WAGE AGREEMENT BOOSTS COAL PRICE

1938 BUDGET OF EXPENSES TO ASK FOR LESS OUT-GO

Expenditures to Be Shaved "All Down the Line," New Report Says

RECEIPTS FALL SHORT

New Tax May Be Added to Make Up Deficiency; Small Incomes Hit

By SANDOR S. KLEIN
WASHINGTON, April 3 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt's 1938 budget revision which goes to congress during the week of April 14 will call for "substantially" less spending than was anticipated in the original estimates last January, administration fiscal officials said today.

Major reason for more stringent retrenchment, they explained, is the indicated failure of tax receipts for the current fiscal year to meet expectations. Expenditures will be saved "all down the line," it was said, and no even relief will escape.

Technical Balance
Originally the President estimated that expenditures in the 1938 fiscal year, beginning in July, would total $6,187,989,254, exclusive of a relief appropriation which he hoped to keep within $1,500,000,000. This budget, Mr. Roosevelt pointed out, would be in technical balance with income balancing out or except for statutory debt retirement of $401,000,000.

This was based on the assumption that the government's income would aggregate $7,283,697,107, which would be $1,455,000,000 more than is expected this year.

Hopes Blasted
But these hopes were blasted by definite indications in recent weeks that current receipts would fall at least $200,000,000 below estimates. Income tax collections during March fell approximately $140,000,000 short of the expected $840,000,000. Social security, gift and undistributed corporate profit taxes, all regarded as high revenue producers, are lagging.

Meanwhile, treasury officials studied the tax picture closely. Prof. W. L. Cram, professor of statistics at Harvard university, "expert in periodicograms," which deal mostly with business cycle analysis. Although it is known that most treasury tax experts are opposed to any new tax legislation at this session of congress, it was learned that they are surveying the possibility that the income tax base might be broadened to reach into the lower income brackets.

CLERK BESIEGED BY REGISTRANTS

Last-Minute Rush Indicates Record Turnout Tuesday At City Election

With but a few hours left to register for Tuesday's city election which will see a mayor and two councilmen elected, indications were today that the vote will be the heaviest in the history of Twin Falls as last minute registrants taxed the city clerk's office "to keep up with the rush." Registration ends at 9 p. m. today.

In ward one 561 new registrations had been made by 1:30 p. m. and ward two shows 670 new registrations on file since the books first opened for this election. This number, added to the 4,377 voters who were eligible without re-registration, brings to 5,277 the number eligible to vote Tuesday. These figures included all registering up to 1:30 p. m. today.

At the same time records revealed 264 persons had cast absentee ballots.

On the election ballots going to each voter will be the names of the present mayor, Duncan McD. Johnson, who seeks to succeed himself and Lem A. Chapin, present council member and finance commissioner who is opposing him.

Smoke Screen Causes Idaho Auto Accident

FARMA, Idaho April 3 (U.P.)—A dense smoke screen which obscured highway vision near here caused a two-car crash, painfully injuring Dwight Smith, manager of a Nysa lumber yard. Smith, accompanied by A. C. Heitreich, was enroute to a funeral in Greenleaf when he drove through smoke from burning trash. In the cloud was another car into which he crashed. Both vehicles were demolished.

10-Ounce Infant Expected to Live

ALVIA, Ia., April 3 (U.P.)—Wailing lustily, Charles Peter Johnston, received his first official weighing today and tipped the beam at exactly one pound.

At his birth last Tuesday, the premature infant weighed 10 ounces according to doctors' estimates. The gain in weight led Dr. R. A. Smith to issue an optimistic report about the baby's chances for life. "He's stronger now and I believe he'll pull through."

CLARK ATTACKS NATION'S COURTS

Governor Says Judiciary Has Been "Effective Weapon Of Monopoly"

BOISE, Idaho, April 3 (U.P.)—Gov. Barzillai W. Clark charged last night in a radio talk that courts of the land, including the supreme court, have been an effective weapon of "special monopolistic interests."

Money Used
"Because they have money—and lots of it—they have been able to carry their cases from court to court and to hire the most expert counsel so that their cases might be presented in a light favorable to themselves, and decisions of higher courts have largely favored them," he said.

Concerning a decision of the supreme court of the United States in which the Washington women's minimum wage law was affirmed, Governor Clark said: "...Reactionary groups are alarmed because the supreme court decided recently that states have a right to fix minimum wages for women, and to provide legislation affecting farming and labor."

Includes Idaho
"The decision in the Washington women's wage case was a reversal of the previous opinion handed down by the court. In other words, the decision of the supreme court means that the right to make laws best suited for their needs can be vested in the states."

The governor said there was so much agitation over the recent decision because "the favorable decisions make it appear that the big interests must be right in their position and their arguments. Then when some individual or group opposes them, the first reaction is that the opposers must be wrong."

He said he was not aiming his talk solely at the United States supreme court, but was referring to state supreme courts as well, including "that of Idaho."

Oddities

GUILTY
DALLAS, Tex., April 3 (U.P.)—Russell Lane of Kansas City learned that he was convicted of robbery because of the politeness of one of the jurors. In a motion for a new trial today, Lane's lawyer produced the juror, T. B. Porter, who told Judge Henry King: "I didn't think he was guilty but I couldn't argue with the other 11 men."

Italian, German Troops Retreat in Spain's War

By JAN YINORICH
MADRID, April 3 (U.P.)—Ten thousand Italian and German troops, retreating from Probalancia under the nationalist banner of Gen. Gonzalo Quiepo de Llano, were cut off from their base of supplies at Cordoba today and forced westward, toward Belem in "disorder" loyalist army dispatches reported.

The towns of Espiel, Ovejo and Villaharta, between Cordoba and Pozoblanco, in south central Spain were captured in rapid succession by the swiftly advancing loyalist army which took many prisoners and much war material. The defeated nationalist army blew up bridges, obstructed railways and set fire to woods, trying to delay pursuit.

Cut from Base
Cut off from their base, harassed by loyalist planes which peppered them with machine gun bullets and bombs, attacked on two sides by government artillery and infantry, the fleeing nationalist army, trapped in mountainous country which made large scale movements unwieldy, faced almost certain annihilation or surrender, loyalist army reports said.

At the same time, on the Basque front in northern Spain, the loyalist army operating out of Bilbao stopped Gen. Emilio Mola's nationalist drive on that important loyalist seaport, recaptured the strategic Mount Gorbea, and forced the invading insurgents to retreat from Ocharandiano, an important point between Vitoria, whence the nationalist offensive was launched two days ago, and Durango.

Loyals Near Cordoba
Although the loyalist advance had taken the government army to within 15 miles of Cordoba, nationalist stronghold in south central Spain, the government army was "mopping up" the fleeing insurgent army rather than pursuing its drive toward Cordoba.

