U. S. Court Approves Constitutionality Of Pensions, Unemployment Legislation

Decision Upholds Enactment Of Social Security Measure

WASHINGTON, May 24 (UP)—The supreme court today approved the constitutionality of the twin keystones of the New Deal social security act—old age pensions and unemployment legislation.

In a third verdict the court approved the provisions of the Alabama state unemployment act—a state law enacted to carry out by local cooperation the general terms of the federal unemployment act.

The decisions thus served to uphold the entire comprehensive federal-state unemployment alleviation scheme contemplated by framers of the social security act.

The decisions, coming as the climax of a supreme court term in which no New Deal legislation has been disapproved, established the validity of two of the most sweeping projects undertaken by the Roosevelt administration.

5 to 4 Vote

The court upheld the federal unemployment insurance provisions by a 5 to 4 vote. The old age pension verdict was by a 7 to 2 vote. The Alabama act was upheld 5 to 4.

The series of opinions virtually completed the court's work for the first year marked by outbreak of one of the most intense controversies ever to involve the high tribunal, as a result of President Roosevelt's judicial reorganization proposal.

Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, liberal jurist and youngest member of the high bench in point of service, wrote both of the important majority opinions upholding old age pensions and unemployment.

Decisions Broad

The terms of the decisions were broad, affirming in the unemployment insurance case the right of the federal government to launch a program for the general welfare of the nation in concert with the state.

Close scrutiny was expected to be given the opinions for indications as to whether they carried the legal basis for achievement of other New Deal goals through the means of legislation drafted along the general lines of the security act.

The unemployment determination revealed a deep split among the jurists, following generally the lines of previous 5 to 4 decisions.

Convicts escape Texans' prison

Long-term inmates tunnel way to freedom from Retrieve Jail

ANGELETON, Tex., May 24 (UP)—Ten long-term convicts, serving sentences ranging from six to 89 years tunneled under a Texas prison at Retrieve prison farm near here early today and escaped.

The felons broke through the floor of the dormitory at 12:30 a. m., made their way under the buildings, through barbed wire entanglements and escaped without detection by guards.

Only invertebrate felons are kept at Retrieve under the prison system's segregation program.

CHEMISTS AWAIT BLOOD TESTS IN POCATELO CASE

Missing Victim "Murder" Mystery at Standstill In Gate City

POCATELO, May 24 (UP)—Developments in Pocatello's missing victim "murder" mystery were at a standstill today when Bannock county sheriff's officers awaited a chemist's report on blood samples scraped from the tounge of a sedan.

Fingerprints taken from the vehicle were forwarded to the federal bureau of identification in Washington for possible comparison with others on file.

J. L. McCarthy, said to be the owner of the blood-soaked car, was held in county jail for investigation.

Dazed Condition

Attempts to question him were fruitless. He either is under the influence of drugs, or is feigning the condition, officers said.

When arrested Thursday in a dazed condition, McCarthy had mumbled to officers that he took 12 numbers of barbitol, they said.

Search of the district, which a bloody cap and underclothing were discovered Saturday were of no avail.

Officers advanced possibility that the body may have been dumped into the Portneuf river, but could find no trace along the banks of the stream, which would indicate such action.

Blood Stains

Examination of the car revealed that blood had spurted onto the rear windows of the car, puddled under the cushion, and soaked into the rear seat.

Strands of red hair were plastered into the stains.

A spot of blood-soaked gravel was found on highway 30 three miles west of Pocatello, and officers said they thought the car had been parked there for at least two hours.

It was at this spot that bloody clothing, two plates, and a frying pan were found.

The car was discovered abandoned, near Downey, Idaho, Thursday.

Cars Banned After Tests on Highways

POCATELO, May 24 (UP)—Traffic officers banned from the highways 15 automobiles after an inspection of 2,000 during a safety week drive which ended today. The cars banned were labeled with red stickers. About 20 percent of the cars inspected proved to be defective in one or more tests.

Idaho Falls Withdraws Application For Water

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO, May 24 (UP)—The city council today had withdrawn its application for 1,000 second feet of water from the Snake river. The application was submitted for a hearing before R. W. Parke, state commissioner, May 28. Reclamation officials opposed it. City fathers said they would permit the water to be used for irrigation, but to obtain construction of a 10- or 15-mile canal, 75 miles north.

