

Weather Forecast
Showers tonight and Friday. Little change in temperature. High yesterday 72. Low 50; precipitation .18. Low this morning, 48.

Idaho Times

VOL. XX. NO. 66—5 CENTS.

A Regional Newspaper Serving

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1937

Six Irrigated Counties in Idaho

Member of Audit Bureau of Circulation

OFFICIAL COUNTY NEWSPAPER

TODAY'S NEWS / TODAY

IN THE DAY'S PARADE

Beery Her Hero

Her hero was Wallace Beery, said Ginger Wyatt, 19, Kansas boulevard beauty, shown above, who claimed the picture star rescued her from a "wild party" where 125 extra girls were called out to entertain visiting studio salaried, according to charges. Beery, an unemployed guest, said—modern day that the girl merely "showered" a ride to Hollywood with him.

To Washington

Wes Ferrell, one of the great pitchers in the game of baseball a few years ago, today was traded, along with his brother Rick and Ned Atkeson to the Washington Senators by the Boston Red Sox. In return Boston received pitcher Buck Newsom and outfielder Bill Chapman.

Gossip Suit

With the coronation over and the duke of Windsor married, the curtain will rise before the end of June on the third act of England's greatest public melodrama—Edward VIII, Simpson's slander suit against Mrs. Joan Rutherford, shown above. The former husband of the now duchess of Windsor and Mrs. Rutherford on the basis of a remark also is alleged to have made concerning Simpson's motives in permitting a divorce before the abdication.

Injunction Refused

PHILADELPHIA, June 10 (UP)—The United States circuit court of appeals refused today to grant Madison Square Garden an injunction halting the baseball game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Philadelphia Phillies.

ADDRESSES FEATURE BANK GATHERING

Work Starts Monday for Falk-Sears, Roebuck Store Here

NEW STRUCTURE READY SEPT. 1st

Erection of a new business building in Twin Falls by the Falk Mercantile Co., Ltd., Boise, to be occupied by Sears, Roebuck and company hardware and electrical appliance lines will get underway by next Monday, it was announced here today by Leo J. Falk, president of the concern which bears his name.

The one-story brick and terra cotta structure will be built on the two lots between Kinney and Saffeway grocery stores on 200 block on Main east. It will virtually be a three-story building for mercantile purposes, Mr. Falk explained, because a full basement will be utilized and a mezzanine floor will be installed.

Opens By Sept. 1. The new store will be opened approximately Sept. 1. The Daily Evening Times. Construction will give added impetus to the business and residential building boom which is sweeping Twin Falls.

Vernon Brothers company of Boise will erect the building, but sub-contract will let and "local" terms will be favored, Mr. Falk said. Hoops Construction company, Twin Falls, will do the excavating for the building by Monday.

Slab of the new store will be 50 feet in width by 125 feet in depth. Ceiling height on the main floor will be 15 feet. The mezzanine floor will also be commodious and will house mercantile departments and store offices.

Latest Type. The entire office will be built "according to latest specifications for a store building of this type," Mr. Falk said.

Property for the new Falk-Sears Roebuck establishment was purchased by the Falk concern from Mrs. Manning and S. A. Shober, Twin Falls, 15 days ago last February.

Plans Other Stores. The Falk company, which has been appointed selling agent for Sears, Roebuck and company merchandise in Idaho and eastern Oregon, already has agencies in its Boise, Hammett and Caldwell stores. It is opening agencies "in the very near future," Mr. Falk said, at Lewiston.

Final action to bring re-sentencing of the date on which Douglas Van Vlack must mount the gallows at the Idaho state penitentiary was taken this afternoon or tomorrow morning in district court here.

County Attorney Edward Babcock prepared to ask Judge T. Dalrymple for an order directing that Van Vlack be re-sentenced to death for the murder of Mildred Jean Adams, his divorced wife.

His action was to follow receipt of the Idaho supreme court remittitur, which arrived by mail this afternoon at office of Frank J. Smith, county auditor and recorder, who is ex-officio clerk of the district court.

Judge Lee was expected to grant the county attorney's requests sooner than these are presented by Babcock.

California Governors No Lure to Comptroller

By O. A. KELKER
J. F. T. O'Connor, United States comptroller of the currency and the man who has the inside track for the 1938 Democratic nomination as governor of California, if he wants it, came to Twin Falls today as featured speaker at the Idaho Bankers' association convention in progress here, and as much as said he "did not" want it.

Postmaster Parry and California party leaders, according to well founded information, have offered O'Connor the nomination. O'Connor's term as comptroller of the currency ends the same year.

But today, at the Park Hotel where he is staying with his nephew and traveling companion W. V. O'Connor, also of Washington, D. C., he called to his reporter's attention that the "next 15 years are the most productive years of my life," when asked if he would seek the nomination.

"Perhaps the view of the situation which I am taking is a selfish one," he said as he stood looking out the window, "but public service is well, it's far from remunerative."

"I quit a good law practice in Los Angeles to accept the appointment to the position I hold now," informed President Roosevelt, when he asked me to take over the job, that I would rather not. But he insisted and so I went to Washington."

"Now being governor of California would be a great honor and I appreciate the faith the people have in me in asking me to run, but the next 15 years will be the most productive of my life."

J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, would rather not be nominated for governor of California. He is in Twin Falls today attending sessions of the Idaho State Bankers' convention.

"I have really not given the governorship the thought which it should have but that is the way things stand," O'Connor said.

As governor of California the salary would be $10,000 yearly, the same as his present position, plus the law he could easily make much more and not have so many worries.

As comptroller his principal task is the examination and supervision of national banks, of which there are over 6,000 with deposits of about 27 billions of dollars. He has charge of the liquidation of all closed national banks of which there are approximately 1,000. He has the sole power to charter or deny charters to national banks. He is a director of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation and supervises bank examiners in 41 counties of the world in which U. S. banks are located.

When this man entered office upon appointment of Roosevelt, there were 1,417 closed national banks with deposits of two billion dollars locked behind vault doors. Today 99 per cent of this "dead" money is in the hands of the people.

In 1933, when the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation was organized, he was the only director appointed for the first four months, and had the entire organization ready to work before the other two directors were named.

Lauds Insurance Act. "I sincerely believe that if the present administration never did anything else but what it has done in history as a great administration for this insurance act, it probably has done more for the people and that is what is necessary," O'Connor said.

The story of his life reads like fiction. He started on North Dakota farm, the youngest of a family of seven boys. He worked on the farm from sunrise to sunset day in and day out and then, little later, he made it a week collecting proof for a weekly newspaper.

"The only difference between making it a week and what I make now," he smiled and said, "is that the former money is the latter money more a man makes the greater the demands that he spends it. Washington is expensive and," he agreed (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Financial Heads, Business Leaders Of State Attend

33rd Annual Meeting of Idaho Association Opens Here Today

Addresses by notables from Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Utah today featured opening of the 33rd annual convention of the Idaho Bankers' association in session here and attended by bankers and business leaders from over the state, as well as associate members and guests from neighboring states.

DEATH COMES TO FORMER CANADA PRIME MINISTER

Sir Robert Borden, War-Time Head of Provinces, Dies In Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 10 (UP)—Sir Robert Borden, former premier of Canada, died today.

The 83-year-old statesman died of a heart ailment which became acute last night.

Sir Robert, who became prime minister in Oct. 1911, and headed the war time union government formed in 1917, suffered the first heart attack last May 31, and doctors said then he would not recover.

His death was announced through the medium of a cable message by W. W. Mill, vice president of the association and was followed by the annual business address, given by Mr. Borden.

The four major visiting speakers followed and the meeting then adjourned after which a luncheon and visiting featured this afternoon. For the visiting "bagels" a luncheon was held at the Park hotel. For the visiting ladies a luncheon was held at the Park hotel, the group then driving to scenic spots nearby including the canyon bridge, Shoshone falls and Twin falls.

Banquet Tonight. This evening will featured speaker Sam Kleiser, more widely known as Peter Spraynwood of Salt Lake City, members will attend a banquet at Radisson which will culminate in a dance later in the evening.

At this banquet J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency of the United States, from Washington, D. C., will also give a short talk. Mr. O'Connor will be principal speaker tomorrow morning as the convention enters its second day of activities with morning sessions opening at the Park hotel.

Two other addresses are also slated for tomorrow morning. They will be given by Ralph H. Parrish, dean of the school of business administration, University of Idaho, and Adam B. Bennion of the Utah Power and Light company of Salt Lake City. Afternoon sessions tomorrow will feature election and installation of officers for the year.

Business sessions tomorrow close the Idaho Bankers' association (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

4 European Nations Agree To Non-Intervention Pact

Great Britain, Germany, France and Italy in Understanding

LONDON, June 10 (UP)—The United Press was informed reliably late today that Britain, France, Germany and Italy have reached a full agreement assuring the return of Italy and Germany to participation in the work of the international committee for non-intervention in the Spanish Civil war.

The agreement was said to provide: 1. Extended security zones. 2. Non-aggression guarantees by both belligerent Spanish factions. 3. In case of future attacks on patrol ships (such as the bombing of the German warship Deutschland by Spanish loyalist planes) the non-intervention powers "will hold immediate consultations." (This presumably is designed to pressure such as the German bombardment of Almeria in retaliation for the bombing of the Deutschland.)

4. The patrol authorities on the spot of the non-intervention powers will consider any action proposed by an aggrieved power "to meet any particular situation" such as the bombing of the Deutschland.

5. The source of investigators assigned to the case worked on the theory that the kidnappers who took Mrs. Parsons from her 11-acre estate in this exclusive section before noon yesterday still were somewhere on the island. Nevertheless an eight-stair alarm was flashed-out as a precautionary measure.

The ransom note, printed with pencil on colored paper, was found last night tucked into the upholstery of Mrs. Parsons' car in the rear seat. It had the initials of a local-type house, it read: "Bill Parsons—I have your wife. Bring $25,000 to the Junction Inn terminal within 24 hours. My man will meet you and call you by name. Do not bring any cops. If you do Allen will never speak to you again."

The blood-stained letter was found in the basement of the present home in which Mrs. Parsons lived with her husband, William H. Parsons, heir to a paper fortune.

Although it was held by the state might have been made by Parsons in killing outside, which he raised on his estate, the letter was turned over to chemists for analysis.

VAN VLACK WRIT REACHES COURT

Babcock Prepares to Seek Order For Return of Convicted Killer

Final action to bring re-sentencing of the date on which Douglas Van Vlack must mount the gallows at the Idaho state penitentiary was taken this afternoon or tomorrow morning in district court here.

County Attorney Edward Babcock prepared to ask Judge T. Dalrymple for an order directing that Van Vlack be re-sentenced to death for the murder of Mildred Jean Adams, his divorced wife.

His action was to follow receipt of the Idaho supreme court remittitur, which arrived by mail this afternoon at office of Frank J. Smith, county auditor and recorder, who is ex-officio clerk of the district court.

Judge Lee was expected to grant the county attorney's requests sooner than these are presented by Babcock.

Date of Van Vlack's return will depend on the time fixed by the judge.

Mexican, Stabbed In Heart, Walks To Police Station

POHATTELLO, June 10 (UP)—Five days after he was slayed in the liver lobe of the heart, Jose Miller, Mexican laborer, walked into the police station here and said he was in great pain.

He was rushed to a local hospital, where nurses today said he was in critical condition. He said he was stabbed during a struggle.

