Spring Opening Brings Display Of 1937 Modes

Error Contest Features Annual Twin Falls Event

The latest in spring modes went on display in Twin Falls stores today and hundreds of entrants were already scanning the displays in the "window mistake" contest featuring the 1937 spring opening.

Intermittent rains dampened the spring inaugural but contest entrants apparently were undaunted as keen-eyed "mistake hunters" made the rounds.

The spring opening event, continuing through Thursday as a departure from the one-day openings of previous years, was expected to draw substantial crowds to view the new spring offerings before the end of the three-day showing.

15 Prizes
Business houses handling all lines of merchandise from apparel to household equipment were participating in the 1937 style display and in the featured contest. Cash prizes included five $10 awards for first place; five $5 prizes for second honors; and five $2.50 prizes for those ranking third.

Each of the windows sharing in the contest showed one error, known only to the window display workers who arranged them. Participating firms entered one window apiece. Mistakes were either in decorating, in display of merchandise, or in the wording or figures of price tags or window cards.

Judges will begin considering the contest entries immediately after closing of the competition at 6 p. m. Thursday, according to W. A. Van Engelen, chairman of the merchants' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pick Winners Friday
Announcement of winners is expected to be made Friday afternoon, and merchants will then mark the errors in their windows to permit a check-up by contestants.

The crowds surveying display windows, already today in a hunt for the errors, indicated that the contest winners will probably come from all sections of southern Idaho. Children under 16 are barred from the contest.

Last-minute entry of another store in the window competition was announced by the Chamber of Commerce today. The establishment is the Majestic pharmacy.

LOYALS ISOLATE ITALIAN TROOPS

Rebel Soldiers and 500 Truck Army Supply Train Is Surrounded

By HARRISON LAROCHE

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish frontier, March 16 (Unconfirmed).—Gen. Jose Milla's international brigade isolated a large body of Italian soldiers and a 500 truck army supply train at Brihuega today, frontier dispatches reported.

Loyalist aviation and artillery began an intense bombardment of the town of 5,000 persons, headquarters of Gen. Jose Moscardo, hero of the Alcazar siege and commander of the left column in the nationalist army's fifth offensive against Madrid.

In 24 hours of relentless pressure against the Italian allies of Gen. Francisco Franco, nationalist commander-in-chief, the loyalists drove forward from Trilque, in the Guadalajara sector northeast of Madrid, to encircle Brihuega and attack it from the rear.

Unconfirmed reports from the scene said the city was almost surrounded.

The international aspect of the fifth Madrid offensive was further emphasized today by high ranking loyalist officers who alleged that Italian Somaliland natives wearing Askari uniforms had appeared on the southern Madrid front.

The natives wore rings in their noses, the officers said, and apparently had only recently arrived on the battle front.

Reducing Caused Marie's Illness, Physicians Think

BUCHAREST, March 16 (UP)—Physicians expressed belief today that Dowager Queen Marie's illness was partly due to recent reducing treatments, which left her weakened when she was attacked by influenza.

It was said that physicians so far had been unable to establish the exact nature of the dowager queen's ailment but that they were confident she was in no danger.

Dowager Queen Marie slept for a few hours intermittently last night. She had no fever, but she was very weak and faint yesterday evening. She lacks appetite and refuses solid food.

Mine Victims Brought to Surface

Weary, stumbling rescue workers are pictured above as they brought bodies to the surface at the explosion-torn MacBeth mine near Logan, W. Va. For hours without rest crews had tunneled and dug to get at the 18 entombed miners killed by an explosion. The "Safety First" sign mocked relatives clustered at the mine's mouth to identify the dead. The explosion was attributed to an accidental ignition of a gas pocket.

New Yorker Hurls New Insult at Nazi Leader

NEW YORK, March 16 (UP)—Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's latest attack on Adolf Hitler was expected today to intensify at Washington and Berlin the strained diplomatic relations caused by his former denunciation of the German chancellor.

Using a German phrase, La Guardia said last night that Hitler was not worthy of being met on a field of honor "personally or diplomatically." Speaking at an anti-Nazi mass meeting, the New York mayor who caused an exchange of diplomatic notes between Germany and the United States declared that Hitler was not "satisfaktionsfähig." He volunteered that the phrase meant "beneath accepting a challenge to a duel." A less literal but closer translation would be "cad" or "yellow dog," persons who speak German said.

Worst Possible Insult
Those familiar with the language said it was the "worst possible insult." Uttered by a German to a German, they said, it would mean a challenge to a duel.

La Guardia's remarks dramatically closed the meeting of 20,000 persons in Madison Square Garden sponsored by the American Jewish committee and the Jewish labor committee. Earlier the audience had voted a "spiritual and financial boycott" against Germany and had listened to many speakers, including John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for industrial organization, and Gen. Hugh Johnson, former administrator of the NRA.

Speaks Briefly
The mayor spoke briefly. He had tried to speak from his box but without a microphone he could not make himself heard.

"That speech of mine a few days ago," he continued, "is no novelty. I've been saying the same thing for a long time, and I expect to continue to say it."

"I simply want to say one thing—and I wonder what the protest about this will be. Do not worry about what Mr. Hitler may say. Pay no attention to him because public opinion of the world has decreed that Adolf Hitler is not personally or diplomatically 'satisfaktionsfähig.'"

SUSPECT IS HELD IN OHIO MURDER

Canton Contractor Is Quizzed Regarding Shot-Gun Killing of Wife

CANTON, O., March 16 (UP)—Police confronted Deuber S. Cable, wealthy contractor and a "first" citizen, with his sweetheart early today, seeking a solution of the slaying of Cable's wife, Rose, who was teacher in a Sunday school.

The meeting produced no clues to Mrs. Cable's slayers, authorities said. Cable and the attractive Mrs. Theresa Ludwig, a divorcee, will be interrogated further today.

Last Thursday night, someone poked a shotgun barrel through a window of the beautiful Cable home and fired twice. The first barrel discharged its pellets into a wall; the second killed the 45-year-old Mrs. Cable.

Police said that two high school girls had identified Mrs. Ludwig's green coupe, one of the many gifts Cable made to her, as the car they saw pass the Cable home Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Mrs. Cable's funeral was held yesterday afternoon. After the middle-aged, successful business man had mourned at her bier, police took him to the station for questioning. Mrs. Ludwig had been detained a little earlier "on suspicion."

Authorities said Cable had maintained an apartment for Mrs. Ludwig in Akron for three years.

An examination of Mrs. Cable's body revealed that 213 slugs from a shotgun shell had pierced her body.

3 Tacoma Women Killed in Accident

TACOMA, Wash., March 16 (UP)—Three Tacoma women were killed instantly and three others injured when their automobile and a street car collided in the north end early today.

The dead: Mrs. Jesse Poulitz; Mrs. James E. Martin; Mrs. Bernice Brown.

The women had been to a bridge party and were en route to their homes when the crash occurred.

Townsend Sentence Suspension Will Be Requested by Solon

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, R. Mich., said today he will ask unanimous consent for speedy house action on his resolution seeking suspension of a jail sentence against Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pensioner convicted on charges of contempt of the house.

Townsend is at liberty on bond pending appeal from a sentence of 30 days in jail and a fine of $100 for walking out of a hearing of the house committee investigating old age pension organizations.

"Inasmuch as the court has established that congress and the committee were in the right, there is nothing to be gained by sending Dr. Townsend to jail," Hoffman said.

Oddities From Here And There

CURVES
MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina, March 16 (UP)—Elba Tarditz, a Buenos Aires beauty said to have "more curves than an Andes mountain road" has been named "Miss South America" in this seaside resort's 1937 bathing beauty contest. She was over the beauties of Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay and Bolivia.

TEA
ALDERSHOT, England, March 16 (UP)—Corporal Arthur Proce, whose big heartedness led him to serve each of them in his squad with tea in bed in the morning because the weather was so cold, was demoted to private today.

He was found guilty of violating a standing army order against trading with privates, it being deemed that his conduct was unbecoming his corpsmanship.

WINE
PARIS, March 16 (UP)—The corner stone of a wine fountain was laid today by officials of the Paris world exposition which is to open May 2.

The fountain will throw streams of red and white wine 60 feet into the air, to cascade down while colored lights play on them. The fountain will flow at a rate which would provide a quart of wine at each meal for each family in New York City.

OWNER
TULARE, Calif., March 16 (UP)—John Britten, 35, Negro, was held today after he reportedly attempted to cash a $19,000 check, explaining to a merchant that he owned the controlling interest in the U. S. mint and all the crude oil lands in the United States.

COSTLY
PORTLAND, Ore., March 16 (UP)—Lorenzo Chapman, 35, a Civil war veteran, is receiving his $100 a month pension today after waiting 35 years to apply for it. He "just didn't get around to asking for it before," he explained. The delay cost him $30,000.

PAYMENT
WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—During the Civil war Massachusetts advanced the government $233,855.22. Now the senate has decided it's about time the state is repaid. It passed and sent to the house a bill authorizing payment.

