EXPERTS FIGURE NAVAL BLOCKADE OF SPANISH WAR

Six Governments Will Take Part in Cordón Ten Miles Off Coast

PLAN STARTS MARCH 6

Control Will Keep Aid From 27 Countries From Entering Fight

LONDON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Experts of the international committee on non-intervention in the Spanish civil war have agreed on almost all details of an unique naval cordón to be thrown around Spain by six powers. It was learned today.

Ships of six nations will patrol 10 miles off the Spanish coast to keep any ships of the 27 governments signatory to the non-intervention agreement from taking men or munitions into Spain.

It is an effort to isolate the civil war, which more than once has been a threat to the peace of all Europe and let the combatants fight it out to a finish, or to exhaustion.

But strangely enough, ships of countries which do not adhere to the non-intervention agreement—the United States, which is neutral, Mexico, strongly in favor of the loyalists, and others—and ships of the combatants themselves are not affected at all, and may legally take munitions, men, anything they like, to Spanish ports.

The control plan will become operative at midnight March 6. The full non-intervention committee is expected to meet soon to approve the plan which, the United Press learns, is as follows according to the recommendations of the experts.

1—British and Portuguese fleets to patrol the north coast of Spain from the French frontier westward to Cape Basto, west of Gijón.

2—Soviet Russian fleet to patrol from Cape Bugto to Sisargaz Island, near Corunna on the north-west coast.

3—French ships to patrol the rest of the west coast.

4—British warships to patrol the south coast.

5—German ships to patrol the southeast coast.

6—Italian ships to patrol the east coast.

7—French ships to patrol Spanish Morocco and Malaga, Balearic Islands.

8—Italy to patrol Minorca, Balearic Islands.

9—British ships to patrol the Canary Islands.

Furthermore, Portugal has agreed to station 30 British observers watch the Portuguese-Spanish frontier as well as Portuguese ports.

Federal Owned Steel Factories Urged By Roper

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper suggested today that the government might be forced to produce its own steel if it continued to be unable to obtain supplies for the navy building program because of operation of the Walsh-Healey act, specifying hours and working conditions under government contracts.

Questioned concerning the possibility of lowering steel tariffs, Roper said it was his belief that it was more likely that the government—if necessary—would make its own steel.

COAST VIOLENCE FEARS ALLAYED

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 24 (UP)—Fears of violence at the Douglas Aircraft plant here were allayed at least temporarily today when 300 "sit-down" strikers permitted 400 members of the engineering department to report for work.

The engineers and other technical craftsmen walked through a picket line at the main entrance but were not molestated although a crowd was gathered before the entrances.

Although the engineers were at work, 5,000 other employees remained idle as the huge plant was shut down by officials yesterday when the strike was called.

Inside the airplane factory the strikers spent most of their time making arm bands to identify their pickets. The bands were inscribed "C. I. O. Picket."

Verdict Backfires Against Plaintiff In Colorado Trial

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 24 (UP)—Abe Golden of Denver was convicted today that he "shouldn't have brought it up" after a district court ruling here yesterday that he owed Ward J. Bridge of Kendrick, Colo., $141. Golden had sued Bridge for $30.

Golden alleged that he paid Bridge $30 on account on the purchase price of four heifers which Bridge never delivered. Bridge asserted under oath that Golden bought the four heifers, paid $30 down and did not take the cattle. The cattle were left with Bridge and fed for two months when they died from dust pneumonia.

Bridge asked the balance due on the purchase price and the cost of feeding them with interest on his money and the jury ruled in his favor.

MINORITY HEADS SLOW ACTION ON RETIREMENT BILL

Sen. Rush Holt Joins Group Against Plan for Court Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Objections by Minority Leader Charles McNary, R., Ore., and Sen. William H. King, D., Utah, today delayed senate action on the bill providing full pay retirement for supreme court justices at the age of 70.

Delay in consideration of the retirement measure came after Sen. Rush Holt, D., W. Va., announced he was joining the senate group opposing President Roosevelt's judicial reorganization. Holt's announcement brought the opponents' group total to 35.

The retirement bill, considered by some congressional leaders as a possible basis for compromise on the President's reorganization plan, was on the calendar and called by the clerk during the calendar hour.

McNary and King argued that it be laid over. Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., handling the bill, later tried to return to consideration of the measure but his move was halted by objections. The Nevada senator did not press his motion.

He was expected to try to bring the measure up later this week in an effort to get speedy action on the bill.

In view of the number of senators who have stated opposition to the program, senate leaders declared that unlimited senate debate on the plan was certain. To restrict senate debate by cloture rules a two-thirds vote is necessary.

EXTRA KILLED ON PICTURE SETTING

Paper Bomb Explodes on Hollywood Set During Mimic Warfare

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 24 (UP)—Sudden death in a motion picture mimic warfare scene on the Universal lot struck down George Daley instantly and endangered a number of other extras when a paper bomb exploded early today.

The 40-year-old extra, an expert powder handler and a veteran machine gunner of the World War was killed outright when the bomb exploded blowing pieces of a tin cement wall into a machine gun nest in which Daley was working, the gun for the cameras.

His companion, Frank Hutter, escaped injury as did a number of other extras who were in the sham warfare trenches.

The group was at work on a battle scene in the picture "The Road Back." The accident occurred at the height of the realistic battle sequence. Machine guns were rattling, cannon were adding their greater noise and shells were bursting, when the bomb let go, shattering the cement wall and drilling fragments of it into Daley's chest.

Filming of the picture was stopped immediately after the fatality. Among the prominent names appearing in "The Road Back" are Richard Cromwell, Andy Devine, Slim Sumner, Barbara Read and Louise Fazenda.

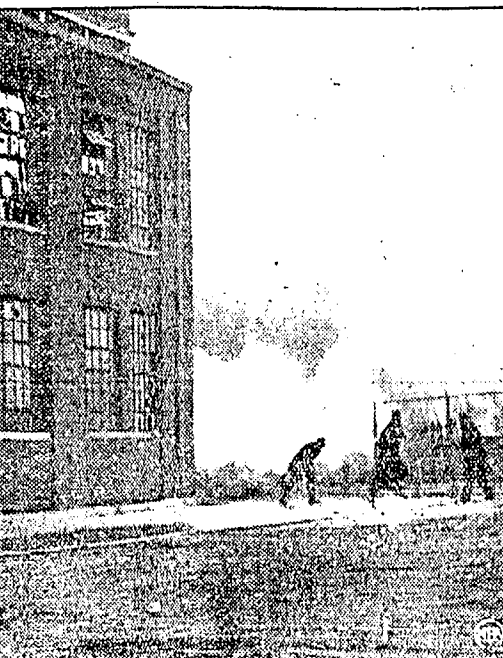

Martial Law Set For Addis Ababa

ROME, Feb. 24 (UP)—Martial law has been declared in Addis Ababa and surrounding territory. It was learned today.

Hundreds of Ethiopians have been executed for last week's bombing of an Italian official party in which Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, viceroy, was among those wounded.

A curfew was imposed, compelling the inhabitants to be within their huts by 7 p. m.

Strikers Repulse Gas Attack

Men powered battering rams that crashed through doors, above, and $500 worth of tear gas bombs hurled through broken windows, lower, failed to drive 100 sitdown strikers out of the North Chicago Fansteel Metallurgical plant. These action photographs, taken at the height of the battle, show the officers battering down the plant door and picture the clouds of tear gas that blazed out of the windows and formed a haze around the building. Strikers fought back with showers of tools, machine parts and bottles of acid, repulsing the deputies. Mediation conferences followed.

Townsend Convicted on U. S. Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, elderly retired physician who rode to fame on his $200-a-month old age pension program, was convicted by a federal court jury today on charges of contempt of the house of representatives.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Justice Peyton Gordon today directed a verdict of acquittal on one of two counts of an indictment charging Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension leader with contempt of the house of representatives.

Oddities

CONSIDER ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 24 (UP)—Cracksmen who were frightened away from a theater safe here just before they were ready to set off a charge of nitroglycerin left the management with a delicate problem. William Duinsky, owner doesn't want to open the door and the police department said the problem was out of their province. A safe expert will consider the job today.

POSTPONED KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Feb. 24 (UP)—For 70 miles around swollen streams-four farmers drove to respond to the call for jury duty here and arrived on time—only to find that the trial had been postponed until March 17.

GUEST CLEVELAND, Feb. 24 (UP)—Milton Churchin was reluctant to report he had been robbed as he walked home with his week's wages. He had identified one of his youthful assassins as a guest at the celebration of his 25th wedding anniversary a week before.

WIDOW PAINESVILLE, O., Feb. 24 (UP)—Bride and widow within 24 hours. Gretchen Brown Walton, 22, today mourned the death of her husband, John C. Walton, 21-year-old Notre Dame university senior. The two were married at a hospital as Walton lay dying of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

One question before the court now," the judge said, "is whether Townsend defrauded fully in obeying the subpoena." Rep. John H. Tolan, D., Calif., member of the investigating committee and a Townsend supporter, was the first defense witness.

