

5,596 VOTERS AWAIT MUNICIPAL ELECTION TUESDAY

ABSENTEES CAST NEW HIGH TOTAL

Weather Forecasts Call for Showers; Three Posts Up for Decision

With registration a thing of the past, over 5,000 eligible voters of Twin Falls looked forward today to Tuesday's city election which will see the naming of a mayor and two councilmen.

With weather forecasts calling for showers, there was some speculation today whether or not a record turnout would be recorded from among the 5,596 residents whose names appear on the election rolls. During Saturday, the last day of registration, a total of 417 persons registered, bringing the total of new registrations to 1,459 or 113 from the first and 716 from the second ward.

New Record
A new record in absentee ballots voted was set when the final tabulation, announced by City Clerk W. H. Eldridge, showed 229 persons had voted in this manner. Of the absentee voters, 159 were from ward one and 70 from ward two.

Work of compiling the election registers in duplicate for each ward was completed late this afternoon. The city clerk and assistants worked until 1 a. m. today on the registers and continued at 8 a. m., to list the 5,596 names alphabetically and by families for each of the two wards.

On the ballots tomorrow will appear the names of Duncan Mack Johnson, present mayor who seeks to succeed himself, and Lem A. Chapin, council member who is running against Johnson. Four are running for two council seats. They are Milton V. Powell, commissioner of parks and public buildings, and H. Coleman, commissioner of public safety, both seeking to succeed themselves, and Paul R. Tarter and Leonard F. Avant, both well known local businessmen.

Heads List
Reading the list of eligible voters in ward one will be Fred Abbott of 527 Second avenue west, while last on the alphabetical list in the same ward will be Jack Zweigle of 744 Second avenue west.

In ward two the first name appearing on the long list is that of Clarence Abbott of the Hogerson hotel, while last on the list will be Mrs. Willis F. Zilkey of 515 Blue Lakes boulevard.

Polls will be open at 9 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. It being expected the result will be known shortly afterwards. Residents of ward one, residing north and west of Shoshone street, will vote at the American Electric company, 152 Second avenue north, while residents of ward two, south and east of Shoshone street, will ballot at Lind's Super Auto Service, 140 Second avenue east.

With the exception of newspaper advertising the campaign has been marked by a lack of speeches and observers listed it under the heading of "quiet."

TWIN FALLS FORCE WATSONS FOR ARMED BAKER, OR., MEN AND WOMAN

Automobiles entering Twin Falls from the west were being closely watched today by local police officers who were aiding in the search for three persons, two men and a woman, who escaped from the Baker, Ore., jail early this morning after a daring break.

The three, Clifford Ray Tiffany, 20, Reggie Violet Tiffany alias Besse Larsen, 20, and George Melvin Coffin, 21, escaped from the jail at that point and entered the sheriff's office there, making off with a gas gun and a 22 revolver.

They are believed to be traveling in a gray Oldsmobile sedan, bearing Oregon license number 84-900 and headed toward Twin Falls after the break, reports received here indicate.

Description Given
The trio is also reported to have kidnapped a taxi driver from the Oregon city, Reason for suspecting kidnaping of the cab driver, the report received here stated, was that the taxi man drove to a service station shortly after the escape and ordered 14 gallons of gasoline. The station attendant said it was the driver's practice to order only five gallons at a time. The driver's name was not learned locally.

He observed three passengers in the cab, a man sitting with the driver, and another man and a woman in the rear seat.

The three were described as follows: Clifford Tiffany, five feet 11 inches tall, weight 140 pounds, brown eyes, dark brown hair and dark complexion.

Besse Tiffany, alias Larsen, height five feet two inches, weight 110 pounds, gray eyes, blond hair, she is described as being "hard" looking.

the highway in front of the oncoming machine driven by Frank Lynch of Buhl and carrying as a passenger his brother, James Lynch.

Cherry was caught between the two machines as they collided. Passing motorists aided Mrs. Samuelson and Cherry to the hospital, leaving Mrs. Cherry and Huntley still in the machine, parked by the side of the road.

Hits Stalled Car

Approximately 30 minutes later a machine driven by Maurice Hagman of Buhl, with Ralph Moore of Buhl as a passenger, arrived at the scene of the accident while traveling toward Twin Falls. He failed to see the damaged machines in the road and crashed into the stalled Huntley car. The Hagman machine then glanced and struck the car of H. L. Olson of Piler, a nearby resident in order that his lights might aid in extracting the injured from the wreckage.

Hagmen was then taken to the hospital but was released after treatment.

The four machines involved in the accident were badly damaged. Kingsbury said. He indicated a possibility that charges would be filed against one of the drivers, but did not indicate which one it would be.

Hospital attendants today said Cherry died as the result of internal injuries, compound fracture of the left leg and possible skull fracture.

Cherry was born in Franklin, Idaho, on July 3, 1911 and had resided in Twin Falls for the past 13 years. He was a member of the L. D. S. church and resided at 344 Washington.

Aside from his wife, Mrs. Ora Cherry, he is survived by a stepdaughter, LaVerne Lippert, 14 of Twin Falls; his mother, Mrs. Betsy Cherry of Twin Falls; a full brother, Wilford Cherry of Twin Falls and two half-brothers, Ted Johnson of Twin Falls and Eph Johnson of Preston; three sisters, Mrs. Amanda Bullock and Mrs. Fay Young, both of Twin Falls and Mrs. H. Layland of Cokeville, Wyo.

Thomas Cherry, father of the youth, died in Twin Falls six years ago.

The body rests at the Drake mortuary awaiting funeral arrangements. Interment will be in the Twin Falls cemetery with a bishop of the L. D. S. church officiating.

FORD SIT-DOWNS RETURN TO WORK

New Time Cards and Promise Of Pay Check Greet 2,300 Laborers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 5 (AP)—The full force of men at Ford Motor company's plant here went back to work on assembly lines today under an agreement which settled a one-day sit-down strike.

New time cards and the promise of a pay check today greeted the 2,300 workers.

Union leaders expected to learn from the pay checks whether the layoff in which they charged the management used a "systematic discrimination against union men" was to become effective.

Ed Hall, vice president of the United Automobile Workers Union who negotiated the peace, told them all employees were to return to plant, "even those who quit."

Workers believed the check would show how many men were to be effected by production curtailment. If the check was for March 15 to April 1, they indicated, it would show the man was to be retained. If checks included pay for two extra days in April it would be an indication recipients were to be laid off, workers said.

The agreement was that seniority would be respected in event the company felt layoffs were necessary. The layoff last week affected 350 men.

Friends Celebrate Pioneer's Birthday

The 79th birthday of Robert Bros, Sr., was celebrated yesterday at his country home. He is one of the earliest settlers of Rock Creek and many reminiscences were related concerning the Indian days.

One of the special features of the event was an airplane ride, his first given by Mr. Brosse by Russ Mingo and Dan Pfaff. Dinner was served afterwards by his daughters.

Among the guests were Mrs. Curtis Turner, Mrs. Terrill, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Stricker, Al Jones, Art Norton, Harry Berger, Henry McCormick, Mr. McManis, Al Kiefer, Mr. Nohe, Otto Schurger, George Erlund, "Mat" Brosse, Nephil Larsen and H. H. Friesheim.

$50,575 DAMAGE CASE UNDER WAY

Suit Over Death of Local Father Begins in Court With Jury Choice

Trial of a $50,575.60 damage arising after death of a Twin Falls man in an auto accident last Aug. 9 opened in district court here today and selection of a jury neared completion early this afternoon.

The suit, brought by Alice Stuart on behalf of herself and two minor sons, Gordon William Stuart and Gilbert Edward Stuart, names Ora McVeoy, G. M. McVeoy and M. O. McVeoy as defendants.

Mrs. Stuart's husband, Floyd Stuart, father of the two boys, died after the family car was assertedly rammed by a truck belonging to McVeoy's local company. The fatal accident occurred at 9 p. m. Aug 9, three and a half miles east of the city limits on Addison avenue.

Driver of the McVeoy truck, according to the complaint in the case, was Leroy Gobbe, Twin Falls. The machines were going in opposite directions at the time.

Total amount asked in the suit, one of the largest on record here in recent years, includes $50,000 general damages; $100 doctor expenses; $108.80 for hospitalization; $190 funeral costs and $180 for destruction of the Stuart car.

Selection of the jury was expected to be completed this afternoon and hearing of testimony started.

HARRIS ESTATE PETITION FILED

Petition for administrative powers in the estate of Henry Harris, noted Negro employe of the ranches of the late Governor Sparks of Nevada and of the Utah Construction company, was filed in probate court today by H. N. Yarbrough, Twin Falls.

Mr. Harris died here Saturday at the Yarbrough home.

The estate, the court was informed, consists of $1,770 in cash and one promissory note. Heirs include a brother, J. P. Harris, Los Angeles, and a niece whose address is unknown at present.

Hearing was set for April 15 by Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney. O. C. Hall is attorney for the petitioner.

U. S. Justice Departs From Text in Giving Regular Dissenting Opinion

Wagner labor relations act was not presented. Next Monday is now the earliest date at which the Wagner opinion can be announced.

Woman Emphasized
Speaking of Ethel Coawans, convicted without jury trial of unlicensed selling of railroad tickets, McReynolds emphasized the fact that it was a woman who was involved—a fact which immediately brought the listeners' minds last week's bitter court division over the Washington state minimum wage law for women.

"Our social predilections are so strong within us that we cannot consider this a petty offense," said McReynolds of the ticket-selling case. "What is to become of the other solemn declarations of the amendment? (Sixth amendment guaranteeing right of trial by jury.)"

"Does this mean that she may be denied a speedy trial, a right to appear and make the charges, to be taken to distant places for a trial, or to have counsel?"

Separate Opinion
Customarily, a dissenting opinion bears in its caption only the name of the jurist who wrote it. At the end of the opinion, usually appears the names of the other dissenting jurists. In today's opinion, the hearing was "the separate opinion" of Mr. Justice McReynolds and Mr. Justice Butler.

The court took three actions of New Deal significance at today's session.

It refused to interfere with an injunction restraining the Georgia Power Co. from prosecuting a suit against the Tennessee valley authority.

It refused as it has several times in the past to hear a request for an injunction against a national labor relations board hearing.

It declined a new test of the municipal bankruptcy law, outlawed in a court decision last year.

