'NO COMPROMISE' COURT STAND LOOMS

Way for N. R. A. Believed Opened By Court Ruling

OBSERVERS SEE ATTEMPT BY JUDICIARY TO AID CONGRESS

By JOHN A. REICHMANN WASHINGTON, May 25 (UP)—The supreme court, it was believed today, has outlined to the administration through a series of decisions culminating in the social security rulings the method whereby the New Deal may constitutionally attain the objectives of the outlawed NRA and AAA.

Court observers are convinced that the decisions mark out a well-defined pathway around the legal barriers which the justices cited in rendering their verdict of unconstitutionality against the original New Deal industrial and agricultural controls.

The security act opinions were the major verdicts to be rendered by the nine justices who are expected to go down in history as the 'New Deal' court.

Justice Willis Van Devanter, a conservative, will retire next week. His place will presumably be taken by a liberal.

Some observers of the court have felt that since his first New Deal decision the court has sought to convey to the executive department and congress an idea on how to achieve its objectives in a way the court will approve.

Many felt this was attempted in the NRA decision two years ago. They saw another trend in the court's interpretation of the 'general welfare' clause of the constitution in the AAA case. This interpretation lay in the hands of the administration. It was given by the court even though it played no part in the AAA decision which condemned the act under another provision of the constitution.

The court is not given to gratuitous interpretations. Since the famous NRA decision in May 1935, Justice Van Devanter, President Roosevelt's 'horse and buggy' critic of the court just as a year later the New York minimum wage law controversy provoked his 'no man's land' criticism, the court, in the opinion of some, has pointed the way to the writing of a new NRA.

Mother Expected to Return To Home Soon; Registered As 'Mrs. Charles'

LONDON, May 25 (UP)—A new permutation arrived at the residence of Col and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh at Weald, Kent, today, awaiting the arrival of the baby born to Mrs. Lin. yesterday.

It was reported at Weald that Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh would return to their home, Long Barn, sometime this week.

Visits Daily Lindbergh was reported to have visited the clinic at three o'clock today, some time after the baby was born, sometimes with his son Jim, now nearly five years old.

According to the Express, the baby was born just before noon on Thursday after Lindbergh drove his wife to the clinic en route from their home in Kent.

A policeman patrolled outside and additional police have been assigned to watch all doors at the clinic.

The Express reported that Mrs. Lindbergh was introduced to the clinic at 11 o'clock today. (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Miners Strike Music 300 Feet Down

Beating out 'Ach du Lieber Augustin' with their German 'swing band,' as pictured above, pitching horseshoes, playing cards and singing, 47 coal miners at Superior Coal company's diggings at Whonville, Ill., defied union and owner orders alike in their strike against mechanization and for the sharing of jobs. The strikers had formed the Progressive Miners of America union, were bitterly opposed to the John Lewis mine union, which ordered them out, and had applied for affiliation with the A. F. of L. More than 300 feet underground they had plenty of food supplied by wives 'on top' and were prepared to stay until their demands were met.

Taxpayers Brave Rains To Vote on Bond Issue

Early Turnout For Election Shows Interest

Vanguard of an expected turnout that may reach 2,000 taxpayers braved rain and wind early this afternoon to cast ballots that will decide whether or not the Twin Falls school district issues $350,000 in bonds to provide additional building facilities for the school system.

Polls at Lincoln and Bickel school opened at 1 p. m. The balloting will continue until 7 p. m. with preliminary results showing the trend expected to be known several hours later. Final tabulation, election officials said, will probably be completed late this evening.

One a Minute Incident weather showed up during only slightly in the first hour. For the first 50 minutes at the Bickel school the pace was slightly more than a voter could handle, 60 receiving ballots in that time. Lincoln school showed about the same rate.

However turnout was forecast for later in the day, since District Teacher association and the Chamber of Commerce had approximately 40 motor cars available to take the taxpayers to the two polling places.

Prediction of 2,000 voters came despite the fact that many of the taxpayers who are members of the local Republican club were in the school district.

Total vote in the bond issue election is expected to be in the neighborhood of 300, at which $200,000 was approved for building the present high school gymnasium, was 1,600. This last year was made out to more than 2,500 real estate taxpayers, Chairman O. E. McElvey of the citizens committee said this afternoon.