By HENRY B. HENSON (Copyright 1937, United Press)

CLEVELAND, May 24 (UP)—A newborn son was born to Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh in England on Wednesday. Two close relatives of the flying couple announced the birth to the United Press.

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, and her daughter, Anne E. Cutter, said that the family had received a letter to that effect Saturday. The letter reported that both the mother and baby were well.

The announcement came first through a housekeeper to Mrs. Cutter, who authorized her to announce the fact of birth. It later was confirmed by Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, an employee of the Cleveland public library.

The new son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh is the third born to the famous flying couple since their marriage May 27, 1925.

The fate of the first, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., is known the world over. He was shot down in 1932. The second son, Charles August Lindbergh, Jr., was born in 1935. He is now a lieutenant in the U. S. army.

TAXPAYERS WILL BALLOT TUESDAY ON SCHOOL NEED

Verdict of $350,000 Issue of Building Bonds Will Tell Future of System

Taxpayers of Twin Falls and territory adjoining the city will pass judgment starting at 1 p. m. Tuesday on the proposed $350,000 bond issue to relieve over-crowding in the school system here.

All real estate owners whose names are on county tax rolls are eligible to vote, and the voting territory includes all of independent school district No. 1—extending to the river on the north, two miles west from the original centerline, three miles east and three miles south.

1 to 7 P. M. Polls, located at Bickel and Lincoln schools, will be open from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Tuesday. Informational committee headed by O. E. McClain reminded taxpayers this afternoon.

The committee said that motor cars will be available for transportation throughout the time for balloting.

Approximately 40 cars will be available. It was announced by officials of the Parent-Teacher council and the C. G. Women of the P.-T. A. groups in the city, all supporting the bond issue, had lined up 20 machines Tuesday afternoon.

Parade Dropped

Tentative plans for a parade of school pupils Tuesday were dropped this afternoon because of difficulty of assembling the students at the noon luncheon hour.

Taxpayers who have purchased property too recently to have paid taxes to date, but whose names are on the tax rolls after filing of the deed, are eligible to cast a ballot.

Husbands or wives of real property taxpayers are also eligible to vote under state law.

Dividing Lines

Dividing lines determining in which precinct city residents and taxpayers of the actual district are to vote are as follows:

Qualified taxpayers living west of Blue Lakes boulevard north, north and west of Robinson street, and west of the highway running south from Birch Park, will vote at Lincoln school.

Qualified taxpayers living east of Robinson street, will vote at Lincoln school.

End Comes Unexpectedly To Richest Man, Aged 97

Philanthropist Gave Away $750,000,000 of Fortune to Charity, Science

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., May 24 (UP)—The body of John D. Rockefeller, who died in his 98th year after making $1,000,000,000 and giving away $750,000,000 will be sent north in a private car tonight for burial.

In the rooms of a castle in the hills overlooking the Hudson river at Tarrytown, N. Y., members of the clan Rockefeller gathered to pay tribute to their patriarch and founder.

There, in the great hall, the funeral will be held Wednesday. Soon afterward the body will be sent for burial to Cleveland, where the multi-millionaire, 80 years ago, was a penniless youth.

Rockefeller died yesterday at 4:05 a. m. (EST) in his winter palace here. Death came while he was in coma, almost imperceptible, and there was no pain. It was caused by an aged heart simply giving up its task.

Retired in 1911

His death will not change the course of his dynasty nor affect its future. Since he retired in 1911, his son, John D., Jr., has been in complete command of the family's double functioning organization.

And among his descendants were five grandsons, one of whom has two sons, who have been trained or are in training to take over the dynasty's future and power.

Expressions of Regret

But his death brought expressions of regret and sympathy from hundreds for the man who in the early years of the century was accused of every sin of avarice and ruthlessness, and was labeled by the muckrakers of the day as "the most hated man in America."

Among his business contemporaries, Carnegie made his millions in steel, Harriman, Hill, and Ould made theirs in railroad, and he made his—more millions than they.

2 JAILED, FINED IN CREAM THEFT

Theft of cream from the Jerome Cooperative creamery brought county jail sentences and fines today to two Twin Falls men.

Lawrence C. Gabbart and D. W. Murphy were sentenced by Judge C. Y. Larson, attorney for the county, to 60 days in the county jail, to fines of $50 each and costs of $7.50 apiece.

At the arraignment today both waived the statutory time for plea, entered guilty pleas and then waived the legal time for passing sentence.

