REENACTMENT OF CROP CONTROL EXPECTED IN CONGRESS

LEADERS THINK PROGRAM WOULD FOLLOW OLD AAA

'Ever-Normal' Granary Will Be Feature of Newest Farm Plan

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Congressional agricultural leaders revealed today that they anticipate re-enactment of the program of crop production control features of the invalidated AAA.

As outlined by members of congress who have conferred with the President and with Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, the anticipated program will be divided into three parts:

1. Enactment of the "ever-normal granary" plan, long advocated, to maintain the nation's supply of cereal grains at an even keel.

2. Provision for voluntary compliance with production control quotas set by the government.

3. Compulsory control, which would be used only as a "last resort" in event voluntary control should prove inadequate and enormous surpluses should accumulate.

House leaders planned to push the administration's revised $470,000,000 assistance program for the low-income farm class to an early floor test. It was approved last year by the house agriculture committee.

Under the bill, the secretary of agriculture is empowered to make $50,000,000 in loans annually for the next five years to tenant farmers for the purchase of property. They are repayable during the next 30 years at three per cent interest. The loans would be made upon recommendations of county committees.

Other features of the bill provide: 1. Authorization for the secretary of agriculture to make five year loans at three per cent interest at the rate of $75,000,000 a year for the next two years to assist farmers in rehabilitation activities.

2. Authorization for the secretary of agriculture to spend a total of $70,000,000 during the next four years for purchase of submarginal lands to be retired from cultivation.

Judge J. W. Porter today had taken under advisement a suit involving a $250 debt of 10 years ago and almost $200 in interest.

Manager Rulon Dunn said. The picture series of the birth of the potato open the story of "Peruvian Gold." Graphic illustrations of America's potato crop and vast amount of money lost are also described, together with scenes of the blights with which growers are confronted.

Easy methods of controlling the potato diseases are shown in concise manner.

Welcome News to Twin Falls

One thing Twin Falls has needed for the past several years has been additional hotel facilities. The inability of travelers to secure hotel accommodations here without making reservations in advance has reflected to the discredit of the city, and the chambers of commerce and civic organizations have united in their efforts to remedy the situation.

For that reason it is welcome news to Twin Falls that William Hoops has decided upon a $75,000 building program for the New Rogerson hotel. The addition of a new floor to the present structure will mean 50 more hotel rooms, as well as a convention assembly room on the second floor, capable of seating 200 persons.

It's the kind of news we like to hear because we know this improvement will serve to overcome one of the several handicaps standing in the way of city progress.

Mr. Hoops is to be congratulated, not only for his foresight in recognizing an opportunity, but from a civic improvement standpoint as well. He may rest assured that his forward step will be greatly appreciated.

Once Twin Falls has adequate hotel facilities and a decent water system it will have overcome its major drawbacks.

Results—But What Results!

A dictatorship, so they say, is a place where they get things done. A democracy is an unwieldy, talk-cursed agglomeration of politicians in which prompt and efficient action is impossible. Hence the dictatorship must inevitably supplant the democracy in this complex, fast-moving modern world.

That, at any rate, is the argument. It has been worked overtime in the last few years. Prophets of the right and prophets of the left have announced confidently that nations like England, France, and America could not hope to go on as they were; their only choice must be between Fascism and Communism, since democracy was doomed in any case.

As long as this remained in the realm of pure theory, it was a bit hard to answer. No American could deny that a democracy could be exceedingly inefficient, on occasion. A glance at the nearest state legislature was almost enough to make one swallow the democracy-is-done-for argument, hook, line, and sinker.

But the proof of the pudding is in the eating, and it begins to look as if a significant helping is being eaten in Spain.

There it is becoming apparent that although dictators may get things done, the things they get done are very often calamitously wrong, not to say stupid.

Mussolini and Hitler declared themselves in on the Spanish war, and bound up their prestige with the triumph of the rebels. Italians and Germans went to Spain to instruct, advise, and fight; Italian and German war material was sent there for the rebels to use.

And after long months of all this, the rebel cause is in a remarkably bad way. The "invincible legions" of the dictators turn out to be somewhat below the grade of shock troops. German planes prove less air-worthy than the planes flown by the Spanish loyalists. German and Italian tanks are out-classed by government tanks.

Because of all this, the dictators are far worse off than they were a year ago. They have been getting by, in a Europe that is afraid of war, on their reputations as lords of unbeatable fighting machines. They have called on their countrymen to accept a lower standard of living so that these fighting machines could be built. They have muscled their way through international politics by threatening to put the boots to anyone who got in their path.

Now, because they entangled themselves in the Spanish war, they are losing that prestige which is their main reliance. Europe is discovering that it doesn't need to be quite so afraid of these mighty war machines. And it is learning an additional truth which is even more significant:

It is fine to be able to get things done, but it can be pretty disastrous if you pick out the wrong things to do.

A noted surgeon says the average length of life of women has jumped from 40 to 64 years. To a woman, this only means 24 more years to stay 29.

Foreign writer intimates Uncle Sam is selfish in not intervening in trouble abroad. It looks as if we may be able to import some good sour grape wine.

