Roosevelt May Intervene In Auto Industry Strike

President Confers With Secretary of Labor Perkins

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins disclosed today she had discussed possibility of presidential intervention in the automobile strike with Mr. Roosevelt.

"It has been discussed many times," she said, "without being considered as actually imminent."

Miss Perkins has conferred with the chief executive several times on the strike situation. Yesterday she held a private conference with Mr. Roosevelt after he had seen Assistant Secretary Edward F. McGrady.

"The idea has never been talked over seriously enough to discuss what type of intervention or when or how," she said. "But it has been talked over."

The labor secretary gave the following resume of the labor situation:

Labor Situation

The Pacific maritime strike—much progress has been made. It is reported that it is really all over may be true.

Automobile strike—"The meeting called by Gov. Murphy at Lansing, Mich., this morning is a real attempt to find a way out."

Glass strike—"I have received a report from Ralph Lind, our mediator at Pittsburgh, saying 'Without wishing to appear too optimistic, there seems to be a feeling that real progress towards an adjustment is now being made.'"

Miss Perkins said the labor department already had employed certain "extra-curricular" methods to induce settlement of the spreading auto dispute but she refused to disclose what these methods were.

She was asked if the deadlock is not broken does the government have anything in mind to do to effect a settlement?

"Oh, yes," she said, "but you wouldn't expect me to tell you."

Miss Perkins reported that west coast maritime unions were today continuing individual union meetings with shipowners in an effort to settle the deadlocked issues.

GUARDSMEN ARRIVE—FRONT, Mich., Jan. 14 (AP)—Additional Michigan national guardsmen converged on this strike-battered city today to be "on hand" in the event of recurring riots at closed automobile plants.

Before nightfall an estimated 2,000 soldiers, in full war equipment, will be quartered at the (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

FARM LOAN UNIT NAMING LEADERS

Election Scheduled As Final Activity of Annual Meet Here Today

Farmer-stockholders of the Twin Falls County National Farm Loan association met this afternoon in annual session at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. During the latter part of the day members were voting for candidates to the board of directors and the offices of president, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

With the aid of illustrated charts President C. E. McClain and J. W. McDowell, secretary-treasurer, gave members attending a complete picture of the association's financial standing and urged that active interest be taken in the affairs of their cooperative mortgage organization.

Progress Reported—Aided by higher crop and livestock prices, members are reported to have made good progress during 1936 toward clearing up delinquencies, paying off back taxes and getting their loans in good current condition, Mr. McDowell reported. It is expected that further progress will be made in this direction during the coming year.

The Twin Falls county association has approximately $1,500,000 in outstanding mortgage loans which have been negotiated through the district land bank at Spokane for its 259 stockholding members on a favorable cooperative basis.

Messages Read—During today's meeting messages were read from the Land Bank Commissioner A. B. Coas of Washington, D. C., and from E. M. Barnhart, president of the district bank at Spokane.

Mr. McDowell, who is secretary-treasurer of both the Twin Falls and Hollister associations and also services the Kimberly association, reported approximately 550 loans totaling in the neighborhood of $2,000,000 in this area.

FIVE REPORTED KILLED—MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—The newspaper 'Universon' published today reported that five persons had been killed and 14 injured in clashes between agrarians and land owners. Federal troops were sent to the district to restore order.

SPECIAL POLICE NEEDED BY MINE, COMMITTEE TOLD

Counsel for Tennessee Company Says Law Enforcement Is Failure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Counsel for the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. told the La Follette civil rights committee today that the company was forced to hire special police for its property due to failure of law enforcement in Alabama.

"I would say that failure of law enforcement in our district makes it imperative for us to bring in special deputies to protect life and property," Borden Burr, counsel for the concern, said as the committee launched an inquiry into labor disputes and logging cases in Alabama.

Burr said the company had responded to the committee's subpoena of its records except that it respectfully declines to provide an employment record. A number of "typical" cases however, were presented.

"No Wrong"—Sen. Elbert D. Utah, who pressed Burr for full explanation of the hiring of deputies by the company, Burr said he knew of no instances in which the deputies had wronged any person.

He recalled 35 deputies were discharged by the company for failure to "come up to our standards."

Burr explained that the only occasion on which the company had brought in strike breakers was in 1934 during a dispute with miners. At that time it employed nine steam shovel operators who might have been termed strike breakers," he said.

Strikes Listed—In April, 1934, May, 1934, March, 1935, Sept. 1935, and May, 1936; when strikes occurred or were threatened the company hired special deputies to guard company property, Burr said.

"A great deal of violence occurred," he said. "The state law does not provide protection for life and property during these periods of emergency due to the limited police facilities."

Ernest D. Lemay, assistant to the president of TCI, leetered back and forth in his chair as he answered La Follette's questions.

Value of Lands Argued in Court—Varying estimates of value of Hansen butte "pump" lands occupied the center of the stage in district court today as the crux of the tax valuation appeal brought against Twin Falls county by Peter Link, Vance Naylor and Everett G. Huger, Hansen.

Direct examination of County Assessor J. D. Barnhart proceeded this afternoon after the noon recess.

Mr. Barnhart, Miss Emma L. Wick, assistant secretary of the Twin Falls Canal company, and N. B. Nesby of the Idaho Power company were the three witnesses called by the county during the first day of the hearing.

Gives Estimate of Value—The assessor testified belief that the involved farm lands, on which the county commissioners raised the tax valuation, were worth approximately $9 an acre as compared to $10 an acre in the Clover pump lands. The boost in valuation is an intended to bring the Hansen butte lands more nearly in line with assessments in the Clover area. The three appellants are protesting valuation increase from $5,000 to $22,100.

Part of the direct examination of Barnhart attempted to show that the assessor had previously indicated the opinion that the Link-Naylor-Huger lands were more valuable than the Clover property, Barnhart denied making the statement.

District Judge Doran H. Sutphen, Gooding, is presiding in the case. Chapman and Chapman, special counsel, and Prosecutor Edward Babcock represent the county, and J. R. Bothwell and Harry Joyce are attorneys for the three appellants.

PLANE CRASH TO BE INVESTIGATED—Federal Men Wait To Talk With Lewis About Fall

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14 (AP)—From Pilot W. W. Lewis, whose skillful crash landing of a Westover air express liner saved the lives of 11 of 13 persons, federal investigators today awaited an answer to the question of what causes transport planes to crash while flying in familiar territory.

He may be the first expert participant to explain why several huge skyliners have crashed in recent weeks.

Although federal investigators were eager to question Lewis on details of Tuesday's crash near Newhall in the Sierra Madre range which took the lives of two persons including Marilyn Johnson, today under medical care, the pilot under medical care would not indicate when the flier would (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Chairman Sees Need Of Larger Airport Location

Recommendation for purchase of more than the 240-acre site of the present airport in order to assure adequate facilities for the future will be made to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, Lionel Dean, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, said this afternoon.

The additional acreage, Dean indicated, would be a wise move to protect the $100,000 investment that will be made at the airport site.

The chamber has already approved purchase of the 240 acres of state school fund lands.

Cites Boise Mistake—"We could comply with regulations and get by with five 40-acre sections or 200 acres," Dean asserted. "But we must take care to avoid the mistake Boise made in not securing enough ground to handle the largest type of ships. It would be much better to buy seven 'forties' for a total of 280 acres. The total cost of that much space, at the minimum price of $10 an acre, would only be $800 more than a 200-acre site and about $400 over the 240-acre location."

The aviation chairman said that he will recommend the seven "forties" or may suggest the five "forties" and a 99-year lease on two others. Rental on the school fund lands is 25 cents an acre per year. Possibility that two of the "forties" might be bid up over the $10 minimum also loomed today.

Taking of the larger airport site, Dean pointed out, would eliminate the danger of someone erecting farm buildings or other obstructions that might prove a hazard to plane take-offs if larger transports eventually stop here.

