Frozen Body of Joseph Madsen, Road Worker, Found Near Tremonton

SNOW MAROONS AUTOISTS

Livestock In Storm District Threatened With Death From Starvation

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7 (CP)—The worst storm of winter tightened its grip on Utah today, increasing its death toll to two, marooning motorists and isolating mountain camps and villages.

Death from starvation threatened storm-bound livestock. Joseph Madsen, Tremonton, member of a caterpillar crew working to keep the highway open through Rattlesnake pass, was found dead, his body frozen, on the highway a half mile west of Tremonton. He was the second storm victim to date.

Hidden From Blue Creek—Madsen had been relieved earlier and had ridden from Blue creek with James Smith, Tremonton garage man to a point two miles west of Tremonton, where their automobile slipped from the road.

Madsen started to walk to town. His body was found an hour later. Sheriff's officers were investigating. The highway today was blocked by drifting snow.

At Enterprise, a fading wind enabled crews from a CCC camp to try to force a path through seven-foot drifts in an attempt to reach Vevo, 20 miles away, to replenish food supplies. With rations reduced, the present food supply will last three days. Hyrum Kunz, camp foreman, said.

No Shortage Feared—Enterprise, cut off from the rest of the state since Tuesday when low temperatures and a severe blizzard settled down over the country, reported no fear of a food shortage.

U. S. Highway 91 was closed near Cedar City from Pintura to Anderson's ranch. All vehicles were being stopped at Cedar City. (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

BOARD TO PONDER SCHOOL BUILDING

Trustees Expected to Act On Superintendent's Post At Meeting

Indication that a tentative program of construction will be considered at the meeting of the board of school trustees here Monday night focused attention today on the overcrowded conditions in the local school system.

The board also is expected to act, it was understood, on the superintendent's post, W. B. Smith, present head of the system, holds a contract ending at the close of the school year in May. It was indicated today that he is a candidate for reappointment, although board members made no comment on whether or not definite action will be taken tonight.

Will Be Considered—The fact that consideration will be given tonight to the overcrowded school conditions was indicated by Chairman George J. Ward, who said the trustees had decided several weeks ago to consider the matter after the election on improvement bonds for the city water system.

Nothing concrete has yet been done toward any new or enlarged buildings, it was understood. But proposals suggested unofficially include a possible new structure, enlargement of present structures and expansion of the existing high school and junior high school building. Father A. W. Forstall said his deductions indicated the quake was centered in central Asia.

France Takes Steps To Prevent Invasion Of Syria By Turkey

30,000 TROOPS READY FOR POSSIBLE ATTACK

(Copyright, 1937, United Press)

PARIS, Jan. 7 (UP)—The government has ordered its army command in Syria to prevent any possible Turkish incursion into the Alexandretta district of Syria, which Turkey has demanded. The foreign office said today.

A spokesman said that France had 30,000 white and colonial troops in Syria.

"Our force is larger than the one Turkey might send," the spokesman added. "It is large enough to deal with any emergency."

The sudden hint of possible trouble on the Turkish frontier of Syria caused officials to divert their attention from the dangerous situation in Spain.

Into the Alexandretta dispute many angles have come. One is the assertion by Syrian nationalists that Germany might get rich in oil deposits in the area and be permitted to establish a powerful

The French position was a firm one. Officials said they refused to take seriously rumors that Turkey might forcibly occupy the district but that if "incidents" occurred, France would not tolerate them.

The situation briefly is that Turkey ceded the territory as part of Syria in the World war treaties. France obtained a mandate. Now France has announced it intends to give Syria its independence in three years. Turkey wants the Alexandretta area. France says it is hers, as the mandatory nation, to do with as she likes.

Nevada Scene Of New Kidnap Clue

CCC Foreman Certain He Saw Missing Tacoma Boy

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 7 (AP)—All Hardy, CCC foreman and former deputy sheriff, today "positively identified" a picture of kidnaped Charles Mattson as the boy he saw last Sunday in an automobile he stopped at Mesquite, Nev.

The boy tried to talk to Hardy, but a woman who explained that the youth "was seriously ill" pushed him down in the seat and the car drove away.

Asked to Watch—Hardy had been asked by authorities to watch for a "suspicious car" containing a man, woman and child.

Later the sheriff at St. George, Utah, 60 miles north of here, showed him the Mattson boy's picture and Hardy said it was the same boy he had seen in the automobile.

VIGIL MAINTAINED—SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7 (AP)—State and local authorities today were maintaining a lookout for a light sedan, containing a man, woman and young boy, on the theory the child may be Charles Mattson, 10-year-old Tacoma kidnap victim.

Such a car was reported yesterday as entering Utah from Mesquite, Nev.

Federal officers here said no special precautions were being taken beyond those in effect everywhere. A general police radio alarm was broadcast.

RANCH REPORTS 54 BELOW ZERO

Mercury Plunges Sharply In Montana; Two Cold Wave Deaths

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 7 (AP)—A ranch on the continental divide at Trestle, 10 miles from here, today reported a temperature of 54 degrees below zero as Montana's cold wave became colder in spite of forecasts of moderation.

The Montana Power company reported the coldest official temperature in the state at Chester, 40 miles from Canada in west central Montana, where the reading was -48. Butte reported -42.

Two deaths already have been attributed to the cold wave. The latest fatality was that of Burmond Crozier, 30-year-old Butte electrician employed on the huge Polson dam project in northwestern Montana. Crozier was found frozen to death in his automobile late yesterday between Choteau and Augusta. Earlier this week a Butte streetcar motorman fractured his skull in a sidewalk fracture.

DAYTONA-BEACH, Fla., Jan. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Irene Armstrong, militant grandmother mayor of Daytona Beach's winter wonderland, ended her machine gun control of the city hall today after winning her battle to retain office.

Gov. Fred P. Cone, who stepped into the governor's office at noon Tuesday, last night revoked an order by which Dave Scholz, retiring chief executive of the state, had sought to ouster her and the city administration.

For a number of days armed guards remained on duty at the city hall, protecting Mrs. Armstrong, who refused to yield her office in spite of the gubernatorial order.

Mercury Hits 7 Below Here

Thermometers Chalk Up New Record For Year

Twin Falls dug in for a sleep of sub-zero temperatures today. Thermometers dropped to the year's record low mark last night and today as the mercury registered a minimum of seven degrees below zero.

