm.

Several Years' Work
The engineer estimated that 73 miles of the Salmon river accessible for operations of his machinery would provide work to last the 10 proposed gold extracting units for several years. The equipment follows the meanders of the river working at the water level.

He said his firm was a closed company, of which nearly all the stock is owned by Idaho men. Sloan may be recalled as the engineer who worked out a proposed program to divert the Salmon river through a tunnel to the Snake, for irrigation purposes. The idea found favor with Governor Ross and was seriously considered by the legislature.

The first machine, to be rolled out of a local machine shop this week, will be located in the midst of former prosperous gold country. It will start work near the site of Freedom, in gold days a town of 8,000 persons. About $80,000,000 worth of gold has been taken from the surrounding country according to government figures, Sloan said.

CCC ENROLLEES TAKEN GOODING, Jan. 6 (Special)—Eighteen applicants for enrolling in the CCC have been accepted for recommendation, announces Mrs. Thelma Thompson, county relief supervisor. More than the 18 applied but only that number were eligible. These men were selected in response to a call for enrollees and will go to Boise Jan. 8 and will be sent to various camps from there, Miss Thompson stated.

UNIQUE MINING DREDGES READY

Movable Gold Machine Awaits Use On Big Salmon Near Slate Creek, Idaho

BOISE, Jan. 6 (AP)—A novel gold dredge, readily movable and said by its makers to be capable of 97 per cent recovery will be in operation within the next few days on the Big Salmon river near the town of Slate Creek, 30 miles south of Grangeville on the North-South highway.

The dredge is built on wheels to follow a shovel. It is the first of ten to be constructed by the Automotive Placer Co. for operation on the Salmon, Everett Sloan, engineer for the company and designer of the equipment, said.

Roller Grizzly
Sloan explained that his equipment includes a roller grizzly, used for the first time in a gold washing plant but long successful in other mining operations.

The rollers permit handling of larger rocks than ordinary plants and a new square screen, invention of a Boise man, more thoroughly washes the gold bearing sand and gravel than circular screens now used, Sloan declared.

These innovations, together with three successive spring-suspended tables, designed to take advantage of the three specific gravities of gold, account for the larger recovery shown by tests of the machine. Present methods recover only from 75 to 85 per cent of the gold, he said.

Play Then—Stark Reality Now

DEBATERS START ACTION JAN. 25TH

In the meantime, the 10 varsity members will further read on the question: "Resolved: That All Electric Utilities Should Be Governmentally Owned and Operated." It is the national forensic question.

Tryouts for the varsity debate squad were held before the Christmas holidays. Twenty-one students competed and the following were chosen: Wayne Annis, Ed Benoit, Neal Gipson, Mac Hopkin, Ronald Hutchison, Bruce Painter, Robert Robinson, Bert Tolbert, Asher Robinson and Paul Wright. Judges were Miss Eunice Ewert, G. L. Clark and Mr. Wallace.

State Assists Income Payers

Free Service In Filling Out 1936 Blanks Will Start Soon

Idaho's deputy income tax collectors will, in the near future, assist taxpayers in making out state income tax returns for the year 1936, Luther Carl, deputy tax collector, said here today. Mr. Carl is enroute from Boise to Pocatello.

Each year, Mr. Carl explains, the deputy collectors visit their districts and aid persons in filling out the blank. The service is free and newspaper notices carry the dates of their arrival. Four cover the entire state.

Mr. Carl, who has charge of 13 eastern and southern Idaho counties for the department of finance, was forced to quit his district recently and return to his home at Caldwell and accept medical treatment for a severe throat infection.

L. W. Garlock has charge of the Twin Falls district. The complaint against the two was signed by Victor Hedman of Albion, owner and operator of the College Inn.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The sleuth of the Christmas party at "Stander's" in the do-forest hacienda in New Mexico, has a tragic ending when PEARL PIERRE, the youngest of the brothers, is found dead with a knife in his hand.

Each of the do-forest brothers has the first name of "Pearl." PEARL JOHN is the youngest, PEARL GEORGE next, Others are the oldest, PEARL JONAS, PEARL PHINEAS, old and an invalid, BERTY WELCH, her young companion, RAMON YANQUEZ and ANGELIQUE ABETA, guests at the party, PROFESSOR SHAW, archeologist and BOB GRAYHAM, the salesman who stopped at the hacienda, when his car broke down.