TEACHERS WILL MEET SATURDAY

Rural Instructors Will Hear Program and Talk Over Major Events

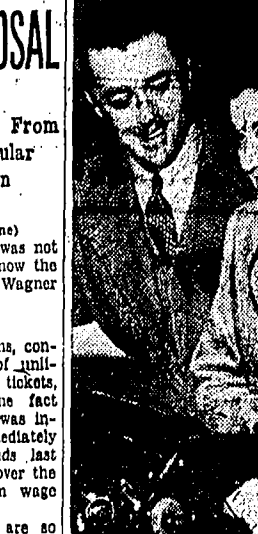

Rural grade school instructors will convene at 2 p. m. Saturday at a meeting of the Twin Falls County Teachers' association, it was announced here this afternoon by Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of schools. The meeting will be held in Twin Falls high school building.

Special program will include numbers by the Girls' glee club of Deep Creek school, talk by Earl Stansell, district club agent, on activities of the 4-H clubs, and a demonstration of marionettes by Ivan C. Main, Twin Falls, who will discuss their use in elementary schools.

Business program will feature discussion of the Twin Falls county rural grade school music festival April 30, the county track meet at Piler May 7, and participation at the county fair through school exhibits.

ties of the corps and with the wealth that is being added to our national resources for the benefit of future generations.

"More important than the material gain, however, is the improvement we find in the moral and physical well being of our citizens who have been enrolled in the corps and of their families who have been assisted by monthly allotments of pay."

In line with the President's recommendations it was believed the number of camps would be reduced gradually toward 1,500 during the fiscal year. The CCC has established a policy of placing approximately 200 enrollees in each camp. A reduction in the corps also would mean a reduction in the number of camps.

Congressmen had asked the President to maintain the strength of the CCC at 400,000 and they may start a fight on the floor to increase the total.

On the Road to the Hospital

This is the biggest part of the Pratt Sales Co. talking. This happens to be Monday morning and Claude Pratt is already doing the kick-walk.

"We jumped right into the middle of the tire business and we're kicking tires every direction. I'm throwing some good ringers. Some tires and tubes are making a good landing in Richfield, Rupert and Burley, some are going as far as American Falls and Boise. Saturday we sold 24 new Badger tires and six used tires. 30 tires in one day is equal to a full carload a month, but when you can save a truck driver $20 on a single tire it's no wonder we go wild. And when we can sell a 30¢ tire, a new Badger over size for $3.37 it ought to open anybody's eyes. We can sell you a rebuilt tire cheaper than that. We just let the goose out of the sack and its a wild goose too. That old goose is flying in every direction and he's got a squawk equal to a threshing machine whistle. That old wild goose is flying over every house in this community and screaming out: "Tires, tires, tires"—Go to Claude Pratt just as soon as you can get there. Just take a good look at your feet and say, feet do your stuff. It doesn't matter if your coat-tail does flap in the breeze as you make the lightning run down to the Pratt Sales Co. Be careful when you turn corners we've got a big wide open space in the road where you can turn in quick. A new Badger tire 4.40x21—$3.98.

While you think of it roll an empty barrel in your trailer or put some empty 5 gal. cans in the back of your car as we undoubtedly sell the best motor oil that comes to the State of Idaho. If you want to see a genuine Timpink bearing test made under extreme pressure at high speed, bring a sample of your favorite motor oil along and let the oil testing machine show you the difference. This Arkansas, 100% vacuum processed oil is just as pure as a fine syphon and will save you four hard cents and all the motor oil you need to use. We are also selling lumber, shingles, and lath and doors and windows and paint and oil as well as kalsomine, axle grease, gun grease, hard oil, bricks and timbles and we still have the bulldog here on hand it will do you good to see how tight dog holds on.

ACCUSED MAN ARRESTED

WORLD ARMAMENT SPREADS TO SMALL EUROPEAN NATIONS

LITTLE ENTENTE CONSTRUCTS BIG DEFENSIVE LINES

Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Denmark All Join in Arming Race

By WEBB MILLER
(Copyright 1937, United Press)
LONDON, April 5 (U.P.)—The contagion of the worldwide armament race has infected every nation in Europe, large and small.

The smallest and most peaceful countries, whose only object is the maintenance of national security, are startled by the war preparations of their big neighbors. They too have commenced spending to build up their defenses.

Even pacific Denmark which most nearly achieved the ideal of disarmament, has felt impelled to introduce a defense bill of 20,000,000 kroner ($4,371,000) for modernization of her army and construction of new warships in the next six years.

Equally peaceful Norway is preparing a defense bill in which the Socialist leaders are demanding an increase in the military budget estimates from $9,348,000 to $13,530,000.

Sweden Boosts Budget
Sweden already has boosted her military budget from $28,268,800 to $37,355,200, and has a special appropriation of $27,250,200 which may be spent in three years to purchase modern war material.

Holland, with her vulnerable empire in the Dutch East Indies, is quickly strengthening her army. She is adding 100 airplanes to her air force, building eight submarines and rushing her frontier defenses to completion. Already 42 of 44 blockhouses along her border are ready.

A year ago Holland voted $36,000,000 to be spent on airplanes and anti-aircraft guns. Her plans to resist invasion include calling on her traditional enemy, water, as her strongest ally in wartime by cutting her dikes and flooding great areas of the Netherlands.

Holland rejected Fuhrer Adolf Hitler's offer last January to guarantee her neutrality. She contended that her integrity was automatic, not subject to written agreements. But she prepares to fight, if necessary.

Belgium Shapes Defense
Belgium, for centuries Europe's battlefield, found engaged in shaping new diplomatic defenses aimed to free herself from any commitments to France or anyone in wartime. She has a new foreign policy based on her independence, neutrality and impartiality toward her neighbors. This was one of the objects of King Leopold's recent visit to London.

Under a new military statute, Belgium maintains a mobile armed force of 30,000 soldiers trained to hear the brunt of a back pending the mobilization of a supporting field army of about 650,000 men. Her eastern frontier is strongly fortified, chiefly with steel and concrete underground forts. This year, Belgium is spending $66,312,000 on her army and other defenses and she has $25,603,800 in her extraordinary budget also available.

Austria is planning to raise loans equivalent to $50,000,000, of which $5,000,000 will be devoted to additional armaments.

Balkans Rush Defense
All the Balkan nations are rushing defense increases. Yugoslavia maintains 115,000 soldiers under arms but Premier Milan Stoyadinitch said that counting trained reserves, the country could put 1,000,000 men in the field. This year's military budget totaled $57,318,000, nearly one-fourth of the whole budget and about $11,650,000 more than last year.

Hungary, with only a small army of 35,000 men, raised her military budget $792,000 to a total of $19,324,800.

Roumania, with 140,000 men in her army, has a total budget amounting to $19,240,000. She has an appropriation of $2,965,920 in her ordinary estimates as well as $1,335,500 for an extraordinary spending program.

The larger middle European nations—Poland and Czechoslovakia—are wedged in between powerful and mutually hostile neighbors. Germany and Soviet Russia. They occupy a dangerous situation in the event of war in which either neighbor is implicated.

Polish Joke
Poland's position is illustrated by a current joke in Warsaw that the Polish national salute now consists of the right hand raised in the Hitler salute and the left hand simultaneously raised in the Communist clenched fist salute.

Poland has launched a five-year plan of extensive rearmament added by a new French loan of $119,730,000 to be spent largely for war materials in France. This year, she will spend in her regular military budget $219,788,400—over half the total regular budget, the largest proportion in any nation except possibly Germany.

Czechoslovakia is an island of democracy in a sea of totalitarianism. She is characterized as "the Belgium of the next war." She is supplementing her alliances with France, Russia, and the little entente by heavy reinforcements of her military strength.

SENATORS BEHIND CANCER MEASURE

95 Solons in Washington Sign Bill for $1,000,000 Appropriation

WASHINGTON, April 5 (U.P.)—Ninety-four of the senate's present 95 members joined forces today behind a proposal to launch a $1,000,000 annual drive against cancer.

They signed their names to a bill drafted by Sen. Homer T. Bone, D., Wash., which would appropriate that amount for cancer research during the next fiscal year. A companion measure was introduced in the house by Rep. Warren Magnuson, D., Wash.

Only senator whose name did not appear on the bill was Peter G. Gerry, D., R. I. William H. Smithers, D., N. J., has not yet taken oath of office.

The measure would allot the money to the U. S. public health service to use "for the prevention, control and eradication" of cancer, which annually kills one and a half times as many Americans as all the residents of the state of Nevada and more than half as many as live in Wyoming or Delaware.

Bone said that appropriation of $1,000,000 yearly would equal all the funds now spent for "worthwhile" cancer research throughout the world.

"The importance of obtaining the disseminating knowledge about cancer is indicated by the fact that four out of five cases of early cancers can be cured but not even one out of five of late cases can be cured," Bone said.

Rupert Woman's club held its regular meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Roseberry. A feature of the meeting was the book review given by Mrs. A. E. Johnson of "My Ten Years in a Quandary and How They Grew."

The monthly dance at Rupert high school was given Friday with the freshman class in charge. Committee chairman in charge of arrangements were: Ina Snapp, decorations, Kenneth Cunningham, music; Rex Stanley, floor; Alta Mae Muller, tickets; LaMoine Player, invitations; and Helen Eagles, entertainment. Faculty advisors of the class include Miss Dorothy Mae Getty, Miss Pauline Clark, Miss Esther Wohlhuth and Edgar Lacy.

Mrs. T. D. Foster and sons, Billy and Tom, Jr., a lived Wednesday night from Sioux Falls, So. Dak., to make their home in Rupert. Mr. Foster, who came some time ago, is manager of the Tri-State Lumber company, having assumed the position upon the resignation of H. W. Cargill, who has retired from business.

Frank Hunter, who left here recently for Detroit to take delivery of a new car, returned Saturday, bringing with him his bride, the former Miss Evelyn Blumming, of Chicago. The young couple are making their home temporarily with Frank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hunter.

Several members of the Rupert high school fencing club went to Heyburn Friday where they put on exhibition matches for the Heyburn chapter of Future Farmers of America. Those who went were: Clyde Linzy, LaMar Dixon, Charles Ward, Kenneth Friesen and R. D. Armstrong, coach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Betty returned Thursday from three months spent in Los Angeles.

Dr. and Mrs. Payne H. Kenagy left this week by auto for Seattle, where Dr. Kenagy will be in attendance at a sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons.

A special election was held in Rupert Tuesday for the purpose of voting for the 5-mill levy necessary for the operating expense of the Rupert public schools. The result was 30 in favor and 6 against.

Mrs. Milton Patton and baby were dismissed from Rupert General hospital Friday.

Services Held for Infant at Rupert
RUPERT, April 5 (Special)—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Goodman mortuary for Howard Leroy Martin, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin, Jr., Paul, who died Friday at the family home.

