U. S. Will Match Navies, Admiral Cautions World

America to Build Ship for Ship, Says Chief of Operations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UP)—Foreign nations expanding their navies beyond the standards of recent treaties received notice today that they can expect the United States to match their construction.

The information went out not in a carefully worded state paper but in comment by Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, on Great Britain's proposed $7,500,000,000 5-year armament program.

Leahy said it was his understanding that this nation was definitely committed to the maintenance of a "navy second to none." To maintain that principle, he declared, it would become necessary for the U. S. to build new ships if other powers did.

British Plan Viewed

The British plan was viewed in some informed quarters as a move to end all super-armament programs.

Among most practical-minded officials this interpretation was likened to the purpose of the World War to end all wars. It found some support, however, among those who believe that the United States and Great Britain, equipped with enormous resources, could make armaments maintenance so costly that nations possessing less natural wealth would be compelled to sue for peace.

Two New Ships

The present U. S. building program calls for start of construction this year on two new capital ships. Great Britain already has laid the keels of two new crafts, and the program announced in London calls for the start, after April 1, of construction of a third new vessel.

The navy appropriation bill now before congress carries $583,000,000 for naval expenditures for the 1937-38 fiscal year, of which about $25,000,000 is earmarked for the start of construction of two new ships, each to cost about $50,000,000. Construction of a third ship would cost $50,000,000 more.

"STATE OF WAR"

ANDERSON, Ind., Feb. 18 (UP)—Civil law in this industrial city—some of a feud between union and non-union automobile workers—surrendered today to power of the military.

Martial law supercedes the power of civil authorities, Judge Charles E. Smith said.

The judge, confronted by National Guard Commandant Col. A. H. Whitcomb's announcement that he would "disregard any court orders that may be granted," indicated that today he would deny formally a motion for writ of habeas corpus to free 17 military prisoners.

Clark Surprised by Bank Declarations

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 18 (UP)—Governor Barzilla W. Clark said today that "it seems a little surprising" that banks should so hastily declare that farm loans in Idaho will cease, as the new law to prevent entering of deficiency judgments goes into effect.

"Deficiency judgments cannot be taken against corporations—why not give the farmer the same advantage?" the governor asked. "I understand that John D. Rockefeller has incorporated his personal automobile."

WRONG ROAD

AVILA, Spain, Feb. 18 (UP)—Thirty American and Canadian loyalist volunteers of the International brigade, traveling in two motor trucks, fell into nationalist hands yesterday when they took the wrong road and went straight into the nationalist lines, general headquarters asserted today. Three managed to escape when they saw the nationalist sentries, it was said.

LOYALIST DRIVE MAKES HEADWAY IN SPAIN'S WAR

Insurgent Losses Placed at 800 in Yesterday's Fighting

MADRID, Feb. 18 (UP)—The loyalist offensive in the Jarama river sector south of Madrid, which has been underway since dawn yesterday, was reported today in official dispatches as "steadily advancing" in the regions of La Maranosa and San Martin de la Vega.

Insurgent threats against a detour road near Perales were removed when enemy troops had to be withdrawn to defend their positions at La Maranosa, loyalists said.

Losses Heavy

The insurgent losses in yesterday's fighting were placed at 800 in government reports.

Important loyalist gains were reported in the Uscara Carabanchel sector, just outside Madrid on the south, as the battle progressed. Meanwhile, an enemy attack on Queen's hill, further south, was repulsed, dispatches said.

A midnight air raid, which followed an artillery bombardment, accounted for 17 dead and 95 wounded. There were four aerial attacks. Artillery shells fell in the neutral zone prescribed by the nationalist high command, the section in which are situated the American and other embassies. One shell hit the Belgian embassy but did not explode.

Gain 2 1/2 Miles South of the capital, along the Jarama river on the plains of New Castle, loyalists in a counter-offensive were asserted officially to have driven back the nationalists two and a half miles.

Many believed that this battle, entering now its final phase, might at last decide the fate of the long nationalist siege of the capital which started Nov. 8.

A United Press dispatch from Hendaye, Franco-Spanish frontier, quoted a loyalist communique as claiming the nationalist army had killed 9,000 men in the intense fighting of the last few days. Fifteen insurgent airplanes were reported shot down. Nationalist sources, while giving no figures, claimed the loyalists' losses had been as heavy as their own.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (UP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a Baptist, declared last night that establishment of a united church of all sects was the only means to stem the rising tide of materialism, of selfishness, of shaken traditions and of crumbling moral standards.

In a radio address to Methodists assembled at banquets throughout the country to open a drive for membership in their million unit fellowship, Rockefeller said that a united church, which he suggested calling the "Church of the Living God," could preserve individual and non-essential differences while it brought all together in the "fundamentals of religion—God's love and Christ's living spirit."

NEW SALES TAX BILL SPONSORED IN LEGISLATURE

Measure Would Collect One Per Cent of Gross From Idaho Merchants

FLOOD LEADER IN FAVOR

Money Could Be Used to Pay State's Share of Social Security Act

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 18 (UP)—A sales tax bill, to levy one per cent on gross sales and estimated by its sponsors to raise more money than a two per cent tax defeated at the polls in November, was being prepared in Idaho's legislature today. The measure differs from the former tax in that it would tax total sales of a dealer, eliminating difficulty of collecting from the consumer the correct tax on fractions of a dollar.

Sponsor is J. H. Neil, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks leader, but the measure must be introduced in the house. Deadline for new introductions in the senate was Monday.

Runs Two Years Like the outlawed sales tax, it was proposed to have the law run for two years, from March 15. Of receipts $150,000 monthly would go to pay the state's share of relief costs under the social security act. Counties would receive $50,000 a month, also for relief.

Exemptions would be made for farm and motor fuel sales and certain transactions constitutionally required to be tax free. Stores would be licensed at $2 a year for purposes of administering the act. Idaho's first sales tax was enacted at the 1935 session upon insistence of Gov. C. Ben Ross. After court action against the law failed, a referendum was begun, resulting in death of the law by popular vote, only three months before it would have automatically expired.

Efforts of Gov. Barzilla W. Clark have been directed toward enactment of "some form of transactions tax," believed to be a broad stipulation, including possibility of a strict sales tax.

Representatives of Dealers and Manufacturers Ready To Battle Measure

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 18 (UP)—Representatives of radio dealers and manufacturers prepared today to defend automobile radios at a house of representatives public hearing on a senate bill proposing to prohibit playing of the instruments on Idaho's public highways.

According to O. Fred Ross, New York, editor of the publication Radio Retailing, approximately a hundred radio men from outside the state are in Boise for the hearing, which will be held in the house chamber late this afternoon. "Idaho is the first state to consider such a law," Ross said.

The bill was introduced by Republican Leader R. F. Whitten, Boise county, following a fatal crossing accident in Caldwell when investigators reported that playing of a radio had prevented occupants of the automobile from hearing an approaching train.

Plan Would Start With 1938 Season

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to enact "a program of crop insurance and storage of reserves" for the 1938 farm season as part of the administration's agricultural program.

Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation was made in a special message transmitting the report of his committee on crop insurance to capital hill.

"Crop insurance and a system of storage reserves," Mr. Roosevelt said, "should operate so that surpluses in years of good weather might be carried over for use in years of unfavorable growing conditions."

"Crop insurance and a system of storage reserves would help to protect the income of individual farmers against the hazards of crop failure."

The committee, headed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and including farm leaders and government economists, recommended this five-point program:

- 1. Insuring wheat farmers a steady yield beginning in 1938. 2. Collection of premiums in wheat or the cash equivalent. 3. Storage of wheat premiums in federal warehouses for release in years of low production. 4. A federal appropriation for financing administration of the program. 5. Extension of crop insurance eventually to corn, cotton and other major crops.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested that the legislative program should be made effective for the 1938 crop year. The insurance program, he said, should apply first to wheat, and then be extended later to other commodities.

Mr. Roosevelt said the crop insurance plan would aid not only farmers but consumers and business and the unemployment situation as well.

"It would help," he said, "to protect consumers against shortages of food supplies and against extremes of prices."

"And finally, it would assist in providing a more nearly even flow of farm supplies, thus stabilizing farm buying power and contributing to the security of business and employment."

The President's message said that crop insurance and the storage of reserves "should be a part of the foundation of agricultural policy which we are building."

The policy, he said, "must include" (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

BORAH APPROVES NEW COURT PLAN

Proposal of Burke for State Convention Action on Judiciary Praised

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UP)—A new compromise—calling for state convention action within a year on a proposed constitutional amendment—was advanced today in the judiciary reorganization battle. It was proposed by Sen. Edward R. Burke, D. Neb., and won praise from Sen. William E. Borah, R. Idaho.

Borah said he probably would suggest that the one-year requirement be attached to the proposed Wheeler-Bone constitutional amendment which would empower congress to override by a two-thirds vote, supreme court decision which invalidate acts of congress.

Burke said he believed that if action were required within one year this would meet the objections of both friends and foes of Mr. Roosevelt's plan that the constitutional amendment route required too much time to afford an effective way of meeting the situation.

Borah said the state convention plan had "a good deal of merit." He pointed out that the prohibition repeal amendment was attached to the constitution in 18 months through use of that method.

"The people are entirely capable of self-government," Borah said. "We ought not to play the game below the intelligence of the American people."

In answer to arguments that constitutional amendments are difficult to enact if vigorously opposed, Borah pointed out that the income tax amendment became law despite a strenuous fight.