Pearl Pierre, now head of the family, has his brother's body removed to the house chapel. The police group has been there for funeral services and is shocked to find that the body has disappeared.

Professor Shaw tells Ramon that "Thunder Man" is built on the foundation of an ancient Indian deity.

OUR NEW GOVERNOR

Today the people of Idaho will be analyzing Gov. Barzilla W. Clark's first message to the 21th Idaho legislature. They may agree or disagree with this or that, but there will be no doubt in their minds as to the new chief executive's courage in taking a definite stand on important issues.

He did not hesitate to risk a furor over his suggestion for revision of the liquor and gambling laws. He reiterated without modification his beliefs as regards municipal power. Equally specific were his proposals for development of the state's phosphate beds; elimination of the department of public welfare and establishment of a department of public health; modernization and enlargement of state hospitals for the insane, and a transaction tax to provide relief funds.

AND MEL THOUGHT NOBODY WOULD DISCOVER IT!

Pot Shots:

Mel Dooling and the telephone company have given us one of those hidden puzzles on the cover of the new phone book. I discovered it one night when I was standing on my head to amuse the smaller members of the family.

If you look at the cover illustration right side up, you see a very nice picture of Shoshone Falls when the water's really booming over. But if you turn the book upside down (or stand on your head), you find a perfect picture of a smoking forest fire or may-be a volcano.

Try it once, Pot Shots. Especially the standing-on-your-head stunt.

STILL THINKING OVER WHAT THE PROFESSOR HAD SAID, Ramon walked toward the little chapel, the scene of last night's amazing occurrence.

Opening the chapel door, he went in quietly, being careful to close it behind him. Then he gave a nervous start. Someone else was there before him. He had expected to find the room empty, but near the little altar a woman's head could be seen, bent in prayer. Ramon looked at her more closely, then smiled and slipped into a seat at the rear of the room until her devotions should be finished. Angelique was a devout child of the church. How beautiful she looked in the soft light with that absorbed expression on her almost childish face. He wondered why he could not fall in love with her.

"RAMON, I'M AFRAID!" the girl wailed softly, hiding her face on his shoulder. "Ramon, what could happen now?"

"I'm not saying anything will," His tone was a little harsh. "It's just that there is a possibility, and if you could find out from Pearl Pierre what I want to know, it might help prevent it. See?" His fingers caressed her soft cheek. "Say you'll do this for me, Angelique. We all want to get away from here, don't we?"

"Yes, Ramon. Yes! Though it's nice to be any place with you."

Her companion smiled in spite of himself and instead of answering, raised her pretty face and pressed his lips on her red mouth. She returned his caress so eagerly that he rasped quickly and led her out of the chapel.

"IT LOOKS CLEARING." How about a walk to the edge of the mesa?" he asked, glad of an excuse to change the subject. "Get your coat—I'll be waiting for you."

When she rejoined him, warmly wrapped in her furs, they started out at a brisk pace through the snow. Evidently Angelique was still thinking over their conversation, for she asked, "Ramon, what if Pearl Pierre does know of hidden places in this house? Do you think that's where the body went?"

"Perhaps," he answered. "But let's not talk any more about it, dear."

For several minutes they walked in silence. Then Ramon caught the girl's arm and pointed to where a solitary figure stood

REALISM

WASHINGTON—Scratch any of these war scares deep enough and you generally will find money as the cause of it all. Nations rarely go to war for the political reasons they discuss so much in public. What brings them to blows is the scramble for the all-night dollar underneath.

This is the interpretation being given by the knowing to the latest public hints from Europe indicating Mussolini, Eden, Hitler and Blum are getting ready to take a high-minded view about Spain. The brandishing of bayonets is being slowed down. Mussolini is suggesting to Hitler that perhaps things are going too far. Inspired dispatches suggest that maybe the big fellows had better get together and talk it over.

It means they are getting ready to peel the old Spanish onion. Each has his slice selected. At least this is the conclusion of those who know their Spain and their onions.

TRADE

All Mussolini wants out of it is more trade with Spain. He could not do business with a radical government in power there. He will listen to reason if he can only get a Spanish government which will grant him trade concessions. Hitler's purposes are the same. He is more interested in the economic advantages to be gained for Germany than in the political advantages of a Fascist Spain. He will also settle on the same basis, they say.

Britain is more gentlemanly than the two European rough-necks, but not above trading for the good of the empire. The English have no reason to desire a radical or Fascist government in Madrid. They want safeguards for Gibraltar—and trade.