Two loyalist columns, mechanized, swung westward from Espiel, important town on the Almaden-Cordoba highway just below the Catruvono pass in the Chimorra mountains where the insurgent forces were trying to regroup, in close pursuit of the nationalist forces.

TAYLOR ANSWERS STEMMER'S QUIZ

Attorney General Says That "Brothead Is Only Hired State Attorney"

BOISE, Idaho, April 3 (U.P.)—Attorney General J. W. Taylor said today there were no departments other than the division of highways which had employed attorneys.

His remarks were in answer to a statement by Joe Stimmer, director of highways, who criticized the attorney-general's action in removing W. E. Brothead, highway division attorney, from the payroll.

Taylor said attorneys hired by the state insurance fund were paid from a private fund and that the liquor commission was authorized by statute to employ legalists.

Stimmer had said: "If the ruling applies to one, it should apply to all."

CHARGES PLACED AGAINST YOUTHS

Members of 'Love Nest' Gang in Culver City Faced By Criminal Action

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (U.P.)—Criminal charges involving young girls were faced by three youths today in the investigation of asserted juvenile "love nests" where high school girls and boys held all-night revels.

Harvey Ruble, 24, was accused in a complaint with criminality attacking 16-year-old Marjorie Polsom, Elwood Jackson, 19, was accused of a similar offense against Barbara Page, also 16. Jackson and the Page girl recently eloped to Mexico but did not marry because they lacked the money.

A charge of contributing to the delinquency of Vallee Halcy, Rice, 16, was filed against Frank Bruer, 21, alias "Speed Morgan."

Stories of wild parties in a Culver City house started the inquiry. Two girls told police of being there one night when 11 boys and 11 girls lined up in the hallway outside two bedrooms.

Determined Northview Pupil, 14, Stages Own Sit-Down Campaign

Northview school had a one-youth sit-down strike today. And the youthful sit-downer's determined campaign against study, lessons and recitations brought a stern order from J. M. Stank, probation and juvenile officer, to the effect that the strike had better end promptly and the striker go back to his books.

The boy, 14, has been sitting down for six weeks. Because he apparently doesn't want to go to school, he has refused to take part in any classroom work and has spent his time watching TV. He hasn't caused any disturbances, and is careful to deposit his whittie stavings on his own desk, later wrapping them up and putting them in the wastebasket. The striker is in the seventh grade.

Plea by the youth's mother for a labor permit to allow him to leave school and go to work was refused by Mr. Stank, who said today the sit-downer "is going to study and get his lessons. We'll see to that."

The boy arrives and leaves on the city, but otherwise ignores orders, school officials said.

The Northview school's classes are now housed in rooms in the Buhl high school, since the Northview building burned down several months ago.

Spokesmen for the national coal association said they expected the present mine price of $2 a ton would be boosted 30 cents because of additional labor costs in the new contract.

Whitties will call 400,000 men in 12 states back to work after four days of idleness. Today was a holiday, a "technical strike" was on yesterday because no new agreement had been signed and today and tomorrow are the regular week-end suspension.

New Contract
The new contract raised the basic daily wage by 50 cents and maintained the existing 35-hour week. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins cited the agreement as an example of how employer-worker conferences can avert costly strikes and lockouts.

Association officials said the industry's "risk" and is suffering increasingly from competition in the fuel markets from oil and natural gas and from increased rail rates. The coal price increase would follow closely a boost in steel charges which resulted from inauguration of the 40-hour week and $5 minimum daily wage in that industry.

Aid Inflation Spiral
Both would play an important part in the inflation spiral being started by the administration officials.

Workers contend that commensurate rises in commodity prices following wage increases are cutting considerably into the purchasing power of the dollar. The American Federation of Labor, recently published a study which asserted that the value of the worker's dollar had been reduced 12 cents within the past year, offsetting pay raises to a major extent.

The agreement was accepted late yesterday in New York by the full commission of 300 operators and miners. In brief, it provided:

- 1. A flat increase of 50 cents for day wage workers, bringing present pay scheduled to $6 in the north and $5.50 in southern mines.
- 2. A 70 cent a day increase for loaders and production workers in strip mines.
- 3. An increase in pick mining piece work of 9 cents a ton and of 8 cents a ton in machine loading.
- 4. An increase of one cent a ton in cutting rates for short-wall machines and a similar rise approximating 70 per cent of this for workers on track-mounted cutting machines.
- 5. Time-and-a-half pay for overtime.
- 6. A joint commission to study the effect of mechanized mining on employment and working conditions.

STRIKE ENDS IN DELAWARE CITY

WILMINGTON, Del., April 3 (U.P.)—The Wilmington general strike will end at 2 p. m. today, Gov. Richard C. McMillen announced after a conference with federal controllers and city officials.

The announcement came 12 hours and 35 minutes after the strike began, affecting almost 3,500 men.

The governor's announcement said that at the request of himself and Mayor Walter W. Bacon "the general strike called by the central labor union and the building trades council is called off effective at 2 p. m. this afternoon and it is agreed to meet in conference at 2:30 p. m. in the mayor's office with the police committee for the employers for discussion of an attempted settlement."

YOUNG WIFE, 12, PLACED IN JAIL

Officials Take Minnesota Girl As "Delinquent and Neglected Minor"

MANKATO, Minn., April 3 (U.P.)—Virginia Johnson, 12, ate breakfast today in the Blue Earth county jail, where officials put her to keep her from her husband, Ernest B. Johnson, 37.

County officers who searched four days for a way to break up the marriage decided she could be jailed as a "delinquent and neglected minor."

Two deputies removed her, protesting, from the two-room apartment which she shared with her husband, divorced father of five children. The husband was working at the time.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Alvina de Remy, 38, said she saw nothing wrong in the marriage.

Surveying Starts On New Inn Site

BRITAIN PREPARES DEFENSE AGAINST AIR ATTACK

LONDON TERMED AS VULNERABLE SPOT ON ISLAND

10,000,000 inhabitants in Area Would Make Good Bombing Target

By WEBB MILLER (Copyright 1937, United Press)

LONDON, April 3 (U.P.)—Great Britain, "feared that in the "next war" her vulnerable little island will be subjected to aerial bombardments vastly more terrible than those of the World War is working overtime to catch up and keep pace with the continental powers in the air armament race.

So deep is the military secrecy of the dictatorial nations that the British intelligence service was badly deceived, and only four months before the discovery, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin was led into informing the house of commons that Britain was 50 per cent superior to Germany in air strength.

Expansion Program Then Hitler blantly revealed to Sir John Simon, at that time foreign secretary, that Germany's air power equalled Britain's. The government at once initiated a great emergency expansion program, nearly tripling the average expenditure of the previous few years.

