Hughes Claims FDR Plan Would Impair Court's Efficiency

Chief Justice Airs Views in Letter Presented at Committee Hearing

WASHINGTON, March 22 (UP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., presented to the senate judiciary committee today a letter from Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes characterizing President Roosevelt's judicial reorganization plan as liable to "impair" the efficiency of the supreme court.

Wheeler was the first witness opposing the President's plan, to appear before the senate group.

Hughes' letter expressed confidence that his views on the court plan were in agreement with those of the other members of the supreme bench.

Would Impair Efficiency

"An increase in the number of justices of the supreme court, apart from any question of policy, which I do not discuss, would not promote the efficiency of the court," Hughes' letter said.

"It is believed that it would impair that efficiency so long as the court acts as a unit," Hughes said.

Hughes added that "it is believed" a suggested plan for dividing the court into groups to speed its work would be "impracticable" because "a large proportion of the cases we hear are important and a decision by a part of the court would be unsatisfactory."

He called attention to the constitutional provision that the judicial power shall be vested in "one" supreme court.

First Formal Comment

Hughes said he had not been able to determine positively that his letter represented the views of all members of the high tribunal but he named specifically Associate Justices Van Devanter and Brandeis as approving his statement of the court's position.

The statement by the chief justice was the first formal comment from the court on the widely-disputed reorganization plan proposed by President Roosevelt.

Associate Justice James C. McReynolds, in an informal address delivered before a college fraternity last week, made indirect reference to the President's proposal and indicated his lack of sympathy for the program.

"The supreme court is fully abreast of its work," the chief justice wrote to Wheeler. "This gratifying condition has been maintained for several years. We have been able for several terms to adjourn after disposing of all cases which are ready to be heard."

LOYALISTS MAKE GAINS IN ATTACK ON REBEL ARMY

Report Says 1,000 Insurgent Supply Trucks Captured During Week-End

By IRVING P. PFLAUM

WITH LOYALIST ARMY, MADRID FRONT, March 22 (UP)—Gen. Jose Mola, defender of Madrid, began an attack today on Sigüenza, nationalist base of operations 72 miles northeast of the capital, army dispatches said.

A loyalist air fleet, winging ahead of the rapidly advancing government forces, bombed the Sigüenza railway station, destroying several army trains on which munitions and men were being concentrated, government headquarters reported.

"Caught" 1,000 Trucks

Another bombing squadron "caught" a nationalist supply train of 1,000 trucks on the Aragon highway as it retreated toward Sigüenza with munitions and arms salvaged from the Guadalajara defeat.

Army reports said the loyalist air force dropped 650 heavy bombs on the convoy, destroying most of the trucks and causing many casualties. Thousands of rounds of machine gun bullets were fired at close range into the ranks of accompanying insurgent troops, reports said.

The government's international brigades, led by the crack Garibaldi battalion of anti-fascist Italian volunteers, drove like a three-pronged pickfork into the outer defenses of Sigüenza.

As the Italian units of Gen. Emilio Mola's nationalist army, which launched the fifth Madrid offensive from Sigüenza on March 8, continued to retreat in disorder, the advance became so rapid that the loyalist abandoned their battle lines and split into three columns.

As Rescuers Fought Blast Wreckage With Torches

Rescuers battled a tangled mass of steel and iron when they attempted to retrieve the bodies of the hundreds of pupils killed in the New London, Tex., school blast. Above is a picture of men cutting through steel girds with acetylene torches to enable movement of the debris that covered the bodies of many of the estimated 425 children killed.

Band Will Perform On Infantry's Visit

Overnight encampment of 1,100 soldiers of the Fort Douglas 38th infantry at the Filer fairgrounds tentatively includes a concert by the infantry's crack band, according to final arrangements completed here today for the influx of army forces April 19. The soldiers will stop at Filer en route to the annual encampment at Fort Lewis, Wash.

The troopers will pass through Twin Falls aboard their fleet of convey trucks at 5 p. m. April 19 and will set up camp immediately afterward at the fairgrounds. Captain Ackerman of Fort Douglas informed Chamber of Commerce officials.

Field Kitchens

The trucks will carry complete camping equipment for the 1,100 soldiers and at least 11 field kitchens will accompany the infantry. All food will be purchased in the local area.

The band concert was tentative today, Capt. Ackerman said, but will almost certainly be approved by Fort Douglas chiefs. It is scheduled for 7 to 8 p. m. April 19. A similar concert by the band at the time of the last encampment, held in Twin Falls last year, drew capacity throngs. This year's performance will be held at the fairgrounds grandstands.

Advance Visitation

Advance visitation is scheduled for Twin Falls April 15 when 150 men from Fort Lewis, Wash., traveling in 70 motor trucks, pass through here en route to Salt Lake City to get the infantry troops and bring them back through this area on the way to Fort Lewis.

Following conclusion of the Fort Lewis encampment, the infantry is to return May 28 for another stop at the fairgrounds at Filer, with the possibility of a full day's stopover. The troops may also march about from Filer through Twin Falls and on toward Salt Lake City, although the marching orders may be held up until the convoys take the men nearer the Utah capital, according to F. G. Thompson, secretary of the chamber here.

SIGNERS

LOS ANGELES, March 22 (UP)—Names of 270 students were signed today to an agreement to appear on the campus parking lot at University of California at Los Angeles to be executed.

They thought they were signing a petition for better parking facilities. Bobby Frankenburg, psychology student, did it as a class experiment.

HOLD-UP

CLEVELAND, March 22 (UP)—Joseph Styanich told police today he thought friends were playing blind man's bluff when somebody approached him from behind and placed hands over his eyes. But when another person pressed a pistol against his side and began to rifle his pockets he knew it was a hold-up. Styanich lost a diamond ring and 60 cents in cash.

EGG

SALT LAKE CITY, March 22 (UP)—Guy Tron, Coalville, was proud of an egg measuring eight and one-half inches, masterpiece of one of his White Leghorn hens. In addition to a yoke and albumen, the shell enclosed an egg full-sized egg. But the effort was too much for the poor hen. She died one hour later.

MEET CANCELLED

BOISE, Idaho, March 22 (UP)—Joseph Stemmer, director of highways, said today a called meeting of district and federal engineers for discussion of the next biennial highway building program had been postponed until March 30.

Inclement weather, forcing engineers to remain at their posts, forced postponement of the meeting, he said.

The engineers will decide upon a program to dispose of more than $8,000,000 in road building funds.

BOAT CAPSIZES

FUSAN, Korea, March 22 (UP)—The ferryboat Melu Maru capsized near Seoul today. Twenty-nine bodies recovered, and 19 were missing. Rescuers saved 24.

PRESIDENT EYES PHILIPPINE TRIP

Roosevelt to Take Extended Jaunt to Islands in Fall Or Next Summer

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 22 (UP)—President Roosevelt has tentative plans to travel 10,000 miles toward the far east in the fall of 1937 or summer of 1938 to pay an American "good-will call" on the Philippine islands commonwealth, it was reliably reported today.

Date of the journey—3,000 miles across the United States by train and 7,000 miles to Manila via Hawaii by ship—will depend on when the present session of congress finishes its business.

The federal judiciary program, the executive government reorganization plan and other controversial issues before the national legislature made it certain, however, that the President cannot leave Washington this year for such an extended trip. Congress is expected to run well into the fall.

Mr. Roosevelt's visit to the Philippines would have a triple purpose: It would cement United States-Philippine friendship at a time when the commonwealth is looking forward to its independence; the President could repay the current trip to this country of President Manuel Quezon; and it would provide Roosevelt with another of the sea trips he enjoys.

French Woman Tells of Affair With Mussolini

PARIS, March 22 (UP)—Mme. Madeleine de Fontanges, held for the shooting of Count Charles de Chambrun, told an examining magistrate today that a purported shattered love affair with Premier Benito Mussolini caused her to attempt suicide in Rome last November. She blamed the count for her troubles.

For two hours, the former journalist and actor told the magistrate her alleged romance with the Italian dictator last summer in Rome. She said she met Il Duce in the capital last April and saw him regularly until July 8. After that, Madame Fontanges said she suddenly was unable to see him.

Then she saw Dino Alfieri, ranking fascist official close to Mussolini, she said, who presented her with a round-trip airplane ticket to Paris, suggesting that she leave Rome "for a while." Her testimony at the Palais de Justice then related how Mme. Fontanges after going to Paris to forget returned once more to Rome on a desperate mission to see Il Duce or die.

McOsker will have a mail clerk assisting him.

Quints' Vocabulary Consists Of 15 Words, Says Dr. Dafoe

GALLANDER, Ont., March 22 (UP)—Each of the Dionne quintuplets can now say about 15 words in French, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe said today.

"The babies can ask for a drink of water, and can make their wishes in other regards known," Dr. Dafoe said. "If they want to go outside to play they can get the idea across to their nurses without trouble, but their vocabularies actually only include about 15 words at present, although we expect to have them talking better when they are three years old."

The quintuplets will celebrate their third birthday May 28.

They speak French only, Dr. Dafoe said, but when they can use that tongue fluently they will be taught English.

"The babies are aware of their individual identity, and if Annette, for instance, is addressed as Cecile by a confused nurse or visitor, she will shake her head hard, almost about, 'non, non' and point to Cecile,

Superintendent Tells of Tapping Gas Supply Line Beneath School Building

EARHART CRASH IS INVESTIGATED BY ARMY BOARD

Officials Seek to Find Cause Of "Flying Laboratory's" Accident

HONOLULU, T. H., March 22 (UP)—An army board of inquiry today investigated Amelia Earhart Putnam's crash at Luke field Saturday while mechanics dismantled her $30,000 "flying laboratory" and she sailed for home in California with her crew on a sturdy steamship.

The pioneering flight around the world of the greatest woman flier was delayed probably four months by the accident, but she planned to have the plane rebuilt and try again, the next time for a speed record.