The smallest slice is likely to fall to France, but she is afraid of Germany, and may be amenable. As for Russia, no one seems to care what she thinks or does.

It would not surprise anyone here, therefore, if a settlement of the Spanish problem is reached shortly on the usual commercial basis.

It was clearly evident that he spoke, not as a politician, but as a careful, conscientious executive who has given the affairs of state serious thought.

There is no pretense about Governor Clark. Among his friends he has expressed the desire to give the people of Idaho two years of good government, and to let politics take care of itself. That is all any state can ask or expect of its chief executive.

Encouraging, too, is the fact that so far his actions are bearing out his words, particularly as regards the selection of department heads. No one can criticize him conscientiously for the appointments he has already made. It is logical to presume that his remaining selections will be based upon the same qualifications that have been required to date.

ALL THAT OVER JUST A YAWN OR SO?

Pot Shots:

Speaking of new discipline, my boy writes home from Moscow that he accidentally yawned in the history class up there and the professor saw him. So the professor made him yawn a dozen times while the class watched and then told him: "You think you are yawning, but what you are really doing is performing a semi-respiratory measure facilitating restoration of the equilibrium of pressure between air in the middle ear and the outside atmosphere status quo."

—Mable

ANGELIQUE arose and came slowly down the short aisle, then, at sight of Ramon, she gave a little cry of joy. "Oh, Ramon, you, too, have felt the need of prayer?"

"I felt the need of seeing you alone, dearest," he answered, drawing her into the seat beside him and holding both her hands in his.

"What do you mean, Ramon?" she asked, her expressive eyes searching his face anxiously. "Oh, you don't know how happy it makes me to have you say you want to be alone with me."

"Listen." He lowered his voice almost to a whisper. "I mean this, Angelique. If we're ever going to make our getaway from

"SH!" Ramon laid his fingers on her lips. "Look—someone else is wondering, too." He pointed to another outcropping of rock farther on. The Indian guard was intently watching Pearl Pierre from behind that.

"He cut across that end," Ramon indicated the route. "But why all the secrecy?"

For several minutes Pearl Pierre poked about in the blackened heap of cinders, apparently unaware that he was being watched. Then he gave a sudden start, and for an instant stood staring down at something. Quickly he looked about as though hunting for something; then he hurried away in the direction of the house. What had he found among the ashes of the Christmas greens?

The Australian ballot system used in the house leadership election developed a political technique known as the Australian crawl. Somehow it always brings out the worst in congressmen to permit them to vote in secret. Anything imaginable about the secret voting of 333 skillful politicians can happen, and generally does, although no one is ever able to find out about it, not even the participants.

As a mild example of the known inside crowd and double cross-currents:

The White House announced it was neutral. But the White House liaison man with congress, Interior Under-Secretary Charles West, has been working his fingernails blunt, scratching for Mr. Rayburn. So has presidential adviser Tom Corcoran. Chairman Farley is neutral, also, but his Friday-morn, Emil Hurja, edged around corners in the house office building for Rayburn. Vice President Garner was openly for Rayburn, but holding the older congressmen and sitting in at the head of the Rayburn strategy table.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

On the outside, the Rayburn-O'Connor contest was a war of statements. On the inside, it was mostly hair-pulling. The

Dear Sir:

Why should the world be upset if a king sees fit to give up a crown for the woman he loves? It is not going to cause the slightest change in the parliamentary rule of England. Only God may overthrow and cast down the British empire; for we read that the nations that forget God shall perish.

Nevertheless England has proven that she has not forgotten God's laws in the attitude she has taken about this royal romance. Also the new king is not afraid to call upon God to guide and direct him in his great position.

It behooves even kings to walk upright and have the fear of God in their hearts.

I've always been proud of by English ancestors and if I were in England today I would take my stand with Stanley Baldwin and the archbishop.

Let us hope the New Year will find our nation working for the building up of Christ's kingdom; for "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Sincerely,

FICTION CREATES "FACT"

Margaret Mitchell, the young southerner, who wrote that amazing popular success, "Gone With the Wind," found out the other day how affectively an author can kid the public.

She received a letter from a reader in South Dakota who wanted to visit Tara, the ancestral southern home of Scarlett, the heroine of Miss Mitchell's book.

This reader said that her sister had visited Tara a few months before.

Miss Mitchell undoubtedly would have been glad enough to oblige; the only trouble was that there never was, any such place as Tara.