Final decision rests with the C of C board of directors.

Loose Steer Tangles Kansas City Traffic

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 14 (AP)—Down in the stockyards today a big red steer will march up the ramp to the slaughter house with a measure of fame.

Since the open ranges were fenced and men began carting cattle around through cities in trucks streets have broken loose in metropolitan thoroughfares to follow a defiance to city dwellers. But this steer was different. He made his last stand with mooring abandon for law and order, and mechanical contraptions.

He leaped over the five-foot sideboards of his truck right in the middle of downtown Kansas City, kept traffic tangled for 50 minutes, frightened pedestrians off the streets and jumped parking lot fences with the agility of a fawn.

Cop Leads Roundup—For 20 wild minutes Sergeant Mike Shop, whooping like a cowboy on parade, led his band-buttoned vanqueros on the roundup. The steer, skating round on the icy streets past hotels and night clubs, turned occasionally on his pursuers to give a disdainful snort and plunged on again. He ran into the basement garage of the skyscraper power and light company building, sending antonjank mechanics climbing the nearest objects toward the ceiling.

Sergeant Shop, glad to have the steer corralled at last, yelled an order and Patrolman Peter Glyman began pulling at the overhead garage door. But the steer wheeled, made for the exit just in time and left Peter Glyman in a snowbank.

Finally Officer Clarence Majors dropped a lasso over the steer's head, Sergeant Shop sniled again. With a last mighty bellow the steer leaped on top of patrol car No. 41, crashed through a neat and pored the radio antenna while someone hobbled him.

Two Suspects Held By Officers In Search Of Tacoma Kidnap-Slayer

Car, Rusty Hammer Found

1,000 Police Join in Hunt For Abductor of Mattson's Child

By WILLIS DUNIWAY

EVERETT, Wash., Jan. 14 (AP)—Two suspects, a blood-stained automobile, and a rusty hammer were held by authorities today as the search for the degenerate kidnap-slayer of 10-year-old Charles Mattson moved forward relentlessly.

The search centered in Everett, near where the mangled body of the little victim was found Monday in a snow bank. The automobile was virtually established to be the machine used by the criminal in disposing of the body. There was a possibility that the hammer was the weapon that smashed the child's skull after he had been lured and subjected to an unnatural assault.

The two suspects were held at Olympia. One was a known degenerate. The other was an ex-convict and had been partly connected with the burglary of a home near that of the Mattsons of Tacoma a crime that, before the body was found, had been connected by some authorities with the kidnaping itself.

KIDNAPING MAY INVOLVE MANY

Hoover Indicates More Than One Person May Have Taken Part

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation today indicated federal authorities believe more than one kidnaping may be involved in the abduction and slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson.

Hoover appeared before a House appropriations sub-committee to testify on the justice department appropriation bill for the next fiscal year.

"Nothing to Say"—He told the United Press that the FBI had "nothing to say" about progress on the case until it is solved.

"We will not discuss it now," he explained. "The same policy continues to prevail until we catch him."

Smiling, he then retracted the word "him" and substituted "them" but refused to elaborate on the statement.

Hoover's statement came as his department mailed out printed notices to all law enforcement agencies of the $10,000 reward offered by the government for information leading to apprehension of those responsible for the Mattson kidnap-slaying.

The notice also will be posted in government buildings, Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation said.

Description Given—The kidnap-slayer was described on the poster as about 30 years old, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall, weighing 145 to 165 pounds, and of swarthy complexion.

Listed under "peculiarities" of the fugitive were notations that he did not stand erect, had a dimple in the chin, high cheek bones, his nose appeared to be broken a little below the center, and that he had hairy hands.

The poster added the man spoke with a slightly foreign accent and brokenly, and appeared to be of Southern European extraction.

The Brookings reports are not complete. Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D. Va. of the senate committee published them with an emphatic statement that they were submitted as a basis for committee work but should not be considered as the sense of the committee.

Research Report—Publication of the research report and private expressions of congressional opinion since Mr. Roosevelt presented his reorganization plan strengthened observers' opinions that congress received the President's plan coldly and is not likely to adopt it in the proposed form.

Byrd announced his committee would hold open hearings on government reorganization the week after inaugural ceremonies Jan. 20.

"I want it understood that I think government expenses can be greatly reduced through reorganization—reorganization for efficiency is fine but, the main part of efficiency is economy."

Fears Expressed for 4 Persons Marooned in Mining Shack

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 14 (AP)—An expected new cold wave with accompanying heavy snow increased fears today for the safety of four persons marooned in a desert mining shack far up in the Yucca pass, 60 miles northwest of here.

Rescuers with tractors already have penetrated mountainous snow drifts for 28 miles northwest of Indian Springs, where the party left the main highway, Sheriff Gene Ward said rescuers still had probably 40 miles to go.

They are pushing toward the lonely shack where an aerial searching party reported seeing a sign painted on an outspread bed-sheet.

"Prettyman party. One dead, three seriously ill. Bring medical aid."

The missing are Mrs. Leo Pretlyman, wife of a mine operator in the Groom mining district, Doris Dunn, her Negro cook; Mr. and Mrs. James Poe and Fred Miller.

TWO NEW SHIPS TO BE LAUNCHED

Navy Vessels Will Have Speed Slower Than Those Being Built Elsewhere

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The two new 35,000 ton battleships to be laid down by the U. S. navy about June 1 will have a speed of 3 to 4 knots an hour slower than the battleships being constructed by other powers, Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson announced today.

Swanson said the American navy was taking its $50,000,000 to be invested in each of the new battleships on the power of superior guns and heavier armament, rather than upon speed.

The new ships will have a top speed of from 26 to 27 knots per hour, as against the 30-knot speed for which the new British, German, French and Italian super-dreadnaughts are reportedly designed. Details of the two ships which Japan is expected to build have not been revealed, but it is anticipated they will be designed for 30 knots speed.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney

DUMMY IS MASTER HAND

By Wm. E. McKenney, Secretary, American Bridge League

Naturally in the great majority of hands played at contract bridge, the closed hand is the master. Otherwise the other member of the partnership would have been declarer.

One of the most interesting types of hands, however, is that which is played with what, sometimes is called a reversed dummy, making the dummy the master hand. Such hands present a very difficult problem to many players. Because this reversal of roles is hard for them to grasp in the stress of actual play.

However, it was well for Dr. Louis Mark of Columbus, O., who will be one of the stars at the forthcoming tenth annual tournament of the American Bridge League in Chicago, the week of Nov. 20, that he had mastered this type of play. The master came up in today's hand, which had been overbid one trick.

When the dummy went down, the contract looked doubtful, but Dr. Mark upon the first trick with dummy's ace. Then he took three rounds of diamonds, ruffing the third in his own hand.

Dummy was re-entered with a spade for another diamond ruff, then the ace and queen of trumps were cashed, and another spade put dummy in to draw the adverse trump.

On the last two trumps in dummy, Dr. Mark discarded his losing clubs. He then led dummy's last spade and won the remaining tricks with the ace and seven of spades.

Your Baby's Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygein, the Health Magazine

The child who is different from other children requires special attention and training to make the most of what he has, and to avoid his being pushed into the category of the defective or abnormal.

The first step, obviously, is to determine the nature of his difference. The expert will stress the qualities that are important for achievement, and minimize those that are likely to lead to failure.

In the past, all children were put into common schools and no effort was made to select those with marked aptitudes, or with physical defects, for special training. Children are likely to tease and be cruel to those who are different, thus giving them a feeling of inferiority, and shoving them gradually beyond the border of social adjustment.

You must not look upon a special school merely as a place in which to put children who are not able to keep up with others. We have learned that we owe equal duties to those with special talents and extraordinary intellect, who are able to proceed faster than other children, or who may have within themselves the seeds of genius.