Inspectors at Luke field took photographs of the wreckage of Miss Earhart's silver Lockheed plane, inspected it thoroughly and questioned witnesses to the crash in search of evidence for the formal inquiry. They noted that tracks made by the rear tire were wider at the point where the plane went into its disastrous skid on taking off. This, they said, indicated that the tire was getting softer or that it was forced to bear increased weight caused by a tilting to the right. A defect in the landing gear may have caused the wreck, they said.

The right tire burst as the nine-ton plane rolled 60 miles an hour down the concrete runway. The plane skidded, smashed down the undercarriage and came to rest on its wings.

Before sailing for home Saturday, Miss Earhart told her husband, George Palmer Putnam, in a telephone conversation to Oklahoma, that she would attempt the world flight again in about four months and hoped to beat the record set by Wiley Post in his "Winnee Mae," who circled the earth in seven days, 18 hours, 49 minutes. Post took the short north pole route. Miss Earhart's interrupted flight was to have followed the equator.

Request For Federal Help Is Sent to Borah and Pope; Clark Approves

Application for a $100,000 federal government loan to be used in connection with construction of modern homes among those of low income groups through the American Citizens Protective association was made today, according to announcement by Thomas McDougall of Pocatello, state organizer and president of the association.

Mr. McDougall passed through Twin Falls this afternoon en route from Boise where he conferred with various state officials regarding the association. A letter from Governor Barzilla Clark, addressed to the citizens of Idaho, authorized the state-wide organization of the association, which, is incorporated under the laws of Idaho.

Sent to Senators

The application for the loan, Mr. McDougall said, was dispatched to Senator William E. Borah and Senator James P. Pope, both of whom have signified they are much in favor of the movement toward home construction as started by the association.

After receipt by the two senators, the application will be placed with the proper authorities for their approval and subsequent grant.

The association, whose members trade hour for hour labor on the various homes and who repay the association in small monthly installments for the material loans they receive, is already organized in Twin Falls, Bannock and Bonneville counties. In Pocatello, where the association was started, several homes are now constructed under the plan. The payments made for the loans granted range from $4 to $8 a month, depending on the amount of the funds advanced for the purchase of material to be used in the construction, McDougall said today.

Approved Here

Numerous Twin Falls businessmen have indicated their approval of the plan and have offered to aid in any way possible. In Boise, Dr. J. D. Dunshie, director of public health in Idaho, said the department was in accord with the objectives of the association and urged its continuance from a health standpoint, showing the necessity for providing modern homes for people of low income groups.

Similar statements regarding approval of the association were given Mr. McDougall by Leo Hood, state director of the WPA, Peter Cohn, I.C.R.A. head, and W. W. Godfrey, state director of the National Youth administration.

SENATE PASSES NAVAL MEASURE

Vote 64-11, Despite Protests Of Sen. Frazier Claiming "Arms Race"

WASHINGTON, March 22 (UP)—The senate today passed and sent to conference the $522,847,900 navy supply bill carrying $100,000,000 for construction of ships and aircraft. The vote was 64 to 11.

The measure was passed over the protest of Sen. Lynn Frazier, R., N. D., ardent peace advocate, who contended this country is engaging in a "navy race" with Great Britain.

Under the terms of the bill $130,000,000 would be set aside to begin construction on eight destroyers and four submarines and to continue construction on 81 other vessels, including the two battleships to be started during the current fiscal year. The bill appropriates $15,179,000 for the dreadnaughts.

Aircraft building contemplates 397 airplanes and two non-rigid airships. The allocation is $10,911,730 more than that for the current year.

Shaw Collapses After Testimony at Hearing

BLAST CAME WHEN TEACHER PULLED SWITCH, SAYS BOY

NEW LONDON, Tex., March 22 (UP)—William C. Shaw, superintendent of the New London school, admitted before a military board of inquiry today that the gas which apparently exploded, killing 426 persons last Thursday, was taken without permission from the pipe lines of a private company.

Just before he had completed his testimony, Shaw virtually collapsed. He was assisted from the witness chair to an anteroom while additional witnesses were summoned.

This testimony given by the oldest educator in Texas in a firm voice came after a 16-year-old survivor of the explosion stood before the court and showed that his hair had been singed in the blast. From him came the first direct clue to the source of the spark that apparently detonated pockets of gas that had formed from faulty connections or equipment.

Youth Testifies

The youth, John Dow, testified the explosion, accompanied by a flash of flame, came from the sub-basement where a manual training instructor threw an electric switch to a sanding machine.

Shaw, his hand bandaged and wearing new spectacles to replace those broken in the explosion, went before the board this third day of the inquiry and admitted that the Parade Gas company's natural gas pipeline that passed under the campus of the school was tapped without the company's permission.

He also admitted that officials of the United Gas company, from which the school board previously had bought its gas, had warned him that "the board might be using a dangerous gas."

OFFICIAL TELLS OF GAS STEALING

New London Superintendent Admits to Tapping of Supply Line

"We were a unit in deciding to make the connection," the witness replied, adding that five of the seven members of the school board were present at the meeting.

Company Did Not Know

Delbert Clark, field foreman of the Parado Gas company, the first witness to disclose the unauthorized connection, said that it is a flat policy of his company to sell no gas and that it is his duty to cut connections for such service. He said he did not know of the New London school connection and would have shut had he known.

Clark testified that Parado company officials had told him during a discussion of a gas supply for the school that if he connected with the company lines he was liable to be cut loose from them anytime.

"Did they absolutely forbid you?" asked Captain Coombes.

"No, but they didn't tell me to do so."

His Understanding

"That was your understanding then—as long as you didn't get caught tapping the line?"

"That's about the situation. I want to make this clear. They didn't give me permission but they were not adverse."

Dow, who gave the first clue to the spark that set off the explosion, said that he was working in the manual training classroom on the first floor of the building.

"Fred O. Butler, our instructor who was killed, reached for the switch to turn on the sanding machine," Dow testified. "As he threw the switch the explosion occurred."

Of the 423 bodies taken from the building none except that of Butler showed evidence of being exposed to fire.

Connecting Link

As Dow concluded, Prof. E. P. Schoch, chemistry professor at the University of Texas, an expert on explosives and one of the two civilian members of the military board, leaned forward and said:

"This is the connecting link. This is the testimony that we have been needing."

Floyd Hunt, a janitor at the school, testified that a crew of the New London school janitors had tapped the Parado company line and made the connection.

"I understand that Mr. Shaw gave the orders to do the work," he testified.

E. W. Reagan, a member of the New London school board, testified that churches in this east Texas oil field district obtained a free fuel supply by tapping pipelines of the Parado gas company.

"Do you know of any churches using this gas?" Captain Coombes asked.

"Yes, the Baptists and Methodists," Reagan replied.

MUSSOLINI CUTS VISIT TO AFRICA

"Matters More Important" Than Spain War Call, He Duce Home

ROME, March 22 (U.P.)—Premier Benito Mussolini hastened homeward today, two days ahead of time, to resume direct charge of the country's foreign affairs.

It was denied in authoritative quarters that he curtailed his triumphant visit to Italian North Africa because of Italian reverses in Spain—of which the public remains unaware.

It was said that Mussolini was returning "timely" to watch "even more important" matters than the Spanish civil war—the scheduled visit of King Leopold of Belgium to England today and the impending visit of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria. Austrians have been concerned recently about the nature of Italian-German cooperation in foreign affairs and particularly about Italian intimations that the present time is unfavorable for a restoration of the Hapsburgs.

RAINS INUNDATE COSTAL CITIES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 (U.P.)—Streets and highways in the San Francisco bay region were flooded today and farm lands in the Sacramento area were threatened with inundation following one of the heaviest downpours of rain in months.

One hundred feet of the coast line tracks of the Southern Pacific railway were washed out near Lincoln, making it necessary to reroute all traffic. It was reported that the Pacific highway was flooded and impassable in 17 different places between Galt and Sacramento.

PERISCOPE ROAD MARKER

HONOLULU (U.P.)—A nervous driver might receive a start from a road marker here. A full-size submarine apparently is about to rise from dry land. When the 8-10 was decommissioned the conning tower was removed and placed at the entrance to the naval base.

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.)—Harassed for years by too many "L's" in his name, George Willey, Indianapolis, filed a petition in Marion County circuit court to have one of them eliminated. The extra "L" went into his name by association and habit. Now he wants it removed to make his marriage legal.

PEACE HOPES UNDERMINED

Uneasy rumblings from below the surface of Europe indicate that this is going to be a tense and nervous spring.

The German army, it is said, has been warned to be ready for any emergency, and the warning is being taken to heart by the people of Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and Austria—who figure, naturally enough, that any activity of the German army is more than likely to be directed at them.

But despite these rumors, there is little belief that any actual invasion is contemplated. The new technique of conquest doesn't work that way. A modern dictator is just a shade more subtle.

In each of the small nations just mentioned there is an active Nazi party. And if Hitler in his wisdom should aspire to gobble up one of these countries, it would be this local branch of Nazism that would do the dirty work.

Instead of invasion, there would be a rebellion—a swift, carefully-planned coup d'etat, financed and directed from abroad. The German army might indeed mobilize, but it would mobilize simply as a warning, and not in the expectation of doing any actual fighting. Help would be given to the rebels, but it would be sub rosa, unofficial help, of the kind that is being given the Rebels in Spain.

As a picture of the danger that Europe faces, this sort of thing is far more discouraging than preparations for outright declarations of war would be. For this is conquest by intrigue, by double-dealing, by bribery, and by chicanery, and the mere suspicion of it is fatal to any hope for international harmony or domestic peace.

How can you trust your neighbor if you suspect that he is subsidizing traitors in your own household? And how can you have even a pretense of democratic government if you suspect that one of your leading parties is serving the ends of a foreign enemy? What earthly chance does Europe have for a peaceful life if the moles are forever burrowing under the borders like that?