Trailer Adventure

BY NARD JONES ©1937, NEA Service, Inc.

She found Betty at the door of the trailer talking to a rather slouchy man who might have been anywhere between 30 and 40. At Martha's appearance, he turned quickly.

BEGIN HERE TODAY. MARTHA BRITTAIN and BETTY HAYNES overjoyed on their California vacation trip and find themselves stranded in San Diego. They answer an ad of the Airspeed Trailer Company and obtain an assignment to travel up the west coast, demonstrating the new de luxe trailer. Their suspicions are aroused somewhat when ARNOLD SLOSS of the Airspeed company falls to ask for either bond or references.

Elated at the prospect of the trip and money, nevertheless, the two purchase travel outfits and return to their apartment to pack. At their door they answer a knock and find a handsome young man trying to enter. Apologetically, he tells them he stepped off at the evening floor and that his name is GERRIT NEAL. At first alarmed, the girls soon incline to dismiss the fact. But Martha doesn't forget Neal. They start north. And then on the outskirts of a little town they pick up Neal, hitchhiking. He tells them he is to meet a friend, JACK SPEDDON, at Long Beach. But when the girls reach the city's edge, Neal has disappeared from the trailer.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IV "HIS suitcase is gone, too!" exclaimed Betty, climbing into the trailer. "I wonder what else is missing?"

Martha joined her in the search, but to their astonishment nothing had been stolen. The washbasin was still damp. Apparently Neal had shaved, then slipped from the trailer. "He must have got out while we were going slow through some of those towns back there," Martha said. She looked at Betty. "I wonder if he's just—just odd, or whether there's something behind all this?"

Betty grinned. "I think he's just odd. Or maybe not even odd. Suppose you were a man, and you'd hooked a ride, and had to borrow a washbasin to shave in—all from a couple of girls. Wouldn't you want to take a run-out powder at the earliest opportunity?"

"Perhaps you're right," Martha said. "Want to start the dinner while I hunt up the manager and find out what it'll cost us to park here?"

"I'll start it," Betty agreed, "and I'll finish it. But tomorrow night it's your turn!"

"Right!" Martha laughed, and started out for the manager's cottage. But that laugh was no indication of her true feelings. Try as she might, she could not write off Gerry Neal's disappearance as lightly as Betty did. Even when she had paid in advance for her parking space, and obtained the manager's permission to display the trailer for advertising purposes, she returned to the Airspeed with Neal still in her mind.

In the falling dusk she found Betty at the door of the trailer talking to a rather scrawny man who might have been anywhere between 30 and 40. At Martha's appearance he turned quickly.

"Martha, this is Mr. Speddon," Betty said. "He's the man Mr. Neal telephoned."

SPEDDON looked at her queerly. "I don't know about that. But it's mighty queer. You girls may not realize it, but this could be something kind of serious."

"What do you mean?" Speddon hesitated. "Well, I can't say exactly. Did you stop anywhere after he got into the trailer?"

"Just at a gasoline station quite near here," Martha said. "But I'm sure he didn't get out there."

"I'd like to find out, Miss Brittain. You see, Gerry's a friend of mine—and I happen to know that there's one or two people who might want him to disappear. Could you show me where that gas station is? I'd like to ask the attendant if he saw anybody get out of the trailer."

"One of us had better stay with the trailer," Martha said. "Do you think you could show him, Betty?"

All curiosity now at the strange turn of events, Betty gladly assented. Martha walked to the edge of the auto camp to watch them get into Speddon's car, a dark blue roadster, and as they drove off, some sudden premonition prompted her to note the license number. Hurrying back to the trailer she found a pencil and paper and wrote it down.

She was soon to be grateful for this move. A half hour passed, then an hour, and Betty and Speddon hadn't returned. Frantic, Martha unhooked the coupe from the trailer and started for the gasoline station. To her relief from that and struck McKean's dray, threw him out of his rig, ran over him and proceeded on its career up Shoshone. It turned onto Blue Lakes boulevard and still keeping up its pace struck a horse and carriage occupied by E. N. Day and family and threw them out, upset both horse and buggy, and proceeded down the grade to the Blue Lakes at the same furious speed and landed safely at the water's edge practically unharmed.

McKean, who was run over, was taken to Dr. Boyd's office, where it was found that only minor injuries had been received.

E. N. Day and family also escaped with a few bruises. McKean's team, after getting over its surprise, started to run, and was caught a few blocks away from the corner where the collision occurred.

the same attendant was on duty, and he smiled in recognition. "What'd you do with the Pullman car?" he grinned.

"Do you remember the girl who was with me earlier in the afternoon?" "I sure do. You mean that good-looking blond."

Martha nodded. "Has she been here within the last hour? She'd have been in a dark blue roadster."

"None . . . the station attendant shook his head. "In the last hour there hasn't been either a blond or a roadster in here."

"Are you sure?" "Lady, I don't forget blonds like that. When she came in here this afternoon I says to myself, 'Tim, you won't see a babe like that for another week.'"

