BASQUE NATIONALISTS THROW BACK DRIVE OF NATIONALISTS

AIRPLANES HELP IN ADVANCE ON REBEL SOLDIERS

3,000 Italians Reported to Be Taking Active Part in Insurgent Attack

HENDAYE, French-Spanish frontiers, has been reinforced by thousands of seasoned men and a fleet of airplanes, attacked at three vital points east of Bilbao. Rebels were driven back and threw back the nationalist hordes pressing on the city, dispatches from the loyalist front said today.

At Bermeo, on the sea, opposite Guernica, to the east of Bilbao and before Amorbeitu, the nationalist attack was repulsed with the ferocity of desperation.

They claimed important gains on their line in the mountains. They said to end some 12 miles east of Bilbao.

United Press dispatches from Bilbao reported that nationalist leaders as a protest that the nationalists, including Italians, were thrown back in a retreat that left tanks and motor trucks were taken.

While nationalist battalions attacked Bilbao, the new loyalist planes raked the nationalist battle lines with bombs and machine gun.

Newly arrived loyalist warships cooperated with land and air forces in a heavy bombardment.

Detailed dispatches from the loyalist side intimated that the nationalist advance in some points have advanced too far at what had been a triumphant march for weeks.

Prisoners claimed numerous prisoners, including Italians, and two flags of the monarchist militia serving with the nationalists. They said messages, intercepted at Bilbao, appealed for reinforcements.

An Italian pilot was reported early in the loyalist counter-drive was quoted as saying that there were 3,000 Italians on the Bermeo front, commanded by Gen. Sando Piazuel of the Italian army. This prisoner, it was alleged, said that he and his companions thought they were on their way to Madrid.

At Salamanca, the nationalist capital, it was intimated that the battle line has advanced to within five miles of the city.

It was said that four seamen and an engineer were killed by the explosion of the "mine" but that the rest were saved.

Duke Cafetiere
The duke, motoring from St. Germain, was so careless at the station that he helped the porters to load his luggage.

A few minutes before the train left, the duke somewhat excited, appeared at the window of his sleeping carriage, surrounded by reporters who crowded other compartments of the car.

Without appearing querulous or complaining, Edward called to one of the detectives on the platform: "We've lost two cases of our luggage."

Then he turned back and discovered that the lost luggage had been left behind at St. Germain.

Talks to Reporters
One of his English detectives stayed behind at Salzburg and went to Tours, near Mont, tomorrow with the missing baggage.

Before his departure from St. Wolfgang, the duke announced that he was on his way to Montevideo. He was so overjoyed that he talked freely to reporters and reporters.

Parachute Jumpers Get "Diplomas" Despite Police Prevention Efforts

CINCINNATI, O., May 3 (UP)—Five youthful members of the Smithfield, O., parachute club held "diplomas" today after blocking an "graduation" policy to prevent their "graduation" exercises.

The boys and girls, ranging in age from 14 to 21, had planned to celebrate completion of "ground training" with a mass jump from a 14-passenger plane, but at the end of a day of pleading with the authorities, six members still faced the test.

Four boys and a 19-year-old girl, Helen Terry, made individual jumps yesterday after police were convinced that it was useless to attempt to halt the ceremony. The jumpers used the same parachute, and the plane had to land after each jump so the boys could be packed.

Thrills Fellow Students
Miss Terry, youngest of the jumpers, thrilled her fellow students when she "bailed out" at about 2,500 feet and delayed opening the chute for 1,200 feet.

Paul Gilman, 20-year-old president and one-man faculty of the club, who learned to fly by taking a correspondence school course, jumped first to give his students confidence. He had arranged the exercises, and said parents of all the members had given their consent to the jump.

When the students arrived at Mt. Healthy airport, clad in white jumpsuits and helmets, officials' deputies announced that none could jump until they were 21 and had had previous experience.

Stoddy for Months
"Why just goodness sakes!" exclaimed Dorothy Jean McCourt, 14, "we've been studying how to jump for months, and we've all passed written examinations on how to jump and how to open the chutes and maneuver them while we are coming down. There's nothing to it."

Gilman telephoned the department of commerce and obtained permission. Then, because it was late and only one parachute was available, only five members got their "diplomas."

