HOUSE COMMITTEE APPROVES WAR BILL

FLOOD WATER IN PITTSBURGH HITS HIGH SINCE 1806

Waves Lap at Golden Triangle But Observers Expect Rivers to Recede

DAMAGE IS NOT SERIOUS

Wheeling, W. Va., Seen as Danger Spot as Stream Rises Rapidly

PITTSBURGH, April 27—(UP)—Flood waters lapped at the edges of the "Golden Triangle" today in Pittsburgh's worst April flood since 1806, but weather forecasters believed that threat of a major disaster had passed.

The rain-swollen Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, rising dangerously for the second time in 1937, crested at 35 feet 10 inches above flood levels at 6 a. m. Observers said they expected the river to remain stationary until about 10 a. m. and then start falling.

Wheeling Danger Spot They believed Wheeling, W. Va. was more likely to suffer heavily. The Ohio river at Wheeling was rising at a rate of nearly nine inches an hour. Capt. J. R. Hill, lockmaster at the government dam, warned residents to prepare for a crest of 46 feet, 10 inches above flood level.

Fear Water Merchants in Pittsburgh's "golden triangle," fearing another costly invasion of debris-laden waters, erected barriers of sandbags to protect their property. The chugging of pumps, which emptied the basements of business houses, and the hurried removal of stocks to upper floors were reminiscent of the scenes during the disastrous St. Patrick's day flood of 1936 which caused damage of more than $300,000,000.

SPANISH CAPITAL RECEIVES WORST BOMBING OF WAR

Correspondents State Dead Litter Streets in Madrid

REBELS HIT VALENCIA

Casualties Estimated at 300; Telephone Building Is Still Target

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE (United Press Cable Editor)

Insurgent artillery blasted Madrid today in one of the most destructive bombardments of a civilian populace ever known.

It climaxed two weeks in which shells were poured into the center of the capital daily, with a lull only on one day, last Saturday.

Casualties were heavy and the damage great. It was conservatively estimated that about 300 have been killed and hundreds wounded during the fortnight.

United Press correspondents, telephoning to London in the midst of the bombardment, described the dead littering the central Puerto del Sol (gate of the sun) and the wounded limping or dragging themselves to shelter.

Coincidentally with the shelling of Madrid, the insurgents opened a bombardment from the sea on Valencia, the emergency loyalist capital. Casualties were reported heavy.

Although the insurgents have not succeeded in capturing Madrid, they have managed to pound sections of it into ruins. The city's "sky-scraper," the telephone building, owned by subsidiary of the American I. T. & T. has been hit repeatedly.

Basque Army Withdraws The Basque army, which has dwindled from 30,000 effective fighting men to 15,000 was in full retreat towards Bilbao, already overcrowded with refugees from captured Irun and San Sebastian.

While the destruction went on in Spain, the European powers continued their efforts to isolate the war and prevent further foreign interference.

A meeting was called in London of the non-intervention committee, with a view of trying to enlist the aid of the United States and other American nations in preventing the shipment of men and munitions to Spain.

PLOTTERS SPOIL BOMB ATTEMPT

Bottle of Nitro-Glycerine Placed Under Hood of Ford Staff Member

DETROIT, April 27 (UP)—Bumbling efforts of plotters in building a nitro-glycerine bomb under the hood of his automobile saved the life of John Gillespie, member of the personal staff of the Ford Motor Co., police said today.

A milk bottle filled with the explosive fluid was found wired to the spark plugs. Because the internal machine failed to detonate, police said. Although the plot was discovered last Tuesday, it was not disclosed until police chemists completed an examination of the liquid in the bottle yesterday.

Harry Bennett, chief of the Ford service department, said Gillespie a full report would be made to the prosecutor's office.

Mrs. Simpson Free To Apply for Final Decree of Divorce

LONDON, April 27 (UP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson was free today to apply for a final decree of divorce which would permit her to marry the Duke of Windsor who gave up his throne for her.

The six months period prescribed by British law as the interval between the granting of a preliminary and final divorce decree expired today. Mrs. Simpson obtained her decree nisi from Ernest Simpson Oct. 27, at Ipswich.

It was explained that Mrs. Simpson's solicitors would apply for the final decree, the decree absolute, tomorrow and that the decree would be awarded next Monday by Justice Sir Alfred Bucknill.

Best informed opinion was that while no exact wedding had been set, the duke and the American born divorcee would be married in France about the middle of the week of May 24, about two weeks after the coronation of the duke's brother, George VI.

The duke, nervous and lonely at his villa at St. Wolfgang, was expected to leave for France as soon as the final decree was granted and to join Mrs. Simpson by May 5 at the Chateau de Candé where she is staying.

OFFICERS BLAME SPEED IN CRASH

Trio Meet Death, Injuries in Car Wreck on Gooding Highway

GOODING, April 27 (Special)—Excessive speed was blamed today by officers for the death near here last night of Anton Frank Shultz, 28, Shoshone service station operator, and injury of his companions, Belden J. Sullivan, 23, Gooding gasoline distributor, and Carl Worthington, 34, Gooding service station attendant.

Death for Shultz was thought to have resulted instantly when his chest was crushed as the car in which the trio were riding left the highway and overturned three miles south of here. There will be no inquest, according to Dr. J. E. Manuel, coroner.

The car, driven by Shultz, was traveling at a high rate of speed when it got out of control and left the highway on a sharp curve, according to the two survivors. Shultz struggled for a distance of 250 feet to get the machine back on the road before it overturned several times and landed upside down in the narrow pit. It was demolished.

Sullivan and Worthington were taken to the Gooding hospital for treatment for injuries. Sullivan, who sustained a broken wrist and minor cuts about the face, was dismissed today and Worthington, being treated for severe scalp lacerations, was reported to be resting easily.

The three men were on their way to Twin Falls to attend a meeting of gasoline dealers.

Shultz came to Shoshone from Nebraska three years ago and was owner and operator of the Shoshone Studebaker garage and Shell service station. He leaves his wife and 18-month-old son.

The body rests at the Thompson funeral parlors in Gooding.

The accident was investigated by State Traffic Officer Earl Williams, Dr. Manuel and Clair King, deputy sheriff.

G-Man Melvin Purvis, Fiancee Stage Battle; Wedding, Set for Thursday Night, Postponed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 27 (UP)—Melvin Purvis, the former federal officer who "always got his man," was headed west today without his woman, the beautiful Janice Jarratt to whom he was betrothed.

There were sharp words in a hotel lobby last night, the Chicago "G-man" who captured John Dillinger, stomped away in a huff; Miss Jarratt tripped out manfully and the bride-elect's mother announced that the wedding, scheduled for Thursday, was postponed indefinitely.

Cause of the squabble was said to have been that Miss Jarratt kept Purvis waiting in the lobby and he resented it. As a prelude, the sweetheart of the Texas Centennial, who has signed a contract with Universal Studios to make movies in Hollywood, was said to have ignored a pre-nuptial party in her honor.

An estimated 3,000 invitations had been mailed out for the wedding Thursday night.

NEGRO FREED ON COURT'S RULING

Justice Roberts Again Plays Leading Role as Judiciary Splits 5 to 4

WASHINGTON, April 27 (UP)—Supreme court action in freeing a Negro Communist organizer today emphasized the role of Justice Owen J. Roberts, the tribunal's "young man" member, as a maker of court history.

Roberts' newest so-called "liberal" vote resulted in setting aside the conviction of Angelo Herndon, Atlanta, Ga., Negro Communist organizer. Herndon had been sentenced to 16 to 20 years in prison.

The case is the first outstanding one affecting civil liberties to split the court into conservative-liberal camps.

Herndon was convicted of violating a statute passed in reconstruction days which made it a capital offense to advocate forcible opposition to the state government.

Few had anticipated that Herndon's conviction and severe sentence would be sustained. There had been no evidence, as the majority opinion found, that he had distributed the Communist literature found in his rooms.

The surprise of the decision lay in the fact that four members of the liberal side, had he joined conservatives the court would now be in the position of holding that simple membership in the Communist party is a revolutionary act.

IRA TAYLOR RETURNS $800 SALARY EARNED BY WIFE

FORMER WARDEN SETTLES BATTLE IN STATE HOUSE

Money Was That Given Wife For Duties as Matron At Penitentiary

BOISE, Idaho, April 27 (AP)—Ira J. Taylor, commissioner of public works, today climaxed a controversy of two months duration when he returned to the state $800 his wife had received in salary as night matron at the state penitentiary.

Taylor, former penitentiary warden who resigned to accept dictatorship of the public works department, had been involved in a "scandal" which at one time approached levying of a nepotism charge because his wife had received a salary for duties she performed in taking care of women prisoners at the institution.

Authorized Assignment—The assignment of the salary and position of night matron to his wife had been made with authorization of the state pardon board, but the situation was not brought to light until shortly after Taylor took over the public works department.

An investigation of general prison administration policies was made at that time and reappointment of Stemmer as director of highways was held up pending a decision of Gov. Barzilla W. Clark.

When Stemmer was reappointed, after Secretary of State Ira Masters had come to the defense of Taylor and criticized low wages at the state penitentiary, the matter was dropped.

Brought to Attention—It was brought to public attention today, however, when reports were published that Attorney General J. W. Taylor was considering putting a top-order on the public works commissioner's paycheck because of allegedly illegal practices in hiring his wife as prison matron.

Taylor, in a letter to Harry Parsons, state auditor, advised him to investigate the matter.

The attorney-general, however, denied that he had ever considered stopping the commissioner's salary, and severely criticized publication of the report. He termed the news story "erroneous."

Committee Heads Named by Group

Good Turn List Soars High For Declo's Scouts

Doing a good turn a day is just part of Scouting but when a Scoutmaster takes the time to add up all the good turns which his "boys" do over a period of time, that's taking a lot of time off to do a lot of adding.

On March 1, 1936 when Von Noyes took over the Scoutmastership of troop 27 of Declo, community southeast of Burley which, according to the 1935 census, had 198 residents, he decided he would take the time and make a record of all good turns reported by Boy Scouts of his troop.