Direct telephone contact was made with more than 700 of these taxpayers yesterday by members of Parent Teacher association, the League of Women Voters and their wives or husbands are eligible to vote.

Backers of the bond issue proposition were particularly glad to take the vote. A two-thirds majority is necessary to carry the proposition.

Authorities See FDR Asking for Bill Enactment

Report Says Roosevelt Will Take No Chances on Judiciary

By LYLE C. WILSON WASHINGTON, May 25 (UP)—President Roosevelt is determined to go "the whole hog or none" in fighting for his judicial reorganization plan despite supreme court validation of the social security program, it was learned in authoritative government quarters today.

The President's determination to continue the court plan with no thought of compromise was said by informed sources to be based on these two points:

1. The fact that the supreme court has validated New Deal legislation by a narrow five-to-four margin; that the administration cannot be certain the tribunal's future consideration of the long-range program the government is putting forward.

2. The fact that congressional advisors have told the President that opponents of his court plan would be equally determined to fight any compromise proposal that would increase the size of the supreme court.

Mr. Roosevelt's no compromise stand was said to be strengthened by the special message he sent to congress yesterday outlining recommendations for minimum wage, maximum hour and anti-child-labor legislation.

Such legislation, if enacted, will eventually go before the supreme court for a test of constitutionality.

A source close to the President pointed out that his labor message presented for the first time the real linking of maximum wage and maximum hour legislation with child labor.

MOB BURNS BODY OF NEGRO KILLER

Dead Georgian, Seized From Morgue, Taken to Ball Park and Burned

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., May 25 (UP)—Bainbridge police had killed Willie Field, 24, Negro, alleged murderer and rapist, a mob couldn't lynch him. But it broke into a mortuary, hauled his body off to the ball park and burned it. Women and some girls in their teens were among its members.

The informal incineration occurred last night and until dawn today the embers of the pine boards that had been the ball park fence glowed against the night sky. The mob acted openly, even the dead body could be discerned with difficulty. The looked upon it as an object lesson.

Last Friday Mrs. Ruby Hurst, 30, and Rita Mae Richards, 16, died in a house fire. Mrs. Hurst's body was found Saturday on the outskirts of town. It had been killed apparently by a blast that exploded in the kitchen. Richards' body, mutilated with the same type of wounds, was found 400 yards from where Mrs. Hurst's body was found.

Authorities "acted on information which was not disclosed. They went to the morgue, seized the body of a Negro woman, found Field. According to Deputy Sheriff R. A. Stephens, Field confessed.

The deputies started with their tow toward a mob proof jail at Albany, Ga.

Stephens said, "The Negro audibly leaped out of the car, and he was killed."

SECURITY BOARD ACTS TO WIDEN SCOPE OF PENSION

$47,000,000 BENEFITS IN BIG FUND PREDICTED

No Legal Barrier Now Stands In Way of New Deal Measure

By REED S. DUNHAM
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The social security board, upheld by the supreme court in the major provisions of the far-reaching act which it administers, voted today to widen the already broad scope of old age pensions and unemployment insurance.

The board submitted to the house ways and means committee several proposed amendments to the present act. It was understood that no changes were involved and that the recommendations were confined largely to administrative provisions.

In cooperation with a special committee and an advisory committee of 24—including representatives of workers, employers and country farmers—the board is studying proposed changes in financing provisions of the program.

No legal difficulty now stands in the way of collecting taxes from employers and employees to build up a great fund for old age benefits and unemployment to employees temporarily thrown out of work.

It was understood that the board recommended to the ways and means committee that:

1. Old age benefits be extended to include federal reserve bank employees and workers on documented American vessels.
2. That the plan should not be broadened to include such groups as farm laborers and transient workers who reach 65.
3. That workers who reach 65 be permitted to continue to build up benefits for payment after retirement at a greater rate.
4. It was believed that the board withheld any recommendation for revision of the payroll tax scale for employers and employees which it intended to build up a reserve for benefit payments of $47,000,000,000 by 1960.

Committees Named

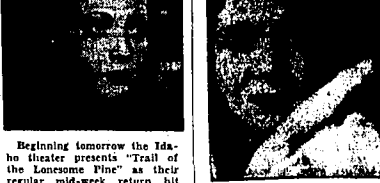

Demands by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R. Mich., that the basic financial structure of old age benefits be changed resulted in the appointment of the senate and advisory committees. They are examining Vandenberg's contention that the expected $7,000,000,000 reserve is unnecessary and a menace to the federal financial structure.