TREASURY HEADS CANVASS BIGGEST INCOME RETURNS

Greatest Levy Since 1924 Is Expected in Washington Headquarters

DOUBLES TAX IN 1936

More Money Taken in First Quarter Than for Same Period in 1929

By SANDOR S. KLEIN
WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—Treasury official canvassed the greatest deluge of income tax returns since 1924 today, confident that they would total $840,000,000, almost double the income tax collections of the first quarter of 1936 and approximately $150,000,000 more than the collections of the "prosperity" first quarter of 1929.

Latest reports from all parts of the country to internal revenue commissioner Guy Helvering indicated that approximately 6,500,000 returns, 500,000 more than anticipated had been filed up to last night's deadline.

Short on Blanks
Numerous internal revenue officers throughout the nation found themselves short of income tax blanks. Helvering ordered emergency shipments to offices which could be reached in time. He authorized other divisions to use 1935 forms with the old date crossed out.

More than half the returns were filed yesterday. Virtually all corporate returns were made on the final day to avoid loss of interest of funds set aside for tax purposes.

Generally improved business, higher wages, increased employment and innovations in the tax law were held responsible for the expected increase in revenue.

Deposits in Banks
Telegraphic reports giving rough estimates of tax collections, were expected by treasury officials within the next 24 hours.

Today the collections will be deposited with the 12 district federal reserve banks.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., is using the new revenue to retire $300,000,000 of maturing discount bills and to pay $150,000,000 interest on the public debt, which was due yesterday. New bills, however, are being issued to replace those being retired so the treasury will have $684,000,000 additional in its general fund.

Thus there was appreciable rise in the national debt which now totals about $34,700,000,000.

Administration fiscal experts anticipate that income tax collections in the June quarter will approximate $700,000,000 sufficient to bring the fiscal year's receipts from this source up to the $2,372,000,000 estimated in the President's budget.

Strikers Battle Police To Gain Entrance into Closed Detroit Hotel

DETROIT, March 16 (UP)—Organizers and strikers of the waiters' and waitresses' union fought police today to gain entrance to the closed Book-Cadillac hotel where they disarmed a guard and fired a shot from his revolver into the floor.

Police said the unionists, numbering about 30, forced their way through the rear service entrance guarded by police. They rushed toward the Casino, night club in the hotel, where Guard Harold Ward accosted them.

He was disarmed, police said, and Floyd A. Loew, organizer, carried the guard's revolver to a rear room and fired one shot into the floor.

Loew then returned the gun to the hotel management.

Urges Warrant
Superintendent of Police Fred W. Fraham and Deputy Superintendent William Held, called to investigate the fight, urged that J. E. Frawley, vice president of the hotel chain, seek warrants against the union men.

The organizers and union members took possession of the Casino where they held a meeting.

"This situation," Fraham told Frawley, "has gone too far. The act of union men in breaking into this hotel is a violation of the law."

Later Fraham said he had recommended to the management that the guard Harold Ward apply for a warrant.

Seeks Purpose
Frawley said he would decide upon the warrant request as soon as the organizers and members ended their meeting. He said he wished to find out what their purpose was in forcing entrance into the hotel.

Loew said he was assured by the hotel management that the strikers would be permitted to use gas for cooking purposes and would be allowed to have food brought into the hotel for their use. After the firing of the guard's gun, additional police surrounded the hotel, some of them mounted.

William Walker, president of the hotel association, announced that guests in the Book-Cadillac, the Fort Shelby, the Detroit Leland and the Statler probably would be advised to leave.

Met by Police
Day shift workers, arriving at hotel entrances to relieve night employees at 7 a. m., were met by police and house detectives and prevented from entering.

Night shift employees at the Fort Shelby left peacefully, but at the Book-Cadillac about 135 workers sat down in the Book Casino, a fashionable night club and dining room connected with the hotel.

Dramatic Shutdown
Normally, the hotels employ the following number of workers: Book-Cadillac, 875; Fort Shelby, 550; Statler, 340; and the Detroit Leland, 375.

The dramatic shutdown came after a night-long conference between Mayor Frank Cavanaugh, the four hotel managers and officials of the waiters and waitresses association. The conference had been called to seek a settlement of a sit-down strike of Statler employees that had disrupted service to 700 guests, including Lily Pons, opera and movie star, and 40 members of the D'Oyly Carte Opera company.

Strikers Tie Big Variety of Industries

CHICAGO, March 16 (UP)—America's strikers were sitting down today on everything from logs to city hall benches and demanding almost anything, including higher fees for wet nursing.

Most of them sat in groups, but a few carried on lone-wolf campaigns. Their seats were in skyscrapers, underground tunnels and factories.

The Belgian consul in Atlanta, Ga., sat down on his water meter. Seven Negro women who supply breast milk to the health department sat down on waiting room benches in Chicago's city hall demanding higher rates.

There have been sit-down strikes among grade school children and college students, department store girls and sawmill workers, dog pound employees and Negro caddies.

Lone Wolf
Among the lone-wolf strikers was Frank Fritzsche of Joliet, Ill., who refused to move from his hired car until the city agreed to pave the street where he had been stuck 32 times. Weary of waiting, he gave up today.

Capt. A. J. Teller, Belgian consul in Atlanta, protested his home was Belgian territory, refused to pay his city sewage tax, sat on his water meter so officials wouldn't turn it off. Police removed him and turned off the water.

Caddies Win
One hundred Negro caddies at Birmingham, Ala., sat down on the golf course to carry their strike to successful conclusion. Seven employees of the Illinois Potato Chip company in Des Moines, Ia., refused to make any more potato chips until officials re-hired a co-worker who had been discharged for talking too much.

At the plant of the Pennsylvania Association for Blind, a charitable institution, 107 blind workers struck for higher wages. In Omaha, Neb., five men struck in the dog pound of the Nebraska Humane society.

AMELIA EARHART FLIGHT DELAYED

OAKLAND, Calif., March 16 (UP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam announced today she will take off for Honolulu on the first leg of her round-the-world flight between 4 and 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Miss Putnam said she definitely had abandoned plans for a departure today.

OAKLAND, Calif., March 16 (UP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam was ready to the point of packing a lunch and filling the thermos bottles for a flight around the world today but a storm off the Pacific coast threatened to delay her until Wednesday.

Meteorologists said the storm would lift by tonight, but the problem of soggy runways arose to plague the woman flier and the three men who will accompany her part of the way.

Several soft spots in the Oakland runway had been repaired, but the approaching storm may soak them again with rain. The idea of taking the 400,000 plane to San Francisco and using the 3,000-foot paved runway there for the take-off with a full load of fuel was abandoned.

George Putnam, the flier's husband, who is making the arrangements, said 3,000 feet was not enough. He said the start may be made from Los Angeles. Paul Mantz, Miss Earhart's technical adviser, was in Los Angeles today surveying the situation.

Mantz will go as far as Honolulu, the first scheduled stop and 2,400 miles away. From there, only Capt. Harry Manning, navigator, will be along. He will leave Miss Earhart at Darwin, Australia, and from there she will continue alone on the 27,000-mile trip around the earth at the equator and touching every continent.

Six Found Guilty In Election Fraud

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 16 (UP)—Six persons charged with election conspiracy while serving as poll workers in the Church of God, quarters for their precinct, awaited sentence today for contributing "ghost" votes to the Roosevelt landslide last November.

A federal court jury last night convicted them after hearing a week's testimony of ballot-box stuffing, intimidation, false counting and tampering with ballots that were cast by Republicans for Gov. Alfred M. Landon's ticket.

Buhl Files Request For Water Diversion

BOISE, Idaho, March 16 (UP)—The city of Buhl today had on file with Reclamation Commissioner R. W. Faris an application for permit to divert 3,000 second feet of water from Clear lake for power purposes.

The application was filed by Sen. H. A. DeNeal and others. A previous power filing for 800 second feet at Auger damsite on the Snake river is being contested in Twin Falls district court by promoters of the Bruneau reclamation project.

APPROVAL GIVEN WATER PROJECTS

WPA Allots $30,522 to City For New Low Pressure Irrigation

A definite step toward relieving the existing condition whereby the filtered water system of Twin Falls is proving inadequate during the summer months, was taken today with the announcement by Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston of the approval of two projects relative to installation and use of raw water for watering lawns and gardens.

The low pressure system, it was pointed out, would relieve the overtaxed filtration plant by enabling greater use of irrigation water for outdoor watering, conserving the filtered supply more for domestic use.

The projects, under WPA, will serve wherever possible and feasible, and surveys for the new system will start early in June, Mayor Johnston said.

Pipe Funds
One approved project deals with the making of concrete pipe of various sizes and $13,062 has been secured for this purpose. The second project provides $17,460 for installation, work on both projects being done by WPA labor under city supervision.

The territory to be surveyed by the city, prior to the time the work gets underway, will include subdivisions immediately surrounding the original townsite where irrigation water is being used at the present time, but on a much smaller scale than it will be when the two projects are completed.

GOVERNOR SIGNS POWER MEASURE

Law Will Prohibit Transfer Of Water Sites to Out-Of-State People

BOISE, Idaho, March 16 (UP)—Governor Barzilla W. Clark today signed a power bill—one of the few fragments of the governor's ambitious program for municipal ownership of power resources to survive the legislature.

