Bodies of 8 Missing From Air Plane After Crash in 'Frisco Bay

3 Members of Crew Found Dead in Craft

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10 (UP)—The bodies of eight victims of a United Airlines plane crash, which carried 11 persons to their deaths, were missing today when the wreckage was lifted from San Francisco bay.

All the missing were passengers. The bodies of A. R. Thompson, pilot, Burbank, and Joe de Cesaro, co-pilot, North Hollywood, were found in the cockpit.

The fate of the eight passengers and three members of the crew was not determined until a derrick barge had raised the plane from the mud of the bay about one and one-half miles off the San Francisco airport.

A message relayed to coast guard headquarters said "Plane out of water. Will be dragged onto barge and taken to Oakland. Right wing engine missing. No survivors."

CRASH WAS NOT DUE TO WEATHER

Air Commerce Report Says Fall Caused by Mechanical Or Man Failure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (UP)—Air commerce bureau director Eugene Vidal said today preliminary investigation, based on a process of elimination indicated the San Francisco plane crash was due to man failure or mechanical failure.

"Reports from our inspectors on the west coast indicate the weather was good and department of commerce navigational aids functioning properly at the time of the crash," Vidal explained.

Vidal said Major R. W. Shroder, chief of the airplane inspection service, had been ordered to leave immediately for San Francisco to take personal charge of the crash investigation.

Ill-Fated Pilot Had Plane Base Here Two Years

Tommy Thompson, veteran transport pilot who went down with his ship and 10 other persons in San Francisco bay last night, was well known in Twin Falls and used this city as headquarters for two years on hard-core activities throughout southern Idaho.

E. E. Ostrander and J. J. Winter were personal friends of the pilot during those years, and Mr. Ostrander, head of Texaco products distribution here, worked with Thompson since the pilot flew the Texaco company's trademark on his ship.

Also personal friends of the ill-fated pilot were W. H. Weber, local mechanic and pilot, and Gus Kellner, Evening Times reporter, both of whom became acquainted with Thompson in Utah.

There wasn't any Twin Falls airport at the time Thompson used Twin Falls for a base, and the flier utilized a site on the edge of Rock Creek canyon, Mr. Ostrander said.

Idaho Bill Would Enable Buying of Jerome Bridge

Plan Is Introduced By Cavanagh in House

BOISE, Feb. 10 (UP)—Purchasing of toll bridges on state highways by the state would be enabled by a bill proposed late yesterday in the Idaho house of representatives by Dan J. Cavanagh, D., Twin Falls.

The bill was sponsored by the house affairs committee and the tax would be in addition to the five-cent state tax and one cent federal tax.

The measure could be applied by the state, counties or highway districts to take over the Twin Falls-Jerome inter-county bridge, Cavanagh said.

The measure would provide for special elections to be held upon petition for formation of "prohibition districts." It would be possible for the residents of the proposed district to vote complete prohibition or to permit the sale of four per cent beer only.

A substitute public health bill, to continue the present state department of public health, but to add a director of public health and director of charitable institutions, was introduced in the senate.

SEATTLE HOLDS NEWEST SUSPECT

Sailor Held on Open Charge After 10 Hour Grilling in Mattson Case

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 10 (UP)—After withstanding ten hours of questioning the newest suspect in the kidnaping and slaying of Charles Mattson, 10, of Tacoma, was booked on an open charge by city police today.

He gave his name as H. A. Post, 32, and said he was a seaman. He was arrested yesterday by city and state detectives as James G. McDonald, 31, ex-California convict.

Answering the description of the kidnaper, the man was found in a cheap hotel on an underworld "pick up" order for his arrest was issued nearly a week ago by Chief William Cole of the state patrol.

Federal agents, Tacoma detectives, state troopers and city detectives pulled the man, but as the hour wore on officers admitted they had little information.

Franco Asks For Unconditional Surrender

By JOHN DE GANDT OUTSIDE MALAGA, Feb. 10 (UP)—A report was circulated among nationalists today that the loyalist government had sought an armistice but that Gen. Francisco Franco nationalist dictator, insisted on unconditional surrender as the price of cessation of hostilities.

There have been similar reports from nationalists after each victory of importance during the civil war. News from the loyalist side indicated determination to fight to the end.—Ed.

Soldiers In Mountains

Nationalist authorities, still busy "mopping up" inside Malaga, asserted that 4,000 loyalists had been arrested so far and it was estimated that eventually a total of between 10,000 and 20,000 would be seized.

SUB-ZERO WAVE HITS AS PLOWS WORK ON ROADS

Six Below Recorded in Twin Falls Area; Main Routes Open to Travel

Sub-zero temperatures were recorded in Twin Falls and vicinity this morning as district and state highway crews continued to open roads closed by the recent blizzard and to widen those already open.

This morning a temperature of six below zero was officially recorded at the bureau of entomology, against a high of 30 above yesterday, and a low of 15 above.

All major highways were reported open to travel today by officials of the state highway department. Caution was still urged, however.

Roads of the Twin Falls highway district were being opened by crews and today most of the main roads of the district around Twin Falls and vicinity were open. Long stretches of road around Kimberly and Hansen were also open today.

District roads were the hardest hit by the blizzard which swept the section earlier this week, and miles of side routes were still in bad shape.

Crews will continue operations until all roads are open and normal traffic has been restored.

CABIN RESIDENT IS FOUND DEAD

Neighbor Discovers Former Spokane Veterinarian Lying in Bed

Andrew J. Potter, 42, residing in a cabin at 423 Third avenue south, was found dead in bed at 11:20 a. m. today from natural causes, police indicate.

Potter's body was found by Elwood Endtrott, who said the body was still warm when he discovered it. Potter, he said, had resided there for approximately three years, having come to Twin Falls seven years ago from Spokane, Wash., where he was a veterinarian.

His health forced the man to leave Washington because he was unable to work he was said to be on direct relief. An uncle, whose name could not be learned, resides here.

The body was taken to the Twin Falls mortuary awaiting funeral arrangements.

Victory Over Moscow

Nationalists called their victory at Malaga a victory over Moscow on the ground that Malaga was the only strictly Communist-controlled city in Spain. Others are controlled by anarchists and syndicalists, where left front conditions are not functioning.

By the capture of Malaga, the nationalists believe their way is clear to Granada, northeast of Malaga, and to Almeria province over at the southeast tip of the country.

Age of 70 Set Up as Maximum

Bill Applies To Supreme Court Bench

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (UP)—The house today passed the Sumners bill providing voluntary retirement of supreme court justices on full pay at the age of 70.

The measure, proposed by Chairman Hutton W. Sumners of the house judiciary committee was regarded by some house veterans as a flank maneuver against President Roosevelt's "sweeping" court plans.

It was passed by the house with strong support of both Democratic and Republican members. House Democratic leaders and Sumners joined in a denial that the proposal had any connection with the President's plans. Mr. Roosevelt asked for the voluntary retirement at 70 provision but coupled it with a plan to appoint additional justices to the high court if those over 70 failed to retire.

The Sumners bill was rushed through the house after two hours debate and without amendment. Criticism of President Roosevelt's sweeping judicial plans frequently burst out from Republicans and dis-senting Democrats.

Leaders, however, strove to confine debate to the merits of Sumners' proposal. Sumners said, after a conference at the White House, that President Roosevelt approved his bill.

Sumners denied the bill was part of White House "strategy" toward pushing through the major court proposal.

Democratic leaders shunted aside a prediction by Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y., that "if this bill is passed it means the end of the President's attempt to usurp the powers of the court."

WHITE HOUSE INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (UP)—Chairman Hutton W. Sumners of the house judiciary committee said today the White House had intervened directly to halt plans for bringing up his bill which would give the attorney general special appeal rights in constitutional cases in the federal courts.

Sumners made the announcement in explanation of his sudden abandonment of plans to put the bill through the house today.

"The White House has some question about the bill," Sumners said. "I understand there is a note on its way up here to me. I don't know just what the questions are."

The development lent credence to reports that the President was opposed to "piece-meal" passage of his judicial reorganization.

IDAHO'S SOLONS PASS NEW BILLS

House and Senate Approve Gambling and Beer Measures

BOISE, Feb. 10 (UP)—Idaho's 24th legislature today concerned itself with the public morals. The senate approved a bill to outlaw pin-ball games and other semi-gambling devices, while the house passed a measure for licensing and regulation of beer parlors by the state liquor control commission.

Discussion in the upper house on the pin-ball measure centered not on virtues of the games, but whether the bill extended so far as to prohibit coin telephones and "school-boy marbles." Approval vote was 34 to 10.

DROUGHT PROGRAM MAPPED BY FDR

Long-Range Planning Asked By Chief Executive for Central States

Easing of credit, and lease or sale of federal land. The government should operate demonstration farms.

6. All of water from the section's scant rainfall should be held on the land and utilized through soil conservation, by growing grass and farm crops to resist drought.

7. Since federal purchase of land would deprive local subdivisions of tax revenue, they should be compensated for their losses.

Kill Pests

8. Destructive pests such as grasshoppers and mormon crickets that killed an estimated $38,000,000 worth of crops in 1934, must be destroyed.

9. The area's other resources should be developed. The report specifically mentioned "the vast lignite deposits which underlie the northern part of the Great Plains."

President Roosevelt supported his committee in declaring that the task is not one for the government alone. Complementary action, he said, must be taken by states along these lines:

Zone Land

1. Each of the 10 states should push legislation relating to farm tenancy, leasing, taxing and tax delinquency to correct these economic liabilities.

2. States should zone land for its proper use as cities do now "to prevent permanent impairment of the land by unwise extension of cultivation during periods of super-normal rainfall or of exceptionally high prices."

