

F. D. R. PREDICTS BUDGET BALANCE

Recommends Continuance of Nuisance and Excise Levies

He reported there would be a surplus of $1,135,607.043. But that probably will be consumed in recovery and relief appropriations to be requested later.

Mr. Roosevelt did not propose new taxes but he opposed reduction of any kind. He recommended:

1. Making the civilian conservation corps permanent.
2. Continuance of three-cent first class postage.
3. Continuance of so-called nuisance or manufacturer's excise taxes (gasoline, lubricating oil, brewer's wort, matches, automobiles, etc.) Total revenue $432,580,000.
4. Maintenance of current rates on taxes which otherwise would be reduced next June (stamp taxes on bonds, stock transfers, future delivery produce sales and admissions).
5. Subjecting to budget bureau supervision expenditures of all emergency agencies continued in the next fiscal year.

Technical Gross Deficit

Withholding precise estimates of 1938 fiscal year recovery and relief needs from congress and the public, Mr. Roosevelt expressed the hope they would not exceed $1,853,154,000. Recovery and relief will cost $2,816,157,100 in the current fiscal year. He said if business continued to improve, if revenues met expectations, and if recovery and relief needs remained within the figure mentioned, there would be no net deficit in the 1938 fiscal year but merely a technical deficit of approximately $401,815,000 representing the sum of statutory debt retirement.

The budget message reported greatly improved business.

Forecast Big Revenue

If forecast record breaking government revenue of $7,293,607,107 in the next fiscal year, and reduced federal expenditures compared with the current period. This budget launched the nation on a battleship building program and asked for $20,000,000 to begin building two of these war vessels, the first such to be projected since the 1927 Washington arms conference. They will cost $50,000,000 each. The budget raises space time national defense estimated for purely military purposes to a new high, $89,763,000, of which the navy will get almost $60,000,000.

Subject to Conditions

The President considers this 1938 budget to be balanced in the non-technical sense of the term, subject to the conditions he imposed upon business continued recovery and congress. Technical balance would require additional reduction of the public debt. This he projects for the fiscal year 1939.

The budget message revealed Mr. Roosevelt planned sharply to curtail relief expenditures from the 1936-37 levels. But he found available funds insufficient for the remainder of the current 1937 fiscal year and asked congress to appropriate $700,000,000 immediately, of which $650,000,000 is to be expended for recovery and relief between Feb. 1 and June 20 when the 1937 fiscal year ends. The aggregate of additional or deficiency appropriations for which need developed since the adjournment of congress last June and for which Mr. Roosevelt asked immediate appropriation is approximately $91,000,000 of which part is destined for the civilian conservation corps.

Marked Improvement

"Business conditions have shown each year since 1913," the message said, "a marked improvement over the preceding year."

"The gains make it possible to reduce for the fiscal year 1938 many expenditures of the federal government which the general depression made necessary. Although we must continue to spend substantial sums to provide work for those whom industry has not yet absorbed, the 1938 budget is in balance, and, except for debt reduction of $401,515,000, it will remain in balance even if later on there are included additional expenditures of as much as $1,537,123,000 for recovery and relief."

SAVINGS & LOAN DIVIDEND READY

A five per cent dividend for the past year was ready today for stockholders. In the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Twin Falls, officers announced.

Does Not Believe in Long-Term Agreements With Lumber Companies

BOISE, Jan. 8 (UP)—Governor Barzilla Clark today attacked the practice of making long-term foresting contracts with lumber companies, reducing the assessed valuation of cutover and burned-over land to $1 an acre for 50 years.

The state cooperative board of forestry yesterday made such an agreement with the Boise-Payette Lumber Co. involving 27,000 acres of land in Valley county.

"It is a serious question in my mind whether state officials have a right to bind the state to contracts beyond their terms of office, particularly in the matter of tax valuations," Clark said.

The procedure is authorized by statute, with the companies required to pay an additional 12 1/2 per cent yield tax on any timber the board permits them to cut during the 50-year reforestation period, W. E. Talbot, state land commissioner, explained.

WEATHER CAUSES CANCELLED MEET

Postponement until next week of the annual Mid-Year Methodist Young People's Institute scheduled to be held this week-end in Twin Falls was announced today by Dr. R. S. Rees, local pastor. The sessions to be slated for this evening, tomorrow and Sunday were cancelled on account of the weather.

It was expected that 150 young people of high school age coming from towns between Rupert and Buhl on the South Side would attend the opening banquet of the institute this evening.

Last year the sessions were held in Rupert.

CLUES FAIL IN MATTSON CASE

Tadoma People Excited As 'G' Men Make Hurried Night Trip

kidnaping case was expected momentarily today.

For the first time since the 30-year-old son of a well-to-do Tacoma physician and surgeon was kidnapped 12 days ago, federal agents became openly active in the case.

In four automobiles, a posse of G-men sped to an unknown destination, and three hours later had not returned.

One report was that the squad headed for Aberdeen or some other Grays harbor point. Aberdeen is about 70 miles southwest of Tacoma.

City Excited

The city was excited, hoping the federal men had received a tip, and were going out to recover the boy, and surround the kidnaper or observe the payment of the $28,000 ransom.

A federal agent rode in an elevator at the Rust building, downtown office headquarters of the FBI, and prevented the operator from letting passengers off on the seventh floor, where the government men are working.

The G-men were only partly dressed as they rushed from their hotel, a city patrolman reported to headquarters. He said the investigators scarcely stopped to put on coats despite the freezing weather.

Here's Chance To Hear 5,000 Hogs Grunting

Something like 5,000 hogs all at once—that's the sight that will greet curious spectators who brave below-zero temperatures to visit the Twin Falls stockyards Saturday.

The hogs' approximately 4,640 of them all grunting at once will reach here Saturday morning from four eastern Idaho points, and will be re-shipped from here to San Francisco packer-buyers Saturday night on a special stock train. They'll arrive in 58 decks, counting 80 to a deck.

The east Idaho pooled shipments are being handled through B. C. Van Ausden, who arranged 40 decks, and Tom Parks, who lined up 18.

Thirteen additional decks from other areas, including Wendell, will mean an additional 1,040 hogs going through for a third packer-buyer.

CHAMBER URGES FDR COAST MOVE

C. of C. Asks Roosevelt To Intervene to End Costly Maritime Strike

Twin Falls today joined the coastwise appeal for intervention of President Roosevelt in the costly maritime strike when the Chamber of Commerce dispatched a telegram urging the chief executive to take action toward ending the tie-up.

The appeal to the President followed receipt of a telegram today from George L. Baker, representing the coast public in cooperation with Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco and Mayor Carson of Portland, Ore.

Baker's wire urged the Twin Falls group "to cooperate in coastwise move for settlement of the maritime strike by immediately sending telegram to President Roosevelt setting forth damages in your territory, and urging him to intervene."

Repercussions of the coast strike as felt in this area, Secretary F. G. Thompson said this afternoon, include adverse effect on farm commodity shipments intended for export. He quoted the low price on turkeys from south central Idaho as being partly caused by blockade of shipments to Hawaii and other U. S. insular possessions.

