

HORRORS OF SPANISH WAR DESCRIBED BY CORRESPONDENT

FAMED EUROPEAN U. P. WRITER TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

Webb Miller Narrates Scenes Encountered While With Gen. Franco

WASHINGTON, April 17 (UP)—The incredible slaughter and horror of modern warfare was described in a speech today by Webb Miller, famous war correspondent and European news manager of the United Press, who accompanied Gen. Francisco Franco's Spanish rebel forces into Toledo.

Miller came here from London to address the 15th annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors at the National Press club. His remarks were broadcast over the Red network of National Broadcasting company.

He pictured the terrible scenes he witnessed when he entered the Toledo Alcazar as it fell, to show the deadly hate which impels each side to fight until it can fight no longer.

Exhaustion Will End "I believe that the war will eventually end through exhaustion and collapse of morale of one side or the other, rather than by definite victory of arms," he said. "I do not believe that either side can score a knockout punch."

"In the last 21 years, I have seen something of six wars but none, not even the World war, was so ghastly and horrible. In Spain you have three wars rolled into one—it is a political war, an economic war and has elements of a religious war."

Women and Children "Among the dead and wounded on both sides are many thousands of women and children. When I was in Oviedo, a town of 70,000 people, which had been completely surrounded and closely besieged for 90 days, I often saw children running around the streets wearing bandages on wounds from bombs."

Regarding the 70-day siege of the Alcazar fortress in Toledo, Miller said: "I entered Toledo and the Alcazar with Gen. Franco about midday on Sept. 21."

"San Juan hospital, just outside the city, was burning fiercely and the smoke bore the stench of burning flesh. There was much mystery about what exactly happened at San Juan hospital, but the fact remains that several hundred wounded men were burned to death there."

"Gate of Blood" "We entered through the famous, well-named 'gate of blood,' inside the gate lay crumpled bodies covered with dust, thrown out by passing motor trucks. Other bodies with hands welded together lay in a jumble at the foot of a parapet, apparently having been tossed over after having been executed."

"In the dark, tunnel-like passages 100 feet below where the survivors had lived, lighted only by dim, flickering candles of mule fat, the scene resembled an illustration for Dante's inferno."

"Here, 1,670 men, women and children had worked, slept and eaten during 70 days. Except for a narrow runway down the middle, the floor was covered with pallets. Faded, haggard and wizened women and children still lay inert on mattresses."

Children Wall "Others sat silently clasping their emaciated children, who waited in fright. Everyone in the nightmarish dungeon was the color of mushroom grown in dark places."

"Lieut. Tomas Katlins, a young cadet, talked to Reynolds Packard and me about the siege."

"The most terrible days were when we heard the sounds of the drums driving holes under the Alcazar by the mines. We knew what they were doing. They shouted to us through megaphones that unless we surrendered, their mines would blow us to bits."

"Day after day we heard the drills. Then one day the drilling stopped. That waiting for the explosion was horrible."

"When the mines finally blew up, many of us were stunned. Thirty were killed and one man committed suicide then and two later."

SHERIFFS NAB 2 FLEEING BANDITS

OMAHA, Neb., April 17 (UP)—Department of justice agents rode off today with two suspected public enemies captured by a country sheriff as they fled a federal trap in Topeka, Kan.

Six agents and the prisoners left in two cars, reportedly headed through Iowa to Topeka, where the men admittedly shot an FBI man and two bystanders to escape a trap laid for them in the postoffice.

Sheriff Homer Sylvester of Plattsmouth, Neb., and his brother Cass, captured them after they had kidnapped a country doctor to obtain medical aid. The fugitives lost themselves in Plattsmouth, a town of a few streets, followed a blind road, were stranded on a river bank. They gave up without fight.

Agents obtained the men from Sylvester, brought them to Omaha where they said they were Gerald Lewis, 40, alias Alfred Power, and Robert J. Suhay.

Agents swarmed about Omaha FBI offices as the men were questioned. Only person allowed to enter the building was reported to be a doctor to remove a bullet from Suhay's arm.

The investigators found about $11,000 in the men's effects, it was reported.

Slimmer Now

A mere shadow of the plump princess who left The Hague to honeymoon with handsome young Prince Bernhard, Juliana, heiress to Holland's throne, returned at the end of their three-months tour of Europe looking smartly slim. Gone are the apple cheeks and the overly generous curves in this latest picture to reach America. She lost 23 pounds.

LOYALISTS TAKE 3 MORE TOWNS

Push Made Toward Walled City of Teruel; Break Rebel Drive

By JAN YINDRICH

MADRID, April 17 (UP)—A sudden loyalist push toward Teruel, a walled city 73 miles northwest of Valencia, won three towns for the government today and threatened to break an insurgent drive to isolate Catalonia.

The loyalists captured Visedo, Lindon and Argente in rapid succession, army dispatches reported. These towns in central Spain on the Aragon front paved the way for a further advance to the strategic heights of Cerro Gordo where the government forces launched an attack on Celadras, nine miles northwest of Teruel.

The Teruel campaign followed the lines of the present campaign by government troops further south in the Cordoba area where "mopping up" operations after the loyalist victory at Pozoblanco have brought back hundreds of square miles of territory under the government flag.

Teruel province, which has been under national control, until the government launched the present offensive, supports 300,000 people on 5,270 square miles, and is almost due east of Madrid. It is the intention of the government to route some of the 39 new highways being built between Madrid and the east coast through the province of Teruel.

Nationalist troops stubbornly resisted loyalist attempts to take Celadras, Arillery, tanks and infantry exerted heavy pressure against the town in an all night battle last night. The lines were relatively unchanged today with the battle proceeding furiously.

Clark Urged to Hurry Naming of Phosphate Man

BOISE, Idaho, April 17 (UP)—Gov. Barzilla W. Clark today was urged to act speedily in the matter of appointment of a fifth man to the state's phosphate development committee.

The appointment is necessary to make the committee operative. He was given names of three men to consider. They were from Gooding, Canyon, and Fremont counties, but identity of the candidates was not revealed.

Other committee members expressed themselves as anxious to begin work in development and use of the state's rich phosphate deposits.

First tests will be adaptability of the processed material as a fertilizer for agriculture use, it was said. The committee was empowered to lease phosphate grounds in the southeastern portion of the state for development purposes.

Engineers said that more than 90 per cent of all raw phosphate deposits in the United States were located in Idaho.

A giant Sequoia tree yielded 3000 pounds, 600,000 shingles, and 100 cords of firewood. The upper one-third and the branches of the huge tree were not used.

WEED CAMPAIGN GETS UNDERWAY

Force of 40 Will Be Raised To 100 By April 29th, Director Says

Renewed campaign against noxious weeds was underway in Twin Falls county today.

A force of 40 men is now at work and the group is expected to be augmented to 100 by April 29, J. P. Hunt, director of the county's noxious weed bureau, said this afternoon. By May 15 the force may reach as high as 150 men.

All workers except five per cent are from WPA rolls, with the labor costs being paid by the federal government. The five per cent not from WPA lists comprises the county's key men on Mr. Hunt's force.

