BOARD MEMBERS ALL EXONERATED IN TEXAS BLAST

"Innocent Effort" to Save School Expense Termed
Disaster's Cause

JANITORS TAPPED LINE

Towns in Vicinity of New London Worry Over
Gas Danger

By TOM REYNOLDS

NEW LONDON, Tex., March 23 (U.P.)—An innocent effort by the New London school board to save about $300 a month by using waste gas for fuel, was blamed today for the explosion that killed 426 children and teachers.

A military court of inquiry established that the gas accumulated in a cloud in the basement and was discharged last Thursday afternoon in some manner unknown, possibly when the manual training teacher threw an electrical switch to start his machinery.

Schoolhouse janitors tapped a line of "wet" gas belonging to the Parade Gasoline company on orders of School Superintendent W. C. Shaw, who had only a verbal agreement with the oil company and had been warned that the gas might be dangerous.

Advised of Action

The whole school board was advised of Shaw's action and approved it, investigators were told. Dr. A. P. Schoch, chemist and explosives expert from the University of Texas, exonerated them all. Dr. Schoch will write the official report of the inquiry.

Today this busy oil field community returned to its labor, drilling through the red clay crust of earth for more oil, and gas. The inquiry was adjourned, martial law revoked, militiamen disbanded, and the dead, which numbered one-third of the children of the community, were buried in the same earth from which their fathers pined.

Dr. Schoch couched his verdict in gentle terms. "We all feel that the trustees of this school acted with the best intentions. They were not aware of what proper installation of gas equipment was, and did not know the danger."

NOTE THREATENS ANGELUS LEADER

Police Believe Deranged Man
Sent Letter to Aimee
Semple McPherson

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (U.P.)—A deranged man was sought by police today as the author of a note threatening to kidnap Aimee Semple McPherson from her Angelus temple.

While the red-haired evangelist was kept under guard, Detective Lieutenants Robert Underwood and E. D. Patton submitted the letter to fingerprint experts.

Incoherent parts of the note indicated it was written by a crazy man, they said. The writer grumbled "We're fed up with your bull." He threatened that unless Mrs. McPherson abandoned the temple by March 18 "we're coming to take you away."

Capt. Bert Wallis of the police homicide squad said guards will be assigned to the evangelist until the case is cleared up.

"We're not taking any chances," he said. Special guards likewise were hired by Angelus temple authorities.

Mrs. McPherson was in seclusion with friends.

Mental Test to Be Given French Woman Journalist

PARIS, March 23 (U.P.)—Magda de Fontanges must undergo a mental examination before she comes back to court April 8, to resume explanation of her shooting of Count Charles de Chabrun, former ambassador to Rome.

At an examination before a magistrate yesterday Madame de Fontanges testified that she had been the mistress of Premier Mussolini of Italy during April to July, 1936. "He was then tender and sweet to me," she said.

She went to Paris about that time, she testified, and when she returned to Rome she said she felt that a real barrier existed between herself and "my Danilo."

For this, she blamed de Chabrun, whom she accused of coming between her and Il Duce by telling him that she was "talking too much."

Judge Fines Man $5 After Explanation Of Drinking Effect

TULSA, Okla., March 23 (U.P.)—Tom Bailey, charged with drunkenness, told Police Judge A. A. Hatch he didn't know whether he had been intoxicated or not, that he never had been drunk before. He admitted he felt "sort of funny."

"Did everything sort of wave up and down like this?" the judge asked helpfully, waving his hand vertically. "And did you just feel mighty happy and grand and love everyone in the world dearly?"

"And did you also feel like you could just whip the pants off any mother's son alive?" the judge continued. "Yeah," breathed the prisoner, "that's it."

"You were drunk," pronounced Hatch. "Five dollars and costs."

MOLEY OBJECTS TO ROOSEVELT'S COURT PROGRAM

Former New Dealer Thinks
Amendment Is Correct
Way to Change

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
WASHINGTON, March 23 (U.P.)—Raymond Moley, the New Dealer's original brain trust, returned to Washington today to warn against judicial program and urge submission of a constitutional amendment in its place.

Moley, appearing as foe of the President's plan revealed belief that at least seven supreme court members concurred in Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes' opposition to enlargement of the tribunal, told the senate judiciary committee that:

"Atrophy and Death"
1. The judiciary plan threatens America's Democratic institutions with "atrophy and death."

2. It affords no quick solution of "the present so-called crisis" since passage of the plan, confirmation of new judges, enactment of new legislation, and court testing of this legislation could not likely be concluded before 1939.

3. Congress would still lack fundamental constitutional powers to regulate agriculture and industry. Moley declared opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's program on three grounds. He said:

"I am opposed to it because I believe that even if it did temporarily remove an obstacle to the evolution of progressive reform, it would, in the end, impair those institutional methods and traditions which make progressive evolution possible."

"I am opposed to this plan because I believe that there is a better way to achieve the immediate and ultimate objective."

Moley's testimony was the second strong move by opponents of President Roosevelt's plan in a drive to substitute a constitutional amendment proposal for the supreme court reorganization suggested by the President.

STRIKE ON COAST DOCKS 37 SHIPS

Shutdown of Unloading Is Ordered at Harbor in San Pedro

SAN PEDRO, Calif., March 23 (U.P.)—All movement of cargo from 33 ships in Los Angeles harbor halted at 8 a. m. today when orders for longshoremen to work the boats were cancelled by members of the waterfront employers' association.

The cargo shutdown did not affect six lumber ships in port and oil tankers, the employers' association announced.

When longshoremen reported at hiring halls early today to receive their work assignments, they were informed the ship operators had cancelled requests for the dock workers.

In announcing the shutdown of cargo movement, the waterfront employers' association charged longshoremen with violation of an agreement reached when the Pacific maritime strike ended.

The longshoremen had refused to march through a picket line of the sailors' union to unload the Lancaster which they declared was manned by a crew that had been unsympathetic to the eastern seamen's strike.

Salaries Demanded

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23 (U.P.)—Demands for an additional $320 assertedly unpaid back salaries were sent to Dr. Francis E. Townsend today in behalf of former employees of the Townsend plan headquarters here.

As Workers Searched Wreckage for Bodies

Standing on the debris in which 426 children met death, volunteers hunted for more bodies as the final chapter of the New London, Tex., school was written with the completion of the military inquiry at which all the school board members and the superintendent were exonerated.

Memorial Park Will Bring New Cemetery

WORK OPENS HERE ON PROJECT,
SECOND OF ITS KIND FOR IDAHO

Plans were complete today and construction underway on the first memorial park to be established in this vicinity and the second so established in Idaho, Charles W. Edwards, Twin Falls route two, who is financing the improvement, said here this afternoon.

The only other such cemetery park in Idaho is situated in Boise and is attracting high interest, those connected with the local improvement indicated.

Situated directly across the Kimberly road from the Twin Falls cemetery, the park—to be known as Sunset Memorial park—will feature great sloping lawns, shade trees, flowers and shrubbery. The entire plot consists of 58 acres, Mr. Edwards said, and approximately one-third of this will be devoted entirely to parking, the remainder being divided into lots which will be offered for sale within a short time.

No Tombstones
A feature of the new memorial park will be the total absence of tombstones. Each grave will be a separate cement vault, the sealed top lying from 12 to 18 inches below the ground level. The construction will be such that when the earth and grass is replaced there will be no sinking. Each grave will be indicated with a flat marker sunk in the ground, the top being level with the ground.

Because of this arrangement, Mr. Edwards said, it will be possible to give perpetual care to the grounds without any additional charge. Moving will be much easier, he points out, and an absence of grass clippings and uncared areas will be noted.

Artificial Lake
The area to be devoted to parking alone will be adjacent to the highway and will extend back into the property and take in an artificial lake, which will be constructed, and also the Perrine coulee which flows through the property. Work is already underway rip-rapping the

Expert Proposes School Changes

Expert analysis of Twin Falls' school building needs and recommendations for expansion of the educational program offered here were being studied by the board of school trustees today after acceptance of the detailed survey submitted last night by Dr. Thomas R. Cole, professor of school administration at the University of Washington, former head of Seattle schools, and present school consultant for the state of Washington.

Dr. Cole's recommendations followed the general outline of the building program previously envisioned by the board. But it offered in addition a series of specific proposals to improve the educational set-up here.

Buildings Needed
Concerning the building program, Dr. Cole found "need of additional building facilities in each of the elementary schools," pointed out necessity for remodeling in the high school, and found removal of the sixth grade students from the junior high school building a prime necessity. He outlined suggested structural changes and additions in detail.

Holding the board's attention even more, however, were the Washington educator's proposals for inclusion of a well-rounded physical training and health program throughout Twin Falls schools. He strongly urged adoption of this

SCHOOLS' BONDS CUT TO $56,703

Expert Lauds Trustee Board
For Reductions During Depression Era

Bonded indebtedness of the Twin Falls school system has been reduced to $56,703.32 as of March 1, as compared with $422,000 10 years ago, it was announced today by S. H. Graves, treasurer of the board of education.

Solid financial condition of the district drew commendation from Dr. Thomas R. Cole, University of Washington school expert who submitted his recommendation last night for the proposed expansion program to relieve the overcrowded school status.

"As a board of education, you have reason to be proud of the financial condition of your district at present," Dr. Cole said. "The reduction of a bonded indebtedness from $422,000 to a net indebtedness of $56,703.32 in 10 years during the period of depression is a real financial achievement."

Gess Named Warden of Idaho's Penitentiary

In addition to his position with the state land board, Gess has held the office of state insurance safety inspector.

He is a native of Idaho.

TAYLOR LASHES AT STEMMER'S FEDERAL POWER

Attorney General Says Head
Of Highway Has Control
Of Federal Funds

BOISE, Idaho, March 23 (U.P.)—Attorney General Joseph Taylor today charged that Joseph Stemmer, director of public highways, had too much "power" over federal appropriations, and that he had used his right of certification in securing payment upon "void claims."

Taylor's remarks were made at a meeting of the board of examiners, and were read into the records of the session at his request.

The attorney general directed his blast against Stemmer, recently "temporarily" appointed director of highways by Governor Barzilla Clark, when the governor moved that Stemmer's salary be fixed at $300 per month.

Taylor flew into a rage, got up from the table, and paced the floor, declaring that he wouldn't "vote to give Stemmer anything."

