FDR CONFRONTED WITH SHORTAGE IN TAX RECEIPTS

Estimates of Income Found To Be Placed Much Too High

NEW LEVY IS NECESSARY

President Feels Budget Can Be Balanced Next Year Despite Loss

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, March 29 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt was confronted today, on the basis of current treasury figures, with a choice between curtailing spending or new taxes to balance the federal budget.

Conservative estimates place the present lag of revenue behind treasury books for the next fiscal year is how much Mr. Roosevelt intends to spend for relief. Organized mayors and some governors have been protesting reduction of federal relief expenditures.

Remains Hopeful

Mr. Roosevelt remains hopeful that there will be no new taxes. In his last press conference the president declined to discuss the "need" for additional revenue, explaining that the situation remains in an evolutionary stage.

The president was represented, however, as feeling that the budget can be balanced next year despite expenditure of from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 on a low-rent housing plan and a farm tenant program. Mr. Roosevelt supports both these projects although no provision was made for them in the budget sent to congress last January.

All that is known about relief plans for next year is that Mr. Roosevelt hopes relief will not cost more than $150,000,000 while federal emergency relief director Harry L.

EXPLOSION KILLS 9 MINE WORKERS

Neglect Charged in Sending Men to Death in Eastern Coal Evacuation

DUBOIS, Pa. March 29 (U.P.)—The Kramer, Pa., mine disaster which killed nine coal miners was the result of "gross negligence," Attorney General Charles J. Margliotti charged today.

Three blasts in the workings of the Northway Mining and Exchange company rocked the mine Saturday killing every man in it. The men were sent into the mine, Margliotti said, in violation of state mining law. He announced that an investigation has been started "for the purpose of fixing definite responsibility."

The last of the explosion victims were brought to the surface last night after 200 rescue workers fought gas and fire through two and a half miles of workings to reach the bodies.

Margliotti was at his home in Punxsutawney, 22 miles from Dubois, when informed of the blast. He gave this statement:

"Utter disregard of basic mining law caused this terrible disaster. The blasts that sent nine men to their deaths were due to the fact that men were permitted to enter the mine 20 minutes after the ventilating fan had been started, after having been idle from 7:30 Saturday morning until 4:45 Saturday afternoon.

"Pennsylvania mining law specifically stipulates that when mine fans have not been in operation, no man shall be permitted to enter a mine until two hours after the fans have resumed operation."

SOLON TO SEEK NEW LABOR LAW

WASHINGTON, March 29 (U.P.)—Ben. Arthur Vandenberg, R., Mich., announced today that he was introducing a new child labor amendment to the constitution which would "limit and prohibit" child labor under 18 years of age.

Vandenberg said this amendment was designed to eliminate several objections which he believed had prevented ratification of the pending child labor amendment.

The first change would eliminate the phraseology in the present amendment which would give congress the power to "regulate" child activities.

Vandenberg's amendment would remove the words "to regulate" and provide that congress shall have the power "to limit and prohibit" child labor for hire.

Easter Killer Slays Three in New York

Beautiful Model and Mother Beaten to Death; Next Door Roomer Stabbed

NEW YORK, March 29 (U.P.)—Detectives searched today for a slayer who chose Easter morning to beat and strangle a professional model and her mother and finally stab a man roomer in their apartment in the fashionable Beekman Hill section of Manhattan.

The naked body of 20-year-old Veronica Gedoon was found sprawled across her bed. Her throat bore the marks of the killer's fingers. Beneath the bed lay her attractive middle-aged mother, Mrs. Mary Gedoon, 54. She, too, had been choked.

In his adjoining bedroom lay Frank Byrnes, 35, a waiter and bartender, who had been employed at the exclusive Racquet and Tennis club. Attired only in underwear, his body was stretched on the floor. He had been stabbed half a dozen times on the left side of his face and head.

Wailed for Victims

The police abandoning a theory of double murder and suicide after a search of the five-room apartment failed to reveal any weapon which could have inflicted Byrnes' wounds, believed that the killer had waited for his victims, killing them as they went to their rooms.

A preliminary medical examination showed that Mrs. Gedoon, who was said by neighbors to have appeared youthful and attractive, apparently had been criminally assaulted, but the daughter apparently had not been.

A fur coat and pocketbook belonging to Miss Gedoon, who was known among the artists and musicians on Beekman Hill as Bonnie, were found in a hamper in the bathroom. Her single undergarment, ripped and torn, was on the floor of the bedroom.

Mother Killer First

The police believed that Mrs. Gedoon was killed first, while alone in the apartment. Byrnes then came home, they reasoned, and went to his room and undressed. He was surprised and slain.

Miss Gedoon returned from a date about 3 a. m. with an escort, Stephen Butler. They parted at the door. The beautiful model, whose photographs have appeared in many national magazines, stepped inside and was seized by the throat, the police believed. She was dragged into the bedroom, her clothes were ripped off and her lifeless body was thrown upon the bed.

The girl was married several years ago to Robert Fowler, a bowling alley manager, but the marriage was later annulled. Fowler was questioned by detectives and released.

Oddities

SAVINGS

CLEVELAND, March 29 (U.P.)—Mrs. Rose Marinsky, 37, a hotel kitchen employee, went to her bank, withdrew $914, and prepared to go to Altoona, Pa., to pay a mortgage on her home. For several days she carried the money in her hand-bag for safe-keeping. On her way home from church, she lost it to a purse snatcher.

ACCIDENT

AKRON, O., March 29 (U.P.)—Mrs. Rocella Gooding, 27, was treated today for injuries received when an automobile plunged through the side of the Gooding residence and stopped on the bed where she and her husband were sleeping. Her husband, Clifford, was not hurt.

MOTHER KILLS 3 CHILDREN, SELF

Easter Tragedy Told When Bodies Found by Grandmother

AURORA, Ill., March 29 (U.P.)—Fourteen words which told all of a young mother's heart-broken loneliness gave police their only clue which led to an Easter Sunday tragedy which cost four lives.

Mrs. Jeannette Martin, 28, strangled her three young daughters, then hanged herself. Beside their bodies was a note:

"Pretty good! Johnny has kids and can't even send them a card at Easter."

"Johnny" was her husband, former cigar store clerk and W.P.A. employee. He has worked infrequently for two years. Five days ago, from Centralia, Ill., he sent her a postcard reading:

"I'm going to Texas to look for a job."

Mrs. Martin concealed her loneliness Easter morn as she dressed Betty Jean, 3; Olga Jeannette, 2; and Joan, three months, in their newest and best dresses.

She took them to the United Presbyterian church, where the Rev. William Neebe baptized them. She smiled happily, seemed proud of her daughters' clothes.

But when she took her daughters back to their small apartment home she was overcome by memories. Police believed she became temporarily insane.

Mrs. Martin strangled her daughters, apparently with a rope. She laid them on the family bed, side by side, still in their Easter dresses. She strung a clothesline from a door casing to a window casing, looped it about her neck, took her own life.

The tragedy was discovered Easter afternoon by the children's grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Rober, and her sister, Mrs. E. J. Smith, when they went to the Martin home to visit.

TEXAS SCHOOL'S ROLL CALL 287

Small Part of 1,200 Pupils At New London Arrive For Opening Day

By ROBERT WEAR

NEW LONDON, Texas, March 29 (U.P.)—The roll was called today at the New London consolidated school which 11 days ago was ripped apart by a terrific gas explosion. Only 287 children answered.

There were more than 1,200 boys and girls to answer roll call March 18 but today 413 were buried among the pines and oil derricks. Others were in hospitals. Many remained at home, still terrified by the thoughts of the fate that overtook their brothers and sisters and playmates.

There was no compulsion about attendance. No truant officer harried those who remained away.

"We're opening the school for those who want to come," W. C. Shaw, the superintendent said. "For some the ordeal has proved too much. The loss of friends and relatives is too recent."

Shaw, whose son was killed in the blast, stood on the campus as the yellow buses arrived with the children, brought from a 40-mile area. A light snow whirled in from the north, but the white blanket was not enough to cover the scars left when an accumulation of natural gas in the school basement exploded.

The wreckage of the brick building in which the hundreds were killed had been moved but the very emptiness that was left was a reminder to teachers and pupils alike of the tragedy. And the actions of the children reflected their feelings.

"There was no playing on the campus. It was a day for snow fights but the boys and girls walked quickly from the buses to the frame gymnasium. Here and there a child walked with a limp. Others were bandaged."

Texas Representative Claims President Could Intervene In Sit-Downs

SEEKS ATTORNEY RULING

Dies Says Strikes Constitute Violence and Executive Could Act

WASHINGTON, March 29 (U.P.)—Rep. Martin Dies, D., Texas, asserted today that President Roosevelt has emergency powers under the law to suppress sit-down strikes and that "if there is any question about the matter, congress would like for the attorney general to give an immediate public opinion."

Congressional leaders said after a conference with the President Saturday that the government is powerless to intervene in sit-down strikes under present laws.

Challenges Statement Dies, author of a resolution for a congressional investigation of sit-down strikes and of a bill to outlaw them under the anti-trust laws, challenged the statement that the federal government cannot intervene.

Dies asserted federal statutes provide that whenever any domestic violence within a state obstructs execution of law so as to deprive its citizens of protection and if state authorities refuse such protection, it is mandatory upon the President to "take such steps as he may deem necessary for the suppression of such domestic violence."

Strikes Constitute Violence Dies said:

"Statements were recently made by Senator Majority Leader Joseph Robinson, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and other administration leaders to the effect that there is no law requiring the President to put an end to sit-down strikes."

"Sit-down strikes such as we have witnessed in the past few weeks certainly constitute domestic violence."