The child was born Nov. 7, 1935.

The World's Record Holder... Glenn Hardin... Going Over the Hurdles

WAITING FOR THE GUN—Moments when nervous tension reaches the crest. As Glenn says: "It's a punishing pace." Like many another champion who prizes good condition and healthy nerves, Glenn Hardin chooses Camels for his cigarette. "They never jangle my nerves," he says.

SAILING OVER A LOW HURDLE—It looks effortless, but Glenn's strained, tense face shows how the race drains tremendous physical and nervous energy out of him.

TOPPING A HIGH HURDLE—Superb form helped Glenn win honors in 2 Olympics—and brought him the world's record. His record-breaking time, 50.6 seconds for the 400-meter hurdles, was sensational.

BREASTING THE TAPE—Glenn Hardin is famous for his sprinting finish. He calls on his reserve energy to send him flying to the tape. And after the finish, he lights up a Camel. Why? Because, in his own words: "Camels help to ease strain. They set me right."

THE YOUNGEST MAN on the Olympic track squad. Glenn Hardin was only 20 years old when he won his first Olympic victory for the U. S. He eats sensibly—takes good digestion for granted. The picture (right) shows Glenn enjoying his favorite meal—rare, thick, juicy steak, green vegetables, fruit, milk, and Camels. As Glenn phrases it: "It wouldn't do me much good to eat and not digest properly. So I smoke Camels for digestion's sake. It's grand to light up Camels and enjoy the sense of well-being that comes when digestion is going along o-kay."

"NO MAN WANTS JITTERY NERVES, when there's high voltage all around him," says Raymond Newby, radio engineer. "That's why my choice is Camels. I've always heard, and my own experience convinces me, that Camels don't jangle the nerves."

AIR HOSTESS of a leading air-line, Miss Betty Steffen, observes: "I strive to be alert every single minute. I find Camels are a wonderful help in keeping me feeling pepped-up. I smoke as many Camels as I please. They never get on my nerves."

An Important Fact for Cigarette Smokers

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS... Turkish and Domestic... than any other popular brand.

MRS. ANTHONY J. DREXEL, 3rd, in the spacious dining salon of the S.S. Normanda, enjoys an after-dinner Camel. "Social life keeps nerves on the qui vive," says the society leader. "Smoking Camels tends to minimize the strain. It's been my experience that Camels encourage a sense of well-being. They're so mild—I never tire of them."

The Third Term Tradition

If the editors of Fortune Magazine have taken the public pulse correctly, the good people of the United States are rapidly losing their traditional opposition to a third term for American presidents.

Fortune's quarterly survey, which last fall achieved the distinction (rare among surveys) of telling which way the election was going to go, undertook recently to find out how people felt about the following question:

"If there should be agitation for President Roosevelt to run for a third term, what would be your attitude?"

Seven per cent of the people questioned said they would oppose the plan because they just don't like Mr. Roosevelt. Twenty-six per cent would oppose it on principle, although they like Mr. Roosevelt. Slightly more than 10 per cent would oppose it for a combination of both reasons.

On the other hand, 22 per cent would be in favor of a third term. Twenty-six per cent would be for it if Mr. Roosevelt's second term turned out successfully. And eight per cent didn't know just where they'd stand.

When you examine these findings, you may learn some interesting things about the public's regard for Mr. Roosevelt; but the really interesting thing is that for the overwhelming majority the question of a third term is a matter of personality rather than of principle.

If Fortune's survey represents the nation as a whole, only a small segment of the populace—something like one-third of the total number—is opposed to the idea of a third term as such. The remainder would be for it or against it, depending on who was seeking it.

So it looks as if the unwritten law laid down by Washington, indorsed by Jefferson, subscribed to by a long succession of great presidents, and enforced by the general public on the misguided Grant, had lost most of its appeal. The people seem to be ready to throw it overboard if they are asked in the right way.

Now it is worth remembering that this unwritten law has become a very important part of our scheme of government.

We give our president greater powers than are given to an elective officer by any other democracy on earth; and one of the chief reasons why we can do it without undermining our democracy is the fact that we know in-advance that he isn't in there for keeps. He gets eight years, at the most. No matter what his popularity, no matter how effective his political machine, tradition calls on him to step down at the end of his second term.

Suppose, now, that this tradition has become ineffective. Overnight one of our democracy's chief safeguards is lost. We have tacitly invited the first able and popular leader who comes along to give us his services for life.

We could do a great deal worse, during the next year or so, than to examine this third term tradition thoughtfully and decided anew whether it is not a tradition worth keeping.

Normal Hazards

Dr. Paul B. Sears, Oklahoma's famous soil conservation authority, remarked in an interview the other day that drouths should be accepted as normal hazards of the farmer's life, just as traffic accidents are normal hazards for an insurance company. Once they are so accepted, he said, due provision can be made for them and they can be robbed of many of their terrors.

And what are these "due provisions"? Well, says Dr. Sears, strip planting is one—ribboning wheat fields with narrow strips of tough grasses which help to hold moisture in the soil after rain. Another is the making of regular tests of soil moisture and refraining from planting crops when these tests are unfavorable. Letting land lie fallow in dry years would help.

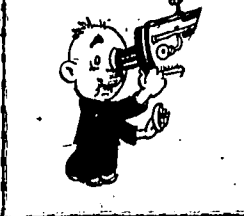

Between the thoughtless optimist who proclaims that drouths on the western plains are exceptional, and the pessimist who would clear those plains of farms altogether, there is a wide middle ground. Dr. Sears seems ideally equipped for the task of making this middle ground familiar to us.

To be annexed, or not to be annexed, that's the question. Any way, you've got us guessing.

Headline: "City Water Heads Study Sewer Plan." Careful now, boys. There's a place to draw the line even when it comes to Twin Falls' drinking water supply.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE ENDS!
AFTER NEGOTIATIONS over the week-end, Pot Shots ended his sit-down strike at 12:27 1/2 p. m. Sunday. Unlike most sit-down strikers, we didn't win any of our demands. But there must always be martyrs in any cause. Anyway, we almost won our higher pay and shorter hour demand. We only lost $2 weekly on our salary and only have to work seven hours longer each week. Practically a moral triumph.

Pot Shots ed note: the following document was filed today by the same female personage who filed the original divorce suit against us. We print it with no comment whatever:

MOTION FOR DISMISSAL

DEFENDANT

COMES NOW the plaintiff and moves that the allegations in the above-entitled action be dismissed against the defendant on the following grounds, to-wit:

I
The plaintiff, after deep and serious consideration, is no longer certain that plaintiff and defendant in the above-entitled action intermarried at Twin Falls, county of Twin Falls, the sixth day of March, 1937.

II
The plaintiff, after further deep and serious consideration, withdraws her claim that the defendant is addicted to gambling, i.e., squandering money on slot machines, because said slot machines are NOT gambling—the sucker hasn't a chance. The court is prayed not to construe this statement as calling the defendant a sucker... unless the court so thinks.

III
The plaintiff, after even further, deeper and more serious consideration, withdraws her objection to defendant's indulgence in intoxicating liquors, i.e., beer, and to defendant's treating plaintiff in divers ways in a cruel manner, and to the defendant's usage of loud and abusive language toward plaintiff, and to defendant's twisting plaintiff's nose—because plaintiff, much to her surprise, now finds she likes it and misses it.

IV
The plaintiff, reconsidering her request for all of defendant's salary, has investigated the extent of said salary and has decided that the defendant's remuneration as editor of a column known as Pot Shots is so inconsequential that it would do plaintiff no good whatsoever.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays that the court will dismiss with prejudice, on the above and foregoing grounds, the above-entitled action.

SINCE WE ASSURED our detractors they can have space, if they wish to continue their libelous attack upon our spotless character, we can't assure you as to everything that may be in today's column. But concerning that so-called interview with our so-called "wife," printed Saturday at the bottom of the col, we reply only along these lines:

OUR SIT-DOWN STRIKE was not because of humiliation or because we can't take it. Because we were (we admit) one of those guys who didn't grow tall, we had to take it all our lives. But we struck because the sovereign rights of a column editor were infringed upon. We suspect they'll be infringed upon again, but you can't blame us for trying. That word "shrump" in the interview, pained us exceedingly. Napoleon, too, was short. Of course, it'll take several more years of good eating to give us Napoleon's front exposure, but we're doing our damndest.

AS FOR THAT stuff about "poor little farm girl who was sap enough to fall for his high sounding talk and no-good promises"—that's a laugh, if you know any of our modern farm girls in these parts.

JUST TO CLEAR the record in this 'tempest that broked over our heads with what we can assure you was utter surprise, we do drink beer and we do play slot machines. We never win, but we play them. One must pay the rent for one's business friends, mustn't one? Or must one? Anyway, you do.

TO SHOW YOU we can take it, we bare these further facts without waiting for our Eveltines persecutors to do it: we have a rather long nose; we make rotten puns; our ankles wobble when we ice skate; we can't ski worth a darn; we frequently step on the lady's feet when we dance; we have (we know now) poor taste in shoes, although we still insist we ARE NOT married; no go about hum-

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

By MARIE BLIZARD, ©1937 NEA Santa, Inc.

CHAPTER XXV
"No, Jennifer! If I've told you once, I've told you 50 times that you're to stop remembering you are Jennifer Brett. You're Louise Goldsby. The man is NOT wrong. You are taking the blame for it. You've got to have every tiny gesture exactly the way I have it!"

Jennifer waited docilely. "If you do not shade the part precisely as I do, you'll be out. Now take it again. And lower your head; don't fling it up. Go on." Daphne was muttering and weary. She had been rehearsing all day.

Daphne had come home to rehearse Jennifer—a new Jennifer. She was a subdued, grateful Jennifer only too glad to try to remember all the things that Larry had said to her about Daphne and to relate them, bringing them out like jewels for Daphne to treasure.

"He was so sure that your job meant more to you than anything else. Why did you let him?" Even then Daphne couldn't tell Jennifer why she had done it. The money was there and she was free. Free to marry Larry if he still wanted her.

IF he still wanted her. Could she believe what Jennifer had told her? "Daphne, look," Jennifer squatted on the floor, tailor-fashion. "You must admit I'm doing a good job of reforming."

"Excellent," Daphne granted. "Then, why won't you tell me what you've got up your sleeve? I'm perishing of curiosity. You're working me hard, and yet you have an understudy. And you insist that you're going to open Tuesday in the show. Now, what does it all mean?"

