Mayors Ask for Big Government Relief Aid Fund

$2,200,000,000 Sought For 1938 Expenditures

WASHINGTON, March 31 (UP)—The U. S. conference of mayors, through Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York, asked President Roosevelt today for a $2,200,000,000 appropriation for federal relief in the 1938 fiscal year.

The amount, to care for 2,800,000 unemployed, is $700,000,000 more than the amount President Roosevelt can spend for job-making if he keeps the national budget near the balance line.

The President tentatively alloted $1,500,000,000—enough to care for some 1,600,000 persons on WPA for the 12 months after July 1.

The $2,200,000,000 figure was presented to Mr. Roosevelt by LaGuardia, chairman of the mayor's conference, this morning.

CHRYSLER QUITS STRIKE MEETING

Auto Head Leaves For New York, Called By "Urgent Business"

LANSING, Mich., March 31 (U.P.)—Attempts to settle the 24-day strike in the nine Detroit plants of the Chrysler corporation were stalemated temporarily today.

Walter P. Chrysler, head of the concern, was in New York, having been called there by "urgent business." In his absence was John L. Lewis, C. I. O. head who was forced to take time out from the automotive conference to confer with soft coal operators on a new contract for miners in the Appalachian districts.

Back Saturday

Gov. Frank Murphy said there was only "the remotest possibility" that Chrysler and Lewis might meet in New York.

The governor had the assurance of both men that they would return here not later than Saturday.

Meantime, reliable sources said that the chief stumbling block to a settlement was the "board of strategy" of the United Automobile Workers of America.

Recognizes UAWA

It was this group, it was said, which repeatedly "turned thumbs down" on proposals to compromise the union's demand for sole collective bargaining rights in all Chrysler plants.

Members of the strategy board pointed out that the sit-down strikers evacuated the plants last Thursday only on express condition that there would be no recession from this demand. Chrysler and his aides have refused to grant it but have offered to recognize the U. A. W. A. as bargaining agency for its own members.

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—House inflation advocates from 36 states today agreed to seek enactment at the session of congress of legislation for government ownership of the 12 federal reserve banks.

LOCAL CHARITIES GROUP DISBANDS

Associated Unit Decides to Discontinue Work For Indefinite Period

Representatives of the various agencies forming the Associated Charities met last night at the Probate court rooms at the county court house and disbanded the organization for "an indefinite period."

It was also decided at the meeting over which Harold A. Salisbury, secretary, presided, that all clothes on hand at the Charities distribution center, which has been temporarily located in the John B. White garage will be turned over today to the WPA sewing room at the Parish hall. The WPA will probably use the material for quilts and other such items as it was explained a majority of the garments left are unserviceable.

O. D. Lyda, who has had charge of the distributing center, told the meeting last night that "about 15 boxes of clothes" would be sent to the WPA.

May Resume in Fall

Although it is not known when the Charities will start to operate again, it was indicated it would probably be next fall.

Should operation continue at that time, it was pointed out, the entire arrangement of the organization would be changed. The work would be put into the hands of one man who would have charge of the entire agency. This man would be someone trained in the work and one who would be able to establish and promote a "clearing house" for all agencies, relieving the uncertainty which exists at the present time where more than one agency may be aiding the same family.

It was suggested that the "clearing house" if established would be countywide. One family, it was decided, should be contacted only by the representatives of one agency, thus eliminating duplications and also aiding the needy persons inasmuch as they would know where to go to receive relief.

Some discussion was also heard last night of the relative value which would be found should the organization enter the Community Chest, but no action was taken.

Hundreds Aided

During the short period the Charities has been in operation this season hundreds of persons have benefitted through distributions of clothing, Lyda said. He said the num-

Notice to Advertisers

Due to increased circulation and advertising it has become necessary to move up all production schedules on the Idaho Evening Times to permit an earlier afternoon and evening distribution.

For that reason it will be impossible hereafter to accept display advertising copy later than midnight the day before publication. To assist advertisers in complying with this new schedule the Evening Times advertising department will be glad to aid in the preparation of copy at all times.

The Evening Times is moving up its schedule only as a means of working for greater efficiency and improved service to its advertisers. Earlier distribution in itself will be of much benefit to these advertisers.

The midnight deadline for advertising copy the day following will go into effect April 1. The Evening Times will greatly appreciate the co-operation of its advertisers in following this schedule.

Franco Troops in Rout After Attempt to Take Over Mercury Mines

By JAN YINDRICH

MADRID, March 31 (U.P.)—A large portion of Gen. Francisco Franco's southern army faced possible annihilation in the Sierra Morena mountain passes north of Cordoba today where four loyalist columns were seeking to encircle them, army dispatches reported.

The insurgent army, defeated at Alcaracejos despite its 10,000 German and Italian reinforcements, in what the loyalist high command said had been "another battle of the Marne," fled toward the Chimorra mountains.

Harassed by loyalist artillery and aviation, the rear guard of the retreating army was reported trapped on the Cordoba highway while its advance elements neared the strategic Puerto Catrave in the mountains, eight miles south of Alcaracejos.

Loyalist army reports said the fleeing Italian and German troops showed increasing signs of disorganization. Loyalist aviation bombed and machine-gunned them incessantly.

In Hot Pursuit

Two loyalist columns, which drove the insurgents out of Alcaracejos and Villanueve del Duque, causing the collapse of Franco's drive to capture the wealthy Almaden mercury mines, 80 miles south of Madrid, were in hot pursuit.

Two other loyalist columns, starting from Pozoblanco and Villanueva, raced for Villaharta and Ovejo, respectively, to intercept the retreating army on the Cordoba highway before it could pass those points, thus subjecting it to attacks on all sides.

Success of the maneuver would trap the unwieldly nationalist force in the narrow mountain passes around Puerto Catraveno, loyalist officers said, forcing it to surrender or be annihilated.

Slaughter May Start

Unless there was an overnight change in the situation not apparent at the moment, loyalist officers said, slaughter of the Italian and

FRENCH RAP AT NATIONAL SHIPS

Warning Sent to Keep 'Hands Off' Vessels Plying in Merchant Trade

PARIS, March 31 (U.P.)—France has warned the Spanish nationalists not to interfere with French shipping, a cabinet communique announced today.

France, it was said, will take the same measures as Great Britain to protect ships.

These, it is understood, will be to keep fast warships patrolling in waters off Spain, in the Atlantic and Mediterranean, ready to dash to the aid of any merchant ship with which a nationalist warship interfered.

In several recent instances nationalist warships have halted French and British merchantmen.

Officials Seeking Man Who Set Bomb in Car

Missouri Mayor Nears Death Following Explosion in Automobile

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., March 31 (U.P.)—Angry citizens started a reward fund today for the capture of the person who tried to assassinate their Mayor Gail Jacobs by planting a black powder bomb in his automobile.

The 45-year-old mayor lay gravely wounded, with only an even chance to survive. Both legs and one arm were shattered when the bomb exploded under the left hood of his car as he attempted to move it from his garage Tuesday morning.

There appeared to be a lack of motive. The town had been singularly free of criminal political and labor troubles. Mayor Jacobs was virtually drafted into office in April, 1936, against his wishes.

"It couldn't happen here," the Kirksville Daily Express commented, in appealing for contributions to "a reward of several thousand dollars."

Col. Marvin Casteel, of the state highway patrol, was in charge of the investigation. He said the bomb was set off by a wire running to the generator of his car. The spark came when Jacobs turned the ignition key.

The explosion destroyed a section of the car, tore out part of the garage roof and sent small pieces of metal into Jacobs' home, where his wife stood ironing.

Hobo King Lays Plans for 29th Annual Convention April 10-17

ST. LOUIS, March 31 (U.P.)—"King" Jeff came out of the hobo jungles today, set up court in an unheated vacant store and outlined plans for the 29th annual convention of the hoboes of America, April 10-17.

In his flag draped ("throne room" he met the press with a bowery accent and a definition of what constitutes an authentic hobo.

"First off," said he, "I don't want youse to think there'll be a mob of tincans lamming in here for the convention. We ain't bums and we ain't tramps."

"We been fightin' with the dictionary people for years about that, but it don't do any good. They still think bums, tramps and hoboes is all the same."

King Jeff explained that a hobo is one who steals a ride on trains in going from town to town looking for work.

"A hobo will work," he declared stoutly, "but a tramp won't, and a bum couldn't if he wanted to."

Columbus was just a water hobo, the king explained. He pointed out that Queen Isabella even had to pawn her jewels to start things moving. The Mayflower was a borrowed boat and its passengers were so broke they rattled, he added.

King Jeff said he had a wife and two children, and travels now with his wife in trains. But occasionally he ships her ahead on a passenger train and then hops a freight "just to keep in practice." He claimed Cincinnati as his present home.

He is paid no salary, but said he makes his living doing odd jobs.

MURDER VERDICT IS RETURNED BY CORONER'S JURY

Inquest in Slaying of Burley Barber Held in Cassia County Today

HUNTING FOR TRANSIENT

Large Gold Watch of Dead Man Found on Floor By Patrolmen

BURLEY, March 31 (Special)—A terse one-word verdict, "murder," was returned by a coroner's jury here today at the inquest into the death of O. P. Simpson, 72, veteran Burley barber.

Hunt for a transient who is regarded as the key figure in the aged victim's slaying went forward today with no new clues uncovered despite intensive search for the man seen loitering near Simpson's barber shop for several days.

Facts Outlined

The jury brought in its brief verdict shortly after noon following the inquest conducted by Coroner Joseph P. Payne at the Payne mortuary. Fact concerning the finding of Mr. Simpson, with his throat cut and skull fractured from heavy blows of an undiscovered weapon, were outlined for the jury by Burley officials and one new fact was unearthed to strike further at the robbery theory.

It was brought out that the murder victim's large gold watch was lying on the floor beside him when he was found by Tom Yeaman and Bill Powell, Burley patrolmen.

Officials who testified at the inquest included Dr. G. G. Espe, county physician, Powell and Yeaman, and Sheriff P. D. Pace.

Paper Was Placed

Significant fact disclosed at the hearing was Sheriff Pace's statement that the newspaper, found over the butcher knife lying in the pool of blood that flowed from Simpson's throat when he was stabbed, was carefully placed there and had not been blown into position by wind through the rear entrance to the establishment. The paper was a March 8 copy of the Idaho Evening Times.

Stranger Involved?

Yeaman testified that in his opinion no one could have mistaken the back door of the adjoining butcher shop with the door to the murdered barber's place unless he was totally unfamiliar with the surroundings. The doors are far apart, he said. The statement lent added credence to the theory that the hunted transient may have been the killer, since some observers in Burley, including F. C. Thornton, meat cutter in the butcher shop, believe Simpson's assailant may have been intending to rob the butcher shop.

The knife used by the slayer had been sent today to the federal bureau of investigation at Washington for minute check on possible fingerprints. The knife, covered with blood obscuring the prints to any but the most adequate facilities, was carefully wrapped and mailed by Sheriff Pace.

Authorities were still undecided today as to the type of weapon used in inflicting the jagged, oddly-shaped wounds that caused the skull fracture. Pace said the weapon necessarily had to be sharp and not blunt.

Kept Doors Locked

The inquest discovered that the barber had been in the habit of keeping the doors to his establishment locked unless he was ill, in which case he left the door open so that Yeaman could get in to see him. Powell, who has been handling that half of Burley since November, said that the door has never been unlocked at night during that entire period.

Funeral services for Simpson will be held in Burley before the body is sent to Formosa, Kan., the barber's former home, it was decided today. Interment will be at Formosa.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE FOUND IN TEXAS

Says Three Men Kidnaped Him When He Stopped Car to Give Aid

EL PASO, Tex., March 31 (U.P.)—Robert Miller, Boy Scout executive at Safford, Ariz., for whom a search has been conducted since last Wednesday, was found here today.

Miller walked into a control station of the El Paso Natural Gas Co., and said he had been kidnaped in Safford by three men. He said he was released near El Paso last night.

The executive said that while driving from Safford to Globe he had stopped his automobile to render aid to a man who appeared to have been injured in an automobile accident.

"The man jumped up and hit me," he said. "Two other men hiding in the car jumped out and bent me. The next thing I knew I awoke in their car."

Miller was taken to the office of Sheriff Chris P. Fox.