The new law would prohibit granting or transfer of a power site in the state to out-of-state persons or corporations. To be classed as a domestic corporation, a majority of the stockholders would be required to be Idaho residents.

Difficult Course
The bill had a difficult course through the legislature, saved in the senate only by the vote of Lieutenant-Governor Charles C. Gossett breaking a tie.

A three-man phosphate commission to investigate commercial possibilities of the state's phosphate deposits was among the 22 measures receiving the executive's signature today.

Aviatrix Ready to Take Off, But Soggy Runways Set Journey Back

OAKLAND, Calif., March 16 (UP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam announced today she will take off for Honolulu on the first leg of her round-the-world flight between 4 and 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Miss Putnam said she definitely had abandoned plans for a departure today.

LOCATION PICKED FOR VALLEY INN

SON VALLEY, March 16 (Special)—The new Challenger Inn, to be built under the Union Pacific's plans for expansion of Son Valley, will be located alongside the right wing of the present lodge, officials indicated this afternoon.

Entry in Challenger Inn will definitely be lower than those prevailing at Son Valley lodge, it was asserted. The new development, announced yesterday by W. Averell Harriman, chairman of the board of Union-Pacific, will be designed for winter sports enthusiasts with moderate purses.

Work on the new project will be started as soon as weather is permissible, probably the fore part of June, according to present indications. Gilbert Stanley, Underwood, Washington, D. C., will be architect. McNell Construction company, builders of the present lodge, will probably erect Challenger Inn although contracts will be let definitely in the near future.

Challenger Inn, as announced by Mr. Harriman, is to be built in the form of an Austrian-Swiss mountain village. Buildings will ramble informally around a village square containing a skating rink and open-air swimming pool, shops, billiard room, bowling alley and a motion picture theater are planned.

Film Star Injured In Auto Collision

LONDON, March 16 (UP)—Marie Oboron, movie star, suffered cuts about the head and face and slight concussion today in an automobile collision. Badly shaken, she was taken to the hospital.

Miss Oboron was motoring in the fashionable West End, on her way to a dressmaker to be fitted with a dress she intended to use in the film, "I, Claudius," which she is making with Charles Laughton.

Today's batch of appropriations cared for the soldiers' home, children's homes in Boise and Lewiston, adjutant-general, department of finance, public utilities commission, bureau of mines and geology, payment of workmen's compensation premiums for national guardsmen, and capital maintenance.

Other new laws will act to prohibit pollution of streams of water; license dairies and cream buying stations; credit value of improvements to former holders of state lands reverting to the state; authorize school districts to provide board and lodging near a school rather than transportation; set up procedure for changing birth records of illegitimate children later become legitimate; establish new boundary between Butte and Custer counties; permit formation of sustained yield districts for protection of standing timber.

INTEREST RISES ON COURT ISSUE

Speculation Gains as Judges Fail to Act on Single Case Before Recess

WASHINGTON, March 16 (U.P.)—Speculation regarding the supreme court mounted today as a result of the tribunal's last decision session yesterday before taking a two weeks' recess.

Factors contributing to the increased interest in the court were:

1. The number of important pending cases remaining undecided.
2. Its refusal to entertain a group of cases involving the Wagner labor relations act.
3. A strange Liberal-Conservative division of the tribunal in an obscure tax case decided yesterday.

The court recessed without handing down decisions in any of the pending cases testing constitutionality of New Deal legislation, or measures closely linked with the Roosevelt program. They include tests of the Wagner act, the railway labor act, the Washington state minimum wage law for women and the New York unemployment insurance act.

The refusal to receive the new Wagner act cases was hailed as a partial victory by persons close to the labor board. The court refused to upset findings that federal district courts could not entertain injunction suits to restrain the board from holding hearings on alleged law violations.

Russell Testifies in Hearing Seeking Dissolution of Partnership

Testimony by J. A. Russell, San Francisco, and presentation of documentary evidence in his behalf featured trial in district court this morning in the partnership dissolution suit brought by Russell against C. F. Johnson, Little Rock, Ark. Both are former Twin Falls residents.

Theodore Rangen also was on the stand this morning for the plaintiff. The action involves property in Twin Falls and Jerome counties, and in addition to dissolution of partnership seeks accounting of funds totalling almost $5,000. Johnson's defense denies existence of the partnership agreement.

Judge T. Bailey Lee is presiding. Attorneys for the plaintiff are O. C. Hall and Bothwell and Povey. Chapman and Chapman are counsel for the defendant.

CALL WILL ASK BIDS ON SEWER

Council Orders Advertisement For Materials Needed on Improvement Job

The city council last night in regular meeting made arrangements to advertise a call for bids for material for local improvement district number 68, for sewer according to specifications prepared by the engineering department.

The district is located in the De Long addition and work has been in progress for some time on excavation. The council also passed a resolution confirming the assessment roll for the district.

J. E. Lundry, tenant on property owned by the city adjacent to the filter plant, was ordered to vacate, the order being effective immediately.

Among building permits approved was one for W. S. Parish in the amount of $200 for reshingling a house roof and porch at 936 Shoshone east, and another to Fred Dunn of route three, for construction of a $100 garage on lot eight, block 48.

PRINTS TAKEN ON PORTION OF SAFE

Sheriff's Force Here Assists Hailey Officers in Hunt For Burglars

Fingerprint tests of part of the smashed safe from the Sawtooth garage and service station at Hailey had been made here today by Sheriff E. F. Prater as southern Idaho officers kept a sharp look-out for safe breakers who escaped with $300 Sunday night.

Sheriff Dave Howes, Hailey, and Deputy Fred Turner, Ketchum, brought the inner receptacles of the safe to the officers here, and fingerprint tests and photographs were made. It was indicated that the burglars apparently had gotten an accomplice inside the Hailey establishment before the closing hour, and that he remained hidden until employees left.

Combination of the safe was smashed open and currency in the drawers was stolen.

BAG FIRM SUES FOR $500 CLAIM

Basing its action on claims of merchandise sold to H. J. Weaver, Flier, and backed by promissory notes, the Chase Bag company filed suit in district court today asking judgment for $500 and $150 attorney's fees against Weaver.

New Plantings Will Add To Beauty of City Park

Spring and summer of this year will see City park a patchwork of color as the warm weather brings out hundreds of varieties of trees, plants, shrubbery and flowers being planted now by workmen under the direction of Milton Powell, city park commissioner, and A. B. Hopkin, park superintendent.

Although all three city parks are being beautified, City park this year will be "more beautiful than it has ever been in the history of the city of Twin Falls," Mr. Powell said today.

Already Underway

Under the direction of Mr. Hopkin, planting of shrubs and flowers is already underway and numerous varieties of trees will probably be planted in the near future.

Chief among the new trees which will be set out in City park, and which are noted for their blossoms and fragrance, will be the weeping cherry, in double and single blossoms; the Naden weeper, and the Prunus passerby. The trees have already arrived in the city and more will arrive before summer comes. At Harmon park Hawthorn trees have been planted around the circular walks and several trees removed from City park to make way for the series of rock gardens and lily ponds, have been replanted at Harmon to aid in shading the open air swimming pool at that point.

Unlike last year when newly planted grass made it almost impossible to walk on the lawn of City park, this year the whole area, with the exception of the west corner where are located the ponds, will be open to play. Picnic tables, benches and other equipment has been entirely remodeled and in some instances, new equipment made.

Trees Sprayed

Every tree in all three parks has been sprayed, Mr. Powell points out.

The main unit of the new ponds in City park, the rock garden, is completed and flowers and shrubs are being planted in profusion. Three fountains will water the growth and serve the lily ponds located at its base. In front of the rock garden two additional lily ponds are completed. Two more ponds, extending toward the park corner, will be started within a short time.

filter plant during the summer months, the mayor declared, and will save the taxpayers considerable money on chemicals and overhead. In addition it will save $14 for each million gallons of water used raw rather than filtered.

Applied in December

Application for the projects were made by Mayor Johnston shortly before the first of the year, it was indicated.

It is advantageous to everyone concerned that they use raw water for irrigation purposes," Mayor Johnston said. "The projects are a step forward for Twin Falls and the city at no time has considered the shutting off of irrigation water service where it is now being used within the city limits. Rather it will mean a considerable extension of the present system."

ACTION INVOLVES DAIRY PARTNERS

Dissolution of Agreement and Accounting of Funds Is Sought in Suit

Accounting of partnership funds, dissolution of partnership and injunction to prevent, selling joint property was asked in district court here today in a suit filed by Hermann Mader against Dwight E. Stacy.

Mader informed the court that he sold Stacy's one-half interest in his dairy herd and dairy output in an agreement executed at Gooding Dec. 10, 1935, in exchange for which the latter paid off $3,850 owed by Mader and agreed to provide hay during the winter for the herd. The dairyman claimed Stacy has handled all proceeds and has not accounted for funds taken in, and asserted these receipts have been more than enough to clear off the obligations.