STATES QUADRUPLE RELIEF EXPENSES SINCE 1933

FEDERAL MONEY USED MORE THAN DOUBLES FUNDS

Idaho Spends $8,613,796 in 1936, Washington Survey Reveals

WASHINGTON, May 3 (U.P.)—Hard-hit states and local governments raised nearly four times as much money for relief and work programs in 1936 as they did in 1933.

Non-federal contributions to aid the needy and cooperate in federal recovery programs increased from $29,793,000 in 1933 to $124,953,000 in 1936. The total for four years is $249,191,000.

The government spent as its contribution to those programs more than two and one-half times as much as the states—$7,498,000,000. An additional $745,000,000 was loaned to communities by PWA, and $1,558,000,000 was allotted for strictly federal PWA projects.

Idaho Spends PWA, the New Deal's heavy construction recovery agency, accounts for $935,000,000 of the state and local contributions.

Contributions for local relief increased only slightly from 1935 to 1936. Local relief authorities of many unemployables when WPA was inaugurated.

DOCTOR OPENING OFFICES IN CITY

Dr. Dean H. Affleck Takes Up Practice, Impressed By Twin Falls

Because Twin Falls impressed him so much when he visited here briefly last Nov. 12, Dr. Dean H. Affleck today announced opening of offices in a suite at the Boyd building.

Dr. Affleck enters on a general medical and surgical practice, coming here to Twin Falls already in the field of melanomas—ordinary moles, usually harmless but sometimes the seeds of black cancer.

Dr. Affleck came to Twin Falls with Mrs. Affleck and their daughter, after the past winter at the Mason clinic in Seattle, where he worked with Dr. J. M. Blackford, gastro-entologist of the Mason clinic.

He took his undergraduate medical work at the University of Minnesota, interrupted for a year in surgery at the University of Minnesota Hospital, took a rotating internship at the Alameda county hospital, Alameda, Calif. Then he received a fellowship in obstetrics at Tulane university, Orleans, where he was assistant instructor at the Tulane medical school.

At Johns Hopkins The next year he was appointed to Johns Hopkins university, where he spent a year in the laboratory of the late Dr. Joseph Cott Bloodgood, International authority on cancer.

Under Dr. Bloodgood, Dr. Affleck worked in tumor pathology. While there he wrote his original paper on melanomas, which was published in the May, 1936, issue of the American Journal of Cancer, Time magazine, in its issue of June 1, 1938, under the title "The New Trick of Medicine," devoted a column and a half to the results Dr. Affleck summarized in his paper, March of Time dramatized the subject in its issue of the same week.

WALKER TAKES TIGERS INTO AMERICAN LEAD

Pittsburgh Takes First in National

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, May 3 (UP)—Madison Gerry Walker, whose basepath bufferyness had kept him in the Detroit doghouse more often than in the lineup, has taken a new lease on brain and hand spark-plugged the Tigers to the top of the American league.

The 28-year-old outfielder who found it easy to get on base, and do nothing right when he arrived, finally has hit his stride and can do no wrong.

His work yesterday in pacing the Tigers to a 5-3 win over the Cincinnati Sox was a sample. His home run in the seventh broke a 5-5 deadlock. It was his third hit for a perfect week. He drew another base on balls, stole one base, scored three runs and drove in two.

Top Batter
His batting average of .588 tops every other major league player. He is straight to the point. He has led all players in both leagues. With 11 runs batted in, Walker is topped only by Johnny Mike of the Boston Red Sox. Walker is hitting .500 with 12, and has three home runs are one less than the quartet of circuit clouts collected by Bob Johnson of the Athletics.

The New York Yankees dropped from the lead before the largest crowd the major league season, 12,550. They took a 5-4 licking from the Boston Red Sox. Brock's fumble led the winning run home in the ninth. He was hit in the ninth inning gave the Washington Senators a 10-7 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics. Cleveland and St. Louis were rained out.

Pirates in First
The Pittsburgh Pirates took over first place in the National league by handling the Cincinnati Reds their eighth defeat in nine starts, 7-2. The St. Louis Cardinals lost their second straight game, 4-1. The Philadelphia Phillies were hit by the New York Giants won, 3-1.

It was the first clean sweep of the season, and it was accompanied by a remarkable display of batting power, which reached its climax with a 20-hit assault on four Mission hurlers in the seven-inning window of the game, double header.