A child may find it simply impossible to learn how to spell correctly, and yet be able to sketch admirably.

The child that is different should have first of all, expert study as to the nature of his difference, and then special care and teaching to permit it to make the most of its physical and mental qualities, if it has any.

This is the last of the series of articles by Dr. Fishbein on "Your Baby's Health."

G. O. P. APPROVES COMMITTEE LIST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—House Republicans at a caucus today approved a list of minority committee assignments giving their 80 party members the same proportion on committee jobs as last session when their strength was greater.

Most important of the vacancies filled was that on the house ways and means committee due to the November election defeat of Rep. Isaac Bacharach, R. N. J.

Rep. Lloyd Thurston, R. Iowa, was selected to fill the vacancy in an apparent gesture to the west.

J. Will Taylor, R. Tenn., and Rep. Donald M. McClean, R. N. J., were named to fill the two Republican vacancies on the important house rules committee.

Rep. William Lemke, R. N. D., Union party presidential candidate in the last election, was not penalized by the Republican party in deciding on assignments. His colleague, Rep. Usher L. Burdick, R. N. D., likewise was not deprived of committee privileges.

During the last three years, air passenger fatalities abroad have been more than double those on American air lines.

WE VIEW WITH ALARM

They stride about Twin Falls with open shirt collars flowing in the breeze—a very chilly breeze. They scorn the sedate protection of galoshes and rubbers. They eschew such an old-fashioned custom as overcoats. To them a hat is anathema. They are, in short, the self-styled "real men," the only virile folk in a west that's rapidly, think they, going feminine. They're usually somewhere between 18 and 24. They cast an eye of scorn as we lesser mortals scurry past, neatly wrapped in mufflers and coats and showing our respect for such trivialities as pneumonia, influenza and colds.

Let these manly folk scorn pneumonia and laugh a deep laugh at the flu. That's their own business and we have no quarrel with them there. What we common citizens resent is the fact that we feel twice as cold every time we watch the zero winds sweep around those unprotected necks. They don't freeze but we—watching them—do. And all our mufflers can't keep us warm thereafter.

Perhaps the legislature can do something about it.

POSITIVE TERMS
 More jobs, more sale of materials, more impetus along the path to normal times, a definite example of progress ahead—these things are indicated in positive terms by Idaho Power company's $2,400,000 project at upper Salmon falls and its state total of $3,040,000 for 1937.

The project, as pointed out by Ralph W. Carpenter, adds $50,000 to the annual property tax paid by the company. That will be another considerable item of cheer to taxing units.

The entire move, coming amid swirls of debate on power policies, earns commendation for the company's executives.

NO LONGER AMUSING
 An inspired reporter on the Pittsburgh Press, wearied by the year-end summaries of the "most important stories" of 1936, sat down at this typewriter the other day to list the most unimportant stories of the year.

He started with the Literary Digest poll and gave high ranking to the marriage of that eminent actor, Mr. John Barrymore; and somehow we are beginning to feel that he was entirely right. Mr. Barrymore's marital difficulties may be piquant and diverting, but they are beginning to lose their appeal.

Can't this estimable gentleman and the lady his wife find some way of removing their domestic difficulties from the public eye?

TABLES TURNED
 For years John Bull has been holding his ribs and roaring lustily at America's flagpole sitters, marathon dancers, rabble rousers and comic congressmen.

But recently Uncle Sam began to snicker at the sight of an angust British premier scurrying about London trying to circumvent Cupid and prevent his king from marrying a divorcee.

And Uncle Sam's chuckles are beginning to turn into loud guffaws at the plight of another hallowed English institution. Famed Scotland Yard, one of the world's greatest police organizations, is revealed to have been tormented for years by a lone burglar, one "Flannel Foot," who not only has had perfect freedom in carrying out his thefts, but frequently telephones police to tell them he is going on a holiday.

It is refreshing, though decidedly unusual, to see John Bull stumbling about the stage, while Uncle Sam's robs in the aisle.

BACK TO THE STERN STUFF
 Fears often are expressed that we moderns are becoming flabby, physically, mentally and morally.

Pessimists frequently point out, for instance, that soft food eventually will deprive us of our teeth and the automobile of our legs; that nudists, stripteasers, and the like are corrupting our morals; and that predigested ideas, served up in books, newspapers and radio, are weakening our minds.

It was not thus, we learn, in grandpa's day. Then, it seems, men were men; and chores, church meetings, and cracker barrel debates served to keep mind and body in fine fettle.

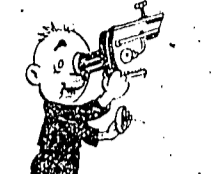

Under all this criticism modern Americans have been in a fair way of developing a huge inferiority complex. But now comes some news that should dispel all their uneasiness.

It is revealed that a knitting mill at Cohoes, N. Y., is doing a land office business turning out red flannel underwear. And a prominent Toledo, Ohio, dealer in the flamboyant garment reveals that his customers always keep coming back for more.

Red flannels were one of the trademarks of grandpa's day. He-men wore them. In fact, only he-men and he-women could ignore the wobbly scratching inflicted thereby.

So toss that at the next calamity howler who tells you 1937 Americans are going soft.

LADEEZ AND GENTMUN—THE STAR BORES OF 1936!
 Pot Shots Gentleman: After the usual long spell of reading All-American selections on the sport pages, I think Pot Shots ought to have an All-American spasm of its own. Here is the spasm, if you feel like spasms today.

The All-American bores of 1936: The w.k. political arguments. The 717 denials of the Pickford-Rogers romance. Those European war predictions, Zioncheck. Almece Simple McPherson again. The British prime minister, Baldwin.

The Ethiopian "war." Hauptmann "investigations" after he was executed. Pictures of Hitler. Ditto of Mussolini. Charlie Chaplin's movie. William Randolph Hearst. Twin Falls carnivals. Social security.

LOTS OF COMPETITION FOR ONE RADIO!
 Pot Shots: Did you hear about the big sorry home robbery? A nasty old burglar stole $116 in cash and a radio from the Eta Beta Pi (or something) house and there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth.

It seems the girls miss the $116 very much, but in a house so full of women they couldn't hear the radio anyway.

And what all this is leading up to (boy, did I do it diplomatic-like, no?) is thussy: that's a lot of dough for one cent.

GOOD OLD EVETIMES!
 Pot Shots: A slight mistake in the Eves-times turns out to be really quite an appropriate thing. In that Sun Valley article Wednesday Miss Ethel du Pont was called the "financed" of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. If you stop to consider the wad of money her folks have, I think you fellows have coined a very appropriate word for the lady.

WE MIGHT STAND GROW'S FEET, BUT GROW'S—!
 Mister Sir: I saw an advertisement the other day for a beauty cream that "Prevents crow's feet around the eyes." That's just what the advertisement said.

That cream must be meant for people who slip on icy sidewalks during the Saturday buying rush in Twin.

A GENTLE BOOK ON THE EYE WOULD DO!
 Honored Pot Shots: Just taking for granted you didn't know it, they do say that taking a living sponge apart won't hurt it.

But I'd like to try it on a few of these cigarette-borrowing guys.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

The HOLIDAY MYSTERY
 By IDA R. GLEASON
 © 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 The gaiety of the Christmas party at "Thunder Man," the de Forest residence in New Mexico, has a tragic ending when PEARL JOHN, the oldest of three brothers, is found dead with an unusual knife in his throat.

Each of the de Forest brothers has the first name "Pearl." PEARL JOHN is the youngest. PEARL PIERRE next. Others of the house are TANTE JOSEPHINE, old and an invalid; BETTY WELCH, her young companion; HAYMON VANQUEZ and ANGELOQUE APREVA, guests at the party; PHOENIX, a young girl; ANGELOQUE and BOB GRAYHAM, the salesman stopping at the hacienda while his car is being repaired.