Sentence will be pronounced here Saturday by Judge J. W. Porter on one woman and two men, convicted by a jury in district court last night on charges of robbing G. A. McDowell, Twin Falls, of $38 last Jan. 1.

Robbery penalty under Idaho statute ranges from five years to life. Judge Porter launched today with trial of the suit brought by H. B. Sheppard, Idaho Falls, realtor, against C. T. Hampton, Twin Falls, seeking commission on an asserted real estate transaction involving property owned by Hampton in St. Anthony. The case was expected to be concluded today, permitting start of a new civil hearing Friday morning.

the conservation of soil and water, better land use, increased farm income, and alleviation of distress in rural areas arising out of factors beyond the control of individual producers.

Emphasizes Belief

Mr. Roosevelt reemphasized a belief, expressed in previous messages to congress, that the federal government was intended to have sufficient powers to cope with national problems.

"May I repeat what I have suggested in a former message," he said, "that because economic and social reforms of this character are essentially national in scope and in administration, the citizens of our nation believe that our form of government was never intended to prohibit their accomplishment."

He expressed similar sentiments in his special message on farm tenancy earlier in the week.

Mr. Roosevelt said that in the past four years the government has assisted farmers in meeting emergencies of two different types: (1) the collapse of prices resulting from huge surpluses, and (2) widespread failure of crops resulting from droughts.

Helps Farmers

"Government action helped both farmers and consumers," he said. "Meanwhile it has been shown that neither producers nor consumers are benefited by wide fluctuations in either prices or supplies of farm products."

The President said he was "convinced that the time has come to take permanent steps to protect farmers and consumers against disasters of both types." He said he was convinced that the plan outlined by his special committee is "practical, socially desirable and worthy of your thoughtful consideration."

The club will attempt to locate suitable skiing and bobsled facilities not farther away than 30 miles from Twin Falls, according to tentative plans mapped today. Junior Chamber officials asked any Twin Falls resident knowing of such locations within a 30-mile radius to confer with F. C. Thompson at the Senior Chamber offices before Tuesday night's meeting.

Selection of a committee to make a survey trip in search of a site for the club's skiing and bobsleding will be carried out at the session.

Thompson said that the program as now envisioned calls for activities for the remainder of the current winter season, and arrangements to improve the club's location for next year. He said the group might secure a part-time ski professional, and might also seek to arrange ski meets if suitable grounds can be found.

Plans Call For Ski Group Here

Organization of a Twin Falls ski club will be carried out at a public meeting of winter sport enthusiasts at 8 p. m. Tuesday in Chamber of Commerce headquarters. It was announced here this afternoon by leaders of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the ski group.

The club will attempt to locate suitable skiing and bobsled facilities not farther away than 30 miles from Twin Falls, according to tentative plans mapped today. Junior Chamber officials asked any Twin Falls resident knowing of such locations within a 30-mile radius to confer with F. C. Thompson at the Senior Chamber offices before Tuesday night's meeting.

Selection of a committee to make a survey trip in search of a site for the club's skiing and bobsleding will be carried out at the session.

Thompson said that the program as now envisioned calls for activities for the remainder of the current winter season, and arrangements to improve the club's location for next year. He said the group might secure a part-time ski professional, and might also seek to arrange ski meets if suitable grounds can be found.

CLARK ENDORSES HOMES PROGRAM

Governor Offers Praise to Citizens' Group Aiming at House Building

Gov. Barilla W. Clark today had joined those in favor of expansion of the American Citizens' Protective Association, Inc., an organization started in Pocatello to aid those of the lower income brackets in securing modern, up-to-date homes, and the promotion of education.

A unit of the Pocatello group was formed here in Twin Falls last week by Organizer T. D. McDougall of Pocatello, who serves without financial remuneration. McDougall passed through Twin Falls today en route to Pocatello after a conference yesterday with the governor.

Aims at Benefits

"This association is incorporated under the laws of the state of Idaho," a letter from Gov. Clark said, "its purpose being the benefit of citizens in the lower income classes, the main objectives being: the promotion of home building and education."

"The plan has been in operation in Bannock county with marked success, especially in the method of organizing community resources for the benefit of this class of wage earners."

"The association has my hearty approval and best wishes for the attainment of its purposes," the governor wrote.

"The local unit of the organization has an advisory committee, composed of prominent citizens, who will assist the association members in business problems."

Members of the advisory committee include Frank L. Stephan, Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston, R. P. Robinson, E. P. Prater and Dr. Valdi Puending.

Officers Named

Local officers elected include Eugene Scott, president, John Hollan, vice president, Lulu Hacker, secretary, and Al Hacker, chief of the research department for Twin Falls county. The group will operate as a unit of the Pocatello organization until separate organization is completed.

The finance and building board committee of the group are in the process of organization at present and Mr. McDougall said work is expected to get actively under way within the next 90 days.

All services connected with actual home construction among the group are voluntarily given and members exchange hour for hour labor among themselves. The loans to date have been payable in monthly installments, including principal and interest. They amount to approximately $407 a month on constructions completed at Pocatello. The loans are secured for the purpose of buying material.

Gov. Clark invited McDougall to return to Boise following completion of the present term of the legislature for additional conferences regarding promotion of the program.

FILM PUBLICITY PLAN PROPOSED

Chamber Will Ponder Move For Movies Advertising Twin Falls

Proposed motion pictures stressing scenic and agricultural attractions of the Twin Falls area will be considered by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce directors at their Friday session here following two showings of similar screen material today and Wednesday.

The films if the project was approved of the directors, would be shown in several thousand midwest and south area theaters under contract to Alexander Film company of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The plan will be laid before the chamber by T. R. Dockstader, Pocatello representative for the Alexander film in Idaho. Sample movies of the type proposed were shown at the Roxy theater at 5:15 p. m. Wednesday and today, and were viewed by several score business men and chamber leaders. The program included films used by the Colorado Springs Community Chest and also presented scenic views of Homestead Springs in Idaho's Hagerman valley, in Alaska, the Grand canyon of the Colorado river and from canyon of Utah. Some of the shots were in color.

Dockstader's program would call for a double-barreled film publicity drive, with one aimed at publishing of recreational and natural attractions to lure tourists into this area and the other stressing motion pictures of farm crops and methods in the Twin Falls region to draw potential agricultural settlers.

The Alexander concern has contracts with 8,000 theaters although not all of these would be available for the tentative Twin Falls films. Dockstader informed P. G. Thompson, chamber secretary.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

We never should plunge a child into the middle of any subject if we want him to thoroughly understand and be interested in it. The tendency to do so is one of the weakest places in our whole structure of development.

We've all been shocked by the questions a child asks after he has been doing the same thing over again day after day. For instance, I remember a youth getting up in class one day, years ago, and saying bluntly to our Latin professor, "Who was Cicero?"

We had been studying "Cicero" for a month or two and limping through his orations, but no one had thought to tell us who the gentleman was, or why he carried a chronicle of his life. It is different now. But I think it illustrates the many dark corners in many a younger child's mind about the things he is doing.

Unexplained Facts Puzzle And it explains his passion for asking, "Why," a dozen times a day. Before giving John instruction in anything, manners, morals, or more concrete things, it is a good idea to give him a big picture. Then he will see the light at both ends of the tunnel, instead of fumbling along in the dark.

We don't like to go in at the middle of a movie, or pick up a story after missing the first installment. We get exasperated trying to piece it together. This accounts for many of the child's "whys." He hasn't been let in at the beginning of the plot.

The child is under orders—always. Sometimes merely routine again in every single detail of his entire day.

Some children are brought up with the idea of unquestioning obedience. This goes two ways. Either the child develops a chronic lethargy toward life, or he gets distrustful of it, and resentful, too.

If it has been explained to him "why" he must do his share of the work, he will brood less and step about with a more elastic stride. Once he gets the big idea of necessity and how each one of the family must put his shoulder to the wheel, in order to live and be comfortable, then he goes about with his mental and emotional eyes open. He won't feel so injured.

Understanding Begs Obedience. Or if John (or Mary) is enlightened as to "why" he cannot spend too much on movies, or sodas, because the family must sacrifice some pleasure for the time being, he won't sulk if he thinks he is being helpful. A father's pride may keep him from revealing the state of his finances, and prompt him to shout, "You can't go because I say so."

But if we expect to raise reasonable children, we must be reasonable ourselves and make many a confession. Adults want to know the way of things. They won't move without a reason.

But after all, young people and children are not privates in an army or puppets in a show. They want to move on their own and know much of the time "why" they are doing things, or not doing them.

A child given reason is ten times as likely to be obedient, whether he approves that reason or not.

ARIZONA'S MINES ROUT DEPRESSION

Recovery Pace Quicken by Each Price Rise for Copper Metal

By EDWARD J. HEILMAN
PHOENIX, Ariz. (U.P.)—Arizona's mining camps joyously drank, gambled, paid off old bills, and bought new clothes and automobiles in the flush of their new prosperity today.

Deep in the drifts and slopes which undermined them, drill chattered, dynamite shattered solid rock, and muckers loaded fragments into cars, which took the ore to shafts to bring more dollars to the roaring towns.

The prosperity rode on the heels of mounting prices for copper. Each higher quotation for the red metal meant increased production and—what was more to the miners—higher wages. Each time copper goes up a half cent a pound and stays there 30 days, the miners' pay is raised 25 cents a day. Three times within the past five months pay boosts have been granted, raising the scale to $5.06 a day for muckers, $5.85 for miners, and above that for specialists.

Jobs for 11,000 Miners
Eleven thousand men, almost twice as many as were employed two years ago, before copper started its comeback from depression quotations of 4.75 cents a pound (in 1932) are employed in Arizona's mines now giving the state a cash weekly payroll of nearly $375,000.

