Shell Storm Over Madrid

The havoc and ruthlessness of war drives its terror and brutality home as citizens of Madrid flee the charge of high explosives which spreads death in Gran Via, Madrid's Broadway. Pitiful, panic-stricken figures flee from the menace of steel fragments through clouds of acrid smoke. Those in center were badly wounded by this shell exploding at the height of the most ferocious bombardment the rebels have yet inflicted on Spain's capital. The picture was made from an ambulance.

Traffic Back to Normal As Winter Blast Eases

DAMP WEATHER HELPS TO CROPS

County Agent Says Current Snowy and Wet Spell Benefits Grain

Current snowy and cool weather, far from damaging crops in this area, has been a "distinct benefit to grains," County Agent Harvey S. Hale said this afternoon. The cool wave, he said "stools" the wheat out and spreads it, thereby indicating a heavier yield than would be obtained through a dry spring. Present weather, the county agent said, will also help in assuring a better stand in alfalfa and clover seed yields. He agreed with the assertions of sheepmen that the wet spell "has materially helped range conditions" since ranges had been drying under the hot winds which prevailed for the past several weeks. "Prospects are good for late grass on the range," he pointed out. The return of winter snow and rain conditions was seen by the county agent and by ranchers today to have aided the grain crop in the Salmon tract, where it is also expected to save irrigation water usually scanty on the tract—by probably removing the necessity for irrigation before planting of beans.

Cost Heavy to South Idaho; State Highways Clear Again

Although snow continued to fall intermittently throughout this section today, the wind which yesterday whipped snow into blizzard proportions had subsided and traffic in the area was reported back to normal. The cost of the storm to this section is expected to reach into the thousands of dollars as telephone and electric lines snapped, poles toppled over in some cases, and many lambs are thought to have died, especially on the desert wastes.

But the storm also has its good side, L. L. Breckenridge, prominent sheep man of Twin Falls, said today. "Although it is probable that the storm caused the deaths of many lambs, especially those banded on the desert sections, it nevertheless will mean additional spring grass and the present loss will no doubt be offset by the gain," Breckenridge said.

R. W. Carpenter of the Idaho Power company said this afternoon that electric service was back to normal again and little further trouble was expected. Four crews were kept busy from 2:30 a. m. Wednesday until late afternoon repairing breaks in the lines caused as they snapped under weight of sleet which froze to them.

One crew last night and until 4:30 a. m. today was busy repairing various street light circuits in the city, out as an aftermath of the sleet storm.

Phone Breaks Fixed Telephone service in this area was also normal today after breaks in the lines at numerous points. In some cases poles were said to have been toppled over from the combined ice and wind.

All state highways were open again today, according to highway officials at Shoshone and plows were in readiness should the storm show any signs of increasing or should any blockades be reported. L. A. Thomas, superintendent of schools at Kimberly, and Ralph T. Nyblad, superintendent of the Hansen schools, reported that it was still snowing in that area but that all roads were opened after some were blocked yesterday. School was continuing without interruption. The snow was reported as melting. (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

"The music event will not be held until weather conditions are settled," Mrs. Stradley said that Chairman Howard Manning announced. Selection of the date will be up to Mr. Manning and his committee. The festival, however, cannot be held a week from Friday because of the annual county rural school track meet at Flagg fairgrounds. A week after that, May 14, final examinations are scheduled for seventh and eighth graders.

Opposition Sure Bill Will Be Defeated; Request Vote

By JOE ALEX MORRIS WASHINGTON, April 29 (UP)—Chairman Henry F. Ashurst of the senate judiciary committee predicted today that President Roosevelt's court program would be enacted despite the prospect of an adverse report by the committee. "There are 50 votes for the bill in the senate on the basis of a poll made by opponents of the measure," Ashurst said at the conclusion of an executive session of the committee at which discussion centered on the proposal of Sen. Ashurst opposed it on the grounds that it limits judicial power of the court.

COUNTY ASKS BOOST IN SOIL-DEPLETING CROPS QUOTA

INCREASE URGED IN BASE FIGURE ON FARM SETUP

State Committee Considering Plea to Adjust Figure Back to Normal

Request for increase in the county's quota of soil depleting acreage—payment base for the agricultural conservation program—was under consideration today by the state committee in charge of the 1937 farm program. The plea for the boost was presented yesterday at the state committee's meeting in Moscow, County Agent Harvey S. Hale announced. It was understood here that other south central counties are also seeking an advance in quota.

The request presented to the Idaho soil conservation chiefs, Mr. Hale said, asked that present work sheets be adjusted to normal as outlined by the A. A. A. for 1928-1932, inclusive. During that period the county had 75 per cent of the crop land in soil depleting crops.

Work sheets now, however, show only 62 per cent soil depleting. The difference, as explained to the state committee by Mr. Hale, arose because many Twin Falls county farms were seeded down during the low price period of the depression. In 1935, when the base figure was established, this area had a considerable amount of soil conservation acreage for that reason.

The county committee is urging that the county quota of soil depleting acreage be increased so that adjustments of the individual basis in the county can be made back to normal.

Action on the move is expected soon, Mr. Hale said today. The state committee was to have completed its session by today.

Checks forming payments on the 1936 soil conservation program are expected in Twin Falls by the last of next week. It was announced at the county agent's office this afternoon.

Vouchers for payments under the 1936 program for the Castleford, Buhl and Filer areas have been sent to the Portland disbursing office. Other applications have been dispatched to Moscow and vouchers for these are to go into Portland soon.

APPEAL TANGLES BALL PARK SALE

Gibbs Protests Court Order Selling Land to Later Bidder for $5,026

Appeal to the state supreme court today entangled sale of the old Twin Falls baseball park in renewed legal action.

The appeal was filed by L. C. Gibbs, bean dealer here whose bid of $4,000 was rejected by district court. The property was ordered sold last March 25 to the Cosgriff Outdoor Advertising company on a higher bid of $5,026.

Appellate action by Mr. Gibbs claims that the trustees of the Twin Falls Athletic association accepted his $4,000 bid and asked the district court decree for confirmation. He asserts the trustees had been attempting to dispose of the two blocks at that figure for two years, and accepted his bid after he bought nearby property from Dettweiler Bros., Inc.

At the court hearing, two bids of $4,100 went above the Gibbs offer and the $5,026 price was brought in by the Cosgriff firm when the hearing was adjourned for a week by Judge J. W. Porter.

Bothwell and Povey are attorneys for Mr. Gibbs in his appeal to the state supreme court.

RUSSIA PREPARES FOR THIRD OF FIVE-YEAR PLANS

LEADERS ORDER REDUCTIONS FOR CONSUMER GOODS

Newspapers Told to Start on Discussion of Problems In Their Columns

MOSCOW, April 29 (UP)—The government today announced preparations for a third gigantic "five year plan" of industrial expansion and ordered a national reduction of prices on consumer goods.

A communique of the official Tass news agency disclosed that, as the second five year plan was completed April 1 nine months ahead of schedule, the council of people's commissars (cabinet) decided on a third five year plan.

Proposals by July 1—The state planning commission, and councils of people's commissars of the 11 individual nations in the Soviet Union, were ordered to complete proposals for the third plan and present them for confirmation by the government by July 1.

It was ordered also that the newspapers should begin in their columns a discussion of five year plan problems.