THEATERS

Orpheum Presents "Jungle Princess" AT IDAHO

There are two reasons for not wanting to miss the current program at the Orpheum theater, "Jungle Princess," the first and special cartoon feature, "Popeye The Sailor Meets Sinbad The Sailor," the second.

The love of a jungle-born maiden for a white man, the first she had ever seen, is the background of "The Jungle Princess." It is a fast-moving and beautiful production.

"Popeye The Sailor Meets Sinbad The Sailor," is the longest animated cartoon ever made and presents for the first time, Popeye in color, and as well, in Max Fleischer's new process of "Cartoon depth photography."

"Code of the Range" Roxy's Attraction

"Code of the Range" with hard-riding Charles Starrett in the stellar role of a fighter young rancher, comes to the Roxy theater today and Saturday.

With pretty Mary Blake, a newcomer to the screen, as his leading woman and love interest, Starrett portrays the part of a cattleman who is not too narrow-minded to see a sheepman's viewpoint as well as that of his fellow ranchers.

A comedy cartoon, a new chapter of "Tarzan" and news events complete the Roxy program.

"Times Square Lady" opens today at the Idaho theater for a two day engagement. The picture is based on George M. Cohan's stage success. The program includes "The Vigilantes No. 9" cartoon and news. Coming Sunday for three days, "Accusing Finger" with Marsha Hunt, Kent Taylor, Robert Cummings and Paul Kelly.

CHAMBER OKES MEMBER DRIVE

Directors Approve Campaign To Raise $35,000 Budget For Varied Aims

The membership program on a weekly basis represents a new system of fund-raising here, the directors were informed. The method has been successfully used in communities of smaller population than Twin Falls, its advocates stressed.

Cost Reduced

The cost of membership under the proposal will be only little more than one-half the present fee to permit wide membership among Twin Falls residents.

The directors discussed suggestions for window displays by local stores, stressing the objectives of the chamber's budget.

Purchase of a fat lamb—probably the champion or reserve champion—at the Ogden livestock show was endorsed by the board. The move was proposed as a gesture of city recognition to the important sheep-raising industry of this section, and the lamb will be served at a chamber banquet.

MUSSOLINI MAY QUIT COMMITTEE

ROME, Jan. 8 (UP)—It was understood today that Premier Benito Mussolini is seriously considering quitting the international non-intervention committee and doubling Italy's assistance to Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel chief, if the other powers do not act on his proposals to prohibit all direct and indirect aid to the Spanish factions.

Mussolini, it was said, feels that the question of shutting off volunteers is only one aspect of the non-intervention problem, and unless all forms of intervention are banned, Italy does not intend to cease dispatching recruits to Spain.

PADDED MILEAGE REPORTS ARGUED

BOISE, Jan. 8 (UP)—Charges of "padded" mileage reports were the center of discussion in the Idaho house of representatives today.

With committees not yet announced by either house, the legislature had not yet settled down to serious legislative business. The house adjourned early while the senate, after a 15-minute session recessed until late afternoon.

When the report of the mileage committee came before the house for consideration, J. A. Handy, Minidoka, objected to mileage figures based on "horse and buggy" routes. He said he favored an increase in salaries of members to $10 per diem, but did not believe they should attempt to gain the increase by padding their mileage reports.

"It has always been my belief that Idaho is about 500 miles long and that Boise is about in the center," observed Fred N. Harrington of Canyon. "I notice that one member reports 1,206 miles. Perhaps all the roads were cut in Idaho and he had to come by way of Arizona. I believe that next time I attend one of these sessions, I'll come by way of Portland."

Two Wives Seek Divorce Decrees

Two divorce suits had been filed today in district court by Twin Falls wives.

Mrs. Opal Reed filed suit against Hubert Reed in one of the actions. No children or property are involved. The pair wed March 4, 1933, in California, and Mrs. Reed charges cruel and inhuman treatment. She requests restoration of her maiden name, Opal Klem. Her attorney is O. C. Hall.

Suit was also filed by Mrs. Clara Schiffman against William C. Schiffman. Two children, 18 and 16, were named in the action. The petition charges cruel and inhuman treatment, and non-support, and asks retention of a motor car and household goods as assertedly earned by the plaintiff.

Chinese Will Hear Inaugural Address

SHANGHAI, Jan. 8 (UP)—President Roosevelt's inaugural address on Jan. 20 at Washington will be heard in Shanghai through a special short wave broadcast, it was announced today. It will be the first time in history that an American President's voice in an inaugural has been heard in the Orient.

TROOPS LANDING REPORTED GIBRALTAR, Jan. 8 (UP)—A report from Cadiz, Spain, today said a contingent of 3,600 Italian troops had landed there and immediately entrained for Seville.

EX-FILM STAR FREED LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8 (UP)—Junitta Hansen, former queen of the silent films, was freed today of a parrotic charge filed against her Christmas eve. The charge was dismissed.

WORK STARTS ON GOODING SCHOOL

Construction Workers Removed From Local Employment Office Rolls

First men assigned for work on the PWA project at Gooding, calling for construction of an addition to the junior high school, were being selected today from registration rolls maintained at the local offices of the United States employment service, according to Ray Butler, manager.

According to Mr. Butler the job calls for an expenditure of $81,600 and an estimated number of 50 to 60 men will find employment. The contract was awarded to A. Richie and company of Baker, Ore.

Construction of a two-story classroom addition to the Rupert high school is expected to get under way early, Mr. Butler said. The contract for this construction was awarded to W. H. Kloefer of Rupert under WPA terms.

Projects consisting of an addition to the Jerome high school and a new school building at Wendell, were started recently, Mr. Butler said. The Jerome addition calls for an expenditure of $62,028 while the new school at Wendell calls for $27,273. Approximately 80 men are employed at the present time. Jerome construction went to the J. J. McNeil company of Caldwell, while the J. B. Curtis company of Cascade, Idaho, bid low on the Wendell project.

At the present time there is only one PWA project underway in Twin Falls county, Mr. Butler said. This is a Kimberly water work project. At the present time a tentative project for a school building at Murtough is being considered. If this is started Twin Falls men will be given preference for the jobs.

Over 5,000 names are carried on the rolls here, Mr. Butler points out. When a PWA construction job gets underway men registered from the county in which the construction is located are given preference.

SPAIN FAILS TO ANSWER ORDER

Nazi Government to Dispose of Captured Loyalists Ships

Palos was contemplated. But they added that any additional molestation of German shipping by loyalists would bring immediate reaction.

Officials waited until the moment for expiration of the ultimatum, in event that the loyalist government might reply. Half an hour afterwards, when no reply had come, a spokesman said:

"It looks as if Valencia (the loyalist capital) is not answering at all."

"I guess that settles that."

DRAMA TRYOUTS UNDER NEW PLAN

Students Seeking Junior Play Roles Will Participate In Preliminary Tests

A new system of tryouts for school plays will be inaugurated this evening at the high school when students will try out for the junior play "New Faces" to be presented the middle of February.