Miss Mitchell seems to be leading an interesting truth-to-wit; that an imaginative writer who invents something vividly enough can add it to the lore of the race, so that things which never happened and never were become as solid and substantial in people's minds as actual historical events.

Perhaps the prize example for all time of this sort of thing is an experience which befell the British writer, Arthur Machen, during the World war.

In the fall of 1914 Machen wrote an imaginative story about the British retreat from Mons, in which he had the ghosts of the yemen archers of old England come through the mists to the aid of the hard-pressed British army. The story took hold with a keyed-up British public and promptly ran away from Machen.

Before long Britain was full of a mystic, told-for-fact story about the Angels of Mons — supernatural beings with winged shoulders, who materialized above the trenches and with shafts of dazzling light, stopped the German rush.

That is the sort of thing you are fooling with when you write fiction. If you once touch people's imaginations, you change history for them.

"For a whole day, seven Newark, N. J., children played with five sticks of dynamite." That's one way to keep them out of dangerous streets.

THE EUROPEAN ZOO!

Pot Shots:

Have you ever gone to a zoo and watched monkeys chattering? They chatter, they make threatening motions at each other, they swing, blow they're careful to aim short—and they chatter plenty.

It reminds you of Europe and this Spanish business that I wish would be thrown out of the newspapers. Hitler bargains at Russia, Mussolini makes imaginary passes at England, England chatters in a large way at everybody.

The monkeys usually end up eating peacefully off the same banana somebody throws to them. Europe's big boys will probably do ditto on Spanish trade, raw materials, etc.

Monkey-shines, hey?

—Politico

ONLY BLUFFING

It must have occurred to a good many readers before this that a vast amount of bluffing has been going on in connection with German protests over the stopping of German merchant ships by Spanish loyalist warships.

Germany has made divers threats to use force. Such use of force would mean war between Germany and the Madrid government. But how under the shining sun could such a war be carried on?

German forces could not reach Spain by land without consent of the French army. They could not reach Spain by sea without the consent of the British navy. Such consent obviously will never be given.

So, unless Hitler is ready to fight both Britain and France, he must be making a big bluff. And bluffing is sound tactics only when you are sure that nobody will call you.

15 YEARS AGO—

Jan. 6, 1921

The state demands that Twin Falls shall pay in $174,051 on or before July 2, regardless of what taxes have been collected at this end. The funds from which the money will be paid are:

General state, $108,402; public building interest, $9,024; general interest and sinking fund, $6,406; predatory animals, $1,212; high-way redemption bonds, second issue, $6,571; third issue $1,314; fourth issue, $1,571; state highway $29,570; Albion Normal improvement, $4,106; sheep inspection, $1,231.

WASHINGTON—War without quarter will be waged between the Taft administration and such Republican insurgents in congress as are opposed to and who oppose in the future the Taft legislative program.

The battle is not with those tariff insurgents who quietly sheathed their blades after defeat, but with those who have nursed disappointment and are whetting their knives publicly in anticipation of continued conflict. The battle broke suddenly today.

The substance of it is, that senators and congressmen who have taken a stand against the present administration and who continue to align themselves with the opposition to the president's policies, are to receive no consideration in matters of patronage.

PERRY MAKES PRO DEBUT TONIGHT; VINES FAVORED

OVER 15,000 TO WITNESS MATCH

Californian Playing Greatest Tennis of Career Says "Big Bill" Tilden

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (Special)—Perry of England makes his professional tennis debut tonight against Ellsworth Vines, king of the paid performers.

Upwards of 15,000 spectators at Madison Square Garden are expected to produce an American record gate of $50,000.

Vines is the favorite. The Californian, former winner of the all-England title at Wimbledon and the American crown at Forest Hills, is rated by all the experts, including Tilden, as playing the best tennis of his life.

The one factor favoring the rugged Englishman is his ability to score when the chips are piled the highest. Long established in his record of reaching the heights when things matter most.

Perry's chief worry was the playing surface. He has had no real indoor competition, and in practice has seemed insecure on the manufactured playing surface—canvas stretched over padding and treated with a glycerin composition.

Hill-Billy Wrestler

Lem Steeklin, out of the hills of Smokemont, Tenn., wrestles professionally in his overalls, and carries along his pet cow, Oscar, for good luck.

By NEA Service—COLUMBIUS, O. Lem Steeklin, Blue Ridge Mountain hill billy, is the newest living in wrestling.