"I object to the payment of any salary whatever to J. H. Stemmer for the reason he has been engaged in practices which are in violation of law," Taylor roared.

The attorney general alleged that Stemmer had known certain practices were in violation of the law. "He has certified to the state auditor claims he has known to be void, and by reason of his certification, such claims were paid," declared the state chief lawyer.

Will Push Suit
The attorney general declared he would push his suit pending against Stemmer in order to recover "from Stemmer and his band what is due the state."

Governor Clark remarked that he thought the suit had been dropped. "No! The suit has not been dropped," flared Taylor.

Then Taylor went on to allege that Stemmer had too much power concerning federal appropriations, and declared that pressure had

EX-JUSTICE SAYS FDR PLAN LEGAL

Only Living Former Member
Of Court Claims Program
Constitutional

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 23 (U.P.)—The constitutionality of President Roosevelt's plan to enlarge the U. S. supreme court bore the endorsement today of the only former member of the court still alive.

Breaking a long self-imposed silence, 79-year-old John Hessin Clarke, justice from 1916 to 1922, said in an address last night that the proposal is "plainly constitutional."

Clarke, who describes himself as a "progressive with both feet on the ground," emphasized he was expressing no opinion as to the wisdom of the plan but discussing only the "naked legal question."

"The wise men who framed our constitution," he said, "may have had more confidence in the wisdom and patriotism of the congresses and the presidents which were to come after them, than some seem to have today."

"Whether or not they were wise in entrusting to the congress and to the president such extensive powers over the courts as we have found they possess and have long exercised—are not questions which are now before us. The single question . . . is, would a conditional increase, as recommended by the president be constitutional or not?"

"I think that the answer . . . should be—and must be—that such an act would plainly be within the powers granted to the courts and therefore clearly constitutional."

Italy Refuses to Recall Volunteers From Spanish War

LONDON, March 23 (U.P.)—The Italian government refuses unconditionally at present to discuss the recall of foreign volunteers fighting in Spain, Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador, informed the sub-committee of the international non-intervention committee today.

Grandi added as his personal opinion that not a single Italian volunteer would leave Spain until the end of the civil war.

Strikers Removed from Plants Without Violence

Old Statute Is Basis for Men's Ouster

CHICAGO, March 23 (U.P.)

Police armed with warrants issued under a 75-year-old statute declared war today on "sit-down" strikers and evicted nearly 1,100 of them from three buildings.

Virtual armies of about 50 officers each evicted 900 men and women from the Wilson-Jones company stationery factory, 97 from the Marmon Automotive Products company plant, and 170 from the Logan department store.

State's Attorney Thomas Courtney said warrants would be issued under the rarely used statute whenever requested. Evictions will follow as fast as possible, he said.

Pledge Assistance

Courtney pledged the "energetic assistance of every law-enforcing agency" in halting sit-down strikes. "The evictions were accomplished without violence. Seven men were arrested at the Wilson-Jones and Marmon plants and summoned into police court today on 'intimidation' charges. They were arrested under a section of the Illinois criminal code which provides $500 fine and six months in jail for persons withholding property from its rightful owner."

Police Capt. Joseph Goldberg assembled 50 officers at the entrance of the Logan department store early today, and marched into the building.

Leave Quietly
"We're here," Goldberg announced. "What are you going to do about it?"

"We'll go," the strikers answered. They gathered their belongings and marched out quietly.

Similar uniformed police squads gained entrance last night at the Wilson-Jones plant with warrants naming ten strikers, and at the Marmon factory with warrants naming seven. They made no show of guns or clubs.

Police reported 4,000 men and women were involved in 18 other strikes in Chicago. Only a few of these were of the "sit-down" variety, however, and employers had not requested evictions on those cases.

LEWIS, CHRYSLER ASKED TO MEET

Gov. Murphy Sends Letter
Of Invitation to Heads
Of Two Factions

DETROIT, March 23 (U.P.)—Gov. Frank Murphy prepared today to meet on neutral ground tomorrow with the two key men in Detroit's labor troubles in an attempt to settle the Chrysler Corp. strike.

John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for industrial organization, accepted Murphy's invitation to attend a conference at Lansing at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Shortly after noon the governor had received no reply from Walter P. Chrysler, head of the automobile concern, who also was invited, but Murphy said he was "very hopeful" that the conference would be held.

Comes Under Arrest
Lewis who technically can be arrested for contempt of court in Detroit, wired Murphy from Washington that he was being summoned "under duress."

"Nevertheless and notwithstanding I agree to be present," Lewis' telegram said.

Lansing, the state capitol, is in Ingham county—outside the jurisdiction of the Wayne county circuit court which ordered the arrest of Lewis and the 6,000 Chrysler sit-down strikers because they ignored an injunction commanding them to leave nine plants. Should Sheriff Thomas Wilcox suddenly decide to enforce the court's order, he could arrest Lewis if the labor leader crosses the boundary of Wayne county during his visit to Michigan.

Promises Immunity
However, Murphy promised Lewis immunity during his visit to Lansing by saying:

"John L. Lewis will have no embarrassment with the law." Murphy was said to have been in telephone communication with both Lewis and Chrysler early today. His telegrams of invitation were sent at 8 a. m.

The telegrams noted the fact that writes for the arrest of Lewis; Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile workers; and the 6,000 sit-down strikers had been issued. "It is expected," Murphy's telegram continued, "that the sheriff will request assistance of state authorities in execution of the writ."

Chrysler corporation executive declined to comment on Murphy's invitation or Lewis' acceptance of it.

IL DUCE APPEALS FOR PREPARATION

Mussolini Speaks to 250,000
Blackshirts on 18th
Anniversary

ROME, March 23 (U.P.)—Premier Benito Mussolini, addressing 250,000 black shirted Fascists massed in the Venice square today to celebrate the 18th anniversary of Fascism's birth, bitterly condemned his foreign critics and urged his men:

"Remember and prepare yourselves."

Italy, Mussolini shouted, was very strong. It had triumphed over an economic siege (the League of Nations penalties in the Ethiopian crisis) and Italian were gifted with tenacious memories, he said.

Italy waited 40 years to avenge the defeat at Adowa in Ethiopia, he said, and if Italian memories ever weakened over present wrongs: "The Fascist government will be ready to keep pinching them alive."

"This anniversary occurs while one of the usual storms is blowing against Italy," said Mussolini of his critics. "It is a storm of printed paper, an inundation of lurid talk."

He then reaffirmed that Italy wanted peace. But he added that it was necessary to be prepared at all times.

EXPERT OUTLINES SCHOOL CHANGES

Dr. Thomas R. Cole Offers Proposals on Buildings And Courses

Bully Needed "The junior-senior high school building was erected some years ago," he said, "and is now badly in need of room adjustments and equipment to meet the needs of a generally accepted modern program of secondary education. I consider it very important for the welfare of your pupils that they be made just as soon as possible."

Dr. Cole's survey of proposed buildings of a new auditorium building for the high school at present, terms its need "secondary to the alterations that should be made now to improve instruction conditions." Changes of new units are proposed for the grade schools would raise pupil accommodations at Lincoln school from 450 to 640. Total increase allowed for under his suggested building program would be from 1,520 to 2,280 elementary pupils.

Urges Fire Escapes Warning the board that Bickel school is a "fire hazard," he urged outside fire escapes for the four upstairs rooms at the present building, which he would retain temporarily in conjunction with a new unit.

His plans for Bickel, with an eye on the future for a second new unit replacing the existing structure, he termed "the safety valve" for expansion of the city's elementary system.

Modernization of the high school, through alterations he proposed both in physical plant and in educational courses, is "a serious problem—you need it very much," Dr. Cole said.

Findings Listed The educational expert's findings and recommendations for the school system:

Junior-senior high school: "There is a distinct lack of training in health education for all students and the work in manual arts for boys is quite neglected. . . . The physical education program is entirely inadequate. . . . Remove the present bleachers in the gymnasium and substitute collapsible ones which can be put up and taken down quickly. Install a partition curtain so that boys' and girls' classes can be conducted at the same time. . . . Showers and toilet room facilities should be increased for both boys and girls."

Dr. Cole recommended three manual arts shops, adequate home economics rooms for girls, installation of a lunch room, added science room for biology, hall lockers, more lavatories and toilets, art room, equipment, mechanical drawing room and facilities, another typewriting room, more equipment, lighting, and library transfer to a larger room and several other changes.

Washington: "This school should not be increased in capacity to a very large degree," Dr. Cole said, citing disadvantages of the one-story type. He urged removal of Lincoln district students, erection of an addition containing four classrooms, and lighting and heating improvements.

Lincoln: Addition on south and rear to contain 11 classrooms, used in conjunction with the present building, which is "well constructed but unfortunately has too much waste space in the corridors, and the basement rooms are only reasonably satisfactory."

Bickel: Dr. Cole advised against discarding the present building, recommending instead that a new unit be erected and that the current structure be improved and retained for the time being, probably to be torn down in future when erection of a second new unit is found advisable. He suggested retention of eight present classrooms in active use but elimination of the room above the entrance, which he found a "firetrap." The new unit would contain nine school rooms.

Suggests New Site Dr. Cole suggested purchase now of a site for a future new junior high school building.

Board members, all of whom expressed high satisfaction with the Washington educator's thorough survey and his suggestions for improvement in the school system, questioned him on various phases of up-to-the-minute educational programs. He outlined Seattle's experience as a guide to the Twin Falls board.

Discussing the problem of private social clubs in schools, in answer to a query by Mrs. Sturgeon McCoy, Dr. Cole said that well-organized boys' and girls' clubs under school supervision have virtually eliminated the issue in Seattle. These school groups, he said, conduct social meetings, school dances and vocational work.

Acceptance of Dr. Cole's report was voted unanimously on motion of S. H. Graves. The board approved a warrant for $280 for the educator's survey work.

MEMORIAL PARK UNDERWAY HERE

Second Project of Kind in Idaho Brings Another Cemetery to City

Construction is expected to start soon on the concrete work in connection with two bridges which will cross the coulee to the main part of the park at either end of the property.

The entire area will then be fenced off with rock pillars supporting connecting chains. It is expected the park will be ready for use by midsummer. When completed those interested in the improvement state, it will be one of the beauty spots in this section of the state.

Another feature of the park will be giant awnings which will spread over each grave during services, enabling mourners to sit in a protected area. Smaller awnings will be erected over each grave after the burial rites to protect and preserve flowers for a longer period than is possible in unprotected areas.

