STRIKE POLL TO BE TAKEN AMONG U.S. TRAIN MEN

300,000 Members of Union Will Vote on Plans For Walk-Out

COMPELS NEGOTIATIONS

Action Would Open Door to Intervention By Federal Mediation Board

CHICAGO, June 23 (UP)—Representatives of five railroad brotherhoods prepared today to poll 300,000 trainmen, conductors, firemen and engineers on availability of a strike.
Members of operating unions will vote within 30 days on whether they should call a strike to enforce demands for a flat 20 per cent wage increase and to turn down demand of railroads for downward revision of 100 rules affecting hours and working conditions.
Results of the poll will be canvassed by union heads meeting here June 26.
V. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, largest of the group, announced that it members vote a strike and a date for it, the union will "open the door" to intervention by the federal railway board.
"This will compel the railroads to negotiate," Whitney said.
The brotherhoods rejected a railroad demand for revision of rules to eliminate time and overtime, discontinue daily guaranteed minimum earnings, and drop a rule forbidding unions to send crews below the number in service January 1, 1919.
They demanded a wage increase retroactive to May 1, 1937 when their previous contract expired.

California in Custody After Paul Farmer is Killed in Road Mishap

A post mortem was to be conducted this afternoon.
Hick's death was instantaneous today at 9:30 a. m. when the cultivator he was riding on highway 25 near the Washington school, two and one-half miles west of Paul was struck from the rear by the California woman's car, officers report.
One of his team of horses was also killed by the crash.
The Wilbur car, in which Mrs. Wilbur and her husband were riding, was thrown across the road on top of Hick. Neither of the Californians was injured. Their car was completely wrecked.

HEARINGS END ON WAGE, HOUR BILL

WASHINGTON, June 23 (UP)—Conclusion of public hearings on the administration wage and hour bill today left the fate of the measure uncertain.
Several opponents of the President's judiciary reorganization program were heard today on the disposing of the wage and hour measure until after the court bill has been acted on.
Opponents believed that strong support for the bill was necessary for it to be passed quickly regardless of action on the judiciary proposal.
Donald Hollberg, former NIRA administrator, brought hearings to a close yesterday, arguing that the administrative board set up under the law had not been too heavy an administrative task, such as was handled by the Federal Reserve, and that "suppressive" wages and hour rules had not set up "reasonable" ones.

NEW VAN VLACK BATTLE IS SEEN

Tactical Move Might Delay Execution of Killer Until Oct. 6

BOISE, Idaho, June 23 (UP)—A tactical move which might delay the execution of Douglas Van Vlack until after Oct. 6 loomed today in the triple slayer's separate fight to escape the gallows.
Van Vlack Tuesday was sentenced in Twin Falls district to hang July 27 for the murder of his wife.
Discounting the possibility of his being adjudged insane or being successful in filing a bill of exception to the resentencing, Van Vlack can appeal to the state pardon board for a commutation to life imprisonment.
The pardon board meets July 7, when approximately 150 applications for pardons and paroles will be considered.
Appeal Expected
It was expected that Van Vlack would make his appeal to this board for commutation, posing the question of his execution into the laps of Attorney General J. W. Taylor, Secretary of State E. C. Morris, and Governor Barzilla Clark.
Unless evidence which would justify a commutation could be presented to the pardon board, Van Vlack could make his appeal after the July 7 meeting.

G. W. Hall, C. I. O. organizer, claimed his men had shut down six factories here and that by nightfall "every plant in town will be closed."
The industrial strike was called in protest against the moving or supplies in and out of Republic's Warren plant under the protection of national guardsmen and police.

Hall said about 1,000 WPA workers had joined the strike.
Republic has continued to operate its plant here with curtailed forces of employees. Today 150 non-striker, who had been working in the plant for almost 20 days, were taken out of the plant in automobiles and allowed to go home. BOY IN HOSPITAL BY 'EXPERIMENT' WITH POISONING

Robert Nelson, 19, Termined in Fair Condition After Taking Cyanide
What was described by local police as well as by a companion of Robert Nelson, 19, Twin Falls, as an "experiment" in poisoning what would happen if potassium cyanide was taken, had put young Nelson in the county general hospital where his condition this afternoon was termed "fair" by attaches.
Carrying a vial of the poison last night as he was seated in a local drug store where he had been employed, Nelson poured half the contents into a glass of Coca-Cola he was drinking at the time and swallowed a quantity of the mixture, W. S. Orcutt, laboratory manager who was with the youth at the time, told police.
"It happened immediately and was rushed to a physician's office where his condition was so serious he was pumped out. He was then taken to the hospital for further treatment."
The youth had been carrying a vial of the poison with him for a week, Orcutt told police, having conducted laboratory experiments in his spare time. His passion for chemistry was told, the youth being a student at the local high school where he studied polynomials in connection with regular class work.
Telling of the events leading up to the time Nelson took the poison drink, Orcutt said they had mixed the poison with water and had "stuck our tongues into it, but it didn't do anything."
Misses With Drink
They then ordered the soft drinks because of the hot weather and were sipping these when Nelson, according to Orcutt, poured about half the crystals in his vial into his glass and started to drink.
"I tried to draw him out for something and then I realized that something had to be done fast. I tried first to get him to the doctor and then the hospital," Orcutt said.
Nelson's step-father, Dr. C. L. Boyer, said the youth could be normally sent from the house and showed no signs of being depressed.
The poison is termed as most deadly by physicians and its use, except for testing purposes, is said to be rare.
Although they would make no official statement, local police were of the opinion the case was not a suicide attempt.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO QUELL RIOT OF BELGIAN VETERANS

ACT OF AMNESTY CAUSES MASSING OF EX-SOLDIERS

Release of Sympathizers for Germany During World War Brings Outbreak

BROUSEL, Belgium, June 23 (AP).—Troops were called out today to quell a riot in which many war veterans and police were wounded, some seriously.

About 6,000 war veterans from Charleroi, Liege, Ypres and elsewhere, demonstrated against the amnesty law releasing those who were German sympathizers or traitors during the war.