Vandenberg has asked the committee to study the following proposed changes:

1. Beginning monthly old age benefits prior to 1942.
2. Increasing benefits for persons who retire in the early years of the act.
3. Increasing benefits to those incapacitated in line of employment before reaching the stated retirement age of 65.
4. Benefits for survivors of such participants.
5. Increasing the tax rate against employer and employer less rapidly.
6. The graduated scale of retirement tax against each will increase from the present one per cent to three per cent in 1949.
7. Extending benefits to persons not now covered, such as domestic and farm laborers.

CONTROL SIGNALS STUDIED LOCALLY

Councilmen Discussing Plans For Installing Stop-Go Lights in City

City council members this afternoon were contemplating the purchase of three traffic control signal lights which will be suspended over the post office intersection, Main and Shoshone, and the Rogerson hotel intersection.

At the council meeting last night Mayor Lem A. Chapin and Police Commissioner U. E. Ritchey urged that the lights be purchased and installed, not only because there is a need for them but also because of the additional safety factor.

In addition to the three main lights it is possible that the council might approve installation of flashing red lights at the intersection of Main avenue east and west and the truck lane, and another to warn traffic approaching the Washington school.

Commissioner Ritchey estimated costs of the three main lights at $417.75 and cost of installation at between $300 and $400.

E. M. Worley Named Frontier Club Head

Preservation of "Last Wilderness" is Objective of Newest Group

SHOSHONE, May 25.—With 150 sportsmen gathered here from 12 southern and central Idaho counties, completion last night was perfected for Frontier Club Inc., an organization whose purpose it is to preserve what is acclaimed throughout the land as "the last frontier."

Keynote address of the evening was given by R. H. Rutledge, regional forester for the intermountain district, with offices at Ogden. Giving a talk on the purposes of the forest division in this section, Mr. Rutledge, without realizing what he was doing, outlined the aim of the forest service that exactly coincided with the aims of the new sportsmen's organization.

Worley Named President

E. M. Worley, Boise and Ketchum business man, was elected president of the new group and Leo Bresnahan, Shoshone attorney, was named business manager, as the main business of the club will be the election of 15 representatives from the 12 counties also all unanimously elected. The men on the board of directors at a previous meeting to act in a temporary capacity.

Other officers were E. E. Kelly, Shoshone, secretary; E. B. Bolte, Gooding, treasurer; and W. H. Murphy, Shoshone, assistant treasurer. Named on the board of directors to represent the counties comprising the region were:

Regional Representatives

Directors-at-large were E. M. Worley, Boise and Ketchum; and John L. Bauman, Sun Valley.

So well did Mr. Rutledge outline the aims of the club that he was telling the views of the forest service that it was unanimously voted to adopt his talk in the minutes of the meeting. The minutes of the 15-page report mimeographed and sent to members.

Stressed Co-Relation

In his summary Mr. Rutledge stressed the following points:

1. Preserve certain areas under virgin conditions for the benefit of the people, aside one and one-quarter millions of acres in the Idaho primitive area.

2. Meet the requirements of the livestock industry, the timber users, the water users, fish and game interests, recreation and mining so as to avoid conflicts in the Sawtooth area as much as possible.

3. Build more fish hatcheries to aid in production of more plantable fish.

4. Road program for the Sawtooth area that would not disturb the primitive areas, but would improve the region for the heavy export traffic.

5. Motions for the various means of preserving fish and game populations, the beauty of the forests and ducks and geese, New thick and fast as the facting lured over four hours.

Notion Failed

A Paul Daily, Twin Falls director of the organization, took the floor to suggest a resolution to put the Frontier Club under the auspices of a sporting club, as opposed to a Sawtooth national park. J. G. Hedrick, Hailey attorney, immediately jumped to the floor with a motion to amend the resolution, as a compromise. The motion was tabled, inasmuch as the park proposal in U. S. Congress had already been withdrawn by Sen. Pope.

Compromise

After a compromise was later reached whereby President Worley appointed a committee of five consisting of Mr. Rutledge, Hedrick, Troy Smith, Custer, Ben Smith, Shoshone, and Vernon Blum, Elmore, to investigate the situation.