Not again Britain has boosted its 1937 air estimates of £10,000,000, a 32,000,000 pound sterling (£5,000,000) above last year's £3,000,000, with an average of 18,000,000 pounds sterling (£900,000) before Hitler's surprising announcement.

Sir Philip Sassoon, undersecretary for air, told commons on March 16 that the expenditure this year of 4 1/2 times the pre-expansion period means "trebling the force as well as re-arming it with modern equipment."

Britain's greatest defense problem is protecting the London area, with 10,000,000 inhabitants. It is the center of government, finance and administration. It has nine square miles of docks, furnishing food and raw materials for 20,000,000 persons and is less than an hour's flight from Germany and France.

The most remarkable defense scheme is a vast hedge of balloons around the capital, anchored at a great height, between which will be suspended aprons of heavy, rambling wires designed to entangle the propellers of enemy aircraft and crash them. Critics contend that modern planes fly high enough to surmount the balloon barrage.

The department is beginning the production of 40,000,000 gas masks for eventual distribution to every adult and child. For babies, 250,000 a month are being manufactured.

Although Britain has adopted the secrecy of the totalitarian nations and has exact progress of her air program has been concealed, best informed observers credit the nation with about 1,750 first line planes, compared to 1,180 in December, 1935.

Sassoon told commons that the forces in the British Isles would reach 124 squadrons within a few months, compared to 58 squadrons in 1935.

Although details have been kept secret, it is known that the British have developed an exceptionally efficient twin-motored fighting plane, armed with machine guns and two 20-millimeter cannon firing high explosive shells. It is reputed to be capable of 375 miles an hour.

Also there is a light monoplane bomber, capable of over 300 miles an hour, engined with a new, secret Rolls-Royce motor. Two improved types of guns for aerial use have been adopted, a Vickers and a Browning, the latter of unusual simplicity.

The monoplane type is almost entirely replacing biplanes. Engineers are testing sleeve-valve motors and new types of fuel giving greater power.

Huge reserves of gasoline and oil are being established and stored, sometimes underground, at points considered inaccessible to bombing.

Model Airplane, 38 inches long, Will Be Tested

A full fledged airplane, constructed by Ray Schwartz of the Schwartz Auto company will soon be test hopped at the local airport. It was revealed today.

But the plane will fly without a pilot.

Measured 38 inches from tip of tail to nose and bearing wings with a 68 inch spread, the model plane is equipped with the latest gasoline engine. It develops one-fifth of a horse power and the gas tank feeding the motor has a capacity of one and three-quarters ounces. The ship carries a small battery to furnish the necessary electric spark.

Schwartz estimates the limited supply of gas will keep the plane aloft from 20 to 30 minutes and will travel at a speed of approximately 53 miles per hour.

Built at home, the plane will be displayed in some local show window in the near future.

In ward two judges will be W. E. Nixon, Mrs. Ella George, O. L. Bales and Mrs. Agnes H. Browne. Clerks for ward two are W. A. Minnick and Mrs. Cora Burmeister.

3,463 Two Years Ago

In the principal election two years ago 3,463 votes were cast, records at the offices of City Clerk W. H. Eldridge show. A smaller number was cast in the runoff election which was necessary to decide one of the council seats vacant at that time. This year, however, there is no possibility of a runoff election being necessary.

Candidates today were completing last minute arrangements for a final drive for votes and efforts were being made to have all qualified voters registered before 9 p. m. today.

Little was heard on the streets in the matter of campaign talk and the election will evidently be quiet, it was indicated today. Both groups have presented their platforms and Wednesday and Monday late registrations will be entered in the official books so these will be in the hands of the ward clerks as each vote is checked before it is put into the ballot box.

Although lack of speeches during the campaign has been noted, both factions advertised platforms and statements through the newspaper columns.

SEVEN STUDENTS CAPTURE BERTHS

Two More Contests Being Held in Class B Meet at Buhl

Twin Falls Play Wins

Twin Falls high school's one-act play entry, "The Critic," captured the district championship last night and the right to enter the state meet April 16-17 at Twin Falls.

The winning presentation was the only one of the four Class A entries to win excellent rating.

Coached by Miss Florence M. Rees, the Twin Falls cast included Lillian Roberts, Ivan Johnson; Dick Reynolds, Ed Bertie, Herbert Larsen, Dorris Leighton, Art Franz, Leonard Salladay, Ivan Johnson, Willa Small, Lee Walton and Junior White.

Burley's play, "The Bride Wore Red Fajamas," and the Gooding production of "Men Played Cards as Women Do," both earned superior ranking. Kimberly, with "Three's a Crowd," was ranked "good."

Declam Events

The class A declamation events Friday decided entrants in humorous and dramatic readings, oratory and extemporaneous. Pupils receiving excellent or superior qualified for the state meet. Twin Falls has entrants in each because it is host school for the final competition.

Results of class A declamation yesterday:

Declamation events were judged by Dr. Vio Mae Powell, University of Idaho, southern branch.

ELECTION

That the city election is attracting county wide attention was evidenced this afternoon when a woman told the city registrar she would like to register.

As she was preparing to sign the voting certificate it was found the woman was a resident of Filer.

"This work in Twin Falls," the woman said, "that's all very nice but you also have to live here to vote in the city election," the registrar replied.

You can never see a rainbow unless you are between it and the sun.

DAMAGE ACTION HANDED TO JURY

Testimony Finished on Motor Accident Suit Brought By Gooding Man

Jury men were to start deliberations this afternoon on the motor accident injury suit which has occupied the past two days in district court.

The action, brought by Walter Anderson, Gooding, against D. D. Wakefield and D. G. Werner, saw final arguments completed by attorneys for Anderson before the court recessed at noon. Defense counsel was to make its statement this afternoon, and Judge J. W. Porter's instructions were then to send the suit to the jury. Anderson is suing for $2,950 damages because of personal injuries assertedly received when his car was struck by Wakefield's machine, driven by Werner with the owner as a passenger.

Judge Porter today overruled the defense motion for a directed verdict of non-suit.

Testimony was completed this morning after Everett Sanders, Wakefield and Werner were placed on the stand for the defense, and Bud Boyer testified for the plaintiff in rebuttal.

Both the defendants have filed counter-claims against Anderson, with the claims incorporated in the present hearing.

Chapman and Chapman, Twin Falls, represent the two defendants. Bissell and Bird, Gooding, are counsel for Anderson.

COOPERATION IN NEW PLAN ASKED

Committee Suggests Move to Establish Recreational Program Here

A suggestion that the entire community including churches, civic and fraternal organizations and others join in a united effort to secure an all-year-around recreational program for Twin Falls was made last night on members of the Chamber of Commerce youth committee discussed the findings of the youth survey committee composed of representative citizens of the community.