BERLIN, March 31 (U.P.)—Nazis have been omitted from the German delegation at the coronation of King George of Great Britain, it was disclosed today.

Taylor Not Ready For Declaration On Idaho Statute

$4,000,000 Program is Ruled O. K. by Attorney

BOISE, March 31 (UP)—Attorney General J. W. Taylor said today he could not assume that any unconstitutional exercise of powers would occur in administration of Idaho's public assistance measures, and gave the bills a clean bill of health for the present.

Although admitting both house and senate bills adjusting the administration of a $4,000,000 assistance program contained grants of discretionary power which might lead to an unconstitutional application of their provisions, he said he was not prepared to decide upon the question of non-validity.

"It has been suggested to me," he said, "that in certain of its aspects the public assistance program fails to recognize the limitations of the Idaho constitution, but without time for elaborate consideration of judicial examination, I am not prepared either to affirm or disaffirm this view.

"We are not required to assume that unconstitutional exercise of powers will occur," he concluded.

Leave For Denver

Immediately after the opinion was made public, Peter Cohn, relief official, and J. H. Miller, assistant attorney general, left for Denver, Colo., where they will confer with regional federal officials to contract for Idaho's first quarterly quota of matched funds.

The statement by the attorney general that he could not assume house bill 170 is unconstitutional makes possible contracting for federal funds on the basis of a one-sixth contribution to the total of expenditures from counties.

Should the opinion have declared the county provisions of house bill 170 void, contracts would undoubtedly have been let on provisions of emergency state cooperative relief authority.

This would not have radically changed administration of the act, but would have relieved counties from the appropriation they are now required to make under the bill.

County Gives Sixth

Counties are asked to contribute one-sixth of the entire amount. The state gives two-sixths, and the federal government matches the fund with 50 per cent of the required annual fund.

Attaches in the attorney general's office said they were of the opinion that old age assistance in Idaho was now on a firm and permanent contract basis as a result of the attorney general's statement.

However, they pointed out that should a test case be brought, and the county contribution provision

FARM LOAN BILL KILLED IN HOUSE

Plans For $50,000,000 Cash Aid Turned Down By Committee

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—The house agriculture committee voted to kill a $50,000,000 bill intended to provide loans to help tenant farmers to own their own farms. The committee action thrust into doubt the future of tenancy legislation—asked by President Roosevelt.

The House committee voted 13 to 11 to kill the measure which was sponsored by Rep. Marvin Jones, D., Tex.

The committee vote followed 12 weeks of debate between members over the proposed measure which was intended to represent a compromise between the views of northern and southern members.

The action came after a statement by President Roosevelt only yesterday indicating his desire to launch an attack on the farm tenancy problem this year, even if only on a small experimental basis.

DEADLOCK BRINGS NIPPON ELECTION

Voting Date Set For April 30 To Determine Course of Japanese Nation

By H. O. THOMPSON

TOKYO, March 31 (U.P.)—Deadlock between the militaristic cabinet and political leaders brought dissolution of parliament today and the prospect of a direct appeal to the country for a decision at the polls between the factions.

April 30 was named tentatively as the date for a general election for members of the diet.

Victory for the army leaders behind the cabinet would be interpreted as putting Japan a long step forward toward Fascist rule.

Only one week ago, the session of parliament was extended until today so that important legislation might be passed. The session would have ended automatically at midnight tonight.

This morning, however, the cabinet, confronted with vigorous opposition to its nationalistic policies, met to consider the situation.

It was decided quickly that the government could not continue working with the present membership of the lower house of parliament.

Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, primo minister went at once to the imperial palace to consult Emperor Hirohito. On his way, while he would not say flatly that he was going to ask dissolution, he told questioners:

"You may guess the reason for my visit. The diet seems to be delaying discussion on many government bills."

Upon announcement of the dissolution, the cabinet in a statement charged that the lower house (shunglin) had not sincerely considered the government's bill designed to improve national defense and the national livelihood.

He was an active member of the Buhl L. D. S. church and had resided with his wife and three sons in the Lucerne district for the past three years.

Highway at Carey Blocked by Drifts

CAREY, March 31 (Special)—Unless a state rotary snow plow can be secured the highway at Tomcat grade may be blocked for the next month by a seven-foot drift of snow and ice and by a 16-foot drift further on, the highway crew reports.

The crew has been working with the large snow plow here and the truck from Shoshone.

SLAUGHTER SEEN FOR REBEL ARMY

Germans, Italians Reported In Disorganization After Government Victory

German troops would begin within a few hours unless they surrendered.

As the tide of war seemed to have turned to favor the loyalist cause, the government commanders were quick to seize their opportunity.

A strong drive on Burgos was begun with the idea of crushing the rebellion, if possible, at the seat of its provisional government.

Late reports said the republican army was within 60 miles of the insurgent captal, which is about 145 miles north of Madrid.

Abandon War Supplies

Government agents reported that the retreating Italian and German troops had abandoned vast war supplies at Alcaracejos and Villanueva del Duque.

Madrid was subjected to three intense aerial bombardments last night and early today in which tons of explosives were dropped from one end of the city to the other without regard to locality or military importance.

Army reports said the death list would be high when rescue workers, who dug in the ruins today, made their final report.

Capital Bombed

The big, tri-motored bombers roared over the capital three times before daybreak.

The fliers took terrific punishment as anti-aircraft shrapnel shells broke all around them, their machines picked out perfectly by searchlights on the ground and atop buildings.

Army reports said the nationalists, making a supreme attempt to retrieve their wavering fortunes in northern Spain, had launched an offensive along the Basque front, directed at Bilbao, loyalist port on the Bay of Biscay where steamers have been depositing most of the government's war supplies.

ber of articles of clothing distributed, including shoes, "would run into the thousands." Lyda has kept an accurate list of each person receiving the donations and the number and kind of garments they have taken, it was stated.

A vote of thanks to Twin Falls citizens and other residents of Twin Falls county for their "splendid cooperation" in donating clothing and shoes was approved at the meeting.

A highlight of the Charities operation came when the local Elks lodge donated $200 to be used for the purchase of children's shoes when it was announced through the Evening Times that approximately 60 school students were staying home because they had no shoes to wear.

Through cooperation of the principals and teachers of the various schools, those needing shoes were ascertained and the shoes purchased from local merchants. It is estimated nearly 100 pairs of shoes were purchased or repaired and made wearable by the donation from the Elks lodge, the funds being handled through Loyal Perry, treasurer of the Charities unit and associated with the Fidelity National bank of Twin Falls.

Completion Nears On Bremer Homes

Seventeen Modern Houses to Be Offered For Sale

Landscaping is being completed, streets graveled and houses completely finished in the Bremer's Fairway subdivision preparatory to offering the 17 modern homes for sale, it was announced here today by George Bremer.

The homes are of the latest design and complete with hardware, plumbing, furnaces and other improvements. They will not be offered for sale until all work is completed, which will probably be in three weeks, Mr. Bremmer said.

Payments for the new houses, it was stated, will range from $300 to $440 down, with easy monthly payments which will include interest, principal, taxes and fire insurance. It is pointed out that the monthly payment arrangements makes possible purchase under a budget with ultimate ownership of the property.

The houses will be complete even to yard construction, it is announced, and will include trees, grass and irrigation water.

ASSISTANCE ACT GETS CLEAN BILL

Taylor Says He Is Not Ready To Declare Measure Unconstitutional

be found unconstitutional, the fund could be administered under the emergency state cooperative relief agency which is still in existence. Recent legislation did not repeal the 1935 statute which set up that board.

Bind For Year

General concensus of opinion was that contracts entered into by the state and federal officials will be binding for the year, regardless of any decision which might be forthcoming concerning state constitutionality of the measure.

Title one of the federal act makes no reference to state constitutionality of any relief agency bills, but merely insists that the bill must conform in all respects with the federal program of social security.

Therefore, should the county contribution provision be found unconstitutional by further legal advice, or a judicial opinion, the government would continue to match federal funds with state money.

Only change would be that the state would have to find a diversion of income somewhere to replace the one-sixth contribution from counties.

Carry Clause

It was pointed out that in all of the assistance measures passed and signed by the governor there are separation clauses, which stipulate that if any provision of any measure should be found unconstitutional, the remainder of the bill would not be declared void.

Thus, even if the questionable county contribution provision should be thrown out, administrative and distribution provisions of the assistance measures would be left intact, and the state's contract with the government would be lasting.

100 PRESENT AT HOME UNIT MEET

Building Group Officials Cite Advantages to Be Found Under New Plan

Over 100 citizens of Twin Falls, Kimberly and Filer, interested in securing a home of their own, met last night at the high school to hear officials of the Twin Falls county unit of the American Citizens Protective association discuss advantages to be found in this organization, organized to permit those of low income brackets to own their own home.

Led by Al Hacker, chief of research for Twin Falls county, the efforts being made at the present time to secure a $100,000 federal loan were discussed. It was pointed out that both Sen. William E. Borah and Sen. James P. Pope, who received the application sent several days ago to Washington, will put the application before the proper authorities.

Queries Answered

A majority of the time at the meeting was spent in answering questions from the floor and clearing up phases of the home building unit which were apparently misunderstood. It was stressed that where any particular home would be built was entirely up to the ideas advanced by the builder. It could either be constructed on a city lot or in the country and the builder could do all the work himself or call for volunteers from other members of the association to trade work hours with him.

It was also pointed out that the association is not founded for profit or speculation.

Regular Meetings

Announcement was made that regular meetings would be held every two weeks on Wednesday night at the high school. The next meeting will be held April 14.

Officers present at last night's meeting, aside from Mr. Hacker, included Eugene Scott, president; John Hollon, vice-president and Lulu Hacker, secretary-treasurer. Several more persons joined the organization after the discussion.

Texas leads all other states in railway mileage, having 16,683 miles of main line trackage in 1936.

SEX CRIME WAVE HITS NEW YORK

Legislators Consider Laws To Help in Curbing Of Murders

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

NEW YORK, March 31 (U.P.)—Police, criminologists and legislators were disturbed today by a series of sex slayings.

New York authorities said "such murders seem to come in cycles, with one inspired by another." New York and Pennsylvania lawmakers considered bills designed to help end killings motivated by sexual passions.

Latest of the present cycle was the triple slaying of Veronica Gedeon, beautiful artists model, her mother, Mary, and the mother's roomer.

Three married women, four single girls and three children under ten years of age were the previous victims.

In all but the Gedeon slayings the killers have been caught. Three have been executed, one awaits execution, another has only to be sentenced, and three still are to be tried. All confessed

Two Negroes

Two of the killers were sex offense "repeaters." Two were Negroes, two were youths who spoke of "uncontrollable impulses" and one was what police called a "tobacco road moron."

Four of the killings occurred in New York City apartments. Two achieved the designation "bathtub murder."

The three child victims were killed in "back rooms," a 16-year old high school student was run down by her attacker on a public highway, and a girl two years her senior was knifed to death in a vacant lot on "the wrong side of the tracks."

In Brooklyn County Judge George W. Martin urged laws and institutions for segregation and, "if necessary," sterilization of sex offenders.

Seek Inquiry

At Albany State Senator John J. McNaboe asked a legislative inquiry to determine whether existing laws were strong enough to check the increase in sex crimes and Assemblyman William C. McCreery proposed compulsory psychiatrical examination of persons accused of sex offenses. Both measures are in committee.

In Pennsylvania a resolution was introduced into the state senate for a senatorial investigation into state paroles, to determine "the mental condition of prisoners charged with sex crimes."

Brooklyn magistrates in the past week have sentenced three men accused of sex offenses to the longest terms possible under the law, ranging up to ten years.

Judge Martin felt they were not long enough, however.

"They serve their terms and come out to go right back to attacking children," he said.

Local Youth Held For Theft of Car

Federal Authorities Enter Case in Nebraska

Don Sterling, 18-year-old Twin Falls youth and former student at the local high school, today was turned over to federal authorities to face felony charges under the Dyer act after he had been picked up in Lexington, Neb., by Sheriff H. E. Ash of that point, while driving a car stolen from Joe Koehler, local theater owner, Monday noon.

The car was taken from in front of the local telephone office, Koehler told police, while he was in the building. An immediate alarm was given but only one clue, that the car was heading east, was learned before the wire received here yesterday afternoon indicated Sterling had been arrested.