He testified that he had conferred with Townsend regarding the inquiry before it began, and that the physician had assured him he would be available to testify at any time. He said Townsend answered the subpoena on May 5, 1936 and, after the hearing was postponed, appeared before the committee on May 10, 20 and 21. It was on May 21 that Townsend walked out of the hearing room.

SENATE SUSTAINS CLARK'S VETO OF NEW LIQUOR BILL

Defeat of Motion to Override Considered Small Victory For Governor

FAILS BY THREE VOTES

Democratic Floor Leader and President Pro Tem Desert State Chief

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 24 (UP)—Idaho's senate today sustained Governor Barzilla Clark's veto of a measure to transfer responsibility for enforcement of the state's liquor control act to the department of law enforcement.

Involved was the fundamental question of liberalizing liquor enforcement—favored by Clark—and tightening the restrictions, combined with the issue of loyalty to the governor in his first major test of senate strength.

Defeat of the motion to override however was considered a small victory for Clark. He was deserted by his nominal leaders in the upper house—president pro tem J. B. Newport, Canyon, and democratic floor leader J. H. Neil, Benewah. Failure of two-thirds majority on the motion was by only three votes.

Twenty-six senators voted to follow leadership of George Donart, Washington Democrat to reverse the governor. Only 17 cast their votes to successfully sustain him.

Technical Objections When the bill was originally considered, before being sent to the governor its passage was by 39 to 5 vote in the senate and it was unanimously approved in the lower house.

Although objections in the governor's veto message were technical faults listed by Attorney-General J. W. Taylor, Donart charged he will never convince the people of Idaho otherwise than that he does not believe.

School Board Sends Bid to U. of Washington Man To Make Survey

Dr. Thomas Cole, director of education at the University of Washington, today was notified he had been selected to work out a school building program in support of present congestion in city schools of Twin Falls, and to submit the result of his survey to the school board.

Dr. Cole, former superintendent of city schools at Seattle and at the present time consultant on educational programs in the Washington department of state at Olympia, offered his service, for $200 and expenses to and from the university and while in Twin Falls. He was selected last evening at a special meeting of the board of school trustees.

At the meeting Supt. W. B. Smith presided in the absence of George Ward, chairman of the board.

A motion to accept Dr. Cole's offer was made by S. H. Graves, member of the committee to select such an expert, and was voted unanimously by members present. Other members of the special committee were Mrs. Ralph B. Smith, chairman, and Supt. Smith.

Also suggested for the survey was Dr. John H. Almack, Stanford university faculty member, who is a traveling expert and $35.00 a day while in Twin Falls. Dr. Almack, who said he would be available at once, was suggested by Mrs. Smith. He estimated he could complete the survey within a week.

It is expected that Dr. Cole will be available to start the survey March 18.

PERKINS WORKS ON LABOR LAWS

Cabinet Secretary Hopes to Get New Wage, Hour Legislation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today worked to complete a draft of tentative new wage and hour legislation designed to replace labor features of NRA in an omnibus bill.

It was strongly indicated that the suggested law would be that selected by President Roosevelt upon which to base his fight for maximum hour and minimum wage statutes. The President has definitely committed his second administration to such a program.

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to send a message on labor legislation to congress soon. Speaker William B. Bankhead, D., Ala., said after a conference with the President that such a message was forthcoming.

The awaited announcement of a final bill will complete the major features of the statutory program asked by labor before the last election.

New Bill Differs Miss Perkins, who has conferred with the chief executive, Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and labor leaders, said her draft of a proposed law would be submitted to Mr. Roosevelt for approval. She intimated this action might be expected shortly.

The new bill will differ from NRA in that it deals only with labor problems and makes no attempt to regulate or control industry.

Organized labor factions have opposed any attempts to revise such a dual function and Mr. Roosevelt has indicated he will not seek its restoration.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was learned, has indicated he will submit the new measure to leaders of the American Federation of Labor and committee for industrial organization for discussion before it is sent to congress.

Measure Outlined The President said at a press conference that his labor law program was still in the "study stage."

As outlined by persons who have followed the President at the press conference, it includes:

PIEKING RAGES IN SPAIN

Loyalists Attempt Dislodging Rebels From Hill Over Valencia Road

MADRID, Feb. 24 (UP)—Loyalists fought their way up the slopes of Mt. Pinatubo south of Madrid today in one of the fiercest fights of the civil war. Success meant dislodging the nationalists from the dominant peak along the vital Valencia road.

Loyalists met heavily under an artillery barrage and raking machine gun fire. The nationalists' machine guns about the hill during the battle in an effort to prevent the advance of reinforcements to the 35,000 gaps in the loyalist front lines.

But reports in general staff headquarters here that advanced units had reached almost to the summit and were trying to dislodge nationalist machine gunners in a fortified house on the peak.

It was the third day of a series of ferocious loyalist counter-attacks in the Madrid area, comprising a general offensive that had stopped for the present at least the nationalist bid for actual possession of the Valencia road. Madrid's last great arterial highway to the coast.

Fighting continued through the night. Staff reports said nationalist and loyalist units put all the men they had into the battle. Loyalists admitted the fate of Madrid itself might hinge on the result.

The program will center in historic Furnace creek. Featured will be an old-time parade of residents bedecked in miner's regalia, with 20-mile teams and other colorful paraphernalia of the period.

Pie Sit-Downers Get Pastry Diet

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24 (UP)—Eleven sit-down strikers in Willie Pelety's pie factory were a little uncomfortable about the bell times today after a 24-hour diet of straight pastry.

It was pies, pies everywhere and not a hot sandwich in sight. A wandering hot table peddler barely escaped with his life as the eleven, glutted with glovers of vanilla, apple, mince, cherry, lemon and other pie fillings, wondered if their general boss was not getting more satisfaction out of their strike than anybody else.

Willie Pelety, the boss, certainly made it as pleasant as possible for his sit-down bakers, at least as it could be on a pie diet. He even went so far as to provide them with bicarbonate of soda. The bakers didn't know whether that was meant as a helpful suggestion or just plain human kindness.

Mr. Pelety is expected to send a message on labor legislation to congress soon. Speaker William B. Bankhead, D., Ala., said after a conference with the President that such a message was forthcoming.

SHOE MEN CALL WORKER STRIKE

9,000 in Massachusetts and New Hampshire Ask 15 Per Cent Raise

BOSTON, Feb. 24 (UP)—Approximately 9,000 Massachusetts and New Hampshire shoe workers struck today for an immediate 15 per cent wage increase.

Called by the United Shoe and Leather Workers' union, the strike provided the first New England test of strength of an affiliate of John L. Lewis' C. I. O.

Swift settlement was predicted. Already 17 manufacturers employing 8,000 of the union's 17,000 members have acceded to demands and negotiations were scheduled with other employers. Workers were at their benches as usual at three Boston—two Lowell, four Marlboro and nine Lynn factories.

Picketing began at approximately 85 other factories. Issue at stake was the union's demand for an immediate 15 per cent wage increase. Manufacturers countered with an offer of an immediate ten per cent increase and an additional 5 per cent in July, but this was rejected yesterday in a "rank-and-file" referendum of union members in Boston, Lynn, Newburyport, Salem, Beverly, Lowell, Hudson, Marlboro, Chelsea, Kenne, N. H., Manchester, N. H., and Derry. N. H. Division of the vote was not disclosed, but it was learned that the margin was close.

The situation in the chief shoe centers:

Boston—Three manufacturers grant increase. Lowell—Federal and Lowell Shoe company signed agreements with their 750 workers.

Lynn—Nine members of Eastern Shoe Manufacturers' association, employing 2,000, scheduled to sign agreement today.

Marlboro—National Shoe corporation, Orsten Shoe company, Colonial Shoe company and Salkis Shoe company, employing a total of 1,000, grant increase. Union negotiating with Curtis Shoe company.

Hudson—Union negotiating with Colbin-Holmes Shoe company.

Havevald temporary wage increases, ranging from 857 per cent to 14.2-7 per cent were announced by the state arbitration board. The increases affect 5,000 members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union of the American Federation of Labor—a rival of the Independent Union Shoe and Leather Workers' union.

Suit Withdrawn

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (UP)—The $500,000 breach of promise suit brought by Peggy Garcia, blond nightclub girl, against David Robinson, violinist, was withdrawn today by the plaintiff.

Robinson, who had been in a hospital with a possible skull fracture, allegedly inflicted by his stepson with a shovel handle—after Keen allegedly fired a shotgun full of birdshot into his stepson.

The story: Keen, disatisfied with the meal, allegedly threatened his wife. He, two stepsons leaped upon Keen and pummeled him, and then fled from the house. Officers said Keen then went upstairs, and the youths returned to the house. Keen came out by a rear entrance, took a shotgun, and fired it through a window perforating one of the boys, police reported. As he came into the house again, he was crowned by the shovel handle.

SIT-DOWNS HOLD MANY FACTORIES

Workers at Plants Erecting Government Boats Are Latest Strikers

(Copyright, 1937, United Press) A wave of strikes—mostly "sit-down" strikes—swept over the country today. The Douglas Aircraft corporation in California, the Electric Boat company in Connecticut—both working on government contracts—the giant Timken Detroit axle company, supplying vital parts to the automobile industry, and a pie baker in Los Angeles were among the industries hit.