The suit also asks a court decree for equitable division of partnership property and appointment of a receiver if necessary.

Walters, Parry and Thoman are attorneys for Mader.

Two Register As First on Books

Arnold Putzier, residing in ward one, and R. E. Hensinger, living in ward two, today were the first local citizens to register with the city clerk, signifying their intentions of voting at the city elections slated for April 6.

Registration books opened today at the city hall and, although voters have through Saturday, April 3, to register or transfer their registrations if they have moved from one ward into the other since the last city election, several registrations were made.

A sizeable increase over the number registering two years ago is forecast by election observers.

YOUTH RECEIVES PAROLE LIBERTY

Frank Hartley, 25, Granted Suspended Sentence in Auto Larceny

Suspended sentence and parole had given liberty today to Frank Hartley, 25, Twin Falls, accused of grand larceny in motor car theft that ended in a highway accident killing a 10-year-old Twin Falls boy and injuring both Hartley and Donald Griffin, Twin Falls.

Hartley pleaded guilty before Judge T. Bailey Lee in district court yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to one to 14 years in the state prison. Judge Lee suspended the sentence and paroled the youth to Sheriff E. F. Prater.

The charges were filed after Hartley and his two companions, ascertained took a Ford from the Bernard Auto company used car lot. Half an hour afterward the car smashed up on the north side, killing young Boss and injuring Hartley and Griffin so severely that they were confined to the Wendell hospital for a considerable period. Griffin, co-defendant with Hartley, is still at large.

Political Drama

Aspirants Sit Around Council Table With Eyes on April Voting

This is the story of five men. One wants to remain mayor of Twin Falls; one wants to take his place. Two want to succeed themselves on the city council. The remaining one is well he isn't running this year.

The five sat around the council table in city hall last night and decided that a proclamation be issued to inform the public a city election will be held April 6, and that four of the five will have their names printed on the ballots, along with two more citizens who want to take the posts to which the previous two have signified their intentions of succeeding themselves.

Two Polling Places

They also caused notice to be given that those wishing to vote can cast their ballots at two points within the city limits of Twin Falls. Those living in ward one can vote at the showroom of the American Electric company at 152 Second avenue north, and those residing in ward two can vote at the showrooms of the Super Auto Service at 140 Second avenue east.

They served notice that the polls will be kept open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., but they did not announce the judges. Those wishing to serve, they decided, will be permitted to make application and then will be appointed.

Order Details

Incidentally, the city clerk was authorized to spend the necessary funds to have the ballots printed, necessary advertising accomplished and other such items within "reasonable bounds."

And so the present mayor sat at one end of the council table. The man who would succeed him sat at the other. On one side sat a councilman who would succeed himself and on the other side sat another with the same ideas.

The remaining one is well he isn't running this year.

TAYLOR IS NEW WORKS CHIEFTAIN

Clark Faces Task of Naming Rest of State Officials In Near Future

R. Hattabaugh, public utilities commissioner; Peter Cohn, state relief administrator.

Appointment of Taylor still left status of Stemmer in doubt. Clark has indicated he would allow the new public works commissioner to select his highway director, but he has been advised by the attorney general that the highway appointment was his direct responsibility.

Favored Stemmer

Taylor is known to have favored retention of Stemmer in his capacity as Democratic state chairman before he was considered for the commission. Quater proceedings against Stemmer are still pending, but the court action against McKelvey was automatically rendered meaningless with his release from state employ.

Clark said he had the utmost confidence in Taylor in the public works post, in spite of not having given him consideration for the job before yesterday.

"He told me 60 days ago he would be leaving the penitentiary," the governor said. "Taylor is well thought of over the state and I am sure his appointment will be satisfactory."

The new commissioner, whose home is in Rigby, is also Democratic state chairman. A position he said he would continue to hold. His salary as commissioner will be $3,600. He received $2,400 as warden of the penitentiary. He was mayor of Rigby for three terms and served two terms in the legislature from Jefferson county.

Paris O'Neal, veteran deputy warden; will be in charge at the penitentiary until a successor to Taylor can be named by the state board of pardons, Clark said.

STOLEN MACHINE FOUND DESERTED

Taken from the Shire Motor company of Boise last week, a stolen motor car had been recovered here today by Earl B. Williams, special state patrolman.

Williams found the car abandoned about two miles on the Jerome side of the rim bridge. It was parked in sagebrush at the side of the highway. The machine was towed to a Twin Falls garage and the Boise concern had been notified today.

SIXTEEN TEAMS REMAIN IN NATIONAL AAU TOURNEY

IDAHO SOUTHERN LOSES HARD TILT

Walla Walla Basketeers Show Strength to Become Meet Darkhorse

By HAROLD NIKKEL
DENVER, March 16 (U.P.)—Completion of the third round of play in the National AAU basketball tournament today will send 16 crack teams of the original field of 45 into the stretch drive for the 1937 U. S. championship.

At the close of today's 11-game program every team in the meet will have seen action in at least one game. Twelve teams make their initial appearances, four of them seeded.

All the favorites still were on hand but a real dark horse threat had developed in the powerful Mitchell's quintet of Walla Walla, Wash.

Favorites Win

In yesterday's 10 games, completing the first round and opening the second, four seeded teams—Laemmle Stars of Hollywood, Long Island University of New York City, Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers and Safeway stores of Denver—entered the bracket of 16 teams which will battle for quarterfinal berths tomorrow.

Surprising strength of the Walla Walla five featured the second day's play. The westerners ran rough-shod over Southern Ohio "Business college of Cincinnati, 66 to 25, for the most one-sided victory of the meet.

The northwest AAU champions showed height and speed, plus a deadly accuracy.

Long Island university thrilled a crowd of 5,000 last night with an exhibition of long range shooting and adept passing which downed West Texas Teachers of Canyon, 38 to 30. L. I. U's marathon shooting, completely wrecked the towering zone defense of "the tallest team in the world."

Three Sooner Teams Lose

Three Oklahoma colleges were eliminated and a fourth, Oklahoma City university, barely stayed in the running with a 34-to-32 victory over Idaho Southern branch in an overtime period.

The three Sooner institutions were ushered out of the meet in consecutive order in the first three games of the morning session. The scores: Southwestern Teachers 43, New Mexico Normal of Las Vegas 44; Panhandle A. & M. 28, Drury college of Springfield, Mo., 31; and Central Teachers 34, Arkansas State Teachers of Conway 51.

Other scores: Laemmle Stars of Hollywood 55, Eckers of Salt Lake City 37; Safeway Stores of Denver 54, Oberlin, Kan., 31; Wichita Gas & Electric 35, Cleveland Chase Brass 30; Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers, 50, Stephen P. Austin of Nacogdoches, Texas, 34.

Today's schedule

7 p. m.—Kansas City Santa Fe vs. Heaton, Kan.
8 p. m.—Denver K. C. Life vs. Arkansas State Teachers of Conway
9 p. m.—Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., vs. Wichita Gas & Electric
10 p. m.—Golden State Creamery of Oakland vs. St. Louis Royal Hawks

COACHES BALLOT ON CENTER JUMP

Recommendation to be Filed With Rules Committee Urging Abolishment

CHICAGO, March 16 (U.P.)—The National Basketball Coaches association will vote today on whether to file with the rules committee a recommendation abolishing the center jump.

For the first time, coaches all over the country appeared ready to throw in with the Pacific Coast conference, which pioneered the jumpless game, and its newest recruit, the Big Ten.

The rules committee will hear coaches' recommendations Wednesday.

Clarification of rules regarding interference with the basket by ball players when the ball is near the goal, determining the proper bouncing reaction of a legal ball and optional markings of the court so that the backboards will be exactly four feet inside the end line, will be suggested.

Kegler Handicap Tournney Planned

Singles and Doubles Events Starting Friday

Second of the handicap and sweepstakes bowling tournaments will be conducted at Twin Falls bowling alleys Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was announced this afternoon by Fred Stone, director of the alleys.

Handicap singles and doubles will be staged on the three days, with the sweepstakes toppling off the tournament at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Keglers in the handicap events will receive two-thirds of the difference between their season's averages and 100. Entry fee of 75 cents in singles and doubles will include bowling cost. Prizes in doubles will be 50 per cent of the award money for first and 40 per cent for second. Singles prizes will be 80 per cent for first, 30 per cent for second and 20 per cent for third.

Sweepstakes will be bowled across four alleys. Entry fee is 50 cents, bowling not included.

SPORT SQUIBS

(by H. J. W.)

At the Sun Valley national ski races on Sunday, we had the pleasure of meeting and talking with Dick Durance, who had just completed his conquest of America's best ski riders.

Durance, born in Florida, but now a resident of Vermont with his parents, is attending Dartmouth university at Hanover, New Hampshire, and with his brother, Jack, and his coach, Walter Prager, arrived in the Valley after the meet had been transferred from the east due to lack of snow.

A member of the 1936 Olympic team, Dick is a small-statured, sharp featured young fellow, not looking a day over 21, and full of the proverbial college pep.

We asked him what he thought of the country.

"Boy, this is great!"