Production from all of Arizona's mines in 1936 totaled $58,072,400, double that for 1934, and 50 per cent higher than 1935's total of $37,000,000. Of these totals, about half was returned to the state in wages, 40 per cent went for supplies, and 10 per cent for taxes, dividends and other expenses, according to an analysis made by Charles R. Willis, editor of the Arizona Mining Journal.

Phelps Dodge Corporation properties at Bisbee and Jerome, while having no rated capacity, worked three shifts of miners and increased production slowly as the price for copper advanced and as the market was able to absorb the metal. The corporation's properties at Ajo were running at full capacity, but its mine at Clifton remained closed.

Mine Doubles Employment
The Inspiration and Miami Copper companies, at Globe and Miami, were running at capacity after doubling the number of men they employed.

The Nevada Consolidated Company at Ray was operating at about 30 per cent of capacity, but planned to increase production as the market took available supplies of copper.

The Magma Copper company, operating at Superior, prepared to mine deep ore bodies, with the aid of artificial cooling. A $100,000 re-

You'd Hardly Think It Was Supposed to Fly

Even the inventors, Louis Chiquet and Henri van Zandt, call the "Aerial Phantom" revolutionary. Wingless, propellerless, rudderless, they also call it an airship capable of flying. Motive and lifting power, they explained to spectators at New York, are supplied by the revolving drum (center) and the lifting blades at each side.

frigerating plant, to be installed on the 3,600-foot level, was under construction.

The cooling plant, believed to be the first ever installed in a mine, was designed to lower the intense heat and humidity which so far has made deep mining unprofitable and virtually impossible.

While the copper mines led the vanguard of recovery in Arizona mining camps, gold properties were almost as busy, particularly in the Kingman-Chloride area. Most of the mines, however, are small and employ few men.

Tombstone Comes Back
The old town of Tombstone, which calls itself "the town that was too tough to die," saw increased activity in its silver and lead mines. The U. S. Smelting, Refining and Mining company, owner of the principal properties there, reported net earnings for the first 11 months of 1936 amounting to $5,243,365. However, this figure included its Mexican and Alaskan properties, as well as those in Arizona.

Best index of conditions in the mining towns was the virtually wide open gambling. In Globe and Miami, places where almost every game of chance was operated, ran full blast and with almost no attempt at secrecy. In Bisbee and the other towns, gambling was less open, but operated on a wide scale behind closed doors.

During the depression years, when mining virtually ceased, gamblers disappeared.

MEETING POSTPONED
GOODING, Feb. 18 (Special)—A meeting of the Gooding Parent-Teacher association that was scheduled for Monday evening in the high school auditorium was called off, states Mrs. C. E. Hemphill, president of the recently formed organization. Definite date for the meeting has not been decided.

TEXANS RETURN CINCINNATI'S AID

Lone Star State Still Recalls Two Cannons Sent to Help Fighting

CINCINNATI (U.P.)—When Sam Houston's ragged army defeated the Mexican forces of Santa Anna, the old field pieces the Texans had in their fight for independence were two cannons contributed by the Presbyterian women of Cincinnati.

Texas women still remember the important part the two guns played in the emancipation more than a century ago.

Recently a check for Red Cross relief to aid sufferers in this water-stricken city was received from Frances Cooke Van Zand Chapter, Daughters of the Republic of Texas, at Fort Worth. Mrs. Robert Campbell, treasurer of the chapter, called it a "thanks offering" and pledged the organization's "support to your city as long as you need us."

Fired at San Jacinto
The "twin sisters," as the field pieces were known, first were used at that battle of San Jacinto, more than 100 years ago, after Thomas Stanbury, a former member of the Cincinnati Presbyterian church, wrote home from Texas about the distress of the colonists under Mexican rule.

The letter evoked a meeting at the church at which Robert T. Lytle offered a resolution proposing the purchase of "two pieces of hollow-ware, a very indispensable article in a new country."

A committee was appointed and the women of the church raised a cannon fund. The "twin sisters" were manufactured, mounted and supplied with shot and sent to New Orleans, from which point a Texas agent took them to Brazoria.

High Praise Bestowed
"Their first effective operations," David G. Burnett, provisional president of the Texas republic, said in his letter of thanks to Cincinnati, "were in the memorable fight of San Jacinto, where they contributed greatly to the achievement of a victory not often paralleled in the annals of war."

Mrs. Campbell said that without these cannons, the history of Texas might have been different.

"We have in our chapter," she wrote, "women whose fathers and grandfathers used the 'twin sisters' at San Jacinto. . . . Cincinnati has held a very dear spot in every loyal Texan's heart for 100 years."

PROVERBIAL SOU MAY DISAPPEAR

French Consider Withdrawal Of Money Piece From Circulation

PARIS (U.P.)—The French five-centime piece—the proverbial sou—may be withdrawn from circulation for, since the rise in price of metal, they cost the French state seven centimes each to manufacture.

There is a possibility of the 10-centime pieces being suppressed as well, as the state loses one centime in the manufacture of each 10-centime coin.

A report recently compiled by a French deputy shows that, while France gains on the manufacture of all larger pieces of money, it loses on the two smaller ones.

Basis Of Costs Figured
Using 20 francs as the basic sum to evaluate the manufacturing cost of different pieces of money, the state gains 15f. 31c. on each 20-franc piece; 15f. 31c. on two pieces of 10 francs; 15f. 48c. on four pieces of 5 francs; 15f. 50c. on 10 pieces of 2 francs; 15f. 20c. on 20 pieces of 1 franc; 17f. 20c. on 40 pieces of 50c. and 9f. 60c. on 80 pieces of 25c., while it loses 2 francs on 200 pieces of 10c. and 8 francs on 400 pieces of 5c.

The sou, which originated in the 4th Century, when it was really a unit of currency, has kept its name through the ages, however, and is still the name of the 5 centime piece. Tradesmen and the poorer people still calculate all sums up to 5 francs in sou.

Once Was Gold Coin
The name sou first was given to gold pieces under the Emperor Constantine the Great and his successors. In France it was first applied to gold money under the Merovingians and used as unit of currency. The sou from them on began losing their value and became silver under the Carolingians. They remained silver up to the time of Louis XVI, when finally the copper coins were put into circulation.

Shortly after the French revolution, the metric system became effective in France and it was then decided to put half "decimes"—5 centimes pieces—into circulation and these were christened sou. The copper sou was withdrawn last year leaving only the tiny nickel coins known also as the "lucky sou" with a hole in their center.

The disappearing of the 5 centime pieces will not only put an end to one of the oldest names in currency, but it is wondered what is going to take the place of the expression, "He isn't worth a sou."

DONATIONS ANNOUNCED

HAGERMAN, Feb. 18 (Special)—A total of $101.88 has been turned over to Miss Olie Hughes, treasurer of the Gooding county Red Cross chapter, by the Legion Auxiliary, sponsoring the flood relief drive. Organizations, business men and individuals responded generously to the drive, sponsors state.

"Iodine" was taken from the Greek word meaning "violet," because of its violet-colored vapor.

AN INTERVIEW WITH R. M. CHESELDINE PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y.

"A neighbor told me about the 2-Coat System and he sure gave me good advice"

I ASKED my neighbor, Capt. Armstrong, about his paint job. It was the new Devoe 2-Coat System.

OUR DEALER, Russell Rode, explained this new kind of paint to Mrs. Cheseldine—showed how it saved money.

TWO COATS of paint went on our home instead of the usual three—the house looked better than ever, and, besides, we made a considerable saving in money.

WE'RE TICKLED that Devoe 2-Coat System gave us a great paint job that all our neighbors admire. Now four houses on our street are painted with the Devoe 2-Coat System.

NEIGHBOR tells neighbor! Friend tells friend! Devoe's 2-Coat System is hailed the greatest development in the paint industry.

It makes homes whiter—cuts painting costs in half. This new system uses two different paints. The first seals the pores in new wood, or clings fast to old paint. The second is the wear- and weather-resisting coat that contains 18% more hiding units and stays white and lasts longer.

Come in and find out all about this amazing new Devoe 2-Coat System of painting.

"I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

FOOD HANDLERS RECEIVING TESTS

Average of Four Per Day Getting Health Checkup For Certificates

An average of four persons a day has been given health examinations prior to issuance of food handlers' health cards at the county health unit, and also at the office of Dr. Harry Alban, county physician, Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the unit, said today.

Those employed in such positions as butchers, barbers, cooks, waiters, and cosmeticians must secure the cards after they have successfully passed a complete physical examination. Permanent records will be kept concerning each person.

The response to the program, required by state law, is equally as good among residents outside of the Twin Falls city limits in the balance of the county. Dr. Hawkins said. Persons in Buhl, Hansen, Murtaugh, Kimberly and other towns in the county come into Twin Falls for the examinations at either the county health unit, located in the nurses' home of the county hospital, or in Dr. Alban's offices.

A special room has been renovated at the unit offices and is being used exclusively for the examinations, Hawkins said.

To date the examinations completed reveal the health of applicants as being satisfactory.

The work is part of the general sanitation program, parts of which are carried on in Twin Falls county by Jack Post, county sanitary inspector, who deals principally with local premises, sanitary conditions, method and equipment, and who issues sanitary inspection certificates when the various places of business have met standards required by law.

MARY HANSOME TO SEEK PARDON

Three state penitentiary prisoners sentenced in Twin Falls, including Mary Hansome, Twin Falls Negroess sentenced for voluntary manslaughter May 18, 1936, in connection with the shooting of her alleged common law husband, had announced intention today to apply for pardons at the next meeting of the state pardon board.