MARtha's fingers tightened impatiently on the edge of the car door. "All right. But I want to ask you something else. This afternoon did you see anybody get out of our trailer—or notice anyone around the station as we left?"

He looked at Martha as if he believed she might be just the least-bit irresponsible. "No, lady, I didn't."

"Let me use your telephone," "Yes, ma'am." The attendant stepped aside, still pop-eyed. He was more aghast when he overheard Martha's conversation. For she had connected with the police station and was giving a description of Betty Haynes and Speddon, and the dark blue roadster. "And will you please send someone out to the Golden State Auto Park right away? There are some things I want to tell you—but the first thing to do is stop that car. I've—I've got to find her. . . ."

Yes . . . Yes, Martha Brittain, and I'm at the Golden State Auto Park. As she sped past the attendant and into her car she heard him muttering, "If I see them I'll sure get in touch with you."

"Thanks so much—and phone the police, too." Martha's vision clouded with tears and she rubbed her hand across her eyes. Poor Betty! Caught up in no one knew what sort of a mess—and all because she, Martha, had been interested in Gerry Neal. Yes, Martha told herself firmly, that was the only reason. For she could have said to Speddon, "We're not concerned with what became of your friend. He forced himself into our lives for a few hours, and we're quite willing to see him again." She could have said that, and saved Betty this. . . .

At the trailer the cold, uncooked food was still on the stove, but Martha made no move to prepare it. Nervous, she could only sit and stand in alternate restless movements. She thought of writing home, but realized in time that this would be of no help now and would only throw Betty's family into a frenzied fright. Arnold Sloss? He could do nothing, and his first thought would probably be for his advertising enterprise.

Suddenly she heard voices outside the trailer. Looking from one of the windows she saw a joggling pool of light from an electric lamp. In the dim illumination she recognized the manager of the trailer camp. And with him was a heavy-set man in gray tweed.

"There was a loud knock on the door of the trailer," Miss Brittain? . . .

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As gathered from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

APRIL 9, 1922 BRATTLEBORO, Vt.—Ehlers' is the trade mark name that has been reserved exclusively for the use of Edwin G. Ehlers, Twin Falls, as a prefix to the regular registration name for all Holstein animals raised on the Ehlers farm and registered with the Holstein-Friesian association of America, according to an official announcement made by Sec. F. L. Houghton of this city. All registered animals carry beside a registry number a family name usually indicating the ancestral bloodline. As a means of identifying the various breeding establishments of the country trade mark names are reserved by the association for the exclusive use of breeders. Thus an animal can always be identified as to its original birthplace.

27 YEARS AGO

APRIL 9, 1901 A runaway occurred on Main street yesterday which for unfortunate results and hair-breadth escapes, holds all records. The excitement took place about five o'clock, when Main street and Shoshone was well filled with vehicles, making the performance of the runaway seemingly incredible. The team which, by the way, was from a livery stable, started bucking on the east end of Main avenue, and the occupant becoming alarmed, jumped out and let the team go. The team, going at a terrific pace, turned the corner and started up Shoshone street toward Blue Lakes boulevard. In making the turn the horses struck an automobile near the curb, bounced off

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine Without special instruments and devices equipped with electric light, it is not possible for the average person to see the eardrum or recognize trouble in the middle ear.

The physician has an otoscope and an ear speculum which permit him to see the lining of the canal and to throw light directly on the eardrum. When the eardrum can thus be seen, it is possible to determine whether everything is normal or whether there is any obstruction or infection in the external ear canal.

It is also necessary, in examining the ears, to determine whether the eustachian tubes are infected, because infection or inflammation there will interfere seriously with hearing. The eustachian tubes pass from the back of the nasal cavity to the middle ear. Frequently infection spreads from the tonsils and adenoids by way of the tubes to the ear canal.

There will be no need to treat such conditions if simple rules of hygiene tend to prevent such infections as followed. Increased bathing and swimming have multiplied the number of cases of ear infection arising from that source. Children should not be permitted to swim more than 15 or 20 minutes at a time. If they tend to have ear trouble, they should not be permitted to dive. The child who, after swimming, complains of difficulty in hearing, or of fullness in the head, should give up the sport. These symptoms are nature's warning that trouble may be expected.

Unhealthily tonsils and adenoids, as has already been mentioned, may be the source of infections which reach the ear. The vast majority of ear infections are due to head colds and influenza. About 10 per cent of children with scarlet fever and measles, and about 5 per cent of those with diphtheria, develop such infections, while other cases develop after mumps, typhoid fever, and whooping cough.

Obviously, prompt care for children with various infections, and regular attention to the ears, are important in preventing the infection from spreading to the mastoid or internal ear.

Children under 12 acquire infections of the ear more easily than do grown persons. The tympanic structure in the nose and throat of a child is greater in amount than that of adults and becomes infected more easily.

