GABLE MYSTERY BLOWS UP HERE

'Dark-Haired Lady' Turns Out to Be Oaf Owner; Star Heads West

(Continued From Page One) Gable winked at girls lined up with their scooters outside the big plate glass windows looking into the cafe from Main avenue. Occasionally he waved at the crowd but didn't go out on Main where autograph signing would have kept him busy for hours.

Instead, he sauntered over to the side exit and he and the 'dark-haired' lady, and slipped out.

Gable asserted heatedly, while explaining that he's glad he's no longer plays in roles that are exclusively 'great love' stuff.

'As for the 'roy' life that movie fans think Hollywood celebrities lead, it's far from being a soft snap, said Gable.

'Screen acting is work,' said Gable. 'Take it from me, acting for the movie studios is no child's play. He indicated that he puts in nine months a year at it, making up the picture and the many production details.

Gable, is just about all the public wants from any one performer without getting into the details of his life. His antipathy to great love roles, he pointed out, as he slipped coffee in the restaurant booth, comes from reality. He said that the Hollywood life is not as glamorous as it is made out to be.

Not Adverse to Villains. Incidentally, Gable said he likes his role of 'Fanny' in 'Fanny'.

'You can't give me a good 'heavy' role,' Gable said on the road back to Hollywood today. 'I'm naturally slated to return to Idaho next month. He told Sun Valley lodge officials he will attend the big rock camp with his wife and two other stars as Gary Cooper and Jack Holt, unless 'unforeseen' production schedules hold him at the M-G-M studio.

Completion of curbing and sidewalk work on Addison avenue for residents requesting such improvements was announced here this afternoon by Hamer Adams, street superintendent, who said the crew engaged in this improvement will move to Shoupe avenue.

Following completion of the Shoupe job, Adams said, work will start immediately on the curbing and sidewalk improvements to be made in the Lincoln Terrace, Twin Falls' newest addition.

Persons on Addison wishing curbing or sidewalk work this season, Adams said, are urged to contact Ronald Graves who is handling the work for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring organization.

The expenditures through June are $55,087, less than one-half of the approved $100,000 budget for 1937.

Hospital costs were $40,885 for four months ending June 30. Budget set up for the entire year were $249,140 for the hospital and $70,000 for the poor fund. Less than one-half of the fiscal period $100,153 for offices, $60,116 for the hospital and $46,830 for the poor fund.

Gable, Tracy Plan Grizzly Bear Hunt

Come next fall, probably in September, Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Jack Conway, director, and 'Orner' Cobb, of Hollywood's famous Brown Derby club, will invade the Rocky mountains to hunt for grizzly bears.

Charles Z. Jennings, brother of motion picture writer Talbot Jennings, made the announcement here today after Clark Gable had left for Hollywood after spending the night in Twin Falls. Gable and Jennings just completed a fishing and survey trip of the area to be graded by the famous personages.

Gable Can Take It. Jennings this morning was enthusiastic over the ability of the screen's famous love Gable to take it in the rugged wilderness of Montana.

'I was pleasantly surprised that Clark really knew how to get around in the mountains and that he had so much endurance for the long drive to the morning at the Perrine hotel where he spent the night.

'I am not fooling when I say that he really outdid the guides I hired for the trip into the mountains,' Jennings said.

Jennings is owner of the Jennings ranch in Montana, situated near Glacier park. It was from that point that the two stars' trip into the Rocky mountains started.

'Gable kept us in an uproar all the time with his remarks and was first day out when we ran into a terrific lightning and rain storm, it didn't even faze him when he became so soaked he couldn't tell whether he was swimming or riding a horse.

He's Good on Horse. 'Incidentally he is plenty good on a horse, being an excellent polo player. To get some idea of his endurance I need only to point out that we made over 20 miles a day on the trip, where we expected to make much less, and on the last day Gable rode 30 miles and then drove his car 800 more to make Twin Falls last night,' Jennings said.

Gable, Jennings pointed out, was to make this survey trip of the mountain area in May but the death of Jean Harlow, with whom he was working on 'Saratoga,' postponed it. Harlow died with only about 20 minutes of 'shooting' left in the picture.

Another actress he did, filled in and the picture was completed. It will show in Twin Falls Sunday.