The chamber is sponsoring a public dinner meeting at the Park hotel Tuesday evening at which time the citizens' report, made after an exhaustive three-months survey, will be discussed and used as a basis for united action.

No steps toward the start of such a program, however, was made at the committee meeting last night. These will be arranged at Tuesday's meeting. It was explained. The chamber committee said the local organization was definitely in favor of the establishment of such a program, however.

Attending the meeting last night were the following chamber youth committeemen, recently appointed as a permanent organization group: J. A. Cedergust, chairman; Milton L. Powell and Dr. H. L. Stowe, Harold A. Salisbury, NYA district supervisor and member of the committee making the survey, and Raymond Butler, acting supervisor of the United States employment service, also attended.

WAKEM TO SPEAK AT YOUTH MEET

Dale J. Wakem, HI-Y counselor of Twin Falls and high school instructor, will assist in leading discussion groups at the annual older boys' conference to be held at Blackfoot April 16, 17 and 18. It is announced here today. He is also listed among the speakers.

Also slated as a directed during the conference is M. W. McLaughlin of Burley, HI-Y counselor of that district.

High schools in this district will be well represented at the three-day session and boys to attend from the Twin Falls high school will be announced soon.

At the conference W. S. Chambers of Portland will be guest speaker with Leroy Walker of Burley in charge of devotions.

Ralph R. Wolf of Pocatello, district executive, will have charge of the meetings.

TWO DOWNTOWN BUILDINGS SOLD

Purchase of two buildings in the downtown section had been announced today by new owners.

Expansion of the Sweet Furniture company by Bert A. Sweet resulted in his purchase of the two-story building, with 25-foot front at 255 Main avenue east, formerly occupied by the Idaho Evening Times. Mr. Sweet bought the building from J. A. Crom and will extend his store to take over the entire space. He had previously negotiated a lease and remodeling operations had begun.

Mr. Crom purchased the three-story structure at Shoshone street and Second avenue south, housing the White mortuary on the ground floor, and the Caledonia hotel, from Bert Corcoran.

Graves and Son, realty firm, handled both deals.

MAN PAROLED ON FORGERY CHARGE

Plea of guilty to forgery charges brought a one to 14 year prison sentence with parole for one year to the sheriff today for Francis H. Hodell, 25, Murray, Utah.

Hodell was sentenced and then paroled by District Judge J. W. Porter this afternoon following plea of guilty entered yesterday. His companion in the check charges, Floyd Madill, 25, Salt Lake City, pleaded guilty and will go on trial April 12.

The men failed last week in a habeas corpus action aimed at securing freedom and quashing of the charges against them. Both are held in Twin Falls county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond each.

The two men are accused of cashing a check, claimed to be fraudulent, at the Gibbs Cigar store, Buhl, Jan. 29. They were arrested in Twin Falls by city police, who asserted they were using a fictitious company as the backing for checks.

AGED NEGRO, 70, TAKEN BY DEATH

Henry Harris, about 70, a Negro, died today at 12:25 p. m. at his home at 377 Second avenue east. He had been associated with the Utah Construction company for the past 50 years.

Surviving is a brother, James Harris, Malibu Beach, Calif.

BURLEY, April 3 (Special)—Strong indication that the board of Cassia county commissioners may post a reward for capture and conviction of the man who murdered Omer P. Simpson, 73, Burley barber, came here today as petitions were circulated urging the reward.

The petitioners sought a $1,000 sum but the commissioners may act either on that suggestion or a smaller amount, some observers said. No word had come from the board today.

COAST LEAGUE STARTS SEASON PLAY TODAY

PORTLAND OPENS IN BATTLE WITH OAKLAND SQUAD

Seattle Takes on Sacramento And Missions Battle San Francisco

By JAMES S. SHEEHY
SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (U.P.)—The Pacific coast baseball season opens today under as favorable circumstances as the league has experienced in the 35 years of its existence.
Teams were strengthened. There were sufficient new players to meet demands of fans. Business conditions appeared better than any year since 1929. The tang of sparkling spring weather was the top dressing that likely will draw about 40,000 spectators at San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento and Los Angeles.
The usual pre-game festivities were planned. They included flag raisings, bands, speeches, floral horsehoes and vaudeville first ball tosses by mayors and police chiefs.
Missions, Frisco Play
Fans of San Francisco were favored by a clash between their own seals and missions at Seals' stadium. There was added interest due to Managers Lefty O'Doul and Willie Kamm having returned to lead their home-town clubs after successful careers in the big leagues.
O'Doul named Sideman Sam Gibson, A 20-game winner, as his pitching choice with the veteran Larry Woodall catching. Walter (Doc) Beck will pitch for Missions. Joe Sprinz will catch.
Against the right-handed Beck, Manager Kamm planned to start Holder in center field.
Liska for Portland
Ad Liska drew the pitching assignment for the Portland champions against Oakland. Manager Bill Sweeney planned to use the up-and-coming hurler often in starting roles, rather than relief, where he is particularly effective. Bill Cronin will catch.
Southpa Ken Douglas and Catcher Bill Raimondi will be Oakland's battery. The Cubs surprised under Manager Bill Meyer last year. The heavy-cloutng Seattle Indians will face the crafty Tony Freitas, back from the big leagues with an assortment of slow stuff. Cap Clark will catch.
Paul Gregory will pitch for Seattle. Manager Spencer Abbott will use Johnnie Bassler behind the bat.
San Diego and Los Angeles will meet at Wrigley field.
The same teams will play double-headers Sunday afternoon, then open regular seven-game series Tuesday. Next week Portland will be at San Francisco, Seattle at Oakland, Los Angeles at Sacramento and Missions at San Diego.

St. Louis Ball Players Battle Two Sports Writers

Mac Quits Baseball to Devote Rest of His Life to Professional Golf

By HENRY MOLEMOBE
PINEHURST, N. C., April 3 (U.P.)—Baseball's immortals were increased by one today, for an hour ago I wired the St. Louis Cardinals informing them I had quit the game forever, and would devote the remainder of my life to professional golf.
When the Cardinals refused to meet my terms several weeks ago I told them that if they persisted I would turn in my uniform and don the baggy knicker that is the raiment of the fairways. They didn't believe me.
But I meant it and, so right now, insofar as baseball is concerned I belong to the ages, along with Walter Johnson, Ty Cobb, Nick Altrock and Hans Wagner.
But enough of baseball. Let us be on to golf, my life's new work. At the moment I am an amateur. There is still "Mr." before my name on the score-board. And I will remain an amateur long enough to play in the North and South amateur championship which begins here Monday.
I entered that tournament today, and, as a tip off on the respect in which I am held, was given the best starting time of any one in the field. I am scheduled to start at 5:45 in the morning.
This is the choice spot for more reason than one.
In the first place, there is no one out on the course at that time to check up on you. Not that I would fear that, but I believe that the presence of an official spy, so to speak, would rub my sense of honor the wrong way.
In the second place, a 5:45 a. m. start does away with a big gallery. If there is anything more disconcerting than a fawning gallery when you are playing your fifth out a trap, I don't know what it is. Thirdly, the greens still are soaked with dew, and your shots to the pin don't bounce so far.