Miss Florence Hooton, principal, thinks that the new system is fairer to the student because the pupil is familiar with the material. Those trying out will give three speeches from the play or reading. Miss Hooton will choose them on voice, ability, temperament, adaptability, and other various other criteria.

Will File Facts

The information secured by the new system will be filed. Miss Hooton states. Those passing the preliminary tests with their names will be asked to present their plays next week. The new system will not eliminate the usual cast system. It will be used so popular with the pupils. "New Faces" is a play written by Charles Quenby. It was recommended by a local drama critic and was the award for new plays in 1936.

A-Drift in Ocean of Snow

The picture like water and more of it soon bank on a big time here. It's a typical scene in Badger Pass, Yosemite national park, in middle eastern California. The shelter buried in snow is the hide house for those who insist on climbing out of warm valleys to follow their favorite sport. One of California's beauty spots, this is no place for a person who hates a little snow over the shoulders.

Your Baby's Health

Every mother who has a baby knows that it is a job to keep the child healthy. The best way to do this is to give the child a good diet and to keep the child clean.

It is important to give the child a good diet. This means giving the child a variety of foods, including fruits, vegetables, and grains.

Noxious Weed Project Shows County Success

Dr. John B. Nilsson, of Omaha, has been appointed as chief surgeon of the Union Pacific railroad company, with jurisdiction over the hospital and medical departments of the entire road, according to an announcement by W. M. Jeter, executive vice president. Since 1934 Dr. Nilsson has been chief surgeon of the western unit of the Union Pacific.

"Extremely favorable" results in the county in addition to the climaxed Twin Falls county WPA project included 50 acres battle on noxious weeds during the treated with carbon bisulphide and WPA campaign recently completed. J. P. Hunt, director of the WPA, reported that 90 per cent of Twin county's noxious weeds, 2,800 farms are now free of noxious weeds.

Mr. Hunt's report will be submitted to the WPA weed control project at Boise. Total cost of the project in this county is estimated in either large or small areas.

Cost Farmers $30,714.12
Cost to the farmers was $30,714.12

The project reached an area of 122 acres on 412 Twin Falls county farms. Mr. Hunt informed WPA headquarters. Three types of attack were employed in eradicating the weed pests: carbon bisulphide, sodium chlorate and sodium cyanide.

Most effective of the three Mr. Hunt said, is the treatment with carbon bisulphide which produces a prodigious average of 50 per cent eradication and prevents almost continuous farm attack. Average cost per acre for the treatment for carbon bisulphide was $26.11, for sodium chlorate, $30.25, and for cyanide, $34.11.

Cost per pound to the farmer for the bisulphide was 44 cents, for sodium chlorate, 54 cents, and for cyanide, 64 cents.

EVERY WOMAN

FACES THIS QUESTION

How do I look to other people? So many women risk their beauty by neglect of complexion. It often causes loss of hair, dull skin, dull eyes, poor complexion.

Yet common constipation can be ended so easily. Just eat two tablets daily of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk or fruit every day, three times daily in large meals. This delicious ready-to-eat cereal supplies the "bulk" needed to exercise the system and vitamin B to help tone up the intestinal tract.

Within this body, All-Bran absorbs more than twice its weight in water, gently sponging out the intestines. It never causes the artificial action of pills and drugs, that often prove ineffective.

Kellogg's All-Bran, you see, is a food—not a medicine. It relieves common constipation the way Nature intended—so its results are safe. Buy it at your grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The Gentleman in the Third Row

A NOBLE HERO.

The man who ought to get a medal is that noble, sterling hero who doesn't talk about the cold when weather goes sub-zero.

—Katharina Y.

MAYBE SHE WILL BEHAVE NEXT TIME!

Pot Shots:

This is the case of Jim Trolinger and the young lady who almost got caught using a slug for a nickel.

The gal was playing one of these marble machine amusements and had just inserted a slug instead of the five cent piece. Jim, the proprietor, wandered over in friendly spirit to talk. And the gal had to keep her hand over the coin slot, so he wouldn't catch sight of that slug already inserted. They talked right on to five minutes and Jim walked off. A helpful gent swiftly pushed a nickel into the machine to get that slug out of sight and the gal breathed a sigh of relief.

EDUCATING OUR READERS!

Pot Shooter:

While I admit all your readers are very intelligent people and are on a very high level, indeed, yet must admit to southern Idahoans are stuck off her in the sagebrush where we don't get too much contact with Art (capital A, please).

So in the interests of Art (capital A, please), I have conducted a very intense study of Surrealism, the latest craze. This will put Idaho right up to the minute when somebody wants to discuss Surrealism. Although why you should discuss it is more than I can say.

The idea of Surrealism is to avoid all resemblance to anything conventional. If the thing you assemble has ever been done that way before, it just isn't Surrealist. A Surrealist, for instance, will paint a picture of a two-headed cow, a skyscraper and a woman's leg. The picture is called "Departure is Soothing." Or, a merchant, if he wanted Surrealism in a Main Avenue window display, would show a cup and saucer, a set of deer's antlers and forks lying on the floor. This would advertise dining room sets. Such is Art (capital A, please).

—Theophilus Squirt

ANOTHER BAD THING about this super-de luxe cold wave, says our Pot Shots staff artist, is the fact that widely goes to a bridge party and finds, at 2 a. m., the weather's too cold for her to come all the way home. So she stops overnight with somebody near the scene of the party and hubby has to be chief cook and bottle washer next morning or the kids would never get off to school. Like this happens gent.

Say Mister:

There's been a serious error in one of the things you were taught in school. As a result you have probably feared the jungle intensely.

It seems that some bright fellow has now proved conclusively that ban constrictors do NOT crush their victims' bones. All they do is kill them by squeezing the breath out of 'em.

So now you aren't afraid of ban constrictors any more.

OH, HE MAKES 'CUNNING' AND 'CUTE' NOISES!

Dear Pot Shots:

I read a book. Yeh, I can read something besides this sappy Pot Shots column.

And in the book it says that the greatest living noise producers are the lion, bull, elk, sea lion, wolf and elephant.

Pot Shots, the author of that book never heard little Angie, my sister's one-year-old little darling who stays at our domicile.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

... Oh, for some good old red flannel!

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

THE WAR-MAKING TYPE

The big munitions manufacturers and the industrialists who would stand to benefit by conflict between nations — even their native land — are usually branded as war-makers.

But equally culpable are such as Robert Chase and other exporters in a smaller way who seek loopholes in our American neutrality legislation and ship aircraft and other war goods to embattled nations. In this instance the nation is Spain.

Cuse's activities were the final spark behind President Roosevelt's demand for swift enactment of tightened neutrality laws in his message to the new congress. The nation's legislators answered speedily, and the revised statute will probably become law today.

But the exporter, although knowing well that his money-making plan and similar activities were the target at which his nation was aiming a broadside of prohibition for the sake of peace, speeded up the shipment and beat the law.

