Secret Poll Shows Half Of Judiciary Committee Opposed to Court Plan

Belief is Senator McCarran Will Control Deciding Vote

WASHINGTON, April 24 (UP)—A secret poll disclosed today that at least half of the senate judiciary committee is against reporting favorably President Roosevelt's court reorganization bill.

The poll, taken by the United Press as the 18-member committee closed public hearings and prepared for executive session deliberations, showed that two previously uncommitted senators had joined those opposed to the plan to enlarge the supreme court.

A large bloc of uncommitted Democratic senators took advantage of the check to intensify their demands for a compromise which would avoid a final showdown vote on adding six members to the high tribunal.

Claims Strengthened Division of the committee apparently made it impossible for the administration to win a favorable report from the committee when it carries the bill to the senate floor. An even division would mean that the bill would be reported without recommendation.

The poll strengthened claims of opposition leaders that the bill finally would be reported unfavorably by a vote of 19 to 8. The administration insisted, however, that they had enough votes to enact the program.

Two Move to New Ranks Two previously uncommitted senators—Augustine Lonergan, D. Conn., and Francis T. Maloney, D. Conn.—moved to the opposition ranks.

Burke announced they agreed to address mass meetings in Connecticut, in collaboration with leaders of the bill.

The poll of the judiciary committee showed that Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., probably would cast the deciding vote when the group completes private consideration of the bill in two or three weeks.

PROPELLOR CUTS OFF GIRL'S ARM

Kansas City Woman Expected To Live After Walking Into Blades

CHANUTE, Kan., April 24 (UP)—Physicians believed today that the courage of Miss Bethene Thomas, 22, would enable her to survive the loss of an arm, suffered yesterday when she walked into an airplane propeller.

Her right arm was severed at the elbow and tossed about 50 feet in the air. The spinning propeller also struck her a glancing blow on the forehead.

Without an outcry, the girl walked across the airport field to an automobile, kept her composure during the ride to a hospital, and walked unassisted into the operating room.

Miss Thomas, a native of Kansas City, Kan., was en route to Los Angeles to seek a job. She came here from Kansas City in a plane piloted by Robert K. Kashower, California aircraft distributor.

Kashower said a strong wind was blowing when they landed and he feared the small monoplane might overturn. He asked Miss Thomas to hold on to the plane while he turned it around. The girl walked around the front of the plane, forgot about the propeller, and stepped into its path.

ROBERTA SEMPLE WINS JUDGMENT

Daughter of Aimee Awarded $2,000 in Los Angeles Slander Suit

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (UP)—Roberta Semple held a $2,000 slander judgment today, awarded by a judge along with a stern warning to all concerned that Angelus temple, "dedicated to God," will collapse "if the internecine warfare" there continues.

Miss Semple, pretty 27-year-old daughter of Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist, won the award late yesterday in her suit against Will del Andrews, temple attorney. She had asked $150,000 for Andrews' alleged insinuations that she blackmailed her mother.

Flushed and somewhat breathless, Miss Semple greeted Judge Clarence Kincaid's decision with: "I am very happy. All I wanted was to clear my reputation."

Her grandmother, frizzle-haired Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy, who ranks with Roberta as one of the temple "outs" in the current trouble, exulted.

"I wouldn't care if the judge had given a 6-cent judgment. All we wanted was vindication for Roberta."

Mrs. Rhea Crawford Spilato, former "angel of Broadway," and another temple "out," embraced Roberta.

"It was very just and fair," she said. Mrs. McPherson was at home, after another courtroom show.

Move Gains in Congress For Renewal of Act That Will Expire in a Week

$90,000 Goes To Winner of Pool On Ice Breaking

NENENA, Alaska, April 24 (UP)—A pool of $90,000, nearly $1.50 for every man, woman and child in Alaska, was expected today to go to some lucky person who discounted early predictions and figured the ice on the Tanana river would break up next month.

The money was wagered by persons, who, at $1 a guess, marked tickets on the day, hour and minute that the ice would move. An inspection today revealed that the ice was 34 inches thick and covered with two feet of packed snow. Low temperatures prevail and it was considered unlikely the ice would move until mid-May.

Last year the ice went out on April 30.

GOVERNOR VISITS STATE HOSPITAL FOR INSPECTION

Clark to Conduct 'Exhaustive Investigation' of Workings At Blackfoot

REPORTS CONFLICTING

State Executive to Attempt To Find Which Condition Is Correct

BOISE, Idaho, April 24 (UP)—Governor Barzilla W. Clark said today his trip to Blackfoot would not be "just a visit," but would be an "exhaustive investigation" of conditions there.

The governor intimated he might "make some changes" in the Blackfoot asylum administration after the tour of inspection. He would not comment which department of the institution might be rearranged.

Instead of waiting for federal men from the National Public Mental Hospital Survey association to take the trip with him, Governor Clark said he would go with Dr. George Dunshire sometime next week.

Dunshire Returns

Dr. Dunshire returned today from Washington, D. C., where he has been conferring with public health officials concerning a survey to be made of Idaho's institutions.

The survey will result in federal recommendations as to the type of buildings which should be constructed.

Governor Clark expressed the wish to coordinate the two different reports now pending concerning the Blackfoot institution. One, submitted several weeks ago by Jim Masters, secretary of state, said the institution was in "excellent" condition.