The pair was arrested by city police last Thursday after investigation into disappearance of five 10-gallon cans of cream valued at $41.

Complaint of embezzlement filed by police Chief Howard Gillette accused Murphy of taking the cream and Gabbart of aiding him.

If the $50 fines and the $7.50 costs are not paid, the men will serve out the amount at the rate of $2 per day.

Hudelson to Give Address

Homer Hudelson, manager of the veterans' administration with headquarters at Boise, will be speaker of the day at Memorial day exercises which will be observed in Twin Falls Tuesday.

Mr. Hudelson will speak at the Twin Falls cemetery where a complete program will be given, according to Paul R. Taber chairman.

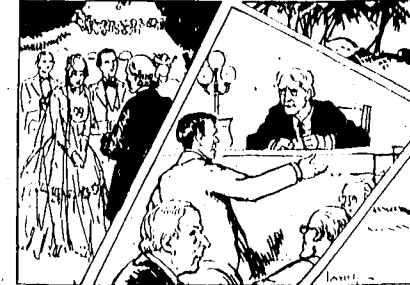

Highlights in Life of Founder of Standard Oil Dynasty

In a weathered farmhouse, on rocky acre near Buffalo, N. Y., a child was born to William Asst. and Julia Davidson Rockefeller on July 8, 1839. He was named John Davison Rockefeller. As he grew old enough to read, he was taught to study the Bible, under the zealous guidance of his mother, who instilled in him love of religion that lasted through life.

A keen business sense developed in young Rockefeller early in his boyhood. He made his first business venture at the age of 8. A turkey he had killed he next day sold for $1. He found, fed, and guarded them, and in the autumn he sold his brood of 100, part of which he gave to the church.

In 1853, when John was 14, the family moved to Cleveland, O. John attended high school irregularly and never was graduated. At 16 he found a job as a clerk in a commission house. Two years later he went into the business for himself. In 1862 the oil business boomed and he and his partner formed the Standard Oil Co. He bought full control of the company.

While Rockefeller was laying the foundation for his great fortune, he married Laura C. Spelman of Cleveland, in 1864. His business grew at a rapid rate, and in 1868 he incorporated a merger and "bought the Standard Oil Company." In 1882 he headed a virtual monopoly of the U. S. oil industry. This was dissolved by court order in 1915, but he kept his leadership.

ROOSEVELT ASKS CHILD LABOR RESTRICTIONS IN MESSAGE

MINIMUM WAGE, MAXIMUM HOUR LAWS REQUESTED

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt today called upon congress to extend the frontiers of social progress by restricting child labor and enacting flexible standards for minimum wages and maximum hours.

In a message to congress he proposed that "only the goods which have been produced under conditions which meet the minimum standards of free labor shall be admitted to interstate commerce."

The president said other goods should be regarded as "contraband." Although he emphasized the flexibility of the proposed legislation, congressional leaders moved immediately to lay before both houses legislation designed to effect Mr. Roosevelt's program.

Mr. Roosevelt's message was, in effect, a challenge to the courts to deny the right of owners to bargain with labor conditions. He said his plan was "within the common sense framework and purpose" of the constitution.

Neither his message nor proposed legislation so far revealed stipulated exact maximum work week or minimum wage levels.

SPEAKER URGES GOOD CHARACTER

Baccalaureate Sermon Given By Rev. E. L. White At Gymnasium

Graduates of Twin Falls high school and a congregation filling the gymnasium heard Rev. E. L. White, pastor of the First Methodist church, urge good character development which would fit them for a place in the world.

He said the duty of the future is to live for the benefit of the whole human race, thinking it can do so by practicing the golden rule.

He said that for whatever a man grows, that shall he also reap. He said that the title of his sermon was "Human Values and Divine Decrees." The first part of his topic was "The duty of the human race thinking it can do so by practicing the golden rule."

Emphasis was placed on the value of health as a young person's working capital without which it is impossible to attain any place of influence. With untreated faults you are rich beyond the comprehension of man," he said. "You are going to be called to fill places of responsibility and you will need all the physical, mental and moral strength you can command. God forbid the nature never forgets."

Graduates were warned not to undervalue their work or feel discouragement since the impressive accomplishments making the world institutions today are the product of those willing to take leadership and those willing to obey. The president called to fill places of responsibility and you will need all the physical, mental and moral strength you can command. God forbid the nature never forgets."