The two others who will seek leniency are Walter P. Sutton, found guilty of forgery and sentenced on Dec. 14, 1934, and Earl Doss Watson, sentenced on April 28, 1936, for grand larceny.

High School News

Twin Falls high school debaters will journey to Buhl Friday afternoon to debate Coach Fred Livsey's squad in a practice debate upon the question: "Resolved: that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated."

Students making the trip to Buhl are affirmative team, Armour Anderson and Jean Robinson; negative team, Roland Hutchinson and Ed Benoit.

Senior class members yesterday filled out forms submitted by the University of Idaho listing their choice of profession of vocation, checking which school in Idaho they were planning to attend and if not one of the four state schools, where they would probably go.

Principal H. D. Hechtner says that the forms are not only useful to the university in making plans for the next year but aids the high school teachers in helping students select a school best fitted for their particular needs.

Editor, Evening Times:

In an edition of the Public Forum of Saturday, Feb. 13, 1937, we find where Mr. Schorzman criticized the editorial entitled "Bluffing," which leads to the analysis of international economy. I am somewhat in agreement with the editor, and even comment on the subject. The official Nazi figures show 6,000,000 unemployed. Statisticians estimate that real wages were 31 per cent lower than in 1900. The average wages were from 12 to 18 marks per day of 10 hours. Butter in Berlin has risen from 2.40 marks to 3.40 marks per kilo. The average hourly wage declined 20 per cent and meats and fats are unapproachable by the workers of Germany. We find that the working class is deprived of all rights of democracy. Let's not forget the 2,000,000 people who were put in concentration camps for political reasons in 1933, and the untold number of refugees.

We find that the race for armament is paralyzing her financial standing, aside from her international debt. No, when a man plays poker with his own money and he bluffs and his hand is called, he loses. But when he plays with the people's money, we, the people, lose. The warlord plays with the lives of the people of both sides, and plays his own life safe. The cost of the World War was 13,000,000 lives, 8,000,000 disabled men, and the heartbreaks of those mothers, wives, and orphans. And a cost of $83,000,000,000.

"The teaching of theology is 'Thou shalt not kill.' The law of man is 'Thou shalt not kill.' Yet, in action of war it is glory to kill and to destroy and to steal is their goal with violence and bitter force. When a man walks with a clip on his shoulder, sooner or later someone will call his bluff and from all learning, we find that Hitler and Mussolini have been walking with a clip on their shoulder.

So let's be grateful to the diplomats that have scuffled to maintain peace. A gentleman's word is his honor; when in writing it is law. Let's analyze the treaties that have been signed, and who broke them. The war act for defense is civil. The war act for gain is piracy. An act of peaceful negotiation is civil. An act of premeditated war is barbarism.

HEALING—AND IGNORING ILLS

Two years ago skilled doctors performed a medical miracle on the body of a middle-aged Ohioan named Joseph Krehmar.

This man was suffering from what looked like the very last stages of angina pectoris. His chances of living more than a few weeks weren't worth a nickel, and the doctors told him so without any hesitation. There was just one chance, and it was a thousand-to-one shot.

Dr. Claude S. Beck, of Cleveland's Lakeside hospital, had been experimenting on animals with an operation designed to cure angina pectoris. He hoped that it would work with human beings, but he wasn't sure. Would Mr. Krehmar submit to it? He might die under the knife—but he would most certainly die anyway, in a very short time, if nothing was done.

Mr. Krehmar took the chance. An epoch-making operation was performed. A muscle from his left arm was grafted onto his weakened heart. He survived the operation, spent four months in hospital—and, at last, returned to his home cured, a man who had come back to life from the very gates of death.

Now, if the story ended there it would be all very pretty. But real-life stories don't stop with the happy ending of fiction. They keep on going, and sometimes the original happy ending gets snowed under.

So it was with Mr. Krehmar. Restored to health, he faced the task of providing for his wife and their three small children—and he couldn't get a job. The family was on relief when he went to the hospital; since then he has struggled in vain to find a job that would get them off relief and keep them off permanently.

He got one job—and it paid him only $5 a week, which wasn't nearly enough to make the family self-supporting. At present he is out of work and he sees no immediate prospect of changing that status. And he says:

"Lucky? Well, they say wealth isn't everything. I know now that health isn't either."

This little story is worth telling at some length because it is such a perfect example of the dilemma into which modern man has blundered.

He can master the physical world as never before. He can whip foes that were unconquerable a short time ago. With his science he can perform all sorts of miracles.

But the task of arranging his own society so that any man who is able and willing to work can support his family in decent comfort—that seems to be beyond him.

What good does it do to snatch a man back from the jaws of death if the man can't make a living after he gets back?

PLOTTING AGAINST WEEDS

Farmers in Idaho and the United States generally will be interested in the proposal of Congressman D. Worth Clark to have the government enter into a nation-wide fight against noxious weeds.

Idaho, better than any other state in the union, recognizes the value of federal aid for this purpose, in that it is the only state ever to receive such assistance. Largely through the efforts of Congressman Clark, Idaho secured $1,500,000 from the Works Progress administration last year for the control and eradication of noxious weeds. To date, since early last June, $664,971 of federal money and $237,541 of local money has been spent, and more than 6,500 acres of Idaho land has actually been eradicated of these pests. An average of 2,000 men has been employed for a period of six months doing this work.

Now Clark has introduced a bill in congress, authorizing an appropriation of $50,000,000 for the next fiscal year; this money to be made available by way of grants to all states which will match it on a 25 per cent basis—in other words $1 of state or local money to every $3 of Uncle Sam's.

Those familiar with this problem will recognize the importance of Clark's proposed legislation. The United States Chamber of Commerce made exhaustive investigations in 1930 and concluded that noxious weeds were costing the United States $3,000,000,000 every year—enough to pay one-tenth of the entire national debt each year. Within the next few years, Clark believes that even this tremendous loss will be doubled.

In calling attention to his proposal, the Idaho congressman is mailing descriptive literature to every Grange, county seat, board of county commissioners and agricultural publication in the United States.

"This bill cannot go through congress unless the united agricultural interests of the country get solidly behind it," his appeal reads. "It can and will pass if they do."

It's something for every agricultural community to think about.

Pot Shots:
You've heard of high-pressure guys, I take it?
Well, the best of the high-pressure guys will have to move out and make room for Carl Gibb and Rulon Dunn, who've been dispensing advertising space in an Elk special paper for the big doings pretty quick.
Say, those guys could talk an elephant into buying ladies' size handkerchiefs.

After my contrib in your esteemed Pot Shooting column last week, all about how the Peacrib oughta learn that "supplimentary" is the wrong way to spell the word the Trib was aiming it, I notice the lads over there changed the spelling. But this time they had it "supplementary."
Wrong again, boys.

Pot Shots:
Concerning this roly-poly Ralph Leighton gent who was mentioned last week as having finally found a pair of boots big enough for him, he now has a tentative chance of also getting some riding pants (although "riding" is just theoretical, as we have no horses that big around here).
He went over to the Thometz top and body place to see about the pants. They told him they would be glad to take on the assignment, but that they haven't got that much tent canvas on hand right now.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Boarding CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE, Agent yacht, GOLDEN GULL, of Miami, to investigate the disappearance of BOLITHO BLANE, British banker and Rocksave's chief competitor in world soap trade. Detective Omer KETTERING had arranged marks on Blane's cabin carpet and blood on the curtain.

Kettering examines all passengers including NICHOLAS STODART, DART, Blane's secretary, Rocksave and his daughter FERRI. MISS WELTER, ORIGINAL and MRS. JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law, the BISHOP OF BUDE, COUNT LUIGI POSODINI and INOSUKE HAYASHI.

Kettering sends Rocksave a search for a merger with Blane to save his company; that Lady Welter is heavily interested; that Hayashi desperately sought to sell a huge soap monopoly either to Blane or Rocksave; that Posodini is a con man; that the Bishop bears some mysterious relationship to Rocksave. This last is learned through a letter from Blane to Bishop, warning that strange things might take place on the yacht.

ONLY information available at the moment regarding Mr. Carlton Rocksave and his daughter: Carlton Rocksave came of a respectable middle-class family but, as a younger son, had to make his own way. On finishing his education he entered the soap firm of Spears Cunliff and, six years later, transferred to Standard Oil, in both of which he gained considerable general experience. He left the latter to become a director, again in soap, of Bloomberg Frien, a small company of which he soon became the moving spirit. Early in 1918 he formed Sen Toilet Preparations to handle other lines allied to the soap industry and at the conclusion of the war he was reputed to be worth a very considerable fortune. His original partner, Mostyn Bloomberg, died in the November of 1932. The cause of his death was never cleared up quite satisfactorily. He was found dead in his office chair one afternoon and poison of a subtle variety, which would leave little trace, was suspected. After his partner's death he reorganized as Rocksave Consolidated in January, 1933, and then succeeded in bringing his companies through the depression. He has, however, never regained his financial strength and last year has shown a steady decline in the shares of those concerns in which he is interested. This is largely due to a price cutting war which he has been waging with the British soap group, controlled by Bolitho Blane.

MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE ONLY child of the above. Born 10-5-1913. Educated Heath Hurst School, Long Island, Munich and Paris. Prominent socialite and member of the young New York Smart Set.

