SUPREME COURT DECISIONS LOOM BY 1ST OF JUNE

WASHINGTON, May 17 (UP)—The supreme court today virtually assured decisions on constitutional questions of the unemployment insurance and old age phases of the New Deal program before the first of June when it announced that date as the end of its present court term.

Announcement that the term will end June 1 came after a session which brought several decisions of significance but no ruling in the important pending social security cases.

Decisions of the court today included: An opinion in which the court approved the procedure set up by congress for bringing suits to recover taxes paid under the invalidated act.

A decision upholding the far-reaching tax provisions of the Louisiana chain store act. The act imposes graduated taxes upon chain stores concerns with the number of stores operated by the chain anywhere—even outside Louisiana—before the court could ever have more than nine justices under 75 years of age.

The entering passengers, thinking she had fainted, ran forward to help her. They saw that a six-inch knife had been driven to the hilt into the back of her neck, behind the right ear.

LEAFHOPPER OFFERS NEW PERIL TO SOUTH IDAHO CROP

EXPERT REPORTS HIGH POPULATION

Status is Outlined by J. R. Douglas of Entomology Station Here

South central Idaho farmers faced recurrence of an old problem today with report of "moderately high population" of leafhopper in this area.

The leafhopper status was outlined in the 1937 report made public by J. R. Douglas, associate entomologist at the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine here.

"Abundant soil moisture in February caused by precipitation and melting of the snow has been favorable for spring germination of the pests, Dr. Douglas said, 'is confirmed by spring surveys of breeding areas.'

"The magnitude of the spring breeding of leafhoppers in this area depends upon the abundance of favorable host plants. The time of development and the rate of movement into cultivated areas depend largely on the weather during the next month (May). If weather conditions are normal, the migration into cultivated areas should start about June 5."

Measures Favorable Feared "The leafhoppers, growers said today, form a menace to beans and tomatoes more than to beets because of the new highly successful resistant beet seed now being used in this territory. Early bean planting now going on, they indicated, may be influenced by the report."

Dr. Douglas' report stated that January was the coldest month of record, and that February was also below normal—both conditions that would tend to favor leafhopper conditions. He pointed out, however, that "the full effect of the above weather conditions on the leafhopper population will not be known until the weather during the period of snowmelt. Therefore, the protection of extreme cold weather was not anticipated above the air temperature—above the snow cover would indicate as the blanket of snow interfering production of the pest on wintered eggs near the soil surface."

Deaths Grover A. Stillman, coroner, said after an autopsy on the girl's body in Pocatello that she died of "shock, burns of the body, contusions of the head and exposure" some time before noon yesterday.

He said a cut across her throat was not deep enough to have caused death but "may have been a contributing cause."

The burns were caused by ignited gasoline with which, apparently, the killer attempted to destroy the girl's body.

Detectives checked the story of Mrs. Theresa Moscato, operator of a filling station near the woods in Hazelton where the girl was found, and said she saw a "frail-looking" woman carrying a cardboard box enter the woods Saturday afternoon with a boy and a girl. A couple of hours later the woman emerged, Mrs. Moscato said, still carrying the box but no longer accompanied by the children.

"So Cute" Mrs. Moscato refused to view the girl's body or visit the boy. She said she "couldn't stand" to see them. She remembered the incident, she said, because the boy was "so cute."

Officers saw significance in the woman's statement because of the fact that the children's coats, hats and shoes were missing. They might have been carried out of the woods in the cardboard box.

The boy, his throat slashed with a knife, has a chance to recover.

AFL PLANS FOR BATTLE AGAINST LEADERS OF CIO

Completion of the national labor front was highlighted today with ratification of a 10-year, non-strike contract between movie actors and producers. High-salaried stars will return, and their demands for better salaries for minor players over which they threatened to strike, were granted in full.