Reports that Gable would hunt bear on this trip were unfounded, Jennings said.

'He only took his camera and a fishing rod,' Jennings said, 'and being a sportsman he did not take advantage of numerous opportunities to kill any game. He and the others will be back in town next fall to do it.'

Both Jennings and his brother, Talbot, are natives of this section of Idaho. Talbot is famous for such screen plays and adaptations as 'Home and Juliet,' 'Mutiny on the Bounty' and 'The Good Earth.' Charles is in the ranch and also government business. He will leave either today or tomorrow.

Robert Taylor Threatens to Fight Cop For Rough Handling of Star

'Oh, no you don't,' cried Abney who recognized Taylor and presumed Miss Stanwyck was someone annoying him.

Taylor Rushes Back. He pulled her away from Taylor and when the star fought through the crowd he found he had lost Miss Stanwyck and picked up another girl, who demanded his autograph.

Taylor rushed back and closed with the officer. The crowd by now recognized both stars and followed Taylor on.

'I'll push you in the jaw,' yelled Taylor.

But before any punches were swung other officers and studio officials cut in.

'Taylor, one of the screen's current heavy throbs, is six feet tall and weighs about 165. Officer Abney, no atom, weighs 210 pounds and is inches taller than Taylor.

FDR SIGNS FARM TENANT MEASURE

Approved by congress after a long battle extending since the start of the session, the measure authorizes immediate appropriation of $10,000,000 to begin the program and conduct its first year of operation, expenditure of $25,000,000 in the fiscal year 1938 and $50,000,000 in 1940.

Started by Bankhead. An originally sponsored by Sen. John H. Bankhead, D. Ala., the program envisioned a gigantic program to endow the tenant with the aid of a $1,000,000 bond issue.

The compromise bill provides for administration of the program by the secretary of agriculture. It was expected Secretary Henry A. Wallace would delegate actual administration to the settlement administration, a division of his department working under Dr. W. A. Alexander.

WAGE, HOUR BILL NEXT ON DOCKET

New Deal Sentiment Will Get Test With Minimum and Maximum Measure

(Continued From Page One) in both houses, and a motion to go home probably would carry if it could be brought to a vote.

Senate Republicans are ready now to vote for immediate adjournment, but Democratic rebellion against New Deal policies has not gone to the extent of rejecting the entire budget.

'I think congress should adjourn at once out of respect to the people of the United States,' Senate Republican Leader Charles L. McNary told the Times.

Barley's reply was that he expected to bring the wage and hours bill to the floor 'so that there may not be much debate on it.'

After disposing of wage-and-hours, Barley expects to take up the Wagner low cost housing bill. He was uncertain about farm legislation and so far has offered no assurance that the executive department reorganization bill or pending farm legislation will have a hearing this year.

A notation on the blotter by McCracken reads: 'This bully scared the kids and sent them home.'

CONTRACT BRIDGE PREPARES BIG PENALTY

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League

A really expert bridge player is able to look ahead in the bidding, and thus be prepared to adopt early defensive tactics even when holding a hand of the attacking type.

It was recognition of this principle that gave Jeff Glick, of Cleveland, playing in the recent Ohio State championship tournament.

U. S. GOLD FUND SHOWS DECLINE

First Time Since Program Started For Decrease on Report Books

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—For the first time in seven months, the treasury reported today that its inactive gold fund, accumulated under the program to prevent undue credit inflation, had declined $41,778,785.

Every previous treasury statement since the sterilization program was inaugurated last December had shown an increase in the inactive gold fund.

The fund now totals $1,370,821,774. The decline, officials explained, resulted from a new monetary agreement with other nations, particularly Brazil and China by which U. S. gold is credited to the two nations.

CORONER LASHES STRIKE REPORTS

Chicago Man His Liberties Committee; Says Evidence In Favor of Police

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Coroner Frank J. Walsh took exception today to the report of Sen. Robert LaFollette's committee criticizing Chicago police for their part in the disorders which cost 10 lives on Memorial day at the Republic steel plant in South Chicago.

"Our inquest here, which resulted in a verdict of justifiable homicide, was far more thorough than the hearing held in Washington," said Walsh.