A new internationalism is at work in the world today, poisoning the very air that the people of Europe breathe. There is the Fascist international and there is the Communist international, each committed to interference with the affairs of its neighbors. War is taking on a new guise, with all the horrors of civil conflict added to the horrors that are inherent in war itself.

What hope is there for the peace of Europe, or even for the salvage of European civilization, as long as this state of things endures?

ARMY LIFE DE LUXE

A new European war may, as they say, be coming up over the horizon at frightening speed; until it actually arrives, its shadow is going to make the lot of the British Tommy a great deal more pleasant.

The British are enlarging their army to meet the danger, and they have been finding young men very reluctant to enlist. Army life tends to be bare and Spartan, and the young Englishman likes his comforts. So the government is out to make the buck private happy.

War Minister Alfred Duff Cooper recently explained the plan in parliament. The army is going to start serving four meals a day, instead of three; barracks are to be modernized and equipped with bathrooms and reading rooms. Butter will replace margarine in the army kitchens. Fresh milk will be served daily. Domestic help will be hired to scrub out canteens, thereby relieving Tommy of one of his most disliked jobs.

Altogether, the British soldier will be leading a pretty fine life after this. . . as long as peace lasts.

MARTIAL MONTH

April this year brings us to the 20th anniversary of America's declaration of war on imperial Germany. A great many things could be said about that anniversary; but at the moment what occurs to us is chiefly the odd, sinister fate that seems to hang over the month of April in American history.

The American revolution began on April 19, 1775, with the battle of Lexington. The war with Mexico got under way on April 24, 1846. The first shot in the Civil War was fired on April 12, 1861; Lee surrendered and Lincoln was shot almost exactly four years later, in April of 1865. The war with Spain began on April 21, 1898. And we got into the World War on April 6, 1917.

What kind of jinx is it that makes this month of April so momentous in America's tale of wars?

A Baxter, Tenn., farmer, who blows a bugle early every morning, boasts that he is still young at 47. It is strange neighbors should have let him reach that age.

Pot Shots:

Picture of a guy getting that first gardening urge of the springtime.

Decides "By gosh, this is a swell Sunday; gotta get to work on the flower beds."

Goes outside experimentally to see how cold it is.

Figures three sweaters ought to be enough. Puts them on.

Goes into basement to find tools. Asks where in h—the rake went.

Nearly has apoplexy when wife says Junior sold it for 25 cents to junk man.

Asks where in h—the big shears went.

Ditto on apoplexy when he finds wife broke shears trying to hammer nail with them.

Goes outside and finds three of shrubs died during winter.

Decides what the heck, he'll play golf this year and hire the gardening done.

So goes back to parlor and sleeps the rest of Sunday.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

By MARIE BLIZARD. © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, charming young woman, New York, advertising executive, rents her deceased father's Connecticut estate to LARRY SMITH, attractive young bachelor architect, and promptly likes him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, six years younger, JENNIFER. Just out of college and at her first job.

Jennifer presents Daphne's attempt to guide her and proceeds to date TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy. Next she meets Larry and finding he is not married, makes a play for his attention. This develops a struggle between the sisters for the same man.

One night Larry dates Daphne. At the same time Jennifer, against Daphne's orders, enters one of Tucker's set and comes home at dawn infuriated. The two come to a show-down, but Jennifer, Daphne, it is clear, is bound to live her own life. Tucker Ainsley, she had set her heart on a rich husband from the beginning.

Meanwhile Larry proposes to Daphne—over the telephone. She falls asleep that night, deliciously now and then.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

"HURRY UP, Jennifer. Your breakfast is ready."

"I've loads of time," Jennifer, with her hat and coat on, stood in the doorway to the small kitchen. "Neat trick of yours, Miss Brett, setting the clock ahead."

She pulled a chair up to the table and the cabinet which served as their morning breakfast table.

"Well, you don't want to lose your job do you?" Daphne poured cocoa into two cups and snapped off the switch on the toaster.

"I don't care much if I do."

"Oh, Jennifer, please don't! Thirty-five a week is the best you've done and we're getting along so nicely."

"There isn't much future in being a model," Jennifer went on hopefully.

"There might be. Some day you might get to be a photographer's model and, who knows, maybe the movies will be next."

"Daphne! Wouldn't that be wonderful?"

Daphne buttered the toast. "Yes, it would, but I wouldn't entertain the idea. Tell me about last night. Your girl friends usually have a lot of news," Daphne was playing for time. She didn't want Jennifer to ask her what Larry had said.

Jennifer looked at her sister under lowered lids and said casually, "I suppose you heard that Jerry and Peg were married at Armonk on Wednesday."

"No! They eloped? I think that was a shabby thing to do."

JENNIFER put her cup down very carefully. "Why was it? They are both of age and they knew what they wanted. It wasn't anyone else's business if they wanted to."

"It was shabby, Jennifer. Peg is only 18 and girls that age don't know their own minds. Besides, Peg's parents should have been shown more consideration. They wanted Peg to have a good education and see a few more people before she settled down. I don't think that was very considerate of her. I imagine her people will be up in arms."

Jennifer laughed. "Grandma Brett! Lavender and old lace and love! I suppose you think a bride sits home of evenings and dreads her husband's sox while he reads the market reports. Well, I don't."

"Don't you?" Daphne asked and saw a vision of herself sitting at Larry's side while he read her architectural reports. It was a lovely vision. A wistful vision.

"I do not," Jennifer continued. "Jennifer Brett! It's twenty of nine! You'll have to catch a cab. Here's your purse. Darling, I'm going shopping this afternoon and I won't be home much before five. What time are you coming?"

"I never make plans for Saturday afternoon," Jennifer called back over her shoulder, "but don't worry about me."

"MISS BRETT, you're just the type but you're so restless!" Ann Cockerell squinted her eyes, rubbed her hands on her smock and picked up her charcoal pencil. "Nevertheless, you're a lamb, Daphne, to help me out on your one afternoon off. Just hold it a minute until I fix up the shoulder line and I'll let you off."

Daphne sat motionless on the dais in silence that was unbroken for another 10 minutes.

"There, now, I think that will do. Come and tell me what you think of it."

Daphne relaxed and stretched her cramped muscles. Then she stepped off the dais and walked over to the drawing-board.

"It's grand," she said. "What time is it? I ought to go."

"Your date isn't until seven and it isn't five yet, so sit down and stop looking like Cornell in one of her tragic moments. Anyone would think you were about to make a mess of your life. Stop dramatizing yourself."

"Please, Anne! Am I really doing that?" Daphne asked surprised.

"Of course you are," Ann drawled a tissue cover over her drawing. "It's not like you to do that and I think you ought to snap out of it. Get a new focus on the situation. I admit that you are right but that doesn't make it hopeless or give you any right to feel like a queen of tragedy."

"Maybe you're right. Nevertheless I can't help feeling . . . dramatic. Isn't it dramatic to have to say 'No' to the man you love when you can't tell him your reason?"

ANNE sat down abruptly, giving Daphne a hopeless glance. "Daphne, why not come out flatly and tell him that the reason you won't marry him is because you feel that you've got to take care of Jennifer, that you won't marry him until you have a sum of money in the bank to take care of her independent of his help?"

"I wouldn't do that to him for anything in the world."

"No, you wouldn't. Well, then, why not do something about Jennifer?"

"What can I do about her?" Daphne said wearily.

Anne didn't know any answer to that one.

"I've done everything I know of. She's earning a good salary now but I don't know how long it will last. She's only 18 you know and I can't expect much from her but if I had a couple of thousand dollars to hang onto until she finds the thing she wants to do or marries some nice boy, I could tell Larry that we could be engaged. But where can I get $2000?"

"I have it!" Anne said. "It will take a lot of determination on your part but you can do it. Tell Jennifer that she must give you $10 a week out of her $35 and jolly well she can. You can save that. That'll be $500 in a year. Then, the extra $50 you get in your raise—and you can save that—will come to around $800. In one year you can save $1300. A year passes quickly and by that time, Jennifer will have undoubtedly settled down to something. Don't you see?"

Color came to Daphne's face. "Of course I do," Anne, it seems so simple now. And I have a hunch that Jennifer will take care of this job because she loves the money. Darling, I can ask Larry to wait, can't I?"

Jennifer came in at six. "Well," she said, "that's that. I am again one of the great army of unemployed and I can't say I'm sorry after the passes Mandelbaum made at me before he fired me today."

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBURN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Among all the industries in which workmen are exposed to accidents to the eye, the metallurgical industry stands well at the head. Usually such injuries are caused by flying pieces of metal. Frequently they are penetrating wounds, which seem to cause blindness in as often as 50 of every 100 cases.

Another danger that threatens the eye is that of burns from hot sparks of metal, caustic soda, or acid. Anyone exposed to these hazards should wear suitable protective goggles.

In 583 patients studied in one year, 126 men and women had one lens of their goggles shattered or pierced by flying metal; 883 men had the even more terrifying experience of having both goggles lenses shattered at one time. There were 1,003 instances of one lens being splattered with melted metal or chemicals, and 615 cases in which both lenses were struck. Absence of these goggles obviously would have resulted in destruction of many eyes.

The courts have set an approximate compensation rate of about $1,800 for the loss of one eye, and about $3,500 for the loss of both. On this basis, the plants used about $20,000,000 because of the use of safety goggles.

In every industry where such accidents occur, a definite procedure should be followed in giving aid:

1. Under no circumstances should an untrained or inexperienced employee attempt to remove any foreign body from the eye.

2. Immediately after an accident, the eye may be bathed with suitable aseptic solutions, preferably a weak solution of boric acid made with sterilized water.