The body of Pearl John, placed in the home chapel, has disappeared. Later Ramon and Angeleque left the house, and returned. Pearl Pierre announces that others have been sent for. Next morning Pearl Pierre, alone, is found, lifeless, below a rocky ledge, the same knife that killed his brother, in his hand.

Pearl John announces he is going to destroy the knife, but when he goes to get it, the knife has disappeared. Pearl Pierre defends him. Next morning Tante Josephine, too, is dead.

When the dimmer hour arrived Bob went to Professor Shaw's room to call him. There was no response to his knock so Bob opened the door and found the room empty. Another person missing! Feeling terror, he returned to the living room and told Pearl John that the professor was not in his room. The others had all gone to the dining room.

For an instant Pearl John's face paled. Then he laid a hand on Bob's arm. "Not a word of this to the others until we're sure he is not on the place somewhere. Was there anything out of place in his room?" He asked the last question because Bob's face showed that he still had something on his mind.

"No," Bob answered, "but since so much has happened, I think I ought to tell you what I saw the night before Pearl Pierre's death." He related in detail the scene in the hall outside his door between Pearl Pierre and Angeleque and told how the girl had trailed Pearl Pierre to the door with the lion's head knocker.

PEARL JOHN WALKED TOWARD THE DINING ROOM.
 To the others in the dining room he explained, "Professor Shaw does not care for lunch. Angeleque, perhaps you would take me on for a game of billiards after dinner. I feel as though I needed to have my mind distracted."

"I'd love to, Pearl John," she replied with her flashing smile. He felt a twinge of conscience as he looked at the pretty little girl.

Later the click of the billiard balls could be heard as Ramon paused a moment outside the billiard room. Satisfied, he walked away down the corridor.

But when the game was over and Angeleque had claimed victory, Ramon put the cues away and drawing her to a seat beside him, asked suddenly:

"What were you and my brother doing in the hallway the night before his death? You told us that you had not seen him again after we all said good night in the living room."

"Why—why, what do you mean?" she gasped, surprised into the answer.

"Just what I said," he answered coldly. "You were carrying on a—well, a rather touching scene with him, shall we say? Then, after he left, you trailed him down the hall."

"So, someone has been telling lies about me, have they?" Angeleque shrieked. "Let's see—yes, of course! The fair Betty's room is on that side of the hall isn't it? Men always believe anything a fair-haired woman cares to tell them. You've fallen for her."

De Forest looked at her baffled. It was one thing to browbeat an Indian servant, and quite another to tackle a beautiful girl, furious with jealousy and spite. Finally he shrugged and rose to his feet. "Very well, then. You deny everything. Is that it, Angeleque?"

"I most certainly do!" she snapped, and flounced out of the room.

WALKING QUICKLY TO RAMON'S room, she beat on the door with a small clenched fist. When he opened it she slipped inside and faced him.

"I suppose you know what de Forest wanted of me, don't you?" she demanded.

"Don't be silly, Angeleque. I heard him invite you to play billiards with him. We all did."

WAR PROPHETS
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Peaceable Judge Moore, the exacting state secretary, hit the headlines with a prediction that the expected suicidal adventure of European belligerents is not near.

His superior, Secretary of State Hull, has evaded public quotation, but President Tombs at his window lately noticed he has developed a new evening pastime. After hours, he has frequently taken out a detailed map of the Balkans and contemplated it in solitude, tracing the borders of the varicolored political subdivisions. His private opinion is supposed to be that the break will come there in the spring.

The White House also holds opinions less optimistic than those of Judge Moore. But if the President has any definite working theory about when and where the trouble will start, he has managed not to express it to several who have talked with him on the subject.

DELAY
 The absolute top of New Deal financial and economic thought is known to have adopted the safe working theory that war will come within the next four years, possibly not this year, probably next.

The Moroccan madness of the machine gun diplomats in Europe caused less apprehension in Washington than anywhere else. It was this particular situation which prompted Judge Moore to speak his piece.

He did not say so, but he and other authorities here believe the new Anglo-Italian Mediterranean agreement has set up a "slow down" sign for those riding the war road on the continent. It was a sad event for British supremacy. It recognized the rights and powers of another authority than Britain's in the Mediterranean. But Mussolini had already asserted this authority by building airplanes which cut Britain's ship path across the sea as definitely as an international border could. The agreement merely recognized this. But it gave Mussolini what he wanted, and left Mr. Hitler high if not dry, in his Bavarian retreat.

No one here knows what secret agreements may exist between Hitler and Mussolini, but the trend of events is at least temporarily toward delay of war.

FEARS
 The fears which generated such excitement about Morocco are these: The so-called statesmen of Britain were willing to make a Mediterranean agreement with Italy because they figure they can still dominate that inland sea regardless. They control the Suez at one end and Gibraltar at the other. Mr. Mussolini can cut the sea in two, but they still have him bottled up at both ends. That is, they have unless they let Herr Hitler over-run Spanish Morocco, which is just across the narrow straits from Gibraltar. If Hitler or Mussolini, or both, can keep a large armed force of Germans and Italians near Gibraltar, then the British have lost the Mediterranean completely. This is especially true in this day of heavy mobile guns and heavy bombing planes equipped with land bases near the seacoast.

The build-up of a German force in Morocco and Spain hits France nearly as hard as Britain. It puts a German military force in the rear of the French army.

Neither England nor France can permit such things to happen unless they are content to become second-rate powers.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County
 As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO—
 JAN. 14, 1922
 J. J. Waters and John Chisholm returned Thursday evening from Jarbridge, uniting in the opinion that the ore bodies around Jarbridge were of sufficient size and value to insure the building of a great camp this summer.

Mr. Waters is an experienced mining man and is interested in several rich mining properties in different parts of the county. Eighteen years ago Mr. Waters prospected through the Bruners district and located several claims at Jarbridge. It was then impossible to get any ore out of the country.

27 YEARS AGO—
 JAN. 14, 1910
 A deadly rifle duel in the Rock Creek settlement occurred today and as a result Fred Ellidge is dead and Oscar Salmar is in the custody of the county, charged with the murder of the former. All the detail of the crime is not obtainable, but the trouble seems to have originated through jealousy of the affections of a woman.

The men are neighbors and the shooting on both sides was with the most deadly intent, both men being armed with rifles. Oscar Salmar, as soon as the sheriff appeared upon the scene, gave himself up with no thought of resistance, and was brought to this city.

You May Not Know That—
 Idaho, drivers' licenses expire July 1 every odd year; chauffeurs' licenses (including truckmen or any others who drive for hire), expire every year.

Borah Presents Corporation Bill
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. William E. Borah, R., Idaho, today gave to the senate his corporation licensing bill designed to strengthen anti-trust laws and combat monopoly.

Your Children
 By Olive Roberts Barton

The most common complaint among housewives seems to be about planning meals. "I get so sick going to the telephone and ordering chops and steaks, carrots and cabbage," says Mrs. Jones. "What do people eat, that's different, anyway?"

Well, some quiet evening when Joe has gone to his meeting, sit down with pencil and seven pieces of paper. Or fourteen or twenty-one, or any multiple of seven. Then think over all the things the family likes as a whole, with an occasional special, such as Joe's favorite gingerbread or Sally's baked beans. Mark each card for a day in the week, and then make out simple menus for that day. You have no idea what a help it is.

Switch Order of Menus
 No, the family won't learn to call Monday "hash day" or Thursday "scaloped oyster night" because the charm of it is that you can shuffle the cards and change when you like. But with those reminders on the wall, you are going to wake up singing and not develop a telephone phobia.

Next on this list of Mother's Little Helpers came the closets and the bureau drawers.