The seven-degree mark, representing bottom in the current frigid wave to date, was registered last night at 8 p. m., according to the U. S. bureau of entomology. The reading hovered around five and six degrees below most of the night, and was still at two under zero at 8 a. m. this morning.

Blitting Wind—Temperatures were still at a bitter cold level this afternoon, although a weak winter sun warmed the city slightly. A sharp east wind combined with the blitting temperature to send pedestrians scurrying on downtown streets. The cold wave was general

General Motors To Shut Down Three More Plants; Nearly 55,000 Men Idle

GOVERNOR DIRECTS EFFORTS FOR PEACE

LACK OF MATERIALS FORCES NEWEST FACTORY CLOSINGS

By HARRY FERGUSON, United Press Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, Jan. 7 (UP)—Pinched for materials, General Motors corporation today announced it would close three more big plants in the next two days as federal labor mediators worked rapidly in an attempt to start direct negotiations between capital and labor before strikes and shutdowns paralyze the one-and-a-half-billion dollar corporation.

Gov. Frank Murphy took direct charge of negotiations this morning and then hastened back to Lansing where he was to address the legislature.

"Things are moving along satisfactorily," he said after a conference with William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors. From that conference he went across the street to talk with Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers. Murphy did not succeed in getting the two men together to discuss the strike that has taken 54,830 men out of their jobs, but it was the closest thing to direct negotiations that has occurred.

Announce Closing—No sooner had Murphy left for Lansing, however, than General Motors announced that it would have to close the following Chevrolet plants because of shortage of materials:

- 1. The Flint, Mich., engine plant, where 12,000 men are at work.
2. The Saginaw, Mich., foundry, which manufactures much of Chevrolet's metal work and employs 5,500 men.
3. The East City, Mich., carburetor plant employing 2,300.

Arnold Lenz, Chevrolet plant manager at Flint, who announced the closings, said the effect of the (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Can Ship Anytime—Additional exports can be started anytime until President Roosevelt signs the bill, probably Friday. It was not believed that other licensed shipments would be ready to leave by that time, however. Shippers must present their permits 24 hours before they start loading.

The joint congressional resolution authorizing the embargo still was held on Capitol Hill, awaiting Vice President John Nance Garner's signature.

Congressional leaders explained the delay resulted from the senate's failure to authorize Garner to sign the resolution immediately. Customarily, the senate must be in session when resolutions of this nature are signed by the vice president, but the body will not sit today. Although there are precedents which would permit Garner to sign it today, senate leaders indicated he probably would wait until Friday.

Hurry Wanted—Haste in jamming the resolution through both houses was blamed for the oversight which caused the day's delay.

The freighter Mar Cantabrico carrying eight American airplanes and one airplane motor for the Spanish loyalist forces sailed from New York early before the house began consideration of the resolution.

Robert Cuse, New Jersey exporter, got the munitions away while congress was listening to Mr. Roosevelt's annual message. He still has on hand 11 planes and some 600 airplane motors for which he has an export license, but the 24-hour shipping notice requirement will prevent a shipment before Friday.

SENATE'S BILLS AGGREGATE 414

Deluge of Measures Facing Upper House; Cover Wide Range

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (UP)—Outlines of the mass of proposed legislation to come before the 75th congress took form in the senate today as clerks counted 414 bills introduced the first business day.

Neutrality, labor, agriculture, finance and general welfare were dealt with in the opening deluge. All bills were referred to committees.

The revised food and drug act by Sen. Royal S. Copeland, D., N. Y., ranked in importance with the bituminous coal bill of Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, D., Pa.

Two bills introduced by Sen. John H. Bankhead, D., Ala., and Sen. Tom Connally, D., Tex., attacked the farm tenancy problem.

Sen. William H. King, D., Utah, proposed the first alteration in the much-criticized excess profits tax enacted during the last session of congress. King's amendment would permit corporations to deduct amounts paid for building improvements, machinery, etc., from otherwise taxable surplus.

The Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill made its yearly appearance in revised form, submitted by Sen. Lynn J. Frazier, R., N. D.

Frederick Ingalls, publicity chief of the Union Pacific's new resort, confirmed reports of the alteration today after a query from The Evening Times. "David Selznick in Hollywood, Charles F. Glore in Chicago, the return wire read. "No details available save bout limited to one sock. Sorry. Cheerfully, Frederick Ingalls."

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, Jan. 7 (UP)—Belated acclaim as Hollywood's first "one punch" victor went today to David O. Selznick, film producer. "Now's the time in Sun Valley a million dollar resort while you ever saw," and "It couldn't be matched—even in the prize ring."

REP. O'CONNOR HURLS CHARGES

Claims 'Hundreds of Posts' Promised by Opponents For Leadership

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (UP)—Chairman John J. O'Connor, D., N. Y., of the house rules committee, charged today that promises were made by his opponents in the house leadership race "of hundreds of posts" on the house ways and means committee in return for support.

O'Connor's charge came after a Democratic caucus elected Rep. Otha D. Wearin, D., Iowa, to the ways and means committee, defeating Rep. Frank J. G. Dorsey, D., Pa., supported by Sen. Joseph P. Murphy, D., Pa., for the post.

O'Connor denied that he intervened in the committee fight but his friends attributed Dorsey's defeat to the activity of Guffey in the house leadership race.

Chairman Sam Rayburn, D., Tex., of the house interstater commerce committee, was elected house leader over O'Connor in a bitter struggle last Monday.

O'Connor's statement made plain the fight has left a deep rift in the house Democratic leadership. "Neither I nor my friends made any promises during the fight," O'Connor said. "But we do know of at least 100 members—possibly as many as 200—being promised the two vacancies on the ways and means committee."

F. D. R. CALLS FOR NEW LABOR ACTS

Voices Demand for Hours and Wages Legislation In Annual Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (UP)—President Roosevelt headed congress along a controversial road today in search for the legislative answers to regulation of business and labor conditions within the constitution.

Legislators seeking to meet the demand for hours and wages legislation and for stricter control of business contained in his annual message to congress were given a rough chart of the course to be followed. They were sharply divided over specific methods.

Without Amendment—The President implied that the legislation should be enacted without a constitutional amendment; that it should curb "reckless overproduction" that it should regulate hours and wages, child labor and collective bargaining; and that it should be a series of measures. Wedding

Heiress to Netherlands Throne Bride of German Prince

THE HAGUE, Jan. 7 (UP)—Crown Princess Juliana, heiress to the throne of the Netherlands, married Prince Bernhard zu Lippe-Biesterfeld today in a 15-minute civil ceremony followed by religious confirmation at the Dutch Reformed Church of St. James.