3. The eye should be covered with a sterile bandage moistened with this solution.

4. The injured person should be taken immediately to the physician in charge of such cases. If the factory or workshop does not have a first-aid department, arrangements should be made with some nearby hospital or medical institution for prompt attention. This will mean the prevention of a great deal of blindness and, furthermore, a much shorter period of disability than otherwise would be the case.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

MARCH 22 1922

Honoring the visiting delegation of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Twin Falls chapter entertained in the amusement hall of the Regd apartments Tuesday evening.

By using beautiful old furniture, miniatures and portraits, the ladies converted the large hall into a Colonial drawing room, a number of heirlooms were used in these decorations and the whole made a fit setting for the hostesses, many of whom were gowned in colonial costumes.

At 8 o'clock a cafeteria supper was served and afterward the husbands of the members of Twin Falls chapter came to spend the evening with the guests. A musical program was presented. Cedric Seaver, accompanied by Margaret Beebe, gave a violin solo and Miss Emma Smith sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Merlyn Batley. Mrs. E. F. Oslund sang a solo and gave an encore, accompanied by Mrs. Batley. Wilton Peck sang three numbers and Cedric Seaver closed the program with another violin solo.

The real work of the conference takes place today with a luncheon at the Rogerson hotel as the chief social function.

The Farmers and Merchants bank is the title under which the new banking house will carry on its business in the city. The Young building now in the hands of the carpenters and painters is being turned into a neat banking establishment, which will be organized under the state laws, with C. B. Willey and associates at stockholders. The capital stock will be $50,000 and the new institution will enter to the farmers and merchants of the city.

The stockholders are all local business men and ranchers, and some of the most substantial property holders are said to be interested in the new institution. The election of directors and officers will not take place until about April 1.

The present front of the Idaho Department store will be in the course of the next few weeks, be entirely torn out and a new and up-to-date front put in. It is the purpose of Manager Banta to have the windows cut down so as to give a clear view of all the goods and cut out the prismatic glass in the top windows and replace it with plate glass.

In the early days of auto manufacturing, bearings were made by guesswork. Now bearing experts cooperate with factory engineers and determine the proper material for the individual engine.

Dr. Jay Glover Eldridge Has Winning Entry in Hymns

They came from seven foreign countries and from all parts of the United States. The judges were the Rev. Dr. Cleland B. McAfee of Asheville, North Carolina, former secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions; Miss Helen Kittredge of New York, associate secretary of the board; and the Rev. Dr. Calvin W. Lauder of Philadelphia, hymn composer and hymn editor for the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education. The winning hymn is "God of Years, Thy Love Has Led Us," and will be sung to the tune of "Hymn to Joy" by Beethoven.

McKenney Chooses Annual All-America Bridge Team

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League
Four easterners and a midwesterner are my selections for the All-American contract bridge team in 1937.

In choosing the team, I have been governed by records made in all important tournament play, and master points gained by bridge stars.

The players selected are: Oswald Jacoby, a New York star now residing in Dallas, Tex.; Fred D. Kaplan and Irving Epstein, also of New York; B. J. Becker, Philadelphia, and Alvin Landy, Cleveland, O. Jacoby was the greatest master point winner of the year. He won four important first place victories: the National Masters' Team of Four; the National Masters' Pair of the American Bridge League; the team of four of the American Whist League; and the open pairs of the U. S. Bridge association. He also was a member of the team which finished second in the Maryland state tournament.

In addition, Jacoby was the most successful rubber bridge player of 1936. Already a life "master," he won 167 master points in 1936, 10 more than his nearest competitor. Clearly, he is entitled to rank as America's number one player on any team of contract stars.

Becker, too, had an imposing record. He finished first on the National Masters' team of four in the open pairs at Hershey, Pa., and in the team of four at the District of Columbia tournament. Besides other accomplishments, Becker earned 116 master points in 1936, finishing third on that select list.

Epstein a "find" Becker and Jacoby both were members of my 1935 team, but the other three make the All-America for the first time this year.

Kaplan, a Manhattan lawyer, won seven first places in 1936. These included the Maryland open pair, the Eastern team of four, the Long Island Bridge League, open pairs, the National Men's pair of the American Bridge League, the Atlantic City team of four, the Vanderbilt team of four, and the U. S. Bridge association of four. In all he earned 85 master points, finishing fifth.

Epstein I consider the "find" of 1936. Starting the year with no master points, he wound up in sixth place, with 79. Besides winning first in the Eastern team, Long Island mixed pair, Eastern mixed pair, Eastern mixed team, and Vanderbilt team, he finished second in the National Masters' Pair of the American Bridge League—a notable achievement, remembering that, for the first time, Epstein was encountering the elect of the contract bridge world.

Women Rate High
Fifth place on the All-America list goes to Alvin Landy, of Cleveland, who won four first place victories, three of them in important national and sectional events, and also snared three second place ranking.

Landy was a member of the winning team of four at the nationals at Asbury, the Western New York team; the Master's pair at Conneaut Lake, Pa., and the Western States sectional tournament at Columbus. During the year Landy won 70 master points, finishing 11th.

The Big Five—four easterners and a midwesterner—on William E. McKenney's All-America contract bridge team are pictured above. They are Oswald Jacoby, New York, and B. J. Becker, Philadelphia; Alvin Landy, Cleveland; Irving Epstein and Fred D. Kaplan, New York.

Among others, David Burnstone and Waldemar von Zedtwitz, of New York, deserve honorable mention, but did not compete in enough events to merit greater consideration.

The choice of four eastern stars and one from the midwest is no reflection on the skill of players from other sections. It simply indicates that eastern players engaged in more tournament play than those from other parts of the country.

While I have made no attempt to rate women bridge players, it would be unjust to ignore the records established in 1936 by Mrs. J. A. Faulkner, Belleville, Ont.; Mrs. W. M. Anderson, Toronto; and Mrs. R. C. Young of Philadelphia.

The two first-named women won two impressive championships, were runners-up for another, and earned 63 master points each. Mrs. Young won first place in four important events, and earned 51 master points.

LUCKY FINESSES HELP

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League
With most bridge players nowadays, an opening bid of one no trump shows a strong hand, but most likely, although not certain, with no long suit in the hand. Therefore, most authorities recommend that a raise be given on perhaps as little as, say, a king and a queen.

Gordon M. Gibbs, of New Jersey, treasurer of the American Bridge League, probably hoped to find a little more in his partner's hand when he got a raise on his opening bid on today's hand. But, even though he missed several important cards, he had first round control of every suit, and lots of courage.

When the opening lead was made and the dummy spread, Gibbs, who sat South, could see he had much to do, if he were to fulfill his contract.

He lay down the ace of spades, and then followed with the ten, overtaking with the jack to give himself an additional entry to dummy. Next, the five of diamonds was led, and the ten finessed.

The queen of spades was overtaken with the king, and the heart finesse taken, the queen winning the trick. Now the ace of clubs was cashed and East's king dropped. Dummy was re-entered by playing the six of spades and overtaking in dummy with the seven. The club jack was cashed, declarer discarding the heart deuce. The diamond finesse was taken and East won the last trick with a diamond.

It was a hand of many lucky finesses, but even then the cards required careful handling to create the needed entries in dummy.

Braddock May Jump Chicago Contract for German Bout

CHAMPION WOULD FIGHT SCHMELING

Manager Asks $400,000 for Suggested Battle to Be Staged in Berlin

By LESLIE AVERY
NEW YORK, March 22 (U.P.)—Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock was ready today to ditch his scheduled title defense against Joe Louis and take the next boat to Germany to fight Max Schmeling.

That was the answer of Braddock's manager Joe Gould to the latest offer of $350,000 tax free made the champion by Detachlandhalle to fight Maxie in Berlin late in June or early in July. This offer, an increase of $100,000 over the first, is open until tomorrow at noon, after which Schmeling intends to demand fulfillment of his contract with Madison Square Garden for a title fight against Braddock in Long Island Bowl June 3.

Want Money Deposited
"We want $400,000 deposited in a New York bank, an American referee and one English judge, and we don't intend to give up the Louis fight until we get it," Gould said. "Also they've got to agree to make it okay with the Garden and Mike Jacobs."

Schmeling's manager, Joe Jacobs, claims that Detachlandhalle's offer amounts to $400,000 since they have agreed to guarantee the American promoters $50,000 and their share of the fight. Jacobs said the increased guarantee was offered Braddock eight days ago.

"Gould's offer to accept for $50,000 more means just one thing to me," Jacobs confided. "And that is the highly publicized Chicago guarantee of a half-million is a lot of guff. Also, why does he want us to take care of Madison Square Garden's contract if he figures he can sidestep so easily just by going out to Chicago and fight?"

Would Sue Garden
"If Braddock does not take up this offer by tomorrow noon, he's going to windup right behind the eight ball because Garden attorneys have assured us they can secure a federal injunction restraining Braddock from fighting Louis if he fails to keep his June 3 contract with Max."

Schmeling said that if the champion did not accept he would take a vacation, then come back and train in a camp near New York to get ready and fight Braddock just as though there was no hitch in plans to stage the June 3 battle. His ultimatum:

"I have a contract with the Garden and if they do not produce Braddock I will sue them. They can sue Braddock."

Jacobs added that the German government's only part in the guarantee offer was permission to post the money in a neutral bank outside Germany.

In the second game of the evening, the Twin Falls frosh-sophes nosed out the FFA team in a thrilling overtime game 21-16 after Hampton tied the score with two seconds to go, for the frosh-sophes. Lloyd Kuykendall led the scoring for the Farmers with nine points and Ira Cartney collected seven for the frosh-sophes.

Preliminary game of the evening saw Black Angels cop the Class A championship of the high school do-not league by scoring 13-10 win over the Huskies.

Night Shirt and Ill Wind Aid Candidate

SALISBURY, Vt. (U.P.)—Frances West attributes his success to his nightshirt and an "ill" wind.