"I can't tell you, Jennifer. I have promised you that you're going to play the part. Please don't ask me to explain anything else. Trust me." Jennifer was 19. She sighed. "Okay. How about some food?"

Over their crackers and milk, Daphne said, "Jennifer, I want Larry to come to the opening." "You don't seem to learn, do you, Daph? Wild horses couldn't keep him away. He'll be there somewhere in the audience. I don't know why you haven't more assurance about yourself. If I had what you've got..." Daphne couldn't yet get used to the idea that Jennifer had been jealous of her, had thought she was more attractive in every way. Jennifer had been sincere, Daphne knew, and she was never to be able to reason why. "You'll have the world in the cup of your hand, if you use your head."

"But Daphne, what good will all this rehearsing do if Gordon won't let me take the understudy?" "Oh, I forgot to tell you! He said he would. The day after the show opens."

DAPHNE didn't tell Jennifer about the scene in Gordon Herzberg's office when she told him that she had rehearsed Jennifer in every nuance of her part. Or that she had told him why she wanted to open and then what she would understand at once. She told him about Larry, promised him a performance equal to her own in Jennifer and had gotten his promise in return. It hadn't been easy.

"The day after?" "But why not the day when it does?" "Because my dear girl, you are going to have a job. You're going to have a look-see over that audience and find Larry. If he is there, you're going to bring him to my dressing room. Now, who's so dumb?"

Jennifer reached a hand across the table. "Shake, gal. You're getting there. I suppose after that I'm to make a laughing exit or do I pull a minister out of my pocket?"

"I'm not quite sure what you do after that. Or even if Larry will be there. But I've no doubt the Brett sisters will have no trouble taking cues from each other."

"You won't have any trouble with me, Daphne. I've learned my lesson and I'm so ashamed."

OPENING NIGHT
A Herberg opening. Gilda Kayle in the leading role. First string critics. Ermine and orchids. Tails and top hats. A first night audience. Bright lights and laughter. Diamonds and street urchins. The people who "came to look" at the people "attending." The faint echo in front of the ring backstage. Curtain going up. One minute of absolute silence.

The buller crosses the stage, raises a curtain, straightens a diaphragm. Clifton Sayre steps through the left door. The play is on! A few minutes later when Paul said, "You do her unfairly. The girl is..." Daphne made her entrance.

Then, in what seemed to be but a few minutes, the play was over, the final bow had been taken and Daphne was trying to avoid the congratulating groups gathered backstage. If Jennifer found Larry and was bringing him backstage, she wanted to get her make-up off first.

She ran toward the wings and right into Larry Smith's arms. It was entirely accidental but there they stood!

"Larry!" Her hands gripped the lapels of his coat and then she backed away. He dropped his arms.

He laughed a little. "Oh, I'm sorry." "Were you?" she asked quickly before the moment was gone and they would be two polite strangers again.

"No, I wasn't really," he said. "Then, why don't you put your arms back?"

He didn't. He said, "I thought you were wonderful and Jennifer said..." He wet his lips.

"What did Jennifer say?" she asked softly.

"I couldn't have been true," Daphne's eyes commanded him to go on.

"Daphne, she said you still loved me." "I do, Larry." Dark as it was in the wings, he could see the radiance in her face.

"But now you have the theater. I can't ask you to give it up. You are going to be a star some day."

"I did it because I wanted to have you know that even this doesn't mean as much to me as starring in a domestic drama called 'Mr. and Mrs. Smith.' Please ask me to give it up, darling!"

"Please!" She clung to him. He disengaged her arms, fished in his pocket for a cigar lighter, snapped it on and held it to his watch. Then he grabbed her by the wrist, took her practically off her feet.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

AUTHORSHIP

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Senator Wheeler has been saying some un-named parties came to him 15 months ago and tried to get him to introduce a bill increasing the supreme court to 15 justices. He has never identified the parties, but he came rather close in senate debate the other day when he said:

"I said then to those who brought it (the bill) to me, 'If you take this issue into the campaign, from a political standpoint it will run you.' I said further, 'You will have every church leader in the United States against you.' I was approached again later in the spring, and I told them the same thing."

"The bill then brought to my attention was not the identical bill now pending, but one to increase the supreme court prematurely to fifteen."

Senator Wheeler did not need to mention names to his senatorial colleagues, who knew his inseparable associates last session were President Roosevelt's unofficial attorney-general, Tom Corcoran, and Ben Cohen. The three were working very closely together on the holding companies bill. The one who asked Mr. Wheeler to sponsor the bill was Mr. Corcoran. If good memories can be relied upon. The draft of the fifteen-judge bill, however, was understood to be the result of their joint labors.

Some senators with inside information have gone as far as to say, without mentioning Wheeler, that General Corcoran and General Cohen are the sole authors of the pending proposal.

HANDS
Available evidence indicates they probably were the instigators of the 15 idea, but are not the sole authors of the plan.

The program as laid down by the President really seems to be a combination of several separate plans, which Mr. Roosevelt himself personally put together with the aid of Judge Rosenman of New York and the Justice department. The original Corcoran-Cohen plan for instance, would merely have authorized the President to appoint six new supreme court judges, whereas the President has asserted that proposed method by making it contingent upon the failure of present justices to retire, and thus giving it a temporary tone.

Origin of the idea for creation of 50 more federal courts was apparently independent. It may be traced to an unpublished report, presented to the house judiciary committee last summer by Federal Judge Denman of San Francisco.

This report also contained the recommendation for a proctor to function between the supreme and lower courts, but did not suggest tampering with the supreme court. See Chairman Landis worked privately on this phase of the program for the President. So did the nominal attorney-general, Mr. Cummings, who contributed all statistics upon which the President's message was based. Judge Rosenman, the President's friend and personal counsel, is supposed to have helped to round out the plan in the message.

"This may not be the whole story, but it is the best to be pieced together at this time, in the face of the official insistence that the plan was entirely the workmanship of the justice department and the President."

UNDERSTANDING
Pomp feared the silk hat higher than usual for the visit of Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada. One reason is Mr. Roosevelt was given such a reception on his recent Canadian visit, he did not want to be outdone.

There are three other reasons which may appease the wonder of news readers at the extraordinary social gale of the occasion: (a) The St. Lawrence waterway treaty will require much friendship to revive it; (b)

ALERTNESS

More sub-cellular military conferences are going on around the war department these days than since the World War. They are not the usual routine meetings of the general staff, but highly technical discussions in which experts from military intelligence are called in to report, presumably on such subjects as the Spanish war, British, Italian, German moves in the Mediterranean and the semi-secret war preparations being made in Europe."

So secret are these meetings that young commissioned officers are assigned to go through the waste baskets after meals to make certain that no casual scrap of revealing memorandum has been thrown aside.

BUHL
Mrs. Paul Fingerson talked at length on the subject of "Raising Chickens" at the meeting of the Flower Lovers' club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Leveke. Mrs. Fred Quire gave a paper on "Annuals, Their Care and Planting." Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Paige, Mrs. Harry Studebaker and Grandmother Studebaker were club guests. Refreshments closed the afternoon and the group adjourned to meet with Mrs. Fingerson in two weeks.

Mrs. Roy Hirth entertained the El-Ocho club Thursday. Mrs. Franklin Orr received the high score prize and the second high was given to Mrs. Whittaker. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wilson.

The Catholic Ladies' league of the Buhl church entertained Thursday at the home of Mrs. William Weidner with Mrs. Mary Madelina assisting. After the regular business session a social afternoon was enjoyed. Mrs. Hamilton will entertain the group the afternoon of April 25. The Philatheas Matrons of the Baptist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lillian Hyde. Twenty-two members of the class and one guest, Mrs. Susan Cobb, were present. A jasmine tea was served from Chinese dishes and chop sticks. Chinese lanterns were used for decoration about the room. Tea, rice cakes and ginger roots were featured. The Philatheas will serve a covered dish lunch to the ladies of the Missionary society at the church the afternoon of April 8.

MATCHES
Astounded police officers today stood in awe at State Traffic Patrolman F. M. Kingsbury took a seat in the waiting room of the city jail and unceremoniously removed a boot from his foot.

Others were not sure whether he was going to go barefooted in the snow or throw the boot at someone.

The situation was cleared, however, as Kingsbury replaced the boot with the remark:

"That hole in my pocket lets matches drop down my pants leg and they slip into the boot. It's a little uncomfortable to have matches between my toes."

He didn't state why the hole wasn't sewed up.

BILLIE BURKE IS GIRLS' DEFENDER

Terms Most of Members of Chorus "Talented and Ambitious"

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Billie Burke, always a defender of stage chorus girls, is a firm believer that screen chorus girls are as talented and ambitious a group as those in any other occupation.

Miss Burke, film star and wife of the late Florenz Ziegfeld, creator of the "Follies," decried the prevalent public conception of dancers as "dumb and lacking in ambition."

"On the contrary, Miss Burke continued, "during the years of my marriage to Mr. Ziegfeld I found them as a whole to be a group of gay, vital and well-groomed girls who take their careers as seriously as any star in the show."

"The old idea about chorus girls doting on champagne suppers and front row 'Johnnies' has been out of date for a good many years."

Upon close observation Miss Burke has discovered that chorus girls for the screen must be chosen by even more rigid rules than for the stage.

"They must be really more beautiful and glamorous than the star, for only the true beauty is outstanding as it flashes before the camera for a few fleeting seconds. The star of the production has careful lighting, special costumes and makeup applied to enhance all her good qualities. Not so the chorus girl. Her costume is the same as a number of other girls. Not much attention is paid to camera angles and make-up for her."

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

For all the wear and tear that it undergoes, the nose nevertheless is a delicate instrument. For that reason it should be handled with a little more care than is ordinarily given it.

Do not, therefore, submit it to unnecessary insults and damage. If you must blow your nose when you have a cold, be careful not to blow it in such manner as to force the infectious material from the nose through the eustachian tubes into the ear.

The small eustachian tubes run from the back of the nose into the internal ear. When they become obstructed by swelling or by infection, there is prompt interference with hearing. The head becomes full of noises, whistles, and other disturbances of sound.

Many years ago, a French postmaster who had suffered gradual loss of hearing and who was troubled a great deal with noises in his head thought of a way to pass a tube up to the opening of the eustachian tube and to empty it of its obstructing content.

This method has been developed, and it now is possible to clear the eustachian tube in this way to aid hearing, and to help clear up infections in the ear.

Moving of Rupert Church Completed
RUPERT, April 5 (Special)—The third and last section of the Rupert second war church was moved Friday to its new location on A street and Sixth street south. The building will be used for the reformed Third ward.