In taking a German consort, the Princess Juliana followed the precedent of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina, who married Prince Henry of Mecklenburg in the same church 40 years ago. He died in 1934.

The royal Juliana's wedding took place in a storybook atmosphere of golden and crystal stone coaches, prancing steeds, brightly uniformed cavalry escorts, and thousands upon thousands of sturdy Dutch citizens who came from the far ends of Holland to stare at the royal lovers.

They sat side by side in the great golden coach and led the wedding procession, from the palace to the town hall where, in the presence of the burgomaster and his assistants, they gravely affixed their signatures to the civil documents which made them man and wife.

The ceremony at the town hall was over in a few minutes and the wedding party started immediately for the church for the religious service in the ancient gilded edifice.

A radiantly happy bride, Juliana, in her white velvet wedding gown, her glittering tiara and bracelet of 2,700 diamonds—a wedding gift from Dutch East Indies subjects—looked like a fairy tale princess.

MYSTERY ANGLE WIDENS IN CASE

Relatives of Dead Man Were Unaware of His Second Marriage

Mystery surrounding the strange death of W. E. Taylor, 52, resident of a trailer house near Hartman park, from what apparently was poison, deepened today with the disclosure that neither a son nor a sister of the dead man knew he had married a second wife.

Mr. Taylor and his second wife, Martha Taylor, were taken to the county general hospital Sunday afternoon after they had been found unconscious by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kenner, neighbors Taylor died Tuesday morning Mrs. Taylor is "much improved," officers stated today.

Inaware of Death

Lynnan E. Taylor, 28, the youngest of Taylor's four children, lives in Twin Falls from his home in Boise. Taylor only came to Twin Falls to visit his father's death earlier in the day.

Until he saw the present Mrs. Taylor he thought his own mother, Mrs. Martha Egan Taylor, of Latah, Neb., and his father had probably married again and had come west and that his mother was the Mrs. Taylor in the hospital room.

Mrs. J. E. Crist, sister of the dead man, accompanied by her husband, arrived late yesterday afternoon from Hoxie, Kan. She told local officers she did not know her brother was married again although she had known the present Mrs. Taylor in Kansas. The deceased left Hoxie, where he was engaged in the real estate business and in farming, about six months ago. He went to Denver, where the present Mrs. Taylor claims they were married. Then to Idaho Falls and, four months ago, the couple came to Twin Falls.

Seek Further Details

Today, it is understood, pictures of the dead man and his second wife were sent to Kansas in order to learn any further details of the two. Following a post mortem held over Mr. Taylor's body immediately after his death, samples of blood and body tissues were sent to the state chemist at Boise for examination to disclose the type of poisoning from which the man evidently died.

Funeral services for Mr. Taylor will be held Friday at 10:30 a. m. from the White mortuary chapel where the body was taken. Services will be under the direction of Rev. Mark C. Cronenberg, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

Taylor, according to his sister, Mrs. Crist, was born in Red Cloud, Neb., on Aug. 17, 1884. Survivors, aside from herself and the son, include another sister, Mrs. Ella M. Chandler, of Hoxie.

Long Out of Touch

In an exclusive interview with The Evening Times the son said he had corresponded with his father but once in the past 12 years. He stated he did not learn of his father's death until he visited the hospital.

Investigations into the death had slackened somewhat today, awaiting word of the findings of the state chemist, and a reply to information requested in Kansas.

GENERAL MOTORS CLOSES 3 PLANTS

Shutting down of these plants would be felt across the country, resulting eventually in the closing of all Chevrolet factories and all Fisher body plants manufacturing Chevrolet bodies.

Plant Closing Today

The Saginaw plant will close today, Leniz said; the Flint Chevrolet factory will shut down tomorrow, and the Bay City plant will close after the night shift tomorrow.

James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliator, worked rapidly after receiving word that strikes were slowing down or stopping General Motors assembly lines.

After conferring with Knudson, Dewey announced that General Motors was willing to promise that no machinery would be moved out of any of its plants during strike negotiations.

Dewey carried that offer to Martin at union headquarters. The union position was understood to be that sit-down strikers at Flint, Anderson, Ind., and Toledo would not be withdrawn until General Motors pledged to leave machinery intact and not attempt to resume production.

BOARD TO PONDER SCHOOL BUILDING

Trustees Expected To Act On Superintendent's Post At Meeting

ing. Monetary extent of the program is believed still in the indefinite stage.

No New Tax Needed

That the Twin Falls school district could construct a $150,000 school building to relieve an overcrowded condition in the schools without increasing the present tax levy, is the opinion of W. R. Smith, superintendent of Twin Falls schools.

"The present levy is 4.8 mills," Mr. Smith said. "If $150,000 in serial bonds were issued payable $15,000 a year for a 10-year period and the district valuation remains the same at approximately $8,000,000, a tax rate of two per cent would provide $16,000 a year, which would be more than necessary to pay the bonds."

Enrollment Climbs

The superintendent's records, as he spoke before members of the local Rotary club, showed an increase in enrollment from 2,122 elementary and 796 high school students in 1927-28 to 2,580 elementary and 1,097 high school pupils last year.

He explained that the board had not decided upon any building program, and that the $150,000 figure he mentioned was used only to show how building might be accomplished without increasing the tax levy.

The district, he said, had reduced its bonded indebtedness of $511,982.43 during the 10 year period ending last June 30, to a net of $72,500, and that the district could, if necessary, bond for $407,500.

He said the building suggested could not only be financed and built, but that the district could also reduce the present school tax levy by 2.8 mills within three years.

TESTS PLANNED FOR NEW DRUG AT UNIVERSITY

Members of the university's bacteriology staff have been working with the new drugs since last September, and report that there is no danger to the patient if the substances are used under a physician's direction. They are injected into the blood stream or taken internally.

The work at the university has been directed by Drs. Dickinson, Sergeant Pepper and Edward J. Czarnetzky.

STEEL ACTIVITY TOPS '29 LEVEL

Christmas Pay for Workers Highest On Record; Production Up

By EDWARD J. LALLY, Jr., United Press Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The part of the country that is frequently referred to as "the workshop of the world" moved out of 1936 into the surge of an almost unprecedented era of prosperity.