NURSE CAUSE OF KIDNAPING SCARE

Grandson of Rockefeller Is Off His Figure in Love-Sick Story Plot

CHICAGO, June 10 (UP)—A pretty nurse put police in a dither today with a fantastic story of a plot to kidnap John Rockefeller, grandson of the late John D. Rockefeller, but admitted untruthfulness that she "made it all up."

"Yes, I made it all up—it's all untrue," said Miss Margaret Montgomery, 25, 27, nurse of Presbyterian hospital. "I did it to get him to come back to me."

The admission was made to Lieutenant Kelly of state's attorney's police.

Miss Montgomery earlier had told of being abducted by two men and released with a message which was intended to bring Princeton to a rendezvous where police believed he would have been held for ransom.

Her story, which carried two auto-motives in his automobile and said he had been in "constant fear of kidnapping since the death of my grandfather," became suspicious and notified police.

He said he last met Miss Montgomery while a patient at Presbyterian hospital two years ago with a broken knee cap. He described her as "a very good friend."

CLUES FOUND IN KIDNAPING CASE

Ransom Note Asks $25,000 For Return of Long Island Society Matron

STONY BROOK, N. Y., June 10 (UP)—With a ransom note and a blood-stained handkerchief as clues, federal agents and state and local police hunted up all roads today leading from Long Island today in the search for the kidnappers of Mrs. Parsons, socially prominent here, and kin to several wealthy families.

The source of investigators assigned to the case worked on the theory that the kidnappers who took Mrs. Parsons from her 11-acre estate in this exclusive section before noon yesterday still were somewhere on the island. Nevertheless an eight-stair alarm was flashed-out as a precautionary measure.

The ransom note, printed with pencil on colored paper, was found last night tucked into the upholstery of Mrs. Parsons' car in the rear seat. It had the initials of a local-type house, it read: "Bill Parsons—I have your wife. Bring $25,000 to the Junction Inn terminal within 24 hours. My man will meet you and call you by name. Do not bring any cops. If you do Allen will never speak to you again."

The blood-stained letter was found in the basement of the present home in which Mrs. Parsons lived with her husband, William H. Parsons, heir to a paper fortune.

Although it was held by the state might have been made by Parsons in killing outside, which he raised on his estate, the letter was turned over to chemists for analysis.

PROBE LIKELY IN MAIL DISORDERS

Sentiment Divides Leaders Of Congress in Strike Situation

WASHINGTON, June 10 (UP)—A acute investigation of charges that strikers interfered with delivery of mail to steel factories appeared likely today but sentiment was sharply divided over whether congress should, by deeply into the cause of industrial unrest.

Tomorrow Chairman Kenneth D. McCellar, D. Tenn., will present to the senate post office and post roads committee a report on the mail delivery investigation.

Sen. H. Styles Bridges, R. N. H., who introduced the proposal, said he intended to "keep hammering away at it" until action was taken.

"I expect to have substantial proof of the charges that strikers interfered with the mail deliveries to besieged Ohio factories," he said.

Suggestions that congress undertake the cause through investigation of the general strike situation and its underlying causes came originally from Sen. Royal G. Copeland, D. N. Y. He said he believed that such an inquiry would aid in preventing prolonged tie-ups of industry.

Sen. William E. Borah, R. Idaho, said he favored an inquiry which "would bring out all the facts" in connection with interference with the mails, but opposed a broader investigation.

PARIS, June 10 (UP)—The air ministry announced tonight that Airline Express aircraft at Gao at 2:40 p. m. local time. The plane was on 1,170 miles east of Dakar, Senegal.

WE'VE TAKEN YOU ALONG ON OUR TRAILER TRIP! HOW ABOUT TAKING US ALONG WHEN YOU GO AWAY?

SPANISH LOYALIST LEADER PLANS OFFENSIVE AT BILBAO

PRIO TO CLAIMS ARMY OF 500,000 TO STAGE FIGHT

All Men Under New Military Head Will Have Army Training

By LOUIS WALTER
(Copyright, 1937, United Press)

PRIO, French-Spanish Frontiersman, leader of the Spanish Loyalist army, today announced that he will stage a general offensive of Loyalist forces. Such an offensive has long been a "dream" of Prieto, said that the result would be a "great victory" for the Loyalists in man power has not been questioned. But the nationalistic forces, as admitted by supporters, are better equipped and trained personnel.

500,000 Under Arms
Prieto, in a statement to the United Press today, asserted that the Loyalist army will command an army of 500,000 men, every one of whom will have had military training.

Prieto, in a statement to the United Press today, asserted that the Loyalist army will command an army of 500,000 men, every one of whom will have had military training.

Specialists Trained
"Our effective power will total more than half a million. We are preparing a great number of specialists—aviators, artillery experts, engineers, dynamiters, radio telegraphers, and so on—who will be capable of leading them."

Specialists Trained
"Our effective power will total more than half a million. We are preparing a great number of specialists—aviators, artillery experts, engineers, dynamiters, radio telegraphers, and so on—who will be capable of leading them."

GOVERNORSHIP NO LURE—O'CONNOR

Comptroller of Currency Is Not Anxious For Bid In California

Comptroller of Currency Is Not Anxious For Bid In California

Comptroller of Currency Is Not Anxious For Bid In California

KIWANIANS HEAR J. F. T. O'CONNOR

J. F. T. O'Connor, United States comptroller of the currency, addressed Twin Falls Kiwanis club members at a luncheon meeting today, discussing activities of his office in connection with the American banking system.

Lamb Pool Leads

Lamb Pool Leads

NEWS IN BRIEF

Go to Hawaii
Miss Jane Maxwell left today for San Francisco and she will sail tomorrow for Honolulu.

Here from Los Angeles
Mrs. Hans Noren and son, Bill, Los Angeles, have arrived here to visit Mrs. Noren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Osterder.

Returns from Visit
Mrs. Thonley Hodder has returned from Salt Lake City after spending two weeks there with relatives and friends.

L. D. S. Meeting
Twin Falls L. D. S. society will hold the regular meeting at 8 o'clock on Sunday, June 13. Prayers and Mutual organizations are excused.

Leave for Coast
Mrs. C. E. Lind and Miss Lillian Lind left this afternoon for San Diego, Calif., where they will spend part of the summer.

Fine Fines
Evan Hutchings, Kimberly, was fined $8 and costs of $6.40 by Justice H. M. Hoiler on a check charge. He paid the two sums and was released.

To Visit Mother
Mrs. H. Turner left this morning for Incline, Calif., to visit her mother, Mrs. Rose Bagley, and friends. She will be gone about a month.

Condition "Not Good"
Hospital records this afternoon reported the condition of Harry Deweller, Twin Falls, who was critically injured in an automobile accident on Saturday, as "not very good."

Here from Missouri
Mrs. E. F. DeAtley, Missouri, is visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeAtley, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse DeAtley. She is Alphonse DeAtley's mother.

Sail For Europe
Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Lamb accompanied by their daughter, Ida Lee, today for Montreal where they will sail on the Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of York" for Europe. They expect to be gone about six weeks.

Leave on Visit
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krueger, Kimberly, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Thompson and daughters, Eunice and Norma, Twin Falls, left today for Newport, Wash., to spend a few days with Mrs. Thompson's brother, Bill Donkin, a former resident of Kimberly.

Returns from Seattle
Mrs. Sarah M. Swope, who spent several weeks with her son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Swope, returned here on her way home she visited Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Armstrong, North Powder, Ore., another son-in-law and daughter.

Attend Exercises
Mrs. A. O. Smith, Mrs. Prater and Mrs. O. W. Erbland have returned from Boise where they attended commencement exercises at the University of Idaho, southern branch, yesterday. Robert Prater graduated from the college.

At the Hospital
Admitted to the hospital were Mildred Albee, Mrs. Charles McNelly, Buhl; E. L. Bent, Okaysa; Montgomery, Betty; Mae Lehu, Earl Doidge, Lillian Doidge, Twin Falls; Mrs. Ida Hodder, Weiser; and Luella Underwood, Glori Montgomery, Mrs. John Platt, Marie Arlington, Vera Barton, all of Twin Falls.

HAWKINS GIVEN DEFINITE WORK

Governor Signs Appointment Announcing Commission to Ex-Twin Falls Head

Governor Signs Appointment Announcing Commission to Ex-Twin Falls Head

Governor Signs Appointment Announcing Commission to Ex-Twin Falls Head

Inspector Advises Spray by June 17

Inspector Advises Spray by June 17

Inspector Advises Spray by June 17

Inspector Advises Spray by June 17

Inspector Advises Spray by June 17

Inspector Advises Spray by June 17

FALK ANNOUNCES WORK ON STORE

Sears, Roebuck Lines Will Go Into Building Ready By Sept. 1st

(Continued From Page One)
Twin Falls and Baker, Ore. These Falk establishments will be the only stores in Idaho to have Sears, Roebuck merchandise may be bought at retail, since there are no Sears retail stores in the state.

Varied Line
Merchandise stocked will include a complete line of hardware, sporting goods, household, stoves, washing and ironing machines, electric refrigerators, furniture and floor coverings, auto accessories, batteries, tires, motor oils, paints, plumbing and heating equipment, and dairy supplies, separators, fencing and kindred lines.

"We are happy to announce this new building," said Mr. Falk. "The Sears lines which we carry are famous all over the country and we believe that this is a store which will be valued by many of our friends and customers."

Sears, Roebuck and company is well known over to the people of Idaho, where the company operates no retail stores, to require any additional explanation. The Falk company is proud of its record of successful merchandising in Idaho, and the good will and volume of business it has enjoyed with thousands of customers is proof that our patrons and friends value the service and the quality merchandise at fair prices which the company has been putting out through this long period of business.

Over 50 Years
"Last year the Sears company celebrated its golden jubilee, and its prominence in merchandising fields during the past half century has made it the outstanding organization of its kind in the world. The Falk company is honored to sponsor the entry of Sears merchandise into the retail field of Idaho."

The Falk concern now has in actual operation four retail stores—the three in Idaho, at Boise, Nampa and Caldwell, and one in LaGrande, Ore. The Boise establishment occupies a location at the corner of Eighth and Main streets, and Mr. Falk pointed out that a part of this property was the site of the original Falk store started in 1868 by Nathan Falk and David Falk, as far as we have been able to check," he said, "this store has occupied one location longer than any mercantile firm west of the Mississippi river."

Sears, Roebuck and company now operates over 400 retail stores in addition to its 10 large mail order plants. It employs approximately 50,000 persons. President of Sears is Gen. R. E. Wood, for years an outstanding U. S. Army officer, more lately an American industrial leader. Chairman of the board is J. C. Rosenwald, former U. S. senator, prominent in American industry and famed as a philanthropist.

Sears, Roebuck and company now operates over 400 retail stores in addition to its 10 large mail order plants. It employs approximately 50,000 persons.

EVA RUTH WARD WINS SONG TEST

Takes First in Elimination At Radioland; Contest Extended Week

Takes First in Elimination At Radioland; Contest Extended Week

Takes First in Elimination At Radioland; Contest Extended Week

Takes First in Elimination At Radioland; Contest Extended Week

Takes First in Elimination At Radioland; Contest Extended Week

Pair of Divorces Granted by Judge

Divorce Decree was granted by Judge T. D. Bailey in district court today to Mrs. Effie Allman against her husband, John A. Allman.

Units Of Wendell Scouts Have Show

Wendell Scouts, for the purpose of raising money for a night stage, a benefit performance which included a showing of Will Rogers in "Following the Sun," nine youths were listed in the invoice certificate. Later it is planned to organize the Wendell Scouts and a patrol in Wendell into a troop which will be numbered 75. LeRoy Schouwer will be troop chairman, and Elbert Hawley Scoutmaster.

