Mattson Slayer Believed Hiding In Everett Area

Clothes Found In Nearby Shack

By WILLIS DUNIWAY

EVERETT, Wash., Jan. 15 (UP)—Belief that the kidnap-slayer of 10-year-old Charles Mattson still is hiding in the vicinity of Everett increased today as investigators accumulated new evidence indicating that virtually all phases of the crime occurred near this city.

Pieces of clothing, believed to have been worn by the Tacoma schoolboy when he was stolen from his home Dec. 27, today were included with an abandoned automobile and a machinist's hammer as the three most important clues yet discovered since the boy's frozen body was found in a snow-drifted field six miles south of here.

As G-men received reports of numerous arrests of "suspects" throughout the west, they admitted that more than one person was involved in the crime.

Found In Shack—The clothes, which today spurred investigators to new vigilance in their manhunt, were found in an abandoned shack five miles south of Everett near the Edmonds-Beverly park road, which runs past the field where the youth's body was found.

A searching party of state patrolmen found the shack while engaged in a foray south and west of the field. A guard was placed around the building and federal agents examined it for further possible clues.

At the same time it was reported a package of men's clothing which may have been worn by the man who kidnaped and bludgeoned the boy to death also was found in the shack.

Car Gives Clues—The suspected car provided several clues which investigators were checking closely. These included a scrap of paper, believed part of a certificate of registration stolen from the car of G. E. Parriah of Arlington, Wash., and a woman's handkerchief lipstick and a flashlight bulb.

These articles were impounded with the car in the basement of the city police station.

Meanwhile, suspects were taken into custody at Casper, Wyo., and at Sacramento, Calif. At Casper, a hitch-hiker, supposedly bearing a "marked resemblance" to the kidnap-slayer was taken into custody.

The man gave his name as Edward Wachowicz, of Saginaw, Mich. and said he had just come from San Francisco, where he had visited his wife. He was fingerprinted and questioned by police who said his story "did not check in many details," and that he was (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

NEW YORK MOB ASKS LYNCHING—The 33-year-old porter pleaded not guilty to an indictment that he struck the pretty college graduate with a hammer and strangled her after she caught him attempting to rob her apartment. Judge Charles S. Golden fixed February 1 for his trial.

As Greene was led from the county court building to the jail across the street, between 70 and 80 persons, mostly women, surged forward, screaming imprecations. The Negro tried to cover his head with his free arm as the crowd flailed at him with sticks, umbrellas, and pocketbooks.

"Lynch him!" its members shouted.

New Hunger March Starts At Capitol—WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—The 21st annual "hunger marches" since the beginning of the Roosevelt administration got underway today as more than 2,000 banner-waving, shouting and cheering WPA workers and jobless petitioned through a downpour to present petitions to the White House and the capitol.

The demonstrators, mostly members of the Workers Alliance from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other eastern cities, died here and work appropriation of $1,000,000.

POLICE HUNT FOR FORMER CONVICT

California Woman Positively Identifies Haynes As Cottage Renter

SEATTLE, Jan. 15 (UP)—Fred Orrin Haynes, former California convict, sought for questioning in connection with the kidnap-slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, walked into a Seattle police station today and calmly announced he was "not connected with the case."

SAN JOSE, Jan. 15 (UP)—State police and G-men today started an intensive search for Fred Orrin Haynes, California ex-convict, after Mrs. Melvin Smith, wife of a Palo Alto paper company executive "positively" identified him as the man who rented a cottage 15 miles from the snow-covered field near Everett, Wash., where the body of Charles Mattson, kidnap victim, was found.

Mrs. Smith made her identification through photographs of Haynes published in connection with another investigation undertaken by federal agents who sought him because "of a Los Angeles" boast that he "planned a snatch for $20,000 or $30,000."

Accompanied by Woman—She said Haynes, accompanied by a woman and driving a blue or black sedan, rented the cottage during the middle of December and paid rent until Dec. 28.

When the Dec. 28 bill fell due, she said friends informed her that the couple had disappeared. The Mattson boy was taken from his home Dec. 27.

The Smith cottage is located on the Everett-Smith highway six miles north of Seattle.

Mrs. Smith said friends told her that the couple built a barbecue pit in the rear yard, fitting stones with blue clay resembling the type found under the fingernails of the slain youth.

She said that the couple seemed well supplied with money. The man spoke with a foreign accent.

Oddities—CATS—ARAVACA, Spain, Jan. 15 (UP)—Although there were plenty of hungry dogs yapping at the heels of the insurgent troops when they took Aravaca, there were no signs of cats, they reported.

The insurgent soldiers said they came upon an abandoned fascist cook wagon beside which were the heads of a dozen cats.

BANDIT—SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 15 (UP)—A young bandit stepped up to the box office of the Capitol theater here last night, gave Theda Barabash, washier, a note demanding "money or your life," then politely bowed and moved aside to permit customers to purchase tickets.

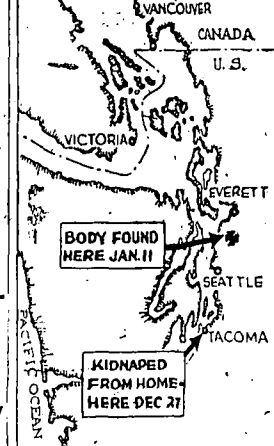

Miss Bradshaw read the note and sold the tickets at the same time. Then she reached for a telephone. The young man waggled his finger reprovingly, she subsided, and handed over $25 in currency. The bandit tipped his hat and fled.

FOURTH—OLIVE HILL, Ky., Jan. 15 (UP)—The fourth set of twins was born to Mrs. Dennis Sammons, two miles from here. The latest arrivals, born yesterday, are boys and are "doing nicely."

INVITATION—WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—President Roosevelt's invitation to Sir Walter Runciman, member of the British cabinet, to spend the Jan. 23 weekend at the White House caused speculation today whether he intended to discuss with his guest a possible anglo-American trade treaty.

Runciman is aboard the liner One of the "hunger marches" since the beginning of the Roosevelt administration got underway today as more than 2,000 banner-waving, shouting and cheering WPA workers and jobless petitioned through a downpour to present petitions to the White House and the capitol.

Man Hunt

Radiating from the territory shown in the map above, a man-hunt unequaled since the Lindbergh kidnaping continues by federal and state authorities after the battered body of Charles Mattson, 10, below, was found in a snowdrift, 60 miles north of Tacoma, 15 days before his abduction 15 days before.

ECONOMY HEADS CONFUSE PLANS

Outlook Obscure for Change In Government Executive Branch

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—Uncertainty among President Roosevelt's advisers and congressional leaders about concrete economies possible under government reorganization today further obscured the outlook for fundamental change in the executive branch of government.

From many quarters has been heard talk about hopes for economies since Mr. Roosevelt's reorganization plan was submitted to congress this week. But it has been in confusingly general terms.

Mr. Roosevelt and his own reorganization committee do not agree on economy. In two press conferences Mr. Roosevelt has emphasized that his principal objective is efficient government and that scant economy would flow from his reorganization plan.

More Optimistic—The three experts who drafted the program submitted to congress were more optimistic in their report, which the President endorsed, they said.

"We are convinced that the establishment of the managerial agencies and the reorganization of the administrative departments that we have recommended will result in large savings not only of money but of time and effort."

There is no certainty whether Mr. Roosevelt undertook reorganization for both economy and efficiency and later was persuaded small economies would result, or whether he merely prefers to em-

GERMANY, ITALY TO CONTINUE AID OF NATIONALISTS

Goering, Mussolini Agree To Send Men, Armaments To Spain

PLAN CLOSE COOPERATION

No Attempt Will Be Made To Speed Anti-Intervention Agreement

ROME, Jan. 15 (UP)—Italy and Germany are prepared to send as many as 100,000 men to aid Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel commander-in-chief in Spain, if Moscow does not abandon its alleged project to Communize Spain, according to reports in diplomatic circles tonight.

The reports were circulated as Premier Benito Mussolini and Gen. Hermann Goering, right-hand man of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, finished the second day of a four day conference.

ROME, Jan. 15 (UP)—Col. Gen. Hermann Goering, Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's right hand man, and Premier Benito Mussolini have agreed to continue aiding the Spanish nationalists with men and material until a possible new non-intervention agreement has been effected, it was understood today.

It was said their view was that there was a chance of a definite turn in the nationalists' favor soon and that the nationalists might capture Madrid before a new non-intervention agreement was accepted, as it must be by all nations which have been aiding either nationalists or loyalists.