Prices Cut—The order for price cuts decreed that beginning June 1 prices for cotton, wool and linen goods, footwear, perfume, furs, phonographs, sports goods, electric light bulbs, cigarettes and some other classes of goods should be reduced by from 5 to 16 per cent.

Beginning July 1 prices for knitwear, ready made clothing, linen haberdashery, furniture, musical instruments, school materials, toys and miscellaneous goods are to be cut by from 5 to 15 per cent.

WELFARE CLIENT GOES TO BRITAIN

Detroit Woman Packs For Trip to England and Coronation

DETROIT, April 29 (UP)—A welfare client all packed and ready to sail for England to attend the coronation of King George VI had relief authorities in a quandary today.

Mrs. Violet Crocker, whose neighbors said dressmakers had completed an extensive wardrobe for her, was cut off welfare rolls yesterday.

Charles L. Hincey, relief field worker, started an investigation.

The woman declined comment. Her husband said she received money for steamship passage from a sister in England.

"If they could save enough money from the $18.46 monthly welfare allowance for a trip to England, more power to 'em," G. R. Harris, general welfare superintendent, remarked.

Local School Needs As Seen by Expert

Here Are the Things Dr. Thomas R. Cole Believes Twin Falls Should Do

(Editor's note: Following is the third of a series of articles giving the verbatim report on survey of the Twin Falls school buildings and a proposed building program submitted to the school board by Dr. Thomas R. Cole, professor of school administration, University of Washington, and school consultant for the state of Washington.)

BY DR. THOMAS R. COLE
Physical Training Room
A word of explanation concerning the physical training room. It should be borne in mind that this is not an extra room, as it will be used daily under the departmental plan for organization for classroom purposes. The room should be about the size of two regular classrooms. There is to be no regular gymnasium equipment common to high school buildings.

Assembly-Lunch Room
The combined assembly-lunch room is economical, and we found it Seale no difficulty in using it for both purposes. I would suggest that your architect get the plans of the Bagley Elementary School in Seattle which has excellent physical training room and an assembly-lunch room. The capacity of the assembly-lunch room should be in the neighborhood of 400. All of the pupils do not need to go to the assembly at one time.

Administration Rooms
I have not mentioned administration rooms, book rooms, rooms for teachers, rooms for the nurse, as these must be considered in relation to the condition in the present building and how the plans work out from the architectural standpoint.

Cost of Operation of Larger Elementary School Units
Experience in school systems clearly shows that it costs less to operate the large school units as compared with the smaller schools. Better pupil classification, more efficient work due to departmentalization, are a part of the advantages of elementary schools with an enrollment of from 600 to 1,000 pupils. A thorough study of the Seattle elementary schools demonstrated the above statement.

JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL General Statement
There is no criticism of your school administration to say that the junior-senior high school needs to be re-adjusted to fit the curricula of the present day. In fact in Seattle we found it necessary within ten years after a new high school was constructed to make adjustments in the building accommodations. The changes in the industrial life of our people are soon reflected in the high schools which are constantly striving to give suitable education and vocational training to our boys and girls. The same objectives as those mentioned for the elementary schools are considered fundamental in any well organized high school.

The junior high school curricula 15 years ago had as its chief purpose the keeping of students in school by offering a large range of elective subjects. The conditions affecting employment, however, have changed so that students are staying in high school longer today than ever before, and as a result of their continuing in school we find it unwise and unnecessary to offer elective subjects in the seventh and eighth grades, and few should be offered in the ninth and tenth years. Fortunately, therefore, we are able to standardize the curricula for the junior high school 7th, 8th, and 9th years, which gives a well balanced basic education to all pupils.

Need Health Training
With this picture in mind, I have checked carefully the work that is being offered at present to the Twin Falls junior and senior high school pupils. There is a distinct lack of training in health education for all students, and the work in manual arts for boys is quite neglected. A survey showed that the greatest number of your boy high school graduates enter industrial fields of work, yet there is but one manual training shop (used doubly for approximately 1,000 boys). Other adjustments needed will be noted as the recommendations for them are given in detail.

Sixth Grade Pupils
The sixth year pupils, as stated before, properly belong in the elementary schools and should be transferred there as soon as accommodations are provided. There are approximately 300 of these pupils, and their removal will give the opportunity for the room changes that will be suggested.

Auditorium
Naturally, one of the first questions that arise is should we not include in a building program a high school auditorium seating 2,000 students to replace the present assembly room. My answer is this:

1. The present assembly room with a capacity of approximately 800 will accommodate either the junior or senior high school pupils after the sixth graders are eliminated.

2. Such a new unit would be added at a considerable cost and its need is secondary to the alterations that should be made now to improve instruction conditions.

Hub of Wrens' Universe

The hub-bub raised by a pair of wrens every time he approached his car led an Atlanta, Ga., salesman to the discovery that the little feathered home-makers had built the nest (seen above) in the hub of the spare wheel fastened on the running board. That the wrens hadn't just been practicing nest building was attested by the presence of four eggs.

Suicide Note Reveals Violinist's Delusion

HOLLYWOOD, April 29 (UP)—A suicide note left by Pasquel Fabris, swarthy 36-year-old violinist, revealed a weird delusion today that he was the "Lord and God-to-be" of Frances Langford, beautiful young actress.

Fabris was formerly with symphony orchestras here, in Detroit and in Cleveland. He was found dead in his coupe yesterday. His teeth clenched a hose leading to the exhaust pipe. A rambling note described his loss of "three worlds." One was Miss Langford whom he secretly "planned to wed," although she scarcely knew him "they met while Fabris was with Raymond Page's radio orchestra."

Miss Langford, singing star of the screen and radio, is in a hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation. She said: "I only saw him twice and, that was when he accosted me at two rehearsals, mumbling some strange words. He had a peculiar gleam in his eye."

"Government With a Grin"

Attorney General J. W. Taylor, who at times takes vigorous exception to some of Governor Clark's methods, and then again takes "Barzill" out to dinner to tell him his latest jokes, has recently described the state's chief executive as "government with a grin."

Those who take advantage of every opportunity to condemn the governor surely cannot derive a full measure of satisfaction from their efforts, when he retaliates with nothing more than a smile, a "thank you" and an apparent appreciation for "constructive" criticism.

Persons who know Governor Clark intimately admit that he knows something of psychology and that he employs his knowledge to good advantage. For instance, he oftentimes gives those who have the fortune to disagree with him, the credit for more genuine sincerity than others who overdo their praise, affability and handshaking while in his presence.

And the people of Idaho need not be worried because their governor refuses to take himself too seriously. He has always been that way, but nevertheless he has accomplished some pretty big jobs, as the people of Idaho will readily admit.

How U. S. Can Help. The quaint notion that the best way America can help the people of Europe is by tending strictly to her own business and devoting all her best thought to her domestic problems got some confirmation the other evening from Count Jerzy Potocki, Polish ambassador to the United States.

Speaking at a banquet in Boston, Count Potocki remarked that the world's most pressing task today is to find some way of reconciling economic security and individual rights. European nations have tried to do this in divers ways, and have erected some odd-looking governments as a result.

Europeans, he continues, "believe that in the desperate search for economic and political security, the United States may achieve without invading its own traditions of the rights of others that which some of us in Europe have attempted regardless of any consequences."