Guild officers announced they were still in sympathy with striking studio technicians but were opposed to joining them. Banks of the strikers were reduced to eight unions when the culminated in a vote on a decision to return to work. The costumed union abandoned the strike last week.

Prosecutions started Criminal conspiracy prosecutions against 13 strike leaders and national labor relations board hearings against the four main CIO leaders. Auburn Shoe Manufacturers were postponed one week today, to permit resumption of peace conferences in the 53-day Maine shoe strike.

The American Federation of Labor planned a nation-wide war against the committee for industrial organization for control of transit workers, announcing it was ready to fight the C. I. O. on the streets in New York, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

"Women's Brigade" A 50-member "women's brigade" organized by the Workers Alliance of America, representing WPA workers—met in Washington to ask congress for a $3,000,000 relief appropriation for 1937.

With two main dining rooms closed at the Beverly-Walshire because musicians, cooks and waiters spread through Los Angeles and Hollywood. Meanwhile 2,000 employees of 18 San Francisco hotels continued their strike.

A strike of 2,000 employees which impaired service in nine St. Louis hotels was at an end after the St. Louis hotel association agreed to recognize five American Federation of Labor unions.

Honolulu Trouble In Honolulu the national labor relations board investigated complaints of 500 strikers from Hawaii, an sugar plantation who said they were held in a state "bordering on medieval servitude" and that plantation guards intimidated workers with machine guns.

Five of the nation's largest independent steel companies were operating in a 10-day "grace period" given them by the John L. Lewis steel workers organizing committee to accede to union demands, with strikes threatened if the companies do not sign union contracts. The ultimatum was against the Bethlehem Steel Corp. Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Inland Steel and Crucible Steel—employing 100,000 of the nation's 200,000 steel-workers.

Additional features of the Washington trip were announced during the meeting. Two of the features will be a two hour visit to West Point and attendance at a big league ball game in Cincinnati.

The boys will meet again at the per-jamboree training camp which will be held at Piler on June 14, 15 and 16. They will then attend the area-wide jamboree which will be held in Twin Falls on Lakeview field, June 16, 19 and 20, leaving for Washington on June 20.

McLaglen Appears On Roxy Screen

The picture which opened at the Roxy theater yesterday was Universal's "The Magnificent Brute." The star is Victor McLaglen, winner of the Academy award for an outstanding performance.

The story is big, with tremendous human appeal. It ran in Liberty magazine under the title "Big" and was followed with breathless, increasing interest by millions of readers. The author is Owen Francis.

The cast is big. One ragorous blonde is Blanche Barnes. The other is Jean Dixon. There is a handsome young giant, William Hall, who in the role of the menace, engages in a heroic battle with Victor McLaglen. Henry Armetta provides moments of delightful fun. Billy Hurst portrays the 10-year-old lad in the story.

All the thrills of a trip to Hollywood were provided local fans yesterday at the Orpheum theater in "A Star Is Born." David O. Selznick's stirring technicolor production starring Janet Gaynor and Fredric March.

Janet Gaynor and Fredric March have written-to-order roles and have never turned in performances to match these.

Will Rogers Plays In Idaho's Feature

Showing today at the Idaho theater is Will Rogers in "David Harum," with Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor and Stepin Fetchit. In this picture Will Rogers plays the title role of a conservative small-town banker and horse-trader who has a local reputation of being hard, grasping and shrewd, but he belies his reputation by playing match-maker to a young banker who works in his bank.

Comjuz Wednesday the Idaho theater presents as its regular mid-week returns, "The Big Broadcast of 1937" with Jack Benny, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Bob Burns, Martha Raye, Betty Goodwin and his orchestra, Shirley Ross and many others.

JUDGE'S VERDICT DIVIDES ON SUIT

Sutphen Partly Reverses and Partly Upholds Rulings On Hansen Lands

Word was received here late this afternoon to the effect that Judge D. H. Sutphen of Gooding, fourth judicial district, partly reversed and partly upheld the action of the county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, in the consolidated cases of Peter Link, Esq., J. Hager and Vance T. Navler, plaintiffs against the board of county commissioners in a tax assessment action.