DEATH SUMMONS J. D. ROCKEFELLER

millions put together—in oil. His Standard Oil company crushed all opposition, controlled the major fields and in the time reared the value of $75,000,000. It stirred so much public indignation that it was dissolved under the anti-trust law and its founder was fined $28,000,000.

Spends Huge Sum—He reared them as his philanthropies—made through his son—became almost as prodigious as his acquisitions. Over $100,000,000 went into educational projects, another approximately $100,000,000 went into medical and scientific research, $100,000,000 was spent for sanitation and medical social service, another $100,000,000 went into religion. These were his major philanthropies in round sums, but there were hundreds of smaller ones.

No member of his family was present when he died since his death was quite unexpected. He had been planning to go north to Lakewood, N. J., home as he did every spring. Last Thursday he complained of feeling tired. His wife, Mrs. F. A. Evans, a distant relative and his hostess, was called as was John H. Yord, his valet for 30 years, and these were the only persons who saw him when he breathed his last.

In the office of the Daytona Beach Recorder, composed of the setting up of this obituary notice. Rockefeller, John Davison, in his ninety-eighth year, at the Casemont Hotel, died at 10:30 a. m. on May twenty-third, nineteen hundred thirty-seven. Funeral private. Kindly omit flowers.

Food to Preach—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Riverside Baptist church of New York City, during the funeral by the Rockefeller, will preach the funeral in the Pico Pointe Hills estate Wednesday morning, in the same room as the funeral of Laura Spelman Rockefeller, Rockefeller's wife, was held 22 years ago. Only members of family and perhaps a few old servants, will attend.

Rockefeller is survived by 28 living descendants. He had one son and only one of four daughters—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, who married the harvester John D. Rockefeller, Jr. in 1907. Only one of the four daughters, Alta Rockefeller, wife of E. Parmelee Prentice, survives.

After his death, Dr. Merriam denied one of the many legends that had grown up around him—that he was anticlerical, carefully and scientifically as a rare, highly valued plant. On the contrary, Dr. Merriam said, he could eat almost everything that anyone could eat. He was a devoted member of the Episcopal church, and various other oil companies whose stock interests still are controlled by the family.

School Bonds Would End This

Here's one factor that would be eliminated in the over-crowded Twin Falls school system if taxpayer-voters approve the proposed $350,000 bond issue at Tuesday's election. These small and makeshift "portable rooms" are used at Lincoln school, with similar emergency structures in use at Bickel, because the excellent overflows school facilities. The wooden buildings are difficult to heat in winter time, and are far from satisfactory for school purposes.

DETWEILER FIRM BUYS NEW HOME

Plans were underway today for remodeling operations to start within two or three weeks on new and enlarged quarters for Detweiler Brothers, Inc.

Purchase of the brick building on Second avenue north now occupied by American Electric company and John B. White, auto dealer, was announced by C. H. Detweiler, president of the company. The structure is 75 by 150 feet and will house the Detweiler concern's display rooms, offices, service department and storage facilities. It was purchased from R. E. Boller.

Acquisition of the Second avenue location was made after the company disposed of its Elmore street property and building to the Ambassador Hotel company. Original plans had called for moving into the Elmore street building occupied now by Lafayette Motor company, but the Ambassador hotel project brought the deal in plan. Detweiler Brothers, Inc., now has headquarters in its building located at 123 Main avenue east.

OFFICERS ARREST ALLEGED FORGER

Ivan Howard, Wanted in Many Cities, in Jail; Denver Charges Car Theft

Ivan Howard, about 35, wanted in several southwestern Idaho cities and in Oregon on charges of alleged forgery and also in Denver, Colo., on charges of car theft, was being held in the city jail by local police this afternoon after his arrest early today.

Officers here notified Sheriff Don Hendrick of Boise, where he is alleged to have been arrested in Denver, $10 checks, and also wired Denver authorities where the man faces what will probably be a federal offense, inasmuch as he is alleged to have transported a stolen car across state borders.

Wanted in Portland—Previous to the time he was arrested in Twin Falls, bulletins had been received here indicating the man was wanted in Portland, Ore., and in other places.

Howard, who also goes under the aliases of Jack Howard, Bill Howard and W. B. Wilkinson, is an ex-convict, according to local police officers.

Rented Car—In Denver the officers were informed, he rented the car he was driving from a car dealer and left the state without making any further payments.