"Disregarding the testimony of both police and strikers and basing my opinion solely on the testimony of impartial witnesses, I believe the evidence was preponderantly in favor of the police."

Bull Association Proves Popular

JEROME, July 23. (Special)—Jerome and Gooding counties' Stud Dairy Bull association, unique organization of this kind, will receive considerable publicity according to C. W. Robinson, western field representative of the Guernsey Cattle club.

Mr. Robinson spent July 13 and 14 in the two counties making a moving picture of the organization and operation of the stud bull work. These pictures will be used by Mr. Robinson at dairy meetings in the western states.

Nearly fifty farmers have signed the agreement and many others are calling for bull service under the plan in Jerome county. Members of the supervisory committee of the association are planning the purchase of an additional Guernsey bull in the immediate future. Interested farmers may read and sign the agreement in the county agent's office.

CUBS TO MEET GIANTS IN FIRST-PLACE FIGHT

Chicago Team Loses To Phils; Giants Win

Bees Take Fourth Straight From Cardinals; Yanks Drubbed By St. Louis Browns

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—A hand-to-hand skirmish opens at the Polo Grounds today between the New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs for the National League lead. If the Giants are going to catch the Cubs, this is the time to do it, because after three games here Chicago goes home for a 20-day stand. And this Cub team like many before is at its strongest at Wrigley field.

The Cubs came to town today under the leadership of Gabby Hartnett, acting manager in place of Charlie Grimm who is down with sciatica. On their present eastern journey they have won seven games and lost three and kept one jump ahead of the Giants.

The Cubs can't lose the lead today but a Giant victory will leave Chicago with only a 203 point advantage. Because of the difference in the number of games played the Giants will have to sweep the Cubs to grab the lead. The Cubs can go home in first place by winning one game.

The Boston Bees swept their four-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals by winning the final game 2-0. Detroit Tigers beat the six-hit pitching. The Cards made only five runs in the entire series. Not a single Cardinal player scored.

Red Lucas held the Dodgers to four hits and Pittsburgh smacked three Brooklyn batters for 14 runs and 10-1 victory.

Home runs featured play in the American league. Hal Tracy hit No. 20, his fifth homer in three games. George Craddock hit No. 16. Joe DiMaggio failed to make any kind of a hit, the first time he goes hitless in 20 games.

The St. Louis Browns clobbered 10 hits to trounce the Yankees, 13-4. Rollie Hemsley and Sam West hit home runs. The Yankees scored four runs, got 4 in 4, including a homer and three singles.

Detroit slugged out 10 hits and crushed the Boston Red Sox, 17 to 4. Jake Wade held the Red Sox to six hits but gave up 10 bases on balls.

In addition to Obergren's homer, cleanup hits were made by York, Gehring and Laab.

Whit, making his first start of the year, held the Athletics to one hit as Cleveland won, 6-1. Trosky's two homers featured the Indians' attack.

GERMAN NAMED TOP CHALLENGER

National Boxing Association Says Schmeling Should Be Given Title Shot

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The championship ratings committee of the National Boxing association today recognized Max Schmeling as the No. 1 contender for a heavyweight championship bout with Joe Louis.

The committee, in quarterly session here, recommended that the German former world's champion be given a chance on a basis of "pure opportunity" to recapture the title and that the N. B. A. declare the title vacant if a championship match is not arranged.

Mac Gloats Over Failure of Card Club Because Frisch Released Him

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—I am not a man who is given to gloating but I would be a little less than human, and in danger of being picked up as the missing link, if I did not get a laugh out of the present discomfiture of the St. Louis Cardinals. Because four months ago the Cardinals, with the weak excuse that I was no good on ground balls and couldn't hit, spurned my offer to play in their infield and turned me out of the training camp.

As a sort of soap, Manager Frankie Frisch offered to farm me to the Ty Ty Tigers of the upper Tidewater League in Georgia. But I refused this when I learned that the upper Tidewater League was a dirt heap where the players were paid off in farm merchandise.

I couldn't bring myself to hitting 250 and fielding 500 for any great other than the kind that grows in banks and is picked by paying tellers. Besides, there is always the danger of a drought or a corn bore or potato bug plague in a barter league. A few potatoes come to town, or the hens start mouthing, and there goes everybody's salaries for a month.