Posts Score First
And, finally, by going out at daybreak you are back in time to get your score posted on the board for the others to see before their start. And that places a tremendous psychological burden on your opponents. For example: suppose I go out Monday and come in with a 104. The natural thing for everyone of my foes to think when he sees that is: "Holy jumping Jupiter! Is the course THAT tough?"
Then they'll press and the qualifying medal will be mine.
But the clincher on how the field fears me in this tournament game was when the officials tried to find someone to play with me. They asked dozens of players and everyone of them refused. They didn't give any reason, but the reason is obvious. They are afraid to match their games with mine, afraid that shame for their strokes would throw them off their games.
Record Score
I believe I can say without fear of successful contradiction that if the officials don't find someone to play with me between now and Monday, and I have to play alone, I'll hang up as long as golf is played. Hell, I wouldn't be surprised if I didn't go right out and bag myself a 52—20 under par.
After I have won this tournament I plan to turn professional and make the national open, British open, P. G. A., and upper New Hampshire invitation, my aim. That would be better than Bob Jones ever accomplished, because in all the years he played golf, he never won the New Hampshire invitation. (Copyright 1937, United Press)

SPORT SQUIBS

It being only a couple of weeks until the annual big league baseball season opens, we are about to make our yearly pilgrimage out onto the well-known "limb." Occasionally we have been lucky enough to choose the winners of both leagues. More often we have had the limb saved from under us.
We'll state right now, though, that the Detroit Tigers have been our favorite baseball team since we were old enough to keep track of scores and watch what the great Ty Cobb was doing.
But just to show that we are not prejudiced (and foolish) in our feelings, we'll go on record with practically the rest of the world in picking the New York Yankees to win the American league pennant. In our humble opinion, any team that is good enough to coast to a 10½ game lead in the big leagues should be able to squeeze through an other season with the same lineup, despite the build-up of other clubs.
On top of that, the chances are very good that the poofy Castilian, petty Gomez, will be piling some things on his home run balls this year. Of course, the star of last year's staff, Red Ruffing, is still holding out, and if he continues his "not-sign" strike and remains off of baseball, the loss of his 20 games on the win-side of the column will be keenly felt. But, as we've stated before, it is very seldom that a player remains away from the game when the season gets going.
For second place in the American, we'll take our old stand-by, the Detroit Tigers. With the return of the slugger Hank Greenberg and Manager-Catcher Mickey Cochran to the line-up, the Tigers are going to be a team hard to stop in this year's race. And the chances are against them getting any of the kind of breaks in the line of injuries and illness that they had last year. On the other hand, Old Man Percentage is very apt to catch up on the New Yorkers.
With the sensational young Bob Feller added to what is generally regarded as one of the best hurling staffs in the majors, the Cleveland Indians are going to be a threat. But personally, we believe the Indians lack that something to drive them through in the stretch when the going is toughest—which has been the case with them the past several years—and with the same players except for Feller.

The picking of a winner in the National league is a different and apparently more difficult task. We're going to leave the beaten path and take a long-shot at the Pittsburgh Pirates. A finely balanced team, the Pirates have been pounding the ball long and hard in the grapefruit league. Chosen as a strong contender last year, the Pirates faltered when the pitching staff failed to hold up. This year with Lefty Brandt, the ex-Dco and ex-Dodger, to step in and break a losing streak for them, the Traynor men appear set to go. Another big point in their favor is the battle for infield positions. Last year Pep Young proved to be a mild sensation at the keystone sack in his first full year in the majors. But this season it appears he is going to have to play second-fiddle to young Lee Handley, the free agent whom the Pirates picked-up for $20,000.

More dissension in the Cardinal camp with the putting Deans the leading trouble makers is apt to keep the St. Louis team out of first place so we'll choose them for second. Third, we'll donate to the up and coming Cincinnati Reds.
Last year's champion New Yorkers we'll put in fourth place because we don't think they can be lucky all the time. Besides that, it is our belief that the first baseman on the Giant team is going to have to be a mind reader to figure out what Lou Chiozza, the new third baseman, is going to do with the ball when "and if" he gets hold of it.
Just to get out on the tall end of the limb, we'll go a little further than usual and pick the probable finishing positions (we hope):
American league: New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, Chicago, Washington, St. Louis and Philadelphia.
National league: Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New York, Chicago, Boston, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.
Now you tell one!

Do You Remember?

KIMBERLY PLANS BASEBALL TEAM

KIMBERLY, April 3 (Special)—Plans are underway here for a baseball team to play in the fast independent circles of southern Idaho for the coming season.
At a recent meeting held in the offices of the Tri-State Lumber company, at which Clyde Green, president of the Commercial-Club presided, it was decided to not enter league competition for the coming season.
Among the players contacted are Bobby Hoobler, Everett Huckfeldt, Mat Bagland, Bill McCall, Kenneth Snelson, Charley Milton, Kenneth Dargley, Everett Brown, Tom Helsley, Mike Goldman, Moon Shepard and Jerry Van Hootsen.

NEWSPAPER MEN LOSE ARGUMENT

Chicago, New York Reporters Drop Decision to Gas House Gang

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
TAMPA, Fla., April 3 (U.P.)—The St. Louis gas house gang held a newspaper decision today over two newspapermen, Jack Miley of the New York Daily News and Irving Kuppincet of the Chicago Daily Times.
The newspapermen were whipped in a lobby brawl in which all except two St. Louis players participated.
Dizzy Dean started the argument, but when the battling broke out Dean beat a retreat. Later he refused to accept a challenge from Kuppincet to a fight.
"You yellow-bellied hen pecked husband, you wouldn't fight a baby," Kuppincet told Dizzy. "I'll fight you any place, any time you want to. Just name it."
Kuppincet, a former University of North Dakota quarterback who weighs 195 pounds, called Dean on the telephone several times, and attempted to get him to meet him outside the hotel, Dean refused.
The argument started after yesterday's game between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds. Dean and his wife drove back to the hotel. When they came into the lobby Mrs. Dean pointed out Miley to her husband. They went to the elevator together, and then Dizzy got off and approached the 250-pound Miley. The elevator boy said Mrs. Dean told her husband to go after Miley.
Dean said he didn't like the articles Miley had been writing about him and told Miley to lay off. During the argument Paul Dean arrived and remarked that the Deans didn't need $125 a month newspaper reporters writing about them.
Cards in Uniform
By this time the entire Cardinal team, except Leo Durocher and Pepper Martin, had gathered around Miley and Kuppincet. The Cardinals were in uniform. Someone shoved Miley and the battling started. Kuppincet grabbed at Dean, and the St. Louis player hit him on the left cheek bone. Dean quickly got out of the center of the fighting.
Mrs. Dean was blamed by hotel employees for starting the whole battle. She kept egging Dean to go get Miley all the way from the garage to the elevator, they said. Fans who sat next to her at the ball park heard her upbraid Miley several times, once saying: "I'll scratch your eyes out."