They broke through the police cordons and selected wreaths on the tops of the unknown soldier. Then having been repulsed in a march on parliament, they gathered around the royal palace, some sitting or lying on mattresses, shouting for the resignation of the government and dissolution of parliament.

Other groups broke through the cordons of gendarmes in the Rue Royal and reached parliament where they cut the hoses of firemen who were trying to halt them by pinning water.

Several hundred mounted gendarmes eventually dispersed them and were aided by police in clearing the streets around parliament. At least four gendarmes and 12 veterans were taken to the hospital. The march and rioting were in sympathy of King Leopold.

ARRESTS NEAR IN MAIL DISORDERS

Six Men to be Served With Warrants in Strike Disturbance

Hindered national guardsmen acting under a proclamation of military rule guarded the movement of freight into and out of the big plant where from 2,000 to 3,000 workers have been virtual prisoners because of picket lines at the mill gates.

Men Stay In

Only a dozen pickets dared at the railroad men who handled loaded trains at the plant in peace for almost the first time in a month. The movement of trains under a court order which the guardsmen enforced was expected to mean that food could be sent to the men inside the plant by rail rather than by airplane if the non-strikers decided to take advantage of the militia guard to go to and from their homes.

Few men, so far, have come out of the Warren and Niles plants, the pickets reported, although militia with bayonets stand at the mill gates.

Company officials and leaders of the back-to-work movement in the Warren area indicated uncertainty as to whether efforts might be made to increase the number of non-strikers working the plant.

The military-enforced peace in the Youngstown district continued to maintain comparative calm over the Mahoning valley strike center, and was extended to Stark county by order of Gov. Martin L. Dewey to avoid danger of clashes at the mills in the Canton area.

Taxes "Coming in Well" as Second Installment Deadline Draws Near

SATURDAY FINAL DAY FOR PAYING 1936 LAST HALF

County Treasurer Declares Interest Charge Reverts To December

Deadline for payment of the second installment on 1936 real property taxes comes at 5 p. m. Saturday, Mrs. Cora E. Stevens, Twin Falls county treasurer, informed taxpayers today.

The Saturday closing hour of the treasurer's office represents the final moment at which last year's assessments may be paid without addition of penalty and interest.

"Tax payments are coming in well as the limit comes closer," Mrs. Stevens said.

"Those property owners who are paying on the two-installment plan will find it good business to complete their payments before 5 p. m. Saturday. The penalty and interest add further charges from then on. And the interest reverts to December, the date when 1936 taxes first became due."

Penalty is two per cent. The interest charge if taxes become delinquent is 10 per cent.

"All taxes are due in December," the treasurer said, "but property owners have the privilege of paying in two installments—December and July without interest or penalty if paid by those dates."

Interest to December. If taxpayers let the June deadline Saturday slip past, and then pay in July, the 10 per cent interest will not apply only to July but will be charged back to December—seven months instead of one.

The taxes due Saturday for those who did not pay in a lump sum in December include the state, county, highway district, school district and city levies. All are paid in one combined assessment and the county treasurer then apportions the shares to taxing units.

During the meeting of the board, Dr. W. F. Blane, president of the college, was given a unanimous vote of confidence by the board members.

Here's Man Who Asks No Aid; Gets Gold From River

Ernie Johns of Crystal springs, north of Piler, came into Twin Falls yesterday afternoon and purchased a gold pan. While others are seeking aid from various government agencies, Mr. Johns is making his living out of the Snake river.

His claim, located on the bank of the river at a point where the Hoops Construction company secures gravel for various construction jobs now underway in Twin Falls and on state roads, yields him from a few dollars to $50 a day in fine gold.

This gold he sells to the United States mint at Denver and it commands a high price for once. In gold, 1,000 fine is considered perfect. Gold which Mr. Johns delivers and which he takes from the Snake river rates $25 a ounce.

"It makes me a good living," Johns told an Evening Times reporter yesterday in an interview on Main avenue. "I don't see why it shouldn't prove the same to some other folks who want to do it. They tell me there are plenty gold sites open up and down the river."

The gold pan which he purchased here, it developed, and which caught the reporter's eye, will be used merely for testing.

Power Dredge
At the present time we have a power driven dredge which empties into three bins, each bin being three feet by 15 feet. There is no source gold in that vicinity. All of it is the where my claim is located.

"But it's gold and that's what I am looking for," he commented.

Another dredge that gold would be sought was revealed when William Hoops of the Hoops Construction company said that concern might "wash" the gravel they are taking out of the river, and near vicinity, before it is brought to Twin Falls.

"If we have the time," he said, "we might do this. We will probably do a little testing, however, to find out if it is worth the while."

And so today, Ernie Johns of Crystal springs was back at work making nature pay his living expenses and a little on the side.

"With only six days left in which drivers can secure their permits," Kingsbury said, "the headquarters in the lower corridor of the courthouse are now open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. including the noon hour. On Saturdays the hours are 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., also including the luncheon and dinner hours."

MISSING GIRLS FOUND IN UTAH

Wells, Nev., Police Absolve Man Held Here Of All Blame In Case

Wells, Nev., police authorities today absolved Bernard Eugene Jobs, circus worker, of all blame in the disappearance of two girls from that community Monday night after the girls were found late yesterday afternoon in a small town in Utah.

Jobs, who admitted picking the two missing girls up at Elko following a circus performance, was arrested here early Tuesday morning and held on an open charge. He told officers he let the two out of his car at their home town of Wells. The two girls were Marie Leonard, 14, and Katherine Page, 16. They had been returned to their homes today.

The sheriff of Elko county was expected to arrive in Twin Falls late this afternoon to return Jobs to that point where it is said he will face several minor charges.

Until the girls were located, police and sheriff's officers feared foul play. Nevada officers and the parents of the two were in Twin Falls yesterday in connection with the case.

THEATER GUILD WILL OPEN PLAY

$100,000 Production Will Have Stage Premiere in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 (UP)—Secretly rehearsed, the world premiere of the theater guild's $100,000 stage production, "Amphitryon 38," will be presented tonight starring Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, America's first ranking theatrical couple.

For a week the Lunts and their company have been rehearsing in a dark theater, in full costume and with all lighting effects, while they continued to appear in the closing performance of "Idiot's Delight," last year's Pulitzer prize winning play.