Every time you open one of the other, you shudder, isn't it true? Give away, jammies, coats too good to give away. Blankets you might want year after next for the ironing board. Shoes that Bob wore last year and Bud might grow into some day. Your own hats saved against goodness only know what. I've lived long enough to know that hats never come back to style under 20 years.

Well, you will dream of golden glades instead of smothering dark caves and sinister eyes, if you get rid of your extras, for with them will go your complexes. Travel light and cut the work in half.

Emptier Closets Give Fresh Start
 Someone needs that coat of Joe's. He says he wants it for fishing. Well, he's gone fishing six times and never taken it once. Give it where it is needed. And do the same with the shoes and your old evening togs and hats.

Watch for a rummage sale and contribute all the things you cannot place usefully. Or, if you lack needy acquaintances, send the more-easily utilized things to a dispensing organization. With emptier closets, you will get a new start.

Third and last, stop trying to keep up with the Joneses. Be yourself, live as you can, and put a dollar a week in the teapot. With that ace in the hole you will sleep still better. We can control so many of our complexes, that it seems worth while trying. And, as I have named only three, you will have to sort out the others. Don't make 1937 harder. Make it easier. (Copyright, 1937, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)

Kansas Convicts Escape Prison

LANSING, Kan., Jan. 14 (AP)—Two convicts who were working at the entrance of the state prison here commandeered a prison truck today and escaped, driving the car through barred double gates blocking their way to the highway. The convicts, whom prison officials were not immediately able to identify, forced a trusty who was driving the truck to jump from the speeding automobile outside the prison gates. He was reported to be bruised, but not seriously hurt.

Solons Propose New Anti-War Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Anti-war legislation entered a new phase today with the introduction in the senate and house of the Carver-Johnson bill for government ownership and control of the munitions industry. Sen. Ernest Lundeen, R., Minn., and Rep. Dewey W. Johnson, R., Minn., proposed the measure giving the government power to acquire factories, dry-docks and yards to build vessels, aircraft and mobile armaments for national defense. It would also prohibit the import or export of munitions or armaments except by the government.

Simone Simon Proves To Be As Human As Other Actresses

READY FOR SMASH HIT

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD — It's quite a different Simone Simon who's working — and really working — these days in "Seventh Heaven." On the doors of the sound stage are merely the small and meaningless "Keep Out" signs which you see on practically all stages of all studios in Hollywood. Such a warning, in letters only four inches high, may be freely translated, "Visitors Welcome." When a prowler on a studio lot comes upon a really big sign reading, in eight-inch letters, "KEEP OUT! Absolutely No Visitors! Positively No Admittance!" he becomes cautious, but not discouraged. For such a sign may be taken to mean that visitors will be tolerated as long as nobody complains about them, but that spectators shouldn't feel insulted if they're unceremoniously asked to leave.

The only way a sound stage can be made impregnable is by stationing policemen at the doors. There is just no reasoning with a studio cop, which is why they are hired in the first place. But there are scores of stories about unimpeachable watchmen who have refused to admit stars and directors to their own sets.

Free for All The sets of Simone Simon's two previous pictures were guarded by studio cops. But not "Seventh Heaven." Press correspondents, as well as friends of the cousin of the owner of the Bijou theater in Six Corners, Kan., may be taken in to watch the pouty little actress' histrionics-in-the-raw. I may as well admit that the anticipation has got it all over the realization. No fireworks, Mlle. Simon is not only docile, but is downright cheerful about it. If, through some fault of her own, a scene has to be done over and over again, she doesn't balk, or lash at the other people. If the scene must be repeated due to another player's mistakes, she is perfectly gracious about it. It may be that Darryl Zanuck, or somebody, had her in for a little heart-to-heart talk. Or perhaps the credit goes to Director Henry King. He is a deliberate

Full WPA Idaho Quota Holds Up Airport Work

Because Idaho's 7,000 quota of WPA jobs is filled at present, work on the $100,072 Twin Falls airport project cannot begin in full force until Harry Hopkins, national WPA administrator, grants the state a quota increase. Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston said this afternoon. Unless the job total is boosted, the airport construction will be unable to add extra workers and ties is the too great zeal of state WPA-chiefs in seeking to show reduction of the number now listed on work relief rolls, Johnston claimed. He declared, in a spirit of constructive criticism, that WPA should deal "in actual facts" and should secure an increased Idaho job quota in order to care for the winter season.

173 Avail Jobs The certified group includes 173 men. Bulk of these, Johnston said, are now inactive because they took leave work and other private employment on the understanding that places on the WPA rolls would remain open. Now they are unable to be placed because project labor rolls are filled and the quota of 7,000 for the state is up to the limit. All work assignments now come from the Boise offices, the mayor pointed out. Local WPA offices can take no action toward job placement.

Await Formal Notice Formal notification of the $81,134 WPA grant for the airport had not yet come through today, although the funds have been definitely allocated and are available in the U. S. treasury, according to the city's share of the airport construction will be $27,035, largely provided through equipment and materials. Strong move to secure higher WPA job totals for the state may be needed, Johnston said, if work is actually to start soon on the airport and if the project is to absorb waiting workers in addition to those now on other jobs. The Chamber of Commerce has approved purchase of the 240-acre site of the present airport and will deed the ground to the city.

Suit Asks Setting Aside of Commissioners' Order for Special Counsel

Intended "in the interests of Twin Falls county," suit to set aside the county commissioners' action in retaining Chapman and land valuation case was on file in district court today.

Thomas Cavender, Twin Falls taxpayer, filed the suit through C. C. Hall, his attorney. The land valuation case was being heard today in district court, with the Chapman firm acting with Prosecutor Edward Babcock on behalf of the county. Cavender challenged the commission's action in retaining the added counsel at a maximum fee of $500 for the case. The land occupied by the public roads of the United States is equal to the area of the whole state of Indiana.

Southerners See End of Lynchings

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 14 (AP)—Southern women today pointed to the federal government's program of rural resettlement as a means to end lynching, described as the "disgrace of the south."

Meeting in Biennial convention here, leaders of the Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching, declared the stamping out of farm tenancy and sharecropping would go far to remove the underlying cause of mob rule. Lynch law has caused the death of 62 persons in the United States in the past six years—all but a dozen occurred in the south.

TAX COLLECTION HANDED SHERIFF

Distraint Warrants Are Given Prater for Action On Delinquents

Distraint warrants on delinquent personal taxes for 1936 were handed over for collection to Sheriff E. F. Prater by the county assessor's office today.

The sheriff, under the law, is to make collections and returns within 30 days. Total delinquent tax represented by the 270 distraint warrants was $4,083.21, according to Miss Mary Owens, chief deputy assessor. That figure was reported as lower than for 1935 and 1934, both in the number of warrants and the amount delinquent. In 1935 288 warrants were handed to the sheriff, totaling $5,058.73, and in 1934 the figures were 290 and $5,073.04. Welding arcs burn at a temperature of 10,000 degrees, hotter than the sun.

YAROSZ STARTS ON TRAIL OF STEELE AFTER KRIEGER WIN

FORMER CHAMP WINS DECISION

Fights Typical 'Tunney' Battle But Counter-Punches Effectively

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh, with the scalp of Brooklyn's hard-hitting Solly Krieger displayed on his belt began gunning today for Seattle's Freddie Steele, present wearer of the middleweight boxing crown which once adorned Teddy's head.

The former titleholder shook off vicious head smashes, then counter-punched his way to a very close 10-round decision over Krieger before 4,300 persons at the Hippodrome last night. The knee Yarosz injured in a match with Brock Risko on New Year's day 1935 appeared completely sound again.

Decision Unanimous

Referee Billy Cavanagh and Judges Eddie Forbes and Joe Lynch recently were impressed by Yarosz's speed and boxing ability because Krieger outpunched him from the second round on according to many of the ringside score sheets. It was not an unpopular decision with the crowd, however, and they gave a great cheer when the former champ's hand was raised.