Wendell Scouts, for the purpose of raising money for a night stage, a benefit performance which included a showing of Will Rogers in "Following the Sun," nine youths were listed in the invoice certificate.

Seen Today

Trate motorist mumbering to himself as he starts to turn into parking spot and finds dog contentedly lying there and refusing to move. Every punch he gives at the dog is met by the holes punched out by incurable optimism.

Trate motorist mumbering to himself as he starts to turn into parking spot and finds dog contentedly lying there and refusing to move.

Trate motorist mumbering to himself as he starts to turn into parking spot and finds dog contentedly lying there and refusing to move.

Trate motorist mumbering to himself as he starts to turn into parking spot and finds dog contentedly lying there and refusing to move.

Trate motorist mumbering to himself as he starts to turn into parking spot and finds dog contentedly lying there and refusing to move.

Trate motorist mumbering to himself as he starts to turn into parking spot and finds dog contentedly lying there and refusing to move.

FINANCIAL HEADS OF IDAHO ATTEND 33rd Annual State Meeting

33rd Annual State Meeting of Idaho Bankers Association

33rd Annual State Meeting of Idaho Bankers Association

33rd Annual State Meeting of Idaho Bankers Association

AGREEMENT ENDS MULLAN STRIKE

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

Workers Enter Shafts For First Time in Month as Pact is Signed

CHURCH OPENS 15 WEEKS' PROGRAM

Rev. Mark O. Gronenberg Announces Special Crusade Series

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Opening a "Christ Centered Crusade," Children's day is to be observed Sunday by the First Church of Christ in Twin Falls.

Four Cans of Sardines Sent To Plants as Test for Mails

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Four cans of sardines were sent today via U. S. mail to two routes in the strike-ridden Ohio plants of the Republic Steel corporation.

The sardines were posted by Dwight Scovel, a seaman of Heights, N. J. He had called at the Republic offices here and obtained the names of the men inside the plant. He picked Gen. Brown, manager of the Republic Steel plant at Niles, Ohio, and J. H. Slater, assistant manager of the Corrihan-McKinnis plant in Cleveland, for his gifts.

John L. Laurentsen, local office manager for the company, helped Scovel wrap the packages, and provided him with a notary and a stenographer. The latter made out an affidavit for him declaring that Scovel had no interest in the Republic Steel corporation and that the packages contained fish.

The post office accepted the packages without question, the postal superintendent announcing that he had received no instructions about accepting food packages for the picketed steel plants.

He said that if they were returned as "undeliverable" in accordance with the recent Ohio postoffice ruling, "the public will hear of it."

The package to Niles was sent by insured parcel post and the one to Cleveland by first class registered mail.

Students Present Program at Farm

Sixty-five members of the Junior and intermediate departments of the Baptist Sunday school summer school presented a program this morning to residents of the county farm.

The school has an enrollment of 107 students who will attend classes five days a week for the next four weeks.

It's Our Family's Whiskey, Neighbor

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

The Good Old Fashioned Way of doing things!

Asks Estate Order

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Mr. Ulrich, who died Aug. 25, 1925, left a Castleton lot valued at $100 and an unknown sum of money received as heir of the estate of Flora B. Garnett, Montezuma, Ia. Paul B. Boyd is attorney for Mrs. Ulrich in the present action.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Emmett Eugene Ulrich were asked by Mrs. Nellie M. Ulrich, his widow, in a petition filed in probate court today.

For These Unusual Values in USED CARS

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

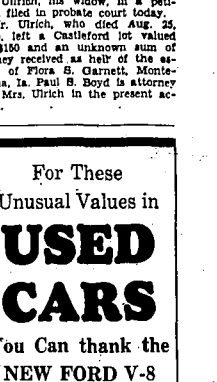

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

You Can thank the NEW FORD V-8

USED CARS & TRUCKS
REG. QUALITY
ALL MAKES

The new Ford V-8 is out-selling the next two combined in the low priced field. Never has any automobile brought so many good cars in exchange. These cars must be sold. Prices have been made to move them quickly. Little cash is required.

33 V-8 Tudor Sedan	$275
33 Chevrolet Fordor	$225
35 Hudson 6 Sedan, radio	$475
35 Chevrolet Coach, trunk	$425
33 Chrysler 6 Sedan	$325
30 Dodge Sedan	$125
34 V-8 Tudor Sedan	$350
35 V-8 Tudor Sedan	$425
35 V-8 Fordor Tour	$595
35 V-8 Coupe	$350
29 Hupmobile Sedan	$100
35 Ford Truck, 1/2 ton	$350
34 Chevrolet Sedan	$145
30 Chevrolet Coupe	$145
35 V-8 Fordor Tour, Sedan	$485
34 Chevrolet Town Sedan	$425
29 Ford Roadster	$100
29 Ford Coupe	$100
34 Ford Tudor	$100
31 Ford Tudor Sedan	$125
34 V-8 Pickup	$325
35 V-8 Pickup	$425
35 V-8 Pickup	$425
34 Chevrolet Truck	$350
35 Ford Truck, 1/2 ton	$350
34 Chevrolet Truck	$350
34 Dodge Truck	$350
34 Ford Truck, 1/2 ton	$350

100% Satisfaction or 100% Refund

Union Motor Co.
Your FORD Dealer
The Home of Safe Bargains
Honest Values

Count the Features - Count the Savings - and CHOOSE CHEVROLET

NEW HIGH-COMPRESSION VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE - More power, less fuel, and the third step in the price scale.

IMPROVED SLIDING RUBBER ACTION "S" (on most models) - Gives extra cushioning and extra grip in the wheel wells, smooths the ride.

NEW ALL-STEEL, ALL-STEEL BODY (with Bond Steel Top) - Strong and durable, more roomy, and the best steel body ever built.

FOR CORPORALES ALIENVOLET REPRESENTATION

It's the only low-priced car that brings you all these motoring advantages—the only low-priced car that gives you such outstanding beauty, comfort and performance together with such exceptional operating economy.

ONLY COMPLETE CAR—PRICED SO LOW

GLEN G. JENKINS

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

Another Ill. Night with the Southern Stars
FRI. JUNE 10—8 P. M.
RADIOLAND

SPOTTED FEVER STRIKES IN BUHL

Sheep-Shearer Ill as Disease Hits For Second Time in Twin Falls County

For the second time this season, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, caused by the bite of an infected wood tick, struck in Twin Falls county and J. E. Baxter, 55, a sheep-shearer of Buhl, was ill with the disease there, the regular weekly report of the Twin Falls county health unit shows this afternoon. The first case of the disease was contracted by Oscar Vilgmore, cowboy from Hogerson who was treated at the county general hospital in Twin Falls. He was described by his physician at the time as being a "very sick man" and was running a temperature of over 102 degrees but he survived.

Throughout Idaho, statistics show three persons have already died of the disease this year, including one at Shoshone.

Other diseases which exist in this county, according to the health unit report, include three whooping cough cases at Buhl; three mumps at Twin Falls; four scarlet fever, three being in Pinar and one in Twin Falls; two chicken pox in Twin Falls and one pulmonary tuberculosis in Pinar.

The cases listed on the report are new ones and do not include cases which have been previously reported.

GOODING

The Excelsior club of the 4-H organization met Saturday in the high school building. The meeting was called to order by president Dorothy Hill, samples of materials and patterns were studied. A demonstration was given by Juana Williams. The next meeting of the club will be held at the Hill residence.

HEYBURN

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carrier have left for Logan where Mr. Carrier will be employed at the sugar factory. Mrs. Leo Handy entertained members of the Syringa club at her home on Friday. The afternoon was spent at needlework and refreshments were served.

Auxiliary States Formal Opening

Mrs. Albert R. Nichols, Pocatello, Idaho department first vice president, will institute the local Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary at a season following the regular meeting of the post June 10 in Legion Memorial hall. It was announced by Arthur M. Peters, post commander.

LICENSE HANDLER PUT ON AT BUHL

Distribution of driver's licenses in Buhl began today under J. E. McDowell, named as license agent by F. M. Kingsbury, state traffic officer in general charge of the sale of permits.

McDowell went on duty at the Buhl city hall and will be stationed there until July 1, deadline for use of old licenses.

Legion Auxiliary Re-Elects Officers

JEROME, June 10 (Special)—An American Legion Auxiliary political dinner was served at the country home of Mrs. C. Y. Williamson on Monday evening with Mrs. Johnson, Mackey, as a guest.

LEROUX KUMMEL

RAIN, WIND HIT DROUTH STATES

Damage Mounts to Millions Of Dollars as Tornadoes Injure Crops

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10 (AP)—Tornado winds and rain succeeded dust and drouth today as the plague of the great drought.

OKlahoma, Kansas and Texas—three of the states in what once was the "dust bowl"—counted millions of dollars worth of damage to property and crops.

The latest blows were struck last night at two places in Oklahoma. Tornadoes left one dead, at least 10 injured and damage to homes and crops.

They followed rains that caused floods in Texas and parts of New Mexico—another "dust bowl" state—and coursed on the heels of hailstorms in southwest Oklahoma.

Fryers HAYES' "FUL-FLAVOR" FRYERS

are far different from the usual range raised fryers. They are more tender, better flavor and much more delicious. They are raised in sanitary wire floor coops and milk fed from the first feed for rapid growth.

30c Lb. Picked 25c Allvs

10c Per Bird Extra If Drawn and Jointed

Delivered If Desired Order Well in Advance

Being Served at: PARK HOTEL WRAY'S CAFE SPEERS COFFEE SHOP

Listed on Menus As: HAYES' "FUL-FLAVOR" FRIED CHICKEN

Try It Just Once

HAYES' Hi-Grade Hatchery

FAIRVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. John Higbe returned Sunday after a 10-day trip to points in California. Charles Novacek entered the Veterans' hospital at Boise last week for an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Novacek and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Novacek visited him Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamby and daughter left Monday for a vacation with relatives in Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jagels are expected home from Chicago this week.

E. H. Pember has his nephew, Dan Pember of Sheldon, Wis., visiting him for a few days. Miss Eunice Wood returned Saturday from a visit in northern Idaho and Wyoming.

Rites Held for Monroe

Owsley, Screen Actor HOLLYWOOD, June 10 (AP)—Monroe Owsley, a stage and screen actor who specialized in "playboy" roles, was buried at Forest Lawn cemetery yesterday a few hours after the last rites for Jean Harlow. Services were held so quietly that there were no sightseers. A hundred friends, most of them actors, were present at the Little Church of the Flowers. Owsley died Monday after a heart attack. He was 35.

Another BIG Night with the Southern Stars. FRIDAY, JUNE 11th—8 P. M. RADIOLAND

DRINK Blatz MILWAUKEE BEER The Beer of the Year

Distributed by EMPIRE DISTRIBUTING CO. Phone 72 162 2nd Ave. No. Twin Falls, Idaho

Sale! WHITE BAGS

Special Purchase 98c

Shiney Patents and Novelty Gains

Nothing so smart or wearable as white bags and only a special purchase brings these to you at this low price—Top handles, pouches, envelopes.

Bargains Downstairs

Store Bargains WOOL BATTS

Comfort size, ecru shade Oregon wool batt at a low price 79c

TOWELS

17x35, pastel color Turkish towels for only a dime—stock up at 10c

CURTAINS

A special group of smart ruffled curtains and panels bought to sell at much more 89c

DAM CANVAS

All widths and weights of fine eastern duck at prices that guarantee savings.