Boise officers were notified of his capture and it was indicated they will send for him. The prisoner, however, said he would "rather face a federal rap in Denver than spend any more time in the Idaho penitentiary."

NEW SON BORN TO LINDBERGH'S

Announcement of Birth Made at Home of Aunt in Cleveland

His birth on June 22, 1930, to his mother's 24th birthday anniversary, was greeted by headlines which announced, "We are three." A few months before his second birthday, Charles, junior, was kidnapped, on March 1, 1932, from the Hopewell, N. J., home of his parents, and later his body was found in the woods.

On Aug. 16, 1932, a second son, Jon Morrow Lindbergh, was born.

At the time of his birth, Colonel Lindbergh made an appeal for privacy. But threats to the family and publicity continued.

On Dec. 22, 1935, the Lindberghs and three-year-old Jon sailed for England and settled in the Kentish village of Weald.

In the two years since, Colonel Lindbergh became a virtual "caged eagle." He did not relax his precautions in Jon's behalf, however. In addition to a police guard, a huge police dog protects the estate on which the Lindberghs live. The dog is trained to knock trespassers down and stand over them until help comes.

It was indicated today by committee members and Parlaton teachers leaders, both organizations submitted full data on the need for added buildings to relieve serious over-crowding and a "fire-trap" menace at Lincoln school.

Final radio broadcast in a series of three was cancelled Sunday night because committee members believed that all facts had been presented and further discussion would merely cloud the issue.

NEW SON BORN TO LINDBERGH'S

His birth on June 22, 1930, to his mother's 24th birthday anniversary, was greeted by headlines which announced, "We are three." A few months before his second birthday, Charles, junior, was kidnapped, on March 1, 1932, from the Hopewell, N. J., home of his parents, and later his body was found in the woods.

On Aug. 16, 1932, a second son, Jon Morrow Lindbergh, was born.

At the time of his birth, Colonel Lindbergh made an appeal for privacy. But threats to the family and publicity continued.

On Dec. 22, 1935, the Lindberghs and three-year-old Jon sailed for England and settled in the Kentish village of Weald.

In the two years since, Colonel Lindbergh became a virtual "caged eagle." He did not relax his precautions in Jon's behalf, however. In addition to a police guard, a huge police dog protects the estate on which the Lindberghs live. The dog is trained to knock trespassers down and stand over them until help comes.

Officials named by the school board for the election are: Lincoln school—Carl Hahn, Judge; Mrs. Richard A. Reynolds and Mrs. F. A. Goodykorn, clerks; Mrs. O. G. Nichol, alternate.

Bickel school—William E. Nixon, Judge; Mrs. Ben Elder and Mrs. Lena Hobson, clerks; Mrs. J. H. Burmeister, alternate.

Intensive campaign of information carried on by the citizens' committee and the P-T-A. groups is expected to bring out a heavy taxpayer vote. It was indicated today by committee members and Parlaton teachers leaders, both organizations submitted full data on the need for added buildings to relieve serious over-crowding and a "fire-trap" menace at Lincoln school.

Final radio broadcast in a series of three was cancelled Sunday night because committee members believed that all facts had been presented and further discussion would merely cloud the issue.

Kettle Cause of Sunday Fire Run

Local firemen were called Sunday at 5:30 p. m. to 328 Main avenue south where they extinguished a small blaze in the second hand store owned by George Richardson.

Firemen today said the blaze was caused when a kettle, on a stove, boiled dry. They said there was "more smoke than fire." Little damage resulted.

ROCKEFELLER DEATH REMOVES FAMOUS PERSONALITY

FOUNDER OF OIL EMPIRE RETIRED OVER 26 YEARS

Billionaire Was Once Called "Most Hated Man" in Whole World

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—The passing of John D. Rockefeller, 87, the man whose name has long been synonymous with immense wealth, removed one of the most towering personalities the United States ever has produced.

The flowering of big industry in America produced him and he in turn contributed beyond measure to that flowering. In the methods he employed in carving out his financial empire, he was condemned and cursed, and called "the most hated man" in the country.

Yet he became, in the later years of his life, a symbol of paternalistic benignity—a kindly old gentleman giving to much preachment, whose benefactions have exceeded $750,000,000.

Beyond his eager interest in the world of finance which he formerly ruled, the nation's first billionaire had been in retirement since 1911. His consistent good health, his joviality, his fondness for outdoor sports and his friendliness toward all those he encountered in the waning years of his life had inspired eulogistic essays by the dozens.