This country could make no greater contribution to the world's well-being than to do just that. And it can best do that by staying at home and tending to its knitting.

Paying the Penalty. The present administration has had four long years in which to take an accurate, complete, and fully documented census of the unemployed in this country.

President Roosevelt says the government will need to spend some $1,500,000,000 on relief during the coming year. Two groups in congress are rising to oppose this. One group declares that $1,000,000,000 will be ample; the other insists that at least $2,500,000,000 is absolutely necessary.

The trouble is that exact, indisputable facts about the extent of the unemployment problem today are not at hand. There are plenty of estimates, but they are estimates and no more, and they all vary.

If the government had taken the trouble to find out just exactly how many people are out of work, how long they have been out of work, the rate at which they are going back to work, and the number that are apt to remain out of work during the next 12 months, it would be a lot easier to decide on the relief appropriation.

To the general hullabaloo of an auto accident, nowadays, is added the short cries of scrap iron dealers bidding.

POT SHOTS

WITH The Gentleman in the Third Row

ZOUNDS, HOW YOU DO ADMIRE EDDIE!

Dear Pot Shot: Like most men, Edward, duke of Windsor, hadn't enough nerve, stick-tiveness or perseverance to keep his throne. It was too much for him to cope with, so he took the easiest way out by falling in love—and allowed the blame to fall on a woman; so the world will always say, because it will go down in history, that a king gave up his throne for the woman he loved—a beautiful romantic thought—but poor ehles.

Imagine the false impression our children's children will be brought up to believe? And as time goes on the story might become even better, who knows?

If I were Wally I would marry him just for spite, and spend the rest of my time making life miserable for him. Wally has what you call a brain because she at least got what she wanted.

ALL RIGHT—CONSIDER IT ASKED!

Dear Pot Shots: Will you please ask the oldest of the "three old men" that got kicked off the Junior Chamber, what it is he is bragging about buying when he gets his first million?

—Sugar-Pie

AND NOW THE SLAPPER GIVES HER REPORT!

Pot Shots: Don't take for gospel truth the story The Bluff Youth gave you in explanation of The Snapper's contrib about the young lady who slapped the young man on that downtown street corner.

I can really tell you the truth, for while he was the man in the case, I did the slapping. I slapped hard, too, because it wasn't meant to be a love tap. When he came back and drove me home, I DID NOT turn up my face for a good-night kiss. And he most assuredly DID NOT SLAP me as I waited for the kiss.

His claims are just what I would have expected of male vanity trying to soothe itself by hastening to tell its own story first.

The truth of the matter is that I left him sitting in his car (it's an old rattler, anyway), as I stormed up to the door alone.

The reason for the original slap is something for which I claim constitutional rights in not revealing.

ARE YOU TRYING TO SCARE GREEN-CAR OWNERS?

Pot Shots: I am a poor unemployed lady who does not own a car but who would like to very badly.

Now, I heard tell the other day that the new cars that are painted green are considered generally to look cheaper, than models painted otherwise.

Now, if some of you rich folks who are now driving green cars do not want to be looked down upon as cheap folks and who have a reputation to maintain would like to get rid of some (car), I could be persuaded to accept same, having no friends to pick fun at my green car, nor any reputation to keep spotless.

Hoping to hear from all you green car owners soon I remain with gusto, pulling, with the help of GERBY, NED, to locate the condition, BETTY HAYNES, abducted by JACK SPEDDON, MARITHA BRITAIN starts work in San Francisco on the west coast. And suddenly she decides, even though she loves Ned, to go to the city to find Betty's disappearance. So at a small California town she has him arrested.

Arriving in Seattle, Marittha is ordered by ARNOLD SLOSS of the Alspred Trailer Company, to turn over her equipment to a designated agent who would meet her at the Yukon parking place. The agent is Speddon and he abducts Marittha. She awakens hours later in an abandoned dock warehouse. Then Speddon arrives, says he is taking her to see Betty. There is a knock at the door and another boat and chloroformed. Next she awakens aboard a heavy ship. There is a knock at the door and another boat and chloroformed. Next she awakens aboard a heavy ship. There is a knock at the door and another boat and chloroformed.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XXI

THE steel companionway led to an enclosed deck above, but Marittha still could not feel the bracing air, or know whether the vessel was in the open sea or skirting the edges of some shore. She followed down a long passageway, hearing Speddon behind her and then, as she reached a dark-stained door, he said, "Go right in there. Ciznik will be along later."

She opened the door and stepped into a room much different from the one in which she had been imprisoned below. The walls were paneled with walnut. The center boasted a heavy walnut table on which rested a beautiful ship's lamp. There was a built-in double bunk over which was thrown a blue and white candlewick spread.

She turned to face Speddon, but found to her astonishment that he had not accompanied her into the room. As she faced the door she heard the key turning within the lock. Once again she was caught—and this time waiting for Johnny Ciznik!

In nervous idleness she roved about the strange room. At the end opposite the door was a great long chest, carved curiously. She tried to open the lid carelessly with one hand, but found that all her strength was necessary. And inside the chest was square tin after square tin, piled one atop the other.

Marittha opened one. Inside was something that looked and smelled like flour. She was examining it curiously when suddenly there was a sound at the door and it swung open. In her fright, Marittha dropped the tin box from nerveless fingers. The white powder splattered over the deep-piled rug, and she started eyes saw that within the flour had been a second, smaller, tin which was sealed tightly. In that fearful moment she knew that she had been examining opium—sealed within tins, then packed into flour in another tin so that when it was floated overboard it would keep dry!

"What's the idea!" SHE looked up to see a heavy, squat man, dark and angry. At once she knew that this was Johnny Ciznik. Beneath his open pea-jacket he wore a well-tailored suit. His tie and collar were correct. But Ciznik's face was black and lined. His eyebrows were black and heavy, his mouth full and sensuous, utterly cruel.

He walked toward the trembling Marittha. "Women!" he growled. "They're always sticking their noses where they're not wanted. But you didn't find out anything I wouldn't have told you. That's opium—and I'm Johnny Ciznik. I'm the biggest operator in liquor before repeal. He smiled at her ironically. "Want to know anything else?"

"There's just one thing I want to know," Marittha answered steadily. "Where's Betty Haynes? I want you to take me to her—and I want you to put us both ashore." Ciznik's eyes widened admiringly. "Say... you've got some stuff!" He walked to the table, got himself a cigaret. "Your friend's all right. You'll see her when I get ready." Carefully he lit the cigaret, observed Marittha keenly through the haze of gray smoke. "How'd you like to make a pot of dough?"

"I wouldn't. All I want is to get out of this!" "That's pretty hard, baby. Especially when you're already in it up to your neck." "I'm not in it," Marittha cried. "I've tried every way I know to."

"Oh, yes," interrupted Ciznik savagely. "You're in it. You were in it the minute you drove out of San Diego with that trailer." "What do you mean?" CIZNIK smiled. "I mean that Sloss and Carrington work for me. We're trying something. A false compartment in a family trailer—never be suspected. A compartment that could carry opium—even people. Chinese out of Mexico into the United States... Natives out of British Columbia. At a good price, of course."

developed for removing foreign objects. A bean or piece of chalk has been removed by the use of a probe with some adhesive material on the end. This sticks to the object, which is then gradually withdrawn. Such performances are, however, best left to experts.