Williams Hits
The Solons cracked 10 hits in taking the opener, 6-3, and then doubled their output in the 11th game to win 14-0. Ed Williams collected six hits in the combat.

All other Sunday double headers were rained out. The San Diego Padres, first of the series ended with 4-3 counts.

San Diego, first a week ago, slipped to second place in breaking even with Oakland. Melvin Bellis pitched the Oaks to a 4-2 victory in opening the double bill and Marnie Salvo hit the Padres to a 3-0 win in the second game.

Seals in Third
The San Francisco Seals wound up in third place by splitting the series with the Portland Beavers. The Seals combined pitching effort to give the Seals a 7-4 win starting the day. In the second game of the double bill, the Seals won two hits, both by Boss.

Los Angeles finished two games ahead of Seattle in their battle for fourth place by dividing the double header. Pay Thomas was the series for the Angels by blanking the Indians with six hits for a 7-0 win. Holt hit a homer for the winners. spent at Wassencoburg castle, in France, with her daughters to Italy and the Adriatic coast.

Mayor Mercier, confident that his services will be asked, is already to officiate and make the customary speech after the ceremony.

"I have been planning to retire from politics," he told me. "So this is the final act of my career. No other mayor of France has married a king in nearly two centuries."

Quite Happy

I was received by Mrs. Simpson on Saturday at the chateau here after arranging by letter for an interview. I found her wearing a new Paris creation, a delivered-schlaparelli tailored black wool suit, fastened with a liver button, and a high necked white crepe blouse, with black neckties and bishops of a chess set.

She seemed quite happy in anticipation of the duke's arrival.

Gowns Chosen for Coming Wedding of Mrs. Simpson

By MARY FENTRESS

PARIS, May 3 (UP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson has chosen a luscious delectable for her wedding night.

The garment, now being made by Schiaparelli, is a sophisticated creation in supple blue twinkled crepe, stuffed with shining silver tulle, and is made along close-fitting lines, with a long swirling skirt. It is equipped with a zipper, decorated with sapphires, in the back.

It is one of 18 dresses being made for Mrs. Simpson honeymoon with the duke of Windsor.

British "Flays Down"

British newspaper correspondents were not interested in Mrs. Simpson's new dresses today as their papers intend to "play down" her romances with the duke of Windsor. Edward's favorite color, blue, dominates the honeymoon garments. One of the most interesting frocks decorated with a huge red lobster in front, fully two feet long.

An alternate dress, featuring butterflies in lieu of buttons.

MINE SINCE '59 HAS NO MISHAPS

Ohio Man Proud of Record of Never Missing Day's Work Because of Accident

STEUENVILLE, O.—Harry Carroll, 88, of nearby Wolf Run, is prouder of his 78 years in the mines without a "lost time" accident than he is of being the oldest active coal miner in the United States.

Carroll has been mining since he was 10 and recently the mining division of the All-Ohio Safety Council honored him for his 78-year record and named him the oldest working coal miner in the country.

Carroll was not casually recorded almost was toppled March 11—his 84th birthday—when he jammed his thumb. Although the joint of the finger is still swollen, he has never lost a day at the mine.

The hardy miner expects to keep on working just as long as he is able to win a shovel. He is being closely pressed for the oldest miner title by 84-year-old Isaac "Ike" Six of Nelsonville, O.

Carroll worked the coal mines at 13 and except for coal intervals on the farm, has mined coal ever since. Like Carroll, he has never sustained serious injuries, nor even been confined to bed through illness.

Both men, although eligible for state old age pensions, have declined them.

Neither of the miners has asked or received special consideration because of his age.

Carroll shovels coal in the Warner Collieries at Wolf Run and Six is a leader for the Hocking Valley Mining company near Nelsonville.

Prices Rise for Idaho Apples

Auction markets are situated in Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and St. Paul.

More Wives Entering Non-Support Charges

CHICAGO, May 3 (U.P.)—Domestic relations Judge George B. Weiss notes that improved business has sent a record number of wives in pursuit of husbands to court for non-support charges.

When a broadened business picture started an increase flow of funds into the pockets of errant husbands, some of their wives who had seen non-support cases crumble in the dust of the depression renewed their litigation for support, Judge Weiss says.

He estimated renewal of these forgotten cases has increased work of the judicial service department 21 per cent.