A representative of an insurance company is understood to be returning the car to Twin Falls. The Dyer act, under which the youth is being held, deals with transporting stolen property across state lines.

Building Permits

Building permits asked at City hall late yesterday and today included one for $180 by Mrs. Mary Stafford for remodeling the interior of a house on Fifth north; $500 for constructing a new one-family dwelling in the Bickel addition by August W. Wahl, and $600 for remodeling the interior of the C. C. Anderson store in Twin Falls.

Outsiders Help Drive for Cots

Boston and Boise Men Give Cash in Campaign

The efforts of the committee to secure cots and bedding for the new unit at the McClusky Health camp at Buhl has reached a point where it is attracting attention from citizens of many cities, Joe Koehler, chairman of the drive, said today.

H. H. Bennett of Boston, Mass., approached Koehler today and said he would like to donate $10 toward the cause after reading a story concerning the drive in the Evening Times. Bennett is a wool buyer from the eastern city.

Another Boise man, visiting here, also donated $10 for purchase of a cot, Koehler said.

At the present time the drive for the cots is nearing the minimum quota of 50, it is announced.

FATHER AND SON DECREED GUILTY

Jury Convicts Buhl Pair in Burglary Case; Sentence Ordered Friday

After overnight deliberations reaching 14 and one-half hours, a district court jury today returned a verdict of guilty against Charles Vanek, 61, and Martin Vanek, 24, Buhl father and son tried for burglary.

Judge J. W. Porter set 1:30 p. m. Friday as the time for sentencing the pair.

The jury, which received the case at 7:30 p. m. yesterday, agreed on the verdict of guilty at 10 a. m. today.

The father and son were accused of taking a set of harness and three sacks of oats from the Lewis Robbins farm near Buhl.

It was indicated this afternoon that W. L. Dunn, defense attorney, might file an appeal.

With the final criminal case out of the way, the district court today turned to the civil calendar, and jury selection was underway this afternoon in the re-trial of the action brought by H. B. Sheppard against C. T. Hampton. The suit, tried in January, resulted in a deadlocked jury. Sheppard, Idaho Falls realtor, seeks collection of commission on property sale.

LOCAL MEN SEEK GOVERNOR'S AID

Group Meets With Executive To Talk Over Purchase Of Toll Bridge

Seven Twin Falls men this afternoon were in Boise conferring with Gov. Barzilla Clark and other state officials relative to starting condemnation proceedings in connection with the Twin Falls-Jerome toll bridge, with the idea of purchase of the structure by the state.

Other matters slated to be discussed at the conference today included the signing of a long-time airport lease by Mayor Duncan McD Johnston on behalf of the city. The lease on the field had formerly been in the name of the local Chamber of Commerce.

George Paulson, Twin Falls city attorney, will also confer with the city attorney of Boise relative to the closing ordinance now in effect there.

Making the trip, aside from the mayor and Mr. Paulson, were R. J. Schwendiman, president of the chamber; Dan J. Cavanagh, Twin Falls county representative who introduced the bill enabling purchase of the bridge; C. H. Detweiler, local businessman; F. G. Thompson, secretary-manager of the chamber, and R. S. Tofflemire, publisher of the Evening Times and Twin Falls News.

John Hunt Sought on Charge Of Violation of Mann Act

LOS ANGELES, March 31 (U.P.)—U. S. marshals today started a search for John W. Hunt, follower of Father Divine and self-styled St. John the Divine on charges of violating the Mann act by bringing 17-year-old Delight Jewett from Denver to California, allegedly for immoral purposes.

Complaint against Hunt, 33-year-old former Los Angeles advertising man, was issued by U. S. District Attorney Pierson M. Hall who declared he intended submitting the case to a federal grand jury.

Federal investigators said the girl told them she met Hunt in Denver and was won over by his plea that she come to Beverly Hills to be the new "Virgin Mary" in what he intended to be a new Bethlehem.

GOOD STUDENT

DENVER, March 31 (U.P.)—Delight Jewett, who allegedly went to Beverly Hills, Calif., from Denver to be the "Virgin Mary" of what John W. Hunt, follower of Father Divine, had told her was to be a new Bethlehem, was described at East high school today as a "fair student bent upon becoming an airline hostess."

As a 17-year-old junior at the school last year, she let her school work suffer because she was intrigued with the idea of flying.

How she was diverted from the ambition was not known. She left here before Christmas last year, and no more was heard from her until it was charged in California that Hunt was being sought on charges of violating the Mann act by taking Miss Jewett from Denver to the coast.

The dean of girls at the high school said that Miss Jewett "was a charming student, but so romantically enthused over flying that she neglected extra curricular activities."

STORAGE WATER ABOVE CAPACITY

Reservoir at American Falls 14,000 Acre Feet Over Listed Volume

Storage in American Falls reservoir at the present time totals 1,714,000 acre feet of water, 14,000 more than capacity, compared to 1,444,600 acre feet at this same time last year, it is revealed by the latest report of Lynn Crandall, Snake river watermaster, which was just received here.

The reason for the increase in storage so early in the season, Crandall points out, is the water held over last year. The reservoir usually does not fill until April or May.

Jackson lake, which has a capacity of 847,000 acre feet, now holds 473,160 acre feet of water compared to 263,710 a year ago. Lake Walcott holds 62,820 acre feet in comparison with 69,850 last year at this time.

Snow depths on the Snake river watershed are: Moran, 36 inches; Snake river station, 53; Ashton, 19; Island Park dam, 45; Bechler river, 60; Turpin Meadows, 30; Brooks pass, 66.

Precipitation from Oct. 1, 1936 to date at Moran has been 10.56 inches, compared to a normal of 12.21 inches, the report shows. Precipitation for the same period at Ashton was 7.93 inches compared to a normal of 8.06. During the last week .70 of an inch of precipitation fell at Moran and .07 at Ashton.

The outlook was indicated as favorable for an abundant supply of irrigation water in the Twin Falls tract during the coming season.

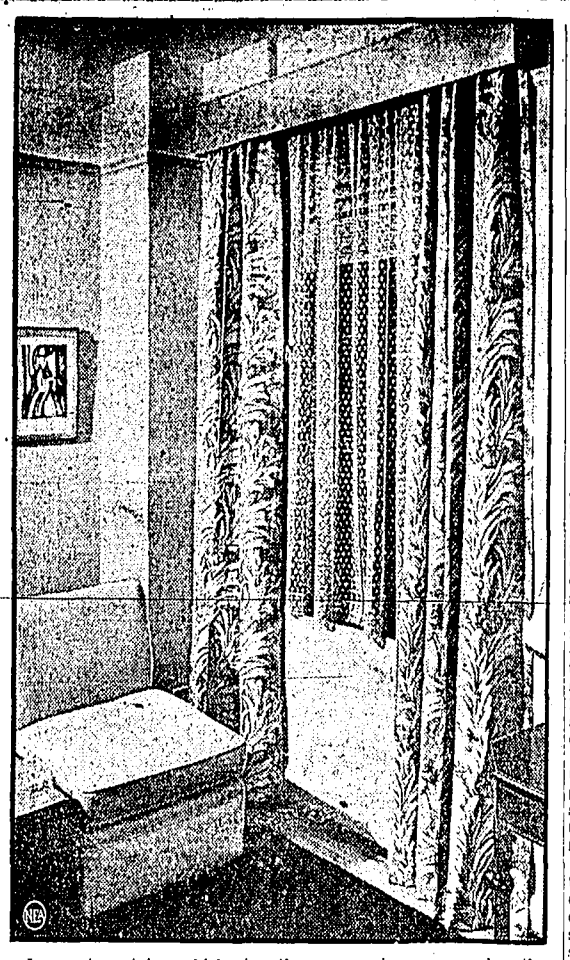
Call Your Windows 'She'



Lacy net curtains, which give the room privacy even when the blinds are up, and cheerful, large figured drapes combine to give a living room that feminine touch that distinguishes home from the most comfortable of clubs.

(From Home Window Decorating Guild, New York,

(By NEA Service)

NEW YORK—Designers and interior decorators apparently got together and said: "Let's make windows feminine!" For feminine they are, with more softness and grace in their decoration than in many a season, all in tune with the trend for pleasant ornateness and feminine touches in the home.

The answer: billowy lace curtains over the stark simplicity of naked Venetian blinds. These grace and glamor curtains are decorative, and yet fulfill three practical purposes—taking away the severe lines of the uncurtained blinds, toning down the sunlight when it becomes too bold during the day, and giving the room privacy when you want the blinds drawn up at night.

If you are fond of the straight lines of the slats in your Venetian blinds, choose lace curtains designed with strong horizontal lines that harmonize with those of the slats. Some of them seem like bands of insertion, one set upon another.

Others are in alternating bands of close and very open weave. Still others have bands of one design of open weave lace, alternating with a contrasting open weave design.

In case you prefer a simple lace net—in the bedroom, for example—that shows the blinds in clear contrast through the lace weave, there are dainty little filet nets. These have nothing more than an occasional motif in close weaving, or a neat, conventionalized border.

Or there are rayon curtains with the simplest of net design backgrounds, and solid weave bands of satiny texture as a border. Curtains of this design would be lovely in the guest room or the nursery.

For the more solid rooms, such as the living room, library, dining room or game room, there are stunning curtains in heavier yarns. They have simple, open meshes that reveal the straight lines of the blinds. And the heavier material doesn't destroy the softening effect, because the weave is light and airy.

If you do nothing else to the house for spring, look to the windows. You will be surprised at the bright and cheery change it will make in the rooms—they will seem like new. Many women, especially with summer coming on, like lace net curtains for their cool effect. They shield the hot sun, and welcome the slightest breeze.

The neutral tones of off-white, beige and ecru (straw color) blend themselves to attractive combinations with either a solid color or a figured over-drape.

One more thing—lace curtains wear well, hang evenly and launder beautifully.

JOB SERVICE TO MAKE INVENTORY

Employment Activities Cause Halt in Registrations For Three Days

Because of a quarterly labor inventory which makes it necessary to close an entire county file at a time, the United States employment service will not take additional local and Twin Falls county registrations Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, Ray Butler, acting supervisor, said here today.

Despite this registration close the service will still be available to service all private and pubic employers of the city or county during the three days, Butler said.

The registration letdown is necessary during the three days because the county file cannot be changed during the time the inventory is being made and also because the entire office force will assist in the inventory.

Starting next Monday Twin Falls city and county residents may register again as usual.

The committee was formed and named the Youth Survey committee, the purpose being to establish an all year around recreational program for this section if it is found practicable. Cooperating were the Chamber of Commerce, the National Youth administration and the Boy Scouts of America.

Rev. James S. Butler is chairman of the survey committee with Amby Frederick as secretary.

FARM PROGRAM WILL GET ACTION

Senate Passes $100,000,000 Bill to Insure Wheat Against Loss

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—The administration's broad-gauge farm program, given impetus by three developments in the last 24 hours, moved today toward final action in congress.

New developments were:

1. The senate passed and sent to the house a bill establishing $100,000,000 federal corporation to insure the wheat crop against "unavoidable" damage by weather and pestilence.

2. The house agriculture committee moved toward approval of a $135,000,000-per-year farm tenancy project.

3. President Roosevelt outlined at a press conference a three-phase tenancy program which may take definite form this year through experimental and demonstration projects.

The house agriculture committee turned attention today to a compromise solution of the flight to aid tenant farmers. The bill which will be submitted to the full committee for approval provides:

1. A $50,000,000 appropriation for 3 per cent, long term loans to help tenant farmers finance the purchase and improvement of property.

2. A $75,000,000 annual appropropriation for 3 per cent, long term loans to farmers for rehabilitation.

3. A $70,000,000 appropriation spread over four years, for government purchase of sub-marginal land.

SUN WINS OVER SHADE

MONTEREY, Calif. (U.P.)—Monterey residents prefer sunshine to shade; also they want their streets wide enough for traffic without the cars hitting trees. As a consequence after the American Legion had bought trees to plant along one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, the city council refused permission.

LETTER TAKES LONG WAY

CLARKSBURG, Calif. (U.P.)—Justice of the Peace J. H. Webber has only praise and wonder for the efficiency of the national and international postal service. He mailed his monthly report to the county seat, only a few miles away, and it arrived there safely several weeks after bearing a Yokohama post mark. In the meantime he had sent in a duplicate.