A simple, ball, or any other infection in the tissue lining the external ear canal, will cause intense pain, inflammation, swelling and some fever, and should have prompt medical attention.

swung open. In her fright, Marittha dropped the tin box from nerveless fingers. The white powder splattered over the deep-piled rug, and she started eyes saw that within the flour had been a second, smaller, tin which was sealed tightly. In that fearful moment she knew that she had been examining opium—sealed within tins, then packed into flour in another tin so that when it was floated overboard it would keep dry!

"What's the idea!" SHE looked up to see a heavy, squat man, dark and angry. At once she knew that this was Johnny Ciznik. Beneath his open pea-jacket he wore a well-tailored suit. His tie and collar were correct. But Ciznik's face was black and lined. His eyebrows were black and heavy, his mouth full and sensuous, utterly cruel.

He walked toward the trembling Marittha. "Women!" he growled. "They're always sticking their noses where they're not wanted. But you didn't find out anything I wouldn't have told you. That's opium—and I'm Johnny Ciznik. I'm the biggest operator in liquor before repeal. He smiled at her ironically. "Want to know anything else?"

"There's just one thing I want to know," Marittha answered steadily. "Where's Betty Haynes? I want you to take me to her—and I want you to put us both ashore." Ciznik's eyes widened admiringly. "Say... you've got some stuff!" He walked to the table, got himself a cigaret. "Your friend's all right. You'll see her when I get ready." Carefully he lit the cigaret, observed Marittha keenly through the haze of gray smoke. "How'd you like to make a pot of dough?"

"I wouldn't. All I want is to get out of this!" "That's pretty hard, baby. Especially when you're already in it up to your neck." "I'm not in it," Marittha cried. "I've tried every way I know to."

"Oh, yes," interrupted Ciznik savagely. "You're in it. You were in it the minute you drove out of San Diego with that trailer." "What do you mean?" CIZNIK smiled. "I mean that Sloss and Carrington work for me. We're trying something. A false compartment in a family trailer—never be suspected. A compartment that could carry opium—even people. Chinese out of Mexico into the United States... Natives out of British Columbia. At a good price, of course."

WAITING FOR THE ECHO

WASHINGTON, April 29—The heir apparent Mr. Wallace, furnished the only official cabinet reaction to President Roosevelt's hold-down budget warning. He said doubtfully the government might have to scrap its whole farm legislation program—farm tenancy, crop insurance and ever-normal granary. Mr. Wallace should have put the accent on the "might."

It is an old political custom for officials in doubt to advertise their troubles and then sit down and wait for the echo. Usually, when it is officially hinted that any such large organized group as the farmers are going to lose anything, the echo campaign and are up for re-election next year. The insurance and granary plan will rest indefinitely in the house agriculture committee unless the echo gets much louder than it has been. (Conservative administration forces are trying to kill it, and House Chairman Jones does not care much for it.)

HOARSENESS

This time, the nymph of the fields seems to have a cold or something. I may be that the western farmers do not care much about farm tenancy, that the crop insurance and granary proposals are largely Wallace ideas which the farm congressmen and farm organizations consider to be good but not urgent, or a dozen other things.

At any rate, the program has not been ditched. The best guess is that the $60,000,000 farm tenant bill will be cut drastically and passed. A lot of Democratic congressmen pledged themselves to it in the last campaign and are up for re-election next year. The insurance and granary plan will rest indefinitely in the house agriculture committee unless the echo gets much louder than it has been. (Conservative administration forces are trying to kill it, and House Chairman Jones does not care much for it.)

CROSSED FINGERS

Much of the legislative program is in the same fix—particularly taxes. Ordinarily the President's public edict against tax revision until next session would be conclusive evidence that there will not be any this session. That is by no means certain now.

A minor bill will be passed continuing excise laws which are expiring. This bill is open to any and all amendments. If the treasury happens to change its mind around June 15, it could shoot up some tax revision provisions it has already prepared. It might even add some new taxes if congress passes any extra-budgetary appropriations in the meantime.

TIMING

A neat job of hiding the flood control button is being played on congress by downtown authorities. The flood states congressmen do not like it, but they may have to. The report of the army engineers look weeks. Then it went to the White House, then to the national resources board. Latest dope is that it has recently been on its leisurely way back to the White House. The idea, they say, was to hold it away from congress until the current economy move could be started.

There will be a fight about it, but probably not a bill. Note—Similarly sensational timing is noticeable on the national defense bills, particularly the navy bill. The President's budget warning arrived after the big navy bill had passed both houses and the army bill was ready to go through.

PEACE

A tremendous personal scrap between Chairman Pittman and McReynolds is supposed to be holding up the neutrality compromise, but it may be more tremendous than scrappy. When a senate conferee like Mr. Pittman abandons a senate bill in favor of a house bill, he generally finds it necessary to have a big fight with some one about something in order to prove that he died for dear old senate. The fighting this time will be loud, but not necessarily fatal.

The bill will be passed in just about its present form, which is what the President wanted in the first place.

The railroad retirement bill will go through easily. The anti-lynching bill is being laid aside in the senate for trading purposes. (Leaders may buy a few supreme court packing votes by agreeing to drop it). For this and other reasons its passage is more doubtful. A new price plan, NRA, minimum wages and hours, is supposed to be nearly ripe, but the President has been very secretive about it and congress knows nothing. Messrs. Corcoran and Cohen are supposed to have devoted much of their person-time to this subject lately. The $100,000,000 Harrison education bill is definitely among the unburied dead. It will not pass, and if passed, will be vetoed. Senator Wagner is phlegmating around to preserve the principle of his billion dollar housing bill, but, if he saves anything, it will be only the principle. The congressional leaders are going at their purpose of holding to the budget with great earnestness.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

25 YEARS AGO

APRIL 29, 1912 The special stockholders' meeting of the Salmon company held at Hollister yesterday afternoon, was well attended. The result of the election for the three directors for the three year term was: Murray Brookman, 33,566; G. M. Hall, 31,253.98; Waldemar Weddle, 29,814.82. The vote on the amendments to the by-laws received considerably more than the required two-thirds of total outstanding 60,000 shares of stock; the vote for the amendment being 46,453 and only 634 votes being recorded against.

A meeting called in February was held up by temporary injunction proceedings and a set of directors elected under previous meetings. Later Judge T. Bailey Lee, before whom proceedings were held, dissolved the injunction and ousted the directors elected under the other rules. A special meeting was then called for yesterday with the result noted.

27 YEARS AGO

APRIL 29, 1910 The Twin Falls Medical association met last week and elected officers for the ensuing year. The association is in the most flourishing condition and the work of the past year has been carried on in a highly professional manner. The officers elected were: President, W. F. Pike; vice president, John C. Burnum; secretary and treasurer, J. B. Purdy.

The baseball season for Twin Falls will be opened by two games with Pocatello, May 14 and 15. Mayor Hahn will toss the first ball over the plate, opening officially what promises to be the most successful season of the great American game ever known in Twin Falls. Over $350 monthly has been subscribed to pay the operating expenses of the team, and with everyone boosting, this season should be a success in every respect.

A flame-quelling device recently introduced in French aerodromes is reported to put out gasoline, oil, and airplane fires in 30 seconds. The apparatus throws a chemical spray and artificial snow.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

A witty Irish doctor once said that there are two kinds of deafness—one due to wax in the ear which can be cured by syringing, and the other not due to wax and not curable.