So I packed my glove and sliding pad (which everybody says is superfluous after one look at me) and came to New York. I tried to catch on with the Yankees as a center fielder but McCarthy said he'd gambled on DiMaggio, so I started spending my time following the Cardinals in the papers.

They have been very easy to follow, because mostly they've been going one way down.

To find the stories of their games all you have to do is look for the stories headed: "Giants take two," or "Cubs have two miners' lumps and carry carriers to warn them of mine damp."

Frisch probably would have sent me back to the hills along with me if he hadn't learned in Detroit several years ago that "Ducky" doesn't get along on anything but a prospect fruit diet.

I believe Frisch sorry that Frisch is sorry he didn't keep me on the team. Because even if I had failed at shortstop he could have used me as a pitcher. All I've got is a roundhouse out and a drop that goes up instead of down, but that's more than Frisch's pitchers have been showing lately.

All they seem to have is a roundhouse and the shortest way to the showers. And even if I didn't play, I'd be around the hotel at night. A manager can't live on 100 many friends around after his team loses two in one afternoon to something like the Philadelphia Phillies.

It is the worst thing that can happen to a team, and all possible hands are needed to run after ice packs and aspirin, and stand guard at the windows of the higher hotel rooms to keep the doctors from peering away from the doctor's paper away from Aunt Emma when she is ailing and the little Willie has been leading the shortest way to the city pound. And I would be of help in carrying messages from the injured Ducky Dean to Frisch. And when the messages became encouraging and said that Ducky's big toe was leading the shortest way to the city pound, I would be of help in carrying messages from the injured Ducky Dean to Frisch.

Count Hilda Newspapers
The N.Y. Herald Tribune could hit the newspapers telling of New York and Chicago successes from the players, just as the doctors had papers away from Aunt Emma when she is ailing and the little Willie has been leading the shortest way to the city pound. Harry Cooper Leads Way In Chicago Tournament

By STEVE ENIDER
CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—A balding little man with a bagful of tricks led the largest field in the history of golf over the Medinah Country club's 18 tournament courses today in the first round of the $10,000 Chicago open.

Lighthorse Harry Cooper, leading money winner of the season and nation, was a 1 favorite.

He faced an army of golfers expected to reach 500, including six members of America's notorious Ryder cup team, the intercollegiate champion, Mildred (Babe) Dirksen, a one-armed player and an 11-year-old boy.

Size of Field Unknown
There was no way to check the exact size of the tournament until the first round is completed late today.

The finalists will play 18 holes Sunday (tomorrow) and the 50 low-scoring professionals and 25 best amateurs for the final 36 holes Sunday.

Chief stumbling blocks ahead of Cooper appeared to be the Ryder cup contingent headed by Ralph Guldahl, who won the U. S. open with a record 281 at Birmingham, Mich.

Guldahl shook off his sea legs in a hurry yesterday when he won the first nine holes of Medinah's tough No. 3 course at even par in his first venture since the British season.

Coupled with the U. S. open king at 8 to 1 was Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. who appeared to have the open won until Guldahl came in with his 281.

Other short-priced contenders were Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa. who would catch up with Cooper's 281 if he won the 18 holes of the 18-hole course and Ky Laffoon of Chicago, Gene Sarazen of Brookfield, Conn., Johnny Revolta of Chicago and Jimmy Thompson, Shavonee, Okla.

Laffoon and Thompson have trained well for the tournament. Each posted 71's, one over par, on course No. 1 this week.

The amateur winners until the professional round were George Sauer and Ky Laffoon of Chicago, Gene Sarazen of Brookfield, Conn., Johnny Revolta of Chicago and Jimmy Thompson, Shavonee, Okla.

QUALIFYING FOR TOURNEY STARTS

Smallest List in Four Years Stars Play For U. S. Amateur Title

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Fewer than 100 of the U. S. amateur golf crown since 1933 begin qualifying attempts today for the 121st annual championship at Alderwood Country club, Portland, Ore., Aug. 23-28.

Because of the abolition from the eastern golfing circuit, this year's entry list of 621 is nearly a 50 per cent reduction in the record number of 1,218 candidates for Garden City, N. Y., last year's tournament with 645 in 1935 at Cleveland, 758 in 1934 at Brookline, Mass., and 801 in 1933 at Cincinnati.