It is such commercial goings-on that lead to war involvements. These, along with presence of Americans in war zones even when ordered out by warnings from home, culminate too easily in "insults" to American honor. Those "insults" inflame American public opinion. And then you have the pressure that makes war possible.

War-makers should be squelched with very definite thoroughness.

The Americano always was a hopeful cuss. He still is, even after taking the awful beating that the new-economier boys in Wall street wished on him back in 1929.

Fortune magazine set out recently to find out just how much hope he has left. It undertook one of those cross-section surveys, presenting to a wide range of people the question whether it still is possible for any young man with thrift, ability and ambition to go up in the world, own his own home and enjoy an income of at least $5,000 a year.

The answers it got are interesting.

An unhesitating "yes" came from 39.6 per cent of the people questioned. Eighteen per cent said, "Yes, if he's lucky." Thirty-four per cent believed that the right answer is "No." And about eight per cent frankly said they didn't know.

A nation which feels like that is a long way from being disheartened.

What it amounts to is that just about one-third of the populace believes opportunity is dead. Everyone else — barring a few who can't make up their minds — feel that a bright young fellow who gets a reasonable share of the breaks can climb to comfort and success.

Despite a long and difficult haul, we're still a hopeful nation.

CHECK UP ON THE DRIVER

Not many months ago three men were entrapped in a Nova Scotia gold mine. For days thereafter, while drag-crimen labored heroically to save them, their plight gripped the attention of a continent, and millions of people eagerly scanned headlines, hoping fervently that the victims would be rescued.

And yet if anything comparable to this amount of interest had been focused on another problem during the last 10 years, it is more than probable that 24,000 men and women, now in their graves, would be enjoying life in the bosoms of their families.

According to the National Safety council, this many lives would have been saved, and nearly a million injuries prevented, had the national trend in motor vehicle accidents kept pace during the last decade with the reductions achieved in states having standard drivers' license laws.

That the lives of citizens will continue to be sacrificed needlessly on the altar of public apathy, definite campaigns are now being waged in at least 18 states for passage of standard drivers' license laws, or bringing of existing laws up to standard.

This year legislatures are meeting in 43 states, at least 23 of which have no drivers' license laws, or at best, have sub-standard measures.

Every state should have such legislation. And if necessary, the laws should be made more drastic to curb a disastrous toll that grows more costly each year.

WALK WITH CARE

A conference of experts called recently in a middle western city to discuss ways and means of reducing the auto traffic toll agreed that the motorist generally gets too much and the pedestrian too little, of the blame for this toll.

Pedestrians do odd things, the experts pointed out. They cross streets against the traffic lights, they step blithely out from behind parked cars, they jaywalk in the middle of blocks, they step off the curb to the street beneath umbrellas that shroud their vision. The wonder is that more of them are not killed.

Any traffic campaign must of course stress proper care by pedestrians. But it all seems to add up to just one more reason why the motorist should exercise additional watchfulness.

After all, when a car and a pedestrian collide, it is the pedestrian, not the car, who gets banged up.

The HOLIDAY MYSTERY

By IDA R. GLEASON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The galaxy of the Christmas party at "Thunder Mesa," the de Forest hacienda in New Mexico, has a tragic ending when PEARL Pierre, youngest of three brothers, is found dead with a knife in his throat.

Each of the de Forest brothers has the first name "Pearl." As a family they cling to traditions, seldom are outsiders. PEARL Pierre is the youngest brother. PEARL Pierre next, Oliver of the home are: TANTE JOSEPHINE, old and an invalid; BETTY WELCH, her young companion; RAMON VASQUEZ, and ANTOINETTE ABEYTA, guests of the party; PROFESSOR SHAW, archaeologist; and BOB GRAHAM, the man whose car is repaired.

The body of Pearl Pierre, placed in the house chapel, disappears. A hysterical outburst, accuse each of the remaining brothers of Pearl Pierre's murder.

Professor Shaw tells Ramon that "Thunder Mesa" is built on the foundation of an ancient Indian pueblo. Ramon and Angeliqwe see Pearl Pierre looking about the chambers of the buried Christmas Eve. Later they investigate the chambers, discover that the body of Pearl Pierre has been buried in the hacienda.

Back at the hacienda Tante Josephine goes into another hysterical outburst.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

LUNCH was a silent and dismal affair, with the hysterical cries of Tante Josephine still echoing through the house, though now to a lessening degree. Pearl Pierre appeared in time to take his place at the head of the table, as usual. Oddly enough, he seemed in no way disturbed by anything that had happened.

Ramon noticed that Angeliqwe managed to wait for Pearl Pierre as they walked out of the room, and he heard her trying to persuade the older de Forest to play a game of billiards with her.

"It's so good for you to relax for a few minutes after meals, Mr. de Forest," she coaxed with her flashing smile.

FOR a moment he hesitated, then, with a smile, he followed her to the billiard room and was soon engaged in a close battle with the ivory balls, for Angeliqwe could play at games as well as she could play at love.

"Looks like she'd set her cap for the head of the family, doesn't it?" Bob remarked to Betty when they met in the library. "Wonder what she's got up her sleeve! I supposed Ramon was high man with her."

"He is," Betty answered positively. "Angeliqwe's after something. Maybe she'll find out if anyone is coming from the city."

"Here's hoping," Bob replied with a shrug. "A few more days up here and I won't have a job left."

"And rather not have any job than one I can't let loose of, up here on this mesa," Betty told him soberly. "That attack of hysterics which Tante Josephine staged just now was the real thing, though I can't imagine what could have upset her so terribly. I can't believe it was really the smell of smoke. Something else must have happened while I was out of the room. She's weak and worn out from her fright or rage."

MEANWHILE, in the billiard room, the game had ended and Angeliqwe was listening, wide-eyed, to Pearl Pierre's description of a blooded saddle horse he was thinking of buying.

"You ride about the mesa and down on the plains a lot, I suppose," she said, resting her arm gracefully on the edge of the table so that he might see the full beauty of its rounded softness. "I love to ride, too. My father was Spanish, you know, so we always had a great many horses. It's awfully romantic living up here the way you do in this old hacienda," she went on. "Don't you find it so?"

"Not exactly," he answered slowly. "We have to live here. It's our home, of course, but our family isn't exactly romantic and we seldom have outside guests."

"And that's a great pity," she smiled at him with her lips and eyes and laid a small white hand on his knee. "Because you see, you're so awfully nice to people when they do come."

"Do you think so?" He asked the question almost wistfully, then shrugged.

"You don't appreciate yourself, Pearl Pierre," she told him gaily. "You live up here so much alone, you actually think yourself into being dull and lonely."

"I shouldn't be so if we had more guests like you," he answered, and for a minute the girl had the grace to feel sorry for this morose man with his thin-lipped, melancholy face.

"Well, you've got me now," she countered, then quickly changed the subject. "And the professor was telling me there really is an old pueblo underneath this very house."