Most of the strikes were sponsored by unions affiliated with the committee for industrial organization, whose United Automobile Workers conducted the 44 day strike against General Motors corporation. The wave began Monday, grew stronger Tuesday, and last night was culminated when 300 to 500 workers sat down in the Timken Detroit plant.

Called by C. I. O. Both these strikes were called by C. I. O. unions and, in both cases, employers and union leaders disputed the number of workers the union represented. The unions claimed a majority; the companies, said the strikers were backed by small minorities.

In Detroit, members of the United Automobile Workers, occupied the plants of the Timken-Detroit Axle company, which supplies axles to Ford, General Motors and Chrysler; and the Woodall manufacturing company and the Arvey corporation, both makers of automobile parts. The two latter plants were closed down. The Timken strike broke out when the night shift reported. The company said the plant would continue to operate.

The United Automobile Workers settled brief sit-down strikes in the plants of the H. and H. Tube company, the Yale and Towne Lock Co., automobile division, and the Detroit Radio and Television company when the companies agreed to wage increases and varying forms of union recognition. Two sit-down strikers in plants of the Briggs Manufacturing company, one of the largest builders of automobile bodies, ended quickly. The company said it ordered the men to return to work or leave the plants and that they obeyed. A fire in one of the Briggs plants last night, which caused damage estimated at $50,000, was caused by spontaneous combustion of upholstery material and was not connected with labor troubles.

Shoe Workers Strike
 Nine thousand shoe workers were on strike in Massachusetts and New Hampshire factories. Negotiations were proceeding and a quiet settlement of the strikers demands was anticipated.

A strike in the L. A. Young Spring and Wire company ended with wage increases. The strike in the Fry Products company, where the plant owner sat down with his sit-down employees, ended yesterday but the terms were not announced.

Both these strikes also were sponsored by the United Automobile Workers who signed agreements with the Clayton and Lambert Co. die-makers and the Pope Swift foundry without striking. Both gave wage increases and recognized the union in part. The latter company was said to have agreed to an annual audit of its books by the union to determine if its wage scale was compatible with its earnings.

Horners Falls
 In Springfield, Ill., Gov. Henry Horner failed after 12 hours of negotiations to bring representatives of strikers in the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation of Waukegan, and company officials together.

A half dozen sit-down strikes in small rubber plants in Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin, were being conducted by rubber workers.

Two strikes in heretofore unaffected industries were threatened.

In Boston, the executive council of the United Shoe and Leather Workers voted to call out 17,000 workers in Massachusetts and New Hampshire factories unless wage increases are granted.

In Chicago, the 16 non-operative railway brotherhoods decided to demand a wage increase on a tacit strike threat.

In Decatur, Ill., officials of the Century Wall paper mills demanded that police enforce a court order for the eviction of 30 workers who had barricaded themselves in windows and doors. The men went on strike Monday night. The company obtained the order yesterday, but so far no effort has been made to enforce it. The workers demanded pay increases and union recognition.

Fresmen Strike
 At Springfield, O., approximately 50 union pressmen of the Crowell Publishing company, went on a sit-down strike for higher pay, a 40-hour week, and union recognition. All the company's magazines—Colliers, the American magazine, the Woman's Home Companion and Country Home—are printed in the plant.

Among the more doughy battlers on the strike front, was William Plegity, proprietor of the Brownie pie shop in Los Angeles. His 11 pie makers sat down on strike. He told them he didn't want them to be hungry, so they could eat as many pies as they wished. They ate 48 pies. To make sure of ample police protection, he gave free pies to the patrolmen on the beat.

"I got the cops working in relays," he said.

Defeat of Motion to Override Considered Small Victory For Governor

 lieve in the enforcement of liquor laws."

Opening debate on the question, which took the senate's entire morning session, Donart first attacked correctness of the attorney-general's findings, quoting opinion of Senate Attorney J. F. Martin to the contrary. "Record of Taylor's office in the supreme court," Donart said, "has been about one divided victory in five or six starts."

Republican Floor Leader-Whitten, Boise county, who voted against the measure originally, arose to its defense explaining that his negative vote was on the assumption a more thorough bill to tighten liquor control would be forthcoming.

Act Not Enforced
 "The whole question settles down to one thing—whether the state be wet or dry," the Republican leader summed up. "That the liquor act has not been enforced is a matter of common knowledge."

"In voting to override this veto, I have no thought to discredit the governor," declared Burtenshaw, Adams. "I am voting to uphold the dignity of this state—the expressed will of the people."

Among supporters of the governor's action, Derr, Bondar, Gillette, Republican, and Snook, Idaho, argued that a more complete and workable bill should be worked up in the session's remaining eight days.

"If people demand a particular kind of law enforcement they will get it regardless of the type of control measures in force," said Derr.

High point of the debate was reached when Neil declared he would vote to override despite his duty to the governor as senate majority floor leader. A slight momentum caused by his words, however, failed to carry the issue.

Bill Allowing Idaho Purchase Of Toll Spans Will See Vote Thursday

Action is expected in the Idaho senate Thursday on two bills affecting the Twin Falls area, Chamber of Commerce headquarters announced today.

Rep. Dan J. Cavanagh's measure levying an added gas tax to allow Idaho to purchase toll bridges—of which the Twin Falls-Jerome inter-county span is the only one in the state—will probably be reported to the senate on that day, the chamber and Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston were advised.

The bill has already passed the house, but vigorous opposition looms in the senate. A Twin Falls delegation is now in Boise attempting to secure committee approval and to line up support by Sen. H. A. DeNeal.

Final vote is also expected Thursday on the proposal to allow municipalities to purchase airport sites. The plan has already been given house approval.

The school fund will receive $228.73 and the two highway units $334.37 each, according to the county auditor's office.

For the first time since the school was established, approximately 50 girls from the states of Oregon and Washington will attend the second term of the federal starting March 15. W. W. Godfrey, state director of the National Youth administration, said here.

Mr. Godfrey passed through Twin Falls yesterday afternoon en route from southern Idaho to Boise. He conferred locally with NYA officials.

DAMAGE ACTION FOLLOWS CRASH

Man and Wife File Suit for $7,825 as Result of Car Accident

Asking $5,325 actual damages and an additional $2,500 punitive damages, R. D. Stevenson and Lucile Stevenson, his wife, had filed suit in district court today against the National Laundry company as aftermath of a highway collision at 8 p. m., Jan. 30.

The pair charged that Mrs. Stevenson sustained physical injuries and permanent shock to her nervous system when a panel delivery truck owned by the laundry assertedly rammed into their car on U. S. 93 two miles north of the rim bridge. Robert Green, the driver of the truck, was claimed to be driving on the left side of the road at high speed. The machines were traveling in opposite directions.

The $5,325 actual damages was divided into $5,000 for Mrs. Stevenson's injuries, $75 for doctor expenses, and $250 for car damage.

MAYOR LOSES IN INDIANA BATTLE

Huntington Head, Conducting City Business From Jail, Drops Court Decision

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 24 (AP)—Clare W. H. Bangs, militant mayor of Huntington, Ind., today was the loser of another round in his battle against privately owned utilities.

The Indiana supreme court upheld a lower court's contempt ruling against the 46-year-old mayor who since last July 8 has conducted the city business from a jail cell. He was arrested for violating an injunction granted the Northern Indiana Power company against extension of Huntington's "toy" municipal electric plant.

Bangs has fought a losing battle against the utility since he took office Jan. 1, 1935. He won election on the pledge of establishing a municipal plant, but within a few weeks found himself faced with an injunction. He went ahead, however, and sold current utility he had about 600 customers, all the tiny plant would serve.

He was cited for contempt and assessed $2,000 damages. He spent 101 days in jail (that time before filling bond and appealing to the higher court. Released from jail, he improved his plant, obtained more customers and again was cited. He has been in jail ever since.

CLARK'S POWER WILL MEET TEST

Governor's Veto of Liquor Bill May Be Overridden In Idaho Senate

BOISE, Feb. 24 (AP)—First test of strength of Governor Barzilla W. Clark's legislative control was to be made in Idaho's senate today.

Motion to override the governor's veto of a senate bill to place authority for enforcement of Idaho's liquor control act in the state department of law enforcement was made in the upper house late yesterday but debate on the question was forestalled by an administration motion to adjourn.

Donart, Washington, sponsor of the bill, said he would renew efforts to enact his proposal into law over objections of the chief executive today. Two-thirds majority is necessary to override a veto.

The governor's veto message was read late in the day, apparently with intent to prevent consideration of an attempt to override his action on the same day.

Upon completion of the message, Donart immediately moved that senate bill 54 become law of Idaho, the governor's veto notwithstanding. Snook, Idaho, jumped up with a motion to adjourn—taking precedence over any other motion, under rules of parliamentary law. The motion lost.

Snook then moved that Donart's motion be tabled, but was ruled out of order by Lieutenant-Governor Charles Gessett.