Percentage Undecided Percentage of the cost of materials to be paid this year by the government is still indefinite today, the director said. Last year 50 per cent was paid by the government and county, with the sole cost to the farmers consisting of the remaining 50 per cent of materials used in eradicating the weeds.

The county has budgeted $57,700 for the 1937 program, and federal participation will probably bring the campaign into the $100,000 class again this year. The county furnishes all tools and equipment used and provides supervision.

Drive against the weed pests will be countywide, since it is estimated that 95 per cent of all farms in the county are infested to some degree. Some work has already been done this season on the Salmon tract.

Re-check of all last year's eradication projects will be made in the present program to clean up any regrowth that may have occurred.

Survey Under Way Survey of the entire county has been started and is expected to be completed by the end of the season. The survey is intended both for the weed survey records and for the extension service.

Chief targets in the campaign are morning glory, white top, knapweed, Canadian thistle, ground chery and several other minor types.

Neither the weed drive nor the survey is compulsory, Mr. Hunt said.

The program in Twin Falls county, he pointed out, is a permanent one and is not limited to a "five year plan" such as has been outlined in several other counties.

Idaho is reported to be the only state in which federal assistance has been given so far to the farmers' long battle against weed pests.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAIL STRIKERS CANCEL WALKOUT

GROUP TO AWAIT FINDINGS OF U.S. MEDIATION BOARD

Order to Stop Strike Given Less Than Two Hours Before Time Set

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17 (U.P.)—A strike which threatened to tie up travel on 9,000 miles of tracks of the Southern Pacific railway in the eight western states of its Pacific division, was averted until June 15 at least, it was announced today.

The strike, called for 6 p. m. yesterday by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, was postponed 1 hour and 40 minutes before the deadline.

The two brotherhoods agreed to submit their dispute to a three-man emergency mediation board previously appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The dispute did not directly concern the railway company, but involved the changeover in that members of the two unions disagreed over membership representation with the Locomotive Engineers and Order of Conductors.

Wouldn't Join
These latter brotherhoods of the big four, however, announced they would not join the trainmen and enginemen and firemen in a strike, and the Southern Pacific indicated that it expected to be able to continue service with their help despite a strike by the other two unions.

Ordered to Stay
Immediately following issuance of this statement, word was flashed throughout the Pacific division of the railway for the men to stay on the job.

Simultaneously, it was announced that the company agreed not to discriminate against any men who might have walked out at the agreed time, and who did not receive the notice in time.

The strike would have involved not only the 8,500 men directly employed on the Southern Pacific system, but also would have tied up trains on the Northwestern Pacific, used daily by 24,000 persons who commute from their country homes to their places of business in San Francisco and other bay cities.

Success in achieving postponement was accredited directly to the railway labor act, which is one of the most effective legislative acts in averting tieups and walkouts, according to union officials.

The issues involved in the controversy will be taken up by the emergency mediation board next Tuesday and that board will be required to report its findings to the President within 30 days. Thereafter another 30 days must elapse before a strike call can be issued if the disputants still have failed to reach agreement.

D. Worth Clark Didn't Get Banquet Bid in Time

Because Cong. D. Worth Clark was absent from Washington on official committee business, he was unable to send a message of greeting to the Twin Falls county Jefferson club banquet here Monday, he informed T. J. Lloyd, chairman of the invitation committee, in a letter which had been received here today.

The representative said the Jefferson club notification did not reach him until the day after the annual convolve of Idaho Bourbons was held.

John W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction, was prevented from coming by a previous engagement and sent greetings to the Democrats in a message which did not arrive until after the banquet, Mr. Lloyd said.

Senator Pope Tells Southern Idaho That Wallace Says Inquiry Near End

Thorough investigation into the cause of the potato price collapse is now nearing completion by the commodity exchange administration, south central Idaho growers were informed today in a letter from Sen. James P. Pope.

Senator Pope, writing to County Agent Harvey S. Hale, quoted a message from Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, declaring that results of the investigation into the spud price slump will be ready for announcement within a few days.

The probe, according to Wallace, will determine whether or not the potato decline was due to speculative short selling on commodity exchange, or to liquidation of "long" contracts purchased at higher prices, or to a supply of actual potatoes in excess of demands.

The communication received here was in answer to the resolution passed by growers of three counties, flagging the trading in potato on the Chicago mercantile exchange and asking congressional legislation to bar such trading from all exchanges.

Magazine Tells Breezy Tale Of Film Doings At Ketchum

"They Met in Ketchum," a breezy account of the Sun Valley area and Paramount's motion picture activities in filming "I Met Him in Paris," offers entertaining reading for Idahoans in the May issue of "Silver Screen," now on Twin Falls newsstands.

Concerning Ketchum, the author who writes under the name of Liza, says: "Once the last frontier of American civilization, with wild Indians squinting over the snow-capped peaks, the tiny little mining town of Ketchum (population less than 200) has suddenly become the St. Moritz of America, the mecca of an annual 'mus' of ski-mad maniacs."

Ketchum Undecided
"Ketchum hasn't decided whether to be glad about it or not. The natives continue to mine their mines, herd their cattle and gather of a Saturday night in the local gambling joints in 10-gallon hats and flannel shirts to watch the crack-pot easterners and movie folks throw away their dough."

Concerning the leading figures in the film production—Claudette Colbert, Robert Young and Melvyn Douglas—the writer finds them nice people and not all what some Hollywood reports would have you believe. They are behaving quite properly. I hasten to report," says Liza, "because I know you've heard wild tales about all those fantastic things that happen on locations. In fact, they are behaving too properly for me to get good 'copy'."

Italians Adopt Program to Assure Increased Birth Rate

By STEWART BROWN
ROME, April 17 (U.P.)—A big scale program to insure more babies—soldiers for the possible war of the next generation—was adopted today by the cabinet.

It was the third meeting in six days of a cabinet which normally meets about six times a year. It was believed that Premier Benito Mussolini was awaiting some big break in the Spanish situation. But with announcement of the baby program, the cabinet adjourned today until June.

Drastic Measures
Drastic measures to penalize the willfully childless have been considered. Today, however, the cabinet agreed to encourage marriages and babies by a system of marriage loans, lighter taxes and preferential wages for prolific parents.

In future, every worker will be entitled to an increase in pay on the birth of a son. Hitherto, workers have been entitled to increases after a given number of sons.

It was decided to inaugurate a marriage loan system July 5, with the government making an initial loan contribution of 500,000 lire ($26,350).

Entitled to Loans
Newly wedded couples under 26 years of age will be entitled to marriage loans ranging from 1,000 lire to 3,000 lire ($52.70 to $158.10). These loans will be repayable over a period of years, beginning one year after marriage. With the birth of the first child, however, 10 per cent is slashed from the loan principal. At the birth of a second child 20 per cent is to be deducted. The third child will bring a 30 per cent deduction and the fourth a 40 per cent deduction.