In a short talk following that given by Mr. Rutledge, Leo Bresnahan, business manager of the club, termed the gathering present "the greatest and most representative group of sportsmen ever to assemble in the state of Idaho."

Neil Snyder, chairman of the fish committee of the club, reported on the progress of his group, and said that work on the Snake river, which has long delayed, will be started tomorrow with the aid of Federal aid, and that the Union Pacific railway will lead the gravel in free for the project.

Mr. Snyder later made a suggestion that the club be given a $100 per week stipend to employ a warden and convicted of unlawfully catching fish or shooting game out of season. The proposal was not enthusiastically applauded by the assemblage, but no definite action was taken.

In the final talk of the evening, given by Mr. Rutledge, he said that the Union Pacific railway in the last Idaho legislature, submitted up the real purpose of the club in a single sentence.

"We might just as well prepare for them."

He was referring to an expected avalanche of sportsmen who will be men who are predicted to be en route to the Sawtooth area for summer hunting and fishing.

Next meeting of the directors of the organization will be held in Twin Falls within a couple of weeks, and was announced to be met by the introduction of Clarence Hines paper.

Only Six Break Par in P. G. A. Tourney; Nelson, Runyan Lead

Narrow Fairways on Pittsburgh Field Course Prove Hazardous to Most of Pros

By HENRY McLEMORE

PITTSBURGH, May 25 (UP)—It was with deep humility and a regret determination to stay out of the rough that five out of six of this country's greatest golfers moved on the Pittsburgh Field course today for the final qualifying round of the P. G. A. championship.

Not in many years has a course so earned the respect of golf's big hands as the Field club layout did in the opening round of play yesterday. All the boys teed off with very visions of a par course and nearly half of them wound up in the crying room trying to explain how they failed to break 80.

Six Break Par

Of the big and star field only six broke par over a course that was considered a set-up, and on a day as perfect as it the founder of golf had personally ordered it. There wasn't enough wind to rattle a butterfly's feathers; the greens would have had even an English pitch-and-putt character; the fairways offered perfect spots, and the fairways offered good lies.

There was only one thing wrong with the fairways—a little too tight for the boys who are accustomed to wander off the straight and narrow without spoiling their chances for hitting the green in two. That isn't being done at the Field club this week. The rough is real rough, and the only way to get out of it is with a "dynamiter."

Runyan and Nelson

The tip-off on the rough here lies in the fact that the two leaders today—Paul Runyan and Byron Nelson—are gentlemen who place accuracy above distance. They both shot the only birdies in the first round, and they did it by staying on the fairway. Runyan was of the carpet just twice. So was Nelson.

The stalling scores of this pair have slightly reddened the faces of the P. G. A. fathers, for both were overlooked by the Ryder Cup team was picked. Today they were a clear five shots ahead of the nearest selected Ryder cupper, Henry Roberts, and 11 in front of Denny Shute, the defending champion.

Hines Closest

The closest rival to these two sharp shooters was Jimmy Hines, the big blond who recently won the "Met" open. Hines saw a real escape chance in the Ryder Cup, but despite an injured right wrist, he finished in a close second place.

INDIANS DRUBBED 4 TO 0; A'S LOSE

Detroit Enters New York For "Oruolal" Series in Pennant Race

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, May 25 (UP)—The Yankees are back on top again and the Tigers are in town today to challenge the Indians. The two clubs have monopolized first and second place in the American league the past three years.

Detroit was only a game and a half back of the league-leading Yanks despite a tattering pitching staff.

Schoolboy Rowe, recently reinstated after a suspension without pay for failure to get into condition, pitched for the first time since he regained his one-time fling over the Yanks. Detroit's pennant hopes still remain considerably.

Regain Lead

The Yanks regained the American league lead yesterday by thumping the Cleveland Indians 4 to 0. They collected 16 hits and knocked Ivy Andrews out of the box in a fourth-inning lull. The Yanks' lineup included Frank Crosett's pair of doubles and a single.

Indians' Loss

Indians' pitcher Bud Washington, 3-1, as Horie Lawson scored his seventh triumph—first American league hurler to reach that figure, 5-11, through by Cecil Travis, a permitted two Detroit runners to score. Gerald Walker, who had hit in 27 straight games, was held hitless by Buck Newsom.