The production is said to include startling scenic effects painted on velvet by Lee Simonson. There has been word, too, that almost one entire act will feature the typical Lunt-Fontanne repartee, reminiscent of "The Guardsman."

Dealing as it does with the story in Greek mythology of Zeus descending from heaven to woo a mortal woman, Alkmena, wife of Amphitryon, the play is expected to develop what some call risque moments, others refreshingly frank dialogues.

Yesterday's Coral and David are secretly married. As Coral she is to tell him that they may be married in the next act.

CHAPTER II

AS Coral walked across the campus from the Chemistry building to her sorority house, her mind was full of thoughts of David. She had been married two weeks. Sometimes it seemed a long time; at others, a matter of days. "I love him more every day," she thought to herself.

How splendid he had been when she told him about the boy from Wheatland. He had been so kind. Hoyt Marquis, whom her parents had always assumed she would marry, to whom most of the students at Wheatland thought she was engaged. She had related the whole story to David, explaining why she had fallen in with the plans of both the Marquis family and her own, despite the fact that she did not love Hoyt. She had told him of the money her father owed Hoyt Marquis, Sr., who was Wheatland's richest banker. She had been afraid that David would be resentful, hurt that she had not confided in him before, or jealous of this other man. He had been perfect, thoughtful, understanding, even laughing a little at her concern.

"Darling," he had chuckled at the end of their talk. "My only feeling about Hoyt Marquis is that he is more to be pitied than cursed." After all, his loss is my gain. If you get what I mean."

Coral had gotten it, of course, and had been well kissed in the bargain. Her heart beat faster at the recollection. "How happy—how incredibly fortunate and lucky..." she was!

BEHIND THE SCENES

in Washington BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Evening Times Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Roosevelt, who has been expounding all over the place for the last four years, now thinks he may have the making of a great formula which will perform the following wonders:

- 1.—Give a decent standard of living to 50,000,000 persons for the first time.
- 2.—Keep property returning by a fair increase in the national income.
- 3.—Pile up millions of votes for the New Deal and its candidates in 1940.
- 4.—Eliminate the relief problem, balance the budget and thereby avert off the national debt.
- 5.—Averting serious depressions in the future.

Will the formula really do any one of these things? Possibly not. But it certainly would make all millionaires and most other wealthy people in the United States happy in the New Deal. Roosevelt, however, the idea he could make everybody happy. Now he thinks he can do it by spending a great deal of money. His present program, share-the-wealth program, by which he would tax the top 5 percent of the nation's income, will be a first step up to the moment the tax collector comes.

MONEY MERRY-GO-ROUND

It's all based on the velocity theory of money, which was featured in the New Deal plan. You put the money in the hands of those who will spend it fastest, meaning those who are shy on the necessities of life. The shopkeeper or landlord spends it and another gets it, it gets into the hands of Mr. J. Morgan or somebody who pays it back to the government, which puts it right back into circulation again, preferably through the bank which spends it fastest.

Higher wages, shorter hours, lower prices, maximum production, bigger volume of profits—all this to build up the bigger national income which, Roosevelt says, will make it possible to balance the budget.

Accepted Theory

It has come to be a well-accepted theory that the government must reduce taxes on those who pay them and increase taxes on those who do not pay them. This is the accepted theory of the economists who say that the government should tax the rich and give the money to the poor. The government should tax the rich and give the money to the poor. The government should tax the rich and give the money to the poor.

Balancing Costs of Freight

Seeking a dependable barometer by which to ascertain general business trends, America has acquired the habit of turning to the railroads. Throughout the depression, especially, their condition provided a valuable index to our economic health.

As one of the board, foundational element in the national life, any public carrier is an essential element in the everyday existence of every citizen. Thus, when the railroads come forward with what they feel is a problem of public concern, they at least deserve to be heard.

The point at issue is over the spending of public moneys for the establishment of cheap waterway transportation. To begin with, the railroads say, the cost of waterway subsidy is far out of proportion with the cost of railroad service, measured mile for mile and ton for ton.

As an example, figures are quoted to show that New York taxpayers have put up, since 1903, more than $385,000 a mile on the state barge canal, a figure three times greater than the investment in the average mile of railroad in the United States. In addition, it is claimed the canal costs nearly $6000 yearly per mile in maintenance and operation.

HEAP-BIG-SECRET DEPT.

Dear A.—See, we haven't printed a line about it, have we? Not yet, anyway!

THE SOCIETY EDITOR was trying to write social news last night when the 7:30 a. m. News broadcast of the Louis-Braddock book was being delivered to a street packed with 2500 fight fans. The blue eye, however, produced the following masterpiece as what she says was the sum total of her writing during the fight.

SOCIAL LEAD

PHONE WIRE, HOT AIR FROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT

At the social gathering mentioned last evening at an attractive bridge party, honoring... the big night now on the second broadcast of the Louis-Braddock book was being delivered to a street packed with 2500 fight fans. The blue eye, however, produced the following masterpiece as what she says was the sum total of her writing during the fight.

She turned up the walk leading to the dormitory and waved merrily.

for you. That's cheating. It wouldn't be right.

Donna sprang to her feet. "Coral, you make me sick. All you talk about what's right and what isn't. You're a fine one to talk. I know a lot more about you than you think I do. You can't pull your sweet, innocent act with me any more."

"Donna, what are you talking about? Coral said a little. 'You must be crazy!'"

"Crazy, am I? Donna fairly screamed. 'I'm not so crazy as to clope with a cheap chemistry professor who makes nothing of a year, Mrs. DAVID ARMSTRONG!'"

For a few moments there was a dead silence in the room. At last Coral spoke. "What was your message?" Her voice was strained, held in control by terrific exertion of her will.

"You know what I mean," Donna said sulkily, frightened by Coral's voice, and her drawn, white face. "I couldn't find a handkerchief. What was your message?" Her voice was strained, held in control by terrific exertion of her will.

"You know what I mean," Donna said sulkily, frightened by Coral's voice, and her drawn, white face. "I couldn't find a handkerchief. What was your message?" Her voice was strained, held in control by terrific exertion of her will.