How did he like the hills here, and how did they compare with the ones back on the east coast?

"The hills here are much steeper and a lot higher. You know we have nothing like these hills back there for height. But our courses are just as tricky and just as tough to make."

He stopped talking then long enough to let a couple of news reel camera-men take his picture on the back steps of the lodge. As the news reels clicked, a bus-load of rival ski-riders arrived on the scene. Durance leaped in the air, shouted something at us that sounded like "see you again" and in a belting voice greeted the new arrivals with a string of foreign words that left us not even able to guess what language it was.

They tell us at the lodge that the Austrian ski instructors are quite the ladies' men and therefore it was not surprising for the writer to overhear a couple of easterner dowagers, one from New York, applying for Hans Hauser, No. 1 ski instructor and a favorite with the lodge's ladies. The conversation ran something like this:

"Poor Hans. He had such terrible luck. Having to break trail for those other skiers. Don't you think he's cute?"

"He's just darling. He didn't show up in the races so well, but he did have the best form."

I wish my Jackie could dress like Hans in ski clothes and I'd make him wear them all the time."

Just a sample of light talk that we had no business listening to, but which we just couldn't resist.

We were escorted around the famed lodge and to the slide by J. P. Gallagher, the Evening Times' special correspondent who knew by sight all the big-wigs on the grounds. Gallagher also introduced us to Miss Mackenzie Smith, great granddaughter of the founder of the Mormon church.

Brooklyn Hires Hurdling Coach To Teach Dodgers How to Run on Bases

By HENRY McEMORE

NEW YORK, Mar. 16 (U.P.)—Lovers of burlesque and the Brooklyn Dodgers were gratified to learn by dispatches from Clearwater, Fla., today that Manager Burleigh Grimes has engaged Percy Beard, former world's hurdling champion, to instruct the Dodgers in base-running.

This was good news because it dispelled, once and for all, that Grimes meant it when, on taking charge of the Dodgers this year, he said he would leave whumby to Milne, comedy to Cantor, the weird to Rolmer, and operate the team with the strict efficiency of a Lorraine factory. The fact that he has engaged a hurdling coach to teach base-running is proof positive that Burleigh was only talking through his whiskers, and that the Dodgers will come forth to meet the enemy next month as daffy as ever.

Need Hurdle Lessons

At the same time, one is forced to admit that a few sound lessons in hurdling is likely to improve the Dodgers' skill in running the bases. Hurdlers, as you know, must learn to leap obstacles, and Brooklyn players are constantly faced by obstacles when on the base paths. Their obstacles usually take the form of other Brooklyn players who, not accustomed to being on base, lose their heads.

The Dodgers could have used a little hurdling on that memorable afternoon in 1926 when, with the bases loaded and but one out, Babe Herman DOUBLED in a double play. Herman ran right on by Chick Fewster, who was on first, and slid into third just as Dazzy Vance, who had been on second, also slid into it. Had he known hurdling, Herman could have neatly "scooped" over the dazzer and headed for home.

Hurdle for Fly Balls

Beard, the training camp dispatch said, also would instruct

The outfielders how to hurdle after flyballs.

The dispatch did not say just how much he would teach them, so I suppose it's safe to assume that he will instruct them in the art from beginning to end. The first thing, of course, will be a course in how to come out of the starting pits. This conjures up the charming picture of the Brooklyn outfielders crouched in their starting holes, waiting for a ball to be hit in their direction. I wonder if Manager Grimes, from his seat on the bench, will fire a pistol when a ball is hit as a signal for his outfielders to get going? I doubt if he will be allowed to carry a pistol, however, as the temptation to use it on himself sometime during the season might prove irresistible.

Delightful Sight

The sight of a Brooklyn outfielder, preferably a bearded one, hurdling after a long fly to deep center should be delightful. There will be no actual hurdles in centerfield, of course, but habit will force him to hurdle just the same. From the grandstand the effect will not be unlike that of a Texas jackrabbit tearing across the open plain. If the outfielder should reach the ball just as he is in the midst of a "hurdle" many things may result. For perfect hurdling form does not lend itself to catching baseballs. As a hurdler takes a barrier his forward leg should be thrown out parallel to the ground, with just the slightest bend in it, and the other leg should be parallel to the hurdle. And the head and shoulders should be held low, with the arms stretched forward after the manner of a father greeting a prodigal son.

My guess is that the Brooklyn outfield will be laid out, en masse, with fractured skulls before the first western trip begins.

Lee Handley Hits First Home Run of Season for Pittsburgh

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 16 (U.P.)—Lee Handley, free agent infielder for whom the Pittsburgh Pirates paid $20,000, drew Pie Traynor's praise today. Handley hit the home run of batting practice yesterday, a long smash over left field wall, and didn't work at second base. The squad held its first workout at full strength except for holdout Paul Waner, league batting champion.

DYKES NAMES PITCHERS

Colwell's Majestic Pharmacy

Lee Handley Hits First Home Run of Season for Pittsburgh

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 16 (U.P.)—Lee Handley, free agent infielder for whom the Pittsburgh Pirates paid $20,000, drew Pie Traynor's praise today. Handley hit the home run of batting practice yesterday, a long smash over left field wall, and didn't work at second base. The squad held its first workout at full strength except for holdout Paul Waner, league batting champion.

DYKES NAMES PITCHERS

PASADENA, Calif., March 16 (U.P.)—Manager Jim Dykes said today he will send John Rigney, Frank Pappish and Bill Dietrich against the Los Angeles Const league club in the Chicago White Sox exhibition game at Ontario Saturday. He will use Vernon Kennedy, Monty Stratton and John Whitehead against the Angels Sunday. Rain yesterday cut short a workout in which pitchers were ordered to bear down and "show something."

CUBS START GAMES

AVAILON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., March 16 (U.P.)—The Chicago Cubs start exhibition games Wednesday without much training so far, because of rain and work on the playing field. A downpour prevented workouts yesterday.

Why Laxatives Fail In Stubborn Constipation

Twelve to 24 hours is too long to wait when relief from clogged bowels and constipation is so badly needed. Colwell's is a powerful, yet gentle, laxative. It acts quickly, causing G.A.S. indigestion and many restless, sleepless nights. If you want REAL, QUICK RELIEF, take a liquid compound such as Ad-Adria. Ad-Adria contains BEVEN, a powerful, yet gentle, laxative. It acts on the stomach and bowels, bringing out all poisons and waste matter that may have caused G.A.S. pains, sour stomach, headaches and sleepless nights for months.

IDAHO POWERITES DEFEAT LAUNDRY

Irv Tanner Captures Laurels As Utilities Crew Wins; Brookfield Victor

Annexing the first two games, Idaho Power plumen toppled National Laundry 2 to 1 in the Commercial league last night. Brookfield won over Twin Falls Lumber by the same score.

Irv Tanner captured all laurels for the night by turning in 562 for five hits and 215 for the best single game. Harper's 480 was high in City league. His 184 took tops in single games.

Negro Ghosts to Tangle Here With Oranges Saturday

The Negro Ghosts, considered the cleverest team in basketball today, will make their appearance here on Saturday night, according to Luther Bice, manager of the Local "Orange Transportation quint, one of the strongest in this section.

A registered AAU team, the Negroes claim the best dribbler in the world in "Fuzzy" Evans, who, the advance publicity states, has never yet been stopped. Their center, Dick Dempsey, six feet three inches tall, has the ability to "palm" a basketball in either hand, much the same as most people handle a baseball. In Eli "Praying Parson" Hickman, they present one of the best long shots in the game.

Opposing the colored gentlemen will be the regular Orange Transportation squad made up of such players as Gail Green, Al Westergren, Ray Turner, Spee Haslam, Johnny Wells and others well known in central Idaho basketball circles.

On Thursday night the Ghosts tangled with the Rupert Boosters at Rupert.

HAWAIIAN COFFEE SLUMPS

HONOLULU (U.P.)—The only coffee plantations in the United States may be abandoned unless federal subsidies are available. A minimum of 8 cents a pound is necessary for survival of the industry, according to Louis J. Macfarlane, president of the Kona civic club.

STRIKES TO SPARE

WITH FRED STONE

That Idaho Power gang really got hot; 876 their first game, 884 their second. They cooled off a little the third, and National Laundry "stuck up" on 'em to win one game.

W. I. Tanner was the shining light for the Commercial league, his 562 being tops for totals and his 215 also the high single. A double and a turkey his best game, with three errors and one split all told, is pretty good bowling in any man's league.

Sol Nesby also had a good series. Sol doubled out to end his first game. Three splits, two errors for him his three games.

Not a double for Graf Self. He just couldn't get his first ball in the pocket.

W. I. Johnson had plenty of trouble; five errors and five splits. Four of his splits came in his last game. They kept W. I. in hot water plenty. One double did help out a little.

For the Idaho Power team, Ollie Taylor was the goat.

Bill Ford paced the Laundry men with 541 for his three games. One split for Bill but several errors. Two doubles and a turkey showed that he hit the pocket part of the time.