Tagging his pet raccoon, Oscar, around with him wherever he goes, Lem looks the part of a mountaineer, what with his bushy hair, overalls, and winter "mum."

His overalls are his wrestling costume. He refuses to don tight-fitting trunks, and "mum" is his only accessory. He wears a hat that he says is "indecent," and "mum" is his only accessory.

Lem, 28, has been wrestling professionally since August, when he was introduced to the sport by a friend induced him to try his hand at the money game.

AMERICA SPENDS MILLIONS IN IMPROVING RACE HORSES

By HENRY McLEMORE, United Press Staff Correspondent—DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 6 (AP)—It is a mystery to me why the American thoroughbred race horse isn't taller than a giraffe, longer than a cross-country bus, hasn't got a coat more luxurious than a shampooed ermine, and can't outrun a fire chief's car.

I became mystified along this line today when I read that in the state of Florida alone last season an uneven $23,459,841 was spent on the improvement of the breed of American racehorses.

Some city cynics say this money is spent on the improvement of the breed of American racehorses. That amount was the sum shovelled in the pari-mutuel windows at Hollywood and Tropical parks.

Some city cynics say this money is spent on the improvement of the breed of American racehorses. That amount was the sum shovelled in the pari-mutuel windows at Hollywood and Tropical parks.

Now it seems to me that for a billion dollars America should have prettier horses, and more durable horses, than it has at the present time.

GIRLS TURN OUT FOR BASKETBALL

Many Who Didn't Play Game Before Now Participate In Intramurals

A great number of girls that have never played basketball before have turned out since the beginning of the intramural system in the Twin Falls high school, Miss Mary Gillespie, coach, states.

Teams are being organized daily, Miss Gillespie says, and a class tournament is being organized with tentative opening dates set for the last of January or the first part of February.

Letters this year will be awarded to girls according to the number of points they have for activities.

Difficultly in arranging a suitable schedule was responsible for the change, according to school officials.

Bits On BOWLING

By SKANG MERCURIO, World's Highest Average Bowler. The follow-through in bowling is just as much a factor of the game as it is in golfing and other sports.

Because of the weight of the ball on the right side of the body, the follow-through must be used in order to compensate for this over-balance. After delivery, the right hand goes on through with the swing, throwing the body to the left and keeping it erect.

With the proper follow-through, the hand is behind the ball on delivery. Without it, it is over the ball, which tends to cause the kepler to drop it on the alley, losing much of the spin.

The action of the right arm following through also helps the bowler to line up his ball with the pocket target. By following his hand after delivery, he generally knows whether he is off on the line.

ROOSEVELT HELP ASKED IN STRIKE

Governor Merriam Requests F. D. R. Intervention To End Walkout
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6 (UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam and Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco, despairing of maritime strike peace through direct negotiations, today urgently requested President Roosevelt to intervene. Their appeals came as public demand for termination of the strike became increasingly insistent.
Gov. Merriam telegraphed President Roosevelt from Sacramento, urging his "personal intervention in the waterfront controversy." Mayor Rossi made his plea to the President through a nationwide radio broadcast.
Blames Bridges
Rossi blamed the personal ambitions of Harry Bridges, longshoremen's leader, for prolongation of the walkout which has tied up 250 ships, made 40,000 men idle and dealt industry, shipping and agriculture in California alone an estimated loss of $150,000,000.
The rising tide of public sentiment against further prolongation of the strike came from many quarters. The California state legislature asked presidential intervention; chamber of commerce, city councils, private firms and organizations have petitioned government officials; Mayor Joseph Carson of Portland announced he will discuss the strike on a coast-wide broadcast tonight between 8:30 and 8:45 o'clock.

WHEAT FUTURES DIP AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (UP)—Wheat futures continued their downward trend in the last half of today's session after a nervous opening. Profit-taking selling by local buyers, inspired by failure of Winnipeg to maintain a rally, found the wheat pit with a scarcity of buying orders. May lost about a cent a bushel while deferred futures declined fractions.
Corn after working down for a brief net losses, encountered a brisk demand from commission houses and prices steadied at previous closing levels.
At the close wheat was unchanged to 1c lower, May $1.31 1/2; new corn was off 1/4 to 1/2 cent, May $1.05; old corn was off 1/4 to 1/2 cent, May $1.05; and oats were 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, May 52 1/2c.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

The CHINESE MADE RECORDS OF SUN SPOTS 2000 YEARS AGO!