Local Corporation The park is sponsored by a group of local men incorporated as the Parks Development company.

Mr. Edwards, who is financing the venture, is an old time resident of this section of Idaho. With him, in the company, are H. J. Ricker, as president; N. J. McCormick as secretary; William J. Edwards, treasurer; and R. S. McCormick.

At the present time 10 men are daily engaged in making the necessary improvements. Later plans call for the construction of a mausoleum.

MOVE ON BRIDGE LOOMING NEARER

Concern Receptive to Action By State; Condemnation Effort Planned

The chamber's action is being taken as a result of the bill passed by the last session of the legislature, enabling the state to acquire toll bridges.

News that Joe H. Stemmer, state highway director, would spend approximately $7,000,000 on the state highway system, gave added encouragement to the Twin Falls chamber's hopes that sufficient funds would be available for state acquisition of the rim-to-rim span.

State Rep. Dan J. Cavanaugh had returned from Boise today after conferring with Gov. Barzille W. Clark and Atty. Gen. J. W. Taylor concerning the proposed action. Residents of Twin Falls and this area interested in making the trip to Boise were asked this afternoon to call the Chamber of Commerce offices so that arrangements can be completed for the caravan.

Observers familiar with the developments in the bridge proposal expressed the belief today that there has never been a more logical time to enter into negotiations with the bridge company for purchase of the span and eventual removal of the toll. They emphasized the necessity of immediate action.

JURY PONDERING BURGLARY GUILT

Fate of Two Men Handed to Panel Today After Pair Presents Alibi

BULLETIN Verdict of guilty as charged was returned by a district court jury this afternoon against Fred R. King and Elmer Beverly. Judge J. W. Porter set 2 p. m. Thursday as time for passing sentence.

Fate of two men accused of attempted burglary of a Hansen service station was placed in the hands of a jury in district court today. Fred R. King, 28, and Elmer Beverly, 19, were the pair awaiting the outcome of the jury's deliberations. Question of their guilt or innocence, hinging on the alibi both presented in defense, was handed to the jury at 11:35 a. m. today after calling of two additional witnesses this morning. Clyde Bess testified in support of the accused men, and Tom Parks, former deputy sheriff, was called by the state in rebuttal.

Claim Alibi The two young men stood trial on charges of trying to break into the J. A. Goertzen service station. Highest of their defense testimony yesterday was their assertion that they were in Twin Falls at 1 a. m. last Jan. 10, at the time the asserted burglary effort was made. The defense claimed the pair started for a dance at Burley but became stalled in snow drifts on the road northeast of Hansen. Beverly was found near their machine and King was apprehended in a barn left about a mile away.

Support for the story of the accused pair was given in court yesterday by two Salt Lake City girls, Jerry Reed and Vivian Brooks. Jack Clawson, brother-in-law of Beverly, testified that the men were in his home at 1:30 a. m., Jan. 10.

Goertzen Testifies Witnesses for the state yesterday included Mr. Goertzen, who said that he followed two men, whom he interrupted in the act of entering his station, and that the trail led to Beverly and the car; O. R. Wiseman, Charles R. Sherwood, Marion Motherhead, Sheriff E. F. Prater and Art Parker, deputy sheriff.

O. C. Hall conducted the defense, with Prosecutor Edward Babcock handling the prosecution. Judge J. W. Porter is presiding.

Jury members who were deliberating the verdict this afternoon include Harold James, W. B. Swisher, L. L. Goodman, Anton Herzinger, Emmett Bauer, H. W. Loudon, H. C. Erickson, J. R. Durk, J. R. Crawford, Lee Handlon, D. L. Beamer and W. E. Fennigwald.

ALL EXONERATED IN TEXAS BLAST

"Innocent Effort" to Save School Expense Tamed Disaster's Cause

Dr. Schoch estimated there was 70,000 cubic feet of space in the basement, where the gas could have accumulated in its most deadly proportions. He believed it had formed in a cloud in the upper half of the basement.

Johnny Dial, 15, one of the few fortunate survivors of the 738 students who were in the building, told the board of inquiry that he had seen L. R. Butler, the manual training teacher, throw a switch and the explosion followed immediately. Butler was killed. The switch was near a trap door leading into the basement, Johnny said, and the explosion "seemed to come right out of the trap door."

Towns Worry Dr. Schoch said the spark may have come from that switch, "or it may have been a spark from a worn electric conduit under the floor. Conduits do wear, you know."

In other east Texas towns, school officials were worried about their gas lines. The high school at Overton was dismissed Monday, while the heating system was inspected. Classes will be resumed Wednesday, after the check-up.

Survivors among the New London children, many of whom are in bandages suffering from minor wounds, will have no classes for at least ten days. The main building that was destroyed by the blast, will have to be rebuilt. T. R. Duran, the principal, said he had given no thought to reopening, and would not until the children recovered from their fright.

The Red Cross tentatively set the death list at 453, but several of the names could not be accounted for, some admittedly were duplicated, and the final count possibly would be lower, near the 428 established by the United Press.

Court Discussion On J. C. Program

Discussion of the proposed supreme court reorganization program was tentatively scheduled today as a highlight of the Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at the Park hotel at 7 p. m. Wednesday. Either a talk on the plan or a debate was being lined up today by the program committee.

Other matters to come before the group will be the Junior Chamber summer program and receiving of committee reports on the organization's projects.

COLLEGE SLATES VOCATION WORK

Gooding Curriculum to Cover Professional Training and Liberal Arts

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—Gooding college's curriculum is to be greatly widened, W. F. Shaw, president of the institution, has announced. The present courses will be kept and vocational courses in agriculture and industry will be added.

R. E. Shepherd, president of the Idaho Chamber of Commerce and member of the board of trustees of Gooding college, introduced the motion providing for the expansion of the curriculum at a meeting of the board last week, Mr. Shaw states. The motion was passed unanimously by the board.

Vocational Classes

Shepherd's motion was: "Gooding college should continue as a liberal arts college and develop along with the liberal arts work a series of vocational classes designed entirely to train Idaho's youth for life on the 600,000 acre irrigated track adjacent to and including Gooding." This decision was reached by the board after Dr. William J. Davidson, Chicago, secretary of the Methodist board of education, had given his report on the college following his inspection of it. Dr. Davidson said he had had every confidence in the college and its continued growth.

Among the new courses to be added will be courses in bee culture, Diesel engineering, architecture, drafting and blue print reading, farm structures, weed control, dairy products, poultry raising for profit, stock breeding and judging, electricity for the farm, water diffusion, and farm implements.

Intensive Courses

These will be short intensive courses of a demonstrative character and will be taught by a staff experienced in the fields and brought to Gooding by various agriculture and industrial groups interested in these fields.

The general program is to organize the college somewhat along the lines of Park college in Kansas. At that school students are given work in the field they plan to enter after graduation.

Within the next 30 days Mr. Shaw plans to start work on the organization of the new courses in connection with the visitation program that he will undertake at the request of the board of trustees.

Gooding C. of C. to Number Residences

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—Gooding Chamber of Commerce has decided to have house numbers in Gooding. The chamber is to purchase the signs, and the Boy Scouts will probably deliver and install them. Each house owner will pay for the signs, installation and delivery.

Dr. L. F. Lesser, Sam Sullivan and Ralph Brown are on a committee named to handle the work in connection with the signs.

Another project that the chamber will sponsor is the erection of road signs to route travel through the county. Publicity is to be given Gooding and Gooding county by the chamber through advertisements in a special edition of the Salt Lake Tribune this summer.

A committee of Herb H. Love, Frank Swan and Julius Schmitt has been named to attend to the road signs and publicity.

CLARK APPROVES NEW HOME UNIT

Governor Authorizes Group to Organize Over Entire State of Idaho

With the way cleared by Gov. Barzilla Clark for statewide organization of the American Citizens Protective association, home building group set up to aid those of low income brackets in owning modern houses, indications were today that it would only be a matter of time before such organization was completed, Al Hacker, chief of research for Twin Falls county, said.

As originally announced through the Evening Times, application for a $100,000 loan from the federal government to carry on the work in Idaho was made yesterday. The application was sent to Senator William E. Borah and Senator James P. Pope who have signified their approval of the plan and said they would see that the application was placed before the proper officials in Washington.

Hundreds Join

With hundreds of members already joined in three counties including Twin Falls, Bannock and Bonneville, and organization of the fourth county, Jerome, set for Friday at 8 p. m., in the Jerome county courthouse, Governor Clark authorized the state wide formation of the association.

In an open letter, a copy of which was retained by Mr. Hacker, the governor said:

"Having thoroughly investigated the American Citizens Protective association, I take pleasure in authorizing its organization over the entire state of Idaho."

"The association is incorporated under the laws of the state for the benefit of the citizens of the low wage earning brackets, and I am thoroughly in accord with its objectives to promote home building and educational programs for its membership."

"I feel confident that the community where the association functions will profit greatly, and I urge that the plan be given full consideration in the Gem state."

College Choir Plans Concert Over Radio

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—Gooding college acappella choir will sing over radio station KTFI at Twin Falls on Easter Sunday from 6:30 to 7 p. m. The choir singing will be part of a special Easter program.

Sometime during the next 10 weeks the choir will tour southern Idaho, announces Prof. B. E. Harris, director. Towns in which the choir will sing are Rupert, Twin Falls, Murtaugh, Hansen, Filer, Buhl, Shoshone, Halley, Richfield, Fairfield, Kimberly, Boise and Nampa.

Program Given by Gooding Students

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—A musical program in which about 500 students from both the high school and grade school took part was presented in the high school auditorium Friday afternoon. Miss Heta Watts had charge of the singing by the groups from the grade school, Bernard Seaman directed the singing of the high school chorus, and W. S. Berryessa directed the bands.

Numbers were provided by each of the first eight grades and by the high school girls' sextet and the high school chorus.

Meredith Bowler and Margery Thompson accompanied the high school chorus on the piano. Ornetta Luther, Alice Deboard, Janita Adams, Ruth Schmidt, Gwen Dixon and Betty Russell were the students in the high school girls' sextet.

GOODING SCHOOL PROJECT STARTS

Number of Men Working on New Building Will Be Doubled Soon

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—Number of men working on Gooding's new $90,000 junior high building is to be doubled by the end of this week, states Gordon Gilmore, construction foreman for A. Ritchie & Co., contractors. At present 20 men are working.