Something's wrong — Louie Pughano only got two splits. He did kinda make up for it in errors. Louis collected himself a turkey his second heat.

Sprouts was there in a big noisy way, mostly noise. Oh, he hit the head pin a few times, as I see the scorekeeper gave him a couple of doubles, but between you and me I think they gave them to him.

For the Laundry team, Al Pughano was the goat.

GELBERT HITS HARD

TAMPA, Fla., March 16 (U.P.)—The hitting of infielder Charley Gelbert, purchased last winter from the St. Louis Cardinals, was outstanding in the Cincinnati Reds' camp today. Gelbert, who returned to regular play last year after a hunting accident that kept him on the sidelines for two seasons, smacked out a home run and a double yesterday as his squad, the Sheehans, defeated the Kellys, 5-2, in a six inning practice game.

McKENNIE TRIMS SQUAD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (U.P.)—Manager Bill McKennie of the Boston Bees trimmed his unwieldy recruit squad drastically today, sending 13 to Columbia, S. C., to train under Manager Jack Onslow. They were Erickson, George Kahre, Southern, Marsella, Chamberlain, Kalfas, Cabeyunski, Ereno, Largen, Archopolis, Fleming and Whitika.

Junior Hi Opens Softball Drills

Practice by the various teams in the junior high school on softball was begun this week, Coach Lawrence Lundin said today. Monday of next week will see the first interclass contest with room 111 and room 213 of the Red division slated for the initial game.

Places for the first round in the league tournament have been drawn and were announced by Mr. Lundin to be as follows: In the Red division, Rooms 141-213, 215-217, 05-by, 017-by, 013-by, 011-211, 209-115, 07-113; in the White division, 018-by, 210-208, 214-212, 012-by, 210-010, 114-110, 116-108, 112-by.

KILLING TALENTED MEN

Another "treason trial" seems to be in the making at Moscow.
Alexis L. Rykov and Nikolai Bukharin, until recently two of the most prominent men in the Russian scheme of things, have been expelled from the Communist party; if things go according to schedule, they will presently be facing the grim Soviet courts just as other equally distinguished Russians have done before them.
During the French revolution, someone remarked that "the revolution is devouring its own children." Never was the truth of this aphorism brought out more terribly than during the past year in Russia. Sixteen prominent revolutionists were tried, convicted of treason, and executed, last July; last January, 17 more were tried and convicted, 13 of them being shot. Now apparently, the process is to be repeated once more.

One's first reaction to this sort of thing is to shudder with horror and conclude that Russia is at the mercy of a conscienceless band of assassins. And yet—ruthless as the Stalin clique undoubtedly is—we would miss the point of the whole thing if we dismissed it in that fashion.

What is significant about it all is that these outbursts of cold, calculated violence are part of the price that must be paid for a dictatorship. It was so in Germany, where Roehm and his followers were killed in the famous "blood purge." It has been so in Italy. That it is so in Russia, the treason trials bear eloquent witness.

For a dictatorship has no room for an opposition. The state must be completely responsive to a single will; as a logical corollary, no one may question that will, or do anything which in any way weakens it or distracts it from its purpose.

So a dictatorial machine must be completely ruthless. The men in charge of it are not dictators because they are bloodthirsty and unscrupulous; they are dictators. If they lacked these traits, they would very soon cease to be dictators.

And this leads us to a point worth bearing in mind. The Fascist and the Communist share the notion that democracy is too inefficient and cumbersome to cope with the diverse problems of this modern world. They differ as to the remedy, but they do agree that only a dictator can "get things done" neatly and with dispatch. Whatever its faults, it is at least efficient.

But—is it? Is it efficiency, to live by a system which compels you to kill all the prominent men who do not agree with you? Does democracy, which is able to use the talents of the public men who happen to be in the minority, commit itself to any such outlandish and costly inefficiency as that?

Is not a dictatorship, with its spies, its blood purges and its subterranean treasuries, actually the most inefficient form of government that could possibly be devised?

HENPECKED HERRS

The henpecked husband is a figure as old in human annals as the institution of marriage itself, but it has remained for Herr Hitler's government in Germany, with its customary ingenuity, to present an entirely new slant on him.

The Supreme Administrative Court of Prussia has just ruled that a man who lets himself be henpecked by his wife is not fit to hold office in the Prussian state. A state official who had been notoriously dominated by his good frau has been, under this edict, deprived of his job—sent home, presumably, to make what explanation he can to his dominant helpmate.

Now this ruling has its points. If a man can't rule his own home, how can he rule a state? The answer seems obvious... until you reflect that such a superlative statesman as Abraham Lincoln was one of the most henpecked mortals in all 19th century America.

PASSING OF AN ORACLE

People who have been acclaiming Postmaster General James A. Farley's uncanny skill as a political prophet might give a thought to the coming resignation of Emil Hurja, for years Farley's right-hand man.

Mr. Hurja has announced that he will presently leave politics to return to private business, and it is quite possible that this may have an effect on Mr. Farley's gifts as a prognosticator.

For it was Hurja, by all accounts, who collected the statistics and erected the graphs on which the postmaster general based his forecasts. Hurja knew politics as few men knew it. For years, Washington correspondents have marked him down as a man who had an uncanny way of telling just how the cat was going to jump, come election day.
It will be interesting to see how the rare Farley gift survives the loss of this talented lieutenant.

HE FOUND OUT JUST HOW EXCLUSIVE WE ARE!

Dear Mr. Pot Shots:

Seen: A wealthy man neatly dressed in sport togs from Sun Valley was refused admission to a western barn dance at Twin Falls because he wasn't dressed in a dress suit.

Yours truly, —R. U. Shocked?

THERE ALWAYS IS

Pot Shooter:

There will be, I'm sure, the usual amount of walling and husband-and-wife quarrels when absent-minded hubbubs reach into their inside coat pockets and discover they're still carrying around the income tax form they filled out a week ago but forgot to mail.

—Madagascar

WE HEAR SOME OF THEM WERE TAKEN!

Pot Shots:

I understand some of the big city movie technicians discovered that the Ketchum brand of poker players is far from being yokel.

—Phil

HE TELEGRAPHED THAT PUNCH!

Pot Shootings:

It's swell entertainment and you sure get your money's worth watching those guys take punishment, but there was one slight inconsistency in that last wrestling program you people had over there in Twin Falls Saturday night.

Just when everything was supposed to be passionate anger, and the villain of the piece was supposed to be walloping the referee, did you notice that they didn't time that blow very well and the referee started to fall before the punch got him on the chin?

That's the first time I ever saw a punch delivered by mental telepathy and actually knock a man down.

—Kimberly Kantor

'SMATTER? DON'T YOU GO FOR CHARIVARIS?

Pot Shots:

Marriage is a sacred and solemn institution, the framework on which our country rests, the basic fundamental of our civilization.

Yeah.

Is that why a bunch of friends get together and make a pair of newweds walk down Main avenue on foot with a caravan of cars behind them screaming horns?

—Emilee

NEW IDEA—ITALIANS TO SCARE OFF DEATH!

Pot Shooter:

Your paper mentions the very peculiar diet of an elderly California gent—101 years old—says is the reason he has lived so long. The diet is onions and garlic.

That would keep even the Grim Reaper at arm's length, yes?

—Swill Stuff

SETTING-UP EXERCISES!

Pot Shots:

On account because I am naturally very interested in any new development in this here great nation of ours from the rockbound coasts of Maine to etc., I kept tab on the number of sit-down strikes occurring in widely scattered General Motors plants. Most of the sit-downs were settled within a couple of days, but that's neither here nor there. My figures show this: within a 20-day period, there were 18 sit-down strikes.

I ask you, Pot Shots, isn't that carrying things a bit too far? If they become any more numerous, it will begin to look like callisthenics.

—X. S. Baggage

THE OX PICKED THE WRONG MAN!

Pot Shots:

This guy Mussolini certainly must stand out as the big shot in any crowd. When an angry ox ran amuck, he headed straight for Mussolini. The story was a bit spoiled, however, by the fact that Mussolini didn't just stand up, wave his hand, say "Stop," and have the ox cower at the command. Nope, everybody in sight jumped on the ox and tossed him by mere weight. If you'll excuse me, I'll make bold enough to say that fact must have slipped through the cables while Mussolini wasn't looking.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

By MARIE BLIZARD. © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York, advertising executive, runs her delectable father's Connecticut estate to LARRY SMITH, attractive bachelor architect and landscaper who finds herself liking him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, JENNIFER, just out of college for and on her first job in New York.

Jennifer is a vivacious, somewhat selfish sister who respects Daphne's guidance and her first night in New York she dates TUCKER ALBANY, Daphne's beau. Then Daphne sees in Jennifer a challenge to herself—a challenge to get a bit more from her own life than a career.

Daphne is under the impression that Larry is married until one night, returning home, Jennifer announces Larry has been there and is NOT married. Jennifer, unaware of Daphne's liking for him, says she is going to set her hat for Larry.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII

DAPHNE came back to the living room ten minutes later. She wore her bright green tweed suit with a big collar of soft black fur. Her small green hat bore a tantalizing feather of pheasant thrust jauntily in its crown. The brightness of the green pointed up the white and black contrast of her skin and hair.