Yarosz fought a typical "Tunney" battle. He bicycled his way through the match, content to back up and score by counter-punching. He landed more blows, but they did not appear to do the damage of Krieger's smashes. A fast left, however, raised a mouse under Solly's left eye as early as the second round.

"C" club, winners of the final tournament in the spring last year, did not enter a team this year. Other teams that have won the right to have their names engraved on the trophy in the four years that the "do-nut" tournaments have been held are: Teams of the "C" squad twice and junior high once.

Boxing Card Is Cancelled

BUHL, Jan. 14 (Special)—Cancellation of the scheduled double-main event boxing card here tonight has been announced by Ted Primeau, promoter for the local American Legion. A heavy snowstorm blocking roads in Utah forced the calling off of the card as the Salt Lake City boxers were unable to get through.

At that time no definite date has been set for the card, but an announcement will be made within the next few days.

St. Mary's Coach To Get Loyola Contract

MORAGA, Calif., Jan. 14 (AP)—Friends here said today that Norman (Red) Strader, assistant to Football Coach Edward (Slip) Madigan at St. Mary's college, will go to New Orleans in a few days to sign a contract as grid coach of Loyola university.

It was understood that the contract will be for three years at $12,000 a year.

Strader graduated from St. Mary's in 1926, was head coach of Regis college in Denver for three years, then returned here to assist on the staff of his alma mater.

The last congress of the United States appropriated public funds at the rate of more than $70,000,000 a day for each of the 282 days of both its sessions.

ST. MARY'S LISTS 1937 SCHEDULE

Plays Idaho In San Francisco On Oct. 23; Only One Sectional Game

MORAGA, Calif., Jan. 14 (AP)—St. Mary's college today announced a nine-game football schedule for the 1937 season, winding up with the annual battle with Fordham in New York City, Nov. 20.

The program announced by Tom Foudy, publicity director, lists only one inter-sectional game for the Gaels who in 1936 met three inter-sectional foes. A game had been scheduled tentatively with Marquette for next season but inability to obtain Soldiers' field in Chicago on a day mutually satisfactory led to a cancellation.

The Gaels will start Saturday, Sept. 25, by meeting California at Berkeley. After that they will play five games at home, that is in Kezar stadium, San Francisco, and three on the road, in Stockton, Los Angeles and New York.

The complete schedule follows: Sat., Sept. 25—California at Berkeley.
Sun., Oct. 3—Gonzaga at Kezar.
Sat., Oct. 16—Loyola at Los Angeles.
Sat., Oct. 23—Idaho at Kezar.
Sat., Oct. 30—College of Pacific at Stockton.

BARBERS AND RICH-PEOPLE EXCITED BY BOXING CHAMPS

By HENRY McEMORE
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 14 (AP)—The citizens of this little city are greatly excited these days, for there is a report about that James J. Braddock, the heavyweight boxing champion of the world, accompanied by Joe Gould and Bill Duffy, will visit here for a few days soon.

The excitement, I think, is natural, for after all it isn't every city that gets the chance to entertain the man who is credited with being able to smack off his coat and bloody the nose of anyone who frets him. And when the Messrs. Gould and Duffy are thrown in for good measure, as it were, a community really has something to awaken deep civic stirrings.

The Visit Scheduled

The party is scheduled to visit Mr. Jack Ginty, owner, operator and by seniority and talent, chief bouncer of the Chateau Lido. The Chateau Lido really was a chateau back in the boom days, and couples paid as high as fifty a throw for the privilege of dancing on one another's feet inside it.

But all one has to do now to pass through its portals is to keep the shirt-sleeves rolled down and have a few dimes to pay for dances, which cost just that.

But I doubt if Mr. Ginty, try as he may, will be able to keep James J. Braddock and the Messrs. Gould and Duffy to himself. The best citizens, particularly the rich best citizens, will demand that Mr. Ginty slice up his guests, so to speak, and allow others to cut in on the hospitality. There is nothing, I suppose, that sets the red corpuscles of hospitality whirling through the slightly hardened arteries of our rich, best citizens than a heavyweight champion.

Like Champions

Show them a man who, thanks to a battery of knuckles set level in his hands, a rope ladder of muscles down his back, a nose that won't yell "uncle," and a voice grown slightly whiskey-tenorish because of punches on the adam's apple, has achieved the championship, and they'll put three more stripes on the butler's vest, dust the cobwebs off the port, and add three inches to the lathering.

The only other group which is just as violently "carried away" by a boxing champion as the rich, best citizens, is the guild of barbers. If a clock could be held on the rich, best citizens and the barbers to determine which went to pieces more quickly in the presence of a champion, I think a dead heat would be the result.

Show Appreciation

The rich, best citizens show their appreciation of a champion by bringing out the best in rare foods and wines. The barber shows his by bringing out his rare tonics and lotions for his client's face and scalp.

I though I had smelled all the sickening violence that could come from a barber's assortment of brightly-labeled bottles until one day I accompanied Max Baer into a barber shop. Max was champion at the time and was a great man for playing all the bottles and jars a barber has standing in the cupboard.

All A-Flutter

The barber, who was all in a flutter, gave Baer a sample squirt from every jug in sight and then, with the flair of the true host, went in a back room for the exotic, treasured delectables. No wise connoisseur ever poured brandy with more pride and love than this barber did his dandruff killer.

When Baer finally stepped from the chair and was bowed out the door into the sunshine a great wake of odor followed him. Actually, it was so strong as to be almost visible.

U. S. Ties Nature; Pushes Columbia River Out of Bed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Columbia river has just been "pushed out of bed" again.

It is the second time in history that the giant stream, the second largest in America, has been moved. The first shift in course occurred about 10,000 years ago—a result of the ice age when glaciers descended over the continent.

The second "push" has just been accomplished by government engineers working on the Grand Coulee dam.

This diversion of the stream's natural course has been effected by completion of a cofferdam, which has forced the river to turn sharply to the left at the upstream face of the dam, flow through four slots left in the west abutment of the structure, and return to its course below the site. A horseshoe bend is the result.

TWO TEAMS WIN TIGHT VICTORIES

Two Do-Nut teams won tight victories and a third coasted to triumph last night in the Class B games at Twin Falls high school.

Olympians, behind by 6-8 at the half, showed power in climbing ahead to win over Lucky Five, 12 to 10.

Raiders, scoring their total points in the first half, managed to stay just one point ahead to nip the Huskies, 12 to 11.

Hi-Y took an early lead over Slickers and won by 25 to 13.

New Navy Football Coach to Leave for Annapolis Feb. 15

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 14 (AP)—Lieutenant Harry J. Hardwick, Navy's new head football coach, will abandon his station on the Arizona with the Pacific fleet in time to arrive here Feb. 15, it was announced today.

Hardwick, star end of the 1924, 1925, and 1926 middle elevens, was named yesterday by Commander A. C. McFall, graduate athletic manager, to succeed Lieut. Tom Hamilton, who completed his third year of coaching at the academy last season. Hamilton will go to sea Feb. 1, McFall said.

Hardwick was associated here two years ago with Hamilton and is well acquainted with his system. He also was assistant football coach here in 1928 and 1929. The following year he was mentor of the championship eleven of the Pacific fleet. In 1931 he returned here as end coach.

Rupert Boosters Win Over Albion

ALBION, Jan. 14 (Special)—Rupert Boosters downed the Panthers of Albion Normal here last night, 30 to 22.

The independent quintet, led by Ed Lacy with 24 points, hit the hoop too consistently for the col-legians. The Boosters led, 12-8, at the first quarter's end and 18-10 at the half. They held a safe lead for the final half.

The Rupert five meets Hurlay Elks at Acquila tonight.

