New Clues Uncovered in Inglewood Murders

Blood-Stained Candy Sack is Discovered

LOS ANGELES, July 1 (UP)—James W. Summitt, 37-year-old WPA worker said by police to be known as "Bodie," today was arrested today for questioning in connection with the Inglewood triple child murder.

LOS ANGELES, July 1 (UP)—A crumpled paper candy bag, on which are four blurred fingerprints, was found beneath the body of one of the "babes of Inglewood" kidnap-murder victims, Capt. William Penpraze of the sheriff's office revealed today.

The bag was found under the body of Madeline Everett, 7, who with her sister Melba, 8, and Jeanette Stephens, 4, were lured from Inglewood park last Saturday and ravaged and strangled in the nearby Baldwin hills the bag bore the label of a candy store company which has a branch in Inglewood. At the drugstore, clerks said the type of bag found under the bodies was used Friday and Saturday when the regular supply of candy bags was exhausted.

Report Denied

Captain William Bright of the sheriff's homicide bureau denied a report that a member of a prominent Inglewood family, lying in a hospital in Inglewood, had been investigated in connection with the slayings.

Investigators said the man's face was scratched when he fell from his automobile and that blood on his clothing was his own.

He did not deny the police description of "Bodie."

The menace of mob violence in Inglewood caused police to post special guards outside headquarters to prevent any repetition of last night's outbreak, as suspects were brought in for questioning.

Elliot Recinds Bird Quarantine

State Veterinarian Removes Ban on Farm After Tests Show No "T. B."

Dr. Thomas A. Elliot, head of the Idaho department of animal industry, today lifted quarantine on 485 mixed chickens at Jerome game farm after tests had shown them to be free of tuberculosis, according to word received in Twin Falls this afternoon.

Eight of the birds showed positive reaction to an intradermal tuberculin test, and two were destroyed.

Tests Continue

Elliot said that tests would continue to be made at the farm, and as rapidly as the tests were passed, quarantine would be lifted on breeding stock.

Young birds will not be tested, he said, since tuberculosis does not develop in your chickens until they are at least 6 months old.

Eleven weeks old birds will be released, he said.

Elliot had previously declared that tuberculous had run rampant at Jerome and Lapwai game farms for several months, and blamed the alleged contamination on management.

Contradicta Charge

Findings today contradicted his earlier comment, but Elliot said that until all birds in question had passed tuberculin tests, the farm would not be given a clean bill of health.

Elliot admitted that his findings had been partly based on a test in February which showed that birds at the Lapwai farm were infected.

Some of these birds had been transferred to Jerome as breeding stock, Elliot said he feared.

Smoke Smells Good to Men Returning to Factory Jobs

BY DEAN R. PETERSON EAST CHICAGO, Ind., July 1 (UP)—Smoke that smells "as good as mother's home cooking" latched on to stacks of Inland Steel company's East Chicago mill today, proof that the five-week strike of union workers was ended.

Ten thousand workers marched soberly through two gates into the mill, and punched time clocks as whistles blared the rainy dawn with a screech that had grown almost strange during the weeks when 12,000 workers were cradled and subsisted on strike funds, relief, meagre salaries, and grocers' credit.

Like "Mother's Cooking"

W. S. Hill, one of the returning strikers, tucked his lunch basket firmly under his arm and announced, "I'm very glad that smoke smells as good as mother's home cooking."

The men "punch" shoulder-shoulder, three abreast, to edge past the time clocks. At times they were lined up for a block. For 45 minutes they passed through the gates. Day workers as well as night workers reported, many of them only to report that they were back on the job and ready to work whenever the furnaces were returned to their white heat. Company officials said this may take several days.

Three hundred men and women spectators massed in the cold, grey dawn to watch.

Have to Husband

One woman pushed a baby buggy, with an 18-month old child in it. She waved cheerily to her husband as he passed down the line.

Mrs. Anna Brusley, mother of three children, said she was "lucky" because their grocer gave her money for food during the strike, she said.

L. R. Marr, a pipe fitter and father of 10 children, said he had to obtain food from strike headquarters and from the county relief organization during the strike. "I'm sure glad to get my job back," he said.

Director Lashes County Abuse of Mental Schools

Williams Says Overcrowding Caused by Sending Old People to Hospitals

BOISE, July 1 (UP)—Law Williams, director of the state's three charitable institutions, today said he thought counties were abusing the mental hospital system.

Williams alleged that old people, neither feeble-minded nor insane, were being shut into wards at either Blackfoot or Orofino to "get them out of the way."

"They take up space needed for persons who are really insane or feeble-minded," he said. "The other day I took an old man, 85, down to Blackfoot. He wasn't insane or feeble minded, but I had to take him there because the county had committed him."

Conducted Survey

Williams had returned from Nampa, where he conducted a preliminary survey of grounds there prepared to draw plans for new buildings.

The state school and colony, with an appropriation of $125,000 for new buildings, has a peculiar problem, Williams said.

Buildings presently there cannot be renovated for use by additional patients, he said. The situation at the Nampa school now is 529.

The colony was intended for approximately 350, he said.