National Want Ad Week

and what it means to the Classified Want Ad Readers

You'll Find a World of Interest in the WANT ADS

A great many people read the Want Ads in this newspaper as religiously as they do the columns of news. Besides furnishing an excellent index of local conditions, they have found that these little ads are downright human oftentimes revealing drama, or perhaps pathos.

Here are found real human interest stories—of, by and for the people of this city, expressed in their own words. Here are happy newlyweds seeking a cozy apartment... or a mother seeking to add to the family income by renting a spare room. Here is the man who has been advanced by his company to a better job in another city, and wants to sell his house and furniture... or an employer who has an excellent opportunity to offer to the right young man or woman. Here is the person seeking news of missing relatives or the heart-broken lad who wants to find his lost dog, or the elderly couple who want to sell their little business and retire, or the skilled workman who is seeking employment at his trade. Hope, faith, joy, sorrow are wrapped up in the want ads with intense interest from day to day.

YOU can never know what ads will do for you until you read them and use them! A little investment in time devoted to reading them may save you many dollars on the car you have been wanting, or help you find the home of your dreams at a price within reach. Or, a few lines properly written and given enough insertions may sell that piece of real estate you considered "frozen." Or rent an empty apartment, or turn surplus furniture into needed cash. Every day the want ads in this paper are renting houses, garages, rooms and apartments. They are finding jobs and workers. They are securing business for painters, paper-hangers, music teachers, they are selling radios, furniture, refrigerators, pets, farm implements.

Frequently, all of us are prone to overlook the little things. But just remember this... these small ads run at trifling cost, make a little money go a long way. Those who know do not overlook the want ads because of their size. They profit from reading them, and from using them. During "National Want Ad Week" is a good time for you to get the habit.

Guarding Public Safety

A month or so ago the Idaho Power company spent considerable money on one advertisement appearing simultaneously in many Idaho newspapers—an advertisement from which it could not expect a cent in return.

It was simply a warning to parents, that they guard against their children flying kites in the vicinity of the company's high tension lines. Innocent play of this kind, it was pointed out, might result in injury or even death of a child should contact with these lines be established accidentally.

While the Idaho Power company does not serve the territory around Fairfield, a 12-year-old boy in that vicinity suffered severe shock and burns recently when the fine wire which he was using instead of a string while flying a kite became tangled with a power line.

The Idaho Power company is to be commended for its foresight in attempting to avoid accidents of this kind in the vicinity it serves. Its expense in this connection was solely for the benefit of public safety.

An Outstanding Example

Fifty-three years ago a lad 17 years old went to work at Fayetteville, Ark., a station on the old St. Louis & San Francisco railroad. The station crew consisted of a telegraph operator, a helper and himself.

As what we nowadays call a flunky, he "helped the helper, cleaned stoves and spittoons, rustled baggage, and between times learned telegraphy."

That youngster was Carl R. Gray who will retire from the presidency of the Union Pacific railroad Oct. 1, three days after he reaches the age of 70.

As dean of American railroad executives, he has headed the Union Pacific system for 17 years.

From a station flunky to the presidency of one of the nation's greatest railroads—a striking example of what America affords in the way of opportunities for personal advancement, and of the heights to which one can go if he has the will and ability, despite the humblest of beginnings!

Keeping Up With the "Times"

The Idaho Evening Times, like newspapers generally, is continually striving to present a more readable and interesting newspaper every day. Its editorial staff devotes much of its time to studying improvements in keeping with modern journalistic progress.

Recognizing the growing demand for illustrated news, the Evening Times recently started devoting the left-hand column of its front page to photographs, under the caption: "In the Day's Parade."

The favorable response we received from our readers has been gratifying, and bears out our judgment in trying to give our subscribers "what they want."

It is all the more gratifying to find that such newspapers as the Nampa Leader-Herald and the Pocatello Tribune have followed suit with a front page column of photographs since the idea was started in Idaho by the Evening Times.

Meantime our mechanical facilities are also being improved. Only recently we installed the newest model, all-electric Elrod strip casting machine in the inter-mountain area. It has contributed much to the efficiency of the plant producing the Evening Times and Twin Falls Daily News, and has made a pronounced improvement in the appearance of these two newspapers.

Plans for still more improvements are in the making, both editorial and mechanical, and in this connection we wish to emphasize once more that suggestions from our readers are always welcome.

Tip for "Golf Widows"

The wife of a noted golfer dramatizes the dismal lot of a "golf widow" by suing for a divorce. Her advice to prospective brides of fairway addicts is "Don't."

With all respect to the unhappy woman, however, it is wondered if she took every step possible to make her married life a success. If she simply sat home and waited for her mate's seasonal return, perhaps she got what she deserved. But a "golf widow" generally can avoid her bereavement by use of a little guile.

For instance, she could insist upon playing golf with her husband. Then, every time he prepared to drive, she could hum a little tune. She could take care that each of her drives would not carry over 10 feet, making it necessary for him to wait as she meandered slowly over the fairway. And she could chatter away about the beauty of Nature, or the drabness of golf togs worn by other women nearby.

In this way, it would be only a matter of time until her mate exploded, broke his clubs, and hence became a home-body.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARTHA BRITAIN and BETTY HAYNES begin a trip up the Snake River valley in their Airspeed trailer. They pick up GERRY NEAL, handsome young hitch-hiker, and then they go to meet a friend, JACK SPEDDON, at the Long Beach auto camp. But at Long Beach, the trailer and Speddon drive away with Betty, leaving Martha to return.

Martha calls police. Then she gets a wire, hours later, signed "Betty" and advising that Betty will meet her in San Francisco at a designated hotel. Excitedly, Martha starts out, trying to trace Betty en route. Returning to her trailer the second day, she started to see Neal. He tells her that "this thing may be bigger than she imagines."

The answer to accompany Neal back to San Francisco to find Betty. Martha is troubled because she likes Neal, yet she does not know whether to trust him. She wires San Francisco and finds that neither Betty nor Speddon are there. She then telegrams Neal to spend the day at Del Monte. They make in the night and Neal rescues her when the breakers suck her under. Martha and Neal know after that they are falling in love. Darning with Neal that night, Martha finds it pleasant to remember his kiss earlier that day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

MARTHA half expected Gerry Neal to try to persuade her they could stay longer at Del Monte, but he held to his bargain. At the stroke of midnight he suggested they call a halt so that she might get some sleep before the drive to San Francisco. "I'll get a room for you here," he said.

Martha protested that there was the trailer. "But you won't want to sleep right at the front steps of Del Monte—and I won't have you driving out to a parking lot on the edge of Monterey," Neal told her. "Let me get you a room."

"Very well. But I pay the bill." Next morning at breakfast he was smiling as if at some secret. "You might let me in on the joke," Martha suggested.

"Sleep well?" "Wonderfully! There's something in the air here—and that big room was delightful after the trailer. But you didn't let me in on the joke."

"I was wondering what you'd say if I told you that I slept in the trailer last night!"

Martha stared. "Are you serious?"

"Very. I slept well, too."

"But why did you do that?"