3. Co-operative grazing associations could be established as they are now in Montana, making possible operation of large tracts of land as single units.

4. Voters should be permitted to form soil conservation districts.

5. States should avoid resale of tax delinquent range lands to private individuals, making them available instead for use with other public lands for grazing districts.

Equalize Taxation

6. Local communities could aid by reorganizing to reduce costs of roads, schools and other services without losing efficiency.

7. Taxation should be made more equitable, taking into consideration current or average income from land.

8. States should aid farmers in developing local water supplies for stock through tax reductions, as Kansas does.

9. Ownership and permanent occupancy of land should be promoted.

The great plains drought report went beyond federal and state participation in the rehabilitation program. For communities and individuals it suggested:

Balanced Farming

1. Shift planting to eliminate single "cash crops" such as wheat or cotton in favor of "balanced" farming.

2. Create feed and seed reserves against dry years, made economical by using pit silos.

3. Conserve all soil moisture by contour ploughing and listing, terracing, leaving crop stubble in ground and planting clover and winter rye.

4. Plant trees and shrubs as windbreaks around fields and farm houses to stop dust storms.

The group presented a recapitulation of all relief money spent in the section between April, 1933, and April, 1935, to emphasize conditions. It showed that drought conditions in the 10 states received $132,633,716 to aid men, women and children and $96,255,874 for drought and cattle relief.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Cars driven by J. J. Oberbillig of Boise, and Olaf Nelson of Twin Falls, were involved in a collision at the intersection of Shoshone street and Third avenue north yesterday, a police report shows today.

According to the report the car driven by Oberbillig was struck by the one being driven by Nelson, resulting in approximately $50 damages to the Boise machine, and $25 to the front of the Nelson car.

It was the first accident reported in Twin Falls since Jan. 30, records show.

Apples Proclaim Twin Falls Area

Letting "Grown" on Fruit By Novel Stunt

Even the apples grown here have found voices to boost Twin Falls.

On display in windows of the Chamber of Commerce today are 11 ruddy apples arranged in a row. And standing out boldly on the skins of nine of them are letters arranged to spell "Twin Falls." On one other, "Twin" is proclaimed to the world, and on the 11th apple "Falls" is emblazoned.

It's all natural, too, as explained by W. E. Wilcox, state department of agriculture inspector. The apples were grown in different orchards of this area, and Mr. Wilcox affixed letters to each with a rubber band. Then, when the fruit ripened and turned reddish in the sun, the letter spaces remained blank. Even the marks of the rubber bands are visible.

PLANE CRASH IN 'FRISCO KILLS 11

Bodies Removed From Bay Following Disaster On West Coast

lines reported all occupants had perished.

As soon as the bodies have been removed and taken to South San Francisco for an inquest, department of commerce, United Airlines and San Mateo county coroner investigations into the cause of the crash will start.

The salvage operations began at low tide with the barge moored between two coast guard boats one and one-half miles off shore near the San Francisco airport. A light haze lay over the water, obscuring the vision of hundreds of watchers on shore.

The first objective was to raise the plane high enough to permit authorities to enter the cabin. Within they expect to find the bodies of eight passengers and three crew members who were aboard when the plane circling for a landing last night, struck the water and buried itself in the mud of the bay.

Diver Lowered

A diver was lowered to the bottom of the bay at a point where the water was about 20 to 24 feet deep. After circling the plane, he reported that the derrick would have to lift about 20 tons of weight, including the 12-ton plane.

United Airlines officials estimated it would take about four hours to get lines around the wreckage and lift it.

Those in the plane when it crashed were John A. Grennan, 61, and his 24-year-old daughter, Gertrude, Berkeley, Calif.; Mark Fontana, head of Fontana Food Products Co., San Francisco; J. Franklin Gilmore, vice president of Enterprise Oil Burner Co., San Francisco; Remo (Frank) Margaroni, San Francisco, restaurant operator; H. D. Friedlander, president of the Los Angeles Casing Co., Los Angeles; Roger Meyers, Edgewood, N. M.; Myron Long, 27, Los Angeles used car salesman; A. R. (Tommy) Thompson, veteran pilot, Burbank; Joe De Cesaro, Glendale, co-pilot; and Ruth Kimmel, Alameda stewardess.

All Believed Dead

Dr. J. C. Geiger, San Francisco city health officer, writing with ambulances at Fullers point, said all in the plane probably died immediately. He believed their necks were broken by the terrific impact as the plane struck the water and turned over.

The cause of the crash may never be known. Weather conditions were perfect for flying, and A. R. (Tommy) Thompson, veteran pilot with more than 1,000,000 miles of flying behind him, was easing the plane into a routine landing when the far west's fourth air tragedy of the winter occurred.

Most aviation experts believed Thompson had dipped too low in circling and the undercarriage had dropped to making the landing struck the water and turned him over.

Mistake Involved

A United Airlines official said a "mistake must have been involved, either in the plane's mechanism or on the part of the pilot."

Department of commerce inspectors were waiting to examine the plane in an effort to determine the cause officially.

United Airlines also started an investigation, and the coroner's office of San Mateo county prepared for an inquest to be held as soon as possible after the bodies have been found.

One of these three inquiries may provide the answer to the cause of the tragedy.

The plane had been scheduled to land at the San Francisco airport at 9 p. m. yesterday. A few minutes within the hour it circled the field and the pilot, A. R. (Tommy) Thompson, of Burbank, a veteran flier, was advised by Chief Radio Operator Ted Martin at the field to land on the east-west runway.

"Okay," Thompson radioed in reply, "I'll try that."

"Okay, let your landing gear down," Martin replied. This was a routine instruction to prevent accidents.

The plane circled east over the bay toward the Alameda-Oakland side, circled and then disappeared.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 10 (AP)—Alexander R. (Tommy) Thompson, pilot of the United Airliner which crashed in San Francisco bay, spent 11 years in Salt Lake City conducting an aviation school and flying the mail between here and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Thompson came to Utah in 1922 and with two discarded army ships, established the Thompson Flying Service. About 100 Utahns received aviation instruction from him.

He has a son, Tommy, Jr., and a daughter.

JEROME CO-OP'S CHIEFS RENAMED

Directors Voted to Succeed Selves at Annual Meet; Business Soars

JEROME, Feb. 10 (Special)—Directors of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery were elected to succeed themselves for a three-year term at the 22nd annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the Vorka theater, attended by 125 stockholders.

On the board are A. H. Jagels, Buhl, C. O. Nelson, Rupert; Wheeler O'Harrow and John P. McIntyre, Jerome.

Mr. McIntyre, president of the organization, read a report of the 1936 finances, which showed the total sales by the creamery to be $1,447,839.55, or 20.3 per cent more than those of the previous year. Individual products of the creamery showed an almost invariable increase. Current assets and liabilities stood at a ratio of 4 to 1, according to the report.

New Record Set

Roy D. Smith, secretary-manager of the organization, declared that by the year set a new high volume record of production, a new high record in membership and that the financial status was the best in the organization's history.

Resolutions adopted after their reading by C. G. Nelson, resolutions chairman, were that the tariff duties should be restored to those specified by the 1930 tariff act, that federal taxes on foreign oils, fats, or seeds or nuts from which they are obtained should be taxed five per cent per pound; that sanitary regulations applied to domestic dairy products and dairy cattle be likewise applied on all imports applying thereto.

The organization went on record as opposing the Pettengill bill or any bill whose purpose is to repeal the fourth section of the Interstate Commerce Commission act, or pledge support to other organizations that are opposing that repeal.

The program for the control of bovine diseases carried on for the past three years by the AAA and the bureau of animal industries received the unanimous approval of the dairymen.

Completed by the small attendance of the meeting, and the inability of two state leaders to attend because of unfavorable weather and road conditions, the stockholders passed a proposed amendment to article 8 of the constitution which defines the time of meeting as the second Tuesday in February. Meetings hereafter shall be held once a year here on such a date as the board of directors may determine, provided that not more than 15 months shall elapse between annual meetings, they decided.

Highest Prices Paid

Highest prices paid since 1920 were reported for dairy products by Smith. They are higher than in other states where cooperatives do not function, he brought out.

He pointed to distinct progress made in the quality of products during the past year, and that 74 per cent of the butter sold scored 92 or better.

The new record of membership shows that 4,379 dairymen belong to the association.

Stocks of most dairy products are slightly in excess of those of a year ago, he said. The difference was caused by increases in production, importation, and the use of oleomargarine by a decrease in consumption.

The effects of the reciprocal agreements between the United States and other nations, especially Canada, have been felt in the cheese industry, he said. The production of oleomargarine has increased 22 per cent in 1936, he also pointed out.

Awards Given

Awards for highest production of butterfat in 1936 were made to the following dairymen, listed in order of the prizes: Ray Harbour, Rupert, 11,201 pounds; Minnie Miller, Wendell, 10,685; G. A. $147,404 FUNDS GO TO SCHOOLS

Twin Falls and Buhl Given Major Share in Newest Apportionment

Current state and county funds plus delinquent tax money being distributed this week to Twin Falls county schools total $147,404.27, according to announcement today from offices of the county superintendent of schools.

Twin Falls and Buhl schools received the major share in the apportionment, with the local system getting $62,047.32 and Buhl receiving $22,830.48. Kimberly was allotted $9,971.02; Filer rural high school gets $8,717.61; Castelford $6,388.94; Hansen $5,922.23; Murtaugh $5,509.13; and Filer independent district $4,810.80.

The remainder was apportioned among 38 common districts, two other independent districts and one rural high school.