Such overcrowding, Williams said, makes it necessary for the state to choose whether to erect:

1. A hospital and school combination.
2. A separate ward for epileptics.
3. A new ward for additional hospital patients.

Architects are drawing tentative plans for all three buildings, he said, and choice will be made later.

Williams said he had no word concerning appointment of a doctor to head the Blackfoot institution, replacing Dr. Charles Lowe, who went to the Nampa colony.

Farm Valuation Goes Up in County for '37

Increase of $171,350 in total assessed valuation of Twin Falls county farms, farm stock, ranch equipment and grazing and waste land for 1937 was revealed here today in summaries prepared by the staff of Frank J. Smith.

The assessed valuation of the farm and grazing assets of the county for 1937 is $12,836,160. This was shown this afternoon with completion of assessment rolls 3 and 4, summarizing both halves of the county. The figures are before any equalization action which may be taken by the county commissioners, now sitting at a board of equalization until late this month.

Irrigated Values Gain

Irrigated farm land in both halves of the county climbed in assessed value this year. The auditors figures disclose. On roll 3, the north half of the county including township 10, the irrigated areas were assessed at $2,839,000 compared with $1,937,000 in 1936—an increase of $2,000. On roll 4, the rest of the county, including township 11 including the south half, were assessed at $2,222,216 as compared with $1,819,240 last year, a boost of $402,976.

Value of farm improvements advanced $22,000 in the north half from $1,253,000 to $1,275,000 in 1936. Improvements in the south half of the county rose $4,000, from $214,500 to $218,500.

Stock About Same

Cattle, horses and mules in the county remained approximately the same in assessed value, the figures show. South half mules were $9,600 boost in cattle, none in horses and a loss in mule valuation. The northern half more popular sector of the county saw gains in value remaining unchanged, and values rising by $600.

Sheep valuation climbed $6,000 in the county and declined $1,500 in the southern.

The assessment figures for roll 3 (north half) were: grazing $106,400; waste $21,870; improvements $1,269,000; cattle $1,649,000; horses $2,600; mules $41,000; sheep $41,000; logs $11,500; machinery $712,500. Total, $9,282,040. Increase in 1937, $130,000.

Assessed valuations for roll 4 (southern) are: Irrigated $2,222,216; grazing $97,280; waste $17,310; improvements $216,000; cattle $777,000; horses $32,000; mules $4,070; sheep $11,000; hogs $2,716. Total with other items, $2,854,126. Increase, $41,500.

Inland Company Reopens Mill as Men Start Work

OTHER FACTORIES REFUSE TO ACCEPT PLANS OF GOVERNOR

By ROY LEWIS

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., July 1 (UP)—Steel began rolling again today in the huge Indiana Harbor Mills of the Inland Steel company while Indiana officials sought to extend the first "settlement" of the seven-state steel strike to the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company.

Youngstown, Bethlehem Steel corporation, and Republic Steel corporation continued to hold out in defiance of the solitary S. W. C. O. demand—that they sign a wider ten wages-and-hours agreement.

While Bethlehem and Republic continued to operate, Sheet and Tube canceled plans to reopen. The month-old deadlock between Inland and John L. Lewis steel workers' organized committee was broken at midnight in the office of Gov. M. Clifford Tamm at Indianapolis when representatives of the company and the UMW signed a "memorandum of agreement" with the state labor department.

Seven hours later 4,000 workers from a night of celebration, rivaling the blare of the Army band which echoed the West was filed into the Inland plant. America which had been cold for a month turned red, smoke belched thickly from the long rows of smokestacks and smiling men again hurried about through the mills. By Monday company officials believed all 15,000 men would be back at work.

An additional 7,000 remained out at the Youngstown plant, many which was protected by 500 men and 100 tanks.

The association of steel companies, which had been in the lead in the fight for a new contract, that was the result of the settlement is conducting a battle on the question at Chicago.

"Up a Grabber Show"

"This is a grabber show. It is to take until there is a final settlement of the labor board procedure," announced said before the steel workers with Van A. Johnson, special director of the UMW and officials of Youngstown Sheet and Tube. "The idea was to get the men back to work."

Tamm emphasized that the settlement was not a final agreement between the two sides. Each party—Inland and S. W. C. O. (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

To Belgium

High S. Gibson, for several years ambassador to Brazil, today was named as U. S. envoy to Belgium, succeeding Dave H. Morris. Succeeding Gibson to the South American country is Jefferson Caffery, present ambassador to Cuba.

Gibson in turn was named ambassador to Belgium, to succeed Dave H. Morris, who was not named today to a new post.

The post at Havana was filled by the nomination of J. Butler Wright, present minister to Czechoslovakia, to become ambassador to Cuba.

Appointment of Caffery to Brazil was of special interest in diplomatic circles, as American businessmen of that republic have been agitating for an appointee who would give special attention to business problems between Brazil and the United States.

Other diplomatic nominations sent to the senate today included: William T. Hornbrook of Utah, to be minister to Costa Rica. He will succeed Leo R. Beck, former Washington newspaperman, who is assigned to enter Brazil.