Utah Wrestler Loses Whiskers

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Brother Jonathan, Utah's spectacular contribution to professional heavyweight ranks, lost his whiskers.

Brother Jonathan, who claims to be a Mormon leader, was matched with Man Mountain Dean at the Dreamland auditorium last night. Dean wagered his whiskers against Jonathan's on the outcome.

After Jonathan won the first fall on a foul, Dean settled the issue of flattening his opponent for his lion's face and scalp.

I though I had smelled all the sickening violence that could come from a barber's assortment of brightly-labeled bottles until one day I accompanied Max Baer into a barber shop. Max was champion at the time and was a great man for playing all the bottles and jars a barber has standing in the cupboard.

A barber was summoned, and a deftly-applied razor stripped the muscular tite of his chin foliage.

The Antlered Herd took two of three from Studebaker, led by the tiny lead-off man, Charles Larsen, who by being able to hit the head-pin (sometimes) took high single game for his team with 191 and high total of 513 for both teams. Charley was the only man on his team to get over the 500 mark.

Southpaw Hugh Boone got a double his first and second games and a turkey his last. After looking over the totals, Boone remarked: "I only had two men—Bill Bailey and the dummy. Even Orv Coleman beat me!"

Orv Coleman ran into a double his last game and was he surprised.

Bill Bailey anchored the boys. He got himself a couple of doubles, too.

Bob McCracken, at lead for Studebaker, kept pace with Larsen. Bob nosed Charles out for the single game between the two of 'em but Charles beat Bob on the totals.

Art Boone got three strikes in a row his second game but his other two games were out of luck. Only one double, too many errors.

Ralph Brown established a record that most bowlers wouldn't care to duplicate 12 splits, two errors, not a double. Boy, what a night!

Gail Fargo got four strikes in a row his second game, and another thing, Gail had the only errors made by his team that game. Two of them. At that, 915 wasn't so bad for their second game.

No games in the City league. Sawfaway didn't appear.

1936 RELIEF COST TOTALS $148,909

Cash Spent in County Shows $115,573 Distributed For Old Age Help

During 1936 $148,909.39 was spent for relief in Twin Falls county, a report compiled today under direction of H. H. Burkhardt, county supervisor, shows. Of this amount $115,573.50 was disbursed to social security assistance clients and $33,155.89 to direct relief clients, through monthly grants, the report reveals.

The direct relief figures in the report pertain to the entire year of 1936 while the social security was expended during the last 11 months of the year. The benefits not being obtainable until February of 1936, Mr. Burkhardt points out.

Age Pensions Lead

Of the total disbursed in the county under social security during the year, the report shows, $74,461.50 was for old age assistance, totaling 3,921 grants. The county's share of this amount was $24,410.27; the state, $24,820.48; and the federal government, $37,550.75.

Assistance to the blind of the county during the period covered by the report amounted to $3,733, totaling 181 grants. Of this amount the county paid $626.34; the state, $1,244.32; and the federal government, $1,862.34.

Dependent children assisted totaled $37,559 in 1,351 grants. Of this the county paid $12,519.44; the state $12,319.73; and the federal government, $12,719.83.

Direct Relief

Direct relief funds totaling $33,155.89 were disbursed to 1,558 unemployed during the year. This class includes persons unable to work but not eligible for social security assistance, officials point out.

This direct relief cost, born entirely by the state and including the state's share of social security assistance, brought the total expended by the state during the period in Twin Falls county to $71,740.42, the report shows.

MAN'S DOMINANCE MENACED BY FEMININE RISE TO POWER DECLARES FAMOUS DOCTOR

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN (N.E.A. Service)

NEW YORK — The men folk had better step spryly to regain ground lost to women, says Dr. Joseph Tenenbaum. That is, if they want to keep any rights at all for themselves—a latch key, a little loose change in their pockets, some "say" in the matter of where Junior is going to school and whom Daughter shall marry, the of the family car now and then, and maybe an occasional night out with the "boys."

Otherwise, thinks Dr. Tenenbaum, America is likely to see a return to the Age of the Amazons.

Distinguished in medical, educational and literary circles, Dr. Tenenbaum has given years of research to the subject of women's social and economic position, through the ages. He undertook this study in preparation for his book, "The Riddle of Woman."

The doctor is quick to explain that, though woman is a riddle and probably will remain one, he doesn't pretend to have found the answer.

Marriage Manifestations

"At the late times are going today," he says, "it seems inevitable that men will soon do little more than take orders. It happened 2,000 years ago in Egypt. Why shouldn't it happen again? Women had all the rights then. They made the laws, carried on the business, wore plain clothes and cut their hair short."

The men stayed at home and got themselves up in fine costumes. Right now, in 1936, says Dr. Tenenbaum, if you "were to visit the right part of the world, you could find in practice today practically every type of marriage and family life that history has known."

For Instance:

In Sumatra when a man buys a wife, she and her children become his property, subject to inheritance by his heirs.

In Samoa the husband is an absolute bond slave of his mother-in-law.

Among the Tuaregs a man's property and titles are handed down, not to his children, but to his sister's children.

In Ceylon it is customary for one wife to have from four to six husbands—often brothers.

One Sex Enslaves Other

Dr. Tenenbaum points out that, one sex can never dominate unless the other, automatically, becomes enslaved. That is why he thinks the situation is serious for the United States today.

"Our grandmothers," he says, "were not so free as women are today, but what they had was assurance. They could inspire their husbands, give them courage, and nowdays women do not have that assurance and they can not give it to men."

The woman who lives in luxury, with nothing to do all day, and the woman who drives herself, trying to earn a living and at the same time keep a home, are equal problems to society, according to the doctor.

"One becomes an Amazon," he says, "and the other a nagger." Between these extremes there must be, Dr. Tenenbaum thinks, a "happy medium"—something between a career and a career.

Dr. Tenenbaum would like to see the courses in every public school to train young people for marriage.

"The schools," he says, "teach girls how to make a living, but never how to make a home. They are adding yearly to the increasing number of spinsters. Marriage is the biggest, most difficult job in the world, yet girls are given no preparation at all for it."

Men Need Home Life

When Dr. Tenenbaum speaks of the home he becomes particularly earnest.

"Home life," he says, "has suffered and is suffering, and we see the consequences everywhere. Men, with all the substitutes they can get elsewhere, need a home, a place to relax, where there is someone to understand and encourage them.

"Broken homes provide, not only children for penal institutions, but men and women to fill institutions for the insane. The increase in insanity today is astounding. Women lack adjustment to their surroundings, lack a feeling of security. Men lack security, too, because they can't come home and relax."

"We must find a way to benefit from the advantages and freedom we have today, and, at the same time, preserve the best of the old institutions. I do not mean that women should go back to baking bread and doing their own washing. What is important is that a means shall be found to preserve the spirit of the past."

TIP FROM NAPOLEON

SWIMMER

LONDON, Jan. 14 (U.P.)—Frederick Green, owner of a public house, faced a three-month wait today before he could obtain a court verdict on his contention that he was justified in diving into a municipal baths swimming tank without looking.

A jury disagreed yesterday in his suit yesterday against the mayor and corporation responsible for the baths, and three months must elapse before a new trial.

Green left the steam room and dived into the swimming tank. It proved to be empty. Attendants found him severely injured.

The defense was that Green should have looked before he dived.

His argument was that he was justified in jumping because there always had been water in the tank before, and that even if he had looked he could have seen nothing because steam obscured the water.

Slander Suit Filed

By Earnest Simpson
 LONDON, Jan. 14 (U.P.)—A most reliable source confirmed today that legal proceedings which Ernest Simpson started to defend his name in connection with the divorce which Mrs. Wallis Simpson obtained were commenced about a week or ten days ago.