Neal looked at her quizzically. "I just wanted to be sure no one tampered with it—or tried to make away with it."

"What made you think they would?"

"I don't know, really. But anyhow, I was wrong . . . what'll we do to the menu this morning?"

MARTHA was too excited at the prospect of seeing Betty again to eat very much. And Neal's mysterious attitude about the trailer further disturbed her. Just at the moment when she had been ready to account him as a normal person, he was unpredictable and enigmatic again!

She breathed more freely when they were on the road to San Francisco. Neal took the wheel, and just before noon they began passing through Redwood City and Palo Alto and the other suburbs south of the great western metropolises.

At the city limits of San Francisco, Neal insisted on unhooking the trailer and parking it in a garage. "Why couldn't we put both the coupe and the trailer in the hotel's garage?" Betty wanted to know.

"I'm taking good care of this trailer," he told her. "Now—where were you supposed to stop for Airspeed Trailers when you reached San Francisco?"

"Martha consulted the little leather book in which Carrington had written her itinerary. "The Bridge Auto Park," she read, giving him the address.

"We'll drive there first. Sloss has probably sent you a message," Martha nodded. "I'm sure he has! I was supposed to report to him twice a week. He must know by now that I've been letting him down."

"But I don't think," said Neal, "that he'll fire you."

At the Bridge Auto Park the manager assured himself of Martha's identity and handed her an airmail letter. Quickly she tore it open, held it out so that Neal could read it with her.

"Well," Neal chuckled. "The boss is sore, all right. But you're left off with a warning—and there's your check attached."

Martha looked at him, puzzled.

"Perhaps I was wrong about Sloss, after all."

"He's a swell boss, all right. Come on, let's get down to the Palace."

UNERRINGLY Gerry Neal swung into Market street, headed rapidly toward New Montgomery where the Palace towered in gray dignity above San Francisco's busy "slot." Alive with curiosity, Martha watched the milling traffic.

"So this is the famous Market street!"

Gerry Neal nodded. "You bet it is. Greatest little street in the world."

He turned from Market into New Montgomery, rolled the coupe beneath the grand marquise of the Palace. The portly, pleasant doorman welcomed them, and a trio of uniforms swarmed over their luggage.

At another time Martha would have been interested in the white marble foyer of the spacious lobby with its colorful flower shop, its air of having stood shoulder to shoulder with a city that carved its own destinies. She would have noticed the famed Palm Court just beyond, into which grand ladies and gentlemen once entered, carriages and horses and all.

But Martha hurried directly to the desk to inquire for Betty Hayes. There was an efficient, consultation of the records, a sympathetic smile. "There's no one registered with that name." Her heart sinking, Martha went to the mail window. While her breath seemed to stop within her breast she watched the letters flying under those expert fingers.

"Here you are, Miss Britain."

SHE was about to open it when Neal confronted her. "From Betty?"

"I—I think so."

"Let's open it upstairs. I've asked them to send your register card to your room."

In the hallway of the fourth floor Martha opened the letter. It was written on Palace stationery, not dated. The message was typewritten, apparently on a portable somewhat out of adjustment.

"Dear Martha (she read)—No matter what happens, be sure to keep to your schedule as Carrington outlined it. I'd hoped to see you in San Francisco, but I know it will be soon. Everything is all right, but I can't explain to you now."

The letter was signed "Betty" in typewriter capitals.

"Did she ever write to you on a typewriter, signing her name like that?" Neal asked, taking the note paper from her nervous fingers.

"Yes, but how can we know she wrote this?" Martha swayed against him. "The dismal disappointment of not finding Betty had drained every ounce of her strength. "Oh, Gerry, I—I'm going to the police!"

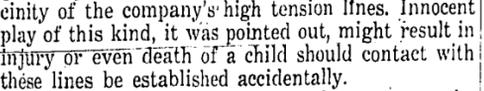

He caught hold of her. "Not yet. Your cue is to go on as if nothing had happened. As if you hadn't the slightest doubt as to the authenticity of these messages from Betty."

"But how do I know that's the thing to do?" She faced him with an effort. "I—I've no reason to believe you."

"If you make a fuss now you will probably cause Betty Hayes' death, Martha."

Of course, they fly in other southern Idaho towns that our winds in Twin Falls are mere breezes, but I don't believe it. For instance, consider this:

Hat blows off on court house corner.
He refuses to lose dignity; chases it slowly.
Starts downtown again after rescue.

He forgets dignity this time.

I saw a newspaper item the other day that indicated to me that people who say "batty as a squirrel" are all wet. Squirrels really have a rare sense of discretion. Back in Schenectady, N. HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

April 17, 1922
Hearing on the matter of uniform rates instead of special rates for distributing centers has been set for July 25 at Boise, according to word received here by the Southern Idaho Traffic association today. Leonard Way, traffic expert, is preparing a lot of data on the subject which he will present at that time.
Mr. Way favored the granting of a rate to Pocatello similar to that granted to Boise previously, and the testimony which he presented is credited in the Gate City with having a beneficial effect. At the same time, Mr. Way contends that Twin Falls or Bull or Kimberly has just as good right to a favorable rate as either Boise or Pocatello or Idaho Falls.

27 YEARS AGO

The Girls' Glee club of the public schools will give an interesting program at the Bickel school next Monday evening, the proceeds of the entertainment to be used for the athletic of the school year. The music furnished by the glee club is of high class order and those who attend will be sure of a rare treat. The citizens of this city should get out and show their interest in one of the most important branches of our civic life. The program should prove very interesting to all.
Mrs. H. F. Allen entertained most delightfully last evening the Wednesday evening club at her home on Fifth avenue. The prizes for score were won by Mrs. F. T. Mitchell and C. E. Booth. The guests present were Messrs. and Mesdames Booth, Bedford, Hill, Lucy, Lewis, Mitchell, Mull, Stalker, Sweeley, Woods, Mrs. O. V. Allen of Boise and Wendell Allen.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine
When physicians speak of the throat, they refer to the interior of the neck. If a doctor says a patient has a splendid throat, for instance, he does not mean that she has a beautiful neck.
The throat is probably better known scientifically as the pharynx. It is a section into which open many other parts of the head and the body.
For example, in the nasopharynx, which is the part back of the nose, there are two openings which come from the nose, two which come from the eustachian tubes, and one opening into that part of the pharynx which is below. The part of the pharynx below has three openings. One goes upward into the nose, one forward into the mouth, and the other downward into the voice box, or larynx, and the esophagus, which is the opening that leads to the stomach.
Obviously, therefore, any inflammation or infection which affects this portion of the body is especially serious, because it may promptly extend into other parts of the body.
An inflammation of the mucous membrane which lines the throat is frequently associated with redness, swelling, and an excessive discharge of fluid material. This tissue may become irritated by inflammation originating in the tonsils, adenoids, or nose, but also from the excessive use of tobacco, excessive exposure to dust, smoke and irritating fumes, or excessive dryness. A person sensitive to various food substances may, after eating them, have blisters, red spots, or other disturbances in the throat.
Because the throat has the multiple openings that have been mentioned, swelling and inflammation in the throat may be felt as pain in the ears, resulting from blocking of the eustachian tubes. Irritation in the throat is usually associated with hawking and spitting and similar manifestations of the presence of obstruction.
Obviously, the first thing to know about any inflammation of the throat is its cause, since every irritation and infection must be treated according to the cause. In general, however, pain from an inflammation of the throat is relieved by the use of an ice-berg filled with cracked ice.
Doctors will treat infections directly by applying antiseptic substances on a swab, and, occasionally, they may prescribe mouthwashes or gargles. These will be discussed in a subsequent article.
When a doctor treats these conditions, he will either hold down the tongue with a tongue depressor, or have the patient hold his tongue with a clean handkerchief.
The doctor then will be able, by means of a light thrown into the throat, to see the exact spot of infection or inflammation and to apply the antiseptic or caustic sub-