FRENCH BUILD UP DEFENSIVE WALL

Famous Maginot Line of Under Ground Fortresses to Be Extended

By WEBB MILLER

(Copyright 1937, United Press)

PARIS, March 31 (U.P.)—(Via London)—France, in her feverish efforts to make herself impregnable in the next war which all Europe seems to expect, is building across her frontier the greatest defensive works since the Chinese wall.

And that is only one aspect of her staggering re-armament program, although it is by far the most spectacular.

The famous Maginot line of underground steel and concrete fortresses, already built along the northern border fronting Germany, is to be extended to the English channel and to Switzerland, at a cost of 2,000,000,000 francs ($91,000,000).

Maginot Line

The existing Maginot line already is permanently manned by at least 25,000 professional troops (not conscripts), serving an unlimited term of service.

They are stationed in the underground forts and pill boxes all along the frontier, linked by underground passages and underground railways to facilitate the rapid concentration of troops and munitions to any point.

The larger units have their own electricity, water, powerhouses and communications. They are stocked with munitions and food to enable the troops to remain underground for months if necessary.

Work is now in progress to extend the system northward to the channel over the low-lying country, where canals will be linked and water locks installed to permit the flooding of the entire area within a few hours for defense.

Secondary Defense

The whole system from the channel to Switzerland will be backed by a strong secondary line of defense.

In addition to the Maginot line, the French program includes the following measures:

1. Raising a defense loan eventually totaling 10,500,000,000 francs ($482,475,000), of which 8,000,000,000 ($367,600,000) has just been issued.

2. Expenditure this year of 18,340,000 ($842,723,000) on military preparations, of which 9,500,000,000 francs ($436,525,000) will be raised by loans.

3. Expansion of the air force.

Seek Large Navy

4. Enlargement of the navy following expiration of the Washington treaties to the third strongest in the world.

5. Intensification of the mechanization of the army and an increase in tanks.

6. Nationalization of war industries.

7. Decentralization of war industries, including the removal of 25 aircraft factories from the vicinity of Paris to other centers as a protection against bombing.

Hugo War Stocks

8. Retention of conscripts in the army for two years.

9. Improvement in the physical condition of the troops and the training of youth by the formation of a corps of 15,000 gymnastic and drill instructors.

10. Formation of huge reserves of war stocks.

In the process of manufacture, shoes go through 150 different operations.

"WAITING"

Editor Evening Times:

I notice a series of advertisements in your paper, by the Chapin committee, climaxed by one Monday, assuring us misguided mortals that we can vote with confidence; that they "will urge the employment of expert engineers to determine the feasibility of an entirely new source of water supply," etc.; and that they will not make promises, but will be honest and sincere, and will not wait four years.

Speaking of waiting four years; just where has Mr. Chapin been these years his committee speaks of (incidentally, who is this committee that can speak so authoritatively)? Hasn't he been on the city council? I was under the impression that he has been commissioner of finance for some time; the press attends the council sessions, I am told, if he is so zealous, could he not have been heard before this time? Why has he waited for four years?

Anyway, isn't it a fact, committee (we wouldn't presume to go over your heads and ask Mr. Chapin), that the planning board has been making such a survey for some time? Isn't it true that the city council, on which Mr. Chapin sits, is at present drilling a test well for other water? Isn't it a fact that regardless of supply, state and federal officials require that treatment facilities be available, therefore we must put that source of water through a filtering plant? Isn't it true that sound judgment and common sense dictates that a reservoir be a part of our water system to supply needs in event of a breakdown? Isn't it true that our present pipe line from the filter plant to the city is worn out and must be replaced soon? Isn't it a fact that present city council has negotiated with the Utah Construction Co. for a new source of water?

Ask Mr. Chapin these things; if he has sat on this council "four years," and isn't aware of all these things, I'll be hanged if I want a mayor in office who just doesn't know what is going on. If he doesn't know these things that we read about in the papers, and he supposedly has been present at these deliberations; I just cannot see where we can "vote with confidence," unless it is the confidence that another two or four years will roll by, and Mr. Chapin will not know what it is all about.

Also, when the recent bond election was being considered, did your Mr. Chapin tell us how badly we needed water-works improvement? Why did he wait?

In looking back four years, seeing the improved streets, curbing, parks, new city water mains, lowered taxes, the city's new swimming pool, aided by the administration (instead of the monument of rocks in Rock creek canyon), and considering that this Mr. Chapin that is running for mayor is the same one that has been on the council for 10 (not four) years, I'll take my chances on the present administration going ahead with their past progress.

Yours for continued progress

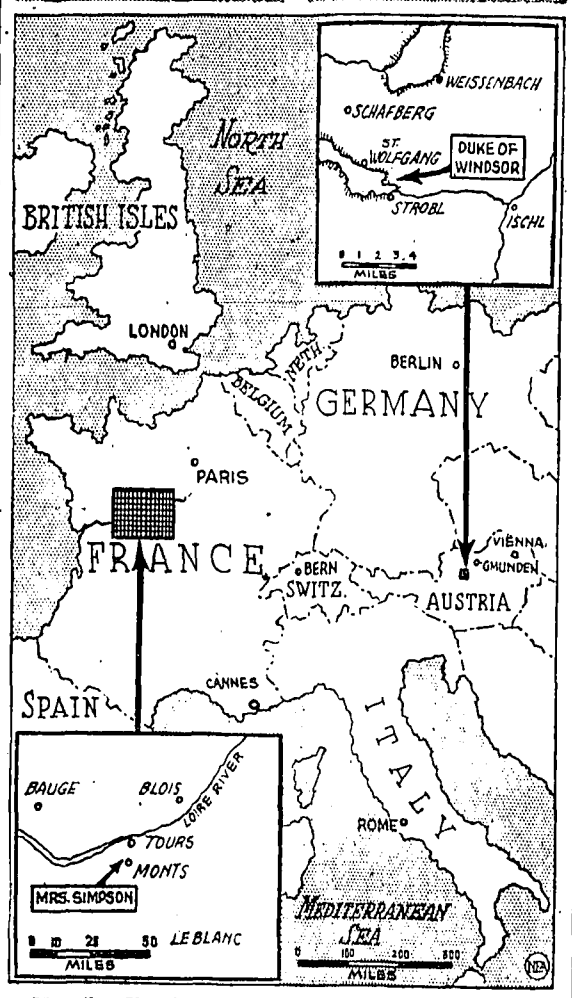
700 Miles Until April 27



More than 700 miles—all of Switzerland, half of France and Austria—still separated Mrs. Wallis Simpson and the Duke of Windsor after their latest moves to new abodes, as the above map shows. Mrs. Simpson left Cannes and went to the Chateau de Cande, in the Loire Valley, near Monts, France. The Duke left Enzesfeld, 20 miles from Vienna, for a villa near Gmundsen, Austria. Inset maps give close-up views. Mrs. Simpson's divorce becomes final on April 27.

GERMANY'S HERO REGAINS STATUS

Gen. Ludendorff Makes Peace With Adolf Hitler and Nazi Party

BERLIN March 31 (U.P.) — Gen. Erich von Ludendorff, chief of staff and guiding genius of the German armies during the World war, has made peace with Fuehrer Adolf Hitler and is about to become conspicuous again in the Nazi party, it was officially disclosed today.

Hitler and Lundendorff met and ironed out the grievances which had sent the one-time brilliant military tactician and one of the original Nazis into eclipse.

A communique announcing the conversations referred to Ludendorff as "war lord of the World war," a title hitherto bestowed on him only by ardent admirers.

During the Munich "beer putsch" of 1923, when Hitler and his followers scattered before machine gun fire as they marched to the Odeon platz, Ludendorff went marching grandly on, oblivious to the hail of bullets which took the life of his war-time orderly who was marching at his side.

He planned and fought for the Nazis in the early days but, always an ardent monarchist, disagreed with their policies later and did not share in the fruits of their victory.

"Constitutional Court" Planned, Says-Professor

By JOE ALEX MORRIS.

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—Erwin N. Griswold, Harvard university professor, told the senate judiciary committee today he understood the original New Deal court plan called for establishment of a new "federal constitutional court" to which constitutional cases would have been appealed instead of to the supreme court.

Griswold said he understood President Roosevelt's present court reorganization program had been evolved from the earlier "constitutional court" proposal.

The Harvard professor, an opponent of the court program, declared he had been advised it was originally planned to ask Supreme Court Justices Harlan F. Stone, Louis D. Brandeis and Benjamin N. Cardozo to resign their supreme court posts and accept appointment to new "constitutional court."

Didn't Know Justice

"I may add," said Griswold, "that I don't think these friends of mine who made their proposal knew Justice Stone, Brandeis and Cardozo."

Griswold testified before the senate committee as participants in the court battle studied the effects of the latest supreme court decisions and a critical address by Sen. Carter Glass, D., Va., upon the struggle. A statement pointing out how the supreme court had modernized and liberalized its rules to speed its business was sent to the judiciary committee by Supreme Court Clerk Charles E. Cropley.

Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead, discussing the supreme court decisions, said "We still have lots of old blood in the court probably."

More Liberal

Bankhead said "suddenly the court is becoming a little more liberal in interpreting statutes."

"How is congress going to know whether a bill is constitutional or not when the supreme court is divided five to four and can't agree on a bill?" asked Bankhead.

Griswold said he was informed of the original court proposal by "friends" in the administration. They proposed, he said, a new court which would have exclusive jurisdiction in all cases where constitutionality of a federal statute was attacked. Other federal courts, he said, would have appellate jurisdiction only when the constitutional court declared an act unconstitutional.

The meeting will be called to order at the Pocatello city hall Friday at 2 p. m.

HERE'S A WORTHWHILE PROJECT!

While parents of today often express concern as to the welfare of their children, principally because of changing conditions and different environments, chances are these children are no worse than those of yesteryear. Or putting it differently, they are probably just as good or better than they were ten, twenty or fifty years ago.

Nevertheless it is encouraging to know that juvenile delinquency in Twin Falls has decreased appreciably since completion of the municipal swimming pool and inauguration of an enlarged program of supervised play.

In other words it has been demonstrated that keeping youthful minds occupied in healthful activities makes for better boys and girls. They in turn make for better citizens, and the moral structure of the community is potentially improved. For that reason the cost of such activities is well justified, and further investment along these lines might pay additional dividends.

At a recent board meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, attention was called to the fact it might be impossible this season for the Twin Falls Soft Ball association to secure a field. Rather than let go by default an activity that has won much enthusiasm and support along athletic lines, it was immediately proposed that every effort be made to buy a field if necessary.

All of which brings up a very logical suggestion. Harmon park with its swimming pool, tennis courts and the like is the natural center for athletics and playground activities. But to accommodate the increasing demand, including the need for a soft ball diamond, more room is needed. And where is there a more logical location than the approximately 10 acres adjoining Harmon field to the north?

Purchase of this tract has been proposed before. At one time there was even discussion of acquiring this site for a stadium. A price already has been established on this piece of property, and the figure seems reasonable. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, in taking over sponsorship of this season's soft ball games, will no doubt realize a fairly good net return. This it will gladly contribute toward purchase of the property in question.

Are there any other organizations in Twin Falls that will volunteer to do their part in seeing this worthwhile project put through? It can be done with much less effort than was required to get our swimming pool. Once we have it, there is no limit to what Twin Falls can have in the way of recreational facilities. And we can all rest assured that it will be money and effort well spent.

IRONIC NOTE

A news item from Geneva, Switzerland, reveals that an emergency light system, with a master switch that can douse all lights in one second, is to be installed in the League of Nations Palace.

The move is part of general Swiss preparations against sudden air attacks. Although the league enjoys extra territoriality, it was thought wise to take steps to guard its home from harm during invasions by air.

It is undoubtedly a wise precaution and, by the same token, a saddening one. For here is a beautiful palace, erected and dedicated to the cause of international peace by men who hoped to weld strong bonds of friendship between nations, now being guarded from the ravages of warfare they deem imminent.

Of all the ironies that have appeared in news from abroad, this seems one of the most tragic.

OLD STUFF, AFTER ALL

We've read a lot about sit-down strikes, the threat of foreign warfare, and the like until all in all it seems as if we're in another one of those periods when the average human being is doing some pretty serious viewing-with-alarm.