Another example cited is that of the Paducah-Knoxville section of the Tennessee river. If the new canalization there were carried through as authorized by congress in 1930, the estimated cost would be $74,000,000, with additional operating and maintenance expenses of $1,280,000 annually. Plus previous expenses, it is claimed, this would average $135,000 a mile, or 25 per cent more than the investment per mile of Class I railroads.

Federal taxes bore nearly 80 per cent of the cost of river freightage in 1930, with rising percentages in the years since then, the railroads say.

Apparently the railroads are not trying to disprove the principle of federal subsidy. Their citation mentions the competitive advantage given river carriers through free use of government-kept channels, freedom from rate restrictions, and negligible taxes. They see, as consequences, increased burdens on the taxpayer and greater total cost of hauling the nation's freight.

Out of these claims—and doubtless there are or will be counter-claims—comes the thought that since both railways and waterways are necessary to the national welfare, there ought to be legal room for fair treatment to both of them.

To each of them falls certain classes of freight which the other can not well handle. And anything that disturbs this natural division of traffic, by excessive cost or any other means, also disturbs the national pocketbook.

She turned up the walk leading to the dormitory and waved merrily. She told him the truth, that she was married to David, then he told her the truth, that he was married to Coral. She told him that she was interested in someone else and wanted to make sure there was no definite understanding between them, he would promptly raise the roof. She complained to her parents and his, and perhaps, even insist that his father call in Mr. Crandall's loan. She shrugged. There was no help for it. Hoyt would have to be told when everyone else was, and not before. But it was annoying to have to consider him and what he would do. She had never loved him, he did not really love her, but because it was to their parents' advantage they had been thrown together for so long that the companionship had become habitual.

HYPER brows still knitted in a frowning concentration. Coral climbed the stairs to the second floor and opened the door of her room. Donna was sitting on the window seat, clad in over-the-shoulder garter lounge pajamas, a box of chocolates at her elbow, a novel with a garishly printed dust jacket in her hand. As Coral entered, she looked up from her book. "Hi, there. It's late. I suppose you've been in the lab, nobly doing the work for tomorrow."

Donna selected a chocolate from the box and munched it pensively. "I might be persuaded to keep your pretty little secret if you made it worth my while. You know I speak Greek, for instance, and seemed willing to do a few other odd jobs for you."

"Without a word, Coral rummaged through the bookcase until she found the Greek textbook, and set down at the desk, paper and pencil. "The secret is in the little tid-bit of gossip to recount. You'll be expelled and your handsomeness David will lose his job. I'll open your drawer to borrow one of your shirts. You know you're not going to tell anyone? You mustn't."

Donna sat upon the window seat again. "Why not?"

"You know perfectly well why not. It must be kept a secret until June."

Discontent in Russia

Probably it won't be possible for us in America to know just what is happening in Russia until some time after it has actually happened; but on the face of things some profound wave of discontent must be surging across that country these days. How else is one to interpret the recurring executions, the mass arrests, the dismissals of thousands of once-trusted Communists and the unexplained ruthlessness of the wide-spread program of repression?

It will be almost impossible to pass an intelligent judgment until all the returns are in, and the returns are coming in very slowly. But one must admit that according to all indications the Stalin government is meeting progressively greater difficulties in keeping the masses contented. Whether the discontent is with Communism as such or with Stalin's peculiar brand of despotism, no one can say at this distance; but that such discontent does exist in a nationwide and menacing form it is impossible to doubt.

LONDON.—The Lloyd George government was defeated in the House of Commons today. The committee adopted an amendment to the national health insurance bill which the government had opposed.

The house adjourned immediately after announcement of the defeat to permit the government to consider its position.

Political observers say that unless Lloyd George himself resigns he will be unable to weather the storm and continue in office until after the August conference.

A general election to be called in all any way and it is merely a question now of what Lloyd George announces the best time to hold one.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

The glands of internal secretion which result in low blood pressure. The glands are an interlocking chain that not only affect the efficiency of the thyroid secretion but of some of the other glands which depend on the thyroid or may be in association with the thyroid, may bring about a low blood pressure.

A weakness of the heart, a deficiency in the material or in the amount of blood also may be found in cases of low blood pressure.

Thus any patient with this condition demands a careful and complete examination in order to determine whether there are any factors which may be brought under control.

The symptoms associated with this condition are rather indefinite, including weakness, shortness of breath on exertion, palpitations of the heart, dizziness, inability to concentrate, vague digestive disturbances, and sometimes the feelings of faintness or lightheadedness.

Just how long low blood pressure lasts in any person is dependent on a number of factors. Some cases of this condition will run their course following plenty of rest and recreation and an improvement in the diet. Sometimes an extra cup of coffee or tea will stimulate the blood pressure to a point at which the person feels better.

Sometimes a record of the basal metabolism will show that this is not the defect of the thyroid gland and that the action of the thyroid gland is normal. In such cases the taking of small doses of thyroid will bring about a cure.

Thyroid, however, should never be taken except with the advice of a physician who has made a study of the patient's condition.

There are some people who incline to believe that the low blood pressure is due to low blood pressure. However, narrow-chested, low waisted people whose hearts are on a low level and whose blood is therefore, pumped around sharper bends than occur in the blood vessels of people of different types, are in a class to have low blood pressure.

People with low blood pressure are often very nervous, but they are not always so. They may not always be the vigor and vitality associated with a strong muscular physique. However, have several advantages over people with high blood pressure. Their doctor will not tell them they are nervous, not what to eat and how much.

High Rehousing Rents

What is the good of "eradicating" slums, if the new houses you build are too expensive to be occupied by the people you built them for?

Major rehousing projects undertaken by the federal government are at last nearing completion in Cleveland, and the rent scales have been announced. In the cheaper of the two projects, rents begin at $12.75 a month for two-room apartments, and go up to $22.44 a month for six rooms. In addition, charges for heat, water and electricity will be collected with the rent. These charges will range from about $5.35 to $8 a month.

As ordinary rents, those scales are moderate enough; but they are not moderate for the typical slum dweller. Indeed the reason that we have slums is simply the fact that there are a great many people who cannot for the life of them pay rates as high as those indicated above.

