SUPREME COURT SENATE HEARING SET FOR MARCH 9

Effort Made to Speed FDR Plan for Judiciary Reorganization

UPPER HOUSE ACTS FIRST

Borah Among Those Against Immediate Report on Retirement Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—The senate judiciary committee decided today to start hearings on President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization bill March 9 in an apparent effort to speed its consideration...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—The senate judiciary committee decided today to start hearings on President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization program. It would meet with approval of the house leadership.

The senate has a deeper interest in the problem than the house because it must confirm the judges, Bankhead said. "It is generally agreed that it should act first because of these reasons."

Formal Action The committee, taking first formal action on the measure providing enlargement of the supreme court to possibly 15 members, also voted 12 to 5 to report favorably to the senate the house-approved bill for voluntary retirement of supreme court justices at 70 on full pay.

White House Delegation The committee action came as Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Edward A. Oneal, president of the American farm bureau federation led a delegation of mid-western and southern farm spokesmen to the White House for a conference on the judicial plan.

Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., in charge of the house-approved retirement bill, said he would try to report it favorably to the senate immediately so that it might be taken up this week.

The committee discussion of the President's reorganization measure was of a general nature and no decision was reached on whether the hearings would be executive or public.

It was generally believed that hearings would not be prolonged and that the measure might reach the senate by late March or early April.

WHEAT SURPLUS SETS NEW LOW

57,000,000 Acre Winter Crop Expected to Refill Bins

CHICAGO, Feb. 22 (UP)—The nation's granary holds the smallest amount of wheat in history but for day grain men were hopeful that from the record-breaking 57,000,000-acre winter wheat planting will flow sufficient grain to return America to the ranks of exporting countries.

Grain analysts and traders believe 1937 will again find American wheat sold abroad in spite of the recent disasters of flood and dust storms. These twin evils, they said, may lessen but not seriously affect the winter wheat crop.

The visible supply of wheat, as of Feb. 13, was 43,000,482 bushels and at the present 7 1/2 of disappearance, about 1,500,000 bushels a week, the carry-over on July 1 will approximate 13,000,000 bushels, smallest in history.

Big Crop C. M. Galvin of James E. Bennett and company reported after a trip through Oklahoma that producers there look for a 50,000,000 bushel crop, in spite of the early dust storms.

The condition of eastern wheat fields was reported excellent by A. W. Erickson of Midcontinent Grain company, Kansas City, who recently completed a trip through New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. Conditions there, in Erickson's opinion, suggest no abandonment and are above normal. There also appeared a possibility of an early harvest.

Brightens Prospects The rapid disappearance of the Argentine and Australian new crop taken by these nations to fill current needs and build reserves, is another factor that brightens the prospect of America's return to exporting status.

With southern hemisphere grain practically all taken, the need of Europe generally for food supplies still is serious and any American surplus will quickly find an outlet abroad.

Possibilities of a serious domestic shortage of all grains, as has been hinted in some quarters of the grain trade, would only be realized, Chicago experts agreed, if a more serious threat to new wheat appears. Very little more than a normal rainfall will be needed, they said to insure all expectations.

Gunmen Corner Victim in Harlem and Fire Five Shots in Body

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (UP)—Four gunmen cornered a screaming man in the doorway of a Harlem candy shop today, fired five bullets into his body and left police with scant clues to the district's third gang murder in a week.

The unidentified victim, clawing frantically at the door of the candy shop, fired one bullet at his assassins before crumpling on the sidewalk.

Police said the slaying might have been in vengeance for the killing of Michael (Mike the Crab) di Benedetto, thug and racketeer, last Friday.

State Entrance Into Gas Field Urged as Protest Against Price Increase

GASOLINE PRICES RISE HALF CENT IN LOCAL REGION

Some Service Stations Boost Retail Charge as Major Firms Lift Cost

With all excepting one of the five major gasoline companies serving the Twin Falls area raising the wholesale price of gas one-half cent a gallon today, a majority of service stations in the city raised their prices to conform, a survey revealed here this afternoon.

The lone company which did not raise wholesale prices, the Standard Oil company, indicated this morning no notification had yet been received at local offices regarding the price boost.

All other major companies, including Texaco, Sinclair, Shell and Continental, indicated the half-cent boost on wholesale gas was effective today and that service station operators, with the exception of those operating Continental stations, could raise the retail price or keep it at the former level, as they desired.

Not Yet General The raise was not yet general throughout the city, some station owners contacted indicating they had not yet been informed to raise their prices, and others saying they had not even been notified of the wholesale rise.

In some instances station owners said they had not raised their retail prices because the "station across the street" had not raised theirs and they were afraid they would lose the business should they lift their prices first.

In cases where the station operator does not raise the price on retail gas, he will have to stand the loss himself, distributing company officials said.

Tax May Be Cause One distributor today said he did not know the exact cause of the half-cent increase but "it must have been brought about because of the new gas tax the Idaho legislature is considering I believe the companies just wanted to get the jump on the legislature and this is the way they did it."

If the price raise holds, it is believed a general retail price boost will be felt tomorrow, as stations have a chance to adjust themselves to the conditions, and all receive notification.

LEGISLATURE OPPOSED BOISE, Feb. 22 (UP)—As the price of gasoline was increased one-half cent by major oil companies throughout the intermountain area today Idaho's legislature was in record opposition to the boost.

Both houses late Saturday passed resolutions providing for committees to cooperate with Attorney General J. W. Taylor, "to investigate gasoline prices in Idaho," holding that refineries are now receiving all the profit they are entitled to.

SENATE OPPOSED BOISE, Feb. 22 (UP)—The senate today passed a resolution opposing the price increase.