CITY LOOKING TO STORE ORDINANCE

Paulson Plans Conference in Boise for Statute for Closing Hours

First step to secure a store closing ordinance for the city of Twin Falls modeled after one already in force at Boise was taken today with the announcement that George Paulson, city attorney, would confer with the city attorney at Boise Wednesday concerning features of the ordinance at that point.

For Twin Falls it is planned to have an ordinance which would require local business houses to close 6 p. m. each night, Monday through Friday, and either 8 p. m. or 9 p. m. on Saturdays.

Suggest Alternative It was also suggested today by various citizens that if the 9 p. m. closing time is observed here on Saturday, the stores open Saturday at 9 a. m., instead of 8 a. m., or retain the 8 a. m. opening hour if they choose to close at 8 p. m.

Details of what is wanted by local merchants in the closing time suggestions will be worked out after circulars have been distributed through the Chamber of Commerce giving each merchant the opportunity to express his opinion regarding the matter. These circulars will be distributed in the near future, chamber officials indicated today.

Paulson will join the delegation going to Boise Wednesday for the purpose of conferring with Gov. Barzilla Clark and other state officials relative to the starting of condemnation proceedings against the Twin Falls-Jerome toll bridge, with possible purchase by the state as one of the objectives.

Airport Lease

Also on the delegation's roster will be signing of an airport lease by Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston under new state legislation. Formerly the lease has been granted in the name of the Chamber of Commerce but this year it will appear in the name of Twin Falls, officials said. Another topic of discussion at Boise Wednesday will probably be the proposed paving and improvement of Blue Lakes boulevard from the intersection of Kimberly road to a point at the extreme northern city limits.

MINIMUM WAGE LAW IS UPHELD

Chief Justice Hughes Writes Historic Opinion on Washington Rule

WASHINGTON, March 29 (U.P.)—The supreme court, in an historic opinion written by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, today reversed previous decisions which had stood since 1923 as a bar to state regulations of minimum wages and working conditions.

Today's decisions, rendered with a 5 to 4 division of the court, upheld the validity of the Washington State minimum wage law for women.

Justice George Sutherland, presenting the dissent of the court's conservative minority, offered a strong defense of the traditional functioning of the high court—a statement which listeners regarded as a virtual answer to the proposals of President Roosevelt that the court be reorganized.

Victim Stabbed and Beaten by Intruder

BURLEY, March 29 (Special)—Intensive hunt for a butcher knife and hatchet slayer who killed O. P. "Dad" Simpson, about 70, veteran Burley barber, was underway here this afternoon as Burley police and Cassia county sheriff's officers sought clues to the barber's murder.

Simpson died shortly after 2 a. m. today before medical help could reach him. His throat was cut, a crushing blow on the back of the head had inflicted a severe skull fracture, and other blows had caused six additional fractures.

He was found lying in the front room of his combination barber shop and residence. The killer's victim was still alive when discovered by Patrolmen Bill Powell and Tom Yeaman, but died before Dr. G. G. Espe, county physician, could reach the scene.

No Inquest No inquest will be held, Coroner Joseph P. Payne said, "because the death seems conclusively murder."

Mr. Payne said that either the throat slaying or the skull fracture could have caused death, but declared that the immediate cause was probably the serious fracture on the back of the head.

The butcher knife used in slaying Simpson was found by officers, but through search had not discovered the "rather sharp weapon, which might be the point of a hatchet," used in inflicting the blows on the head, Sheriff P. D. Pace said this afternoon.

The two patrolmen found Simpson after investigating the fact that the rear door of his establishment was open at 2 a. m. today.

The barber was apparently stabbed and struck near the back door either when he went in or when he opened the door and another person came into the room, investigating officers indicated after examining the premises. A pool of blood lay on the floor of the back room. Blood also was on the wall near the door.

Paper Covers Blood The butcher knife lay in the blood, with both knife and blood carefully covered by a newspaper. Because of the bloodstains on the handle of the knife, fingerprint efforts probably will prove futile.

The knife was definitely not the one used by Simpson in his household cooking tasks, officers discovered. Lloyd A. Walker, Burley, said he had sharpened the barber's knife recently and declared the instrument which stabbed Simpson in the throat was of entirely different make.

The victim had crawled from the rear room into the front of the barber shop, the officers who found him asserted.

Simpson's bed was undisturbed and his small coin box, containing $7, was found beneath the pillow.

Robbery Motive Possible robbery motive appeared, however, in the fact that his pockets were empty of all money except two coin keepers. Burley residents who patronized his shop said that Simpson never used a purse, but was in the habit of carrying money in his pockets to make change for his customers.

Strange fact brought to light by the investigation of the murder today was that the two dogs kept by the slain barber were both in the shop when officers discovered the killing, and neither dog appeared apprehensive or disturbed. One of the animals was Simpson's pet, and the other was a police dog to which he had given shelter as was his habit whenever he encountered homeless dogs.

Fairly Sharp Weapon
Sheriff Pace said that examination of the aged barber's head wounds showed that the missing dagger was probably fairly sharp and was less than an inch wide.
Neither Simpson's trunk, containing personal belongings, or the furnishings of his rooms appeared to have been disturbed, officers said. His laundry was laid on a chair ready to be sent out.
The barber had been in business in Burley for the past 22 years, coming here from Kansas.
He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ole Olmsted, Los Angeles, and by two brothers and one sister in Kansas. The body will be held at the Payne mortuary pending funeral arrangements.
Simpson's wife died several years ago and since then he has been living alone.

THREE COLORADO MINERS REMOVED

Men Trapped in Cave-In Are Rescued and Report to Work Today

GOLDEN, Colo., March 29 (AP)—Three day miners who spent 19 hours trapped 15 feet below the earth's surface by a cave-in, reported for work today so they could lighten the burden on their rescuers.
"The ones who dug us out are more exhausted than we are and if they can come back to work, we sure can," said Pete Bauer, one of the three who were hauled to safety Sunday morning.
It was 2 p. m. Saturday when several tons of rock and mud slid down into the mine. Towles and Foreman were timbering a tunnel 200 feet from the tunnel head and Bauer was 100 feet nearer the entrance when the slide occurred. Bauer helped the two men and a second slide sealed and trapped all three of them. They emerged from the shaft and called for help.
It was 9 a. m. Sunday when the rescue crew completed its digging and had the timbering reinforced to enable the men's removal.

JAPANESE SEIZE 200 IN RED PLOT

Officials Will Be Either Shot On Sentenced to Long Prison Terms

TOKYO, Tuesday, March 30 (AP)—Dispatches reporting today the seizure and possible execution of 200 officials, educators and other leaders in Manchukuo indicated the existence of a Communist-inspired plot to overthrow Japan's influence in the Japanese-controlled state.
The Domei (Japanese) news agency reported from Hainan, Manchukuo capital, that the leaders had been sentenced to death or long prison terms on charges of plotting against the government there.
The Manchukuo authorities indicated early today they were not revealing further details of the purported plot. Investigation apparently had been proceeding for months and the seizures and executions had been carried out weeks ago.
Cryptic dispatches, however, indicated that authorities there claimed that the plot was first discovered last summer. Several members of the Chinese Communist army were declared to have been discovered working under cover in the Antung area of southern Manchuria, near Korea—also controlled by Japan.
The official ban against publishing the news of the extensive plot was lifted sufficiently to permit Domei to give word of the seizures of those charged with participation. However, nothing was announced concerning the methods the plotters had intended to use in carrying out their alleged scheme to undermine Japan on the continent of Asia.

JIBES BELIEVED MURDER REASON

California Editor Carried "Cracks" in Newspaper About Rival

ALTURAS, Calif., March 29 (AP)—The subtle jibes that editor Claude L. McCracken had been making in the columns of his Modoc Daily Mail provided a clue today as to why he may have been slain, allegedly by a rival editor's son.

Harry French, 30, son of the publisher of the Modoc County Times, has been charged with murder. Witnesses said he walked into McCracken's home last week and shot him five times while he sat at the dinner table.

Added Fuel

There was a feud between the two county papers, and McCracken apparently had been adding fuel to it by sprinkling his columns with stories about McCracken's who were heroes and Frenches who were thieves.

In McCracken's paper of March 24, the day before he was killed, there were such articles as: "The last man hanged for horse stealing in Teton county, Montana was named Burr French. Former congressman Robert McCracken of Idaho observes his sixty-seventh birthday today."

French Carried Story

"Dr. Henry McCracken, president of Vassar college, was recently the subject of an entire edition of Life, the new fiction magazine. . . W. A. French of Kansas expects to get out of the penitentiary soon where he is confined for stealing money."

The feud was supposed to have originated when the Frenches newspaper carried a story one day saying a Mr. and Mrs. McCracken had been arrested in Reno on "narcotic charges."

Authorities quoted French as saying the day before the killing: "I have stood about all the insults to my family that I can."

Twenty-seven public and private placements were made through the United States Employment service offices in Twin Falls during last week, Ray Butler, acting supervisor, said today.
"This number puts the total jobs secured for those on social rolls to over 100 since March 1, according to Butler who also states calls for farming aid are becoming more frequent as soil in the Twin Falls tract becomes workable."
A road construction job under the Hope construction company of Twin Falls, calling for grading and graveling of several of the farm-to-market roads in Jerome county started today and 14 men registered with the local office of the service were given jobs, Butler said. This is the first road job to get underway in this vicinity so far this year. It is expected that the balance of the road work in Twin Falls and other counties in this district will start about April 15.

DRIVER INJURED IN LOCAL CRASH

Hansen Resident Suffers Out Knee in Easter Sunday Accident Here

Felix Van Hook, a resident of Hansen, Sunday afternoon suffered a badly cut right knee when a car he was driving was involved in a collision with another machine being driven by Howard Hagghart of Twin Falls.
The accident occurred, police records show today, when the Hagghart machine is said to have turned into the oncoming line of traffic in order to avoid striking another car which he said was backing from the curb in the 200 block on Second avenue south.
The machine struck the Van Hook car almost head-on, resulting in considerable damage to both vehicles.