Johnson Urges More Livestock

Ex-Commissioner Declares Move Would Help Save Land Fertility

A plea to farmers to enter into a livestock program on every farm in the county was made here today by H. L. Johnson, former Idaho commissioner of agriculture who resides in Twin Falls.

Johnson was in Twin Falls today conferring with members of the board of the Associated Meat Producers, Inc., on proposals that he assume direction of the membership drive. No agreement between Mr. Johnson and the producers has been reached as yet, it was indicated.

Livestock Needed

"Idaho has long been noted for fertile soil which produced an abundance of crops we grow," Johnson said. "But we have got to get such crops as pasture sooner or later and the sooner the better."

"Damage is caused when the fertile soil of Idaho does not have a chance to rest. Livestock on each farm would make for pastures or alfalfa producing sections which would add rest and fertility to the soil and the same time would provide feed for the stock."

"The value of such a meat plant as it is proposed to establish in Twin Falls would not come alone in money made, but principally in adding the land to get a rest and be ready for the days and years to come."

Favors Plant Here

"Such a meat processing plant being established here would encourage livestock growth at the same time would add the land by installing a livestock program on every farm in the county."

Not giving the land a chance to rest is more or less "robbing the bank's bank" Johnson said, in that it is taking now what should be left for future years.

CLARK CALM ON VAN VLACK CASE

Governor Surprised at Flurry of Criticism Following His Statement

BOISE, July 1 (UP)—Governor Barzilla Clark, calm and unruffled in the face of criticism and a tempest of attack up by his remark concerning the "worthlessness" of executing Douglas Van Vlack, returned to his office today from a northern Idaho trip.

The governor commented freely on the impenitence and wonders of the northern Idaho regime but refused to speak directly concerning the Van Vlack case.

He said he was surprised at the flurry caused by his statement that "execution of Van Vlack would be no restoration to the families of those who are gone."

Governor Interested

It is with Governor Clark that the question of execution for the wife-killer may rest. Should Van Vlack's case be not brought up at the pardon board meeting July 7, the governor has authority to reprieve Van Vlack until after the next election.

The governor appeared interested when informed, he had authority to reprieve Van Vlack for a period of 30 days under pardon board rules, providing the case is not acted on at the July 7 meeting.

"The governor to look into that," he said.

The governor also said he had not yet read letters addressed to him by (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

French Franc Drops as Market Reopens After Financial Crisis

MONETARY PACT STILL WORKING, SAYS U. S. HEAD

Britain and United States in Steady Conversation With New Leaders

PARIS, July 1 (U.P.)—The French franc dropped back to parity with the dollar in the stabilization of 1928 as markets reopened after the financial crisis today.

The franc was quoted unofficially above 4 cents this morning but when the dollar opened at 24.95 francs the franc fell to 24.85 francs and 128.35 francs to the pound.

The government's intention had been to permit the franc to rise to its own level. The franc moved steadily downward in relation to both sterling and the dollar. When prices of securities on the bourse were higher.

PACT CONTINUES
WASHINGTON, July 1 (U.P.)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry A. Morgenthau, Jr., announced today that the monetary pact between the United States, Great Britain and France designed to maintain international currency stability is still in force despite the critical French fiscal situation.

"Since Monday night we have been in consultation with the French and Great Britain in connection with the proposed change in the financial arrangements," that the French had made, Morgenthau said.

"This morning the French and ourselves came to an agreement and we are giving out simultaneous statements."

"I am very much pleased that the three countries were able to come to an agreement which is a continuation of the tri-partite agreement."

The agreement to continue the tri-partite agreement was reached despite the fact that the action of the French government in devaluing the franc had been considered an abrogation of one of the provisions of the accord—that France would maintain the minimum level of the franc at 4.30 cents.

CLARK CALM ON VAN VLACK CASE

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hook, parents of slain Mildred Hook, Van Vlack's wife.

He said he had not had time to read his mail.

"The hooks wrote both the governor and secretary of state in Idaho."

"To the governor, they wrote, 'for the protection of society, we ask you to allow the execution of the courts of Idaho to stand.' The parents said they were 'shocked' by the attitude of the governor."

"Their letter to the secretary of state was the 'balance of power' on the pardon board, and reviewed circumstances of the case, reiterating their demand that Van Vlack be executed."

Serious Question
Informed of this, the governor said that surprised him.

"It is a serious question," the governor said, "I will have to think about it. When I have a statement to make public, I will give it to the press."

In addition to the Van Vlack question, the governor is faced with choice of a head for the liquor control commission, appointment of a supervisor for Blackfoot asylum, and approval or disapproval of plans being drawn for new buildings at the state's three mental hospitals.

readers with box compartments; who had molested children or who corresponded to the police's composite picture of "Eddie the sailor," the man whom they are hunting.

Englewood citizens were in a lynch mood. For the third successive night a howling mob surrounded the jail, threatening to slay suspects who were brought in for release when the mob surged up.

"Kill them, the leaders cried. 'Identify anybody.'"

Both children and parents were suffering hallucinations, police said, and some of them were ready to identify nearly every suspect they were shown.

The Everett girls' funeral was scheduled for today, amid the tension.