The other day, in scanning the news, we came upon this one paragraph:

"The earth is degenerating in these days. There are signs that the world is speedily coming to an end. Bribery and corruption abound. Children no longer obey their parents. Every man wants to write a book and it is evident that the end of the world is speedily approaching."

My, oh my! And dear me! After all it may be wise to hang another weight on our mental counterbalance before we let ourselves go too far. Before we start giving away our worldly goods and ordering sackcloth and ashes, it might be well to recall that this same sort of calamity-howling appeared on an Assyrian tablet, written in 2800 B. C., almost 50 centuries ago.

So maybe we'll survive after all.

Secretary Perkins thinks the sit-down movement will soon be "on the wane." Yes, and when they get tired of sittin' they'll probably demand folding cots. Sleeping-in will be easier.

It is our humble opinion that the Zip-Way lads who wrote the rebuttal to The Gray Ghost's remarks have either failed to consult Webster, or are making a frank admission. For we find in Webster that a "zealot" is a fanatic or one whose zeal or ardor is intemperate.

WE'VE GOTTEN OUR grasping claws on a bit of youthful sentimentality today that brings back the days of our youth again—the days when we thought that little sixth grade brunette was a vision of loveliness and her pigtails the very sheen of the gods. In other words, one of the young Evetimes newsboy carriers slipped into the editorial rooms and started to type a love letter to his sweetheart. It didn't suit him so he tried again in long-hand. That didn't suit him either. He left his rough drafts behind. The first one

SPAKE THUSLY AND to wit: "Dear Melba—You are the sweetest girl I have ever known. I love you just love you so much it's just like a song of love. Rex." And the second effort, rising to heights of imagery, started out

ALONG THIS LINE: "Dear Lovely Melba—You are the sweetest girl I have known. Melba, your hair is like the color of a ripe apel."

YOU'LL HAVE TO pardon the spelling in that last, but yours is a heart of stone if this fervent newsboy's outpouring doesn't bring back the good old days to you. As for us, it makes us feel senile, decrepit and doddering.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

By MARIE BLIZARD. © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT loved LARRY SMITH, architect. Larry had repeatedly asked her to marry him. But Daphne had always refused, not telling Larry, however, that she first wanted to lay aside sufficient money to launch JENNIFER, her young sister, on a career.

Jennifer had proved the selfish sister from the start, defying Daphne at every turn. Finally Jennifer meets GORDON HERZBERG, theater producer, and apparently finds her work.

Then Daphne is sent on a two-months' sales tour across the continent. Before she leaves, Larry again asks her to marry him, and again she refuses. So Larry says goodby, assuming that Daphne cares more for her career than she does for his love.

And then to make matters worse, Daphne finds on her return that Larry is dating Jennifer! Hurt, angry, terribly unhappy, Daphne reaches the crisis of her love. What is she to do? Suddenly she decides to contact Herzberg.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXI

THE model in the froth of coral tulle parted the curtains and whirled through them with a dash of ecstacy.

The salesgirl turned to Daphne. "Vionnet's distinction." . . . "Has verve; don't you think?" . . . "Southern mood." . . . "An ephemeral quality."

Daphne was trying to picture herself in a gown like this.

And she had to have one. Her party was only two days off. It was to be two days before Christmas.

The salesgirl studied Daphne closely. "You've a lovely figure and you could wear any one of these. May I ask, what is the occasion? What do you want? I mean what mood do you wish to express?"

Daphne was fascinated with this last question. What mood, indeed!

"The occasion is a party at The Flamingo Club," she said. "And the mood? Well, I should say I was striving for the Irresistible Woman effect."

She expected the salesgirl to show dismay.

"I see," the girl went on wisely. "And I have the dress! The price is $225. Would you care to go as high as that?"

"If I can get the effect," Daphne answered firmly.

"Claudette," the girl said to a model of the same size and coloring as Daphne, "show Miss Brett the hibiscus gown."

Daphne forgot the girl in the mirror when the model came back. "Would I look like that?" she appealed.

"You certainly would! Suppose you try it on?"

Daphne tried it on and reached for her checkbook.

• • •

To Jennifer, and to Anne, she said, "I'd like to give a party for once that didn't turn our little place upside down. I think I'll invite a few people to The Flamingo Club."

The Flamingo Club was one of New York's smartest night spots in the East Fifties. It was patronized by society leaders, stars of the theater and cinema. It boasted the most popular orchestra in town, the newest and most sensational entertainers. It was costly.

"But I ought to do something like this because I owe a party to Mr. and Mrs. Hammer"—it was Mr. Hammer, youthful president of the Georgian Cosmetic Company who had insisted on her large bonus and a percentage of the sales—"and if I am to be an important executive I've got to live up to the role. So, I'm having 10 guests. As Jennifer knows, I've invited Gordon Herzberg because I think he will lend atmosphere. I've sent a note to Larry because, after all, if he is Jennifer's beau, we are going to meet again so why not now? Then there will be Frank Rossiter for you Anne because he's the newest vice president of the Groman agency since he left us and he can do you a lot of good. There'll be the Hammers and . . ."

Also there were the Jules Carterets. Jules was a brilliant young explorer and he and his attractive bride had recently returned from an expedition to South America. They would assuredly make interesting and amusing guests.

To each of them, Daphne had written little notes saying that she would be delighted to have them come to her party.

To Larry she had written:

"I hope that you will join Jennifer and me at a small party we are giving at The Flamingo Club on Friday evening at 11."

She signed it, "Sincerely, Daphne Brett."

All of them had accepted except Larry.

Perhaps Jennifer forgot to tell Daphne that Larry had telephoned. In any event, Daphne did not hear of it.

• • •

AT 6 o'clock on the night of the party, Jennifer telephoned Daphne and said, "I'm simply furious, Daphne, but I can't get away until 9 o'clock. O'Neill is having trouble with some lights and we've got to re-take all the stuff we did this afternoon. I don't dare leave because I'm to get an extra $50 if I stay to complete these pictures."

Daphne, with her hand over the telephone, said to Anne, "It's Jennifer. She can't get home until 9."

"That's a break," Anne said gleefully.

"All right, Jennifer. You'll have plenty of time to dress then. The Carterets are coming here at 10 and we're going to pick up the Hammers. Why don't you have Larry call for you here at 11?"

"Because he isn't taking me," Jennifer retorted.

"Apparently Larry isn't coming," Daphne said to Anne.

"Well, what if he isn't? I didn't think the party was given to stage a reunion between you and Larry. It's just as well that he isn't; you'll have a better chance to concentrate. Come over here and let me try this blue eye-shadow. In spite of everything that girl said, I still think green is your color."

"Good Heavens, Anne, you're sitting on my fur wrap. It cost enough to rent; I don't want to pay damages on it."

• • •

ANNE was tying a black velvet ribbon into her red curls three hours later when the doorbell rang. "Answer it, Daphne. It's Jennifer and I don't want to miss the effect."

Daphne opened the door. Jennifer said, "I'll only be a jif . . . Daphne! It really is Daphne, isn't it?"

She sat down suddenly on the edge of a chair, staring at her sister.

"Yes," she said demurely and stepped back for Jennifer to get the complete effect. Her black hair had been swept back from her face and arranged in a Grecian coil around her head. Two huge silken flowers in red and hibiscus purple perched provocatively on the crown of her head, matching the flowers in her gown of clinging crepe. A heavy belt of gold mesh drew the gown close to her small waist and accentuated the lithe lines of her figure. A cape of white foxes rested lightly on her uncovered shoulders.

Daphne was beautiful and she knew it.

PAUL MALLON'S

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator.

(Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

HURT FEELINGS

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's congressional leaders pushed him into that White House conference on sit-down strikes and the state of the union. Announcements implied that the President called the gathering but neglected to mention that it was by earnest request.

The leaders went about their appeal for it in the manner of men who have done everything for the boss and would like to ask just this one favor in return.

The fact is they have been abused all around lately. They felt a little hurt when Mr. Roosevelt neglected to consult them about his court plan in advance. But when he went to Warm Springs, they felt they had been left holding the sit-down bag, or bags, representing the protest mail from back home. Also, the Republicans were becoming very annoying each day, asking whether there was a federal government, and such things. On occasions the leaders had to call Warm Springs on the telephone to get the right answers.

Behind this situation, of course, is their supreme court predicament. Their friends do not question their White House loyalty, but know they would like to have the President palliate the furor by something less drastic than his original proposal.

NOTE: An outside authority not far from the White House is suggesting privately that the President has received less optimistic reports concerning his chances in the senate from his leaders there than from his downtown lobbyists.

ICE-MAN

The fact that "hot money" has become a cold subject is being credited to State Secretary Hull, the only man in the administration who has never been beaten in an inside fight.

Any news reader who has a 60-day memory will be able to recall that the administration was, that long ago, literally burning to do something about incoming gold from abroad. Messrs. Eccles and Morgenthau held conferences, the President commented and coined the phrase "hot money."

The incoming gold was then supposed to be causing our inflation, and something had to be done immediately. Nothing came except comment, and even that has been increasingly diminishing.

They say Mr. Hull was the man who cooled the gold ardor of Messrs. Eccles and Morgenthau by asking, what about his foreign trade policy? His Tennessee mountain wrath bulked darker than the Great Smokies (they say) against anything which would interfere with the export market and his Yankee trading business.

The story has increased the great respect of all insiders for the relentless Mr. Hull as a warrior to be avoided.

FARM SENTIMENT

Agriculture Secretary Wallace has been saying 60 per cent of the farmers are for the Roosevelt court program, but he would like to be able to prove it.

Those who have asked for some tangible basis for the statement have been given a few letters from local farm organizations out in the country, stating: "We are 100 per cent for you."

The fact seems to be farm opinion is in deep thought. Washington non-combatants on the inside of that situation say the majority of individual farmers are inclined to support anything Mr. Roosevelt would propose, so deep is their confidence in him. Their leaders, however, are obviously hanging back, reluctant to get too far out on the court limb. The Grange, of course, is against. Ed O'Neal of the Farm Bureau is Wallace's friend and personally inclined to be for, but his organization is not committed. The others have been issuing statements suggesting the matter requires deliberation.

This is of controlling significance, because the farmers realize their leaders know more about the ins and outs of the situation than they do, and genrally go in whatever direction their leaders may point.

Note: Mr. Wallace has been doing some quiet stumping for the President down south. He made a court speech last week in Georgia, will make two more this week in North Carolina, but so far he has remained out of the west. Bystanders here have not been able to detect any flagrant use of pressure by the vast agriculture department regime to rouse favorable sentiment for the program.

EXPERIENCE

Those who generally know what Father Coughlin is up to, say he is through with such organizations as his short-lived National Union for Social Justice.

The real reason, as reported before, seems to be his discovery during the last campaign that some local chairmen who handled the money were looking out more for the wife and kiddies than for social justice. Dr. Townsend made the same discovery.

Father Coughlin's friends assert he was double crossed, or at least completely misled, by many local leaders who said they could deliver votes.

It is doubtful whether he will get mixed up in politics again, but, if he does, he will use the radio and stay out of organizations.

SOLONS PRESENT NEUTRALITY BILL

Measure Would Prohibit Sale Of Arms in Peace Time As Well as in War

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U.P.)—Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., and Rep. Hamilton Fish, jr., R., N. Y., have introduced identical resolutions in the senate and house which set up a new and drastic neutrality policy banning shipments of arms to European countries in time of peace as well as in war

The resolution, however, would permit shipments to "nations on the American continents engaged in war against a non-American state or states."

The President would be given broad authority to carry out provisions of the act, which stipulated that if any shipments of arms were apprehended the goods would be confiscated by the government.

In a joint statement issued when they introduced the bill, Nye and Fish said that since this country had signed the Briand-Kellogg pact renouncing war "it is only logical and proper that the next step should be to outlaw the sale of ammunition and implements of war."

"Otherwise we become the potential slaughter house of the world by selling armaments right up to the day nations declare war," the statement said.

"It is actually worse to prepare nations for war than to supply them with munitions of war once war has begun. After war has been declared we cannot stop it, but before that time we can check it by not selling ammunition and implements of war to kill people with whom we are at peace and against whom we have no quarrel or grievance.