The "ill" wind" ripped off his nightshirt early one stormy morning. The publicity given the incident overwhelmingly re-elected him to road commissioner, West says.

SENATORS PLAY RED SOX TODAY

Washington to Battle First American League Team This Season

ORLANDO, Fla., March 22 (U.P.)—The Washington Senators met their first American league opponents of the year today when the Boston Red Sox came to Orlando. Staging a nine-run uprising in the sixth inning featured by Pitcher Jack Salveson's homer with the bases loaded, the Senators yesterday overwhelmed the Philadelphia Phillies, 15 to 7.

MARTIN INJURED
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 22 (U.P.)—Pepper Martin nursed a bruised arm today as a result of getting hit by a pitched ball yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated their American association club farm, the Columbus Red Birds, 5-2. Pepper had to retire in the fifth inning as the Cards snapped their three-game losing streak. McGee held Columbus batsmen to three hits.

BRENNAN REPORTS
TAMPA, Fla., March 22 (U.P.)—Pletcher Don Brennan, last of the Cincinnati Reds to report for training, arrived early today and was scheduled to take his first work-out during the day. Brennan flew from his home in Augusta, Me., to Boston and from Newark, N. J., to Jacksonville, Fla., in hurrying to camp after coming to terms Saturday.

BAT WORK PRAISED
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 22 (U.P.)—Heavy bat work of the Pittsburgh Pirates drew the praise today of Manager Pie Traynor, who didn't so badly himself in yesterday's first intra-club game.

WHITE SOX ERR
PASADENA, Calif., March 22 (U.P.)—The Chicago White Sox went back to the training diamond today for a spell of hard work to atone for their contribution to the comedy of errors against the Los Angeles coast league club yesterday at Orofino. The Sox, with six errors, won 10-7 over the Angels, who made seven.

REGULARS WIN
ALBANY, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., March 22 (U.P.)—The Chicago Cubs' intra-club series ended with today's game. Yesterday the regulars won their first game since they conquered Dizzy Dean on the last of the 1936 National league season. They beat the yanigans, 9-3, despite a triple play by the yanigans, who won the first three games.

TITLE CAPTURED BY IDAHO FALLS

Wallace Defeated in Finals Of State Basketball Meet At Moscow

MOSCOW, March 22 (Special)—A powerful band of Idaho Falls cagers took the state championship trophy home with them when they left here yesterday, by virtue of a 22-20 defeat hung on the Miners of Wallace high school in the finals played Saturday night.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair from start to finish, the teams being deadlocked at the half time 13-11, after the quarter had ended 6-6.

The second half opened with both defenses playing superb ball, not a point being scored in five minutes of play. Then the Falls players broke loose to gain a five point lead. The Wallace rally in the final minutes of the game fell two points short.

The lineups and summary of the championship game:

Idaho Falls (22)—Beale (4) and Skilton (8), forwards; Jorgenson, center; Deardon and Harris (10), guards.

Wallace (20)—Hawley (10), Gillies (1), Keller and Toole (1) forwards; Cochran (2), center; Revell (2) and Murray (4) guards.

OAKLEY HONORED AT STATE MEET

Sportsmanship Trophy Given To Hornet Team; Gorringer On 2nd All-State

OAKLEY, March 22 (Special)—Coach M. C. Cranney and his Oakley Hornets were back home today without the state title, but with plenty of honors showered on their broad shoulders.

Defeating the Kellogg team in the opener and then dropping a 59-24 decision to the State championship Idaho Falls team in the semi-finals, the locals made a fine showing against the pick of the state's team.

Following the championship game on Saturday night, the Hornets were honored by being chosen for the sportsmanship trophy, annually awarded by the University of Idaho's Blue Key club.

When the all-tournament teams were chosen, Read Gorringer, captain of the Oakleys, was named forward on the second team.

The locals have peaked away their suits for another year, and the Hornet athletes will now turn their attention to the coming track season.

West Still Wild

SALT LAKE CITY (U.P.)—Anyone who believes the old west with its wildcats, mountain lions, bears and wolves, is dead, needs only to check an annual census report issued by Wasatch National forest supervisor. The report lists a total of 60 bears, 60 mountain lions and 426 wildcats.

Sun Valley Skating Ace Departing for Australia

By J. F. GALLAGHER
SUN VALLEY, March 22 (Special)—Graham Hobbs, skating instructor at Sun Valley Lodge, left yesterday for San Francisco, where he will sail for Melbourne, Australia, on the Matson liner Monterey, March 30.

Champion figure skater of Canada, and internationally recognized judge of competitive figure skating, Hobbs is bound for Australia to act as aide to Nathan Wally, world's champion professional figure skater, in the organization of ice carnivals and general sports. These activities will be sponsored and financed by the English government in cooperation with private interests.

In addition to organizing a program of sports at Melbourne and in Sidney, Hobbs will also give exhibitions at the Glaciolum in Melbourne, where he will be skating instructor for the summer season. The Glaciolum will be his headquarters during his sojourn in Australia.

Coast Exhibitions
Before leaving this country, Hobbs will fill exhibition and carnival skating dates in Los Angeles and San Francisco. "Exhibition and carnival skating, particularly the latter, has always enjoyed great popularity on the continent and in Canada," said Graham, during an interview just before his departure, "but the states here are fast coming to a realization of the spectator appeal of the many various types of ice exhibition, just as is Australia. It will only be a matter of a couple of years till ice carnivals and fancy skating exhibitions will surpass basketball and even hockey for popularity in this country."

A native of Ontario, Hobbs learned to skate early in life, and later, played collegiate hockey at McGill, and with Ridley college in England. He has exhibited and competed with great success all over

Canada and the United States, and has directed countless ice carnivals. Several years ago, while on a tour of Europe, he exhibited in the leading cities on the continent.

High Ranking
Hobbs holds the rating of "silver medalist," second highest honor to be bestowed in internationally standardized periodical examinations of figure skating. He is now qualified as a judge of figure skating, and acted in that capacity during the recent national figure skating competitions held in Chicago. A recognized authority on ice technique, Graham has authored a series of articles in "Skating," publication of the U. S. Skating association, and his work frequently appears in other popular winter sports journals.

Mr. Hobbs will stop over in Honolulu, en route to Australia, to act as consultant on the feasibility of building a rink and establishing a skating program there. Later he will visit New Zealand to investigate the possibilities of winter sports there.

Publicity Expert Figures Yanks to Capture American League's Pennant

By STEVE SNIDER
(Punch-hitting for Henry McLenore)
CHICAGO, March 22 (U.P.)—It's a long hop from Will Harridge's office to Gulfport, Miss., where we finally cornered an American league spokesman who would pick the World Champion New York Yankees to win the pennant without much interference.

Harridge, who is president of the league and should know which ball club will win his flag, usually doesn't. All his experting is done by Henry P. Edwards, a spy little world series back in 1905 and still manages to come up with a fresh viewpoint every spring.

Telephone Prediction
Fresh from direct telephone to Gulfport came his views for 1937:

"Col. Jake Ruppert said his Yanks would win and that's good enough for me. They look like the same old powerhouse champions and Lefty Gomez will make 'em even stronger by pitching better ball."

"Detroit and Cleveland looked like the tough opposition. I haven't seen Chicago, St. Louis or Philadelphia, but Chicago should be the only dangerous one there.

"That Jimmy Dykes will have the White Sox causing lots of trouble."

Henry's sketch by clubs:
New York—The Yank probably won't win it by 19 1/2 games this year, but they are the same old murdering club. Gomez looks good and should be back in his finest pitching form. If he isn't, Manager Joe McCarthy will fall back on two rookie pitchers. Probably two lads from Newark, Chandler and Makosky.

Rowe Looks Great
Detroit—Schoolboy Rowe looks great. So does Hank Greenberg. The Tigers will have all their strength back and will make a fight of it. Chet Wilburn may take over Bill Rogell's shortstop job, Rudy York may replace Marvin York at third and Al Simmons will have a battle in the outfield with Jojo White.

Cleveland—Manager O'Neill thinks the Indians will give New York a run if little Frank Pytlak is strong enough to catch 100 games. Mel Harder is in a pinch pitching form. There seems little doubt about Johnny Allen and Bob Feller being outstanding winners and Earl Whitfield looks his best in years. Lyn Lary will help the infield, but it still is too early to tell whether the other trade, Joe Voelckel for Julius Solters, helped.

GOODING BOXERS DOWN SHOSHONE

Indians Drop Five Out of Six Bouts of Fast Fight Card

GOODING, March 22 (Special)—Gooding ring men scored five victories in six bouts here Saturday night to conquer the invading Shoshone team in a speedy card.

The lone Shoshone victory was scored when Don White, 122, defeated George Ascuens, 130.

Other bouts on the card were as follows:

Albert Weaver, 118 (G), decisioned Joe Gogendola, 120 (S).
Nazu Arambata, 135 (G), decisioned Clifton Hack (S).
John Turnbull, 140 (S), lost a decision to Louis Arambata (G).
Arval Hamph, 138 (G), defeated Lowman Belt, 142 (S).
Pete Borden, 136 (S), dropped a hard fought slugfest match to Reid Barney, 135 (G).

A feature of the evening was a "bottle royal," with five Gooding boxers swinging gloves at one time in the ring. Those participating in the bout were Ruland Bird, Gerald Higgins, Ray Weaver, Harvey Umphren and Glenn Brown.

Officials for the matches were: Dr. L. F. Lesser, Gooding, referee; Vergil Bryant and M. W. Tate, Gooding, and H. B. Roberts, Jerome, judges.

All-State Teams

MOSCOW, March 22 (Special)—The all-state basketball team, chosen annually at the state meet, was announced Saturday night as follows:

First team: Howard Smith, Moscow, and Merle Isham, Pocatello, forwards; Ronald Poca, Idaho Falls, center; Robert Revell, Wallace, and Ora Wildman, Boise, guards.