"Dow had scratches on his arms, back, sides and stomach; he resembled the police's general description of 'Eddie the sailor,' who loitered around the playground last week, and he carried a handkerchief and a state key in his pocket."

Handkerchief Studied, Mrs. Merle O. Everett, mother of the girls, said she was sure the handkerchief was the same as the one which was found in the pocket of the girl who was identified as the murderer.

Attempts to have Dow identified were confusing. Mrs. Jennie Vise, a neighbor of the Everetts' family, said she had seen Dow when he had seen with the girls before they disappeared. Haskell P. Wright, recreation director at the playground from where the girls were lured, said Dow "positively was not" the man he saw making up to the children.

Find Paper Bag, At San Bernardino, police found a paper bag containing a blood-stained shirt, tie of rope and a pair of shoes. At San Pedro, the port of Los Angeles, a filling station attendant overpowered another man "he thought resembled 'Eddie'."

2. Republic Steel corporation resumed operations in five Ohio mills, under protection of national guardsmen. Pickets, attacked non-strikers as they reported for jobs.

INSTRUCTOR FOR MARIONETTE UNIT TEACHES HOBBY

I. C. Main Shows Class How To Construct and Enjoy 'Little People'

Following a hobby from early youth until the present time and teaching the enjoyment of that hobby to others—is the lesson given by I. C. Main, educational leader who is teaching construction and operation of marionettes to a class of 30 to 40 youngsters as well as adults at Harmon park Wednesday and Friday from 2 to 4 p. m.

As a youth Mr. Main used to delight in making figures out of clay. He was always going around and deciding what to do next. He was 10 to 12. So, when he became of college age, he studied dramatics at the Pacific Southern university in Pocatello and became a member of U. S. national honorary dramatics fraternity, Delta Psi Omega.

Fascinating Work, "Working with these marionettes is fascinating work," he said today. "There is something about it that keeps you interested all the time. It isn't easy work, getting their bodies together and mounting and painting their heads and faces, but it is most interesting."

He said that his marionettes are coming back as a means of education. Associating some historic character with a marionette which a child or adult has made, and then putting that marionette through the same dramatics that history character will impress that incident on the minds of all who see, hear and work on it," he said.

One of the most difficult shows in which Mr. Main took part was "The Birth of Christ, in Nazareth, Galilee, Palestine."

Use Papier-Mache, At Harmon park papier-mache is used in the construction of the various characters which are being made at the present time. The paper will be produced either the latter part of July or early in August.

And, when produced, it will be the first full length marionette show to ever be given in any city park of Twin Falls.

The characters of the special stage will have been completed and then practice will start on "Jack, the Giant Killer." The paper will be produced either the latter part of July or early in August.

Protests Against Van Vlack Clemency Head for Boise Before July 7

Petitions signed with thousands of names from four south central Idaho counties will be submitted to the state pardon board before its July 7 meeting and will demand that no commutation or clemency be granted to Douglas Van Vlack, convicted killer of Mildred Hook, sponsor said here this afternoon.

At Burley, 500 names were already signed to the petitions today and it was reported that only one petition out of 601 approached had refused to sign.

The petitions repudiated the pardon board for past leniency toward Idaho criminals, request a change in the documents when these are granted on a straiter basis, and especially demand that no commutation or reprieve be allowed in the hanging sentence for Van Vlack.

CULT FOLLOWER FOUND GUILTY OF VIOLATION OF MANN ACT

HUNT CONVICTED FOR SEDUCTION OF YOUNG GIRL

'Disciple' of Father Divine Thanks Jury Foreman For Verdict

By ALAN McELWAIN
 LOS ANGELES, July 1 (AP)—John Wuest Hunt, a cult fanatic who called himself "Jesus the Christ" and said he seduced a 17-year-old girl to "provide the world with a new redeemer," was dressed into jail early today to await sentence for Mann act violation.

A federal jury found him guilty at midnight of the overt act of seducing the girl, Jewett, here from Denver for immoral purposes. The maximum penalty for his offense is a five-year sentence to the federal penitentiary on McNeill's island.

"Thank you, Father," Hunt called to the jury foreman who read the verdict, which came in at 11:55 last night after 8 hours and 40 minutes of jury deliberation.

Arrest Developments

Then the portly, 205-pound defendant sat down calmly to await developments.

He was acquitted of a second count in the indictment which was conspiracy to commit the immoral act.

Three co-defendants, Howard E. (John the Baptist) Smith, Mrs. Agnes (Mary Magdalene) Garner, and Mrs. Betty (Peace) Peters were acquitted. They were charged only with conspiracy. They had accompanied Hunt and the girl on the trip in Hunt's $100 automobile.

They are members of the cult headed by Father Divine, bald and paunchy Negro who preaches a "God" at the headquarters in New York's Harlem.

Returns Friday

Hunt was ordered returned to jail at 10 a. m. Friday on bond. He was remanded to the custody of two deputy U. S. marshals and taken to the county jail.

His co-defendants trooped out of court yelling "Thank you, Father," and the cult anthem, "Peace, It's Wonderful."