On her return from Europe four years ago she at once became a press personality. Is fond of amateur acting and has appeared at nearly all smart charity shows in recent years. Much photographed and credited with numerous love affairs.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine
Electric shock is becoming more and more guarded against as a cause of death because of the widespread use of electricity. When a person has been shocked by electricity, death may occur instantly, due to paralysis of the brain centers controlling the action of the heart as well as to over-excitation of the heart muscle.
Sometimes death results from burning. Sometimes the person who has been shocked by electricity falls and dies from resultant injuries.
To avoid electric shocks in the home, certain steps are desirable:
1. Bad electrical connections, and broken or exposed wires, start fires and are a source of shock. Have them looked over by somebody who knows this business.
2. Be sure all electrical connections are out of the reach of persons using the bathtub, sink and lavatory. Many a person has been shocked while standing in a bathtub and attempting to turn on a light or an electric heater. The use of a portable electric heater in the bathroom is dangerous. The light switch in the bathroom should be out of reach of a person in the tub.
3. All washing machines, including those for clothing and dishes, should be grounded. If possible, and the motor insulated from the frame and drive mechanism.
4. Electric wires lying on the ground may be live wires. Never try to pick one up.
5. Any type of heating pad should be used carefully. Improper insulation may result in shock or burning.
When a person has been shocked by electricity, it is first necessary to remove him from contact with the electric conductor. Employees of electrical concerns do not stop to shut off the current. They take off a coat or wrap and throw it around the patient's body, then pull him from the contact. They are told never to put their hands near the pockets or shoes of the victim, because the presence of metal or nails will result in severe shock to the rescuer.
The steps to be taken when a person has been shocked by electricity are as follows:
1. Release the victim, taking care to avoid being shocked yourself.
2. If both the victim's hands are grasping the live wire, get them loose one at a time.
3. If convenient, shut off the current by opening the nearest switch.
4. If it is necessary to cut a live wire, use a wooden-handled ax, turning away your face from the resulting flash.
5. Put your finger in the mouth of the unconscious individual to remove teeth, gum or tobacco.
6. Put the patient on his abdomen, one arm extended upward; the other elbow flexed. Rest his face on the hand so the mouth and nose are free.
7. Carry out artificial respiration,

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO—

FEB. 18, 1922
Principal A. E. Barnes today made public the high school enrollment as classified according to the state, or country where the student was born. The Twin Falls high school is made up of students born in 48 states of the union and five foreign countries. Those who claim the Gem state as their birthplace led with a total of 192, closely followed by the natives of the windy state, who number 88.
Foreign-born are from Mexico, Canada, Germany, The Netherlands, and the Philippine Islands. State, with no representatives are Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Rhode Island.
Quadruplets were born this week to a registered Hampshire ewe on the H. W. Riedeman ranch. Triplets were born the same day to another ewe. One of the triplets died but the quadruplets are doing well.
Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Riedeman, Jr., and Mrs. L. J. Hanlon are visiting in Berkeley, Santa Ana and Orange, Calif., the past fortnight.
Mountain View Parent-Teacher association met Monday at the school house. The meeting was to have been held last week but was postponed to this week on account of road conditions. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mrs. Ted Scott. Various committee chairmen gave reports. It was decided to hold a box social at the next meeting, March 8. Members of the school's harmonica club gave a humorous skit of tap dancing, singing, harmonica and guitar numbers and comedy dialog. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.
Mountain View school pupils put out the first issue of their school paper, the "Mt. View News," this past week. Miss Betty Durling is editor-in-chief. The paper contains news stories, weather report, cartoons, jokes and advertising.

27 YEARS AGO—

FEB. 18, 1910
Charles Colner, prosperous young rancher, living near Hansen, has recently had the misfortune to suffer infection of blood poison, which at one time was so grave in condition as to make amputation of a hand almost necessary. Mr. Colner has returned from the hospital at Twin Falls with the injured member almost healed.
F. M. Towne, local sheepman and successful cultivator of an extensive irrigated ranch near Hansen, is an enthusiastic advocate of dry farming. Mr. Towne believes that nearly all the lands about here that cannot for any reason be economically irrigated can be made to produce profitable grain crops by following correct dry farming methods, and he instances excellent yields of winter wheat on which no irrigation water was turned. He says also that at least one big annual crop of alfalfa can be taken off South Side tracts without irrigation and is convinced that such land as is not now irrigated will be reclaimed by dry farming on a big scale and correct methods.

You May Not Know That—

Laws which had been placed on the Idaho statute books through 1932 numbered 70,120 (although many have been repealed). That total has been considerably swelled by three legislatures since 1932.

PAUL MALLON'S
NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

BAD PROSPECTS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—Many an impartial lawyer who heard the Wagner labor arguments would not be surprised to see another 9 to 0 decision against the government on the most important phases involved. They suspect also that, if President Roosevelt had already stacked the court with six more judges, the decision might be 15 to 0.
No labor authority here was fooled into accepting the settlement as anything more than a truce. It settled the strike, but did not settle the issue. In fact, all Lewis cohorts will tell you privately the light on their issue has just begun. One thing is certain. Michigan's Governor Murphy is in the most precarious political position of any man in the United States. Even while he was negotiating this current truce, authorities here heard sub-rosa talk from the strike front about a movement to impeach him. If he is able to referee the developing struggle without getting killed politically, he will be a miracle man. Few think he can be.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE
Judges frequently do not rule as lawyers expect, but a fair consensus among informed observers now outlines the prospects about like this: Five cases are involved in the decision, and the main question is whether the five defendants are in interstate commerce. It is the same old constitutional question behind all the current court agitation, and highly important in connection with Mr. Roosevelt's proposed court reorganization. His addition of six more judges will do him no good unless two or three who are now on the bench side with his broad interpretation of interstate commerce. Of the five defendants, three are manufacturers, one an inter-state bus line and the fifth a news dispensing organization.
As the lawyers see it, the bus line is the only one which was clearly shown to be in interstate commerce and therefore possibly subject to the regulations of the Wagner labor board. The news service may or may not be, but the manufacturers (the ones Mr. Roosevelt is trying to reach with his wages and hours plans) are probably not, under the established precedents of the court.
Thus they expect the government to win the bus case, and possibly the news case, but not the three most important cases unless all five are thrown out under the due process clause under a close decision.

DIFFICULTY
There was nothing wrong with the presentation of the government case this time, they say. Miss Perkins E. Wyzanski, 36-year-old Charles E. Wyzanski, handled brilliantly what argument he had, as did the other government attorneys. (Miss Perkins came up to hear him). But they were on a very small spot. They seemed to be a little leery of the manufacturing cases themselves, obviously because the precedents of the court hold that manufacturing is not interstate commerce. The established position of the court has been that activity prior to the shipment of goods across state lines and after it has stopped at its destination is not interstate commerce and hence not subject to government control. The government was able to show that one defending manufacturer had a plant in Richmond, a sales office in New York and did some refinishing in New Jersey, but this seemed not to fit the court's established definition.
The decision will come in a month or six weeks.

PLANS
No one knows how the strike settlement will turn out eventually, but the best guess is that Mr. Lewis will continue biting off a little at a time, and may yet be able to organize the industry within the next three to five years. That is, the odds seem to point slightly that way, unless he is stopped by some developments, now unpredictable.
It is, of course, no mere guess that he will now move to Pittsburgh and start in on steel.

ACEQUIA
Mrs. Horace Butler, mother of Claud Butler who died last week at Albion, had planned to leave in a few days for Detroit, Mich., after receiving word from her daughter. Mrs. Eugene Roberts, of the birth of a son on Feb. 9, James Roberts, who died with Butler, was a brother of Mr. Roberts.
Frank Boyer and Parley Bennett, who went to McGill, Nev., in November, have returned home. They report deep snow in Nevada and work planned for operation at the mills and mines is being delayed.
Mrs. A. L. Montgomery, who has been spending the past month with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Ross, Aberdeen, has returned here. She was accompanied by Charles Glassner, formerly superintendent of the Acequia high school.

NAMED ON COMMITTEE
RUPERT, Feb. 18 (Special)—Phyllis Young, student at the College of Idaho, has been named one of eight committee chairmen of the campus Y. W. C. A. to direct activities during the spring semester.

AMBITIONS
Both sides cheered the auto strike settlement. Ordinarily, this would be the best possible indication that it was a good settlement. In this case, however, the cheering may have obscured the underlying situation.
The decision will come in a month or six weeks.

Unit Here Announces D. A. R. State Meet

Looking forward to sessions of the state convention of Daughters of the American Revolution to be held in Twin Falls March 8, 9 and 10, plans for the entertainment of distinguished members of the national organization and representatives from the state chapters are being completed by the local chapter, it was announced today.

Mrs. William Becker, Washington, D. C., president general of the organization, and Miss Katherine Mathias, national chairman for the Daughters of the D. A. R. approved schools, are national leaders who have accepted invitations to be present at the sessions. Mrs. Frank Laney, Moscow, state regent, will conduct the sessions. Mrs. T. M. Robertson is local regent and Mrs. Willbur Hill is general chairman for arrangements.

Final plans for the convention will be made at the next meeting on Monday at the home of Mrs. H. W. Clouche when the annual observance of Washington's birthday will be held.

It was also announced that under the sponsorship of the local chapter senior class members Friday will elect a girl to represent this high school in the national Good Citizenship Pilgrimage. Every year one girl is chosen from each state and is awarded a trip to Washington, D. C. This trip is offered in an effort to promote the appreciation of strong character, state national officers.