Second team: Read Gorringer, Oakley, and George Beale, Idaho Falls, forwards; Roy Hawley, Wallace, center; Barney Hayes, Lewiston, and Bill Durrell, Pocatello, guards.

Bulldogs Battle Gooding Senators

KIMBERLY, March 22 (Special)—Coach Louis Denton's all-allegers will take on the Gooding Senator squad here tomorrow night in what promises to be the best fight card to be staged here this season. Seven bouts will be fought in the inter-school card, and three local battles will fight in the preliminaries. The bouts are scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday night the local battlers will journey to Shoshone for a return match with the Indians and next week they will travel to Gooding in another return series.

GIANTS INCREASE EXHIBITION TILTS

Win Sixth Straight Over Big League Competition with Indian Defeat

GULFPORT, Miss., March 22 (U.P.)—The New York Giants added two more games to their exhibition schedule today, booking games with their international league Jersey City farm club here March 24 and April 1. This brought the exhibition game total to 35, of which 14 already have been played. The Giants won their sixth straight against major league opposition, 8 to 1, over the Cleveland Indians yesterday.

YANKS WIN
SEBRING, Fla., March 22 (U.P.)—The New York Yankees came here today to play their international league cousins, the Newark Bears, after turning in six victories in their first seven games against major league opponents. Ernie Koy's home run in the 11th inning after he struck out four times previously gave the New Yorkers a 6 to 5 decision over the Boston Bees yesterday.

LAVAGETTO HURT
TAMPA, Fla., March 22 (U.P.)—Cookie Lavagetto was on the Brooklyn sidelines today as the Dodgers invaded Tampa for a return match against the Cincinnati Reds. Lavagetto was suffering a badly sprained right ankle sustained during the Reds 7 to 3 triumph over the Dodgers yesterday.

RED SOX LOSE
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22 (U.P.)—The Boston Bees, who have lost five of their six starts this year to the Yankees, entertained another American league opponent today in the Detroit Tigers. The Tigermen turned in their second straight win of the year, 5 to 2, over the Boston Red Sox yesterday. Rookie Chester Wilburn's two bagger with the bases loaded in the sixth sent Detroit's winning three run margin home.

SOFTBALL MEET SET FOR FRIDAY

Possibility of Joining U. S. Groups Discussed at Sunday Gathering

Main business accomplished at the first meeting of the Twin Falls Softball association held yesterday in Stone's Bowling alleys was setting of the date for another session to be held on Friday night at 7:30 in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Presided over by Mike Routh, president of the Idaho Softball association, discussion of the new rules for the year, and the possibilities afforded by the joining of the National Softball association, were foremost in the order of events at the meeting.

It was generally agreed that the local leagues would join the national association this year, but due to the fact that only about 25 members out of a possible 300 were present, no vote was taken.

New rules for the coming year, the shaping of the field and dues were also discussed, but any final action was held over until the Friday meeting.

According to W. W. Frantz, chairman of the Twin Falls Softball association organization, all firms that wish to sponsor teams in the leagues this summer are urged to have a representative at the Friday meeting, as that is the last chance for sponsors to be chosen.

Tentative date for the opening of league play was set for May 15.

IDAHO SKI MEET PLANNED IN 1938

Successful Instructional Day In Sawtooth Leads to Suggestion

So successful was the first "Instructional" ski meet between members of the Twin Falls Ski club, the Halley Ski club and representatives from Ketchum that today a movement was instituted to establish an all-Idaho amateur ski meet next winter in the vicinity of Ketchum, with representatives from those three communities as well as from Idaho Falls, Ashton, Pocatello, and Moscow.

The "Instructional" meet, held Sunday near Ketchum, saw over 60 followers of the sport report for instruction in various types of ski control including over 40 from Twin Falls, 15 from Halley and six from Ketchum.

Skiing operations yesterday centered around Russian John ranger station, a point about 20 miles west of Ketchum and also a point 13 and one-half miles west of Ketchum. Because of the large number of persons attending the initial meet it was necessary for the party to divide and avail themselves of the different locations.

Arrangements for the all-Idaho meet are expected to get underway early next fall. Local skiers state the plan was suggested by members of the Halley club and met with warm response.

Roving Distortograph Camera Catches the Pitches

Today's Picture Story

"Watch my smoke," says Red Lucas, Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher. No, Elmer, that's not a violin case—that's Red's foot caught by trick camera.

Here it comes! Big Jim Weaver, another Pirate hurler, is about to fire away. The ball looks as big as a melon, but that's just one more trick of the camera. Batters, however, don't have camera eyes. The same ball looks like buckshot to them.

The camera gets back to earth and catches the pitcher in the act of letting fly his Sunday-go-to-meeting pitch. Peering up from behind and under Ken Sylvestri, one of the Chicago White Sox rookie catchers, it sees Gale Wolfe, young White Sox right-hander, in the act of serving up a hot one. Unfortunately for the batters, the pitcher never looks as far away nor as small as Rookie Wolfe does here. When you're in that batter's box Wolfe looks like he's right up there at your door.

Tommy Padden, substitute Pirate catcher, isn't using a telephone pole for a bat. It's that tricky camera again. Tommy, too, was out of focus and missed.

No! He didn't miss it. It was a foul fly and Al Todd, Pirate catcher, has camped under it and his big glove has gobbled it up. Catchers wish there was a camera around all the time to make their gloves as big as this for purposes such as this.

LOYALISTS MAKE GAINS IN ATTACK

Unexploded shells as containing mustard gas. They were found at Brihuega, the Italian unit's headquarters during the attack on Guadalajara, Madrid's last northeastern outpost, a few days ago.

The shells had not been fired. Whether any other mustard gas shells had actually been fired by the Italian troops was not immediately ascertained.

The loyalist generalissimo, in an interview with the United Press correspondent, attributed the Italian unit's defeat to a "lack of fighting spirit" among the imported troops.

ICE USED TO AID FLOWER SHIPPING

Back Placed Around Plants To Keep High Altitude Air Away

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—New York women may now wear corsages plucked a few hours earlier from a California garden and rushed across the continent, packed in ice to keep them from freezing.

Refrigeration specialists of the department of agriculture have developed a process for heating flowers with a coating of ice. Paradoxical though it may seem, this keeps the blooms from freezing.

Heretofore it has been virtually impossible to ship flowers via air express across the continent in cold weather because planes travel at altitudes where zero temperatures frequently are encountered. Ordinary wrapping in insulation failed to protect the flowers.

Durward P. Fisher of the bureau of plant industry developed the process whereby the flowers would be kept at a point just above freezing and held at this ideal temperature for several hours by taking advantage of the heat liberated when water freezes.

Wrappings Watersoaked

First the flowers are packed in an ordinary shipping box, which is then wrapped tightly with wax paper, then in 30 thicknesses of ordinary newspaper that has soaked up about 10 pounds of water.

This is again wrapped in wax paper to keep in the moisture, and then slipped into a corrugated paperboard shipping box which is bundled with 15 thicknesses of ordinary newspaper and one thickness of heavy wrapping paper.

In a recent experiment, thermometers were placed inside and outside the package. The first leg of the air journey was over a wide mountainous region in which the planes fly at a high altitude where the cold is intense.

Conclusive Proof Obtained

The outside thermometer showed the temperature sank to 4 degrees above zero and held at a dangerously low temperature from four to six hours. The inside thermometer held at just above 32 degrees, the freezing point.

Soon after reaching the cold, rarified atmosphere the water-soaked paper started freezing. This heat was slowly released inside the package and was retained there by the outside wrapping or insulation of dry newspapers, keeping the flowers at a safe temperature.

Virtually the same process has been used in "heating" pears and other fresh fruit shipped by air.

The process, however, is too expensive for practical commercial use in airplanes, although it may be used in freight cars.

Rare Choice Animals Mounted in Museum

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—The Free Natural History museum here has the only habitat group in the world of the rare Sze-Chuan Takin of West China.

Takin, which are distantly related to the Rocky Mountain goat, range from the thick bamboo forests from the shadow of the Himalayas to the far western mountains of China. They might be described as a cross between a goat and a cow.

Marco Polo described Takin as "Beyaminini, fierce and dangerous," but scientists were unable to collect a single specimen of the golden-gray animals until 1908.

Although the Takin is dangerous when wounded, natives trap the animals in deep pits covered with thin logs and brush. Takin horns are prized as powder flasks.

The museum group contains a bull, a cow and a three-months-old calf.

Colony Fears Fires

CARMEL, Cal. (U.P.)—Precautions are being taken in this literary and artistic colony to prevent destruction of any masterpieces by fire. WPA workers are building a fire house for the colony, to house all fire-fighting apparatus available.

STAGE DRIVERS PLAN TO STRIKE

Union Pacific Lines Claim Buses Will Not Stop If Pilots Walk

BOISE, Idaho, March 22 (U.P.)—W. C. Hamilton, divisional manager here for Union Pacific stages, today said the company would resist any possible attempts to force suspension of services should drivers go on strike.

"A strike will not stop us," he said. "Let them walk out, we're running a bus line and we intend to give the people continuous service."

Alfred Knapton, chairman of the union stage drivers' grievance committee, announced late Sunday that a strike had been called by headquarters in Portland, Ore., but that the customary 24 hours notice had not yet been given.

The strike, said Hamilton, is intended to hit the entire Pacific coast. In intermountain states, a

ARMY RECRUITER WILL VISIT BUHL

Corp. J. F. Houston, in charge of the local recruiting offices at the city hall, announced today he will be at the post office building at Buhl Tuesday for the purpose of interviewing applicants for service in the United States army.

At the present time, Houston said, vacancies exist in the 11th cavalry at the Presidio of Monterey, Calif., the air corps at Hamilton field, Calif., the 38th Infantry at Fort Douglas, Utah, and the 4th Infantry at Fort Missoula, Mont.