Testimony and evidence offered in behalf of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of showing a profit of eight and half per cent during the year 1920 as set forth in the annual report for 1920, the latest official report on file, and testimony offered for the purpose of showing that the Oregon public utilities commission in cases similar to those in Idaho had recently refused to allow a change from a six day a week to a three day a week schedule, were ruled out last evening by the public utilities commissioners at the hearing in this city.

Delegates from all towns on the Salmon tract were present to protest against the change. It was contended that the change would tend greatly to depreciate values not only at points along the line but in towns depending on the line.

The Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company is planning to get some of its heaviest traffic underground—on Shoshone street and through its representative, appeared before the city council Monday evening and asked permission to place their cables underground along three blocks on Shoshone. Permission was granted by the council. The blocks designated in the company's request are 102, 103, 6, 87, 71 and 72, all facing on Shoshone street.

At the same meeting of the city council, the water rates as recommended by the commission, were ratified and adopted to remain in operation three years.

IDLE INMATES AT IDAHO PRISON PRESENT PROBLEM

EDUCATION ONLY LABOR OFFERED IN PENITENTIARY

Eagle Island Farm Prisoners Work at Agricultural Production

By DAVID N. JOHNSON
BOISE, April 5 (UP)—Three hundred and twenty prisoners, idle except for farm labor and routine prison duties, this week presented an increasingly serious problem to state officials who were considering the need for occupational training, a strict rehabilitation system, and segregation of types.

Persons familiar with the prison situation pointed out that, with the exception of educational work instituted by former Warden Ira Taylor, convicts, including 12 women prisoners, are virtually idle when it comes to work which might contribute to their vocational training.

Work on Farm
The Eagle Island prison farm accommodates 20 and 30 prisoners who spent their time in various agricultural duties. In the prison proper, janitor work, kitchen and dining hall duties, and heating plant work make up the major list of occupational activities for the rest of the population.

Convicts, especially first term men, enter the institution with hope of intelligent rehabilitation virtually blocked, it was asserted. Farm work, said social workers answering a United Press survey, does not contribute much to the convict who is at first receptive to correction.

Stumbling Block
When released, the convict is not prepared through any prison instruction to enter certain fields of endeavor. Stumbling block in his path, beyond the stigma usually cast by imprisonment, is lack of concerted training.

Given $10 upon his freedom, the convict usually indulges in a short spending spree which leaves him, the morning after, with empty pockets and no prospects of immediate work, it was said.

Hope of correcting this condition incident with release, officials declared, rested mainly in a vocational training program which would turn out men at least reliable to a certain extent in various fields of industry.

A great many of the convicts do not find mental occupation enough to build up their morale, it was pointed out. Many of them need mental occupation in fields of endeavor other than manual labor, answers to the survey indicated.

Segregation Problem
But the survey indicated that the most serious problem, as far as prison proper is affected, is that of segregation of types of criminals.

At the present, it is impossible to indiscriminately bunk two men in each cell, as was originally intended in construction of the building.

Differ in Mentality
Offenders differ in types of crimes and in mentality, so that it is not good prison administration to bunk them without thought for influence one man may have on another.

Thus, if prisoners confined in Idaho's penitentiary were of normal calibre, the prison would not be overcrowded, because offender could be bunked with offender.

However, sex criminals are present, and more seasoned convicts, or second terms, should not be incarcerated with the first term man who has definite hopes of rehabilitation, it was said.

Such a situation makes the prison seemingly overcrowded, because so many types must be confined singly. Solitary confinement cells for those who have violated prison rules are not usually put into use for men who must be segregated from the run-of-the-mill convict, several persons declared.

Work on Farm
The Eagle Island prison farm accommodates 20 and 30 prisoners who spent their time in various agricultural duties. In the prison proper, janitor work, kitchen and dining hall duties, and heating plant work make up the major list of occupational activities for the rest of the population.

CALL ISSUED FOR BEET FIELD MEN

U. S. Employment Unit Here Urges Registration for Ranch Jobs

A call for persons desiring to work in the beet fields of the Twin Falls, Burley and Rupert districts, was made today and all interested persons were urged by Raymond Butler, acting supervisor of the United States employment service, to list their names at the service offices in Twin Falls.

This broad survey of available labor, it was explained, is being made at the suggestion of Terry Prater, veterans' placement representative of the service and who also holds a position in connection with the farm placement division of the unemployment service.

Want List Available
"It is the desire of the sugar beet company to have available a list of all local persons able to do beet work during the spring and fall with intention of hiring all available local labor before it is necessary to import workers," Mr. Butler said.

When the workers file their names at the employment office, either in person or by mail, they should be able to state whether they have their own camping equipment; if they work in a crew how many the crew comprises; whether they possess the necessary working tools, their age and other information, Butler said.

In a press dispatch, J. L. Hood, state WPA administrator, is quoted as saying that Idaho workers will be required to take assignments for seasonal work in beet fields and for such other jobs issued by the United States employment service.

Basis of Ability
Today Butler said that information received at his office from the Boise headquarters indicates there are no intentions on the part of the service to compel labor in the beet fields, and placement of beet labor will be on the basis of ability and qualifications only, the same as a person would be referred to any other job.

During the season of 1936 the service referred over 800 workers to beet labor jobs in this district. Work averaged six weeks in the spring and about a month in the fall.

Mail registrations should be made to the U. S. employment service, P. O. Box 627, Twin Falls. Registrations will not be taken by the sugar beet company but must be made direct to the employment service, Butler said.

Mine Operations Showing Increase

Employing 40 men, the Ima Mines corporation mill has started full operations and within 13 days has taken out, ready for shipment, six and one-half tons of tungsten and 45 tons of silver sulphides, officials of the company announced here today.

B. R. Tillery, fiscal agent who just returned from the mining property located at May, said today that "Ima mines expect to produce from $20,000 to $30,000 per month for the rest of the year."

"When one stops to consider what tungsten is worth on today's market, $21 a unit and with 100 units to the ton, it looks like Ima mines will soon be one of the greatest producers of tungsten in the United States," Mr. Tillery said.

Tillery said there are approximately 300 stockholders in Twin Falls and adjoining counties.

No human being escaped the Custer massacre, but one horse did, and on its death it was stuffed and mounted. The mount is now exhibited at Fort Riley, Kan.

WOMAN AT BUHL TAKEN BY DEATH

BUHL, April 5 (Special)—Mrs. Eliza Larsen, 87, died yesterday at the home of her son, Lewis Larsen, following a paralytic stroke. She was born Dec. 28, 1849, in Norway.

She preceded in death in 1930 by her husband and is survived by her son, Lewis Larsen, and two daughters, Mrs. S. C. Linsquist, Shelly, Ida, and Mrs. John Hennimort, Blackfoot.

Services will be held Tuesday at 3 p. m. at the Evans and Johnson mortuary with Rev. D. W. Hertzig, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in Aberdeen cemetery on Wednesday beside the grave of her husband.

TREE REMOVALS DRAW PROTESTS

Residents of Area Bordering Small Park Vigorously Rap Action

Protest over removal of trees from a triangular park strip at the intersection of Addison avenue, Tenth avenue north, Second street north and Buchanan street was energetically voiced here this afternoon by a group of 36 residents of the area.

The group signed a petition and filed it for presentation to the mayor and city council at the council's meeting tonight.

The petition said: "Wanted Destruction" "We, the undersigned, taxpayers and property owners of the city of Twin Falls, vigorously protest the wanton destruction and removal of the trees—a growth of 30 years—in the park at the intersection of Addison avenue, Tenth avenue north, Second street north and Buchanan street.

"And inasmuch as this park has been for many years not only a place of beauty in the city but a place of usefulness to the citizens of this section as a playground and picnic place for those having neither grass nor trees on their premises, we petition that this park be restored to its original purpose by the replanting of trees."

The Signers
The protest petition was signed by the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Flower, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hahn, Thomas Anderson, Burton E. Morse, Leo Anderson, A. S. Borkwitz, R. H. Lyndard, Harry E. and Mrs. L. F. Leopold, Harry E. Musgrave, Harry A. Brizee, Mrs. Larsen W. Voorhees, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beauchamp, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ostrander, Mrs. John A. Baisch, William Middleton, C. R. Nelson, Mrs. George H. Detweiler, R. A. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. White, Mrs. Mary Gustafson, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Goswell, Mrs. Fred Bates, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Simpson, Mrs. George Herriott, Mrs. B. L. Price, Mrs. Charles Beymer.

TOWNS MAY RESTRICT DOGS
MARTINEZ, Calif. (UP)—The city fathers are in the midst of their annual paw-wow over dogs. The proposed ordinance is a rather odd one. It would limit a dog's activities to the strength of its master's voice. In other words dogs would not be allowed to bark farther than the call of the owner's voice.

Divorce Asked on Non-Support Plea

Claims of non-support and desertion formed the basis of a divorce action which had been started in district court here today by Mrs. Regina Harbertson against Len W. Harbertson.

Several Delinquent On Social Security

Several Twin Falls employers have failed to file their federal social security returns for January and February. A. H. Dent, deputy collector of internal revenue, said this afternoon.

The delinquent returns are subject to interest and penalty and a list is being compiled today, Mr. Dent said.

All employers of one or more workers are required by federal law to file monthly returns. Information, assistance and blanks can be secured from the deputy collector in offices on the second floor of the post office building here.

SERVICES HONOR EDEN RESIDENT

Friends and relatives paid final tribute to Frank Van Antwerp, Eden, at services held yesterday at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel. Rev. C. A. Hawley, Eden pastor, officiated at the rites.

Music included a solo by Mrs. B. E. Gordon, Eden, and a duet, by Mrs. Gordon and R. D. Beebout, both accompanied by Mrs. Frank Fulton.

The body was sent today to Long Beach, Calif., for interment in the Sunnyside mausoleum.

Mr. Van Antwerp, resident of Idaho for the past 16 years, died Saturday at his home.

MINER FOR 71 YEARS DEAD
SHAMOKIN, Pa. (UP)—The standing record for service as a coal miner was believed to have been held by James Henninger, 80, who died at his home here. Beginning when he was 9 years of age, Henninger worked 71 years at the Cameron Colliery.

Meeting Held by Paint Salesmen

Southern Idaho dealers for W. F. Fuller and company, paint and brush manufacturers, met Saturday evening at a banquet at the Park hotel with Dana L. Fuller, San Francisco, director of the firm, who flew his plane from the coast to Twin Falls.

He discussed the advertising and sales promotion work sponsored by the company for its representatives this year. He was accompanied by Bob Roberts, pilot who attempted to fly the first mail into Boise in 1926.