Totals 3,289—And from that date, March 1, 1936, until Jan. 1, 1937, he found that the troop members did exactly 3,289 good turns. Four of the Scouts reported better than 300 good turns during the ten month period, one of these reaching 367. The balance ranged from 25 upward.

If a statistician would take the time to figure out how many good turns the 850 Scouts in the Snake river area council could do if they only completed one each day he would arrive at the staggering figure of 210,350 for a year's period.

Here's List—The good turn Scouts of troop 27 include Tenderfoot Scouts: Calvin Jibson, Joseph Fredrickson, John Fredrickson, Max Turner, Elmer Bortz, Raymond Pulsipher, Albert Meddows, Jerry Anderson, James Dalton, Mark Anderson and J. McKay Penrod.

Second class: Nathan Roberts, George Gillett, and Tess Williams. First class: Don Gillett and Harold Robert Hurst. Star: Glen Rex Jacobs, Ray Hansen and Jay Hansen. Life: Leo Hurst and Enley Pickett.

Girl, Bitten by Dog, Goes Back to School—Arlene Robertson, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Robertson, was in school today after receiving treatment yesterday for slight facial lacerations inflicted last night by a dog.

The animal, a black and white bird dog owned by Vern Jennings, Ninth avenue east, was being held for observation this afternoon for traces of rabies on recommendation of the attending physician. At the time of the dog's attack the child was playing on the lawn of the W. I. McFarland home, 1405 Ninth avenue east.

DEALERS MEET HERE—The spring and summer advertising campaign of the Continental Oil company was discussed at a meeting held last evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Dealers from Shoshone, Halley, Bliss, Gooding, Jerome, Wendell, Buhl, Eden and Twin Falls attended the session.

COURT SETS TAX AGAINST SISTERS

Probate Hearing Decrees 2 Per Cent Transfer Levy On Caudle Estate

Two Twin Falls sisters must pay a two per cent Idaho transfer tax on $13,498 in the estate of their father, the late Frank Caudle, it was determined today at a hearing in probate court before Judge Guy L. Kinney.

The court found that the appraised value of the property transferred to the sisters, Gladys and Helen Caudle, before Mr. Caudle's death was $21,498. Exemption of $4,000 each was decreed, and a two per cent state tax was found to apply to the balance. Also ordered was 10 per cent interest for one year after date of the transfer of property to the sisters.

Claim by the sisters that they were in partnership with their father on the property was denied by the court.

A. J. Sathre, of the Idaho inheritance tax division, represented the state at the hearing today.

E. L. Rayborn was attorney for the sisters.

Seen Today

Auto with this painted on the side: "Jerry Edwards, Daredevil Stunt Driver." Variations in hat-tipping among polite gentlemen of the city: one man taking off chapeau with sweeping gesture; another merely putting his hand up to hat-crown and letting it go at that. Minister remarking that if he happens to have insomnia and hears alarm bell droning over the city at 3 a. m. daily, he says a prayer for the pilot's safety. Mockingbirds singing here and there. And Messrs. Chapin, Taber and Avant formally stepping into office by taking the oath before city clerk.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE—Roy Clayton was elected for a three-year term, replacing W. N. Glibb, in the school trustee election in the Roseworth district, according to returns received today at offices of Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of public instruction.

Registrations Open for Scout Jamboree Expected to Attract 500

TENTS WILL GO UP ON ATHLETIC FIELD 2 NIGHTS

Area-Wide Event June 18-20 Expected to Set Record In This Region

Plans were complete and registrations were being accepted this afternoon at Boy Scout headquarters in Twin Falls for the second annual area wide Jamboree of the Snake River area council, Boy Scouts of America. It is expected in the neighborhood of 500 Scouts and Scouters will come to this city June 18, 19 and 20, the Jamboree dates.

Scheduled for Lincoln field, two "camping out" nights will feature the gathering as boys from over this section pitch their tents and engage in the various contests and diversions arranged for the three day stay, which will end on June 20 as the entire group accompanies the Washington Jamboree delegation to the train.

All Troops Eligible

All registered troops in the Snake River area council will be permitted to enter one or more patrols, officials said today, and such patrols will be expected to participate in the activities. Final deadline for registration has been set as June 1.

The primary purpose in promoting the Jamboree, officials said, is to motivate the troop and its units of organization, the patrol. The stimulated interest and activity in preparation for this event will result in more Scouts, better Scouts and longer tenures of Scouts, according to the leaders.

Each patrol entered must be a permanently organized unit of the troop and may not be a patrol of picked Scouts for the purpose of entering the Jamboree. A patrol will consist of not more than nine members and not less than five. All Scouts participating must be registered and must not have reached their 18th birthday on the date of the Jamboree. Senior patrol leaders or junior assistant Scoutmasters, if members of the patrol, may participate.

Full Program

A full program of events has been arranged for the stay in Twin Falls and includes almost every activity connected with Scouting.

The Jamboree will open officially at 1 p. m. on Friday, June 18, and close at 1 p. m. Sunday, June 20. Features of the first day will include a "get acquainted" tour of

The program is completed with a Yacht Club boys novelty, and news. Showing for the last times today at the Idaho theater is Kay Francis in "Stolen Holiday."

Crockett Family to Play Roxy's Stage

An announcement of importance to all lovers of good entertainment has been made by the manager of Joe K's Roxy theater.

The Crockett family, famous radio, screen, and stage troupe of entertainers will appear in person on the Roxy stage Wednesday and Thursday, April 28, 29.

Their present tour is the second in this city although they headlined the R-K-O and other major circuits throughout the United States and Canada for three years. Last year they made an extensive tour of the Pacific coast and played to capacity crowds wherever they appeared. They were so well received that they decided on another personal appearance tour.

A splendid feature picture, "Too Many Wives" with Anne Shirley and John Mosley will be presented on the same program. Shows will be continuous, starting at 1 p. m.

'Maytime' Held Over On Orpheum Screen

Splendid in all phases, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first lavish musical offering of 1937, "Maytime" is being held over for a one day's extended engagement at the local Orpheum theater, with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in the starring roles.

Critics say the studio has gone far and beyond any beauty which the stage attained. "Maytime" was a musical piece of gorgeous proportions when Rada Johnson Young's play was on the boards and it closely approaches the status of a musical masterpiece on the screen.

In the supporting cast are John Barrymore, Hernan Bing, Tom Brown and Guy Bates Post.

Murtaugh Students Stage Production

MURTAUGH, April 27 (Special)—Nearly $70 was cleared on the matinee and evening performance of "Charley's Aunt" by the senior class at the high school auditorium before a large audience. Proceeds are to be used for the junior prom.

In the cast were Ben Molene, Mark Bates, Cordell Turner, Cecil Walker, Annabell Davley, Jo Callen, Lynn Garner, Francis Ebert, Joe Stasney, Edna Savages, Marjorie Noh and Olivia Arstein.

Numbers between acts were given by Bertone Stewart, Kathleen Starry and the high school orchestra. The cast presented John B. Darling, coach, with a bouquet of roses.

YOUTHS SURVIVE 100 FOOT DROP

Filer Brothers Escape Death As Machine Leaps Into Rock Creek Canyon

A 100-foot drop from the rim to the floor of Rock Creek canyon, three miles northwest of here, resulted in only minor injuries for two Filer youths whose car got out of control and plummeted over the canyon edge.

The two youths, Al Harshbarger, 21, and his brother, Arthur Harshbarger, 19, were said to be driving toward a fire which they had "spotted" in the distance about 3:20 a. m. Sunday.

They informed investigating officers that they suddenly came upon a sharp curve at a point where the road makes an abrupt turn to follow the canyon rim. The car got out of control, left the road and plunged over the rim.

Landing on the rear wheels, the car was badly damaged but the occupants were cut about the ear suffered by the younger brother.

Vandal Ball Club Takes 10-Day Trip

MOSCOW, April 27 (Special)—The Idaho Vandal's baseball team left Moscow today for a 10-day trip to the Oregon schools and the University of Washington. The trip will see the Idaho men playing six games in eight days.

April 28 and 29 they will meet Oregon at Eugene, April 30 and May 1, Oregon State in Corvallis and May 3 and 4 the Washington Huskies in Seattle. They will return to Moscow May 5. The trip will be made in the University of Idaho bus.

Retiring officers are: Wirt Fairman, Jerome, president, and Les Burkhalter, Twin Falls, vice president. George Holt held the office of secretary-treasurer before the election.

Father Divine May Open New London Heaven

LONDON, April 27 (UP)—The News Chronicle telephoned 3,000 miles to New York to ask Father Divine, Harlem negro messiah, whether reports were true that he planned to start one of his heavens in London.

This is the report of the conversation as published in the News Chronicle today:

"Father Divine — Suh, surely ah want to start a hebben in London. Ah reckon there's need for it. But it depends on the people. They gotta be ready. Ah just can't say when ah am comin' ober but ah got it in mind."

"News Chronicle interviewer—Who pays for the food for the banquets you give?"

"Father Divine—Young man, who pays for this 'spengiv' phone call?"

"Interviewer—My firm, father."

"Father Divine—An' that's just who pays for my fish fry banquets—my firm pays for all dese and, my boy, my firm's better dan yours. My firm is God."

FAIRFIELD

Mrs. Tom Wolkersein was elected president of the Camas club at a meeting on Thursday in the annex of the Community church. Mrs. W. E. Stewart is vice president and Winifred Croner is secretary-treasurer. The program was on gardening with Ms. George Abbott, leader. Mrs. B. D. Spratt and Miss Croner were hostesses.

C. D. Merrill, superintendent, has announced the following events for the remainder of the school year, April 20, operetta, "The Beauty Contest," May 7, three-act play directed by Dorothy Weaver; May 15, musical revue; May 18, baccalaureate; May 18, commencement.