To Give Answer—It was reported that Italy and Germany would give Great Britain an answer to its non-intervention proposals which would be favorable in principle but qualified with application of any plan contingent on general acceptance and loyal application by all interested nations.

Pending any agreement, it was said, both countries would rush men and materials to the nationalists. Goering and Mussolini were reported to have agreed that their support of the nationalists must continue until Madrid was captured and that therefore they did not intend to yield to any pressure to hasten a non-intervention agreement.

FRENCH APPOINT U.S. AMBASSADOR

Former Cabinet Member To Negotiate for Debt Settlement

PARIS, Jan. 15 (UP)—George Bonnet, former cabinet member, told the United Press today he had decided to accept Premier Leon Blum's offer of the ambassadorship to Washington to negotiate a new settlement of the French war debt to the United States.

Bonnet will succeed Ambassador Andre de LaBoulaye for his special war debt mission.

Washington recently indicated the government there preferred a French ambassador not limited to six months for the debt mission, thereby eliminating the necessity of rushing an agreement.

It was understood here that President Roosevelt plans to take the initiative in a new Anglo-Franco-American monetary and economic "gentlemen's agreement," which may be extended to include Germany and Italy.

Continued Snow May Tie Up Traffic Here

Heavy snow, which threatens to tie up traffic and block many roads in the district, was forecast to continue tonight and Saturday after an early morning start today.

A fairly strong wind accompanied the fall and by noon today three inches of new snow covered the ground in Twin Falls.

weather observes report. Wednesday night and Thursday morning a storm left two inches on the ground.

Warnings urging citizens to use caution in driving in the city because of poor visibility and excessively slippery streets, were issued today by offices of the police and sheriff's forces.

Open But Hazardous—Both state highways, and highways maintained by the Twin Falls highway district, were reported open this afternoon but motorists were urged to use caution in traveling over them. Officials asked motorists not to venture on the highways unless it was necessary until the intensity of the storm is ascertained.

Two district plows were dispatched to Murtough this morning to clear small drifts from the previous storm, and as a precaution against blocked roads because of today's fall. A heavy snow was reported falling at Shoshone this morning.

Amos Eckert, state game warden, in a telephone conversation with the Evening Times today, urged farmers and other citizens to spread feed on top of the snow (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

Thousands of Dollars Damage Estimated As Rains Swell Rivers

FLOODS SWEEP MIDDLE STATES

By United Press

Floods swept over sections of five states today, forcing hundreds of farm families to flee from their homes and causing damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Near zero weather increased suffering in some areas. Streams, fed by prolonged precipitation and melting ice, spilled from their banks and inundated thousands of acres of farm land in eastern Missouri, northern Kentucky, southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Wade Ankle-Deep—Farm families, including children with threadbare clothes and tattered shoes, waded ankle-deep in water and mud escaping from lowland homes. River dwellers watched helplessly as flood waters surged into their homes, destroying their meager possessions. Pneumonia and influenza epidemics were an added menace. Relief agencies prepared to help refugees.

Unfall continued in five states where tributaries of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers passed flood stage. The U. S. weather bureau forecast rain for Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois today, for Missouri tomorrow. Government officials in St. Louis and Memphis issued flood warnings.

Flood Scare—Swollen rivers in western Pennsylvania forced some to leave their homes. The worst flood scare was in the vicinity of Sharon, Pa. The Shenango river forced suspension of operations at several small manufacturing plants and caused a number of families to leave their homes at Wheatland, Pa.

Killed In Fall—MARE ISLAND, Calif., Jan. 15 (UP)—Lieut. Commander William E. Land, 51, of the U. S. S. Argonne, died in the Mare Island navy hospital today from injuries suffered when he tripped and fell 40 feet into a drydock here yesterday.

His wife arrived from her home at San Pedro and was at his bedside when he died.

EARTHQUAKE—LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (UP)—An earthquake shook sections of Los Angeles shortly after 10:30 a.m. (PST) today but was not heavy enough to cause damage here. The Carnegie seismological laboratory in Pasadena said the shock apparently was local.

GROWERS STRIKE AT NEW TREATY

Wool Men In Convention At Pocatello Against Ratification

POCATELLO, Jan. 15 (UP)—Speakers at the Idaho Woolgrowers' convention today struck against ratification of a proposed Argentine reciprocity treaty by the United States government.

Hoof and mouth disease among cattle, sheep and game, was eradicated only after an embargo had been placed against Argentine imports in 1930, they pointed out.

Promise of cooperation of the sheepowners with any reasonable program for wildlife conservation was given by T. C. Bacon, president, opening the association's annual two-day meeting.

A bright outlook for Idaho's $50,000,000 wool industry was seen by John T. Caine, III, of the Chicago union stockyards. Other speakers voiced a demand for retention of present tariffs on lamb and wool imports.

"The United States is on a parity with other nations at the present time, but with an increase in prices here, the American market will be flooded by foreign products," said M. C. Clear, Boise, secretary.

Six Killed When Pipe Line Explodes—PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18 (UP)—SIX PERSONS were killed last night when a Gulf Refining company pipeline exploded near Strang, 10 miles northeast of here. It was learned today when communication lines, disrupted by a sleet storm, were restored.

CHAMBER DINNER PLANS ARRANGED

Formulation of final plans for the Monday night dinner which will inaugurate the Chamber of Commerce membership drive was carried out today by the chamber's directors at their weekly luncheon meeting.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Monday at the chamber's headquarters. President R. J. Schwendlin will preside, and chamber leaders will explain the membership campaign.

The directors deferred action today on the suggestion for a larger airport site, than the present 240 acres, purchase of which has already been authorized.

CIO CHIEFS ASK FOR SETTLEMENT

Murray Leaves for Pittsburgh To Negotiate With Glass Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, is seeking settlement of labor controversies that have tied up 85 per cent of the huge glass industry, it was understood today.

Philip Murray, CIO leader, was reported preparing to leave for Pittsburgh to negotiate an agreement between the management and the flat glass workers. Strikes have been in progress in plants of the Pittsburgh plate glass and Libbey-Owens-Ford companies, curtailing activities in several major automobile manufacturing concerns.

Resumption of glass output would permit Ford and Chrysler and other independent manufacturers to restore full time production, and thus strengthen Lewis' hand in the General Motors negotiations. His strategy has been to curtail General Motors activities while paralyzing its competitors to operate at full speed. The glass strike, however, has interfered with the plan.

Murray refused to comment on the report.

John P. Frey, president of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor, repeated his warning that the 17 craft unions would not allow Lewis' organization to speak for them in collective bargaining. He said the policy would be maintained in any future strikes called by the CIO as well as in the General Motors situation.

Answers Charges—His statement was viewed as an answer to Lewis' charges in the United Mine Workers journal that A. F. of L. craft unions were "scabbing" by ordering members to return to work in factories closed by CIO industrial union strikes.

Lewis was particularly embittered because of the effect of such a position on the demand of the United Automobile Workers—CIO affiliate that it be recognized as the sole bargaining agent of the 211,000 General Motors employees.

Chicago Banker Discloses He Is Death Valley Scotty's "Mine"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (UP)—Death Valley Scotty's mysterious source of wealth, which his estranged wife seeks to tap in a separate maintenance action, today was disclosed to be Albert M. Johnson, retired Chicago millionaire.

Johnson claimed that he has been supplying Scotty—whose real name is Walter E. Scott—with funds for more than 30 years.

"He repays me in laughter," Johnson declared. "I've paid his bills for years—and liked it."

The suit for separate maintenance and $1,000 a month alimony was filed recently by Mrs. Ella Josephine Scott who claimed Scotty was worth more than $1,000,000 but sent her only $50 a month.

Hasn't a Dime—"Scotty hasn't a dime to my knowledge," the banker said. "He owns a gold mine as Mrs. Scott claims, I don't know anything about it. All I know is that I have lent him a great deal of money over a 30-year period."

GERMANY, ITALY TO CONTINUE AID

Goering, Mussolini Agree To Send Men, Armaments To Spain

Spain for Spain

It was reported that Italy continued to send volunteers without interruption and one informant alleged that 2,000 men sailed from Naples two nights ago, ostensibly for East Africa but really to Spain.

It was indicated that Italy and Germany might agree to cease their aid to nationalists—but would continue it until there was a binding agreement against aid by all major powers.