With much of the preliminary work out of the way, Gilmore states, the larger crew can be used. All men are hired through the U. S. re-employment service at Twin Falls.

Pouring of cement for the foundations is progressing rapidly, and pouring of the floor and sidewalls of the underground boiler room will begin this week. The new structure is being erected immediately south of the present high school building and will be built of brick.

Field Work Started On Gooding Farms

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—Farmers in the Gooding vicinity in most cases are starting their field work in earnest this week. Plowing and discing was started by some of the farmers on the south Gooding tract last week.

Considerable work has also been done by farmers west of Gooding and in the vicinity of Bliss. Some farmers in the Tuttle district have planted grain and others are preparing fields for sugar beets.

Little has been done on the tract north of Gooding because the snow lingered there longer.

21 Men Work On Gooding Projects

New Fire House, Pipe Job And Clean-Up Underway

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—A crew of 21 men is being employed by the city of Gooding on three projects. Ten men are working on the new city fire house being put up, five men are preparing to lay new pipe in the city cemetery, and six men are cleaning up the refuse and ashes that have accumulated around the city during the winter.

Foundations and an underground room for a heating unit have been completed for the new fire house. Laying of the brick sidewalls will start this week unless shipment of materials delays the work.

The crew of men working in the cemetery is digging out wooden pipe in preparation for laying 1,200 feet of steel electrically welded pipe. Three trucks and the six men are being used in the clean-up campaign.

SELF-RELIANT ODDITIES
If the people of the United States could learn a little something from the sturdy citizens of East Lampeter, Pa., the state of the republic would improve with considerable speed.
For the people of East Lampeter have made a strange, almost unprecedented request of the federal government. They want it to stop trying to lend them money for civic improvements.
Some little time ago the PWA set aside $56,000 to build a new consolidated schoolhouse for the benefit of the children of East Lampeter and vicinity. It was to replace several older school buildings, and it was just the kind of project that 99 out of 100 communities would accept with devout thankfulness.
Now there happen to be 2,300 registered taxpayers in East Lampeter, and 1,600 of them are of the Amish and Mennonite faiths; and these faiths teach that it is wrong to borrow money at interest.
So a public mass meeting was held, and a resolution was adopted stating that East Lampeter already has plenty of schools, that the townspeople didn't care to go into debt to build a new one, and that Uncle Sam would be doing everybody concerned a favor if he would keep his money and forget all about the school building he had planned.

For several years now the federal government has been pouring out funds to states and cities; and this is the second time, in all these years, that any group has declined to take what was offered. The other case involved a set of Menominee Indians in Minnesota, who turned down a government offer to build a new road across their reservation. As a spokesman for Secretary Ickes remarks, "Nobody else has ever said anything but 'Gimmee, gimmee.'"
We have got so far from the old-fashioned virtues these days that the people of East Lampeter look positively quaint. What? These people actually refuse to go into debt? They are willing to get along with what they have, instead of replacing it with something new? They don't feel they need the federal government's help in educating their children? What ails them, anyway?
They are sadly behind the times, obviously. Getting into debt is fashionable, almost inescapable, these days. So is the practice of discarding old possessions, still good for years of service, and replacing them with new ones. And so, too, is the habit of demanding that Uncle Sam help you do what you used to do for yourself.

That we yield to these things without a struggle, and at the same time demand that the federal government balance its budget, dismantle its growing bureaucracy, and cease asking for extended powers, merely proves that we don't bother to be logical.
We could learn something from the Amishmen and the Mennonites of East Lampeter—and from the Menominee Indians.

MAKE THEM AMERICANS
Congress has a number of profoundly important measures to handle this spring. But it is to be hoped that the pressure of this business does not cause congress to ignore the Tydings-Gibson bill, which would make American citizens out of the 21,000 inhabitants of the island of Guam.
This island has been under the American flag ever since the war with Spain, but its people are neither flesh, fish, nor fowl. They are not aliens, and yet they are not Americans. They aspire to be American citizens, and have sent a delegation to ask congress to give them that status; and at a time when America's other islands are asking everything from economic rehabilitation to complete independence, this looks like a singularly mild request.
The people of Guam feel like Americans and act like Americans. It is to be hoped that congress will find time to pass the bill that will make them in fact Americans.

QUIRK OR FATE?
Strangest of all fates was the one which caught up with Samuel Whitaker, convicted Los Angeles murderer, recently.
Whitaker was convicted of having hired a thug to kill his wife. When he was called up for sentence he was asked, according to custom, if he had anything to say in his defense. Raising his arm, he cried dramatically:
"If I am guilty, I hope God will strike me dead before I reach my cell."
Unimpressed, the judge ordered him to San Quentin prison for life. Whitaker was taken away. He fell ill en route, to the prison and was lodged in the prison hospital. He seemed to improve, and a cell was prepared for him. But before he could enter it, he fell dead.
Sheer coincidence—or grim working-out of a mysterious and inscrutable fate?

Old Jonathan Twerp was the laziest man
You're ever like to see.
If a job meant stirring a finger-

Old Jon said, "Not for me!"
He's eaten big dinners for years

Much more than he was need-

For he sought a fat tummy on which he could rest
His book while he is reading!

THIS IS ABOUT ENOUGH ON THAT MATTER!
Dear Pot Shots:
We suggest that the Western barn dance hang a sign by their ticket window inscribed thusly:
"Gents positively must wear dress suits or no admittance." (Dress suits in this instance meaning business suits). It might save gentlemen some annoyance and could do no harm.

So for this week we give you one that several contri- butors have asked us to revive in shortened form: the best short story of the week in 100 or less words. We don't care what you write about, and neither does our board of ad- visers. You're liable to win the 50 cents on practically anything or nothing. So hop to it.
WHAT MAKES OUR Pot Shots staff artist wish he lived in the good old days when a body didn't have to monkey with siph contrap- tions as radiators, etc., is the latest little happening over at his house. He tells you about it:

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW
Pot Shots:
Turn about is fair play.
When those four Detroit hotels had their guests na- rooned on high upper floors by the sit-down strike of employes, one of the guys stranded up around the 17th floor was a baseball umpire.
Wonder how the "ump" liked to have a strike called on him, for a change?

THIS TICK-LES US!
Dear Fottle Wottle:
The first round went to the tick. Up in Miss Gillespie's general science class at the high school, they were discussing their wool project. Miss Gillespie picked up a bit of unwashed wool—and out strolls a large and luscious tick. Whereupon the teacher deposited said piece of wool in another corner of the room as quick as scat, and with no dilly-dallying what-the-so-ever.
Round one to the tick.

DAPHNE BRETT, a young woman, New York advertising copy writer, is in love with LARRY SMITH, architect. Daphne has one younger sister, JENNIFER. Jennifer resents Daphne's at- tempt to guide her career. First she dates TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy, in defiance of Daphne's wish that she make a play for Larry. She develops a strug- gle between the two suitors. Eventually the sisters reach a showdown, but it is clear that Jennifer intends to lead her own life; possibly marry Tucker Ainsley. Meanwhile Daphne sets Larry again and the same night, later, he proposes marriage over the telephone. Daphne, deliriously happy, wants to say "yes!" but she knows her first duty is to get Jennifer successfully launched on a career. She puts her to wait, and then Jennifer comes home with the announcement that she has lost her job.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIV
BACK of them the music played softly. Sixty stories below the lights of Manhattan blined out the outlines of the city streets that spread beneath them like a toy village. Overhead the stars shone down upon them and a new moon, riding high, lighted the terrace on the Star Light Roof.
"Isn't it beautiful, Larry? It's somehow it's so beautiful it seems unreal. Look down there. Can you believe that's the same street you walked on to- day? Wouldn't you think if we were to go down we'd find dolls instead of people?"
"Daphne, what's the matter?" Larry turned her about gently but still her eyes didn't meet his. "There isn't anything the mat- ter," she said.
He lighted a cigaret, drew on it and threw it away. "There is, I feel that way withdrawn into yourself. All evening long I've had the feeling that you've been trying to avoid me, avoid hearing me tell you," she said. "I didn't mean to," she said. "Last night on the telephone I told you that tonight I was going to ask you to marry me. I haven't much to offer you, Daph- ne, but everything I have is yours. Things are getting better and next year our firm's branch- ing out in a big way. Will you marry me, darling?"
DAPHNE caught her breath and closed her eyes. Nothing, at this minute, could take away her ecstasy but she couldn't speak. "Will you?" His voice was so low she could hardly hear it. "Oh, my sweet! I can't tell you I will. But I want to." "Then why can't you?" She turned away again. "Larry, you can't take on added responsi- bility. You've your mother and your aunt to take care of. A wife would be expensive. And I . . . I'm just getting along in my job."
His hands on her shoulders were cruelly strong. "Daphne, you want me to believe that your job means more to you than marry- ing me?"
She didn't deny it but she couldn't say it did.
"Look at me." She raised her eyes. He said: "I knew I couldn't believe that. Will you tell me that you will marry me soon?" "I can't tell you that either, Larry. I can't even ask you to wait."
His eyes searched her face. "Will you tell me that you love me?"
"I do," she said simply.
Because he understood, because her two words meant that she would always love him, he held her tenderly for a moment.
"I'll wait and I'll ask you again and again until you are ready to tell me why you can't now and why you will some day."
REPRIEVE. Hope. The mo- ment had come and gone and it was not all over. She should have known it would not be. She should have known what manner of man, her man was.
"You see, Daphne, I can't give up because you refuse me now. I've had other girls, been infatu- ated, romantic, but you are the one girl. I knew it the first day I saw you. A man doesn't ac- cept the wrong answer when he feels as I do."
"Larry," her voice was soft but her tones were tense, "please don't give up. I'm going to ask you to at another time and this is the last time I'll say this, but I've got to tell you that I never want you to stop asking me. To- morrow I'll know this is unfair and I can't explain it but there it is. With no explanations."
He laughed. "Are you trying to tell me you have a past?"
"No, a present," she said enig- matically. "Now let's go back and dance. Did I forget to tell you that you're my favorite dan- cing partner?"
He bowed deeply. "Madame is indeed kind. Do you feel like be- ing very gay?"
Daphne said she did.
"GOOD. It's not quite eleven. Why don't we go to a Broadway night club and blow

SMOKE
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The official smoking-up of the national state of alarm is progressing a little too well for the comfort of those who are doing it. Certain of the fire-fannars are now slipping away from the blaze they have started and are emulating President Roose- velt by taking a spring vacation. (Messrs. Eccles, Bell, Roper, Mor- genthau, and many others have left town or are leaving.) It may be too much to say some of them have been overcome by the millions of their own, or by other words, but certainly they are not now relaxing in complete comfort.
For one thing, the Eccles tocsin rang a little too loud and clear. Commodity speculators viewed it as the day of the Hoover speeches in the old days of the previous adminis- tration, and went off in a direction opposite that to which Eccles pointed. The bond market did likewise, to an extent which will make Mr. Morgenthau's rest sporadic or worse for some time.