Certain types of infection such as that caused by the virulent germ called streptococci are more likely to damage the ears than are others. If a child who suffers repeatedly from colds has enlarged adenoids and breathes through his nose with difficulty, it is extremely likely that he has infection of the ear. Removal of tonsils and adenoids at the right time is exceedingly important in avoiding such trouble.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

Exclusive Evening Times Report from the Nation's Capital by an Expert Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon)

SPHINX SPEAKS—PRIVATELY WASHINGTON, April 9—Some very well informed senators have an idea that the man behind these recent legislative moves against sit-down strikes is none other than President Roosevelt's own walking sphinx, the White House no-man, Vice President John Nance Garner. They would not be surprised if the persistence of Senator Jimmy Byrnes in favor of a declaration against coal sit-downs might be attributed—strange as it seems—to some private encouragement he has received from Mr. Garner. They noted the vast white eyebrows and short black cigar of this most skilled of the President's legislative advisers popping around senatorial desks during consideration of the matter. Some senators thought they heard him tell them he was in favor of the adoption of the Byrnes amendment. They also have understood he is the one who most energetically urged Mr. Roosevelt to take a forceful stand on the issue.

Their eyes and ears may have deceived them. Mr. Garner is difficult to catch with the naked eye and practically impossible by ear. Also, there seems to be some doubt in their minds as to whether he was speaking for the President or just for himself.

Regardless of these surmises, it seems to be quite clear that Mr. Garner is in favor of stronger pronouncement against sit-downs than have been made so far.

CRISIS CROSSING This is one of the few things about the situation. In the absence of any official declaration of policy, a variety of cross-currents, has developed, leading in many opposite directions.

What seems to have happened is this: The White House is supposed to have a private promise from the crusading Lewis labor group to keep its sit-downers standing up. At least this information has been conveyed to administration authorities in congress.

There seems to be no question about the sincerity of the promise, but considerable doubt whether it can be fulfilled. The Ford unions, for instance, are said to be balky in the face of the Lewis leadership. Also the Wilder unions outside his jurisdiction are certainly planning more sit-down action.

The President is being represented to his congressmen as believing the situation will ease down now and straighten itself out, without any drastic legislative action or the government taking a firm hand. He is not opposed to the house investigation of the situation, and indeed, may let Mr. Garner come around the White House again despite his activity for the Byrnes amendment. (Wise politicians noted that the Byrnes move tended to take the pressure off the President to declare against sit-downs.)

Meanwhile, the general unpopularity of this illegal and strong-arm strike method is rising so rapidly, it may clear the atmosphere for a declaration of policy shortly.

Note—One of Mr. Roosevelt's ablest labor lieutenants wrote a speech setting forth in comprehensive fashion the labor policy of the administration. He intended to deliver it last week. His superior officer declined to pass the declaration, and indicated the White House objected to any such statements just now. The labor lieutenant tore up the speech, wrote an innocuous one as a substitute.

RUMORS What makes this supreme court delay in the labor decision so interesting is the fact that practically every lawyer in Washington long ago decided the vast in his own mind. Outside opinion is virtually unanimous.

Rarely has there been such agreement among rail-boosters. The bus case, they say, is clearly interstate commerce, and therefore the government will win its right; to supervise labor disputes in that one. The three manufacturing cases are clearly not interstate commerce, and hence the government will lose.

Only difference of opinion seems to be on the fifth case, involving the Associated Press. Official justice cannot decide clearly whether government supervision there would interfere with freedom of the press. Delay of the decision for eight weeks in the face of opinions so clear-cut is naturally encouraging many rumors. Some say the court is filibustering. Others believe the old reversed viewpoint of the court is being revisited, just as in the minimum wage case.

The only thing certain about these and other rumors is that they are only rumors. No one knows definitely what is happening within the court.

Gooding Sets Date Of Annual Election GOODING, April 9 (Special)—Gooding's city election will be held Tuesday, April 27. Mayor, clerk, treasurer and four councilmen are to be elected.

Personnel of the present administration has consented to enter the race, and nominating petitions are being circulated. Present officials are: A. F. James, mayor; E. L. Stillson, clerk; H. P. Hutton, treasurer, and R. W. Lyon, Fred Vandergraft, Herb Meyer and H. P. Bright are councilmen.

There are 42,706 miles of railways within the boundaries of Germany.

By HENRY SUPER
NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 9 (U.P.)—The diving of a 21-year-old Ohio state freshman was the talk of the town today as the National A. A. U. indoor swimming championships entered the second round.

Blond-haired Al Patnik of Homestead, Pa., inaugurating his second year of "big time" competition, was the only star to break the ranks of four defending champions who appeared in the opening sessions of the three-day meet in Yale's Payne Whitney pool—and he did it by defeating two of Uncle Sam's premier divers.

This slender product of the Homestead Library club—which also has produced Lavers Knight, one of the leading woman freestylers—won the springboard title from Al Giegene of the Lake Shore A. C. Chicago, last night.

Champs Retain Titles

Three other champions retained their titles. They were: Adolph Keifer, Lake Shore A. C., 150-yard backstroke; Johnny Higgins of the Olneyville boys club, Providence, R. I., and also an Ohio State freshman, 300-yard medley; and Peter Pick of the New York A. C., 100-yard freestyle. They were unanimous choice to top the pool—and so was Greene until young Patnik began hurling himself through the air with grace and precision never before seen in a diver with so little "big time" experience.