CULT LEADER IS FREED ON BOND

Harlem Joyous After 'God' Becomes 'Visible' at 'Heaven No. 1'

NEW YORK, April 24 (UP)—"Heaven" rang with the joyous shouts of the "angels" today. Father Divine had returned to his flock.

"The pudgy, bald-headed Negro 'God' will remain 'invisible' to his 'faithful children' until April 30. Then he leaves his 'kingdom' to appear in court for hearing on a charge of feloniously assaulting Harry Green, a white contractor.

The father was freed in $500 bail after spending Thursday night in a cell at police headquarters. The money was produced in 100 five-dollar bills by St. Mary Bloom, one of the "angels," as Arthur A. Madison, the defendant's lawyer, murmured:

"It's wonderful." Through the night the flock celebrated the return of the "Messiah." Festivities began with a 10-course dinner, including 17 vegetables at "Heaven No. 1."

"God has come back to earth and us," the "angels" shouted.

Truces Quiet Strikes In West Coast Plants; CIO May Call Meeting

This Strike Meeting Failed

Merriam of California called a meeting to consider a dispute between owners and workers of the canning industry at Stockton it was attended by representatives from both sides, pictured above. But the conference failed and rioting broke out yesterday, only to be temporarily settled with a truce today.

Agents Seek Solution to Sole Unexplained Lindbergh Angle

WASHINGTON, April 24 (UP)—Treasury agents have informed Gov. Harold Hoffman of New Jersey that the "J. J. Faulkner" gold deposit slip was the "sole unexplained angle" of the Lindbergh kidnaping case from their standpoint, it was learned today.

The agents, Frank J. Wilson, secret service chief, Elmer Irey, chief of the internal revenue bureau's intelligence unit, and A. P. Madden, head of the unit's Chicago office, were invited to Trenton early this week by Hoffman to relate the treasury's efforts to solve the crime through tracing ransom bills. They provided these details:

Serial Numbers The serial numbers of the ransom bills were taken down at the insistence of the treasury men over the objections of Charles A. Lindbergh. Of the $50,000 paid to the kidnaper, $35,000 was in gold certificates of $10 and $20 denominations.

On May 1, $2,980 in gold certificates was deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in the name of J. J. Faulkner.

Investigation Conducted A quiet, undercover investigation was conducted and finally a businessman who had married a woman named Faulkner was questioned. Experts could find no resemblance, however, between his handwriting and that on the deposit slip. The investigation was dropped because it was found that no suspicion attached to the man.

Treasury agents have a theory, however, that the gold note deposit or may have appeared at the bank with bandaged hands and asked another person to sign his deposit slip with the name taken from an old city directory.

Man Fasting Nears Death

STOOPING OAK, Tenn., April 24 (UP)—Jackson Whitlow, near death after a 46-day fast, prayed today for "orders from the Lord" that would permit him to eat.

The 45-year-old, hollow-eyed farmer was too weak to leave his bed in his cabin in the Cumberland mountains, but he refused to believe that "God would command me to die."

Dr. J. B. Smith said the mountaineer would die soon unless the fast were broken. His weight has dropped from 135 pounds to 103.

NLRB Helps In Two Other Union Cases

(By United Press) West coast strike disturbances quieted today under two truces—one ending a riot in a California canning factory, the other terminating a sit-down strike in the Ford Motor company assembly plant at Richmond, Calif.

The Ford strike ended when officials of the company agreed to confer with United Automobile Workers union leaders. Six hundred sit-down strikers vacated the plant.

More than 50 men were wounded in a riot at a food cannery at Stockton, Calif., before a truce was reached. The fight started when strikers sought to prevent reopening of the Stockton Food Products Vegetable cannery, which was being protected by a force of vigilantes under the sheriff.

NLRB Aids The recently validated national labor relations board was a factor in two other labor controversies.

At Hershey, Pa., the committee of industrial organization refused to accept results of balloting by employees of the Hershey Chocolate company rejecting the United Chocolate Workers union, a CIO affiliate, as exclusive bargaining agent.

The workers voted 1,641 to 781 in favor of representation by the local workers club. The election was boycotted by the labor board.

Plan Election Regional NLRB officials in Detroit prepared to hold an election next week in the plants of the Packard Motor Car company in Detroit, where 15,000 workers will vote whether they desire to be represented by the United Automobile Workers union as exclusive bargaining agent.

The CIO meanwhile tightened its organization for a finish fight with the rival American Federation of Labor. CIO officials indicated the possibility of calling a convention of its affiliated unions, ten of which were virtually ruled out by the N. E. of L. by Federation President William Green.

Organization Drive The CIO also planned a renewed organization drive in Canadian automotive plants, pointing toward a possible new clash between the CIO and Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario.

The brotherhood of railway and steamship clerks debated a proposal for a strike of 25,000 workers on eight eastern railroads.

In Auburn, Me., six strike leaders faced possible jail terms for contempt of court on charges of ignoring an anti-picketing injunction in the strike of shoe workers.

MAN HELD AFTER BLAST FROM GUN

Legislator Released on Bond Following Discharge of Gun in Crowd

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 24 (UP)—Arthur J. Cockrell, state legislator, who broke up a revival meeting and injured one woman and seven men with a single blast from his shotgun, was free on $250 bail today while police investigated the shooting.