Balancing the Budget

The congress evidently wouldn't have an objection in the world to balancing the budget, if the job could be done without either levying new taxes or cutting down on spending.

Early reception of the president's budget recommendations in congress ought to make it easy for anyone to understand why it is such a mortally hard job to cut down on government spending once you get it started.

Mr. Ordinary Congressman, who is in there with a pet bill to spend $100,000,000 on the deepening, straightening, beautification, and elimination of roadside ditches, gets up and hammers the tub as soon as that lovely word, economy, is mentioned. He is all for it, he thinks it is fine.

But a great change comes over him as soon as someone suggests that his own $100,000,000 project must be one of the things to be dropped.

This project is different. It is vitally necessary. The country needs it. He will fight like grim death to save it. The $100,000,000 involved can easily be saved by making cuts elsewhere—by digging, for example, into the $200,000,000 which his good friend and colleague, Representative Gerrymander, would spend on the eradication of painter's colic.

Hearing this, Representative Gerrymander—who has been yelling for economy with the best of them—utters pitiful moans and announces that his bill is precisely the one bill which is indisputably essential. Let it stay on the docket, and save money by weeding the surviving Republicans out of the clerical staffs in the government departments.

Presently, before the outsider knows quite what is happening, these two congressmen get together and agree to stand fast for each other's bills and to try to make the needed savings elsewhere. Their circle grows, as other congressmen with pet projects join them; and the upshot, as likely as not, is that congress blandly appropriates half a billion more than it appropriated the year before, and bows in the direction of economy by reducing the staffs of half a dozen of the federal bureaus which are actually doing some useful work.

There is no particular point in reviewing all this here, except to remark that the way to cut expenses is—surprisingly enough—to cut expenses. If we are going to balance the budget, a lot of pet projects will have to be discarded. The government will have to forego doing various things which probably ought to be done. It will have to withhold money from causes that genuinely need money.

If the resoluteness and hardboiledness to do just that sort of thing are not forthcoming, we shall not get a balanced budget.

In Earnest

Anyone who doubts that the British are in dead earnest about rearming has only to look at the tax load the Britons are willing to carry these days. Compared with it, we in the United States are getting off easy.

Before Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, brought in his new budget with its higher rates, the British taxpayer was shelling 22 1/2 per cent of his income to the government in a direct tax. Beyond that he was carrying a load of "nuisance" taxes whose weight can be appraised by the size of those affecting motorists.

British motorists have been paying taxes of 16 cents on each gallon of gasoline. They also pay a horsepower tax on their autos, so set up that a man who owns a 25-horsepower car must pay $125 a year for his license.

When a nation that is paying taxes at such rates submits to still heavier taxes for the sake of rearmament, it must be admitted that such a nation is decidedly in earnest about its preparedness program.

Initial Step

Following the protest of 10 New York City locals of a national union that its leaders employed criminals, ex-convicts, and racketeers, A. F. of L. President William Green promises that the American Federation of Labor will not stand racketeering in any form, and announces that the New York City situation is being investigated.

Stamping out corrupt elements in unions would seem to be about the wisest policy that both he and John L. Lewis could pursue at this time. Now that court approval of the Wagner act lends impetus to union organization, the future progress of the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. depends largely on the amount of public confidence they win.

One of the surest methods of insuring that confidence would be a widespread purge of questionable unions.

POT SHOTS

The Gentleman in the Third Row

A VERY STRONG BRICKBAT FOR ROMANCE:

Dear Pot Shots:
So the contest is on Wally and Edward, and the approaching nuptials on May 20 or thereabouts, is it?

Well, if the British government sends a regiment against Pot Shots, they might as well add an extra brigade to attack my domestic, because I got ideas on this subject. You'll probably have the British consul at Salt Lake City or some place protesting Pot Shots to the secretary of state.

I think Edward is a highly misguided gent if he marries Wally. I wouldn't give you two cents for all that romantic hooey about how he quit the throne for love. He just didn't want the bally throne, douchka know, old chappie. And he ought to come over to the U. S. pick himself out an heiress with looks AND the cash to permit him to live in the royal style to which the British people accustomed him. Wally strikes me as a swell gal, but has she got enough mazzama? Because it doesn't look like merry olde Englaunde is going to fork across with enough of a stipend.

Of course, your romantically minded readers will say I'm nothing but a money-minded quill grubber.

I am.
Edward better be, too.
—Fred the Frowner

MOST ROMANTIC MAN IN HISTORY, SAYS SHE:

Dear Pot Shots:
The Duke of Windsor is the most romantic figure since—oh, since 'way back before the musky-minded historians started dissecting love and trying to catalogue it into history. I hope he gets his Wally Simpson without anybody raising a fuss over the divorce and blocking it at the last minute.

And I hope he marries her, the minute he's free.
It he doesn't, hell ruin the ecstatic beaming of millions of us women.
—Fran

A JILT WOULD BE HEARD AROUND THE WORLD:

Pot Shots:
For your 50 cents, I say this: I hope Wally Simpson jilts him.
Cheerfully,
—The Spinster Lady

WHAT'S THIS?

Pot Shots:
Ask Bunnie if her mother didn't tell her never to sign her name when she writes letters.
And this Gus guy ought to be told about that letter it brightens his chances considerably.
—The Thin Man

WHOOPIE! A CAVE MAN!

Dear Pot Shots:
I could tell you more about that incident mentioned by The Snapper, in which the young lady slapped the blond young man quite vigorously as they stood at the corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue south last Thursday night.
But you'd have to offer a mighty swell bribe, Big Shot.
Because I was the guy she slapped.
—And I WAS mad, too!

What you don't know about it, though, is that I came back after walking away, and drove the young lady home. And just as she thought I was going to kiss her good night, and she had her cute little face all upraised for the kiss, I slapped her.
Boy, was it fun.
—The Blond Youth

HE'S ELECTED—SEND US HIS ADDRESS:

Pot Shots:
Boy oh boy, drag out the royal escutcheon of the Pot Shots Society for Absent Minded Counts.
Of course, this guy doesn't believe in Idaho, but you ought to send him a badge by airmail pronto.
I mean the grandpa down in dear old Dixie who got so excited when a fire busted out in the family dwelling that he promptly threw his grand-daughter, three years old, out the window and carefully carried a bundle of bedclothing to safety through smoke and flames.
—H. E. Member

AND 5 CENTS A WEEK FOR ALMONY LOLLYPOPS:

Pot Shots:
Speaking of child-marrriages, which look to be quite the vogue these days, a 14-year-old gal in Tennessee got a divorce from her husband, whose age was a ripe old 13 years.
The gal probably got the judge to give her custody of the dolls, no, yes?
—Wholesa William

NICE IF YOU WIN THE SUIT:

Pot Shots:
Robertia Semple won a $2,000 slander judgment.
It seems a very simple way to make money.
—Punster

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Falling, with the help of GERRY NEAL, to locate her companion BETTY, who had been abducted by JACK SPEDDON, MARTHA BITTFAIN starts north up the west coast from a point where she faces a critical problem since she is in love with Neal, yet suspects him of being involved in the disappearance of Betty.

At a small California border town she suddenly decides to cast love aside in favor of better judgment and she has Neal arrested, charging him with complicity in Betty's disappearance. Then she speeds north to Portland. There she gets a strange note from Betty referring to a "clank in Seattle." Police tell her that it is an underworld character and hint that Betty might have been murdered.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX

MARTHA munched the sandwiches hurriedly. When she had finished, Speddon handed her the warm thermos bottle of coffee. Somehow the black liquid raised her spirits appreciably.

"Have you," she asked suddenly, "heard from Gerry Neal?"
In the darkness she sensed Speddon's surprise. "Neal?" he repeated. Then, a moment later, "What about him?"

"I just wondered if you'd heard from him."
"Where did you see him last?" Speddon asked oddly.

"He was with me in Monterey, and later in San Francisco." She did not add that she had caused Neal's arrest in Eureka. Speddon's reaction to the subject of Gerry Neal puzzled her, and she did not know how far to go.

"What did he say about me?" Speddon wanted to know.
Martha hesitated. "He said that he knew you. I don't remember him saying anything else. He wondered why you didn't wait for him in Los Angeles as was planned."

"Yeah?" Speddon lighted a cigarette in the darkness. Under the yellow flare of the match his thin face shown eerily. "Well, I'll tell you why I didn't wait. When he wasn't there with you I got suspicious."
"Why?" asked Martha quickly.
Speddon did not answer at once. Then his words came slowly. "I want to get out of this racket—" and Neal don't. Once I made the mistake of telling him I wanted to get out."

"What—what did he say?"
"He said I was crazy to talk about leaving it. He said I'd better forget it or he'd mention it to the chief. I'm still afraid he will—but after this job I'm done. We're close to Canada, and that's where I'm heading."

MARTHA felt gone, lost. She knew now that she had somehow hoped that Neal wasn't a criminal, that his connection with Speddon and Betty's disappearance was the result of some circumstances over which he had no control. But now here was the truth—Neal was in it with all his heart. Speddon had wanted to go straight, and Neal had fought it.

"I don't trust that guy," Speddon went on in the darkness. "I got a hunch he's after me."
"But why did you take Betty with you?"
"She made a crack that sounded like she knew too much, and I figured it was safer to have her along."

Martha set down the thermos with a trembling hand. "But what is all this—this racket? What have I to do with it?"
"Plenty," grunted Speddon. "Whether you know it or not, 'but what is it?'"
"I've shot off enough. Anyway, you'll sleep better nights if you don't know what it's all about."

Martha knew from his light tone that he realized he had talked enough—perhaps too much. She had got as much from him as she could. "You've untied my hands," she said. "Would you mind taking the rope off my ankles? It's hurting."

"Okay. The boys'll be here any minute now and you'll have to do some walking." Speddon's deft, thin fingers unloosened the rope at her feet.

Then Speddon fell utterly silent, smoking in the darkness. Periodically the tip of his cigarette would sear the blackness pitilessly, throw a soft glow on his sallow face. It was plain that he was thinking hard. What manner of man was he, Martha wondered.