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Past-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

SUBSIDIZING
WASHINGTON, April 17—Speakers nearly fell out of the senate gallery when Floor Leader Robinson fought against finance leader Harrison's bill for a $300,000,000 annual federal education subsidy. It was as if Damon had struck Pythias. Administration senators could not ascertain which leader to follow, as both are supposed to represent whatever President Roosevelt wants.

The answer is Mr. Roosevelt will veto the Harrison bill if it ever gets to him in its original form. Senator Robinson had some private advice from the White House to that effect.

The president's strongest objection to the bill is that it allocates the money to states automatically on the basis of their relative population, giving Mr. Roosevelt no say whatever in the distribution of the funds. He may not mention it in his veto message, but if any spending wants to do it.

After all, the people might just as well elect a Republican president if they are going to get their share of the federal loot automatically and not from the presidential hand.

Note—An amusing angle of the Harrison perpetual subsidy bill is that Senator Harrison is a leading advocate of economy, balancing the budget and an ardent opponent of increased taxes. So much inconsistency has developed here lately, however, no one takes the trouble to mention such things any more.

TAXES
Mr. Morgenthau's facile tax-making. Herman Oliphant, counsel to the treasury is supposed to have drafted several new tax law provisions hidden somewhere about his person, probably in the sole of his shoe. The ideas were taken out and discussed at a secret meeting of certain congressional leaders and treasury authorities, but they failed to arouse any enthusiasm whatsoever. The congressmen were almost violently opposed to any tax legislation of a general character. One leader is supposed to have informed the treasury that, if it wanted a tax bill, it would have to get another congressional leader to handle it.

That threat will not be carried out, but it reflects the deep bitterness of all congressional leaders to the thought of additional taxation. They want to pass a resolution continuing excise taxes which expire soon, and let it go at that.

The warmth of their opposition and other considerations have delayed a decision as to whether there is to be a tax bill. The decision will be made around May 15.

DEFLATION
The only one who had an unkind word to say immediately about the Wagner decisions was John Lewis, who made his workers sit down and the nation sit up.
No one in the know considered it strange that the leader of labor thus denounced labor's great victory in the war.

If the decision is fairly enforced by the labor relations board, Mr. Lewis will become a mere agent of labor. He will lose his power to call sit-down strikes, his power to dictate wages and hours. His political prestige will wane.
The board will become the dictator, not Mr. Lewis.

PERPETUATION
Many a politician on Capitol Hill is surmising that the main reason for continuance of the President's court fight is to pack it for future White House generations.
They know of only one other legitimate reason for pursuing the issue. If the court is packed, the AAA crowd might be able to receive a stronger production control program. The truth is AAA-ers probably have enough power now to effect their purposes, although they would sooner die than admit it while the President is using that

HEADWIND CAUSE OF PLANE DELAY

Local Pilot Forced to Land At Mountain Home For Additional Gas

A terrific headwind today was blamed to have caused the delay of Russell Mingo, local pilot, in reaching Boise before his afternoon yesterday after he had flown his plane off the local airport at 6 a. m. and headed west.

The headwind, he told friends here by telephone, was so great that his gas supply ran low in the vicinity of Mountain Home. He landed there and, after securing a fresh quantity of fuel, continued on to Boise arriving there about 1:30 p. m.

Some fears were held for Mingo's safety when it was learned he was long overdue at Boise and extensive telephonic inquiries disclosed he had landed at Mountain Home. Mingo went to Boise to take the department of commerce examination for a transport pilot license.

DEAN DETTON DEFENDS TITLE HERE TONIGHT

Former Kimberly Youth Meets Wally Thompson

They'll be gathering at the American Legion Memorial hall tonight from far and near. And the big attraction is the old, old story of "local boy makes good," for Dean Detton, the former Kimberly youth, returns to Twin Falls to defend his world's heavyweight wrestling championship in the feature event of Promoter Ed Warner's all-star mat card.

Detton returns to Twin Falls with glory and gold wrapped around his shoulders for his first appearance here. It has been just a few years since Detton was pitching hay in the fields of this section, but now the husky youth is reputedly making $3,000 per month, wrestling from three to five nights a week in the largest cities of the west.

Meets Thompson
Opposing Detton will be Wally Thompson, the flashy and business-like Pueblo, Colo., wrestler who impressed local fans with his earnestness in disposing of the huge "Hands" Olsen on the card here last Saturday night. Thompson has been making rapid strides in his chosen profession the last couple of years and the first really "clean" battle of the season is looked forward to by followers of the rough and tumble game.

Two Chickoans, Pete Howley and George Bangart, have competed in every American Bowling Congress tourney since 1901. Willie Hoppe, the billiard player, has held every title played on the green cloth in the world except the new 28.2 game. They say that Bill Deane, the sailing St. Louis Cardinal ex-catcher, who is now living in Arizona, wrote all of Paul Dean's letters during his courtship of Mrs. Duffy.

As usual, tickets are on sale at the Brunswick, Dell's Cigar Store, and Snowball's Sport Shop, but at noon today, very few were left. Advance selling points to the record crowd of the season, according to Mr. Warner, who states that a new block of ducaats will be put on sale at the box office of the Legion hall at 7 o'clock for those who have failed to secure seats.

WEATHER CAUSES MEET SET-BACK
Only Six Events Staged at Burley as Snow, Wind Stop Performances

BURLEY, April 17 (Special)—Cold weather, a high wind and an inch of snow combined to cause cancellation of the Burley Invitational meet yesterday after six events had been run off.

Leading at the time of the cancellation was American Falls with 16 to Gooding's 15, but the true strength of the seven teams present could hardly be gauged due to the scarcity of events.

Results in the six events were as follows:
120-yard high hurdles—Bowler, Gooding, first; Evans, Burley, second; Hopkins, Buhl, third; Alston, American Falls, fourth. Time, 19.1 seconds.

100-yard dash—Muggrave, Pfler, first; Vaughn, Gooding, second; Boyd, Buhl, third; Powers, Burley, fourth. Time, 11 seconds.

Mile run—Vollmer, American Falls, first; Lind, American Falls, second; Slower, Twin Falls, third; Hawkins, Rupert, fourth. Time, 4 minutes 59 seconds.