The $147,404.27, according to the report submitted to Supt. Doris Stradley by County Treasurer Cora E. Stevens, consisted of $78,467.12 in current county taxes; $48,993.81 of apportioned state school funds; $19,615.61 in collected delinquent taxes from 1935-34-33-32-31 and prior years; $159.95 from fines and forfeitures, and $167.88 in tuition paid by students from other counties.

ELK-VENISON FOR SCOUTING DINNER

Event for Youths and Dads Will Feature Fifth Day Of Week's Program

An elk and venison "feed" free to all Scouts and their dads or acting dads, as well as Scouters of the Twin Falls council, will be held Thursday evening at the American Legion hall. The dinner is called for 7 p. m. and will be the feature of the fifth day of Scout anniversary week.

In charge of arrangements for the dinner and program, at which 150 persons are expected to attend, are D. R. Young and J. A. Blandford.

MEAT DONATED

The venison is being donated by Ernest Koch, Kimberly, and the elk meat by Roy Painter, Twin Falls. Each person attending should furnish a plate, knife, spoon, fork and cup, officials announce. Each of the district troops will present five-minute "skits" during the evening.

Troop charters will be presented to troop 62 of Curry and troop 61 of Knoll, both being re-registrations. Troop 61 will also be presented with President Roosevelt's award, given for registering new Scouts, keeping old members, and work accomplished. This is the fourth year in a row that the troop has received the award.

F. F. A. PLANNING DAD-SON DINNER

Future Farmers' club under the sponsorship of J. V. Briggs, instructor, met this afternoon to make plans for a father-son banquet Feb. 24. Details of the banquet will be arranged by the following committee: chairman, Maurice Capps; finance, Gordon Oathro, refreshment, Irvin Ehlers, entertainment, and Melvin Ehlers, invitation.

During the meeting prizes were awarded to the three highest in the Future Farmers public speaking contest. Those receiving awards were Melvin Ehler, first; Irvin Ehler, second; and Kay Jordan, third. Melvin Ehlers will compete in the district contest tonight.

Bill in Idaho House Would Enable State to Buy Jerome Structure

A proposal, backed by Governor Clark, to create a public health department with the commissioner to have rigid qualifications set up by the U. S. surgeon-general, was tabled in the upper house yesterday.

The new bill asks no experience requirement for the commissioner of public welfare, but demands five years training in public health administration for the direction of that branch.

The department would have power to cooperate with the federal government and counties in administration of relief.

CHAMBER'S DRIVE TOTALS $10,000

Memberships Reach 463; Round Table Meet Hears Complaints Listed

Four hundred and sixty-three persons have joined the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce providing the group with an income of approximately $10,000 in the drive toward a $35,000 goal. C. H. Krenzel, chairman of the membership committee, said at the first open-forum meeting held last night at the Park hotel.

As Mr. Krenzel indicated the chamber was approximately one-third of the way toward the goal, he urged members to greater aggressiveness in their efforts to gain new enrollments, and said 1,000 members could easily be obtained in the city.

Many Not Contacted
"The trouble is now that many persons, and approximately half of the business houses, have not been contacted. This is what is needed now. The $10,000 now in will be sufficient for membership distributions and for running expenses of the office and the staff. Every dollar in addition to this figure which now comes in can go toward building a greater Twin Falls to the benefit of all concerned," Krenzel said.

Possibility that the city of Twin Falls will receive a 99-year lease from the state on the site of the present municipal airport was disclosed by F. C. Thompson, secretary-manager.

Following efforts to secure a lease a bill was introduced in the house of representatives of the state legislature yesterday proposing to reserve certain state lands in Twin Falls county for sale and authorizing the state board of land commissioners to lease them to the city of Twin Falls for use as an airport. The land would consist of 480 acres.

Outlines Complaints
At a round table discussion of the membership drive, Roy Painter outlined several complaints he had received as to why the Chamber of Commerce was not doing the city any good.

One reason why a man wouldn't join when asked to do so by Painter was "because the chamber advertises what a fine county we have around here, calling it a land of plenty, and this attracts many undesirable persons to the city." Another, which brought laughs from those attending, was one man's idea that the airport project was being put through "just to give Lionel Dean a place to put his airplane down."

Joe Koehler urged women be invited to participate in the drive for new members, and urged the various merchants to solicit among their own employes.

BEAN SHIPMENTS FAR OUTRANK '36

Sixty-Five Cars Sent From Here Last Week, U. S. Inspector Says

Bean shipments out of Twin Falls are running far in advance of those during last year and show every indication of continuing. R. E. L. Garnand, chief inspector for the bean and pea inspection of the department of agriculture, announced here today.

Last week, Mr. Garnand said, 65 cars of beans were shipped from Twin Falls to all points in the United States. At the present market price the value of each car to local farmers amounted to between $4,000 and $5,000, he points out.

Monday of this week snow curtailed shipments somewhat, Garnand said, inasmuch as samples of beans could not adequately be obtained and a blockaded railroad branch lines prohibited loading operations. Tuesday, however, 13 cars were dispatched.

At the present time the farmer is getting 6 1/2 cents a pound for No. 1 Great Northern beans, f. o. b. Twin Falls. This price is bulk and uncleaned. It is the highest price paid in years.

Before cars are shipped out of this section a sample of the beans is taken and sent to the Twin Falls offices for analysis and grade certificate. Cars shipped directly from here are also sampled and graded.

Idaho, according to Garnand, is practically the only state in the United States where nearly 100 per cent of the shipments leave under federal inspection.

Burley Methodists Plan Church Night

BURLEY, Feb. 10 (Special)—The Methodist church is planning a church night for members and friends Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 6:30 p. m., according to Rev. Leroy Walker.

A meeting and dinner will be held and the group will listen to a national radio broadcast program featuring an address by D. E. Stanley Jones, celebrated missionary of the church.

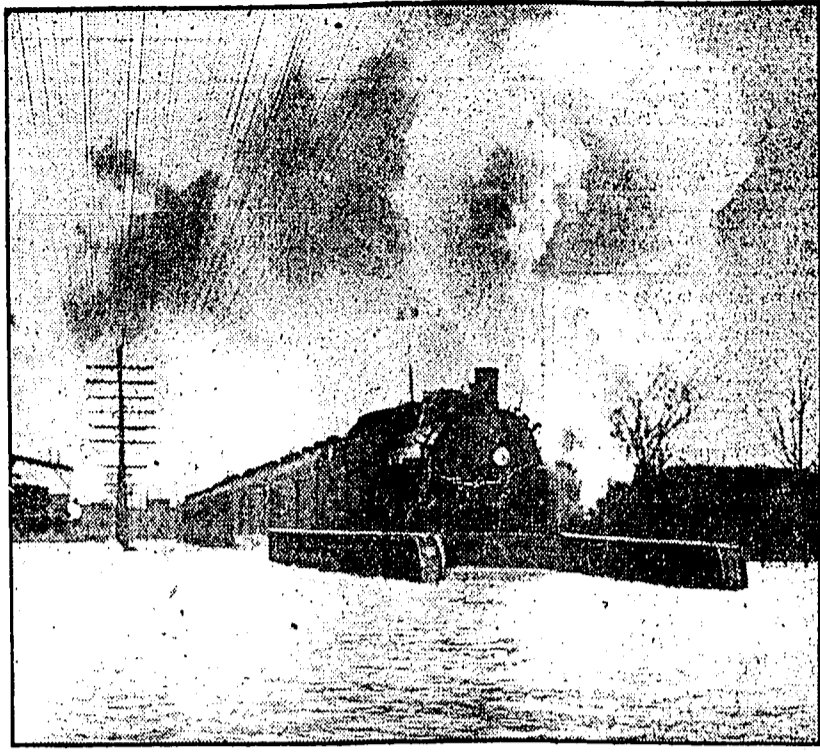

The local church night is planned in cooperation with the other Methodist churches of the United States, all of which will listen to the address broadcast.

Fording the Flood at Memphis—Over a Bridge

When pontoons are built for locomotives, the engineer of this train, plowing through two feet of Mississippi flood waters to get into Memphis, should be among the first to apply for them. The flood invaded the northern fringe of the city, covering the Illinois Central tracks and the Wolf river bridge, over which this engine is cautiously passing as a cameraman clings to a telephone pole to make the picture. Memphis, city of 50,000 refugees, saw only its outlying sections inundated.

EXAMS FOR JOBS PLANNED FRIDAY

U. S. Employment Service's Tests Will Be Taken by 100 Applicants

Scheduled written examinations for the purpose of creating a new eligible list for certain United States employment service positions, will be held in Twin Falls Friday and Saturday of this week, Ray D. Butler, local manager, said today.

Approximately 100 residents are expected to take the examinations, these being persons possessing official "blue" cards mailed to them after applications were made to Moscow and for which the applicants qualified on a basis of education and experience. If the persons taking the "exams" this week-end pass them successfully, they will be called within the next few weeks for personal interviews, Butler said. Only those holding cards from Moscow will be permitted to take the examinations.

Those taking the tests for field supervisor will report at the Bickie school auditorium Friday at 8:30 a. m., and the examinations will last until 1 p. m. Friday. At 2 p. m. those taking the manager examinations will meet at the same place. The examination lasting until 6 p. m. Saturday at 8:20 a. m. those taking the examinations for junior and senior interviewers will meet at room 210 at the high school, Butler said.

Debaters at Gooding Prepare for Match
GOODING, Feb. 10 (Special)—Gooding college debate teams will use their ability in a match against teams from University of Idaho, southern branch, in the college auditorium Thursday evening. Questions to be debated is "Resolved: That congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours in industry."

Both negative and affirmative teams will debate. On Gooding's teams are: Negative, Don Smith, Rupert, and Allan Shaw, Gooding, affirmative, Bertha Boyle and John Mitchell, both of Rupert.