The Family Doctor
By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hy- gienic, the Health Magazine
So many different types of lenses for use in eyeglasses are available today that many people are confused as to their uses and possibilities. The modern dispenser of eye- glasses considers the shape of the person who is going to wear the glasses, the deformities of his eyes, and many other factors.
Eyeglasses may be used to correct nearsightedness, farsightedness, astigmatism, failure of the eyes to work together, and trouble with fo- cusing, as well as eyestrain.
As they get older some people need two sets of eyeglasses, or bi- focal lenses which make it unne- cessary to keep changing from dis- tance glasses to reading glasses and vice versa. Eyeglasses have been de- veloped even with trifocal lenses, providing for three different dis- tances.
For certain very severe conditions of the eye there are available tele- scope lenses, but these are exceed- ingly expensive and their usefulness has been greatly exaggerated by some of the people who sell such glasses primarily for profit.
A recent development is a new kind of eyeglasses that are invis- ible and can be worn under the eye- lids. Called "contact lenses," they cost more than ordinary lenses, are more difficult to use, and are less adaptable to ordinary requirements of eyeglasses.
A contact eyeglass is worn under the eyelids with the rim resting di- rectly on the eyeball. The portion over that part of the eye which sees is separated from it by a thin layer of salt solution. Contact lenses are especially useful, of course, for actresses, models, and other people who do not care to have their appearance altered by glasses.
It is much harder to fit contact eyeglasses than it is to fit ordinary spectacles. The wearer has to de- velop how to insert them and how to remove them. They have to be removed and inserted several times daily.
They should not, of course, be used except on advice of a person who understands fully the physical condition of the eye that is to be provided with this type of lens.

As the frost leaves the ground in- creased activity is manifest in the country and the demand for men in the rural districts, for which there is still an ample supply on hand, increases daily, according to the Farmers' service. It is thought that by next week, farm work will be under way and most of the surplus la- bor that has congregated in this city during the winter will be absorbed. This has been the hardest winter in Twin Falls history for laborers. There has been practically no work and those who had a small surplus at the beginning of the year have spent it.
Resumption of work is looked forward to as a great boon.
Wages are lower than formerly.

A millia company will be formed in this city within a very short time, according to General Rowe, chief of staff for the governor, here last week. Gen. Rowe stated that the Dream- land pavilion would be secured if possible in the city and then gave out the information that the com- pany would be formed as soon as the governor could pass upon it. A full quota of men for the company has been secured and some officer from the Boise barracks of the U. S. forces will muster the company into the service of the state. Mr. Van Hook, who has been instrumental in the formation of the company, has had several years' experience in the Philippine constabulary and should be able to give the company great aid in getting in shape to compare with the older companies of the reg- iment when it comes time to go to camp.

GOVERNOR SIGNS RELIEF MEASURE

Clarks Puts His Signature on Act Allotting $4,000,000
To State's Needy

BOISE, March 23 (U.P.)—Humanitarian measures highlighted the stack of bills approved by Gov. Barzilla W. Clark as a climax to legislative lawmaking.

Two measures, one creating a state tuberculosis hospital, and the other releasing approximately $4,000,000 throughout the state in a social security plan, were given executive approval.

Need for a tuberculosis hospital in the state has been great, it was pointed out. Present facilities are inadequate, and have caused a scattering of patients through the state. It was said.

Architects were preparing to draw plans for the structure this week. Plans must be submitted to federal agencies, and the site selected, before the government will consider the portion of the cost of the structure.

The state's expense in the building will approximate $15,000. The federal government will bear 45 percent of the cost.

Signing of the bill was the culmination of a long fight to have the state erect such a hospital.

Although Governor Clark smiled when he signed the hospital measure, he was reluctant concerning the social security bill. The measure, with the aid of federal grants, provides $4,000,000 for relief of the needy aged, blind, and dependent children.

The governor said he was convinced the bill vested too much administrative responsibility in the state, rather than in the counties. However, the governor said he would not veto the bill, killing possibility of aid for the needy, because of a defect which could be remedied by subsequent legislatures.

OGDEN STUDENTS STAGE WALKOUT

300 Members of High School
Strike When Leaders
Are Suspended

OGDEN, Utah, March 23 (U.P.)—More than 300 Ogden high school students returned to classes today, after an apparently successful walk-out yesterday resulted in reinstatement of two student body leaders suspended for reported disobedience to orders of Principal A. M. Merrill.

Homer Olsen, 17, and Mary Fisher, 18, president and vice-president of the student organization, were determined that the school should be properly represented at the state high school basketball tournaments. By proper representation they meant sending the school band.

Principal Merrill said the school lacked funds. He refused permission for the band to go.

The band went anyhow.

And yesterday, Olsen and Miss Fisher were "indefinitely suspended."

Students walked out of classes and swarmed over downtown Ogden, declaring they would remain on strike until their leaders were reinstated. They planned to picket school grounds today.

But, after a hasty faculty meeting, Olsen and Miss Fisher reappeared at the school this morning. Classes resumed their normal course.

Commented Olsen: "It was all emotional strain. Everyone is back in class and everyone is happy."

BRADDOCK IN FLIGHT TO DODGE PROCESS SERVERS

GARDEN TRIES TO STOP CHICAGO GO

Manager Refuses to Divulge Whereabouts of Fighter; Sheriff's Watch Border

By LESLIE AVERY

NEW YORK, March 23 (U.P.)—Champion Jimmy Braddock was in full flight today dodging process servers as the heavyweight fight situation became a legal battle between Madison Square Garden and Max Schmeling, and Braddock and the Chicago promoters.

Braddock was reported en route here after eluding a deputy sheriff who twice sought to serve him with a circuit court "show cause" order yesterday in Miami. The court ordered Braddock to give reasons why an injunction should not be granted restraining him from fighting Joe Louis in Chicago June 22—allegedly in breach of his contract with the Garden calling for a title defense against Schmeling June 3.

Gould Won't Tell

Joe Gould, manager of the champion, refused to divulge Jim's whereabouts.

If Braddock is served he must appear before Judge H. F. Atkinson April 5. Gould is anxious that Jim avoid service because of belief that a restraining injunction could be obtained more easily in the deep south.

The only possible answer that Braddock can have is that anti-Nazi organizations have threatened to boycott a Schmeling fight and that he does not believe such a bout would draw a good crowd.

How this legal maneuver will affect Deutschlandhalle's offer to guarantee Braddock $350,000 and the Garden $50,000 to fight Max in Berlin this summer is problematical.

Mike Jacobs Says

"One thing is certain, anyhow," Jacobs argued. "Gould won't care anything about contracts. He is ready to ditch the Chicago fight and suggested we take that $50,000 we are offering the Garden for their promotional rights in Braddock, and turn it over to the champion which would bring the total up to $400,000 figure he's demanding."

The most ludicrous figure in the whole picture is from Mike Jacobs who holds a belief with both Schmeling and Louis. He holds half interest with the Garden in the Braddock-Schmeling affair, and is also co-promoter of the Braddock-Louis fight. He is forced to share court expenses with the Garden to stop his own Louis fight in Chicago.

SHERIFFS WATCH BORDER

MIAMI, March 23 (U.P.)—Deputy sheriffs watched the northern border of Florida today for heavy-weight Champion Jimmy Braddock who eluded two process servers here.

Braddock's departure from his hotel here last night was the result of a temporary injunction sought by the Madison Square Garden corporation which may halt his bout with Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22.

Francis M. Miller, attorney for the Madison Square Garden corporation, said he believed Braddock was en route to Chicago, although other reports said he was headed for New York or Tallahassee.

Two Dade county sheriffs who camped in the hotel lobby here finally gave up after midnight when the room clerk notified them that Braddock had slipped out by a rear entrance with his wife.

JUNIOR HI FORMS

SOFTBALL TEAMS

League Will Be Run Off on Same Plan as Do-Nut Cage Loop

A softball league for junior high school boys with games to be played after school has been organized this week, Coach Lawrence Lundin said today. The league will be run on the same plan as the do-nut league, baseball games with any team with 10 players, a captain and a name eligible for competition. Two recreational workers have been assigned to this project and will be in attendance during all contests, which will be played on the school playground.

Three teams have already signed up for participation in the league. Those signifying their intention of playing are "Heavy Hitters" with Chuck Thomas as captain, Don Toolson, Joe Bill Robertson, Lloyd Tyler, Glenn Terry, J. C. SPORT SQUIBS

(by H. J. W.)

A few squibs on the softball game, now that the season is just around the corner: Over 65,000 people in the U. S. witnessed the game in 1936, and the record for the most teams in one state, 7,500, is held by Michigan, with 5,000 of these being in Detroit. Ohio and Illinois are tied for second with 6,000 each, the figures making the middle west the hot-bed of the game.

In various places where the game is played, softball is called diamond ball, kitten ball, playground ball, and mush ball. Nineteen-thirty-seven is the third year of organized amateur softball and it is expected that every state in the union will be represented in the organization.

Golf season is another sport just around the corner—to some of us lesser enthusiasts. But to a goodly number of fans in the Buhl vicinity it is already a reality, and we are informed that already on Sundays the course there has been crowded. The Twin Falls course has been found to be a little soggy and has not proved quite so popular, although several have made the rounds. But another Sunday is expected to find the local buds and duffers in full stride. The sand greens here are in fine shape.

Incidentally, Fred Stone, who was starter at the local course last summer, will journey east this year, and the officers of the Country club will be forced to look further for an efficient man for the all-important job.

You bridge fans hoping for a perfect hand may as well give up the task—unless you stack the cards—or plan on living to be 10,000,000 years old.