Hunt-faced newspaper photographers blandly.

"I have found peace and prison bars cannot change it," he said.

Judge Yanvich had instructed the jury to disregard any religious motives Hunt might have had, and U. S. attorneys Jack Powell and Carl Eardley said Hunt, a married man, had deliberately set out to seduce the girl.

Almece Not Available

During the jury's deliberations, Hunt said "Father Divine is in New York sending out vibrations that are being felt in the jury room."

Hunt's Negro attorney, Hugh MacBeth attempted yesterday to subpoena Alme Bempie McPherson, one of the co-defenses and have the Evangelist give "expert testimony" on "reactions to the power as it is felt by zealous persons who are wrapped up in their faith."

But Mrs. McPherson could not be found and the defense closed its case with the testimony of Mrs. Agnes Del, who is known in the cult as "Jamb of God." She said that Mrs. Norman Lee Jewett, the girl's mother, had expressed herself as being glad her daughter went away with Hunt.

Your Idaho Eggs Get Real Pedigree Tests

Eggs, eggs... and more eggs—and it's the question of which name first, the chicken or the egg, but the size and grade of the egg that's worrying the producer and the farmer.

By a status which became effective May 3, each dozen eggs sold in Idaho to the consumer must be stamped on the carton according to the grade and size. The carton must then be sealed. All of which means chickens had better beware, for the farmer will have chicken stew rather than poor eggs.

Following the example set by many of the producers who accept eggs in trade and re-sell them to the consumer, an Evening Times reporter made a trip to the Idaho Egg Producers cooperative to discover the process used in determining the grade of an egg.

Mrs. Anna Woods, office manager and supervisor of the egg candling process, acted as guide and explained the various grades of eggs.

Here's How

The candling process used by the cooperative is the "same" method which must be followed hereafter on all eggs sold to a consumer.

Five girls are employed at the cooperative, each one sitting at a table with a small machine which registers the grade of the egg and place them in large cases according to extra A, extra B, medium A, medium B classifications. The best egg, an extra A, is the largest of large size, white and perfect as to yolk and freshness, and must weigh at least 24 ounces to the dozen.

In order to judge the size of the egg, a small scale is provided near the pin-point of light on the candler. Grade B eggs, a medium size, must weigh 19 ounces to the dozen.

Must Be White

"The best grade of eggs must be white as it is nearly impossible to canddle a dark shell egg. Even if the egg is of the best quality and size, dark ones bring from two to three cents a dozen less," Mrs. Woods said.

In this general grading system that must be observed on all eggs offered to the public, according to state law now in effect, Mrs. Woods believes that the candling procedure will be highly worthwhile.

"The consumer will be protected and the farmer will have an incentive to feed his poultry correctly and care for his eggs properly in order to receive the greatest dividends. This will tend to eliminate a poor grade of eggs."

The grading process explanation disposed of, Mrs. Woods conducted a tour of the cooperative plant and exhibited and explained its many features.

MOTHER CALLED IN DIVORCE SUIT

Testimony Starts on Case of William Hunsacker Brill, Nancy Yates

VENTURA, Calif., July 1 (AP)—The mother with whom William Hunsacker Brill sought refuge the day after he married Nancy Yates of New York, was called today to testify about what part if any she had in the marriage annulment suit before the court.

The case was filed by Brill, a wealthy amateur yachtsman, who made three complaints: (1) That his bride had misinformed him of her previous marital status before they eloped to Yuma, Ariz., on March 2; (2) That her divorce in Reno from her first husband, George Henry Yates of New York, was illegal; (3) That he (Brill) was drunk when the marriage took place.

Mrs. Nancy Brill, who was abandoned in her bridal chamber after a "marriage for a night," is contesting the suit.

By some super-sense, bats can fly blindfolded about a room that is criss-crossed with wires, without striking against them.

300 Cases Weekly

Over 300 cases of eggs, each one containing 30 dozen, are received weekly at the Twin Falls station from cooperative members of this area. Upon receipt the eggs are candled and graded, then later placed in individual cartons each labeled with the grade and process with which the eggs have been treated.

Following the candling all dirty eggs are washed in a special machine constructed for that purpose. Three layers of eggs are washed at once in the large tank. Fine rollers in the tin tank are disc-like rollers covered with turkish toweling. These rollers are separated from one another by boards also covered with toweling. The eggs are placed on the discs and as the machine is operated, water is sprayed up from the bottom of the tank over the revolving eggs.

Processed for New York

Some of the eggs are processed here for storage in New York warehouses where they are kept for later consumption. Processing consists of giving the eggs a bath in oil which closes porous openings in the shells.

Bones Reveal Caveman Race

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Evidence of a prehistoric race of cave dwellers that buried its women and children and cremated its men has been discovered by University of Kentucky anthropologists in rock shelters of eastern Kentucky.

The anthropologists—Prof. W. S. Webb and W. D. Funkhouser—completely excavated the New Kash shelter in Menifee county and reported it differed greatly from caves in surrounding counties.

There was a decided dearth of flint, pottery and bone but an unusual amount of vegetable matter and some surprisingly fine fabric.