Prosperity for the Pittsburgh district reflected, more than anything else, good times in the steel industry. And December, 1936, was notable because:

Approximately 125,000 persons were employed in the same area in 1929, the so-called "boom" period. December ingot production was heavier than in any year-time month in history, ranging between 75 and 80 per cent.

Christmas pay for steelworkers was more than $9,000,000, highest on record.

Payrolls at New Highs

Monthly steel mill payroll was approximately $17,000,000, highest in 17 years.

Pay envelopes to steelworkers carried $5 to $20 more weekly than two months ago. That resulted from the wage increases granted by steel companies, in most cases averaging 10 per cent, which became effective Nov. 16.

Accumulation of orders has become so great that in many cases shipments have been delayed. Steel being the mainstay of Pittsburgh district industry, its improvement was carried into all other businesses. The relief burden lightened. More workers occupied offices and factories of industries dependent upon steel. Plant extensions and improvements were started, putting new life in the construction field, which had been lagging. More shoppers filled down town stores. The stores hired thousands of extra helpers. The cycle was completed. The Christmas payroll in the Pittsburgh industrial district was about $75,000,000.

Included in the "big pay" were innumerable Christmas bonuses—revival of a custom that had been mostly dormant for six or seven years. Among the larger companies distributing bonuses to their employees was the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, which presented extra checks to its 45,000 workers.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 7 (AP)—Dr. W. W. Mattson, father of the nation's latest kidnap victim, refused to comment today on reports his son, Charles, 10, might have been in Nevada and Utah.

"There is nothing I can say," Dr. Mattson said. "And there is nothing I can offer from this end. There has been no word and no new developments."

He did not appear hopeful over the reports. Dr. Mattson was at his downtown office early and thanked newspapers and press associations for ceasing to watch his house.

PRODUCER SOCKS CHICAGO BROKER

Twos One-Punch Battle At Sun Valley and Local People Saw It

Selznick and his guests were celebrating the New Year was slow in getting out. Witnesses, one a Twin Falls, Idaho, woman, who prefers that her name be kept secret, said the lone punch was a "foney."

The punch landed, according to witnesses on the face of Charles F. Glor, Chicago broker, for allegedly "speaking out of turn."

At the producer's party were his wife, Joan Bennett and her husband, Gene Markey; Claudette Colbert, and her husband, Dr. Joel Pressman, and Selznick's brother, Myron.

"SMALL PUNCH"

CHICAGO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Charles F. Glor, a broker, did have a disagreement with film producer David O. Selznick, he said today, and he did receive a punch in the eye.

But, he added, it was only a small punch.

"I wasn't hurt," he said. "My eye was slightly discolored. That's true, but the discoloration was just on the way home. You can see how slight it was."

The one-punch episode occurred at a New Year's eve party at a Sun Valley, Idaho, resort.

Landon Suggests Child Labor Law

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 7 (AP)—Gov. Alf Landon in his first major statement since election today recommended that congress utilize an interstate commerce clause of the constitution passing a law designed to outlaw child labor.

Landon in a letter to Sen Henry F. Ashurst, chairman of the judiciary committee of the senate, said congressional action to control the sale of products of child labor would be beneficial even though the federal child labor amendment to the constitution is finally adopted.

EXPORTER LOSES ON ARMS ACTION

Tightening of Neutrality Laws Comes As Blow to Robert Cuse, Jersey City

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Robert Cuse, the Jersey City exporter who stirred congress into frenzied action to tighten the nation's neutrality laws, faded a heavy loss today on the $2,770,000 worth of aircraft engines and other supplies he planned to ship to the Spanish loyalist government.

Eight airplanes and miscellaneous parts were all that Cuse was able to ship before congress passed a resolution to make further shipments unlawful. His cargo got away safely aboard the Spanish steamer Mar Cantabrico only when the coast guard had permitted the vessel to continue after halting it off Sandy Hook.

President Roosevelt is expected to sign the resolution Friday, making it law. Cuse then will be forced to find another purchaser for his remaining stock, and a purchaser with whom he can deal without violating the government's strict neutrality act.

Wed, Part

Romance that lasted only nine days was the theme of a real domestic drama unfolded for Hollywood by David Gould, lover-photographer, film dance director, in a suit for annulment of his marriage to pretty Frances Paxton, upon photo. He says the blond screen actress refused to make a home for him. Her version is: "We just agreed to disagree." Their wedding at Yuma, Ariz., followed an airplane elopement.

ures rather than a blanket attack on the objectives.

"Sober second thought," he said, "confirms most of us in the belief that the broad objectives of the national recovery act were sound."

Division Manifest

The specific manner of legislating found congress divided along several lines which presented a long and tedious wrangle.

The dispute took shape along these lines:

1 A faction, probably the strongest numerically, proposed to enact a series of labor control measures lending federal aid to states that prohibit sale of goods produced by manufacturers failing to observe certain standards.

These standards would provide minimum wages, maximum hours, child labor, OSHA measures, and provide for business regulation.

2 A block headed by Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney, D. W. Va., which proposed to issue federal licenses to corporations which would be compelled to observe the so-called standards. O'Mahoney's licensing bill also would impose anti-trust standards on business.

3 A comparatively small group favored legislation to curb the powers of the supreme court, such as requiring a 7-2 vote to declare an act of congress unconstitutional.

In addition, many legislators were convinced firmly that a constitutional amendment will be necessary before the President's objectives can be enacted and approved by the supreme court. They include Majority Leader Joseph W. Robinson and Speaker Charles B. McNary.

SCOUT FINANCES AT HIGH LEVELS

Statement Will Show Better Condition Than In Any Recent Year

Finances of the Snake River area council are in the best condition at the present time that they have been for years, the annual report of Boy Scout activities to be presented for approval Friday noon at the executive committee meeting of the organization at the Park hotel, will show.

At Friday's meeting Wilbur S. Hill, council president, will preside. The group will review and approve the annual report, and outline plans for 1937, particularly troop organization, the coming January and activities during an anniversary week which will be observed starting February 7, officials say.

Cash in Treasury

At the present time, the report will state, more of the 1937 budget has been raised and is in the treasury ready for use than in any former year. The 1937 budget totals $3,625. Based on the 1936 census this shows an outlay of only four and one-half cents per person per year for every resident of this area. This would be reduced per capita, officials point out, as the census now would reveal an increase in population since 1930 of several thousand. The budget is passed by popular subscription in each of the eight counties in this area.

448 Scouts

The report will contain details of Scout advancement made during the year as well as other matter.