Of the 30 districts qualifying rounds will be played today at Tacoma, Wash., where 45 players compete for the 14 of the 17 available places. Twenty more shoot Monday at Boston for six places, and the remaining 26 districts go into action Tuesday.

RACE TIGHTENS IN PACIFIC LOOP

Sacramento Gains on Losing Padres With Win Over Portland Club

Percentage difference between the league-leading San Diego Padres and the second-place Sacramento Sacs decreased today as a result of the Capitoline 12-6 verdict over Portland Thursday, while the Padres were losing to Seattle, 3-2.

The Sacs checked temporarily the onward rush of the Beavers in a free hitting slugfest, scoring six runs in the fourth, to fifth, to get off to a never-relinquished lead. Each squad collected 14 hits.

Frank Lamanak's sterling hurling struck out as the highlight of the Sacs' 4-1 verdict over the Los Angeles Angels. Sam Red Norbert started the ball rolling for the winners in the first, with a sizzling home run with one aboard.

The Oakland Oaks paced San Francisco's cell-occupying missions, 6-5. The Missions made a desperate bid for victory but a 5-run rally in the sixth clinched the outcome for the Oaks.

BURLEY LOSES TO POCATELLO, 13-1

Pocatellos took a 4-1 lead in the second inning and never relinquished it in yesterday's tilt, adding three more in the fourth, three in the seventh and three in the eighth. Burley's lone runner was scored in the second inning.

EARTHQUAKE TREMORS ROCK EAST CENTRAL AREA IN ALASKA

FAMOUS GLACIER BELIEVED JARRED TO NEW ACTIVITY

No Deaths Reported, But Pavement Is Broken and Windows Shattered

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 23 (AP)—Earthquakes which rocked the east central area of Alaska from Fairbanks to the south coast, left residents apprehensive and nervous today. The first tremor early yesterday was followed through the day by a series of minor shocks.

The Black Rapids glacier, south-west here, which for a long time winter was moving down the valley at the unprecedented rate of 100 feet a second, was reported jarred into renewed activity by the tremor.

No deaths were reported. Broken window panes apparently constituted the greatest damage although houses were rocked on their foundations. Pavement of the Richardson highway was broken and water and mud shot into the air through the breaks. Local and long distance telephone communication was interrupted south of here.

Worst in Experience
Earthquakes are not uncommon in the Cook Inlet region, above the Aleutian Islands, but seldom are felt in this section. Old residents said yesterday's tremor was the worst in their experience.

The first shock was registered at 7:09 a. m. (10:09 a. m. MST) yesterday. As the rocking motion shook Fairbanks men and women, many just arising, ran into the streets in night attire. The shock lasted about a minute. A second was felt at 7:15 a. m. and a third six minutes later. Then the earth was quiet until last night when slight tremors were felt several times.

Felt to Coast
The quake was felt north and east of Fairbanks, and south to the coast. Wiseman, Tanana, Anchorage, Hot Springs, Valdez and Nenana all reported shocks. Seward, a town 100 miles from Fairbanks, Nenana residents reported canned groceries rocked from shelves.

Fairbanks, scene of a disastrous fire in the spring, was again cut off for a time after the morning shocks, even by radio. Air disturbances interfered so that it was several hours before radio operators could report the quake to Seattle stations.

CRAZED FARMER MURDERS THREE

Minnesota Man Sought After Shooting Men of Lucas Family

ALBERT LEA, Minn., July 23 (AP)—Possemen searched highways leading into northern Minnesota wild today for a best-crazed farmer who shot three men to death and wounded another.

Southern and central Minnesota sheriffs organized manhunters to chase overall-clad Jens Thompson, 34.

Thompson ordinarily was a "quiet fellow," his neighbors said. He appeared suddenly at the farm of Joe Lucas yesterday, with a .22 caliber rifle. Witnesses said he snarled, "You done me wrong," and shot Lucas to death.

He fired three miles to another farm, where Louis and Anton Lucas, Joe's brothers, and Fay Lucas, Louis' son, were working in a field. His shot killed Louis and Anton, wounded Fay seriously.