The existing neutrality act bans shipments of arms, ammunitions and implements of war to all nations which are engaged in war or to nations suffering civil strife of such magnitude as to endanger peace of the United States.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

For a long time any attempt to remedy cross-eyes in children was prevented because people thought cross eyes were due to fright, shock, prenatal impressions of the mother, or similar superstitious reasons.

A squint or wall-eye may develop from excessive strains placed on the external muscles of the eye by the extra effort in seeing when there is an extreme degree of near-sightedness.

Any straining of the eye or imbalance of the muscles may result in cross-eyes or squint.

Many people believe that children outgrow cross-eyes. This may happen, but, in other instances, the sight of a crossed eye may never develop and frequently the squint or crossed eye becomes worse as time goes on.

Early diagnosis and treatment of this condition are essential for best results. As soon as it is noticed that a child is cross-eyed, a specialist in diseases of the eye should be consulted. He will make a thorough examination, and decide on the proper treatment.

At least half the cases of cross-eyes seem to be due to some hereditary anatomical weakness, judging from records of other cases somewhere in the families of these victims.

Most people have some minor muscle out of balance in their eyes. One muscle will pull harder than the other, and the strong one will overcome the weak one.

When both eyes are open, the stimulus coming from the brain can supply enough extra effort through the weak muscle to keep the eyes lined up. With both eyes open and seeing, we will see double if one eye turns out of line with the other.

In the case of cross-eyes, the person affected may avoid seeing double by using only one eye at a time.

This happens also in persons who have one eye farsighted and the other nearsighted. If the eyes are not balanced suitably with proper glasses, only one eye will be used at a time for seeing. If this is not corrected, the good eye will be used and the weak one will turn.

Sometimes good results are secured merely by prescribing eyeglasses which will tend to hold the two eyes in position.

Children have been found able to tolerate glasses at the age of 15 months. The earlier the glasses are used, the more valuable will be their effect.

The surgical procedure for overcoming cross-eyes is most certain. Proper placement of the eye muscles will tend to bring one eye back into proper relationship to the other eye, and will permit binocular vision.

The operator will not improve the vision, but will prevent the vision from being lost through failure to use the eye successfully.

Tulips originally came from Persia.

Friday night the postponed meeting of the Baseball association was held in the Commercial club rooms, when the majority of the stockholders were present.

The meeting proved most harmonious. The following men were elected on the board of directors for the ensuing year: R. W. Jones, Don Bryan, John B. White, John Claar and Paul Bullock.

The prospects for a team were discussed and it was decided to endeavor to arouse some enthusiasm for the national sport.

A number of the crack players of last year will, of course, not be available, but with the regular home talent players there is the foundation for a good strong team. Propositions for the management of the team have been made by one or two business men but nothing was done toward leasing the grounds to anyone.

The "Piccolino" is one of several colorful song and dance routines, all of which are done to the lyrics and melodies of Irving Berlin, who wrote the complete musical score for the picture.

Edward Everett Horton, Helen Broderick, Erik Rhodes and Eric Blore head the strong supporting cast of "Top Hat."

Young Pianist Presents Brilliant Performance

By STELLA LOFF WOOD

A program, featuring the brilliant playing of Dalies Frantz, pianist, at the Methodist church last evening brought a successful season of the Twin Falls Community Concert association to a fitting climax and close. Mr. Frantz proved himself to be not merely a pianist of more than unusual merit but a real master of the instrument.

In his opening number, "Four Sonatas" by the 17th century Scarlatti, the artist brought to his audience the spirit of the music of this period, even approximating with amazing cleverness the delicate clearness of the tone of a harpsichord for which these compositions were written. Completely effortless playing immediately convinced his audience that here was a master whose technic was merely a means to an end—and not the end itself, as is too often true among concert pianists. His following numbers, "Intermezzo in E flat major" and "Intermezzo in C major" by Brahms were played with tenderness and understanding.

Scores with Bach

The spectacular "Fugue in D major" by Bach, which closed the group, disclosed brilliance and was endowed with a warmth rarely found in the performance of Bach.

Mr. Frants' Chopin, whose compositions made up his second group, was indeed a versatile one. His "Nocturne in E minor," although a little paler than most of Chopins' compositions, was in the hands of this artist more than a mood of fresh sweetness; his "Mazurka in F minor" was bizarre and thoroughly Slavonic; his "Etude in F major," almost humorous in its sparkling gaiety, was performed with incredible speed and lightness; and the "Scherzo in B minor" was full of a grandeur and dramatic power found only occasionally in Chopin.

Outstanding Pianissimo

Liszt's "Sonetto del Petrarca," No. 104, introduced the pianist's third group. Remindful of the composer's "Venezia E Napoli," this solo was rarely beautiful. "The Juggler," by Toch, strangely exciting and modern, followed. Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in G major" and "March," an interesting ultra modern satire by Prokofuff, closed this group.

Mr. Frants' beautiful pianissimo was particularly outstanding in the first numbers of his final offering —Debussy's "Serenade of the Doll" and "Toccata."

Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 12, which many prefer to the popular No. 2, was played with fire—and yet with the dignity and absorption characteristic of his performance of each composition.

This number brought to a close a program of such difficulty that it will prevent its numbers ever becoming hackneyed. Played by this virtuoso, one was not aware of its difficulty, which is probably one of the highest tributes one can pay a musician.

Injuries Received In Buhl Accident

BUHL, March 31 (Special)—Three Buhl residents and two young women from Twin Falls are recovering from minor injuries sustained in a head-on collision of two cars yesterday at 9 p. m. on the highway one-fourth mile east of Buhl.

In one machine were Fred Lempke, Buhl, and his two sons and in the other were the two women, whose names could not be learned. Blinding headlights apparently caused the accident, it was stated by Virgil Barron, Buhl chief of police, who investigated the accident.

Both cars were badly damaged, each losing a front wheel. The Lempke car overturned in the borrow pit.

SNEAD TERMED BEST GOLFER IN AUGUSTA MEET

TOP FLIGHT MEN RATE YOUNGSTER GREAT PROSPECT

Jones, Sarazen Claim Youth Is Wonder; Finest of Iron Players

By STUART CAMERON

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 31 (U.P.) — The name golfer of the fourth annual Augusta national open may be any of the 50 entries when the show ends Sunday but as the final practice rounds were played today the one big name was that of Samuel Snead.

The one and only Robert T. Jones is here. So is the capable defending champion, Horton Smith, and a dozen other names that have made golfing news in the past, including formidable Gene Sarazen.

Hear "Sam Snead"

But you don't hear "Bob Jones" or "Sarazen." You hear "Sam Snead." Bob thinks Sam is a wonder. So does Gene who rates the White Sulphur youngster the greatest comer of a decade.

"He's the only man around today who has consistent length and consistent accuracy," Sarazen said. "I've seen them all but I'll lay my Connecticut farm against one of your sliced brassies that right now Snead is the finest iron player golf has yet produced.

"The betting book they have here is a joke. In fact it's a lot of jokes. They've got Harry Cooper down at 10 to 1, and Picard and Smitty and me at 12 to 1. Those odds are ten miles out of line. But anyway, let's say that Harry is really 10 to 1—Snead ought to be three or four instead of 16.

Laughs It Off

"Why I played a round with him over at Greensboro last Saturday. There's a 600-yard hole and I got off a nice drive and a nice brassie. But Sam hit a drive that made mine look like a seven iron and then spooned clean over the green."

Sam hears a lot of this talk but laughs it off.

"Sure I'm hitting all right now," he said, "but you don't win titles with practice rounds of 69 or 60 anything else. Fact is I wish I could just go out and play and see what I can do without any of this build-up. I'd be lucky if I could just team up with a really good golfer and play without any gallery or anything, not that crowds bother me."

COLLEGE BOXERS READY FOR TILTS

46 Fighters From 16 States Enter National Tourney At Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 31 (U.P.)—Sectional champions and runners-up ranging in size from a ponderous top of 257 pounds to a fleet minimum of 115, swarmed into Sacramento today for the national collegiate athletic association boxing championships beginning Thursday night at Memorial auditorium.

Names of 46 contestants from 16 colleges, and universities scattered across the country were included in the official entry list released by Crip Toomey, California Aggies athletic director who is supervising collegiate fistiana's greatest show.

Two "naturals" are in store for fans if the draw works out. One would rematch Eugene (Tiny) Cervelli, University of San Francisco's 257-pound football player, with Ross Sundberg, University of Idaho gridder. Sundberg knocked out Cervelli in the coast finals to win the Don Fighter's 1936 heavyweight crown.

PITTSBURGH BIDS FOR TITLE FIGHT

Promoter Offers $400,000 For Braddock-Louis Crown Fight

NEW YORK, March 31 (U.P.)—An offer of $400,000 to stage the Jim Braddock-Joe Louis title fight in Pittsburgh was made to Braddock's manager Joe Gould today.

Gould said he would have to confer "with the other parties." The offer was made by Ellwood Rigby, Pittsburgh promoter. He telegraphed Gould that $100,000 forfeit would be put up as soon as the match was signed.

The champion's manager said Rigby boasted one of America's oldest and wealthiest families was backing him which he interpreted as "the Mellons." Rigby proposed staging the fight in Pittsburgh stadium which he figured would seat 100,000 and gross more than $1,000,000.

Former Pirate Leader Heads Semi-Pro Meet

WINFIELD, Kan., March 31 (Special)—Fred Clarke, for 13 years manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will be director-in-chief of the National championship semi-professional tournament here in August.

Clarke will be associated with a player he developed into the greatest infielder of all time, J. Honus Wagner.

Wagner is high commissioner of the semi-pros.

Pining for Lowlands

SPORT SQUIBS

(by H. J. W.)

Short shavings: Coach Jimmy O'Brien of Filer believes that young Gentry, star Wildcat athlete, will take the state meet in the pole vault this year—and maybe break the state record. . . O'Brien also has another potential star on his track team in Darrington, who heaves the discus considerable distance. Personally, we like the big Darrington fine, but as for left-handed discus throwers—we don't care to be in the same park when they are at work. They always look a different direction from the one they are throwing. . .

Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati Reds' catcher, hasn't made a sacrifice play in three years. . . Harry Danning, second-string catcher of the New York Giants has asked Manager Bill Terry to trade him—preferably to Brooklyn, of all places! . . . Frank Murray, who left Marquette to coach at the University of Virginia, is writing a book. . .

Good High-Jumper

With coaching and practice, Jack Hutchings, Bruin high-jumper, may go places in the coming track meets—if he can get down to work—and studies. . . Coach R. V. Jones has coached two state champion pole vaulters but he hasn't a man this year that appears to be able to clear 10 feet. . .

Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' sensational rookie, has hurled seven no-hit, no-run games since he started pitching when he was 15. . . Kimberly baseball enthusiasts are talking of backing a strong independent outfit this year—and not joining a league. . . Strangler Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, reached the finals of a bridge tournament held at Kansas City recently. If you'll pardon a pun, he had the advantage on the rest of the players—he was used to making slams. . . Jack Doyle, scout for the Chicago Cubs, is serving his 50th season in baseball. . .

Good Show

While it is admitted that most wrestling matches are just good "shows," the gentlemen on the card here Saturday night carried the art a little farther than they intended when Referee Otis Klingman was pitched from the ring. . . He was supposed to land on some customers, but the front row occupiers moved and let the 200-pounder fall on his head on the cemete floor. . . He was still dazed after the matches were over—although we doubt very much if there was any dent in his head. . .

Coach Ed Lacy of Rupert is pinning a lot of hopes on his ace discuss thrower, Jim Throckmorton, this year. . . Quesnell, the speedy Kimberly 110-pounder, ran into a first-round kayo from the fist of Tommy Aspirtarte, 102-pound Gooding fighter last night. . . Maxie Rosenbloom, known as one of the cleverest boxers the fight game has ever known, has fought 54 Negroes in his time and holds at least one decison over every one. Included on the list are Tiger Flowers, John Henry Lewis, Jack McVey, Leroy Haynes, and Tiger Jack Fox. . .

TILDEN CAPTURES WIN OVER PERRY

44-Year-Old Veteran Scores Victory in Pittsburgh From Englishman

PITTSBURGH, March 31 (U.P.)—Big Bill Tilden, 44-year-old tennis veteran, last night scored his first victory over the youthful Fred Perry, whipping the English professional by a decisive 6-2, 8-10, 6-3, 6-3 score before 3,208 cash customers.