ASSISTANT AGENT FORECAST IN '37

Hale's Report Says Action Would Permit Widening Of Work Here

Prospects at the present time are favorable that an assistant county agent will be available during 1937 to assist Harvey Hale, county agent, in his many duties with which he must aid. It is revealed in the outlook and recommendations section of the 1936 annual report of Twin Falls county.

Commenting on this fact, the report states "If this appointment materializes, profitable educational work of the county agent's office will be materially increased."

"The outlook for agricultural work in Twin Falls county and the recommendations depend considerably on the personnel of the county agent's office and on the amount of work required for the agricultural adjustment programs," the report continues. "There is no limit to the amount of profitable agricultural extension projects that can be carried on in a county as large as and with the diversified agriculture of Twin Falls county. During the past limitation has been the lack of assistance for the county agent and the large amount of his time required on the A A A program."

Crop Insurance
"The present outlook is that the soil conservation program will be continued this year and that a large part of the 1936 program will have to be completed during the 1937 fiscal year. It is also very probable that some form of government crop insurance will be started during 1937," the report suggests.

The agent's office also suggests the regular educational activities of the extension service should be continued and additional ones started to meet new problems. In this line the livestock marketing and improvement projects are listed as being the most important.

Gains in Enrollment and in Improvements Stressed In Dean's Report

POCATELLO, Feb. 10 (Special)—A steady increase in enrollment and a large number of improvements and changes are noted in the University of Idaho, southern branch, biennial report for 1935-36, which was recently submitted to President M. G. Neale of the University of Idaho by Dr. John R. Nichols, executive dean of the southern branch.

During the period covered by the report, a significant experiment was put in operation to reduce failures, the university stadium was completed, an historical museum was started, and considerable work has been done by the CCC to protect the campus from possible damage resulting from erosion and washouts on the hills back of the campus.

An eight-wheeler locomotive, purchased by the Union Pacific in 1887, was the most important acquisition of the museum. Mr. E. C. Manson, retiring Oregon Short Line superintendent, was instrumental in acquiring the locomotive.

Students falling in their classes are to be given special non-college credit work by Robert A. Hume, instructor in English. It is hoped by this method to salvage some of those who otherwise would be sent home and their college education ended.

The CCC workers dug contour furrows on the hills east of the campus. This work is expected to protect the university from cloud-bursts and to increase vegetation on

EVOLUTION PUTS US TO A TEST

President Roosevelt's proposal for a reorganization of the federal judiciary is a subject that will tax the wits of newspaper commentators the country over. Irrespective of their political leanings, they realize that here is an issue loaded with dynamite... one on which everyone has his own convictions.

The American people have always regarded the supreme court as being distinctly above the realm of politics. Its august piety has been almost deified, and perhaps rightly so. It always has been looked upon as a dependable counter balance to offset things so revolutionary or drastic as to arouse fear of endangering our national well being.

No matter what anyone thinks of the supreme court, however, fact remains it has an important place in our form of government and no doubt always will. For that reason any thought of tampering with the sanctity of its portals naturally brings a wave of protest.

These are trying times so far as precedents and long established practices are concerned. Things we once believed indispensable are giving way to the evolution of modern progress. Things previously regarded fantastic and unfeasible are being accepted as practical solutions to our changing problems. It all bears out the old saying that time changes all things.

Realizing all this, is it any wonder that chills run up and down the spines of conservatives even at the remotest suggestion of proposals not wholly in keeping with rules laid down by the constitution? For to them it seems to threaten the last vestige of things they have long regarded as holy.

It is only natural to expect these same conservatives to view with profound horror this newest proposal for reorganization of the United States supreme court.

But nevertheless, why should anyone be afraid to ask himself this very logical question: Is there any fundamental reason why we should not make changes in our constitution if the progress and development of our country make it evident that certain changes are necessary?

By the same token: Cautious as we should be, is there any fundamental reason why we should not make changes in our judicial system if it becomes evident for the same reason that corrective measures are necessary?

We do not approach this issue without due consideration of its significance and importance. We are mindful, indeed, that it concerns things that we Americans have fairly worshipped ever since the birth of our nation.

In making a fair appraisal of such developments, however, we must not lose sight of the fact that we have watched many other noble traditions fall by the wayside.

We have learned to take a more liberal view in our interpretations of the scriptures. We have seen the covered wagon of early days and the horse and buggy of later years fade into the dimly forgotten past. We have watched our natural beauties over-run and commercialized. We have seen many of the privileges of yesteryear denied us. We have stood helplessly by, watching the inroads mass production machinery is making in the ranks of manual labor. We have swallowed this law and that, and have had to content ourselves by grumbling against ever increasing taxation.

The forward march goes on and there's nothing that can stop it... not even the constitution or the supreme court. It's the inevitable law of evolution that knows no limits, much as we would like at times to look back and reminisce of those many traditions that are no more.

That being the case, how can we expect our constitution, the supreme court, or anything else for that matter, to keep pace with the evolution of modern development without changes now and then to meet changing conditions?

HANDS OVER SEA

A nation-wide campaign in China, to raise funds for American flood victims, is reported to be under way. The movement is said to have been inspired by American assistance to China in times of flood and famine.

All of which is remindful that while our recent flood may have seemed a pretty terrible disaster to native Americans, it doesn't really compare with the Chinese variety.

Hundreds died, and some 500,000 were rendered homeless, in our catastrophe; in the Kiangsu province flood of 1931 alone, however, the toll in human lives exceeded 450,000, and several millions lost their homes.

Since our tragedy could hardly have seemed formidable to the Chinese campaign leaders, their desire to manifest their sympathy seems especially commendable.

But... She had a baby-doll beauty. She was gracious. She was cheerful. She was amusing. She was intelligent.

But... She wasn't pretty. So... Elnore got her man. Ann got none.

WITH A SARCASTIC eye on that auto radio bill in the legislature, a young Pocatello attorney has drawn up a measure for the solons to consider. It starts out by proposing the death penalty for driving a car having a horn on it for having anything but old-fashioned hard rubber tires because inflated tires might blow out and for not using four-foot spars sticking out in front to spear anything getting in the way. It concludes:

"SINCE IT IS well understood that many motors in automobiles create considerable noise... It shall be unlawful hereafter for any person to operate an automobile with a motor in it."

THAT'LL GIVE THE sponsors of the no-radio-playing-on-the-highways bill something to shoot at!

YOU MEAN HE'S A BIT LARGISH?

Shooter Guy: One Ralph Leighton, a young and beaming collector, has at last found a pair of high-top boots to fit him. He says he wanted to get a pair of overshoes to go over them but the clerk told him the only thing they had that would hold them was the box they came in.

According to Ralph, he will patronize a local pot and body works (also specializing in tent work) to secure a pair of riding breeches.

No reference meant, Pot Shots, to the other two Ralph Leightons in this here burg. —Hallelujah

DYNAMITE IS THE ONLY WAY TO END IT!

Dear Pot Shots: Since the legislature is still considering such all important matters as car radios to the exclusion of such trifles as relief measures, it should still be timely to tell you what I'd do if I were a legislator:

I would introduce a bill providing ways and means of terminating a game of Monotony—I mean Monopoly.

I'm sure with the help of these brainy men I could think up some new rules for this game, which so constantly reminds me of their progress.

I could at least sponsor a bill providing funds to hire halls for monopoly players—making it unnecessary for weary hostesses to try to keep coffee hot and the sandwiches moist until some player goes broke. —Sena T. E. Hill

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

By Dennis Wheatley © 1937, NEA Service, Inc., William Morrow & Co.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOLITHO BLANE, British banker, disappears from yacht owned by his principal competitor, CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE, of Miami. A note found in Blane's cabin, addressed to his secretary NICHOLAS STODART, indicates suicide since he faced bankruptcy. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, ARGUS SUDS, closing at a new low that day.

Other passengers aboard the yacht GOLDEN GULL are MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE, Rockavage's daughter; LADY WELTER; REGINALD JOCELYN, Mrs. Jocelyn, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law; the BISHOP OF BUDE; COUNT LUIGI FORZINI, and INSUKEI HAYASHI.

Detective Officer KETTERING boards yacht at Miami for investigation. He men discover strange marks on head's cabin carpet and blood upon the curtains. Examination of all is ordered.

CHAPTER IV

DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S THIRD REPORT.

THE guests, with the exception of Lady Welter and the Bishop of Bude, who breakfasted in their respective cabins, assembled for breakfast in the dining saloon between 8:50 and 9:25. As each of them left their cabins these were locked after them and the keys brought to me.

They had finished breakfast by 9:50, so I took over a small writing room and proceeded to the examination of all parties, first calling Mr. Rocksave.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAMES'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF MR. CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE.

K. Come in Mr. Rocksave, come in. I am sorry to upset your trip like this but there are just one or two little things I have got to ask, so that we can clear this matter up. I hope it didn't give you a bad night?

R. No, thank you. I slept perfectly well. Naturally I was a bit upset at anything like this happening on my yacht and it was a shock for my guests, too, but it wasn't as if Bolitho Blane was a personal friend of mine. As I had never met the man any distress I have been feeling is more general than particular.

K. Mr. Bolitho Blane was not a friend of yours, so you say.

R. Well, it's true I'd never met him, but we corresponded a lot and we happen to be in the same line of business, so I figured this was a good opportunity to make his acquaintance.

K. Business. Now we're getting somewhere I think. Just what was the business you proposed to transact with Blane on this trip?

R. It was a pleasure party I tell you.

K. Now, Mr. Rocksave, that won't do. I had a talk with Mr. Stodart last night and he seems to have known quite a bit about Blane's affairs, so I think you'd best be open with me.