Medicine has advanced considerably since this statement was made 100 years ago, but we have progressed more in determining our and how to eliminate it than we have in analyzing and controlling conditions which cause progressive deafness. We have, nevertheless, made great progress in eliminating many of the causes of ear infections.

Most people nowadays know enough about hygiene to provide the necessary cleanliness for their ears. Bolls and plumpies still occur, and there still are cases in which the removal of hardened wax is necessary. This is done easily with an ear syringe and slightly warm water, but need not be done often. Needless or too frequent syringing can be harmful. The syringe should be sterilized by being boiled before using, and the water should be previously boiled and used warm, but not hot.

Cases are on record in which living insects have entered the ear, and gradually been

England, France Consider Removal of Women, Children From Spain

REBELS SAID TO BE BOMBING ALL FLEEING PEOPLE

200,000 Refugees Massed in Bilbao as Nationalists Close In

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, Jr.
LONDON, April 29 (U.P.)—Great Britain and France are considering plans for mass evacuation of women and children from the Bilbao area in fear of slaughter by the civilian population, it was disclosed today.

The British government is committed in principle to the evacuation and the French government has promised full cooperation.

The only question to be settled is that of detail—particularly whether and in what manner the British battle fleet will protect the refugees from nationalist warships.

Plan Evacuation
Wilted Roberts, liberal chairman of a British committee, planning the evacuation, announced that it was hoped to start the evacuation by Saturday.

This plan involves taking the refugees to St. Jean de Luz, on the French coast and transferring them to temporary homes in France, Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries.

As the nationalists advance on Bilbao, the loyalist side asserted, squadrons of bombing planes rain bombs on town and village and then, when the population flees, descend to bomb and machine gun the people.

200,000 in Bilbao
Jammed into Bilbao are an estimated 200,000 people, driven from their homes in the surrounding area. Closing in on them were the nationalists. A dispatch received at Paris from the loyalist official Agency Espagne alleged that 1,500 Germans had been landed at San Sebastian.

Sanjago Amzar, minister of industry and commerce in the Basque loyalist government, who is now in Paris, said:

"We are in a clear, open struggle with Germany.

"It is war by Germany against the Basque people for possession of the iron mines."

Senate's Newest Member

Senator William H. Smathers, of New Jersey, more than three months late in taking his seat in congress, dons top hat and talks to give Washington his first glimpse of his newest addition. He refrained from taking his seat sooner to enable him to keep his seat in the New Jersey legislature for the consideration of many important bills. He was elected to succeed Senator Warren Barbour.

Mistake in Letter Blamed For Definite Stemmer Term

BOISE, April 29 (U.P.)—A secretarial faux pas today has virtually given Joe Stemmer, temporarily appointed director of highways, a definite term of office.

In a letter dated March 18, 1937, and filed late Tuesday, Ira Masters, secretary of state, was instructed to issue a commission to Stemmer, setting his term of office as from March 18 until January 2, 1938.

The only catch in the matter was this: Stemmer was "temporarily" appointed on March 18, by Governor Barzilla Clark, and there was no apparent reason for issuing on the same day, a definite appointment.

Pursuant to instructions in the letter, signed by Governor Barzilla Clark, Masters issued a commission, and sent it to the governor for his signature.

But today, Governor Clark could not remember when he signed the letter authorizing a definite appointment, nor could he remember having the letter written.

When told that a letter definitely appointing Stemmer had been received Tuesday in the secretary's office, the governor said, "well I don't think I signed it, unless it was in a bunch of letters on my desk. I guess I'll have to see about it."

Finally, secretaries came through with an explanation. It seemed that Stemmer had never been given a temporary commission. Evidently wishing to give him a commission, the executive office sent in a letter, dated March 18, the time of the temporary appointment.

But instead of making the period of appointment read "at the pleasure of the governor," a definite date was inserted in the form.

If the governor signs the commission, Stemmer will have a definite term of office.

The only way the matter can be made "temporary" again would be for the governor to issue a letter cancelling the commission dated March 18.

Educator Invents Cool-Smoking Pipe

SEATTLE (U.P.)—Prof. Frederick A. Kirsten of University of Washington has invented "the world's sweetest, coolest smoking pipe, that won't gargle or bite."

His invention is a light stem of duramulin that cools the smoke and filters out tar, he said.

PRESIDENT CITES SPIRALING PRICES

Roosevelt Moves on Broad Front Against Possible Economic Regression

By ALLEN C. DIBBLE

WASHINGTON, April 29 (U.P.)—New Deal assault against what President Roosevelt has characterized as the danger signal of rising price spirals today developed new impetus in drives against monopoly and speculation revealed President Roosevelt was moving on a broad front against a situation which three weeks ago he declared contained the germ of economic regression.

Action was displayed in four closely related fields:

Attorney General Homer S. Cummings proposed a new and thorough study of the anti-trust and monopoly situation, citing "the present tendency to increase prices and a necessity for corresponding increase in vigilance."

Asks Bill Side-Tracking

The President, in a letter to vice president John N. Garner, urged that congress sidetrack the Miller-Tydings fair trade bill because of fears it might encourage monopolistic practices and price rises.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a press conference, cited the unfortunate effects of stock speculation on average citizens. His remarks were an extension of a suggestion that stock speculation be prohibited among government employees.

The justice department moved forward with its demand for dissolution of the Aluminum Company of America in a case brought under the anti-trust laws.

Borah Supports

The President's anti-trust move won strong support from Sen. William E. Borah, R. Idaho, long time foe of monopoly.

Borah declared that "a thorough investigation will disclose that prices are being pushed up beyond any normal increase through monopolistic practices and through combinations and trusts."

"There is nothing more important to the people of this country right now than that we proceed to deal with those who are hoisting prices," he said, adding that "it need not take any considerable time to get the facts."

Chairman Pope Explains Damages Caused By Drunk Sailors' Punches

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

WASHINGTON, April 29 (U.P.)—Sen. James P. Pope, the gray-haired Democrat from Idaho, was doing the explaining and the trouble seemed to be that almost everytime a sailor gets drunk he socks somebody.

As a member of the foreign relations committee, it was Pope's duty to explain to the senate the claims of the recipients of these nautical socks-in-the nose. The marines seemed to be just as belligerent as the sailors, maybe more so, the senate discovered as it considered the government's unpaid bills.

Private Bill Daniels of the marine corps, for instance, was riding in a rickshaw on the night of May 26, 1931, in Shanghai, when his hat blew off. Cheu Hai Kow ran to pick it up and Private Daniels, thinking he was trying to swipe it, socked him. Cheu S. Ziang and Mo Zung Poo stopped to watch the fray and they got socked, too.

Socking Becomes General
Corp. William H. Moon hopped off a passing street car, a couple of other marines came up, and the socking became general. It was a lulu of a fracas until the corporal pulled a knife and a mob of Chinese started to chase him. When all the blood was mopped up, Cheu and Mo were found to be badly bruised. They claimed $300 which the senate ordered paid, although Sen. Joseph T. Robinson, D. Ark., said it looked to him like six years was a long time to wait before paying Cheu and Mo their bruise-balm.