Land owned in the Hansen butte area by the three men, prior to a commissioners' meeting last July, had been assessed on a water stock basis. The board raised the assessment to $27.50 an acre and the plaintiffs appealed the action.

The court judge it is understood, that the assessment was not "out of line" on irrigated acres but that in this case the assessment had been made on a water stock basis. Mr. Link's statement, his own statement, was owner of 435 acres of land. The commissioners raised this number to 512 and the court held that the $27.50 assessment should apply on 461 of the acres.

In Mr. Hager's case the court reduced the number of acres assessed at the higher rate from 150 to 125. No change in the assessment against Mr. Navler was made by Judge Sutphen.

Chapman and Chapman were special attorneys for the commissioners in the case, heard in district court here, while the plaintiffs were represented by Bethwell and Povey. Both are Twin Falls law firms.

FLAMES DESTROY SUMMER RESORT

Valued $250,000 Building at Lake Tahoe Consumed By Fire Last Night

TAHOE CITY, Calif., May 17 (UP)—A Calneva lodge, luxurious summer resort near Hollywood movie stars and Reno divorce-seekers mingled without crossing their state boundaries, was reduced to smoldering ruins today at an estimated loss of $250,000.

The California-Nevada boundary line ran through the center of the dam floor.

The log lodge was inspired by the stage play "Lightning" which had a boundary line resort where law breakers skipped from one side of the building to the other to evade process servers. Frank Bacon starred in the stage play and the late Will Rogers played in a movie version.

The fire last night came just two weeks before the scheduled summer reopening.

Gambling was permitted only in the Nevada side of the house. California authorities raided their side last summer, charging that state liquor import laws were being violated by waiters who served patrons in tables in California from the bar on the Nevada side of the room.

TELEGRAPH RATE CUTS ANNOUNCED

Reduction of Overnight Wires Seen as Decided Economy For Twin Falls

Drastic reductions in rates for overnight telegraph service which will become effective June 1 will provide substantial savings to residents of Twin Falls. It was disclosed last night by T. J. Foster, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company. A tariff filed Saturday with the federal communications commission at Washington, D. C., will reduce the cost of both short and long messages and cut the telegraph bill of the nation by approximately $3,000,000.

"The effect of these reductions," Mr. Foster said, "is that the charge for 25 words will be the same as, and in some cases lower than, the present charge for a 10-word night message and that long messages can be sent at relatively even lower rates."

Typical reductions cited by Mr. Foster showed that from Twin Falls to Salt Lake City the old rate is 38 cents and the new 28 cents for 25 words, the old rate 72 cents and the new 46 for 100 words. To Chicago, the old rate is 90 cents and the new 50 for 25 words and the old rate $1.80 and the new $1.40 for 100 words. Similar economy results on messages to all other points.

Indiana Man Ready to Die After Preaching Own Funeral Sermon

COATSVILLE, Ind., May 17 (UP)—Wade Milhain, 88, was prepared for death today. He has preached and set up his own tombstone, fashioned his own coffin, and yesterday he preached his own funeral sermon. Even his pallbearers have been paid off—a fact in which he takes particular pride.

Five thousand persons attended his funeral services yesterday in this Indiana rural church. Three hundred jammed into the pews and the rest gathered outside to listen through open windows.

It was a gala gathering. "If a man has lived a nice, moral life it is no task for him to preach his own sermon, but for a bad man it is difficult," Milhain said. "I have lived a moderately moral life so I don't know who to preach my own funeral."

His eyes were watery. In a tired, strained tone he made the best of his situation with personal and classical anecdotes.

"Dad—what makes Americans different from other people?"