The house of representatives member said the gun was discharged accidentally when he produced it as a "bluff" to frighten the revivalists away from the front of the Stratford hotel, of which he is the proprietor. He was charged with "shooting inside the city limits."

Among the wounded was Cockrell's son, Arthur Jr. Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Louisa Hall. Shotgun pellets lodged in her arm, a leg and abdomen. Cockrell, Jr., and six other men suffered painful injuries about the legs and arms.

The shooting occurred on the sidewalk in front of the hotel. Cockrell came outside to protest the singing at a meeting conducted by a minister known as "Rev. Handerson."

"You're disturbing my guests," Cockrell said.

The revivalists displayed a city permit for a street meeting and refused to leave. Cockrell returned to the hotel. He appeared a few minutes later with a shotgun.

Three policemen grabbed him. There was a struggle. The gun was discharged, and the blast tore a hole in the pavement. The ricocheting pellets struck bystanders.

RULES OFFICIAL, RESPONSIBLE BOISE, Idaho, April 24 (UP)—The state supreme court ruled Friday that a public official may be held responsible for public funds entrusted to him, regardless of his freedom of negligence in their care. The justices said L. H. Hansen, Blaineville county assessor, was responsible for $831.40 in license fees allegedly stolen from the safe by a trustee from the county jail.

$200,000 FUND LOOMS FOR IMPROVING OF SAWTOOTH REGION

FOREST SERVICE PLANS PROJECTS TO ASSIST AREA

Opposes Park Idea; Charts Stanley Basin Road and Lake Protection.

Indication that some $200,000 will be secured and spent by the forest service for improvements in the Sawtooth area this year was revealed here this afternoon in an exclusive communication received from Washington, D. C., by the Evening Times.

Action on development of the area was taken by Chief Forester Sillcock after Sen. James P. Pope had introduced a resolution in congress calling for an investigation of the economic and geographic feasibility of a Sawtooth national park. It is stated in Washington that the introduction of this resolution by Idaho's junior senator has encouraged the forest service to act on the matter of improvements.

Service Opposes Park
The forest service, it is explained, has jurisdiction of the Sawtooth area in central Idaho at present and is opposed to the creation of a national park and the turning of the area over to the department of the interior.

The move to improve the area will make of central Idaho a highly developed national forest. The highway through Stanley basin will be pushed to completion and forest roads will be built to various resorts and scenic spots in central Idaho. Forest service administration, it is said in Washington, will be tightened and the scenic value of the lakes protected from overgrazing.

With the forest service improvement there is expected to come some commercial development. Senator Pope has been insisting that since the advent of Sun Valley there are many Idaho people who would like to enjoy Idaho's outdoor wonderland who cannot afford to live at Sun Valley.

Camping Facilities
The forest service will provide facilities for camps and roads to permit Idaho's citizens to see their own state. The agreement with the forest service will be worked out in detail as to specific improvements about May 1 when regional foresters are called to Washington.

Senator Pope expects to withdraw his national park investigation resolution in the near future, he informed the Evening Times.

GABLE ACCUSER TERMED GUILTY

Mrs. Norton Convicted By Jury For Using Mails To Defraud

tested in her cockney dialect. "Hi still think Gybble is the man and there should be blood tests to prove 'e's the papa of me Gwendoline."

Lived in England
Mrs. Norton said the robust movie idol was the villain in her illicit romance 15 years ago. She said he was known then as Frank Billings, and he was a small poultry farmer in Billeray, Essex, where she lived. Gable as a government witness at her trial, said he had never been in England, never used the name of Frank Billings, and had never seen the woman before. He produced evidence that he was working in Oregon at the time of Mrs. Norton's romance.

Mrs. Norton's daughter Gwendoline is now 14. She accompanied her mother to Hollywood where the attempt was made to establish her parentage. Mrs. Norton said she recognized Gable as Frank Billings when she saw the movie star's picture in a cinema magazine.

Took Two Hours
Twelve middle-aged men jurors took two hours to decide that Mrs. Norton violated postal laws by her letters to Gable asking support for her child. She was acquitted of an additional conspiracy charge. A co-defendant, Jack L. Smith, private detective, was freed earlier by Judge George Cosgrave in a directed verdict.

Gable, in a statement from his studio where he was making a movie with Jean Harlow, said he bore "no vindictive feeling" toward his accuser and had testified against her at the government's request.

Conscience Clear
The actor said "my conscience is clear" because he never had been in England, where the farmwife was seduced by a handsome neighbor she claims is Gable. Witnesses established that in 1922 when Mrs. Norton said "hit appened" in an Essex farmhouse, Gable was selling leas and picking hops in Oregon and Washington.

As the trial ended, even Gwendoline lost faith in her mother's story. "I thought mother was right at first. But after I saw Mr. Gable in person and heard him talk and heard the other people say he never had been in England, I decided that mother was wrong."

"He seems to be a fine man and I can't help wishing that I did have a papa like him. But I know he isn't."

COUNTY SUPT. TO ATTEND COURSE

Will Go to Moscow; Leaders Ponder Printing Proposal For Primary Grades

Mrs. Doris Straley, county superintendent of public instruction, will attend the annual University of Idaho short course for county superintendents June 21 to July 2 at Moscow, she said today after returning from the south central Idaho meeting of county school chiefs at Burley yesterday.