440-yard dash—Aguirre, American Falls, first; Boyd, Buhl, second; Adams, Burley, third; Wright, Gooding, fourth. Time 87 seconds.

May 17 Set as Opening Date In Twin Falls Softball Loop

Opening date for the Twin Falls Softball association was set for Monday, May 17, at a meeting of the managers and sponsors held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night.

Two six-team leagues were tentatively decided upon, although only nine outfits were officially represented at the round-table discussion, a tenth team has signified its intention to play. Deadline for the signing of players and their registration with the board of advisers was set as May 10 and it was voted that only players from Twin Falls and vicinity would be eligible to play this year.

Upper Loop Limited
For the upper league, which at present consists only of four teams—Brunswick, Utah Chiefs, Wiley Drug and Twin Falls Paint and Glass—a player limit of 15 men was set. In the lower classification the size of the roster is unlimited, provided all players are listed with the advisory board.

The new league teams, all being pledged to membership in the national softball association, will follow national rules as closely as possible in all departments of play. It was decided that two teams, the winner and runner-up in the city championships, will be entered to

Mass Abdication Set for Monday As Big League Ball Season Opens

BY HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, April 17 (UP)—The world record for mass abdication will be broken on Monday when king football, king horse, king tennis, king rifle shooting, king canoeing, king badminton, king water polo and dozens of other kings, step down to make way for king baseball.

Indeed, about the only sporting king who will withstand baseball's assault on the throne room will be the enduring monarch, King Levisky. King Levisky will escape because he's in London and so completely lost in the fog—his OWN fog—that finding him would be impossible.

The signal for the wholesale abdication on Monday will come and I have this straight from at least 300 sportswriters all over the country) when a group of sand-wed courtiers, wearing two-pants, blue suits with shiny seats, way whitebrooms and below: "Play ball!"

With this cry king baseball will wearing the crown of grapefruit and lemons he wore in the coronation rehearsals in the citrus and slot machine belt, will ascend the throne. Music for the occasion will consist of the sound of horsehide striking willow and ash, the crunching of model T peanuts, and the bite of cleated shoe into crisp turf.

The moment king baseball plows into the royal rocking chair the pageantry, insofar as a spectacular boredom is concerned, will reach its height. With the immaculate precision of leaves caught in a sudden gust, the king's hirelings, wearing the royal flannels and chewing the royal cut plug, will shuffle across the broad, bright meadow of the royal enclosure. Then, in the trim, measured ranks of a lynch mob, they will surround a flag-pole and crouch to attention.

In a breathless silence, broken only by the rumble and screeching of passing trains, the royal band will be given a signal. With the first notes of the anthem from the royal musicians, the royal standard-bearer, with beautiful timing, will give the flag a yank and send in scurrying two-thirds of the way up the pole. Faced with the challenge of finishing the anthem before Capable hitters discovered were Harold Rolfe, Moscow, center fielder; Wayne Hill, Moscow, second baseman; and Ed Kramer, Wallace, first sacker. In the five-game series the boys batted around 350. Hitting practice for the entire squad will take up the most of the time during the practice sessions this week. Two good announced.

The pitching staff is complete with five men, headed by Clarence (Racehorse) Hallberg, Harold (Whitely) Jenkins, Jan Hansen, Earl Gregory, and Dean Broadhead.

SOLONS TIE FOR COAST LOOP TOP

San Francisco Drops Fourth In Row to Sacramento; Seattle Loses

(By United Press)
Sacramento's well-balanced Solons topped a week-long drive today by wedging their way into a three-way tie with Seattle and San Diego for first place in the Pacific coast league race.

The Solons scored their fourth straight victory over the San Francisco Seals yesterday by a 5-3 score. Then, as San Diego lost to Oakland, 7-2, and the Missions trimmed Seattle, 7-5, the triple tie resulted.

Bob Klenger registered his third straight victory in the Sacramento win, in which Ed Stutz of the Seals took his first beating. Dominic Di Maggio, brother of outfielders Joe and Vince, led the Seal hitters with four safeties.

The Missions tied their series with Seattle by beating the Indians in a slugfest. Seattle had 13 hits but their five runs came in a bunch in the seventh inning. The Missions had 12 safeties and they scored in four of the eight innings they batted.

Home runs decided the Portland-Los Angeles game, won by the Angels, 6-2. Moose Clabaugh hit two to give Portland all their runs. Carlyle hit one with one on and Don Hurst smacked another with two mates on base to give Los Angeles and Pitcher Lieber a victory. The Angel win evened the series at two victories for each team.

HOUSING LEADER ASKS PUBLIC AID

Pocatello Man Flays Action Taken Here to Provide Recreation Needs

Thomas D. McDougall of Pocatello, state organizer and president of the American Citizens Protective association, a housing unit formed to benefit those of the low income brackets, today had expressed his opinion that "public pressure" was necessary to change the minds of local businessmen in order that they might "provide places for children to sleep rather than places for children to play."

McDougall has been active in Twin Falls county for some time seeking to establish a unit of the organization here on a large scale. When he learned of the steps taken to form an all-year around recreational program on coming to Twin Falls yesterday he stated he was disappointed, and said that "if as much interest was shown in behalf of the citizens of the extreme low wage earning group as is shown in park and recreational programs, maybe we wouldn't have so many people down there in Rock Creek canyon."

Wants "Pressure"
 Speaking on behalf of the association, the state leader called on the people of Twin Falls to "bring enough public opinion to bear that it will put enough pressure through the proper channels to have Idaho the first state in the union to properly care for the inadequate housing situation."

"We cannot hope to accomplish our goal without complete cooperation from the people of the town," McDougall said. "In Pocatello the whole town is supporting our movement. Under such a setup we can get some place."

McDougall continued by saying "I wish to make it known publicly that the people of Twin Falls county have not put up one cent to organize our state movement while the people of Bannock and Bonneville counties have stood the expense of the state organizer coming to Twin Falls county to organize the unit here."

587 Contributed
 Today Al Hacker, chief of research for the local unit said that local residents had contributed but 867 to date.

McDougall continued by saying that "it seems to me that the parks are a mighty fine thing to have. We need them. But a modern home where children can be cared for is a great necessity to the health and internal strength of our nation. The best way to improve any community is to improve the living conditions of that community."

McDougall left this morning to return to Pocatello.

Head of Housing Unit Quits Here

Eugene Scott, President of New Group Resigns

Eugene Scott, president of the American Citizens Protective association since its inception here two months ago, today had resigned because of "lack of ability to understand the principles of the organization."

Scott said he had submitted the resignation to Al Hacker, Twin Falls county research chief for the organization. John Hollon, association vice president, assumed the duties of president today.

A commercial trucking company has installed on the back of a truck two lights similar to tail lights, which read "No" and "No" if a driver behind the truck blows his horn as a signal for passing, the truck driver signals with the lights whether or not the road is clear. This idea, it is hoped, will prevent accidents that occur because the driver behind the truck cannot see the road ahead of it.