If we really plan to abolish slums, we must provide new housing at prices that slum-dwellers can afford to pay.

THE THING OFTEN RATHER COMPLICATED!

Where I got in had on this Braddock-Lewis fight wasn't the one I had in mind. It was on the beta I placed after that trying to prove I was right the first time. Here's how it went:

I bet a quarter Braddock would beat Lewis.

I raised one so much I bet him a dollar I lost the bet. It was a had move on his part.

Then I bet him another dollar that his second wager was a poor bet.

Then I bet him a dollar that I'd win all my bets with him.

I bet it to all over, while both going dig fighting the thing out... but I gotta pay.

GERMANY, ITALY WALK OUT OF PATROL PACT AGAIN

BRITAIN, FRANCE FEAR NEW HELP IN SPAIN'S WAR

Foreign Warships Reported Active Off Shore Near Valencia

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
(United Press Cable Editor)

Germany and Italy walked out of the international patrol on Spain again today, precipitating a potentially dangerous situation.

Britain and France conferred anxiously, fearing that the whole non-intervention plan would be wrecked and that the two Fascist powers actually might walk out of it and openly aid Spain.

Mussolini has regular army divisions ready to send to Spain if he decides to do so, including one of 15,000 men. Germany has strengthened her war fleet in the Mediterranean.

Warships Active

A significant dispatch from Valencia said foreign warships were active off the coast and that more Italian and German destroyers were to be observed than at any time since the civil war started.

The implication was that the two powers, having been refused Germany's request for a four-power naval display off Valencia, might be planning one of their own.

It was feared in London that if Germany and Italy moved openly into Spain to ensure the victory of Francisco Franco's insurgents, Russia might intervene on the side of the loyalists.

Big War Threat

Such a collapse of the non-intervention system would leave any other nation free to step in, and the threat of a European war would be grave.

Britain, as she has done in previous crises, took the lead as peace-maker and sought desperately for a solution, although none appeared in sight.

Britain had the full support of France, who intimated she would back any move the British might make.

PREPARE FOR TROUBLE

PARIS, June 23 (AP)—Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador, visited Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos today and was understood to have told him that Britain is prepared to do everything possible to prevent further trouble over the Spanish situation, and had so informed Germany.

Delbos, intimated that France would back up strongly any initiative which Britain might take.

An authoritative French diplomat said:

"France and England are equally resolved not to let the mysterious Leipzig incident, on which light has not yet been thrown, be exploited in the sense of Reich wishes.

"Collective action or the isolated action which it appears Berlin is envisaging, would have the effect of favoring one of the Spanish parties to the detriment of the other.

"Many things now depend on the wisdom of the Reich, which through the Leipzig incident underwent no moral or material damage. Paris and London are completely in accord and will await with calm firmness the decision of the German government."

This Act Irks Barrymore

Scenes like these with Elaine Barrymore playing in a film, "How Underneath Your Husband," drew the ire of the Barrymore family, whose members were reported negotiating to suppress the film. Their chief objection, it was said, was that Miss Barrymore, former wife of John Barrymore, used the name of Elaine Barrymore in the film.

U. S. Sells Tax Receipts to Liquor Men in Dry States; Churches Object

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The U. S. treasury admitted today that it issues special $25 tax stamp licenses, with official eagles on 'em, to dry-state bootleggers for putting on speakeasy walls.

These documents say on their face that they must be posted in conspicuous places, and that is exactly what bootleggers in Georgia, Kansas and other dry regions are doing.

This has resulted in a deluge of complaints from folks who claim the treasury hasn't any business selling the illicit liquor trade.

That's what makes the treasury feel sad. Patently it explains that the fault is congress, that it personally hates bootleggers, and that it doesn't want their tax money.

Hundreds of Licenses

Yet it has issued hundreds of liquor licenses to these gentlemen, some of whom it knows are of low moral character, and most of whom flaunt their federal documents on the mirrors, over their bars.

Congress passed a law designed to enforce the 21st amendment and to protect dry states. It also adopted an entirely separate tax bill a couple of years ago, providing among a lot of other things for the collection of special occupational taxes from liquor dealers.

Anybody who wants to sell whisky must pay the tax—$25 year—and for his money he gets the above-mentioned document, handsomely engraved on heavy paper.

The tax law said nothing about dry states, or known law-breakers, or anything like that. All it provides is that anyone with $25 anywhere can pay his tax and get his receipt, for framing purposes.

Buy to Display

Legitimate dealers in wet states, of course, must have these papers before they can do business. Bootleggers in dry territories also are buying and displaying them, apparently for the purpose of bamboozling local authorities.

The placards don't mean a thing, actually, except that the treasury reluctantly has accepted $25. Printed upon them prominently and in red ink is a notice which says: "This is a tax receipt, not a license."

Under the law, the placards are for sale at all offices of the internal revenue bureau, which keeps a list of the names of purchasers. This list is available to local dry authorities.

They can get from it the names and addresses of all suspected bootleggers who buy tax receipts. Some of the latter, however, seem to think that the mere fact they have a tax-paid receipt from the treasury, which enforces the federal liquor laws, is protection enough.

It isn't, but the complaints continue to arrive, mostly from dry leaders and church people.

South Idaho Jamboree Scouts Roll Merrily Along Eastward

By PAUL LEIGHTON
(Special Evening Times Correspondent)

OMAHA, Neb., (24) route to Washington with the Jamboree Troop—Getting started is the hardest part of any journey yet it was accomplished and on time without a hitch. After leaving Twin Falls Sunday afternoon we arrived in Portland at 8 p. m. the same day and boarded a sleeper on the Portland Rose 40 minutes later—heading east.

Going to bed was one grand parade of highly colored pajamas such as Kenneth Ballantyne's red and black ones; Dick Hardin's polka dot pajamas, and Eugene Thompson's bright green ones. Others ranged from red, white and blue stripes to purple and yellow stripes. Some show they're playing cards.

For amusement most of the boys have been playing cards and that ever tedious game of monopoly. Dick Lawrence started for the observation car to get some candy, the porter telling him it was only a short way back. He made his round trip in 30 minutes through the 13 cars back. The Union Pacific must be doing all right.