25 Piece Beverage Set

MEN'S and YOUNG MEN'S SUITS $19.75

Sport backs, plain backs, notch or peak lapels, single or double breasted, smartly tailored of fine worsted fabrics in greys, browns and blues. These have been selected from higher price lines to make a real holiday special. Extra pants available in some models. Sizes 36 to 44.

Sale of Famous Cannon FINE MUSLIN SHEETS

In the face of a rising market we bring these famous long wearing sheets to you at a low price. Permanent white finish... No loading or artificial weighting... Special women ribbon tape selvages, 25% stronger than ordinary selvages and GUARANTEED for 4 YEARS OF HOUSEHOLD USE.

63x108, 72x108, 81x99 $2.25 pair—EACH
81x108—$2.40 pair—EACH
42x36 Cases—6 for $1.59—EACH

12 beautifully decorated glasses, 12 crystal muddlers and an enameled carrier—Complete $1.00

Reg. 98c POLO SHIRTS

Cool, comfortable Polo Shirts of combed cotton, rayon knit, or mesh that sold as high as 98c. Can be bought for 59c

MEN'S TWEED PANTS

Slack model, sanforized shrunk, carefully tailored of tested fabrics. Black and white mixture $1.98

COTTON UNIONS

Short sleeve ankle length style ecru color. Sizes 36 to 46. Well made, full cut garments for 49c

INDIAN BLANKETS

Firmly woven Indian type blankets in bright colors. Ideal for throws, car robes, etc. $1.39

Men's White OXFORDS $2.98

Plain toes, wing tips, straight tips, all leather with either leather or heavy crepe rubber soles. A buy at $2.98

Brown or White SANDALS $1.29

Children's all leather sandals, comfortable and serviceable, pr. $1.29

MEN'S WORK SHIRTS

Well made of good blue chambray, coat style with two pockets, all sizes 39c

New Shipment SANDALS $1.98

144 pair smart, new summer sandals in white, yellow, red, mostly low heel styles. Choose tomorrow at $1.98

An Unusual Group of 200 Sport Dresses

UNUSUAL in Fabric
UNUSUAL in style
UNUSUAL in Price

Comfort and Coolness

Has been our aim in picking these Washable Dresses in Sharkskins Shantung Spun Linens and many other novelty fabrics in a larger assortment than we have ever shown before.

$4.95 to $7.95 Washable

THE MAYFAIR SHOP

Sale of First Quality — Ringless Washable Fabrics Hosiery 55c pair

- Gay Prints
- Pastel Crepes
- Acetate Prints
- Linen-like Weaves

49c yd.

Cool Economy for a Smart Wardrobe

A large selection of 60c to 98c values, 39 inches wide, and all washable.

Golden Rule C. C. Anderson Co. "A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE"

Wanted Seasonable Shades Sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2 SAVE!

Smart Knee Hi Stockings

Smart knee hi stockings, all silk with latex top, mock seam in back, cool and serviceable. 29c Pr. 2 Pairs 49c

TELEPHONE 88

Full Length Wire Service United Press Association. Full NPA Feature Service.

Published Six Days a Week at the Second Street West, Twin Falls, by IDAHO EVENING TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Entered as Second Class Matter in the Twin Falls Post Office April 11, 1919. Under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By Cash or Payable in Advance

By Mail, Within Idaho and Reno County, Nev., One Year, $3.50
Six Months, $2.00
By Mail, Outside Idaho, 1 year, $4.00

All notices required by law or by order of competent jurisdiction to be published weekly will be published in the Thursday issue of this paper pursuant to Section 16-10-1, C. S. 1923, as added thereto by Chapter 134, 1927, Session Laws of Idaho.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES
WEST-HOLLADAY CO., INC.
Millie Towne, 220 Bush Street, San Francisco, Calif.

POT SHOTS

WITH

The Gentleman in the Third Row

IT WOULD SCARE A SELF-RESPECTING TROUT!

Pot Shots: It must be another new invention by George Arter the barber who already has that hair clipper with the headlight. This time, though, it concerns fish-bait.

George must have gotten an idea for a new kind of bait, because the other day he was industriously trying to insert an angle worm into a bottle of microchrochrome. It wouldn't go, so he finally had to color it by sprinkling the microchrochrome on it.

It gives you this secret for what it's worth. Perhaps that kind of bait is just the thing all hungry trout have been waiting for. Better try it out, Pot Shots, before George gets a patent on it.

—Titan Thatch

QUITE A STRAIN!

Pot Shots: Imagine the strain under which the attendants in our local banks are working today and tomorrow, what with all the banking big-shoals of Idaho and even the U. S. comptroller of currency wandering around with an eye on how the Twin Falls banks are doing.

It's like a dozen or two army privates trying to get something done with a regiment of general standing army.

—A Private

OUR ALMANAC AND HISTORY LESSON

Where remedies are needed slighting equals nothing.

JUNE

1—Birth of Savannah, Ga., settled the records, 1733.

11—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

12—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

13—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

14—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

15—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

16—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

17—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

18—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

19—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

20—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

21—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

22—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

23—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

24—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

25—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

26—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

27—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

28—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

29—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

30—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

Bloomers and Women Rebels

We seem to have passed a notable anniversary recently without realizing it. For it was on May 27, 1887—just a century ago—that a determined lady named Amelia Bloomer first appeared in public to demonstrate woman's right to dress for comfort and convenience.

The outfit she wore was something of a cross between a pair of trousers and a circus tent. It had no faint resemblance to the frilly wispy things that go by the name of bloomers today. Its billowy pants legs came to the ankle, and each leg contained enough solid fabric to outfit an office full of 1937 model stenographers.

But for its day it was a daring and somewhat shocking creation. Amelia Bloomer was denounced and thundered at. She stuck to her guns, inquiring how a woman could be expected to be active in the triple-peticoated dust-mops that went by the name of skirts in those days; and in the slow progress of the years woman's right to dress sensibly was at length won.

Today's woman, who meets the hot summer days in clothes that are light, cool and comfortable—while the superior male sweaters through them in out-of-date garments which are none of those things—may never have heard of Amelia, but she owes her something just the same.

For Amelia was one of those forthright American females who established the great tradition of feminine independence. These women were direct actionists; when they saw something wrong with the scheme of things they got up and did something about it, caring not a whit if they got ridiculed for their pains.

Carrie Nation was one of those ladies. She saw in the small-city gin mill a blight and a disgrace; and instead of protesting gently that something ought to be done, she grabbed her hatchet and went out and did it. To be sure, the corner gin mill still exists; but woman's right to get up on her feet and take action has been firmly established.

So it was with Susan B. Anthony, who went out into the highways and byways and made an unholy nuisance of herself about women's rights as citizens. So it was with Amelia Bloomer, who decided woman ought to dress more sensibly. Frances Willard was another sprig off the same tree, and so was Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Some of these women accomplished the reforms they set out to accomplish and some of them did not. Whether they succeeded or not isn't the point. The point is that they taught their sex to stop playing Patient Griselda and turn their complaints into action.

As a result of all of this, the American woman today goes and does pretty much where and as she pleases. The difference between feminine styles in Amelia Bloomer's day and in our own day is not greater than the difference between woman's status as a free human being then and now. And most of the change is due to these determined feminine rebels.

Wounds Need Dressing

Novelists and essayists have had a good deal to say about the "lost generation" in recent years. Bernard M. Baruch, in a commencement address at South Carolina's famed preparatory school, The Citadel, the other day offered some extremely sensible remarks on the subject.

"There is an element of tragic sadness," he said, "in the hundreds of thousands sifted through the terrible sieve of the depression and now left helpless on the barren strands of the WPA. Now, when real recovery has come after several years of their enforced idleness, most of them remain unemployed because the procession has passed them by, and for one reason or another they have become unfit to take their place in our economic revival.

"These are the derelicts—the economic casualties—of one of the greatest catastrophes that ever blasted this country."

"Shall we have the intelligence and goodwill," do you suppose, to apply ourselves to the job of getting these casualties rehabilitated?"

How things get around! Italy used safety pins 3,000 years ago and now we're all stuck with them.

A Fort Worth fugitive who escaped on a scooter had the advantage because the police car couldn't take the corners on two wheels.

Texas predicts we may drill 15,000 feet deep for kerosene which would almost call for a refill for the lamps.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

"The bankers are here—hey, lend me twenty bucks!"

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

CAST OF CHARACTERS

PATRICIA—WARRREN, secretary. Don Monterey, actor-playwright.

WARREN, Pat's cousin and roommate in New York. Patricia's actor-playwright.

WARREN—AKERS, Patricia's rival.

Yesterday's Pat opened her first day in Monterey's office, a world she had successfully become the most attractive man in the world.

CHAPTER III

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

OUR ALMANAC AND HISTORY LESSON

Where remedies are needed slighting equals nothing.

JUNE

1—Birth of Savannah, Ga., settled the records, 1733.

11—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

12—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

13—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

14—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

15—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

16—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

17—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

18—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

19—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

20—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

21—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

22—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

23—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

24—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

25—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

26—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

27—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

28—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

29—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

30—The first American colony was founded in Jamestown, Va., 1607.

IT'S FUN TO PLAN, ANYWAY!

Dear Pot Shots: You will find this kind of thing rampant these days.

"Shall we take a short trip around the Panama canal?"

"Or maybe we should drive east."

"Or a month in the mountains west of the Rockies?"

"And I've always wanted to see Alaska."

"Maybe we could get a peek at the movie at the Hollywood in Twin Falls. I want all and sundry congressmen that no matter what they put in an anti-lynching law, there's one class of blanket-bills such-and-such that can't escape us, no? If I lay hands on one of 'em."

"And that's the motorist who speeds up at the corners on rainy days, splashing mud all over us pedestrians."

"There's no law gonna save those nitwits."

—J. Deastran

SOME OF THAT IOWA WATER ISN'T SO GOOD!

Pot Shots: An eye for an eye, mine, here, for the support of a large stone church, which they expect at some time to replace the frame structure just completed.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

"The bankers are here—hey, lend me twenty bucks!"

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

"The bankers are here—hey, lend me twenty bucks!"

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

"The bankers are here—hey, lend me twenty bucks!"

CONTRACT WIFE

BY LOUISE HOLMES

© 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

PATRICIA—WARRREN, secretary. Don Monterey, actor-playwright.

WARREN, Pat's cousin and roommate in New York. Patricia's actor-playwright.

WARREN—AKERS, Patricia's rival.

Yesterday's Pat opened her first day in Monterey's office, a world she had successfully become the most attractive man in the world.

CHAPTER III

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office soon was a place of efficiency and order proved that she had successfully become the capable Miss Warren. All day the top of Don's typewriter sounded behind locked doors while his secretary, Patricia, sat at her desk, but instead she had only time for fleeting thoughts and momentary gratifications that the beloved cousin and her job were happy.

At five o'clock on the fourth day as Don's secretary, Pat went in to him with her letters. He looked up with a nod and asked if she had any mail for him. There had been an indication of trouble.

"A woman who wanted to paint your portrait," Pat told him in a flat colorless tone so foreign to her. "She was a bit derm-oh."

Don laughed. When he laughed it always did something to Pat's nerves. What would happen if she smiled at her she could only imagine. But he never looked at her, never seemed aware of her as he went about his work. She had wanted, yet it was so disturbing at times. As he rapidly signed his letters, she stood beside him, allowing her eyes to stray over his shoulder, breaking the line of her lovely figure by an awkward posture. Bitterly, she reflected, "I'm as necessary to him as a tooth brush to a man."