Founded Dynasty
He founded an American dynasty which today makes its name felt in the far places of the earth. The extent to which the Rockefeller wealth is being distributed for the welfare and betterment of mankind scarcely can be comprehended.

As the aging founder of the dynasty approached the century mark of his life, the affairs of the family came more and more to be administered by the son, John D. Jr., since his father's retirement since 1911, had been actively at the head of the family interests.

The oil king lived to see his millions aid in the rebuilding of Rheims cathedral in France, to restore the palaces of Versailles, to rebuild and restock a library destroyed by the earthquake and fire in Tokio, to re-establish ancient buildings in Europe, Rockefeller money, through the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, has been of immense importance to the world of science, and the arts were not neglected.

Four Children
In his later years the patriarch of Picoletto Hills withdrew more and more into the bosom of his family. The elder Rockefeller had four children. One, Beaulieu, who became Mrs. C. A. Strong, died in 1906. Edith, who was Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, died in the past year. The two surviving children are John

D. Jr. and Alta (Mrs. L. Farmalee Prentice).

Twenty-five years ago Rockefeller selected Picoletto Hills as the site for his home. At that time a village of 1,500 inhabitants occupied the site, but that, it is gone now. Few persons ever visualized the vastness of the estate. It has been said that these inside its closely guarded walls and fences could sustain themselves fully for the rest of their lives without contact with the outside world.

The master of the estate had his own private golf course, where he played daily. The household routine was regulated by his wishes, in order that he might conform closely to his regular habits.

Ambitious Hen Lays Huge Egg

Weighting a lusty five and one-quarter ounces, an egg that observers termed one of the largest ever laid in this section has been produced by an enterprising White Leghorn hen at Hoilister.

The egg, looking more like an ostrich egg that a product of an ordinary Leghorn, was displayed at offices of the Evening Times by Mrs. M. N. Knudson, Hoilister. It was eight and one-quarter inches around lengthwise, and seven and one-half inches in diameter.

"It's the largest egg I've ever seen—and I've looked at a great many," said Mrs. Knudson.

The egg is apparently just one giant unit since "candling" against a strong electric light showed no secondary shell within in the large one.

The shell, incidentally, is extremely thin. Mrs. Knudson had the thinnest spot covered with adhesive tape to make sure it didn't break on the exhibition trip to Twin Falls.

Experiment Finds English Use Will Mark Other Study

An experiment in the use of correlation between the study of English as a basic subject and its relation to other subjects was conducted by Miss Helen Miller, biology instructor at the Twin Falls high school, cooperating with the English department. Miss Miller tested 125 sophomore biology students to determine if there is a correlation between successful achievement in biology and good English usage.

Two tests were given, one an essay type and the other an objective test using multiple choice and true-false devices. The result of the experiment was light these facts, according to Miss Miller and Mrs. Rose M. North, head of the English department:

Objective: English — The tendency exists for a student to make a better grade on an objective test than in the essay type; 2—Students making an A in English are more likely to make an A in biology; 3—The advantages offered by an objective test favors the weak student as it allows them to push up from an F to a D grade; 4—Students handling biological material well also rate high in the usage of English; 5—Girls outperformed boys in group rated prominence both as biological students and as English students; 20 girls having A's or B's as compared to eight boys; 6—Students poor in English, poor in spelling, poor in sentence structure were poor in organization and poor readers; 7—Students were unable to grasp and reproduce biological material.

Mrs. North stated that this experiment was conclusive evidence that there is a need for a definite correlation of English with other subjects. "During the second semester of the current year the teachers in various departments in the school have cooperated to establish a higher degree of finish and polish in the daily English work of the students," she said. "This effort not only establishes better habits of study and a more successful preparation of classroom work but achieves a superior standard of work in the individual courses and at the same time makes the teaching of English more effective."

These Ranked High. Students in the test who ranked high in the grasp of biological knowledge and in applied English usage are: Verne—Orel Jones, Bill Goertzen, Verne Bunn, Leonard Blaufond, Harvey Blagham, Bob Benson, Roy Fuller, Donald McKinster; girls — Verda Decker; Bernice Eldredge, Beverly Richting, Loretta Belle Lopez, Mildred Slick, Gloria Mae West, Mary E. Wright, Rita Salton, Dorothy M. Smith, Bernice McKay, Margie Leichter, Jeanne Schwendman, Dorothy Jean Smith, Grace Bruggeman, Virginia Chase, Jean Cranney, Dorothy Huddleston, Betty Palmer, Anne Fernine, Elsie Arrington and Dee Hepler.