Amid parliamentary maneuvering to gain more time, Just, Blighman, interjected request that the senators act carefully and take time to learn about the governor's objections. He was immediately followed by a second motion to adjourn made by Rich, Bear Lake.

Attempt of Deuman, Bonneville, to compromise the situation by introducing a substitute motion to adjourn at 6:30 (about an hour later) failed, but a return to Rich's motion resulted in adjournment coming by the close margin of 23 to 21 in a standing vote.

No Specific Objection

Governor Clark made no specific objection to principle of the bill, but noted technical objections cited by Attorney-General J. W. Taylor. Points listed were that the act contained no appropriation from which expense of administration could be paid. The law in effect requires that all expenditures be made before any transfer is made into a special law enforcement fund from monies in the liquor control act.

Repeatedly, the amendments, mentioned in the alternative, vest in the attorney for the liquor commission power to exercise the functions properly belonging to the commission, independent of the prosecuting attorney, the governor said.

The liquor control act does not create the office of attorney for the commission, but merely authorizes the employment of counsel, and the proposed amendment does not create such office.

A provision of the original act making failure to enforce the law

School for Girls To Attract Many

Applications for Enrollment At Weiser Being Taken

Several applications for enrollment to the federal resident school for girls, located at Weiser, have been received locally and many more are expected to enroll in the very near future, Harold A. Salisbury, National Youth administration area supervisor, said today.

The second term of the school will start March 15, and all eligible and interested are urged to contact the local NYA office immediately, so that arrangements can be made for transportation to the school, furnished the girl free of charge.

To be eligible for enrollment, girls must be between the ages of 19 and 25, both inclusive, and must come from families receiving some form of governmental aid.

Spring Weather Serves to Make Mud Prevalent

With spring weather not officially due in this section until March 21, spring-like weather continued in Twin Falls today and the mercury stayed at 20 above for the low reading this morning, official reports of the bureau of entomology show.

Low temperature yesterday morning in Twin Falls was 24 above while high during the day was 43 above. Practically all snow had disappeared from the ground, leaving soft mud instead, and on many suburban and city-edge streets motorists found driving difficult as cars threatened to become mired in soft roads.

A forecast, issued today, foretells of probable rain or snow for tonight and Thursday for the section.

MOOSE LODGE MEETS

Twin Falls Moose lodge met last evening at I. O. O. F. hall with a large delegation present from Jerome. It was announced by officers of the Moose legion, second degree, that its next monthly meeting will be held March 28 in Twin Falls.

ground for removal of peace officers, is repealed, in express contravention of the purpose of the amendment announced in the title.

The upper house condemned as placing too much additional burden on employers and as too difficult to administer a bill to place industrial diseases under provisions of the state workmen's compensation law. Vote was 12 to 30.

A bill to permit reciprocity between Idaho and other states in regulations as to license requirements for out-of-state trucks was approved. Chief reason for the measure was to permit farmers to ship produce into another state without being required to buy two licenses for their trucks, it was explained.

Sent to committee of the whole for modification was a bill to license and regulate civil engineers. Objections were rigid requirements of four years college and eight years practical experience to practice the profession in Idaho.

TAYLOR ELECTED LOAN PRESIDENT

Federal Savings Stockholders Keep Offices, Staff Intact for 1937

Three members of the nine-man directorate whose terms expired this year, as well as members of the official staff of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Twin Falls, were re-elected to serve during 1937 at the annual stockholders meeting held yesterday afternoon at local offices.

Re-elected as president of the association was Stuart H. Taylor, with Alvin Casey as vice president, Reese M. Williams as treasurer, E. A. Landon, secretary; H. R. Grant, manager; Walters, Parry and Thomas, counsel.

Directors re-elected include Mr. Taylor and E. A. Moon, of Twin Falls, and Harry W. Barry of Burd. The association, successor to the Mutual Building and Loan association, has nearly 1,600 stockholders and during the past year loaned $370,000 to 265 home owners in and around Twin Falls.

At yesterday's meeting the audit report, completed by Edwin A. Wilson, public accountant, pronounced the company's affairs in "good condition." An increase of approximately $200,000 in assets was noted during 1936.

Mr. Grant, manager, reported operations during 1936 and told of the payment of 5 per cent dividends. He also said the association had disposed of all property on hand except one Shoshone street building. This, at the present time is rented, he pointed out.

Walter D. Wiley, Jailed on Vagrancy Charges, Will Probably Be Freed

Because photographs and other data on Walter D. Wiley do not jibe with evidence concerning the kidnap-slayer of Charles Mattson, 10, the 42-year-old Tacoma transient will probably be freed here as soon as he completes his county jail term of 15 days of vagrancy, it was indicated this afternoon by Sheriff E. P. Prater.

The checkup on Wiley was made here yesterday by a federal operative. Wiley was arrested by Twin Falls police after it had been claimed he sought funds from a Sunday school group in order to hitch-hike to New York. Investigation of possible connection with the Mattson case came when Wiley admitted living within a mile of the Mattson and Weyerhaeuser homes.

CAPITAL'S SITTING DOWN

A quiet but effective little sitdown strike seems to be on these days, with the United States navy department on the receiving end and some of the country's richest aggregations of capital doing the sitting. Because of the sitdown, the navy is unable to go ahead with construction of six new destroyers and three submarines, called for in the current building program. It can't build them because it can't get the steel; and it can't get the steel because the steel men are sitting down. It all goes back to the recently passed Walsh-Healey law, which requires holders of government contracts to conform to specified wage and hour standards. The nine warships involved are to be built in government navy yards. On Dec. 4, last, the navy advertised for bids for 6,000,000 pounds of steel for the submarines; a fortnight later, it called for bids for 19,000,000 pounds of steel for the destroyers.

Now, under the Walsh-Healey law, a steel company that would submit a bid for this business must produce the steel under the above-mentioned wage and hour standards—among which, for example, is the 40-hour week. And it looks very much as if the steel companies of the nation would rather go without the business than meet the Walsh-Healey act's requirements. For to date the navy has received bids for only 7,000,000 pounds of steel. It thus is impossible to allot sufficient material to any navy yard to begin construction, and the building has been indefinitely postponed.

Offhand, one would think that this government business would be worth getting. Orders for 18,000,000 pounds of steel don't grow on every bush. And, in a further offhand comment, one would imagine that the needs of the country's defense program might be expected to have a little weight. But the Walsh-Healey bill does not please the steel masters. So we get the odd spectacle of orders for 9,000 tons of steel going begging—of the navy being unable to buy the steel it needs in the greatest steel-producing country on earth.

It is evident that the supreme court is not the only body that passes on the validity of our laws. Just as a group of auto workers recently decided that the Michigan laws against trespass were inoperative, so now a group of steel masters has suspended an act of congress. It might be something that congress would be interested in looking into. As a matter of fact, Chairman Walsh of the senate naval affairs committee recently remarked that congress would be forced to "remove or modify" the Walsh-Healey law unless some agreement enabling the navy to get the steel it needs is reached. He pointed out that the steel industry has been operating under a 44-hour week and claims to be unable to adjust its operations to a 40-hour week at this time.

EXTORTION DOESN'T PAY Since the beginning of the year, G-Men have been kept busy by an unprecedented wave of extortion cases. And, judging from the results of their drive on this type of crime, it would seem that extortioners are about the most stupid people alive. For in almost every case the culprit has been tracked down, nabbed, and haled before federal court for punishment; and yet this record apparently has not dissuaded others from taking this path to "easy money."

It is, in fact, the extortioner's own gullibility that leads to his downfall. He should know that intended victims are not going to part with a wad of money merely because of a written threat and that, consequently, any arrangement made by the extortioner to hand over the requested sum almost invariably means an ambush by law officers.

TIP FOR BLUECOATS The police department of Dubuque, Ia., is in somewhat of a mess. A 57-year-old man recently was found lying in a stupefied condition, in a doorway. Policemen took him to the station, booked him on a charge of intoxication, and bundled him into a cell. Some hours later, the man's son appeared at the station after a frantic search, and took home his dad. Investigation revealed that the man had not been intoxicated, but had suffered a stroke. He died shortly afterward. Now it appears the whole affair may result in a shakeup of the police department. If only to avoid getting into a fix such as the Dubuque force is in, police of other localities might well learn a few fundamentals of first aid, or be able to call a doctor to determine when a man is drunk and when he is ill.