The senate passed and sent to Governor Clark three house bills to reduce interest on delinquent assessments of irrigation districts from ten to eight per cent, facilitate handling of school district warrants, increase time for filing of tax exemption claims.

N. Y. GANGSTERS KILL THIRD MAN

Gunmen Corner Victim in Harlem and Fire Five Shots in Body

Steel Shortage Is Thought to Be Over

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—Elimination of a steel shortage which threatened a delay U. S. naval construction was believed today by federal officials.

Gooding Senator Will Introduce New Measure

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 22 (UP)—Rep. W. C. Thornton, Gooding, said today he intended to prepare a bill to put the state of Idaho into the business of manufacturing and distributing gasoline—protest against a half-cent increase in the price of gasoline by major oil companies today.

Thornton's statement followed first setback in the house of representatives of his bills to reduce automobile license fees to $5 and increase the state gasoline tax one cent a gallon. The house committee on highways reported the two bills with recommendation that they do not pass.

Intent of the bills was to use the additional tax revenue to reimburse highway districts for money they would lose under the proposed license reduction.

State-Owned Plant Thornton estimated that a state-owned gasoline plant could deliver the product to wholesalers at 13 cents a gallon, including federal and state taxes. "Price to the consumer would then be not more than 19 cents, compared with 25 cents now charged," he said.

"The half-cent boost in price was declared for only one purpose—to crush these two bills," the fiery Gooding representative charged. "They're putting the heavy hand on me. I'm going to throw it right back at them."

He said Idaho gasoline consumption was 66,000,000 gallons in 1933 and estimated it now at 79,000,000 gallons annually.

The new bill would ask a $100,000 appropriation to set up the state plants. "We would buy crude oil and refine it ourselves, and steer clear of the big gasoline interests," he declared.

Investigation Asked Both houses of the legislature already have passed resolutions asking an investigation into the motor fuel price increase.

Thornton declared he was fighting efforts to compromise his bills by providing a 20 per cent license reduction. "This proposal would take away 20 per cent from highway district income with no way of putting it back."

He said he would make every effort to force a record vote on his bills. A previous measure to reduce license fees was killed in the house by being indefinitely postponed without the legislators being forced to record their stand. "If they try to bury it this time, I'm going to lay into them," he warned.

Among five new house bills today were proposals to set up machinery for Boise to acquire a municipal water plant.

A new appropriation bill to provide for the department of public investments was introduced. The department's budget was included in the same bill with suggested appropriation for the state planning board, which is under senate attack.

SENATE OPPOSED BOISE, Feb. 22 (UP)—The senate today passed a resolution opposing the price increase.

The senate passed and sent to Governor Clark three house bills to reduce interest on delinquent assessments of irrigation districts from ten to eight per cent, facilitate handling of school district warrants, increase time for filing of tax exemption claims.

LOYALISTS TAKE REBEL FACTORY

Report Says 1,500 National Casualties in Oviedo Over Week-End

BILBAO, Spain, Feb. 22 (UP)—Loyalists fought toward the center of Oviedo today, after a 32-day siege. They took possession of a nationalist army factory and advanced along a 37-mile line in adjoining Asturias province.

Their line stretched from Grado, 12 miles west of Oviedo, to the village of La Mata to the east, and along both banks of the river Nalon which runs in a northwesterly direction between Grado and Oviedo.

Government reports said the insurgents were suffering enormous losses trying to stem the advance. One report placed the week-end insurgent casualties at 1,500 in Oviedo alone.

Bloody, hand-to-hand fighting raged inside the city as the loyalists' first division advanced house by house as far as Lameza street.

Oddities

PAIS LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (UP)—Police added a new twist to the one about the burglar who stole the wafel today. When they caught up with James Battle, accused of suspicion of burglary, the dog and Battle became such fast friends that the dog tried to protect him.

DRINKS SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (UP)—It no longer is illegal to keep bars open here after 2 a. m., but it's against the law to get intoxicated. At least, too intoxicated. That's why 181 men and women spent the week-end in police stations. Police said the lifting of the 2 a. m. closing order accounted for the numerous drunks.

COLLECTOR LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (UP)—When the doctor fixed a burned match and an open safety pin from the lungs of James Lawler, he sighed and said everything was fine again. Then he took another look with the fluoroscope and discovered here and there inside James' another open safety pin, a screw, three nails and a wheel off his toy train.

BULLSEYE LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (UP)—Hubbard Zavie, auto salesman, wanted to show a friend his marksmanship. Drawing a bullseye on a wall, he backed off and fired his revolver. Herschel Willey, 40, was standing behind the wall and was struck in the forehead by the bullet. He is not expected to recover.

Illinois Giant Satisfied With Year's Growth

Alton, Ill., Feb. 22 (UP)—Robert Wadlow, Alton boy giant, rolled out of his reinforced bed today, uncoiled his body nearly to the ceiling of his home, and congratulated himself on a year's steady growth.

Wadlow, who medical researchers say is the tallest man of which they have records, stretched his eight feet, six inches of length and remembered that he was about two inches longer than he was on his last birthday. His 435 pounds made the stairs squeak as he sauntered down to breakfast, bearing 40 pounds more of weight than he had a year ago.

He has not stopped growing, he believes. The overactive pituitary gland which causes his phenomenal growth continues its work and may continue, according to doctors, until he reaches his 24th birthday five years from today. His rate of growth, they say, may be as much as two inches a year.

He likes to travel, although automobiles present their problems. "My knees always knock my hat off," he said.

AUSTRIAN NAZIS GREET MINISTER

Hitler Followers Are Jailed After Salute and 'Heil' Shouts

VIENNA, Feb. 22 (UP)—Thousands of Austrian Nazis broke through police cordons today and sang the Nazi "Horst Wessel" anthem in greeting to Baron Constantin von Neurath, German foreign minister, arriving to confer with government leaders. Many were arrested.