The masculine team paraded on the floor all rounded out in feminine attire.
As a handicap, the Bruin team was supposed to wear rubber boots or large overshoes. But several of them became Suite-Case Simpsons—they had overnight zipper traveling bags on their feet, which slowed their progress considerably. All wore hats, and it was the rule of the game that they must keep them on as they played.
As usual the band was there—led this time by Hank Powers dressed in a creation of his own-making that included a pair of basketball trunks. The instrumentation included a music box, chimes, rohamonica, washboard and a wash tub for the bass drum. The marches were played with a varied rhythm—especially from the rohamonica player who insisted on different music.
Sit-Down Strike
The opening whistle sounded and quick as a flash the speedy girls' team scored a basket—and promptly went on a sit-down strike. They claimed four points for the first basket—and they won their argument.
At the quarter the thirst of the perspiring athletes was quenched by a nice large grapefruit.
Third quarter found the feminine hoop artists firing of the game of basketball and they called time out and proceeded to start play with a construction set—on a windmill—to keep them cool.
This being the spring time of the year, two of the players fell in love. The game was stopped then and there and a wedding was performed uniting Mac Hopkin and Mary Smith in the fourth period.
Just before the game ended, Miss Call, the high hat referee, called a foul. She was shot dead on the spot.
But it was all in fun for it was the yearly April Fool party—held a day late.

Fourteen College Youths Remain in Fight Tourney

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 3 (U.P.)

Fourteen college youths will fight it out tonight for the seven boxing crowns bestowed annually by the National Collegiate Athletic association.
In a series of slam-bang battles last night that saw many upsets, the west represented heavily by Washington state university's four able batters and the deep south, led by Duke, continued their battle for intercollegiate supremacy.
The big surprise of the evening came when lumbering, 257-pound Eugene Cervelli, intercollegiate heavyweight champion of 1936, went out of the tournament, decided by Don Walker of San Jose State college.

Bruin Club, Girls, Instructors of High School Stage April Fun Day

It was Hi-Jinks day at Twin Falls high school yesterday as the Bruin club staged its mock basketball game with the members of the girls' basketball team, with five of the high school faculty acting as officials.

The girls' team arrived on the scene arrayed in a varied assortment of clothes, three of the squad members wearing football suits, another a pair of greasy mechanic's overalls. Accompanying them as their mascot was John D. Platt—in rompers!
The masculine team paraded on the floor all rounded out in feminine attire.
As a handicap, the Bruin team was supposed to wear rubber boots or large overshoes. But several of them became Suite-Case Simpsons—they had overnight zipper traveling bags on

POT SHOTS WITH THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

AS YOU SAW in yesterday's column, some of the book shop boys (plus some in the front office) pulled a fast one on Pot Shots agent that April fool "divorce" petition. Which was all right with us as far as turning the gun on Pot Shots was concerned, because we can take it. But we can't allow the principle of such insubordination to go unchallenged. Therefore, we're going on a one-day SIT-DOWN STRIKE today.

P.S. Again—Our lawyers—O'Pshaw, O'Pshaw, O'Pshaw and Kerehnow—will have a cross-complaint, demurrer and reply ready by Monday. We'll fight this case to the bitter end.

Our demands in this sit-down strike, incidentally:
1) Defendant served with notice of publication before divorce complaints are printed in Pot Shots.
2) Right of defendant to make answer in the same issue.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW
Editor's Note—Inasmuch as the Gentleman in the Third Row is on a sit-down strike it will be necessary to fill the remainder of today's Pot Shots column with regular news. Negotiations will be started today in hopes of breaking the sit-down. If unsuccessful, the publishers are looking for another columnist.

THE WOMAN IN THE THIRD ROW, or Dumme Knittywittle as she was called by her husband, showed no inclination, however, toward any sort of reconciliation.

"Italians have long memories," says Mussolini. Do they recall a little matter of a two-billion-dollar war debt?
We received three letters in one day, commending us on our editorials. Easy, folks. Even a newspaperman can stand only so much.

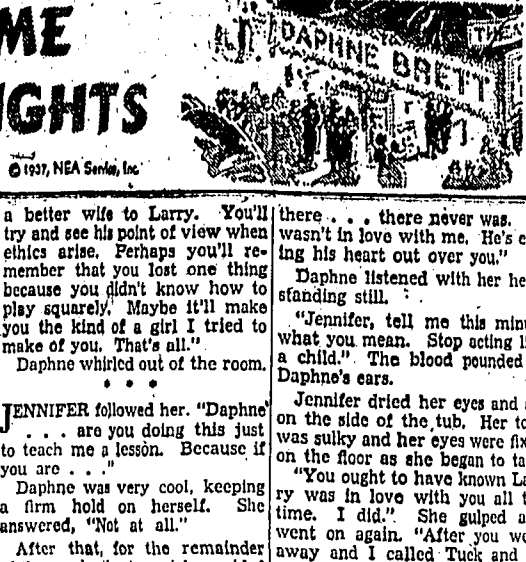

HER NAME IN LIGHTS by MARIE BLIZARD

JENNIFER followed her. "Daphne . . . are you doing this just to teach me a lesson. Because if you are . . . "

JENNIFER spoke to her only when it was necessary and then in monosyllables. But Jennifer took to giving her strange glances and more than once she came into the room they shared and stood silently staring for a moment as though there was something she wanted to say.

DAPHNE was very calm about it. "I'm sorry that you do," she said, "but I'm a little surprised. And while I dislike quotations, you might remember that one about sauce for the goose."

DAPHNE decided to play the same herself. She arranged a social dining party for several friends, including Herberg and Larry. Larry is very happy to see Daphne again, but Larry is still playing up to Herberg.

JENNIFER hadn't cried even when she was a baby.
"WHAT IS IT, Jennifer?" she asked gently.
Jennifer wiped her tears away from her sleeve; an incredibly childish gesture.

"Yes, it seems that I have. It was all in the theater until . . . "

"There isn't Larry . . . and a better wife to Larry. You'll try and see his point of view when ethics arise. Perhaps you'll remember that you lost one thing because you didn't know how to play square. Maybe it'll make you the kind of a girl I tried to make of you. That's all."