Tuck looked at her approvingly while she drew on her black gloves. Then his glance swung around to Jennifer—Jennifer looking very much like a magazine cover girl in her yellow wool coat, a shade deeper than her soft flaxen hair which flowed out from beneath a childish bonnet of brown velvet.

He sighed. "I wish I could make up my mind which of you two girls is the most beautiful. You're such perfect folks for each other. Ah! A man has troubles."

Jennifer avoided Daphne's eyes and was angry with herself for doing so. "Why try to make up your mind, Tuck? It isn't likely that Daphne and I would ever enter into any competition for a mere man. Would we, Daphne?"

She smiled but her eyes asked a question. They were cool, penetrating eyes and left no doubt of their meaning.

Daphne laughed. "Don't be ridiculous, you two. Who ever thought of such an idea? Jennifer, don't ever take Tuck seriously. He never means anything he says."

"Suppose you let me make my own conclusions? I'm not really a child, you know." Jennifer's voice had a bettish note.

"You certainly are," Tuck said and pretended to shove her out the door.

SHE is really a child, Daphne thought, noting the silliness in Jennifer's face. Jennifer sat between Daphne and Tuck in the roadster. She kept her lovely eyes straight ahead and answered Tuck's cheerful attempts at conversation in monosyllables.

She is acting like a child and a fool to be acting this way to me, Daphne's thoughts ran on, uncomfortably.

But when they had turned off the Parkway and had driven through the familiar backwoods roads of Plattsport and were at last at Brett Hall, something within her told her that she was not a fool.

Something in Larry Smith's eyes when he saw her told her, too, that she was not silly. She saw him before they got to the house. He was—as she had seen him first in riding clothes—on his knees putting burlap bags around the plants under the windows of the corner room, which he had looked through that first day.

"Hi, Squire!" Jennifer called from the car.

Larry straightened, put his pipe in his pocket and came down toward the car.

Then he saw Daphne. "HELLO," he said and there was great warmth in his voice but his eyes were for Daphne and it was to her that he held out his hand.

"We've taken advantage of your invitation," she said. "This is my sister whom you've met and this is Tucker Albany, Mr. Smith."

"Of course, I've met the little sister. Glad to see you all." He shook hands with Tuck.

"It's been a divine drive, Mr. Smith. You're a lamb to ask us up."

Jennifer offered him an angelic smile and held out her small hand for him to help her out of the car.

"A cold one," he said. "Let's get inside. I've been burning some of these fine hickory logs and I think there is something warmer than that."

They went indoors. "Mother," Larry was saying, "this is Daphne. This is the little girl in the portrait—the one with the black curls."

AND then they were all talking. There was some talk of ask-about the Hall. Jennifer had taken Tuck to see the old school room. Aunt Alice, twin to Larry's mother, made tea and Larry poured cocktails for himself and Tuck.

Daphne felt that she had known them all her life. All of them but Larry.

Dusk fell early and filled the room with shadows.

"Wouldn't you like to have a look around outside before it gets dark?" Larry asked Daphne.

She went out with him from the room conscious of her sister's eyes on them. It made her uneasy but she soon forgot it strolling with Larry about the grounds she well remembered.

Then, too soon, it was time for them to drive back to the city.

"May I call you?" Larry said for her alone to hear.

"Please do," she said.

The three of them—Tuck and Jennifer and Daphne—drove back to town, stopping on the way for dinner.

"Let's go to a movie?" Jennifer said.

"Do you mind if I don't?" Daphne cut in. "You two run along. I've some things I want to do at home."

All she wanted to do was think. To think of Brett Hall. To remember every corner of it as she had seen it. To remember the things Larry Smith had said to her about it.

Jennifer found her in bed when she returned from the movies. Daphne had rather dreaded that moment.

Jennifer hung up her yellow coat, tossed her brown hat on a stand. Then she dropped down on Daphne's bed.

"So you've fallen in love," she said pleasantly.

Daphne said, "Idiot!"

"You can't fool me," Jennifer said. "Why didn't you tell me how it was? I'm not a bad gal at heart. I'm awfully sorry, Daph. I wouldn't have barged in only I didn't know. I think he's grand and I wish you luck. I wish I could fall in love only I guess I'm not the falling-in-love kind."

"You're only a baby, Jennifer. You'll fall in love some day," and she added hastily, "not that I have."

"Well, if I do, remember one thing, Daphne; I expect fair play and no big sister stuff. I'm just warning you."

Daphne said, "Fall in love with the right man and it will be all right with me, but be careful."

LETTING IT RIMMER

WASHINGTON, March 16—Behind all the hubbub of confidence reflected in current speech-making and propaganda, many a level-headed associate of President Roosevelt is getting around to the private opinion that the President will eventually find some other means of attaining his objectives.

The way the most reasonable authorities size up the situation now is this:

The President has presented his argument and proposed his solution. He has gone off vacationing to think it over and let the country debate. No decision by congress is in prospect for months. But opinion is that debate will drag on into the summer.

If the debate itself does not develop a satisfactory substitute solution, it is still possible that coming events will. For example, the coming Wagner decision may inform the President and congress how to get wage and hour legislation by some new means; or a supreme court justice or two may die; or several may retire at the end of the present session of the court in June.

It is therefore still quite possible that the President will attain his objectives in the end by some means now unpredictable, but not of either packing the court or a constitutional amendment. At least it now seems to be more likely than any of the other existing possibilities.

The house agriculture committee has postponed that state AAA system to 1942 again. You may recall the assembled farm leaders here wanted 1940, but Agriculture Secretary Wallace is insisting on 1942. It will give him a chance to handle the issue after he is elected President in 1940—if he is—instead of just before the campaign starts.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Among the peculiar notions which have developed in recent years and which seem to persist because of constantly active propaganda is the theory that the aluminum from cooking utensils in some manner poisons the human being or promotes growth of cancer in the human body.

This report persists notwithstanding reports to the contrary by important commissions set up to study the subject in England, Germany and the United States.

Actually, there is not the slightest evidence to support the charge. Investigations made in some important centers indicate that clean aluminum cooking utensils are attacked to an insignificant degree by foods that are of neutral reaction.

Acid foods or foods to which baking soda has been added may dissolve small amounts of aluminum from the cooking utensils. If, however, sugar is present the amount of corrosion is less.

The largest amount of aluminum found in any food after cooking was 118 parts per million in apple butter which had been cooked in an aluminum vessel for 6 1/2 hours. If all the food to be eaten in 90 days were cooked in an aluminum cooking utensil, there still would not be enough of the metal in the food to interfere seriously in any way with normal activities of the human body.

Occasionally, it would seem to be conceivable that materials coming from cooking utensils or from foods might produce unfavorable action in the human body. Thus, pieces of broken glass occasionally have been found in food substances, and foods have even been contaminated by splinters of wood, wire, nails, and other foreign bodies. These facts should indicate the necessity of careful control over food supplies.

Since chemical insecticides are used for destroying insect life on plants, poisonous materials occasionally find their way into food in this manner. Sprays of nicotine, tobacco dust, Paris green, and lead, as well as arsenic, frequently are used on growing fruits and vegetables.

Such poisons should, of course, be removed from fruits by thorough washing. In the case of vegetables such as lettuce and cabbage, it is possible to remove the outer leaves and then, by washing, to get rid of practically all the insecticide. It is not possible to do much about cleaning asparagus, except by washing thoroughly with suitable solutions.

A great deal of agitation has been associated with the sale of apples and oranges on which metallic sprays have been used. The U. S. department of agriculture has instituted definite regulations for control of insecticides used on such fruits.

Nevertheless, to be safe, you should thoroughly wash the indentation

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

MARCH 16, 1922

Movements were initiated last yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce directors for a push for the restoration of southern Idaho to the mountain time district, so that there shall not be two time systems with resulting confusion; to get behind the movement to prevent the change from six days a week to three in the Short Line railroad schedule of the Rogers branch, and to get merchants to appropriately decorate for the coming of the D. A. R. convention.

The directors requested the civic bureau to prepare data on the time situation and to send it with resolutions to Congressmen Addison T. Smith and the Idaho senators asking them to push the bill which has again been introduced by Congressman Smith. The bill failed at the last session but the Twin Falls representative is after it again.

27 YEARS AGO

MARCH 16, 1910

East Lawn addition to this city has the prospect of having a big business boom. Five new residences have been let under one contract with the lowest cost at $2,500, ranging from that up to $3,000. The town under which the lots are sold makes it impossible for cheap sharks to go up and accordingly the residences planned are worthy of the homes already put up in East Lawn.

C. A. Krueger, in an interview on the prospective building in this city, gave the following information as to his own individual contracts and taken as an indication of the building-going on—it will open the eyes of the residents of this city. Mr. Krueger has at present 13 houses under construction in the city, with a total valuation of $38,150. With the amount that other contractors of the city have under construction, the value will run over $150,000 for residences.

where the stem of the apple is attached, since rather large amounts of poisons may collect in such places.