All of the boys were awake at Rawlins, Wyo., where we looked on the Challenger train about 100 a. m. the second day out. For the better part of the day the country which we traveled through was mostly sugar, but toward afternoon the land started to look very much like the Twin Falls tract.

The first hot of the trip was won by myself when Francis True, Don Hansen and others bet me I couldn't get acquainted with two girls who were on the train. Needless to say I played monopoly with them all afternoon and won the 50-cent bet.

Car, is hot

Although an air-conditioned car was ordered for us, we didn't get it and the result is that we stay in some other cars most of the time. It is like a bake oven in our car.

Wednesday we will be in Chicago and will have a full day of sightseeing.

None of the boys is homesick—as yet. Some of them didn't sleep very well and some of them didn't like their meals but so far, even with the discomforts of a bake oven, they are able to smile and sing.

More later.

65,000 COMPETE MARCH TO WIN WORLD'S TITLE

65,000 Watch 2nd Negro Cop Crown

Braddock Knocked Out in Eighth Round of Battle at Comiskey Park

BY HENRY McLEMORE
CHICAGO, June 23 (UP)—Joe Louis, a black man, today had completed his march down the glory road. Back Jack lifted the title in the cotton, way down in Alabama.

It ended last night in a brilliant patch of light at Comiskey park when, with 65,000 persons looking on, he proclaimed himself heavyweight champion of all the world. He heard the proclamation with upraised hands that still dripped with the blood of the big Britman, Jimmy Fox, when, after 22 minutes and ten seconds of battling, had crumpled to the floor unconscious.

Second Negro
Only one other man of Louis' race—burly, gold-toothed Jack Johnson—ever stood where Louis stands today. Back Jack lifted the title in Australia, which leaves Louis with the distinction of being the first colored man to win the championship on American soil.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS

Monte Stratton Holds Athletics to Three Hits; Rookie Pitcher Stops St. Louis

NEW YORK, June 23 (UP)—Yankee Manager Joe McCarthy's pitching problem vanished into thin air today with Pat (Bubba) Malone the apparent solution.

Good Day for Pitchers
Pitchers in both major leagues had a good day yesterday. Monte Stratton of the Chicago White Sox turned in the best twirling effort by limiting the Browns to three hits.

Although some fireworks have been sounding in Twin Falls since they may be legally fired starting tomorrow morning within the corporate limits of the city, according to municipal ordinance.

A large bag of fireworks of various sizes and shapes is "resting" at the police station today, having been picked up by officers as they answered numerous complaints of early celebrating. Fire crackers collected in this manner will not be returned.

A change in the city ordinance to place date of sale and date of firing of the fireworks at the same time is indicated.

"You can't give them fireworks on June 15 and expect them to keep them until June 24," one officer said, "although it is our duty to enforce the law because it's there. Tomorrow morning, however, they can legally be fired."

FOUR SHIPLOADS OF FOOD BRING RELIEF TO BILBAO

1ST SUSTENANCE SINCE SURRENDER BROUGHT TO CITY

Shops Begin to Reopen as Business Gets Under Way Again

By WEARN MILLER
Copyright 1937, United Press
BILBAO, Spain, June 23 (UP)—Four shiploads of food arrived in Bilbao today, bringing relief to the city after the blockade and left because of the food shortage.

I saw long lines of haggard women and children standing for hours and waiting for the arrival of food which authorities finally began to distribute. After the ships brought the food—large quantities of flour for bread—twelve motor trucks began the first distribution of food since the Spanish nationalists captured this ancient city.

"Wolf" Bread
Many of the refugees started to "wolf" bread the moment it was handed to them. The streets of Bilbao were quiet today. Soulevaras which once were filled with birds were empty. Wolf-like dogs roamed the streets.

When the watermain began functioning today and water ran through the gutters, thin dogs, who had been unable to scale the steep parapets leading down to the Nervion river, fought each other for the water as the first trickle began to flow.

Shops began to open. Refugees, who had fled the besieged city, returned by the thousands. Many carried personal possessions on their heads.

Basques Surrender
Meanwhile, members of the Basque army continued to surrender in large numbers. During the last two days about 11 battalions—normally there are 700 troops in a battalion—laid down their arms.

I saw hundreds of these conquered soldiers concentrated today in Municipal theater. From there they were being taken away on motor-trucks.

Authorities have commenced to work on the ruins of the Isabella bridge, arranging a foundation that will enable them to span the river with temporary trestles.

Factories Work
Smoke began to puff from factory chimneys. Engineers at the heart of the city succeeded in pulling several narrow gauge trains into operation.

Facist Boy Scouts paraded Facist posters over all Communist literature stuck on buildings and signs-brought by the loyalists.

Resumption of business is progressing slowly because of the lack of legal money. All Basque money—the legal tender of Bilbao—has been invalidated. Authorities brought in an official to start business in the Bank of Spain as quickly as possible.

Circus' Pet Chimpanzee Near Human in Conduct

The thin line of distinction that rests between the anthropoid apes of the animal kingdom and the human race is demonstrated by Topsy, the chimpanzee mascot of Russell Bros. Circus, to be seen in Twin Falls on Monday, June 28.

"The circus people see much in Topsy's conduct that is akin to human. She wears clothes and eats her meals in the dining tent with the rest of the circus 'family.' She delights in bathing her hands in a basin of water, is a pit in the use of a washboard, and is fascinated by soapuds. She does all the little tricks of a child; will kiss the winks of a human friend to 'make it well'; is quick in her defense of those she loves. Her face is highly mobile, and her enormously expansive lips and keenly sensitive nostrils are constantly expressing in turn the emotions of contentment, doubt, fear and jealousy; affection, disapproval, jealousy, anger, and indignation; selfishness and ill-will.

When Topsy had a severe sleep of the last night, she was given medicine 'like a good girl' and submitted to a X-ray examination of her lungs without protest. And persons opposing the view that animals have the power of reason will find refutation in the clever device she uses in an effort to unlock her cage or maneuver herself out of a tight position.