The superintendents of eight counties made plans for attendance at the Moscow course. Surveys looking toward acceptance or rejection of a proposal to restore teaching of manuscript printing instead of regulation penmanship in the first two primary grades will be made by the superintendents, it was decided. The group will probably take action on the proposal at Moscow. Start of instruction in customary penmanship would be made late in the second grade under the suggestion.

Burley has experimented with the plan this year, and the superintendents questioned teachers concerning results. Sentiment at the meeting was divided.

GOODING COUNTY ROAD WORK NEAR

Construction of Surfacing on Nearly Eight Miles Will Cost $112,500

GOODING, April 24 (Special)—Construction of 7.8 miles of hard surfaced road between Wendell and Hagerman in Gooding county is scheduled to start this spring. Estimated cost of a three year surfacing and grading program for the road is $112,500 to be put up by the federal government, state, county and Wendell and Hagerman highway districts.

Some surveying and other preliminary work in connection with the project was done last fall. Securing of property rights is being carried forward now.

The new road will be directly west of Wendell for the first four miles and then curve gradually north to the Vader grade, eliminating the jog in the road three miles west of Wendell and also other curves.

About two miles of entirely new road will be built through this plan. From the Vader grade to the Eliaison corner the route will be the same as the present road. It is thought that the work on the road will end at the Eliaison corner for a time with the probability that an entirely new stretch will be built west from that corner to the oiled highway, No. 30, between Hagerman and Buhl, joining about a mile and a half south of Hagerman.

Of the estimated cost of $112,500, the federal government is furnishing $67,500; the state, $15,000; Gooding county, $15,000; Wendell highway district, $8,000; and the Hagerman highway district, $6,000. Payment of the allotments by the county and the two highway districts will be made over a period of three years.

The two highway districts are to bear the cost of maintenance and of keeping the highway after its construction, each district keeping up the part of the road within its boundaries.

Agreement for the work on the road was entered into Oct. 13, 1936. It calls for a three year program of surfacing and grading in building the new road. Oiling is contemplated as part of the improvement.

To Build Home

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When BETTY HAYNES drove off from the Long Beach auto camp with JACK SPEDDON and TAIN first traced to police. But they were little help. So when mysterious handover—their NEAL reappeared on the scene Martha leaned on him for help. And she felt in love with him. Neal helped Martha search for Betty and "his friend" Speddon in San Francisco and farthest North but without results. And finally Martha decided that she must not let her love interfere with her better judgment, so she had Neal arrested, charging him with being involved in the disappearance of Betty.

Then she sped north, only to find that Speddon had left the state but that no woman was with him. Arriving in Portland, Martha received a strange note from Betty, referring to a "clink in Seattle." At police headquarters, Martha tells her story again and officer says they believe Speddon is carrying her along "for safety."

Then they add, "If Betty wrote this note from Europe and didn't come across the border with Speddon, she's probably been murdered."

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII

MARTHA leaped up, her hand to her throat.

"Betty murdered? Oh, no . . . no!"

Marshall, alarmed at the results of his tactlessness, hurried around his desk to comfort her. "Now, now. That's just a theory. But this Ciznik is bad medicine." He pushed her gently down to the chair again. "Pull yourself together. We'll get right after this."

"But what can I do?" Martha pleaded. "This is all my fault, and I've got to do something."

Marshall smiled. "There's not a thing in the world for you to do, Miss Brittain. Just leave everything to us."

"There's something else I want to tell you," she said slowly. "I didn't mention it before."

"I see . . ." He looked at her curiously. "What is it?"

"Have you heard of a man called—called Gerry Neal?"

"Neal? Gerry Neal?" Marshall's red forehead wrinkled. "No. What about him?"

"We saw him first in San Diego—just before we left with the trailer. He was trying to get into our apartment, but he said he lived in the apartment above and had made a mistake. Later we met him on the road and picked him up . . ."

"Go ahead," Marshall said.

Hesitantly, Martha complied, telling how Neal had hid himself in the trailer, turned up later at Monterey, and how he had claimed to be an acquaintance of Speddon's.

"Why, I—I didn't—"

"Okay," Marshall interrupted. "I got it. Pretty smooth apple, eh? Sort of took you over the hurdles." Heedless of Martha's crimson flush, he grabbed up the telephone in a ham-like paw, so certainly had she enmeshed her-

YOU SAY YOU HAD HIM JUGGED AT EUREKA?

"You say you had him jugged at Eureka?"

"Y-yes."

"FORGETTING her, Marshall got long-distance, was connected with the Eureka police. After a short wait, he barked into the telephone. "This is Marshall at Portland. Yeah. . . . You got a Gerry Neal down there?" There was a long pause while Marshall listened attentively. Then: "I see," he said slowly. "Thanks a lot."

He banged the receiver noisily. "They sprung him out. Didn't have anything on him except that he was annoying you and carrying a revolver without a permit. By now he could be on his way to China!" He looked at Martha. "I got a hunch you're relieved. But that's neither here nor there. We'll get going on this. You get some rest."

"But I can't just stand by while Betty—" Her voice choked into silence. "I'm going to Seattle."

"Why?"

Martha's eyes narrowed grimly. "I'll tell you why. I want to find Speddon. And I'm going to find him if it's the last thing I ever do!"