Also attending the session was H. R. Chatterton, Boise, the company's state manager.

NELSON CAPTURES AUGUSTA NATIONAL MEET

Youthful Shot-Maker is First Surprise Winner

Jones Finishes in Tie for 19th Place

By STUART CAMERON
United Press Sports Editor
AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5 (UP)—Byron Nelson, who started life as a railroad accountant's assistant, was the Augusta National golf champion today, the first surprise winner in the four-year history of the tournament.

The smiling blond was a 30-to-1 shot in the betting but outscored brilliant field to register the upset with 283, one stroke from the record.

The journey of the nation's ace professionals and amateurs was setled for the first four holes of the back nine of the final round. It was here that Nelson clipped four strokes off par with a scorching burst which included two birdies and an eagle three. He had led at the end of the first and second rounds. He trailed Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis by three strokes when the third round was complete, but held his shots in line in the final to win by two strokes while Guldahl, along with the home Pro Dudley and Chicago's Harry Cooper were missing par.

Guldahl 285
Dudley 286
Harry Cooper had 74 for 287.

Nelson, attached to the Reading (Pa.) country club, is an affable, genteel, and somewhat glib talker. He doesn't have much to say unless the conversation is about golf. He went to high school in Fort Worth, Tex., but had to quit and go to work.

"Doesn't Drink, Smoke
"I don't drink and I don't smoke. I don't quarrel with anyone who does, but I don't care for them. Drinking especially is repulsive and I actually haven't ever touched a drop in my life. Maybe it's a good thing right now, because I sure feel like celebrating," he said.

Bob Jones scored a 77 in his final round for an aggregate of 303, placing in a three-way tie for 19th place. Bob had plenty of illustrious company. Former British and U. S. open champion Gene Sarazen finished with 79-300.

Nelson's prize money for first place was $1,500, while Guldahl drew $800 and Dudley $600.

SPORT SQUIBS

(by E. J. W.)

For the sake of sportsmen, including those of the southern Idaho section, the largest game preservation organization ever assembled is now at work with the thought in mind of increasing the duck population of North America. Name of the organization is More Game Birds in America, Inc.

Aim and purpose of the group is to see that the duck population of North America is not depleted, and, if possible, to increase the total for the pleasure of sportsmen. A survey completed during the past year and announced last week showed that 9,500,000 wild ducks had been counted through the facilities of biological survey, game wardens, state police, etc., and this was estimated to be one-quarter of the total population of wildfowl in North America.

The survey showed that about 80 per cent of all ducks breed in Canada, and the breeding ground being the only place where there is any chance to aid in the increase in population, the United States sportsmen sought and gained the aid of Canadian wildfowlers.

A Canadian organization was completed, then joined with the United States group, named Frederick Hudson Ecker, president of a large insurance company, to serve as head of the corporation.

It is expected that about 1,000,000 acres of land in Canada, used by the ducks for breeding grounds, will be either bought, rented, or leased as duck preserves.

A five-year program has been mapped which is expected to cost $600,000 per year—the money donated by sportsmen from the two countries. Organizations are already being set up in 35 states. Estimated number of wildfowl hunters in the U. S. is 5,000,000.

NORTHERN CLUBS SCORE VICTORIES

Seattle and Portland Each Collect Two Wins Out Of Three Games

(By United Press)
Opening skirmishes of the Pacific coast league baseball campaign indicate that the eight clubs are more closely matched than is usual.

The 12 games played were close hard-fought battles, and most of them were decided in late innings by one or two runs.

Pitching was not up to mid-season par, but Ed Stutz of the San Francisco Seals and Fay Thomas, Los Angeles, turned in shutout performances and the latter gave only three hits.

No Clean Sweeps
No team was able to make a clean sweep of the three-game series which opened the season. Portland and Seattle, however, won their opening series by one-game margins over Oakland, the Missions, San Diego and Sacramento respectively.

The four doubleheaders played Sunday were divided evenly. The Missions won the first from the Seals, 5-2, and Ed Stutz hurled the latter to a 7-0 win in the windup. Portland made it two straight over Oakland by taking an 11-inning first game, 5-3 and the Oaks came back for a nightcap win by the same score.

Seattle Wins
Seattle slugged a 7-3 win over Sacramento for two straight and then dropped a 7-5 verdict to the Seals. San Diego evened matters with Los Angeles in the opener of the double bill by a 6-2 score only to lose the edge when Thomas tossed a 6-0 shutout for the Angels.

The teams were idle today. On Tuesday they open the regular season schedule, with single games week-days and Sunday doubleheaders. Portland will play the Seals at San Francisco, Los Angeles at Sacramento, Seattle at Oakland, and the Missions at San Diego.

Giants, Yanks Chosen to Repeat in Pennant Races

(Copyright 1937, United Press)
NEW YORK, April 5 (UP)—The New York Yankees and New York Giants will clash again in the world series this year, according to predictions on the outcome of the 1937 pennant race made today by 15 major league managers.

Seven American league managers in a United Press poll, picked the Yankees to finish first in their league, while one named the Detroit Tigers. The Giants were picked to win a close race in the National League. Three national pilots named the Cubs as first, two named the Pittsburgh Pirates and one each picked the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals. Bill Terry, Giant manager, refused to vote on the grounds that "it is not my policy to make predictions."

Chooses Yanks

ROGERS HORNSBY

Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis Browns, thinks the Yanks and the Tigers are the best clubs in the American league, but he picks his own team to land in third place.

Bowling League Chase Tightens

"Mind Over Matter," Says Mac in Describing Gas House Gang Riot

By HENRY McLEMORE

PINEHURST, N. C., April 5 (UP)—I am exceedingly grateful that I was in Pinehurst, and not Tampa, Saturday night when the bloody battle was waged between the St. Louis Cardinals, under the leadership of General Dizzy Dean, and the sports writers under the command of Field Marshal Jack Miley.

For had I been there in the hotel during the shooting the chances are that I would have been left draped over a potted palm, with no one more efficient than the bell captain or the cigar stand girl to dress my wounds, take down my last words, and forward my personal effects to my wife.

Double Predicament

Mine would have been a double predicament. As a rookie shortstop who worked out for several weeks with the Cardinals, Miley would have swung upon me as a baseball player. And as a sportswriter the Cardinals would have been obligated to beat me lullily on the profile. As for myself, I wouldn't have known whom to hit.

The only way I could have solved the problem, I guess, would have been to punch my own self twice—once for being a sportswriter and once for being a ball player. That would have meant three people hitting me at once, and that's exactly three too many. There probably would have been a fourth party swinging on me, because it is no secret that Mrs. Patricia Dean, wife of the dizzy one, would like to have my albino scalp dangling from her belt, and my pet stretched out as a rug in her Bradenton home.

When I went to Sarasota, Fla., this winter to report the baseball players' golf tournament, I was warned to watch my step when I saw Mrs. Dean—that she was very angry because of a story I had written about Dizzy and Paul, and aimed to swing me over the head with her umbrella when she saw me. I saw her once or twice, as she followed Dizzy's play, but it was at a distance, because I cautiously stayed in the middle of the fairway, which is a spot people who follow Dizzy at golf seldom tread.

If the account of the battle I read was accurate, future historians won't have any trouble deciding who won. It, Dizzy, it seems, came out of the fray not only with a clean-cut right eye, but the same sort of triumph.

When 15 or 16 of the baseball playing species pop you over the head with spiked shoes, and you hold your ground and are capable of giving an account of what happened, you automatically are the winner.

"Mind Over Matter"

I think that historians probably will sum up the fight with the statement:
"It was a triumph of mind over matter."
I think, too, that the battle put the lie to reports that the Cardinals no longer were the "gas-house gang." Those of us who feared the men who represent the City of St. Louis in the National league had absorbed a modicum of culture and might become gentlemen, now know that our fears are not warranted. They still believe in "gang" warfare, and their motto still is:
"All for one and all against one—with spikes."

GRANT PLAYS IN TEXAS TOURNEY

Mighty Atom From Atlanta to Defend His Title at Houston Club
HOUSTON, Tex., April 5 (UP)—Bryan Grant, the small but mighty tennis player from Atlanta, Ga., opened his defense today of the River Oaks tournament championship which he has won for the past two years.

Fifty-nine other players were out to contend for the title in the seventh annual meet at the River Oaks Country club.

Leading them was Wilmer Allison of Austin, former national champion and Davis cup captain who lost to Grant in the final last year and the year before.

Grant, the champion, was seeded No. 1 in the meet, and Allison No. 2. Bobby Riggs of California was No. 3. Other seeded players were Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, Arthur Hendrik of Lakeland, Fla., Wayne Sabih and Walter Senior of California, and Hal Surface of Kansas City.

Grant was expected to team with Sabih in the doubles. Allison, who has been out of tournament play since the Davis cup matches last year, will team with his business partner and former co-holder of the national doubles title, John Van Ryn of Philadelphia.

Ambers Takes on Montanez Tonight

NEW YORK, April 5 (UP)—Faltering lightweight champion Lou Ambers who used to be known as the Heckler, N. Y., "burriane," faces the severest of his career tonight when he meets Pedro Montanez, swarthy Puerto Rican title contender.

Ambers' crown is not at stake. Both men are overweight and the fight is scheduled for only 10 rounds.

HUBBELL, FELLER IN HURLING DUEL

Two Stars Pitch Five Innings Of Scoreless Ball; Of Cleveland Wins
BOSTON, April 5 (UP)—The Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians squared their bats today in a 10-inning, 2-1 decision yesterday at New Orleans. Pitcher Dick Coffman walked a man with the bases loaded in the 10th to force home the winning run. Bob Feller and Carl Hubbell hurled scoreless ball for the five innings they worked with the young Cleveland fireballer fanning six, and holding the Giants hitless.

REDS BREAK CAMP

TAMPA, Fla., April 5 (UP)—Cincinnati broke training camp today moving to Sarasota to play the Phillies in the first of their two weeks of one night stands en route north. The Reds nosed out the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 1, in an 11-inning game yesterday.

PHILLIES BLANK BEES

LAKELAND, Fla., April 5 (UP)—The Boston Bees, breaking their own camp at St. Petersburg, came here today for their final game of the year with the Detroit Tigers. The Bees walloped the Tigers, 4 to 0 yesterday, by Jimmy Wilson's Phillies while the Tigers wallowed the Washington Senators, 10-2.

Few Convicted

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP)—Although 137 persons were tried for murder in New Mexico during 1935, only 24 were convicted and sentenced and no death penalties were imposed, a survey by the bureau of census reveals.