The Nazis gave the German entry the Nazi salute and shouted "Heils."

It was an inauspicious beginning to his effort, in Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's behalf, to win Austrian leaders closer to Germany.

It was reported that Neurath sought first to seek intensification of cultural relations through exchange of literature, motion picture films and other media.

But behind the negotiations were the known German desire to seek closer political relations, and there seemed to be factors which made such approach difficult.

As Neurath arrived, Germany was reported to be opposed to the restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty, fearing that it might mean anti-German influence would predominate at some future time. In addition, Austrians as a nation looked with much disfavor on the dissonance in Germany over Nazi treatment of the Roman Catholic church.

Hence, though it was expected that all negotiations would be friendly, the impression in diplomatic quarters was that the conference could be little more than a gesture.

Boise Youth Stabbed In Cheek at Ogden

OGDEN, Feb. 22 (UP)—John Wallace, 18-year-old Boise youth, was being treated today for a deep stab wound in his left cheek after an alleged argument over payment of a meal check in a local cafe.

Police held Ernest Weaver, 37, of Ogden, in connection with the assault.

Pickets Withdrawn SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 22 (UP)—Los Angeles harbor buzzed with activity again today after teamsters' union officials withdrew pickets from all but two docks and announced that the entire harbor would not be blocked.

By FREDERICK C. OATHMAN WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—A 26-ton father of his country, without a shirt, peeked from behind a post today to plague congress for the biggest artistic boner it ever pulled.

Once a year the birthday of George Washington rolls around and once a year I write about how cold he looks, half naked, and what does congress do? It leaves him shivering, minus even a union suit!

My crusade for some clothes for the premier patriot seems to fall on ears which do not listen, but eyes which cannot help but bulge when they see this magnificent white marble statue of Washington, rigged up like a Roman senator (the shame of it) ready for his bath. It isn't right. It isn't decent. George Washington ought to have a coat—and pants!

In 1832, it was that congress appropriated $5,000 to pay Horatio Greenough, the celebrated sculptor, for a splendid statue of Washington to be placed by the rotunda of the capitol.

Eight years later Greenough reported from his studio in Florence, Italy, that Washington in marble was complete. He also sent along an expense account for $6,311.00, mostly for trees damaged on the road from Florence to the seaport of Leghorn. The statute was 10 feet, six inches tall, he explained, and six feet wide, and it skinned the back of nearly every poplar en route.

Congress paid, and paid $7,700 more for transportation of its statue from Italy to the Washington navy yard. The bill was stiff because the marble Washington nearly smashed a hole in the bottom of the boat.

It cost $5,000 more to get the statue from the navy yard to Capitol Hill, where all the senators, the members of the house, their ladies, and a brass band assembled for the unveiling. "Ta-ra-dee-boo and the canvas fell, revealing O. Washington, waiting a sort of skit (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

PROBE REOPENED IN COAST CRASH

Missing Motor of Ill-Fated Airliner Found Mile From Wreckage

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (UP)—Belief that the crash of a United Airlines plane, which carried 11 persons to their deaths in San Francisco bay Feb. 9, was due to a mechanical failure, was strengthened today by recovery of the right motor nearly a mile northwest of the spot where the plane crashed. It was believed the motor may have been torn loose from the plane when it was being turned for a landing.

The motor was taken to Oakland, where it was cleaned and sealed and held for an official examination later.

NEW MIDWESTERN FLOOD TOLL IS 5

Six Illinois and Wisconsin Rivers Overflow After Week-End Rains

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 22 (UP)—Five were dead and several still were missing today as flood waters of half a dozen northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin rivers, started by torrential week-end rains, began to fall back as swiftly as they rose.

The floods spread over thousands of acres along the boundary lines of the two states, rising swiftly and with little warning. Hundreds of families fled from homes.

The rivers which overflowed were the Illinois, Sheboygan, Sugar, Rock, Pelee, Menominee and Peconic. A blizzard added to suffering of flood victims.

The Peconic area at Freeport still was rising about an inch an hour, but the freezing weather was expected to halt the danger of serious flood.

Galena, Ill., was hardest hit of the flood towns. River bank dwellings were submerged to the second floor and seven feet of water covered Main street.

Nine were injured, one seriously, when three cars of the Milwaukee railroad's Southwestern Limited were derailed while crossing a flood-damaged culvert 12 miles north of Rockford. Rockford, Oregon, Bureau, Freeport, Savannah and McCormick, Ill., and Sheboygan and Beloit, Wis., all reported low sections covered by flood waters.

Stag frolic in the club rooms followed the initiation.

Previously, Elks had descended on the city from all directions throughout Sunday morning and afternoon. A caravan of approximately 80 local cars with the Utah special train at Shoshone and brought the Elks to Twin Falls. The train, which had carried the visitors from a Sunday visit to Sun Valley lodge, was later brought to Twin Falls to await tonight's departure.

The Elks were being entertained this afternoon with bowling, billiards, bridge, pinocle and other contests. These got underway at 2:30 after a buffet luncheon in the club-rooms.

POLICE QUIZ GIRL IN "LEGION" CELL

Puzzled Officials Find Young Woman in Room of Terror Leader

DETROIT, Feb. 22 (UP)—Puzzled public officials, unable to determine positively how a 17-year-old girl got into a prison cell occupied by Dayton Dean, confessed Black Legion triggerman, today started a thorough investigation.

Slim, brown-haired and blue-eyed Lucille Turner, who said her home was in Asheville, N. C., was discovered hiding in the bathroom of Dean's cell Saturday night. She said she had escaped from the women's detention quarters a floor below the men's cell block and had spent three hours with Dean before found, police disclosed.