Tilden, playing his third match with Perry, actually carried the battle to his rival and flashed some of his old time form. Perry previously defeated Tilden in exhibitions in New York and Chicago.

Bruce Barnes won a 9-7 one set victory over Vincent Richards. Perry and Ellsworth Vines teamed in doubles to defeat Tilden and Richards, 7-5, 10-8.

SPRING SMOKER SET FOR RUPERT

RUPERT, March 31 (Special)—The stage is set for the Rupert high school "R" clubs' spring smokeless smoker to be run off here this evening.

With an elevated ring and new canvass mat tarpaulin loaned the school organization by the Rupert athletic club, the dozen boxing and wrestling numbers on the exhibition card should feature plenty of clever footwork and flashy ring action.

According to Matchmakers Dick Rosecrans and Lyman Hammon of the "R" club, seven matches, mostly boxing, will be put on by the local school boys. Two snappy fights from the Minidoka CCC camp will supplement two wrestling exhibitions by a quartet from the Rupert Athletic club.

The card is being staged in the high school gymnasium starting promptly at 8 p. m.

BULLDOG BOXERS LOSE TO GOODING

Senators Take Three Out of Four Matches on School Mitt Card

GOODING, March 31 (Special)—Kimberly Bulldog boxers lost their return engagement with the Gooding squad here last night as they dropped three out of four tilts on the card.

Lone win for Coach Louis Denton's team was scored by Irving Clower, 140, who won a close decision over Arvel Shamp, 140, Gooding.

In the opening bout of the evening, Nazu Arambarri, 121, Gooding, scored a one-sided win over Junior Morgan, 119, Kimberly.

George Ascuena, 129, Gooding, decisioned Jack Rarick, 129, Kimberly, in a slugfest that was one of the best bouts of the evening.

Don Brown, 130, won a decision over Don Shewmaker, 130, Kimberly.

Ed Quesnell, the speedy 110-pound Kimberly youth was too heavy for his opponent, 102-pound Tommy Aspirtarte, but he ran into a stiff right in the first round and was on the receiving end of a kayo in 45 seconds of the first round.

Other bouts on the card were exhibitions between local boys: John Lebbrecht, 136, vs. Reed Barner, 136, and Earl Bird, 133, vs. John Cavender, 131. A merry mix-up with eight junior high school boys in the ring opened the program.

New Pro Arrives for Country Club Season

Twin Falls country golf club official opening will be on Thursday, April 1, according to Jim Edwards, new professional, who arrived here yesterday from Ogden.

The course is in fine shape, and while the opening is officially set for tomorrow, Sunday is expected to see the first big turn-out of the season when it is expected that several "petty" tournaments, such as driving, putting and approaching, will be run off.

Husky Youth

Edwards, a strapping 180-pound young man of 24 years comes from the Utah city highly recommended by Ernie Schneiter, a former pro here, who now is the head man on an Ogden course. Edwards is reputed to be one of the best drivers in the inter-mountain region and shoots scores well down in the seventies.

Along with his other duties, he will have charge of the concessions at the country club, and will be available to all southern Idaho golfers for lessons on the local course. He will also have an agency for golf supplies.

Tentative plans call for three bent grass greens to be built this year, with a view to making all the greens of grass in the future. This year holes 3, 4 and 9 will probably be planted to grass and a watering system installed, according to Edwards.

Lively Year

Nothing definite has been arranged in the way of tournaments for the coming season, but present plans call for a lively year, with inter-club matches with surrounding teams, special events for lady golfers, plus the regular Evening Times and Twin Falls News tourneys.

Complete details for the Sunday events will be announced before Saturday, states Mr. Edwards.

Betting Commissioners Have Tough Time Doping Spring Practice Tilts

By HENRY McLEMORE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 31 (U.P.)—"A few more of these exhibition ball games," the man said, "and I'll be screwy, and ready for a trip to the forget factory."

The man took a pull on his beer, let the smoke from a two-for-fifty cigar idle through his nostrils, and gazed sadly at the ceiling. "Yes sir," he said, "they're driving me nuts."

The sad man is a betting commissioner, and it's his business to lay the odds on anything from midget motorcycles to the grand national. Right now his customers want to bet on the baseball games—the exhibition games of the Grapefruit league. And he says they can't be figured.

"Don't Make Sense"

"Those screwball managers just don't make sense," he moaned. "They won't let the lineups alone. You lay 8 to 5 on a club, expecting it to be something like the one that played the season last year, and the manager runs in a bunch of fuzzy-eared farm boys who couldn't hit a curve with a broom, and couldn't field a grounder with a basket. Or, soon as a team gets a few runs ahead, and you're figuring on the dough you're gonna collect, the manager puts in a pitcher who couldn't fan me."

The sad gambler told a harrowing tale of his experience in Daytona Beach last Sunday when the Cardinals locked horns, to use an old baseball expression, with the Detroit Tigers. The gambler had $1,500 riding on the Cards and was mentally thumbing its bright green crispness when the Tigers went to bat in the last of the ninth, trailing 4 to 7.

"It was a pipe," the gambler said. "Just three more guys to get out, and this Winford, the Cards pitcher had been knocking off those Tigers like flies. Then that Frisch had a brainstorm. For some reason nobody but a crazy man will ever know, he shooed Winford off the hill and bawled to the bull-pen for something named Ira Smith. I asked the guy next to me who this Ira business was and he said he was a rookie from Shabbon, or something like that, Illinois. White, the first guy up, knocked the first ball down the middle for two, when Walker followed with a single to left I called that Frisch things nobody ever called him before.

"I could feel that $1,500 climbing right out of my pocket. I didn't really suffer, though, till Gehringer walked, filling the bases. Guess how I felt then. All I had was a grand and a half riding, and there the bases were filled and that Greenberg up. And all I had out there between me and a licking was that Ira farmer."

Didn't Lose

The man started shaking so, just from the memory of the horrible moment, that he had to stop for another beer.

As it turned out, he didn't lose his money. Greenberg hit into a double play, and two plays later Terry Moore made a perfect throw from center to nail Simmons, with the tying run, at the plate.

The commissioner said the minor league clubs gave his bankroll fits.

"You gotta give odds when those minor guys play a major team, but down here they look just as hot as the big leaguers. Most of the minor teams get in shape in a hurry, and do they shoot the works trying to beat the big guys."

BOWLING CHAMP TO DEFEND TITLE

Charley Warren of Illinois Will Roll Tomorrow Night In ABC Competition

NEW YORK, March 31 (U.P.)—Charley Warren of Springfield, Ill., singles champion of the 1936 American Bowling Congress tournament, will be the first of last year's title holders to defend his crown. He rolls tomorrow night in defense of the 735 series he scored at Indianapolis and will appear in a team event tonight.

No ABC champion has ever succeeded himself.

Tonight's schedule calls for bowlers from Detroit, Toledo, Elizabeth, N. J., Seattle, Spokane, Tulsa, Houston, Santa Monica, Calif., Rochester, N. Y., Peoria, Ill., and Milwaukee.

Among the ace bowlers will be Mort Lindsey, holder of many records; Andy Varipapa, trick artist; and Billy Knox of Philadelphia—the first man ever to shoot a perfect 300 game in an ABC classic.

Topping the list of well-known names outside of bowling will be that of James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, who will sub for Jack Dempsey.

Yesterday during the afternoon shift Clarance Behrns of North Tonawanda, N. Y., rolled a 681 in the singles event to tie for fourth place and Ed Leschinsky and Wayne Martin of Dayton, O., set up a money winning doubles scores of 1,235.

Mack's Condition Reported as Good

SAN ANTONIO, March 31 (U.P.)—Physicians pronounced the condition of Cornelis McGillicuddy (Connie Mack), president and manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, as satisfactory today.

Mack, who arrived here from Mexico City yesterday where his Athletics have been in spring training, was taken to a hospital immediately with an infected leg suffered when a ball struck him during batting practice two weeks ago in training camp.

He will remain in the hospital several days and then proceed to Philadelphia.

Jack Ford of the winning Elks' team topped both loops with 541. N. O. Johnson of Dell's had the best individual game with 201. Bradford's 507 was tops for the City league, with Rieke's 191 taking best game honors.

Montreal Takes 2nd Win from Red Wings

By United Press

Levelling off their first place playoff series with the Detroit Red Wings at two games each, Montreal's Canadiens forced a fifth and deciding game for the National league hockey championship.

The flying Frenchmen came back last night to score their second straight victory on home ice, 3 to 1.

STRIKES TO SPARE

WITH

FRED STONE

Again the underdog had his day, this time the Elks lowering the boom on the Dell's boys for two out of three.

Jack Ford showed how a good leader should perform. His 541 was good tops for both teams. Jack collected a double in each and every game.

Hugh Boone snagged himself one double his last game. Hugh was just one point short of the 500 mark.

Bill Towan really put on a split-picking exhibition, making four nice pick-ups of some bad splits his first and second games. He didn't get any splits to shoot at his last game.

"My gosh," said Orv Coleman, as he doubled out his second game. "My second double this season!" His third game; oh well, what if he did get a few errors—what good bowler doesn't make an error now and then.

Bill Bailey had a right spart of spare ball trouble also.

N. O. Johnson was high for Dell's with 532, three-game total. He had a double in each of his games also. In the sixth frame of his second game, on a spare, he got two big healthy pins for his spare ball. Some shot, N. O.

Bill McDonald got himself three doubles to push his pin total up to 525. Bill was hitting the pocket with his first ball very nicely.

N. O. Johnson with 201 his last game was high single for both teams.

Charles Brueggemann was in the dog-house.

Cap Brinegar was on hand, but he was just giving the boys his moral support. No ball with a finger hole big enough for Cap's bandaged finger right now.

Bradford was high for the City league with 507; two doubles in both Brad's second and third games.

Rieke with 191 his first game got the high single. Two doubles helped it along.

John Rogers and L. S. McCracken also collected doubles.

Post Office went pretty good their second game, Hazard and Rexroat both getting a turkey that time, the only players to get three in a row in either league.

No doubles for Rosa, Sogn or Archie Anderson; in fact, not too man singles.

It's some race in the Commercial league . . . Dell's in the lead with a percentage of .587; Slatkin's next with .577 and Studebaker close behind with .573. A tight battle among those three, and the next two teams can still cause quite a mix-up during the next two weeks.

Rolly Jones dropped one point to fall back into a tie with Walt Riggert for individual leadership. Both boys now have 177.

Fireplace Traced Back To King Philip's Time

MEDFIELD, Mass. (U.P.)—Alphonso Allen, 82-year-old farmer who still tills the soil by hand, is more proud of his fireplace, believed built about King Philip's time, than the 287-year-old farmhouse in which he lives.

About 50 years ago Allen discovered there was another fireplace behind the one already there. He removed it and found there was a third. He removed that one and found the original one he thinks was built about King Philip's time.

FBI MEN CHECK ESPIONAGE RING

Blueprints of Hawaiian Gun Placements Found in Home of Japanese

LOS ANGELES, March 31 (U.P.)—Federal agents today were checking a possible espionage ring following discovery of blueprints of Hawaiian fortifications and a secret radio sending apparatus in the room of Buichiro Abo, 54-year-old Japanese.

Abo was taken in custody on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon upon T. Onishi, 40. Following the arrest Detectives J. P. Fikas and William Baker went to Abo's room to make a routine check today.

The officers reported they discovered a batch of blueprints showing gun placements, batteries and forts on the Hawaiian islands. They also found a powerful radio sending and receiving set.

Onishi, confined to General hospital in critical condition from a knife wound in his abdomen, refused to identify Abo as his assailant or to explain why he had been stabbed.

RECORD CLAIMED FOR UTAH GLIDER

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 31 (U.P.)—Frank Kelsey, 25, Salt Lake City, today claimed an unofficial world's record for motorless aircraft, after reportedly holding a home-made glider in the air for two hours.

Towed by a friend's automobile, Kelsey took off from point of mountain, south of Salt Lake City, at 3 p. m. yesterday. The flight ended at Draper at 5 p. m. Kelsey said his plane's altimeter showed a maximum of 2,400 feet for the flight.

Official world's record for motorless planes is one hour and ten minutes, it was said.

Nevada Lawmakers Offer Counties to Coast Legislators

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 31 (U.P.)—A generous "offer" from Nevada legislators to give Clark and Lincoln counties to Los Angeles was before the California assembly today.