WHEN TOUCHED OR SHAKEN, THE "SENSITIVE PLANT" FOLDS ITS LEAVES AND DROOPS, BUT IF THE SHAKING IS CONTINUED, THE PLANT RECOVERS FROM THE SHOCK, OPENS ITS LEAVES AND DOES NOT RESPOND TO FURTHER DISTURBANCE.

MILLIONS OF YEARS AGO, THE BRITISH ISLES FORMED PART OF A GREAT LAND BRIDGE, CONNECTING THE OLD WORLD AND THE NEW... AND OVER THIS BRIDGE, STRANGE ANIMALS PASSED FROM ONE CONTINENT TO THE OTHER.

Our land masses, as we know them today, seem stable enough, but they are making a slow but gradual change, even as they have done through the ages. Millions of years from now, North America may be connected again with Asia and Europe, as it was at various times in the past.

ATTORNEY ASKS TECHNICAL AID

Outlines Six Point Program To Help G-Men In Drive On Criminals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (U.P.)—Enactment of six new statutes to "eliminate archaic technicalities" from criminal trial procedure and aid G-men in driving criminals to prison cells was recommended to congress today by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

Cummings, in his annual report, said approval of the proposed laws would "make possible greater expedition in the disposition of criminal cases without depriving the defendants of any substantial rights to which they should be entitled."

In addition, Cummings recommended that federal licensing of firearms, now limited to machine guns, sawed-off shot guns, and rifles, and silencers, be extended to include revolvers and pistols.

The six proposed criminal trial statutes would:

1. Permit a defendant to waive indictment by grand jury and consent to prosecution by information.
2. Require a defendant, before trial, to give notice if he intends to reply on a defense of alibi.
3. Permit comment on the defendants' failure to testify.
4. Abolish appeals in habeas corpus proceedings instituted to test the right of the government to remove a defendant to the district in which he has been indicted from a district in which he has been arrested.
5. Permit taking of depositions in criminal cases.
6. Provide that wife may be a competent witness against husband, or vice-versa.

Cummings' transmittal to congress also contained individual reports from various departments of justice sub-chief-tains concerning their particular agencies, including one from Assistant Attorney General John Dickinson, in charge of the anti-trust division, recommending that the division be given power to initiate anti-trust investigations.

"Experience discloses that very real difficulties stand in the way of achieving these measures of enforcement (of the anti-trust laws) which the public expects," Dickinson said. "The first of these difficulties is discovering violations."

H. S. Journalists Vary on 10 Best 1936 New Yarns

But Twin Falls Class Sees Same As United Press On No. 1 Story

The Twin Falls high school journalism class differed with the United Press in its rating of news interest of the 10 biggest news stories of the year, a test given by Mercedes J. Paul reveals.

Newsprinters claim that for transcendence news 1936 overshadowed any year since the World war. The 10 biggest news stories of the year, as selected by the United Press from a world viewpoint, originated in the United States, Canada, England, Germany, Spain, Ethiopia and Japan.

Both the UP and the high school journalism class rate the abdication of King Edward, climaxing the constitutional crisis over the Edward-Simpson, love affair, as of greatest interest.

They Differ Here

The United Press places the Roosevelt landslide, climaxing the presidential campaign, second and the Spanish civil war third while the journalism class thinks the Spanish civil war holds second in order of news interest, the death of George V third, the fall of Addis Ababa fourth and places the Roosevelt landslide in fifth.

Fourth and fifth for the UP were death of George V and the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

For the other five of the 10 big news stories the United Press rates them as follows: fall of Addis Ababa, climaxing Italy's conquest of Ethiopia; Germany's reoccupation of the Rhineland; Japanese army revolt; Astor-Thorpe litigation; Olympic games — especially Jesse Owens' victories and the Eleanor Holm Jarrett controversy.

More Variation

How would you have rated the stories? The high school journalists, while confirming with the United Press that the reoccupation of the Rhineland and the Japanese army revolt should take seventh and eighth places, placed the Olympic games sixth, the execution of Hauptmann ninth, and the Astor-Thorpe litigation last.

Health Director On School Trip

Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the county health unit, traveled today to Rogerson, Berger and Hollister in order to administer immunization for diphtheria and small pox to grade school children in those communities. Miss Mary Ellen Bell, nurse in charge of the district, is assisting Dr. Hawkins.

Gooding Forgers Given Sentence

Checks forged were two on J. E. Arkoosh, Gooding, for $25 each.