Patnik led Greene by a little more than two points at the end of five compulsory dives. When they started the difficult optional twists and turns it looked like experience would tell, for Greene had finished third in the Olympic springboard even behind the great Dick DeGener and Marshall Wayne, both of whom are now professionals.

Greene in Front

At the end of the seventh dive Greene was out in front by 1.58 points. On the eighth dive he ran his total to 17.78 by scoring 17.10 with a running one-and-a-half gainer with a tuck. Patnik elected to do the same, and he turned the trick so perfectly that the judges awarded him three "tens" and four "nines"—just about perfect. That broke Greene and Patnik won 145.40 points to 143.50. Elbert Root of Detroit, second in the Olympic high board event, was third.

Indegemen Trim Slatkin Team To Put End to Hopes of Regaining Lead

Elk bowlers strengthened their own ranking and dealt a heavy blow to Slatkin's hopes in the Commercial league last night by trimming the one-time leaders three straight games. The defeat wrecked Slatkin's hopes of climbing back to the top.

Aces "Wild" annexed three in a row over Evening Times in a play-off of a postponed game. The third tilt of the night between these clubs ended up in an 836 deadlock, and the Aces won by a single pin in a "roll-off" in which each player bowled one ball.

Charley Larsen rolled 550 for high total in the Elks-Slatkin match and Wall Riggert had 227 for top single game. Fred Stone topped the Aces-Times encounter with 568. Lee McCracken's 197 was the best game.

Restriction on Island Sugar Quota to be Removed

Clause Will Be Provided In House Bill

WASHINGTON, April 9 (U.P.)—Removal of restrictions against importation of refined sugar from Hawaii and Puerto Rico to put them on a parity with the United States, will be provided in a revised sugar quota bill to be submitted to the House agriculture committee within 24 hours.

The revisions were made by the department of agriculture.

Removal of the restrictions were the most important changes by the department, Rep. Fred Cummings, D. Colo., said. He predicted that an effort will be made in the committee to eliminate this revision.

Under the recommendations the island could ship all or any part of their quotas to the United States as refined sugar.

The original quota would have fixed Puerto Rico's share at 842,611 short tons of which 125,033 could enter the United States as refined sugar.

Hawaii's quota under the original proposal was 989,728 short tons, raw value, of which 29,616 short tons could be brought in as refined.

HOPKINS REPORTS WPA'S EXPENSES

Administrator Hits at Charge That 31 Per Cent Goes For 'Overhead'

WASHINGTON, April 9 (U.P.)—The works progress administration reported today that it used more than $2,000,000,000—85.1 per cent of its total expenditures—to pay relief workers and other employees during its first 18 months.

When non-relief employes and contributions of commodities sponsoring WPA projects are considered, approximately 70 per cent of money contributed for WPA projects by federal and local governments went for the wages of workers hired from relief rolls.

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins announced the per cent of wages and salaries following publication of charges that 31 per cent of the work-relief agency's funds went for "overhead" in which were classed materials used in WPA projects and administrative costs.

Administrative costs since the spring of 1936 have averaged less than four per cent, he said.

King George and Better Half

King George and Queen Elizabeth in this newest picture present a glimpse of the radiant domesticity that makes them increasingly popular with Britons. Their good humor may be due partly, at least, to the fact that the queen had just collected a five-pound bet on Royal Mall, the winner of the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England.

PHOSPHATE BEDS INTEREST POPE

Senator Seeks $150,000 for 'Research' Into Idaho Resources

By RALPH W. OLMSTEAD
WASHINGTON, (Special)—At long last, it looks as if Idaho's phosphates—some ten billion tons of them scattered all over southeastern Idaho—are coming into their own. The state legislature memorialized Congress to appropriate money to develop phosphates and a short time ago H. P. Taylor, project director and engineer of the Idaho state planning board, submitted an exceptional paper on phosphates at the Pacific Northwest conference of the farm chemurgic council at Spokane.

Finding its way into the Congressional Record, Mr. Taylor's article has provoked considerable interest, and Senator Pope has presented a joint resolution authorizing the appropriation of $150,000 to be expended "under the direction of the secretary of agriculture for research and investigations into the development of suitable processes for the manufacture of a low cost, efficient fertilizer from rock phosphate."

The secretary of agriculture, empowered under the terms of the resolution to establish, in cooperation with the state of Idaho, an experimental plant. Within the next year or two, government assistance in Idaho phosphate development is almost a certainty.

It was announced by Orma J. Smith, acting president, that Dr. Leach will be in Caldwell soon to assume his new duties and that he will probably be formally inaugurated as president during commencement in June.

Battle of Beauty Looms Over Site of Washington Building

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
WASHINGTON, April 9 (U.P.)—The beauty battle of Ickes vs. Rowe pronounced "raw," as in fight) threatened international complications today as congress undertook to referee their esthetic dispute over lovely vistas—and a tin garage.