The excavating party was puzzled by a series of large pits dug in the subsoil instead of in the ash beds as was the usual custom. It was believed the pits were used for storage purposes.

Road to Overpass Opens Near Bliss

BLISS, July 1 (Special)—The four-mile stretch of new road leading to the overpass was officially completed Monday. The graveling was finished and the filling will not be done until later in the season. Costing approximately $50,000, the project has been under way since March and will do away with several dangerous curves in the present highway.

C. W. Clark, superintendent for the project, left with the last piece of machinery Tuesday for Idaho Falls where the Thorn Construction Co. is under contract.

FLIGHT DELAYED BY RADIO BREAK

Amelia Has to Set Day of Departure for Howland Island Friday

LAE, New Guinea, July 1 (AP)—Amelia Earhart postponed her departure for Howland island today because a line breakdown at the Malabar radio station made it impossible to obtain time signals to set the chronometer on her plane.

The 2,550-mile hop over the Pacific to the tiny island will be made tomorrow if conditions permit. It is considered the most dangerous lap of her around the world flight.

Mrs. Earhart hoped to start at 11:30 p. m. Greenwich mean time (7:30 p. m. EDT). She was much disappointed at the delay. Tests showed her plane and its radio to be in good order.

WPA Advises Blister Rust Eradication

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Sen. James P. Pope, D. Idaho, has announced the Works Progress Administration had advised him that it had recommended to the budget bureau allocation of $1,030,575 to continue blister rust eradication work in the northwest.

Pope said he had received a telegram from E. R. Edgerton, of the Spokane, Wash. Chamber of Commerce, stating that orders had gone out to prepare to close down all blister rust camps, and that such action would result in "mass" eradication of blister rust from white pine areas.

Pope said WPA had advised him that if the allocation were approved it would be sufficient to continue the work "for some time."

RUSSIAN, JAPANESE DIPLOMATS REMAIN IN DEADLOCK

CLASH OF BOATS ON AMUR RIVER CAUSE OF CRISIS

Soviets Say Nippons Attacked Fort on Russian Side of Far East Stream

By NORMAN D. DEUEL
MOSCOW, July 1.—Soviet diplomat, vice commissar for foreign affairs, and Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese ambassador, reached an apparent deadlock today in a dramatic early morning conference on the clash of Russian and Japanese-Manchukuo forces on the Amur river in the Far East.

It was forecast that the incident might force a definite settlement, peaceful or otherwise, of the long standing dispute over islands in the shifting, winding river which forms part of the boundary between Russia and Manchukuo.

Shigemitsu, at his conference with Stomoniakov, repeated a peremptory demand that Russia evacuate the islands involved in the latest controversy—the Buzoni and Semnu of Svyehy groups.

He and Stomoniakov exchanged protests over the incident near Semnu island, in which a Russian gunboat clashed with a mixed force of Japanese-Manchukuo soldiers.

The cutter was damaged, according to the Russian version, and two men of its crew were killed and three wounded.

Official reports were that a Russian gunboat was sunk and another damaged.

Shigemitsu, in his talk with Stomoniakov, was unyielding in his demand that Russia withdraw its men from disputed islands.

Stomoniakov charged that Russian forces recently expelled all Manchukuoans from the islands.

NAVAL SHOW
TOKYO, July 1.—Five Soviet Russian gunboats cruised off Semnu island in the Amur on Tuesday in an apparent naval demonstration.

There were intimations that no hasty action would be taken.

What's This? 'Andy' in City? No—It's Famed Impersonator

When an Evening Times reporter knocked on the door listening to those Pajen Auto coat cabins yesterday evening, he could have sworn he heard the familiar "Come in, this is Andrew Brown, president, speaking," but then again Andy lives back Chicago way and wouldn't be out here without newsmen knowing it.

Yet when he decided he must have the wrong door and started for his car, the appeal of an Irish lady's voice couldn't be denied and so he turned around, intent upon an investigation.

Arrival at the door, which was now open, disclosed neither Andrew H. Brown, president nor that delightful Irish lady. It was none other than Michael J. "Little Mickey" Ross, famous impersonator known from coast to coast.

Just Feeling Around
"Thought you wouldn't mind a little fun," Mickey said. "I just thought I'd fool around a little before I came out."

And then, to add insult to injury, Mickey said he'd go into the cabin and get his famous scrapbook. While he was inside, the reporter could hear a little bit of talk to Mrs. Ross. When the impersonator emerged, the reporter said: "Brought your daughter with you, too?"

"No," said Mickey, "that was just me again. Won't you ever catch on?"

And the reporter was afraid he never would.

But, going on with the interview, he found that Mr. and Mrs. Ross are on lengthy tour from eastern points to the west coast and California.

Long in Vandeville
Mickey has been on the air for 10 years and on the stage, principally in vaudeville, for 15 years. He has toured the United States many times. In Chicago he gave his impersonation of Amos 'n' Andy before 20,000 people. Among his longer radio contracts are 28 weeks on WGBS, Chicago; 22 weeks on WGAR, Cleveland; and almost as many on WYAT, also at Cleveland.