DUCE MAY SEND TROOPS TO SPAIN

Developments Indicate That Italian Leader May Give Aid to Franco

ROME, June 23 (UP)—Developments indicated today that Premier Benito Mussolini is seriously considering sending important assistance including regular army divisions to the aid of Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of the Spanish nationalists.

Diplomats, having received word from London that efforts to settle the Leticia incident had broken down, were greatly perturbed.

Whether Mussolini is preparing for open intervention in Spain or merely taking precautions for such a hypothetical possibility could not be learned.

Nevertheless, several significant signs indicated that Mussolini may seize France's preoccupation with internal political troubles to modify his Spanish policy, using the recent Mediterranean incidents and the breakdown of the London negotiations as a pretext.

From a trustworthy source, it was learned that at least one if not more generals of regular army divisions had received curt orders to keep their men in constant readiness 'for service abroad.'

One general's division numbers 15,000 men, who would sail from Vivita Vecchia II and when orders are received.

INVENTOR TELLS OF 'LIBRASCOPE' OF PLANE LOAD

Young Commerce Engineer Has Mechanism to Give Center of Plane Load

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Lewis W. Innim, young department of commerce engineer, twisted the knob of a five-pound mechanical brain today and promised that his invention will be a major help in getting airplanes off the ground on scheduled time.

Innim calls his gadget the "librascope," which calculates in two minutes how an airplane should be loaded; where the cargo should be stowed, to avert "nose heaviness" or tail drag.

Airport staffs normally spend as long as half an hour figuring out how to load an airplane waiting past take-off time, he said.

One dial on Innim's box of rods and levers tells the fraction of a pound total weight of plane and cargo. A second shows the loadship's center of gravity. This reading tells whether the plane is loaded in balance for a perfect flight.

If the librascope shows the plane is nose-heavy, cargo will be shifted to the rear compartment or a couple of passengers moved to rear seats. A plane flies most efficiently with its center of gravity coinciding exactly with the point of the wings' greatest lift," the inventor explained.

If the center of gravity is ahead or behind the lift, its flight efficiency is cut down, speed reduced, and operating cost increased.

Scientists Discover Static Cause In Earphones of Airplane Radios

By CHARLES WRIGHT
DENVER, Colo., June 23 (UP)—Scientists have found the origin of radio static, which causes the annoying buzz in the earphones of pilots and ground crew workers and has been blamed for mixed signals and crashes.

The discovery was reported today to the 100th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The cause is the discharge from the trailing edges of the plane's wings and tail surface, of static electricity gathered from certain cloud formations. It is hoped to eliminate the hazard before next winter.

Search 3 Months
A group of engineers and meteorologists cruised the airways for three months before reaching the solution. They learned that they had been searching for the trouble in the wrong place.

H. M. Hucks, engineer in charge of United Airlines' flying laboratory, said that the static occurs only during certain weather conditions, and United Airlines is planning to develop a system for forecasting major static areas on the airways which may be avoided.

Hucks said other airlines probably would follow the same plan. The engineers also developed a new ice-free transmitting antenna insulator, which is expected to improve two-way voice communication, it was announced.

SPECTATOR STIRS PARKERS' TRIAL

NEWARK, N. J., June 23 (UP)—A spectator in the courtroom where the Ellis Parkers were on trial leaped to his feet, ran to the front of the room, tagged Paul H. Wendell, the government's star witness, and shouted:

"That's the man."
He was identified as Philip Moses, taxicab driver who testified for the defense in the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for murdering the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Former George S. Silzer was finishing his summation on behalf of Ellis H. Parker, Jr., who is on trial with his father on a conspiracy charge in the kidnaping of Wendell, a Trenton lawyer.

"If Hauptmann had not been thought of and had not been tried in Flemington," Silzer said, as he turned and pointed a finger at Wendell, "that's the man who would have been tried for kidnaping the Lindbergh baby."

The origin of the slang phrase "the life of Riley" is not known.

NYA LOOKING FOR OFFER OF SPACE

Someone With Desk, Chair Could Be Big Help to Youth Group

Somewhere in the downtown Twin Falls business district there must be room for a desk and a chair, and Harold A. Salisbury, National Youth Administration area supervisor, this afternoon was looking for that place. Aside from temporary headquarters maintained in the home of Mr. Salisbury at 211 Ninth avenue east, the NYA is without a home in Twin Falls for the first time since it was established. It was formerly headquartered at the resettlement administration offices, but a change in arrangements at that point made a move necessary.

City Will Aid
 Through cooperation of the city a more central location will be available soon in the basement of the band shell at city park, but that too will be temporary.

No funds are provided for rented quarters for the NYA because overhead expenses are held down in order that the most possible can go to youths, Salisbury said.

"At the present time 40 youths are employed locally on NYA at an average monthly salary of $18.50 making a monthly payroll of $660. May Hire More

"It is highly possible that after the start of the fiscal year on July 1, more youths will be hired, although registrations are not being made at the present time.

"With this in mind we hope to be able to locate in some desirable space soon. Surely someone or somebody has enough space left over where we can put a desk and a chair," Salisbury said.

CHINESE GOALS FACE EXECUTION

Peiping Council Hits Trading Of Opium Dealers With Robbers

PEIPING (AP)—Opium dealers who trade with tomb robbers are liable to immediate execution upon discovery, according to an edict just issued by the Hepei-Chihar Political Council.

Although this may seem extreme to our ears, it reflects the traditional Chinese attitude of veneration for the dead—a tradition that is being fostered at present by the official officials of this part of the country.

"Despicable"
 "Grave robbers," reads the edict, "are the cruellest and most detestable people in China. In disturbing the bones and flesh of the dead they violate not only the statutes but the moral law of humanity. Merchants who buy opium from grave robbers and then sell them for a profit are engaged in a depraved and horrible traffic. They are inhuman lunatics who to enter into complicity with such men and hence deserve to be shot."

For years the robbing of tombs has been a lucrative trade near Peiping, in whose suburbs princes and members of the Imperial Clan were buried for centuries. Many of the genuine and valuable curios for sale at various dealers' shops in Peiping have come from such tombs. Persons of rank and wealth were always buried with fortunes in jewels, lace, porcelain and gold in the tombs.