Ickes is Secretary Harold L., who doesn't want anybody running the view of his $13,000,000 interior department with an office building, Rowe is Dr. Leo S., the ignorant secretary of the Pan-American union, who feels it would be better to ruin Ickes' beautiful view than his beautiful backyard.

President Roosevelt has worried over the problem. Congress is worrying, and Secretary of State Cordell B. Hull and 20 ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiary, will worry.

Here's the plot:

As secretary of the Pan-American union, Dr. Rowe obtained authority in a proposed law to erect a $650,000 office building as an annex to his Latin-American good-will headquarters of white marble, which includes the most beautiful sunken garden in all Washington. The building was to be erected on Constitution avenue, on a site approved by the national capitol park and planning commission.

Ickes, meanwhile, built his new Interior building, which he considers the handsomest in the country, and discovered that erected in front of it would be square Dr. Rowe's office. He said such a thing would be a sacrilege to beauty. He said his interior headquarters were so beautiful, they ought to be seen from all sides. He asked:

Why doesn't the Pan-American union build its annex in its own back yard?

And ruin the most beautiful beauty spot in the capital? (The Pan-Americanites retorted.)

Ickes took his trouble to congress yesterday, appearing before the house committee on public buildings and grounds with an amendment to the original bill, providing that the annex be built in Rowe's own back yard.

Rowe testified that he believed erection of the annex where Ickes wanted it might demolish the Pan-American union's own vistas. The congressman, led by Rep. Fritz G. Lanham of Texas, prevailed on Dr. Rowe to bring Ickes' suggestion before his board of directors, meeting on May 3. These directors consist of the secretary of state and all the Latin-American ambassadors E. and P.

INDIANS DEMAND LAND PAYMENTS

Shoshone Tribe in Wyoming Seeks $14,089,701 for Reservation Share

WASHINGTON, April 9 (U.P.)—The Shoshone Indians demanded in the court of claims today that the government make amends for depriving them of half their land almost 60 years ago.

Frock-coated counsel, appearing in the green-carpeted hearing room of the court, argued in behalf of the Shoshones that the government should pay damages and interest of $14,089,701 for making the Indians share their Wind river (Wyoming) reservation with the Arapahoe tribe.

The Shoshones moved to the reservation in 1868 when requirements of the new transcontinental railroad forced them to relinquish their traditional hunting and camping grounds in Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming.

Ten years later, the government moved the Arapahoes to the same reservation, promising to move them off again as soon as possible. The Shoshones contend they are entitled to damages because the government failed to keep its promise.

QUINS VACCINATED, DAFOE TELLS LOCAL PHYSICIAN

Letter to Health Unit Chief Stresses Immunization Value

DOCTOR TAKES NO CHANCES WITH DIONNES, HE TELLS TWIN FALLS

Although the Dionne quintuplets are probably the most "guarded" babies in the world and all efforts are being taken to keep common childhood diseases from them, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the "country doctor" who brought them into the world, is taking no chances with these five precious lives. It was revealed here today with receipt of a personal letter from the famed Canadian physician by Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the Twin Falls county health unit.

Quins Immunized
The letter, in answer to a query by Dr. Hawkins seeking to learn just what precautions were taken with the five little girls, so far as immunization is concerned, disclosed they were given toxoid protection against diphtheria when they were 10 months old and during the latter part of January of this year they were vaccinated against smallpox.

In his letter to Dr. Dafoe, Dr. Hawkins asked for information concerning what immunizations the children have had and at what ages they were given.

"Despite the fact that medical authorities generally concede that immunization against smallpox and diphtheria and possibly whooping cough are of definite advantage to the average infant and child, the average family is often lax in obtaining this service for their own children. If you give me the permission I would like to use this material on the basis of its popular appeal to the public in encouraging them to take advantage of the immunizing program in Twin Falls county," Dr. Hawkins' letter read.

In answer to this question, Dr. Dafoe answered:

Tells Procedure
"Replying to your letter, when the quintuplets were 10 months old I gave them toxoid protection against diphtheria and the latter part of January, this year, vaccinated them against smallpox.

"We have found that the publicity given immunization of the quintuplets has had a good effect on parents of children everywhere, being more willing to submit their own children to vaccination on that account."

In Twin Falls county such an immunization program has been carried out and was recently completed. At the present time, Dr. Hawkins points out, mothers of pre-school children are being urged to bring the infants to the county unit of offices in the general hospital purposes home any Saturday from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., at which time the immunizations will be given free of charge.

Results show that in 1936 only 12 per cent of the children below school age had received immunizations against diphtheria and smallpox, and a much smaller percentage than that have been immunized for both.

Don't Realize
"Mothers don't realize that they should have their children immunized before they get in school," Dr. Hawkins said. "Diphtheria immunizations should be given during the first year of life and smallpox within the first year or two. If the parents thought as much of their children as Dr. Dafoe and other physicians think of the quintuplets I am sure they would have their children immunized at an early age. It should either be done at the health unit, or at a private physician's office, but it should be done."

Aside from speaking favorably of immunization, the letter received from Dr. Dafoe is interesting in another sense, investigation discloses.