R. I see. Stodart let out the fact that Blane and I meant to do a deal if it were possible, did he? Well, that's true.

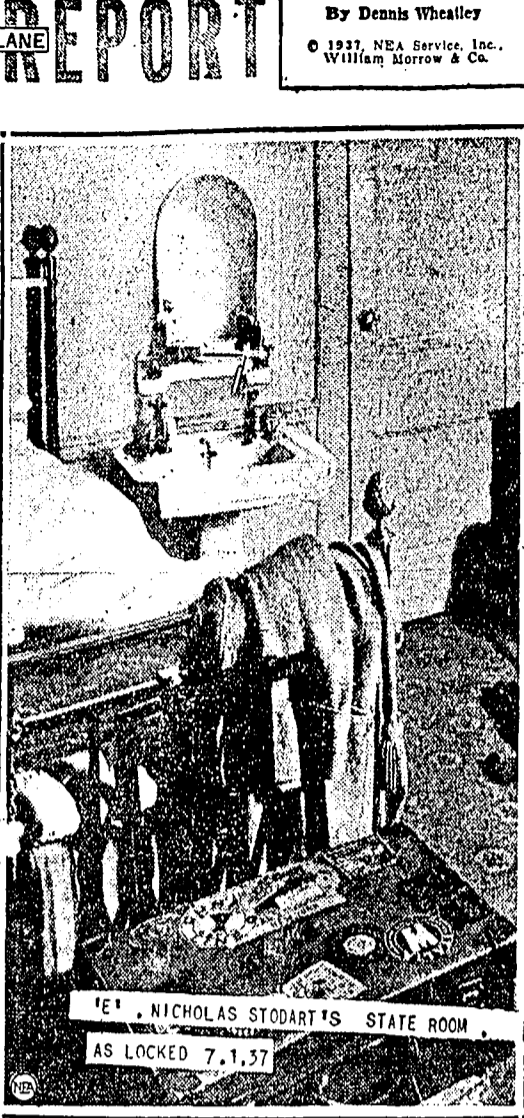

K. That's better now. Why didn't you let me in on that the first time?

R. Well, this is a quite unforeseen and very unfortunate affair. I am sure you will understand that the last thing I want is any undue publicity.

K. Sure, sure.

R. As you may know, I'm president of Rocksave Consolidated, and the man behind its associated companies, which between them control the biggest share of the soap output in the world.

[It is common knowledge, too, that Bolitho Blane was the big man of the British group, who are our principal competitors. A price war, ruinous to both parties, has been going on for years and I considered that the best thing to do was for Blane and me to get together.

If anyone had come to know what was in the air the shores of both groups would have gone up like a skyrocket, and neither Blane nor I wanted that. It would have meant such a terrible slump afterwards if we'd failed to make a deal. You'll see, then, it was essential we should meet some place where nobody would get to know about it. I suggested my yacht, and Blane agreed.

K. Thanks, Mr. Rocksave. That's fine. I can quite understand your not wishing your intended conference with Mr. Blane to get about, owing to its effect on the market. Now, tell me about these other guests of yours. Was it in any sense a pleasure trip, or were all of them concerned in this business with you and Blane?

R. One or two were here on account of business.

K. Which were they?

R. Lady Welter. You'll have heard of her. She runs a group of papers in Great Britain and they cost her a tidy packet, I believe, but that's her business. She has an outside income and so she can afford it. A lot of her money is tied up in my companies. In fact, she is my biggest individual shareholder and I value her opinion, so that's why I asked her to join us for this trip.

K. Anyone else?

R. Well, I suppose you'd include young Reggie Jocelyn. He's her son-in-law, and the old lady thinks a lot of him.

K. And the Jap?

R. Yes, he's business, too. I've never met him before yesterday, although we've corresponded.

K. What part does he play?

R. Well, he's a sort of unofficial representative of the Japanese government, and he's been playing ball with me for some time now on the proposition of our securing a monopoly of the Japanese market for our goods. He was playing ball with Blane, too, I don't doubt; anyhow, neither of us had seen our way to close the deal up to date but I figured that, if Blane and I could get together, we'd have the Jap cold between us so we both postponed clinching matters until we'd had our talk.

I asked the Jap along so that, if we settled things satisfactorily, we could tackle him together afterwards, and kill two birds at one sitting.

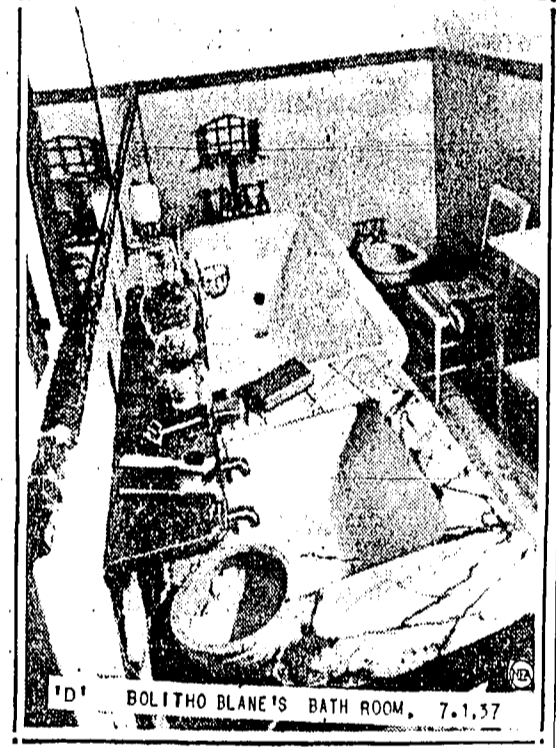

K. How about the others?

R. They're just straightforward guests who know nothing of the business, which Blane and I were proposing to transact.

K. Thank you Mr. Rocksave. That makes the situation a whole lot clearer. I am afraid no one must go ashore yet, but I'll be seeing you when I've had a chat with these other people.

BOLITHO BLANE'S BATH ROOM, 7.1.37

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

A dog bite, or the bite of any small animal, should always be investigated promptly to determine whether the animal has hydrophobia or rabies. If there is no question of hydrophobia, the wound is treated like any other ordinary wound.

In the event of a sting, the stinger of the bee, wasp, or yellow jacket should be pulled out if it is visible in the tissues. Then a drop or two of diluted ammonia water may be applied to the wound. Swelling and pain may be alleviated by application of cold compresses.

Most spider bites in the United States are due to the shoe button spider, the "black widow." This spider looks like a black shoe button and is called the "black widow" because the female frequently eats the male. Occasionally, persons who are bitten by this kind of spider suffer a general reaction affecting the whole body, and become seriously ill. They should, of course, have immediate medical attention.

The ordinary sting of a centipede or scorpion may be more severe than that of a wasp or bee. In such cases bleeding should be encouraged to wash out any material deposited with the sting or bite.

Tincture of iodine may be applied to prevent infection. Cold compresses will take care of pain and swelling. A physician will usually treat a severe scorpion sting by injecting an anesthetic solution around the bite or sting. In the anesthetic solution he usually includes some adrenalin, which constricts the blood vessels and prevents rapid absorption of the poison.

Bites of fleas and mosquitoes are seldom disturbing unless they become infected. Constant scratching will break the blister, or bleed, and the raw surface may become easily infected.

All sorts of mosquito bite and flea to alleviate the itching or irritating lotions have been developed. If these bites are let alone, they usually disappear promptly.

The mosquito bite lotions, sometimes available in solid or stick form, usually contain small amounts of camphor and menthol.

The bite of a bedbug seldom becomes infected. Usually it itches. The itching is relieved by weak ammonia or weak menthol solutions.

The way to keep from being bitten is to avoid the insects. This is important because of the possibility that any type of insect may carry infection.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO—

CHICAGO—Prospects for the new wheat crop are poorest in history, H. W. Snow, Chicago board of trade operator and market expert, said today.

The world will feel a severe pinch for wheat before the 1937 crop comes in, according to present indications, Snow stated.

This is due to the fact that last year's production of wheat in the United States was relatively small. Also, from the limited supplies in America's granaries, more wheat was exported to Europe than any other time in history, board of trade figures show.

Better prices for the available wheat supply and the prospect of high prices for the new crop will spell prosperity for many farmers.

27 YEARS AGO—

Feb. 10, 1910 The office quarters of Dr. Truman O. Boyd and Dr. F. F. McAtee are undergoing extensive changes this week. The plans which are being carried out by the workmen will give the two gentlemen one of the handsomest office suites in the city. The reception room will be at the front of the building with a pleasant view of Main avenue with the private office of Dr. McAtee located in the rooms vacated by Dr. Olfen, while Dr. Boyd will occupy his present private office with well fitted laboratory adjoining. Dr. McAtee will put in one more dental chair when the new quarters have emerged from the hands of the decorators.

It was learned here recently that Atton Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Garner had lately been released from the north central L. D. S. mission located at Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada. She had served in the mission for a period of two years. She will return home by way of Cardston and Great Falls, Mont., and will visit with friends in Winnipeg before starting.

Rupert Ward Moves Chapel to New Site

RUPERT, Feb. 10 (Special)—The L. D. S. second ward is holding regular meetings each Sunday in the Pioneer school building while the second ward chapel is being moved to a new location.

On the site it has occupied for several years, local church members will erect a permanent tabernacle. Work is being delayed now by severe weather conditions.

Behind The Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—The news behind nearly all Washington news these days is buoyant, if not inflationary.