Marshall laughed. "You ain't got much of a chance to find him, Miss Brittain. And if you do find him it probably will be the last thing you ever do."

"But I'm going to try."

"All right," Marshall shrugged. "Better check in with the police up there. You might be needed."

Martha hesitated. "This Ciznik who's apparently the ring-leader, what does he do?"

"Johnny Ciznik? The Lord only knows what it is now. That's what I'd like to find out. You're liable to find Johnny Ciznik doing anything—so long as it's not on the up and up."

"And—and Neal is in with him, too?"

A curious expression came over Marshall's face. "Well," he said, "what do you think?"

Martha received the news almost with relief. Indeed, she looked forward to the visit of Sloss's representative—and she had not long to wait. She had no sooner finished a hurried lunch in the trailer's galley than, looking from the window, she saw a thin, mustached individual walking toward the outfit.

She opened the trailer door expectantly—and suddenly recognized that the man was Jack Speddon! The mustache and cap failed to conceal the scrawny features she remembered too well. Desperately Martha leaped to the ground, clutched Speddon's arm, and opened her mouth to scream for assistance.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital by an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1938, by Paul Mallon)

WASHINGTON, April 24—Mr. R. wrote his budget argument to congress in type of normal size, LIKE THIS, but he attached a proving table of figures printed in sensationally fine type, like this.

The figures were certainly too small for elderly legislators to read with their aging eyes, but some of the younger congressmen could make them out with the use of glasses. Their conclusion was that perhaps the figures should have been in even smaller type.

The specific estimates disclosed far less promise of expenditure curtailment than did the written message.

For one thing, these figures showed President Roosevelt's new budget on the whole is about $68,000,000 more than the one he submitted in January. Also, the appropriations he is seeking are only about 6 per cent less than the expenditures now contemplated this year.

BOOKKEEPING

The basic story of the budget was not even evident to—add legislative eye-balls from a face analysis of the fine print figures. They needed a pen and pad to figure it out, and some of them are still at it.

The uncertainty in the face value of the figures is amply illustrated by one extreme instance:

Off-hand they appeared to show a curtailment of some $275,000,000 in the supplemental items of the revised budget, meaning the odds and ends of government expenses. The $450,000,000 total of the January budget was shown to be out to $175,000,000 in the revised one.

But a footnote on another item (not on this one) indicates the new figure does not include CCC, as the old one did. This CCC, is listed separately. So, if you add in CCC, the $275,000,000-saving in the odds and ends estimates really is a $75,000,000 loss.

NUTSHELL

Thus, the layman and the expert are likely to get two opposite conclusions about Mr. Roosevelt's proposition. The layman will note that the President regards it as extremely important that we should achieve a balanced budget next year, and that by appealing to congress to help him. Analysis generally will agree that a balance is wholly improbable from the figures.

What Mr. Roosevelt seems to be doing now, in its simplest terms, devoid of elusive figures, is this: He intends to hold down expenditures, not to cut appropriations. He intends to block extra-budgetary appropriations by congress this session to whatever extent he later may choose. He is saying to congress: "You go ahead and pass the appropriation bills for next year, limited to the amounts I told you last January, and I will try to balance the budget by spending less than you appropriate, and by picking up some money on refunds received by the government on RFO loans, etc."

The whole implication clearly is one of "spending no more than necessary" rather than "active curtailment." The budget is still on the basis of "need," rather than income.

Mr. Roosevelt is taking a less serious view of his budgetary situation than federal reserve board Chairman Eccles has taken, for instance. All hopes of a real reduction in relief appropriations is over for another year at least. To all who are clamoring for a balance, Mr. Roosevelt is merely saying: "Just leave it to me."

DETERMINATION

Strictly under your hat, two of Mr. Roosevelt's legislative confidants protested the tone of the message to him before it was delivered. They said the relief figure was too high, that he need not spend $1,500,000,000 together with the money he will have left over from this year. They counseled him to cut the figure to a flat billion just for the sake of appearances. It would have a beneficial effect, to show he meant business.

This and several other less important recommendations of the consultants were turned down cold. As a result, there is likely to be an unexpected and unusual inside movement in congress to readjust the figures submitted by the President in several ways.

Recognizing a Protest

Those in Idaho who have been apprehensive over the proposal for establishing a national park in the Sawtooth mountains will be pleased to learn of Senator Pope's decision to withdraw his resolution for a Sawtooth park survey.

From many sources opposition has arisen against such a park, and careful consideration serves to bear out the logic of all the objection. The wool growers who graze approximately 200,000 sheep in the area during summer months naturally are concerned over the possibility of being run out of this region.

Idahoans who derive much enjoyment from having access to an unrestricted out-of-doors likewise can see no reason for setting up such districts, particularly when much of the state's mountainous area already falls under government supervision in the way of forest preserves and the like.

Senator Pope, in explaining that he will withdraw his resolution for a park survey, will set many minds at ease, but the people will still be interested in the counter proposal which apparently is contemplated. Instead of actually designating the region as a national park, it now appears that a project including road construction and general improvement of recreational facilities in the area in question is being considered. Inasmuch as the senator has explained that the "forest service is favorable" to this change in plans, it would indicate that this branch of the government may have been involved in the controversy of the proposed park.