Reports seemed to agree that Goering and Mussolini decided that a friendly attitude ought to be shown toward Britain, to promote the possibility of a German-British understanding and to weaken the present close cooperation of France and Britain.

It was reported also that the two conferees hoped it might be possible to persuade Britain to join their countries in combating the idea of establishment of a Communist base of operations in Spain, perhaps through a separatist Catalanian government.

Closer Cooperation

It was understood that Goering and Mussolini agreed, in conversation yesterday, to work out a plan for closer Italian-German cooperation and particularly for the exchange of Italian fats and lards for German steel and machinery.

Goering was reported to have told Mussolini that Germany needed fats badly and would take all Italy could spare in return for metals which Italy could use for armaments.

The agreement was expected to be secret. But it was reported that included would be arrangements for Germany's participation in the exploitation of Ethiopia.

TWO GROUPS WILL CONSIDER CRASH

Air Commerce Chief, Coroner To Hold Investigations Of Accident

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP)—Two investigations into the Western air express plane crash which claimed two lives were held in abeyance today pending recovery of Pilot W. W. Lewis, who panicked the huge plane into a mountainside.

Lewis was reported vastly improved but physicians would not say whether he was strong enough to tell investigators about the accident in which Martin James A. Braden, Cleveland ink manufacturer were killed.

Major R. W. Schroeder, chief of the department of commercial air inspection service, was expected to take charge of the questioning following his arrival today.

Coroner to Question

The other investigation will be conducted by Coroner Frank Nance who said he hoped to question both Lewis and Co-Pilot C. T. Owens, still in a serious condition. He said he would summon a jury of aviation experts, as he did in the case of the recent United Airlines crash which took 12 lives, to hear testimony.

Of the 11 injured in last Tuesday's crash, Co-Pilot Owens was reported in the most critical condition. He has been given two blood transfusions.

Mrs. Osa Johnson was considered recovering sufficiently from her injuries yesterday to be informed of her husband's death. She was comforted by the arrival of her mother, Mrs. Belle Lighty, of Chanute, Kan.

PIONEER'S RITES SET FOR SUNDAY

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Fred Chapman, her husband, and a nephew, Lynn LaMunyon, who will accompany the body here. She also leaves five grandchildren. A son, Don Burnside, died several years ago.

SUIT SEEKS BAN ON WATER MOVE

Canal Company Asks Revoking Of Order On Rock Creek Diversion Plan

Determined effort to block one of the suggested but unapproved plans for a new water supply for Twin Falls had been undertaken in district court today by the Twin Falls Canal company.

The company filed an appeal against Reclamation Commissioner R. W. Faris' order of Nov. 16 giving Raymond J. Huff, Seattle, permission to use 200 second feet of Rock creek water for pumping and power purposes.

Huff planned to use the power generated by a Rock creek diversion dam to pump a new city water supply over Snake canyon rim. He presented his plan to the city council last November but no official approval was granted.

The appeal by the canal company, filed by J. R. Bothwell, legal counsel for the firm, asks that the Faris order approving Huff's plea be set aside. Among the reasons outlined for protesting the permit were the facts that Twin Falls has the sole right to make use of the waters affected in Huff's request and that Huff has no beneficial interest therein; that Rock creek waters at the point of proposed diversion are not public and are not subject to state control; that the proposed plan would not be a beneficial use recognized by the Idaho constitution or statutes, and that the application was not made in good faith but aims at speculative purposes.

SEARCH GOES ON FOR BOY SLAYER

Killer Relieved Hiding In Everett Territory; Old Clothes Found

At Sacramento police held a 26-year-old former inmate of a Washington state hospital for the insane. Capt. Fritz Kaminsky said the man's description "closely resembled" that of the suspected slayer. Officers said the man admitted knowing Dr. William W. Mattson, father of the slain boy, as a physician who had attended him.

He was arrested in a Sacramento hotel after bank officials became suspicious of his "nervousness" when he deposited $80. A bank clerk noticed a scratch on his face. At the police station, the man denied any knowledge of the crime.

Bloody Handkerchief

At Ritzville, Wash., 70 miles southwest of Spokane, police held a man identified as Wilbur Porter, 41, as a "suspect." Officers said he admitted being in Seattle, Tacoma and Everett recently. Chance Reunites Twin Falls Man And His Sister

Because Jesse Kinchelove went looking for a room in a boarding house at Yakima, Wash., he found his sister whom he hadn't seen for 18 years. He had passed up the boarding house once and then came back to it by chance the next day.

She Puzzled Him

The woman informed him that he could have a room and his meals free of charge as long as he wanted them. That puzzled Kinchelove still more. "Don't you recognize me?" the woman asked.

"Your face seems familiar," said Kinchelove, "but I don't know where I've seen you."

"Maybe I'm mistaken," she answered. "But your name is Jesse Kinchelove, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"I won't say who I am until you figure it out," she told him.

"Then I've Saw Light."

And then the Twin Falls man, harking back to other days in Kansas, set the light.

"You couldn't be my sister Grace could you?"

And that's who it was, as Sheriff E. F. Prater told the story today.

Kinchelove also found, at Yakima, a niece he hadn't seen since she was a child. She is married now to a Yakima deputy sheriff, he said.

She also leaves her husband, three small children, a sister, Mrs. Iva Hjalock, Hollywood, Calif., and two brothers, Floyd and Corwin Silva, Shoshone.

Seen Today

Man pausing in store doorway to wipe snow off his glasses in order to see whither he goes. Boys throwing snowballs at three girls on Third west. Man wearing cowboy boots, having hard time making it across Shoshone-Main corner on those slippery iron gratings. Roy Painter explaining how he braved the cold in the Sawtooths and slept out in a sleeping bag in 20-below weather. Caloshos appearing on every side. Disappointed look on youngster's face after he walked goodly distance to Harfion park only to find ice skating impossible today. Proud father gallivanting around town announcing arrival of eight-month boy. Customer in theater eating popcorn and neglecting to remove his hat. Talented Twin Falls husband staying home and ironing shirts one of the few males who can do that task correctly. Advertising solicitor making his rounds on foot rather than driving the slippery streets. And the sleds coming out in profusion again.

Motors and Union Heads To Confer Monday Over Wages, Hours

Demands Considered

On January 4th the union issued a series of demand on General Motors. These demands, with the exception of one that the United Automobile Workers had to be recognized as the sole bargaining agency for the corporation employees, will be what Martin and Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors, talk about when they meet Monday.

They are:

- 1—That General Motors bargain with the union on a national basis rather than referring matters to individual plant managers.
- 2—Abolition of piece work.
- 3—A 30-hour week and minimum wages.
- 4—Reinstatement of all workers "unjustly discharged."
- 5—Seniority based upon length of service.
- 6—A mutual agreement upon speed of production.

The exact moment when the "sit-down" strikers march out of the plants has not been decided, Martin said.

"The men will not go out tomorrow," he added. "That we know. We will announce the time later."

He said mass meetings would be held at Flint—where the only bloodshed of the strike occurred—to inform union members of the terms of the truce. After these meetings, if the men are agreeable, the plants will be evacuated, he declared.

Murphy brought six men into his office at 11:20 a. m. yesterday. On the right side of his nine-foot mahogany desk he seated Knudsen, John Thomas Smith, general counsel of General Motors, and Donaldson Brown, chairman of the corporation's finance committee.

On the left of the desk were Martin; Wyndham Mortimer, vice president of the automobile union, and John Brophy, a director of John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization.

With only two brief respite for food, the ten men sat there through the morning, into the night and into another day.

SNOW FALL MAY CAUSE TIE-UP

Continued Fall Predicted For This District For Tomorrow

At Pioneer, five miles northwest of Rupert, a blizzard was reported yesterday afternoon. So intense was the storm in that immediate vicinity that children of the district attending school at Rupert were permitted to leave school and return to their homes before roads became impassable.

General weather conditions forced the indefinite postponement of the annual mid-winter Methodist young peoples institute set to get underway here tonight.

Heavy snows were falling at Sun Valley, Ketchikan and Halley. Starting yesterday evening, the storm continued through the night and was still "going strong" this afternoon, officials said.

In Twin Falls high temperature yesterday was 32 above while low for the same period was 20 above. Twenty-four above zero was low this morning, weather officials said. Precipitation for the twelve hours ending at noon today was .04 of an inch.

Throughout the city motorists today were finding driving difficult as the wet snow clung to windshields. Streets were exceptionally slippery.