Congressional talk about curbing federal expenditures is largely for-the-record, but not for the book. It carries no prospect of fulfillment. There is no force in the economy drive, and, in fact, no drive. President Roosevelt's slowly developing program generally fixes the yardstick of coming expenditures at "need." (Note the deficiency appropriations, the new federal public works program, the government reorganization plan, the budget.)

This means, fundamentally, that government is to continue to expand purchasing power with substantial expenditures for an indefinite future period. (Example: The five billion dollar public works program would cover the coming six years.)

While declining relief needs may ease the flow from some treasury spigots, other new ones are sure to be opened up. For instance, the new permanent public works program was not in the budget, calculations which Mr. R. sent to congress 30 days ago. For another instance, the first big bill passed at this session was $50,000,000 for seed loans, which was not included in the budget. For a third instance, the cool billion dollar deficiency bill just passed is what was needed in addition to the budget for this year.

Hundreds of other instances are lying around loose in the congressional hopper, which holds bills contemplating additional extra-budgetary expenditures.

From a business standpoint, the trend from here therefore seems to be rather definitely established toward further increases in commodity prices, further stocking up by business, further expansion by business—unless strikes break it.

DESTINATION

Senator Bailey of North Carolina, a moderate, tried to tell the senate the other day that easy appropriations were the road to ruin. (Be-whiskered Senator Lewis corrected Senator Bailey, saying the accurate destination of that road was hell, but Bailey was unwilling to go that far in such a widely circulated publication as the congressional record.) The debate, however, showed exactly the peculiar status of economy.

In the first place, Mr. Bailey's objection seemed to be that his state, North Carolina, was not getting her just share of the treasury loot. He asserted North Carolina got only eight-tenths of one per cent of WPA funds, while New York got 17 per cent, three states, he said, get 35 per cent of all WPA money (New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois). Like Cicero, he said he would not mention how much North Carolina paid into the treasury grab-bag in taxes.

All he wanted to do was to require cities getting federal aid to show that they could not raise the money otherwise, but the senate defeated the amendment without a record vote.

The only noticeable result was that some senators indicated they might get around to thinking about investigating relief expenditures some time. Even a few of the liberals admitted privately, afterward, that perhaps appropriations should be held down, but they suggested nothing drastic. The $1,000,000 deficiency bill went through whooping, without curtailment.

The senate showed clearly that, whether its destination was just ordinary ruin or a realistic hell, it certainly was enjoying the ride.

UNDERTONES

A leader of the new order has made a personal canvass of congressional opinion about the sit-down method of striking just for his own private information. He says the democratic side of the house is strongly against it. No bill will ever be introduced on the subject, as no legislative issue is involved, but, if one were, he says it would pass overwhelmingly.

Cloakroom opinion being expressed these days is also extremely critical of Labor Secretary Perkins. Some of it is probably personal, as Miss Perkins has never been able to get along with congressmen.

Perhaps that is one reason why the Hoffman resolution in the record reads: "The secretary of labor be, and he is hereby directed to furnish the house of representatives all such confirmation as he may possess," etc.

Or maybe congress recognizes no sexes.

TWINNS

Mr. Roosevelt's friends, Editor Ray Moley and his backer, Vincent Astor, have been seen frequently around the office of that magazine, "News-Week," during the last few news weeks. A merger with the Moley-Astor publication, "Today," has been in the making for some time. The combined publication would carry "today's" editorials plus "News-Week's" news accounts.

LESSON The nomination of John Winant as chairman of the social security board struck a hidden snag in the senate, which delayed it for a while. Submarine eyes detected that the snag bore the features of Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania, who is said to have been having some private patronage troubles with Winant. It proves again that even now order must treat senators with both politeness and jobs.

Nevertheless, Winant is still favorable for the new social welfare cabinet job, as is Harry Hopkins for the second new post of secretary of public works.

CARDS RATED CLUB TO BEAT FOR NATIONAL PENNANT

STRONG HURLING STAFF EXPECTED

Acquisition of Warneke and Return of Paul Dean Aids Dizzy

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—That Gas House Gang from St. Louis, strengthened by the acquisition of Lou Warneke, will be the team to beat in the race for the National league pennant this year, according to many observers.

Last year, a pitching staff unexpectedly weakened by the loss of Paul Dean, cost St. Louis the flag, but this season, the hard-playing Redbirds is headed by Dizzy Dean and Warneke, a duo second to none. Between them they should win 50 games.

Word comes from Paul Dean at his farm in Dallas that his arm is strong again and good as ever. If the younger Dean regains his 1935 effectiveness, the Cards have a great chance, as the Giants have done nothing in the way of rebuilding and the Cubs haven't replaced Warneke.

Frisch Question Mark
Manager Frankie Frisch's chief concern is his infield and it centers largely about himself. Stuart Martin, who was a sensational rookie last year, was slated for a regular turn this season, but an injured appendix has confined him to bed. If an operation is necessary, he probably will be unavailable for the entire season.

The vital question is, can Frisch take up his old spot at second and stand the pace? If so, all well and good, but should his age slow him up, a weak infield will definitely hamper the Cards' chances. Johnny Mize, whose batting prowess is almost nullified by his weakness defensively, will hold down first base. Leo Durocher will perform at short and Don Gutteridge, a flashy rookie last year, will play third.

Outfield to Be Same
The outfield again will be patrolled by Joe Medwick, Pepper Martin and Terry Moore. Medwick is one of the most dangerous batters in the league. Frisch has often termed this trio as one of the "best outfields in baseball."

Should Paul Dean's arm prove to be as well as he claims, and if Frisch can come up with a winning pitcher to add to the Deans and Warneke, he can boast of the best hurling corps in the league. A promising crop of hurling prospects, headed by Jim Winford and Bill McGee, including Mike Ryba, Nelson Potter, Bob Welland, Ray Harrell, Jess Hatnes, St. Johnson, Johnny Chambers, Herb Moore and Morton Cooper, will be given a trial during the next few weeks.

SECOND PLACERS GAIN IN HOCKEY

By United Press
Second-place clubs in both divisions of the National Hockey league gained on the leaders today as a result of victories chalked up in last night's battling.

The New York Rangers trimmed the leading Detroit Red Wings margin to six points by trouncing the Toronto Maple Leafs, 5 to 1. Dillon and Watson each contributed two goals to the New Yorkers' victory.

The Wings were trimmed, 3 to 2, by the New York Americans who kept their bid for a Stanley cup playoff berth alive.

The Montreal Maroons scored their first victory of the season over the Boston Bruins, 2 to 0, to gain on the idle leaders, Les Canadiens. Ironically, both Maroon tallies were made by Jerry Shannon, a Boston castoff.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS WILL EQUIP KIT

Plans were made for all members of the high school groups of Camp Fire girls to equip a mending and first aid kit for the counselor's room at the high school at the Monday meeting of the Twin Falls Guardians association held at Washington school. A representative from each group is to serve on a committee in charge of the project.

The group discussed plans for a birthday council fire to be held in March and changes in the Camp Fire manual were studied. Mrs. Floyd Campbell, president, outlined the changes in ranks; Mrs. C. S. Lee reported on new honors and Mrs. W. A. Van Engelen reviewed a chapter on "Making the Most of Me."

A report of a new group under the guardianship of Miss Elizabeth O'Malley was heard. The group is sponsored by the Magiel-Y club.

Famed Sun Valley Ski Teacher Offers Times Readers Lessons

Fifth of six lessons in skiing.

By HANS HAUSER
Three-time open ski champion of Austria and world's foremost instructor now at Sun Valley, Idaho, Hans Hauser's style has been widely copied throughout Europe.

Before leaving gentle practice slopes for spectacular runs, we must learn how to slow down when the occasion demands, or—as my American pupils say—or else!

The simplest way to reduce ski speed is to snow-plow. The skier, who is going downhill NARROW TRACK, the normal running position, WIDENS HIS TRACK, or separates his skis, pushes his heels out, and turns his toes in. He is now in snow-plow position. Again, here, the knees must be bent.

As the skier goes downhill in snow-plow position, toes in and heels out, he should take care to keep his skis flat to the snow and his feet flat to the skis. In remembering to keep his knees bent, the beginner sometimes will let his heels rise from his skis. This should be avoided.

The simplest turns in downhill skiing are made from the snow-plow position and are known as snow-plow turns. These may be made either to the right or left depending on which ski the skier places his weight.

To make a snow-plow turn, the skier first goes into snow-plow position—oes in and heels out, skis flat to the snow, and knees bent.

To turn to the right, the skier shifts his or her weight to the left ski, which is the outside one on a right turn, and swings the shoulders and body to the right, the direction in which he is turning. To turn left, the weight is shifted to the right ski and the shoulders and trunk are swung to the left.

NESTELL SCORES "KINGFISH" KAYO

Californian Looks Forward To Campaign Among Heavyweights

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10 (AP)—Bob Nestell, 191 pound Bakersfield, Calif., cowhand, looked confidently today toward a fight campaign aimed to lead him into heavyweight championship channels.

The trim Nestell, undefeated in the professional ring, last night established himself in the eyes of fight fans in his first major engagement by knocking out King Levinsky of Chicago in the last round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Nestell virtually annihilated the puffy ex-fish peddler, dropping him five times in the course of the bout and hammering him into submission with a devastating right only 17 seconds before the final bell.

The Californian lost only one round, the third, when the King climbed to his feet after a knock-down and came lumbering in, bringing up right and left hands from his shoelaces. In subsequent rounds Levinsky went down twice for counts of nine.

Covotes Trapped In Autumn Drive

HAGERMAN, Feb. 10 (Special)—With eight different trappers having trap lines on the Bruneau desert from September until November, the cream of the coyote crop was caught when the division of grazing predatory animal control foreman started a drive against this menace of the range. Most of the pups had been caught, he states, but the old trapwise adults who have been doing great damage to the lambs for years were still roaming the desert. Many of these limping on three legs have been in traps before. This fact makes them all the more destructive to sheep, because it is difficult for them to catch anything but domestic animals.