Pope next brought up the case of Miss Lucia de Jeanerret, "a young lady of good family" who was walking down the street in Valparaiso, Chile, Feb. 4, 1931, when seaman Andrew Stanley Kondek approached her from the other direction. He was drunk, Pope said, and he bumped into Miss de Jeanerret, knocking her down. Her mother asked for $25,000, but when sailor Kondek was slapped in the brig, she reduced her claim to $5,000. The senate decided to settle for $2,000.

Other Cases
There were numerous other cases, including that of some marines who stabbed a female bar-keeper in Tientsin, China, who got tough about credit for drinks. She got $300.

The senators then gave the Shanghai Electric Construction Co., Ltd., $78.00 because a marine corps truck bumped into one of its trams. They contributed $3,500 to the estate of Miguel Paula, because he was killed in the marine hospital at New Orleans in 1931 by an overdose of cocaine, administered by mistake.

Eventually, along toward sundown, Pope reached the troubles of N. J. Moosa, a British subject who was riding down Thibet road in Shanghai, nine years ago, aboard a broker, (which is a kind of buggy) pulled by a horse.

Up whizzed a marine corps truck from Burkill road. It bounced into Mr. Moosa's trap, bending the right front fender, and smashing one of the lenses of Mr. Moosa's spectacles.

He put in a claim for $8, for damages to his right front fender, and $15.59 for new glasses. The navy paid for the fender, but it didn't for the spectacles. Mr. Moosa's claim therefore went to the American embassy, to the state department, to the White House, to the house of representatives, and to the senate.

Everybody along the line decided, in due time, that this government owed him some new eyeglasses. A treasury check for $15.59 will be mailed him at once and everybody hopes he will remember what it's for.

INJURIES DROP CHICAGO CUBS TO LAST PLACE

Reds Win Over Bruins; Mungo Sets Giants Down With 3 Hits

NEW YORK, April 29 (UP)—Charlie Grimm's means were heard all over the National league today. His Chicago Cubs are in last place, winner of only one game out of six but his main headache is the Cubs' casualty list—three regular pitchers and the No. 1 catcher on the shelf.

Cincinnati won its first game yesterday, 10 to 3, at the expense of the crippled Cubs, breaking a four-game losing streak. Ernie Lombard hit a line drive at Southpaw French in the first inning which broke a bone in his glove hand. He pitched to three batters and then had to leave the game. Paul Derringer scattered 11 hits to win his first game.

Mungo Wins
Van Mungo, Brooklyn's fireball ace, pitched the best game of the season, holding the Giants to three hits to win 3 to 2.
The Philadelphia Phillies blasted out 15 hits and beat the Boston Bees, 7 to 4, to move into third place in the National league. The Phils clouted Danny MacFadden for six runs in the first inning.
The New York Yankees continued to set the American league pace, defeating Washington 6 to 1, behind Lety Gomez' five-hit pitching.

Walker Hits
Gerald Walker kept up his hitting rampage as Detroit rocked the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 5. Walker hit a homer and two singles, giving him 13 hits to 18 times at bat in four games for an average of .722. Roxie Lawson, although tapped for 11 hits, won his second game of the season. The Tigers made 15 hits off Hildebrand, Caldwell and Van Atta.
Mel Harder held the White Sox to five hits as Cleveland slugged out a 7 to 2 triumph over Chicago. Earl Averill came out of his batting slump with three hits, including a homer.
The Cardinals-Pirates and Athletics-Red Sox games were rained out.

Organized baseball has reached Idaho again—this time with a Western International Class B league. This is the first circuit of the organized game that has had a team in Idaho since the abandonment of the old Utah-Idaho league that included Twin Falls, which blew up in 1928.
The new circuit is represented in this state by Lewiston, a red-hot baseball town of the northern part. Other towns in the loop are Tacoma, Vancouver, B. C., Yakima, Wenatchee and Spokane.
Plotting the Lewiston team will be Don Rader, former Coast league star.

We are strongly in favor of organized baseball—in the towns where there is a large enough population to support the game, but we have a hunch Lewiston is taking on a little more than it can handle with a representative in a Class B league.
Salaries in a Class B loop are high compared with those of Class D or Class C, and if the town falls to be up near the top of the standings, the chances are that the attendance will fall away.
Playing with an independent team, the managers either book star traveling attractions that will draw a gate under any conditions, or some of the neighborhood teams, which are usually a cinch to defeat, but which the fans flock to see.
In an organization, the same five teams will come to town and if one club has won seven of the last eight engagements, the interest is apt to slip, and the attendance to fade.
The only way we can see Lewiston remaining in the league is to have a team that will finish in the one-two position. The other clubs of the loop are large enough to attract the fans up under all conditions, with the possible exception of Wenatchee.

Short shots: Fred Stone, proprietor of the local bowling alley, and last year starter at the Country Golf club, left today on a trip to Chicago. While there he will take in a St. Louis Cardinal-Chicago Cubs baseball game. He has promised to write us a few of the highlights of the game... two southern Idaho athletes were members of the undefeated University of Idaho wrestling team this year: Stonko Pavko of Gooding and Jasper Nutting of Rupert... Irving McDonald of Eden won a letter in swimming at the state university, and Merton Wright of Fler won a freshman numeral in boxing.

Four Teams Battle for Second in Coast League

RACE IS CLOSEST IN RECENT YEARS

Seals Remain in Lead By Defeating Portland 11 to 0

By United Press
Four teams were crowded around second place in one of the tightest Pacific Coast league races in recent years today, and the top team of the four was only one-half game away from the league-leading San Diego Padres.

The four contestants for runner-up honors, in the order they took in the standings today, were San Francisco, Sacramento, Los Angeles and Seattle.

Seals Lead
The Seals remained at the head of the runner-up parade by overwhelming Portland in the delayed opening of their series last night. With Sam Gibson pitching his fourth victory of the young season to join Fay Thomas of Los Angeles and Tom Seals of Sacramento in the four and none class, the Seals triumphed 11-0.

Half a game below them came the Sacramento Solons, up a notch from yesterday's fourth ranking, as a result of Tom Seals' fourth victory, pitched yesterday over the Mission Reds. The score was 9-2.

Angels in Fourth
Los Angeles showed up in fourth place because of a 7-1 defeat at the hands of fifth-place Seattle. The Indians found their batting eyes in the seventh inning of what had been a tight game to score six runs at the expense of Evans of the Angel staff. Bill Thomas was the winning pitcher.

San Diego kept its one and one-half game margin by beating Oakland, 4-2, in a duel between the Padres' Mennie Salvo and Oakland's Southpaw Jimmy Rego.

Torrance Makes Sad Showing in New York Ring Debut, Says Mac

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, April 29 (UP)—This is a very difficult story to write, because it must be on the pugilistic debut in New York of Jack Torrance, as promised in yesterday's prose poem to the intelligentsia.

There is little or nothing to say about Jack Torrance's first—and I am sure last—fight in the big town. No matter what your approach was when you went to the ringside you were bound to leave empty handed.

Those who went to laugh found no laughs. Those who went to criticize remained to pity. And those who went to praise—lawdy me! They led him into the arena, still wearing his college colors, at 10:20. He was clumsy getting through the ropes, and he was so excited when the time came for him to strip for action that his hands got all tangled up in his sleeves. He tripped over the mats. The lights and the crowd bothered him. He kept blinking slowly at both.