At the present time, the report shows, there are 448 Scouts in the 43 troops in the area. Of this number 427 are tenderfoot, 202 second class, 84 first class, 73 star Scouts, 42 life Scouts, and 20 Eagle Scouts. During the year there have been 1538 Scouts enrolled. This figure includes those who have dropped out.

DISTRICT ROADS OPEN TO TRAVEL

All highways and roads in the Twin Falls highway district were open to travel today, J. D. Sincema, district engineer, reported. The highway between Kimberly and Hansen was closed to traffic most of Wednesday because of high winds which caused deep drifts to form early in the morning.

This road was re-opened late Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Sincema said, and today all roads are passable. Plows were busy today widening stretches of the Kimberly-Hansen road the workers cleared Wednesday.

Plows are still slippery, Mr. Sincema said, and motorists were urged to use caution in traveling.

Irate Newlyweds Hunt Friend Who Manacled Them

'Desperate' Pair Seeks Police Help After Prankster Puts on Handcuffs

For the second day in succession all was confusion at the local police station today. Handcuffed together, two "desperate" persons were seen coming in the door. Police officers immediately stationed themselves at strategic points in order to get the "drop" on the pair should anything develop.

As officers approached the pair, very cautiously, indeed, they had visions of great wrangling on the pages of the police blotter. But lo!

The couple asked for a key to free themselves of a pair of manacles snapped on their wrists early this morning while they slept.

The mystery cleared when they disclosed they were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baker Hersey, Jr. Mrs. Hersey being Ethel Johnson of this city before her marriage last night.

A group of "friends" had invaded their home and snappled on the cuffs before they could resist. Only one key to the bracelets existed and this was in the hands of one of the "friends" so the police could not aid.

"I didn't think I'd ever end up with these on," Mrs. Hersey said.

"At least," answered Mr. Hersey, "we know where to find each other and this marriage will surely stay put."

When last seen they were driving toward the home of their "friendly" friend.

POLOGIES OF NYA PARTLY MODIFIED

Change Aims at Reaching All Needy Youth If Possible, Supervisor Asserts

That the National Youth administration's program may reach all needy youth if possible, there has been a modified change in policy, Harold Salisbury, area supervisor announced today.

The outstanding objective of the N. Y. A., according to Salisbury, is to provide training, work experience and rehabilitation for those youth who are eligible for N. Y. A. assistance.

"Any youth who is a member of a family certified as in need of relief is eligible for N. Y. A. employment, regardless of whether the primary wage earner is employed on a WPA project," Salisbury states.

Two Phases

N. Y. A. is divided into two parts, work projects for boys and girls between the ages of 18 and 25, Salisbury announces, and aid for high school and college students.

In Twin Falls county approximately 150 are being assisted with school and work projects, Salisbury says. Outstanding work projects of NYA in the city is the rock garden in the city park, Salisbury pointed out. Other projects include providing playground leaders, improving streets, providing help for state fisheries and game farms, and assisting in nursery work.

State Totals

On N. Y. A. rolls, now in the state are 785 in the work division, Salisbury reveals in the state 203 high schools have a total of 1,359 students receiving help, while 808 college students get aid in the 10 various colleges and normal schools. In addition there are 230 going to vocational schools in the work project division, Salisbury states.

CREWS PREPARE TO INSTALL PIPE

Cast Iron Conduit Will Go In Between Van Buren and Jackson

WPA crews are busy preparing for installation of new cast iron water main pipe between Van Buren and Jackson streets, city water officials said today.

The crews, numbering approximately 30 men, will construct a trench approximately four feet deep and, on its completion, will replace the present wood main with the more up-to-date water conveyer.

Cold weather, officials explained, is no handicap to the installation.

At the present time crews are busy spreading gravel on Sixth street south and Sixth street east. A crew of 50 WPA workers is given employment in the gravel pit. It was stated.

Superiority of cast iron mains, weather than wood mains now existing, is shown in the fact, officials said, that one cast iron main at Philadelphia has been in continuous service for the past 112 years.

It is the oldest main in the United States. One in Chicago has seen 82 years service; one in New York, 93 years; and one in France, the oldest in the world, for 270 years.

TRIO HELD FOR ROBBERY TRIAL

Woman and Two Men Bound Over to District Court After Hearing

Three persons, two men and a woman, were bound over to district court to answer charges of robbery following a preliminary hearing held Wednesday morning and afternoon before Justice Guy T. Swope.

The three, charged with robbery in a complaint signed by G. A. McDowell of Twin Falls, include Marjorie Best, 20, and William Rector, 26, both of Twin Falls, and Oscar J. Bradley of California.

The trio are charged by McDowell with beating him and robbing him of $38 in currency after he had been lured from a local club last Friday night by the woman. They were arrested Saturday by local police and arraigned before Justice Swope Monday.

Four witnesses took the stand for the state at the hearing while the defense failed to call any witnesses.

Say Men Jumped Him

McDowell, who spent all of the morning and most of the afternoon on the stand, testified that Miss Best requested him to accompany her outside and that two men jumped from the shadows and, after beating him, took the money from him.

Others who testified for the state included J. V. Davis, local police officer, who said he warned McDowell to watch out for the trio and also said he was present when the woman took McDowell out a rear door, and Lou Peters who testified he and his wife, driving home, saw three persons running across a vacant lot. He identified two of them as being the woman and Rector, but did not know the third person. He also testified he saw McDowell lying on the ground and that he and Davis assisted him to his feet.

Charles P. Larsen, local police officer, testified he was at the corner of Main and Shoshone when McDowell and Davis reported the robbery to him.

Prosecuting Attorney Edward H. Block represented the state, and W. L. Dunn the defendants.

No Individuals In Need of Relief to Be Dropped States President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt today gave direct assurance that no individuals in need of relief will be dropped from works progress rolls and any who have been eliminated will be reinstated.

"I have discussed this matter with Mr. Hopkins," the President wrote, "and I am advised that instructions have been issued that no persons are to be dropped from this program who are in need of relief at the present time and that any who may have been dropped prior to the issuance of this order will be reinstated. G-MEN'S CHIEF PRAISES SCOUTS

J. Edgar Hoover and Warden Lewis Lawes, Sing Sing, Approve Benefits

Two of the United States' greatest enemies of the modern gangster have urged growing boys to enlist in the Boy Scout movement, Armbury Frederick, local scout executive, said today.

Communications received from national headquarters quote Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison, and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation and chief of the G-Men, as being highly in favor of scouting for boys.