DEALERS PICKET UNION QUARTERS

New York Employers Turn Tables on Amazed Shop Workers

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (UP)—Wholesale dry goods dealers turned the tables on amazed employees today by picketing union headquarters and demanding collective bargaining.

"We decided to strike against our employees until they see the light," said Jacob M. Mandelbaum, attorney for the downtown Dry Goods Jobbers' association.

"Outside union headquarters two men paraded placidly back and forth, bearing placards.

Arthur Osman, union head, took one look at the pickets and grumbled:

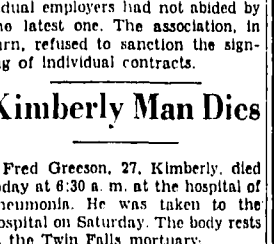

"They didn't have the nerve to picket themselves. They hired two Bowery guys."

The turnabout picketing climaxed a lockout of 1,000 workers in 35 wholesale establishments after breakdown of negotiations between the association and the union. It was explained the union had refused to sign a new contract with the association, charging that individual employers had not abided by the latest one. The association, in turn, refused to sanction the signing of individual contracts.

"SITTING" GROUP STARTS TO WORK

Idaho House Body Begins Clean-Up of Remainder of Measures

BOISE, Feb. 22 (UP)—A house of representatives "sitting" committee began work today in an attempt to clean up remainder of more than 400 bills before end of the 60-day regular session of Idaho's 24th legislature 10 days hence.

Today's calendar, including 82 bills for final reading in the house, a new session record, was made in the normal manner. Tomorrow the calendar will be a hand-made product with most important bills, as determined by the sitting committee, at the top for early consideration.

Members of the committee are Democratic Floor Leader Hendricks, Bannock; Foreman, Owyhee; Cavanaugh, Twin Falls; Leavitt, Benewah; Hussman, Idaho; Newman, Nez Perce; Lewis, Cassia. Lewis is Republican floor leader, the committee's only minority party representative.

Late afternoon sessions of the legislature Saturday saw introduction in the house of the previously-heralded one per cent gross sales tax and still another attempt to gain an increase in pay for legislators.

The latest pay proposal would fix members' salary at $7.50 a day, but reduced mileage allowance from 10 to five cents a mile. The change would require a constitutional amendment, will have to be approved by the people if passed by both houses. Another house bill called for an audit of the state insurance fund for the last three years.

The house passed a measure to create a three-man pharmacy board. A house bill providing for an agricultural marketing commission was approved by the senate and sent to Governor Clark. The bill asked a $25,000 appropriation.

PARLEY MAY BE ASKED IN STRIKE

Secretary of Labor and Gov. Horner Will Move to Break Deadlock

(Copyright, 1937, United Press) WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 22 (UP)—A joint invitation from Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and Gov. Henry Horner to rival parties in the Fannest metallurgical sit-down strike may be the next move to break the deadlock in conciliation efforts, parties close to the negotiations said today.

The informant said such a conference would be called on the following conditions:

That both the company and striking members of the amalgamated iron, steel and tin workers either have legal counsel or not have legal counsel. The company has insisted the strikers negotiate for themselves without assistance of "outside professional agitators."

That no further attempt be made to evict approximately 100 sit-downers in two Fannest plants at nearby North Chicago pending outcome of peace efforts. The strikers have held the buildings since last Wednesday and on Friday repulsed 140 sheriff's men who attempted to oust them.

Robert Pilkington, U. S. labor department conciliator, said his office had supplied Miss Perkins with reports "hourly."

around his hips, but precious little else, except a wreath of laurels on his head. Everybody lauded, Congress blushed, and quickly erected a $5,000 shed to hide its greatest mistake from the public gaze.

A couple of years later Greenough called his patrons prudes. He, shamed, then in removing the shed and spending $1,000 more to build an iron fence around his statue. The populace snickered and congress squirmed. It couldn't dynamite the statue, because of the law prohibiting the destroying of federal works of art. It rebuilt the shed. Then it tore it down again. The shed went up and the shed went down, regularly until 1908 when congress decided to hide its semi-nude Washington permanently from the public gaze.

Secreted Behind Presses

It appropriated $5,000 more—bringing the total bill to $37,011.90—and trundled the statue to the Smithsonian institution, which promptly secreted it behind some printing presses in the back room.

There George Washington stands to this day, like a striptease dancer, after the final encore. Dutifully the Smithsonian dusts him off at intervals and carefully it neglects to point him out to visitors, unless they insist.

How about it, congress? How about another $5,000 to chisel the father of his country a marble overcoat? Or must I write this story all over again next year and the next, and so on, ad infinitum?

President Roosevelt has asked congress to pass a law providing that when a federal judge who has been a judge 10 years or more reaches the age of 70 and does not retire within six months thereafter, the President shall appoint an additional judge to his court. This law, under present conditions, would require the President to add six justices to the United States supreme court.

TEACHER ADDED TO ADULT CLASS

Wider Facilities Now Offered With Enrollment Opened To New Entries

Addition of another teacher to the adult education classes offers wider facilities for persons desiring to enroll now, it was announced today by A. H. Lehman and Mrs. G. W. Erbland, who have been in charge of the local program. Mrs. Leonore Johnson is the new teacher.

There are no fees attached to the course of study, and registration can be made at any time.

Included in the curriculum offered adults are bookkeeping, shorthand, typing and other commercial subjects, psychology and parent education. The commercial study classes meet nightly in the high school commercial room, and are supervised by Mr. Lehman. Discussion class in psychology, under Mrs. Erbland, convenes every Wednesday night in room 101 at the high school, and the parent education courses for under-privileged women are held weekly in the Lincoln and Birkel schools.