Faculty members met last night and nominated girls who in their estimation excelled in dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. From the list which they nominated two were finally selected. In the balloting Friday morning, senior students will choose either Miss Dorlene Werner or Miss Helen Slack. The name of the winner will then be sent to Boise headquarters of the D. A. R. where the winner will be chosen by a drawing. Any high school in the town where there is a local D. A. R. chapter may submit an entry.

The winner will spend five days in Washington, in that time being taken to as many places as possible which interpret American government and national history, and they will be honored at the first night session of the Continental Congress, says Mrs. Raymond G. Kimball, national chairman in charge of the contest.

Mrs. E. M. Sweeney is local chairman for the contest.

What's Doing at SUN VALLEY

(By Evening Times Special Correspondent)

SEATTLE GUESTS AT LODGE DO LAST LAP BY DOG SLED

SUN VALLEY, Feb. 18 (Special)—On to Sun Valley lodge by dog-sled is the present dominant motif. Saturday night witnessed the influx of the Ballerger party of Seattle, to Ketchum by train, thence on to Sun Valley lodge in dog-sled and cutter. Mr. and Mrs. Ceberl Ballerger are host and hostess to Mr. and Mrs. Theo Plescher, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sundt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Andrews, Thomas H. Youell, E. B. Dunn, Mrs. Kerry Trimble, Campbell Kelleher and Moritz Milburn, all of Seattle, and Mrs. Prentice Bluedel and Margaret Rogers of Vancouver B. C. Mr. Ballerger is the banker.

Wesley Ruggles, film director, bravely applauded when his dog derby team, owned and operated by Mrs. Thula Geelan of McCall, Idaho, came home seventh. Mrs. Geelan had quite a bit of trouble because her dogs evidently had friends in the crowd. Everytime they came upon the more dense section of the audience, a dish into the crowd was the order. Incidentally, the team with the most consistent and best ordered performance was the string of Irish and Llewellyn setters, owned by Warren Cordingly, driven by Don Cordingly, and sponsored by good old Sun Valley lodge.

A goodly crowd was there, somewhere in the neighborhood of three thousand, and there would probably have been twice that number had the weather of the preceding 24 hours been more favorable. But when the trains unloaded their crowds from Butte, Montana; Boise, Pocatello, Salt Lake City and Bellevue, the lobbies, corridors, lounges, public rooms, skating rink, front and back yards of Sun Valley lodge looked like five o'clock in a New York subway.

And one precedent was established—four trains pulled into Ketchum in the course of one single day. Each one was fronted with a rotary plow. Believe it or not we have an employe here, one James Knipe, the gracious lad who greets the guests at the front desk, who has been here since the middle of December, and has only been to the wicked Casino in Ketchum twice in all that time. A very enviable record in these parts. Along that line, gambling in Idaho seems to be merely frowned upon by law, but once in a while the games take a beating at the hands of the law of averages, as it did the other night in the favor of one Alexander Cross, a bobsledder of no mean calibre. Alex is up here from Hollywood to perform in some of the more hair-raising sequences of the Paramount cadenza, now being taken at Sun Valley. He was active and outstanding in bobsled competition in 1934.

STUDENT COMEDY EARNS APPLAUSE

Enthusiastic Reception Given "New Fires" by Junior Class Players

Enthusiastic reception was accorded the presentation of "New Fires" by the first of two casts chosen from the junior class of the high school, staged at the auditorium last evening.

The play dealt with the family of Stephan Santry, a successful author, who transplanted his family from the city to a dilapidated homestead in southern Missouri hoping it would gain a purpose in life rather than pursue an aimless existence as in the past. Clever lines and humor provided by wholehearted horseplay on the part of Ed Benoit and Nellie McBride, kept the audience in gales of laughter and alternated with situations with more serious implications deftly presented which held the attention of listeners throughout the lengthy three acts.

Highlight of the performance was the characterization of Billy Santry, the irrepressible adolescent, by Ed Benoit, whose spirits even an unexpected tumble down stairs could not dampen. He was run a close second for top honors by Nellie McBride, his small sister Phyllis, who made a perfect teammate for their rollicking scenes. The burden of the first act was carried by Priscilla Gipson as Lucinda, an Ozark woman who was employed as housekeeper. Her poise and adaptability in a difficult role was marked. She was assisted by Harriet Stansbury as Suzanne, her helper. Armour Anderson as Sid, the hired man, and Howard Phibbs, taking the part of his coxswain son, provided additional humor and well as participating in the development of the plot.

Difficult Role Probably one of the most difficult roles was that of Stephan taken with assurance and conviction by Charles Larsen. His wife, Ann, was played by Billy May White in such a way as to maintain the illusion of first, a spoiled and petulant woman, and, later, of one whose attitude has changed to cheerful acceptance of her place in the country.

Their debutante daughter, Olive, ranked high for her presentation of a highstrung and self-centered girl who develops into a charming and helpful personality. Parts of Eve and Dick Santry, newlyweds, were well interpreted by Doris Andrews and Ray Mills.

The illusion of reality was furthered by the presentation of the role of the young doctor by Frank Carpenter. Mary Alice Collins, Lois Hayden and Barbara Minnick capably filled shorter parts of Mary, Mrs. Marshal and Angie Sperry.

All three acts were presented in the dining-living room of the old farm house. The realistic stage setting was due considerable credit in carrying out the atmosphere of the production.

Special music was by the high school orchestra under the direction of J. T. Bainbridge. Miss Florence Rees coached the drama.

The play will be presented this evening at 8:15 with a second cast.

STEELE DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST RISKO TOMORROW NIGHT

TACOMA TAPPER IS BIG FAVORITE

Champion Gets $25,000 for First Appearance in New York

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—New Yorkers who talked prematurely of another Stanley Kitchel while their Harry Balsamo was belting out a rare collection of assorted round-bums, handomies, and just plain bums, really will see a middleweight who may be compared with greats of the flatterer past when Freddie Steele defends the world championship against Eddie Babe Risko in a scheduled 15-round match at the Garden tomorrow night.

Risko either is a hard bloke to satisfy or a mixture of Joe Grimm and Bat Nelson when it comes to taking it. Steele struck Risko with everything but a totem pole in winning a decision in a non-title engagement before twice dumping the Syracuse Pole and relieving him of his crown in Seattle last July 31.

Gives Steele $25,000

Yet here is Risko guaranteeing Steele $25,000 for a crack at his old crown. Perhaps the former sailor believes he still is in the pugilist sound country, where the bucks of the pugilist are still in the pugilist's pocket. Steele and Risko are the first championship bout in the history of the Pacific northwest spelled a $50,000 gate.

The fact is that Risko is fighting Steele in Manhattan this trip, however, and his victory over Balsamo, which seemed to surprise so many at the time, didn't make Broadway forget other slovenly and disappointing starts on the part of the up-state boy.

Risko Faces Defeat

Those knowing boxing values best predict that the show will do no more than $35,000, of which Risko takes 60 per cent and pays Steele. Unless they're dead wrong, Risko might just as well take out an A. A. U. card now. He's fairly certain to take his licking.

Steele, a polished jaw-breaker, is keen to impress in his bow in the big town. It is this observer's guess that if he does not knock out Risko, the Tacoma Tapper will leave little for the referee and judges to decide.

Attell Was Cautious

Abe Attell was cautious about tackling opponents who were unmarked. Steele looks like a college halfback after 123 professional battles. He is 24 now and has been at it since he broke in as a 15-year-old flyweight.

Steele is everything they said and wrote about Balsamo and then some. He is far and away the finest 160-pounder since Walker. He is blessed with speedy hands and feet. He blocks and hits like the old-timers. Fearless Freddie has revived interest in the middleweights like it hasn't been steamed up since the Walker-Ace Hudkins scraps.

Pays His Way

Eddie (Babe) Risko, who formerly held it, guarantees Freddie Steele $25,000 to defend the world 160-pound title against him.

Risks Crown

Freddie Steele gives Babe Risko a chance to regain the middleweight championship in a 15-round contest at the Garden tomorrow night.

COACH REVEALS PIGSKIN CHANGES

Shovel Pass Rule Suggested At Annual Meet Attended By Ted Bank

MOSCOW, Feb. 18 (Special)—Football rules remain practically the same, Ted Bank, head football coach at the University of Idaho, reported Friday on his return from Detroit Bank represented the northwest football coaches at the meeting of the rules committee of the American Football Coaches' association held in Detroit, Feb. 6.

The committee recommended that the forward pass rule be reworded so that the rule would be more concise and more easily interpreted by the officials. The committee was in favor of continuing the rule, but that it be revised. The rule is not clear regarding the interfering with the pass receiver.

Another recommended change was that of the shovel pass. Heretofore the rule has been that when the ball struck a lineman, the team in possession of the ball lost the pigskin. The recommendation would penalize the offensive team the loss of one down.

The coaches voted unanimously for the wearing of numbers, not smaller than six inches in height, on both the front and back of the jerseys. This will make a better game from the standpoint of the spectators.

The three changes were the only discussions entered into by the coaches. A ballot revealed the remainder of the rules to meet with the satisfaction of the coaches present.

APOSTOLI GAINS KRIEGER VICTORY

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—The belligerent bellhop, Fred Apostoli, vaulted him back into the select group of challengers to Freddie Steele's middleweight crown today. Loser of a close decision to Ken Overlin of Richmond, Va. only three weeks ago, Apostoli labored out a 10 round victory over Bolly Krieger, the hard hitting Brooklyn butcher boy, before 5,000 spectators at the Hippodrome last night. Apostoli weighed 150½; Krieger, 160½.