Union Pacific and other stage lines were reported "on time" at noon today.

Traffic Officer Has Own Mishap As Car Explodes

State Traffic Officer Jesse Carlton reported an accident today.

Victim of the accident was State Traffic Officer Jesse Carlton.

He was taking a state beer night to Pocatello yesterday. Highway between Hart river and Massacre rocks, the overheated water and anti-freeze fluid "exploded" in the radiator of his police coupe. The explosion blew off the radiator cap and housing and jerked off the radiator shell brackets, Carlton said. The fluid promptly caught fire on car hood and motor but the officer put out the flames with a hand extinguisher.

Tossed belongings Out

His companion, meanwhile, had been hastily throwing their joint belongings out of the car's interior. They piled the belongings back in and had another machine push them to Massacre rocks service station, where they repaired the burned out wiring system with baling wire and other odds and ends. Carlton had his machine repaired at Pocatello and was back on duty here today.

Cause of the mishap, he reported, was the fact that the radiator overflow pipe became stopped up, and the motor heat created steam inside the cooling system.

GAME POSTPONED

RUPERT, Jan. 15 (Special)—The basketball game scheduled here with Filer tonight has been postponed due to illness of several members of the Filer team. Instead the varsity and junior varsity strings will play Declo teams.

THEATERS

AT IDAHO

Beginning today at the Idaho theater is the "Singing Cowboy" Dick Foran in "Trailing West" with Paula Stone, Robert Barrat, and Gordon Elliott. This picture is a thrilling melodrama of the west during the Civil war period when government and spies were on the watch to catch them. The program includes "Vigilantes," No. 10 novelty, Our Gang comedy and news. Coming Sunday at the Idaho theater is "Murder with Pictures" with Gail Patrick, Lew Ayres and Paul Kelly.

Orpheum Film Plays To Capacity Houses

Songs that cling to the ear, beautiful girls, elaborate spectacles, a plot brimming with laughs—topped by the sensational dancing star, Eleanor Powell—combine to make "Born to Dance," which is playing to capacity houses at the local Orpheum theater, the screen's most distinguished musical hit. The picture will close tomorrow night.

Following this success Sunday, the Orpheum will offer another different type of production, and as outstanding in its own classification as "Born to Dance," "The Garden of Allah" . . . filmed entirely in technicolor and starring Mariene Dietrich with Charles Boyer. "The Garden of Allah" is based on Robert Hichens' famous love story of the same name, presenting Miss Dietrich in color for the first time, as the beautiful Algerian desert to flee a new life and becomes involved in a strange and beautiful romance with the handsome, mysterious Boris An-drovsky, played by Mr. Boyer.

Kyne Story Comes To Roxy Theater

Peter B. Kyne, author of the gripping screen drama, "Valley of Wanted Men," which comes to the screen of the Roxy theater today and Saturday, is one of America's foremost writers of dramatic fiction.

Long a favorite of book-lovers, Kyne's new story deals with the desperate dash of three convicts following a prison-break and also points out equally as dramatically the careful and efficient way the law copes with the situation and trails the men down, though they be in trackless canyon country where every rock affords a shelter.

The cast boasts of such headliners as Frankie Darro, who is already known as one of the most talented of the younger actors; Roy Mason, Russell Hopton, Grant Withers, Bruce Leyton, Paul Fox, Walter Miller, "Snowflake," William Gould, Al Bridges, Jack Rockwell and Slim Whittaker.

ECONOMY HEADS CONFUSE PLANS

Chairman James P. Buchanan of the house appropriations committee also insists on reorganization economy, but so far has placed his objective at about 12 per cent of 1936 regular and recovery and relief expenditures—$50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Buchanan said much could be saved by abolishing 15 or 20 of the independent agencies, which have accumulated in the past 50 years.

The non-partisan Brookings institution proposed consolidation and liquidations of government agencies to save approximately $30,000,000 and will propose further savings and changes later. The $30,000,000 would be an economy of approximately 1/2 of 1 per cent of 1936 fiscal year expenditures.

Congressional discussion of reorganization has shifted to the senate which next will consider the house proposal for a joint congressional committee to consider reorganization proposals. The Byrd committee has recessed until after the inauguration.

DAMAGES SOUGHT IN CAR SEIZURES

Seattle Firm Asking $900.04 As Result of Detention Of Caravan Autos

Damages because of seizure of an automobile caravan on the north side were asked today in a $900.94 suit filed in district court by Gallagher, Inc., of Seattle, against executor of the G. G. Erickson estate. The executor are Marshall Chapman, Lem A. Chapin and Edward Lov.

Seizure of the 28-car caravan for three days at Jerome and Wendell was asserted made under a $1,530 judgment granted in district court here to the late Mr. Hendrickson, who had sued because of injuries received in an accident near Glenna Ferry the accident, which injured four local men, was alleged to have been caused by a caravan driver for the Gallagher Finance company in August of 1933.

In one other action involving the Gallagher concern, settlement has been entered in the court books yesterday, had named Capt. Porter and Sheriff E. F. Prater for seizure of an auto assembly, belonging to Gallagher, Inc. The car was held to satisfy judgment of $335 for personal injuries to Capt. Porter in the accident in which Mr. Hendrickson was also injured.

Twin Falls attorneys for Gallagher, Inc. are J. R. Bothwell and Harry Povey.

SOLONS ASK NEW LAWS AT SESSION

Bill Would Place Enforcement Of Liquor Laws Under Commission

BOISE, Jan. 15 (UP)—Enforcement of the state's liquor laws would be the direct responsibility of the Idaho liquor control commission under a bill introduced today in the house of representatives.

Early sessions of the Idaho legislature saw introduction of ten new bills in the house and two in the senate.

The liquor bill, introduced by Colver, Republican of Lincoln, would require all law enforcement agencies of cities, counties and the state to cooperate in enforcement of the law at the direction of the commission.

Insurance Fund
A state fire insurance fund to insure all state-owned buildings and other property and forbidding paying out of public money to private fire insurance companies was provided for in a bill introduced by Taylor, Andrus, Hershey, Curtis and Atkins.

Another bill would require valuation of mineral rights reserved in grants of land except by the state and federal governments to be assessed at $5 an acre. It was introduced by the mining committee.

Creation of a state highway patrol to be under the direction of the commissioner of public works was proposed by a senate bill introduced by Donart, Washington and Burtenshaw, Adams.

50 Patrolmen
The traffic force, to be made up of not more than 50 patrolmen, would be given powers of enforcing motor vehicle laws only.

The bill was understood to be a compromise between advocates of a strong state police system with power to apprehend criminals and the present system of control by county sheriffs of that phase.

Only other bill introduced at the senate's 15-minute session would require posting of notices regarding probating of estates on the front doors of probate courts.

Reduction Asked
A bill reducing from 90 to 30 days the time for appeals in criminal actions was recommended for passage by the judiciary committee while a similar proposition relating to civil actions was reported without recommendation.

Reported without comment by the insurance committee was a bill to place reciprocal insurance companies under the same state regulations as stock companies.

Prayer in Street Saves Three Killers

In a public demand that Governor Lehman stay the execution of six youths facing the electric chair for the death of Edwin Exposition, nearly 400 mothers and sympathizers knelt in the street outside the Lehman residence in New York City and pray. The governor, 125 miles away in Albany, commuted sentences of three of the youths to life imprisonment.

PWA CASH AIDS IDAHO SCHOOLS

Construction Starts On New Projects During First Half of Month

During the first two weeks of January actual construction was started at the building sites, despite unfavorable weather conditions, on $400,000 worth of new public works administration school building projects in Idaho, according to J. V. Otter, state director at Boise.

These projects, the statement said, included school buildings at Jerome, estimated to cost $85,455; Rupert, $61,818; Gooding, $80,909; Emmett, $63,636; Rathdrum, $70,000; Idaho Falls, $18,182; Hamer, $27,851.

The new grade school building at Jerome will provide 12 classrooms, library with book storage space, and principal's office. This building is of brick construction fire retardant type. Local school officials report that the old school accommodations for grade pupils were inadequate, and as a result rooms were crowded to the point where the health of students was jeopardized.

The Rupert school project consists principally of a modern steam heating plant to replace electric heating in the high school, and Lincoln elementary school building. The new heating plant will be housed in an addition to be constructed to the high school building, the second floor of which will provide three additional classrooms.