First Annual Badminton Tourney Will Start on April Fool's Day

By STEVE SNIDER

(Pinch-hitting for Henry McEwen)

CHICAGO, March 23 (U.P.)—The first annual national badminton championship will open, significantly, on April fool's day.

In keeping with an old custom established by the usual proprietor of this space, I stepped out with a champion to collect some local color on this growing sport which has swept the country after a bad start.

Jess Willard—a thin, baldish little man only half the size of the heavyweight prize-fighter of the same name—was my foe. Jess is billed as world professional champion at a night club which caters to the sporting element of our town and we played out his court in the middle of the deserted cafe floor when the last customer had staggered home.

Dances Like Boxer

He danced me a long, narrow racquet with a tiny head and we began to warm up. Jess danced about like a finely trained boxer. He snapped his returns crisply off both sides and appeared to cover the floor without moving out of position.

Once around that court in three minutes flat was the best I could do. Three whirled around it had me reeling. But it still looked like a sissy's game.

"If you ever played tennis, forget it," Willard advised. "Instead of keeping your wrist stiff, remember to snap it as you hit. And protect yourself at all times."

Willard finally took the bird—a small round cork stuck full of goosefeathers—and prepared to serve. I pinned my eyes on Willard.

"Go ahead and serve," I yelled.

"Hell," Jess replied. "I just did."

Missing Birds Fly

Badminton is like that. Those hissing birds can fly around your head with amazing fury unless you know the answers. "Placement is the thing in this game," Willard grinned and slapped an easy one right at me. I reached it and decided to place it short on his forehead, close to the net. It came back easy and I whacked one deep to his backhand—a grievous tactical blunder.

Willard's backhand is the best in the business. He fired one

TERRY ASSIGNS STARTING TEAM

Giant Manager Pleased With Record Made by Club in Grapefruit League

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., Mar. 23 (U.P.)—Manager Bill Terry is so pleased with his New York Giants for winning their last six exhibition games, that he announced today the lineup he will put in the field to retain the National league pennant. Fitzsimmons will get the opening pitching assignment with Mancuso catching. Two newcomers, McCarthy and Chiozza, will be on first and third respectively. Whitehead and Bartell will be back at second and short, with Ott in right field, Lieber in center and Moore in left.

CARDS WEAK HITTERS

LEESBURG, Fla., March 23 (U.P.)—Manager Frankie Frisch was worried about the weak hitting of his St. Louis Cardinals as he brought his team here for an exhibition against the Rochester International league farm club. The Cards lost their second straight to Columbus, 5 to 3, yesterday, garnering only seven hits off a trio of hurlers.

YANKS MEETS DODGERS

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23 (U.P.)—The New York Yankees entertained the Brooklyn Dodgers in an exhibition here today. Both teams were licked yesterday, the world champions dropping a 5 to 3 decision to their Newark farm club, while the Dodgers were outslugged, 9 to 6, by Cincinnati.

LANDIS APPROVES RED DEAL

TAMPA, Fla., March 23 (U.P.)—General Manager Warren Giles of Cincinnati announced that Commissioner Landis had approved a working agreement between the Reds and Syracuse of the International league. In return for first call on Syracuse players, Cincinnati sent outfielders Lee Gamble and Al Hunt, and infielder Arnold Moser to the chief training camp at Charlotte, N. C.

FOUR LETTERMEN ON RUPERT TEAM

60 Athletes Turn Out for First Track Practice Of Season

RUPERT, March 23 (Special)—With four returning lettermen and four other veterans to form the nucleus of the 1937 track team, hopes for an outstanding club at Rupert high school are at a high level. Coach Ed Lacy found plenty of results on his first call for drills here Monday evening when approximately 60 aspirants turned out.

Jim Throckmorton, a junior, ace discus thrower, is back expecting to go places. According to the local mentor, Jim heaved the platter well over 130 feet in practice drills last spring and if he can get correct form, a chance to break a few records is not far away. Hank Uhl, a senior, letterman, is returning to resume the javelin and the high and low hurdles. Evan Garner, a junior, and Hubert Seal, a senior, are former lettermen in the quarter mile and half-mile runs.

Three veteran non-lettermen are Bud St. Marie, Norvel Van Every and Lojzgo Hawkins. St. Marie shows promise of being a good sprint man while Hawkins has a good chance to qualify for the mile grid. Van Every is out for the shot put and the discus.

Task of shaping up the seven veterans and fifty newcomers for the coming season began in earnest this week with Coach Lacy in charge of weight men and Assistant Coach Glenn Nutting directing starts and handling runners.

Jenkins Wins Berth

Whitney Jenkins, Jerome, star pitcher on the freshman baseball squad last year, is slated for a regular berth on the University of Idaho varsity squad this spring, according to Coach Forest Twogood of the Vandals.

GOODING PLAYS GHOSTS

GOODING, March 23 (Special)—Final game of the season is scheduled for Gooding college hoopers this evening when they will meet the Negro Ghosts on the college floor. This game will bring the total for the season to 40 tilts for the college five.

OKLAHOMAN WINS

NEW YORK, March 23 (U.P.)—Billy Raburn, Oklahoma, flopped Sammy Cohen, New York; Jesso James, California, tossed Gino Martinielli, Italy.

FENCE TRAP

KENTON, O. (U.P.)—A dog owned by Marc Winken, farmer near here, caught its hind legs between the two top wires of a woven wire fence not far from home and hung there 11 days until freed by a neighbor. Placed temporarily on a light diet, the animal recovered.

CHIMP TO HAVE MATE

OLIVELAND (U.P.)—Out at Brookside Zoo Alice Brant waits coyly for a mate she's never seen. He's on his way from equatorial Africa, Alice is a performing chimpanzee, and the new arrival if he takes kindly to learning will be trained with her for a double act.

Purifiers, sometimes have to go through as many as 300 rabbit furs to find 30 of similar appearance.

Britt Disqualified

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (U.P.)—Dude Chick, Texas, won by disqualification of Alvin Britt, Hollywood; Sockeye McDonald, Boston, threw Frankie Hill, Columbus; Wilkerson Adams, House of David, threw Al Westcott, San Francisco; Ivan Rasputin, Russian, threw Dick Trout, Los Angeles; Logger Illebert, Seattle, threw Art Warren, Los Angeles.

Boxers Ready for Second Round of AAU Tourney

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 23 (U.P.)—Boxers representing Utah, Idaho and Montana today prepared for second-round matches in the annual Intermountain A. A. U. boxing tourney, after initial elimination bouts last night.

Approximately 1,800 persons watched opening matches.

Although seniors and heavyweights did their share of leveling, highlight of the evening's 12-match card was a 128-pound junior division match which saw Roy Farley, Provo scrapper, take a four-round drubbing, then rally in a last-round toe-to-toe slugging match to defeat Ed Sasaki, Salt Lake Japanese.

Wayne Seibert, Pocatello, Idaho, only Gem state entrant on the night's card, won a handy technical knockout over John Cresci, big Cottonwood CCC fighter in five rounds.

Most unfortunate boxer on the night's card was George Watanabe, Ogden Japanese, who slipped and fell, hitting his head on the canvas, to give Joe George, Salt Lake City, a technical award in the first round.

Ogden's Vern Bybee, last year's 118-pound king, made an impressive showing, gaining a technical knockout over Bill Smith, Salt Lake City Negro, in three rounds.

WEATHER STOPS TRACK PRACTICE

First call was issued for track prospects at Twin Falls high school yesterday, but Coach R. V. Jones was not able to send his boys to the field due to the cold and snowy weather. Thirty-five reported on the first day.

Expecting to build his team around four men, Jones has only one man who took a first place at the state meet last year in Tork Slater, who captured the javelin throw. Other lettermen are Lloyd Kuykendall, Ken Slover and Chuck Kelley.

Workouts on the field will start as soon as the weather permits, Jones declared.

DYKES CHAGRINED AT SOX ATTITUDE

Chicago Manager Speaks Out To Players After Pitiful Exhibition Game

PASADENA, Calif., March 23 (U.P.)—Young Steve Mesner, rookie who was handed the third base job as soon as he landed in the Chicago White Sox camp, smarted today under the oratory of Manager James Dykes. Dykes, chagrined at the game the Sox put up against the coast league Angels, threatened to yank him from the regulars unless he shows more aggressiveness.

Dykes spoke his mind to the Sox yesterday, in lieu of a workout which was cancelled by rain.

SICKNESS HITS PIRATES

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Mar. 23 (U.P.)—White Hoyt and Lloyd Warner were on the Pittsburgh Pirates' sick list today with light attacks of influenza. appointment of Stemmer on grounds the state would not receive "as much federal money."

"Too Big for Idaho"
"We have representatives in congress, and I am going to make it my business to find out how Joe Stemmer gets more power over appropriations than our representatives in congress."

Secretary of State Ira Masters said, "I think there is something in that. These federal agencies di-tate too much to the state."

Taylor concluded his remarks by saying, "Joe Stemmer is getting too big for the state of Idaho," and sat down.

When the vote was taken on Stemmer's salary, he beloveted a fervent, "No! I'll slap a stop order on his check!"

The motion to pay Stemmer $300

The board reconsidered its ac-commissioner of public works were cut. They were retained at $3,800 per

INJUNCTION HITS CASINO KETCHUM

Night Life Curtailed by Ban Against Gambling and Liquor Sale

KETCHUM, March 23 (Special)— Gambling games and sale of liquor has been halted by temporary injunction at the Ketchum Casino, indoor sports club, and similar activities have been curtailed at 12
other like establishments here.

The injunction was ordered Saturday in district court at Halley by of Paul J. Auxier, manager of a drug store near the Casino. Defendants were W. Eugene Sullivan, Russell Werry and Elmer N. Ebbe, none

Charges by Auxier stated that the Casino had operated gambling games day and night and selling liquor at all hours. Fights, brawls and bad language were alleged to be common to the detriment of Auxier's business. Permanent injunction and abatement of the premises will be asked.

Following the injunction the traditional night life of the Sawtooth resort town has been cut down.

Russia Termed World's Most Powerful Nation

Editor's note: This is the first in a series of uncensored dispatches on "Europe's war machines" by Webb Miller, European news manager of the United Press. The material was obtained on an aerial tour of the various European capitals and is being written in London.

By WEBB MILLER
(Copyright 1937, United Press)
LONDON, March 23 (U.P.)—Soviet Russia today has the most powerful war machine in the world.

Her army is the biggest in peacetime history.
And compared with other old war nations her military position is practically invulnerable.