Red Sox Move Up

The Boston Red Sox jumped from seventh to fifth place by blasting the Chicago White Sox for a 5-3 victory. Jimmy Fox hit two doubles and his sixth home run. Harold Gribble, who figured in scoring Chicago's only run, with one on which broke the St. Louis Browns' seven-game losing streak with a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The defeat cost the A's the lead.

Card Humbled

Card Humbled had a narrow ninth-inning escape but figured in scoring New York's only run, with one on which broke the St. Louis Browns' seven-game losing streak with a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The defeat cost the A's the lead.

Tony Manero is Disappointed in Money Brought in By Golf Crown

By HENRY McLEMORE

PITTSBURGH, May 25 (UP)—A few quick and runs from the national P. G. A. tournament. Al Espinosa, the Mexican torador, could do no better than two over par in the first round yesterday.

Tony Manero, the moustache-lead gentleman who came out of the hills of North Carolina to win the National open with a record score last year, is a bit disappointed by the money the title has earned him.

Tony expected to see what Haggen and Sarazan and Armour did with the title. He hasn't seen a long way. The smallest player in the field is Clarence Hickey of Kansas City, who barely scales 105 pounds with all his own players in place. . . . Clarence plays in a flaming yellow silk shirt and the boys call him "Jockey" Hickey. He lacks just 120 pounds of being as heavy as Olin Dutra, the former open king. . . . The most harrowing sight of the day was the Pittsburgh field club was the heavy roller a gang of armenians were pushing across the field. They were pushing with anguish the famous "concrete" greens of Oakmont two years ago.

Greatest Competitor

Charlie Hall, of Birmingham, former president of the P. G. A., who admits to the age of 54, is the oldest competitor in the field. He is just 31 years the senior of the youngest entrant, John Maults of Youngstown, O. . . . Charlie, in the days of the gutty ball, was the longest hitter in the game. . . . He did all right by himself on the first day when he slammed one nearly 300 yards. . . . Gene Sarazan finally has admitted that he is a golfer, but he has a bone to pick with the boys of his club and shortened his swing. . . . Gene, who is quite a gentleman, has asked the officials to scatter a few crows about the course. . . . "It would make me feel at home," he said. . . . He is a good player, but he would undoubtedly take ten strokes off my game." . . . Billy Burke, who were down George Von Elm's 72 holes, stands the most of his time teaching new tricks to his old dog, Jerry. . . . Ben Richter of St. Louis is the only southpaw in the field.

LAUNDRY TAMES CREAMERY TEAM

Captures 13-9 Victory Over Jerome Co-op; Obieks Take Forfeit

National Laundry outscored Jerome Cooperative Creamery and sixth inning spurs it to a 13-9 victory in the National league, and then proceeded to add three more to make it 15-9 in the sixth. The Co-op crew went over a pickup squad on the field.

The laundrymen rolled up a 10-5 advantage after the fifth frame and added three more to make it 13-9 in the sixth. The Co-op crew went over a pickup squad on the field.

The pick-up Glass and Paint outfit, with other players also in the lineup, could get to Elmore Hagler and Joe Altman, who had been smacked out 14 safeties including three homers.

Score, American League:

Laundry . . . 233 023 0-13 13 3
Co-op . . . 101 114 0-9 10 4
Hagler, Parkhurst and Welch; Durbin and Vandever.

Rodeo To Be Staged At Sun Valley Lodge

SHOSHONE, May 25 (Special)—Announcement of a rodeo that will compare favorably with those staged at Pocatello and Cheyenne was made here last night in Sun Valley by Bob Miles, Union Pacific sports director for the hotel resort.

The rodeo will be under the joint sponsorship of the Frontier club and the Union Pacific railway.

With some of the greatest stars of the rodeo listed to ride in the special event, which is an American Rodeo Association point-getter, plans were underway today at Sun Valley for the construction of a huge stadium to handle the expected crowds. The stadium will seat 5,000.