"Miss—er—," he began, blotting his signature.

"Warren—think you—how long have you been here?"

"This is my fourth day."

"I have accomplished more in the four days than in the previous six months," he said, casually impersonal. Learning back in his chair, he stretched luxuriously. Men had always scrambled to get their feet when Pat put in an appearance, she had become accustomed to masculine attentions. But Don stretched luxuriously. To her feet was nothing but a smooth, shining floor in the machinery of his life. She gathered up the letters.

"How much did the agent say I will pay you for the picture, setting back and lighting a cigar?"

"Fifty dollars a week," Pat answered evenly, although she was still delightfully impressed with the man.

"We'll make it $75," he said casually.

IN almost no time Pat's white stood between Don Monterey and his adoring public. The fact that the improvised office

LIGHT, POWER RESTORED BY STRIKERS IN MICHIGAN

SAGINAW VALLEY WORKERS RETURN TO PLANT JOBS

40-Hour-Week, Blanket Pay Raise Accepted by Men in Plant

FLINT, Mich., June 10 (AP)—Power and light were restored to 350,000 residents in 180 communities in the Saginaw valley today after striking employees of the Consumers' Power company accepted an agreement increasing wages, establishing a 40-hour work week and recognizing the United Automobile Workers' union as sole collective bargaining agency.

The strike was called without warning and without union approval at 2:30 a. m. (12:30 MST) yesterday by disgruntled workers who charged that the company was "stalling" in wage and hour negotiations. Simply by pulling a few switches, the strikers disrupted industry, a great part of the commerce and the domestic routine in thousands of homes in 13 counties.

Misunderstanding
Union leaders hurried here by airplane from Washington, where they had signed an agreement with Dan E. Karn, vice president and general manager of the power company. They said the strike was a result of a misunderstanding; that, apparently, the strikers were not aware the Washington negotiations had ended successfully.

The workers' approval was necessary before the agreement could be ratified formally. Last night Homer North, president of the auto union, asked strikers here to vote.

In response to Martin's pleas and Governor Frank Murphy's threat of state police action to force resumption of power service, the workers accepted. The strike was declared ended approximately 20 hours after it began.

Agreement Provisions
The agreement provided:
1—A 40-hour week.
2—A blanket pay raise of five cents an hour.
3—Equalization of pay for similar jobs in all cities in the Saginaw valley.
4—One week vacations with pay.
5—Two weeks' sick leave with pay.
Approximately 1,400 workers benefited.
It was estimated that 70,000 factory workers, most of them employed in plants of the General Motors

THEATERS

Orpheum Feature Mauch as Penrod

Betty Davis, academy award winner as the screen's greatest actress, makes her 1937 debut and bids for renewed honors in a gripping story taken from headlines. This picture, declared by Miss Davis to give her the most powerful roles she has ever portrayed, is "Marked Woman," which is the current attraction at the Orpheum theater.

Billy Mauch, the boy everyone loved as young Anthony Adverse and as the young prince and king in "The Prince and the Pauper," is now commander of the Junior G-Men who nabbed the bandits that fooled even Washington's acrobats, in "Penrod and Sam." His version of Booth Tarkington's famous book. The picture opens tomorrow at the Idaho theater.

Peter B. Kyne Story To Be Shown at Roxy

Charles Starrett's new Peter B. Kyne picture, Columbia's "Trapped" will open tomorrow at the Roxy theater. Peggy Stratford plays the feminine lead opposite Stuart. Conrad Nagel in "Yellow Cargo" is showing for the last time tonight at Uncle Joe's Roxy.

JEROME

Frances Halbert and Josie Handy will leave Saturday for Salt Lake City. Miss Handy will attend summer sessions at B. Y. U. and Miss Halbert will continue to Ventura and Bakerfield to visit relatives for a few weeks.
Misses Eleanor, Sarah and Marguerite Freeman will leave the first of the week for California.

NURSE SUBMITS ANNUAL REPORT

Mrs. Harry Wilson of Buhl Makes Accounting to School Board

BUHL, June 10 (Special)—Mrs. Harry Wilson, school nurse employed by the Buhl school board in closing the year's work has submitted the following statistical report showing how important her work has been in discovering and stopping the spread of contagious, as well as locating other conditions affecting the health of individual children, and arresting their work in school.

During the year 3,289 local school children were examined by Mrs. Wilson. She reported: 6 cases of ringworm, 4 cases of pinworm, 19 scabies, 18 impetigo, 56 chickenpox, 2 lactic tuberculosis, 4 mumps, 2 whooping cough, 7 scarlet fever, 11 scarlet fever contacts, 2 head trouble, 2 mastoid infection and 113 miscellaneous small cases. During the year 248 children were sent home from school for the protection of themselves and their classmates.

Mrs. Wilson held 168 conferences with school officials, and 168 with parents. Children given first aid in the office totaled 247, 88 were taken home, 114 were taken to a doctor's office on account of illness, and 465 homes were visited by the nurse.

During the year 160 small pox vaccinations, 200 diphtheria inoculations, 186 skin tests, of which 14 were positive in reaction. Throat and dental inspections were 224, 85 being defective and 689 were given eye tests with 39 being defective. There were 703 weighed and measured. Sixteen children were fitted with glasses through the efforts of civic clubs, 22 had tonsils removed by the county physician and 66 had dental corrections by their doctors. Ten had tonsils removed by a private doctor and 7 had eye corrections by a private doctor. There were 112 throat cultures made.

During the summer Mrs. Wilson will be at the city hall each day from 9 a. m. until 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. to 2 p. m.
CAREY CHEESE SHIPPED
CAREY, June 10 (Special)—Work is progressing at the Carey cheese factory with 13,000 pounds of milk received daily, it is reported by Mr. Haskell, manager. Cheese is now shipped twice a week.
We have cold storage space for Fur Storage—Phone 191 Twin Falls Feed & Ice Co.—Ad.

Jerome Library Gets New Books

Titles Announced For Weeks Received This Week

JEROME, June 10 (Special)—A list of new books for the Jerome public library received this week are:
North Winds Do Blow, Bower; Plowing of New England, Brooks; Judge Priest Turns Detective, Cobb; Present Indicative, Conrad; These White Hands, Deeping; Paradise Forged; A Further Range, Frost; Light Woman, Gale; Sudden Bill Don, Gregory; Jordanstown, Johnson; Man's Rough Road, Keller; Together and Apart, Kennedy; Something of Myself, Kipling; Four Marys, Lea; As Long as I Live, Loring; They Came Like Swallows, Maxwell; Stone Field, Oleson; Married People, Rinehart; Loyal Traitor, Walter; Spur of Pride, Wren; Mother Mason, Aldrich; Night in the Sky, Carroll; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens; Fragment of Victory, Farnol; Case of the Dangerous Dowager, Gardner; West of the Rockies, Zettl Bary; Captains Courageous, Kipling; Thunder Dragon Gate, Mundy; Freckles, Porter; Denmark, Rothery; Case is Closed, Wentworth; The Years, Woolf; The Pattern, Eberhart; We are Not Alone, Hillen.

Camas Resident Paid Last Honor

GOODING, June 10 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. C. H. Watson, who died at Soda Springs last Thursday night, were held at the Episcopal church in Gooding Monday with Rev. Mr. Cook, of Shoshone, officiating.
Mrs. Watson was formerly Sadie Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fletcher of Cornal. Her only life was spent on Camas Prairie. Mrs. Watson is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Cecil Ballard, Mrs. Ella Jones, and one brother, Charles Fletcher.
Funeral bearers were: Pay Osborne, Kelly Perkins, Ward Meyers, Charles Clausen, Julius Schmidt and Percy Stuplien.
Mrs. Watson was well known to all Gooding people.

Another Big Night with the Southern Stars
FRI, JUNE 11th—8 P. M.
RADIOLAND

PROGRAM CLOSSES VACATION SCHOOL

Entertainment Ends Buhl Summer Bible Classes Friday

BUHL, June 10 (Special)—Annual daily vacation Bible school sponsored by the Christian, Methodist, Presbyterian and Nazarene churches of Buhl will close its training course on Friday with an exhibit of the children's work in the basement of the Methodist church at 7 p. m. and a program in the auditorium at 8 p. m.
The program will be opened with flag salutes, the call to worship, union prayer and a prayer led by Rev. O. A. Crofford.
Vacation school molasses and slogans will be recited as will memory selections and the various departments will present songs, dramatics, playlets and numbers by a rhythm band.
The explanation of the purpose of the daily vacation Bible school will be given by Rev. John Spencer as will the benediction.
225 in Attendance
Two hundred twenty-five children representing nine denominations and between the ages of five years and the eighth grade have shown high interest in their work. Classes are held in the Methodist church basement and the P. H. Buhl school building.

Mrs. Gan Thompson is superintendent of the school this year. The office work is directed by Mrs. Elliott Van Houten assisted by Ruth Huns, secretary and Ella Radford, assistant secretary, and Nancy Merriman, special handler. Mrs. J. A. Noble and Mrs. George J. Irwin handle the general work. The music is in charge of Mrs. John Eby and Mrs. Everett Martin. Character talks and sermons given are under the direction of Rev. Leroy Walker and Rev. John Spencer. The shop work is handled by Rev. Crofford, Billy Overbaugh, Carl Van Patten, John Smithson and Jack Nelson.

Supervisors
The intermediate section of the school is directed by Marjorie Fuller, Billie Lou Van Riper, Doris Venter and Ila Chambers; the Junior section A. by Mrs. Charles Bertol, Mrs. Russell Wilson, Mrs. Geneva McCaleb, Elizabeth Hamilton and Martin Kirchner.
The Junior B section is supervised by Mrs. Glen Buckendorf, Mrs. H.

C. Wright, Marian Wilson and Ollie Wright.
Primary division is taught by Mrs. Leroy Walker, Doris Powers, Joan Taylor and Fern Jones.

The beginners' class is instructed by Mrs. Gordon Merrill, Goldie Woodruff, Betty Lou Wilson, Elizabeth Webber, Jean Radford and Claribelle Walcott.

Farmers attention! For the balance of this month we will repair any make mower for $5.00 labor. Eagle Supply Co., 139 2nd St. Phone 430—Ad.

IDAHO MARCHES ON!

CELEBRATION

The most elaborate celebration ever staged in Idaho. Three days and nights crammed with royal entertainment. Don't miss a single feature—three colorful parades, Chinatown, the Stockade, Monte Young Shows, and free acts.

"UNDER THE STARS"

With Wallace Berry, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Star

A gigantic, dramatic and historical spectacle. Cost of 2000 people. Chorus of 250 voices. Fifty-piece symphonic orchestra. Presented on a stage 500 feet long.

BOISE

June 17, 18, 19

June BIG VALUE event

—AT—

Alexander's

SUITS

$16.85
$19.65

Buy Now — SAVE

You'll find no greater value anywhere than what we are offering for this big event. Suits that are made to Alexander's rigid specifications—they must be made of good quality cloth and tailored by the best of experienced tailors. Stop in today and see what a fine suit you can buy for so little money.

SLACKS

$1.65 — $1.95

These slacks are just the thing for the summer months, they are washable, authorized and made of very fine quality material.

SHIRTS

$1.25

The famous Bedford and Trophy shirts—buy them with the no-wrinkle collar for the summer months.