INFLATIONARY PROPAGANDA

WASHINGTON, April 3—A bitter hater of price spirals is Agriculture Secretary Wallace. When federal reserve boarder Eccles denounced their dirty work, Mr. Wallace immediately doubted the denunciation. He implied these inflation-makers are helping to cause a vicious spiral and the situation is getting into the clouds.

By denouncing price spirals and permitting his department to predict higher future prices, Mr. Wallace certainly is following out the best traditions of his long and firm stand in favor of both curtailment and expansion of farm production.

CONCLUSIONS
What this means is: Despite the so-called inflation, prices are yet substantially below a 1923 "normal," but it may not be long before people again start talking about the high cost of living.

AMBIGUITY
Such governmental predictions of future prices are extremely rare. The government has always been content to estimate crops to the best of its ability, but generally leaves speculative price interpretation to unofficial speculators.

At Last, We're Getting Results

South central Idaho and the Four States Highway association will welcome the news that Governor Clark has instructed the attorney general to start condemnation proceedings against the inter-county bridge north of Twin Falls.

Twin Falls county has fought this toll for years, and the governor's action, coupled with the last legislature's passage of an enabling act, comes as the first major victory.

Quite in contrast was the Twin Falls delegation's reception when it called on Governor Clark this week. Compared with what it received when the matter was brought to Governor Ross' attention several years ago.

Stop, Look, Listen
When an automobile driver comes to a railroad crossing, the responsibility for getting across the tracks safely is entirely his. The railroad can erect warning signals and instruct engineers to exercise all possible caution; but, in the very nature of things, it is up to the motorist to see that the way is clear before he proceeds.

Nazified Movies
Herr Goebbels, Germany's propaganda minister, has inaugurated a new system of grading German films. Under this schedule, "politically valuable" movies without claim to artistic merit are to be graded higher than the artistically or culturally valuable film without political significance.

Table with commodity prices: Potatoes, bu., (cents) 130.2; 92.2. These figures show most of the major crops have achieved the long-sought price goal.

CONCLUSIONS
What this means is: Despite the so-called inflation, prices are yet substantially below a 1923 "normal," but it may not be long before people again start talking about the high cost of living. Some prices are going faster than others. Salaries and fixed incomes (pensions, dividends, etc.) do not fluctuate appreciably.

Buhl Church Group Has Yearly Event

BUHL, April 3 (Special)—The Missionary society of the Buhl Presbyterian church entertained with its annual Easter brunch Thursday at the home of Mrs. C. C. Voeller. Place cards for the 80 guests were in the shape of half an egg shell in which a tiny spray of Jerusalem Cherry was planted. The shells were glued to a foundation card and were wrapped in green paper.

The scripture was read by Rev. Mr. Spencer, pastor of the church. Miss Marian Kircher and Vivian Swiger sang a duet, "Sweet Mercy," accompanied by Mrs. L. J. Johnson. Mrs. Kircher and Miss Marian sang "Silent Voice," also accompanied by Mrs. Johnson. Mrs. James Shields, solo, concluded the program with a solo. She was accompanied by Mrs. Carl Curtis.

Buhl Pastor Named To District Office

BUHL, April 3 (Special)—Rev. W. H. Hertzog, pastor of the Buhl Methodist church for the past two years, has been appointed district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church for southern Idaho. Mr. Hertzog succeeds Dr. Andrew Warner.

Reverend LeRoy H. Walker, Burley, will be the new pastor at Buhl. Reverend and Mrs. Hertzog will remain in Buhl with their family until school closes and then will probably move to Twin Falls.

PAUL

Ninety persons attended a banquet given Wednesday in honor of the boys' and girls' basketball teams in the gymnasium of the Paul school. The room was decorated in blue and gold and the tables in black and gold. The program consisted of toasts and responses by students and a beautiful statue with names of the winning girls' teams presented to them.

The W. A. Lauderdale place, west of Paul, was set this week to Judge Stanley of Rupert. His grandson will farm the place. Cornelius Verberg, formerly of Paul, now of New York City, with Mrs. Verberg and daughter, spent two days here this week. He is traveling auditor for the Western Electric Co. Work has been received here from Mrs. Olive Billows of the birth of a son to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Billows, Portland.

ROGERSON

Mrs. J. W. Johnson, of Pocatello, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Posey. Mrs. Wesley Ambrose is home again, looking much improved in health. An Easter service was held at the church on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Baird are again living in Rogerson while the former is working with Mr. Colson. Mrs. James Mason has left for Halleck, Nev., after her Easter vacation from her school.

What's Doing at SUN VALLEY (By Evening Times Special Correspondent)

IT'S QUIET AND SEPULCHRAL NOW AS SUN VALLEY LODGE 'FOLDS UP'

By J. P. GALLAGHER SUN VALLEY, April 3 (Special)—This is more or less the nature of a post mortem for the lodge is now very firmly buttoned up and will remain so until early in July. But we must have something of a farewell for the season. . . The employees had a royal party the other night, with dinner in the main dining room, then a dance in the "Duchess" room for which Earl Smith and his gang did their utmost, and even "ottdid themselves" in our behalf. George Hoy, the English valet who swears so fluently and willingly at the Twin Falls laundry just to keep in form against his return to New York, put on a one-man floor show, doing an Egyptian snake dance, with a necktie as the piece de resistance. And the "Odious Octette" lustily sang the now famous theme song of the Union Pacific, to the great admiration of all the sturdier-minded citizenry there present. . . Bob Johnson, the bell-hop wonder, performed very classically on the pianoforte. That big beefy Gael, Pat Egan, yodelled with much gusto, and later impinged on a vocalo; with Ruth Owens, our pulchritudinous pet who runs the news stand. The dancers overflowed the floor and extended things out into the lobby, lounge and corridor. It was a hang-up event that ended in time to start work again the next morning, and the anti-climax started with the groves of staff members, starting their exodus, shouting back and forth the Sun Valley pass-word which is "ba-a-a-a." Gene Van Gilder took a little jaunt up to Galena summit and surrounding peaks, and upon his return, Swinton came along and asked, "Well, Gene, how were the summit?" Gene replied, oh, so casually, "Tops," and then wondered why everyone roared. "Nellie" Nelson, local threat for Tarzan title, and one of the longest in service of the Interstate drivers, went fox hunting, so they tell us, and in a draw near a cabin close by, spotted two very skittish animals of deep hue, playing about with each other. Visions of lucrative reimbursement for a pair of silver fox pelts began to swim about in "Nellie's" thought box, as he brought his howitzer to bear on the wary game. Firing four shots, he beheld one victim roll over, mortally hurt, giving all in one last lunge under the cabin. The other target scampered away unscathed. Returning to the garage to get pry-bars, etc. Nellie went back and did a neat job of wrecking the cabin, only to find that his kill consisted of a large black house cat. Nellie's face is red, his clothes are torn, and he is badly on the pan with the paws, whose remarks, he maintains, are for the most part, decidedly catty. . . It certainly is quiet in these parts, so much so that the few remaining employees are beginning to wear bells so that they won't get lost from each other in the building, or get lonesome. And the one remaining guest, Martha Love, an appealing lady here from St. Louis to do feature writing on old time Ketchum, and its present carryover of the past as aligned with the modern invasion, is going around muttering to herself and will probably take away some morning with a wild look in her eye. . . All in all, it has been quite a season, and we wouldn't have missed it for anything. It was the creation of something new in a field that was broad and limited, a most luxurious form of pioneering, that fortunately but quite logically turned out to be an overwhelming success, very gratifying to its creators and all others concerned. We were very fortunate to have had a ring-side seat, where we could watch the actual development and progress of this project, an opportunity for which we are most grateful, for it was a rare experience with which we would not willingly part. So today we leave Sun Valley for its first season, anticipating a return next fall to participate in an even greater development of this more than modern experiment in Idaho, America's last frontier.