Robbed by Soldiers
 The most famous tombs have been rifled by recent military commanders stationed in the areas around the city. Many of these men have had the misfortune of coming to a subsequent end, some with the wreath from this semi-official banditry.

There are also professionals and amateur—professors driven to economic desperation through poverty. When caught, the professional and amateur alike are shot, without trial, so greatly is their crime abhorred.

Maybe Rattle-less Rattler is Adder, Woman Declares

Identity of a "rattleless rattler" which three Fairfield fishermen reported finding recently while on a trip to Magic dam, was possibly established here this afternoon by Mrs. B. Dimmitt of 141 Addison, who has announced the snake's name in question was probably a spotted adder.

The man in question to count across such a "rattler without rattles" rattles quite a while ago," she told the Evening Times. "Further investigation of the snake which was captured proved it to be a spotted adder. It has the exact markings of a diamond-back rattler, but no rattles."

"When aroused it will strike out viciously the full length of its tail and it is extremely poisonous. Although rare here the variety is numerous in such states as Texas," Mrs. Dimmitt said.

The snake found by the Fairfield fishermen was thought at the time to be a rattlesnake with a bull snake and a rattler.

"That is exactly what we thought when we saw our first one," Mrs. Dimmitt said. "But our theory was proven false. It was later identified as a spotted adder and because of that fact, it is reasonable to assume that the snake found at the Magic dam is of the same variety."

WRESTLE WITH THAT AWHILE

Hearst Suspends Publication Of Famed New York American

Tomorrow Morning's Issue Will Be Last for Major Newspaper in Gotham

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—The manager of Pulitzer's World, was another.

It was the American, when it was still the "Morning Journal," which carried the famous piece of verse which warned that an assassin's bullet was...

"To stretch McKinley on his bier."
 Hearst suppressed the verse as soon as he saw it and apologized to the President, but it was recalled after McKinley's assassination and the publisher was burned in effigy.

The American was the descendant of the Morning Journal, which Hearst bought 42 years ago for $100,000 after having financed the success of his San Francisco Examiner.

War on Pulitzer
 Hearst declared war once on Pulitzer, who then dominated that section of the morning field to which the young publisher intended to appeal. He spent $1,000,000 in that war, much of the money going to lure his best talent from Pulitzer.

Firebane, who became Hearst's right-hand man, was one of the first to leave Pulitzer for the greener pastures. He was another, and J. B. Carver, the business manager.

WORD COUNT IN WIRES CHANGED

Revised regulation regarding the word count of figures sent in telegrams to any part of the United States was announced here this afternoon by both C. J. Dillard, manager of Postal Telegraph, and T. J. Foster, manager of Western Union.

Previous to this announcement, each figure had been counted as one word. From this date on, both managers announce, the one word count will include five figures, or fractional thereof, including decimal points, fraction marks and dashes. In other words, managers point out, the date 1957 will be counted as one word and not four, as was the previous practice.

"The inauguration of this system marks another step forward in facilitating the more extensive use of telegraph for all types of business and social correspondence, the managers said.

BUILDING BOOM PROVIDING JOBS

Construction in Twin Falls Is Proving of Benefit to Men in Various Trades

Local building construction, booming at the present time, is proving a major benefit toward providing jobs for both skilled workers and laborers. It was revealed here this afternoon by Ray Butler, manager of the United States employment service office for this district.

On a majority of the jobs, contractors are hiring men from rolls maintained at the employment offices. This method, according to Butler, saves the contractor the time he would spend in interviews and means simply placing a call for a certain type worker, the worker being immediately supplied.

50 From Rolla

At least 50 men from the employment office's rolls are working on construction here. Each man working has an average of two dependents. Thus counting the worker himself, Butler points out, approximately 150 persons are benefitting. I want to make it clear that these men do not represent all the workers being employed on construction jobs here at the present time. Many more have been hired from other sources, especially on some of the minor jobs. A majority of the large contractors, however, hire a large per cent of their labor through our organization. This service is provided without charge to both the employer and the employee," Butler said.

Others in Demand
Demand for domestic help is still active. Butler said, and hay hands, beet-hoers and general farm hands are also in demand at the present time.

During the best thinning period, which is practically completed, 464 men found work through the local employment office. A highway job in the Craters of the Moon will also take some men from the rolls, principally among residents of Blaine and Butte counties.

Deer With Cow's Tail Described to Warden

SHAINERD, Minn. (AP)—A P. Cardie, deputy game warden, is puzzling over a letter he received from a man who said he saw (and nearly got a picture of) a deer with a long tail—like a cow.

The man, George Peoples, wrote Cardie from Detroit, La. He said he and a companion saw the deer, a doe, crossing the road.

Cardie said such a phenomenon is possible.

JEROME

Mrs. Waulita Yates, rural reclamation secretary, has returned to work after several weeks' absence from the office following an appendectomy.

Tom Simerly was appointed Friday between Jerome and Eden by Traffic Officer Earl Williams for operating an automobile without a license, and in court Saturday was fined $10 and costs.

Charlotte Robertson, county clerk and auditor, has returned from Coeur d'Alene, where she attended the meeting of county auditors of the state. Many problems of interest were taken up. Mrs. Robertson was elected secretary-treasurer of the association to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Calvin E. Wright, former auditor of Cassia county.

Tom Simerly was appointed Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hawley, three tables being at play throughout the evening. High scores were made by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crandall. Non-member guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Woodhead and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Callen. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

JEROME

Mrs. Wauvita Yates, rural classification secretary, has returned to work after several weeks' absence from the office following an appendectomy.

Tom Simerly was apprehended Friday between Jerome and Eden by Traffic Officer Earl Williams for operating an automobile without a license and in court Saturday was fined $10 and costs.

Charlotte Roberson, county clerk and auditor, has returned from Cowdalen, where she attended the meeting of county auditors of the state. Many problems of interest were taken up. Mrs. Roberson was elected secretary-treasurer of the association to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Calvin E. Wright, former auditor of Cassia county.

The Contract Bridge club met Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hawley, three tables being at play throughout the evening. High scores were made by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crandall. Non-member guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Woodhead and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Callen. Refreshments were served by the hostess.