SPORT OXFORDS

$3.00 $4.00
$5.00

You'll want a pair for the fine looking, long wearing sport oxfords by Jarman. They are so comfortable and give excellent service.

Alexander's

New Twin Falls Store

"Read That!"

Hiram Walker

TEN HIGH WHISKEY

NOW DOUBLED IN PRICE

NO INCREASE IN PRICE THIS WHISKEY AGED 2 YEARS!

Twice the bargain it was before! TEN HIGH is now aged "8 summers in 2 years!" That means it's not only twice as old but it's actually more than twice as mellow! Under old-fashioned methods of aging, whiskey matured only during summer months... but Hiram Walker maintains summer temperatures all year round in the rockhouses of its 99,000 distillery, world's largest. The result: TEN HIGH mellows every minute of every month—for two long years! 90 proof. Hiram Walker & Sons, Inc., Peoria, Ill.

THIS WHISKEY IS 2 YEARS OLD!

PRINT Code No. 344

GUARDS PATROL AREA WHERE WAE AIRPLANE CRASHED

DIGGING ON HIGH PEAK IS STOPPED AS ROCKS CRASH

Barrie Announces Wait Until Nature Exposes Bodies And Wreckage

ALPINE, Utah, June 10 (UP)—Guards patrolled a high mountain peak today where the wreckage of a Western Air Express plane and the frozen bodies of seven persons who were aboard must be buried probably another month.

Barrie, Western Air Express vice president and director of the search, said: "We will have to wait until nature has exposed the wreckage and the bodies." The plane crashed in this isolated region on an eastward flight last December 15.

May 26 July R. H. Rutledge, forest supervisor, said that the snow may not melt before the middle of July. He closed off an area half mile square, and posted five guards there. A camp at the top of the mountain, 1,000 feet higher to a safer spot. Guards and observers from the airline, the post office department, and the state highway patrol will stay there.

E. L. Yuravich, bureau of air commerce inspector, was named by Secretary of Commerce to head the search committee to investigate the crash. He arrived in Salt Lake City last night, and planned to be in the vicinity as soon as the official records of the plane have been recovered.

Little Activity Federal, state and airline officials announced the change of policy in the search following a meeting late Wednesday at the Utah state capital.

There was little activity at scene today. A continuous downpour of rain tended to loosen the snow and rock hanging on the steep cliff.

Office Inspector M. G. Wenger said in Salt Lake City that 230 out of the 574 pounds of mail carried by the plane was recovered. The bulk of the mail still lost is thought to be with the body of the plane buried beneath snow at the bottom of the cliff.

Post office man has been stationed in the crash area to take care of pieces of mail as they come exposed through the melting snow.

UNITY Mrs. Bert Greenhagh has returned from the search in Utah where she spent a week with relatives. James Smalley has gone to Buhl where he has employment for the summer.

Mrs. Alice Olson has returned to her home in Salt Lake City, accompanied by her son, Carl, who will make his home there.

Practically all potatoes are planted and beet thinnings in this community.

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Banner was christened Earl J. last day and Sunday noon; the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stoker was named James Lee and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Coffin was christened David Gail.

The M. I. A. conjoint meeting was held Sunday with an address on "Tolerance" by Duke Paul, D. R. Langlois. Thayne Johnson gave a clarinet solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Banner and daughter, Mabel and Lila, have gone to Ogden where Lila entered the hospital for medical treatment. Mrs. Alfred Coffin and daughter, Minnie, are in Draper, Utah, to spend two weeks with Mrs. Crane's mother, Mrs. Elena Howard.

Work meeting of the Relief society was held Tuesday with the time spent in needlework. Refreshments were served.

HOLLISTER Mrs. Cecil Eppers and two daughters, Miss June Eppers and Miss Joyce Eppers, and Miss Mildred, all of Millard, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Knudson. They are en route to Washington, Oregon and California. Mrs. Knudson is a brother of Mrs. Eppers and Mr. Knudson.

Mrs. Carolyn Patrick, worthy matron of Hollister chapter, O. E. H. has gone to Caldwell as a delegate to the grand chapter session.

You'll See All This at Circus

Circus day sights that will become an actuality on Friday, June 18, when the Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto combined circus arrives in Twin Falls for an afternoon and evening performance. Top view is of the world famous Christiani back-back riding troupe. This amazing feat has as a member Lucie, the only living man ever to attempt and achieve a full twisting somersault from the back of one galloping horse to another. Twenty elephants are with the big show this season, the largest number ever carried by a circus. Lower left shows Ruth Alder, one of the comely elephant trainers. Bottom view is of the wild animal trainers. A manager of 800 furred and feathered creatures will be on display circus day.

Boston Army Fliers Found; Pair Bailed Out from Ship

Two Men Suffer Only Sprained Ankle and Sore Feet After Losing Plane

ELY Nev., June 10 (UP)—Two army fliers from Boston, who lost their plane in a mountain storm, continued out of here by train today.

Major Clarence Hodge had a sprained ankle, suffered in his parachute jump, and Lieut. Joseph L. McNeil had sore feet from walking 35 miles for help.

They had been missing more than 24 hours when they arrived here last night, and three army planes had been searching for them.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

Terrific Storm "We ran into a terrific electrical storm at 15,000 feet about 1 p. m. Tuesday," Major Hodge said. "It forced us down to 12,000 feet, which was mighty close to some of the mountain peaks. We were running low on gas after bucking storms all the way from Reno, anyhow, so we bailed out at 12,000 feet, which was about 8,000 feet from the ground."

The major stayed beside the plane wreckage, which fell half a mile from where the men landed in parachutes, and Lieut. McNeil walked until he found an Indian reservation, which provided the men a ride to Ely.

McNeil had walked 35 miles, being on his feet continuously for 17 hours.

Hodge reported he had never been in such a storm in the summer time. "There was a lot of more ice forming on the wings and the plane."

Major Jerome is commander of the 26th air division service of the Massachusetts national guard and state aviation inspector.

McNeil is salesman for a typewriter company.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

NORTH SIDE SEEKS RIGHT LAND USE

Rehabilitation Program Will Urge Correct Farming Management

JEROME, June 10 (Special)—Proper land use and preventing settlement on lands unsuited to agriculture in Lincoln, Camas and Blaine counties is one of the goals of the rehabilitation administration's rehabilitation program. As reported by J. E. Redford and S. M. Chaddron, county rehabilitation supervisors.

Plans worked out in cooperation with each of approximately 200 rehabilitation families in the five counties provide for farm management and farm practices that will conserve the soil resources and still provide the maximum cash income. The cash income is supplemented by plans for sufficient garden produce to insure a plentiful supply of home-grown fruits and vegetables.

As every family locating on poor land or in isolated districts unutilized to farming increases county road, school, and relief costs without commensurate tax returns, rehabilitation loans are made only to families on potentially productive farms.

To prevent settlement on lands unsuited to farming, newcomers expecting rehabilitation assistance are urged to check with the county supervisor before making final arrangements for purchase or lease. Loan applications from qualified farm families will be accepted up to July 1 within present limitation of funds in the county.

Probate Judge Fines 2 for Misdemeanor

JEROME, June 10 (Special)—Probate Judge Heber N. Polkman found Joe Lawrence, 21, and A. L. Spencer guilty of a misdemeanor (this week and fined each $270. As they were unable to pay the fines they were committed to the county jail where they will serve them out at the rate of 42 per day.

They were convicted of tampering with, damaging and mutilating a motor vehicle belonging to Howard J. Jerome. Although only the windshield was found in possession of the pair the car was benefit of all four tires, radiator and headlights as well as the windshield.

Dr. Roeyner, Foot Specialist, 67 E. C. Anderson, Ph. 333-P.—Adv.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

They were on a training flight from Boston to Salt Lake City, via St. Louis and Los Angeles, when they ran into a mountain storm Tuesday and bailed out. The monoplane crashed and was demolished.

Gooding Merchants Redeccorate Stores

GOODING, June 10 (Special)—Merchants of Gooding have been active this week in redeccorating and changing the fixtures of their various establishments.

Painting on the Leo Rice Motor company building was completed last week. Painters this week completed work on the painting of the Smith Motor Co. and Phillips shoe shop. The King Variety store is in the throes of redeccorating and the Verities Drug store is making improvements. Changes this week The C. C. Anderson store is practically complete now but a few more alterations remain to be made.

The new cleaning department of the National Laundry is still in the process of construction but will be open for business June 15 according to the works. At the present time no accurate check up on the amount of decorating being done in Twin Falls is available but reports of painters state that more work is being done this year than in previous years.

Comedy Offered By West Point Grange

BLISS, June 10 (Special)—A three-act comedy play "Deacon Dubbs" was presented in the high school auditorium Friday evening by the members of the West Point Grange to raise funds for the organization, and presented through courtesy of the local Grange.

Characters included: Deacon Dubbs, Walter Armetch as Deacon Dubbs, Garney Strickland as Amos Coleman, Ivan Lantz as Rawdon Crawley, Joe Sullivan as Major McNeil, Lamont Coffman as Deacon Dubbs, Irene Estes as Rose Raleigh, Ruby Orth as Miss Phillip Popover, Pauline Coffman as Emily Dale, Helen Holton as Tricie Coleman and Mable Blisshette as Yennie Yensen.

A trio composed of David Phillips and Bill and Jack Francis furnished the musical numbers between the acts of the play.

Assigned to Gooding

GOODING, June 10 (Special)—Ed Lacy, former athletic coach of Rupert, has been assigned to district 13 to take care of the applications for driver's licenses. Lacy will appear in the various towns of the county on the following schedule: Monday, Gooding; Tuesday, Wendell; Wednesday, Hagerman; Thursday, Bliss; Friday, Gooding. All applicants for driver's licenses in Gooding county are urged to obtain them at the earliest possible moment.

Don't Forget Our Big BICYCLE SALE!

Buy Your Bike Before the Price Advances Next Month.

Be One of the Gang! Ride an IVER JOHNSON, the Bike in Which Quality is Not Sacrificed for Price

IT'S THE BEST IF IT'S AN IVER JOHNSON

Other Models of Merit Now on Sale at BIG DISCOUNT For CASH Only

We Also Have Tricycles for Little Tots

GLOYSTEIN CYCLERY

338 MAIN ST. TWIN FALLS

WORK SLATED AT CITY WAREHOUSE

Improvement Program Is Set; City Hall Quarters Are Termed "Outgrown"

Because the storage and work space at the city hall shop has been "outgrown," W. E. Taylor, city park commissioner, this afternoon announced an improvement program which will see the remodeling and perhaps enlargement of the city warehouse in order that all city trucks including the flushers, may be housed at that point.

The city warehouse is located at the truck lane and Seventh street south and at the present time houses odds and ends of spare parts and equipment.

"The facilities at city hall have just been outgrown," Taylor said, "and it is the plan to improve the warehouse in order that required space can be obtained. We also plan to include a washrack in the remodeled quarters and other necessary things."

Taylor also said work of remodeling, repainting and refinishing city hall has been completed. This work included the laying of new flooring in the police station and also the water office. The interior of the fire station has also been remodeled and repainted. Taylor said the work comes under his department.

Florida's average annual temperature is 70.8 degrees.

"VAN-TAGE WAS WHAT I NEEDED"

Suffered Years With Gassy Indigestion and Rheumatic Pain; Now Relieved.