It was one of the best fights in New York since Krieger lost a close decision to Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh, and Apostoli lost to Overlin. Apostoli, who didn't lose a battle in 1936, after having been knocked out a 10 round victory over Bolly Krieger, the hard hitting Brooklyn butcher boy, before 5,000 spectators at the Hippodrome last night. Apostoli weighed 150½; Krieger, 160½.

BOXING TOURNEY SET AT MOSCOW

International Meet to Be Staged With Fighters From Canada

MOSCOW, Feb. 18 (Special)—A miniature, international boxing tournament will be held at the University of Idaho Feb. 20 when the Vandal boxers tangle with a team of champions from the Meroloma Athletic club of Vancouver, B. C. The men entered in the contest from Canada are champions of western Canada and the Idaho men are all holders of a Golden Glove title or a similar championship.

The headliner of the card will be the battle between Rolly Shumway, Pacific coast Golden Glove champion, and Vic Rice, western Canadian champion. Shumway has established a name in coast collegiate boxing circles as a clever and fast fighter. According to reports from Canadian sports writers, Rice is a hard puncher and has the knack of punching hard in "close in" fighting.

Other fighters on the card include Jimmy Syme, western Canadian champion, versus Patsy Fitzpatrick, Golden Glove champion of Idaho. Russ Kellor, western Canadian champion, versus Bill Morrow, Idaho veteran, in the heavyweight class. Ed Brady, western Canadian champ and Diamond Belt holder will mix with Alex Passie, northwest C.C.C. champ and Idaho freshman, at 175 pounds. Bob Benoit, Idaho Golden Glove champ, faces Doug Powell, western Canadian champ, at 135 pounds. Bill Barnett, jr., Idaho Negro freshman and Golden Glove champ, steps into the ring with Eric Burnell, another Canadian champ, in the 147 pound division. The 112 pound class will see Toby Nagahari, Korean member of the Canadian champ outfit, pitted against Mert Wright, a recent addition to the Idaho freshman squad and holder of a Golden Glove title. Jackie Doone, Idaho's pride at 118 pounds and a Golden Glove holder, boxes Gordon Smith, Canadian champ, on the international card.

ATHLETIC PITCHER PROVES HERO IN MISSISSIPPI FLOOD

By HENRY McEMORE
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP)—Putting the sport shot here and there:

Add to your list of men who put first things first, the name of Harry Kelley, chunky right-hander of the Philadelphia Athletics. Kelley, 30-year-old rookie who won 18 games with the A's last year, was one of the unsung heroes of the Mississippi flood. . . . One of the first to volunteer for relief work, he spent days and nights on the river and in the backwater. . . . This despite the fact he still was convalescing from an appendectomy and had been told by physicians that he must take perfect care of himself if he expected to pitch in the majors this season. . . .

I am sure you would like to know that Miss Mildred Burke of Kansas City claims the women's heavyweight wrestling championship of the world, and that she attributes her eminent position to the deadly effects of what she terms the "girdle grip" . . . Mr. Herman Berg, who has dedicated the remainder of his life to coaching daughter Patty to the championship heights, believes it will be 1939 before the treckie-faced youngster reaches the top of her golf game. . . . Papa Berg accompanies Patty on all of her trips, but has yet to see her play as many as three successive holes. . . . Cant stand the nervous strain . . . gives him a headache when she misses a putt or hooks one into the rough. . . . Stories which tell of Patty's superstitions are just that . . . particularly the one about how she went wear but one certain sweater and skirt in the tournaments. . . . She outgrew the skirt and she wore out the sweater. . . .

Many of the top flight golf professionals are of the opinion that Lawson Little will never be a consistent medal play winner until he abandons the shuffle swing he now employs. . . . If Harry (Lighthorse) Cooper ever loses his touch at golf he can earn a better than fair living as a photographer . . . or as a circus strong man, for pound for pound he is far and away the most powerful of all pro golfers. . . .

If Jimmy Wilson, manager of the Phillies, had his choice of any ball player in the National league he wouldn't hesitate to pick Pepper Martin, of the wild horse and St. Louis Martins. . . . Leo Durocher, Cardinal's shortstop, would like to find the names and necks of the parties who sent him those Valentines. . . .

Earl Sande, now a trainer, will send two horses to the post in the $20,000 added Flamingo stakes at Hialeah, Feb. 27. . . . Earl has five eligibles but is expected to start Sceneshifter and Penning. . . . Astrologists say that Charley Kustinger, is Hialeah's leading jockey because the stars are lucky. . . . Hurt-singer says he doesn't know about that, but that if it came down to choosing he'd rather

SHOSHONE EARNS TOURNEY TITLES

Brays Wins Decision In Frisco Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18 (AP)—"Big Boy" Bray last night won a decision over Lee Savoldi in the main event on the card here.

Savoldi carried the fight during the first five of the eight rounds but Bray recovered and opened up in the last three rounds with a barrage of lefts that had Savoldi reeling when the final bell sounded.

Brown Victim of Fourth Round K. O. by Joe Louis

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 18 (AP)—Joe Louis, the Negro heavyweight, had another knockout in the record books today, but there was no particular glory attached to it, for Nat Brown, the latest victim, seemed only too willing to take the easy way out when Louis turned on the steam.

Brown, a Washington D. C. fighter, who held some sort of a distinction because he lasted 10 rounds with the Detroit Negro when Louis was just out of the notice class, went down in the fourth round. The time was 42 seconds.

First Rounds Dull

The first three rounds were dull, with Louis apparently unworried about the outcome. Brown, after sparring his way through the first round, led a few times lefts in the second, and as he got nothing serious in return, tried hammering Louis about the body in the third. Louis still did nothing much about it. But with the start of the fourth it was different.

Brown must have realized that the time was short, because he had read that Louis intended taking an early train back to Chicago where he is to sign today or tomorrow for a title bout with Champion Jimmy Braddock.

Manner Changed

Coming out with the bell Brown's manner changed. He looked frightened and before Louis had cocked his right or shot his left he was cringing. Louis zizzled a left to the head and Brown ran for the ropes. A short left and a right to the head ended it with Brown sagging gracefully to the floor. He stayed there until Referee Walter Bates tolled ten, whereupon he grabbed Bates and hauled him to the floor with him.

There were a few boos but for the most part the crowd of 10,222 seemed to have expected just such an ending. They had come hoping to see Louis explode the dynamite he reputedly carries in either fist. But Brown defeated their purpose. He withered away at the first sound of heavy firing.

The fight grossed $24,669, of which $8,826 went to Louis and $3,310 to Brown. Louis weighed 206 pounds, six and a half more than Brown.

STRIKES TO SPARE

WITH FRED STONE

Bill Towan led the Elks to victory in the last game of although Slatkin's took the match. Bill had high three-game total of 558. A double for Bill his first game; turkey and two doubles his last. Four errors and two splits really kept Bill from going places.

Jack Ford got one double, his first game Jack couldn't control his spare ball.

Hugh Boone took high single game honors with 215 his last game. Four strikes in a row for Boone that game.

Harold Luck was still after Orv Coleman. Only one double for Orv but plenty of splits and errors.

Bill Bailey got a turkey his first game; he also collected six splits together with a few errors.

One double for Ray Preis, his first game. Ray didn't do so hot with his spare ball, either.

Another young man goes up—Joe Ainsworth. Joe didn't do any his first game. I won't say anything about his last two games; Joe weighs my coal!

George Hof was high man for Slatkin's with 523, helped out with a turkey his second game, a double his last.

No doubles for Grant Kunkle, and to get a good score you must have doubles at least.

Walt Riggert also had no doubles, which is very unusual for Walt. However, in about three weeks it will be too bad for the boys. Walt set his incubators and he is hatching himself out a lot of strikes—he hopes.

In the City League, Log Tavern got sweet revenge over Twin Falls Lumber by taking two out of three, as the Lumber team defeated them by that score last week.

Jimmy Thompson led both teams for high total of 469, beating Mike Routh his teammate, by one point. Mike took high single game with 193.

Craig Coleman and Thompson each got doubles. Mike got two. Howard Gerrish and Joe Deiss drew blanks when it came to doubles.

John Rogers led the Lumber team with 430. John started his first game with a double, after that not so good.

The balance of the squad just couldn't double up those strikes.

HIGHWAYS CLEAR DESPITE WINDS

Added Drifts Fail to Close Any Roads But Richfield, Where Plows Work

Partly cloudy skies greeted Twin Falls residents today after a light snow had fallen here last night and early this morning and a high wind, striking near midnight, swept the section.

The wind failed to close any state highways with the exception of the Richfield road, state officials at Shoshone reported today. The rotary plow was working on the route today and it was expected to be open again by evening. The Fairfield road, closed since last Saturday, still was blocked today. Efforts will be made to open it as soon as possible.

J. D. Sinema, director of the Twin Falls highway district, said today the wind apparently did no damage to district roads. Although small drifts were blown in spots, traffic was not hindered today.

In Twin Falls today snow was melting and streets were slippery in many sections. This morning the low temperature recorded at the bureau of entomology was 23 above, while low yesterday was 11 above. High temperature recorded here yesterday was 40 above. Precipitation totaled .01 of an inch.

The forecast calls for fair weather tonight and cloudy weather Friday.

SEX MAGAZINES GO INTO AFRICA

European Pamphlets Prove Formidable Foes to Missionaries

ROME (U.P.)—European sex magazines are proving to be formidable foes to the missionaries of Africa.

That admission was made by a Catholic missionary in Central Africa in a letter addressed to the Holy Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, at Vatican City. He pointed out that the most serious difficulty encountered by missionaries was created by "the importation into non-Christian lands of the vices of old-Christianized Europe."