Eight classrooms and a large gymnasium-auditorium are provided in the new junior high school building at Gooding. Present school buildings there are inadequate and the new improvements will relieve the overcrowded school conditions.

RECOVERING

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 15 (UP)—John W. Cawley, who attempted to commit suicide and to chronicle his physical reactions to approaching death, probably will recover, his physician said today.

His physician believed Cawley will live to read the journal of suicide scrawled on hotel stationery. Fifteen minutes after Cawley took 15 times the normal dose of a drug, he reported his first reaction, authorities said.

"I feel only a slight numbness," he jotted down. "I notice my face is very flushed. Now my pulse is slow and very perceptible. My pupils are dilating.

"One hundred and fifty grains will do it. I wonder is it better or will my face be read. By the way, I'm not crazy—just discouraged."

PUBLIC FINANCES BEST IN HISTORY

Use of State Funds Has Been Life Blood, Says Condie

BOISE, Jan. 15 (UP)—As a result of operation of Idaho's school equalization law, public school finances in the state have never been better than at the present time, according to J. W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction.

However, additional state funds will be asked of the present legislature to further equalize educational opportunities an ito level off the spread in school tax levies among the counties.

The use of state funds for local school purposes has been the lifeblood, the salvation of rural schools, Condie said. "The equalization program works on the theory that valuable mining property or a railroad should contribute to the support of schools all over the state, not only in the county in which it is located."

Three Mill Levy
Under the plan all school districts are required to make an initial three-mill levy and are guaranteed $120 a month for each grade school classroom unit and $160 for a high school unit.

"If the three-mill levy raises $50 for each classroom in the district the state supplies $70 additional for grammar schools and $110 for high schools," Condie explained. "If the levy alone brings in more than the minimum guarantee, the state pays nothing."

The state money has "brought up the minimum" in education, permitting a child to get at least a decent education whether he lives in the most prosperous county or the one with the lowest assessed valuation, Condie said.

BOOST THE QUOTA, MR. HOPKINS

If the Twin Falls airport construction project is to handle the bulk of the winter job relief load here, the WPA quota apparently must be raised in Idaho.

The 7,000 jobs assigned to the state are full now, as local officials point out, and there are 173 certified WPA workers minus labor in Twin Falls today. They cannot be put on jobs unless the quota is raised. If the 7,000 limit is maintained, the airport project will absorb only those workers who are now actively on city street and sewer projects but who will be available when those projects are completed.

It will be vital to keep such men working, of course, but the others also must be taken care of.

The airport itself will mean much to Twin Falls, and will come to mean more as time goes on—especially if the suggestion for a larger tract is adopted by the Chamber of Commerce. That would insure facilities adequate for the future day when large airliners or mail planes may conceivably be halting here.

But the primary purpose of the construction this winter is to provide labor, since the federal allotment was given under W.P.A. solely a work-giving agency.

It is only logical, therefore, that the project be permitted to afford the maximum amount of labor.

Harry Hopkins, please note, the Bellemore, N. Y., family was started when a plane dropped in at the house. At that, however, it wasn't relatives.

MORE ABLE THAN A DICTATOR

President Roosevelt the other day sent an appeal to the governors of 19 states, urging ratification of the child labor amendment, and the sending of this appeal helps to illustrate the peculiar difficulty under which the leader of a democracy has to work.

Here we have a President who holds office by one of the most sweeping handshakes in all history. His party has a majority in Washington and in the 48 gubernatorial offices that is fairly top-heavy. The measure he is urging is an integral part of his program.

And yet the most he can do is appeal to the governors. He cannot command, he cannot pull strings that will make the law go through automatically; he had to ask the governors to ask their legislatures to act, and both governors and legislatures have a perfect right to turn him down if they feel like it.

That, of course, is just the way it should be. Anything less than that would not be democracy. But if you have ever felt that it takes an immensely able man to be a dictator, you might reflect that it takes a much abler man to head a democracy.

For the dictator simply decides what his policy is to be and issues the necessary orders to put it into effect. The head of a democracy cannot order; he must persuade.

The plain fact is that the dictator occupies a bed of roses compared with the chief of a democracy. It's a whole lot easier to command than it is to persuade.

Statistics reveal that lynching is becoming scarcer in America. Now if the swing had will only die down in music.

ADDED PUNISHMENT

The death penalty would seem to be the only adequate punishment for several grave crimes, but it does carry an element of mental suffering that is not bargained for when the courts impose the sentence.

This mental torture can be illustrated: The New York death house held, among others, six young men sentenced to death for a murder and robbery. On the day before the scheduled execution date, the warden entered the death house. Everyone knew that the governor had been urged to commute the sentences; with an agony of suspense, the six men waited to see which, if any, were the lucky men.

To three men he brought the news that meant life; to the other three he had nothing to say. Later that day a fourth commutation came in. The remaining two men, 24 hours later, were duly executed.

They doubtless deserved death for their crime, but it is those last unendurable hours even more than death that might restrain future criminals if the ordeal could only be dramatized in its grim reality.

6-men are so efficient that there may never be a regular "add-map note" section in the classified ads.

WHO WOULD FIGHT?

If the German-Italian plan for taking the danger of a world war out of the Spanish situation should be put into effect, one wonders just who would be left to do the actual fighting.

Under this plan, all soldiers but actual Spaniards would be taken out of the peninsula, leaving the Spaniards to fight it out among themselves.

But at present the best estimates have it that at least 50,000 foreigners are taking part in the fighting. The shock troops in the assault on Madrid are foreign; the best columns of the defending army are foreign; almost all the flyers on both sides are foreign.

REMARKS ANENT OUR LEGISLATURE

Gents red-faced and raucous—That's called a caucus.

"You'd me and this I'll do"—Log-rolling, to you.

Back-slapping hobbyist—Beware, he's a lobbyist.

Cigars and a quart—Committee, in short.

Now mix each ingredient—You get laws, when expedient.

In all, a strange mixture—But an old Yankee fixture!

—Professor Piff

DOES THIS STRIKE HOME OR DOESN'T IT?

Pot Shots:

There is a great deal of misapprehension about automobile windshield wipers. After my experience in Wednesday night's snow, I feel this matter should be cleared up.

Most people regard the windshield wiper as the instrument which cleans off the windshield. This, however, is only theoretical. In southern Idaho, rains come so seldom that the wiper gets old and lazy from lack of work. Then when winter comes, it can't get past the ice on the windshield.

Three-fourths of the time you aren't using the wiper. The other quarter you're climbing out of the car to give it a push and find out why the blankety-blank thing won't run.

If you can invent one that will do the job 100 per cent, you will be one of the few millionaires in Idaho.

I trust this clears the matter up. I have to stop now to get out and give my windshield wiper a shove.

—Theophilus Squirt

JUST LISTEN TO US ON THE HARD WORDS!

Say, Pal:

Wotan idea of bearing down so heavy on that word "Alabama" in the afternoon broadcast? You sorta rushed through the "Ala" part, then hopped in with both feet on "Barn" and eased off to ceiling zero on the "a."

Is it a new pronunciation or something?

—L. Lissen Inn

THAT'S SIT-DOWN AND A STRIKE, TOO!

Pot Shootings:

I might as well climb into this Pot Shots discussion of sit-down strikes, unless your wastebasket proves too handy.

The most striking (and I mean striking) example of a sit-down strike in Twin Falls, Pottso, is the fellow who slips on an icy sidewalk and sits down with a bang.

—The Goblin

DO RADIO ANNOUNCERS EVER GET THAT WAY?

Dear Pals:

I would like to say that among the folks who have a lot of fortitude under trouble and distress are the half dozen folks I know who periodically lose their voices under colds and throat afflictions.

And it's quite a trial, too, isn't it, Bill Eldridge?

—Tillinghast

P.S. But where it's really a trial, is when the voice-loser is a woman!

THAT ICE RINK

This ice-skating rink

Was a job of jobs; Worries came fast in very large gobs.

First it was kids' And now it's weather—Alas, Mr. Hopkin, Let's sigh together!

THEY DO KICK THE GENT AROUND A LOT!

The way the nations of the world keep shunting that poor old ex-Bolshevik, Trotsky, around from hither to yon, I'd say Comrade Trotsky was the world's No. 1 prospect for enterprising trailer salesman.

HOME WORK, INDEED!

Pot Shots:

Every so often you hear about a fire-truck dashing to a blaze in some home, and then one of the firemen on the truck discovers that the burning house is his own home.