THAT'S pretty hard to explain, my boy... Let's see why are Americans different? Well—maybe it's their love for freedom. Freedom—and the courage to hold on to it at any cost. That means freedom from worry, too—and from uncertainty. Another word for this is security. For example—only seven out of every hundred people in the world are Americans... yet they own more life insurance than all the rest of the world put together! Sixty-four million of them are building up security for themselves and their loved ones, step by step, the American way—through life insurance. Americans are self-reliant people, you see. They don't believe in trusting their future to luck. Not when it's so easy to achieve peace of mind and freedom from uncertainty—through life insurance. Perhaps that is why Americans are different. Perhaps that is why America is the grandest spot on the globe—a great nation—a better nation. Its people dwell in security!

This is Life Insurance Week

THE SOONER YOU PLAN YOUR FUTURE... THE BETTER YOUR FUTURE WILL BE

MONEY AT WORK—FOR AMERICA

Through life insurance, more than 64,000,000 policyholders have saved BILLIONS of hard-working American dollars. Their money has helped a growing nation to buy homes, farms, and cities of business. The 5 BILLIONS now in mortgage loans is enough to build 20 cities, each with 35,000 homes. Their money has helped to finance public improvements. The 34 BILLIONS now in public bonds is enough to build schools for 8,000,000 children. Their money has helped create our national railway system. The 3 BILLIONS now in railroad securities is enough to put 60 streamlined trains on every 1,000 miles of track. Other billions have helped provide cheaper light, heat, and power; cash for emergencies. Busy dollars there, and dollars, symbols of true American thrift!

The Way of a Prophet? Every so often some "psychic" seer—astrologer, or what-not—bursts into print with prophesy. Each time the seer declares that he (or she) has a long list of past prophesies which hit the nail right on the head; and since people seldom bother to check up on the new prophesies, his reputation as a seer is thus enhanced.

PICNIC DRAWBACK What I have about picnics is the fact that the dishes are cardboard contraptions because somebody invariably gets peeping out below the pretty little black turban; the blue eyes, radiant and exciting now, the soft cheeks, the tiny nose, and the "You've found the apartment?"

in Chicago, and somehow I saved the city after the bomb at New York. And as soon as I saved enough money...

From this Washington end, however, convincing evidence is available that no change in the price can or will be made, as has been pointed out by several certain Washington insiders...

Someone recently took the pains to go back in the files and examine the predictions of a Cleveland prophet who gave tongue on February 4, 1936. This prophet claimed to have predicted the Morro Castle disaster, the murder of Huey Long, and the Pickford-Fairbanks divorce—yes, he was good, all right.

OUR CONTEST TOPIC for this week grows out of a discussion which involved many secrets. It was a woman's story. It was "Would a woman marry for love or for money, if she had the choice?"

"I know," he said grimly. "I felt like a bull in china shop the first few weeks. I still remember my first love. I was so dumbly correct. And that fish-baked Jennings watched me like a hawk, as if he suspected I intended to make off with the silver. However, Sybil means well enough."

CONCERN "The fact that cooperation exists is being denied officially, of course. In the official explanation it is pointed out that the gold price has fallen to 35 per cent in the last few months. The bank and the British government naturally are concerned."

Germany Will Try Again Say what you like about the German government, you must admit that it isn't easily scared.

Dear Pot Shots: Many people have been wondering whether Twin Falls had a slight earthquake last Friday. It seems the light fixtures jumped and the dishes rattled in my house. So I will explain the cause:

"So that I may meet with her approval?" "I'm not silly, Bob!" "I'm not," he repeated in surprise. "You never told me you lived in the West."

REMOTENESS What happened in the Dodd case is not so surprising in that it is the result of the excess of American trade for the inflow. But computations recently have been made which show that the trade (most travel, etc.) there is no excess in balanced volume sufficient to warrant the gold import.

New Deal in Harlan County? The senate civil liberties committee, having dug up an appalling set of facts about oppression and the suspension of civil rights in the Harlan county coal fields, declares that it looks "to the governor and the public conscience of Kentucky" to end this 15-year reign of terror.