"I know of no movement more worthy of the moral and financial support of those interested in law enforcement in each and every community than that of supporting the activities of the Boy Scouts of America," Hoover said.

Mr. Lawes comments by saying the Boy Scouts organization is valuable, "because it gives boys something to do in which they take a real interest."

"No boy ought to be given up as hopeless until he has failed in something in which he had a real interest. I urge every adult to do his or her part by seeing that their boys, and others who may be less fortunate, have the opportunity to join this organization."

STRIKE FACTIONS VOICE OPTIMISM

Tentative Agreement Provides For Wage Increases In Maritime Tie-up

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Optimism returned to peace negotiations today as new appeals went out for President Roosevelt to intervene in the two-month-old Pacific coast maritime strike.

Continued conferences between shipowners and representatives of the American Radio Telegraphists' association, one of the seven striking unions, brought most encouragement.

A tentative agreement with the coast stevedores was announced by Secretary Randolph Mowbray of the engineers' union. It provides for wage increases averaging $20 monthly, union recognition and preferential employment. These groups planned to resume discussions today.

The Marine Cooks and Stewards association also will meet today with shipowners' representatives.

E. F. Marsl, federal mediator, may bring the Masters, Mates and Pilots association representatives into a conference with shipowners.

The cooks and stewards seek shorter hours and the deck officers demand preferential hiring.

While these new peace negotiations were in progress, demands intensified for presidential intervention to settle the strike.

Mayor Joseph Carson of Portland, following the lead of Gov. Frank F. Merriam of Calif. and Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco, urged in a nationwide broadcast last night for all citizens to join in appeals to President Roosevelt.

PERRY TROUNCES VINES IN FOUR-SET STRUGGLE

BIG CROWD SEES BRITON TRIUMPH

American Ace's Poor Showing Possibly Due to Stomach Ailment

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (UP)—Frederick John Perry of England strode out upon his professional tennis career today with a sensational debut victory under his belt, the roar of a record-breaking crowd ringing in his ears and the tinkle of American dollars in his pockets.

Perry, who succumbed to the lure of gold and abandoned his No. 1 amateur standing, wrote success with a capital "S" to his 50-city barnstorming tour by upsetting the dope and trouncing California's Ellsworth Vines, world's pro champion, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, last night before an audience of 17,680 in Madison Square Garden.

Crowd Enthusiastic
It was an enthusiastic crowd from the $1.10 rafter seat holders to the orchid bedecked debutantes... The attendance figures set a record for an American tennis game, and the $58,119.50 they paid was believed a new high for any tennis exhibition on the world.

Ball Players Tough In Old Days Says Veteran

By HENRY McLEMORE DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 7 (UP)—This is the story of a man who graduated from a theological seminary, took a post graduate course behind a bar in a lumber camp saloon, and then joined the New York Giants to become the first college graduate ever to play major league baseball.

He is William MacCormick, and the Giants he played for were the Giants of 1887—a collection of gent who played the game barehanded, wore moustaches of a size eagles could roost on, and considered anyone who took a shower bath more than once a series a sissy.

STRIKES TO SPARE

FRED STONE

National Laundry took the first and second games in its match with the Times boys.
Art Woods, leadoff for the Laundry, had high total with 529. Art had a nice first game, striking out to end it with 198.

AI Pugliano got three in a row his first game; seven errors didn't help swell his total any.
"Sprouts" couldn't see or something his first game; but four strikes in a row his second game gave him high single of 212.

Bill Ford had the prize series. What prize? The booby prize.
Louie Pugliano had plenty of trouble with his spare ball, making seven errors. A double his first and third games helped a little.

Vey Gish did a little better. Little better when? You ask him. Vey was high man for the Times boys.
George Paulson got the only turkey for the Times. Gish got two doubles, but there weren't any doubles for Mullen or Parish.

City league players had a hard time getting those pins down. Must be the weather.
Jim Thompson took high single with 179 and his 460 was good for high total. Jim struck out to end his second game.

Gerrish helped out his team's total with a double. Coleman, Weaver and Deiss couldn't double 'em up.
Frantz, anchor man for the P. O., had high honors for his team; a double in both his second and third games boosted Frenchy. All us anchor men are good, according to him.
Every player on the P. O. team got at least one double.

George Schneider Breaks Par With 69 Over Rancho Course

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7 (UP)—George Schneider of Ogden, Utah, led a field of 90 qualifiers for the $8,000 Los Angeles open golf championship with a par-shattering 69 over Rancho course yesterday.

The Utah professional broke par by one stroke despite the fact he was playing over greens heavy with rain.
Qualifying rounds were held over six courses with a score of 80 or lower necessary to enter the championship bracket starting tomorrow.

Schneider's nearest rivals for medal honors were Charles Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., who posted a 72 at Baldwin Hills and Herman Allen of Los Angeles with the same score at Sunset fields.

Cotton Warburton, Once Gridiron Ace, Now Movie Cutter

Former All-America Quarterback Enjoys Work at Hollywood Screen Studio

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7 (UP)—Four years ago Irvin (Cotton) Warburton, University of Southern California's All-America quarterback, entertained thousands each Saturday with spectacular dashes on the gridiron.

Today, the tiny, tow-headed Warburton helps entertain millions—with a pair of scissors. His football pants were hung up a long time ago. He took a whirl at the professional game but didn't like it. Now he is a film cutter in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

While he worked at his job today, the "cotton top" talked about football and the movies.
"I figured I'd be a sucker," he said, "if I stuck with football. I got into the movie racket while I was going to college. That's a life work and football isn't. So I decided to put away all thoughts of the game and concentrate upon a career."

So diligent is Warburton that he didn't even go to this year's game at the Rose Bowl—and he played there once.
"Football doesn't interest me any more," he said. "Besides, going out there as a spectator wouldn't have been any fun. Too much traffic."

BUILDING PERMIT RECORDS BROKEN

Boise Aggregate Passes Two Million Mark For Year of '36

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—Shattering all former records, Boise building permits issued during 1936 crossed the two million dollar mark, records of the city building inspector show.

The 1936 figure of $2,067,095 nearly doubled the former building record of $1,283,592 made in 1927 and was eight times greater than the depression low year of 1933, when only $255,573 went into construction within the city.

Building of 263 new homes accounted for $608,831 worth of permits. Alterations of 1,129 buildings cost $458,344. Public buildings swelled the total by $417,046, cost of 22 commercial structures was $200,421 and five apartment houses were built at a cost of $70,800.