Simon Quiet
Across from him Simon, the white of his mouth protector showing through, his lips, sat quietly on his stool.

Then the bell rang and Torrance ambled out. He didn't look like a fighter. There was a boyish grin on his big face, and he held his hands awkwardly in front of him. Simon was on top of him in a second and cuffed him about the head. Torrance's face reddened and he pawed at his foe with both hands. He tried a little footwork, and the ring shook as he set his feet down with a clump-clump-clump.

Late in the round Simon nailed him with a left to the jaw and the Louisiana boy stumbled crazily about the ring. He didn't look mad, he didn't look hurt.

Damage Suit is Fited Against Dr. Pressman
LOS ANGELES, April 29 (UP)—Dr. Joel J. Pressman, husband of screen star Claudette Colbert, today was charged with malpractice in a $50,000 damage action brought against him in superior court.
The suit was brought by Mrs. Belle Gilbert as guardian for her five-year-old son, Verne E. Gilbert.
The mother charged Dr. Pressman permanently injured the youth by an operation for mastoid.

WESTERNERS TOP KEGLER TOURNEY

Eastern Teams Will Get Last Chance Tonight to Take First Places

NEW YORK, April 29 (UP)—Eastern bowlers will get a last chance starting today to out the western teams that hold 75 per cent of the leading places in the American bowling congress tournament.

Of the 20 leaders in the four events, only five are easterners. Behringer Diamonds of Buffalo, N. Y., are among the first five in the team standings and the doubles have only one eastern representative. Three places, including first, in the individual event are held by eastern pinsters, but none have placed in the all-events.

The only remaining representatives of west of the Alleghenies on the schedule will bowl tonight. They are from Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit.

OAKLAND, Calif., April 29 (UP)—Andre Lenglet, former heavyweight title holder of France, and Johnny Nelson of San Diego, fought to a draw in the feature event on the card here last night.
Lenglet was given the edge on the fight but lost the decision because of asserted fouls.

No Gold Policy Change Seen Without French, British Consultation

PARTNERSHIP IN STABILIZATION IS HOLD ON PRICES

Morgenthau Says U. S. Is Perfectly at Ease on Situation

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON, April 29 (U.P.)—Well-informed authorities believed today that any change in the United States price of gold would be made only after consultation with British and French governments.

France and Great Britain are partners with the United States in a gentlemen's agreement to maintain international currency stabilization. British and French permission, of course, would not be necessary for any change in the American price of gold, now $35 an ounce. It was raised to that figure from $20.67 as part of the Roosevelt administration effort to raise commodity prices.

The administration position on gold remains that recently stated by Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr. He said: "The President and I are perfectly at ease with respect to the gold situation and we have nothing in mind."

Opinions Contrast
 In contrast with that statement are opinions of some economists who contend that the United States is pointing itself and the world toward inflation by undertaking to purchase all gold offered anywhere at the high price. The economists want to know what the United States is going to do with all its gold.

Some credit authorities say that no early change in the administration gold policy is likely. They do not suggest that it is a permanent policy although it may continue until some permanent international currency stabilization plan is submitted for the current gentlemen's agreement.

Benefits Diminish
 Various credit and fiscal authorities conceded that benefits from gold purchases are diminishing so far as this country is concerned.

They arrive at the conclusion in this way: Increase in the dollar value of gold and the government purchase plan were part of a deliberate effort to raise commodity and other prices in the United States. The administration contends the gold policy materially aided achievement of higher prices.

With administration pressure for immediate price rises now reduced and almost vanished, the continued flow of gold is working at cross purposes with administration policy because new shipments of gold tend always to create upward market trends.

Keeps Dollar Down
 It is contended also that our purchases of foreign gold have tended to keep the dollar down in relation to other currencies, notably the British pound and French franc.

From that condition the United States gains, it is argued, because a moderately priced dollar in relation to other foreign currencies enable American exporters to quote moderate prices in foreign markets and, therefore, compete with the prices quoted by our principal competitors for those markets.

SORE ARMS
 There won't be much throwing of baseballs around the Rock Creek-OCC camp for a few days, or even much sudden movement of arms as far as that is concerned.

The reason, it was learned from the camp today, is that the enrollees have just received their inoculations against Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

The boys are nursing "sore arms."

THEATERS

Singing Cowboy

Dick Foran, the Singing Cowboy, comes to the Idaho theater tomorrow in First National's latest thrilling western, "Guns of the Pecos." The program is completed with the last chapter of "Robinson Crusoe" and the first chapter of "Dick Tracy." Showing for the last times today at the Idaho theater is Edward G. Robinson in "Bullets or Ballots," with Joan Blondell.

Orpheum's Star

The stars of "Ah Wilderness" are reunited once more in a motion picture that rivals that former success, "A Family Affair." Heading the cast are Lionel Barrymore, Eric Linden, Cecilia Parker, Spring Byington, Mickey Rooney, Charles Grapewin, Sara Haden and Julie Haydon. It is a strong story of life in an average small town in America. "A Family Affair" opens a three-day run at the Orpheum theater today.

TOURISTS' TRADE GAIN PREDICTED

Visitors Expected to Spend $20,000,000 in Idaho During 1937

BOISE, Idaho, April 29 (U.P.)—Travel agency officials and the Pacific northwest tourist association this week estimated that Idaho's tourist business would reach a total of $20,000,000 during 1937.

Previous all-time high for business directly attributable to tourist trade was reported at $15,000,000.

The tourist business was qualified by the northwest association as the second largest industry in the west.

In Idaho, some idea of the increasing tourist travel may be had from the fact that gasoline tax receipts for April are showing a 10 per cent increase over receipts for the same period during 1936.

Winter sports developments this year in Idaho, and planned development of the Payette lakes region, were mentioned as factors leading to increase of tourist trade.

The annual sum spent by tourists in the 11 western states was set at more than $750,000,000.

Comedy Returns To Roxy's Screen

RKO Radio's hilarious comedy, "Silly Billies," is the second feature length film in which Fred Guiol, director, has worked with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey starting a return showing at the Roxy tomorrow.

Guiol not only directed the film but collaborated with Thomas Lennon on the original story.

Guiol's first association with the haywire pair of comics was in "The Rainmakers," a recent picture before that he directed comedy shorts for Producer Leo Marxus, who is in charge of RKO Radio's comedy department.

Dorothy Lee, diminutive blond, who furnishes the romantic interest in the Wheeler-Woolsey operas, is again seen in the feature lead for this story of the wild west and California gold rush days.

Veteran Conductor Promoted To Courtesy Director For System

SEATTLE, April 29 (Special)—H. D. Bacheiler of Pocatello, Idaho, conductor with nearly 31 years service with the Union Pacific, has been promoted to courtesy director for the railroad, effective immediately, according to announcement by H. C. Mann, vice president in charge of operations.

Mr. Bacheiler succeeds E. Mark-sherell, who recently was promoted to terminal superintendent at Los Angeles, a newly-created post.

Traveling Job
 "The courtesy director travels almost continuously, from one end of the system to the other, observing the relations of conductors and other members of the train crews with the public, and making such suggestions as may help them in giving cheerful service at all times," says Mr. Bacheiler.

The ability to smile is the greatest single factor in courtesy of the kind the Union Pacific seeks among its employees, Mr. Bacheiler declares. He says that he has witnessed a marked improvement in the attitude of railroad employes toward the public in his more than three decades of service, but "there's still room for improvement and we aim to achieve it."