In any event we have Senator Pope's assurance that we are to receive full details of the plans now pending. We eagerly await this information in the knowledge that it will be highly interesting.

Senator Pope, in recognizing the protests and deciding to withdraw his resolution, has followed the right course. After all, the people he represents are the ones to be given primary consideration.

Popular Plan

Oregon's Senator Stiewer has proposed a constitutional amendment for which some very cogent arguments might easily be made. His amendment would provide for the nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates by popular vote.

Under that system, the job of a national political party convention would consist merely of writing a platform and rubber stamping the nominations made by the voters.

The amount of horse-trading, thimble-rigging, and plain and fancy conniving which such a system would abolish is something to think about. So, too, is the way in which it would compel each candidate to declare himself, well in advance, on the issues of the day.

It would end the old game of playing it safe, keeping quiet, and refusing to make enemies, and it ought to make the nomination of presidential candidates much more responsive to the popular will. It looks, in short, like an exceedingly sensible amendment.

In Auto Buyers' Interest

Prospective auto buyers are the gainers by reason of a stipulation entered into by the Federal Trade commission and a group of auto manufacturing, sales and financing companies.

This stipulation requires the companies not to advertise 6 per cent financing, on installment sales of autos, without making it clear that this by no means implies simple 6 per cent per annum interest.

The trade commission charges that the 6 per cent plan, by requiring the purchaser to pay 6 per cent interest on the full amount of his account until the final payment is made, actually means that the rate he pays on the average balance amounts to about 12 per cent.

If the stipulation stands, the prospective auto buyer has a much better chance of knowing just what his installment plan is costing him.

A French scientist declares the world will end soon. If his country indicated she would pay up, it would be easy to believe.

A professor advises "Got a hobby or die." For elderly spinsters the advice would be, "Dye and get a hubby."

Another prospect for "Live Alone and Like It"—the Center Creek, Minn., hermit who raises skunks and hasn't had a bath in two months.

When eastern gravediggers went on strike recently, the local undertakers, annoyed, were understood to wish the men were deep in their work.

It must be hard for the Madrid realtor to learn that the house he sold a few hours before has become a lot.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

APRIL 24, 1923

Acceptance of the offer of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce to open the tourist park in cooperation with the city under the conditions existing last year whereby the commercial body furnished wood and kept the buildings, repairs, lights and supplies on hand and the city furnished the park custodian, clothing with police authority, was the outstanding feature of the meeting of the city council last night which wound up by resuming consideration of the budget. L. W. Ledum was engaged as manager and policeman at $50 per month to assume charge on May 1.

The council then went to work on the budget, which it expects to have ready by the meeting next Monday night.

27 YEARS AGO

APRIL 24, 1910

Owing to decisions of the comptroller of the currency and state bank commissioner, the undersigned banks find it necessary to discontinue the practice of permitting overdrafts. After May 1, 1910, no customer, no matter how valued his patronage, will be permitted to overdraft his account. First National bank, Commercial and Savings bank, Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., the Farmers and Merchants bank.

The new fire department headquarters on Second avenue south are nearly ready for occupancy, most of the interior work being finished. The horses for the new chemical engine are being kept in their new quarters at present and the rest of the equipment will be moved as soon as the entrance to the building can be planked. While the new building is not up to the highest possible standard, still the firemen would be highly pleased with the change from the shack on Second street.

BUHL CLUB NAMES STAFF

BUHL, April 24 (Special)—Fred Olds, was elected president of the Buhl Progressive Club for the year at their meeting recently at the home of W. M. Olds, the club leader. The other officers elected were: Warren Barry, vice president; Robert Madison, secretary; and Billy Hopple, reporter. A committee was appointed by the president with Warren Barry, chairman; Jack Madison and John Graden, members. A motion was passed to hold club meetings every two weeks on Tuesday evenings.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

An interesting little organ in the throat which is the subject of a good deal of misunderstanding is the small piece of tissue known as the uvula, which hangs down in the center of the palate.

Invasion by germs, or irritation from heat, caustic substances, or mechanical injury may cause inflammation, swelling, irritation, and pain in the uvula, just as in tissue elsewhere in the body. The uvula is involved frequently in chronic infection and inflammation of tonsils and throat. Swelling in the tissues around the uvula may interfere with the blood coming to it, causing it to become congested and enlarged.

A person occasionally is born with a uvula that is too long, but that is exceedingly rare. When the uvula is too long or when it becomes swollen or inflamed, there is a feeling like a lump in the throat. To get rid of the obstruction by cleaning the throat naturally is impossible because the uvula is part of the tissues.

There are cases in which swelling after operation for some other reason becomes so severe that the blood supply to this piece of tissue is cut off entirely, in which case it will become black and finally slough off.

Much more often in the past than now the uvula was considered to be the cause of chronic irritation in the throat, and it was removed surgically. Today the operation is resorted to only in cases in which the uvula is so long that it hangs into the throat or lies constantly upon the tongue. A normal uvula is less than one-half inch long and never reaches the tongue if the latter is moderately depressed.

There are actually two cases in which the uvula has been more than an inch and a half long. In such cases it can cause a good deal of irritation and disturbance, and requires removal.

There are also cases in which the uvula fails to become one piece of tissue in the process of birth and the person seems to have a double uvula, or two of them.