The professor cracked about such things," answered Pearl Pierre contemptuously. "I rather think he led your imagination astray when he pictured any such fantastic arrangement. The facts are that my ancestor, who built this house, used for the foundation the remains of an old pueblo. We have our cellar floored over with cement just as other people do and you'd find it filled with the usual assortment of barrels and boxes of provisions, like other cellars. Perhaps we have a few more, that is all, but when we're held up here on the mesa by storms, as we are now, we have to be sure there is enough to eat."

"You refuse to be romantic then, even about your fascinating house," Angeliqwe jumped to her feet and held out her hand. "Well, thanks a lot for sparing me all this time, Pearl Pierre. You don't mind my calling you that, do you?"

"I want you to, Angeliqwe," he replied, holding her fingers suddenly very tight. "You're the most beautiful, most human thing that has come to brighten Thunder Mesa for many moons. I'm glad the storm did prevent your going away and leaving us to our gloom again."

AS he made this gallant speech for a moment they both forgot that other ominous reason why they were all there in the house and could not leave.

The rest of the day passed without anyone coming along the trail, and, after a tiresome evening, goodnights were said. Bob managed to have a few words with Betty just before she left, and in the shadow of the hall, he said earnestly, "Don't forget I'm ready to help you if you need it. I hate to think of you shut up alone with that old lady."

"Thanks, but you needn't worry," she answered. "I'll be all right." She smiled at him over her shoulder as she walked away. But in spite of her assurance, he did not retire. Instead he sat writing, though he did not know why.

Then soft footsteps came down the corridor, and he sprang up and opened the door carefully. What he saw made him gasp. Pearl Pierre was holding Angeliqwe in his arms.

After a minute Angeliqwe went into her room and de Forest walked rapidly down the hall, quite unconscious that Angeliqwe's door had not stayed closed. She was following him stealthily. Bob watched as she slipped behind a column and waited until Pearl Pierre had unlocked a door and disappeared. It was the door with the lion's head knocker. Why was Angeliqwe so interested, and what lay behind that closed door?

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO—

Jan. 8, 1922

As a result of the numerous petitions under the present highway law for the creation of new districts it is possible that the Twin Falls highway district will have been created by Charles D. Thomas for the creation of what is to be known as the Blue Lakes highway district to include all the land between the Piler and Kimberly districts and the Snake river and the High Line canal.

It is contended by Mr. Thomas in support of his plan that under present conditions after the withdrawal of Kimberly and Murtaugh, Twin Falls will be left with the job of taking care of all the vast stretch of territory between the High Line canal and the Nevada line and between Owyhee and Cassia counties.

27 YEARS AGO—

Jan. 8, 1910

W. A. Stevens, a mining engineer and operator of San Francisco, is in the city from Jarbidge, the new gold camp in the Sager basin state.

This camp came into prominence last August when a rich strike was made at the Bourne mine. Since then many other rich places have been opened up. The early snow and the extreme ruggedness of the country has discouraged many prospectors making the trip.

Mr. Stevens has taken up a number of claims in the district and is here making arrangements for supplies to be shipped to the property.

Danger of War Less Acute Experts Think

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—The menace of a general European war continues, but many diplomats and statesmen abroad believe the danger is less acute than it was a year ago, Hugh Bullie, President of the United Press, told the New York state chamber of commerce in an address Thursday.

"The history of the last 18 months has shown us that wars do not so lightly enter into the major nations as they were prior to 1914," said Bullie, who has just returned from London.

"It takes more to start a big war now than it did 22 years ago. That is why we have been able to go through a year and a half of small wars and threatened big wars without the major catastrophe of a general European conflict actually being set off."

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

There is a great difference between housekeeping and home-making. The instant we step inside the door of a strange house, an impression greets us. Without any curiosity at all on the subject of our hostess's personality, we find ourselves subconsciously forming an opinion.

Either it is homely and gives you a feeling of wanting to camp out in that cheerful living room indefinitely, or the very opposite occurs. We either warm to our surroundings or suddenly feel strained and stiff. Of course the manner of the lady herself has something to do with this. But when one thinks of this, the woman and her house are almost identical, so it is not so strange, in spite of a dozen decorative, the essence of personality is always there.

I believe that families react to surroundings more than we think. The children living in a gloomy or stuffy correct home, where things are to look at rather than to be used and enjoyed, will want to get out as often as possible where they can relax. Moreover, in time, they will be colored by the house they live in, just as an insect or animal adopts the hues of environment.

Homeliness Isn't Goodness

It happens that good taste and starchiness never were on speaking terms with one another. So the mother who feels that she is sacrificing taste when she concedes a point to hominess may comfort herself. Naturally, she wants a great degree, but order and coziness are the best of friends.

Sometimes it happens that the lady of the manor senses something wrong with her rooms. She knows that they need changing, but is at a loss to put her finger on the trouble.

She might look at her walls, first of all. Light walls are best. With color, or merely buff or gray, as she likes. But patterns in the paper should not be too ostentatious. Keep the figures small, especially for bedrooms. Plain walls permit figured rugs and cretonne or chintz covers. Figured walls do better with the plainer furnishings.

Sunlight Adds Cheer

Let in sunlight. Dark draperies are very oppressive. Books are like people in a room. One cannot be completely gloomy, ever, with friendly books and magazines near.

Go moderate if you like. If correctly chosen and placed, modern furnishings can be as gay and welcoming as a June day. But people turning to it, to free themselves from clutter to old-fashioned whatnots, often go to extremes and make the place a barracks. A wrong idea, of course. However, it does not matter whether the house is filled with left-overs from two generations and a motley mixture of everything, or done up in the latest styles; either can glow or be sad, according to that bright something of their owner, who puts home-making before house-keeping and finds her family wanting to come in, and stay in.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

TRANSITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The President's annual message is said to have been prepared with some difficulty this year. Underneath it is a change in the controlling influence of economic conditions. The New Deal is at the climax of a transition period.

What has been done so far can accurately be charted by a line ascending like one side of a mountain. The big idea has been to turn on the gas, and climb. The fuel used was an unbalanced budget, big treasury borrowings, large spending, big public works, earnings and wealth distribution by taxation, low interest rates, etc.

Future government economic policies can be charted by a descending line representing the other side of the mountain.

The budget must be balanced as soon as possible. Treasury borrowings must decline as private borrowings increase. Public spending must be eased down as private spending builds up. The new trend must be toward higher interest rates, less artificial money distribution. Otherwise your economic vehicle would take off from the peak and keep booming right on up until its momentum failed and it fell in another fall.

This economic change would be quite simple for President Roosevelt to handle if it were not involved in a campaign for business and labor reforms. Also it is a thin vegetarian program to offer a congress which has feasted for four years on raw spending meat.

PACIFICATION

If any cabinet resignations have arrived at the White House, they must have been dropped down the chimney. The guard at the door has been none. In fact, that drawn look appears to have disappeared from the cabinet members. At long last, definite word has passed down the inside line that the matter has all been straightened out, that Mr. Roosevelt will not request resignations, that there will be "very few, if any" changes in the cabinet.