The New York state legislature has before it a proposal to make the operators of trucks of more than two tons and buses carrying more than seven passengers, take a test with a vehicle of those sizes. The present method is to have an applicant try out with a small truck and, if he passes, drive a 10-ton truck.

CHILLY BREEZES HAMPER TENNIS

Fairly chill wind kept early season tennis players at a minimum on city cement courts Sunday at Harmon park and only a few, and mostly youngsters at that, braved the first "day of spring" to try their skill.

The two cement courts were re-lined Saturday under the supervision of Milton Powell, city park commissioner, and A. B. Hopkin, park superintendent. Nets were stretched in place Saturday afternoon.

The clay courts at Harmon park will not be put into shape for play until a later date, Powell said today, because of the uncertain weather conditions.

Swimming at the city open air pool will not get underway until approximately May 30, he indicated.

TOLEDO (U.P.)—Improvements worth $800,000 were completed in the five parks administered by the Toledo Metropolitan park board last year. Thirty-five thousand trees were planted.

New Four-Cent Stamp Goes on Sale Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 22 (U.P.)—Postmaster General James A. Farley's efforts to settle his latest stamp controversy may bring down the wrath of philatelists when the new four-cent army series issue goes on sale tomorrow.

The three-cent commemorative showing Civil war union generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan made Democrats in Dixie furious. Ever willing to oblige, Farley, through assistants, told the southerners to wait until they saw the four-cent stamps showing the confederate generals Lee and Jackson. Farley was even willing to print the stamps with a new ink which would match confederate grey.

That seemed all right until rumors began to circulate that the new grey ink did not print as cleanly as the usual brown color found on ordinary four-cent stamps. Some reports said the new grey ink was likely to smudge.

Collectors tomorrow will stand in line to buy their stamps for first day cover and to check up on the rumors.

If the new stamps show the slightest smudges, Farley is in for another furore with collectors who already feel that they have called at least one strike on the postmaster-general because of his famous "Farley folly" issues.

Legislature Suggests 6-Month Jail Term For Office Candidates

CARSON CITY, Nev., March 22 (U.P.)—Sen. Will Cobb thinks all candidates for the office of district attorney should have a record of at least six months in jail. "It would prevent them from railroad innocent men to jail through experience gained in confinement themselves," he said. The senator's bill to that effect was beaten, however, by a 12-3 vote.

PROGRESS

With a Progressive Administration We Stand on Our Record of Accomplishments

You have seen the accomplishments of the present city administration, including street, curbing, sidewalk, park and playground improvements, together with a reduction of taxes.

You'll want to see a continuation of all these improvements, together with a further reduction in taxes if that is possible.

Mayor Johnston and Councilmen Coleman and Powell are committed to just that. Moreover, they will continue their fight for an adequate water system for Twin Falls, and everything else that comes within the reasonable lines of progress.

AND HERE'S THE PROGRAM!

- Continuation of the grading, graveling, draining and oiling of the city's streets and alleys.
- Carrying on the curbing, sidewalk and driveway project, funds for which have already been approved by the government.
- Continuation of park play supervision and further improvement and beautification of the city parks.
- An unrelenting effort to secure a water system commensurate with the needs of Twin Falls.
- To install wherever possible and feasible a low pressure irrigation system using raw water. This will greatly reduce the heavy demand on our filtration system for watering lawns and gardens.
- Continued efforts to secure as soon as possible an adequate airport for Twin Falls.
- Going ahead with a project, already approved, for widening Second avenues, south and west, north and east, from Shoshone street, thus relieving our parking congestion, promoting safety and facilitating traffic.
- A long needed storm sewer for drainage water, adequate in size to take care of the spring run-off and heavy rains which under present conditions cause considerable damage to basements and inconvenience to pedestrians.

Wallpaper Designs
And Dots Add Dash
To New Paris Mode

Popularity for wallflowers is the paradox Paris fashions have wrought. The Jean Patou spring collection, for instance, features the lined jacket frock of wallpaper design flower print above. Note the butterfly effect of the jacket collar and the pleated bodice of green sheer linen that matches the jacket edging. Dots on white and colored grounds are used for trimming the two navy frocks at right, both worn with new versions of the Breton sailor hat.

What's Doing at SUN VALLEY
(By Evening Times Special Correspondent)HARRIMANS LEAVE SUN VALLEY;
TO RETURN FOR SUMMER SEASON

By J. P. GALLAGHER

SUN VALLEY, March 22 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. William Averell Harriman and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lord have left Sun Valley lodge for New York. The Harrimans will return again in July after the lodge has reopened for the summer season.

In company with them also departed Count Felix Schaffgotsch of Salzburg, Austria. Count Felix is quite a gentleman sportsman, being an expert skier, and a confirmed lover of hunting. Being the holder of several castles, lodges and chalets in Austria, he usually whies away his time during the summer by turning them over to the occupancy of proper people for seasonal hunting, in which he joins his guests. Having practically reached the termination of a very successful season of aiding in the direction of sports activity at Sun Valley, he will go from here to Washington, D. C., for a few days and then on to New York from where he will sail late in April for Marseilles, and on home to Austria. Felix, as he is known to all and sundry, will be missed here, for he is a gentleman who is quite popular.

MESSIAH CHORUS
ON 56TH SEASON

Linsborg, Kansas, Group Will
Open Annual Singing
Festival at Easter

LINSBORG, Kan. (U.P.)—This little prairie town will be the mecca of music lovers during the Easter season when the Bethany Oratorio society opens the 56th annual Messiah Festival.

The festival will open March 21 and close on Easter Sunday. During that time Handel's oratorio The Messiah will be presented twice.

Efrem Zimbalist, violinist, will appear in recital the afternoon of Easter Sunday. It will be the 25th anniversary of his American debut.

Soloists with the Messiah chorus this season will be Miss Sildonia Kramer of Tulsa, Okla., soprano; Mrs. Virginia Noll, Marion, Kan., contralto; Dr. Carl Omeron, Los Angeles, tenor; and David Blair McCloskey, North Plymouth, Mass., bass.

Mrs. Alma Swenson, widow of Dr. Carl A. Swenson, founder of the Messiah chorus and of Bethany college, again will occupy her familiar position in the soprano section of the chorus. She was the first director of the chorus and has sung with it since its organization 55 years ago. She has missed only two seasons and those were immediately following the death of Dr. Swenson in 1904.

Dr. Hubbard Brase will serve his 23rd year as director of the chorus. He came to Linsborg in 1900 and was appointed director in 1915.

The Bethany Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Arthur E. Uho, will furnish instrumental accompaniment for the choral music.

Museum Receives

Doll Collection

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Dolls, dressed in their native costumes, have been given to the Children's museum in Boston by Prof. Wilton George Smith of Harvard school of public health.

Smith's interest in the dolls was only to recall to memory the many places of the world he has served professionally or visited.

The collection includes wood-carved dolls from the Gaspé region of Quebec, Eskimo from the far north, Indian from the southwest, a Creole from New Orleans and a pair carved in iron wood from the Philippines. The oldest doll in the big collection is made from the car-bone of a whale.

But another Ira—Ira Masters—was not so loath to speak forth. Quoth the secretary of state to United Press, "no attempt at chicanery in the matter of the matron has been attempted. Such talk is foolish."

Developing his theme as he went along, Masters declared he signed the matron appointment with full knowledge of what he was doing, and would do it again for the next warden, because of low salaries for wardens.

Said Masters, "There has been no attempt to fool anybody. Allegations of misconduct or of deliberate nepotism are in bad taste. I signed the appointment myself, and if any of the other members of the board had taken the trouble to read the list, they could have seen the name."

Masters voiced the opinion that the warden didn't get enough money for his services, and thought that the $80 augmentation of family finances through wife's being matron was perfectly "justified."

Still not understood by most was why the governor had held up Stemmer's appointment because of Mrs. Taylor's matronship.

WOOL

BOSTON—A moderate amount of business was being transacted in the wool market as buyers, encouraged by the continued strength in Australian markets, were covering immediate needs and anticipating to a certain extent their future requirements, the U. S. agriculture department reported.

Purchases for current needs were being made largely from spot foreign wools of fine and medium grades. The willingness of mills and spinners to cover future needs stimulated interest in contracts for territory and Texas wools.

COPPER

NEW YORK—Copper consumption probably will establish a new record this year, Bertram D. Cadde, secretary of the copper and brass research association, said today.

He said sales of fabricated copper products in the first two months were the largest for any corresponding period since 1913.

"The consumption of copper sheet, rods and other fabricated materials shows substantial increases," he said. "Orders on the books of the various companies assure a satisfactory volume of business for the first months of this year, and it is reasonable to believe that sales during the last half of the year will keep pace with the first half."

WHEAT HITS NEW SEVEN-YEAR HIGH

CHICAGO—Further talk that Argentina would restrict exports of wheat induced heavy buying in world markets today, advancing wheat prices to new highs for seven years or better. In the scramble of buying here values were pushed forward better than three cents a bushel. Profit-taking sales appeared on the advance, however, and closing prices were down about 2 cents from the day's high point.

At the close wheat was 1 to 1 1/4c higher, new corn 1/4 to 1 1/2c higher, old corn 1/4 to 1 1/2c higher and oats unchanged to 3/4c lower.

Most of the buying appeared at the opening and during the first hour.

New high records since 1929 were established in Liverpool, Winnipeg, Rotterdam and Chicago markets. Buenos Aires market was higher than any year since 1926.

Other grains followed the upward trend in wheat in the first half of the session but profit-taking sales trimmed gains.

STOCKS RETREAT ON WIDE FRONT

NEW YORK—Concern over spread of sit-down strikes brought another wide break in stocks today. Losses ranged to more than 6 points.