Sheriff Helmer Myers said he found no motive for the slaying. "Thompson apparently was crazed with heat," he said.

WINDSOR LOSES ROYAL STATUS IN NEXT GOTHA

LONDON (AP)—In the next edition of the "Almanach de Gotha," the famous reference book to all the royal and near-royal families in Europe, the duke of Windsor will appear in the third part of the book devoted to non-royal families.

Under the Royal House of Windsor, he will be referred to in two brief parts as "Edward of Windsor," brother of the King in the royal part; a new house will be created under the name of the Duchy of Windsor. Everything in complete except the titles which will follow the duke's name. At present the intention is to refer to the duke only in the third section of the book, which will not be mentioned with the duke in the first section.

The fact that the duke was king's first lover, together with the date of his abdication.

The third part of the Almanach is headed:

"Genealogy of certain princely non-sovereign houses of Europe."

The differentiation between various countries is made because in Europe parts of Europe a prince need not have royal status, and has the same rank as a duke in England.

How to Get Your Money's Worth

By BETTY D. SUPPLE (NEA Service)

With her food dollar rapidly shrinking in value—due to rising prices, of course—housewives are being urged to learn all the possible can about ways and means to get the most for her money.

Since 70 per cent of each food dollar on the average household budget goes for meat or meat substitutes, such as fish and eggs, knowing the best ways among these products is all important.

Let us consider the car marks of quality meat of all kinds, discuss specifically beef and lamb, then dwell a moment or two on the subject of fish.

If tender and delicious meat is wanted, do not choose the leanest. Good quality fat flavors the lean and improves its tenderness while cooking. It is best to buy meat with good fat deposits and marbling, even though the fat is not eaten. Remember, too, that poor quality fat indicates poor quality lean. For these reasons it is wise to pay more attention to fat than to lean when choosing any kind of meat.

Cheep cuts rich in flavor

If you must buy a real console yourself! These may be less tender, but their flavor is richer, their food value greater. Therefore, by learning to cook less expensive cuts longer and in such a way as to release the wonderful flavor, you will be doing your family and guests a better service.

In buying graded meat, whether graded by a government agency or private concern, be sure that the name of the ORGAN on the initial "U. S." are included in the stamp.

First quality beef has a deposit fat over most of the exterior surface. It is tender, moist and flavorful. Fine threads of fat run here and there, giving a slightly moist appearance. The lean is bright cherry red in color, firm and fine in grain, velvety to the touch. Bones are red and porous.

Poor beef has these characteristics: the fat covering is extremely thin, or absent entirely. If present, it is yellow and greasy. The lean is soft, watery, has not a trace of marbling. There may even be tough fibres of connective tissue running through it. Bones are white and flintlike.

Everything's Taken by Air To Inaccessible Gold Mine

If you want to take a bath in regulation tubs which have been transported by air, or drink cool mountain water through pipes delivered in the same fashion, or see heavy machinery operate, the latter also being transported by air, there is probably only one place in the United States to go.

And that one place, an Evening Times reporter discovered today, is the Salmon River placer company's gold mining property at the mouth of the South and Big Salmon rivers 50 miles "out in the wilderness" from McCall.

Hard to Reach

It is possible, but extremely difficult, to reach the site of the mining operations by land. The only feasible way of getting there is by air, out of McCall, and for this purpose a giant Ford trimotor transport plane is used. It is operated by the Johnson brothers of Montana, famous aviators visiting in this section, and with the assistance of Warren, a small settlement on route, there is no place to land between McCall and the mining grounds.

At the grounds is a natural landing field, located right at the river's edge and deep in a canyon. It is approximately 600 yards long and much less than that in width.

The plane literally lands on gold for the field itself is rich in deposits.

Situated in an isolated section of Idaho, the scene of operations is practically inaccessible from the ground, especially when it is necessary to haul heavy machinery and supplies.

And so the dozen or more workers battle in tub which have had a 50-mile journey by air. Their food, clothes, tools and material come in the same manner.

This Is Tough Task

All but one piece of machinery has been delivered this way in order that a power plant might be set up. This one piece, weighing in the neighborhood of 6,500 pounds, is too heavy for the plane to lift. It will be trucked as far as possible, dragged by a tractor a certain distance and then put on a raft and floated down the river to the camp.