Twenty are now enrolled in commercial subjects, the instructors said. Approximately 85 women are registered in the parent-education classes. Mr. Lehman is also planning a course in salesmanship and business efficiency.

The courses are open to any resident over 16 years of age and not attending public schools. They are financed under WPA and are sponsored by the state department of education.

In addition to the study groups, correspondence courses are also being carried on in Twin Falls. They are directed by Mrs. Erbland.

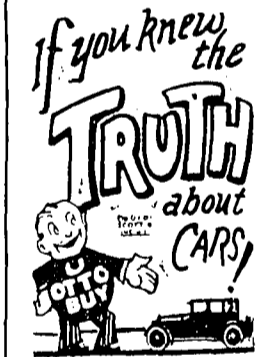

Employment of a regular typing and shorthand teacher was tentatively outlined last week when the local instructors conferred here with R. S. Brown, Boise, assistant supervisor, and Mrs. Margaret Crumley, Boise, state supervisor of nursery schools. Twin Falls has a unit in the nursery school program, located in the Lincoln building.

Today Dr. Hawkins and H. S. Post, county sanitary inspector, announce all persons requiring the cards will have to secure them by the last of this week.

INDOOR TRACK, FIELD SEASON APPROACHES CLIMAX

TEN CHAMPIONS DEFEND CROWNS

O'Brien Breaks His 500-Yard Record on Saturday Night Race

By LESLIE AVERY
NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (UP)—The winter track and field season approached its grand climax today with amateur athletic union officials boasting the grand array of board track jockeys ever assembled for the national A. A. U. indoor championships in Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

With four world records already established in the earlier indoor invitational, prospects were bright for the breaking of a half-dozen more new marks. Ten national champions prepared to defend their individual titles.

The blue-ribbon entry list includes 28 Olympic athletes from five nations, four of them champions. Thirty holders of indoor and outdoor world records are among those to compete.

O'Brien Smashes Record

Latest record to fall was the 500-yard time of 67.8 set by Eddie O'Brien of Syracuse in January, 1936. Eddie smashed it himself by two-tenths of a second in the New York A. C. annual games at the Garden Saturday night. The week before at Boston Don Lash eclipsed the two-mile record; George Varoff vaulted higher with a pole than any man had ever crossed a bar indoors before; Sam Allen of Oklahoma cleared the 45-yard hurdles in the fastest time ever registered under a roof.

The feature of the N. A. A. U. meet will be the 1500 meters run. The entrants will be the same as those scheduled in the 26th running of the N. Y. A. C.'s Baxter mile, which Glenn Cunningham won handsily Saturday night. There will be Luigi Beccali of Italy, former Olympic champion, who was second in the Baxter; Gene Venzek of Pennsylvania, fourth; Miklos Szabo of Hungary, third; and Archie San Romani of Kansas, whose plane was grounded forcing his withdrawal.

Defending Titleholders

Titleholders defending their laurels will be O'Brien, 600 meters; Venzek, 1500 meters; Norman Bright, San Francisco, 5,000 meters; Joe McCluskey, N. Y. A. C., steeplechase; Charlie Eschenbach, N. Y. A. C., 1500 meter walk; Allen, Oklahoma, 65 meter hurdles; Dimitri Zaitz, Boston, shotput; Ed Burke, Marquette, high jump; Sam Richardson, Toronto, broad jump and Irv Polwartshny, Rhode Island state, 35-pound weight throw. Defending team laurels will be Manhattan college, 1600 and 2000 meter relays; N. Y. U., 1000 meter relays, and N. Y. A. C., total team title.

ESCOBAR KEEPS BANTAM CROWN

Puerto Rican Wins 15 Round Decision Over American Lou Salica

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 22 (UP)—A lucrative offer to defend his title in Detroit was considered today by world bantamweight champion Sixto Escobar, who retained his crown by decisively outpointing Lou Salica in 15 rounds here last night.

The little Puerto Rican kept faith with 26,000 of his countrymen, who paid nearly $45,000 to see their first title fight, by giving the American a boxing lesson. Keeping a stiff left jab in Salica's face most of the fight, Escobar won 10 rounds while Lou took four. One was even. The decision was unanimous among Referee Jack Dempsey and Judges Hype Igoe and Nat Flescher.

Both men were in excellent condition and didn't begin to tire until the 12th round despite a sultry tropical night. Knowing that Sixto was a certain winner unless he was knocked out, Salica used up the last three rounds trying to land a kayo punch. But the crafty Puerto Rican left-jabbed the American until his face was livid with blood streaming from his nose.

Is It Holdout Or Holdup?

Discovery of Spring "Wonder" is Certainty in Baseball, Says Mac

By HENRY McEMORE
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20 (UP)—It seems downright incredible that time marches on so swiftly, that tempus fugit as fugitively as it does, but it must be here it is 205 years after George Washington's birth, and less than a month from the time when the successor of Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth will be discovered once again.

Why, it doesn't seem a day more than 200 years since Washington, who was the great grandson of Colonel John Washington (1634-1677), who came from Yorkshire, Eng., in case you don't know, was lustily delivered at Mount Vernon, then called Hunting Creek.

And it certainly doesn't seem anywhere near a year since the last baseball spring training season, and the reports that the Athletics on the Giants or the Tigers or the Red Sox (I forget which) had uncovered a red-faced rookie from What Cheer, Ia., or Social Circle, Ga., or Santa Claus, N. C. (I forget which) who could run and field like Cobb and hit like Ruth.