CHICKEN POX IN BUHL DECREASES

Ten new cases of chicken pox were reported in Buhl last week, it was revealed today with release of the weekly report of communicable diseases in Twin Falls county, compiled by Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the county health unit.
A minor epidemic of the disease has been in progress in Buhl for some time, recent reports indicate, although the spread of the disease at that point seems to be diminishing.
Other cases listed on today's report include four new cases of whooping cough in Twin Falls; two scarlet fever, one in Twin Falls and one in Eller; and four cases of mumps, all in Twin Falls.
No cases of influenza or pneumonia were reported.

Congress Considers Question of 65c Lunch at Capitol Hill Cafe

days when congress wasn't running, he had none at all. All the business is at lunch time; he added, and even then a lot of congressmen go to other lunch-rooms nearby. If they'd patronize their own dining room, he said he thought he could make a better showing.
He said furthermore that if his conferees would let him close the restaurant on holidays, he believed he could save about $1,000 a month.

Ice Situation

The congressional ice situation is almost equally serious, the committee learned. J. C. Shanks, the district clerk, testified that he had to buy 400,000 pounds of ice a year to cool the water that cools the throats of congress. He said this cost $1,600 a year, including $500 worth, which he gives free to Rep. Warren's restaurant. Rep. John F. Dockweiler, D., Calif., said he thought the restaurant ought to pay for its own ice.

Dockweiler also took up in the course of the hearings on legislative expenses the business of installing an underground street car to transport congressmen from their office to the capitol building, a distance of one block. Architect David Lynn said he figured such a transportation system, including two subway cars, would cost $60,000. He said that a similar electric train arrangement for senators cost $25,000 to install several years ago, and $2,000 more annually to operate.

Printing Expense

Lynn went into considerable detail about the 116 elevators in the capitol buildings, the obsolete plumbing which frequently springs leaks, and the air conditioning system, which still is not completed.
It developed finally that it cost the government printing office $870,000 to produce the congressional record in 1936, that it probably would cost more this year, and that if governmental authors would quit changing their minds after their thoughts already were in print, the taxpayers could save a lot of money.

Local Airfield Attracts Crowd

Five Hundred Persons View
City's Pilots Inaugurate
Flying Season

Seven Twin Falls pilots Sunday tested their wings at the local airport, the first day of the spring and summer flying season, and today all were of the opinion that the flying is "ready to go" so far as aviation activity is concerned in this city.

A feature of the day's activities, witnessed by approximately 500 persons, was the flying exhibition given by W. H. (Pete) Hill, local transport pilot who has had 22 years of flying experience. For the benefit of the visitors Hill put a tiny Curtiss-Wright "pusher" plane through its paces in weather ideal for flying.

Lionel Dean, local transport pilot, carried several passengers in his J-5 Eaglerock, the other pilots contenting themselves with solo flying. Among the other fliers who took advantage of perfect weather and the type of ship they flew during the day, are "Vic" Kelley, Hissco-Eaglerock; Lamone Stevens, Comet-American Eagle; Russ Mingo, OX-5 Waco; Grant Kilbourne and Guy Ritchie, Curtiss-Wright Juniors.

A feature of the day's activities came when five planes housed at the local field were in the air at the same time.

JURY PICKED IN BURGLARY CASE

Naming of a jury was expected to be completed in district court this afternoon as Martin Vanek and Charles Vanek, Buhl, father and son, went on trial on burglary charges.

Twelve men were tentatively in the jury box at the mid-day court recess, and both prosecution and defense had used two peremptory challenges apiece.

The two men are accused of stealing harness from the Lewis Robbins ranch near Buhl.

W. L. Dunn is defense and County Attorney Edward Babcock is handling the prosecution.

Deadline Nearing For Registration

Election Books Will Close Saturday at 9 P. M.

During the first 11 days during which local residents of voting age could register for the city election, 480 new registrations were received at city hall, a report compiled today by W. H. Eldridge, city clerk, disclosed.

At noon today 238 persons, residents of ward one, had registered with the clerk, while 261 residents of ward two had registered.

Registrations will continue until Saturday night, election being next Tuesday, Mr. Eldridge said today. Monday through Wednesday of this week regular office hours will be observed, but Thursday through Saturday the office will be open from 8 a. m., until 5 p. m., and from 7 p. m., until 9 p. m.

FDR CONFRONTED WITH SHORTAGE

Estimates of Income Found To Be Placed Much Too High

Hopkins has been lobbying quietly for a permanent annual appropriation of $2,500,000.

Hoped To Balance

In his budget message last January the president said he hoped this year to balance the budget except for an item of $400,000,000 for debt retirement and next year—in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1938—to achieve a completely balanced budget.

Three months of the current fiscal year remain and tax payments so far indicate that revenue will be more than $400,000,000 under treasury estimates.

Mr. Roosevelt expected $2,372,000,000 from income tax in this fiscal year. It appears now that income tax revenues will be about $150,000,000 under the estimate.

Nuisance Levies Short

Miscellaneous taxes, including the so-called nuisance levies, are off so far by about $50,000,000.

Social security revenue is way off. Mr. Roosevelt budgeted for $324,000,000 from that source in this fiscal year. As of March 23 only $54,000,000 had been collected.

Offsetting some of the under-estimate collections are two tax items which will contribute about $10,000,000 each above treasury estimates. They are customs and miscellaneous revenues such as fines, penalties and assessments.

ACTION BEGUN IN PRIEST'S ESTATE

Administrator Asked to Care For Property Left by Father Beusmans

Request or appointment of Rev. L. A. LeMiller, North Bend, Ore., priest as administrator for the estate of the late Rev. Joseph Beusmans, former pastor of St. Jerome's church at Jerome, was filed with Twin Falls county probate court today by Henry Overberg, Jerome.

Father Beusmans died at North Bend Jan. 23 of this year. Named as executor in his will were Mr. Overberg and Monsignor Remi S. Keyzer, former pastor of St. Edward's church, Twin Falls. Rev. LeMiller was named administrator in proceedings in Coos county court, Oregon.

The estate involved includes farm property on Elizabeth boulevard near Twin Falls, valued at approximately $4,000. Other possessions are still undetermined in value. Included among the bequests in Father Beusmans' will was one for $1,000 to the Boise Catholic diocese for providing a parish house at Jerome.

J. R. Kennan is attorney for the petitioner in the probate action.

CLOTHING GIVEN TO LOCAL NEEDY

Meeting Called to Decide if Apparel Donations Are To Continue

Since the Associated Charities has been established in new quarters donated through the courtesy of the John B. White garage, located adjacent to the City hall, over 200 articles of clothing have been distributed to needy persons in this vicinity, O. D. Lyda, in charge of distribution, said today.

The charities moved from the old Evening Times building on March 19 and has quarters in the garage at the present time.

Whether or not the association will continue the clothing distribution will be decided at a meeting called for Tuesday at 8 p. m., in the probate court rooms of the county courthouse. All representatives of the various organizations connected with the charities have been asked to attend, official said today. Steps will also be taken at the meeting to form a central "clearing house" for the purpose of centralizing distributions to those listed on the various relief agencies operating in Twin Falls.

WORK STARTS ON NEW OLDS HOME

Remodeling Job at Location Of Auto Company Will Cost $5,750

Complete remodeling of the new home of the Oldsmobile automobile in Twin Falls, the Olds Sales and Service company, started today at 305 Shoshone street south, Gayle Roberts, manager announced.

The building, formerly occupied by the Blatnik Implement company, will be approximately half torn down to make way for inner improvements and entrance including service station facilities and a large show room, Mr. Roberts said.

Application for a permit for remodeling job at an estimated cost of $5,750 was made this morning with City Clerk W. H. Eldridge.

When completed the new location will offer a large concrete apron covering the entire corner. Large plate glass windows will line the curved front of the completed structure and work also calls for improvement of a used car lot adjoining the building on the south, Roberts said.

The construction will take from three to four weeks to complete.

MAYORS TALK AT HOME UNIT MEET

Twin Falls, Pocatello Heads Speak at First State Builders' Confab

Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston of Twin Falls and Mayor Robert M. Terrell of Pocatello will be the principal speakers at the first statewide convention of the American Citizens Protective association called for Pocatello Friday, April 2, it was announced here today by officials of the Twin Falls county unit of the organization.

The purpose of the convention, leaders state, will be to formulate plans for continuing organization of the home building unit throughout Idaho. It is designed to aid those of low income brackets in securing homes of their own at small cost.

McDougal Chairman

Chairman at the convention, which will be held at the Pocatello city hall, will be Thomas McDougal, state organizer and president-founder.

Points which will be dealt with at the meeting include (1) Securing of a WPA project to furnish the labor for the building of homes for citizens unable to work, widows and others.

(2) Contact all state, county, city and local agencies who are operating for the betterment of the community to ask their aid in securing government funds to carry on the program.

(3) Call on all retail dealers in the respective communities to aid the program by thinking first of the good they can do these low wage earners and let the profits on the goods sold them in the erection of the houses be secondary.

Urges Classes

(4) Request the full support of the state and local educational systems to aid in creating home building classes for the citizens to study how to build their own homes. This is necessary, officials state, because money loaned by the association can only go to purchase building materials and citizens must be taught the art of building.

(5) Request all city and county officials to aid in securing property on which the homes may be built. This can probably be met, it was suggested, by setting aside property which would normally be sold at tax sale.

(6) Draft a bill to be presented to the state governing body to exempt citizens in the low income brackets from property taxes in order that it will be made more attractive for the citizens to want to rehabilitate themselves.