Hence, his efforts to put out the fire immediately become home work.

Nice deduction on my part, I call it.

THE HOLIDAY MYSTERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The gaiety of the Christmas party at "Thunder Head," the de Forest hacienda in New Mexico, has a tragic ending when PEARL NASH FOREST, oldest of three brothers, is found dead with an ancient knife in his throat.

Each of the de Forest brothers has the first name "Pearl." PEARL JOHN is the youngest. PEARL PIERRE next. Others at the house are PEARL JOSEPH, PEARL PHINEAS and an invalid; BITTY WELCH, her young companion RAMON DE LA ROSA and ANGELIQUE ABERTY, guests at the party; PROFESSOR SHAW, arch-criminal; and BOB GIHAM, the woman stopping at the hacienda while his car is being repaired.

The body of Pearl Nash, placed in the house, is found. He disappeared. Later Ramon and Angelique learn that it has been buried. Next morning, the de Forests are informed that the same knife that killed his brother, in his throat.

Pearl John announces he is going to destroy the knife, but when he goes to get it, the knife has disappeared. He accuses EUGENE SHIELD, Indian servant, of the murder and Tania Josephine defends him. Next morning, EUGENE, too, is dead, and Broken Shield has disappeared.

Professor Shaw investigates the murder of the SHIELD and finds a hidden passage and is about to enter it when someone springs on him. Pearl John, Bob and Ramon and the professor, unconscious.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX THE professor was alive and when the tapeline had been cut away from his throat he began to breathe more naturally.

The three younger men carried Professor Shaw to his bedroom, restoratives were applied. After several hours, however, the professor still lay in a coma, unable to tell what happened to him, though the marks on his neck told only too plainly that the attempt on his life had been real enough.

So the menace hanging over all of them was still actively at work! Doors were locked and double-locked that night.

Next morning the storm had blown itself out. De Forest at once set men to clearing the road down the canyon. As soon as this was completed he hurried two servants off once more to Santa Fe.

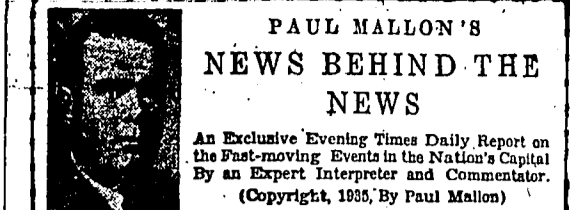

Angelique apparently had regained her composure but Pearl John noticed that she kept a close watch on Betty, especially when the other girl happened to be talking to Ramon. Pearl John was relieved when the Spanish girl finally disappeared in the direction of her own room. He might not have felt so comfortable if he could have watched her thereafter.

For she did not enter her bedroom but, after casting a swift glance around, walked straight to the door with the knocker. It had been quite easy to extract the key from the unconscious professor's pocket, in the brief interval when she had taken her turn sitting beside the injured man.

Opening the door, she peered down the stairs. Then, after a moment's hesitation, she turned on the spotlight and made her way slowly down to the big storeroom. Nothing unusual here. She looked rather disdainfully at the boxes and barrels, then walked to the blank wall that had proved so disastrously absorbing to Professor Shaw. A slight rustling near her feet made her turn in fright to see a large rat's bright eyes staring at her.

WITH a smothered cry, Angelique jerked backwards, tripped over something on the floor and crashed suddenly against the wall behind. Immediately she felt something slipping under her weight. The next second she fell through an opening made by a smoothly sliding panel in what had seemed a solid wall.

After the first shock of surprise, she found that she was not hurt and, picking herself up, turned the beam from her electric torch about her.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

Arrangements for a night delivery and broadcast of President Roosevelt's message to congress were called off because he decided to save his thunder for the inaugural speech two weeks later.

There will be no great rush for export licenses after what happened to Mr. Cuse. One other exporter came down here to sound out the state department on his proposal to send machine guns and rifles to Spain. He was wisely advised to hang back and wait until he saw what unfavorable publicity the administration could stir up against anyone who tried it.

Bliss

If present plans work out, Bliss high school pep band will become a separate unit and will hold its own practices. This arrangement will do away with the disadvantage of breaking into the regular band practice as well as giving the pep band a chance to work up many more marches for our basketball games. The pep band is made up from the more experienced members of the regular high school band.

Doran Butler and Robert Hoff have returned from Ogden where they attended the International Stock show. Billy Burkhardt, who has made the trip with them in former years, did not attend this year but expects to take part in another show at San Francisco which will be held later in the year.

In the sale of season tickets for basketball games contest the juniors and freshmen have won. They turned in a total of $12. The seniors and sophomores were close behind with $10.75 to their credit. The party for the winners will be given sometime after the beginning of the second semester.

The yell and song contest which has been in progress for some time is over. There was little enthusiasm shown on the part of the students until Friday morning. Then the yell began to pour in. No songs have been turned in, however. The prize which was won by Buell Hamilton is a season ticket to all of the home games in Bliss this season.

The young folks Christian Endeavor met at the home of May Ellen and Virginia Chapman Sunday evening for their regular meeting. Geraldine Bray led the discussion on "God's Chosen People" and roll call was answered with a favorite hymn. During the business meeting the party was planned for the initiation of the new officers which will be held at the home of Frank and Eloise Graves Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. The boys will bring lunch baskets for them. The next meeting will be at the home of Millicent and Lewis Post and Ona Lancaster will lead the group.

EMERSON

Seth Corless has returned from Ogden where he spent several days at the livestock show. Mrs. Emma Yates, Long Beach, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Corless before leaving for her home.

NOTES Treasury General Counsel Olyphant is not yet packing his bag. Whatever personal differences of policy have arisen lately within the treasury are not likely to prove fatal immediately. Both Mr. Olyphant and his boss, Mr. Morgenthau, would like to have everyone know they are good and loyal friends.

MURTAUGH

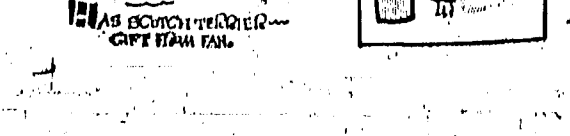

Fourteen ladies of the L. D. S. Relief society met at the home of Mrs. Norris Goodmans Tuesday for the work and business meeting. A comfort was quilted during the afternoon. Miss Reber of Twin Falls who was present gave a talk on community health unit. She explained the requirements and took a vote which was unanimously carried. It is hoped the first conference will be held within the next two weeks.

The new building for a farm work shop 24 by 50 feet, has been completed on the school ground. The building will be equipped with two forges and work benches. The boys will do soldering, electric work, blacksmithing and carpentering and will repair and build farm equipment. Harold J. Budd head is the instructor.

The following persons have returned from trips during the holidays: Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson and son Oliver, Jr., from California; Mr. and Mrs. John Savage and family from California, where they have been for a month for Mrs. Savage's health; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Moorman and children from Salem, Ore., where they had been visiting Mrs. Moorman's mother; Mr. and Mrs. John Blaud and son, Wilford, from Hemet, California, where they had been visiting for two weeks.

Mrs. Lee Vinning left for Oregon City, Ore., where she is working.

KICK-OFF DINERS WILL EAT LAMB

Group at Event Inaugurating Drive Will Have Prize Piece De Resistance

Members of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, attending the "kick-off" dinner of the organization Monday evening, will be treated to a portion of a University of Idaho Southdown lamb which won third prize at the Ogden livestock show. Roy Painter, chairman of the agricultural committee, said today.

Weighing 92 pounds, the lamb commanded a top price of 33 cents a pound, according to Painter.

The dinner Monday evening will launch the organization's drive for membership to support its recently adopted $35,000 budget for extensive activities this year. Reservations, according to F. C. Thompson, may be made at Chamber offices. More than 100 persons are expected to attend the dinner which will be held at the Chamber's banquet hall.

SHARP RETAINED ON COMMITTEE

N. V. Sharp of Fillet, representative on the committee of nine for the Twin Falls Canal company during the past 14 years, will serve during 1937 in a similar capacity, officials announce.

Mr. Sharp was elected by the board of directors following the annual meeting of the company held here this week.

The committee of nine, composed of representatives of water-users' organizations, serves in an advisory capacity in distribution of Snake river waters for irrigation purposes.

Masters and Mates End Long Strike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Officers of the Masters Mates and Pilots of America and the National Marine Engineers Beneficial association today halted the east and Gulf coast strikes by the two organizations.