The heart is nourished, not so much by the blood which it pumps to the heart. Obviously, therefore, any change which occurs in this large blood vessel at points near the heart muscle may interfere with the flow of blood into the heart. As people get older, the blood vessels become narrower and harder. In association with this process, they also become narrower and their blood-carrying capacity is reduced.

RECORD SEEN IN BUILDING TOTAL

Possibility Shown That 1937 Figure Will Reach Over $1,281,684 in City

With contemplated addition to a building actively already announced for Twin Falls, figures compiled today revealed that 1937 will probably be the greatest building year in the history of the city.

Total building permits applied for at the city hall since the first of the year show construction underway at the present time, some in valuation, to $256,584. This includes the unfinished total of $75,100 in permits issued so far this month.

With construction of the $125,000 addition to the Rogerson hotel; the building of the $300,000 Ambassador hotel, a seven story structure; construction of the $300,000 meat processing plant of the Associated Meat Producers; and possible approval of bonds which would see a $350,000 building program begun in city schools, total of building totals reached during the years 1931 through 1934 and also 1921 through 1928.

Greatest building year in Twin Falls according to records maintained by City Clerk W. H. Eldridge, came in 1919 when construction totaled $1,627,990. Total permits actually issued this year and not including those of the larger structures, show that 1937 to date is $193,748 ahead of building totals reached during the years 1931 through 1934 and also 1921 through 1928.

The May building total was expected to be raised approximately $27,000 this afternoon with receipt of building applications for this amount from A. Smith and E. W. McRoberts who are constructing eight new homes in the Lincoln Terrace sub-division, a section which officially becomes a part of Twin Falls this middle of this week.

LAUNDRY OWNERS ELECT JOHNSON SHOSHONE FALLS SPECTACLE ENDS

POCAHELLO, May 17 (Special)—Bruce P. Johnson, Burley, formerly of Twin Falls, was elected president of the Southern Idaho Laundry Owners' association at the 21st annual convention which closed here Saturday. For the first time the session was held jointly with the Idaho Dry Cleaners' association.

Other officers named were Harry Edger, Weiser, vice president, and E. A. McFay, Emmet, secretary. Retiring president is L. L. Gray, Nampa.

Definite selection of a convention city for the 1938 meeting was delayed but it was indicated that McCall would be chosen.

During the Saturday afternoon session, Larry White, Seattle, discussed better methods and a banquet in the evening closed the convention. It was attended by Stanley Brock, Winnipeg, president of the National Laundry Owners' association, who praised the Idaho chapter.

The present great demand for irrigation water this afternoon was termed the reason for the sudden curtailment of the flow over Shoshone falls Sunday.

Saturday night the volume over the falls was recorded at approximately 5,000 second feet but hundreds of Sunday visitors witnessed only "a diminished" flow because of the irrigation use.

Officials of both the Twin Falls Canal company and the Idaho Power company expect greater flows over the falls will result in the near future because of continued melting of snows in high mountain areas.

Canal officials report storage lakes at capacity and said it is probable that runoffs will provide water which will return the falls to a semblance of former glory.

No prediction as to when such a runoff would come could be made, however, the weather being entirely responsible.

DUKE'S WEDDING PLANS TO BE ANNOUNCED TOMORROW

'COURT' WILL BE HELD FOR PRESS

Marriage Will Ogle For the "Simplest" Ceremony, Reporters Hear

By MARY FENTRESS
MONTPELIER, France, May 17 (Special)—The duke of Windsor will hold court for the press tomorrow to make public the final wedding plans for his marriage with Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

"Early in June" was the word going around today among the 158 reporters here from all over the world.

Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for the couple, relinquished time and again that he had no knowledge of the wedding plans. He promised that they would be made public at the castle after lunch tomorrow.

Telephone Shortages
So many reporters have swarmed into the sleepy little village of Montpelier south of Paris that the town's dozen or so telephones were not sufficient to meet the demand.