Simpson filed a slander suit against Mrs. Joan Sutherland, wife of Lieut. Col. Arthur Sutherland. The suit was based on a remark, said to have been made at a luncheon at which Mrs. Sutherland was present, which alleged that Simpson was "well paid" for permitting the divorce.

The United Press informant said today that it was possible the case might be settled out of court.

PRICE OF WHEAT CLOSES LOWER

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (U.P.)—Wheat prices moved lower on the Chicago board of trade today as a result of scattered but persistent selling by local longs while corn, oats and soybeans sold at the highest levels of the season.

At the close wheat was 7/8 to 1 1/2 cents lower, May $1.33 3/4; new corn was unchanged, May $1.11 1/2, old corn was up 1/2 to 3/4 cent, May $1.09 1/2, and oats were off 1/4 to 1/2 cent, May 61 1/2 cent.

Trading in all grains was light and restricted mostly to local operators. Corn rallied after an easier opening on a small volume of buying and highest prices since April, 1928, were marked up. The market appeared to be congested, owing to light offerings. Heaviness in wheat had a depressing effect on corn and at the close the yellow cereal had lost part of its early gains.

Weakness in Liverpool brought out selling of wheat at the opening but a subsequent upturn in the British market and strength in corn encouraged local bulls to the extent that part of the initial losses were erased by mid-session. The rally brought out new selling, however, and prices fell back again with the deferred months showing net losses of about a cent a bushel.

A NUMBER OF AMERICAN PRISONERS STILL REMAIN IN GERMANY! THEY ARE HORSES, CAPTURED FROM THE A. E. F. DURING THE WAR.

IN THE UNITED STATES... THE AVERAGE PERSON WHO LIVES TO BE 70 YEARS OF AGE, HAS LESS THAN ONE CHANCE IN 1,000 OF BEING BITTEN BY A SNAKE, AND LESS THAN ONE CHANCE IN 25,000 OF DYING IF HE IS BITTEN.

A GRAY PARROT

HAS BEEN KNOWN TO REACH THE AGE OF 100 YEARS! IT LOST ITS MEMORY AT 90!

Figures gathered by an animal laboratory show that about 300 persons in the United States are bitten each year by snakes, but the unreported cases are believed to be several times this number. Most of the unreported bites were by copperheads, with Texas rattlers second, timber rattlers third, and water moccasins fourth.

There's No Grudge In These Jury Selections

Nobody's Picking On You Arbitrarily If You're Summoned; It's Fair And Square Civic Proposition

When they put you on that jury list, the Twin Falls county commissioners didn't have a grudge against you nor were they trying to hand you a $4-per-day plum.

And when the county clerk, sheriff and probate judge pulled your name out of a box, it might have been that of any of several thousand other male citizens who voted in the last general election.

These facts, for the benefit of any doubting citizens, were explained today after first-hand witnessing of the process that resulted in the Wednesday call for the first 40 veniremen at the present session of district court.

Draw 300 For Year

The commissioners draw approximately 300 names from the poll lists of county voters who exercised their right of franchise at the last general election. Chairman James L. Barnes said today. The board must select not less than 50 for each of the five terms of court, and the other 50 forms a margin of safety in cases of excusals, illness and death. Mr. Barnes, George R. Hart and Robert Ray each compiled a third of the list yesterday from the voters in their respective districts.

The list is drawn in such a way as to form a complete turnover from last year's juryman. Next step Wednesday was placing of each venireman's name on a separate slip of paper. These were folded, put in a box and thoroughly mixed. Then came the formal drawing of the first 40 ordered by Judge

Adam B. Barclay for start of jury trials Monday. Paul Gordon, deputy county clerk, drew the names from the box; Probate Judge Guy W. Kenney read these aloud, and Sheriff E. F. Prater recorded them. The ceremony is held in the county clerk's office.

And That's It

Thereafter the men selected were informed by letter and the wheels of justice for the first January session of district court were ready to turn.

Judge Barclay grants reasonable excusals to any men whose presence is imperative at business or farms at the time they are summoned. The commissioners said. These, however, remain on the list for future call during the year. The commissioners also use reasonable discretion in drawing up the original lists from the polling poll files, but there is nothing arbitrary about the system.

Qualifications of jurymen are exhaustively outlined under Idaho statutes, which also lists exemptions. Chief among those who are exempt are employees of federal and state governments, lawyers, clergymen, teachers, doctors, mail carriers, express agents, dispensing druggists, employees of charitable institutions, railroad workers, and several other classifications.

Their Pay

The jurymen's pay? It's $1 daily when called to court and while serving. They draw mileage once when they're originally called in. They receive a day's pay each time they are summoned by the court, even though they are excused that day and ordered to report later.

Ten-Year Program Aims At One In Each Four Youths as 4-Year Scout

The objective of the 10-year Scout program, which will conclude in 1942, is to have one in every four new male citizens a four-year Scout. I. E. Joslyn, Scoutmaster for the Snake river area council, Boy Scouts of America, said here today.

In this council, Mr. Joslyn said, about 1,000 boys are coming of Scout age each year. By 1938 it will be necessary to enroll 50 per cent of these, or 500 boys in Scouting. Out of this 500 it is expected to have 250 still on the rolls in 1942.

Completes Summary

Mr. Joslyn announced completion of a detailed summary of all the county school census in this area showing the number of each age group from eight to 18. Also, in each county, the number of boys actually in scouting in the respective area is listed.

The information contained in the report will be available at the regular meeting of the organization tomorrow night at the Park hotel. Thirty-six Scouts became four-year members at the close of 1936, Mr. Joslyn said, and have re-registered for 1937.

These Scouts, their troop numbers, and their rank follow:

Do We Have Bargains Or Do We?

Just Read the Following and Decide for Yourself:

A few days ago a gentleman came in looking for a 0x12 Wilton rug and some heavy-weight linoleum. He looked them over and when we told him that the linoleum was only 77¢ per sq. yd. and that he could have the Wilton rug for only $39.00 he decided pretty quick where he was buying. After he had written us the check he was kind enough to tell us that our price on that weight linoleum was the best he had found and that for a 0x12 Wilton rug of the same grade, the best price in town was $60.00. A saving of $21.00 on the rug and $2.00 on the linoleum. Not bad for a half day's work.

Later a lady came in and priced our mattresses but insisted on shopping around before she decided, but she came back after an hour and bought our mattress, 53-lb. one, with felted cotton, roll edges, and quilted for only $8.00. She told us that the best price she had found for such a mattress was $10.95 and this was a special "sale price."

And so it goes! We could relate dozens of similar cases. If we have what you need we guarantee that we will save you money. Right now we are a little overstocked on furniture and are making unusually good bargains in preparation for the coming hatching season. Why not take advantage of the situation and make some real savings like others are doing.

KICK-OFF DINNER TO START DRIVE

Membership Campaign Planned For Projected Concert Series Here

Plans were going forward for a "kick-off" dinner to be held Jan. 25 at the Park hotel to inaugurate the drive for membership subscriptions for the concert series planned for February, March and April. Mrs. D. L. Alexander, president of the Twin Falls Community Concert association, announced today.

All membership workers, now numbering about 40, are invited to attend the dinner. It is stated, Mrs. J. A. Johnson is in charge of arrangements.

Representative Coming
David Ferguson, representative of the Columbia Broadcasting system, now in Idaho Falls, conducting a campaign similar to the one projected here, will be present. He will be in Twin Falls next week to assist in preparations for the drive.

Also expected are representatives from rural communities and towns within a 50-mile radius of Twin Falls.

Memberships to be sold during the campaign will insure admission to all concerts offered in the series and will be the only tickets sold. There will be no single admissions offered, sponsors state.

Artists engaged will depend on the number of memberships secured in the drive. The plan is now in operation in Boise and Pocatello and is being started this year in Idaho Falls.