YANKEES' HEAVY ARTILLERY HITS

Champions Score 14-0 Win Over Houston; Dodgers Defeat Newark
GALVESTON, April 5 (UP)—The New York Yankees arrived today to rehearse their heavy artillery act against this city's Texas league club. The world champs swamped the Houston Buffaloes, 14-0, under an 18-hit attack yesterday. Catcher Bill Dickey led the assault with a homer, triple and double, driving in five runs for a perfect day at bat.

DODGERS WIN

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 5 (UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers took a day off today while they prepared to break camp. The veteran Heinie Manush and Robbie John Hudson each smacked a brace of home runs as the Flatbushers topped the Newark Bears, 9-7, in their final home stand yesterday. The Dodgers meet the Boston Red Sox in Sarasota tomorrow.

CUBS TAKE SOX

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 5 (UP)—The Chicago Cubs took their second victory in three days from their intracity rivals, the White Sox, 2-1, yesterday. Frank DeMaree's single with two away in the tenth inning scored Caverre for the win. Clyde Slocum, rookie pitcher, received credit for the victory.

PIRATES VICTORIOUS

BRAWLEY, Calif., April 5 (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Imperial Valley All-Stars 6-2 yesterday. The Pirates scored their second consecutive victory yesterday. Leo Handley, Pirate second baseman, drove the ball out of Brawley park for a home run.

Simmons Sold To Washington

Tigers to Groom Milwaukee Recruit For Regular Outfield Berth
LAKELAND, Fla., April 5 (UP)—Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers groomed Rookie Bert Lamb for a regular outfield berth today after selling his "75,000 beauty." At Simmons, to the Washington Senators for an unannounced sum.

Deciding to keep Lamb, who battled 323 for Milwaukee last year, Cochrane had to get rid of one outfielder. Simmons, bought from the Chicago White Sox for $75,000 in December 1935, hit .328 for Detroit last year and was second only to Cochrane in runs batted in, Simmons, who was sluggish in the field, appeared even slower in spring training.

LOCAL GOLFERS GET LOW SCORES

35 Players Tour Course Here Yesterday; Tourney to Be Held Sunday
Thirty-five golfers played a total of 60 rounds on the Twin Falls Country club course yesterday, according to Jim Edwards, new professional.

With greens and fairways in fine shape, some good scores were turned in. Proposals for the putting, driving and approach contests next Sunday appear to be high. Early season players are turning in some remarkable golf, states Mr. Edwards.

In rounds played yesterday Al Smith counted a 37-38 for the 18 hole total of 75. Charles Casey collected a 38-38 for a 74. Young Val Toolson, 15-year-old son of Dr. J. G. Toolson, turned in a promising 38. R. H. Denton, Kimberly, counted a 37 for nine holes and Vic Price, a left-hander, scored a 36. Only woman player on the course was Mrs. Grant Padgett, who played a round with her husband.

In a best-ball foursome, Rolly Givens, Jerome, and Jimmy Sinclair paired against Jimmy Winterholer and Jim Edwards, the 18-hole match ending all even, with both sides six under par. Sinclair played "hot" golf, dipping in three approach shots.

Present plans call for the tournament scheduled to be held yesterday, to be played next Sunday, weather permitting.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover was the first woman graduate in geology in the United States. She was graduated in 1890 from Leland Stanford, Jr., university.

Roosevelt Believes Sit-Down Strikes Illegal, Washington Hears

NO AUTHORITY TO INTERVENE, SAYS CHIEF EXECUTIVE

President Thinks That Public Opinion Will Cause Labor To Quit Technique

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON, April 5 (U.P.)—Visitors to the White House report President Roosevelt's opinion on sit-down strikes to be that the technique is illegal and public opinion will cause labor to abandon it or alter it.

The administration attitude is that there is no authority for federal intervention in these strikes, especially under existing interpretations of the constitution. It appears that Mr. Roosevelt does not consider the sit-downs to be un-American elements bent on subversive objectives, as do some adverse critics of current labor methods.

Mr. Roosevelt already is on record, however, in favor of making labor unions responsible for the actions of their membership—a policy which would discourage the so-called "unauthorized strike."

Silence Policy
 The White House policy of silence is in contrast with the alarm of some notable congressional Democrats and their eagerness to obtain a repudiation of sit-downs either from the President or in the form of an expression of senate sentiment.

A supreme court opinion holding the Wagner labor relations act unconstitutional inevitably would spotlight the sit-down technique even more prominently in the national picture. Such an opinion would tempt and probably persuade advocates of court reorganization to argue that sit-down strikers could find justification of their methods in the supreme court's refusal to approve federal guarantee of the right of collective bargaining, which the Wagner act undertakes to provide. An adverse opinion probably would end all chance of White House repudiation of the sit-down method.

Bargaining Is Issue
 But if the court sustains the Wagner act, Mr. Roosevelt might then find opportunity to condemn sit-downs. The underlying issue in the spectacular Michigan sit-down strikes has not been hours and wages but recognition in some degree of the collective bargaining principle.

The tendency of New Deal senators to justify sit-downs to some extent as a challenge to the automotive industry's opposition to collective bargaining indicates the line of reasoning followed in some quarters here.

Election Means Nothing to WPA
 WPA projects and granting of WPA funds for Twin Falls will be unaffected by the Twin Falls city election slated here Tuesday, according to a statement today by John A. Griffiths, south central Idaho resident engineer for the works progress administration.

"Results of any city election do not determine the policy of WPA toward that community," he said.

HOTEL MAN DIES IN LOS ANGELES

D. W. Standrod, Jr., Idaho Association Secretary, Was War Vet

Word was received here today of the death in Los Angeles the latter part of last week of D. W. Standrod, Jr., 45, prominent Pocatello and Boise lawyer, hotel man, musician and secretary of the Idaho State Hotel association.

Standrod was in Twin Falls last December at which time he presided over the state hotel convention and was unanimously reelected to the post which he held during the previous year.

The body was taken to Pocatello Sunday for burial in Mountainview cemetery in the Standrod family plot. Although the day for the services could not be learned it was thought they were held today.

Aside from his wife, Mr. Standrod is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Standrod, sr., of Pocatello.

He served as a first lieutenant in the World war and was a major in the reserves.

GIRL RESERVIST HEAD RE-NAMED

Mrs. Kreggel Reelected at Concluding Sessions of Conference

Reelection of Mrs. C. H. Kreggel, Twin Falls, as president of the Maglo Valley district Girl Reserve board completed the three-day conference which closed here Saturday.

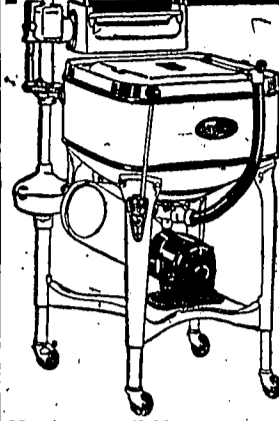

Mrs. John Gourley, Kimberly, was named vice president; Mrs. DeWitt Young, secretary, and Mrs. L. H. Larson, Filer, treasurer. Mrs. Ruth McManis, district secretary, will serve in that capacity for the next year.

At the final session, held at the home of Mrs. Kreggel, Miss McManis submitted reports of the district work for the past year and outlined the program for 1937-38. At least 40 girls may attend the summer camp, it was indicated.

District advisers attended a Saturday forenoon session.

Miss Elizabeth Herring and Miss Ethel Cutler, national secretaries of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Helen Fleck, present state secretary and former secretary of the district, played major roles in the conference.

CLASS B DECLAM ENTRIES CHOSEN

Hansen Wins One-Act Play Contest With Drama, "Playgoers"

BUHL, April 5 (Special)—Declamation entrants from Class B schools had returned home today with qualifiers chosen for the state meet at Twin Falls April 16-17 and with Hansen's one-act play selected as the Class B competitor.

Hansen won with "The Playgoers," coached by Miss Lois A. Rawls, Bliss high school, with "Box and Cox," had the only other play entered in the meet.

Members of the winning cast were Blake Froehlich, Ruth Bennett, Marjorie Anderson, Fernald Clontz, Edith Trunkey, Marjorie Washburn, Louise Bender and Robert Fornwalt.

In declamation events, students from 10 of the 13 schools won places in the state meet. Pupils who won excellent or superior ranking were qualifiers. ## A Dime Store for Her Thoughts

Whatever Eleanor Young may be thinking of these days it's a pretty safe bet the thoughts of the New York and Newport debutante aren't very far from young Woolworth Donohue, who glances pleasantly from the inset photograph. Miss Young is reported to have captivated the grandson of the Woolworth chain store fortune founder, in Palm Beach, where these pictures were taken, the couple were seen much together.

CATHOLIC RITES HONOR RESIDENT

Impressive rites were held this morning for Mrs. Edna Hickey at St. Edward's Catholic church with Rev. H. E. Heltman officiating. The church choir sang the requiem mass.

Palbearers were Frank Thometz, James Conroy, O. J. Callier, Pat Daly, Fred Kjaas and Owen Buchanan. Interment was in Twin Falls cemetery under the direction of the Twin Falls mortuary.

The Rosary was recited last evening at the mortuary with Father Heltman officiating.

DEATH-SUMMONS SALMON PIONEER

Death came yesterday to Elmer Ingraham, 75, Salmon tract resident since 1911. He died at the hospital after being ill for 10 days. He was born Sept. 21, 1862, in Fairview, Ill.

Before coming to this section he lived in Ferris, Ill., Stockton, Kan., Maryville, Mo., and Tranton, Mo. He was married Dec. 25, 1884, to Flora E. Merritt in Iowa.

Mr. Ingraham was fourth in the drawing for land on the Salmon tract under the Carey act and during his residence on the tract was active in its affairs and in church work. He belonged to the Mountain Rock Grange.

He was preceded in death by his wife, who died Feb. 16, 1936. He leaves two sons, F. M. Ingraham, Boise, and R. A. Ingraham, Yakima, Wash., and two grandsons.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Twin Falls mortuary with Rev. E. L. White, Methodist minister, officiating. Interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

FRANCE CLAIMS HIGHLAND FLING

Frenchmen Say Most Dances Originated in South of Country

PARIS (U.P.)—Most of the typical European dances originated in southern France many centuries ago, the "Academie Provinciale"—a group formed for research in folklore and folk customs—has announced.

Even the Maypole and the Hornpipe, England's famous folk dances, are of French origin. The Maypole, the survey revealed, is an Anglo-Saxon version of the old French corporation dance, and the Hornpipe is a development and variation of the Viarriello, which has been danced in southern France for centuries. The Russian ballet as well, was in a large part composed about a century ago by a Frenchman, Marius Petipa, who is recognized in Russia as the father of the ballet.