Those statements can be made with reasonable certainty on the basis of what I was permitted to learn or witness on a trip to Moscow—first stop on my flying survey of Europe's 1937 war machines.
The statements are made with a full knowledge of the fact that the country's policy of secrecy has had a tendency to result in exaggeration abroad of the military power of the Soviets—a result which the Soviets naturally have encouraged.

One-fourth for Arms
The Soviets in 1937 are devoting one-fourth of their entire budget to military preparations, totaling 26-000,000 roubles, which, at the arbitrary exchange rate of five roubles to the dollar, would amount to $5-200,000,000.

In numbers alone the Soviet standing army is the largest in the world, totaling 1,300,000 which is double what it was four years ago.

The union has a population of 170,000,000—the largest in the world except for China—to draw upon.
At present, the population yields a conscription class of 4,000,000 a year,
from which only the best are chosen,
to serve from two to four years.

Adopt Mississippian Plan
Russia has 2,250,000 trained reserves and 1,250,000 partially trained. In addition, 13,000,000 youths receive rudimentary preliminary training under the volunteer air and chemical defense society.

Furthermore the Soviets decided to adopt Benito Mussolini's plan for preliminary military training of children from eight years old and upwards in drills, games and sports designed to imbue them with the military spirit.

An advantageous feature of the Soviet army is that only 27 per cent is composed of non-permanent militia, the remainder being permanent through the conscription period.
Thus, the Soviets tower far above other European armies in numbers actually under arms, number of immediately available trained reserves,
and a vast pool of other man-power.

Most Airplanes
In two vital factors of modern warfare, the Soviets undoubtedly are heavily superior, that is, in numbers of airplanes and tanks, regarding which the utmost secrecy is preserved.

U. S. S. Boston Serves as Breakwater for Ships
In Frisco Harbor

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—The U. S. S. Boston, which participated in the battle of Manila Bay, is serving as breakwater for the navy docks on Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay now.

Once the pride of Dewey's white squadron at Manila, and the only ship to feel the force of the Spanish fire—it was hit twice—the Boston's downward path has been longer and perhaps more inglorious than that of other warships.

During the World War, the Boston still had the honor of serving as a receiving ship for thousands of sailors who were recruited at that time. Many of those who served with the fleet during the World War got their preliminary training on the Boston.

Hull Deteriorates
Unfortunately, the mud of San Francisco bay caused the Boston's hull to deteriorate faster than the Spanish fire at Manila Bay. As a consequence, naval officers decided the warship had outlived its usefulness and it was ordered scrapped.
The ship was towed to Mare Island
for that purpose.

Then naval officers had a new idea. They discovered that in the Boston's absence from Yerba Buena Island, where it had formerly been tied up, the protecting steel wall was no longer there to save the wooden planking from the blows of the sea.

It was decided that it would be cheaper to bring the old warship back than to build a sheltering breakwater, so the bottom and sides were scraped, the ship was given a coat of fresh navy gray paint, and it was brought back to Yerba Buena Island to serve the end of keeping the waves from breaking up the navy dock.

At World's Fair
In 1893, five years before the Boston's battle service, the ship was one of the main features of the Chicago World's fair. The vessel also was in San Francisco at the time of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and when the 1906 earthquake hit, bluejackets were landed from it to help maintain order.

In 1939, San Francisco will have another international exposition on an artificial island that is being created in San Francisco Bay,
just on the opposite side of Yerba Buena Island, from where the Boston is now doing duty of a wave breaker.

If the warship still is intact on that date, it may have one more chance at glory.

GRIM WORK OF RESCUE

Dragged from the wreckage of New London high school near

19 Years Today Since Germans Shelled Paris

By PETER C. RHODES
PARIS, March 23 (U.P.)—With shells and bombs dropping daily into the streets of Madrid, Parisians remember more sharply than ever the day in 1918 when the first Big Bertha shells fell into the streets of Paris, striking terror, and creating a mystery which has been revealed in all its details, 19 years after the first massive shell dropped mysteriously out of the sky.

Today Parisians observed the anniversary of one of the blackest days of the war. Ceremonies centered in the Saint Germain church, where one of the first Big Bertha shells fell, killing 75 women and children and wounding 90 on the afternoon of Good Friday, 1918.

The firing of the Big Bertha on Paris from a distance of 80 miles was one of the greatest military feats of the war, and puzzled the Allied general staff to the end of the conflict. Afterward it was learned that the shells which dropped on Paris at 15 minute intervals on March 23 and for weeks after, had been fired from a forest near the town of Laon, in northern France. But the full details of bringing the giant gun to perfection and of preparing its terrible work have just been revealed by Germans.

First conceived in November, 1916, by the German general staff which sought some method of dramatically demonstrating the French rear guard and thus weakening the strong front lines for a great battle, the work of perfecting the gun took more than a year to carry through.

After intense research, the Krupp laboratory specialists found some interesting new phenomena.
They found that these heavy shells pierced, in their long, high trajectory, certain layers of the stratosphere, where resistance was much less than that calculated, and the effects of gravity largely changed. A new problem, that of an extremely low temperature, -50 centigrade, also had to be faced in constructing such shells, for the Big Bertha would have to fire shells to a height of 24 miles.

Placed in Crepy Forest
It was decided to place the giant gun in the Crepy forest near Laon, 80 miles north of Paris and at Christmas time, 1917, work on the emplacement was begun. By the beginning of February the concrete base was finished.

Finally, on March 18, the gun was in position and everything was ready and the gun was prepared to spend its $10,000 a shot. German planes cleared the skies and at dawn a tremendous roar from 129 guns shook the earth on the

BOY RECOVERING FROM ACCIDENT

Buhl Lad, 6, Treated for Skull Fracture After Hit by Auto

Condition of Eugene Moore, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Moore, Buhl, was reported today to be fair by attendants at the hospital where he is receiving treatment for a skull fracture and a deep cut on the left side of the head.

The boy was injured when he was struck by an automobile Sunday evening as he was crossing the road in front of his home on the Clear lakes road a mile north of Buhl.
After the accident he was picked up by Earl Walker, driver and his companion and rushed by another car to a Buhl physician's office.

The accident was reported to Buhl officers yesterday. The child was said to have been on the road in front of the car which struck him when the driver met a truck. There was not sufficient time to avoid hitting the child, the driver said.

Local Youths Win Prize at Frisco Stock Exhibition

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23 (U.P.)—
One thousand 4-H boys and girls of Future Farmers of America were in attendance at the 19th annual interstate junior livestock show opened at Union stockyards.

The livestock came from California, Oregon, Nevada, Utah and Idaho.

group, La Verne Ford, San Joaquin county, was first; Carl Hansen and Kenneth Neffgar, Twin Falls, Ida., second; and Aldo Tognetti, San Luis Obispo, third.

northern front. Only one of those guns counted, and for hours the general staff waited for word from Paris. For four days they waited, and finally word came that nothing had hit Paris. The giant shell had vanished into air!

Undaunted, it was decided to try another shot. On March 23 in the early morning another roar shook the front. Three and a half minutes later there was a tremendous explosion on a quay in the Seine, two people were killed and many wounded. The splashes worked swiftly. Hardly had the police arrived on the scene before another tremendous explosion shook Paris, destroying several apartment houses on the Boulevard Henry IV, twenty minutes later another landed before the Gare d'Est, in the midst of departing soldiers.

It was rapidly proved that the shot came from the Crepy forest, but it was impossible to find the gun in the massive cannonade that occurred with nerve-racking regularity. The Allies rushed a mass of batteries to the front, hundreds of cannon fired blindly into the Crepy forest, and one shell actually landed so close that it half buried Big Bertha in dirt. But throughout the remaining months of the war,
Big Bertha, the scourge of Paris,
never was discovered.

What's Doing at SUN VALLEY

(By Evening Times Special Correspondent)

IT WAS BIG SEND-OFF FOR SUN VALLEY SKATING STAR

SUN VALLEY, March 23 (Special) — We really gave Graham Hobbs, the all-popular skating instructor of Sun Valley, a royal send-off for his departure for Australia. He is a grand chap, which was fully evinced by the fact that the party did not break up until about three in the morning. And it was quite noisy for a while, in fact we were afraid that Special Agent Grant Walker, who sleeps across the hall, would soon come and look us all up.

There by the way, is one of the finest men we know. Square and human and understanding, yet a human Gibraltar in time of trouble. Mr. Walker is one of the best-liked men in the organization, as well as one of the most quiet. In fact so quiet is he, that it took us over four years of acquaintance with him, before we even commenced to get a glimpse of the very versatile career he has already had. A native of Utah, he started out punching cows, has boxed quite a bit and the fact that he was good is proven by the fact that he bears no scars. He has been in the Marines, and has taken part in motion pictures. And Mrs. Walker is the sweetest little lady in the world, the type of woman you want to have on your side, and she usually is if you are worth a hoot at all, as is Mr. Walker for that matter.

And his hat, which generally covers a rather bald head that does not detract at all from his fine looks, is the barometer of his moods, for when he is in a happy and genial fettle, the brim is up at a jaunty angle, but when the brim turns down over a face that betrays little emotion, then he is stern and austere, and we hope we are never a culprit at such a time. The ever present J. Lindsay Dexter of Boston, will not be able to stay till the end of the season, but will leave on the 29th of this month. Lindsay is of the Salem woolen goods Dexters, and arrived here on the opening day, for his health, and looked rather a sorry sight indeed, but now he resembles the final chapter of a "before and after" instance, and is considering sending the Union Pacific a bill for services as a living advertisement. He is a swell fellow, and has grown to become something of a fixture, so when he leaves, we might as well close up the place, for it won't be the same.

We have said a great deal in fun about that incomparable dreamer, Harry Ray, who has now left, but all kidding aside, when Harry got the idea of his Dreamers Productions Ink, at first it was a gag, but he became intrigued with the idea and as it grew upon him, the results grew likewise in significance, until now he has something worth while, namely, enough film to make about 40 minutes of show, covering everything about Sun Valley. This includes exterior and interior action shots of the lodge, operation and manipulation of the Dollar and Proctor mountain ski-lifts with relieving side-play attached, beautiful shots of all our ski courses, with some of the world's greatest skiers in action upon them, diving and swimming sequences taken in the outdoor pool, stretches of bob-sledging, and scenic shots of Sawtooth grandeur that are incomparable. He has taken one real in color that has developed remarkably well. There is a certain amount of continuity contained in the whole, that makes for more intense interest, and Harry is not through yet. And now that he has gone into the idea so thoroughly, he is going to have his work edited and "canned," and several people who are authorities on that sort of thing, and have seen the results of Harry's movie-play, believe it has possibilities for limited release. So our hats are off to Harry Ray as an unusual individual who was able to develop something worthwhile out of a gag.