The truth seems to be that Mr. Roosevelt likes to be affable and easy-going.

The law does not require the cabinet members to resign, and, while decency might, the point may not be raised. However, this does not mean as much as it seems. If they will look at their commissions, signed by the President, they will find that, after the initial compliments to their integrity, prudence, etc., it says that they are to "serve at the pleasure of the President, for the time being."

BUHL

Cedar Draw Community club held its annual covered dish luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Adolph Machacek. Twenty members and one guest, Mrs. Wilkie, were present. Officers for the new year were installed during the business session. They were: president, Mrs. Coreta Walters; vice president, Mrs. Gladys Hicks; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Helen Hendrix.

The Wednesday Contract club met this week with Mrs. George Harris. Club guests were Mrs. George Barthelmes and Mrs. Sutton. Mrs. Warren Starkey won first prize and Mrs. Beacher Giezenantner, second high.

Buhl Flower Lovers' club met Wednesday with Mrs. J. R. Crawford. Mrs. Engstrom gave a talk on "War Versus Peace," and led the discussion that followed. After two contests were completed refreshments closed the afternoon.

Mrs. Ray Bishop entertained 10 members and guests of the Christian Missionary society Wednesday. Mrs. Charles Thatcher was in charge of the program on Africa. Papers were read by Mrs. Thatcher, Mrs. William Whittaker and Mrs. Rachel Kreigh. Miss Goklie Woodruff and Mrs. Charles Bertolot sang a duet accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Merrill at the piano. After refreshments were served the group adjourned to meet with Mrs. Henry Sayer, on Feb. 4.

PLANNING

The auto strike seems to be just the first step in a private series planned by Mr. John Lewis to capture national attention for his steel organization program. Around headquarters, his confidants sometimes call it a "campaign for the headlines."

The second step will probably be a national conference under the auspices of the steel workers' organizing committee in a few weeks. The third will be the meeting of Mr. Lewis and the coal operators in New York February 17. It would not be surprising if the S. W. O. C. seeks a conference with the steel operators to be held simultaneously with the coal conference.

Thus, all three steps will eventually head up into the same objective.

It seems to be true that Lewis did not want to let the auto strike start so soon, but the auto union leaders insisted because a delay would injure their position. The peak of the production season now is. They argued, furthermore, that if they can get a good settlement it may help Lewis in steel.

The danger of a steel-mine strike in April is obvious, but authorities doubt that it will lead to a pass.

A good guess would be that the coal agreement will be continued as it stands for a short period after expiration date, thereby delaying a showdown.

AUTHORSHIP

The President's message represents the ideas of possibly 100 men and the paraphrasing of perhaps 20. The method used in its preparation has been perfected by Mr. Roosevelt since the New Deal got into "quartets," accompanied by Miss Mary Reeland, sang a number of songs and a musical recital. Under Southern Skies, the suggestions prepared by important government bureaus as to their legislative needs. He made notations of these. Also, he scribbled his news on sheets of papers from time to time, and piled the whole up in one drawer.

Two days ago (Mr. Roosevelt always waits until the last possible moment to draft the final form of his speeches) he took on these notations and dictated the draft

MINNESOTA AGES FAVORED TO WIN

Brilliant Field to Clash for Championships Later This Month

By GERALD LISKA—ST. PAUL, Jan. 8 (AP)—Twin Cities ice speedsters, among the nation's fastest, flashed impatient looks today, awaiting the competitors' challenge in the 1937 North American Indoor Skating Championships to be held in St. Paul, Jan. 30-31.

Following a score of national meets and several national championships, skaters of Minneapolis and St. Paul are regarded as certain to again dominate the North American Indoor.

Bartholomew, St. Paul, victor of possession of eight U. S. women's ice medals, is favored to defeat her, representing Toronto. The women's division in Boston last year she outpointed her nearest rival, 3 to 1.

Faces Formidable foe

However, Mrs. Prange, who created the title from Madeline Fox, Beaver Dam, Wis., will meet stiff competition this year from Minneapolis. Mary Johnson, who won the international girls class with 170 points in 1935.

Marvin Swanson, Minneapolis, national senior men's champion, will be seeking revenge from two Canadian skaters, Alec Hart and Joe Hardy, of Sudbury, Ont., who defeated him in total number of points in last year's meet.

Swanson showed his blades to the Canadians in the sprint events, but was unable to match slides with them in the longer races.

Ron Bartholomew, Minneapolis, will defend the intermediate boys' crown he clinched with her last year. But should Dick Leonard, also of Minneapolis, enter the meet, Bartholomew may find the going rough. Leonard holds five national intermediate and junior records.

Local Speedsters Matched

In the junior boys' division, Earl Mesman, Minneapolis, again will battle it out with his fellow townsman, Pat Maloney for the title. Mesman won top honors last year, with Maloney placing third behind Lowell Miller, of Chicago.

Malcan is junior boys' national champion in the 220 and 440 yard events.

Stanley Weinstein of Minneapolis, most likely will retain the juvenile boys' title he won in this meet last year. Likewise, it is expected Geraldine Bates, Minneapolis, will duplicate her 1936 triumph in the junior girls' division.

Rummy Lawler, of Chicago, who won the juvenile girls' event last year, will face the challenge of another Minnesotan in that class, Madeline Maloney who was runner-up to Miss Lawler in 1936.

RED WINGS DRUB N. Y. AMERICANS

Winners of Stanley Cup Pass Idle Rangers; Canadiens Trounce Leafs

By United Press—The Champion Detroit Wings took command of the American hockey leadership of the National Hockey League today.

The Stanley cup winners defeated the New York Americans, 4 to 2, last night to pass the late New York Rangers. It was the seventh straight defeat for the Americans who have dropped 13 out of their last 14 games.

Les Canadiens took a tighter grip on first place of the league's international group by trouncing the Toronto Maple Leafs, 4 to 1. The Boston Bruins kept the thick of the American division race by blanking the last-ranked Chicago Blackhawks, 2 to 0.

SKATERS USE ICE AT POOL

Ice skaters, contemptuous of frigid weather, had a place for their favorite sport today in Twin Falls.

The ice at Harmon park swimming pool was thrown open to skaters by the city park department, and early attendance this afternoon consisted mostly of youthful enthusiasts.

The skating surface "isn't too smooth," according to officials, but it was declared to be safe and adequate.

Skaters and spectators were asked to park their motor cars in the parking lot on the south side of the pool.

Ambers Favored

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Light weight Champion Lou Amberg was a 6 to 5 favorite today to defeat Enrico Venturi, European title claimant.

If he wins Venturi will demand that Amberg give him a shot at the crown he lifted last September from Tony Canzoneri.

GONZAGA FIVE WING

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 8 (AP)—Gonzaga university defeated Whitman college 45-30 last night in the first basketball game of a two-game series. The Zags led, 26-18 at half time.