Methodist Minister Makes Home in Buhl

BUHL, April 29 (Special)—Rev. and Mrs. Leroy M. Walker and two sons, Jimmy and Bobby, have moved to Buhl to make their home. Mr. Walker will have charge of the work at the Buhl Methodist church after having been the pastor of the Burley church for the past three years.

Rev. W. H. Hertzog recently resigned as pastor of the Buhl church to accept his new position as superintendent of the eastern district of the Idaho conference of the Methodist church.

Dorothy Henry, Reba Freshour, Bernice Givens, Clyde Thompson.

Wyo.-Oregon Run Wins Slogan Award

When promoted, Mr. Bacheiler was conductor on the run between Green River, Wyo., and Huntington, Ore.

Mr. Bacheiler is a native of Idaho and entered Union Pacific service at Boise in October, 1906, as a brakeman. He later lived at Glens Ferry, Idaho, and now resides at Pocatello, where he has lived for the past 23 years. He is married and his daughter, Evelyn, 21, now is in nurses' training at the Pocatello general hospital.

Twin Falls Resident Wins Slogan Award

Ray M. Beauchamp, Twin Falls, has been awarded a prize in a western slogan contest for Pears of Wheat recently sponsored by Alberts Bros. Milling company, breakfast cereal millers, it was announced here today.

WHEAT DROPS ON CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO—Corn futures continued to advance in fairly active trading today. With the help of light offerings, the May delivery sold up to $1.33 1/2, the highest price since 1925 and showed a net gain of three to five points. Profit-taking selling trimmed gains later.
At the close wheat was 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents lower, new corn off 1/4 to up 1/2 cent, old corn off 1/4 to up 1/2 cent and oats off 1/4 to 5/8 cent.
Wheat showed a firmer tone early but fell against bullish enthusiasm as an increase in offerings of corn from country points, 18,000 bushels being booked to arrive. Receipts were estimated at 29 cars. Shipping sales were 104,000 bushels.

STOCKS NERVOUS ON N. Y. MARKET

NEW YORK, April 29 (U.P.)—The stock market continued in a highly nervous state today but a majority of issues held advances.
A substantial rally occurred early on short covering. Then the list turned dull. In the last hour, professionals decided to test the list, selecting U. S. Steel as the target. Heavy selling broke steel to 99 1/2, off 1 1/2, net and off 4 from the early high.
Other issues reacted with steel, but sufficient resistance developed to discourage the sharpshooters. Steel came back above 100 and other issues met support.
Chrysler was strong. It touched 114 1/2, up 3 1/2. General Motors reached 56 1/2, up 1 1/2.
Johns Manville made a new low at 129 1/2, and then came back to 129 1/2, up 3 1/2. Some oil netted small gains.
Copper shares softened. Gold mining issues were at new lows. Home-estate mining touched 338 off 26. Dome mines hit 39 for a loss of 3 1/2, and Alaska Juneau was down 1 1/2, to 11 1/2.
Du Pont gained more than 3. Advances of 1 to 3 were noted in Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, Sears Roebuck, Union Pacific, Atchafson, and American Telephone. Case jumped 4 points. Utilities firmed. Rails had gains ranging to more than 2.

CCC WORKERS TO COMPLETE FENCE

Barrier to Keep Cattle From Minidoka Forest Lands Being Rushed
In order that cattle can be kept off the Minidoka forest lands, the Cassia drift fence is being rushed to completion at the present time. It was announced this afternoon by C. H. Ramage project superintendent at the Rock Creek CCC camp.
During the winter the fence crew was unable to do much work on the project. Ramage said, but now they will have to "make up for lost time."
Under the direction of Foreman Allen, the Diesel patrol and a Cletrac with trailbuilder attached are used in removing snow from the Indian Springs and Oak-Rogerson roads. Immediately after the roads are opened, Ramage said, insect control will be established. The crew on this project is using the trail mess wagon, constructed by the Rock Creek camp enrollees, and living quarters.
Recreation Planner Hodgson has started laying out campgrounds along the Rock Creek road.

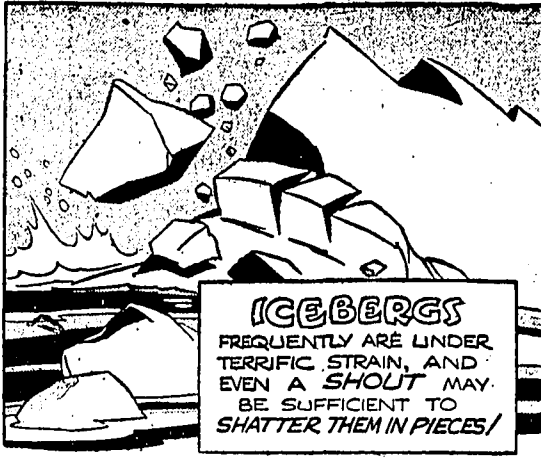

RELICS TURN UP AT NOTRE DAME

Workmen Find Records of Old Generation in Tearing Down Building
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (U.P.)—Mule records of another generation—a stem-winding watch, a cache of marbles and nuts, and two dime novels—were uncovered by workmen tearing down the 50-year-old wing of St. Edward's Hall on the campus of Notre Dame university.
The wing is being demolished to provide a site for a new dormitory. For 42 years it served as living and recreation quarters for Notre Dame "minims," boys of grammar school age.
The wing boasts no cornerstone. Yet, sealed beneath its walls and hidden under flowers and eaves, amusing records of a generation of "minims" now grown to manhood are being brought to light.
Marble Cache Found
While a section of the old shingle roof was being ripped off, the first of the strange findings, a cache of some 300 marbles intermixed with dozens of nuts, was revealed.
In an obscure corner of the attic the wreckers found a pile of youngsters' playthings, among them two sleds, one bearing the name "John Shannon," the other initialed "B. C." A toy wagon, six sets of Indian clubs, a Japanese lantern, three pairs of skis, a set of toy carpenter's tools and part of an old photograph were in the heap.
Between the walls of two of the rooms, which had been plastered up some time around the turn of the century, were discovered the tattered and yellowed remains of two dime novels—taboo on the campus.
Watch 70 Years Old
The 70-year-old stem-winding silver pocket watch with a hunter case was found beneath the floor. It is of the key-winding and key-setting variety and bore the name of the maker, Eugene Perret, and After accumulated dirt and green mold of age had been rubbed off, workmen found the initials "F. R." engraved on the outside of the case.
According to the university watchmaker, the timepiece was made at least 70 years ago, probably in Europe, by a French or Swiss master watchmaker. The heavy waistcoat chain attached to it is characteristic of that same period.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ICEBERGS FREQUENTLY ARE LINDER TERRIFIC STRAIN, AND EVEN A SHOUT MAY BE SUFFICIENT TO SHATTER THEM IN PIECES!

HALIBUT ARE BEING "TATTOOED" BY THE INTERNATIONAL FISHERIES COMMISSION, FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LIFE HISTORY STUDIES OF THE SPECIES.

By means of waterproof drawing ink and a hypodermic needle, the International Fisheries Commission has been able to tattoo halibut with a recognizable mark that not only remains visible over a long period of time; but will not tear out, as do some of the tag labels used in such work.