SUDDENLY, far down at one end of the dock warehouse, there was a sound of a heavy sliding door moving on its rollers. Then the bright rays of a powerful flashlight.

"Here's the boys," Speddon said. "Come on." He took Martha by the arm, lifted her to her feet. Her legs and arms stiffened from their long imprisonment, she almost fell to the floor again. The flashlight came on, bathing them in its glare. Martha could not see beyond the powerful light. Then it was extinguished, as if the owner had satisfied himself that everything was as he expected.

"All set?" she heard a gruff voice ask.
"Yes," Speddon answered. "What's the idea of that light? You might as well carry a light-house with you!"

"We're all right," the voice replied. "There ain't been a patrolman past this dock in five years. Come on... the tub's ready."

Coming through the partly opened door and into the keen air, Martha saw the "tub" at the bottom of a ladder lashed to the piling of the dock. It was a sleek speedboat, rising and falling easily with the movement of the Sound.

"I'll go first," Speddon said, "then the dame."
One of the two men held her arm roughly while Speddon started down the ladder. In a moment she heard his voice drifting up to them softly. "Okay... send her down."

Gingerly Martha put her feet onto a rung of the slippery wooden ladder. Afraid to look at the water, she started down. Then she felt Speddon's hand on her waist. "You're all right now. Sit down all there."

THE two men followed like monkeys, tossed off the mooring lines. There was a muffled roar from the high-powered motor, and the speedboat took a wide turn and started out across the moonlit Sound. Suddenly one of the men came toward her with something white in his hand.

"There's no need for that," she heard Speddon say. "She's not going to jump overboard."
The big man turned to his adjutant. "It's the chief's orders."

"I don't give a — if it is. There's no need for it. I've given that dame one shot of chloroform today and that's enough."

"Listen, Jack—I'm working for Johnny Czink, not you. He said he wanted her out when she came aboard. So she's going to be that way, see?"

Martha tried to scream as the evil-smelling cloth was clamped against her mouth and nose. "Go ahead and yell," the fellow laughed. "That'll make you get the stuff all the quicker."

In that last terrible moment before she lost consciousness she wondered if she and Betty had become involved in one of those vast crime rings which, until now, she had always believed to be only the fiction of the detective magazines.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

APRIL 27, 1922

In commemoration of the centennial of the birth of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, Supt. M. O. Mitchell addressed the high school student body at assembly yesterday giving a sketch of the life of Grant.

Mr. Mitchell also presented the $10 prize offered by J. M. Bice to Helen Keniston, winner of the essay contest open to the senior class only on the life of Gen. Grant. The essays were judged by Miss Alice Johnson, preceptress of the high school; Roy A. Road and Frank L. Stephan, prosecuting attorney.

27 YEARS AGO

APRIL 27, 1910

There will be a mass meeting of the citizens of Twin Falls in Dreamland pavilion next Sunday evening at 8 p. m. in the interest of law enforcement. This meeting will be under the auspices of the Law and Order League of the State of Idaho, and the speaker of the occasion will be E. D. Nichols of Boise, state organizer of the league.

Mr. Nichols, who has been in the field in this state for the last three years, agitating the question of the overthrow of the saloon power, has been engaged in this special line of law enforcement work, and he will have something of great interest to say to those who believe in law and order and good government. He just came from Lincoln county, where he was instrumental in raising a guarantee fund of $10,000 for law enforcement. That is the issue of the day, and the pavilion ought to be packed next Sunday night with people as a demonstration of our willingness to take part in this most important movement. The public is cordially invited both men and women. Admission free.

TRUSTEES ELECTED

FAIRFIELD, April 27 (Special)—Mrs. P. E. Neely was elected to a three-year term as trustee for District 14, Fairfield grade school, and L. M. Davis was named to succeed himself as trustee for the Corral Creek school district, at recent elections.

BURLEY VOTERS NAME OFFICIALS

Two Parties Have Candidates In Field for Cassia Vote Today

BURLEY, April 27 (Special)—City registration books were closed Saturday at 9 p. m. and Burley citizens went to the polls today to choose a set of city fathers for the next two years.

Campaigning for the past two weeks has been hot and heavy with both the Citizens and the People party showering the city with literature to prove the fitness of their candidates. Monday night a free show for adults was given at the Burley theater, sponsored by the Citizens party.

Heading the Citizens ticket for mayor is Jesse W. Brandt, manager of the Burley flour mill, and member of the present city council. Opposing him is Harry L. Harpster, owner of the Burley bakery, and former mayor for two terms, from 1928 to 1931.

Other candidates for the council on the Citizens ticket are Mrs. Ida Parke, Charles F. McDonald, C. A. Bauer, George H. Scholer, Ed. Conington and J. L. Yelton. Opposing them are Kenneth Slusser, Charles Haight, Harold Deardorff, Lester McKean, Charles Barr and Joe Pixton.

Les G. Parsons is running for city clerk and Mrs. Ella Rosencrans for city treasurer on the Citizens ticket against Emery Barrus and Pre-Thompson.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT SLATED

MURTAUGH, April 27 (Special)—The annual school exhibit of the year's work will be held Friday evening at the school house. It is to be followed by an hour and a half band concert by the high school band.

The British Colonial Empire had an area of 2,000,000,000 square miles and a population of 50,000,000.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon)

FEELER
WASHINGTON, April 27—The first infinitesimal feeler toward a move which might be called a compromise in the President's court packing case has been made, very much off the record.

One of the opposition leaders on Capitol Hill sent word downtown to a presidential adviser suggesting that, in view of the Wagner decision, it seems rather unnecessary to add six more justices to an already favorable supreme court, so how about working out something to settle the argument.

The answer came back: "We wouldn't take less than four."
The respondent did not assume to speak for the President, and no one is now assuming he consulted the President. President Roosevelt, in all conversations, private and public, has indicated he would not compromise to the extent of the sixth eyelash on the sixth new proposed justice. At any rate, that ended that.

The only principle at issue, of course, still is whether the President shall get control of the court by adding to it. This issue cannot be halved, by slicing the number of the new justices. Either the President does get control, or he does not.

WARNING
There is nothing tangible by which to prove it, but this court dispute may end by just going on and on until "something" happens. The President's spokesmen in congress are in no hurry to vote; neither is the opposition. Mr. R. is going off now for his spring vacation, which indicates his pulling force will be devoted mostly to tarpon for the immediate future.

Even now the budget has supplanted the court as a primary matter of congressional concern. Opposition leaders have always wondered why the President did not claim his victory in the Wagner case and reform his program to attain his objectives in the way pointed out by the court. The various answers to this seem to be: (1) The whole future NRA program, etc., was being worked out on the expectation of an adverse decision, and adherence to the decision would require the scrapping of all the inside work that had been done; (2) The Cohen-Corcoran group of advisers were so utterly surprised by the decision that they doubted the genuineness of it, and still do.

DALS
Mr. Roosevelt is having difficulty finding out who his real friends are these days. Immediately after he submitted his appeal for a hold-down budget, he jumped the independent-liberal-progressives who have generally sided with him, but have never joined that club have always kept one foot in the door. They demanded a cool increase of a billion dollars in the President's relief allotment, an increase which would ruin all his carefully laid plans. And they set out to get it.

The groans of Mr. Roosevelt's treasury watchdogs could be heard all down the mile expanse of Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol. They know that many of the I. L. P. friends of the White House do not care what happens to the budget or the treasury, provided that it's bad. They are inflationists first and Roosevelt friends afterward. He is their leader, only when he is going in their direction.

The movement, of course, will not succeed. In one way, it may serve the President's game indirectly by tending to counteract the really formidable movement by conservative Democrats for a curtailment in government expenses.

However, such personal occurrences sometimes have a profound effect at the White House and a reshuffle of friends is not impossible.

CUTTING
The Republicans must have heard something before their Congressman Taber proposed that flat 10 per cent cut in the agriculture and other departmental appropriations.

Those who were listening at the window heard the subject first mentioned at the White House conference of congressional leaders on the budget. It was not considered very seriously at that time, or at least, was taken under advisement, but something may develop on it, if the Republicans have not spoiled it.

A flat 10 per cent slash might work a hardship on some departments. Their work would be seriously impaired by an arbitrary cut. At the same time, there are others which could be cut 15 per cent without material damage. If something can be worked out which will give the President power to switch appropriations from department to department, without giving him dictatorial appropriating powers and without nullifying the congressional right to make appropriations, it would solve the situation.

Gooding Store Adds Balcony and Front

GOODING, April 27 (Special)—A balcony for a ladies ready-to-wear department and an up-to-date front are being added at the C. C. Anderson store. The work is being done by local carpenters.

The balcony extends across the entire width of the building and will also contain the store's office. New type glass is being installed in front, and marbles will be fitted between the glass.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

There are various ways in which the tonsils may be removed. The most common method, that recommended by the vast majority of doctors, is known as surgical removal.

In small children an anesthetic is used. When the child is under anesthesia, the doctor, with a special device, frees one tonsil from the surrounding tissue and then takes it out inside its capsule in one piece. This procedure then is repeated with the other tonsil. If, as occasionally happens, some portion of the tonsil does not come away with the entire mass, it is removed separately. In some cases, repeated infections of the tonsils make them so fragile that removal in one piece is exceedingly difficult.

If small portions of the tonsils are left, they again may become infected and enlarged, so that another operation is necessary. For this reason we sometimes hear of persons who claim they have had their tonsils removed two or three times. This is, however, the exception, and not the rule.

Recently it has been suggested that the enlarged tonsils of grown-ups be removed by electric coagulation. In this procedure, a new apparatus, with electric current passing through a wire, is applied to the tonsil and either dries up by heat or burns up small portions of the tonsil. It is possible in this way to remove small pieces at each visit to the physician so that in time the entire tonsil is removed. The advantage is that a surgical operation may thus be avoided and, provided everything goes well, the patient may be able to work during the entire procedure.