Some of the Best-Known People of This Section are praising and endorsing Van-Tage's "Amazing New Medicine," now being introduced in Twin Falls. Just a few days ago Mr. C. Merrill of 508 14th St., Denver, Colo. made the following statement:

"I have been suffering with gassy indigestion for many years. My stomach was in such an upset condition that I had to avoid greasy or starchy foods, as those things caused me to have awful attacks of heartburn. I tried all kinds of diets, and I even went on a seven-day fast, without any noticeable benefit. I started suffering from a bad rheumatic condition caused by impurities in my system. I heard about Van-Tage and started taking it, and now I am able to eat what I choose. The gas bloating and heartburn after meals have been relieved. And the cleansing action of Van-Tage has given me wonderful relief from my rheumatic pains. I am feeling better every day, thanks to Van-Tage."

VAN-TAGE contains 21 Great Herbs and nearly a dozen other Splendid Ingredients, which help cleanse bowels, bring forth gas from stomach and invigorate kidney action so that people say they feel different in GENERAL. Van-Tage is reasonable in price, so don't hesitate. Get it TODAY!

Van-Tage is sold at the Bohmann-Johnson Drug Store, 122 N. Main St.

Bliss Over-Pass Nearly Finished

BLISS, June 10 (Special)—The four mile stretch of the new road leading to the over-pass which is under construction by the Thom Construction company of Utah is expected to be completed by June 20.

Costing approximately $55,000 the project has been under way since March and will do away with several dangerous curves in the present highway system. Overpassing in progress now but the closing will probably not be done until next fall.

Egyptian papyri 2000 years old are in better condition today than some of the paper which went under the printing presses during the World War.

Jerome Man's Body Taken to Salt Lake

JEROME, June 10 (Special)—Body of Warren Pugsley, 46, who died Tuesday, was sent to Salt Lake City for burial. He came here over two years ago and was engaged in the plumbing business.

He died at the Wendell hospital following a lingering illness. Survivors are his mother, a son, 19, and three brothers living in Salt Lake City, two sisters, Salt Lake City, and a brother, Earl Pugsley, mayor of White Plains, N. Y.

WOOL STOLEN Four bags of wool valued at $300 were stolen Wednesday from William Buhler, Ballester, according to reports on file at the sheriff's office here.

SEE IT!

THE LARGEST OVERALL EVER DISPLAYED IN TWIN FALLS. An overall so large that special machines had to be used in its construction, so large that a big bolt of Lee Jelt Denim had to be used in its manufacture ! ! ! !

SEE with YOUR OWN EYES the LARGEST OVERALL to ever win the SEAL OF APPROVAL OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF LAUNDERING.

SEE THE OVERALL THAT IS GUARANTEED THE LONGEST WEARING IN THE WORLD OR YOUR MONEY BACK, YET COSTS NO MORE THAN INFERIOR OVERALLS.

See this mammoth LEE TAILORED OVERALL ON DISPLAY in front of Van Engelen's all this week. Enter Van Engelen's Big Contest.

LEE OVERALLS COME THROUGH TORTURE TESTS TO WIN OFFICIAL SEAL OF APPROVAL!

First Overall to Win Seal of Approval of American Institute of Laundering

SANFORIZED-SHRUNK BUY YOUR EXACT SIZE Lee OVERALLS of JELT DENIM For Sale By

Van Engelen's HEADQUARTERS FOR QUALITY WORK CLOTHES

Century Club STRAIGHT BOURN WHISKEY

LET YOUR OWN TASTE TELL YOU THIS WHISKEY IS 2 YEARS OLD ALSO AVAILABLE IN RYE

CODES: Bourbon-QUART 100 - PINT 101 Rye-QUART 90 - PINT 91

90 PROOF CENTURY DISTILLING CO., PEORIA, ILL.

TWO for ONE SALE!

On Genuine FEDERAL Extra-Service Tires

Here is an excellent opportunity to get genuine Federal Tires at practically half price. You buy one at list price and get one for $1 more.

	Each	2 For
4.50x20 6-ply Double Blue Pennant	$12.15	$13.15
4.50x21 6-ply Double Blue Pennant	$12.65	$13.65
4.75x19 6-ply Double Blue Pennant	$13.05	$14.05
5.00x19 6-ply Double Blue Pennant	$14.35	$15.35
5.50x19 6 ply Double Blue Pennant	$17.75	$18.75
6.00x18 6-ply Double Blue Pennant	$19.10	$20.10
4.50x21 4-ply Double Blue Pennant	$10.05	$11.05
5.50x18 4-ply Double Blue Pennant	$14.30	$15.30
4.50x20 6-ply Traffic	$10.90	$11.90
4.75x19 6-ply Traffic	$11.75	$12.75
5.00x20 6-ply Traffic	$13.20	$14.20
6.00x21 6-ply Traffic	$18.55	$19.55

OTHER SIZES PROPORTIONATELY LOW PRICED

5 Point Standard Station WEST END OF MAIN AVE.

Society

Bankers' Wives Feted By Luncheon at Hotel

Approximately 60 guests, wives of delegates to the state bankers' convention in session here today and tomorrow, were entertained at luncheon this afternoon at the Park hotel by ladies of the two Twin Falls banks and the Filer bank. Tables were trimmed with pink and white peonies and painted daisies and large baskets of the blossoms were placed about the room.

A musical program was presented and included a group of piano numbers by Miss Eunice Ewer; a vocal duet by Mrs. U. N. Terry and James Reynolds, accompanied by Mrs. O. P. Davall; two violin numbers by Charles Shirley, accompanied by Miss Ewer; a pianologue by Miss Ewer; and vocal selections by Mrs. N. Trappen, Jerome.

After the luncheon the guests drove to points of interest in this section or at the theaters. In general charge of arrangements were Mrs. F. Stettler and Mrs. Martin Tucker. This evening the ladies will join the delegates at a banquet at the Grand Hotel and attend the ball there later, the entertainment to be one of the highlights of the convention. Tomorrow morning the guests will attend breakfast at the Orange Lantern at Kimberly. They will hear musical numbers by Miss Helen Slack, pianist; Miss Helen Johnson, soprano, and will devote the remainder of the morning to cards.

MEETING HONORS MEMBER OF LODGE

Approximately 35 members and guests of the Supreme Forest Woodmen lodge were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. T. Lloyd in honor of Mrs. Nora Conroy, who was presented the 25-year jewel. For the event the rooms were decorated with Japanese and double red peonies and in the dining room yellow and blue iris.

REHEARSALS WERE HELD

Rehearsals were held by a committee including Mrs. Baltes, chairman, Mrs. E. C. Guttery and Mrs. Jennie Barzal. Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Bent, Morrison, Ill., were guests of honor at an attractive card party arranged last evening by Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Spafford and Mrs. Theodore Weiker at the Walker home. For the event the rooms were trimmed with pink and white spring blooms.

FIFTY TABLES OF CONTRACT Brides

At play with guests going to Mrs. Travis Bodrero, Frank Cook and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. B. Wendiman. Mr. and Mrs. Bent received great favors on the table. The guests were served. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bent, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harvey, Buhl, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Prindler, Portland.

MEETING HELD BY THALIA CLUB

Members of the Thalia club met yesterday afternoon at the country home of Mrs. D. P. Groves and answered roll call with selected topics. The afternoon was spent writing bouvoyage letters to Mrs. P. A. Cargill, who left this morning on a trip to the east. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Calendar

War Mothers will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m. at Legion Memorial hall.
Alpha chapter meeting has been postponed until Thursday, June 17, when the organization will meet at the home of Iris Goodman.
The Crocus Home Demonstration club will meet Friday at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Gilkey, 336 Tyler street. A pot-luck luncheon will be served and garment finishes studied. All members are urged to be present. It is announced, and to bring their own table service.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests were Mrs. Roger-son, Mrs. Van Engelen, Ruth Landis, Mrs. Mary Jane Hawley, Dorothy Van Engelen, Gwendolyn Helfrecht, Ver-ina Beus and Lois Shank.

PARTY MARKED BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY
In honor of her daughter, Barbara Jene, on her eighth birthday Mrs. Nancy Herrick entertained a group of small friends on Monday afternoon. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Delegates from the local Pythian lodge and others have left for Pocatello to attend the Idaho grand temple convention to be held Friday and Saturday. Officers from the local temple are to supplement Pocatello officers during initiatory ceremonies at the subordinate temple meeting tomorrow evening and several of the members have been named on reception committees.

Delegates from the local Pythian lodge and others have left for Pocatello to attend the Idaho grand temple convention to be held Friday and Saturday. Officers from the local temple are to supplement Pocatello officers during initiatory ceremonies at the subordinate temple meeting tomorrow evening and several of the members have been named on reception committees.

Eden Couple Weds At Church Nuptials

EDEN, June 10 (Special)—Miss Martha Eugene Miller and Robert O. Swan were united in marriage on Sunday at the Presbyterian church with Bishop Little of the L. D. S. church and Rev. Charles Hawley, Presbyterian pastor, reading the ceremony.

Miss Emma Halman was bridesmaid and Dick Riles was best man. The bride wore a gown of Wallis blue georgette and carried a bouquet of garden flowers. The bridesmaid wore a blue covered crepe dress and carried a garden bouquet.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to 24 guests at the C. O. Rotch home honoring the newly-wed couple and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gordon on their 25th anniversary and Mr. Roid's birthday. Two bridal cakes and a birthday cake trimmed the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan made a short wedding trip to Boise.

CLOVER

Rev. and Mrs. Dannenfeldt and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schroeder have left for Portland where Mr. Dannenfeldt and Mr. Schroeder, as delegates from the local congregation, will attend the Washington-Oregon and Idaho synod closing June 16.

Mr. H. F. Knipf, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. F. Reinke, 81, have left for Byron, Neb., to visit relatives. Mrs. Reinke will remain their indefinitely.

Rev. W. F. Dannenfeldt was able to conduct services on Sunday after being ill two weeks with influenza.

Clover 4-H boys met Friday with the Martens boys. A debate on Holstein and Guernsey cows was featured. The next meeting on June 18 will be with Irvin Meyer. Refreshments were served.

Paul Puhall is in northern California at present on a business and pleasure trip.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harms was baptized Sunday at the Trinity church receiving the name Marjorie Marilyn. At the same time Retis Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John James, was baptized. Services will be held next Sunday at Trinity church at the usual time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jagels are expected to return Friday from their trip to Chicago and other eastern points. They purchased a new car at the factory.

Afterwards a spring dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Askev on Falls avenue to 45 guests. Congratulations were telephoned from San Francisco by Mr. Askev's sister.

BELLEVUE PAIR WEDS
RUPERT, June 10 (special)—A marriage license was issued Monday in Fred Egan and Anna Koller, both of Bellevue. They were married by Probate Judge H. A. Boyer and will make their home in Rupert.

ROSENDAHL WILL SPEAK AT MEET

Famed Commander Will Be at Northwest's Aviation Council at Boise

BOISE, June 10 (UP)—The United States navy's representative at the northwest aviation planning council to be held here June 17-19 will be Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, Lakewood, N. J.

Rosendahl, a lighter-than-air craft expert, was reported killed when the Giant Hindenburg crashed in flames. He was at his post at the mooring mast, but escaped un- hurt.

Council officials said Rosendahl would speak during consideration of aviation as a means of national de- fense.

Major General Oscar Westover, chief of the army air corps, will deliver the keynote address of the session.

National defense, commercial aviation, and government in aviation will be discussed during the confer- ence. Recent crashes will be re- viewed.

SANDPOINT WOMAN NAMED TO HEAD EASTERN STAR
CALDWELL, Idaho, June 10 (UP)—Mrs. Gertrude McFarland, Sand- point, today held office as worthy grand matron of the Idaho Order of Eastern Star. She was elected here Wednesday at the 35th annual grand chapter session.