No doubt, agricultural chemists will in the future be able to develop non-poisonous insecticides in quantities required to prevent deterioration in vegetables and in fruits.

You May Not Know That—

The KSL radio broadcast from Sun Valley Lodge on opening night is believed to be the longest remote control broadcast ever attempted by a single station. Wire facilities were routed from the lodge to Hailey, from Hailey to Boise, and from Boise to Salt Lake City.

MCCORMICK GETS CALDWELL POST

Oscar F. McCormick, former line-man and combination man with the Twin Falls exchange of the Mountain States Telegraph and Telephone company, was new wire chief at Caldwell today.

McCormick started as apprentice line-man here in 1920, and had been with the Twin Falls office until January of this year.

Joe M. Deardorff, formerly part of the Twin Falls staff, has been promoted to wire chief at Blackfoot. He was transferred from Twin Falls to Blackfoot a year ago as switchboardman. Deardorff started with the Mountain States concern in Boise as storeman in 1923. He served as testboardman and switchboardman until 1931, when he was transferred to Twin Falls.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

The shell of the cuttlefish is located under the skin of the back. This product is often hung up in bird cages, that the birds may peck at it and obtain grit. Before the invention of blotting paper, pulverized cuttle-bone was used to absorb wet ink.

DOMESTIC HELP SCARCE IN CITY

Women to Fill Higher Paid
Jobs Needed at Local Employment Unit

An acute lack of girls and women to fill higher paid jobs in domestic service and also to meet waitress requirements in the better class hotels and restaurants of Twin Falls is noted here. It is revealed by Raymond D. Butler, acting supervisor for this district of the United States Employment service. Those with more experience are needed to fill the domestic vacancies, Butler indicates, but experience is not always required to secure waitress work. Personality and a well groomed look are more important in the latter field, he said. Girls or women with the desirable qualifications were urged to register with the employment service at once. "Every day we have calls for this class of help and we have to turn them down because we cannot meet the demand," Butler said. "Anyone interested should contact the local office at once as there are seemingly many desirable jobs open in this field."

Epworth Leagues Hear Illinois Man

Groups From Five Towns on North Side Listen to
Dr. Davidson

GOODING, March 16 (Special)—Dr. W. J. Davidson of Chicago, a member of the Methodist board of education, addressed a group meeting of the Methodist Epworth leagues of Gooding, Jerome, Wendell, Hagerman, Shoshone, and the Gooding College Wesleyan league Sunday evening in the Gooding M. E. church. Title of his talk was "Who Am I?" He brought out four human characteristics: instinct, impulse, inquisitiveness, and capacities that makes us what we are. He finished his talk by bringing out that God is everywhere, and that eventually any question revolves back to that.

Social Hour
Previous to the talk a social hour was held, beginning at six o'clock. Games were played, and refreshments were served. Following the social meeting officers were elected for an organization comprising the six leagues. This organization is to be known as the Gooding sub-district Epworth League.

THEATERS

New Star in Orpheum Show

The flaming romance of a lovely fugitive fleeing from strife-torn Spain, "Wings of the Morning," Twentieth Century Fox release, opens tomorrow at the Orpheum theater. Heading the cast are Annabella, a brilliant new star, Henry Fonda, Leslie Banks and John McCormack, the famous Irish tenor.

Idaho Return Hit

Beginning tomorrow the Idaho theater presents as its regular mid-week hit "Murder in the Fleet," with Robert Taylor, Jean Parker, Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton and Ted Healy. The program is completed with a Popeye cartoon, Charlie Chase comedy, and latest news events. Coming Friday to the Idaho theater is "Along Came Love," with Irene Hervey, Charles Starrett, Doris Kenyon, and H. B. Warner.

Thrilling Rescues In Roxy's Feature

Courageous coast guard crews rescue from the crater of death passengers from a burning ship, and later, passengers and crew of a hurricane-battered vessel, in RKO Radio's romantic drama, "Sea Devils," starring Victor McLaglen, Preston Foster and Ida Lupino, with Donald Woods heading the supporting cast at the Roxy.

McLaglen appears in the role of a hard-boiled boat's mate in the coast guard, who becomes greatly concerned when his daughter, Ida Lupino, shows interest in Preston Foster, a happy-go-lucky sailor who prides himself on being quite a ladies' man.

McLaglen and Foster played together in RKO's prize-winning play of 1935, "The Informer," which resulted in McLaglen gaining the Academy award for the best male screen performance of 1935.

Seen in supporting roles are Gordon Hines, Helen Flint, Pierre Watkin, Murray Alper and Billy Gilbert.

ALLIANCE PLANS BY-LAW CHANGE

Workers Convention Called in Boise; Local 39 Holds
Elections

Attempts will be made at Boise Saturday to standardize the constitution of the Workers' Alliance of Idaho by adopting and working under the constitution of the Workers' Alliance of America as recommended by the executive board of the national organization. L. W. Williams, state president, announced here today.

Mr. Williams will leave for Boise, accompanied by other members of local 39, Saturday morning to attend a state convention to be held at that time, he indicated at the regular meeting of the group last night.

Elections to fill vacancies existing among officers of local 39 were also held last night and the resignations of Eugene Scott and Al Hacker, members of the board of trustees, who resigned because of personal business, were accepted.

Elected trustees to fill the positions vacated were Clifford Bullock and Jack Zwoble while George H. Ghans was elected representative on the citizens' committee, and Clarence Mills, marshal.

As citizens' committee representative it will be the duty of Mr. Ghans to attend all meetings of the Associated Charities to represent the Workers' Alliance, local 39, officials indicated.

Rites Held at View Church for Woman

BURLEY, March 16 (Special)—Funeral rites for Mrs. Garnet Bernice Moncur, 27, were held at the View L. D. S. ward church house Saturday with Bishop J. W. Patterson officiating.

Speakers were William Tinsley, Joseph P. Payne and Bishop Patterson. Music was furnished by two trios, Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Mrs. William Grow and Mrs. Warren Wood, a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Payne, and a solo by Mrs. Payne. Invocation was offered by Lester Gruevel and benediction by Wilford Wingley.

Interment was in the Burley cemetery. Graveside remarks were given by Rev. Leroy Walker of the Methodist church. The grave was dedicated by Bishop Patterson.

Foursquare Leader To Hold Services

He is here visiting all churches of the district.

EQUIPMENT INSTALLED

BUHL, March 16 (Special)—C. C. Voelter, manager of the Ramona theater, is installing sound equipment at the Cory theater. The show-house, which has not been used for several years, is being completely renovated inside. It will be used as a second talking picture theater if there is enough demand.

To Lead Services

Rev. H. D. Mitzner, assistant northwest district Foursquare supervisor, who will preach every evening at the local church beginning tonight and concluding Sunday.

PAINTER SPEAKS AT SCOUT MEET

Over 100 Attend Banquet at Kimberly; Court of Honor Held

Roy Painter, Twin Falls banker and active Scout, was the principal speaker at the Kimberly-Hansen-Murtaugh district "Get Your Scout" banquet held last evening at the Kimberly high school and which was attended by over 100 persons.

Mr. Painter compared the chances of the boys in 1870, 1900 and 1935 and pointed out that the modern boy, because of supervised play and instruction, has a much better chance at life than his ancestors. He also indicated that boys of the earlier days were faced with great hardships which put such a burden on them that they seldom had time for study or play.

Dr. J. N. Davis, council Scout commissioner, served as toastmaster during the evening. Arrangements for the banquet were in charge of Earl Ridgeway, with Rev. T. W. Bowman, Clyde B. Urban and R. J. Metcalf assisting.

A feature of the meeting was a court of honor at which an Eagle badge was presented to Ray Potter, assistant Scoutmaster of troop 42 of Kimberly. Many other Scout awards were also presented.

R. J. Metcalf was presented with a five-year veteran's award and Scouts of the Murtaugh troop put on a skit entitled "What Is A Boy Worth?"

"ALL-BRAN SAVED ME FROM A LIFETIME OF SUFFERING"

"I had suffered from constipation for three years. My condition was becoming really serious, when I read of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

"I bought a package. Within two weeks, my bowels were regular, and I began to enjoy living again. It has saved me from a lifetime of suffering."—Mrs. Lloyd Baird, 384 S. Bannock St., Denver, Colo.

Try ALL-BRAN yourself. It corrects the common type of constipation. Within the body, it absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Just eat two tablespoons daily. Three times daily in severe cases. As a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes.

Isn't it better to eat this wholesome food than to take pills and drugs that may be harmful and often lose their effect? ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Ruby Keeler says:

"Luckies are a light smoke that treat a tender throat right"

"In a way, it's easier to keep in condition as a dancer than as a singer. Exercise can keep the muscles in shape, but there are a lot of things that can go wrong with the voice and throat. It stands to reason, then, that any actress wants a cigarette that is gentle and strikes the right note with her throat. I started smoking Luckies 4 years ago. They're a light smoke that treat a tender throat right."

Ruby Keeler

LOVELY WARNER BROS. STAR
NOW APPEARING IN
"READY, WILLING AND ABLE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Keeler verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