"You have to be a singer to do impersonations," Mickey revealed, "and unless you are, your impersonations are limited because you can't get the necessary range in your voice."

His career first started as a moving picture illustrated singer and as a "spitball" singer. He was billed as the nation as "The Boy with the Silver Lined Voice."

No Outside Aids
Unlike Amos and Andy, who use microphones to get the desired voice changes over the air, Mickey does it without any outside aids. "It's all in his voice."

He performed over KTF in Twin Falls yesterday, and will be heard again this late afternoon and then will feature the program of Harry M. Gray which will be heard over the station Friday night at 8 p. m.

EXTENSION GIVEN IN DEBT HEARING

Mrs. Evalena Jones Granted To July 27 in Test of Frasier-Lemke Act

Creditors in the first court test of the Frasier-Lemke act in southern Idaho were considering today the "composition" agreement for debt adjustment submitted by Mrs. Evalena Jones, Twin Falls, through her attorney at a hearing before F. C. Stuenkel, federal conciliation commissioner under the act.

Mr. Stuenkel ordered a period of 30 days for the hearing on the composition agreement. Creditors have until that date to accept or reject the proposal submitted in connection with the debtor's 34-acre chicken farm near Twin Falls.

If creditors agree to the proposition, according to Earl Walker, of Wilham and Walker, attorneys for Mrs. Jones, the commissioner will enter an order confirming the agreement. If the plan is rejected, Walker said he will apply to federal court for a reasonable time to amend Mrs. Jones' petition in accordance with the Frasier-Lemke provisions for bankruptcy, for court jurisdiction over the property, rental by the owner and of opportunity for redemption.

The test case is being watched closely throughout southern Idaho. Mr. Walker said, as an indication of the relief possible under the revised federal act.

Scouts Object to Use of Word "Boondoggle" By Politicians

By FREDERICK C. O'BRYEN
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Here in a tent by the Potomac today etymological history was made and the ubiquitous word, "boondoggle," received at last its proper definition which won't make Harry Hopkins mad.

Take three strips of leather, preferably colored red, white and blue, braid them together, wrap the resultant, shag around somebody's neck—and that is a boondoggle, as well as a great honor.

If this sounds complicated, blame it on Scoutmaster Robert Link of Rochester, N. Y., who invented the original boondoggle, who is so proud of it that he christened his first-born son "Boondoggle Link," and who isn't any too pleased about the Republicans appropriating his idea and making it mean something else.

Awarded Boondoggle
The facts became known at the Boy Scout jamboree, where the delegates from Rochester awarded a deluxe boondoggle to their congressman, George E. Kelly, for meritorious services rendered.

The elder Link wasn't present. Neither was young Boondoggle Link (he not being old enough to join the Scouts), but there were on hand nearly two score bare-kneed boondogglers from Rochester, mostly wearing boondoggles of their own manufacture.

Back in 1929 Scoutmaster Link decided it would be nice if his troop had something to present to eminent benefactors.

The more he thought, the better he liked the idea of a colorful leather braid to be looped around the recipient's neck. It had to have a name and "boondoggle" was the name he gave it. Paul Starvo, charter boondogglie, said his word popped suddenly into Link's mind. It was an inspiration. Anyhow the idea caught on, and it wasn't long before people everywhere were getting boondoggles.

Received Thrill
Then from Birkhead, Eng., Scoutmaster Link received a thrill he will not soon forget. There was a scout meeting there and who should visit it but the prince of Wales! Well all right, the Scouts from Rochester gave the prince one of their best boondoggles, and he promised to keep it ever after.

Now he's the duke of Windsor and Wally his wife and he's still got that boondoggle. The word is small, according to the Scouts from Rochester.

Smallest Link
Not long after, Scoutmaster Link's wife presented him with a baby boy. What better name, thought the proud father, than "Boondoggle?" Mrs. Link must have agreed because that's the way the smallest Link is registered in the family Bible.

That's about all the Rochester Scouts know about boondogglie, except they're pretty sure Boondoggle Link will join the Scouts as soon as he gets tall enough. They're a little angry about the politicians appropriating their fine word.

They hope, they said, that every newspaper in the land prints this dispatch and that every American reads it and remembers—that a boondoggle is something far more important than say, leaf-raking.

FROSH GUIDANCE DAY FOR U. I. S. B.

POCAHELLO, July 1 (Special)—A special freshman guidance day for new students was authorized and inserted in the calendar for Wednesday, Sept. 15, at a meeting of the state board of education held recently at Moscow.

The former freshman day on the calendar was Thursday, September 15, 1937, following by registration Friday and Saturday. The faculty committee on guidance recommended the additional day in order to prevent, as far as possible, new students from hastily registering in the wrong course, or for lines of work for which they are not particularly suited.

The Southern Branch faculty also voted to come a day early for this purpose. They will, therefore, have their first faculty meeting of the year on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 14, instead of Wednesday.

Dr. Walter C. Shipley, assistant professor of psychology, who gives the vocational guidance tests to students throughout the year, is chairman of the guidance committee.