This procedure is not, however, as accurate as the surgical method, and occasionally there develop secondary infections and tonsillar abscesses, resulting in much more loss of time than occurs in the ordinary tonsil operation. The method is not, therefore, recommended by most specialists in throat diseases, except for persons who cannot undergo a surgical operation because of heart disease or for some other reason.

The X-ray also has been used in some cases for destruction of tonsil tissue, but is not usually recommended, because it has not been developed to a sufficient degree of accuracy or efficiency.

Wins Contest Place
Word has been received here that Miss Betty Shepard, junior in the Kimberly high school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shepard, won second place in the American Legion essay contest in the state. Winners were judged by the University of Idaho and were selected from 1,600 entrants.

Miss Shepard's topic was "The Supreme Court and the Constitution."

LOPEZ, ALI BABA FEATURE LOCAL MAT CARD

Former University Of Idaho Athlete Meets "Hands" Olsen

Three of the biggest names in the wrestling industry will enter the ring in Twin Falls Saturday night as Promoter Ed Warner of the American Legion building committee presents an all-star program that would do credit to Madison Square Garden in New York.

Headlining the card will be Vincent Lopez, formerly acknowledged as champion in the western states and an ex-University of Idaho athlete, and Phil "Hands" Olsen, the gorilla-like Canadian from Calgary, Canada.

"Terrible Turk"

All Baba vs. Kunkel
The semi-windup will display All Baba, former world's champ from Turkey, who a year ago was crowned champion in the east, but who held the title only a few weeks. Along with Max Mountain Dean, All Baba is probably one of the most colorful men ever to appear in the squared circle. His opponent will be none other than the favorite of intermountain region fans, Mr. Del Kunkel himself.

Kunkel will step out of his class to take on All Baba for the "Terrible Turk" is a 215-pounder, while Del is the scales nicely at 190. Kunkel and the foreigner wrestled to a draw in Salt Lake City and put on such a battle that neither was able to continue after 55 minutes.

Thompson-Cazzell
Preliminary will find Wally Thompson, who handled Olsen with ease on the card three weeks ago, but who couldn't make a dent in the muscles of Dean Detton on the last card, facing Indian the Cazzell, the Mexican fire-eater in the preliminary. Cazzell battled Kunkel on the last card and came out on the short end, but only after what many fans considered the best scrap of the season.

Ringside seats for the all-star performance will sell for $1.65, according to Mr. Warner, and he urges that tickets be bought early, as he has many standing orders and reminds fans that at the last card many people were turned away. General admission is $1.10, women's tickets sell for 50 cents and children's are 25 cents.

Tickets are on sale at Dell's, the Brunswick and the Sport Shop.

SPORT SQUIBS (by H.J.W.)

Not content with having shown the world's heavyweight champion in a match here, Promoter Ed Warner and his American Legion building committee have gone out of their way to bring two former world's titleholders to the local Legion hall for Saturday night's big feature event.

In Vincent Lopez, the former University of Idaho grappler, the local promoter has lined up the man generally considered to be the best wrestler in the game today, despite the fact that he doesn't hold the title at the present writing. But as for a match with Phil "Hands" Olsen—it will be just more of a show, such as the Dean Detton-Wally Thompson one of two weeks ago.

The other former title-holder is an eastern addition to the western schedule—All Baba, the famed Turk, who was tops on the New York circuit for a few months last year. While he probably hasn't near the fitness that Detton or Lopez has, he has something else that took him to the top—color.

Sporting a pair of handle-bar mustaches, a shiny bald head and a ferocious face, the wild Turk is apt to give Del Kunkel, the 190-pound Salt Lake City wrestler all he can handle—which would be the first time on the local card that Del has had any trouble with his opponent. We look to see Kunkel come out on the short end of this deal.

And then the natural bout, of course would be to pit All Baba against Lopez.

In the signing of such nationally known artists as Lopez, Detton and All Baba to appear on the local card, Promoter Warner has given southern Idaho fans some of the best talent in the athletic world today and for his fine work is to be congratulated.

It is seldom that a world's champion appears in a city the size of Twin Falls. But during the present season Warner will have shown by Saturday night four men who hold or have held world's titles. Not a bad array of presentations, we'd say.

Felix Plastino, one-time Twin Falls high school coach and later athletic director at Southern Branch, has changed jobs again. Felix left the Branch to take a sales post, and now has been named as an engineer in the Idaho department of public works.

Short shots: Wally Hally, lightweight boxer who recently defeated Baby Arizandi, is a former Salvation Army trumpet player. Billy Misky, son of the late heavyweight, has taken up boxing in Chicago; he is a lightweight. Senator Lynn Frazier and Representative William Lemke of North Dakota played on the state university football team together. Tex Carleton, Chicago pitcher who won 14 games last year, scored six of the wins over the Boston Bees. The Pittsburgh Pirates traveled about 8,250 miles on the spring training trip.

New York Team Moves into American League Lead

ATHLETICS LOSE 34 Athletes Awarded Letters In Minor Sports at Idaho U

TO YANKS, 7 TO 1

Red Sox Win Over Senators, Bees Defeat Dodgers in Only Other Games

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—The Yankee artillery is finding the range. Opposing American league pitchers are starting to dodge and duck. For the Yankees have cracked out 41 hits in four games, and are setting the pace in the American League.

Connie Mack's Athletics came to town yesterday leading the league. The Yanks laid down a 13-hit barrage on Harry Kelly, one of last year's prize rookies, and Lee Rice, who beat them three times last year for a 7-1 triumph. The Yanks made a triple play in the eighth when Tony Lazzeri intentionally dropped Chubby Dean's line drive. The play went Lazzeri to Crossett to Gehrig to Rolfe.

Johnny Bronca, the bespectacled ex-Yale boy, held the A's to six hits and became the first Yankee pitcher to go the route. The Yanks' first three starters, Gomez, Pearson and Hadley, all had to have relief.

The Yanks lost another regular when Cateher Bill Dickey, after making two hits, pulled a charley horse in his left leg. Joe DiMaggio, who had his tonsils and adenoids clipped 11 days ago, may be able to play by May 5. Pitcher Red Ruffing is still a holdout. The Yank have withdrawn their offer of a $15,000 contract to him.

Costly Victory
The Boston Red Sox scored a costly 12-5 victory over the Washington Senators. Bobby Doerr, brilliant second-base rookie, was hit in the head by one of Ed Lank's pitches and will be out of action a while. The Red Sox collected 14 hits off DeShong and Lank.

The Boston Bees, who scored only four runs in their first five games, hammered out a 9-5 victory over Brooklyn. The Bees pounded Luke Hamlin to cover in the first, and continued their attack on Birkoff and Jeffcoat for a total of 13 hits. Lou Fette, St. Paul rookie, was credited with the victory, but had to be aided by 39-year-old Bob Smith, who relieved him in the seventh and protected his lead to the finish.

TWO TEAMS WIN HIT-PIN TUSSELES
A game of hit-pin was played yesterday in each division of the home room tournament of the junior high school under the direction of Miss Margaret Ebert.

In the white division room 116 a took a tight game from room 110, finally winning by 17 to 14. Red team 05 won a decisive victory over 115 by a score of 33 to 26.

Girls on teams in the white division were: Ross Sundberg, Idaho Falls.

Thirty-four varsity minor sports awards were voted to athletes of the University of Idaho by the executive board of the associated students of the university. At the same time nine freshman boxing awards and three women's awards were approved.

The awards for the men's varsity sports consist of a red sweater with a red 'I' superimposed on a white circle on the left side. Freshman awards for minor sports are the same style coat sweater with the numerals of the graduating year over the left side pocket. The women's award is a white sweater with a gold block 'I' shadowed with silver.

The following awards were made: Women's athletics—Marjorie Glenn Hatley, Betty Obermeyer, Moscow, and Frances Wakefield, Moscow.

Boxing—Ralph Miller, Moscow; Aaron Brewitt, Caldwell; Richard Lambert, Lendore; Luke Purcell, Rexburg; Kenneth Doy, Kamiah; Holly Shumway, Redmond; Orr Paul George, Blackfoot; Joe Palovina, 110—Vera Molyneux, Charlotte Miller, Melba Middleton, Ruby Morse, Ruby Matson, Claudine Merritt, Louisa Mathews, 116—Afton Hewlett, Mary Jane Dewey, Maxine Herp, Roberta Hecker, Beth Henderson, Betty Jane Hinder, Alice Haral, Marjorie Hines, Ula Harman, and Gwendolyn Helvicht.

JACK DOYLE TO FIGHT LEVINSKY

Two Heavyweights to Meet in London Ring in Feature Slugging Match

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—Kingfish Levinsky, Chicago's erstwhile fish peddler, and Jack Doyle, horizontal heavyweight from Ireland, meet tonight in a 12-round traveisty on the main art of self-defense.

Fans are guaranteed not to be bored by boxing ability or ruse, craft when these two club into the ring about 9 p. m. (7 p. m. MST). The cauliflower-eared American, according to himself, is out to restore the good name of American boxing after Max Baer's loss to Tommy Farr.

The Kingfish is a 2-1 betting favorite. Wembley stadium authorities announced that tickets for a capacity crowd of 14,900 had been sold. From the receipts Levinsky and Doyle will share about $25,000, with the Kingfish getting about $11,000 and Doyle $14,000.

LETTERS AWARDED EDEN ATHLETES

Event Features Presentation Ceremonies at High School Banquet

EDEN, April 27 (Special)—Letters that were earned by the Eden high school students in the athletic division during the past year were presented Friday evening at the close of a banquet given in honor of the boys and girls who took part in some form of athletics. The mothers of the students prepared the banquet, while members of the high school board of trustees served as waiters.

Jay LaJunesse served as toastmaster and the program included the following numbers: Address of welcome, boys' response, Herman Huetting, girls' response, Connie Harding, "Tip Off," Robert Smith, Down the floor, Jerry Bodenhamer, accordion solo, Irene Bremer, "Prinzessin," Maurice Reid, "Betragression," Margaret Montgomery, song, mixed quartet club, "Time Out," Charles Webb, "The Goal," Delmar Stephens.