Trading for the most part was dull—major operators withdrawing to sidelines for safety—but two late periods of liquidation found the market in steel, motor and rail shares thin and prices crumpled. The decline, as measured by Dow Jones averages, was one of the worst of the year. Utility issues showed best resistance, but the average made a new low for the year.

U. S. Steel broke to around 112 for almost 5 points loss. Republic dropped more than 2. Bethlehem dropped to around 91 for almost 4 points loss. Gulf States was 5 points lower. Weakness came in face of announcement by American Iron & Steel Institute of an operations schedule for the industry this week at 89.6 per cent of capacity, making tonnage output highest since May, 1929.

WARNING ISSUED ON SPUD BRANDS

Growers Told that Fraudulent Labeling May Result in Confiscation

Warning that misbranding of potatoes will result in confiscation, extra expense and possible prosecution was stressed for south central Idaho growers here today by the U. S. inspection office.

The offices released a bulletin by the U. S. department of agriculture pointing to instances of misbranding in midwest and eastern states. The bulletin follows:

"Several shipments of potatoes from Wisconsin, Michigan, Maine and Florida have recently been seized under the food and drug act because they were misbranded. Sacks branded or tagged U. S. No. 1 have been found to contain as high as 30 per cent of defective stock not permitted in that grade. Shipments marked U. S. Commercial have been found far below that grade, while some branded U. S. No. 2 have been little better than culms.

"The bureau of agricultural economics is suggesting that receivers point out incorrect grade statements on sacks, remove misleading tags, or transfer potatoes to plain bags if necessary. When such action is necessary, there appears to be no good reason for not charging the expense to the shipper. Receivers may also charge the shipper with the cost of federal inspection when this is necessary to establish the fact of misbranding.

"Care on the part of shippers to make every shipment conform to the grade shown by brand or tag will save much trouble and expense. Seizure, with later release by the court for rebranding under bond, is an expensive process which all shippers will want to avoid.

CONFISCATION LOOMS

"Flagrant or repeated offenses may result in the confiscation of entire carloads and the citation of the shipper or handler for criminal prosecution.

"Shippers are warned that the bureau of agricultural economics will cooperate closely with the food and drug administration in stamping out the misbranding practice which has become so prevalent. Everyone who packs potatoes in branded labeled bags should know the requirements of the grades under which he packs and should be sure that the stock shipped meets the requirements of the grade shown.

"Copies of the grades can be obtained on request from the bureau of agricultural economics in Washington, D. C."

WEATHER STUDY PLANNED IN OHIO

Five Hundred Men, Women Will Get Jobs as Observers

COLUMBUS, O. (U.P.)—Five hundred men and women will get jobs as soon as weather observers in eastern Ohio's $43,000,000 flood control project to begin the most detailed study of atmospheric conditions ever attempted in a concentrated area.

The Muskingum watershed conservancy district and the 24 counties that comprise it will be turned into a huge weather recording experimental ground by the state WPA. Five hundred weather stations will be manned by observers taken from relief rolls of those counties and paid WPA wages.

Weather data gathered by these observers from an area covering 8,000 square miles is expected by Dr. Carl Watson, Ohio WPA administrator, to aid the Federal government invaluable in future flood and drought control efforts.

Definite Data Sought

Government agencies hope the project will answer these questions: What is the ideal spacing of weather bureau stations? Where should shelter belts of trees be planted to prevent erosion by wind? Study of storm characteristics, their extent, migration tendencies, total water content, and the pattern of the rate of fall will comprise the work of rural relief observers about four hours a day, seven days a week. During rainstorms readings will be taken every 15 minutes

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

Because of the earth's west-to-east motion, it has been established that the side of a whirlpool nearest the equator will follow the direction of rotation, since the equator is the fastest moving part of the earth's surface. Small swirls, such as those formed when the bathtub is emptied, may be influenced either way by the contour and tilt of the tub.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR SCOUT MEET

Area-Wide Jamboree Will Attract Over 300 to Twin Falls

Final arrangements for an area-wide Scout Jamboree to be held in Twin Falls in June were completed today and area commissioners, meeting at the Park hotel Sunday, extended the time of the meet from two to three days.

The Jamboree, commissioners said today, will now start at 1 p. m. June 18 and will close at 1 p. m. on June 20. The camp will be held at Lincoln field in Twin Falls and it is expected that more than 300 Boy Scouts and Scouters from this entire area will attend.

A registration fee of 25 cents a patrol, commissioners decided, will be charged and June 1 has been set as the deadline for patrol registrations. A contest for the rally part of the jamboree was also selected Sunday and will be made available to Scoutmasters in the near future, officials indicate.

Commissioners also recommended that a banner be made from neckerchiefs to send back to Washington, D. C. with the area contingent to the national jamboree. Each troop will donate one neckerchief and on it will be plainly stamped, in large white letters, the troop number.

Enthusiastic approval was given the new plan of camping which will take effect this spring. Officials explain the new system will lead to better leadership and more individual attention would be given to Scouts as a direct result of the plan. It is also expected that it will mean larger attendance to Scout camps.

COLEMAN TELLS CITY PLATFORM

Candidate Gives Stand And Points to Attainments Of Administration

By O. H. COLEMAN

As the city election is drawing near and I am a candidate for reelection as councilman I deem it my duty to inform the voters as to my position on all matters concerning the governmental activities of the city of Twin Falls.

Those of you who have been observing know what has been done the past two years under the present administration and are entitled to know what is being contemplated for the future.

Much has been done by the present administration in the way of street improvement and the beautifying of our city parks and playgrounds, all of which was much needed and very beneficial to our city and at a very little cost to the property owners as the greater portion of this work was done with federal funds, and at the same time has furnished considerable labor to the unemployed. All of this has been accomplished and at the same time the city levy has been reduced better than 35 per cent.

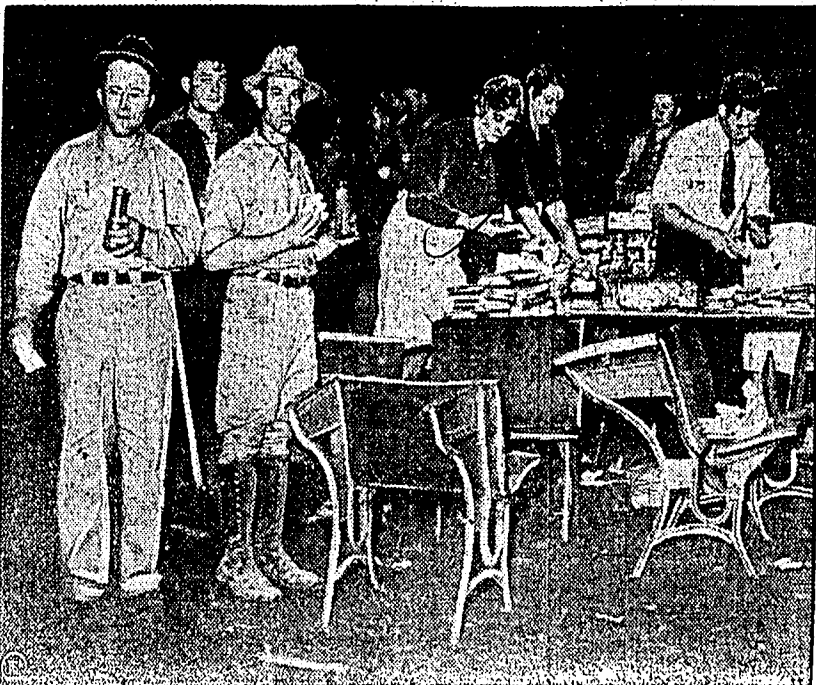

I favor reduction of taxes but not to the point where efficiency is impaired. Economy does not necessarily mean the expenditure of no money but rather the wise expenditure of money. Few people object to the spending of a little money if they are getting something to show for it.

I believe in the continuation of approved and worthy projects and taking advantage of this federal money which is available to taxing units only and it is our duty to the working men to have well planned projects ready in advance and to use all local labor possible in the completion of same and in so doing keep these men right here with their families instead of forcing them to seek employment elsewhere.

As councilman the past four years I have held the position of Commissioner of Public Safety, having supervision of the police and fire departments, the personnel of which I present for your approval. A vote for the present administration means the retention of these two departments.

Pause in Weary Hunt for Bodies

Tubs of coffee brewing in the background and the hot sandwiches that were served across explosion-tossed school desks spelled out the one note of relief for tired workers who dug into the wreckage of the New London, Tex., school building for the bodies of 425 children. The American Legion and Auxiliary set up the field kitchen and here tired workers paused a thankful moment while other eager hands took up the work of tearing apart the shambles which remained when a gas blast shattered the model country schoolhouse and buried hundreds of pupils and teachers beneath the twisted wreckage.

U.S. OIL OUTPUT SHOWS DECLINE

Petroleum) Exploitation of America Drops From 63 To 60 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, March 22 (U.P.).—The growing tendency throughout the world to increase restrictions against petroleum exploitation by others than nations of oil-producing countries was emphasized today by government officials who are studying the United States' oil supply.

Department of commerce statistics reveal that this nation's output of crude petroleum is declining in comparison with world production. The output in 1933 was 63 per cent compared with the rest of the world. In 1936 it had fallen to 60.

Paul L. Hopper, of the commerce department's petroleum-coal section, said surveys show that discovery of new oil reserves is hardly keeping abreast of production. If this country's internal needs increase, in the opinion of oil experts, it may become necessary to reduce petroleum exports and to increase imports. In 1936, the United States exported 51,430,000 barrels of crude petroleum, 85 per cent of it to Japan, Canada and France. This was an increase of approximately 1,000,000 barrels over 1935. Crude imports in 1936 aggregated 33,018,000 barrels.

American exploitation of foreign fields is slowly but gradually being restricted, commerce officials pointed out.