Whereabouts of Youthful Roosevelts is Kept Secret

By RUBY A. BLACK GREENVILLE, Del., July 1 (UP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., and his bride, the former Ethel du Pont, were honeymooning today, it was learned from the time being at least to keep their whereabouts a secret from the nation.

Before leaving the gay reception held last night at the Ows Nest estate of the 21-year-old bride's parents, the bride and groom were seen by the newlyweds refused to discuss their plans.

The wedding, solemnized in Christ church at Christiana Hundred while a thunderstorm gathered and broke outside, brought together the nation's first political family, flanked by scores of relatives and New Deal chieftains, and its ranking industrial clan, anti-New Deal to the core.

"Okey" Left Out Yesterday's vows did not contain the word "obey." Nor did the bride, whose family is considerably wealthier than the groom's, speak today.

The seating arrangements, with the conservative du Ponts placed on the left side, traditionally reserved for the bride's family, and the liberal Roosevelts on the other, evoked considerable chattering as the 260 wedding guests filed out of the church.

Mrs. Everett Durian and daughter, Marjorie Kathleen, Bonanza, Mont. were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Zemke.

Leon Duff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Duff, who was hurt while playing in his father's machine shop, has been taken to the Rupert hospital for serum treatment for infectious meningitis caused by the injury.

Miss Lydia Stewart, employed at Pocatello, spent last week-end visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Stewart.

FILER GIRL WINS TOP SONG HONOR

Nanette Musser Annexes One Award, Eva Ruth Ward Earns the Other

Nanette Musser, Filer and Eva Ruth Ward, Twin Falls, were winners today in the southern Idaho girls' singing contest sponsored by Radio-Ianad ballroom here.

Both winners sang "Blue Hawaii" in the championship final at night. Miss Musser won by a wide margin in applause from the dance crowd, and Miss Ward was easily next in line.

As a result the two victors today were selecting a frock apiece at the Mayfair shop and were in line for dining contracts with the Radio Troubadours here today.

Honorable mention went to Olive Fern School, 12-year-old Twin Falls girl who was the youngest competitor in the contest.

The four other girls who competed in the championship finals were Rhonda Purdy, Jerome; Helen Bagley, Twin Falls; Rachel Kietko, Twin Falls and formerly of North Dakota; Ruby Johnson, Twin Falls. All contestants last night had been named factors in elimination held previously.

Starting next Wednesday night, the management of the dance hall announced this afternoon, Radio-Ianad ballroom will be converted into an open air pavilion, with a dozen bins changing air every three minutes.

Vaults Contain Historic Library

City Clerk Makes Start on Records Showing Twin Falls' Progress

Under the watchful eye of W. H. Eldridge, city clerk and one time mayor of Twin Falls, many important items of history are being kept for posterity in the city vault.

It is the start of what is probably destined to be an historical library which will depict the happenings in Twin Falls from the time it was first incorporated as a village on April 13, 1905 to the present and future days.

"What I have collected at the present time," Eldridge said, "is only a start, but at least it is a beginning of what I hope to see grow to a complete historical library."

"In many Twin Falls homes are historical items and pictures which are in danger of becoming lost or stolen at all times. If these would be brought to city hall to be added to this permanent collection, they would be safe within the city vault and would be preserved for those who are to follow us. Otherwise their worth might never be known."

"In the collection started by Eldridge are featured pictures of the mayor of its first, Fred Volght, who now lives in California. It is hoped this picture will be secured soon."

First Two The first two city heads were known as chairmen of the village board and were Paul A. Dickel and Samuel T. Hamilton. "Mayors" of the city of Twin Falls whose pictures are on file in the city vault are Carl J. Hahn, George B. Aldrich, Chas. O. Meigs, Everett M. Sweely, F. P. Bracken, Arthur L. Swin, W. M. Eldridge, Peter W. Motterbeck, J. D. Tucker, Elad J. Hodgin, Edgar L. Ashton, Richard E. Robber, Duncan McCh, Johnnie W. Motterbeck and the present mayor, Lem A. Chapin.

Twin Falls became a city, the records show, on March 18, 1907, when the village board "propose" their names numbered over 1,000.

Other pictures on file include scenes of incidents in the progress of the city which most people living here now have forgotten. Not only are these pictures valuable from an historical standpoint but style of dress, both among men and women, can be traced from the turn of the century to the present.

And so, with a "start" made, Mr. Eldridge hopes some day, through cooperation of local citizens, to have a complete historical library safe in the city vault.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE MIDNIGHT SUN
IS NOT LIMITED TO THE TWO POLAR AREAS!
IT CAN BE SEEN SOUTH OF THE ARCTIC CIRCLE AND NORTH OF THE ANTARCTIC CIRCLE.

Theoretically, the midnight sun is visible only within the polar circles, but due to the fact that the earth is slightly flattened at the poles, combined with the refraction of rays near the earth's surface a person considerably south of the Arctic Circle and north of the Antarctic Circle can see the sun at midnight at certain seasons of the year.

A surgeon sterilized the cellophane from a package of cigarettes, and used it to replace the broken membrane. A piece of shintone was grafted over the opening.

The farmer's recovery was complete, the hospital announced.