Report of Gate Receipts
Report of season's gate receipts and expenses, A. E. Gish, trombone solo, Vaughn Murphy, "The Whistle," Dorothy McClain, "The Score" and awarding letters, Earl Eggers, trumpet solo, Jack Butler.

Letters were issued to the following for four-year award: Jerry Bodenhamer and Dick Rolfe; three-year, Delmar Stephens, two-year, Herman Huetting, Charles Bremer, Maurice Reid, Floyd Mitchell, Robert Smith, one-year, Don McDonald, Jay LaJunesse, Albert Barnhill, Jack Butler, Arthur Martin, Charles Webb, Keith Lance, Floyd Phillips, Richard Westendorf, Glenn Kump and James Woodward.

Two-year letters to girls were: Bertha Lattimer, Irene Bremer, Ruth Schneider, Birdie Johnson, Connie Harding, Marjorie Bales, one-year, Ruth Swanson, Dorothy McClain, Anita Phillips. Managers letters were presented to Margaret Montgomery and William Harding.

One Year Ago Today—Pedro Montanez, Puerto Rican lightweight, outpointed Aldo Spoldi of Italy in 10 rounds at New York City.

Britisher Thinks Their Ryder Cup Team Will Defeat U. S. This Year

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Putting the sports shot here and there, My British operative—the same one, incidentally, who cabled me that Max Baer was a "fairly tick off" now writes that his country's Ryder cup team will "fairly tick off" the American side when they meet in Southport in June.

He bases his optimism on the fact that the English, for the first time will have the services of big Henry Cotton and Percy Watson. Cotton was ineligible in 1935 because of his connection with a Belgian club, and Alvis in 1933 because of a job in France.

Sparkling Wit
Speaking of Parr, as I did a few lines back, a clipping from the Daily Mail arrived today, and shows the Welshman as a sparkling wit. The clipping is an interview with Tommy just before his battle with Baer, quotes him thusly: "Max may have some ring tricks, but I am a desperate ton. If he starts a punch at my eye I shall shut it tight and fool him into thinking that it ain't there."

Maureen Orcutt, the gal golf star, has turned literary, and is working on a golfing magazine. And says it's much easier to write about sinking a 12-foot putt than to do it. The latest feature added to the Pan-American exposition in Dallas this summer is a roller skate marathons. The skaters will start in Chicago and travel via St. Louis, Springfield, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, and Fort Worth, will arrive in Dallas sometime before Christmas. First prize will be $5,000.

Study In Pictures
When Max Schmeling goes into training for Jimmy Braddock he will spend an hour each day studying the pictures of Braddock's victory over Max Baer. The German believes the study of Joe Louis films enabled him to destroy the Dark Angel when they met.

When Schmeling's manager, Joe Jacobs, just won't admit that Louis and the champion aren't jesting when they talk of that Chicago fight.

At Schacht, baseball comedian, has seven years of work booked. And figures to make $35,000 with his crowning this summer. They're going to have a riot at the Jamaica race track unless the Australian barrier is abandoned. Favorites are being left at the post, and the improvers of the breed are seragaming.

Greasy Neale, Yale backfield coach, rates the 1937 Blue captain, Clint Frank, as the finest back ever produced in this country. And America's cup yacht draws 15 feet of water, in case your planning to buy one. And why not? They only cost five or six hundred thousand dollars.

Out for Record
Gaby Hartnett of the Cubs is still to set a new record for catchers. He holds the National league mark with 1,588 games caught. The All-time record of 1,755 was set by Ray Schalk of the White Sox. Gaby needs 167 more to tie.

Sammy Goldman, manager of Tony Cuzzoneri, objects to those who claim the ex-champion should retire. "One would think Tony was a decrepit old fossil," says Sammy. "If I thought Tony was near through, I'd be the first to suggest that he hang up his gloves." Tony, incidentally, is going to put his share of the gate against Lou Ambers next month into a trust fund for his daughter.

Maureen Orcutt, the gal golf star, has turned literary, and is working on a golfing magazine. And says it's much easier to write about sinking a 12-foot putt than to do it. # BALL SELLS CONTROL OF HUGE VAN SWERINGEN ESTATE

3 EASTERN MEN PURCHASE STOCK IN RAIL EMPIRE

28,000 Miles of Trackage, Coal Companies Are Included in Deal

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Control of the vast Van Sweringen railway and real estate empire, once valued at $3,000,000,000, passed today into the hands of two members of a New York stock exchange firm and a director of a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., bank.

George A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., glass manufacturer, who bought control of the properties at a creditors' sale in 1935 for a little more than $3,000,000, announced that he had sold out to Robert P. Young and Frank P. Kolbe, partners, and Allan P. Kirby of Wilkes-Barre, son of a founder of the P. W. Woolworth company.

Ball acquired control of the empire as the result of a $40,000,000 loan default by the late O. P. and M. J. Sweringen, Cleveland promoters. The bankers' group headed by J. P. Morgan and company, which sold the control in default of the obligation, took the loss.

Young, Kolbe and Kirby acquired control of 28,000 miles of railroad, but all disclaimed knowledge of railroad operation.

They made it clear that they hoped changes in the stock market would bring to their investment a measure of the value it held in the days before the 1929 market crash.

"Substantial" Cash

Value of the securities sold by Ball was estimated on the basis of current market quotations at from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. A "substantial" amount of cash was said to have been involved and the remainder of the purchase price was understood to have been covered by notes and other considerations.

The Van Sweringen empire consists of about $2,000,000,000 of railroads and about $1,000,000,000 of real estate, coal companies, barge lines and other enterprises, including the United States Trucking corporation, largest firm of its kind in the Greater New York area.

Ball said the properties transferred to Young, Kolbe and Kirby included those units, but not the Cleveland railway and the Higbee department store at Cleveland. He recently sold his Cleveland highway holdings. The Cleveland railroad terminal also was included in the sale.

Trustees Named by Country Schools

BUHL, April 27 (Special)—Earl Lowry was re-elected school trustee, W. S. Burdick and Ed Blitterl, board members at the school election held recently at the West Point school.

Jack Hale was elected trustee and Mrs. Joe Elson and D. H. Tarleton board members at the election held at the Sand Springs school.

Mrs. Herman Brand was re-elected trustee, and George Schick and Roy Smalley board members for the Clear Lakes school.

At the Willowdale school meeting, Horchal Harger was elected for a three-year term and George Hudson was elected for two-year term. Frank Chandler is the other member of the board.

Rupert Erects New Plans for Storage

RUPERT, April 27 (Special)—A new enterprise for Rupert is the storage plant which is now being constructed in the People's Market and which will be ready for use the first of May.

E. O. Rosecrans and L. F. Dickson, owners, feel that the plant will meet a real need in this vicinity, and will provide a service heretofore unobtainable.

The new storage plant has a floor space of 30x15 feet. Part of the room will contain 200 small freezer boxes and the remainder will be used for egg, vegetable, and fruit storage. This is in addition to regular ice and storage space the plant has always had.

Local School Needs As Seen by Expert

Here Are the Things Dr. Thomas R. Cole Believes Twin Falls Should Do

(Editor's note: Following is the first of a series of articles giving the verbatim report on survey of Twin Falls school buildings and a proposed program submitted to the school board by Dr. Thomas R. Cole, professor of school administration at the University of Washington and school consultant for the state of Washington.)

By DR. THOMAS R. COLE
To the board of education, Twin Falls, Idaho.

THE SURVEY PROBLEM

In making a school survey leading to a prospective building program, several factors must be considered, among them being:

- (a) The financial status of the district at present;
- (b) The current cost of education each year and the means employed to meet those yearly expenditures;
- (c) Growth of city and prospective rate of increase in population;
- (d) Conditions of present buildings. Are they adapted to modern educational needs? Are they well located? Can they be remodelled and added to, or should they be eliminated?

Balanced Expenditures

(e) The keeping of a balanced expenditure for the different items in a school budget, such as administration, instruction, operation and maintenance.

(f) What type of school organization is to be followed—8-4, 6-3-3, 6-6? Are the elementary schools to be departmentalized in the upper grades? If so, what building accommodations are necessary?

(g) The relative needs of elementary schools as contrasted with the junior-senior high school. With the problems cited above in mind, I spent three days making a careful study of the entire school system before permitting myself to form any definite opinions as to what should be done with each individual unit.

NUMBER OF SCHOOLS

In making that survey and studying the map location of pupils furnished me by your superintendent, I was very favorably impressed with the number of schools you now have. Three elementary schools serve your territory very adequately. A greater number would have added materially to the expense of operation. The classification of pupils as to grades in small schools is not satisfactory, which in turn affects the efficiency of instruction.

A junior-senior high school combination was the proper arrangement to make under your present building conditions. It was unfortunate, however, that it was necessary to house the sixth grade pupils in the high school building, as the work they carry is a vital part of their elementary education and can be handled better in the lower division schools.

General Statement of Conditions

There is a need of additional building facilities in each of the elementary schools. Each of the present buildings presents a different problem, which must be considered, however, not by itself alone, but in relation to the entire organization plan of the school system and the total cost involved.

The junior-senior high school building was erected some years ago, and while adapted at that time to the subjects offered, it is now badly in need of room adjustments and equipment to meet the needs of a generally accepted modern program of secondary education. The cost of these changes will be considerable, and I consider it very important for the welfare of your pupils that they be made just as soon as possible.

Naturally when we think of extending the facilities of the elementary schools, the first problem that arises is what is the type of school work that is to be followed. If we think of book instruction alone as the main contribution that the pupil is to receive in school, a very simple type of building will suffice. If, however, we are willing to accept the objectives of education as commonly adopted in all good systems, we must erect a building that will provide for them. These objectives simply stated are as follows:

1. A well rounded health program with an opportunity for good physical development.
2. Knowledge of fundamental subjects.
3. Citizenship training—opportunity for intelligent participation in school activities, cooperation with others, character qualities.
4. Vocational aptitude.