Several persons from this section are to attend the convention including Al Hacker, chief of research for Twin Falls county; Eugene Scott, president, John Hannan, vice president, and Lulu Hacker, secretary of the local unit.

FARM AGENT FOR RAILWAY CHOSEN

Joe W. Jarvis Selected as Union Pacific Man in Five States

Extension of Union Pacific activities to promote the best interests of agriculture has resulted in appointment of Joe W. Jarvis as agricultural agent for Idaho, Utah, Montana, Washington and Oregon, according to word received here today by Frank E. Haasch, Union Pacific agent.

Jarvis will work in the territory north and west of Salt Lake City to Butte, Spokane, Seattle and Portland. His headquarters will be at Boise. The appointment, effective April 1, was made by Earle G. Reed, Omaha, supervisor of agricultural development for the Union Pacific, according to Mr. Haasch.

Reared on a farm and ranch near Salmon, Idaho, and educated in the public schools of Ontario, Ore., Jarvis is a graduate of the Oregon State Agricultural college. During the past three years he has been a teacher of vocational agriculture in the high schools at Imbler and Union, Ore., where he established an exceptional record with agricultural interests as an instructor, counselor and organizer of agricultural activities.

Shooting Era is Finished, Says Federal Agent

HOUSTON, Tex. (U.P.)—G-Men are almost through the shooting era. "We have almost ceased firing," was the way Bill Rohrer, federal bureau of investigation agent at Salt Lake City, put it.

"Karpis, Campbell, Mahan and Robinson were taken without a fight," he said.

"Paradoxically, we train and equip ourselves to shoot to keep from shooting.

"In the old days before the Dillinger case, we did not own a new car, had no guns, no bullet-proof vests.

"Criminals found they could get away from us, so why give up? They would 'shoot it out' when cornered. 'The G-Men aren't so bad,' they would say.

Rohrer pointed out that "Baby Face" Nelson alone had killed three FBI agents.

"But when we got the best equipment money could buy—guns of all kinds from pistols to machine guns and rifles which would kill through walls of houses, finer and faster autos, better training, the picture changed," Rohrer said.

"Since we are trained to shoot and ready to shoot," he continued, "we don't have to, except in rather rare cases."

Rohrer said that no science has developed faster within the past few years than that of crime detection.

49 CCC CAMPS SLATED IN IDAHO

Minidoka Forest Unit Will Be Reestablished; Stanley Also on List

WASHINGTON (Special) — The civilian conservation corps program for the state of Idaho during the final three months of the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, provides for the operation of 49 CCC camps, a net reduction of three camps from the total now operating in the state, it was announced at the office of Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work.

Though there will be little change in the total number of camps, there will be a number of changes in locations of camps in the state on April 1, most of them due to moves from winter to summer locations.

Fifteen camps will be reestablished on former locations as follows: three in Coeur d'Alene national forest in Kootenai and Shoshone counties; two in St. Joe national forest in Shoshone county; one in Nezperce national forest near Elk City in Idaho county; one at Elk River, Clearwater county, on state land; one at Priest River in Bonner county on state land; one in Challis national forest at Clayton in Custer county; one in Minidoka national forest at Twin Falls in Cassia and Twin Falls counties; one in Payette national forest near Cascade in Valley county; one in Salmon national forest near Salmon in Lemhi county; one in Idaho national forest near Cascade in Valley county; one in Caribou national forest at Soda Springs in Caribou county; and one in Tharghee national forest at Ashton in Fremont county.

A camp will be established in the Sawtooth national forest near Stanley in Custer county.

PICKETS PARADE FOR FOUR YEARS

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—What is believed to be a record for continuous picketing has been established here at the strike-bound Bevo restaurant.

Waitresses were called out by the union on June 9, 1933, when Elmer Telthorst, proprietor, refused to negotiate with the union. For three years two pickets were on duty each day, but recently only one picket has been on duty Edward Florio, international president of the waitresses' union, has come here from Buffalo, N. Y., to talk to Telthorst and a federal conciliator has tried to effect a settlement. But Telthorst has remained firm in his refusal to deal with the union.

Union officials, however, say the picketing will continue as long as Telthorst operates the restaurant, unless he capitulates. Pickets are paid $1 an hour.

WEALTH—GOODS OR FIGURES?
After spending six years in a frantic effort to attain recovery this nation now seems to be worrying for fear that it may be recovering too fast. Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve warns that we shall have trouble if prices and wages go on increasing too fast and too far. Secretary Wallace follows suit with a similar warning, and is followed by Secretary Roper.
Secretary Wallace summarizes the danger very neatly:
"There is danger from business men, in search of profits, cutting down production to a point that is bad for the general welfare."
"There is danger that labor, in search of higher wages and shorter hours, will restrict production to a point that is bad for the general welfare."
"There is danger of agriculture, in search of higher prices, cutting production to a point that is bad for the general welfare."
"If all three worked together, they would get more and more money for less and less goods."

It would be perilously easy for the nation to step off into this spiral—if, indeed, it has not already done so. And perhaps as good a way as any to fortify ourselves against it would be to remember just what it is that constitutes wealth, from the national standpoint.

The nation can be just as poor in an era of high prices and high wages as in an era of low ones. For it is not the figures on the ledgers that make national prosperity; it is the bulk of the country's production of goods.

It was recognition of this little fact, probably, that explains the early opposition to the NRA and AAA programs.

Everybody realizes that the farmer had to get higher prices. Everybody realized that the business man had to sell his goods at a profit. Everybody realized that if the working man didn't get decent wages, he could not buy the things business man and farmer were producing.

Yet balanced against those facts was the inescapable fact that the nation's wealth consists of the things it produces, and that the way to increase its wealth is to increase its production, not to decrease it. Offhand, one would certainly say that a nation which turns out necessities and luxuries enough to supply 100,000,000 people is considerably wealthier than one which produces enough for only half that number—regardless of price tags.

Just how to regulate those price tags so that the individual producer can prosper and the country as a whole can increase its wealth is a man-sized problem. We have been pecking away at it since 1930, or thereabout, and haven't solved it yet.

But solve it we must, before long, if we are to avoid disaster.

AMBITIOUS AIM

According to a news item, a five-man mission from parliament has just entered the United States to learn something of the way in which Uncle Sam is handling his problems.

The subjects in which they are primarily interested, according to their spokesman, are the farm-to-city trend, conservation of natural resources, unemployment, and America's attitude toward Communism.

They intend to make a study of all these subjects, mind you, by April 7, when they will return to England.

It's rather hard to understand how a body of intelligent men can really believe they will gather any worthwhile background of these complex American problems in that short a time, and yet they emphatically deny that the object of their mission has anything to do with war debts.

It's all rather puzzling.

'THE SENATE HOUR'

There are occasional jewels of humor and eloquence in congressional speeches, but this oratory, in the main, is uninspired that the book in which it is printed has a reputation of being dull almost to the point of anesthesia.

Now it is revealed that radio machinery may be erected in the senate so that the proceedings of that august body may resound through every home in the land. This should come as a distinct body blow to the midwestern inventor who, a few days ago, announced an invention that would benefit all insomniacs. It was a sort of radio device which, when dialed properly, emitted a constant note guaranteed to usher hearers into the Land of Nod.

What good will it do him to work further on his invention when, by tuning in on the senate hour some near day, everyone may enjoy the same soporific benefits.

DID HE USE A FEW CHOICE WORDS?

When you talk about long-suffering husbands, you gotta inform the public about one Twin Falls business man whose wife really pulled the Grade A No. 1 coup d'etat.
A couple of buttons came off the trousers of his pajamas. He asked his friend to sew them on. But she figured this sewing business is like washing your face—you gotta do it over and over again.
So she simply discarded all the buttons and sewed up his pajama trousers.

WHAT DID SHE WANT—A LIMOUSINE?
Pot Shots:
I got this straight from a man who knows the man involved. There is a certain young lady in town who was furious at her boyfriend last week. He came to town driving an Austin midge car. She was so mad she refused even to be seen in the Austin with him. I think she's cooled down a little by now, though.
—Hector

ROMANCE
Pot Shots:
Once upon a time there was a young man named Johnny, who didn't like women; and so he got married. And there was a girl called Mary who had knobby knees and so she won a beauty contest. And Johnny had gone to college; and so he was a farmer. But Mary said, "I am a second Garbo. I will not be a farmer's wife."
Johnny says, "O.K." And he stuttered; and so he got a job announcing on the Goody-Fertilizer-for-better-homes program.
And Mary says, "Darling, you do love me after all." And they lived happily ever after.

THEY COULDN'T HELP IT WHEN THEY GOT 'EM!
Pot Shots:
A very strange thing indeed, I mean the fact that most of the lads over at Zipway have first names that they seem to be trying to keep in the dark. Anyway, they all use nicknames.
For instance, consider these: Roberts is Clarence; Yelton is Cecil; Schurr is Roland; Moultsen is Forrest and Packer is Gerald.
The only he-man name in the bunch is Sam, belonging to Hedstrom.
—The Gray Ghost

LONG-LEGGED FOLKS NEED SPECIAL BUSES!
Pot Shots:
Mr. Gerald Wallace of the Twin Falls high school faculty, describes his case approximately as this: "I'm glad that the railroads have lowered their rates to compete with the buses. I am never comfortable in a bus."
"My knees always rub the back end of the seat ahead of me. If the person ahead of me wants to lean back and adjust the back of his seat accordingly, I am sandwiched between two seats. I never can sleep comfortably because the back of the seat just strikes me in the small of my back and my head has to hang over the back of the seat. I know Mr. Wallace's measurements but I have to put my 'specks' on and stretch my neck to see his upper regions."
—Hallelujah

THEY'VE GOT A LOT OF FUN COMING!
Pot Shots:
Well, anyway, you can't say the next generation won't enjoy hearty laughs.
Just think of the fun they will have looking through family photo albums and seeing the hats women wore in 1937.
—Foocy

OH OH—BROADCASTING UNOFFICIALLY AGAIN!
Pot Shots:
Why don'tcha tell the lads over to the radio station they better make sure the switch is turned and they're off the air before they go making remarks not intended for childish (or other) ears?
—Lispener Inn

ININCIDENTALLY, BEFORE any of you radio listeners in start writing letters to our editor telling him to fire the Eveshines radio announcer because he made a grammatical error on Saturday afternoon's broadcast, we don't sackcloth and ashes and plead guilty. We practically tore our hair right after we made the mistake, but we got no sympathy. The guy sitting in the control room, beyond the glass partition, just sat there and laughed gleefully at us. We were very chagrined, because our teacher back in sixth grade, or maybe it was fourth, said we were very good at grammar. Nobody, however, has ever repeated her remark since then.