OLD-FASHIONED FOLKS MAY DISPUTE THIS GENT! Pot Shots: The only trouble with your contest for this week is a pretty fundamental one. You ask whether we prefer the modern or the old-fashioned man. How in hades can anyone prefer one over the other when there is absolutely no difference? The modern man wears somewhat different clothes, wears athletic shorts instead of "joggles," and mostly doesn't use handkerchiefs, but that's merely outward. Men are the same as they always were, and the modern man has everything the old-fashioned guy did. Also vice versa. So get along and pick another contest topic. —Sam o' the Sage

SORRY, ROE HUST, but you're in the wrong contest. That one ended last week, but take a crack at this week's topic—anent the modern or old-fashioned man. THE EYETIMES SUPREME court poll editor got highly indignant about our squib yesterday to the effect that he was all covered up except one ear in that flood of straw ballots. Detective Officer KETTERING was run into a maze of conflicting clues. He finds that Rocksavage sought a merger with Blane to save their companies; that LADY ROSAMUND is heavily interested in Rocksavage stocks; that COUNT POSODINI is an impostor and ex-consolidator with an old grand-nigral Blane; that MRS. JOCELYN, Lady Weller's daughter, is a secret on Posodini; that MISS KIKE HAYASHI, Japanese agent, sought to peddle a huge soap monopoly; either to Rocksavage or Blane; that the BISHOP OF BLUE was involved in an unenviable scandal during the World War. Only NICHOLAS STODART, Blane's secretary, appears above suspicion since he was in the ship's lounge all during the period in which Blane obviously was missed. As the investigation progresses, Kettering finds both JOCELYN and his wife falsifying as to their whereabouts at the time of Blane's murder. Jocelyn is apprehended when cornered under examination. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVI SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S THIRD EXAMINATION OF THE HONORABLE REGINALD JOCELYN, CONTINUED. K: Now, it was at your invitation that Count Posodini joined this party, wasn't it? J: Yes. K: Did you mind telling me when it was that you tumbled to it that the Count was a crook? J: What the hell d'you mean? K: Just what I say. Count Posodini is known to the police and his intimates as "Slick" Daniels, card sharp and con man, who trades the Atlantic ships. Would you like me to tell you just the sum that "Slick" took off you on the Normandie before you tumbled to it that he was a crook? J: I see. Posodini is a crook and you found him out, then jumped to it that he murdered Blane so, to protect himself, he's faked up some crook and bull story involving me, has he? Well, Officer, that won't wash, and you needn't think it will. I had not the least reason in the world to wish any ill to Blane and very fortunately for me, as it happens, my wife can prove that I was lying in my bath at 7:45, when we all know that Blane was still alive from the fact that he scribbled something on the back of the note that was sent down to him at that time. K: How d'you know that? J: Mr. Rocksavage told me and, if you don't mind not interrupting, as I was about to add, my wife having been with me in our suite from 7:45 until we arrived in the lounge at 8:30 together, that proves quite conclusively that I had no hand in Blane's death. K: Does it, Mr. Jocelyn? I wonder, I am quite satisfied that "Slick" didn't do this job. Murder is absolutely outside his line of country, whatever he may have led you to suppose when you had your little talk about Blane on the Normandie. J: I suppose that's another portion of Posodini's croak and bull story. K: Mr. Jocelyn, it happens to have been my job to spend a good portion of my life examining the criminal classes and so officers like myself get a sort of feeling as to when they're telling the truth and when they're not. It's my belief that "Slick" has come clean with me and, in any case, I'm pretty satisfied about his movements during the time under review, so I think you'd better count him out. Now, if we accept his story, it seems that you invited him on board, knowing him to be no better than he should be, and knowing too that he had a definite grudge against Bolitho Blane. He took advantage of your invitation because it gave him the opportunity to mix with a swell crowd where he might have picked up a lot of loose money, but if we're to believe his statement you had far more cause to wish Blane out of the way than he had. You're in a pretty bad spot, Mr. Jocelyn, and I think the time has come when you'd better stop lying and tell the truth. J: You—you're not really suggesting that I murdered Blane, are you? K: I am. J: But—but, this is fantastic. Besides I've already told you that my wife can prove that she found me in my bath at 7:45, and that we were never out of each other's sight from that time on, until we went up to dinner at 8:30. K: I have just advised you to stop lying, Mr. Jocelyn. Your wife did not find you in your bath at 7:45, because she was somewhere else at that time, and for the best part of half an hour afterwards. During that time I don't know where you were, but it may quite well have been in Blane's cabin. In fact it's going to look like that unless you can provide some other explanation as to how you were spending your time. J: I was in my bath, I tell you. All I know is that when my wife came into the cabin, I asked her the time and she said that it was 7:45. She may have been wrong. It may have been much later. How do I know. K: If it was much later, that doesn't improve your situation, because you definitely wanted Blane out of the way and, unless you can bring evidence to show what you were doing between 7:45 and 8:15, I must assume that, since you've lied to me on other matters, you're lying now, and that you were in Blane's cabin. J: Now look here, Officer, whether my wife was right or wrong about the time I don't know, but one thing that stands out a mile is that there is a man on board this yacht who had far more reason to wish Blane out of the way than ever I had. K: Who? J: Why, Rocksavage, of course. Two days ago he was bankrupt. Now that Blane's shares have gone to pot, as anybody knew they would the moment he was dead, Rocksavage has been buying every share in the Blane companies as they come on the market. He was picking up Argus Suda at 174 yesterday, and Redmeier Syndicates at 32. He's standing in to make a fortune over this thing, because once Blane's death had been announced he was able to get all the financial backing he needed without the least trouble, whereas nobody would loan him a bob for the last 15 months. He has the whole of the world's soap interest in his pocket today. Don't you realize that? And the thing he's got to thank for it is Blane's death. K: Yes, I see that, but there's one point you seem to have forgotten, or perhaps you didn't know it, because you wouldn't have the same opportunity as I've had to check up on these time sheets. Rocksavage did not leave the lounge to go below and change until 8:10 and even then he wasn't back in the lounge until 8:35, five minutes late for dinner. A man could hardly have changed in that time if he had murdered another man and had to dispose of the body and wash a blood stain out of the carpet, too. J: Couldn't he? That's all you know. Rocksavage could. Believe me. K: Why? J: Only the night before we reached Miami he was prepared to let anybody that he could change for dinner in under four minutes. The Count, or "Slick" as you call him, took him on. A hundred dollars even money and Rocksavage won the bet. He was back in the lounge changed again under four minutes after he left us. If he could do it then, he could do it again the following night, when somebody put "paid" to Blane's account. If Rocksavage changed in four minutes that night he would still have had 20 minutes free to do Blane in. K: Thank you, Mr. Jocelyn. I find that very interesting. That will be all for the moment. The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBURN 1000 people who came to him for examination of the eyes complained of headaches. Usually a headache due to eye disturbances is just behind the eyes. In rare cases it is in back of the head. Infrequently it may be at the side of the head or at the top. Headaches from over-use of the eyes usually occur late in the afternoon or at the end of the day's work. Occasionally, however, these appear early in the morning because of overwork on the previous day. There are also early morning headaches due to distipation on the previous night. A person with that kind of headache always knows the cause of his trouble. Another form of headache is that caused by motion pictures. This type was more frequent in the early days of the movies than it is now. Elimination of flickering, reduction of screen size, and modern types of illumination in motion picture houses have been helpful. In the old days there were frequent, sudden changes from light to darkness. The same effect was felt when moviegoers looked from the screen into the complete darkness of the theater. These sudden contractions and dilations of the pupil of the eye brought about much fatigue and headache. In certain cases, although not so frequently as was formerly thought to be the case, headaches are associated with eyestrain and with other disturbances of the eye. Suitable examination by a specialist in diseases of the eye will show whether the patient requires glasses, and will indicate also whether there are changes in the blood vessels which enter the eye. A famous British specialist in diseases of the eye found that 240 to

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

15 YEARS AGO— Feb. 24, 1922 Resolving to cooperate in some form with the movement to assist in the furtherance of the construction of the American Falls dam, should a feasible method be found, but awaiting more definite information before taking any positive steps, the meeting of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce today voted to create the members of the various organizations invited to the gathering into a permanent committee, to invite Attorney Stoutemeyer of the reclamation service to attend and make a statement of the law in the case, and to call another meeting on any date which Mr. Stoutemeyer can attend. The value of the extra 100,000 feet of water was conceded by all. All organizations which were invited had representatives present except the board of county commissioners, none put in an appearance.

27 YEARS AGO—

Feb. 24, 1910 The Knights of Pythias gathered Saturday evening in goodly numbers to celebrate the founding of the order and to renew fraternal spirit. The first part of the evening was spent in playing cards and in social enjoyment after which the members took possession of the people's cafe where Miss Host Dufner had made regal preparations for the banquet. The three-course banquet presided over by Chancellor Commander Galliter, proved to be all too short for the members to clear the table although they struggled manfully. At the close Mr. Galliter in a few brief sentences introduced Rev. Mr. Chamberlaine, Rector of the Episcopal church, who delivered a most stirring address to the members on living up to the high principles of the order and pointing out that good lodge members are also expected to uphold all religious tenets. The balance of the evening was spent in the lodge room with music and cards.

INNOCENCE WASHINGTON—Henry Wallace, the agriculture secretary, has been insisting all along that he is just a hayseed puritan in the political world of Washington. He just cannot seem to understand politics—he says. Some doubt about it arose during the last presidential campaign, when Mr. Wallace played Little Red Riding Hood throughout the farm belt, and won every state, including Kansas. After what happened in the secret meeting of his recent committee of eighteen farm legislation framers here recently, it has become increasingly evident that Mr. Wallace's beard is getting a little heavy for the Red Riding Hood role.