ATHLETICS CONTINUE TO SET AMERICAN PACE

Yanks Beat Indians Before Record Crowd Philadelphia Stays on Top With 6-2 Triumph Over St. Louis Browns

NEW YORK, May 24 (UP)—Whenever the Philadelphia Athletics suffer a setback the experts wag their heads and say, "Well, they've finally hit the toboggan," but Connie Mack's young men kept bouncing back.

Before the season opened, the A's were 100-1 shots against winning the pennant. Eight American league managers picked the club to finish in the cellar.

Yet today, five weeks after the starting gun, the A's have been on top of the league standings more than any other club in the New York Yankees, the even money favorite named by seven managers of the junior circuit to cop the Gouland.

The Mackmen have been resting stop the heap 16 days this year compared to 10 for the Red Sox and eight for the Detroit Tigers.

SHOSHONE LOSES TO BUHL OUTFIT

Hazleton Drops Tilt to Hard-Hitting Gooding Crew in Only SOI Games

Gooding and Buhl won games in the south central Idaho baseball league yesterday as Wendell definitely dropped from the circuit for the season.

Buhl downed the slugging Shoshone club 10 to 15 with a burst of power in the late innings. Buhl held a 5-0 lead going into the sixth inning, but Shoshone rallied to make the count 5-4.

Paul Boyd led the clouting for the winners with five hits out of six trips to the plate, while Buhl, Buhl catcher, collected four out of five. Rutherford, Shoshone first baseman, led his team's attack with three safe singles.

Gooding did the hurling for Buhl, with Burt catching, MacMittell and Martin pitched for the losers. Gooding made a walk-away of his game when he pitched a perfect 9th inning except the seventh to chalk up a 20-8 win.

Men Become Mice Since Giants Licked Cards in Free-for-All

BY HENRY McLEMORE PITTSBURGH, May 24 (UP)—Like the mouse who, given a swing of the corn, was that, reared up for fear by reporting to Madison Square Garden bowl on the night of June third when Max Schmeling is scheduled not to fight Jim Braddock for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Those who know the Giants, feel that the St. Louis battle gave them the hypodermic needed for a successful defense of their national league title. Certainly, since the clubs they have been doing things they never did before.

PLAY OPENS FOR P. G. A. TOURNEY

Odds 20 to 1 on Donny Shute Retaining Championship at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 24 (UP)—Five score and sixteen players, any of whom is capable of leaving part wide apart, tee off today in the toughest of all golf championships to win—the national P. G. A.

The tremendous field, which includes practically every professional golfer of any rank in the country, will gun all week over the course at the Ritz Hotel, which is now held by Donny Shute. And those who believe the lanky Bostonian will hold onto the title he won at Pittsburgh last year are getting odds of 20 to 1.

Even these odds seem short when one studies the list of his available. Here are six former P. G. A. champions and seven one-time national Open kings. This group includes such names as Harry Cooper, Paul Runyan, John Revolta, Olin Dutra, Tommy Armour, Bill Burke, Johnny Farrell, Sam Parks, and Willie McMillan.

In addition, there is the current national Open titleholder, Tony Mayo, and a host of stinging shooters such as Harry Cooper, Ralph Guldahl, Craig Wood, Henry Picard, Sam Snead, Ed Dudley, and Harold MacSpadden. In fact, the only "name" players missing are Walter Hagen, Mac Smith, Ray Mangrum, and Dick Metz.

The low scores quality qualifying rounds today and tomorrow will join Shute in the final play that begins on Wednesday and comes a climax in the match on Sunday.

The field club course is suited to a player like Shute. Not overly long, it has a fair number of narrow fairways and cunningly placed traps place a premium on accuracy rather than distance. Par is 72, and the boys didn't toy with it much in practice.

SOPWITH YACHT SIGHTED AT SEA

ABOARD U. S. COAST GUARD CUTTER ALCO, AT SEA, May 24 (UP)—T. O. M. Sopwith's America's cup yacht Endeavour I was sighted early today from this cutter which puts out to meet the vessel after it was unreported for eight days.