ROYAL Re-Luster Prices

- CASH AND CARRY THIS WEEK
- Ladies' Plain Dark Dresses.....45c
 - Ladies' Plain Suits.....50c
 - Ladies' Swaggar Suits.....65c
 - Ladies' Hats.....50c
 - Men's Suits.....50c
 - Men's Felt Hats.....50c
 - Men's Dark Pants.....2 for 50c
- PLEASE REMOVE ORNAMENTS
- ## ROYAL CLEANERS
- 133 Shoshone St. So.

Chemist Returns From Washington

BOISE, Idaho, June 10 (UP)—W. V. Leonard, state chemist, was back at his headquarters today after attending a Washington, D. C. conference on industrial hygiene. Occu- pational diseases studied included silicosis (miners' consumption) and anthracosis, a disease common to coal miners.

Nearly a billion dollars is in- vested in piers, warehouses, dry- docks, and harbor equipment for foreign trade purposes in the Port of New York.

BARGAIN FARES EVERYWHERE

this summer

Union Pacific summer fares were never lower! You'll find it cheaper to go by train than to drive your own car. Avoid highway hazards and discomforts—enjoy your vacation trip.

EXAMPLES OF LOW ROUND TRIP SUMMER FARES FROM TWIN FALLS, IDAHO TO

Portland	$28.45	Standard Pullman	$41.15
Seattle	37.17	Tourist	62.40
Los Angeles	31.17	Coach	64.90
San Francisco	43.95	Deluxe	52.80
Chicago	47.15	Deluxe	27.90
St. Louis	27.99	Deluxe	41.50
Denver	34.25	Deluxe	49.90
Omaha	43.05	Deluxe	51.85
Minneapolis	25.11	Deluxe	31.85

Portland

Similar round trip fares to other points. Liberal stopover privi- lege. Also very low one-way fares.

SUPREME SERVICE—COMFORT—SPEED

Ride in cool, clean, completely air-conditioned comfort in hand- somely appointed trains. Unexcelled service—meals and incident- als at startlingly low costs—latter speeds—with safety.

See gigantic Boulder Dam and scenic Lake Mead en route to Oregon California. Only Union Pacific offers this unusual between- train side trip.

J. L. FULLER
Ticket Agent
Twin Falls, Idaho
Phone 621

THE PROGRESSIVE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

SHIP AND RIDE UNION PACIFIC

Over Special 100,000 SET SILVER OFFER

★ ROGERS & BRO. ★

Original Rogers Silverplate

- XS TRIPLE PLATE •
- PREVENT TARNISH CHEST FREE

At THE LOWEST RETAIL PRICES in HISTORY!

THE FAMOUS 50-PIECE SERVICE FOR EIGHT

Now Only $24.95

8 Knives, 16 Teaspoons, 8 Salad Forks
8 Forks, 8 Soup Spoons, 2 Table Spoons

Don't miss this opportunity to buy Original Rogers Silverplate at these low prices.

$1 WILL RESERVE YOUR SET—ACT NOW!

This Offer Good for Only Two Weeks!

International Silver Co. has placed a manufacturing order for 100,000 sets making this remarkable value possible. This offer is made by the largest manufacturers of silverware in the world and the only makers of Original Rogers Silverplate. If you can't come in, mail or phone your order today... DON'T MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY. The lovely Inspiration pattern is shown at the right.

Sterling Jewelry Co.

115 Shoshone St. So.

First Christian Church

Twin Falls, Idaho

Three Months
"Christ Centered Crusade"

June 13 to Sept, 19
10:45-A. M. 8 P. M.

MARK C. CRONENBERGER, Minister

"Let Everyone Manifest Their Interest in Christ"

THE CHURCH
"No Creed But Christ!"
Preaching—
"Only Where the Scrip- tures Speak!"
Plea—
"The Unity of All God's People!"

This Beautiful Chart in Colors Hangs in the Auditorium With the Sermon Topics for Each Morning Session of the Great Crusade.

A PROGRAM OUT OF THE ORDINARY! NEW AND FULL OF GOSPEL TEACHING

The WHOLE WORLD Consults the NEWSPAPER. Use the

CLASSIFIED ADS

WANT AD RATES RATES PER LINE PER DAY...

Everybody Reads the Newspaper

You, Too, Can Profit BY USING the Want Ads

Whatever the article is that you want to sell, you may rest assured that it will be seen by hundreds of prospects.

Phone 38 ASK FOR AD TAKER

Classified Directory Responsible Business Firms and Professional Offices of Twin Falls

AUTO TOP & BODY WORKS Auto glass, painting, body and fender repair...

HAIR DRESSERS Exceptional beauty work at 1/4 price...

OPTOMETRIST DR. WILLIAM D. REYNOLDS, 120 Main Avenue South.

PAINTING - DECORATING Kalsominating and general painting...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS of decedent and petitioner, and that application for letters of administration...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN That Monday the 21st day of June, 1937...

SUMMONS In the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District of the State of Idaho...

SEED AND FEED Full line of garden plants at bulk prices...

WANTED - Miscellaneous Wanted: Cows to pasture...

WANTED TO RENT Small cool sleeping tm. Close in...

MONEY TO LOAN If you need money see Harry at the Twin Falls Loan Office.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS NOTICE In the Probate Court of the County of Blaine...

FOR SALE AUTO DOOR GLASS - WINDSHIELD AND WINDOW GLASS

PERSONAL Boy, 14, would like to go to Cheyenne or Fort Collins...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS assess the costs and expenses of said sprinkling service...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance of the City of Twin Falls, Idaho...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS Lakes Boulevard from Addison Avenue, south to Kimberly Road...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

KTFI PROGRAM 1936 ac. 1,900 watts THURSDAY, JUNE 10...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS OTHER ADVERTISEMENTS Others, or without due caution and circumspection...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS An Ordinance providing that no person shall drive or operate any motor vehicle...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

1930 Vaasbush's orchestra 8:00 8:30 Dolly Dawn and her orchestra...

Where's George?

BARNARD'S A modest chap is George, but for love he loses his wits...

ATTENTION! AUTO REPAIR and SERVICE MEN ONLY! PERFECT CIRCLE Sound Movie...

LAST WEEK FOR ASHTON SEED POTATOES 200 Casks of Red Top Seed @ $2.10...

Trailers! Trailers! Trailers! LARGE TRAILERS - SMALL TRAILERS 2-WHEEL TRAILERS - 4-WHEEL TRAILERS...

IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE

SPECIAL IN THE DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT 110 Pairs

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

GENUINE LEATHER GLOVES

Regular $1.98 and $2.98 Values!
ALL FIRST QUALITY!
KID—CALF SKIN—DOE SKIN AND IMITATION PIG SKIN
Summer styles in white, eggshell and beige. Solid colors and contrasting trims. Overseam, half and full P.K. seams.

98¢

GROCERY DEPARTMENT
Shredded Coconut
White Thread, Sweetened.
LIMIT 1 LB.
18¢

GROCERY DEPARTMENT
Fancy Blue Rose
RICE
LIMIT 3 LBS.
17¢

GROCERY DEPARTMENT
BRIMFULL
Salad Dressing
A full quart jar with that zesty satisfying flavor. Limit 1 jar.
25¢

Summertime Values for Thrifty Pocketbooks -- from the

ECONOMY BASEMENT

"If It Isn't Right, Bring It Back"

Friday and Saturday CLOSING OUT
128 PAIRS
Women's and Misses' WHITE SPORT OXFORDS
Regular $1.98 Values.
$1.49
White leathers with rubber soles. White leathers with leather soles. Combinations of white suede and brown calf with leather soles. Both low and medium heel heights.

New Shipment Women's Pure Silk KNEE-HI HOSE
25¢
—Garter tops.
—First quality.
—Assorted summer shades.
A Big Value! Compare!

New Rayon Crepe DRESSES
In Summer Prints
$1.99
Washable—Fast Color
Beautiful summer styles brought to you at a saving. See them.
NEW BEMBERG TRIPLE SHEER DRESSES
$2.99
Washable. Fast color. All sizes in a variety of smart new styles.

Cedarized Mothproof STORAGE BAGS
39¢
Holds Three Garments.

Women's Cotton HOSE
10¢ Pair
Brown and gray colors. All sizes.

Ruffled Priscilla and Cottage CURTAIN SETS
49¢

New Printed Chiffon Dresses
With Matching Rayon Slips
$3.99
Strikingly new! In style, in fabrics—they are super values at this price.

Men's Heavy Leather Work SHOES
$1.98

Strong 3-Step KITCHEN LADDERS
98¢

Men's and Boys' SUMMER CAPS
19¢ and 25¢
Cool cottons in light shades and patterns.

Men's Fine Goodyear Welt White OXFORDS
$2.98
Popular styles in wing tips, plain and cap toes. Fine quality leather soles with rubber heels.
$2.98
BOYS' SIZES — $2.49

Full size. First quality.

New Shipment Women's Rayon HOSE
25¢
—Assorted colors in all sizes. Here's a great value—Fine rayon that looks like silk in a hose that fits well and wears doubly well! COMPARE!

Men's and Boys' Fine Quality Rayon Knit POLO SHIRTS
69¢

Women's and Girls' Novelty Patent SANDALS
98¢
All Leather!
In plain white patents and patents in combination of colors. Low and medium heels.

Plain toe style. Heavy black elk uppers with either nail or composition soles.

Children's Fine Summer ANKLETS
10¢ Pair
—Knit-in garter tops. A complete color range in stripes and plaids.
10¢ Pair

Ruffled Bath Room CURTAINS
39¢
First quality. Various colors.

30 Inch Fast Color Batistes Voiles Organdies
15¢ yd.
Plain shades—bright patterns in qualities that are hard to duplicate at this price.

Men's Fine Sanforized Shrink WASH SLACKS
98¢
In plain colors and fancy patterns 98¢
Boys' sizes 79¢

Men's Cotton Swim SWIM SUITS
Trunks—These come in assorted colors with stripe trims. Well made and a value leader 49¢
Men's 100% Wool Swim Trunks—Assorted colors with stripe trim. Novelty belts. Fine garments at an unusually low price 89¢

New Shipment of 80 Square PRINTED APRONS
39¢
Tie-on, peasant styles and overall. Guaranteed fast color. Well made and smart in style.
New Shipment of Out Size COVERALL APRONS
49¢
Fast color assorted prints.

36 IN. CRETONNES
19¢
Sun and tub fast! Colorful summer patterns. Other Cretonne priced as low as 10¢ yd.

Women's and Misses Novelty All Wool Swim Suits—These are novelty all wool suits with an inner cotton lining. A variety of styles to choose from—
Each $1.69
Girls' Cotton Swim Suits—Fine quality cottons in a suit that is comfortable, well made and at a low price. Assorted colors to choose from 49¢
Women's sizes as above 59¢

One Big Table of REMNANTS
1/2 PRICE
Closing Out One Group of Men's Firestone and Converse IRRIGATING BOOTS
$1.98
Sizes 8 to 11 only. Medium and heavy weights.

BOYS COTTON TRUNKS
Bright colors in a fine selected cotton garment. All boys sizes 39¢
BOYS FINE ALL WOOL SWIM TRUNKS
Colors of Royal blue, maroon and black with stripe trims. Belt included 79¢

All Wool Camp BLANKETS
$2.49
Single size 60x80. Dark gray color.