EXPERIENCE It did not get out at the time, but there was one thing in Mr. Wallace's official manuscript for the farm conference that the farm representatives declined to read from his prepared script. They were ready to back him on ever-normal granary, crop insurance, soil conservation and the other well-conserved items, but they scratched their ears when they saw he wanted to continue the soil conservation and domestic allotment act until 1942. His ally, Chairman Jones of the house agriculture committee, had then gone so far as to introduce the official Wallace bill in congress, proposing extension until 1942.

The farm representatives reminded each other that there would be another presidential election in 1940 and that Mr. Wallace was being prominently mentioned as a possible candidate of the new order. Note—Incidentally, most of the agricultural congressmen are now confessing they did not really mean it when they wrote the law that the soil conservation and allotment act was to be turned over to the various states in 1938. In the words of one member of the Jones committee, they just put that in for the benefit of the supreme court. Such a disguise of the real purpose of federal control is no longer considered to be essential, but it will be perpetuated to 1940 as a matter of routine.

THE SPIANS WILL INITIATE TONIGHT

High School Dramatic Group Ends Humorous Ceremony, Plans Serious Rite

Following a humorous initiation during school hours, members of the local organization of the National Thespians will hold their serious ceremony this evening at the home of Eleanor Hollingsworth, with president Ida Lee Lamb, and the sponsor, Miss Florence M. Rees, in charge.

Miss Rees said that "the object of this organization is to foster an interest in educational dramas in secondary schools and to develop a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics."

Membership in the organization is earned in a number of ways; by a major role in a long play or two major roles in one-act plays, by minor speaking parts in three long plays, or four one-act plays, by efficient work as business manager or stage manager for two long plays, by staff work such as carpenter, electrician, costume work, etc., equivalent to minor roles, by writing a play which has been produced. These requirements may be raised by individual directors but cannot be lowered.

A year's subscription to the Thespians magazine, "The High School Thespians," is included in the life membership fee. Official insignia of the organization consists of a two faced mask and is available to members either in the form of jewelry or in felt letters.

Prospective members of the local organization must learn and present at least 12 dramatic lines from a play or poem and present them during initiation. If they do this and can fulfill the rest of the requirements, they are then passed upon for membership by those already in the organization.

NURSERY SCHOOL CARES FOR TOTS

Health, Constructive Play Featured in Training for Youngsters Here

Building of "little men and women" is the principal objective of members of the staff at the WPA nursery for underprivileged children, held each school day in two portables at the rear of Lincoln school in Twin Falls.

To enter the school, under the direction of Miss Maude Mason, head teacher, and Mrs. Iola Johnson, assistant nurse-teacher, the child must be between the ages of 2 years and four and one-half years. They must come from families whose monthly income totals $75 or less, WPA families.

Constructive Play
Here they are taught constructive methods of play, which not only give them needed exercise but also teach them to think and act for themselves. Reading sessions are held each day and a complete health record of each child, showing gains or losses by months, is kept.

The children, who number approximately 15, come to the school between 8:30 and 9 a. m., either with brothers or sisters attending Lincoln school or with fathers or mothers who are en route to work. Most of the mothers of the children have to work out, and their youngsters are left at the school all day, leaving at 3 p. m.

A full day of activities is arranged for each session, a sample schedule of which follows:

The Day's Work

8:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. Children arrive and health inspections are held. 9:30 a. m. they are given tomato juice and cod liver oil. 9:30 to 10:45 a. m. a supervised play period with first grade games featured. 10:45 to 11:15 a. m. prepare for lunch. 11:15 to 11:45 a. m. they rest on special floor mats. 11:45 to 12:15 noon, lunch period featuring a prepared menu as used in Los Angeles city schools. 12:15 to 2:30 p. m. the children take a nap on mats and when awakened, are given a glass of milk and several Graham crackers. 3 p. m. they are dismissed.

Included in the group now entered at the school are three little colored girls, who teachers say, show excellent learning ability and often participate at the play periods with top dancing, at which they are adept.

When weather permits the children play outside on the school yard and in a specially constructed sand yard.

All food is prepared by Mrs. Minnie Adams, an expert cook and housekeeper, while janitor duties are done by Clifford Brown, who arrives early each day to have the structures warm for the youngsters when they arrive.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

I had an idea for a story. Next day I forgot it. I kicked my brains about and then concentrated. No good, no good at all. A night's sleep and a busy morning had knocked it to limbo.

Then I began a creeping process. With stealth and cunning I sneaked in the back door of memory. Where was I when I thought that thought? Ah, in the hall. I was reaching up to turn on a light. I had the little dofunny at the end of a chain in my hand. Smack-bang, out came the idea as though it had never been in hiding for stark hours while I groped.

This association of ideas before, I believe to be the only answer to memory. Try it on yourselves, you mothers who are simply sure your gall-stones or thin blood are slowly sapping your minds away. And gently convert husband, who is quite as certain that this ledgers have worn his brain to a thread so that memory has gone with the—could it be "wind"?

Applicable to Children

And, of course, I have to drag the poor children into this. But I needn't say "poor," because the earlier in life they learn to play fast and loosed with memory, the better. It is the only answer. Sneak up on it in any peculiar fashion you can, he can or they can. "Who was it who said that to me?" you are trying to recall. "Who told me that war-debts were so involved in exchanges and cancellations that nobody knew what we had coming?"

"No, it wasn't Mr. Green or Mrs. Swane or Doctor Peters. Yet, nobody else has been here. Well, I must be going crazy, but someone said that just two days ago."

It doesn't matter, but again you feel that dread of losing your mind, the more it resists yielding.

The Bald Facts

"But this shinning was neither high nor low. It was—for goodness sake, it was a bald head. Now I have it! It wasn't two days ago, but two weeks ago, that old Mr. Mason stopped in Eureka! Mr. Mason was the one!" But you still worry. Why all the struggle to get at something as simple as that? Don't worry. It is exactly what memory is.

Johnny can't remember his lessons. He is grand at reasoning, but memory is bad. Don't tell Johnny he has a bad memory, and don't let him hear you tell anybody else.

Try and work out some sort of a system to help him. He gets the Battle and the Black Seas mixed. Very well—put a ball on the Battle and a spoon of black thread on the other. He sure he'll never forget. Or he can't remember whether John Hancock or Thomas Jefferson wrote his name all over the "Declaration." "People write a hand," tell him. That fixes it.

Strange to say, when we court memory thus strangely, she loses her shyness. Faith in self does a lot. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

ALASKA VILLAGE PLANS TO BUILD

Douglas, Swept by Fires, to Re-Erect New Group Of Homes

DOUGLAS, Alaska, Feb. 24 (AP)—Residents of this little mining and fishing town huddled under temporary shelters today as they planned to rebuild their community, which was razed by flames yesterday.

Many of the 600 persons who were made homeless here were cared for by friends in Juneau, across the Gastineau channel from Douglas Island.

Nearly all buildings in the town were destroyed by a fire which was believed to have started in a hardware store and was fanned by a southeast gale. It was the second time the town had been swept by flames in ten years, and the third time since it was founded when the then famous but now flooded Treadwell gold mine was discovered.

The pioneer aircraft engines weighed nearly 21 pounds per unit of horsepower. The weight today is less than one pound. The modern alloys have solved the problem of weight in the airplane motors.

Women in Burley Form Cancer Unit

BURLEY, Feb. 24 (Special)—Plans to organize a local women's field army, sponsored by the American Society for the Control of Cancer, were started here Monday when Mrs. R. S. Stringfellow, state commander of the army from Boise, interviewed women here relative to such an organization.

The purpose is to educate people concerning the treatment and cure of cancer, and the movement is nationwide in scope, all states this month having commanders and vice-commanders contacting the various women's organizations for support.

A county captain to lead the local group and lieutenants in each organized women's club will begin the educational work. An enlistment of individual members will be held the week of March 21 to 27, with a membership fee of $1 a year, 90 per

GERMAN FIGHTER LEAVES FOR U.S.

Strenuous Efforts Attempt To Arrange Braddock Bout in Berlin

CHERBOURG, France, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—Max Schmeling, German challenger for the heavyweight title, sailed aboard the S. S. Berengaria today for the United States where he is scheduled for an exhibition tour of 22 cities.

Schmeling, who signed a contract to fight Jim Braddock for the championship June 3, is prepared to ask the New York Boxing commission to vacate Braddock's title if the Jersey Irishman refuses to live up to the contract.

Schmeling said that strenuous efforts were being made to promote a title bout between himself and Braddock in Berlin. Dennis Scanton, American steel mill operator, now is in Germany trying to arrange backing for such a match. He plans to form a corporation which would be formed in Amsterdam to sell enough tickets outside Germany to guarantee Braddock $250,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—The New York Boxing commission meets today, but action on the tangled heavyweight situation did not appear imminent.

The commission, which named Max Schmeling No. 1 challenger and sanctioned a title fight with Jim Braddock June 3, probably will not act until the champion or his manager, Joe Gould, formally turns their backs on Max when Braddock and Gould would ignore the commission unless summoned.