This type of growth is not troublesome, except for the annoyance it brings the possessor, who feels that it may be wrong, and that something should be done about it.

BUHL STAFF INSTALLED
BUHL, April 24 (Special)—At the meeting of the Buhl Moose lodge Wednesday evening the following new officials were installed by Chester Hobson and A. Parker: Leonard Howard, dictator; Ernest Lee, vice dictator; Frank Amos, reporter; Otto Johnson, trustee; and Harley Crispen, treasurer.

DEMOCRATS FORMULATE 4-POINT LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

PLAN MAPPED TO PASS FOUR ACTS, ADJOURN AUG. 15

President's Economy, High Court and Reorganization Bills Would Pass

By EDWARD W. LEWIS (Copyright, 1937, United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24 (U.P.)—Democratic congressional leaders formulated a four-point legislative plan today which, it was hoped, would hasten adjournment of congress and fulfill President Roosevelt's economy, supreme court, and government reorganization proposals.

The plan still was in the discussion stage, but it had the serious consideration of both senate and house leaders, an administration spokesman said.

Its purpose was to adjourn congress by Aug. 15 with the following measures passed:

1. The supreme court enlargement program.

2. Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation for reorganization of the government establishment to increase efficiency.

Appropriation bills

3. All appropriation bills. These measures would be passed as quickly as possible while White House economic pressure is strong.

4. Wage and hour regulatory legislation. In some quarters, however, there was the possibility that these bills might be delayed until next session.

Discarded, would be numerous authorization bills endangering the President's budgetary plans. These would include the Wagner housing bill, the Bankhead-Jones farm tenancy bill, the Harrison educational aid bill and flood control and rivers and harbors projects.

Leaders Prepared

A proposed schedule for legislation has reached the point at which certain house leaders are prepared, if necessary, to expedite the supreme court program by resorting to a house petition. In addition they are working to complete action on all appropriation bills, including the $1,500,000,000 work relief bill.

House leaders have been assured that senate action on the President's court plan—when it reaches the senate floor, regardless of the judiciary committee decision—will not be delayed by a filibuster.

CONFERENCE FOR CHILDREN URGED

Pre-School Age Group Should Receive Medical Benefit, Physician Says

That the need for child health conferences conducted by physicians is a paramount one of Twin Falls county, was the opinion expressed by Dr. J. W. Hawkins, director of the Twin Falls county health unit today.

Need for such conferences was disclosed by a survey which shows that very few mothers bring children of pre-school age to their physicians for regular physical examinations—outside of visits made during actual sickness of the child.

Compliments Work

"The work of the Parent-Teacher association in sponsoring the preschool roundup among children is to be highly complimented," Dr. Hawkins said. "The P-T-A follows the program encouraged by the American Medical association. The association's work is to be praised because it permits the children to receive this advantage of physical supervision at a time of life when it is most important. It is important because it is the best time to check and correct defects which, if left untouched, may later seriously hamper the child. It is also the age at which immunizations are important and are most effective," Dr. Hawkins said.

Physicians and the P-T-A in the past have cooperated in this movement to make a good start among these lines. Dr. Hawkins points out. He said that the purposes are behind such a program for child health. The first is that parents must be made to realize the importance of these early examinations by their physicians and secondly, those who cannot afford these examinations should be given the advantage of the cooperating agencies.

Cooperation Needed

"The success of this sort of child health program is dependent upon the cooperation of the dentists and the physicians, and the good organization of a concrete program to follow," Dr. Hawkins said.

The health unit director contrasted the present meaning of child health with the old terminology of child welfare, the latter concerning itself primarily with care of defective and delinquent and such children. The term child health not only includes these divisions but also denotes an assurance of health of all children.

Dr. Hawkins has been principal speaker at several meetings of various organizations called to observe Child Health day in Idaho which is set for May 1. The observance meetings will be held over the county from now until after the first of next month by numerous groups.

A special program for observance of the day is being arranged for the public schools and will be staged Friday, April 30.

Outstanding Social Event Will Aid Eyesight Campaign Here

Lions Club Sponsors Dance at Elks' Hall on Tuesday Evening

At a social event expected to be one of the outstanding features of the week, several hundred Twin Falls couples will dance at the Elks' club Tuesday evening at the benefit party sponsored by Twin Falls Lions club to aid school children needing corrective eye treatment.

Chuck Helm and his Continentals will play for the dance, which will start at 9:30 p. m.

Proceeds of the dance will be used to purchase glasses and to pay for eye treatments for school children unable to finance these. Cooperating with Lions International, the Twin Falls club conducted an eyesight survey in the Twin Falls schools, and approximately 200 children were found to be defective. Of this number, 120 were more severely in need of attention.

Four who were found to be in need of operations were cared for immediately by the Lions in conjunction with a Twin Falls specialist.

P. T. A. Cooperates
Cooperating in the benefit dancing party Tuesday evening is the Twin Falls council of Parents and Teachers under Mrs. Ronald Graves, president.

The Lions club committee on arrangement for the dance consists of Carl Glib, chairman; Harry Slatkin, Rulon Gunn and Max Miller. This committee is also in charge of ticket sales for the benefit party, and each captain a Lions group will be contacting specific sections of the downtown district.