And while we are in a laudatory mood, let us mention J. B. Scott, affectionately known as "Scotty" to most of the great and near-great all over the world, stationed here by Steve Hannagan to take his share with Fred Ingalls of the work of making Sun Valley lodge an international by-word, his particular forte being photography. Scotty got his start shooting pictures together with a bunch of films from the body of a German soldier during the war, and has made his career ever since. A few years after the war, when news was slack, he was one of the gang who used to make news by changing planes in mid-air and hanging by the heels from landing gears for freak shots, and it was at this time that he first became acquainted with Amella Earhart, then a mere youngster who frequented California airports and got in the way in general. As a Hollywood publicity ace and cameraman, he has the reputation of having really made several of the more outstanding film stars of today.

He is a member of the Hollywood Explorers and Adventurers' club. Scotty has covered three revolutions in Mexico, "shooting" pictures indiscriminately from both sides of the fracas. The first was while Pancho Villa was rampant among the mesquites. During one afternoon, he witnessed and photographed the execution of 300 men at the hands of a firing squad. His most thrilling experience while at Sun Valley was shooting pictures while traveling at great speed down the side of Proctor mountain on the broad shoulders of the marvel skier, Hans Hauser.

Scotty has a book in the making, "I Shoot the News," profusely illustrated with his own work and some of the other best in America, and we already have our order in for a copy.

High School News

Senior boys yesterday held their style show to determine the costume they would wear during graduation week. They selected yellow sweaters, yellow ties and grey trousers with suspenders. Wednesday afternoon the entire senior class membership will vote to decide whether the class will wear caps and gowns while receiving their diplomas and during the baccalaureate services.

Beta Sigma honorary organization of the high school held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon with J. R. Douglas from the bureau of entomology as the guest speaker. The subject under discussion was "An Agricultural Vocation."

During the business meeting of the club plans for a picnic to be held on a Saturday the latter part of April were discussed. It was decided to hold the outing at Ketchum. School buses will be used to transport the students of which it is expected 100 or more will attend.

Play Director Has Record of Past Successes

"No More Frontier," this year's senior class play, is being directed by the Twin Falls high school dramatics teacher, Miss Florence M. Rees, an experienced coach who has taught dramatics in three other states—Washington, Montana, Oregon and now in Idaho.

Miss Rees has produced a number of winners in the various branches of dramatic endeavor. While in Washington she had a winning debate team and five state declamatory winners; in Montana her students won the state oratory contest three years in succession and were entered in the zone finals at Kansas City, Mo., and Seattle, Wash. At present Miss Rees is regional representative for the National Theatrical organization and has organized two local chapters.

Members of the senior class feel that Miss Rees is especially capable of directing "No More Frontier" not only because of her wide experience, but also because she will be of great aid in portraying the pioneer phases of the play as she is a true westerner. Her father was born in 1855 in Oregon, later coming to Twin Falls where he now resides. The seniors believe that Miss Rees' help will be invaluable as she has always been interested in pioneer customs and ideas and helping young people to understand and interpret them on the stage.

Directs Seniors

Miss Florence M. Rees, high school dramatics teacher who is directing the senior class drama, "No More Frontier," came to Twin Falls with a record of successes in three other northwestern states.

Children Await Egg-Roll Event With Eagerness

Their eyes gleaming with anticipation, 25 youngsters, students at the W. P. A. nursery held in two portables located at the Lincoln grade school, today were waiting patiently for Friday morning and the scheduled Easter egg hunt and roll.

To these youngsters, children of families whose parents make less than $75 a month, the Easter "doings," slated for Friday at 10 a. m. in Drury park, is the highlight of the year's activities.

Eggs Hidden

Previous to their arrival at the park the eggs will be hidden at various points and from then on it will be up to the ingenious tots. And the roll, the length of the park lawn, will be something for them to "go after" as suitable prizes of candy and eggs will be awarded the winners.

Under the direction of Maude M. Mason, head teacher, and Mrs. Iola Johnson, assistant, the children will have the sport of dyeing many of the eggs before they are transported to the park. The candy eggs will be purchased, Miss Mason indicates.

Get Playthings

Today the youngsters were enjoying two tricycles and a coaster wagon purchased recently for their enjoyment. It was just $4 worth of playthings, the head teacher said, but it means millions to the little tots.

But the wagon and cycles will be in the background Friday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock, and the Easter egg hunt will be on.

If weather prohibits an outdoor hunt it will probably be staged indoors. And today the children were asking fervently for a sunny Friday.

Marian Martin Pattern

FRILL-TRIMMED COLLAR

PATTERN 9116

It's such a captivating bit of a frock — this demure model — that you'll want to make up ever so many versions in your favorite colors to see you smartly through the day! Want to make a hit with your family? Trip down to breakfast frocked in Pattern 9116 and see what an "attention-getter" this frock really is! Perky puffed or flared sleeves call attention to the "wide shoulder" effect, and they may boast a gay slash if you wish. Sides and a back-panel are ripped in at the waistline by a well-placed tie-sash that's adjusted in no time. While the pointed collar boasts a crisp ruffly trim! Marian Martin recommends percale, gingham, or polka-dotted chambray. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew chart included.

Pattern 9116 may be ordered in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents in coins for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

For you — new Marian Martin pattern book! It contains just the exciting, new spring wardrobe suggestions you've been looking for! Easy-to-sew patterns for everyone from Tiny Tots to Fashionable "Fifties" — including becoming morning and afternoon frocks, dainty undies, dashing sports frocks and party fashions. During the closing years of the 19th century, it seemed that the fur seal was doomed to a quick extermination. Numbers estimated at 2,000,000 decreased to less than 200,000. In 1911, however, a treaty restricting the slaughter was made between the United States, Great Britain, Russia, and Japan.

INCREASE NOTED IN EMPLOYMENT

Service Finds Jobs for 100
In Private Industry
Since March 1

Job finding activity is increasing at the local offices of the United States employment service and since March 1 nearly 100 jobs have been found in private industry for those registered with the office, Raymond Butler, acting supervisor, said today.

The jobs, Butler said, ranged all the way from part time to steady employment and included occupations of farm laborers, paper hangers, plasterers, hatchery workers, painters and others.

Farm Work Near
Farm employment is expected to offer many jobs in the immediate future, the supervisor said, and many workers are available for this type of employment. Several PWA jobs on school construction in this section are already underway and many from local office rolls are employed on these jobs at the present time.

Weather to date has not been such that much highway construction could be started but with a break in the season it is expected many will find work on the various projects which will be started in the area.

One of the requirements of the PWA is that the workers hired on the various jobs must be taken from rolls maintained at the employment offices.

Register Daily
Persons living in Twin Falls may register each day with the exception of Sunday between the hours of 8 a. m. and 12 noon. Persons living in other towns surrounding Twin Falls may register anytime from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., Butler indicated.

Trained interviewers are maintained to classify each person wishing to register and a complete record of former employment is kept as well as present address and where applicants may be reached. The service is free both to the employee and the employer.

Providence Stores Open After Single Day of Shut-Down

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 23 (U.P.)—Providence retail stores reopened for Easter trade today after a one-day shut-down ordered by owners to avert possible sit-down strikes.

An agreement calling for wage increases was reached by representatives of owners and the committee for industrial organization.

More than 85 stores employing about the city's 12,000 clerks had closed their doors to shoppers and employees alike during negotiations.

A Pair of Stylish Screen Sisters

A lovely de Havilland profile, enhanced by dashing millinery—that's what each of these pictures represents. For blond Joan de Beauvoir de Havilland (Joan Fontaine to you and Hollywood), right, is half sister to brunet screen star Olivia, who success she hopes to emulate. Under contract, though a newcomer, Joan already nets $300 a week which, with the $750 Olivia garners weekly, is rather tidy pay for two sisters, both of whom are under 21. Filmland insiders say that Joan, like Olivia, has what it takes.

TAXPAYERS ASK ALLEY OPENING

Disposal of Garbage Hindered
By Blocked Conditions, Petitioners Say

Members of the city street department today were investigating possibilities of clearing an alley between Ash street and Blue Lakes boulevard, from Kimberly road north to Second avenue east, after local taxpayers living in that area had petitioned the city council for such action last night.

The alley is blocked, the petitioners stated, by debris and also a ditch which, they claim, could be easily bridged, enabling the disposal of garbage at the rear of their homes, rather than from the front streets as is now necessary.

Those signing the petition included D. P. Meyers, C. H. Lowe, L. L. Graybill, Fred Roberts, Bernice Roberts, Annie Hills, John Stevens, Jr., Mrs. John Stevens, Stella Meyers, Margaret Lowe, Lydia Graybill and Mr. and Mrs. Hood Jones.

New Alliance Is Awarded Charter

A charter in the Workers' Alliance of Idaho was granted the recently formed unit of the organization in Twin Falls. It was announced by James Sonberg, unit organizer.

The new group, which will be known as local number 8, was formed when a group severed connections with local 39, the original unit in this city which accepted a charter some time ago.

Sonberg said that Perry Morris was unanimously elected district organizer and was given credentials to show his position.

General Science Class Completes Varied Projects

General science classes in Twin Falls high school, under the direction of Miss Mary Gillespie, have just finished a project of work on the study of building materials. Samples of wood, stone and various types of clay in the different processes of treatment have been assembled.

One of the outstanding pieces of work is the construction of a miniature African grass hut village. The village was constructed according to true African specifications with the frame work built and then covered with grass in such a way as to allow air for ventilation.

Of great interest to the students was the building of crystal radio sets, all of which with the aid of an aerial erected in the general science room, would secure a variety of programs. Sets were constructed in various types of boxes from cedar filing cabinets to an ordinary cigar box.

Timely in its illustration was the construction of a model filtration plant and the illustration of its use by pouring muddy water through the plant and watching it flow clear.

Students not building projects in the general trend worked on notebooks on related subjects. The most outstanding book submitted was a history on wool which contained samples of wool in raw stage through to the finished product.