Special Stationery
The letter is written on special stationery, having the Maple Leaf of Canada in the upper left-hand corner. On the five points of the leaf are face views of the quins with the names of each. To the right of this is a map of Ontario with Callander, the home of the little girls, marked with a large star. In the upper right-hand corner is "The Dionne Quintuplet Guardianship" printed in penmanship, gold letters.

"I was surprised at the rapidity with which Dr. Dafoe answered my query," Dr. Hawkins said. "According to the postmarks he answered it the day it was received. And it is gratifying to have such a famous physician, who knows children, inform us that he administered to the quintuplets what we are offering to every baby in Twin Falls county."

SKIN TESTS TO RESUME MONDAY
Buhl, Castleford Next on List Of County Health Unit's Tuberculosis Drive

Skin tests for discovery of early tuberculosis will be continued in the county high schools next Monday, Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the county health unit, said today.

The tests were given Wednesday among juniors and seniors at the local high school and were being continued here today.

Monday, Dr. Hawkins said, the tests will be given at Buhl and Castleford high schools; Tuesday at Hansen, Kimberly and Murtaugh, and Wednesday at Piler and Holister.

The tests are being given free of charge to all junior and senior class members who desire them. Notices of the good derived from the test have been dispatched parents and guardians of all the upper classmen in the county, Hawkins said.

TAKE OFF
MUNICH, Germany, April 9 (U.P.)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, returning to their English home from a vacation flight to India, took off today.

Their Doctor Sends Letter to Twin Falls Physician

The lives of these five famous little girls are guarded well, and despite the fact they are more protected from disease than probably any other babies in the world, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe took no chances. He states in a letter to Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the Twin Falls county health unit, that he immunized the five girls against diphtheria and smallpox. Such a program has just been completed by the Twin Falls health unit, and each Saturday free immunizations are being offered youngsters of pre-school age at the unit office.

Former Utility Magnate, Out Of Jail, Is Looking for Work

MINNEAPOLIS, April 9 (U.P.)—Wilbur Burton Foshay, who once threw a $116,000 party for presidents, governors, and premiers, is flat broke and looking for a job he said today.

Thanks to a presidential commutation and time off for "good behaviour," the one-time utilities magnate returned to Minneapolis from Leavenworth prison, where he had been sentenced to a 15-year term on mail fraud charges.

"I haven't a penny," Foshay said. "Not one red cent."

Foshay, it was recalled, had only a $200 debt when he came to Minneapolis the first time.

He nursed this into a $50,000,000 utilities dynasty. He was asked if he intended to try building another fortune.

"Rebuild my empire?" he asked. "God, man, how can I? I never have to find a job in order to live."

Foshay even had to ask permission to walk across the African mahogany floors of the private office rooms which were once his own in Foshay tower. When he dedicated this tower in 1928, he sent out 25,000 invitations, including the Presidents of the United States and Mexico, all cabinet officers, governors of 48 states, and premiers of Canada.

Reclamation Board to Gather in Twin Falls

BOISE, Idaho, April 9 (U.P.)—Controversy over a proposal to abandon activities of its board of directors caused hasty adjournment of the Idaho reclamation association here last night. The group will meet in Twin Falls within two weeks to settle the argument. It was announced.

ICC TO CONSIDER RATE INCREASES

Railway Prices to Be Kept As Separate Case in New Hearings

WASHINGTON, April 9 (U.P.)—The interstate commerce commission decided today to consider as a separate case rate increases on heavy commodities proposed by class one railroads in a petition for general revision in basic freight rates.

The decision will permit expeditious consideration of testimony and arguments on the heavy commodities such as coal, coke, ore, and petroleum which would produce nearly three quarters of the $100,000,000 additional revenue sought by the carriers.

The carriers filed the proposed revision in basic freight rates in an effort to restore revenues lost with the expiration of emergency surcharges last Dec. 31. It was estimated the emergency charges produced approximately $10,000,000 monthly for the carriers.

The commission set June 16 for oral arguments on the basic commodities.

The commission said a regional hearing on the proposed increases for basic commodities would be held at Chicago April 22. A general hearing on the proposals will be held at Washington June 14.

OFFICERS EXPECT G-MEN'S REPORT

Examination of Weapon Used in Burley Murder is Underway

BURLEY, April 9 (Special)—Report from the federal bureau of investigation in Washington, D. C., following examination of a nine-inch butcher knife and blood-soaked newspaper found in the shop of Omer P. Simpson, when his brutal murder was discovered, is expected within the next few days, Sheriff P. D. Pace has indicated.

Cassia officers have received a letter from J. Edgar Hoover, head of the department, acknowledging receipt of the knife and paper and stating that his men hoped to complete a scientific examination of the objects shortly.

Since the time of the murder March 29, officers have been engaged in a fruitless search for a suspect reported by witnesses to have been loafing around the barber shop and an adjacent market several days before the tragedy.

The aged man was found near death at about 2 a. m. in his home-barber shop fully dressed, lying by his barber chair. His throat was cut and the back of his head was crushed by four miter, skull fractures which a coroner's jury, found to be the cause of death.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO STOP CONSTIPATION

You have to correct the cause. Simply taking a pill now and then is just temporary—and often harmful.