EXCEED MILLION

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 7 (UP)—For the first time in the history of Idaho Falls, building permits issued in any one year will exceed one million dollars, when final reports for 1936 are in, Lee Walker, city clerk, announced.

Starting in the spring of 1935, Idaho Falls embarked upon a building boom that carried through 1936 to a figure that will amount to $1,023,585, covering 208 permits. The low point in building was reached in 1933 when only 15 permits totalling $24,700 were issued.

Actual construction for the year is in excess of the total permits, Walker said. A postoffice addition costing $85,000, and a $100,000 city power plant addition were not included.

"Taxes Should Depend on Net Income"—Clark

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—An increase in taxes is an item of no importance if a man's net income has had a proportionate or even greater increase, Gov. Barzilla W. Clark declared Wednesday. He drew on parables to illustrate his point.

"A friend from Nampa told me a story the other day," the governor said. "A certain litter of pigs had three more mouths than there were nipples. Before long three runts developed — they were the same sort of pigs as the others, but their hoggyish instincts were not quite so well developed.

"So the owner put all the little pigs in a pen by themselves and at regular intervals he permitted the runts to get their fill first. Before long there were no runts—every little pig could hold his own."

"This machine age and the combination of wealth has deprived some of our less aggressive people of their means of living, and our government, through taxation, must give them a life," Clark contended. "I think the American people still have considerable sense and will get these things figured out."

TAX BLANKS SENT 30,000 IDAHOANS

Law Requires Filing Out Income Levy Forms By March 15

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—About 30,000 individuals and corporations received income tax return blanks this week from the state department of income tax. The forms must be filled out and returned with payments by March 15.

The state collects one and one-half per cent for the first $1,000 of income, on incomes over $2,000 annually, the tax is three per cent; $3,000, four per cent; $4,000, five per cent; $5,000, six per cent; and eight per cent for all incomes over $5,000.

Exemption of the first $700 of income is granted single persons and those married may deduct $1,500 in computing the tax. An additional exemption of $200 for each dependent is allowed.

Any taxes paid during the year, such as gasoline, sales and property taxes, may be deducted on the reports, as well as any money contributed to charities.

The state cannot collect its income tax from employes of the federal government.

ELECTRIFY

THE HARDEST DAY OF THE WEEK

Let Cheap Electricity Do the Work

- There's no need to put up with Monday's wash-day toil—nor the ruined clothes that come off the old-fashioned washboard. Load the job onto a modern electric washer and ironer.

Your clothes will be treated gently, carefully. They'll come out spotlessly clean in half the time. And, best of all, you'll be fresh after the day's work instead of being worn and tired.

Sit Down to IRON!

The new ironing machines have taken the backaches out of ironing day. You can sit down to the job that formerly made women old at forty.

Your electrical dealer will show you all the latest models in ironers and washers.

Southern Idaho Sportsmen Ask Retention of Warden In Idaho Post

Retention of Amos Eckert as state game warden has been urged by the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, S. Claud Stewart, secretary of the organization, said here today.

In a resolution, forwarded to Governor Barzilla Clark, the organization went on record as being for the present warden's retention because "due to his efficient work much has been accomplished. He has gained much information and knowledge which cannot be put on records and passed on to some successor."

The resolution also stated Idaho has invested "so much in him which would be lost should he not be retained."

Favors Commission
At the regular directors meeting of the organization held at city council chambers Tuesday evening, the local organization went on record as favoring a fish and game commission. It recommended that some legislation be passed which would form a board, said board to consist of the game warden, secretary of state and the attorney general, which would have power to regulate the opening and closing dates on all game seasons, Mr. Stewart said.

A recommendation was also passed during the meeting which requested that no change be made in the present rate of license fees.

The board of directors further approved the special game hunts as conducted during the past two years but "we disapprove of the transfer of permits" which is, at the present time, allowable. Legislation to make it unlawful to spear or snag salmon in Idaho was also urged.

Annual Meeting
The annual meeting of the organization will be held in Twin Falls Tuesday evening Jan. 12, Mr. Stewart said. At that time the election of three directors will be held. Nine directors head the organization, three retiring each year.

At the Tuesday night meeting a committee of three was appointed to arrange for the annual meeting. They include: Harry Severin, Larry Bassett and Robert Whitzel.

POTATO GROWER TO ATTEND MEET

Marshall received personal invitations from Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Bruce McDaniel of California, president of the shippers' association.

HOLL, WOOD, Jan. 7 (UP)—John Barrymore's mother-in-law, Mrs. Edna Jacobs, whom he calls "mama," today refused to become excited over the rumored separation of the professed actor and her daughter, Elaine Barrie.

Barrymore, the great lover, contacted at his studio, only granted when asked if he had anything to say.

Nevada Wants State Lottery

RENO, Nev., Jan. 7 (UP)—Nevada would like citizens of California and other states to pay its taxes, and it's really quite simple the way a strong bloc of state legislators would arrange it.

The lawmakers have been watching a few individuals grow prosperous through legalized gambling under liberal Nevada laws. They figure the state itself should go into the business. A monthly state lottery with a minimum gross of $1,000,000 would do the trick.

Estimating 90 per cent of the lottery money would come from outside Nevada, State Senator William Marsh and Assemblyman Pat Cline will seek repeal of the present ban against lotteries. They will introduce a bill in the legislature Jan. 18 to provide funds for circulating initiative petitions in a move they hope will legalize the plan by the end of 1938.

NEW STATE JOBS URGED BY CLARK

Budget Calls for Filling of Administrative Posts At Boise

BOISE, Jan. 7 (U.P.)—State government, cut to the bone during the depression, will begin to fill out again during the next two years if budget recommendations made by Governor Barzilla W. Clark survive the legislature.

While increases recommended amount to only about five per cent over the 1935-36 budget, a number of new administrative positions cut out or combined with others during the past six years, would be re-established. General fund appropriations suggested totaled $6,138,420.

Tax Commissioner
Provision for a tax commissioner was made in the budget, apparently with a view to removing tax collection activities from the department of finance.

With the depression economy drive of a few years ago, Ben Diefendorf, commissioner of finance, also took on the duties of commissioner of public investments and tax commissioner. The budget still makes no provision for a separate public investments commissioner, however.

The tax commissioner was provided for in the income tax law passed by the legislature in 1931. The position has never been filled, duties of the office having been given to Diefendorf from the start.