BRIEF HERE TODAY
DAPHNE BRETT LOVED LARRY SMITH, architect. Larry asked her to marry him. But Daphne had repeatedly refused because she wanted to lay aside sufficient money first to see Jennifer well furnished.
Jennifer had proved the stillish young sister, dainty every which way and glad to see a guy, very eloquent with TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy. And then Jennifer met GORDON HENRI BERRY, famous theater man, and seemed to have found her right work.
One day, meanwhile, Daphne received orders from her advertising firm to make a two-months' sales tour of the country. At the same time Larry, ordered to Spain on a business trip, again asks Daphne to marry him. But Daphne refuses because she needs the bonus the trip provides for Jennifer. But this she does not explain to Larry.
Larry, of course, not knowing Daphne's real reason, decides she has chosen a career in preference to love. He says goodbye and he does so solemnly. Daphne starts on her trip, broken-hearted. In Detroit she receives a girl friend's letter revealing Larry had told her she was all right.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX
DAPHNE BRETT sat on the wingchair of her hotel room in Detroit and read and re-read that letter.
Larry hadn't gone to Spain after all. If she had written to him before she left. If... if... if...
How many times that word had come between her and her thinking only to have her realize that it all went back to one clear thing: Larry hadn't understood her, hadn't believed in her or he would not have believed that her career meant more to her than her love.
Sometimes she couldn't believe it was true. But it was. Larry had said, "Then, this is goodbye." And it had been goodbye.
She tried not to think of it. Yet when she fell into her hotel bed or a Pullman berth on that cross-country trek, it was only to lie in the dark and ponder on the misfortune that has withered the beauty of her love.
ONCE her day had begun with breakfast on a train, in a hotel or in a railroad station lunch room, it was a mad scramble to assemble trunks and staff, to establish prearranged contacts with the shops showing her display. It should have made her happy to tabulate the mounting sales that meant more money for her. But she wasn't. Because the place where those things are warm is in the heart and her heart was numb.
She had letters from Jennifer.

"I hope he does. What else is new? Have you been having a good time? And do we still have our kitchen jewel? And is there any mail for me? And has anyone asked for me?"
"I've been having a good time. I'll tell you about that later. We still have our kitchen jewel and a few people have telephoned you but I can't tell you who just now. I just told everyone you were away and you'd be back the end of the month."
"Did...?" Daphne was about to ask her if Larry had telephoned her but she thought better of it. She couldn't bear it if Jennifer was going to taunt her about Larry.
"And let me see, has there been anyone looking for you?"
Daphne pretended it really wasn't important to her.
"Not a soul that I can think of offhand," Jennifer said after a long, agonizing silence.
"It's gotten cold, hasn't it?" Daphne shivered in her tailored suit.
She thought of all the money she had in the bank. The bonus check had been sent to her at San Francisco. Her share of the sales would add another thousand to it. A dream realized. And like a dream it had no power to impress her conscious mind. The money had been a symbol to her months before. Now it was the rock over which she had stumbled.
"Have you got to go to the office?" Jennifer asked.
"Not today. I think I'll go home and remove a little of the worst, the middle-western states and the effects east from my person. Then—oh, where's Anne?"
"At the apartment by this time. She had to deliver some stuff in the neighborhood. She wants you to come to her house for dinner. She's having some people in."
"I think I'll stay home and you and I will dine together. That is, unless you're busy."
"Well, I... yes, I am, Daphne. I guess I might as well tell you before someone else does." She smoothed the finger of her glove. "I'm dining with Larry. We didn't know you were coming... and, just Sunday, when I was up at Brett Hall—he took me up for the day—we... that is..."
"Oh, that's all right, I really wanted to talk to Anne," Daphne said and fumbled in her bag for change for the taxi driver.

DRIVE-IN SHOW GETS BIG TRADE
Famed Hollywood Theater in Open Air is Attracting Capacity Houses

HOLLYWOOD U.S.—Picture producers talk of filming "big pictures," but the producers of Hollywood "Drive-in" theater can rightfully boast of staging the biggest pictures in the world.
Patrons of the odd theater sit in their own cars, watch the movies on a screen measuring 39 to 55 feet, and have perfect sound reproduction from individual loudspeakers in front of each machine.
The theater covers an area of 10 acres, with nearly seven acres devoted to the parking of 465 cars for each performance. The automobiles are banked in eight semi-circular rows, giving everyone an equal view of the massive screen on its 75-foot-high background.
Many Advantages
There are many advantages pointed out by the management of the theater, which has been operating nearly three years. Patrons can attend in any type of costume in the privacy of their car, there is no obstruction or stepping on toes, automobile seats are more comfortable than most theater chairs, and smoking is possible without offense to others.
Two giant projectors housed in a dugout are in front of the screen. They are so powerful that perfect screen images are possible even during a rainstorm. When the project first was started, sound was broadcast from large horns atop the screen, but varying winds and the complaints of surrounding residents caused the owners to install separate loudspeakers for each car. This permits ideal sound reception whether the car window is closed or open.
16 Unhens
A force of 16 unhens guide cars to vacant parking places. Headlights are turned out at the entrance through tunnels in the high wall surrounding the theater. The front wheels of the car are driven upon a slight incline to permit persons in the back seat of the car to have an unobstructed view of the screen. Cars are permitted to come in and leave at any time.
The open-air theater is said to be a great boon for invalids and parents with small children. Instead of leaving the children at home, parents may let them curl up on the back seat and sleep.
Many of Hollywood's notable flock to the theater and see first run pictures without the inconvenience and notoriety of autograph seekers and fans. They can sit in the darkness and privacy of a car without the slight chance of being discovered.
Capacity crowds have attended the theater except on the few nights when it was foggy. Admission prices are similar to those at first run houses, with no charge for the car.

The Family Doctor
By DR. MORRIS FISHBREIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine
An injury to the eye is much more serious than an injury elsewhere in the body because of certain special characteristics of the organ of sight. If a simple develops on one hand, it will not necessarily cause a boil on the other hand; but if an eye becomes severely damaged or infected, the other eye, not infrequently, develops the same trouble. This is known as sympathetic ophthalmia.
An Irishman whose eye was injured was told that he must have the eye removed. It was explained to him that if the injured eye were not removed, the other eye would develop sympathetic ophthalmia. His answer was, "To the devil with such sympathy!"
One of the chief dangers to the eye is the kind of accident that happens when a child plays with knife, fork or scissors. In industry, the eyes of metal workers occasionally are perforated by scraps of flying metal.
The X-ray has been of great help in determining the presence of such scraps; and the electric magnet and modern surgery make it possible to remove these scraps promptly.
The rules which guide a doctor in determining when to remove an injured eye, to prevent sympathetic ophthalmia, in the other eye are practical rules based on his experience.
If the vision of the eye is endangered, if the eye becomes soft and painful, and if the condition seems to be progressive, the doctor will remove the eye promptly.
In many instances vision of the other eye has, without doubt, been saved by such prompt action. There would be little need for prevention of sympathetic ophthalmia, however, if all industry would take every possible means to prevent injury to the eye.

One of the leading Christian Endeavor workers in this western country, Mr. Brown will conduct the conference and deliver several addresses. Mr. Brown is a splendid speaker and will inspire all who hear him.
Delegates to this convention will come from Buhl, Piler, Hazelton, Gooding, Jerome, Kimberly, Rogers and Rupert. Mrs. O. R. Scott has charge of entertaining these delegates.

27 YEARS AGO
MARCH 23, 1910
Several of the higher railroad officials of the Short Line passed through this city yesterday on a visit to the branch line toward Contact. A wild and woolly story of the trip is given by the Times on the authority of J. W. S. Deake, to the effect that while near Rogerson the officials observed a cow mired in a slough and with true western veneration for beef lassoed the animal around the horns and used the locomotive to pull the cow out of its difficulty, one case where a short haul seemed to be as good as a long one. The only touch to the tale needed is the information that Bancroft hurried the lesson personally.
The party of railroad men consisted of, besides Mr. Bancroft, J. M. Davis, general superintendent; Chief Engineer William Ashton; and A. B. Stevenson, superintendent of the Idaho division.

PUSH MEN
WASHINGTON, March 25—A vague atmosphere of great hidden power is beginning to be evident in the senate committee hearings on the Roosevelt court program. It is puffing out in several little ways.
When Earl Moley testified, for instance, his cross-examiner seemed to know everything Moley ever wrote. The questioning showed clearly that someone had done a regular trial job of rehearsing Moley's past. Similarly, a Roosevelt witness, earlier, barked back at critical Senator Connally, reciting the exact page in the congressional record where long-forgotten things Connally said years ago, in a senate debate on the confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes, could be found.