The attendance of any members of the English royal family was not definite. The duke wants his youngest and favorite brother, the duke of Kent, to be best man, and his sister, the princess royal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bedaux, who own the Chateau de Candé, will attend.

Hints to Gardeners

HOW TO GROW SWEET PEAS
Observance of several important rules will assure the gardener a gratifying growth of sweet peas if seeds are of good quality and weather conditions not freakish.

Start the seeds indoors in coarse, gritty sand in a flat box. Germination is more certain than when seeds are planted in open soil.

Prepare soil outdoors as follows: Dig a trench 12 inches deep and 4 inches wide. Place three to four inches of rotted cow manure in trench and mix with bottom soil.

Prick out seedlings from flat soon after they push through sand. Set them outdoors, as soon as soil is worked, about 4 to 5 inches apart in the row, covering the roots well.

Do not water until vines are well established (about ten days). Lay hose on ground and soak soil thoroughly to the full length of roots.

Light, frequent sprinklings are damaging. Laterals will grow near surface and be destroyed when soil is baked and cracked in hot weather.

Do not plant against the south side of a building unless protected by a wire fence or in the open. It on an open plot, provide support for vines. Drive eight-foot stakes two feet into ground at each end of the row and string cord horizontally and vertically.

Prepare a fleece cloth cover to place over flowers during the five midday hours when sun is burning, to prevent fading and warming of flowers.

For a longer blooming season, pick flowers regularly.

CCC ROAD CREWS ENCOUNTER SNOW

Week Taken to Open Route From Rock Creek to New Summer Camp

The mere fact that summer weather has been prevailing in and around Twin Falls for the past several days no indication that in some sections winter does not hold sway. It was revealed here this afternoon by C. H. Ramage, project superintendent of the Rock Creek CCC camp.

W. L. Zimmerman, former camp mechanic, and two mechanics returned from Percunpue Springs camp after spending over a week fighting deep snow and mud in their efforts, with the aid of a tractor-trailer, to open the road to the summer camp.

Following opening of the road, Ramage said this afternoon, R. E. Hartwell, forest service foreman, and five enrolled men from the Rock Creek camp moved to the springs where they will instigate a "clean-up" in preparation for start of a camp of 25 men who will be engaged in road control within the next few days.

Commanding officer, and O. L. Barnard, assistant project superintendent, have visited the summer site to check possible winter damage and make arrangements for necessary repairs before the present site is moved, Ramage said.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
PLAYS SAFE BY DISCARD

Secretary, American Bridge League
One reason why most good bridge players insist upon four of partner's bid suit to justify a raise, unless he has held it, is that if partner has bid on a four-card suit, a raise with three trumps declares a bare majority of the trump and leaves no safety margin to guard against a bad split in trumps.

However, there are many situations in which declarer himself can guard against four trumps in one hand, by the simple expedient of discarding a trump, instead of trumping.

In today's hand, as the heart suit is divided four and four in the hands of the opponents, it happens that three on trump would have been a safer contract for the North and South pair.

When the opening lead was made, South could count 10 tricks, provided he did not have to lose a trump trick. He could not guard against five trumps in one hand, but if the trumps were four-two he could make his contract.

West continued with the queen of hearts and then played the ace of spades, instead of ruffing this trick, discarded a small diamond.

Now West could not continue hearts. He shifted to diamonds, but South won with the ace and then led out all of the trumps. While this play left him without a trump in either hand, his foresight was rewarded, as West had held four trumps originally.

Had South ruffed the third heart lead, his contract would have been defeated three tricks.

There was nothing to gain and everything to lose by ruffing. South could have discarded only two losers on dummy's clubs. In any event, and would still be left with a diamond loser.

Camels is the cigarette that I find permits me to smoke as often as I please. It's Camels for the 'fence-diction' sake. They're so mild they never make my throat harsh."