Secretaryship Filled
Another position, abandoned for the past four years but recreated with the Clark administration, was that of personal secretary to the governor, recently filled by appointment of Juneau Shinn.

Other changes in the governor's departments would be creation of a supervisor of inventory. Clark also approved recommendations that the duties of claims examiner be included in the budget bureau.

Duties of the purchasing agent have been combined with those of the claims examiner, without additional salary being paid. Under the revised setup, the office of purchasing agent would be renewed.

Accountant Approved
An accountant for the state board of equalization was approved, his duties presumably to prepare statistics and figures for use of the board in setting the annual ad valorem tax levy.

Requests for attorneys by the public utilities commission and highway department passed Clark's official scrutiny.

Other administrative offices proposed in the budget included an auditor for the mine license tax division, chief clerk for the motor vehicle bureau, assistant secretary to the public utilities commission.

Expansion Forecast
The state highway administration is due for a considerable expansion if legislative approval is obtained. Asked in the budget are funds for a statistical engineer, construction and maintenance engineer, materials engineer and an attorney. Total highway salary requests for the two years were $105,000, compared with $162,003 in 1935-36.

Clark, Masters Clash at Session

BOISE, Jan. 7 (U.P.)—A clash between Secretary of State Ira H. Masters and Governor Barzilla W. Clark Wednesday marked the first meeting of the state pardon board with its new personnel.

Clark suggested that Bardo Bodely, 18, Franklin county, be released immediately but Masters thought Feb. 1 would be soon enough.

The governor became irked when Masters desired to further consult records of the case, urging him to make up his mind.

"I didn't know we had a one man pardon board," Masters retorted. "I have the right to vote as I choose, and I choose to vote for Feb. 1." The governor acquiesced. The board denied four pardons and granted four.

Solons Voice Criticism Of Governor's Program

Legislators Agree Executive Presented Views Straight from Shoulder; Straddled No Issues

BOISE, Jan. 7 (U.P.)—Members of the Idaho legislature predicted "rough sledding" ahead for Governor Barzilla W. Clark on three points of his legislative program, set forth in his opening message to a joint session Tuesday.

Proposals to permit private sale of liquor and favoring some forms of gambling jarred many of the more conservative lawmakers.

The governor's statement favoring "some form of transaction tax" brought criticisms from legislators representing counties who voted down the recent state two per cent sales tax, and others who are convinced no new taxes are necessary.

Straight From Shoulder
All admitted, however, that Clark had presented his views straight from the shoulder, straddling no issues and leaving no arguments over his meaning.

Governor Clark was brought to the joint session at noon by a committee headed by Sen. J. B. Newport, Canyon county. Introduced to the assembly he started rattling off, without formality, lapsing from the prepared text only to rephrase an idea in more picturesque style.

Hundreds of spectators crowded the floor and gallery of the house of the Idaho legislature predicted the first formal speech of his term in office.

Immediately after the message had been delivered, the houses reconvened separately for a few minutes, then recessed to spend the remainder of the day working out committee assignments.

Some dissatisfaction was heard among the members at lack of any discussion of educational questions such as proposed increased taxes for school equalization purposes and four-year university at Pocatello.

Summing up criticism of the message among members of the governor's own party, one senator remarked, "I try to be regular but it's hard when Clark begins talking about liberal liquor and gambling laws and resurrection of the sales tax."

Little business of importance was transacted in either house. Both appointed printing committees and completed selections of the senate approved a resolution hoping for speedy recovery of Sen. T. Dan Conner, who is confined to his home in Twin Falls because of illness.

"Racketeer Guide" Lists Frauds Attempted Here
Petty racketeers who multy-sell coupons to consumers, and Twin Falls out of thousands of dollars yearly are held up to the Directory of Petty Rackets issued today by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Twenty-one misleading schemes most frequently used are analyzed in the mimeographed booklet and those "are only a few of the most widely attempted frauds," Secretary F. G. Thompson said this afternoon.

Always Check Up
The broadside on "legitimate and costly promotion, sales and advertising schemes" was sent to chamber members. It states its primary aim as seeking to induce legitimate business to "quit supporting its illegitimate competitors." Residents of the city were advised to call the chamber whenever any of the frauds are attempted and to deal only with endorsed solicitors bearing a C. or C. blue card.

Magazine Solicitors call constantly. Some of these are "sheet writers." They collect the money, issue a receipt but never turn in the subscriptions.

Unordered Merchandise is sent you. The best thing to do is not to acknowledge receipt. If you wish, you may send the goods to the Chamber of Commerce for storage. There is no responsibility unless you make use of articles so sent.

Maekintoshes, Raincoats, Etc., are specially offered to prominent citizens. Very frequently the next letter comes out to hundreds of your friends in the city, giving your name as a patron of the company. Even if you received good merchandise with your order, the worst sort of goods may be sent to those who buy on account of your name.

House-to-House Peddlers, particularly in times of unemployment, are prevalent. In most instances, much better value in goods can be secured from local merchants.

Free Books and Special Bargains, including sets of reference books, histories, or other publications, are offered on account of the prominence of your name. Sometimes, the joker is in paying for the binding, other times in the contract for revisions and follow-up sheets; other times, your name is used and the books not even sent.

Charity Appeals, through which urged to buy books or other commodities because the benefits are going to charitable institutions. Registers, Trade Directories, Etc., are frequently real "rackets." Some of these schemes go so far as to secure orders for large amounts of advertising when the unsuspecting customer thinks he is simply filling out a questionnaire.

Time Books, Year Books, Radio Logs, Directories are pushed by some 60 organizations with representatives traveling the country, securing advertising for such publications. The actual advertising value is usually entirely out of proportion to the cost, and many are gross misrepresentations.

Lawyers, Doctors, Professional Men and Sheriff's and Police Officers' Publications are handled frequently by promoters who assume the business of getting out such magazines without any authority.

The Charity Bandit is a name that will apply to a great number of people who travel the country securing the sponsorship of local organizations for cook books, programs, year books, menu covers, church song books, etc.

Employment for Home Work gets many easy dollars. Telephone Selling has become an organized scheme. Front load experience during the past two years it seems a good rule not to buy tickets, advertising, or other goods over the telephone, particularly from strangers and promoters.

Time Clock and Bulletin Board space is sold on the claim that this is advertising.

Trading Books and Coupons permit many promoters to get their both ways, on trade discounts and prizes, charging the merchant to handle the contract, frequently