PEACE-FIGHT
The real neutrality bill will now be written in secret. The senate having passed one bill and the house another, conferees will get together and draft the final form, which will be different from either. The usual long-drawn-out negotiations are in prospect, with the house and senate contending bitterly.
No one much cares about what form the bill takes. The administration has been playing down interest in the subject. Discussion embarrasses their trade treaty negotiations, and, anyway, they do not expect war within a year.
The proof of the neutrality debate will come in the kind of administration President Roosevelt chooses to give it. He will do about what he pleases, regardless of what develops from current legislative wrangle over words.

DON'T MENTION IT
The only known occasion in the history of the country when a senator was speechless was reported the other day. One of those senators who obtained judgeship nominations for friends about the same time that they decided to support the court reform program was stopped by Senator King in the hall. King said pleasantly, "Well, I see you got your judgeship nomination."
The silent judge, which the congratulated senator bestowed in reply would have filled three pages of the congressional record.

HANDLING
The man in charge seems to be the same who planned the perfect government cases in the Urethel and other kidnappings, Joseph B. Keenan, assistant to the attorney general. As everyone knows, Mr. Keenan has never been slow enough to let a writ of habeas corpus or an extradition paper catch up with him. His technique has been to push men into airplanes and carry them where he wanted them to go. So far, no senators have been taken for one of the famous Keenan-Hoover sky-rides, but a few of his senatorial mouthpieces are beginning to complain privately about being pushed around.
For instance, an idler in the senate lobby has heard a justice department agent call a senator on the telephone and say: "Get that list of opposition witnesses out of Senator Burke right away. We must have them." The senator complained he had tried and failed, but the agent insisted in a manner which few government officials care to employ against United States senators.
It is a matter of common report within the committee that defense witnesses have been taken to the justice department and examined on what they would say. Advance copies of direct testimony by several defense witnesses likewise bore the typographical style of the justice department mimeograph machine.

DAVIS NAMED TO HEAD AREA MEET

Kimberly Man Chosen Chief Of Jamboree Scheduled For Twin Falls

Dr. J. N. Davis of Kimberly, Scout commissioner, today was named by area Scout officials as chief of the jamboree which will be held in Twin Falls June 18, 19 and 20, and which is expected to attract over 300 Scouts and leaders to this city.

Dr. Davis will also serve as medical officer for the contingent which will leave for Washington, D. C., immediately following the close of local activities, officials announce.

Applications Begin

Plans for the jamboree are being forwarded today to each Scoutmaster through the commissioner in each district. Applications to attend the camp here are being made at the present time and entry blanks will be sent after payment of the 25 cents patrol fee and receipt of the preliminary application blank at local headquarters. The final date for patrol filing has been set as June 1.

Any patrol of from five to nine Scouts may participate and any troop may enter as many patrols as it desires. On the first day of the meet, which falls on Friday, main activity will feature the setting up of camp with certificates awarded patrols meeting certain standards during inspection. The second day, June 19, will be devoted to rally events and a possible demonstration by the unit which will represent this area at Washington. At night a campfire program will be featured.

Church Services

Sunday, church services will be held after which the entire camp will parade to the railroad station to give the Washington contingent a "rousing" sendoff.

Complete programs for the three days events will be announced at a later date, officials said today.

Local Chamber Joins Other Groups Seeking New Branch Line

Representatives of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, the Amalgamated Sugar company, the Idaho Beet Growers' association, and scores of ranchers will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Baptist church at Castleford with representatives of that community as well as the Clover district to discuss plans for getting the Union Pacific for new trackage into the area. It was announced today by D. D. Gibbs of Castleford, who will preside.

The proposed line will run between Castleford and Berger and will be approximately 20 miles long. Reports of all committees working in the field toward the line's establishment will be heard at the meeting. Mr. Gibbs said today. Petitions circulated among residents of the district setting out lognage each farmer could supply the railroad, should it be constructed, will be turned in during the meeting. A committee of six, which will probably consist of three from the Clover district and three from Castleford will be appointed to meet with railroad officials as well as officials of the Idaho Beet Growers' association.

Greenberg Picks Yanks to Crack in American League Race

FIRST BASEMAN OF TIGERS SEES DETROIT VICTORY

Drop of Pennant-Winners in Recent Years Cited by Great Slugger

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
LAKELAND, Fla., March 29 (U.P.)—World champion baseball clubs frequently fall apart without anyone knowing what the trouble is. The Tigers did it after their 1935 triumph, the Cardinals after their 1934 and 1935 victories, and the Giants after their 1933 ascension.

That no world championship team in the past four years has been able to even win the pennant the succeeding year. Will the same thing happen to the invincible Yankees?

Jealousies Crop Out
"Jealousies crop out. Salary arguments take a player's mind off his job. Outsiders interfere with you. A thousand other little annoyances creep in and altogether they hurt a team enough to keep it from playing up to its standard. The Yankees are on top of the world now. That's the danger spot. Before they realize it they'll be in a battle they're not ready for, and then it's too late."

"Do you mean the Yanks won't win?"
"The only way the Yanks can win is to get out in front fast and stay there. If they make a runaway race, they'll win. If the race is close they'll lose."

"How do you figure that, Hank?"
"Crack in Dog Fight"
"Did you ever check up on how the Yanks only win when they can run away with the race? In a close, dog fight they always crack up. If the race is close this season the Tigers will win out."

The records show that the Yanks won last year by 19½ games and in 1932 by 13 games. In between they finished second three times, cracking up in close races. The Senators beat them by 7 games in 1933, the Tigers by 7 games in 1934 and by 3 games in 1935.

"Those holdouts and salary arguments won't do the Yankees any good," says Greenberg. "It takes a philosopher, magician and a miracle man to handle a ball player who thinks he's good and the Yanks can't help but think they're in a class by themselves after their complete dominance last year."

As for Greenberg who played only 12 games last season, the best answer about whether his broken wrist has healed is furnished by pitchers in the Grapefruit league. They throw Hank nothing good. In a pinch they walk him. In a game the other day, Greenberg walked three times in a four trips to the plate.

"I don't even know I had a broken wrist," says Greenberg.
With Greenberg, the man who drove in 170 runs in 1935 and was picked as the American league's most valuable player, back in the lineup, the Tigers have their old punch once more.

RUPPERT LEAVES YANKEES' CAMP

President of Champions Goes Back to Gotham Without Signing Ruffing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 29 (U.P.)—Owner Jacob Ruppert of the New York Yankees said today that under no circumstances would he concede a point or ask his "20-game pitcher" Red Ruffing to report to training camp. "I am going back to New York Thursday and do not expect to suggest settlement to Ruffing before or after I leave," he said. The Yanks rested today after defeating the Boston Bees, 6 to 5, yesterday to sweep their seven-game exhibition series.

DODGERS WIN AGAIN
SEBRING, Fla., March 29 (U.P.)—The Brooklyn Dodgers who have won their last five games, come here today to play the International league Newark Bears. The Dodgers yesterday turned back the Cincinnati Reds, 4-2.

SENATORS LOSE
ORLANDO, Fla., March 29 (U.P.)—The Washington Senators play the Montreal Royals of the International league here today, after their winning streak was stopped at eight straight yesterday by the Boston Red Sox. In a weird game as seen in the Grapefruit league this year, the Senators came from behind to score nine runs in the last two innings and, knot the count, only to lose as the Sox scored the winning tally on a wild throw.

Learn to Shoot
BUOHAREST (U.P.)—A course in target practice will be provided for all children, boys and girls alike, in Rumanian primary schools by order of the Minister of Public Instruction.

SPORT SQUIBS

(by H. J. W.)

After watching the nice manly eye-gouging, biting and hair-pulling tactics of wrestler Kusek on the Saturday night American Legion program, it appears to us that the Legion committee would do a brisk box-office business if they matched the Omaha with Champion Del Kunkel before the hatred of the local fans has cooled off toward him.

To a man (and woman) the crowd was with Tex Hager on the Saturday night's card, but it just wasn't in the cards for the flashy Texan to win.

In the first place, what would two nice clean wrestlers, favorites of the fans, like Hager and Kunkel do in the ring at the same time? The crowd wouldn't have anybody to pick on, there would be no booing and a goodly share of the customers would leave the hall disgruntled after the match.

But what about Kusek? The match would be a "natural." Kunkel is a great favorite of the fans here and the enthusiasts of southern Idaho would flock to the Legion sports palace to see the Bad Boy get his "just deserts"—which most of the people are certain he would receive.

Promoter Ed Warner is already working on the proposal and if Kunkel can be enticed back from his Canadian jaunt, the match will be staged in about three weeks.

We talked to "Butcher Boy" Jorgenson, the Great Falls, Mont., grappler after the Saturday night matches and like all the rest of the gentry that make their living on mat cards, he admits it is a hard way to make a living.
Probably as clean a looking young fellow as we have ever met in the business of wrestling. Jorgenson is only 28 years old and has been working with the "grunt-and-growl" artists for seven years.

"Guess I'll have to stick to the game now," he stated when asked how he liked it. "I don't know any other else and we make a fair living at it."

"I'm leaving this troop here, though, and going back up to Great Falls to see my mother. Haven't been up there for seven months. We've been touring along the Pacific coast. But I'll join another gang up there and keep going for a few years anyway. After that—well, I'll just wait until it comes."

Possessing a fine personality, and with the looks and complexion of a bank clerk, Jorgenson could easily be made into a top-notch man if he could transplant some of his personality into the form of color in the ring.

Braddock to Accept Service of Writ From Madison Square Garden Today

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, March 29 (U.P.)—Today is the day that Madison Square Garden is going to where, as to wit, and/or, tort, and little James J. Braddock.

Because the heavyweight boxing champion of the universe has let it be known that SHARPLY at 10 a. m., 11 a. m., 12 noon, 1 p. m., or later on, he will allow his "august person" to be served with a writ by minions of the federal government.