The Parent-Teacher council is in charge of residential district ticket sales and a portion of the downtown area, with the benefit work being carried out under presidents of the various P-T. A. groups of each school. These include Mrs. Howard Burkhardt, Bieker; Mrs. Earl Johnson, Lincoln; Mrs. Carl Lowe, Washington; Mrs. Roy Evans, Junior-senior high school, and John Day, St. Edwards.

Distribute Funds
William Gerber, chairman of the Lions committee on conservation of eyesight, and the Parent-Teacher council under Mrs. Graves, will have charge of distribution of the dance proceeds.

The dance here follows out the national campaign of Lions clubs to combat defective eyesight among children, according to Chairman Carl Glib of the committee. Last year the Lions of the United States, he said, purchased over 2,000 pairs of glasses for boys and girls who were unable to buy their own. In connection with the work they also furnished Braille magazines, Braille courses of study, "Seeing Eye" dogs, talking books and other facilities for the blind in addition to supplying means for many blind Americans to make their own living.

Warning against destruction of trees and shrubs and taking of fuel wood in the Rock creek area within Mindoka national forest, above the Rock creek C. C. camp, was issued here this afternoon by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The acts of vandalism have been occurring along the new road now being built by the C. C. C. youths, the chamber announced. Part of the road is completed and travel is open to the point at which construction is still underway.

"Unless destruction of the trees and shrubs is halted, the area may have to be closed by the forest service or may have to be placed under park restrictions," F. G. Thompson, secretary of the chamber, said he had been informed. "Park restrictions would necessitate registering in and out and would limit the present freedom of movement."

Guerike, the great physicist of Magdeburg, was the first to make the experiment of the evacuated hemispheres, more than 200 years ago. Guerike's memory is honored with payments up to this day, and the experiment is repeated at each one, with four teams of horses pulling on each half of the sphere.

LOYALISTS RELIEVE GEN. MIAJA OF CIVIL AUTHORITY

DEFENSE JUNTA IS DISSOLVED BY POLITICAL HEADS

"Town Council" of 34 Men Named to Direct Affairs of Madrid

By JAN YINDRICH
MADRID, April 24 (UP)—Gen. Jose Miaja, "savior of Madrid," gave up all civil authority today, and, at the same time the supreme defense junta formed when the world thought Madrid was about to fall, passed out of existence.

At noon, the bald-headed, spectacled Miaja and the junta of which he was president, handed over civil authority to a new "town council" of 34 members representing all parties in the government's popular front.

Controls West
Miaja retains control of the west side of Madrid, proclaimed a military zone, and also retains his military authority as commander in chief for the central front embracing the country all around Madrid.

The change in the regime which has ruled supreme in Madrid since the dark days of last November, when the placid Miaja sent his international brigades into action and halted the nationalists at the city's gates, was a complete—and puzzling—surprise.

Over the teletype from the loyalist government at Valencia there came in the early hours of this morning a decree relieving Miaja of civil authority and dissolving his defense junta.

Stops Military Rule
The effect is that the city ceases to be under military rule and again passes under political rule at a time when loyalists express confident conviction that the capital is free for good of danger from a nationalist attack.

The most important feature of the change-over is that the police services and public order henceforth will depend on Angel Galarza, socialist minister of interior, and not on Jose Cazorla. It was believed that Galarza will be represented here by Santiago Carillo as director general of security.

NO COMPROMISE, STATES GENERAL

Rebel Leader Franco Says Objective Is to Clear Out Communism

LONDON, April 24 (UP)—Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish insurgent commander, closed the door to immediate peace negotiations in an interview published Friday by the Daily Mail.

He told Randolph Churchill, the Mail's correspondent, that "we cannot countenance any negotiations or compromise."

Francisco indicated, in his interview with Churchill, that the insurgent forces "hold unswervingly to their declared objective of a united Spain, free from Socialism or Communism."

In reply to an inquiry about the future of Anglo-Spanish relations, Franco said, "friendly relations with your country are traditional with Spain. We would have preferred that these relations should never have been interrupted and Great Britain has proof of that."

British interests in the Mediterranean are perfectly compatible with those of a strong nationalist Spain, Franco said. He discounted reports of the loyalist victory at Guadalupe.

$1,105.04

A large volume of newspaper advertising again puts more dollars into the hands of Twin Falls Merchants.

In the city of Twin Falls, yearly retail sales have increased to $1,105.04 per person. This amount is $790.09 more than the average for the state of Idaho, which is $314.95. These figures are according to recent government statistics.

Throughout all southern Idaho, people possess their highest incomes in several years. Naturally this means more desires for new comforts, conveniences and every-day necessities. Good, sound, advertising can, and will, turn these desires into ready sales.

There's more Buying-Power in the Twin Falls market! It's a credit to those merchants following the modern methods of service and selling—and a great testimonial to the merchandising ability of good newspaper advertising!

Your Advertising Dollar Goes Farther In This City of Superior Buying Power!

During the past two years, the total retail sales in Twin Falls show an increase of $3,893,000.00.

"Spasmodic advertising" results in once-in-awhile trade. Consistent, powerful newspaper advertising builds new friendships, steady customers, and confidence.

Knock out a "home-run" in your business volume instead of a "single." Use bigger advertising space for a bigger selling job. AND REMEMBER YOUR ADVERTISING DOLLAR GOES FARTHER IN THIS CITY OF SUPERIOR BUYING POWER!