Forgets Name
As a matter of fact, I have even forgotten the name of the red-faced rookie, but I am sure there was one. There always is. Death and taxes must run second and third in the certainty sweepstakes to the fact that every baseball training season will produce a super-super rookie who has the speed of mercury, the power of Thor (not HARRY K.), and the lightning reactions of Willie Keeler, the old orle or thrush who could "hit 'em where they ain't."

Right now, swinging along with baseball hired hands as they move south, is the unknown rookie who will achieve immortality, if only for a week. He may be on the Havana-bound boat with the Giants, hanging out the port hole with galloping mal de mer, he may be in a bus, his cramped legs curled atop his wicker suitcase, en route to the Cardinals here; or he may be—hell, he may be anywhere. But he'll get here—here in time for the citrus critics to appraise him, and acclaim his throwing arm, his profound thinking, his flawless swing, and his ability to go either to his left or right.

Both Directions
Speaking of being able to go left or right, it always has amazed me that baseball authorities lay such stress on a chap's ability to move in both directions. Frankly, I never have known anyone who wasn't able to navigate in such a manner. Take me, for example. No one has ever singled me out as a remarkable person, yet for as long as I can remember I have been capable of turning right or left or even completely around, at will. I have my mother's word for it that since I was two years of age, when I was vaccinated on my left arm, I have been able to go and how with the aptness of even the most astute mule. And, confidentially, there have been times when I not only could have to the right and left, but in circles. Large, looping, concentric circles.

Numbers of all classes of livestock except horses and mules also increased during 1936. The total number of cattle increased from 745,000 head on Jan. 1, 1936, to 790,000 head on Jan. 1 this year, with milk cows increasing from 190,000 head to 194,000 head. Total sheep numbers increased from 2,374,000 head to 2,378,000 head, though the number of stock sheep showed only a slight increase during the year. Sheep numbers were increased from 226,000 to 295,000 head. Horse numbers declined from 190,000 to 188,000, and mule numbers remained about the same as a year ago, or 5,000 head.

UNION REQUESTS NEW RECOGNITION

Telegram Sent to Walter P. Chrysler by Detroit Labor Leader

DETROIT, Feb. 22 (U.P.)—Recognition of the United Automobile Workers was demanded of the Chrysler corporation today after a mysterious tear gas demonstration disrupted a union meeting called to celebrate the latest move to unionize completely the automobile industry.

Richard T. Frankenstein, local U. A. W. organizer, announced that a telegram containing the demand would be sent directly to Walter P. Chrysler, head of the corporation, and he can turn it over to anyone he wants to.

Police began an intensive investigation of the tear gas episode, which came as workers and their families were marching into the fairgrounds coliseum after a "victory" parade which started in front of the Ford Motor company's big Highland Park plant.

Light bulbs containing a powder which, according to investigators, generated tear gas when exposed to heat, apparently were thrown into ventilators. In the ensuing confusion, George Vargo, a worker in the Dodge division of Chrysler, was seized and beaten by workers who believed him guilty of the attack.

INCREASED SPUD CROP FORECAST

BOISE, Feb. 22 (Special)—Based on intentions reports from growers as of Jan. 1, the total acreage to be planted to potatoes in 1937 is expected to be 3,499,000 acres, according to Richard C. Ross, agricultural statistician. This is 12 per cent above the 3,058,000 acres harvested in 1936 and two per cent above the 3-year (1928-31) average of 3,327,000 harvested acres.

The relatively high prices received by growers this season for their potatoes will tend to encourage an increase in potato acreage in 1937. On the other hand, seed potatoes will be difficult to secure and the price will be high at planting time. These factors undoubtedly will cause some growers to modify their present acreage plans for the coming season.

While practically every state has indicated an increase in potato acreage in 1937, the largest increases are expected in those states which suffered serious abandonment due to the drought. In some of the early potato states, prevailing high prices are expected to stimulate large increases in acreage.

A reading by Ruth Skelton completed the program. Two games directed by Mrs. Metcalf were played after the program. Refreshments were served by Miss House, Miss McCallister and Mr. and Mrs. Lattimer.

A wedding shower and dance were given at the L. D. S. hall Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lance who were recently married. A large group of friends attended and the young couple received many useful gifts. During the intermission a midnight lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Black. Glen Murray and family are enjoying a visit with his aunt from Nebraska. This is the first time he has seen his aunt for about 35 years. She has been visiting relatives in Oregon and Washington the past several months.

Break Into Machines, Take Blanket, Butter and Cheese as Loot

Police today were investigating two thefts reported here Sunday, both involving breaking into automobiles.

A blanket was stolen from an automobile belonging to Virgil Smallwood while the machine was parked near the Legion hall Sunday at 12:30 a. m.

James Sharkey reported to police Sunday a 22-pound solid pack of butter and a two and one-half pound pack of cheese were taken from his truck sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The machine was parked on Fifth avenue north next to Second avenue north.

In both cases locks on the machines were broken to gain entry.

ATTORNEY PLANS PERJURY CHARGE

Rubinoff, Counsel Declares He Will File Against Peggy Garcia

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (U.P.)—David Rubinoff's attorneys declared today that perjury charges would be filed against blonde Peggy Garcia if her $500,000 heart balm suit against the violinist is thrown out of court because she denied her marriage in Roanoke, Va. when she was 12.

Abraham J. Halprin, representing Rubinoff, said he was "completely confident" that Justice Salvatore Cullio would dismiss the suit when it is resumed tomorrow.

"If that happens," he added, "I intend to proceed in person against Mrs. Garcia. It will be my duty as a lawyer and as an officer of the court to present charges of perjury to the district attorney."

"If the case is dismissed, Rubinoff will be out of it. He has no desire to bring vengeance on this girl for what she has done. But, as a lawyer, he will have no alternative."