Superstition has it that a person at a dinner party who strikes a glass and makes it ring must place his finger upon the rim instantly "to save a sailor from drowning."

SLIGHT GAIN IS MADE BY WHEAT

CHICAGO—Sharp declines in foreign markets failed to induce liquidation in the wheat pit on the board of trade today. The local market started upward and was able to maintain a show of firmness during the balance of the day. At the close wheat was 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents higher, new corn 3/4 to 3/8 cents higher, old corn 2 1/2 cents lower to 2 cents higher and oats 1/2 to 1 cent higher.
 Wheat prices opened higher. The light amount of liquidation present in view of the decline at Liverpool induced speculators to renege on holdings yesterday. A little profit-taking was uncovered by the end of the first hour and the May delivery was forced back to previous closing levels. Deferred months, however, showed net gains of better than a cent a bushel in response to reports of dust storms in the southwest.
 Coarse grains also turned upward. Net gains at the close averaged about two cents a bushel. Oats and rye were firmer.

WOOL
BOSTON—The Boston wool market this week was mostly quiet on domestic wools and only moderately active on foreign wools with quotations mostly steady to firmer, the U. S. agriculture department reported today.
 Most business in domestic wools was mill purchases of limited quantities of the finer grades of original grade territory wools. Graded Ohio fleeces were quiet but firmly quoted at 44-46 cents in the grease for fine Dacotina, at 47-48 cents for staple combed 1/4 blood, at 47-48 cents for combed 1/2 blood and at 46-47 cents for 3/4 blood.
 A weight of 250 pounds is considered the most desirable weight for hogs at market. Selected light hogs, weighing from 155 to 190 pounds, are considered bacon hogs.

FELON WILL PAY FOR TRUTH TEST

DES MOINES, Ia. (U.P.)—Jack Gaskill, serving a life term for murder in Fort Madison state penitentiary, is going to spend his soldier bonus money for a lie detector test in an effort to prove his innocence. Gaskill, who was sentenced in 1923 for shooting a railroad detective, received $1,500 in bonus funds last summer. He will spend it all if necessary to gain his freedom.
 Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel has given Gaskill official permission to bring the lie detector into prison although he was informed that the instrument's findings would not necessarily result in any executive action.
 An expert and a lie detector probably will be brought from the criminology laboratories at Northwestern university. An agent of the state bureau of investigation will be present when the test is made.
 Gaskill—innocent—his innocence ever since he was charged with the crime. He enlisted the aid of Frank Miles, editor of the Iowa Legionnaire.
 The life was one of the first Americans to reach France during the war and saw action at the front. He was convicted of slaying James Griffin, a detective, in the Des Moines railroad yards.
 Cecil Mickle also is serving a life term for the murder. He turned state's evidence and testified that Gaskill fired the fatal shot.

STOCKS FIRM IN LIGHTEST TRADE
NEW YORK, April 17 (U.P.)—The stock market firmed in dull trading today as a better tone developed in world commodity markets. Trading was around the lightest of the year. No groups were outstanding although some early selling developed in metal shares as result of belief that European war tension is subsiding.
 Selectively prevailed in the stock market with some issues going to new highs for the year, including International Printing ink at 60 1/2, up 2 1/2, Mead company at 48 1/2, up 2 1/2, and Loew's at 83 1/2, up 1 1/2.
 Buying developed in Certainated issues. The common gained 1 1/2 to 20 1/2; while the preferred was 3 1/2 higher at 75. This advance accompanied announcement by F. W. Dodge corporation that March building awards in 36 eastern states totaled $21,246,900 compared with $19,761,900 a year ago. Residential buildings made up the major portion of the awards.
 Metals continued nervous. Anaconda broke to more than a point loss at the opening and recovered only partly. Kennecott performed similarly while American Smelting was a point lower under 91. Interest developed in oil shares.
 Dow-Jones preliminary closing averages showed: Industrial 180.51, off 0.24; railroad 60.02, off 0.24; utility 31.13, off 0.08.
 Volume approximated 440,000 shares compared with 480,000 last Saturday. Curb transactions approximated 159,000 shares compared with 129,000 last Saturday.

FBI HEAD LAUDS COUNTRY POLICE

Hoover Tells of Fine Work Done in Chase for Bank Bandits
WASHINGTON, April 17 (U.P.)—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation today described the capture of Gerald Lewis and Robert J. Suhay as "a grand piece of work by local officers."
 "The capture of these men shows what can be done by unselfish cooperation between federal and local officers," Hoover declared at his headquarters here.
 "We received magnificent cooperation from state and local officers throughout the brief hunt for the two fugitives," the G-man chief said. He paid particular tribute to the state and local officers of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa, who established highway blockades which resulted in the speedy capture of the two fugitives.
 Hoover said the condition of Wayne Baker, youthful G-man shot by Suhay and Lewis when he attempted to arrest them at the Topeka, Kan., post office still is critical. Baker, who was taken to the St. Francis hospital has received several blood transfusions from fellow federal agents in his fight to survive critical wounds in the stomach and legs.
 The FBI chief said federal agents are taking Suhay and Lewis to Kansas City where charges will be filed against them. It is yet uncertain, Hoover said, what charges will be filed since the death of Baker would make them subject to a federal statute which provides capital punishment for slaying a federal agent.
 Hoover was bitter over the fact that the assassins of Baker were paroled convicts.
 "Every federal agent killed or wounded in active duty had been the victim of guns used by paroled convicts," he declared.
 "This latest tragedy emphasizes once again the need for strengthening of our parole systems to prevent the return of such criminals to society to endanger the lives of our citizens and enforcement officers."

COYOTES CREATE HAVOC IN S. DAK.
Trained Hunter Is Only Way To Keep Animals Down, Survey Shows
PIERRE, S. D. (U.P.)—Despite the relentless war of South Dakota ranchers and farmers upon their perennial enemy, the coyote, the number of the prairie pests is increasing, according to Louis Knowles, of the state bureau of biological survey.
 It has been found that the only method of keeping coyotes under control, especially in the western part of the state, is to employ trained hunters, by organized drives, or by the government, Knowles said. Coyotes are most numerous in Harding, Perkins and Corson counties, where they cause great havoc among cattle and sheep herds, he declared.
 It requires considerable skill and training to take coyotes in large numbers, Knowles said. Litters of 10 pups are not uncommon, while as many as 13 have been killed in a single den.
 He said an unusual method of coyote hunting is employed by Franklin Hyde, Pierre, who shoots them from an airplane after swooping to within 50 feet of the ground. Hyde killed nearly 150 coyotes this way since last fall. He hunts the animals in any part of the state upon request.

Postman in College
DECORAH, Ia. (U.P.)—Dick Robert, 63, has found that riding to classes at Luther college here broke him of the walking habit, developed during 33 years as a postman. "Lugging the mail got to be an awful habit," Robert said. "After I retired I just couldn't sit still and loaf."