Located at 2,100 foot elevation the property is workable the year around because of the lack of snow. Weather is mild. It is located at a point where some day the federal road being constructed at the present time will skirt it. But that "some day" is still, perhaps, far away.

Also under construction at the present time, with materials transported by air by the airplane, is a hydroelectric plant for washing the precious metal out of the rock.

Local People Thrilled

Four citizens of Twin Falls and one Kimberly resident who made the trip to the mine at a recent date were enthusiastic today. They admit that the trip was "different" and was a "thrill of a lifetime."

The trip was made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belleville, Joe Marshall and Mrs. Katie Potter, all of Twin Falls and Frank Palmer of Kimberly. Mr. Marshall spent a week of the location. Head of the mining concern is J. J. Oberlind.

ROPE CLIMBER NEVER BEATEN FOR 7 YEARS

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—

Charles Epling, encouraged seven years ago by a friend to take an active part in gymnastics, today is an outstanding performer.

"Alley Ep," as he is known in sporting circles here, has won every Southern A. A. rope climbing event here since 1930.

In one of his recent contests at the New Orleans Athletic club, Epling led his nearest opponent by 18 points, winning the all-around gymnastic championship of the south.

Epling took up rope climbing in 1929. He won his first year, and since that time he has won the championship rope climbing contest seven consecutive years.

The all-around events include side horse, flying rings, horizontal bar, parallel bars and the long horse. "I only go to one contest a year," Epling said, "the rest of the time I practice."

A former Tulane university football captain, Harry Gamble, himself an expert gymnast, is responsible for Epling's series of victories.

"Harry got me interested in gymnastics and I have been interested ever since," Epling said.

Epling's repeated victories over younger competitors indicate it may be some time before he retires.

Charles Epling, encouraged seven years ago by a friend to take an active part in gymnastics, today is an outstanding performer.

"Alley Ep," as he is known in sporting circles here, has won every Southern A. A. rope climbing event here since 1930.

In one of his recent contests at the New Orleans Athletic club, Epling led his nearest opponent by 18 points, winning the all-around gymnastic championship of the south.

Epling took up rope climbing in 1929. He won his first year, and since that time he has won the championship rope climbing contest seven consecutive years.

The all-around events include side horse, flying rings, horizontal bar, parallel bars and the long horse. "I only go to one contest a year," Epling said, "the rest of the time I practice."

A former Tulane university football captain, Harry Gamble, himself an expert gymnast, is responsible for Epling's series of victories.

"Harry got me interested in gymnastics and I have been interested ever since," Epling said.

Epling's repeated victories over younger competitors indicate it may be some time before he retires.

CITIZEN LEARNS OF DEBT DELAYS

Duluth, Minn., Man Finally Gets Check For Money Owed Since 1910

DULUTH, Minn. (UP)—George H. Crosby, Duluth automobile dealer, knows something about the difficulties of collecting war debts.

For 16 years the United States has owed Crosby a war debt. And only recently was he able to get anything on the loan.

The government became indebted to Crosby during the war when, at Uncle Sam's behest, he lost a large fortune in the production of manganese.

Manganese was sorely needed as a war material. The government bought Crosby's property to produce it, despite a financial loss involved in its production. It was promised that the government would indemnify Crosby for his loss. And when the balance he entered upon the venture in the course of two years he lost several hundred thousand dollars.

After Crosby was asked to the government to make good.

In 1919, congress passed a law designed to reimburse Crosby together with the entire cost of his investment. But the reimbursements were bogged about with so many restrictions that the claims remained unpaid.

Later the claim was reduced to $107,000. Last year congress amended the law to expedite payment.

Finally Crosby was able to get a check awaited him. But instead of the $107,000 he had expected, only $65,000 arrived. He was informed the government had held back $42,000 until treasury officials ruled on whether or not there is a tax against the payment.

SHAFT IN TEXAS HONORS LOYALTY

Only Monument Existing in South to Union Soldiers Who Fell in War

COMFORT, Tex. (UP)—This southern Texas town has one of the few monuments ever erected south of Mason and Dixon's line to the memory of Union soldiers who fell during the Civil war.