The division of grazing catch during December consisted of such killer with 40 coyotes and one lynx cat taken.

Work during January was carried on mainly by means of poison and since snow has made it impossible to locate and pick up those killed by this method it is uncertain how effective the poison has been, the foreman indicates.

To give an idea of the scope, however, it might be stated that 15 horses have been killed and quartered for bait. With a poisoned quarter in each location, 60 poison stations have been established north of Cooskin butte to Glenn Ferry and west from Hagerman and Castleford to Crows nest.

Hunters Pay Fines

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Violators of North Dakota's game and fish laws paid $4,017 in fines during 1936, or nearly six times as much as penalties listed in 1935, E. M. Lee, chief game warden, announced.

Nini Tobin looks up at Hans Hauser with an inquiring smile while attempting to keep knees bent and swing shoulders and body to the right. She is executing a snow-plow turn to right. Not bad, says the Austrian champion as he suggests a little more bend to the knees, a little more swing to the shoulders.

Super-Star Gehrig Can't Seem To Get The $35,000 He's Asking

By HENRY SUPER
(Punch Hitting for Henry McClemore)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Putting the sport shot here and there: Wonder why Lou Gehrig can't get the $35,000 he's asking for? Seems strange he doesn't get as much as Hack Wilson and Al Simmons, each of whom reached $33,000 and neither of whom was as great as Lou. Gehrig has been a super-star for years but has been paid for being only a star. A horn-blowing contest will be a feature of the Westminster kennel club dog show opening today.

Unfortunately it's only open to huntism and whippers-in of recognized or registered packs so that bars Dicky Dean and Maxie Baer. St. Mary's is figuring on an undefeated football season this year. The Gaels wind up the campaign in New York against Fordham and Slip Madigan figures that with the east-bound trip as a payoff goal, the players will stay keyed up and win all season in the hopes of a blow-off in New York—after the game. BRUINS CONQUER WENDELL, 65-25

Wayne Turner Leads T. F. Scoring With 21 Points In 12 Minutes

Coach R. V. Jones' Twin Falls high school's fast improving Bruins made easy work of a scrappy but outclassed Wendell Trojan quintet here last night to score a 65-25 victory. The Bruins led at half time, 20 to 9, and at the third quarter 43-16.

Held scoreless the first half, Wayne Turner, Bruin forward, got "hot" in the third period and in a space of 12 minutes counted 21 points to lead the scoring for the evening. Maurice Hartnuff counted 14 points, and Barrett led Wendell with 11.

In the preliminary game, the Wendell frosh-soph went down before the sharp shooting local frosh-soph team 45-16. Ray Wells led the scoring with 12 points, while Griffith and Caldwell were high for the invaders with six.

The lineups and summary: Twin Falls Bruins (65)—Andrews (9) and Turner (21), forwards; Hartnuff (14), center; Trummer (8) and Brown (3); guards. Substitutions: Mills, Waters, Sherrill (2), Hutchins, Almuist (1), Smith, Nicewonger (2), Carpenter (2) and Sutcliffe. Tigers Stage Rally to Take 25-20 Victory; Girls' Team Wins

JEROME, Feb. 10 (Special)—Jerome Tigers got revenge for an early season defeat here last night when they staged a last half rally to down Coach Louis Denton's Kimberly quint 25-20, after the Bulldogs had led 9-2 at the quarter and 12-9 at the half.

A fast passing attack in the third period gained the Norby crew a lead of 19-16 and they were never headed from there on in.

Scoring for the evening was led by Ellis, Jerome. Dohse paced Kimberly with eight.

In a preliminary game the Jerome girls' team routed the Kimberly maidens 40 to 20. Burks led the Jerome scoring with 23 points, while Howell led Kimberly with 12.

Heavy Bout Seems Set for Comiskey Park in Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—If and when Chicago matches James J. Braddock and Joe Louis for the heavyweight title, they will clash in Comiskey park and not Soldier Field, it appeared today.

Although Joe Gould, the champion's manager, refused to sign unless the bout is staged on the lake front, the park board indicated the rental fee will be too high even to consider.

CHAPTER SENDS 130 INVITATIONS FOR TEA EVENT

One hundred and thirty invitations have been issued to girls of the senior classes of the Twin Falls and Kimberly high schools and members of the chapter by Twin Falls chapter, American Association of University Women to attend the tea to be given Saturday from 3 o'clock to 5 at the home of Mrs. Miles J. Browning, on Eleventh avenue east.

The program for the tea is being arranged by members of the educational committee, Mrs. R. E. Hood, chairman; Mrs. Amy Erickson, Mrs. B. E. Tillery and Mrs. J. D. Barnhart. Mrs. Russell Potter is in charge of the music. Hostesses include Mrs. L. V. Morgan, chairman; Mrs. C. A. Bailey, Mrs. John Soden, Mrs. Russell Potter, Mrs. H. L. Hogsett, Miss Ruth Johnson and Miss Jean Sprague.

Senior sponsors at the local high school are Miss Jane Maxwell and Miss Josephine Throckmorton.

FEBRUARY DANCE HELD BY O. A. O. CLUB

Approximately 75 couples attended the February dance event arranged last evening at Elks hall by the O. A. O. dancing club. Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blanford, Judge and Mrs. O. P. Duvall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett. Music for dancing was provided by Glen Bates and his Nite Hawks. The hall was attractive with Japanese lanterns.

The dance was preceded by a number of smart dinner and cocktail parties among which was a dinner party given at the Colonial rooms by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Tommer, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. F. Magel, attended by 40 couples. Bouquets and yellow tapers trimmed the tables for the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Weiker gave a cocktail party at their home for 24 friends and used the Valentine theme in decorations. Another event preceding the dance was that arranged by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Haney and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cannon.

SURPRISE PARTY SETS MRS. SHURTLEFF

Mrs. F. F. Schwartz gave a surprise farewell party last evening at her home for Mrs. Lamond Shurtleff, who was to leave today with Mr. Shurtleff for California to make their home. During the evening two tables of bridge were at play with prizes going to Mrs. Artell Kelly, Mrs. Shurtleff and Mrs. Tom Foulke. Decorations and tallies carried out a patriotic theme. Refreshments were served following the games at tables trimmed in red, white and blue and centered with miniature cherry trees.

Mrs. Shurtleff was presented with a gift from the group which included Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Foulke, Mrs. Jack Carson, Mrs. Bill Brown, Mrs. Bill Thomas, Mrs. Harold Hoover.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS PLAN OFFICERS' VISIT

Officers of the Royal Neighbors of America in their meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Lena Kunkle, outlined plans for the year's work. Following the completion of year books and designs for league uniforms, preparations for the official visit of the district deputy, Mrs. Effie Watkins, were made. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Calendar

Mrs. D. R. Johnson will be hostess to the Gem State Study club Friday at 8 p. m. at her home.

Stitch and Chatter circle meeting scheduled for Thursday has been postponed due to road conditions.

Evening Guild of Ascension Episcopal church will meet this evening with Miss Inez Wheeler, 242 Addison avenue.

Foreign and Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Frank Cogswell, 171 Lincoln street.

Women's Council of the Christian church will meet Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. S. Parish, 936 Shoshone street east. Every member is urged by officers to be present and bring a Valentine.

World Day of Prayer services will be held Friday at 1 p. m. at the Christian church. Lunch will be served at 1 p. m. Everyone attending is asked to bring a salad or sandwiches and his own table service. The regular meeting will begin at 2 p. m. Members of all churches are asked to join in this observance.

VALENTINE SESSION HELD BY CHURCH CLASS

Mrs. J. L. Hodges was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of the Mary-Martha class at a Valentine party. The business session was conducted by Mrs. S. O. Klodt in the absence of the president and plans were made for a cooked food sale to be held March 27.

The Valentine program was presented by Mrs. Olsen, who gave a reading. She also conducted devotionals. Mrs. Hodges and the assistant hostess, Mrs. Walter Turner and Mrs. Marvin Mayo, served refreshments in keeping with the theme of the meeting.

MUTUAL CLASS HAS SOCIAL MEETING

Mrs. Eva Adamson last evening was hostess during a social meeting of the senior class of the Mutual Improvement association of the second ward. During the evening monopoly was at play with refreshments being served late in the evening by the hostess. The entertainment was under direction of Mrs. Eta Hull. Mrs. Adamson was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Jane Jones.

CHAPTER HOLDS INITIATION CEREMONY

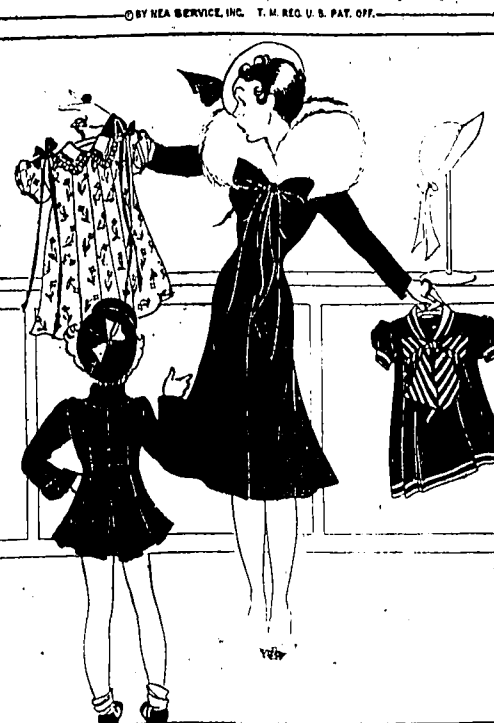

Twin Falls chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, met last evening at Masonic temple for a regular business session followed by an initiation ceremony. Mrs. Minnie Shottwell, worthy matron, and Stuart Severin, worthy patron, and other members of the staff of officers were in charge.