It is my feeling that no good school system would care to omit the opportunity of giving proper attention to all of the qualities mentioned above, and I am making the building recommendations accordingly.

Washington School

I am presenting the Washington school first because its needs are the least. The one-story type of building, however, is better adapted to schools of smaller enrollment and from an administration standpoint I feel that this school should not be increased in capacity to a very large degree.

There are 12 classrooms in use at present. Two of the rooms are being used to house pupils living in the Lincoln district, who should be returned to their home school. In turn Washington would receive two rooms of sixth grade pupils from the junior high school, making the classroom situation the same. The enrollment in this district is likely to increase quite rapidly in the near future, owing to the prospective erection of homes in that locality. Some of the rooms at present are carrying too many pupils.

Urges Addition

I recommend that an addition be erected on the rear that would include four classrooms, one of them being for physical training. The present assembly room should have equipment installed for serving lunches so that it may be used for both purposes. The rooms suggested will increase the normal capacity of the Washington school from 480 pupils to 640. Rather than make further additions later to a one-story school, I would suggest that pupils coming to the Washington school by bus be transferred to other centers.

The Washington school is quite in keeping with all of the elementary schools in that it needs a new lighting system based on the generally accepted requirements. The system of heating and ventilating is not satisfactory in that it is too noisy and is very disturbing to teachers and pupils. All of the schools need to give attention to proper window shades, calculating proper placement of desks, and the general condition of the classroom equipment.

Junior High Notes

Junior high school students in their regular assembly period this morning were entertained by members of the faculty with a musical program.

The program, which was arranged under the direction of Miss Eunice Fager, consisted of double piano numbers by Miss Ewer and Harley B. Smith; arrangements of the "Blue Danube" were featured. Miss Ruth Johnson presented a group of songs, Miss Ewer a musical reading, and Miss Marjorie Wistrer sang a group of selections. Loyd E. Thompson, music supervisor for Twin Falls schools, also presented a group of songs, and Mr. Smith concluded the program with piano solos.

During the remainder of the program, the honor roll for the past period was read and the banners awarded. Honors in attendance resulted in the banner for that division being awarded to 113 under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Evans; banners in punctuality, citizenship and scholarship were all won by

FAMOUS PEOPLE ATTEND DINNER

Mrs. Wallis Simpson, Leon Blum, the duke of Windsor, Hitler, II Duce and the other figures who are making world history today were represented last evening at the clever dinner and costume party which marked the end of the winter's meetings of the International Relations study group of American Association of University Women. The event was held at the home of Mrs. E. M. Sweeley on Blue Lakes boulevard.

Dinner for 22 was served at small tables trimmed with narcissus and jonquils. Part of the evening was spent at bridge with prizes going to Mrs. L. L. Breckenridge and Miss Edith Dygert and in a contest for which each member was asked to draw a free-hand map of one country on which a report had been made during the winter. Miss Bernice Babcock, Miss Jean Sweeley and Miss Jessie Fraser tied for first place. One of the award was won by Miss Fraser.

Serving on the committee on amusement were Mrs. R. L. Piemeisel, Mrs. Harry Ball, and Mrs. J. S. Duffendarger.

MISS DUVAL HONORED AT PARTY

Miss Harriet Duval, who is to be married at the end of this week, was complimented last evening at an informal card party given by Mrs. Leslie G. Cowan and Miss Margaret Kennedy at the Kennedy home on Poplar avenue. The group spent the evening at pinocle and bridge and at a late hour refreshments were served at small tables trimmed with spring flowers. Miss Duval received a gift from the group.

Guests were Mrs. R. R. Spafford, Mrs. Erwin Schreiber, Mrs. Harry Hamilton, Mrs. Steve Yeomans, Miss Mildred Gill, Miss Betty Leonard, Miss Odette Critchfield, Miss Beth MacEachern and Miss Duval. Over the week-end Miss Duval was honored at a dinner party arranged by Miss Helen Wilson at her home. Decorations were in pink and white and the tables were centered with spring flowers. Sixteen guests were present. At contract the prizes for high score was won by Mrs. Ralph Bacon and Miss Duval received a guest favor.

ACTIVITIES PLANNED BY JUNIOR AUXILIARY

The April meeting of the Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion was held yesterday afternoon at Legion Memorial hall with Phoebe Jane Frantz, president, in charge of the business session. Plans for the sale of popples for Memorial day were discussed and the group decided to devote the next session to making tray cloths for the Veterans hospital, Boise.

Joan Benoit presented the program which included readings by Virginia Campbell and Phoebe Jane Frantz. Madge Hayward served refreshments.

The program for the next meeting is to be arranged by Virginia Campbell and Patty McCargar and Nelda Mary Lawson will serve on the refreshment committee.

DINNER MARKS BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

The nineteenth birthday of her son Bernard, was marked last evening by Mrs. Jessie Gordon with a dinner party. Guests included Miss Ardis Winters, Miss Alma Evisdizer, Wayne Hanson and Byrard Gordon. Gooding college students, Mrs. V. B. Blakeley, Miss Margaret Stakeley and Miss Frances Weidburg, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Lillian Dentles, Boise.

GUESTS ENTERTAINED BY MAGICIANS

Members of the Magic-Y club and a number of guests of the group attended a no-hostess dinner last evening at the home of Miss Lucille Long. Three tables were trimmed with bowls of daffodils.

After dinner the evening was spent socially.

Water Contaminated In State House Well

BOISE, Idaho, April 27 (UP)—Wells and pumps which have served the state capitol building with drinking water will soon have ended their usefulness, according to a decision by Ira Taylor, director of public works. Advised by W. V. Leonard, state sanitary engineer, that the water was contaminated, he immediately took steps to have city water turned into the pipes.

The circumference of the largest standing tree in the United States is 39 feet.

EVERY WOMAN FACES THIS QUESTION

How do I look to other people? So many women risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, poor complexions.

Yet common constipation can be cured so easily. Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or fruits every day, three times daily in severe cases. This delicious ready-to-eat cereal supplies the "bulk" needed to exercise the system—and vitamin B to help tone up the intestinal tract.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water, gently sponging out the intestines. It never causes the artificial action of pills and drugs, that often prove ineffective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you see, is a food—not a medicine. It relieves common constipation the way Nature intended—so its results are safe. Buy it at your grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Mountain View club will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Dingman. Friends of the hostess are asked to attend and bring flowers and bulbs for exchange.

Seniors Go On Annual "Sneak"

One hundred and 40 seniors, with their advisors and the principal of the high school to act as chaperones, left early this morning for Banbury's natorium where they were enjoying the annual senior "sneak" and fun day today. Teachers accompanying the seniors on their trip were Miss Josephine Throckmorton, Miss Jane Maxwell and Principal H. D. Hechtner.

The exodus from town began shortly after 9 a. m. with Richard Harbert, senior class president, in general charge of arrangements and Ed Sparks attending to the transportation and seeing that all who wished to go were accommodated.

Swimming, boating on the Snake river, and various athletic games were planned for entertainment.

Arrangements for feeding the hungry 140 were planned by Altha Wells with the class funds providing free ice cream for all.

The "sneak" day this year was really a "sneak," since most students were unaware that the annual event was at hand and even many seniors still thought Thursday, originally selected, was the day for the "walkout."

Gooding Red Cross Class Takes Tests

GOODING, April 27 (Special)—Final tests to determine qualifiers for Red Cross certificates in first aid were given here last week to a class of 15 by Louis J. Matthews of Boise. Mr. Matthews held classes in first aid in Gooding for four weeks previous in connection with the federal government's adult education set-up.

Three of those taking the final test were from Shoshone, and the others from Gooding, were: Mrs. Emma Bailey, Mrs. Glenn Barker, Misses Irene Olmstead, Burdie Lowry and Georgia Lowry and LeRoy Walton, Joe Stokes, Merle French, John Homer, Raymond Mall, Emery Smith and Harry Stockdale.

Blue Card Revived

By Gooding Group
GOODING, April 27 (Special)—At its regular April meeting the Gooding Chamber of Commerce decided to revive the blue card system of passing on solicitors. This system was used in Gooding several years ago. The Chamber also discussed a uniform closing hour for business houses on Saturday night.

Object of the blue card system is to protect Gooding people from rackets and any unworthy schemes. Decision as to when the stores should close on Saturday night was left to the mercantile bureau of the chamber. The bureau will sound out merchants on the matter and adopt an hour agreeable to a sufficiently large number.

PRACTICAL DAILY RELIGION URGED

Speaker on Christian Science Gives Address to 450 Listeners Here

Describing Christian Science as a "practical daily religion," John Henry Weer, of Brookline, Mass., addressed nearly 450 persons last Friday night at the high school auditorium. He was introduced by Mrs. F. W. Mackey. Many listeners attended from outside Twin Falls.

The Christian Science reading room, at 114 Main avenue north in Twin Falls, provides "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, and all authorized Christian Science literature for reading, borrowing or purchase.

Mr. Weer, in part, said in his lecture:

Divine Principle

Christian Science reinstates and demonstrates the same divine Principle preached and practiced by Christ Jesus nineteen hundred years ago. Through this new-old religion ago, Truth is practically applied to everyday human needs.

Christian Science provides a comprehensive explication of the remedy for all human ills, in what is known as the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," written by Mary Baker Eddy.

In Paul's Epistle to the Romans we read, "Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." That passage briefly describes the operation of Christian Science on the human mind, regeneration by a wholly mental process independent of human will-power. As expressed in Science and Health (p. 162), "The effect of this Science is to stir the human mind to a change of base, on which it may yield to the harmony of the divine Mind."

Already Operating

Any earnest seeker for Truth can find that he does not have to make the laws of divine Mind operate, that they are already operating. The presence of God, Mind, everywhere, insures the instantaneous, complete, and spontaneous operation of His divine law of harmony. It means much to learn that we are not the objects of chance but subject to the unerring direction of divine Mind.