Also Sold in China Another Vatican source disclosed that the same conditions exist in China, and declared that at one time "missionaries had only to combat the vices and deep-seated religious prejudices that exist in pagan lands."

In recent years, he said, the fight for conversion has become doubly difficult mainly due to the introduction of the vices of our white civilization and their perditions which are highly sought by the natives.

It is known that in the last few years there has been a flood of sex magazines from the United States and European capitals into Africa and Asia. In China they can be purchased at ordinary newsstands in most cities.

High Prices Obtained The letter from the African missionary declared that natives save their money until they have enough to purchase one of these magazines—which are expensive and usually sold at a handsome profit, as in some cases they must be bootlegged into the region.

Central Africa, he says, may appear far afield from the United States and European capitals, but their magazines find their way there. The missionary concludes his letter by citing a particular case: "In an important African mining center, a government official was instructed to inspect the dwellings of the miners. He found well-built and comfortably furnished native huts. The walls of the rooms, though, were plastered over with pictures and photos torn out of the most suggestive magazines published in Paris. The prestige of the white population among the natives is lowered by such a display of the most unpleasant aspect of European civilization."

In Greece, through a new government ruling, automobiles with even tag numbers operate on the streets and highways on certain days, and the odd numbered ones on other days.

Soil Productivity Increased 30 Per Cent, Minnesota Professor Says

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Glaciers, which swept across Minnesota in prehistoric times, today are worth $1,760,000,000 to the state according to Prof. George M. Schwartz, University of Minnesota geologist. Addressing a conference Prof. Schwartz declared

"The average productivity of soil in Minnesota has been increased 30 per cent by glaciation. This means that in 1935 it increased the gross value of the state's farm crops by $1,760,000,000. Capitalize that figure at six per cent and we arrive at a total of $1,760,000,000 as a rough estimate of the present value of glaciation to agriculture in Minnesota."

Glaciation, between 20,000 to 700,000 years ago, formed Minnesota's famed "10,000" lakes, comprising one-fourteenth of the state's present area, he explained. This preponderance of water has "h safeguarded" Minnesota against floods, he asserted.

"The constant occurrence of glaciers, likewise, has done much to make Minnesota an important ore state," Prof. Schwartz said. "It has been responsible for the great quantities of peat, of which Minnesota has more than any other state in the union—6,000,000,000 tons."

Our ancestors reckoned time by nights and winters, hence "fort-night," a contraction of 14 nights.

PAGE SLOW ON WHEAT MARKETS

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (UP)—Liquidation ran its course in the first half of today's session, the Chicago board of trade and prices firmed in the last hour when selling pressure fell off. The pace was slow and fluctuations in price changes were within a cent a bushel.
 At the close wheat was 1/2 to 1c higher, May $1.35, new corn was 1/2 cent lower to 1c higher, May $1.07, old corn was unchanged to 1/2 cent lower, May $1.06, and oats were 1/2 to 1 cent lower, May 49c cents. The market opened steady to firm in response to an upturn at Liverpool but soon fell back under liquidation centered on the May delivery.
 The new crop months, however, met a little support inspired by reported crop damage in the southwest and rallied for small net gains when selling demand a continued fair milling demand for cash wheat had a bullish effect.
 Corn weakened early along with wheat under scattered selling and remained at lower levels throughout the session.

The spreading buttresses of tropical trees still are somewhat of a mystery. Although they perform admirably in holding up the tree, it is not clear why tall temperate climate trees have not developed similar aids, since trees in the open have more need for support.

JOB OFFICE EYES PLACEMENT RUSH

U. S. Employment Service Renovates Files For Spring Activity

Reference and correspondence files of the local office of the United States employment service are being renovated by office employees in expectation of a contemplated spring placement rush, Ray D. Butler, acting district supervisor, said today.

As soon as weather conditions permit, many projects will be getting underway in this section of the state, chiefly federal aid highway projects and school building construction, Butler said.

340 Highway Jobs

A conservative estimate places the number of men who will be taken from the employment rolls and put to work on highway projects when they get underway, at 340. A like amount is expected to find employment during the course of the construction of three school buildings and one addition to a present structure.

Among highway projects, which will start as soon as weather permits, Butler points out, is that of graveling, oiling and surfacing of a series of highways located in Cassia, Twin Falls and Jerome counties.

This highway job the largest single road contract ever to be let in the history of Idaho, is under the direction of the Hoops Construction company of Twin Falls, in partnership with the J. C. Compton company of McMinnville, Ore. It was started last fall but operations were discontinued with the coming of cold weather. It will be resumed this spring and will give employment to approximately 200 men from the three counties. It will be completed before next fall.

Eden Project

Adjacent to Twin Falls, the Hoops Construction company will complete a road grading and gravel project at Eden. Approximately 40 will find employment during the course of the project, Butler estimates. The Cavanaugh Construction company of Twin Falls will also resume operations this spring on road construction and graveling on the Gannett-Picabo road in Blaine county. Approximately 50 men will find employment, all being taken from U. S. employment service rolls.

In the area served by the local offices, other projects listed to get underway with moderate weather include the A. O. Thorn job, one of graveling and surfacing operations west of Bliss. The job will also include new construction and will connect with the new overhead grade crossing built at Bliss last year by the Hoops company. Approximately 50 will find employment on this project.

School construction listed as being ready to start as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently include that at Gooding, where a brick building, to house junior high school students and which will include construction of a gym, will be constructed at a cost of $41,809. A lithic company of Baker, Ore., has the contract.

Wendell School

Another is that at Wendell where a complete brick building to house high school students will be constructed at a cost of $24,650 under the direction of the J. B. Curtiss company of Cascade, Ida.

At Jerome a 12-room grade school of brick construction will be built at a cost of $88,028 by the H. J. McNeil company of Caldwell.

In Rupert a two-story brick addition to the present high school and a heating plant for the addition, as well as a boiler room with heating plant for the Lincoln elementary building, will be constructed. Cost is estimated at $61,818 and the contract has been let to W. H. Kloepper of Rupert.

"With these jobs opening up in the spring," Butler said today, "we expect the local registration office to be a busy place. That is why we are doing our 'spring housecleaning' early so as to have it out of the way when the rush starts."

HAGERMAN

Mrs. Tim Torrey, Mrs. Charles Abbott, Mrs. Ross Finch and Mrs. Martin Curran were hostesses at a desert bridge luncheon at the Civic club rooms Friday afternoon. Twenty-four guests were present and prizes were won by Mrs. J. Sanborn, Mrs. G. Hulme and Mrs. G. Conrad.

J. C. Bedingfield, Charley Thompson and Ben Fairchild have returned from a business trip to La Grande, Ore.

A dance will be held Friday at Legion hall with music by Glen Bates and his Nite Hawks.

Charles Dickenson, who is still in an Idaho Falls hospital, is improving and is now able to walk. He was taken to Idaho Falls following an accident last fall at Blind Bull coal mine.

On receipt of word on Saturday of the critical illness of his daughter, Miss Charlotte Condit at Lamoni, Ia., Erwin Condit left immediately for Iowa. Miss Condit's condition was thought to be improving following an attack of pneumonia and her sister, Mrs. W. Ultean, has left to accompany her to Hagerman.

Mrs. Emma Jenkins was called to bury over the week-end by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Ella Menchaca, who recently underwent an emergency appendectomy in a hospital here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peery are the parents of a daughter born at St. Valentine's hospital in Wendell. Mike Ultean, Lyle Gilmore, and Carol Condit have left for Seattle.

Paper of 1800 Tells of Death Of Washington

Publication Displayed Here at H. S. Gives Contemporary Reaction of Nation

On display at the high school today is a newspaper published in 1800 upon the death of George Washington.

The paper, which was the property of C. A. North, is encased in glass for display purposes. "Ulster County Gazette, Saturday, Jan. 4, 1800, published by Samuel Freer and Son, at Kingston," is the heading found on the exhibit.

The publication contains a poem entitled, "A Tribute to George Washington," by a young lady. The senate's message of condolence to the President, who at that time was John Adams, and then his reply, are given prominent places on the front page.

At the close of the order of the funeral procession is this quotation which America of today will recognize as near prophecy: "The sun was now setting. Alas! The son of Glory was set forever. No—the name of Washington—the American President and General—will triumph over death. The unclouded brightness of his Glory will illuminate the future ages."

The rules dividing the columns of the paper were fully half an inch wide and printed in heavy black type, the deep mourning expressed by the nation at the time of Washington's death.

In addition to accounts concerning Washington, it is interesting to note that the paper contained an account of Napoleon's return to France from Egypt and an expression of his fear at being captured at Toulon by the English. There was no other foreign news, the paper carrying an item which stated that because of the limitation of space, it was unable to print the great variety of foreign news which had been received in the last mails.

Causing much comment from students was an advertisement in the Gazette which said, "For Sale, a large Negro Wench," followed by a description and the place to apply if interested.

Scouts and applications granted include: merit badge applications: Buddy Hansen, first aid; Merrill Schiller, life-saving; Donald Hansen, swimming; Walter Huffman, life saving; Billy Mabbitt, book-binding; Second class application, Vincent Schwager; first class application, Kenneth Hennessy; application for gold palm, Gordon Custer.

George Hatcock is scoutmaster of the troop with J. J. Locke as chairman of the court of honor, and H. C. Baugh, Thomas Gill and G. B. Hatcock, counselors.

"With these jobs opening up in the spring," Butler said today, "we expect the local registration office to be a busy place. That is why we are doing our 'spring housecleaning' early so as to have it out of the way when the rush starts."