Fountain Of Youth? 'Mac' Finds One In Sunny South

By HENRY McLEMORE—ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Jan. 8 (AP)—I am in this city, the oldest in the United States, on a mission; a mission which, if it succeeds, will restore to Americans sport there after a century of absence. I am here to see if there is a fountain of youth who made the 1920-1930 decade the most glamorous in athletic history.

There is a fountain in St. Augustine, and it flows by day and by night. Legend has it that this fountain is the one discovered by Juan Ponce de Leon in his search for eternal youth. Drink of its waters, says the legend, and you will gain and retain eternal youth and drive, its hopes and fire.

I am here to test these waters. Not for myself, for in my business I am not particularly anxious to have the years lifted off and rolled away from my shoulders. But my foes, and ah, my friends, if it works I want to bring here, to drink their fill, those athletes whose passing left American sport without the verve, without the color, or that makes the games we play worth while.

Has Ruth in Mind? I want Edie Ruth to buy down his golf clubs and let me have them. I want him to play his golf ball down on the green. I want to see him and his friends. I want to see him and his friends. I want to see him and his friends.

I want Edie Ruth to buy down his golf clubs and let me have them. I want him to play his golf ball down on the green. I want to see him and his friends. I want to see him and his friends. I want to see him and his friends.

TWO SQUADS WIN AT CAPTAIN BALL

Girls in the home room of the junior high school are continuing their tournaments of captain ball for supremacy in the Red-White league of the school.

Tuesday, room 012 won by a 1-0 score from room 012. Room 215 was victorious over room 111 by a like score of 1-0.

Beginning Monday during the noon period room 113 will clash with 213 while room 016 will battle 208. On Wednesday home room 011 will meet 217 and room 010 will play with 114. Friday will see the culmination of the weekly contests with room 115 meeting 013 and room 214 playing 110. The schedule for future contests has not as yet been planned.

BURLEY, Jan. 8 (Special)—During the entire distance by automobile, the Burley Elks topped the Orange Transportation busload of Twin Falls here last night, 26 to 11.

At the end of the first quarter the heels were leading 18 to 4. Halftime saw the score standing at 20 to 6, and the third quarter ended 22 to 13.

High scorers included Baker and Fred Judvine of the Elks with eight points each, while Ray Turner, Twin Falls, gathered six and his team's points.

Lineups and summary: Burley: Baker (48), and Wesler (2), forwards; Norby (13), center; Judvine (8), and Holman (1), guards, Substitutes: D. Parish (2), Hjort (2), and Barlow.

BOY, 6, BEATS ANGLERS

LARK-WASIKIEWICZ, Sask., (AP)—Veteran fishermen have blimped every time the name of Bruce Lee in a 6-year-old boy, who, competing against all comers in trout angling competition, ran away with first prize by hauling a trout weighing nearly 10 pounds.

Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele, making his first appearance in defense of the title he won last summer, won an easy decision over "Gorilla" Jones in a 10-round bout at Milwaukee. Above photo shows the fighters meeting at the start of the seventh round; an instant later Steele cut loose with a right that floored Jones for three seconds.

MRS. P. E. STEWART

Regon Lady Thought She Would Die With Awful Gas Pains - Could Hardly Put on Clothes - Now She Says, 'Van Tace Made a Different Woman Out of Me!'

which is now being introduced to the local public at the Schramm-Johnson Drug Store, 102 N. Main St. Just a few days ago, Mrs. Stewart said...

Could't Sleep, Due to Gas, Dizzy Spells

"I suffered from awful upset stomach distress and constipation for over five years. Food would not stay in my stomach so terribly that I FOR I WAS CHOKING at the time I ingested and purged all out of shape. I felt COMPLETELY GET MY CLOTHES ON. I thought I was done for, especially when this gas pressed up and my heart caused it to palpitate. I had terrible dizzy spells, walking was a pain, my feet were numb and I WAS A COMPLETE WRECK. I spent hundreds of dollars on medicines and treatments, but got a real help. Then my mother advised me to take VAN-AGE. It had made a DIFFERENT WOMAN out of me! Gas and indigestion were gone and I have never been better. I can now sleep, eat, and I have a new life. I am not swell now and my constipation is gone. I am certain I will read and be helped by it. I have."

Van Tace Is Now The Talk of Twin Falls

"SUFFERER: This Astounding Compound acts as a kidney diuretic, mildly stimulating kidney action, and is helping THOUSANDS in this city and vicinity every week by its action on stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels as a cathartic, laxative, choleragogue and diuretic. It is now the Talk of All Twin Falls and due to the immense value in which it sells, the price of Van-AGE is reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get this Great Medicine TODAY!"

ALASKAN COLONY LODGES PROTEST

Matanuska Settlers Revolting Against New Orders; Hold Meeting

PALMER, Alaska, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Matanuska colony, born of midwestern drought and depression, today revolted against regimentation and curtailment of funds.

Angry colonists protested against orders of the Alaska Rural Rehabilitation corporation calling for changes of Matanuska policy and decrease in expenditures.

Many of the Matanuskaans—formerly of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska and other central states—threatened to leave the colony. They held one indignation meeting and planned for more.

Protest Orders
Delegations from the colony called on the ARRC management protesting against the new orders which included notice that:

1. Colonists must sell all products except wool and milk through a new marketing organization. For their commodities they will receive half in cash and the other half as a credit against their accounts. Failure to comply, they were told, would be considered a violation of contract.
  2. "Our funds will be exhausted for everyone who will have been in the colony for over 18 months by Sept. 1 of the present year."
  3. No more crews will be furnished for clearing of the ground.
  4. The practice of paying one colonist for caring for another during illness will be discontinued.
  5. Sunday bus service in the colony will be discontinued.
- At a mass meeting last night, the colonists gathered in groups and resolved to leave Matanuska before the next planting season.

NEW LEADER FOR TROOP SELECTED

Scouters Plan for Observance Week Activities Starting February 7

Clyde B. Urban, Rev. T. W. Bowman and Earl Ridgeway, all of Kimberly, were appointed last evening at a district Scout meeting held at Murtaugh to arrange plans pertaining to Scout observance week starting February 7. It was announced today through the local Snake River valley area offices.

Present at the meeting were representatives from Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh. There are five troops in the district with a total membership near 100, officials say.

At the meeting the re-organization of Troop 43, sponsored by the L. D. S. church at Kimberly was announced and C. R. Glenn named new scoutmaster. Assistant scoutmaster will be Leonard Sudweeks, with Evert Morgan, W. G. Stanger and B. A. Sudweeks serving as troop commissioners. The troop has a membership of ten.

At the same time plans for a banquet, to be attended by Scouts, their fathers, and Scouters, were discussed. The banquet will be held February 8 at Kimberly and the program will include listening to a radio speech which will be broadcast by President Roosevelt that evening for Scouts.

The Murtaugh troop will stage a dramatization at both the towns churches on February 17. In connection with the anniversary week program, a court of honor for the district will probably be held during the banquet February 8, officials say.