A Good Thing Bears Repeating

You will recall how we repeated our recommendation of IMA MINES when it was being offered at 75¢ a share.

You will recall how we "repeated" that there was an ever-increasing demand for its principal product—Tungsten.

You will recall how we "repeated" that with the installation of new added machinery IMA should increase its production.

You will recall how we "repeated" that IMA would soon be on a production and earning basis.

Without trying to second-guess, may we remind you that IMA MINES has done everything we have said it would do.

Since April 1st IMA MINES has shipped 5 Yards of sulphides and about 16 tons of Tungsten—Next week it expects to ship still another carload of sulphides and the week following, out goes another shipment of Tungsten.

ARE YOU STANDING STILL? DO YOU READ THIS AND THEN Later Weep—or Will You Buy Now and Later Weep?

EXCLUSIVE NEW KETCHUM CLUB WILL LIMIT CLIENTELE

DETROIT PLANS WALL ENCLOSING RESORT PROJECT

Construction to Start Soon After July 5; Lodge Doing Repairs

KETCHUM, May 3 (Special)—Admission to the exclusive club which will be erected in Ketchum by George Weinbrener of Detroit will be restricted to select members and their friends. It was announced today that Weinbrener purchased an entire block of Ketchum property from Mrs. Gertrude Gates for $5,000. According to tentative plans a seven-foot track wall will be constructed around the block, 13 inches thick. The building will be a one-story structure, 20 feet high and probably be constructed of native rock or stone.

Mrs. Gates has agreed to remove all present buildings from the property by July 5 and it is expected that construction will start immediately after that date. Weinbrener to Ketchum was Capt. LeRoy Smith, engineer and captain of U. S. artillery. He is on active duty at Fort Belknap from the army and will take charge of the building project after their stay in Ketchum both last fall and this spring. He is relative to building plans. From Boise they flew to St. Louis. They will return to Ketchum about the first of July.

Just before leaving Halley, Mr. Weinbrener remarked, "I won't say that this is going to be the finest in the world. I'll say it's to be the finest."

REPAIRS AT LODGE
KETCHUM, May 3 (Special)—Painting and repairs are now being carried out at Sun Valley lodge. Construction work will start soon on the new hotel development which will cater to more moderate purses than does the present world-famous winter resort.

B. H. Prater, chief engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad company, and Lawrence MacNeil, general superintendent of the Ketchum Construction company, spent last week in Ketchum relative to the development of the new hotel which will be in the form of a Bavarian village, approximately 800 feet north and east of the present lodge. Buildings will be of two-story frame construction with ample fire proofing protection. The central feature of the square will be the Challenger Inn.

Mr. MacNeil stated that only skilled men would be employed and that there would be very little work started for another month.

A date is also being built at Sun Valley on Trill creek in preparation for the fish hatchery which will be installed. Some little difficulty has been experienced in reaching bedrock and test holes are being sunk farther up the stream than the original site.

Assistants: Mrs. Moorman, Mrs. Jeff Peterson, Mrs. Leo Vinning, Mrs. Martin Wright, Mrs. E. E. Wright and Mrs. A. M. Martin. Mrs. Dorothy Gentry, sister-in-law of Mrs. Gentry of Jerome, was an out-of-town guest.

A large crowd attended the school exhibit of the year's work and the band concert Friday at the school house. Besides the band numbers there were several trumpet and concert solos and duets given. An extemporaneous program included Mrs. Moorman's talk on "Child Health and How They Are Built," Mary Jefferies gave a talk on "Choosing a Career" and Delphine Turner a "Duet" with Albert K. Heber, English instructor, announced the numbers.

The Murtaugh Orange will sponsor a program at the school Wednesday evening at the school. Dr. McMartin of the county health unit will give a talk on child health. The nurse, Miss Heber, will be present also.

Sonja Henie's Fondness For Bananas Revealed
SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—Sonja Henie, seven star and Olympic skating champion, used to slip bananas in her father's store in Oslo, Norway, according to John Pagarlie, who once was her next door neighbor.

"Sonja's father operated a little tobacco store and fruit stand in our neighborhood," Pagarlie said. "Many times in her father's store I saw her get up on a box and when he wasn't looking slyly take a banana off the bunch that hung from the ceiling there. Sonja must have been about 5 years old then."