Agreements with several steamship companies since the strike at the same location, 248 Main was called Nov. 23 led to the action, officials of the two groups in said after a long conference here yesterday. They include wage increases, improved working conditions and collective bargaining.

Fort Washington is one of the oldest posts in the nation and since Revolutionary days has been a soldiers' post.

"I was just 18 when I enlisted in the 12th infantry and was stationed at Fort Washington, Maryland," Sgt. Cook said, "but in the last 10 years I've been more places and done more things than I ever could have done if I'd stayed at home."

A Travelogue His list of stations where he served reads like a travel book, and many chapters are yet to be written. He has served at Fort Howard, Md., Fort Slocum, New York with Co. L of the 18th infantry; in San Juan, Porto Rico; in Colon, in the Panama canal zone; and at Fort Clayton and Quarry Heights, also in the Panama canal zone; in this section for two years and seven months and then to Fort McKowell at San Francisco; then to Fort Douglas, Utah; and from there to recruiting duty at Boise and today in charge of the Twin Falls office.

"I like Twin Falls and its people," he said, "but I also like to travel. Within 300 months I will either be sent to the Philippine islands or to Hawaii."

Likes Canal Zone "So far the most interesting place in the world to me is the canal zone. There members of the San Blas Indian tribe did our kitchen police duty for us. They are a peculiar people with large heads, huge shoulders, arms entirely too long, legs as much too short, and wide, short feet.

"When I was on duty down there it was always interesting to watch the giant ocean liners squeeze through the great locks of the canal," he commented.

At Quarry Heights, he said, military police duty made his life "bubble over" with thrill after thrill as the Latin-Americans "sometimes let their feelings get the best of them."

It doesn't seem to be a dull life.

E. W. Dodge of Grand Junction, Colo., has purchased the second hand store formerly owned by E. Burns of Twin Falls. It is announced today.

FINAL PAYMENTS NEAR FOR BANKS

Affairs Will Be Closed And Dividends Paid Within Few Months

Delinquent affairs of three defunct banks in southern Idaho will probably be cleaned up by the time spring arrives, G. D. Thompson of Twin Falls, bank receiver, said here today. It will be sometime within the next few months, he said, but the exact time and the amount of payment cannot yet be determined.

Settlements will be made first for the Security National bank of Fairfield, Camas county, and the Twin Falls National bank, followed by the First National bank of Twin Falls, Mr. Thompson said.

After the first closing in the fall of 1931, the Fairfield bank reopened in a few weeks, but was forced to close again for lack of business in March, 1932. It is believed to be the only bank in Idaho that has paid out more than 100 per cent of deposits.

Public Sale Thompson said a public sale will be conducted for each bank before the final payments are made to depositors and stockholders. This will consist principally of unpaid notes, although the receiver has maintained headquarters, still has some real estate. The building was sold nearly two years ago to the new Fidelity National bank which opened here May 1, 1935.

Besides payment of more than 100 per cent of deposits to customers of the Fairfield bank, dividends to date consist of 68 per cent, or $450,000 dollars for the First National bank, and 22 per cent, or $45,000, for the Twin Falls National. The latter closed Nov. 23, 1931 and the First National closed December 4, 1931.

Doctors, working at high speed in a delicate operation, delivered this baby boy while the mother was dying of bullet wounds, ascertained yesterday. At Oakland, Calif., Mrs. Eddie Randall, the mother, died a few minutes after doctors delivered the baby in a Caesarian operation. The husband, Horatio Randall, accused by the mother's aunt of slaying his girl wife, denied the charge.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Cars driven by Arthur Kaster of Kimberly and Mrs. Francis Stevens of Twin Falls were involved in an accident yesterday shortly after 4 p. m., at the intersection of Second avenue and Sixth street west, police reports show.

The Kaster machine is said to have run into the right side of Mrs. Stevens' automobile, knocking it around into a light post on an opposite corner. Although the Kaster car suffered little damage the sedan driven by the woman had the right rear fender, the spare tire cover, the trunk rack and bumper dented.

Four Big League Ball Clubs To Train At New Locations

CUBA IS SPRING HOME OF GIANTS

Athletics To Make Journey To Mexico City Grounds

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Another spring training season isn't so far away. Soon the major league clubs will be heading south, and west to get into shape for the long baseball grind through the summer.

The first two clubs away this year will be the New York Giants and Philadelphia Athletics. The Giants will sail from New York Feb. 16 for their new camp at Havana. The Athletics will depart Feb. 18 for their new training base at Mexico City.

Many interesting sights ought to take place in those two foreign camps. Other major league clubs have played in Havana but New York is the first team to train there. The Brooklyn club played a few exhibition games there a few years ago and they had trouble betting some of the players out of Sloppy Joe's and into uniforms in time for the game.

McGraw Episode—Recalled a number of years back John J. McGraw too the Giants to Havana on a barnstorming tour after they had been licked in the world series. The Giants were booked to play the Cuban All-Stars, and an elaborate ceremony was arranged for the event. The President of Cuba was the principal speaker. He delivered a flowery speech in his native tongue while the players of the two clubs stood around home plate.

It was a great occasion for Cuba, and the President intended to make the most of it. He talked on and on. Finally McGraw turned to a uniformed man standing next to him and said:

"Is there any way we can shut-up that big wind bag and get the game started?"

To Jail

Before McGraw knew it, thegendarmes had him in custody and were hustling him off to jail. The promoter screamed that the arrested man was "the great McGraw from the United States." Finally the police were prevailed upon to let McGraw remain for the game, but that night they came to the hotel and escorted him to jail. And there McGraw stayed until Charlie Rieger, the umpire, bailed him out.

Besides the Giants and Athletics, only two other clubs have new camps. They are the St. Louis Browns, who shift from West Palm Beach, Fla., to San Antonio, Tex., and the St. Louis Cardinals, who drop Bradenton for Daytona Beach, Fla. The Cincinnati Reds, who spent a couple of weeks last year at Puerto Rico, will retain their Florida base at Tampa.

The 1937 training camps follow:

National League
 Boston—at St. Petersburg, Fla.
 Brooklyn—at Clearwater, Fla.
 Chicago—at Catalina Island, Calif.
 Cincinnati—at Tampa, Fla.
 New York—at Havana.
 Philadelphia—at Winter Haven, Fla.
 Pittsburgh—at San Bernardino, Calif.
 St. Louis—at Daytona Beach, Fla.
American League
 Boston—at Sarasota, Fla.

 Cleveland—at New Orleans.
 Detroit—at Lakeland, Fla.

FIGHT BOYCOTT MORE USELESS THAN 3-1 LEAGUE, SAYS WRITER

By HENRY McLEMORE

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—A fight fan asked me today what I thought of the new boycott league formed to prevent Max Schmeling from fighting James J. Braddock, and I said I thought it was one of the greatest leagues ever devised in the noggin of man, and undoubtedly would go whirling down the avenues of time alongside other famous leagues, including that of American Penmen, Hansatic, and the Three-Eye.

The fight fan said that sounded like sarcasm to him, and did I mean it that way, and I said I surely did, and that I would bet him even money that when the end of the world came the Three-Eye would occupy a bigger niche than this new league whose purpose is to prevent a German from hitting an Irishman on the profile, and vice versa.

Fair Grows Bitter

The fight fan then grew a bit bitter and accused me of being biased, shallow, and a no-good.

Lacks Appreciation

It is this lack of appreciation of the merits of the fight game that is the cause of my apathy toward the league formed to boycott Schmeling. I know it is aimed, not so much against Schmeling as against Adolf Hitler and his treatment of a race, but still that doesn't make me admit its worth. After all, the persecution of a prize-fighter isn't a very audacious method of striking back at the leader of a powerful nation.

Suppose a similar situation to the one in Germany existed in this country. Can you imagine our national leaders or our people being plunged into remorse by the announcement from Germany that the American 185-pound nose-bashing champion has been forbidden to make an appearance in Hamburg or Worms. Would you as a citizen rest restlessly at night because of such action?

Doesn't Care

Mind you, I don't care if Schmeling is boycotted until the cows not only come home, but come right in the front door and start reading the books of the shelves. For if I have a favorite fighter it isn't the Black Uhlans from the Amazon, or whatever he is, but I don't see that any good temporary or permanent will come from the boycott. For one thing, it will make him a grade A, double-dipped martyr, and increase his prestige in the eyes of his countrymen a hundred fold. It seems to me that if you wanted to get rid of Schmeling, the quickest and surest means would be to do everything possible to ease his journey toward a return meeting with Joe Louis.