Christian Science teaches that God, infinite Mind, divine Principle, governs the universe, including man, in perfect and perpetual harmony. It demonstrates that a comprehensive knowledge of this fact is both useful and adequate for overcoming evil. It proclaims that harmony is attained by mankind in proportion as the human mind is transformed by spiritual understanding.

As there unfolds in consciousness an understanding that divine Life, Truth, and Love are supreme—that sin, sickness, and death are unreal because they are not sanctioned by

Marian Martin Pattern

God-men gain salvation; that is, they are saved from the effects of their own erroneous beliefs.

We all need salvation. Consciously or unconsciously, all are seeking salvation from circumstances and conditions that are afflictive, discordant, undesirable, or, at least, unsatisfactory. Jesus pointed the way by his example: "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Thousands are learning that his appeal was not empty, as they apply it to their own affairs by the light

BUTTON-FRONT FROCK

PATTERN 9242

A frock that stars for informal wear and typifies the spirit of spring itself, is this trim button-front style that can be slipped on in a jiffy and buttoned up in a flash. Frocked in Pattern 9242, brides will become efficient home-makers, housewives will look as pretty as any bride—and everyday chores, or gardening will be a pleasure. Just right for a set of tennis, too, is this tailored frock, as witness its brief, comfy sleeves, overlapping skirt, and low V-neckline. Inexperienced seamstresses will find this one of the easiest Marian Martin's simple patterns to cut, fit and stitch up. Ideal in percale, cotton broadcloth, pique, seer-sucker, chambray or colorful linen. Completed diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9242 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Price 15c.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

BURLEY QUARTET READY TO LEAVE

Declamatory Group to Go to National Contest at Jacksonville

BURLEY, April 27 (Special)—Four Burley high school students, Jack Roper, Melba Parker, Virginia Aylor and Max Warr, will leave on Wednesday for Jacksonville, Ill., accompanied by their speech instructor, Alvin Kempton, to participate in the national speech tournament of the National Forensic league. The right to enter the U. S. contest was won by the Burley students when they placed first at the state contest of the Forensic league held at Caldwell.

Roper will enter the extemporaneous division; Melba Parker, dramatics and oratory; Virginia Aylor, humorous; and Max Warr, original oratory.

Club Raises Funds

Money for the trip is being raised by the Thespian club at the high school, and no solicitations for donations have been made. A substantial sum was raised at a dance held during the music festival and at a program given between shows at the Burley theater Friday evening.

A one-act play, "The Valiant," will be presented this evening by an adult cast, the proceeds to go toward financing the trip. Members of the cast include Alvin Kempton, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Berg, George Hjort and Harry Wade. It will be held at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m.

Starts May 3
The tournament at Jacksonville starts May 3 with registration of entrants. Each entrant will then compete in three rounds, with different groups of students and before different sets of judges, before any eliminations take place. Those rating fourth or lower twice out of the three rounds will be eliminated, and the eliminations and rounds will then continue until only seven participants in each section are left to enter the finals.

Besides the actual entertainment of the various entries in the contest, there will be two banquets held during the three-day meet. Shakespearean play will be presented by a cast from the Illinois college, and an inter-collegiate baseball game will be witnessed by the visiting students.

The Burley group plans to do what sight-seeing it finds will permit. They plan to return home about May 10.

Gas, Gas All the Time, Can't Eat or Sleep

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adierika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."
—Mrs. Jas. Filler.

Adierika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierika gives your system a thorough cleaning, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. H. L. Shedd, New York, reports "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli." Give your bowels a REAL cleaning with Adierika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and constipation.

FAMOUS CROOK IS SHOT IN CHICAGO

Albert Montlake, Nationaly Known Thief, Killed By Unknown

CHICAGO, April 27 (U.P.)—Albert S. Montlake, 47, a nationally known thief and confidence man, was shot and killed yesterday as he stepped from his fashionable South Shore Towers apartments into his automobile. He was carrying an estimated $50,000 worth of jewelry and uncut diamonds.

Police picked up Meyer Gordon, 45, Chicago diamond broker who was named with Montlake last week in a New York indictment charging conspiracy to dispose of some of John Dillinger's bank robbery loot. They questioned him about the indictment and his friendship with Montlake before locking him in a cell overnight.

There was a "dozen" reasons why Montlake, known as a "daring fencer" who disposed of loot of major robberies, should have been done away with, Detective Sergeant Michael McFadden said. He speculated Montlake may have attempted to "squeal" on some of his customers, or to withhold proceeds from sale of their loot.

Plan, Sought 'Pressure,' Pope Says

DECLARES PARK STEP WAS SPUR TO FOREST MEN

Senator Explains Motives He Asserts Were Behind Move For Investigation

Application of "considerable pressure" to induce the forest service to greater road building and conservation activities in the Sawtooth area was the aim behind the resolution to investigate feasibility of a Sawtooth national park, Sen. James P. Pope informed the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce today. The chamber, enlisting aid of other south central organizations, had conducted an energetic campaign against the resolution.

"I have agreed to withdraw my resolution," Senator Pope told the chamber, confirming his initial direct announcement carried by the Evening Times last week. The withdrawal, he said, will be made because the forest service has agreed to speed up highway work through Stanley basin and to "lighten up administrative control of the Sawtooth national forest."

$200,000 Fund Looms
Approximately $200,000 will be spent in road building and in developing recreational and conservation facilities, the senator had previously informed the Evening Times.

Revelation of the names of persons who had advocated the park survey cannot be made, Senator Pope said, "for obvious reasons."

His statement concerning the situation which aroused a furor in southern Idaho:
"At the time of the meeting at Halley last fall, I reached the conclusion that the actual creation of a park was inadvisable, because of conflicting economic interests, but at the same time I was convinced that roads should be constructed in central Idaho and that the area should be placed under an administration by some agency of the federal government calculated more closely to protect the resources of central Idaho and develop the recreational values of the area."

Cites Conflict
"As you know, there has been somewhat of a conflict between the park service and the forest service for several years. They are inclined to compete for jurisdiction of the public domain. The forest service now has jurisdiction of the Sawtooth area, but very little in the way of road building or conservation has been accomplished by that agency."

"It became my general purpose to, in some way, encourage the forest service to greater activity and in view of the numerous demands made on the forest service it appeared that considerable pressure would be necessary to accomplish that result. With that in mind, I introduced the resolution with which you are familiar to investigate the economic and geographical feasibility of a park."

"The resolution would serve two purposes: first, merely by its introduction the forest service became somewhat concerned over the manner in which the central Idaho area is being handled. Second, if the resolution were passed, it would not necessarily result in the creation of a park but would serve vividly to illustrate the needs of central Idaho."

Senators Agree
"In the last several weeks I have conferred with forest service officials extensively and they have agreed to speed up the construction of the highway through Stanley basin and construct several other forest improvement highways throughout the Sawtooth area."

"In addition, they have agreed to lighten up the administrative control of the Sawtooth national forest and to protect from overgrazing the areas in the watershed and points of peculiar scenic value such as lakes."

"In return, I have agreed to withdraw my resolution to investigate the feasibility of a park."

"I do not know whether the entire issue has been understood, but I believe its conclusion will be best for the interests of Idaho. The regional forester will be in Washington about the first of May and we will work out detailed plans for forest service activity in central Idaho at that time. I expect to withdraw the resolution in the next few days."

SPRINGDALE

Word has been received from Maywood, Calif., stating that Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Tolman are parents of a son.

Wendal Litson, Springdale, senior in the Burley high school, has received award in an essay contest sponsored by the Burley American Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Manning and family, Frank Manning, Horace, Clyde and Roland Manning, Mrs. Freda McEvers, Mrs. Florence Merrill, Mrs. Inez Searle, Donna Ross and Virginia Manning and Mr. and Mrs. Rulon Bondley were all called to Salt Lake City by the illness and death of William L. Manning.

The American Red Cross operates under a special congressional charter granted Jan. 8, 1905.

Arrives Tonight

Dr. Alan L. Hart, Seattle X-ray and tuberculosis specialist, will arrive here tonight and will remain until May 1 examining X-rays of school pupils given tuberculosis tests. He will make his headquarters at the county health unit.

President Leaves For Fishing Trip

WASHINGTON, April 27 (UP)—President Roosevelt leaves tonight for a week of tarpon fishing—his favorite sport—in the Gulf of Mexico. He leaves congress at work on principal phases of his legislative program.

Mr. Roosevelt, traveling in a special train, will head south shortly after midnight. The trip will carry him 3,350 miles into Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas before he returns to the White House May 14.

Mr. Roosevelt will keep in close touch with congressional action. Naval, radio and special airmail planes will give him up-to-the-minute reports from administration leaders all the time he is on the water.

LIBEL CASE HITS CORONATION BOOK

Duke's Attorneys Announce Writ Despite Withdrawal Of 'Commentary'

LONDON, April 27 (UP)—The duke of Windsor's attorneys served a writ today on the Heffernan Publishing House and Geoffrey Dennis, author, claiming damages in the book "Coronation Commentary."

The writ charged libel and asked an injunction against its circulation.

The book commented on the duke of Windsor's activities as king last year and said that he spent most of his time on the throne "muddling, fuddling and meddling."

It was understood that the writ was served either because the publishers did not make an apology or had made one that was not satisfactory to the duke although the book was withdrawn.

The filing of the writ followed warning from the duke's solicitors that unless the book were withdrawn and an apology offered—to be received in the first mail Monday—a libel suit would be placed against the publishing firm and the author.

The publishers, when warned of the impending suit, had remarked: "We have nothing to say except that the book is now out of print."

NEW YORK, April 27 (UP)—"Coronation Commentary," currently the most controversial book in England, was released to the public today by the American publishers, Dodd, Mead & Co.

The publishers had ordered copies withheld Saturday, then it was decided to permit the book to go on sale.