Endeavour I, en route to Newport as a trial horse for her sister, Endeavour II, and as a possible challenger for the America's cup, lost her stern, the motor yacht Viva II, during a storm on May 14. Viva II put into Newport last Thursday and reported the misadventure.

Miles went from the mountain country in which he was born to teach the directors of Hollywood's super-westerns something about horses. He's back now in his own kind of country, prepared to help spectators invade America's last primitive wilderness.

The famous ski resort is preparing for its first summer sports season, in which Miles, as director of sports, will take a major part. One of his big jobs will be to see that all details for sportsmen who plan to penetrate some of the 20,000 miles of wilderness which lies north of Sun Valley.

Miles is a former dunder for Richard Dix and Jack Holt in western riding sequences that demanded real horsemanship. He was in charge of operation and handling of all livestock, wagons and horses in Paramount's epic, "Covered Wagon."

Later he became a second-unit director, working with writers in incorporating stunts into stories. At Sun Valley he will be in charge of horses and pack trains for filmmen and other sportsmen who will invade the Western Idaho wilderness this summer, using Sun Valley as a base.

Schwartz Cops Feature Event in Sunday Races

In a sensational "midnight" race as has ever been staged in southern Idaho, Ray Schwartz, driving his Schwartz Special, yesterday captured the main event of the Junior Chamber of Commerce races at the Filler fairgrounds by nosing out Claude Jones in a race that had the 1,000 fans in the stadium standing on their feet from the first lap.

Driving a slower car, but taking advantage of Jones' mistake, Schwartz came from behind on five different occasions to win finally by a nose on the last lap. The time of the 10-lap event to win with time of 6 minutes, 30 seconds. Jones was right on his tail with a time of 6:32.5 seconds. Third place went to John Snow and fourth to Kenneth Self, both Twin Falls drivers.

Six drivers provided the entertainment for the day that featured four races. All were from Twin Falls except the "Herald Beal" race, which was won by Beal, who found the going a bit tough and was unable to keep up with the local speedsters. The drivers scheduled to enter the event from other towns failed to arrive.

Jones drove his specially Ford special, copped the handicap event, in which five cars were entered. His time for six laps was 2:50. Ray Schwartz, due to a good qualifying time, and Doyle Siger, who piloted a TAY Special, were placed in the back row, with a handicap of about 10 yards in this event.

Schwartz took second and Siger third, as the race was finished. Qualifying times were in the following order: Schwartz, Claude Jones, Doyle Siger, Kenneth Self, Beal, John Snow. Schwartz and Jones tied in this race as Schwartz copped first place with a trial run of 1:28.445 seconds. Third place went to John Snow and fourth to Kenneth Self, both Twin Falls drivers.

Indians Deny Feller Rumor

CLEVELAND, May 24 (UP)—Clyde B. Bishop, president of the Cleveland Indians, today denied there was any truth to rumors that Bob Feller's pitching arm is permanently injured. Bishop said the "rumor" was "a lie through the season."

Philadelphia said he did not know where Feller was today. Bishop said that he had had no recent reports on the condition of the 19-year-old rookie's arm.

Graduates Reign at Annual Festivities

Seniors of Twin Falls high school ruled supreme today as they celebrated the proximity of the more serious graduation rites with the annual class day celebration. Activities opened this morning with the senior breakfast at the Methodist church and will be concluded with a P.-T. A. dinner given in their honor this evening.

Regular class day program was presented this morning for members of the student body and this afternoon for guests.

Hawaiian Theme
The program revolved around a Hawaiian theme with the time the 10-year class reunion in 1947, at Waikiki tavern. The motive for the performance is furnished by this explanation contained on the front page of the yellow and white programs: "True to the promise made at commencement 10 years ago the class of '27 is on a round the world cruise on the S. B. Idaho. They have gone ashore at Honolulu to witness the blooming of the Tropic-Hon-Ser plant, which blooms only once a year during the full moon the last week in May. At the last minute 'native performers engaged for a benefit performance, go on a strike and the Americans step in and take their place."

Crowning of the queen took place with numbers by her attendants, assisted by Margaret Ellsworth as a young native woman and Marie Nelson as the spirit of '37. This portion of the program was concluded with the singing of "Aloha Oe."

Seniors appearing in the junior take-off, "A Few Lears," were: Oleg Shirley, Junior Weirbach, Zeke Larson, John Quail, Bill Bates, Paul Hardesty, Grant Sawyer, Gordon Cathro, Daryl Thompson, and Martin Olin.