At the meeting it was also urged that all Scouts attend church in a body the Sunday of February 7. National headquarters has designated this day as Scout Sunday.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney

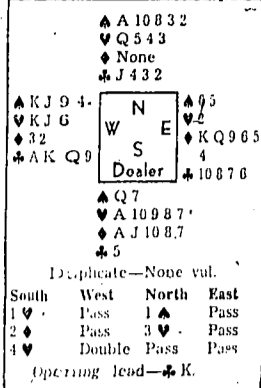

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
See's American Bridge League
Here is another instructive hand from my friend, Earl Bryan, of Cleveland. The problem in it is one of play, and the manner in which that problem was solved is most interesting.

With many bridge players there is an almost irresistible urge to draw trumps the moment they win their first trick. It's a sound general rule, but, like all sound rules, it has its exceptions.

For instance, had Mr. Bryan elected to draw trumps with the hand given today, he would have been short of tricks and, when counting up the number won, would have found that he had not fulfilled his contract.

There is no doubt that South bid enough on his hand, but his distribution made a strong appeal to him as compensation for some missing high cards.

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

Opening lead—of the club king was followed with the queen, which South ruffed. Declarer then cashed the ace of diamonds, and ruffed two clubs in his own hand, and three diamonds in dummy.

The last ruff left him in dummy, which now held the ace, ten, eight and three of spades, and the queen of hearts. Declarer held the ace and ten of spades, and the diamond jack.

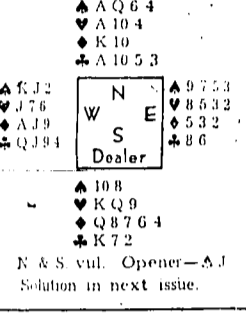

He led the queen of hearts and won with the ace. Then he led his last heart and put West in the lead.

West had to concede two spade tricks at the end. The hand was well played, but West's double of the final bid helped greatly.

Today's Contract Problem

South has the contract for three no trump. Against the opening lead, can he develop his tricks in time to make the contract?

PRESIDENT ASKS CHILD LABOR LAW

Letter to 19 Governors Seeks Ratification of Work Statute

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (UP)—President Roosevelt appealed today to the governors and governors-elect of 19 states to make ratification of the child labor amendment to the constitution a major item on their 1937 legislative programs.

Mr. Roosevelt sounded his appeal in letters which directed attention to the fact that approval by 12 more states would place in the constitution the amendment which empowers congress to limit, regulate and prohibit the labor of persons under 18. Twenty-four of the necessary 36 states already have ratified the change.

The chief executive pointed out that "nation-wide minimum standards are necessary and that a way should be found promptly to crystallize in legal safeguards public opinion in behalf of the elimination of child labor."

Mr. Roosevelt's letter followed, closely his reference on child labor, in his annual message to congress Wednesday. He took the position in the message that as regulated under N.R.A. provisions positive gains were made but pointed out that "it was unwise to expect the same agency" to rule on social questions and complicated economic ones as well.

Fills Vacancy

BOISE, Jan. 8 (UP)—Governor Clark said today he had under consideration George Wedgwood, St. Maries, for appointment as commissioner of public works, the position now held by G. E. McKelvey.

The governor suggested as other employment possibilities, Guy Graham, former Payette county legislator, for commissioner of agriculture, and Dr. J. D. Dunshie, present director of public health, to head the governor's proposed department of public health.

TWO INJURED AS CAR HITS TRUCK

Pair Suffers Facial Cuts In Accident On Road Near Sugar Plant

Two Twin Falls men suffered facial and head lacerations today when their motor car smashed into the rear of an Idaho Packing company truck one-quarter mile west of the Amalgamated Sugar company plant.

The men were J. Newman, driving the sedan, and Paul McEbrida. Both were taken to a physician's office for first aid, according to Jesse Carlton, state traffic officer who investigated the accident. E. W. Cooper, Twin Falls, driver of the truck, escaped unhurt.

The truck had just been started after being towed a short distance, Carlton reported. Exhaust fumes obscured the road behind the vehicle and the passenger car crashed into the slowly-moving truck. The auto was badly smashed and the rear of the truck was dented, Carlton said.

MILLER RESIGNS LABOR POSITION

Quits Because of Gov. Clark's Disapproval; Gets New Attorney Post

BOISE, Jan. 8 (UP)—Former Attorney-General Bert H. Miller today was back in his old office after resigning as commissioner of immigration, labor and statistics, a position he held for only three weeks.

Miller resigned the labor job, he said, because of Governor Clark's disapproval of his appointment by former Governor C. Len Ross. Attorney General J. W. Taylor, who was assistant in Miller's office before his own election, appointed his former chief to his staff, succeeding Leo Bresnahan.

In a statement accompanying the resignation, Miller said that when he accepted the position he understood it met with the new governor's approval. Clark recently said, "An attorney is not my kind of a man for labor commissioner." Much opposition to the appointment had come from labor sources.

Youngsters Defy Zero To Frolic On Icy Hill

"How dear to my heart
Are the scenes of my childhood,
When fond recollection
Brings back to my view."
—S. Woodworth.

Twin Falls' only sledding hill, at least the only one you have to register a cold trip, is located at the edge of the Lincoln grade school grounds.

With the mercury hovering so far under the zero mark that a variation of a few more degrees left it worth mentioning, the town decided to stop and watch the youngsters, some sleds and some without, enjoy the small, slippery hill to the fullest extent.

The edges of the hill were lined with eager young "kids" taking advantage of the freezing weather. Those with sleds used them, the others slid down "bolly" or just sat.

They Defy Cold

What amazed the Rover was the apparent disregard for the elements of nature. Cold as it was, many had no gloves. Little girls, with only short socks showing above their shoe tops, thought nothing of rolling and sliding down the snow and ice highways slick from frequent use.

Faces reddened with cold, clothes covered with snow, a brush of the hand was all that was needed to send them to the top of the hill again to start all over.

One of the teachers at the school was supervising the play, directing the children not to slide into the street and as though sliding her, passing motorists observed and proceeded slowly.

Adults Can't Take It
Once the Rover thought of joining them. But then the Rover only had on gloves, an overcoat, rubbers, long underwear, and was seated in a closed car with the heater running. The urge was there but the temperature prohibited.

Almost frozen, despite the protection, the Rover returned to the Evening Times office to park himself comfortably on a radiator.

The "kids" were still enjoying the open air.

DEFENSE BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (UP)—A $100,000,000 entry in the new world naval race today capped the largest peacetime national defense budget ever presented to the American people.

President Roosevelt, responding to frenzied competition to increase armaments by world military and naval powers, entered the United States officially in that race by announcing immediate start of construction of two superdreadnaughts to cost $100,000,000.

He called upon American taxpayers to provide the fighting forces with more ships, more guns, more airplanes and more men. The bill for the fiscal year 1938 will be about one billion dollars. For the third consecutive year expenditures jumped about $100,000,000.

Actual 1938 fiscal estimates for strictly military purposes were:
Navy, $87,302,600
War department, $393,160,100
Total $890,763,000.