Commission rules give the body the right to declare the title vacant and sponsor an "elimination series" to determine the champion if the reigning title holder "be unable to qualify." If the commission takes such action Braddock will be rid of his contract to make his first title defense for Madison Square Garden.

FDR GIVEN ROD, GUN CLUB AWARD

Editors' Association Names Chief for "Outstanding Contribution"

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—The first award of the New York Gun and Rod Editors' association went to President Roosevelt today "for the most outstanding contribution to the protection and development of outdoor resources."

The award was a model of the Hudson river packet, experiment, which engaged in far east trading late in the 18th century. It was accepted by Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes at a banquet attended by 700 outdoor enthusiasts here last night.

Ickes read a message from the President officially thanking the association for its initial award.

Ickes cited two ways of helping the general cause of conservation. 1. Put a definite stop to the reckless exploitation of what remains to us of natural resources. 2. Set up conservation affirmatively as one of the great objectives of the people through their government.

NEBRASKA YOUTH DEFEATS GARCIA

Glenn Lee Steps Forward as Challenger for Ross Championship

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—Glenn Lee stepped forward as a challenger for Barney Ross' welterweight crown today after his smashing victory last night over Cefterio Garcia, ranking contender.

Lee, a Lincoln, Neb., boy touted as a second Ace Hudkins, climbed into the ring at Olympic auditorium an underdog, but defeated the clever Filipino by a comfortable margin on plain, old-fashioned aggressiveness. It was Lee's 11th professional fight.

He weathered Garcia's smashing punches the first two rounds and came back with a steady body attack that won him six of the remaining eight rounds with one even. Never backing up, Lee drove the Filipino into corners and repeatedly forced him to cover.

It was the ninth victory in little more than a year of professional boxing for Lee. His most impressive previous starts were victories over Ben Van Klaveran and Bobby Pachio.

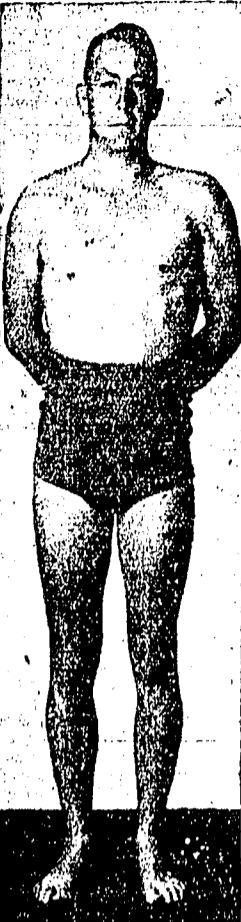

Lee weighed 148, Garcia 146.

"Hit Often" DiMag Tells DiMag

Joe DiMaggio's work with the Yankees last year established him as a major league outfielder; Brother Vince DiMaggio goes to the Boston Braves from the coast league—and a third of the San Francisco brothers is essaying to break into professional baseball. He's Dominic, whose semi-pro efforts proved he can hit and field despite his glasses. Joe's giving him some pointers as Dominic works out with the San Francisco Seals, Joe's starting place.

Manager Frisch and Pitcher Dean Lauded by Shortstop Leo Durocher

By HENRY McLEMORE DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24 (U.P.)—Patty Berg lifted a gentle pitch shot to the fourth green.

"Just like I hit a baseball when Hubbell's pitching," remarked Leo Ernest Durocher as the golf ball arched high and plopped on the carpet.

Leo Ernest, shortstop and captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, was following the play in the girls' tournament at Ormond Beach. He was followed by this observer, who wanted to talk baseball, and by three tailors who wanted to study (for stealing purposes) the cut of Mr. Durocher's new doekin ensemble. Mister Durocher is always being followed by tailors, because he is the nearest thing to page 49 in Esquire known to sport; he loves his clothes almost as much as he does his base hits, and it is rumored here even gets his baseball suits from Saville row.

Little Incident Speaking of Durocher's clothes reminds me of that afternoon in the St. Louis dressing room following the first game of the world series with Detroit a few years ago.

Durocher came in from the field to find that Dizzy Dean, in an expansive moment, had autographed the tips of his (Durocher's) new handnades. $40, white buckskin shoes. "The fact that Dizzy had used Durocher's ink did not ease Durocher's appexxy.

It was not until today, as we walked the fairways, that I had an opportunity to ask Leo Ernest what special type of revenge he had used on Dizzy.

"Let's see," he mused. "Oh, yes, I remember. I waited until he bought a new suit and then, when opportunity knocked, I

Bruins Chalk Up 25-21 Win Over Rupert Quint

Twin Falls Bruins moved into the select circle in the ranks of contenders for the Big Ten basketball crown here last night as they downed the invading Rupert Pirates 25-21 in as thrilling a game as has been staged on the local floor this year—before the largest crowd of the season.

Held to nine points the first half, and trailing at the third quarter 18-12, The Bruins staged a rally that brought them victory in the last three minutes of play as Wayne Turner and Ellis Andrews raced through the Rupert defense for basket after basket. At the same time the Bruin defense was holding the Pirates to three points in the last 14 minutes of play.

Rupert Recovers Twin scored the first basket and moved on to a 4-3 advantage at the end of the first period. Rupert recovered and with their six-foot players taking the ball off the back-board, ran the count to 9-12 at the half time. The invaders didn't stop in the third quarter as they brought their score to 18 while the local count was still 11. But their offense bogged down and at the same time the Bruins started clicking.

The lineups and summary: Twin Falls Bruins (25): Andrews (9) and Turner (15), forwards; Harttruf, center; Brown and Tranmer (1), guards. Substitutions: Almquist and Sherill.

Rupert Pirates (21): R. Wilson (1) and Fagg, forwards; Hardy (2), center; Uhl (4) and Habbitt (5), guards. Substitutions: Rush (7) and Gibson (2).

Two Rupert players, Hardy and Uhl, and one Bruin player, Maurice Harttruf, were ejected from the game on fouls.

Turner Leads Wayne Turner scored 15 points to lead the Bruin scoring, while Andrews collected nine, the two scoring all of the Twin points except one. Rush topped the invaders with seven.

In an inter-class preliminary game, the freshmen staged a last-quarter rally that defeated the sophomores 27-15. The younger class trailed at the half 8-8, tied the count and went into a 13-14 lead at the third period, and then ran away in the final stanza. Cartney led the freshmen scoring with 10 points. Walte topped the sophs with seven.

1937 SOIL PLANS TERMED 'BETTER'

County Agent Says Program Fits Needs of This Area More Fully

Twin Falls county will find the 1937 agricultural conservation program "far better suited" to its needs than the 1936 program, County Agent Harvey S. Hale informed the county's farmers, stockmen and fruit growers today.

More Practice Payments

Practice payments have been increased and the diversion payments decreased, Hale pointed out. "This is better for our system of farming," he said, "in that we can keep up the fertility of our soil by good practices without too much diversion. Applying phosphate fertilizer is a new recognized practice for which payments of $2.25 per acre will be made. Adjustments of the soil depleting bases of farms can now also be made where those farms were caught out of line in the year 1935."

Hale stressed the fact that the agricultural conservation program is based on a "good principle—in that we must conserve and maintain the greatest of all our natural resources, our soil."

Stress Meetings

He urged every owner or operator of land in the county to attend one of the seven educational meetings at which the 1937 program will be fully explained. First of the sessions is scheduled for 2 p. m. Thursday in the Murtaugh high school. Next comes the party at 8 p. m. Thursday in Kimberly high school.

Friday meetings are at 2 p. m. in Hollister Grange hall and 8 p. m. in the Twin Falls high school auditorium. Next Monday the meetings will resume at 2 p. m. in Castleford high school. Tuesday at 2 p. m. farmers of the Bull sector will meet in the Bull city hall, and Wednesday at 2 p. m. the growers of the Piler area convene at the community hall on the fairgrounds.

Dollars Go Fast In Slot Machines, This Test Shows

Does a dollar last long in a slot machine? No, says Sheriff E. F. Prater. Three slot machines tested in his sheriff's building yesterday. They were confiscated the previous day as part of the continuous drive against the "one-armed bandits."

A curious Evening Times reporter sought light on how long a dollar (belonging to someone else) would last in the nickel machine. So Sheriff Prater, for purposes of showing how much chance a man hasn't got, inserted 13 nickels without wasting any time. Earl Williams, state traffic patrolman, had previously tested the machine with seven nickels and got exactly nothing. The sheriff hit the three-pay three times out of 13.

That made a dollar put in. Net return first time around—a loss of more than 50 per cent. The "one-armed bandit" mechanism jammed at that point and the experiment halted. Luckily for the 45 cents that remained. At the rate of loss figured out by the two officers, the time required to lose $1 with all nickels paid by the machine would be something around five minutes.

The big-pay combinations almost—but not quite—came up time after time. Incidentally, the same ratio held for the 25-cent machine. The officers got their nickels back from the machines. You don't.

Like a black, stifling pall, dust storms once more descended over a wide area between Kansas and Texas, rolling in like black blizzards as this striking picture, taken in the "Dust Bowl" area, shows. Lack of rain or snow accounted for the early storms, weather observers said. So dense were the dust clouds that some residents resorted to masks such as those worn by this Oklahoma City couple.