Northern California lawmakers said they were willing to vote acceptance provided Los Angeles seceded. They even offered to give Los Angeles to Nevada in exchange.

The Nevada proposal, signed by Fred Phillips, chairman of a group of county delegations, said Clark and Lincoln representatives were always fighting among themselves.

A resolution containing the offer was referred to a committee on drainage, swamp and overflowed lands.

Buhl Man May Be Returned to Native Canada

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 31 (U.P.)—John L. Mercer, Buhl, Idaho, today had until June 1 to show why he should remain in the United States.

Federal Judge Tillman D. Johnson late yesterday granted Mercer's petition for a writ of habeas corpus and ordered him released on $1,000 bond.

He had been ordered deported on grounds that he had a criminal record in Canada. His defense was that the charge against him, said to be conspiracy to defraud an investor, did not constitute moral turpitude.

Mercer entered the United States in 1932.

White Promises to Back Bank Measure

BOISE, Idaho, March 31 (U.P.)—Gov. Barzilla W. Clark has received a communication from Compton White, Idaho first district representative in congress, that the Idaho delegate would back legislation intended to cause banks to pay interest on public deposits in the state.

Under recent federal reserve banking legislation, public deposits do not draw interest.

Amendments have been proposed to alter this part of the law, and White said he was working for the bills.

ARGUMENT RAGES ON ALBERTA PLAN

Only Social Credit Program In World Meets Bitter Opposition

EDMONTON, Alta., March 31 (U.P.)—Prime Minister William Aberhart's social credit government was granted a brief respite today in the bitter legislative dispute over the budget that has threatened its overthrow.

The Alberta legislature approved last night provisional estimates totaling $5,645,075 to allow the government to carry on while the budget issue is settled. It will enable the government to meet expenditures after the fiscal year ends tonight at midnight.

The action eased, temporarily at least, the tension that has surrounded the world's only social credit government for several days. It was made possible by the house allowing Dr. J. L. Robinson, social credit member from Medicine Hat, to withdraw objections that had blocked voting of the funds.

The province's tangled political situation was precipitated by a group of insurgent social credit members of the house who threatened to defeat the budget offered by Aberhart. They claimed that it was too orthodox, inadequate and against all principles of social credit.

Property in Oakley Damaged by Blaze

OAKLEY, March 31 (Special)—Repairs are being made in Clyde Dahlquist's tailor shop and cream station damaged by fire on Saturday. The building would have been destroyed except for the quick action of the Oakley townspeople and the CCC enrollees, witnesses stated.

The blaze also endangered the drug store, photoshop, post office and others near it. It was caused by a defective flue.

A fire of unknown origin about a month ago completely destroyed Mr. Dahlquist's shop and station in the same building.

FUTURES IN CORN LEAD GRAIN RISE

CHICAGO, March 31 (U.P.)—Corn futures were the center of activity on the board of trade today with prices fluctuating sharply. Heavy buying inspired by a strong cash market and light country offerings boosted prices to new highs for the season despite profit-taking.

At the close wheat was 1½ to 2¼ cents lower, new corn off ⅝ to up ⅛ cent, old corn unchanged to 2¼ cent higher and oats unchanged to ½ cent lower.

The market opened with small net losses but rallied more than a cent above yesterday's close.

Wheat advanced to new seven-year highs but liquidation brought out by weakness at Buenos Aires, forced the market lower.

Shipping demand for wheat was of good proportion. Sales were reported at 35,000 bushels.

Winter wheat production in the United States was estimated today by one statistician at 616,332,000 bushels as compared with the five-year average of 622,252,000.

WOOL

BOSTON—A little business has been transacted on graded medium fleece wools for delivery when the new clip becomes available, the U. S. agriculture department reported today.

Graded combing ⅜ blood Ohio fleeces were sold at 47 to 48 cents in the grease, while combing ¼ blood was sold at 46 to 47 cents, for future delivery. These prices for future delivery were within the ranges recently quoted on similar spot wools by Boston houses. The prices realized on Ohio wools were received also on comparable Michigan and New York wools.

RADIO SET ASIDE IN SPY CHARGES

LOS ANGELES, March 31 (U.P.)—A radio set possessed by Bulchiro Abo, middle-aged Japanese, was virtually elliminated today as a factor in a possible international spy plot.

Wireless sending and receiving apparatus found in his rooms was tested and federal agents were convinced it was not powerful enough for espionage work.

A set of maps of Hawaiian islands fortifications and of the Los Angeles underground water system also were found in Abo's possession.

The slight, jutting-jawed Japanese, who was a wine steward on the old U. S. S. Oregon 30 years ago, blandly denied ownership of the maps. He said a friend, an engineer he declined to name, left them in his charge.

Authorities were investigating the case closely, checking back to learn the source from which the Hawaiian maps could have been obtained. They included a detailed map of Hilo, Hawaiian city, and the important Pearl harbor military base.

SIKORSKY BUILDS HUGHES AIRCRAFT

STRATFORD, Conn., March 31 (U.P.)—Sikorsky aircraft officials revealed today construction was being completed on an S-43 amphibian with which Howard Hughes, Hollywood speed flyer, plans to make a flight around the world late this year.

Exact plans of the cross-county speed record-holder were not known by Sikorsky authorities. They indicated the giant land and sea craft would be equipped with gasoline compartments sufficient for long-distance hops.

The S-43 type of craft, when built for passenger lines, ordinarily seats between 16 and 26 persons and costs about $110,000.

First test flights of the high-wing, cabin-monoplane amphibian may be made in July by Hughes, it was said.

The S-43 has an estimated top speed of 200 miles an hour and a cruising speed of 161 miles at 8,000 feet altitude.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS ADVANCE

NEW YORK, March 31 (U.P.)—The stock market advanced fractions to 3 points in moderate trading today as selective buying spread.

The sharp uprush in steel and motor shares late Tuesday did not carry through today, but metal issues, oils and amusement shares were in demand with some advancing to new highs for the year.

The unexpected advance to 17 cents a pound in domestic copper prices late yesterday, brought early buying in metal shares. American Smelting had around 2 points advance while Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, Phelps Dodge, Silver King Coalition and U. S. Smelting showed gains ranging to more than a point.

American Petroleum Institute figures showing a reduction in production aided oils. Seaboard rose almost 3 points to a new high for the year and Texas Corporation 2 points to a new high.

Loew's gained more than a point while Paramount, Warner Brothers and Radio Keith Orpheum were active. Utility issues strengthened. Rails were mixed. Farm equipment issues strengthened as J. I. Case gained more than 3 points.

Motor issues were easy on dissatisfaction over adjournment in the Chrysler strike conference. Chrysler and General Motors had fractional losses.

The decline in steel shares was almost entirely traceable to profit taking. U. S. Steel dropped below 122 for more than a point loss. Bethlehem had almost 2 points loss and others eased.

Prices eased off in all groups near the close. Dow Jones preliminary closing averages showed: Industrial 186.4 off 0.36; railroad 61.73 off 0.57; utility 32.08 up 0.02.

Transactions approximated 1,660,000 shares compared with 1,220,000 shares yesterday. Curb transactions approximated 429,000 shares compared with 354,000 shares yesterday.

WHEAT CONTROL UNIT DISSOLVES

Production Group Abandoned And Assets Turned Over To New Set-Up

Dissolution of the Twin Falls County Wheat Production Control association was carried out here today by the board of directors in session at the offices of County Agent Harvey S. Hale.

The association, which handled the wheat control program and benefit payments covering three years, was formed in the autumn of 1933 and brought nearly $750,000 in federal cash to farmers of the county on crops of 1933, 1934 and 1935.

All records of the group were turned over to Mr. Hale today; all property was assigned to the Twin Falls County Agricultural Conservation association, the unit which is handling the present farm program; all treasurer's records will be sent to the United States department of agriculture at Washington.

The directors designated the county agent to complete any unfinished business connected with the few wheat contracts not yet closed.

LICENSES END

Many fishermen from Twin Falls and surrounding country "played hookey" from work today and headed for those fishing spots not in closed waters to take advantage of the last day of life to be found in the 1936 hunting and fishing license which expires at midnight.

Fishing was reported good, with trout said to be taking readily to either bait or fly.

Idaho licenses sell to residents of the state at $2 each and the 1937 license, which will expire the last of March, 1938, is expected to go on sale immediately.

Applications for payments under the 1936 agricultural conservation program in Twin Falls county are now being made out, it was announced here this afternoon by H. G. Lauterbach, Hansen, executive head of the county's organization.

"We expect first payments to arrive here about May 1," he said.

The initial checks, Mr. Lauterbach explained, will be made in cases involving only one farm, whether owner-operated or run by a tenant. Other payments, where more than one farm is involved, will be delayed for a short time.

Work sheets are being completed now on the 1937 conservation set-up, according to County Agent Harvey S. Hale. Field men are now out contacting all farms, not taking part in the 1936 program. It is necessary to secure such work sheets—statements of 1936 crops—from all farms in the county whether or not participating in the federal benefit measure. Actual sign-up to participate, however, is only needed from those growers not sharing in the 1936 program.

RANCHERS NAMED AT RAIL SESSION

Nine Chosen to Take Part In Parley on Securing Branch Line

CASTLEFORD, March 31 (Special)—Five men from Castleford and four from Clover today had been appointed to meet with beet and bean growers' associations, the Amalgamated Sugar company and the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce in an attempt to secure a meeting with railroad officials during April, relative to construction of a 20-mile railroad service to Castleford and Clover districts.

Appointed at a meeting held last night for this purpose were Jack Barstow, J. M. Thomas, John Glander, Walter Reese and Fred Ringert of Castleford and Milton Lierman, H. Lutz, R. L. Jagels and R. Martens of Clover.

Committeemen reported a 100 per cent signup at last night's meeting during which petitions were turned in after being in the field for several weeks in the Clover district. In the Castleford area it was stated three-quarters of the farmers there had signed.

The committees estimated that 34,000 acres of cultivated land would be served by the construction of such a railroad, intended to start at either Berger of Godwin siding south of Twin Falls and extend through Clover to Castleford.

Attended by 60 farmers as well as representatives from Twin Falls, the meeting urged that the Twin Falls Chamber take an active part in the program to secure a conference early in April with officials of the Union Pacific to go over the details.

BOSTON (U.P.)—Asked for his telephone number, Arthur Fiedler, Boston orchestra conductor, blushingly reached for a telephone directory. "I never," he explained, "have any occasion to call myself up."

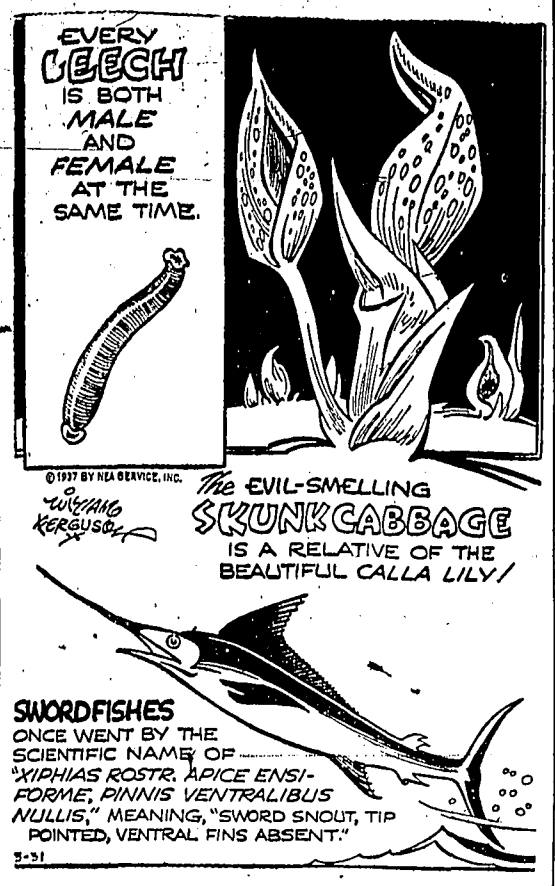
THIS CURIOUS WORLD — By William Ferguson



The present-day scientific name of the swordfish is Xiphias gladius, Greek and Latin for "sword," which is quite simple after the long name given above. In early days, the scientific name attempted to describe the animal in Latin words.