Clams Planted
HONOLULU (U.P.)—The territorial board of agriculture and forestry has decided that steps shall be taken to see to it that the islands never run short of fresh clams or other shellfish native to the waters here. The board has decided to begin with propagation of clams.

Twin Falls Wins State Debate Crown; Boise First in One-Act Plays

LOCAL FORENSIC ENTRIES DEFEAT BLACKFOOT FOUR

Capture Narrow Victory Over East Idahoans; Qualify For Nationals

Twin Falls high school debaters held the state forensic championship today, and Boise high school actors were ranked as Idaho one-act play winners in Class A as a result of two of the featured events at the southern Idaho speech festival here.

Twin Falls debate squad won the crown, plus the right to enter national competition if desired, by compiling a narrow margin of victory over Blackfoot teams. 556 points to 540. Twin Falls affirmative dined Blackfoot negative and Blackfoot affirmative won over Twin Falls negative by 2-1 verdicts in the two championship debates yesterday, but Coach Gerald Wallace's group captured the title on point-ranking of its four debates.

Awarded Trophy

Trophy for the championship was awarded last evening at the festival banquet. Members of the 1937 team which brought Twin Falls its second state debating title in three years were Bruce Painter and Paul Wright, affirmative, and Ed Benoit and Roland Hutcheson, negative. Blackfoot entries were Helen Jones and Roland Wright, affirmative, and Bill Smith and Douglas Parkinson, negative.

Boise annexed the Class A one-act comedy laurels with its presentation of "There's Always Tomorrow," which was accorded an excellent rating and won on points over "Candace Pulls a String," presented by Blackfoot and also granted excellent rank.

Twin Falls third "The Critic," was third with superior honors, and Rigby's "The First Dress Suit" was fourth with rating of good.

Performers in Boise's victorious cast included Carolyn Sorlat, Berta Rogers, June Rose and Edward Burtenshaw. Miss Myra Hughes is coach.

Judge for the one-act comedies was Prof. Halbert Greaves, Utah State Agricultural college. Debate judges were Miss Jessie Fraser, Harry Eaton and E. V. Larson, Twin Falls.

BURLEY GOING EAST

Plans for competition in the east were being actively prepared here today for four Burley high school declamation winners who received top ranking at the National Forensic league state competition at Caldwell.

Nearly half the necessary money has already been raised through a Thespian club dance and through aid of business men. The group is expected to leave April 20 for Jacksonville, Ill., scene of the league's national finals.

Students who will go are Jack Roper, extemporaneous; Virginia Ayler, humorous; Melba Parker, dramatic and oratory; Max Warr, original oratory.

Many Needed to Fill Quota of Camps; Deadline Set at 11 A. M., Monday

An urgent call for Junior CCC enrollees to fill existing vacancies in Idaho's quota was made here today by officials of the department of public assistance, formerly the IGRA, with headquarters located across from the American Legion hall.

At least 15 young men between the ages of 17 to 28 years, inclusive, are still needed to take care of the Twin Falls county quota. The men must be single and should come from those of low income groups, officials said, but all wishing to enroll were urged to contact Miss Fay Hopkin, who has charge of the enrollment locally, and determine if they can be eligible. Miss Hopkin is located at the department office. The local contingent will leave here next Tuesday morning for Boise, officials said. Those wishing to enroll are urged to contact Miss Hopkin by 11 a. m., Monday morning.

SUICIDE BLAMED AS DEATH CAUSE

Young Pennsylvania Kill Self After Running Away From Own Wedding

ELKO, Nev., April 17 (Special)—Authorities today described as "suicide because of a doubt" the death of James David Smith, 26, Shilpingsburg, Pa., youth who ran away from his own wedding.

Smith was found dead in his new automobile in a clump of trees just off the highway 23 miles east of Wells by a highway crew yesterday. Sheriff C. A. Harper said Smith had inserted a hose from the exhaust into the car, plugged the holes with paper and left the motor running.

Young Smith disappeared from his home March 26, shortly before his scheduled wedding to Miss Kathleen Dard, 21, in Chambersburg, Pa.

'Alfalfa' Scales Heights as Outstanding Torture Singer!

OH the ob-JECT of my AFF-ec-tion can CHANGE my com-plex-ion

Of all the nation's warblers, probably not one—as you can see above—takes greater pains with his singing than does Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer, vocal prodigy of "Our Gang" comedies. It is his painful technic, in fact, that has captured the fancy of film fans and made him one of Hal Roach's outstanding personalities. His peculiar talents first became known when he serenaded his love with "Object of My Affection" in a recent picture. While rendering that song, his agony over the change in his complexion was reflected faithfully in his expression, as shown above.

KIMBERLY SCENE OF YOUTH MEET

Vocational Conference Values Stressed; Twin Falls Citizen Speaks

Termed one of the most successful vocational guidance sessions to be held in this section under the sponsorship of the National Youth Administration in cooperation with school superintendents, a conference was staged yesterday among junior and senior students of the Kimberly high school.

The conference, one of a series, was made possible through cooperation of L. A. Thomas, Kimberly superintendent; Miss Kay Skillern, NYA vocational administrative assistant of Boise, and Miss Faye Norris, NYA personnel administrative assistant, also of Boise. The two state leaders have been in this district several weeks working out similar programs.

Through the questionnaire method the juniors and seniors yesterday designated three major fields of vocations in which they were interested. Discussion leaders from Twin Falls for each vocation were obtained and met with the various groups. Mr. Thomas said that the benefit derived from this method whereby groups of students interested in special fields could question and discuss with the leaders the pros and cons of such fields was of unestimable value.

During the school year at Kimberly, Miss Bell, instructional and vocational expert, has carried on an extensive program by using the assembly method.

Discussions in the respective fields were led Friday afternoon by the following who discussed the subjects named: law, George Paulson, Twin Falls city attorney; forestry, Elmer C. Ross, U. S. forest service; aviation and engineering, W. H. (Pete) Hill, transport pilot; railroad and transportation, P. E. Haasch, Union Pacific railroad; wholesale and retail, Miss Skillern of Boise; public service, Harold A. Salsbury, NYA area supervisor; home economics, Mrs. Virginia Patch, district home management supervisor, Twin Falls; commercial, Miss Bessie Dunning, music, Clarence Saunders, P. O. C. C. parking and health, Betty Le Fling Slinger, district president of the nurses' association; journalism and newspaper management, Al Westergren, circulation manager of the Evening Times and News and J. J. Mullen, editor of the Evening Times; beauty work, Mrs. Venice Leopold.

Today Mr. Thomas expressed his appreciation for interest shown in the conference and asked the NYA to sponsor such a conference for the freshmen and sophomore groups at an early date.

BOISE, Idaho, April 17 (UP)—Mrs. Helen J. Miller, Glenns Ferry, representative from Elmore county, today said conditions at the Blackfoot state mental hospital were "vile."

She made her statement after a trip of investigation through the institution. She had been appointed by Governor Barzilla W. Clark to make a survey. In her report, she said she was "surprised that Secretary of State Ira Masters had reported the institution in good condition with facilities sanitary and satisfactory.