AT THE HOSPITAL Patients admitted were Miss Dorothy Schultz, Paul, Tom Horst, Hazelton. Those dismissed were Glenn Wright, Eddie Bray, Earl L. Smith and Lewis Bridenstine, Twin Falls, and Bill Carey, Jarbridge, Nev.

MR. FARMER! Crop Insurance--- Is Only One of the Many Advantages Offered You by Sugar Beets Read What This Successful Farmer Has to Say About Them— "My beet acreage last year proved a financial bulwark particularly since a devastating hail storm swept across our farm, ruining all other crops. The beets came through to make twenty tons per acre, the only income I had, aside from hay. "Over many years I have always counted sugar beets a dependable, profitable crop, in a diversified program."

The Amalgamated Sugar Company BEETS SURVIVE SEVERE HAIL STORMS BECAUSE THEY ARE HARDY. WHEN BAD WEATHER COMES ALONG, YOU ARE ALWAYS MORE CERTAIN OF A BETTER RETURN THAN YOU ARE FROM ANY OTHER CULTIVATED CROP.

STEPHAN WINNER IN COURT ACTION

Judgment favoring Frank I. Stephan, attorney and land owner, was on the record books of district court today following the verdict returned here late Saturday by a jury deliberating claims of a former tenant, William M. Whittington.

Whittington had sought $2,365 damages over bean crop shares in 1936. The jury deliberated three hours with nine of the 12 sifting the decision.

The former Republican candidate for governor, testifying in his own behalf, explained that he had owned the tenant's beans to be held in warehouse pending investigation of grading variance between the tenant's share and that given Mr. Stephan.

BIARRITZ BOOM TRACED TO WAR

Spanish Aristocrats Flee to Coast Town to Escape Civil Battle

BIARRITZ, France (UP)—This quiet town on the Gascony coast is having a boom year as a result of the civil war in Spain.

Hundreds of Spanish aristocrats have fled across the frontier into France and are constantly patronizing the hotels, bars and night clubs which usually close in September at the end of the tourist season.

Shops, markets, pensions and business houses have never had such a prosperous year since this fishing town became a fashionable seaside resort several decades ago.

The town owes its popularity as a resort to the Empress of Napoleon III, a former Spanish Countess, Eugenie de Montijo. The popular French Empress spent part of several summers here and darling-ly became the pioneer of women bathers. Upon her initiative, many aristocratic members of the French court came to Biarritz.

Bathing as Ceremonial
 Dips in the sea by Empress Eugenie became a town ceremonial, for the mayor, attired in his finest clothes, was designated to escort her by land into the water. The Empress wore a voluminous and billowing costume of black cloth for bathing but the mayor of Biarritz as he betted his position, stepped into the water in his finery.

Biarritz's popularity as a coast resort dates from these days, but the town has never been so prosperous as it is today. The aristocratic exiles who now inhabit the resort escaped from Spain early in the war and are spending their money freely on the luxuries to which they have always been accustomed.

Private Spanish schools are being operated for children and special children's dining rooms are established in all the large hotels. Golf and tennis clubs are doing a thriving business and the casino is open every night for lavish entertainment as well as gambling.

Hotels are crowded and the finest and most expensive delicacies appear on the menus. Caviar, fresh vegetables, fruits and meats are brought from Paris, while the finest vintages of champagne, wines and liquors are sent from other parts of France.

Seafood dishes, for which Biarritz is famous, are served daily to former Spanish ministers, mayors, ambassadors and their families.

Newspapers are brought across the border daily for the hundreds of Spanish exiles. Church services are held weekly in Spanish. The radio business has boomed likewise as the expatriate have bought expensive sets to tune in on the numerous news broadcasts that are made daily throughout Spain.

In addition to the Spanish contingent, Biarritz is doing a flourishing business with foreign newspapermen who cross the border frequently into Spain, but make their headquarters here.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney

Today's Contract Problem

Walter Malowan, of New York, is one of the outstanding figures in tournament bridge. Usually his bidding is sound, but sometimes when he plays bridge at New York's newest and most exclusive bridge club, the Regency club, he cannot resist the temptation to put in a psychic. At the opening night of the club recently,

South is playing the contract at six no trump. With the opening spade lead, he can count 11 tricks. Where is he to find the additional trick needed to make his contract?

In the play, Malowan who had opened in the North with a complete psychic, had the pleasant surprise of making his doubled contract, losing only one diamond and one heart. East and West could have made four hearts without trouble, and with careful play even five is possible.

SEN. POPE URGES TRANSIENT HELP

Senator's Efforts May Lead To Investigation of Local Situation

By RALPH W. OLMSTEAD

WASHINGTON (Special) — In 1936, Senator Pope introduced a resolution authorizing an investigation of the transient problem. The resolution was passed but no money was appropriated, so the department of labor has confined its investigation largely to a perusal of existing statistics. After a lengthy conference with commissioner of labor statistics, Isador Lubin, the senator has introduced another resolution appropriating $20,000 for the investigation.

May Visit Twin Falls

If the appropriation is made, N. A. Tolles of the bureau of labor statistics will probably be sent to Idaho to investigate growth immigrants and make recommendations for their permanent care. He may go to Twin Falls and possibly other Idaho cities to view the problem firsthand. If Idaho's increasing indigent population is kept in the national spotlight, something is bound to be done about it. There is a bare possibility that new irrigation projects will be constructed on which they can settle.

Rather than decreasing, it is believed that the migration westward is on the increase. The next few years will likely see a tremendous increase in Idaho's population if ways can be found for newcomers to make a living.