Most constipation is due to meals low in "bulk." Put enough "bulk" in your diet and you can really correct common constipation.

That's why millions of people eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day. This cereal furnishes "bulk" which does not "break down" in the body. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, gently sponges and cleanses the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. You buy it at the grocery store. Besides "bulk," it has vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Eat two tablespoons daily with milk or cream. Three times daily in severe cases. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BURLEY COUNCIL FAVORS PETITION

Women's Groups Join Move To Obtain Library Building

BURLEY, April 9 (Special)—The city council agreed it its regular meeting Monday to cooperate with the women's clubs of Burley to obtain for the city a public library building, following a petition presented by a committee of prominent club members.

Representation of the petition followed a mass meeting Saturday afternoon of presidents and representatives of 15 of the larger city women's organizations of the town. At their Saturday meeting, the women agreed that such a building was badly needed here, and drew up the petition requesting that the council consider the matter. Such details as site and style were left to the discretion of the council.

Project Favored

Discussion by the council members was favorable, and the group by motion went on record as being heartily in accord with the women and promising its cooperation.

A committee, composed of Mrs. Ida Parke, C. A. Bauer, Jesse Brandt, and J. L. Yelton, was appointed to further investigate the matter and report its findings as to whether such a building could be erected.

At the present time the library is housed in two upstairs rooms on Overland avenue. Lack of a county building and use of the city building by the county officials makes it impossible for the library to be in the city hall.

The proposed building should also contain a civic assembly room, the club women's group petitioned, as there is great need of such a room for organizations that lack individual halls and are too large to meet at private homes.

The group of representatives organized permanently at its meeting Saturday and Mrs. Roscoe Rich was appointed chairman.

Petitioned for Group

The council also considered a petition by the Daughters of Utah that they donate a part of the city grounds for the erection of a log hut to be used by the group for a museum. Action on this petition was also referred to a committee.

A lengthy discussion was held by the members concerning the extensive destruction of street lights, which is becoming one of the major sports of town children.

Between 25 and 30 lights are ruined by BB guns and sling shots every week, it was reported, and the damage is estimated as over $800 a year. The report gave as an example the fact that Saturday every light destroyed was replaced, and yet by the council meeting there were 28 lights reported out.

The council decided that harsh measures would be taken against the offending youngsters unless parents were able to control them and reduce the damage.

MARY HANSOME SECURES PARDON

Twin Falls Negress Granted Release After Plea

BOISE, April 9 (Special)—David Turner, Negro, presented a strong plea for the release of his sister, Mary Turner Hansome of Twin Falls, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, and won her a conditional pardon today.

The pardon board, although it had yesterday refused clemency to Turner's sister, was stirred by his unique pleading, and reversed its decision by a two to one vote. Governor Barzilla Clark and Attorney General Taylor voted yes, and Secretary of State Ira M. Sanders voted no. Turner offered his profuse thanks to the chucking group.

BUHL KIWANIS MEETS

BUHL, April 9 (Special)—Rev. E. R. Berg of the Buhl Baptist church was speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday noon. Mr. Berg spoke on "The Three Requisites for a Successful Life." Miss Irma Lehman, who recently won honors at the Northwest Musical festival at Portland, played a flute solo. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ebbe. James Wright, president of the University of Idaho Vandaleers, was also a guest of the club and sang "Home on the Range."

ARBITRATOR FOR STRIKE ARRIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9 (UP)—Dr. W. E. Leleson, national railway mediator board chairman has arrived here to act as federal arbitrator in the threatened strike of 8,000 trainmen employed by the Southern Pacific company.

Dr. Leleson has arranged a series of conferences between union and railroad officials. Failing settlement of the issues, he could ask President Roosevelt to intervene, automatically delaying a walkout 30 days.

C. V. McLaughlin, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, reported most of the 8,000 votes polled in the western states showed a large majority favoring striking. Remaining ballots will be counted Saturday, he said.

The trainmen charge Southern Pacific with violation of the national railway act and failure to "take action" on union demands.

Mooney Hope With Supreme Court

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 9 (UP)—Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of the Preparedness day bombing in San Francisco in 1916, today placed his hope for freedom back with the state supreme court.

His hope that the California state legislature would obtain his release was lost yesterday when the state senate voted 30 to 8 against a concurrent resolution asking Gov. Frank F. Merriam to grant a pardon.

It was the second resolution in Mooney's behalf which had been defeated by the senate during the present term of the legislature.

NO CHANGE FOR PRICE OF WHEAT

CHICAGO, April 9 (U.P.)—Wheat prices fluctuated actively today within a range of two points and closed little changed here yesterday.

At the close wheat was unchanged to 1/4 cent higher, new corn 3/4 to 1 1/2 cents higher, and oats were unchanged to 1/2 cent higher.

The market opened as much as a cent lower reflecting weakness in Liverpool but rallied sharply in response to President Roosevelt's denial that any change in the gold price was contemplated.

Corn futures closed about steady after a session of ups and downs. Eastern commission houses supplied the greater part of the day's offerings.