HEALTH UNIT PLANS STUDENT TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN

Move Aims for Early Detection

A county-wide program for the discovery of early tuberculosis will be instigated among the approximately 1,000 junior and senior class members in every high school in Twin Falls county starting next week, Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the county health unit, said today.

The program, a continuance of one carried on in the county and state during previous years by the Anti-Tuberculosis association, will start with tuberculin skin testing of all the upper class students. It is hoped that all who show a positive skin test may be given the advantage of a chest X-ray.

Fund Available
A limited fund has been made available to the Twin Falls county Anti-Tuberculosis association for those who cannot afford to have the X-rays made. This X-ray of positive reaction, it was explained, should be made to ascertain whether or not any damage has been done to the lungs and if there is activity of the infection.

The skin testing will be entirely free of charge, the material being obtained from the state department of public health without charge to this county.

The skin tests will be given under the personal supervision of Dr. Hawkins, assisted by public health nurses.

Slips are being sent out to parents and guardians of all students coming within the junior-senior group explaining the nature of the test. In addition to this request slip is attached which must be filled out and signed by the parent or guardian. The "request" asks that the test be given to the child and also includes space for a brief history of the child concerning his contact with tuberculosis and whether or not he has had previous tuberculous illness.

The results of the tests will be available both to the private physician and the parents.

Early Detection
With the development of the skin test and the X-ray it has been made possible to detect this infection before any damage has been done and at a time when correction is easy," Dr. Hawkins said today. "The test is made by placing a drop of liquid tuberculin within the upper layer of the skin. This is harmless. Tuberculin is neither a serum nor a vaccine. It is only a skin test.

"If the spot becomes red and slightly swollen within a few days, it means that the tuberculous germs have at some time entered the body. A positive reaction to the test does not mean that they have tuberculosis and they are in no way a menace to others."

"We have all the knowledge for the early discovery of tuberculosis. It is high time we ceased to find the cause for the first time after they are far advanced. Only wide education will help. We realize wide education is needed when we reflect that tuberculosis is still the chief cause of death of all between the ages of 15 and 45, the most productive period of life," Hawkins said.

Campaign Month
April is the month of the year during which early diagnosis campaigns are carried on throughout the United States. Dr. Hawkins urges that all persons have the skin tests and chest examinations made during this period whether or not they are numbered among those of the high schools who will be offered the test in this program. Those of the other groups should see their private physicians for their.

During the high school program silent and talking films will be shown to the students. The films will deal with tuberculosis and were made available in this work through the Anti-Tuberculosis association.

At the same time, a concrete plan for elimination of the bird was searched for without satisfaction. Shooting is too expensive, it was said.

PLANS MADE FOR VOCATION MEETS

First in Series of Three Set For Hansen on Monday And Tuesday

The first of a series of three vocational conferences to be staged in Twin Falls county will get underway Monday at Hansen and continue through Tuesday, Harold Salsbury, NYA district supervisor announced today.

Details for the Tuesday session, at which all the student body will be reached, will be worked out Monday by Supt. Ralph T. Nyblad in cooperation with Mr. Salsbury, Miss Kay Skillern, vocational counselor from Boise, and Miss Faye Norris, administrative assistant, also of Boise.

Subjects Listed

Lay discussion leaders will be chosen from men of the community who are interested in youth and who are willing to present their own vocations in a fair way to the discussion group interested in that particular vocation.

Fight "Blind Alleys"
The aim of the vocational conference is to steer youth away from occupational blind alleys into careers with wholesome remunerative employment," Mr. Salsbury said. "In guidance we cannot choose a career for youth, we can merely motivate the thinking of youth into channels of vocational thought. Information regarding careers, personal qualifications, requirements for entering and training and probable returns must be presented. Then from these facts available youth must choose his own life's work."

Similar conferences will be held in Burleigh on April 12 and 13, and in Kimberly on April 14 and 15, Salsbury said.

THEATERS

Stars of "Personal Property"

Right from the arms of Garbo, Robert Taylor stepped into the fervid embraces of Jean Harlow. The two are co-starred for the first time in the comedy drama, "Personal Property," opening tomorrow at the Orpheum theater, in which Taylor is seen as the ne'er-do-well of an English family who becomes butler in the house of his brother's fiancée, a widow from Iowa.

Powell at Idaho Joan Bennett, Joel McCrea in Roxy Hit

William Powell and Kay Francis have been re-starred in a number of pictures, each of which has met high acclaim from both the public and the press. Their highest triumph, however, was in "One Way Passage" which begins a three-day engagement at the Idaho theater tomorrow. Showing for the last time tonight, Ralph Bellamy is featured in Harold Bell Wright's "Wild Brian Kent."

A new screen team, Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea, refreshing in their new comedy and delightful in their romantic moments, according to Hollywood Reports, will be starred in Universal's "Two in a Crowd" at the Roxy theater, beginning tomorrow.

When the story opens, the two halves of a torn thousand dollar bill bring the pair together. Their escapades on New Year's eve lead to further hilarious developments that plumb the depths of humor.

Nazis Order Hens To Lay More Eggs

BERLIN, April 3 (U.P.)—"We request that every hen lay between 130 and 140 eggs a year," announced the Nazi party news agency today. Present production is 90 eggs a hen.

In making its "request" the news agency advised farmers to get hens of the Aryan sort. "The increase can not be increased by the bastard hens which now populate German farm yards," said the agency. "Replace these undesirable and replace them with hens which the chicken farmers' organization have found to be the most efficient."

Farmers were warned against seeking an increase in production by over-populating their chicken yards. What is needed, it was explained, is an increase in eggs per hen.