Loans to Fruitmen

After being subjected to some strong remarks from the Idaho congressional delegation the resettlement administration has decided that this year it will again make loans to Idaho fruit growers. In 1935 Idaho fruit growers lost most of their crop because of an early freeze. Last year the trees had not fully recovered from the previous year's freezing weather. This, supplemented by a severe hailstorm, again put Idaho's orchardists "behind the eight ball." Substantial credit will be forthcoming from resettlement to tide them over.

Now nearing completion is the senate investigation of the operations of the regional agricultural credit corporation, in the wool industry. During 1933 and 1934 the RACC having advanced credits to wool producers then required them to consign their wool to certain wool buyers. In many cases producers had offers from other wool buyers which were higher than the price received from consignees designated by the RACC. Many wool producers lost money and the senate has been investigating with a view to working out remedial legislation. No individual cases will be handled by the senate committee, but there is a possibility that individual wool growers who lost money have a ground on which to sue the R. A. C. C.

Mesa Falls

The Mesa falls power plant project, which, after much effort, was approved by the WPA, sent to the budget bureau only to meet with disapproval on the ground that it would be "more appropriate as a PWA project." At the request of Governor Barzilla Clark, Senator Pope conferred with Budget Commissioner Bell. The project will be approved for construction by the WPA.

Cong. D. Worth Clark conferred with park service officials about finishing the road from Ashton into Yellowstone park. The park service, while it dislikes constructing roads in Yellowstone, promised to take the question up with the forest service with a view to completing the highway.

Tests Announced On Federal Jobs

Open competitive examinations for the positions of assistant communications operator and under communications operator (air navigation) which pay $1,620 and $1,200 a year respectively, were announced today by the United States civil service commission.

Competitors will not be required to report for examination at any place, but will be rated upon their experience and fitness on a scale of 100.

Applications must be on file with the assistant manager in charge, thirteenth U. S. civil service department, at the postoffice building in Denver, Colo., not later than March 16.

Application forms may be secured at the Twin Falls postoffice.

F. D. R. RUNNING WILD?

Editor, Evening Times: It would seem that Nemo of Burley is more interested in sharpening his wit and showing off his intellect than he is in the question of any supreme court change.

The question is not one of whether the holy constitution is to be violated; it is this: Is President Roosevelt going to run wild unchecked?

While the bill might be all right 20 years from now, when the supreme court will be composed of younger men, it is certainly most unsuitable at the present time, when it is obviously designed to give the court's balance of power to the President.

PRICE OF BREAD

Editor, Evening Times: We were informed at Malad today that there was a bill to be presented to the Idaho legislature whereby it would make it unlawful to sell a loaf of bread that weighs more than 16 ounces and such a loaf must be sold for a dime. At present that is as large a loaf of bread as has been sold in Idaho for about two years and the dealers have also been stopped from selling a five-cent loaf.

Where do they get this stuff? Who is responsible for such doings? Why let a few bakers run the state of Idaho and do as they please with the people, fix the prices to suit their own taste? Will the lawmakers of our fair state stand idly by and let this unlawful practice of price fixing go on when they know full well that it is unconstitutional?

We in Oneida county have enjoyed a larger loaf of bread than has the rest of the state just because we fought for our rights.

If the bakers of Utah can sell a 20-ounce loaf of bread for ten cents and haul it from Salt Lake and Ogden to Twin Falls, Rupert, and Burley, why should the Idaho bakers get 10 cents for a 16-ounce loaf when they live in the center of the grain belt?

They tell us that because of the processing tax they sell the small loaf so as to help the farmer. When the processing tax was on in Utah, they made no change in price nor size of the loaf. You can buy three 12-ounce loaves of fresh bread in Utah for 10 cents every day. So give the people of the state of Idaho their just dues. See that they get a loaf and not a biscuit for a dime. We don't mind being held up if it is done right, but we don't like for the bakers to take part of the loaf that we pay for and tell us to like it. I hope our lawmakers will forget politics long enough to cure this rotten deal handed to the people in this state.

Sheriff of Oneida County

WILL OF THE PEOPLE

Editor, Evening Times: The President's proposal for liberalizing the supreme court is in strict conformity with the Democratic principle that government should be responsive to the will of the people. Those who believe in this principle should experience no difficulty in supporting the President on this issue.

The results of the recent election show that a vast majority of the American people are in sympathy with the program which President Roosevelt is attempting to enact into law. Recent decisions of the supreme court, however, show that a majority of the members of that body are not in sympathy with his program. Under our existing system of government the opinions of these judges rather than those of the people are permitted to prevail.

Most of the laws which have been cast into the discard by the high court during recent years were considered constitutional by several members of that body. These laws were unconstitutional not because of any provision of the constitution as written by our forefathers but because they were not in conformity with the personal views of a majority of the members of the court. The court has become the constitution and any law which is displeasing to a majority of its members is unconstitutional. Several of the justices have themselves admitted that this is the true situation.

Under our present system only death can create a vacancy in the membership of the supreme court unless a judge himself decides to resign. This is something that the judges seem very reluctant to do. Nature generally deals gently with judges as with others who receive large incomes and do this work in marble halls. Shall we sit idly by and see desired legislation obstructed by an unfriendly court until such time as the angel of death creates vacancies, or shall we hasten these vacancies by adopting the President's proposal? If the proposed law is adopted several of the judges who are over 70 will likely retire and other men of equal legal ability but more in sympathy with the needs of the people will be appointed to fill their places. Then congress and the President can go forward without being continually harassed by adverse decisions of the court. Laws which are actually in violation of the constitution will be declared unconstitutional but laws which are merely distasteful to the over-privileged few will be allowed to stand. The people now are in control of two branches of the government and if the President's proposal is adopted they will also be in control of the third. Why not trust the judgment of our great leader in this matter rather than that of his enemies?