Owes Debt
 According to the "Academie Provinciale," music as well loves a great debt to Provence—the department in which it and the dances originated. The tambourine, basic dance instrument of Spain and all Latin-American countries, also comes from Provence.

Even church music was greatly influenced by the schools of Provence in the sixth century. When the principal subjects recommended for these schools were Roman law, rhetoric and music.

When the popes came to Valencia in the middle ages and settled down in this region, Goudemil, a native of Provence, taught music in the papal school. He later went to Rome where he founded his first school of music of modern times, and from there his Provençal teachings spread all over Europe.

Woundedors Sang
 The troubadours, gallant and wondrous singers of love and war, who were found in every court of Europe, originated in Provence. They sang in Italy, Portugal, Hungary and Germany, even in Jerusalem, Athens and Cyprus.

"The Bridge of Avignon," a Provençal folksong, sung by all the French children, also is sung in Persia and even in Russia.

All these songs and dances still exist nowadays in Provence. Frederick Mistral, a great Provençal poet, founded a society, which ever since its foundation has preserved the customs and traditions of his time.

THEATERS

"Two in a Crowd" "One Way Passage"

"Two in a Crowd" is the sort of picture that will leave a glow down deep inside of you. Laughter and love ripple and sparkle through the lively Universal offering which opened at the Roxy theater on Sunday and continues today and Tuesday.

Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea are ideally starred as a mirth provoking pair of sweethearts in this rollicking screen drama.

Word of mouth advertising is packing the Idaho theater where "One Way Passage," the Warner Bros. picture, co-starring William Powell and Kay Francis is now being revived in answer to a nation-wide demand.

Wednesday and Thursday, the Idaho presents as the regular mid-week return attraction, "China Clipper," with Pat O'Brien, Beverly Roberts and Ross Alexander.

NEW FOE FACES DISEASE "GERMS"

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—Modern medical science has produced a new method of fighting infectious disease with the aid of fat.

The discovery was made and announced by Drs. Garth W. Boericke, professor at Hahnemann Medical college, and William W. Young, both of Philadelphia.

The new disease fighter is a fluid containing microscopic particles of fat. It is injected into the veins or under a patient's skin, and the fat absorbs poisons in the system caused by bacteria. After the poisons have been blotted up, the substance is excreted by the liver.

Research on the preparation has been under way for several years, Dr. Boericke said, but investigators have been unable to keep the fat in a perfect solution.

Ideal Solution Found
 The discovery, produced under extreme heat, contains 5 per cent sugar and water, and remains a stable solution.

The success of the discovery has been remarkable, Dr. Boericke said. "Pneumonia, childbed fever and influenza has yielded to the effects of the solution."

"The fluid makes up for any deficiencies that the patient's blood may lack. Ordinarily there are 80,000,000 fat particles in each cubic centimeter of the blood. The body uses them as a reserve stock against disease. Our research has proved that in severe cases of bronchial diseases the fat in the blood dropped to zero. Injection of the fluid supplies the deficiency."

Harlow-Taylor

The new and refreshing star combination of Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor in an utterly delightful romantic comedy, makes "Personal Property," which came to the Orpheum screen yesterday, one of the outstanding film treats of the spring season.

Robert O. Fehner, director of the CCC, said many of the schools have prepared course studies to meet the particular needs and interests of the enrollees in elementary, secondary and collegiate grades.

The 128 Courses Offered
 The University of North Dakota has 5417 CCC youths from 327 camps in 42 states enrolled in correspondence instruction, which offers a range of 128 college courses, 42 high school subjects and six vocational courses. The University of Nebraska has more than 1,000 enrollees in its correspondence division and the University of Wyoming has 350 registered.

Fehner said the Ninth Corps area, which comprises the Pacific Coast states, has established a corps area correspondence service with the assistance of the San Francisco State Teachers college and the California state department of education. The program, begun in 1934, has reached more than 30,000 youths at various times.

Clinical microscopic tests showed, according to Dr. Boericke, when the blood of the patient returned to normalcy.

The injections were successful in 14 cases of childbed fever, and in 85 per cent of pneumonia cases. All of the rheumatic fever cases treated produced successful results.

CCC HAS 21,000 IN STUDY UNITS

Correspondence Courses Are Offered By Leading State Schools

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—More than 21,000 civilian conservation corps enrollees assemble in camp classrooms these spring nights after chores are done to study correspondence courses supplied by colleges and universities.

The enrollee pays from 50 cents to $1 per course—about one-tenth the regular cost—from his monthly allowance of $30 each—in an effort to further his education and to be equipped for a job after his enlistment ends.

Favorite subjects with the enrollees are English grammar, typing, bookkeeping, accounting, business English, American history, auto mechanics, Diesel engines, radio operation, forestry and social science. CCC youths seeking to complete high school courses study English, history, algebra, civics and commercial subjects.

Study Groups Organized
 Enrollees pursuing correspondence courses are organized into special study groups under the guidance of the educational directors at the respective camps.

Schools offering correspondence courses to CCC enrollees include the University of Indiana, Louisiana State University, Oklahoma A. & M. College, University of Arkansas, University of Chicago, University of Colorado, University of Florida, University of Georgia, University of Idaho, University of Kansas, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, University of North Carolina, University of South Dakota, University of Tennessee, University of Texas, University of Wisconsin and University of Wyoming.

GOVERNMENT SET TO BATTLE PEST

Agricultural Department to Fight Crickets With Dust Guns

By FRED O. BAILEY
WASHINGTON, April 5 (UP)—The department of agriculture loaded its dust guns today for a fight-to-the-finish against a horde of crawling Mormon crickets in northwestern states.

Backed by an allocation of $800,000 from works progress administration funds, the department will fight this pest with sodium arsenite from dust guns. Materials are being assembled along a 500-mile front.

The crickets, hatching high in the waste lands will meet a barrage of poison dust on their way down to the cultivated valleys. Last year the pests caused crop damage exceeding $400,000.

The fight this year is being organized on a military scale. Frank Cowan, of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, will direct the campaign from headquarters at Helena, Mont. He will be assisted by a staff of pest experts.

The arsenite is a two-way poison. The crickets eat some from their legs and antennae. They also breathe it. Sea gulls helped keep down the Mormon crickets in Utah last year.

Appeared in 1848
The crickets made their first appearance as a pest in Utah in 1848, and derived their name from the fact that they appeared or bled operated by Mormons.

In commemoration of the service of the gulls, the Mormons erected a monument in the temple grounds at Salt Lake City. The crickets have become so numerous in recent years however, that gulls have been unable to thin their ranks.

The crickets appear periodically. An outbreak may last two to six years. Beginning in 1932, the present outbreak has increased gradually in most of the infested states, notably Colorado, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

91,000 Acres in Idaho
A survey of eggs left by last year's crickets indicated that this year's brood may spread over 4,000 acres in California, 22,000 acres in Colorado, 91,000 acres in Idaho, 103,000 in Montana, 88,000 in Nevada, 10,000 in Oregon, 52,000 in Utah, 88,000 in Wyoming and 1700 in Washington.

The Mormon cricket looks like the common black field cricket and makes a similar chirping noise. It is wingless. They travel in bands, varying in size from a city block to a square mile, or even more, with 40 to 50 crickets to the square foot.

Sometimes the bands are so close together that they merge into one, enormous horde covering thousands of acres. A migrating horde gives the illusion that the ground is moving.

Soil Discussion To Feature Meet

County Agent Hale Talks to Knoll Grangers
Harvey K. Hale, Twin Falls county agent, will address members of the Knoll grange at a regular meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the school house at that point. Grange officials announced today.

Mr. Hale will speak on soil conservation. During the evening Gerald Walker of the Twin Falls high school will present the school debate team.

Members are requested to bring open faced sandwiches and a table service.

MURTAUGH

The Murtaugh Ladies Aid group met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles Johnson, with Mrs. Clarence Hack and Mrs. Will Griffith, assisting hostesses. Mrs. Ray Jackson was in charge of the devotional. Mrs. Frances Johnson sang a humorous song. Mrs. W. N. Winslow took charge of the business meeting at which the members gave a dollar and told how they carried it. They also arranged for a seed and bulb sale to be held at the next meeting, April 15.

The Glendale group of Ladies Aid met Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Boyle. Mrs. Arthur Meher was assistant hostess. Miss Ruth Brown led the devotional. The group sang several numbers. Mrs. E. P. Brown read a paper on health, "It Never Should Have Happened." At the business meeting plans were made for the banquet, which the society is going to serve, Wednesday evening at the school house given by the Chamber of Commerce in honor of the farmers of the "Miller Low Lift Irrigation association."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brennan and two children who have been spending the past month in Colorado visiting relatives have returned to their home here.

Laurence Turner, superintendent at Dubois, who has accepted the superintendent post here for next year, was a visitor at the school here Thursday.

Mrs. Sam Thornton was operated on at the Twin Falls hospital Saturday.

Miss Doris Nass has been released from the Twin Falls hospital and has returned to her home.

Salmon City Man is Appointed on State Board of Planning

BOISE, April 5 (UP)—Allen C. Merritt, engineer from Salmon City, today was appointed to a vacancy on the state planning board. The vacancy was caused when Eugene Cox resigned during the Ross administration. Merritt was appointed by Governor Barzilla Clark. The state planning board, in addition to Merritt, consists of Will Simons, Boise; Walter C. Clark, Kellogg; R. E. Shepherd, Jerome; and Hugh Mac Cosham, Pocatello. They will meet with other boards during the regional planning conference here April 8, 9, and 10.

PLAINTIFF BUYS 'ATTACHED' DOG

A legally-attached dog was attached no longer today. The pet was purchased for $10 at public sale Saturday by P. M. Torrey, plaintiff in a civil suit against Mr. and Mrs. Don Schaeffer, seeking approximately $40 for care and veterinary costs incurred in connection with the dog. The animal, a Boston bulldog, had been left in his care while the owners were away. The dog was "attached" and held after filing of the suit.

Inspection Set for Idaho National Guard

BOISE, Idaho, April 5 (UP)—Annual inspection of Idaho's national guard units was begun today by Adjutant-General M. G. McConnell. Artillery units in Payette, Coeur d'Alene and Boise will be inspected early this week, and cavalry inspection at Moscow, Lewiston, Wilder, Weiser, Caldwell, Nampa, Boise, Gooding, and Pocatello will continue until April 26.