90,000 Ducks Soar Over Snake River in 3 Hours

Birds Going Over This Area During Spring Flight Estimated at Total of 1,800,000

During a three hour period, from 75,000 to 90,000 ducks, all flying north to nesting grounds, were counted skirting the Snake river in the vicinity of Blue lakes, W. R. Priebe, cooperating bird bander and tabulator for the bureau of biological survey, said today.

Reaches Peak

The spring flight, according to Priebe, started Feb. 12, and reached its peak yesterday. From here on it will gradually decline until only those too weak to leave will nest, and remain here during the summer.

Estimated number of birds passing through this area during the three or four weeks of the spring flight is approximately 1,800,000 according to Priebe and his associates, Sturgeon McCoy and Burton Perrine.

During the peak of the flight, thousands of ducks came here from the Pacific coast area, crossing the Blue mountains en route. The ducks which wintered here have apparently moved upstream headed north. Birds dropping out of flights from the west, and those unable to join local wintering flights on their trek north, form the summer colony of ducks in this section.

During the time the maximum count was made in the vicinity of Blue lakes, Priebe said, at no time during the three hours were less than 500 birds visible.

Approximately 50 per cent of the flight has been Mallards, he said, with the balance made up of practically every kind of duck known. This latter half included ring-necked ducks, the first Priebe had seen flying through this area since he started banding in 1922.

Hands 320 Birds

To date Priebe has completed the banding of 320 birds, and of the birds captured only six have been banded here a year ago. It was the largest banding operation ever completed locally.

ALASKA GLACIER FAST TRAVELER

"Express Train" Ice Covers Mile Per Month in Speedy Advance

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—Alaska's "Express Train" glacier, which is roaring down Black Rapids valley at the record-breaking speed of a mile a month, today was continuing its uninterrupted advance along an irresistible two mile front of 100-foot high solid ice.

Observers who have been studying the glacier, which has attained a speed approximately four times as fast as is normal for such ice formations, were divided in theories to explain the acceleration.

Some believed the moving ice was "coasting" on the top of an older glacier, while others thought unusually heavy snows in the mountains and an early thaw in the valley combined to cause the unusual movement.

BOSTON (U.P.)—The stage-door "Johnnie" is a thing of the past, says actress Eugenia Rawls. "The legitimate stage has become terribly proper," she says. "It seems that 'picking up' is now done by appointment, with introductions, letters and complete formality."

Rupert High School Gives Exam Rules

RUPERT, Feb. 24 (Special)—An innovation concerning regulations of exemptions from semester examinations has been made at Rupert high school here and is now in effect.

There are three principal requirements which must be met by students who wish to be exempt from semester tests. Student must make a passing grade in all his subjects each of the three six-weeks periods of the semester. His attendance record must show not more than ten half days absence during a semester. And absolutely no cuts from classes or study periods. This ruling will apply to both semesters of the school year. It is pointed out that absences due to snow-blocked roads will not be held against the student if work is made up within a reasonable length of time.

JUNIORS AT H. S. VICTOR IN STUNT

Capture Top Honors for Skit Offering Dramatic Theme At Pep Assembly

Top honors in the annual class stunt contests, held during assembly yesterday, rested with the junior class today. The victory gave the juniors a point toward the citizenship cup.

The first stunt on the assembly program was presented by the freshmen class and was entitled "Quintio and Victorette" with apologies to Shakespeare. Characters in the farce were Barbara Sutcliffe as Victorette and Harry Benoit as Quintio.

Following the farce presented by the freshmen, the senior class students presented an adaptation of a French play, "The Black Flamingo Inn." The play was adapted to comply with local activities having to do with the finding of a "ball" of gold. Bruce Rauter played the part of Lord Bruin and Zeke Larson interpreted Rupert, the villain. Members of the senior class furnished the French mob scenes for the revolution.

Although the junior stunt was last on the program, it was just what the audience had been waiting for. In direct contrast with the rest of the comedies and farces, their presentation was seriously dramatic. Background for the presentation was an Egyptian mausoleum during the act was created by the liberal use of incense and oriental music.

Paul Wright played the part of the mummy who was supposed to represent a great sportsman around whose neck hung a much coveted cup of victory. The most spectacular point in the stunt occurred when the light priest, Ptolemy Rupert, approached the mummy and the cup, which was in reality a photo-flash bulb, exploded and the words defeat were spelled out in lights overhead, victory appearing later for the Bruins in the same place. During this scene temple maidens presented a Flame dance with Jeanne Robinson as the interpreter.

The most impressive part of the stunt was the climax which consisted of a prayer to the Sports god, Roland Hutchinson leading with members of the class repeating the words in a chant.

Intermissions were filled with impromptu sport talks, boosting the Rupert-Rupert game, by various faculty members and students.

What's Doing at SUN VALLEY

(By Evening Times Special Correspondent)

THESE SUN VALLEY GUESTS ARE REAL SKI ENTHUSIASTS

SUN VALLEY, Feb. 24 (Special)—If any particular person may be inclined to cynicism about the enthusiasm rampant at Sun Valley with regard to skiing and other winter sports, may we be forgiven if we cite the example of the party that arrived here, consisting of Theo. Ryan of Aspen, Colo., George Wheelwright of Dover, Mass., and Richard Scott of New York, who when they arrived, never troubled to register or go to their rooms, but changed into their ski togs in the same location, and made off post haste for the scene of frolic on Dollar mountain.

Pardon repetition, but the latest postal incident necessitates another bit of trivia similar to the note recorded about a week ago concerning the letter addressed merely Count Felix, Skiing Under the Sun, America—and incidentally, the sender of that letter, H. Harrison Proctor, of Boston, Mass., has returned today for more skiing on our new famous slopes—for now comes a letter with nothing gracing the envelope except Snowball, Idaho. Some mail-carrier clerk along the line had inscribed the notation "I'll bet this means Ketchum."

The other night Sun Valley lodge had something unique in movies, thanks to the Paramount gang. A show that has only been released about two months, "College Holiday," starring Jack Benny, Gracie Allen and George Burns, was shown here, and as there was only one projector, the intermittent call of "One moment please, while the reel is changed," brought back the oldest of old movie times to those inclined to hearken back, and there were several thus inclined, judging from the remarks we heard in the surrounding audience.

In addition to the feature show, a skiing picture of Austrian release was shown, as well as rush shots of the play Paramount is now filming in Sun Valley, an exhibition which proved interesting to various and sundry.

Russell G. Doehgh of New York City, was giving a cocktail party in the game room for some of his friends, and who did we discover roaming about from group to group but that returned and genial trouper, Mel Hoffmann, a mean performer on the stomach pincher which is known to the uninitiated as a plano-accordion. And incidentally, a bouquet is far past due to that very illustrious organization of which Mel is a member, known far and wide as Earl Smith's orchestra, the outfit that opened up the Treadadero in Los Angeles, and has played every high class entertainment spot in this country and Europe. They have been together for over 12 years, Hap Miller the ivory artist of the piano, Paul Burgenner the sax soloist, Bruce Hurley the base fiddle spanker, Paul Bragg the mandolin, guitar and banjo tickler, Tyle Gaffield the Rubinfot of the outfit, and Earl Smith, leader and drummer. A more congenial and likable group of artists doesn't exist. Our hat is off to them as is the chapeau of every comer to Sun Valley.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—Wheat prices turned upward in quiet trading here today on a small but persistent flow of buying orders.
The market appeared to be thoroughly liquidated and support came from shorts evening up their positions.
The market opened with small net losses induced by a lower trend at Liverpool but rallied later and in the final hour sold up for net gains of a cent a bushel. Reports of better flour demand brought out a little buying after the initial decline but later estimates by northwestern miller placing last week's flour sales at the lowest point of the year checked this form of support.
Trading in other grains also moved at a slow pace with price changes holding to a narrow range. At the close wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher, May $1.31 1/4, new corn was 1/2 to 5/8 cents higher, May $1.06 1/2, old corn was 1/2 to 3/4 cents lower, May $1.03 1/2, and oats were 1/2 to 1 cent higher, May 47 1/2 cents.

AT LITTLE COMPTON, RHODE ISLAND, A MONUMENT WAS ERRECTED IN 1925, COMMEMORATING THE BIRTHPLACE OF THE RHODE ISLAND RED BREED OF FOWL.

WAS THERE EVER A YEAR "ZERO"?

SEVERAL HUNDRED YEARS AGO, CERTAIN CHRONOLOGERS TRIED TO REFORM THE METHOD OF RECKONING TIME BY INSERTING A YEAR A. D. 0. BETWEEN THE YEAR 1 B. C. AND THE YEAR A. D. 1, BUT NOTHING EVER CAME OF IT.

In 1900, there was considerable discussion as to whether that year was the last of the 19th century, or the beginning of the 20th. However, since there was no intervening year "zero" between A. D. 1 and 1 B. C., it follows that the first century ended with the completion of the year A. D. 100, and the 19th century ended with the completion of 1900.