INJURIES HAMPER VANDAL QUINTET

Four Regulars Suffering From Effects of Football Hurts

MOSCOW, Jan. 15—Numerous are the injuries on the basketball team that Coach Forrest Twogood took to Missoula this week to play games with the University of Montana on Friday and Saturday. The injury list is proportionately larger than that of the football team last fall.

Four of the regulars are on the "crippled list." They are Steve Belko and Lyle Smith, forwards; Roly Winter, center; and Don Johnson, guard. One substitute, Bill Bohman, center, is on the list, also.

Football Injuries

Belko, with a lame knee, Winter, with a back injury, and Smith, with a hip injury are all suffering from aggravated football injuries. Johnson, the only one of the four who is likely to play any on the trip, has a kidney bruise which he got in the Washington game at Seattle last week. Bohman has an infected elbow.

"I'm not going to jeopardize the future strength of the team by unnecessarily playing the injured men at Missoula," Coach Twogood said Tuesday, "but the boys will be out there to win the hall games. It's a determined and battling squad I have this year."

The men who will comprise the squad leaving Thursday evening are: Belko, Smith, Edlington, and Robertson, forwards; Winter and Bohman, centers; Johnson, Kramer, Jacob, and Dellinger, guards.

Crosby to Stage $3,000 Tourney

Hollywood, Jan. 15 (AP)—Bing Crosby, whose velvet voice has made him a fortune as a radio and film crooner, today announced the details of a $3,000 open golf tournament to be held on Feb. 6 and 7 near San Diego.

Official approval of the professional Golfers association already has been obtained for the tournament, Crosby said. Purses and amateur prizes will be awarded to the winners among the 140 golfers scheduled to compete. The 70 professionals will be qualified, but amateurs will compete on Bing's invitation. The first invitation went to Bob Burns, rustic comedian.

Tournament promotion adds to Bing's already heavy sports activities. He races a stable of horses, owns half of the contract of Freddie Steele, middleweight boxing champion, and sponsors a girls' basketball team, the "Croonerettes." His fondest ambition is to own a Kentucky derby winner.

STRIKES TO SPARE

WITH FRED STONE

The Times cut off the current last night and the Idaho Power lost three straight games.

Vey Gish set the pace for the winners, getting 193 for the high single game, just nosing out Graf Self of the opposition by one point. Vey collected a turkey his first game and a double his last.

George Paulson had a nice second game, not an open frame, two strikes and eight spares. Four splits in his first game.

Jimmy Mullen doubled his second game, but James had quite a few dashes in his three games. Bill Parish also dashed right by a lot of those single pins.

Graf Self had high three-game total for both teams, 520. Graf got one double his last game.

Perchal and Ollie Taylor just couldn't get those pins down. Perchal picked himself up a double his second game. Not many strikes for Ollie.

W. I. Johnson got the only turkey for his team in his last game. Was he proud of that, and was it useful.

Aces and National Laundry are picking up a postponed game Friday night on alleys 3 and 4.

Art Mingo for Electric Motor in the City league took all high honors, his 194 in the first game being good for high single and his 468 stood up for high total. Art filled every frame his first game.

Not a double was made by any player on the Motor squad.

Mrs. Stone, with a score of 170, was good for high single game among the ladies. Her second game she got one double, also four splits, same game.

Lola Vazquez also got a double her second game, and had high total for her team.

Mrs. Kircher struck out to end her last game, the only player in the City league to get three strikes in a row.

Not a double for Mrs. Buhler or Ruth Rogers.

FLAPPER FANNY By Sylvia

"I'll tell Fanny that Jimmy's here instead of you, and may be he'll hurry."

Your Baby's Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine. Some people seem to think that a person who is a genius usually is a "little bit off," if not insane. The famous Italian criminologist, Lombroso, compiled a list of noted men who were in some way abnormal. This list includes the composers Schumann and Gounod, the poets Shelley and Cooper, and the philosophers Nietzsche and Rousseau. In previous articles, I have pointed out that the person who stutters also may hesitate in his thinking ability and intellect. Yet even to this there are exceptions. The psychologist, Pillsbury, has listed the following great men who were known to have suffered from speech defects: Demosthenes, Aeschylus, Aristotle, Virgil, Erasmus, Charles Lamb, Darwin, and Charles V.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

The MOON SOMETIMES IS FAR NORTH, AND SOMETIMES FAR SOUTH, IN THE SKY, BECAUSE IT DOES NOT REVOLVE IN THE PLANE OF THE EARTH'S EQUATOR!

The GNU, AN ANTELOPE FOUND IN AFRICA, HAS MANY OF THE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE HORSE, AND EVEN GETS UP HEAD FIRST, LIKE A HORSE!

DANDELIONS WERE NAMED FOR THE SHAPE OF THEIR LEAVES, WHICH WERE SUPPOSED TO RESEMBLE THE "TEETH OF THE LION" (DENT DE LION)

The moon travels around the earth in a plane that is inclined to the plane of our equator at an angle that varies from 18 to 29 degrees. Therefore, in any month, the moon may be seen, at least 18 degrees south of our celestial equator, and, two weeks later, 18 degrees north of the celestial equator.

PARDON RECORDS BEING SCANNED

Forms Part of Federal Bureau Of Investigation Survey In Idaho

BOISE, Jan. 15 (AP)—Idaho pardon and parole records are being examined by representatives of the federal bureau of investigation as part of a nationwide survey of prison release procedures. The histories of paroled and pardoned prisoners within the age groups of 10 to 28 and 10 to 38 are being studied to determine whether minimum sentence was served, parole violations, general background and previous record, explained E. R. Vaughn, Boise, supervisor of the work for Idaho. Expected to come from the study are recommendations for more uniform parole and pardon procedure among the various states and the federal government, and means of handling habitual criminals by other than the "floater" method. The survey so far has shown that an alarming number of prisoners get their start in industrial training schools. The final compilations are expected to show a fixed percentage of criminals emerging from reform schools, irrespective of conditions in individual institutions.

"Another fact brought out by progress of the study so far is that habitual criminals, between their stays in state penitentiaries, usually have a record of a number of smaller violations such as drunken driving, vagrancy, disturbing the peace and other offenses," Vaughn said.

Irving Ehrlich (at right in hospital), student at Brooklyn College, Brooklyn, N. Y., touched the anode of an X-ray machine whose use he was studying and was instantly knocked unconscious by a 10,000-volt current. Revived, he said he had felt no pain, that the experience was like a floating dream. The electric chair uses but 2500 volts.

CROP INSURANCE DRAFT COMPLETE

Senator Pope Chosen to Lead Administration Backers For Passage

By RALPH W. OLMSTEAD WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (Special)—The department of agriculture completed a proposed draft today of the bill for federal crop insurance and a federal crop insurance corporation.

Sen. James P. Pope, D., Idaho, having sponsored the proposal originally during 1936, will head the administration forces favoring crop insurance this year.

Senator Pope has reintroduced his bill providing for an appropriation of $25,000 for investigation of the Rathdrum Prairie hydro-electric irrigation project. Tact assurances have been given by the interior department that if a power market can be developed, construction of the dam will be recommended and included in the next budget following the investigation. The same bill was introduced last year and passed the senate, but failed in the house of representatives on the objection of some self-appointed watch-dog of the treasury.

None the less the bill should go through the senate in record time this year in view of last year's enactment, and give Congressman White more opportunity to get it through the house. Maybe he can bring it up while the New York delegation is in caucus. Having supported Mr. Rayburn, the successful candidate for speaker, Mr. White should have much more influence this year.

Bowels Constipated 3 or 4 Days at a Time

"For 20 years I was tortured with an upset stomach," said Mr. Albers. "I had indigestion and sour stomach constantly. My food turned to horrible gas and these pains would cause me to double up in bed. I bloated so that my stomach line would expand 5 or 6 inches! I just couldn't keep any food on my stomach, but would have awful vomiting spells. I was so constipated that my bowels would not move for 3 or 4 days at a time. I got to where I did not believe in medicines any more. Then I saw what Van-Tage was doing and I decided 'o try it. In one week there was not an ache or pain left in my body. I have no more indigestion or sour stomach. I eat anything and enjoy my meals. I sleep well at night. My bowels are regular. Van-Tage did so much for me that I cannot say enough for this Wonderful Medicine."