The writ is the brain child of Madison Square Garden's child brain, and its purpose is to bring Braddock before a judge and make him show cause why he should not defend his title against Max Schmeling in the Garden Bowl on June 3.

Good Footwork
For nearly a month the Garden has been attempting to place the fatal paper in the battle-scarred hands of the champion. But Jim, displaying footwork that not even his trainer thought he possessed, has kept one jump ahead of his tormentors. The chase ranged from Florida to Madison, and finally reached a madcap finale on Saturday when the Garden's posse, certain they had Braddock cornered, swooped down on his home in Woodcliff, N. J., and triumphantly served the paper on a dock-hand who bore a close resemblance to the harassed gladiator.

For several hours after the serving of this paper on the dock-hand, one Gunboat Williams, confusion reigned. It reigned first in the office of Colonel John Kilpatrick, Garden president, when that sterling old Yale blue, with the smugness of a cat who has not only swallowed one canary, but an entire aviary, thumped his chest and roared: "Braddock has been served."

"Colonel is nuts!"
It next reigned in the office of Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, when that master strategist was told of Colonel Kilpatrick's announcement.

"The colonel is nuts, and nuts in spades," Gould said. "Braddock has been right here all day. Haven't you, Jim?"

Jim, who was right there, said he had and that someone should give the colonel back to the Indians.

"Lay off the Indians," a boxing writer with a touch of Cherokee in his veins said. "They've been persecuted enough."

Confusion then reigned over half of New Jersey as everyone involved in the writ serving matter told different stories. Some told different stories two or three times.

As it turned out, Braddock had not been served, but will be today. It is natural to assume that his decision to accept the paper came when he decided he had thought up an answer for the judge when the judge asked him to show cause why he shouldn't meet Schmeling in June.

Yet, it is almost unbelievable that Braddock, even though he isn't an Abbe Dinet when it comes to thinking, should require a month to hit upon the proper answer for the judge. Because the answer is as obvious as a sabre-toothed hen. It is:

"Judge, who in hell wants to see it?"
That might get Braddock held in contempt of court, but it would be the proper answer. A Braddock-Schmeling fight wouldn't draw haircut money in this town, and even if it would, prizefighters aren't in the business for haircuts, and shouldn't be expected to fight for them.

Still, a contract being a contract, the Garden is likely to wake one morning and find that it has that fight, lock, stock and barrel. And when that morning comes I want the aspirin concession in the executive offices. It'll be worth a mint of money.

POCKET BILLIARD TOURNAMENT OPENS

NEW YORK, March 29 (U.P.)—Jimmy Carras, world's pocket billiard champion, begins the defense of his title tonight against 11 of the world's leading champions.

With $8,000 in prize money at stake Jimmy meets Fay Garner, Vineland, N. J., in the opening encounter. Andrew Ponzl, who retired as undefeated world's champion, will return to competition against Irving Crane, Rochester, N. Y., in the night's second game.

Remainder of the 66-game schedule will be played off at the rate of four a day. Three other former champions are entered. They are Ralph Greenleaf, 13 times titleholder, Erwin Rudolph and Bennie Allen.

Hawaii Boxers
HONOLULU (U.P.)—American Legion posts which are promoting boxing in the Hawaiian Islands now are working out plans for a "talent exchange" with the Hollywood legion. The plan would be to bring more outstanding mainland boxers for appearances in the islands.

HAGER LOSES IN WRESTLING BOUT

Klein Kusek of Omaha Downs Favorite on Saturday Night Card

The villain came into his own on Saturday night as Klem Kusek, a substitute on the "bottle royal" card came through to take the favored Tex Hager in the finals of the American Legion wrestling presentation, with a chorus of boos greeting his sars as he left the ring.

The "bottle royal" met with favor of the largest-crowd of the season as it was announced before the start of the melee that nothing was barred except biting and eye gouging. That meant lots of fist swinging, kicking and other favorite tactics of the wrestlers and more fun for the fans.

Starting the free-for-all were Al Boyl, Salt Lake City, 190; Ole Erickson, 200, Sweden; Clarence Call, Idaho Falls, 165; "Butcher Boy" Jorgenson, 170, Great Falls, Mont.; Tex Hager, El Paso, Texas, 185; and Al Boyd, Omaha, 195.

Ole Goes Out
First to feel the surge of the pack was Ole Erickson, who was piled on by the other five when he hit the canvass after about two minutes of battling.

Boyd, the Salt Lake City flash, was next, followed by Call and then Jorgenson. The total time for the mix-up was five minutes and 54 seconds.

After the bottle royal Erickson tangled with Boyd in a one-fall time-limit match that went to a draw, the Salt Lake grappler capturing the favor of the fans, with the meek-mane man getting the boos.

Second match saw the only clean wrestling of the evening as Call and Jorgenson tossed each other around the ring, presented several new holds to the fans and were roundly applauded for their work. Call took the one-fall match in 11 minutes and 20 seconds.

Favorite Liked
The match for the "championship" of the evening saw Tex Hager, quite a favorite with the local sporting gentry, taking his first licking before a Twin Falls audience. He captured the first fall from the biting and eye-gouging Kusek in 12 minutes and 26 seconds. But after that the Nebraska man went wild, throwing referee Otis Klingman out of the ring, knocking him down several times, and using a wristlock on Hager that left the latter helpless. Kusek took the second fall in 11 minutes and 26 seconds and the third in two minutes and 10 seconds.

Plans are now under way to match Boyd with Del Kunkel for the world's tigerweight championship in a match that will be staged at the local Legion hall. But chances are that Kusek will be shown here in another match before Kunkel can be brought back to this territory, the Salt Lake grappler now being in the vicinity of Calgary, Canada, according to J. Edward Warner, promoter for the American Legion building committee.

Perry Defeats Tilden In Match at Chicago

CHICAGO, March 29 (U.P.)—Bill Tilden won a set from Fred Perry, but couldn't keep up the pace, and lost his second professional tennis match to the English ace last night. The scores were: 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 11-9.

Tilden tired noticeably after carrying the third set to 4-4. He forced the final set to deuce six times before double faulting for the deciding point.

In doubles, Perry and Ellsworth Vines defeated Tilden and Vincent Richards, 10-8, 6-3.

FELLER FANS SIX IN THREE INNINGS

Star Cleveland Youth Hurler Against New York Giants In Exhibition

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 29 (U.P.)—After getting their first peek at Bob Feller's fireball, the New York Giants decided they already had seen too much of it today. The youthful Cleveland pitcher whiffed six of the National league champions in three innings as the Indians won 4-2 to even their series at two games each. Thus in seven innings of Grapefruit play Feller has fanned 12, has not allowed a run and been found for only one hit.

CARDS WIN
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 29 (U.P.)—In typical gas house fashion the St. Louis Cardinals snapped a six-game losing streak by noying out the Detroit Tigers, 6-5, yesterday. Dizzy Dean, making his first appearance on the Card mound, nearly came to blows with Umpire Ormsby when the official refused to rule a dirt strike on one batsman. Diz worked only three innings, but gave up two runs on consecutive singles by Greenberg, Tebbets and Rowe. Held to one hit the day before, the Gashouse gang collected 14 yesterday as Terry Moore set the pace with four.

PIRATES DROP TILT
ONTARIO, Calif., March 29 (U.P.)—Pittsburgh's Pirates dropped an exhibition game to the Coast league Los Angeles team 9-7 before 3,000 spectators yesterday. John Dick-shot's homer in the ninth with Epps and Sands on base gave the Pirates hope but Arkie Vaughan grounded out to end the inning. It was the Angels' third straight win over a major-league team.

DEMPSEY LEAVES KEGLER TOURNEY

Doctor Orders Former Champ To Florida; N. Y. Team Disqualified

NEW YORK, March 29 (U.P.)—The American bowling congress tournament lost one of its best drawing cards today. Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey reported that he will not bowl March 31 as scheduled.

Dempsey went to Florida several days ago on advice of physicians and according to a telegram must remain there for some time.

Tonight's schedule will include 48 regular teams and five boosters. Cities represented will be Dayton, Ohio; Syracuse, N. Y.; Beaumont, Texas; Dallas, Texas; Reading, Pa.; Williamsport, Pa.; Chicago, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh and Hazelton, Pa.

Yesterday's rolling resulted in six new two-man leaders, six singles and four all-enters. Alex Carey of Belleville, Mich., took first place in the all-events with a score of 1,057, second place in the singles with a 683 and third in the doubles with William Metzner by a total of 1,281. Carey rolled 705 in this event.

The St. Anthony team of Johnstown, N. Y., which rolled into the money a few days ago was disbanded today because Steve Sovik rolled in an unsanctioned league.

Montreal Gets Berth In Hockey Play-Off

By United Press
A 4-1 victory over the Boston Bruins sent the Montreal Maroons into the Stanley hockey cup semi-final playoffs today where they will oppose the New York Rangers for a berth in the finals.

S. stake, officiated at the rites.

Miss O'Neal, gowned in a formal frock of yellow taffeta and wearing a corsage of pink roses, was attended by Mrs. Howard Tucker, who wore a long blue taffeta gown and had a corsage of pink sweet peas and rose buds. Best man was Howard Tucker, brother-in-law of the groom.

The rooms were trimmed with large baskets of Easter lilies and daffodils with fern. On the buffet was a large bowl of daffodils and the table from which the wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony was centered with a three-tiered cake made by Mrs. Dan Ryan, Berger, aunt of the bride. Flanking the cake were yellow tapers. Mrs. O'Neal was assisted by Miss Jean Brady, also of Berger.

In the wedding party were Mrs. Ryan and son Donald, Miss Brady and Miss Patricia Ryan, all of Berger; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jensen, Gerald O'Neal, all of Twin Falls; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Brown, Pocatello, and Miss Theresa Bunker, Idaho Falls, aunt of the bride.