SPORT SQUIBS

Short shots: Guy Bush, veteran pitcher of the Boston Bees owns a string of oil stations in Chicago. . . . Hockey will be added to the sports program of the city in New York next winter. . . . Van Lingle Mungo, Brooklyn's "speaking" owner, has a department store in England. . . . Durlach Grimes, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, raises goats on a farm near St. Louis. . . . Los Angeles actor during the winter months. . . . Jim Nelson, the world's heavyweight wrestling champ, who can pack 'em in to the rafters on the Pacific coast and in the intercontinental territory, is called the worst flop in the history of the game as a drawing card in the east. There is talk that a new contract will be crowned within a month to pick up business. . . . Dicky Dean may be a flop as a fighter, and he may create many more enemies than friends with his "blowout" fights. . . . Vince Dimaggio, brother of the Yanks' Joe, is out of the line for the Boston Bees. . . . Denny Shute, reputedly a quiet sort of a fellow, but Dean just doesn't like him on general principles. . . . The recent game between Dimaggio twice and in the ninth inning when Dimaggio ostracized a week off fly, Dean commanded "Catcher Bruale Orodowski to drop the ball. Orodowski let it fall and Dean then proceeded to strike out Dimaggio on the next pitch. That's chucking. But at the same time we can't see that humiliating a rival player in going to be of any benefit to the club. . . . As a matter of fact we would like to see Van Lingle Mungo or Carl Minton in the line for the Bees. And we would like to see thousands of other fans around the big league circuit who would like to see the same thing.

Racing Yacht Captain Is "Infuriated" For Being Deserted at Sea

NEWPORT, R. I., May 25 (UP)—A bitter feud between the British skippers of the racing yacht Endeavour I and her convoy Vivia II is being revived here today.

The United Press informant said that Captain Ned Heard of the Endeavour was "infuriated" because the convoy did not proceed to Newport after the race had reached "40 hours" of the Endeavour.

The coast guard patrol boat, 36 miles southeast of Newport.

"Where's the Vivia?" was heard from the Endeavour's bridge.

"I thought so," he was informed from the Vivia's bridge.

"Can we get a tow to Newport?"

"The Vivia is coming out. She will take you to tow."

"To hell with the Vivia."

Cabin Cruisers Find Tough Going in Race Up Swallow Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 25 (UP)—The four cabin cruisers racing up the Missouri river from St. Louis to Ft. Smith, Mo., fought their way up a swollen, fast-moving, bucking driftwood and a strong current.

After racing last night at Chamou, Mo., the boats were expected to reach here late today and possibly continue over to the mouth of the river.

At the end of the second day's race the order of the craft was the "Chicago" (Clayton F. Denton) and "City of Maitia."

NEW DEAL CHALKS UP 14-0 SCORE ON COURT DECISIONS

APPROVAL OF 3 MEASURES GIVES PERFECT SCORE

Three More Bills Will Be Reviewed in Next Session Of High Bench

WASHINGTON, May 25 (UP)—President Roosevelt tallied a 14-0-0 supreme court score in favor of New Deal legislation today and pushed on toward constitutional tests in an expansion of his social and economic program.

Government litigation is ended for this court term. But headed for high judicial review next session are:

1. Further determination of Tennessee valley authority rights in transmission and sale of electrical power.
2. Tests of the registration provisions of the public utilities holding company act.
3. Determination of public works administration authority to make loans and grants for municipal ownership of electrical power system.

In Lower Court These cases already are in lower court judicial process. And there unquestionably will be at least one great legal contest beyond all these. It will determine constitutionality of the wage and hours regulation proposed yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt in a message to congress at the moment the social security program.

Mr. Roosevelt sent his wage and hours plan to congress with a direct challenge to the courts to deny its validity. He pronounced it to be within the common sense framework of the constitution and approved by the electorate.

Court Bill Dimmed The capital consensus is that chances of enacting the judiciary reorganization bill were further dimmed by yesterday's decisions in which the court:

1. Validated federal unemployment insurance legislation.
2. Validated federal old age pension legislation.
3. Validated Alabama's unemployment insurance act.

Those decisions were the 12th, 13th and 14th successive pro-New Deal decisions at this term of court. In the 1935-36 court sessions the court ran 9-10-2 against the New Deal, only the gold act and phases of Tennessee valley authority legislation escaping judicial extinction.

Some persons profess to discover in the record of court decisions the conflicting interplay of master strategists. They envision Mr. Roosevelt leading the forces which capitalize political triumph by expanding the court, and Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, a strategist of the conference chamber, determined to prove the court adequately responsive to any emergency.