Refreshments were served from a table trimmed in the Valentine theme. On the hostess committee were Mrs. Helen Taylor, chairman, Mrs. Ella Keefe, Mrs. Alma Daubner, Mrs. Lillian Miller, Mrs. Clara Koehler, Mrs. Winifred Baldwin and Mrs. Jean Dickerson.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS KIRKMAN

Miss Dorothy Kirkman was feted last evening at a handkerchief shower given at the L. D. S. recreation hall by members of the Men and Gleaner classes of the second ward Mutual Improvement association. Miss Kirkman plans to leave next week for Salt Lake City.

FLAPPER FANNY By Sylvia

"Well, when can I have one with a long skirt?" "When you quit spilling ice cream down the front of short-skirted ones."

Your Children By Olive Roberts Barton

When Johnny sits down at the table he runs his eye over the dishes. He probably whoops when he sees the hot cakes and sausages. The sliced tomatoes or the apple sauce get short shrift. He refuses to have any truck with such stuff, as he calls them.

So Johnny loads up on rakes until his tummy looks like an alderman's. Or perhaps, after the first half dozen, his mother says he has had enough and cuts off his rations. He may cry and say he's still hungry and leave the table feeling injured and sulky.

What is to be done with the child who insists on eating too much popovers and gravy, too many hot biscuits with jelly, or lives entirely on milk?

He has to have a mixture of fruits and vegetables to balance his diet and give him minerals, proteins and starches, yet persistently he refuses to get tissue and bone-building products into his system.

Fool 'Em With Sacks One way to have him eat the undesirable first, when his appetite is willing to bargain a little. Maybe the applesauce or baked apples are meant for desert, and the salad or greens are permitted to stand until all will power is gone. But there is no commiseration or rule of thumb that says the order of eating cannot be reversed.

Another good way is to give the in-between snacks variety. When Johnny comes in hungry, instead of the everlasting cookies or "piece," see that he gets fruit, or a vegetable sandwich.

I've seen youngsters devour vegetable sandwiches with dispatch, and ask for more, in between meals, that they would have scorned entirely at meal time.

LUNCHEON GIVEN BY TWO HOSTESSES

Mrs. Charles Casey and Mrs. Alvin Casey arranged an attractive luncheon this afternoon at the Colonial tea rooms. Covers were laid at 11 tables centered with red and white sweet peas. Places were marked with crimson place cards carrying out the Valentine motif.

During the afternoon contract bridge was at play.

SOCIAL SESSION HELD BY LOCAL GROVE

Thirteen members and four guests of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle met last evening at the home of Mrs. Marie Guttery for a social session. Mrs. Dias, president, was in charge of the business session during which it was announced that the local grove ranked fourth in the United States in advertising.

A novelty act was presented and the remainder of the evening was spent at cards and monopoly. Refreshments were served.

Triple "A"

HONOLULU (AP)—The letter "a" probably gets heavier use in the Hawaiian language than in almost any other tongue. It is used not only singly, but in two's and three's. Examples are: "kaaa," a thread made of fiber; "laaana," devoted, and "maaaa," sea breeze.

High School News

Girl Reserve interest groups of the high school are meeting regularly, reports to Miss Ruth McManimie, district counselor of the Girl Reserves, show. The knitting group is meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. W. McRoberts. Plans for a ping pong group are also rapidly taking shape and the groups will probably meet for the first time some day this week. The group interested in photography met with Miss McManimie Saturday morning at the home of Rachel Balleger. Miss McManimie showed those present the technique of taking indoor and snow pictures. Refreshments were served by the hostess. During the next meeting of the photography group at the home of Caroline Dudley prints and negatives will be studied.

Girl Reserve sponsors met with Mrs. C. A. North, girls' counselor, Monday afternoon. The group discussed the problems which confront the various club groups and outlined the work for the spring. Sponsors attending the meeting were Miss Violet Adams, J. O. Y., Miss Jean Sweezy, Blue Triangle; Miss Bernice Babcock, club coordinator; and Miss Ruth McManimie, Girl Reserve secretary.

Commercial club of the high school met yesterday afternoon with "Pete" Lane, president presiding. He turned the meeting over to Billy May White, program chairman, who in turn introduced Ralph B. Smith of the Twin Falls Title and Abstract Co., who spoke upon requirements students should have to get a job and hold it. In his talk Mr. Smith stressed such attributes as accuracy, integrity and loyalty.

Junior High Notes

During the Boy Scout assembly this afternoon blotters in honor of Scout week were distributed, through the courtesy of the Standard Press Printing, to every student present.

St. Valentine will be duly honored Friday afternoon by students of the junior high school. Preparations are already underway for a Valentine gift exchange and parties in various home rooms. The afternoon advisory period will be lengthened to allow time for the festivities, states Mrs. Vera C. O'Leary, principal. Each home room will have a Valentine box for which the students have drawn names for an exchange. Valentine are to be either home made or are not to cost more than a nickel.

Today's Markets and Financial News

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)-Wheat prices started out lower here today but ran into commission house buying that scared shorts into covering with the result that the market advanced to a new high for the movement. The May delivery came within one cent of the season's high. Early weakness at Liverpool induced scattered selling at the start. The British market rallied later, however, on reports of better demand for Argentine wheat from European importers and prices closed 1/2 to 1 1/2c higher. Better cash demand for wheat also had a bullish effect on futures here. Improvement has been noted in flour business. Northwestern Miller placing last week's business at 67 per cent of capacity in the spring wheat area and 43 per cent in the southwest.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The GRASSHOPPER
MAKES MUSIC BY USING HIS WING COVER AS A FIDDLE, AND HIS LEG AS A BOW!

The BRYOPHYLLUM PLANT
GROWS TINY PLANTS ON THE EDGES OF ITS LEAVES, THEN DROPS THEM TO THE GROUND, WHERE THEY TAKE ROOT AND GROW.

MOST ASTRONOMERS BELIEVE OUR UNIVERSE IS ONLY ONE OF MANY SUCH STAR GROUPS.

A ridge, running along the thigh part of a grasshopper's leg, is used as a bow to rub against a vein on the wing cover, and thus the insect produces sound. Some grasshoppers have their ears on their forelegs, while others have auditory organs on the abdomen.

WEEK'S PROGRAM GIVEN AT BURLEY

Agriculture, Home Economics Classes Scheduled for L. D. S. Session

BURLEY, Feb. 10 (Special)—An unusually complete agricultural and home economics program has been planned for Leadership week starting next Monday, according to R. Golden May, director of the work, and W. W. Palmer, county agent and a member of the arrangements committee.

The agriculture program will include classes from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. and from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m., each day of the week.

On Monday they will be conducted by John L. Toews, superintendent of the agricultural experiment station at Aberdeen. His topic will be "Crop Experimental Work and Results at This Station."

Tuesday Program Tuesday the program will be in charge of Carl Hobs, assistant agriculture extension economist at Boise, and the subject for discussion will be "Farm Records, Inventories and Value of Agricultural Reports."

E. F. Riechart, extension animal husbandryman of Boise, will have the classes Wednesday and his subject will be "The Patterning of Livestock for Market on Southern Idaho Farms."

On Thursday, Prent Moore, extension poultryman of Boise, will be the featured speaker. His subject for the morning class will be "What Placer the Poultry Enterprise Should Take on Southern Idaho Farms," and in the afternoon, "Management and Production Problems in Poultry."

For the last day the classes will be turned over to C. O. Youngstrom, extension economist of Moscow, for discussion for both classes will be "The Agricultural Outlook and New Phases in Agricultural Development."

The home economics class will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, meeting from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. and from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Wednesday, and from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. on the other two days.

The Wednesday morning meeting will be on the subject, "My Picture Hobby," discussed by Miss Marion White, district home demonstration agent, Boise. In the afternoon, Miss Margaret Hill, district home demonstration agent, Twin Falls, will be in charge and her topic will be, "New Uses for Old Foods."

On Thursday the home economics program for the morning class will be directed by Miss Vivian Minyard, extension specialist in clothing, Boise, and will be on the subject, "Child's Clothing." Miss Norma Barnes, head of the home economics department of the University of Idaho, southern branch, will discuss "Hobby Writing at Home" at the afternoon meeting.

Miss Barnes will again address the class Friday morning on the subject, "The Child's Spiritual Growth," and Miss Minyard will take the afternoon class, having as her subject, "Varying the Costume Through Accessories."

Watering Reservoirs Built at Hagerman

HAGERMAN, Feb. 10 (Special)—Stockmen of Snake river valley will find 30 different stock watering reservoirs ranging capacity from four acre feet to 133 acre feet as a result of the extensive water development project set up by the Division of Grazing Camp and worked upon during the fall and winter, officials state.

The reservoirs are distributed on an average of four miles apart. Upon completion of the reservoirs now under construction, the equipment and men will be moved to the location of a road to be built on the southwest side of Snake river between the Bliss bridge and King Hill.

NEW SCOUT UNIT ENTERS COUNCIL

Troop 71 of Twin Falls, Snake river area council, Boy Scouts of America, today was full fledged member of the council after having completed installation and initiation ceremonies at the second ward L. D. E. church Sunday evening. The church sponsors the troop, which just received its charter.

The scoutmaster of the new troop is Chauncey W. Abbott, Wyland Lind is chairman of the troop committee, assisted by L. R. Bice and Russell Robertson.