DUKE ENDS VISIT TO OLD CASTLE

Windsor Makes Move to New Chateau on Edge of Lake Wolfgang

BAD ISCHL, Austria, March 29 (AP)—Edward, Duke of Windsor, ended his lonely visit to Ennsfeld castle today and moved on to Lake St. Wolfgang where he and Mrs. Wallis Simpson spent a few happy days together in September, 1935, before her named was linked with his in the romance which cost him his throne.

The duke was accompanied by two querries and two detectives.

For the remainder of his period of separation from Mrs. Simpson, which is expected to end in their marriage after her divorce decree from Ernest Simpson becomes final, the duke is to stay at a 25-room villa on the lake between St. Wolfgang and Strobl, with its tennis court, private swimming pool and golf course.

MONTIS, France, March 29 (AP)—It was quiet Easter Sunday for Mrs. Wallis Simpson. The woman for whom the duke of Windsor left his throne spent the day in the Chateau de Cande and on its secluded golf course, avoiding curious Easter promenaders outside the grounds.

Hundreds View Flow at Falls

Ideal weather and the moderate flow attracted crowds that came and went throughout the day.

THEATERS
In "Espionage"

Mingling the sort of intrigue that is making headlines in the newspapers with romance and humor that also have their place in the news, the new screen fare coming to the Orpheum Wednesday is called "Espionage." With Edmund Lowe and Madge Evans in the leading roles, this picture was made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and has a supporting cast of Paul Lukas, Keti Gallian, Skeets Gallagher and Mitchell Lewis. The current attraction at the Orpheum theater, "Green Light" with Errol Flynn, Anita Louise and Margaret Lindsay, will close tomorrow night.

'Bulldog Drummond' On Idaho's Screen
Showing today at the Idaho theater is the largest of the popular "Bulldog Drummond" mysteries, "Bulldog Drummond Escapes," in which Ray Milland portrays the stellar role as the great detective. The program is completed with a musical, novelty, and news. Coming Wednesday the Idaho theater presents as its regular mid-week return hit Freddie Bartholomew in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" with Dolores Costello Barrymore.

Joe E. Brown Stars In Roxy Screen Hit
The most hilarious screen comedy in which Joe E. Brown has ever appeared is "When's Your Birthday?" now at Uncle Joe-K's Roxy theater.

Many of the laughable situations occur after Brown, very much a dub as a prize fighter, becomes a professional astrologer, to find himself the center of a swift succession of events during which he sees more stars than there are on his charts. The climax is a veritable riot of laughter.

The cast supporting the wise-cracking Joe E. includes Marian Marsh, Fred Keating, Edgar Kennedy, Minor Watson and Suzanne Kaaren.

What's Doing at SUN VALLEY
(By Evening Times Special Correspondent)

"MAE WEST" GOT PACKAGE IN 1892 AT RED WING, IDAHO RECORDS SAY

By J. P. GALLAGHER
SUN VALLEY, March 29 (Special)—We were snooping around Lane's corner emporium and came across some old post-office records of Red Wing, now defunct station north of Ketchum. The records were found by Jack Lane when he bought the building that now houses his mercantile selection ranging from skis to sugar. While browsing through these, we found that Mae West received a registered package in April of 1892. We always thought that girl was a lot older than she looked. But never suspected her to be quite that matured.

Francis, head barmen at the Sun Valley Lodge here, has left for New York. Not long after coming to Sun Valley, he decided one night to trek down to Ketchum for a bit of diversion. Being a very temperate soul, as are most genuinely high class barmen, he proceeded legally along the left side of the road, tramping through the deep snow, to be sure and avoid the path of passing motorists. Despite all his precautions, he was struck down by an on-coming car, owned by a local sportsman, and driven by a local youth.

The car was one of several pressed into service this winter as gratis taxis for the profitable purpose of luring lodge lures to local layouts where the "filthy" was freely flched in a very painless and intriguing manner. The resultant effect was to render Francis incompetent in a most tragic manner, badly bruising a shoulder, spraining a back, and causing three major and serious breaks in his left leg, a leg that will remain crooked to the grave. Francis went to the hospital in Halley to lie in a cast for two months. Two weeks ago, he was moved back to the lodge. The car owner, wanting to do the right thing, offered to present the car to Francis as an attempt at atonement. The thought of accepting that car caused Francis to shudder, which was no reflection on the car owner. The youth who drove the car was at the time, held and tried, but the jury acquitted him and allowed him to go free. Francis returns to his wife and family, showing an appalling physical and financial deficit for his first season at Sun Valley. But if it is any consolation to him, and we know it is, he is returning greatly enriched by the genuine friendship and sympathy of all Sun Valley.

Old Claude Pratt is almost walking in the air. He is all excited. He has a full carload of brand new Badger tires on the Railroad track and is unloading today. Claude Pratt is going to turn these tires loose just like feathers in an Oklahoma windstorm. Claude bought these tires at the old price and while there's been several advances in tire prices Claude wants to have the privilege of just seeing how fast he could sell tires. 32x heavy duty ten-ply... $26.47. This tire is listed to sell for $47.00. 4-40x21 4-ply... $33.88. 4-75x19, 4-ply... $40.66. 5-50x17 4-ply... $38.50. 30x34... $33.37 and a tube for this 30x34, heavy duty red, 84c.

These are not specials on tires. All the prices we have on tires are priced accordingly. Hundreds of people all over the country have been waiting for these tires to arrive. They can see by a glance that we are saving them many, many dollars. Many of them told us to be sure and get them word when the tires and tubes arrived.

Pope Told He Can Resume Acceptance Of Public Audience

VATICAN CITY, March 29 (U.P.)—Pope Pius was in such excellent health today that Prof. Amintore Milani, Vatican physician, told him he might resume public audiences this week if he desired, it was said authoritatively.

Prof. Milani visited the pope at 6:45 a. m. and afterward said: "He is in perfect condition. I can not find any ill effects of yesterday's exertions."

Pope Pius' appearance in public yesterday was his first since on December 4 when he admitted his grave illness and took to his bed. He looked a little paler than previously, and older.

Police Search for Two Caldwell Girls

CALDWELL, March 29 (U.P.)—Police today instituted search for two young girls, Garnet Douchier, 14, and Margaret McCloud, 15, thought to have run away from home. They have been missing since Thursday.

Meanwhile, Nampa authorities learned that Elizabeth Allen, 16, missing for some time, had been found in Ogden, Utah. Police said she voluntarily admitted her identity. Her father is en route to bring her home. She assertedly made her way to Boise, then took a bus for Ogden.

SEKS DIVORCE

RENO, Nev., March 29 (U.P.)—Mrs. Hilda Wynn, wife of Ed Wynn, radio comedian, has established residence in Reno, preliminary to filing suit for divorce. It was reported Mrs. Wynn would charge her husband with mental cruelty.

CHICAGO, March 29 (U.P.)—Wheat prices continued their upward surge on all world markets open today but profit taking selling forced a setback on the Chicago board of trade late in the session.

Buenos Aires started today's forward movement with an advance of better than 8 cents a bushel with the April delivery touching the highest levels since 1928. Winnipeg and Chicago followed with sharp advances to highest levels in seven years. Much of the early buying was contributed by panicky shorts.

Wheat at Chicago closed 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 cent higher, new corn 1/4 to 1 cent higher, old corn 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents higher, and oats unchanged to 1/4 cent higher.

The local market opened about 1/4 cent higher but buying power fell off later in the session and practically all of the early advance was erased.

Cash wheat sold here today at the highest levels since 1928 when a car of No. 1 hard brought $1.50.

The strength in wheat combined with a strong cash market brought out buying of corn futures here today.

Through light, man is able to determine even the composition of the stars, though they may be trillions of miles away. Light tells him whether the stars are old or new, whether they are coming nearer or becoming more distant. Only through light has he learned the secrets of the heavens.

CROWD WATCHES CHURCH'S DRAMA

A capacity crowd at the First Church of the Brethren last evening enjoyed the production of "The Terrible Meek," presentation of the Golgotha scene.

Those participating in the production under the direction of Mrs. Van B. Wright were: Miss Ethel Hempleman as Mary the mother of Jesus, Claron Hesp as the sentry, and Paul Wright as the captain of the guard.

The play was presented in accordance with the state B. Y. P. O. 1937 project of the maintenance work of the church locally and in foreign mission fields. It is said that five cents will carry the work as a whole for six seconds. The Twin Falls group has sponsored this drama as a means to this end together with its individual gifts. The drama has been given at the Emmett B. Y. P. O. rally, Nampa, and other localities have asked for it.

PIANIST TO GIVE FINAL PROGRAM

Dalies Frantz to Be Heard in Last Concert of Local Association

Members of the Twin Falls Community Concert association are anticipating with pleasure the final concert to be presented in Twin Falls Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. at the Methodist church, rather than this evening as erroneously announced in a Sunday newspaper article here. Dalies Frantz, brilliant young American pianist, will present a program of selections by Scarlatti, Brahms, Bach, Chopin, Liszt, Tsch, Rachmaninoff, Prokofiev and Debussy.

Of Frantz, one critic says: "This virile virtuoso with his dominating command of everything fine in pianoforte, is ruled by no exclusive predilections; hence his many-faceted playing. He is not interested in having a style, but in possessing many styles."

In concert, one immediately discerns the intense absorption Dalies Frantz displays in each one of the brilliantly assorted pieces that he performs. It is indeed a pleasurable sight to witness this blond Viking launch into an inspired attack of a composition with no sense of limitation, or bound by stylized mannerisms that would cramp the scope of his sweeping interpretations."

Members of the association are reminded by officers that they are entitled to attend the final concert of the Pocatello association, a program by Keith Falkner, British baritone, to be presented April 16 in Frazier hall.