Beneath the granite shaft bedded on a hillside rest the bodies of a band of early German settlers, who died because of sincerely to their oath of allegiance to the United States. Of those slain, many were newly arrived emigrants who fled their fatherland to avoid compulsory service in the German army.

Members of the German band were shot as they tried to make their way into Mexico to escape conscription into the forces of the prize.

Formed League

The loyalists from Gillespie, Kerr, Kendall, Edwards and Kimble counties met on July 1, 1862 and formed the "Union Loyalty League." Three companies were organized into a battalion under the leadership of J. M. Tregner. On July 29 they were notified that their counties were considered to be in open rebellion to the confederacy, and were placed under martial law. They decided to disband to show the confederate leaders that no armed conflict was intended.

Nine Captured

Nine were captured and executed and the remainder fled. Six of the fugitives were killed later as they reached the Rio Grande. Eleven members of the U. S. army at members of the 1st regiment of the Texas cavalry volunteers and the rest escaped to their homes or to California.

Three years later, after the war had ended, a group of Germans met at the Success river encampment, gathered up the bones of their comrades, returned to Comfort and buried them with ceremonies in the present resting spot. Many years later, relatives and friends erected the monument—consecrated to a band courageous in their beliefs. Inscribed on the shaft are the names of the dead and the words: "True to Union (true to the Union)."

LOVER TYPES IN MOVIES DIFFER

Styles Change Just Like Cars, Says Famed Director; Cites New Models

By ALEXANDER KAHN
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Types in screen lovers, like automobile models, change regularly and the 1937 "great lover" like the 1937 automobile, is streamlined.

Director Clarence Brown, who has directed some of the best on lover pictures, says today's heart-throber makes love with a laugh up his sleeve.

"Learn young people will have nothing to do with prim, old-fashioned mannerisms and affected stances. They are more as moral as their ancestors but their viewpoints are broader, freer and gayer," Brown believes.

Chest Heaving Out

For this reason, the director says, the screen has abandoned the chest-heaving type of love-making. The ridge and falling chest prevailed during the earliest days of the cinema.

"Then came the five-minute kiss. Heroes hardly unclenched for breath during that period in the evolution of screen lovers, Brown says.

"The cave man came next. He was a barrel-chested actor standing over 6 feet and delighted in knocking his lover under the table. Brown says this type still is popular with men.

The director says today's lovers are uplifted by such streamlined romancers as William Powell, Robert Taylor, Robert Young, Tyrone Power and others.

Alchemy of Lovers

They represent an Alchemy of the lovers of the past with a dash of comedy for the sophisticated.

The comedy reflects the light-heartedness of modern youth and the spirit of the times. Brown says.

The director cites William Powell as a humorous lover in his "Thin Man" picture. "The public liked him so well in those parts that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer gave him another amusing role in 'The Emperor's Clothes'."

Schneccedy, N. Y., has a greater population than the entire state of Nevada, which has an area of 109,821 square miles.

HE ATE ALL-BRAN AND IMPROVED WONDERFULLY

Read this voluntary letter: "In regard to your ALL-BRAN, it is marked on the package 'best as a cereal for cooking,' and, as far as I am concerned, you might as well be best. Since I have begun to eat it, I have improved wonderfully.—Mr. H. B. Poole, 312 W. Franklin Street, Jackson, Mich."

ALL-BRAN corrects common constipation, due to meagre low fiber diet. It cleans the body, gently waters out the system.

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestine, and keep you in perfect health. It does better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoons daily either as a cereal with milk or cream or in cereal. In chronic cases, with each meal. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Through the City of TOMORROW Without a STOP . . . but TODAY, 4 miles in 5 are Stop and Go YOU can drive up to ten miles on the amount of gasoline wasted by your 30 daily stopal 30 stops a day—the nation-wide average. The costliest kind of driving you do, both in time and money, is stop and go. While traffic authorities are planning "the City of Tomorrow," Shell engineers have developed a fuel, Super-Shell, to meet today's driving problem today. They have found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline . . . actually to balance it. Automobile engineers refer to Super-Shell as "motor-digestible," so quickly and completely is its energy changed into power. Cut the cost of stop and go. Use Super-Shell regularly.
